CHAP. IX.

The firſt inhabitants of Jeruſalem, after their return from the captivity; the officers; the functions of the prieſts and Levites. The genealogy of Saul.

SO all Iſrael were reckoned by genealogies; and behold, they were written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah, who were carried away to Babylon for their tranſgreſſion.

2 Now the firſt inhabitants that dwelt in their poſſeſſions in their cities were, the Iſraelites, the prieſts, Levites, and the Nethinims.

3 And in Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim and Manaſſeh:

4 Uthai the ſon of Ammihud, the ſon of Omri, the ſon of Imri, the ſon of Bani, of the children of Pharez the ſon of Judah.

5 And of the Shilonites; Aſaiah the firſt-born, and his ſons.

6 And of the ſons of Zerah: Jeuel, and their brethren, ſix hundred and ninety.

7 And of the ſons of Benjamin; Sallu the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Hodaviah, the ſon of Haſenuah,

8 And Ibneiah the ſon of Jeroham, and Elah the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Michri, and Meſhullam the ſon of Shephatiah, the ſon of Reuel, the ſon of Ibnijah.

9 And their brethren, according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty and ſix. All theſe men were chief of the fathers in the houſe of their fathers.

10 And of the prieſts; Jedaiah, and Jehoiarib, and Jachin,

11 And Azariah the ſon of Hilkiah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Meraioth, the ſon of Ahitub, the ruler of the houſe of God;

12 And Adaiah the ſon of Jeroham, the ſon of Paſhur, the ſon of Malchijah, and Maaſiai the ſon of Adiel, the ſon of Jahzerah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Meſhillemith, the ſon of Immer, 13 And their brethren, heads of the houſe of their fathers, a thouſand and ſeven hundred and threeſcore; very able men for the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God.

14 And of the Levites; Shemaiah the ſon of Haſhub, the ſon of Azrikam, the ſon of Haſhabiah, of the ſons of Merari;

15 And Bakbakkar, Hereſh, and Galal, and Mattaniah the ſon of Micah, the ſon of Zichri, the ſon of Aſaph;

16 And Obadiah the ſon of Shemaiah, the ſon of Galal, the ſon of Jeduthun, and Berechiah, the ſon of Aſa, the ſon of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chief;

18 Who hitherto waited in the king's gate eaſt-ward. They were porters in the companies of the children of Levi.

19 And Shallum the ſon of Kore, the ſon of Ebiaſaph, the ſon of Korah, and his brethren: (of the houſe of his father): the Korahites were over the work of the ſervice, keepers of the gates of the tabernacle: and their fathers, being over the hoſt of the Lord, were keepers of the entry.

20 And Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar was the ruler over them in time paſt, and the Lord was with him.

21 And Zechariah, the ſon of Meſhelemiah,

(g) As the genealogy of the other ſons has been given in the preceding chapters, this gives the genealogy of Benjamin, and therefore here the genealogies might be naturally ſuppoſed. But at ver. 35. of the next chapter, we have ten verſes of Benjamin's genealogy, which were no doubt originally the ſame with the ten verſes of this chapter, beginning at verſe 29. It is difficult to account for the repetition of theſe verſes, provided they were repeated originally, but if they have only been repeated through the blunder of a tranſcriber, it is eaſy to aſſign the cauſe of it; and this cauſe is the exiſtence of the ſame words in the verſe preceding the verſes here, and alſo in the verſe preceding thoſe in the next chapter. But however theſe verſes might be introduced into the next chapter, ſeveral miſtakes may be corrected by the repetition. See particularly the 35th verſe. The reader muſt uſe his own judgment for the correction of ſuch difference in names as he finds in theſe two chapters. See Kennicott's Diſſertation, vol. i. p. 485.

was porter of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 All theſe which were choſen to the porters in the gates, were two hundred and twelve. Theſe were reckoned by their genealogy in their villages: whom David and Samuel the ſeer did ordain in their ſet office.

23 So they and their children had the overſight of the gates of the houſe of the Lord, namely, the houſe of the tabernacle, by wards.

24 In four quarters were the porters, toward the eaſt, weſt, north, and ſouth.

25 And their brethren, which were in their villages, were to come after ſeven days from time to time with them.

26 For theſe Levites, the four chief porters, were in their ſet office, and were over the chambers and treaſuries of the houſe of God.

27 And they lodged round about the houſe of God, becauſe the charge was upon them, and the opening thereof every morning pertained to them.

28 And certain of them had the charge of the miniſtering veſſels, that they ſhould bring them in and out by tale.

29 Some of them alſo were appointed to overſee the veſſels, and all the inſtruments of the ſanctuary, and the fine flour, and the oil, and the frankincenſe, and the ſpices.

30 And ſome of the ſons of the prieſts made the ointment of the ſpices.

31 And Mattithiah, one of the Levites, (who was the firſt-born of Shallum the Korahite) had the ſet office over the things that were made in the pans.

32 And other of their brethren of the ſons of the Kohathites, were over the ſhew-bread, to prepare it every ſabbath.

33 And theſe are the ſingers, chief of the fathers of the Levites, who remaining in the chambers, were free: for they were employed in that work, day and night.

34 Theſe chief fathers of the Levites were chief throughout their generations; theſe dwelt at Jeruſalem.

35 And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, Jehiel, whoſe wife's name was Maachah:

36 And his firſt born ſon Abdon, then Zur, and Kiſh, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam. And they alſo dwelt with their brethren at Jeruſalem, over againſt their brethren.

39 And Ner begat Kiſh, and Kiſh begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchiſhua, and Abinadab, and Eſh-baal.

40 And the ſon of Jonathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begat Micah.

41 And the ſons of Micah were Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea, and Ahaz.

42 And Ahaz begat Jarah; and Jarah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza;

43 And Moza begat Binea, and Rephaiah his ſon, Eleaſah his ſon, Azel his ſon.

44 And Azel had ſix ſons, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Iſhmael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan. Theſe were the ſons of Azel.

CHAP. X.

Saul is conquered by the Philiſtines, and dies: his three ſons are ſlain: the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead bury them. The kingdom is transferred from Saul to David.

NOW the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael; and the men of Iſrael fled from before the Philiſtines, and fell down ſlain in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philiſtines followed hard after Saul, and after his ſons; and the Philiſtines ſlew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchiſhua, the ſons of Saul.

3 And the battle went ſore againſt Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then ſaid Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy ſword, and thruſt me through therewith; leſt theſe uncircumciſed come, and abuſe me. But his armour-bearer would not; for he was ſore afraid. So Saul took a ſword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell likewiſe on the ſword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and all his houſe died together.

7 And when all the men of Iſrael that were in the valley ſaw that they fled, and that Saul and his ſons were dead; then they forſook their cities, and fled: and the Philiſtines came and dwelt in them.

8 And it came to paſs on the morrow, when the Philiſtines came to ſtrip the ſlain, that they found Saul and his ſons fallen in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had ſtripped him, they took his head, and his armour, and ſent into the land of the Philiſtines round about, to carry tidings unto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they put his armour in the houſe of their gods, and faſtened his head in the temple of Dagon.

11 And when all Jabeſh-gilead heard all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul,

12 They aroſe, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his ſons, and brought them to Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven days.

13 So Saul died for his tranſgreſſion which he committed againſt the Lord, even againſt the word of the Lord which he kept not, and alſo for asking counſel of one that had a familiar ſpirit, to enquire of it;

14 And enquired not of the Lord: therefore he ſlew him, and turned the kingdom unto David, the ſon of Jeſſe.

CHAP. XI.

David is anointed king in Hebron. He takes Zion from the Jebuſites. A catalogue of his worthies.

THEN all Iſrael gathered themſelves to David unto Hebron, ſaying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh.

2 And moreover in time paſt, even when Saul was king, thou waſt he that leddeſt out, and broughteſt in Iſrael: and the Lord thy God ſaid unto thee, Thou ſhalt feed my people Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be ruler over my people Iſrael.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Iſrael to the king to Hebron; and David made a covenant with them in Hebron, before the Lord; and they anointed David king over Iſrael, according to the word of the Lord, by Samuel.

4 And David and all Iſrael went to Jeruſalem which is Jebus; where the Jebuſites were, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus ſaid to David, Thou ſhalt not come hither. Nevertheleſs, David took the caſtle of Zion, which is the city of David.

6 And David ſaid, Whoſoever ſmiteth the Jebuſites firſt, ſhall be chief and captain. So Joab the ſon of Zeruiah went firſt up, and was chief.

7 And David dwelt in the caſtle; therefore they called it, The city of David.

8 And he built the city round about, even from Millo round about: and Joab repaired the reſt of the city.

9 So David waxed greater and greater: for the Lord of hoſts was with him.

10 Theſe alſo are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who ſtrengthened themſelves with him in his kingdom, and with all Iſrael to make him king according to the word of the Lord, concerning Iſrael.

11 And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had; Jaſhobeam an Hachmonite, the chief of the captains: he lifted up his ſpear againſt three hundred ſlain by him at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo, the Ahohite, who was one of three mighties.

13 He was with David at Paſ-dammim, and there the Philiſtines were gathered together to battle, where was a parcel of ground full of barley; and the people fled from before the Philiſtines.

14 And they ſet themſelves in the midſt of that parcel, and delivered it, and ſlew the Philiſtines; and the Lord ſaved them by a great deliverance.

15 Now three of the thirty captains went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam; and the hoſt of the Philiſtines encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And David was then in the hold, and the Philiſtines garriſon was then at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed and ſaid, Oh, that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem (b), that is at the gate!

18 And the three brake through the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the Lord,

19 And ſaid, My God forbid it me, that I ſhould do this thing! ſhall I drink the blood of theſe men that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it: therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things did theſe three mightieſt.

20 And Abiſhai, the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three: for, lifting up his ſpear againſt three hundred, he ſlew them, and had a name among the three.

21 Of the three, he was more honourable than the two; for he was their captain: howbeit, he attained not unto the firſt three.

22 Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada, the ſon of a valiant man of Kabzeel, who had done many acts; he ſlew two lion-like men of Moab: alſo he went down and ſlew a lion in a pit in a ſnowy day.

23 And he ſlew an Egyptian, a man of great ſtature, five cubits high; and in the Egyptian's hand was a ſpear like a weaver's beam; and he went down to him with a ſtaff, and plucked the ſpear out of the Egyptian's hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

24 Theſe things did Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada, and had a name among three mighties.

25 Behold, he was honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the firſt three: and David ſet him over his guard.

26 Alſo the valiant men of the armies were Aſahel, the brother of Joab, Elhanan the ſon of Dodo of Beth-lehem,

27 Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite,

28 Ira, the ſon of Ikkeſh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Antothite,

29 Sibbecai the Huſhathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled, the ſon of Baana the Netophathite,

31 Ithai, the ſon of Ribai of Gibeah, that pertained to the children of Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite,

32 Hurai of the brooks of Gaaſh, Abiel the Arbathite,

33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite,

34 The ſons of Haſhem the Gizonite, Jonathan, the ſon of Shage the Hararite,

35 Ahiam, the ſon of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the ſon of Ur,

36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,

37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai the ſon of Ezbai,

38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the ſon of Haggeri,

39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite, the armour-bearer of Joab, the ſon of Zeruiah,

40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad the ſon of Ahlai,

42 Adina, the ſon of Shiza the Reubenite, a captain of the Reubenites, and thirty with him.

43 Hanan the ſon of Maachah, and Joſhaphat the Mithnite,

44 Uzzia the Aſhterathite, Shama and Jeheil, the ſons of Hothan the Aroerite,

45 Jediael the ſon of Shimri, and Joha his brother the Tizite,

46 Eliel the Mahavite, and Jeribai, and Joſhaviah, the ſons of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel, and Obed, and Jaſiel the Meſobaite.

CHAP. XII.

The names of thoſe brave men who came to David at Ziklag. The armies that came to him at Hebron.

NOW theſe are they that came to David to Ziklag while he yet kept himſelf cloſe, becauſe of Saul the ſon of Kiſh: and they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war.

2 They were armed with bows, and could uſe both the right hand and the left, in hurling ſtones, and ſhooting arrows out of a bow, even of Saul's brethren of Benjamin.

3 The chief was Ahiezer, then Joaſh, the ſons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; and Jeziel, and Pelet, the ſons of Azmaveth; and Berachah, and Jehu the Antothite,

4 And Iſmaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; and Jeremiah, and Jahaziel, and Johanan, and Joſabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Jerimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6 Elkanah, and Jeſiah, and Azareel, and Joezer, and Jaſhobeam, the Korhites,

7 And Joelah, and Zebadiah, the ſons of Jehoram of Gedor.

8 And of the Gadites there ſeparated themſelves unto David, into the hold to the wilderneſs, men of might, and men of war fit for the battle, that could handle ſhield and buckler, whoſe faces were like the faces of lions, and were as ſwift as the roes upon the mountains:

9 Ezer the firſt, Obadiah the ſecond, Eliab the third,

10 Miſhmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,

11 Attai the ſixth, Eliel the ſeventh,

12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Jeremiah the tenth, Machbanai the eleventh.

14 Theſe were of the ſons of Gad, captains of the hoſt: one of the leaſt was over an hundred, and the greateſt over a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they that went over Jordan in the firſt month, when it had overflown all his banks; and they put to flight all them of the vallies, both toward the eaſt, and toward the weſt.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Judah, to the hold unto David.

relates ſomething ſimilar of Alexander the Great; who, when his army was near being deſtroyed by thirſt, and two of his ſoldiers had got a cruiſe of water for their children, and, happening to meet with Alexander, offered it to him to drink, returned the cup full as it was to his ſoldiers and ſaid, "I cannot bear to drink it alone, and it is too little to be divided among all; give it the children." See Kennicott and Chandler. As it would not ſuit the nature of our work to enter into a minute diſcuſſion of all the variations between this liſt of David's worthies and that in 2 Sam. xxiii. we beg leave to refer the critical reader to Dr. Kennicott's Diſſertations, vol. i.

17 And David went out to meet them, and anſwered and ſaid unto them, If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, mine heart ſhall be knit unto you: but if ye be come to betray me to mine enemies, ſeeing there is no wrong in mine hands, the God of our fathers look thereon, and rebuke it.

18 Then the ſpirit came upon Amaſai, who was chief of the captains, and he ſaid, Thine are we, David, and on thy ſide, thou ſon of Jeſſe: peace, peace be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers; for thy God helpeth thee. Then David received them, and made them captains of the band.

19 And there fell ſome of Manaſſeh to David (when he came with the Philiſtines againſt Saul to battle; but they helped them not: for the lords of the Philiſtines, upon adviſement, ſent him away, ſaying, He will fall to his maſter Saul, to the jeopardy of our heads.)

20 And as he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manaſſeh, Adnah, and Jozabad, and Jediael, and Michael, and Jozabad, and Elihu, and Zilthai, captains of the thouſands that were of Manaſſeh.

21 And they helped David againſt the band of the rovers: for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in the hoſt.

22 For at that time day by day, there came to David to help him, until it was a great hoſt, like the hoſt of God.

23 And theſe are the numbers of the bands that were ready-armed to the war, and came to David to Hebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Judah that bare ſhield and ſpear, were ſix thouſand and eight hundred, ready-armed to the war.

25 Of the children of Simeon, mighty men of valour for the war, ſeven thouſand and one hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi, four thouſand and ſix hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the leader of the Aaronites, and with him were three thouſand and ſeven hundred.

28 And Zadok, a young man mighty of valour, and of his father's houſe twenty and two captains.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the kindred of Saul, three thouſand: for hitherto the greateſt part of them had kept the ward of the houſe of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim, twenty thouſand and eight hundred, mighty men of valour, famous throughout the houſe of their fathers.

31 And of the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, eighteen thouſand, which were expreſſed by name, to come and make David king.

32 And of the children of Iſſachar, which were men that had underſtanding of the times, to know what Iſrael ought to do: the heads of them were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their commandment.

33 Of Zebulun, ſuch as went forth to battle, expert in war, with all inſtruments of war, fifty thouſand, which could keep rank: they were not of double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thouſand captains, and with them with ſhield and ſpear, thirty and ſeven thouſand.

35 And of the Danites expert in war, twenty and eight thouſand and ſix hundred.

36 And of Aſher, ſuch as went forth to battle, expert in war, forty thouſand.

37 And on the other ſide of Jordan, of the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and of the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, with all manner of inſtruments of war for the battle, an hundred and twenty thouſand.

38 All theſe men of war, that could keep rank, came with a perfect heart to Hebron, to make David king over Iſrael: and all the reſt alſo of Iſrael, were of one heart to make David king.

39 And there they were with David three days, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover, they that were nigh them, even unto Iſſachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali, brought bread on aſſes, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, and meat, meal, cakes of figs, and bunches of raiſins, and wine, and oil, and oxen, and ſheep abundantly: for there was joy in Iſrael.

CHAP. XIII.

The ark, by David's command, is brought from the houſe of Abinadab. Uzzah being ſmitten, the ark is brought to the houſe of Obed-edom, and continues there three months.

AND David conſulted with the captains of thouſands, and of hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And David ſaid unto all the congregation of Iſrael, If it ſeem good unto you, and that it be of the Lord our God, let us ſend abroad unto our brethren every where, that are left in all the land of Iſrael, and with them alſo to the prieſts and Levites which are in their cities and ſuburbs, that they may gather themſelves unto us.

3 And let us bring again the ark of our God to us: for we enquired not at it in the days of Saul.

4 And all the congregation ſaid that they would would do ſo: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5 So David gathered all Iſrael together, from Shihor of Egypt, even unto the entering of Hemath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath-jearim.

6 And David went up, and all Iſrael, to Baalah, that is, to Kirjath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up thence the ark of God the Lord, that dwelleth between the cherubims, whoſe name is called on it.

7 And they carried the ark of God in a new cart, out of the houſe of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio drave the cart.

8 And David and all Iſrael played before God with all their might, and with ſinging, and with harps, and with pſalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 And when they came to the threſhing-floor of Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the ark; for the oxen ſtumbled.

10 And the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Uzza, and he ſmote him, becauſe he put his hand to the ark: and there he died before God.

11 And David was diſpleaſed, becauſe the Lord had made a breach upon Uzza; wherefore that place is called Perez-uzza to this day.

12 And David was afraid of God that day, ſaying, How ſhall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So David brought not the ark home to himſelf to the city of David, but carried it aſide into the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite.

14 And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his houſe three months. And the Lord bleſſed the houſe of Obed-edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIV.

Hiram ſends to David timber and artificers to build him a palace: David marries more wives, and begets ſons and daughters: he twice conquers the Philiſtines.

NOW Hiram king of Tyre ſent meſſengers to David, and timber of cedars, with maſons and carpenters, to build him an houſe.

2 And David perceived that the Lord had confirmed him king over Iſrael: for his kingdom was lifted up on high becauſe of his people Iſrael.

3 And David took more wives at Jeruſalem: and David begat more ſons and daughters.

4 Now theſe are the names of his children which he had in Jeruſalem; Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Eliſhua, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 And Eliſhama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 And when the Philiſtines heard that David was anointed king over Iſrael, all the Philiſtines went up to ſeek David. And David heard of it, and went out againſt them.

9 And the Philiſtines came and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 And David enquired of God, ſaying, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the Lord ſaid unto him, Go up; for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came to Baal-perazim, and David ſmote them there. Then David ſaid, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand, like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place Baal-perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burned with fire.

13 And the Philiſtines yet again ſpread themſelves abroad in the valley.

14 Therefore David enquired again of God; and God ſaid unto him, Go not up after them; turn away from them, and come upon them over againſt the mulberry-trees.

15 And it ſhall be, when thou ſhalt hear a ſound of going in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then thou ſhalt go out to battle: for God is gone forth before thee, to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

16 David therefore did as God commanded him: and they ſmote the hoſt of the Philiſtines from Gibeon to Gazer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands: and the Lord brought the fear of him upon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

The prieſts and Levites, at the command of David, bring the ark of God with great pomp to the city of David: Michal derides David for dancing before the ark.

AND David made him houſes in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David ſaid, None ought to carry the ark of God, but the Levites: for them hath the Lord choſen to carry the ark of God, and to miniſter unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Iſrael together to Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the Lord unto his place, which he had prepared for it.

4 And David aſſembled the children of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the ſons of Kohath; Uriel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twenty.

6 Of the ſons of Merari; Aſaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the ſons of Gerſhom; Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty.

8 Of the ſons of Elizaphan; Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the ſons of Hebron; Eliel the chief, and his brethren fourſcore.

10 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the prieſts, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Aſaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab, 12 And ſaid unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: ſanctify yourſelves, both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring up the ark of the Lord God of Iſrael, unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For becauſe ye did it not at the firſt, the Lord our God made a breach upon us, for that we ſought him not after the due order.

14 So the prieſts and the Levites ſanctified themſelves to bring up the ark of the Lord God of Iſrael.

15 And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their ſhoulders, with the ſtaves thereon, as Moſes commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David ſpake to the chief of the Levites, to appoint their brethren to be the ſingers with inſtruments of muſick, pſalteries, and harps, and cymbals, ſounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the ſon of Joel; and of his brethren, Aſaph the ſon of Berechiah; and of the ſons of Merari their brethren, Ethan, the ſon of Kuſhaiah;

18 And with them their brethren of the ſecond degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaſeiah, and Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, the porters.

19 So the ſingers, Heman, Aſaph, and Ethan, were appointed to ſound with cymbals of braſs;

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaſeiah, and Benaiah, with pſalteries on Alamoth;

21 And Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, and Azaziah, with harps on the Sheminith to excel.

22 And Chenaniah, chief of the Levites, was for ſong: he inſtructed about the ſong, becauſe he was ſkilful.

23 And Berechiah, and Elkanah were door-keepers for the ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Jehoſhaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amaſai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the prieſts, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and Obed-edom and Jehiah were door-keepers for the ark.

25 So David and the elders of Iſrael, and the captains over thouſands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, out of the houſe of Obed-edom with joy.

26 And it came to paſs, when God helped the Levites that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that they offered ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams.

27 And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Levites that bare the ark, and the ſingers, and Chenaniah the maſter of the ſong, with the ſingers: David alſo had upon him an ephod of linen (i).

28 Thus all Iſrael brought up the ark of the covenant of the Lord with ſhouting, and with pſalteries and harps.

29 And it came to paſs, as the ark of the covenant of the Lord came to the city of David, that Michal, the daughter of Saul, looking out at a window, ſaw king David dancing and playing: and ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

The ark being placed in the tent, David offers ſacrifices: he places ſingers before the ark. His ſong of thankſgiving.

SO they brought the ark of God, and ſet it in the midſt of the tent that David had pitched for it: and they offered burnt-ſacrifices and peace-offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an end of offering the burnt-offerings, and the peace-offerings, he bleſſed the people in the name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to every one of Iſrael, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread, and a good piece of fleſh, and a flagon of wine.

4 And he appointed certain of the Levites to miniſter before the ark of the Lord, and to re-

(i) David was cloathed with a double garment, with a robe of fine linen, and with a linen ephod. Theſe two garments are expreſsly diſtinguiſhed in the account of veſtments of the high-prieſt, Exod. xxix. 5. xxviii. 4, 6. xxxix. 23. The fabrick of them was different; the ephod was made of gold, blue, purple, ſcarlet; whereas the robe was formed all of blue. The ſhape of them was different. The ephod reaching only to the knees, the robe flowing down to the very covering of the feet. The robe had no diviſion in it throughout, but what was made whole and round with an opening in the middle of it, at the top, ſo that it was impoſſible any part of the body could be ſeen through it, eſpecially as the ephod on this occaſion of David's dancing, was thrown over it, and tied probably with a girdle, as the prieſt's ephod always was. David clothed himſelf with theſe linen garments on this ſo-

cord, and to thank, and praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael:

5 Aſaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-edom: and Jehiel with pſalteries, and with harps; but Aſaph made a ſound with cymbals:

6 Benaiah alſo and Jahaziel the prieſts with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

7 Then on that day, David delivered firſt this pſalm to thank the Lord, into the hand of Aſaph and his brethren.

8 Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people.

9 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him, talk ye of all his wonderous works.

10 Glory ye in his holy name; let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the Lord.

11 Seek the Lord and his ſtrength, ſeek his face continually.

12 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;

13 O ye ſeed of Iſrael his ſervant, ye children of Jacob his choſen ones.

14 He is the Lord our God; his judgments are in all the earth.

15 Be ye mindful always of his covenant: the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations;

16 Even of the covenant which he made with Abraham, and of his oath unto Iſaac;

17 And hath confirmed the ſame to Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant,

18 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

19 When ye were but few, even a few, and ſtrangers in it;

20 And when they went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people;

21 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their ſakes,

22 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

23 Sing unto the Lord all the earth; ſhew forth from day to day his ſalvation.

24 Declare his glory among the heathen; his marvellous works among all nations.

25 For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed: he alſo is to be feared above all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

27 Glory and honour are in his preſence; ſtrength and gladneſs are in his place.

28 Give unto the Lord, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and ſtrength.

29 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him; worſhip the Lord in the beauty of holineſs.

30 Fear before him, all the earth: the world alſo ſhall be ſtable, that it be not moved.

31 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men ſay among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof: let the fields rejoice, and all that is therein.

33 Then ſhall the trees of the wood ſing out at the preſence of the Lord, becauſe he cometh to judge the earth.

34 O give thanks to the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

35 And ſay ye, Save us, O God of our ſalvation, and gather us together, and deliver us from the heathen that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and glory in thy praiſe.

36 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael for ever and ever. And all the people ſaid, Amen, and praiſed the Lord.

37 So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, Aſaph and his brethren, to miniſter before the ark continually, as every day's work required:

38 And Obed-edom, with their brethren threeſcore and eight; Obed-edom alſo the ſon of Jeduthun, and Hoſa, to be porters:

39 And Zadok the prieſt, and his brethren the prieſts, before the tabernacle of the Lord, in the high place that was at Gibeon.

40 To offer burnt-offerings unto the Lord, upon the altar of the burnt-offering continually, morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded Iſrael:

41 And with them Heman and Jeduthun, and the reſt that were choſen, who were expreſſed by name, to give thanks to the Lord, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever;

42 And with them Heman and Jeduthun

ſolemnity, both out of reverence to God, and for conveniency, becauſe they were cooler. It may be further obſerved that this robe was worn by kings, their children, princes, prieſts, Levites, and prophets, when they appeared on any ſolemn occaſion, which covered their other garments. See 1 Sam. xxviii. 14. 2 Sam. xiii. 8. David therefore dreſſed himſelf on this occaſion, with this long flowing linen robe, inſtead of the robe of ſtate proper to him as king of Iſrael, and which was made of richer materials; and hence he was ſcornfully inſulted by Saul's daughter as uncovering himſelf, &c. i. e. uncovering himſelf as a king, and appearing in an habit wholly unworthy, as ſhe thought, his royal character and dignity. See on 2 Sam. vi. 20.

with trumpets and cymbals, for thoſe that ſhould make a ſound, and with muſical inſtruments of God. And the ſons of Jeduthun were porters.

43 And all the people departed every man to his houſe: and David returned to bleſs his houſe.

CHAP. XVII.

Nathan firſt approving the purpoſe of David to build God an houſe, afterwards by the word of the Lord informs him, that not he, but his ſon, ſhould build it: David gives thanks to God.

NOW it came to paſs as David ſat in his houſe, that David ſaid to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in an houſe of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord remaineth under curtains.

2 Then Nathan ſaid unto David, Do all that is in thine heart; for God is with thee.

3 And it came to paſs the ſame night, that the word of God came to Nathan, ſaying,

4 Go, and tell David my ſervant, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou ſhalt not build me an houſe to dwell in.

5 For I have not dwelt in an houſe ſince the day that I brought up Iſrael, unto this day; but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

6 Whereſoever I have walked with all Iſrael, ſpake I a word to any of the judges of Iſrael, whom I commanded to feed my people, ſaying, Why have ye not built me an houſe of cedars?

7 Now therefore, thus ſhalt thou ſay unto my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, I took thee from the ſheep-cote, even from following the ſheep, that thou ſhouldeſt be ruler over my people Iſrael:

8 And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou haſt walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Alſo I will ordain a place for my people Iſrael, and will plant them, and they ſhall dwell in their place, and ſhall be moved no more; neither ſhall the children of wickedneſs waſte them any more; (as at the beginning,

10 And ſince the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iſrael:) moreover, I will ſubdue all thine enemies. Furthermore, I tell thee, that the Lord will build thee an houſe.

11 And it ſhall come to paſs, when thy days be expired, that thou muſt go to be with thy fathers, that I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſons; and I will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

12 He ſhall build me an houſe, and I will eſtabliſh his throne for ever.

13 I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſon: and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee;

14 But I will ſettle him in mine houſe, and in my kingdom for ever: and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for evermore.

15 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David.

16 And David the king came, and ſat before the Lord, and ſaid, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto?

17 And yet this was a ſmall thing in thine eyes, O God; for thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy ſervant's houſe for a great while to come, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of high degree, O Lord God.

18 What can David ſpeak more to thee for the honour of thy ſervant? for thou knoweſt thy ſervant.

19 O Lord, for thy ſervant's ſake, and according to thine own heart haſt thou done all this greatneſs, in making known all theſe great things.

20 O Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people Iſrael, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatneſs and terribleneſs, by driving out nations from before thy people whom thou haſt redeemed out of Egypt?

22 For thy people Iſrael didſt thou make thine own people for ever; and thou, Lord, becameſt their God.

23 Therefore now, Lord, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant, and concerning his houſe, be eſtabliſhed for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

24 Let it even be eſtabliſhed, that thy name may be magnified for ever, ſaying, The Lord of hoſts is the God of Iſrael, even a God to Iſrael: and let the houſe of David thy ſervant be eſtabliſhed before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, haſt told thy ſervant, that thou wilt build him an houſe: therefore thy ſervant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And now, Lord, thou art God, and haſt promiſed this goodneſs unto thy ſervant;

27 Now therefore let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou bleſſeſt, O Lord, and it ſhall be bleſſed for ever.

CHAP. XVIII.

David ſubdues the Philiſtines, Moabites, Hadarezer, king of Zobah, the king of Syria, and the Edomites. Tou, king of Hamath, congratulates David, and ſends him preſents. David reigns over all Iſrael with the greateſt equity.

NOW after this, it came to paſs, that David ſmote the Philiſtines, and ſubdued them, and took Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

2 And he ſmote Moab; and the Moabites became David's ſervants, and brought gifts.

3 And David ſmote Hadarezer, king of Zobah, unto Hamath, as he went to eſtabliſh his dominion by the river Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thouſand chariots, and ſeven thouſand horſemen, and twenty thouſand footmen: David alſo houghed all the chariot-horſes, but reſerved of them an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of Damaſcus came to help Hadarezer, king of Zobah, David ſlew of the Syrians two and twenty-thouſand men.

6 Then David put garriſons in Syria-damaſcus; and the Syrians became David's ſervants, and brought gifts. Thus the Lord preſerved David whitherſoever he went.

7 And David took the ſhields of gold that were on the ſervants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jeruſalem.

8 Likewiſe from Tibhath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought David very much braſs, wherewith Solomon made the braſen ſea, and the pillars, and the veſſels of braſs.

9 Now when Tou, king of Hamath, heard how David had ſmitten all the hoſt of Hadarezer, king of Zobah;

10 He ſent Hadoram his ſon to king David, to enquire of his welfare, and to congratulate him, becauſe he had fought againſt Hadarezer, and ſmitten him, (for Hadarezer had warred with Tou;) and with him all manner of veſſels of gold, and ſilver, and braſs.

11 Them alſo king David dedicated unto the Lord, with the ſilver and the gold, that he brought from all theſe nations; from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philiſtines, and from Amalek.

12 Moreover, Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah, ſlew of the Edomites in the valley of ſalt eighteen thouſand.

13 And he put garriſons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's ſervants. Thus the Lord preſerved David whitherſoever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Iſrael, and executed judgment and juſtice among all his people.

15 And Joab, the ſon of Zeruiah, was over the hoſt; and Jehoſhaphat, the ſon of Ahilud, recorder.

16 And Zadok, the ſon of Ahitub, and Abimelech, the ſon of Abiathar, were the prieſts; and Shavſha was ſcribe;

17 And Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada, was over the Cherethites, and the Pelethites; and the ſons of David were chief about the king.

CHAP. XIX.

Hanun, the king of the Ammonites, treats with contempt the meſſengers of David; who fights againſt, and overcomes the Ammonites and the Syrians.

NOW it came to paſs after this, that Nahaſh, the king of the children of Ammon, died, and his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 And David ſaid, I will ſhew kindneſs unto Hanun, the ſon of Nahaſh, becauſe his father ſhewed kindneſs to me. And David ſent meſſengers to comfort him concerning his father: ſo the ſervants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 But the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid to Hanun, Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father that he hath ſent comforters unto thee? are not his ſervants come unto thee for to ſearch, and to overthrow, and to ſpy out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's ſervants, and ſhaved them, and cut off their garments in the midſt hard by their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 Then there went certain, and told David how the men were ſerved. And he ſent to meet them; for the men were greatly aſhamed. And the king ſaid, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return.

6 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that they had made themſelves odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon ſent a thouſand talents of ſilver to hire them chariots and horſemen out of Meſopotamia, and out of Syria-maachah, and out of Zobah.

7 So they hired thirty and two thouſand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people, who came and pitched before Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themſelves together from their cities, and came to battle.

8 And when David heard of it, he ſent Joab, and all the hoſt of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battle in array before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come were by themſelves in the field.

10 Now when Joab ſaw that the battle was ſet ſet againſt him, before and behind, he choſe out of all the choice of Iſrael, and put them in array againſt the Syrians.

11 And the reſt of the people he delivered unto the hand of Abiſhai his brother, and they ſet themſelves in array againſt the children of Ammon.

12 And he ſaid, If the Syrians be too ſtrong for me, then thou ſhalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave ourſelves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God: and let the Lord do that which is good in his ſight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him drew nigh before the Syrians, unto the battle; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, they likewiſe fled before Abiſhai his brother, and entered into the city. Then Joab came to Jeruſalem.

16 And when the Syrians ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they ſent meſſengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the river: and Shophach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer, went before them.

17 And it was told David; and he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſed over Jordan, and came upon them, and ſet the battle in array againſt them; ſo when David had put the battle in array againſt the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Iſrael; and David ſlew of the Syrians ſeven thouſand men, which fought in chariots, and forty thouſand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoſt.

19 And when the ſervants of Hadarezer ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they made peace with David, and became his ſervants: neither would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XX.

Joab takes the city of Rabbah: the Philiſtines are three times overcome by David and his ſervants:

AND it came to paſs, that after the year was expired, at the time that kings go out to battle, Joab led forth the power of the army, and waſted the country of the children of Ammon, and came and beſieged Rabbah: (but David tarried at Jeruſalem) and Joab ſmote Rabbah, and deſtroyed it.

2 And David took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it to weigh a talent of gold, and there were precious ſtones in it; and it was ſet upon David's head: and he brought alſo exceeding much ſpoil out of the city.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and cut them with ſaws and with harrows of iron, and with axes: even ſo dealt David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jeruſalem.

4 And it came to paſs after this, that there aroſe war at Gezer with the Philiſtines, at which time Sibbechai the Huſhathite ſlew Sippai, that was of the children of the giant, and they were ſubdued.

5 And there was war again with the Philiſtines; and Elhanan the ſon of Jair, ſlew Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whoſe ſpear-ſtaff was like a weaver's beam.

6 And yet again there was war at Gath, where was a man of great ſtature, whoſe fingers and toes were four and twenty, ſix on each hand, and ſix on each foot; and he alſo was the ſon of the giant.

7 But when he defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſon of Shimea, David's brother, ſlew him.

8 Theſe were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXI.

David numbers the people: God is diſpleaſed and gives him the choice of three puniſhments. He chuſes the peſtilence; and appeaſeth the Lord at the threſhing-floor of Ornan.

AND Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael.

2 And David ſaid to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Iſrael from Beer-ſheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab anſwered, The Lord make his people an hundred times ſo many more as they be: but my lord the king, are they not all my lord's ſervants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cauſe of treſpaſs to Iſrael?

4 Nevertheleſs, the king's word prevailed againſt Joab: wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Iſrael, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 And Joab gave the ſum of the number of the people unto David. And all they of Iſrael were a thouſand thouſand and an hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: and Judah was four hundred threeſcore and ten thouſand men that drew ſword.

6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Joab.

7 And God was diſpleaſed with this thing; therefore he ſmote Iſrael.

8 And David ſaid unto God, I have ſinned greatly, becauſe I have done this thing: but now, now, I beſeech thee, do away the iniquity of thy ſervant; for I have done very fooliſhly.

9 And the Lord ſpake unto Gad, David's ſeer, ſaying,

10 Go, and tell David, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chooſe thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Gad came to David, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord; Chooſe thee

12 Either three years famine; or three months to be deſtroyed before thy foes, (while that the ſword of thine enemies overtaketh thee;) or elſe three days the ſword of the Lord, even the peſtilence in the land, and the angel of the Lord deſtroying throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael. Now therefore adviſe thyſelf, what word I ſhall bring again to him that ſent me.

13 And David ſaid unto Gad, I am in a great ſtrait: let me fall now into the hand of the Lord, (for very great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord ſent a peſtilence upon Iſrael: and there fell of Iſrael ſeventy thouſand men.

15 And God ſent an angel unto Jeruſalem to deſtroy it: and as he was deſtroying, the Lord beheld, and he repented him of the evil, and ſaid to the angel that deſtroyed, It is enough, ſtay now thine hand. And the angel of the Lord ſtood by the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

16 And David lifted up his eyes, and ſaw the angel of the Lord ſtand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn ſword in his hand, ſtretched out over Jeruſalem: then David and the elders of Iſrael, who were clothed in ſackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David ſaid unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? even I it is that have ſinned and done evil indeed; but as for theſe ſheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O Lord my God, be on me, and on my father's houſe; but not on thy people, that they ſhould be plagued.

18 Then the angel of the Lord commanded Gad to ſay to David, that David ſhould go up and ſet up an altar unto the Lord, in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

19 And David went up at the ſaying of Gad, which he ſpake in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned back, and ſaw the angel; and his four ſons with him hid themſelves. Now Ornan was threſhing wheat.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and ſaw David, and went out of the threſhing-floor, and bowed himſelf to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David ſaid to Ornan, Grant me the place of this threſhing-floor, that I may build an altar therein unto the Lord: thou ſhalt grant it me for the full price, that the plague may be ſtayed from the people.

23 And Ornan ſaid unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen alſo for burnt-offerings, and the threſhing-inſtruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat-offering; I give it all.

24 And king David ſaid to Ornan, Nay; but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt-offerings without coſt.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place, ſix hundred ſhekels of gold by weight.

26 And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings, and peace-offerings, and called upon the Lord; and he anſwered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offering.

27 And the Lord commanded the angel; and he put up his ſword again into the ſheath thereof.

28 At that time when David ſaw that the Lord had anſwered him in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite, then he ſacrificed there.

29 (For the tabernacle of the Lord which Moſes made in the wilderneſs, and the altar of the burnt-offering, were at that ſeaſon in the high place at Gibeon.

30 But David could not go before it to enquire of God: for he was afraid, becauſe of the ſword of the angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

David prepares materials for building the temple; he inſtructs his ſon Solomon concerning it, and exhorts him to obey the law of Moſes.

THEN David ſaid, This is the houſe of the Lord God, and this is the altar of the burnt-offering for Iſrael.

2 And David commanded to gather together the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſrael; and he ſet maſons to hew wrought ſtones to build the houſe of God.

3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the joinings; and braſs in abundance without weight;

4 Alſo cedar-trees in abundance: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyre, brought much cedar-wood to David.

5 And David ſaid, Solomon my ſon is young and tender, and the houſe that is to be builded for the Lord, muſt be exceeding magnifical, of fame and of glory throughout all countries: I will therefore now make preparation for it. So David prepared abundantly before his death.

6 Then he called for Solomon his ſon, and charged him to build an houſe for the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 And David ſaid to Solomon, My ſon, as for me, it was in my mind to build an houſe unto the name of the Lord my God:

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying, Thou haſt ſhed blood abundantly, and haſt made great wars: thou ſhalt not build an houſe unto my name, becauſe thou haſt ſhed much blood upon the earth in my ſight.

9 Behold, a ſon ſhall be born to thee, who ſhall be a man of reſt; and I will give him reſt from all his enemies round about: for his name ſhall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietneſs unto Iſrael in his days.

10 He ſhall build an houſe for my name; and he ſhall be my ſon, and I will be his father; and I will eſtabliſh the throne of his kingdom over Iſrael for ever.

11 Now, my ſon, the Lord be with thee; and proſper thou, and build the houſe of the Lord thy God, as he hath ſaid of thee.

12 Only the Lord give thee wiſdom and underſtanding, and give thee charge concerning Iſrael, that thou mayeſt keep the law of the Lord thy God.

13 Then ſhalt thou proſper, if thou takeſt heed to fulfil the ſtatutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moſes with, concerning Iſrael: Be ſtrong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be diſmayed.

14 Now behold, in my trouble I have prepared for the houſe of the Lord an hundred thouſand talents of gold, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſilver; and of braſs, and iron, without weight; (for it is in abundance;) timber alſo and ſtone have I prepared; and thou mayeſt add thereto.

15 Moreover, there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers and workers of ſtone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work.

16 Of the gold, the ſilver, and the braſs, and the iron, there is no number. Ariſe therefore, and be doing, and the Lord be with thee.

17 David alſo commanded all the princes of Iſrael to help Solomon his ſon, ſaying, 18 Is not the Lord your God with you? and hath he not given you reſt on every ſide? for he hath given the inhabitants of the land into mine hand; and the land is ſubdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the Lord your God; ariſe therefore, and build ye the ſanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the holy veſſels of God, into the houſe that is to be built to the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

David makes Solomon king. The Levites are numbered, and appointed to their ſeveral offices.

SO when David was old and full of days, he made Solomon his ſon king over Iſrael.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Iſrael, with the prieſts and the Levites.

3 Now the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years and upwards: and their number by their polls, man by man, was thirty and eight thouſand.

4 Of which, twenty and four thouſand were to ſet forward the work of the houſe of the Lord; and ſix thouſand were officers and judges:

5 Moreover, four thouſand were porters; and four thouſand praiſed the Lord with the inſtruments which I made, (ſaid David,) to praiſe therewith.

6 And David divided them into courſes among the ſons of Levi, namely, Gerſhon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gerſhonites were, Laadan, and Shimei.

8 The ſons of Laadan; the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham, and Joel, three.

9 The ſons of Shimei; Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haran, three. Theſe were the chief of the fathers of Laadan.

10 And the ſons of Shimei were, Jahath, Zina, and Jeuſh, and Beriah. Theſe four were the ſons of Shimei.

11 And Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the ſecond: but Jeuſh and Beriah had not many ſons; therefore they were in one reckoning, according to their father's houſe.

12 The ſons of Kohath; Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four.

13 The ſons of Amram; Aaron and Moſes: and Aaron was ſeparated, that he ſhould ſanctify the moſt holy things, he and his ſons for ever, to burn incenſe before the Lord, to miniſter unto him, and to bleſs in his name for ever.

14 Now concerning Moſes the man of God, his ſons were named of the tribe of Levi.

15 The ſons of Moſes were, Gerſhom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the ſons of Gerſhom, Shebuel was the chief.

17 And the ſons of Eliezer were, Rehabiah the chief. And Eliezer had none other ſons; but the ſons of Rehabiah were very many.

18 Of the ſons of Izhar; Shelomith the chief.

19 Of the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jehaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Micah the firſt, and Jeſiah the ſecond.

21 The

21 The ſons of Merari; Mahli, and Muſhi: the ſons of Mahli; Eleazar, and Kiſh:

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſons, but daughters: and their brethren the ſons of Kiſh took them.

23 The ſons of Muſhi, Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three.

24 Theſe were the ſons of Levi after the houſe of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, from the age of twenty years and upward.

25 For David ſaid, The Lord God of Iſrael hath given reſt unto his people, that they may dwell in Jeruſalem for ever;

26 And alſo unto the Levites: they ſhall no more carry the tabernacle, nor any veſſels of it for the ſervice thereof.

27 For by the laſt words of David, the Levites were numbered from twenty years old and above:

28 Becauſe their office was to wait on the ſons of Aaron, for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, in the courts, and in the chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God;

29 Both for the ſhew-bread, and for the fine flour for meat-offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for that which is baked in the pan, and for that which is fried, and for all manner of meaſure and ſize;

30 And to ſtand every morning to thank and praiſe the Lord, and likewiſe at even;

31 And to offer all burnt-ſacrifices unto the Lord in the ſabbaths, in the new-moons, and on the ſet feaſts, by number, according to the order commanded unto them continually before the Lord:

32 And that they ſhould keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the ſons of Aaron their brethren, in the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

David divides the families of Eleazar and Ithamar into twenty-four orders, the Kohathites and the Merarites divided by lot.

NOW theſe are the diviſions of the ſons of Aaron. The ſons of Aaron; Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the prieſt's office.

3 And David diſtributed them, both Zadok of the ſons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ſervice.

4 And there were more chief men found of the ſons of Eleazar than of the ſons of Ithamar; and thus were they divided. Among the ſons of Eleazar there were ſixteen chief men of the houſe of their fathers, and eight among the ſons of Ithamar, according to the houſe of their fathers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, one ſort with another; for the governors of the ſanctuary, and governors of the houſe of God, were of the ſons of Eleazar, and of the ſons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the ſon of Nethaneel the ſcribe, one of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſon of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites: one principal houſehold being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

7 Now the firſt lot came forth to Jehoiarib, the ſecond to Jedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchijah, the ſixth to Mijamin,

10 The ſeventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

11 The ninth to Jeſhuah, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliaſhib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeſhebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the ſixteenth to Immer,

15 The ſeventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Aphſes,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Jachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

18 The three and twentieth to Delaiah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

19 Theſe were the orderings of them in their ſervice to come into the houſe of the Lord, according to their manner, under Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Iſrael had commanded him.

20 And the reſt of the ſons of Levi were theſe: Of the ſons of Amram; Shubael; of the ſons of Shubael; Jehdeiah.

21 Concerning Rehabiah: of the ſons of Rehabiah, the firſt was Iſhiah.

22 Of the Izharites; Shelomoth: of the ſons of Shelomoth; Jahath.

23 And the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, Jekameam the fourth.

24 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Michah: of the ſons of Michah; Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah was Iſhiah: of the ſons of Iſhiah; Zechariah.

26 The ſons of Merari were Mahli and Muſhi: the ſons of Jaaziah; Beno.

27 The ſons of Merari by Jaaziah; Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, who had no ſons.

29 Concerning Kiſh: the ſon of Kiſh was Jerahmeel.

30 The ſons alſo of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. Theſe were the ſons of the Levites, after the houſe of their fathers.

31 Theſe likewiſe caſt lots over againſt their brethren the ſons of Aaron, in the preſence of David the king, and Zadok and Ahimelech, and the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites, even the principal fathers over againſt their younger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

The number and offices of the ſingers: Their diviſion by lot into four and twenty orders.

MOreover, David and the captains of the hoſt ſeparated to the ſervice of the ſons of Aſaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who ſhould propheſy with harps, with pſalteries, and with cymbals: and the number of the workmen, according to their ſervice, was:

2 Of the ſons of Aſaph; Zaccur, and Joſeph, and Nethaniah, and Aſarelah, the ſons of Aſaph under the hands of Aſaph, which propheſied according to the order of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun: the ſons of Jeduthun; Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Jeſhaiah, Haſhabiah, and Mattithiah, ſix, under the hands of their father Jeduthun, who propheſied with a harp, to give thanks, and to praiſe the Lord.

4 Of Heman: the ſons of Heman; Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Joſhbekaſhah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth:

5 All theſe were the ſons of Heman the king's ſeer in the words of God, to lift up the horn. And God gave to Heman fourteen ſons and three daughters.

6 All theſe were under the hands of their father, for ſong in the houſe of the Lord, with cymbals, pſalteries and harps, for the ſervice of the houſe of God, according to the king's order, to Aſaph, Jeduthun, and Heman.

7 So the number of them, with their brethren that were inſtructed in the ſongs of the Lord, even all that were cunning, was two hundred fourſcore and eight.

8 And they caſt lots, ward againſt ward, as well the ſmall as the great, the teacher as the ſcholar.

9 Now the firſt lot came forth for Aſaph to Joſeph, the ſecond to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and ſons were twelve:

10 The third to Zaccur, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

11 The fourth to Izri, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

12 The fifth to Nethaniah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

13 The ſixth to Bukkiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

14 The ſeventh to Jeſharelah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

15 The eighth to Jeſhaiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

16 The ninth to Mattaniah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

17 The tenth to Shimei, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

22 The fifteenth to Jeremoth, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

23 The ſixteenth to Hananiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

24 The ſeventeenth to Joſhbekaſhah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

25 The eighteenth to Hanani, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

26 The nineteenth to Mallothi, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

27 The twentieth to Eliathah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

28 The one and twentieth to Hothir, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

29 The two and twentieth to Giddalti, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

30 The three and twentieth to Mahazioth, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

31 The four and twentieth to Romamti-ezer, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve.

CHAP. XXVI.

The diviſion of the porters: the ſeveral gates aſſigned them. The Levites who had charge of the treaſures. The officers and judges.

COncerning the diviſions of the porters: Of the Korhites was Meſhelemiah the ſon of Kore, of the ſons of Aſaph.

2 And the ſons of Meſhelemiah were, Zechariah the firſt born, Jediael the ſecond, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the ſixth, Elioenai the ſeventh.

4 Moreover, the ſons of Obed-edom were, Shemaiah the firſt-born, Jehozabad the ſecond, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the ſixth, Iſſachar the ſeventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God bleſſed him.

6 Alſo unto Shemaiah his ſon were ſons born, that ruled throughout the houſe of their father: for they were mighty men of valour.

7 The ſons of Shemaiah; Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, whoſe brethren were ſtrong men; Elihu and Semachiah.

8 All theſe of the ſons of Obed-edom: they and their ſons and their brethren, able men for ſtrength for the ſervice, were threeſcore and two of Obed-edom.

9 And Meſhelemiah had ſons and brethren, ſtrong men, eighteen.

10 Alſo Hoſah, of the children of Merari, had ſons; Simri the chief, (for though he was not the firſt-born, yet his father made him the chief;)

11 Hilkiah the ſecond, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the ſons and brethren of Hoſah were thirteen.

12 Among theſe were the diviſions of the porters, even among the chief men, having wards one againſt another, to miniſter in the houſe of the Lord.

13 And they caſt lots as well the ſmall as the great, according to the houſe of their fathers, for every gate.

14 And the lot eaſt-ward fell to Shelemiah; then for Zechariah his ſon (a wiſe counſellor) they caſt lots; and his lot came out north-ward.

15 To Obed-edom ſouth-ward; and to his ſons, the houſe of Aſuppim.

16 To Shuppim and Hoſah, the lot came forth weſt-ward, with the gate Shallecheth, by the cauſeway of the going up, ward againſt ward.

17 Eaſt-ward were ſix Levites, north-ward four a day, ſouth-ward four a day, and toward Aſuppim two and two.

18 At Parbar weſt-ward, four at the cauſeway, and two at Parbar.

19 Theſe are the diviſions of the porters among the ſons of Kore, and among the ſons of Merari.

20 And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treaſures of the houſe of God, and over the treaſures of the dedicated things.

21 As concerning the ſons of Laadan; the ſons of the Gerſhonite Laadan, chief fathers, even of Laadan the Gerſhonite, were Jehieli.

22 The ſons of Jehieli; Zetham, and Joel his brother, which were over the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord.

24 And Shebuel the ſon of Gerſhom, the ſon of Moſes, was ruler of the treaſures.

25 And his brethren by Eliezer; Rehabiah his ſon, and Jeſhaiah his ſon, and Joram his ſon, and Zichri his ſon, and Shelomith his ſon:

26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treaſures of the dedicated things, which David the king and the chief fathers, the captains over thouſands and hundreds, and the captains of the hoſt, had dedicated.

27 Out of the ſpoils won in battles, did they dedicate, to maintain the houſe of the Lord.

28 And all that Samuel the ſeer, and Saul the ſon of Kiſh, and Abner the ſon of Ner, and Joab the ſon of Zeruiah, had dedicated; and whoſoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shelomith, and of his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his ſons were for the outward buſineſs over Iſrael, for officers and judges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Haſhabiah and his brethren, men of valour, a thouſand and ſeven hundred were officers among them of Iſrael on this ſide Jordan weſt-ward, in all buſineſs of the Lord, and in the ſervice of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jerijah the chief, even among the Hebronites according to the generations of his fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of David, they were ſought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valour, at Jazer of Gilead.

32 And his brethren, men of valour, were two thouſand and ſeven hundred chief fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, for every matter pertaining to God, and affairs of the king.

CHAP. XXVII.

The twelve captains for every ſeveral month. The princes of the twelve tribes: the officers over the treaſures, fields, cattle, &c.

NOW the children of Iſrael after their number (k), to wit, the chief fathers and captains of thouſands and hundreds, and their officers that ſerved the king in any matter of the courſes, which came in and went out month by month, throughout all the months of the year, of every courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

2 Over the firſt courſe for the firſt month, was Jaſhobeam the ſon of Zabdiel: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

3 Of the children of Perez, was the chief of all the captains of the hoſt for the firſt month.

4 And over the courſe of the ſecond month, was Dodai an Ahohite, and of his courſe was Mikloth alſo the ruler: in his courſe likewiſe were twenty and four thouſand.

5 The third captain of the hoſt for the third month, was Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada, a chief prieſt: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

6 This is that Benaiah who was mighty among the thirty, and above the thirty: and in his courſe was Ammizabad his ſon.

7 The fourth captain for the fourth month, was Aſahel the brother of Joab, and Zebadiah his ſon after him: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

8 The fifth captain for the fifth month, was Shamhuth the Izrahite: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

9 The ſixth captain for the ſixth month was Ira, the ſon of Ikkeſh, the Tekoite: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

10 The ſeventh captain for the ſeventh month was Helez the Pelonite, of the children of Ephraim: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

11 The eighth captain for the eighth month was Sibbecai the Huſhathite, of the Zarhites: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

12 The ninth captain for the ninth month was Abiezer the Anetothite, of the Benjamites: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

13 The tenth captain for the tenth month was Maharai the Netophathite, of the Zarhites: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

14 The eleventh captain for the eleventh month was Benaiah the Pirathonite, of the children of Ephraim: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

15 The twelfth captain for the twelfth month was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel: and in his courſe were twenty and four thouſand.

16 Furthermore, over the tribes of Iſrael: the ruler of the Reubenites was Eliezer the ſon of Zichri: of the Simeonites, Shephatiah the ſon of Maachah:

17 Of the Levites, Haſhabiah the ſon of Kemuel: of the Aaronites, Zadok:

18 Of Judah, Elihu one of the brethren of David: of Iſſachar, Omri the ſon of Michael:

19 Of Zebulun, Iſhmaiah the ſon of Obadiah: of Naphtali, Jerimoth the ſon of Azriel:

21 Of the half-tribe of Manaſſeh in Gilead, Iddo the ſon of Zechariah: of Benjamin, Jaaſiel the ſon of Abner:

22 Of Dan, Azareel the ſon of Jeroham. Theſe were the princes of the tribes of Iſrael.

23 But David took not the number of them from twenty years old and under: becauſe the Lord had ſaid, he would increaſe Iſrael like to the ſtars of the heavens.

24 Joab the ſon of Zeruiah began to number, but he finiſhed not, becauſe there fell wrath for it againſt Iſrael; neither was the number put in the account of the chronicles of king David.

25 And over the king's treaſures was Azmaveth the ſon of Adiel: and over the ſtorehouſes in the fields, in the cities, and in the villages, and in the caſtles, was Jehonathan the ſon of Uzziah.

26 And over them that did the work of the field for tillage of the ground, was Ezri the ſon of Chelub.

27 And over the vineyards was Shimei the Ramathite: over the increaſe of the vineyards for the wine-cellars, was Zabdi the Shiphmite.

28 And over the olive-trees and the ſycamore-trees that were in the low plains, was Baal-hanan the Gederite: and over the cellars of oil was Joaſh.

29 And over the herds that fed in Sharon, was Shitrai the Sharonite: and over the herds that were in the valleys, was Shaphat the ſon of Adlai.

30 Over the camels alſo, was Obil the Iſhmaelite: and over the aſſes, was Jehdeiah the Meronothite.

31 And over the flocks, was Jaziz the Hagerite. All theſe were the rulers of the ſubſtance which was king David's.

32 Alſo Jonathan, David's uncle, was a counſellor, a wiſe man, and a ſcribe: and Jehiel, the ſon of Hachmoni, was with the king's ſons.

33 And Ahithophel was the king's counſellor, and Huſhai the Archite was the king's companion.

34 And after Ahithophel, was Jehoiada the ſon of Benaiah, and Abiathar: and the general of the king's army was Joab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

David declares that the temple was to be built by Solomon. He delivers to Solomon the patterns of the future temple.

AND David aſſembled all the princes of Iſrael, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that miniſtered to the king king by courſe, and the captains over the thouſands, and captains over the hundreds, and the ſtewards over all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of the king, and of his ſons, with the officers, and with the mighty men, and with all the valiant men, unto Jeruſalem.

2 Then David the king ſtood up upon his feet, and ſaid, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I had in mine heart to build an houſe of reſt for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and for the footſtool of our God, and had made ready for the building:

3 But God ſaid unto me, Thou ſhalt not build an houſe for my name, becauſe thou haſt been a man of war, and haſt ſhed blood.

4 Howbeit, the Lord God of Iſrael choſe me before all the houſe of my father, to be king over Iſrael for ever; for he hath choſen Judah to be the ruler; and of the houſe of Judah, the houſe of my father; and among the ſons of my father, he liked me to make me king over all Iſrael:

5 And of all my ſons (for the Lord hath given me many ſons) he hath choſen Solomon my ſon, to ſit upon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Iſrael.

6 And he ſaid unto me, Solomon thy ſon, he ſhall build my houſe and my courts: for I have choſen him to be my ſon, and I will be his father.

7 Moreover, I will eſtabliſh his kingdom for ever, if he be conſtant to do my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.

8 Now therefore in the ſight of all Iſrael, the congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keep and ſeek for all the commandments of the Lord your God: that ye may poſſeſs this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you for ever.

9 And thou, Solomon my ſon, know thou the God of thy father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind: for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and underſtandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts. If thou ſeek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forſake him, he will caſt thee off for ever.

10 Take heed now; for the Lord hath choſen thee to build an houſe for the ſanctuary: be ſtrong and do it.

11 Then David gave to Solomon his ſon the pattern of the porch, and of the houſes thereof, and of the treaſuries thereof, and of the upper chambers thereof, and of the inner parlours thereof, and of the place of the mercy-ſeat,

12 And the pattern of all that he had by the ſpirit, of the courts of the houſe of the Lord, and of all the chambers round about, of the treaſuries of the houſe of God, and of the treaſuries of the dedicated things:

13 Alſo for the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, and for all the work of the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, and for all the veſſels of ſervice in the houſe of the Lord.

14 He gave of gold by weight, for things of gold, for all inſtruments of all manner of ſervice; ſilver alſo for all inſtruments of ſilver, by weight, for all inſtruments of every kind of ſervice:

15 Even the weight for the candleſticks of gold, and for their lamps of gold, by weight for every candleſtick, and for the lamps thereof: and for the candleſticks of ſilver, by weight, both for the candleſtick and alſo for the lamps thereof, according to the uſe of every candleſtick.

16 And by weight he gave gold for the tables of ſhew-bread, for every table; and likewiſe ſilver for the tables of ſilver.

17 Alſo pure gold for the fleſh-hooks, and the bowls, and the cups: and for the golden baſons he gave gold by weight for every baſon, and likewiſe ſilver by weight for every baſon of ſilver:

18 And for the altar of incenſe, refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of the chariot of the cherubims, that ſpread out their wings, and covered the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

19 All this, ſaid David, the Lord made me underſtand in writing by his hand upon me (l), even all the works of this pattern.

20 And David ſaid to Solomon his ſon, be ſtrong and of good courage, and do it: fear not, nor be diſmayed; for the Lord God, even my God, will be with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forſake thee, until thou haſt finiſhed all the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord.

21 And behold, the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, even they ſhall be with thee for all the ſervice of the houſe of God: and there ſhall be with thee for all manner of workmanſhip, every willing skilful man, for any manner of ſervice: alſo the princes and all the people will be wholly at thy commandment.

(l) All theſe were delineated as the Lord gave him underſtanding of all the work which the pattern ſet forth. Houb. That the architecture of the temple was of divine original, I, for my part am fully ſatisfied from this paſſage; and I am confirmed in this perſuaſion by finding from Villalpandus, that the Roman, at leaſt the Greek architecture is derived from this, as from its fountain: and in my humble opinion, even an infidel may eaſily believe theſe to be of divine original, inaſmuch as they are, (at leaſt the latter is) found perfect in the earlieſt models: nor hath the utmoſt reach of human wiſdom, invention and induſtry, been ever able (though often endeavouring) to improve or alter it, but to diſadvantage, throughout the courſe of ſo many ages. Delaney's Life of David.

CHAP. XXIX.

David, having enumerated all his gifts deſigned for the building of the temple, exhorts the princes and people to make their offerings, which they do willingly. David acknowledges that nothing is given to God, but what had been before received from Him. Solomon is a ſecond time anointed. David's death.

FUrthermore, David the king ſaid unto all the congregation, Solomon my ſon, whom God alone hath choſen, is yet young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the houſe of my God, the gold for things to be made of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and the braſs for things of braſs, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; onyx-ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet, gliſtering ſtones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious ſtones, and marble-ſtones in abundance.

3 Moreover, becauſe I have ſet my affection to the houſe of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and ſilver, which I have given to the houſe of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy houſe,

4 Even three thouſand talents of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and ſeven thouſand talents of refined ſilver, to overlay the walls of the houſes withal:

5 The gold for things of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. And who then is willing to conſecrate his ſervice this day unto the Lord?

6 Then the chief of the fathers, and princes of the tribes of Iſrael, and the captains of thouſands, and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king's work, offered willingly,

7 And gave for the ſervice of the houſe of God, of gold, five thouſand talents, and ten thouſand drachms; and of ſilver, ten thouſand talents; and of braſs, eighteen thouſand talents; and one hundred thouſand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious ſtones were found, gave them to the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerſhonite.

9 Then the people rejoiced, for that they offered willingly, becauſe with perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lord: and David the king alſo rejoiced with great joy.

10 Wherefore David bleſſed the Lord before all the congregation: and David ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, Lord God of Iſrael our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O Lord, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majeſty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth, is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reigneſt over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give ſtrength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praiſe thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we ſhould be able to offer ſo willingly after this ſort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee.

15 For we are ſtrangers before thee, and ſojourners, as were all our fathers: our days on the earth are as a ſhadow, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this ſtore that we have prepared to build thee an houſe for thine holy name, cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own.

17 I know alſo, my God, that thou trieſt the heart, and haſt pleaſure in uprightneſs. As for me, in the uprightneſs of mine heart I have willingly offered all theſe things: and now have I ſeen with joy thy people which are preſent here, to offer willingly unto thee.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, our fathers, keep this for ever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heart unto thee:

19 And give unto Solomon my ſon a perfect heart to keep thy commandments, thy teſtimonies, and thy ſtatutes, and to do all theſe things, and to build the palace for the which I have made proviſion.

20 And David ſaid to all the congregation, Now bleſs the Lord your God. And all the congregation bleſſed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worſhipped the Lord, and the king.

21 And they ſacrificed ſacrifices unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings unto the Lord on the morrow after that day, even a thouſand bullocks, a thouſand rams, and a thouſand lambs, with their drink-offerings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael:

22 And did eat and drink before the Lord on that day with great gladneſs. And they made Solomon the ſon of David king the ſecond time, and anointed him unto the Lord to be the chief governor, and Zadok to be prieſt.

23 Then Solomon ſat on the throne of the Lord as king inſtead of David his father, and proſpered, and all Iſrael obeyed him.

24 And all the princes, and the mighty men, and all the ſons likewiſe of king David, ſubmitted themſelves unto Solomon the king.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon exceedingly in the ſight of all Iſrael, and beſtowed upon him ſuch royal majeſty as had not been on any king before him in Iſrael.

26 Thus

26 Thus David the ſon of Jeſſe reigned over all Iſrael.

27 And the time that he reigned over Iſrael was forty years; ſeven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jeruſalem.

28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honour: and Solomon his ſon reigned in his ſtead (m).

29 Now the acts of David the king, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of Samuel the ſeer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the ſeer,

30 With all his reign and his might, and the times that went over him, and over Iſrael, and over all the kingdoms of the countries.

The Second BOOK of the CHRONICLES.

CHAP. I.

Solomon goes to Gibeon, where was the tabernacle erected by Moſes, and offers ſacrifice: his choice of wiſdom is approved by God, who moreover promiſes him riches and honour. Solomon provides himſelf chariots and horſes.

AND Solomon the ſon of David was ſtrengthened in his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

2 Then Solomon ſpake unto all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Iſrael, the chief of the fathers.

3 So Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon; for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord had made in the wilderneſs.

4 But the ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath-jearim, to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jeruſalem.

5 Moreover, the braſen altar that Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, had made, he put before the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and the congregation ſought unto it.

6 And Solomon went up thither, to the braſen altar before the Lord, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thouſand burnt-offerings upon it.

7 In that night did God appear unto Solomon, and ſaid unto him, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid unto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercy unto David my father, and haſt made me to reign in his ſtead.

9 Now, O Lord God, let thy promiſe unto David my father be eſtabliſhed: for thou haſt made me king over a people, like the duſt of the earth in multitude.

10 Give me now wiſdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people, that is ſo great?

11 And God ſaid to Solomon, Becauſe this was in thine heart, and thou haſt not aſked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the life of thine enemies, neither yet haſt aſked long life; but haſt aſked wiſdom and knowledge for thyſelf, that thou mayeſt judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 Wiſdom and knowledge is granted unto thee; and I will give thee riches and wealth, and honour, ſuch as none of the kings have had, that have been before thee, neither ſhall there any after thee have the like.

13 Then Solomon came from his journey to the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jeruſalem, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Iſrael.

14 And Solomon gathered chariots and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, which he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

15 And the king made ſilver and gold at Jeruſalem as plenteous as ſtones, and cedar-trees

(m) THUS died DAVID, that great prince and ſaint, who at once poſſeſſed every royal, religious, and political virtue. Valiant and intrepid in danger; juſt, clement, and wiſe in government; pierced with a filial and reſpectful fear; and at the ſame time a tender and a ſolid love for his God; ſenſible of the puniſhments and diſgraces of his people, even to the offering his own life to ſave them from death. 2 Sam. xxiv. 17. A man after God's own heart, the pattern of all other princes; who always walked in the ways of the Lord, and who obeyed his commandments with a perfect heart; to whom Scripture bears teſtimony that he can only be reproached with the crime he committed with Bathſheba, and againſt Uriah. 1 Kings xv. 5. But then how was this fault expiated! With what ſentiments did he confeſs and proclaim it in the face of all the earth! And, may we not aſſert with St. Cryſoſtom, it would be doing injuſtice to the merit and virtue of David to conceal his crime, ſince religion has derived from it ſo great advantage, for the glory of God, for the confuſion of ſinners, and for the ſanctification of David himſelf? What can be made he as the ſycamore-trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetched up, and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo brought they out horſes for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria by their means.

CHAP. II.

Solomon, having prepared for the building of the temple, ſends to Huram, king of Tyre, for a ſkilful workman, and for wood from Lebanon. Huram grants his requeſt.

AND Solomon determined to build an houſe for the name of the Lord, and an houſe for his kingdom.

2 And Solomon told out threeſcore and ten thouſand men to bear burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to hew in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred to over-ſee them.

3 And Solomon ſent to Huram the king of Tyre, ſaying, As thou didſt deal with David my father, and didſt ſend him cedars to build him an houſe to dwell therein, even ſo deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an houſe to the name of the Lord my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him ſweet incenſe, and for the continual ſhew-bread, and for the burnt-offerings morning and evening, on the ſabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts of the Lord our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Iſrael.

5 And the houſe which I build is great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 But who is able to build him an houſe, ſeeing the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain him? who am I then, that I ſhould build him an houſe, ſave only to burn ſacrifice before him?

7 Send me now therefore a man, cunning to work in gold, and in ſilver, and in braſs, and in iron, and in purple, and crimſon, and blue, and that can ſkill to grave with the cunning men that are with me in Judah and in Jeruſalem, whom David my father did provide.

8 Send me alſo cedar-trees, fir-trees, and algum-trees out of Lebanon: (for I know that thy ſervants can ſkill to cut timber in Lebanon) and behold, my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants, 9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the houſe which I am about to build ſhall be wonderful great.

10 And behold, I will give to thy ſervants, the hewers that cut timber, twenty thouſand meaſures of beaten wheat, and twenty thouſand meaſures of barley, and twenty thouſand baths of wine, and twenty thouſand baths of oil.

11 Then Huram the king of Tyre anſwered in writing, which he ſent to Solomon: Becauſe the Lord hath loved his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael that made heaven and earth, who hath given to David the king a wiſe ſon, endued with prudence and underſtanding, that might build an houſe for the Lord, and an houſe for his kingdom.

13 And now I have ſent a cunning man, (endued with underſtanding) of Huram my father's;

14 The ſon of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, ſkilful to work in gold, and in ſilver, in braſs, in iron, in ſtone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimſon: alſo to grave any manner of graving, and to find out every device which ſhall be put to him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David, thy father.

15 Now therefore, the wheat, and the barley, the oil, and the wine, which my lord hath ſpoken of, let him ſend unto his ſervants:

16 And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou ſhalt need: and we will bring it to thee in flotes by ſea to Joppa; and thou ſhalt carry it up to Jeruſalem.

17 And Solomon numbered all the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſrael, after the numbering wherewith David his father had numbered them; and they were found an hundred and fifty thouſand and three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18 And he ſet threeſcore and ten thouſand of them to be bearers of burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to be hewers in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred overſeers to ſet the people to work.

more wonderful than that lenity which he teſtified towards Saul, and which he always preſerved amidſt the moſt cruel and unjuſt perſecutions? Being only under the law, did he not attain the ſummit of goſpel perfection and chriſtian philoſophy? And did he not more than once merit the crown of martyrdom, for ſparing the life of his enemy when God had delivered him into his hands? To ſum up all; he was a true believer and zealous adorer, of God! Teacher of his law and worſhip, and inſpirer of his praiſe! A glorious example, a perpetual and inexhauſtible fountain of true piety! A conſummate and unequalled hero! A ſkilful and fortunate captain! A ſteady patriot, a wiſe ruler, a faithful, a generous, and a magnanimous friend! And what is yet rarer, a no leſs generous and magnanimous enemy! A true penitent, a divine muſician, a ſublime poet, and an inſpired prophet! By birth a peaſant; by merit a prince! In youth a hero; in manhood a monarch; and in age a ſaint!

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

Solomon, in the fourth year of his reign, builds the temple. The meaſure and ornaments thereof: the cherubims and pillars.

THEN Solomon began to build the houſe of the LORD at Jeruſalem in mount Moriah, where the Lord appeared unto David his father, in the place that David had prepared in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

2 And he began to build in the ſecond day of the ſecond month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 Now theſe are the things wherein Solomon was inſtructed for the building of the houſe of God. The length by cubits after the firſt meaſure was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

4 And the porch that was in the front of the houſe, the length of it was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the height was an hundred and twenty: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater houſe he cieled with fir-tree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and ſet thereon palm-trees and chains.

6 And he garniſhed the houſe with precious ſtones for beauty: and the gold was gold of Parvaim.

7 He overlaid alſo the houſe, the beams, the poſts, and the walls thereof, and the doors thereof, with gold: and graved cherubims on the walls.

8 And he made the moſt holy houſe, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to ſix hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty ſhekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

10 And in the moſt holy houſe he made two cherubims of image-work, and overlaid them with gold.

11 And the wings of the cherubims were twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was likewiſe five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

12 And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was five cubits alſo, joining to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of theſe cherubims ſpread themſelves forth twenty cubits: and they ſtood on their feet, and their faces were inward.

14 And he made the vail of blue, and purple, and crimſon, and fine linen, and wrought cherubims thereon.

15 Alſo he made before the houſe two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, and the chapiter that was on the top of each of them, was five cubits.

16 And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars; and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

17 And he reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand, Jachin, and the name of that on the left, Boaz.

CHAP. IV.

The braſen altar, molten ſea, the lavers, the candleſticks, the tables, and other parts of the ſacred furniture, are formed.

MOreover, he made an altar of braſs, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

2 Alſo he made a molten ſea of ten cubits, from brim to brim, round in compaſs, and five cubits the height thereof; and a line of thirty cubits did compaſs it round about.

3 And under it was the ſimilitude of oxen, which did compaſs it round about: ten in a cubit compaſſing the ſea round about: Two rows of oxen were caſt, when it was caſt.

4 It ſtood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the weſt, and three looking toward the ſouth, and three looking toward the eaſt: and the ſea was ſet above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickneſs of it was an hand-breadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies; and it received and held three thouſand baths.

6 He made alſo ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to waſh in them: ſuch things as they offered for the burnt-offering, they waſhed in them; but the ſea was for the prieſts to waſh in.

7 And he made ten candleſticks of gold according to their form, and ſet them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 He made alſo ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right ſide, and five on the left. And he made an hundred baſons of gold.

9 Furthermore, he made the court of the prieſts, and the great court, and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with braſs.

10 And he ſet the ſea on the right ſide of the eaſt end, over againſt the ſouth.

11 And Huram made the pots, and the ſhovels, and the baſons: and Huram finiſhed the the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the houſe of God;

12 To wit, the two pillars, and the pommels, and the chapiters which were on the top of the two pillars, and the two wreaths to cover the two pommels of the chapiters which were on the top of the pillars:

13 And four hundred pomegranates on the two wreaths; two rows of pomegranates on each wreath, to cover the two pommels of the chapiters, which were upon the pillars.

14 He made alſo baſes, and lavers made he upon the baſes.

15 One ſea, and twelve oxen under it:

16 The pots alſo, and the ſhovels, and the fleſh-hooks, and all their inſtruments, did Huram his father make to king Solomon for the houſe of the Lord, of bright braſs.

17 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them, in the clay-ground between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 Thus Solomon made all theſe veſſels in great abundance; for the weight of the braſs could not be found out.

19 And Solomon made all the veſſels that were for the houſe of God, the golden altar alſo, and the tables whereon the ſhew-bread was ſet;

20 Moreover, the candleſticks with their lamps, that they ſhould burn after the manner, before the oracle, of pure gold;

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs made he of gold, and that perfect gold;

22 And the ſnuffers, and the baſons, and the ſpoons, and the cenſers, of pure gold: and the entry of the houſe, the inner doors thereof for the moſt holy place, and the doors of the houſe of the temple, were of gold.

CHAP. V.

Solomon brings the gifts of David into the treaſury of the temple: the Levites place the ark under the wings of the cherubim, amidſt ſacrifices and ſongs of praiſe. The glory of the Lord fills the temple.

THUS all the work that Solomon made for the houſe of the Lord was finiſhed: and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated; and the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God.

2 Then Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Iſrael, unto Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, out of the city of David, which is Zion.

3 Wherefore all the men of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves unto the king in the feaſt, which was in the ſeventh month.

4 And all the elders of Iſrael came; and the Levites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the tabernacle, theſe did the prieſts and the Levites bring up.

6 Alſo king Solomon, and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled unto him before the ark, ſacrificed ſheep and oxen, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord unto his place, to the oracle of the houſe, into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

8 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the ſtaves thereof, above.

9 And they drew out the ſtaves of the ark, that the ends of the ſtaves were ſeen from the ark before the oracle; but they were not ſeen without. And there it is unto this day.

10 There was nothing in the ark ſave the two tables which Moſes put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when they came out of Egypt.

11 And it came to paſs when the prieſts were come out of the holy place: (for all the prieſts that were preſent were ſanctified, and did not then wait by courſe.

12 Alſo the Levites which were the ſingers, all of them of Aſaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their ſons, and their brethren; being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals, and pſalteries, and harps, ſtood at the eaſt-end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty prieſts, ſounding with trumpets:)

13 It came even to paſs, as the trumpeters and ſingers were as one, to make one ſound to be heard in praiſing and thanking the Lord; and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals, and inſtruments of muſick, and praiſed the Lord, ſaying, For he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: that then the houſe was filled with a cloud, even the houſe of the Lord;

14 So that the prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter by reaſon of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of God.

CHAP. VI.

Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the temple.

THEN ſaid Solomon, The Lord hath ſaid that he would dwell in the thick darkneſs.

2 But I have built an houſe of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed the whole congregation of Iſrael; (and all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood:)

4 And

4 And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he ſpake with his mouth to my father David, ſaying,

5 Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe in, that my name might be there; neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael:

6 But I have choſen Jeruſalem, that my name might be there; and have choſen David to be over my people Iſrael.

7 Now it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe for the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

8 But the Lord ſaid to David my father, Foraſmuch as it was in thine heart to build an houſe for my name, thou didſt well in that it was in thine heart:

9 Notwithſtanding thou ſhalt not build the houſe; but thy ſon which ſhall come forth out of thy loins, he ſhall build the houſe for my name.

10 The Lord therefore hath performed his word that he hath ſpoken: for I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

11 And in it have I put the ark; wherein is the covenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 And he ſtood before the altar of the Lord, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands;

13 (For Solomon had made a braſen ſcaffold, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had ſet it in the midſt of the court: and upon it he ſtood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands towards heaven;)

14 And ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; who keepeſt covenant, and ſheweſt mercy unto thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Thou who haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him; and ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

16 Now therefore, O Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael; yet ſo, that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me.

17 Now then, O Lord God of Iſrael, let thy word be verified, which thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant David.

18---But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold, heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much leſs this houſe which I have built!---

19 Have reſpect therefore to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplication, O Lord my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee:

20 That thine eyes may be open upon this houſe day and night, upon the place whereof thou haſt ſaid, that thou wouldeſt put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth towards this place.

21 Hearken therefore unto the ſupplications of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, which they ſhall make towards this place: hear thou from thy dwelling-place, even from heaven; and when thou heareſt, forgive.

22 If a man ſin againſt his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him, to make him ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe;

23 Then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants, by requiting the wicked, by recompenſing his way upon his own head: and by juſtifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteouſneſs.

24 And if thy people Iſrael be put to the worſe before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and ſhall return and confeſs thy name, and pray and make ſupplication before thee in this houſe;

25 Then hear thou from the heavens, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land which thou gaveſt to them, and to their fathers.

26 When the heaven is ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; yet if they pray towards this place, and confeſs thy name, and turn from their ſin when thou doſt afflict them;

27 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them the good way, wherein they ſhould walk; and ſend rain upon thy land which thou haſt given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 If there be dearth in the land, if there be peſtilence, if there be blaſting or mildew, locuſts or caterpillars; if their enemies beſiege them in the cities of their land; whatſoever ſore, or whatſoever ſickneſs there be:

29 Then what prayer, or what ſupplication ſoever ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when every one ſhall know his own ſore, and his own grief, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands in this houſe:

30 Then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways, whoſe heart thou knoweſt: (for thou only knoweſt the hearts of the children of men:)

31 That they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways ſo long as they live in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

32 Moreover, concerning the ſtranger, which is not of thy people Iſrael, but is come from a far country for thy great name's ſake, and thy mighty hand, and thy ſtretched-out arm; if they come and pray in this houſe;

33 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for; that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, as doth thy people Iſrael, and may know that this houſe which I have built is called by thy name.

34 If thy people go out to war againſt their enemies by the way that thou ſhalt ſend them, and they pray unto thee toward this city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name;

35 Then hear thou from the heavens their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their cauſe.

36 If they ſin againſt thee, (for there is no man who ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near;

37 Yet, if they bethink themſelves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn, and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, ſaying, We have ſinned, we have done amiſs, and have dealt wickedly;

38 If they return to thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoul, in the land of their captivity, whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land which thou gaveſt unto their fathers, and toward the city which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe which I have built for thy name:

39 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, their prayer and their ſupplications, and maintain their cauſe, and forgive thy people which have ſinned againſt thee.

40 Now, my God, let, I beſeech thee, thine eyes be open, and let thine ears be attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 Now therefore ariſe, O Lord God, into thy reſting-place, thou, and the ark of thy ſtrength: let thy prieſts, O Lord God, be cloathed with ſalvation, and let thy ſaints rejoice in goodneſs.

42 O Lord God, turn not away the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies of David thy ſervant.

CHAP. VII.

Solomon offers ſacrifices; keeps the feaſt of dedication, and afterwards the feaſt of tabernacles. The Lord appears to Solomon, and promiſes proſperity to the people if they obey his commands.

NOW when Solomon had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven, and conſumed the burnt-offering and the ſacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the houſe.

2 And the prieſts could not enter into the houſe of the Lord, becauſe the glory of the Lord had filled the Lord's houſe.

3 And when all the children of Iſrael ſaw how the fire came down, and the glory of the Lord upon the houſe, they bowed themſelves with their faces to the ground upon the pavement, and worſhipped, and praiſed the Lord, ſaying, For he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Then the king and all the people offered ſacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Solomon offered a ſacrifice of twenty and two thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep: ſo the king and all the people dedicated the houſe of God.

6 And the prieſts waited on their offices: the Levites alſo with inſtruments of muſick of the Lord, which David the king had made to praiſe the Lord, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever, when David praiſed by their miniſtry: and the prieſt ſounded trumpets before them, and all Iſrael ſtood.

7 Moreover Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the Lord: for there he offered burnt-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings, becauſe the braſen altar which Solomon had made was not able to receive the burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat.

8 Alſo at the ſame time Solomon kept the feaſt ſeven days, and all Iſrael with him, a very great congregation, from the entering-in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eighth day they made a ſolemn aſſembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar ſeven days, and the feaſt ſeven days.

10 And on the three and twentieth day of the month, he ſent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodneſs that the Lord had ſhewed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Iſrael his people.

11 Thus Solomon finiſhed the houſe of the Lord, and the king's houſe: and all that came into Solomon's heart to make in the houſe of the Lord, and in his own houſe, he proſperouſly effected.

12 And

12 And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and ſaid unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have choſen this place to myſelf for an houſe of ſacrifice.

13 If I ſhut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locuſts to devour the land, or if I ſend peſtilence among my people;

14 If my people which are called by my name, ſhall humble themſelves and pray, and ſeek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their ſin, and will heal their land.

15 Now mine eyes ſhall be open, and mine ears attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 For now have I choſen and ſanctified this houſe, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart ſhall be there perpetually.

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and ſhalt obſerve my ſtatutes and my judgments;

18 Then will I eſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David thy father, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Iſrael.

19 But if ye turn away and forſake my ſtatutes and my commandments which I have ſet before you, and ſhall go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them;

20 Then will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this houſe which I have ſanctified for my name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and will make it to be a proverb and a by-word among all nations.

21 And this houſe, which is high, ſhall be an aſtoniſhment to every one that paſſeth by it; ſo that he ſhall ſay, Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and unto this houſe?

22 And it ſhall be anſwered, Becauſe they forſook the Lord God of their fathers, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worſhipped them, and ſerved them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

Solomon's buildings: the people whom he made tributary. He ſends ſhips to Ophir.

AND it came to paſs at the end of twenty years, wherein Solomon had built the houſe of the Lord, and his own houſe;

2 That the cities which Huram had reſtored to Solomon, Solomon built them, and cauſed the children of Iſrael to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed againſt it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderneſs, and all the ſtore-cities, which he built in Hamath.

5 Alſo he built Beth-horon the upper, and Beth horon the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and bars;

6 And Baalath, and all the ſtore-cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot-cities, and the cities of the horſemen, and all that Solomon deſired to build in Jeruſalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 As for all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebuſites, which were not of Iſrael;

8 But of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Iſrael conſumed not; them did Solomon make to pay tribute until this day.

9 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon make no ſervants for his work: but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horſemen.

10 And theſe were the chief of king Solomon's officers, even two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

11 And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh, out of the city of David, unto the houſe that he had built for her: for he ſaid, My wife ſhall not dwell in the houſe of David king of Iſrael, becauſe the places are holy whereunto the ark of the Lord hath come.

12 Then Solomon offered burnt-offerings unto the Lord on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch;

13 Even after a certain rate every day, offering according to the commandment of Moſes, on the ſabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts, three times in the year, even in the feaſt of unleavened bread, and in the feaſt of weeks, and in the feaſt of tabernacles.

14 And he appointed, according to the order of David his father, the courſes of the prieſts to their ſervice, and the Levites to their charges, to praiſe and miniſter before the prieſts, as the duty of every day required: the porters alſo by their courſes, at every gate: for ſo had David, the man of God, commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the prieſts and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treaſures.

16 Now all the work of Solomon was prepared unto the day of the foundation of the houſe of the Lord, and until it was finiſhed: ſo the houſe of the Lord was perfected.

17 Then went Solomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth, at the ſea ſide in the land of Edom.

18 And

18 And Huram ſent him by the hands of his ſervants, ſhips, and ſervants that had knowledge of the ſea; and they went with the ſervants of Solomon to Ophir, and took thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

The queen of Sheba admires the wiſdom of Solomon. His great glory. He reigns forty years, and is ſucceeded by his ſon Rehoboam.

AND when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, ſhe came to prove Solomon with hard queſtions at Jeruſalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare ſpices, and gold in abundance, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon told her all her queſtions: and there was nothing hid from Solomon which he told her not.

3 And when the queen of Sheba had ſeen the wiſdom of Solomon, and the houſe that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the ſitting of his ſervants, and the attendance of his miniſters, and their apparel, his cup-bearers alſo, and their apparel, and his aſcent by which he went up into the houſe of the Lord; there was no more ſpirit in her.

5 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true report which I heard in mine own land, of thine acts, and of thy wiſdom:

6 Howbeit, I believed not their words, until I came, and mine eyes had ſeen it: and behold, the one half of the greatneſs of thy wiſdom was not told me: for thou exceedeſt the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are theſe thy ſervants, which ſtand continually before thee, and hear thy wiſdom.

8 Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who delighted in thee to ſet thee on his throne, to be king for the Lord thy God: becauſe thy God loved Iſrael, to eſtabliſh them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and juſtice.

9 And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of ſpices great abundance, and precious ſtones; neither was there any ſuch ſpice as the queen of Sheba gave king Solomon.

10 And the ſervants alſo of Huram, and the ſervants of Solomon, which brought gold from Ophir, brought algum-trees, and precious ſtones.

11 And the king made of the algum-trees, terraces to the houſe of the Lord, and to the king's palace, and harps and pſalteries for ſingers: and there were none ſuch ſeen before in the land of Judah.

12 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all her deſire, whatſoever ſhe aſked, beſides that which ſhe had brought unto the king: ſo ſhe turned, and went away to her own land, ſhe and her ſervants.

13 Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year, was ſix hundred and threeſcore and ſix talents of gold;

14 Beſides that which chapmen and merchants brought. And all the kings of Arabia, and governors of the country, brought gold and ſilver to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: ſix hundred ſhekels of beaten gold went to one target.

16 And three hundred ſhields made he of beaten gold: three hundred ſhekels of gold went to one ſhield: and the king put them in the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon.

17 Moreover, the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there were ſix ſteps to the throne, with a footſtool of gold, which were faſtened to the throne, and ſtays on each ſide of the ſitting-place, and two lions ſtanding by the ſtays.

19 And twelve lions ſtood there on the one ſide and on the other, upon the ſix ſteps. There was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all the drinking veſſels of king Solomon were of gold, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon were of pure gold: none were of ſilver; it was not any thing accounted of in the days of Solomon.

21 For the king's ſhips went to Tarſhiſh with the ſervants of Huram: every three years once came the ſhips of Tarſhiſh, bringing gold and ſilver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

22 And king Solomon paſſed all the kings of the earth in riches and wiſdom.

23 And all the kings of the earth ſought the preſence of Solomon, to hear his wiſdom, that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and raiment, harneſs, and ſpices, horſes and mules, a rate year by year.

25 And Solomon had four thouſand ſtalls for horſes and chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen; whom he beſtowed in the chariot-cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

26 And he reigned over all the kings, from the river even unto the land of the Philiſtines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made ſilver in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedar-trees made he as the ſycamore-trees, that are in the low plains, in abundance.

28 And

28 And they brought unto Solomon horſes out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Now the reſt of the acts of Solomon, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the viſions of Iddo the ſeer (n), againſt Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat?

30 And Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael forty years.

31 And Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of David his father: and Rehoboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. X.

All Iſrael intreat Rehoboam to lighten the yoke laid upon them by Solomon. Rehoboam, deſpiſing the counſel of the old men, follows that of the young ones. Ten tribes ſeparate themſelves from him.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Iſrael come to make him king.

2 And it came to paſs when Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the preſence of Solomon the king, heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him: ſo Jeroboam and all Iſrael came and ſpake to Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore eaſe thou ſomewhat the grievous ſervitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam took counſel with the old men that had ſtood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, ſaying, What counſel give ye me, to return anſwer to this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou be kind to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpeak good words to them, they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel which the old men gave him, and took counſel with the young men that were brought up with him, that ſtood before him.

9 And he ſaid unto them, What advice give ye, that we may return anſwer to this people, which have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Eaſe ſomewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwer the people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it ſomewhat lighter for us; thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, ſaying, Come again to me on the third day.

13 And the king anſwered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forſook the counſel of the old men,

14 And anſwered them after the advice of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 So the king hearkened not unto the people: for the cauſe was of God, that the Lord might perform his word, which he ſpake by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat.

16 And when all Iſrael ſaw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? and we have none inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: every man to your tents, O Iſrael: and now, David, ſee to thine own houſe. So all Iſrael went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Hadoram that was over the tribute; and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died: but king Rehoboam made ſpeed to get up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 And Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

CHAP. XI.

Rehoboam raiſes an army to fight againſt the ten tribes. God interpoſes, and ſends the prophet Shemaiah, at whoſe command the army is diſperſed. Rehoboam builds cities, and deſtines his ſon Abijah to the throne.

AND when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered of the houſe of Judah and Benjamin, an hundred and fourſcore thouſand choſen men which were warriors, to fight againſt Iſrael, that he might bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam.

(n) According to Abarbinel there were two books of the acts of Solomon: one containing an account of the beginning of his reign, written by Nathan the prophet; and the other an account of what paſſed in the latter part of his life, written by Ahijah the Shilonite, and Iddo the Seer. Antiquity ſcarce produces a more illuſtrious perſonage than Solomon: wiſe, wealthy, magnificent, peaceful; honoured like his father to be the penman of a conſiderable and uſeful part of the inſpired writings; by which he has made great compenſation to the church of God, for the offence he has given to all good men by the ſad apoſtacy of his advanced years.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah and Benjamin, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the Lord, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren: return every man to his houſe: for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the Lord, and returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and built cities for defence in Judah.

6 He built even Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Mareſhah, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Lachiſh, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah, and in Benjamin, fenced cities.

11 And he fortified the ſtrong holds, and put captains in them, and ſtore of victual, and of oil and wine.

12 And in every ſeveral city he put ſhields and ſpears, and made them exceeding ſtrong, having Judah and Benjamin on his ſide.

13 And the prieſts and the Levites that were in all Iſrael, reſorted to him out of all their coaſts.

14 (For the Levites left their ſuburbs, and their poſſeſſion, and came to Judah and Jeruſalem: for Jeroboam and his ſons had caſt them off from executing the prieſt's office unto the Lord:

15 And he ordained him prieſts for the high places, and for the devils, and for the calves which he had made.)

16 And after them out of all the tribes of Iſrael, ſuch as ſet their hearts to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem, to ſacrifice unto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon ſtrong, three years: for three years they walked in the way of David and Solomon.

18 And Rehoboam took him Mahalath, the daughter of Jerimoth the ſon of David to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the ſon of Jeſſe:

19 Who bare him children; Jeuſh, and Shamariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he took Maachah, the daughter of Abſalom; who bare him Abijah, and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah, the daughter of Abſalom, above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines; and begat twenty and eight ſons, and threeſcore daughters.)

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the ſon of Maachah, the chief, to be ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 And he dealt wiſely, and diſperſed of all his children throughout all the countries of Judah and Benjamin, unto every fenced city: and he gave them victual in abundance. And he deſired many wives.

CHAP. XII.

Rehoboam forſaking God, is delivered into the hands of Shiſhak, king of Egypt. He dies, and is ſucceeded by his ſon Abijah.

AND it came to paſs when Rehoboam had eſtabliſhed the kingdom, and had ſtrengthened himſelf, he forſook the law of the Lord, and all Iſrael with him.

2 And it came to paſs, that in the fifth year of king Rehoboam, Shiſhak king of Egypt, came up againſt Jeruſalem, (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord;)

3 With twelve hundred chariots, and threeſcore thouſand horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt; the Lubims, the Sukkiims, and the Ethiopians (o).

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Judah, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together to Jeruſalem becauſe of Shiſhak, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Ye have forſaken me, and therefore have I alſo left you in the hand of Shiſhak.

6 Whereupon the princes of Iſrael and the king humbled themſelves; and they ſaid, The Lord is righteous.

7 And when the Lord ſaw that they humbled themſelves, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, ſaying, They have humbled themſelves; therefore I will not deſtroy them, but I will grant them ſome deliverance; and my wrath

(o) The Lubims were a people of Lybia, which adjoined to Egypt, and are ſometimes in Scripture called Phut, and ſometimes Lubims, from the Arabick word lub, which ſignifies dry or thirſty, as was the land which they inhabited. The Sukkiims were the people called Troglodites, becauſe they dwelt in Troglais, caves and dens in the earth, on the coaſt of the Red ſea. The people called Cuſh, which we tranſlate Ethiopians, were either inhabitants of a country on the ſouth of Egypt, or the Scenitæ of Arabia; for the name was common to both.

ſhall not be poured out upon Jeruſalem by the hand of Shiſhak.

8 Nevertheleſs, they ſhall be his ſervants; that they may know my ſervice, and the ſervice of the kingdoms of the countries.

9 So Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem, and took away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the king's houſe; he took all: he carried away alſo the ſhields of gold which Solomon had made.

10 Inſtead of which, king Rehoboam made ſhields of braſs, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the king's houſe.

11 And when the king entered into the houſe of the Lord, the guard came and fetched them, and brought them again into the guard-chamber.

12 And when he humbled himſelf, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not deſtroy him altogether: and alſo in Judah things went well.

13 So king Rehoboam ſtrengthened himſelf in Jeruſalem, and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſeventeen years in Jeruſalem, the city which the Lord had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, to put his name there: and his mother's name was Naamah an Ammoniteſs.

14 And he did evil, becauſe he prepared not his heart to ſeek the Lord.

15 Now the acts of Rehoboam, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet, and of Iddo the ſeer, concerning genealogies? And there were wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam continually.

16 And Rehoboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Abijah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XIII.

Abijah ſucceeding, makes war with Jeroboam, and overcomes him. He dies, and is ſucceeded by his ſon Aſa.

NOW in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, began Abijah to reign over Judah.

2 He reigned three years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Michaiah, the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

3 And Abijah ſet the battle in array, with an army of valiant men of war, even four hundred thouſand choſen men: Jeroboam alſo ſet the battle in array againſt him with eight hundred thouſand choſen men, being mighty men of valour.

4 And Abijah ſtood up upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and ſaid, Hear me, thou Jeroboam, and all Iſrael;

5 Ought ye not to know, that the Lord God of Iſrael gave the kingdom over Iſrael to David for ever, even to him and to his ſons by a covenant of ſalt?

6 Yet Jeroboam, the ſon of Nebat, the ſervant of Solomon, the ſon of David, is riſen up, and hath rebelled againſt his lord.

7 And there are gathered unto him vain men, the children of Belial, and have ſtrengthened themſelves againſt Rehoboam, the ſon of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and tender-hearted, and could not withſtand them.

8 And now ye think to withſtand the kingdom of the Lord, in the hand of the ſons of David; and ye be a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 Have ye not caſt out the prieſts of the Lord, the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made you prieſts after the manner of the nations of other lands? ſo that whoſoever cometh to conſecrate himſelf with a young bullock and ſeven rams, the ſame may be a prieſt of them that are no gods.

10 But as for us, the Lord is our God, and we have not forſaken him; and the prieſts which miniſter unto the Lord, are the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites wait upon their buſineſs.

11 And they burn unto the Lord every morning and every evening, burnt-ſacrifices and ſweet incenſe: the ſhew-bread alſo ſet they in order upon the pure table, and the candleſtick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening: for we keep the charge of the Lord our God; but ye have forſaken him.

12 And behold, God himſelf is with us for our captain, and his prieſts with ſounding trumpets, to cry alarm againſt you. O children of Iſrael, fight ye not againſt the Lord God of your fathers; for ye ſhall not proſper.

13 But Jeroboam cauſed an ambuſhment to come about behind them: ſo they were before Judah, and the ambuſhment was behind them.

14 And when Judah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind: and they cried unto the Lord, and the prieſts ſounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a ſhout: and as the men of Judah ſhouted, it came to paſs that God ſmote Jeroboam and all Iſrael before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Judah: and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter: ſo there fell down ſlain of Iſrael, five hundred thouſand choſen men.

18 Thus the children of Iſrael were brought under under at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, becauſe they relied upon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abijah purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Beth-el with the towns thereof, and Jeſhaanah with the towns thereof, and Ephraim with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jeroboam recover ſtrength again in the days of Abijah: and the Lord ſtruck him, and he died.

21 But Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two ſons, and ſixteen daughters.

22 And the reſt of the acts of Abijah, and his ways, and his ſayings, are written in the ſtory of the prophet Iddo.

CHAP. XIV.

Aſa reigns piouſly. He deſtroys idolatry. He overcomes Zerah, and ſmites the Ethiopians.

SO Abijah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God:

3 For he took away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Judah to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers, and to do the law, and the commandment.

5 Alſo he took away out of all the cities of Judah, the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

6 And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had reſt, and he had no war in thoſe years; becauſe the Lord had given him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid unto Judah, Let us build theſe cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; becauſe we have ſought the Lord our God, we have ſought him, and he hath given us reſt on every ſide: ſo they built and proſpered.

8 And Aſa had an army of men that bare targets and ſpears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand; and out of Benjamin, that bare ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and fourſcore thouſand: all theſe were mighty men of valour.

9 And there came out againſt them Zerah the Ethiopian, with an hoſt of a thouſand thouſand, and three hundred chariots; and came unto Mareſhah.

10 Then Aſa went out againſt him, and they ſet the battle in array in the valley of Zephathah at Mareſhah.

11 And Aſa cried unto the Lord his God, and ſaid, Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power; help us, O Lord our God; for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this multitude. O Lord, thou art our God: let not man prevail againſt thee.

12 So the Lord ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa, and before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that were with him purſued them unto Gerar; and the Ethiopians were overthrown, that they could not recover themſelves; for they were deſtroyed before the Lord, and before his hoſt; and they carried away very much ſpoil.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar; for the fear of the Lord came upon them: and they ſpoiled all the cities; for there was exceeding much ſpoil in them.

15 They ſmote alſo the tents of cattle, and carried away ſheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

Azariah propheſies that Iſrael ſhould be a long time without God, without prieſt, and without law; but that in their trouble they ſhould return unto the Lord: Aſa, encouraged by him, puts away the idols, and removes Maachah his mother from being queen.

AND the Spirit of God came upon Azariah, the ſon of Oded.

2 And he went out to meet Aſa, and ſaid unto him, Hear ye me, Aſa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye ſeek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſrael hath been without the true God, and without a teaching prieſt, and without law.

4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the Lord God of Iſrael, and ſought him, he was found of them.

5 And in thoſe times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries.

6 And nation was deſtroyed of nation, and city of city: for God did vex them with all adverſity.

7 Be ye ſtrong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work ſhall be rewarded.

8 And when Aſa heard theſe words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them out of Ephraim and Manaſſeh,

Manaſſeh, and out of Simeon: (for they fell to him out of Iſrael in abundance, when they ſaw that the Lord his God was with him.)

10 So they gathered themſelves together at Jeruſalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Aſa.

11 And they offered unto the Lord the ſame time, of the ſpoil which they had brought, ſeven hundred oxen, and ſeven thouſand ſheep.

12 And they entered into a covenant to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their ſoul;

13 That whoſoever would not ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, ſhould be put to death, whether ſmall or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they ſware unto the Lord with a loud voice, and with ſhouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had ſworn with all their heart, and ſought him with their whole deſire; and he was found of them: and the Lord gave them reſt round about.

16 And alſo concerning Maachah, the mother of Aſa the king, he removed her from being queen, becauſe ſhe had made an idol in a grove; and Aſa cut down her idol, and ſtamped it, and burned it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Iſrael: nevertheleſs, the heart of Aſa was perfect all his days.

18 And he brought into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himſelf had dedicated; ſilver, and gold, and veſſels.

19 And there was no more war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa.

CHAP. XVI.

Ben-hadad, king of Syria, at the inſtigation of Aſa, brings war upon Baaſha. Hanani is put into priſon. Aſa dies in the forty-firſt year of his reign, having confided in the phyſicians, not in God.

IN the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa, Baaſha king of Iſrael came up againſt Judah, and built Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Aſa king of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the king's houſe, and ſent to Ben-hadad king of Syria, that dwelt at Damaſcus, ſaying,

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold; go, break thy league with Baaſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Aſa, and ſent the captains of his armies againſt the cities of Iſrael; and they ſmote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtore-cities of Naphtali.

5 And it came to paſs, when Baaſha heard it, that he left off building of Ramah, and let his work ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king took all Judah; and they carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baaſha was building; and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 And at that time Hanani the ſeer came to Aſa, king of Judah, and ſaid unto him, Becauſe thou haſt relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the king of Syria eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not the Ethiopians and the Lubims a huge hoſt, with very many chariots, and horſemen; yet, becauſe thou didſt rely on the Lord, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to ſhew himſelf ſtrong in the behalf of them, whoſe heart is perfect towards him. Herein thou haſt done fooliſhly: therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt have wars.

10 Then Aſa was wroth with the ſeer, and put him in a priſon-houſe; for he was in a rage with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſa oppreſſed ſome of the people the ſame time.

11 And behold, the acts of Aſa, firſt and laſt, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

12 And Aſa, in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diſeaſed in his feet, until his diſeaſe was exceeding great: yet in his diſeaſe he ſought not to the Lord, but to the phyſicians.

13 And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in his own ſepulchre, which he had made for himſelf in the city of David, and laid him in the bed, which was filled with ſweet odours and divers kinds of ſpices prepared by the apothecaries art: and they made a very great burning for him.

CHAP. XVII.

Jehoſhaphat reigns well and proſperouſly. He ſends prieſts and Levites to inſtruct the people in the law.

AND Jehoſhaphat his ſon reigned in his ſtead, and ſtrengthened himſelf againſt Iſrael.

2 And he placed forces in all the fenced cities of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Jehoſhaphat, becauſe he walked in the firſt ways of his father David, and ſought not unto Baalim;

4 But ſought to the LORD God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Iſrael.

5 There-

5 Therefore the Lord ſtabliſhed the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah brought to Jehoſhaphat preſents; and he had riches and honour in abundance.

6 And his heart was lifted up in the ways of the Lord: moreover, he took away the high places and groves out of Judah.

7 Alſo in the third year of his reign, he ſent to his princes, even to Ben-hail, and to Obadiah, and to Zechariah, and to Nethaneel, and to Michaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

8 And with them he ſent Levites, even Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Aſahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah, Levites; and with them Eliſhama, and Jehoram, prieſts.

9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Judah, and taught the people (p).

10 And the fear of the Lord fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Judah, ſo that they made no war againſt Jehoſhaphat.

11 Alſo ſome of the Philiſtines brought Jehoſhaphat preſents, and tribute ſilver; and the Arabians brought him flocks, ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred rams, and ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred he-goats.

12 And Jehoſhaphat waxed great exceedingly; and he built in Judah caſtles, and cities of ſtore.

13 And he had much buſineſs in the cities of Judah: and the men of war, mighty men of valour, were in Jeruſalem.

14 And theſe are the numbers of them, according to the houſe of their fathers: Of Judah, the captains of thouſands; Adnah the chief, and with him mighty men of valour, three hundred thouſand.

15 And next to him was Jehohanan the captain, and with him two hundred and fourſcore thouſand.

16 And next him was Amaſiah, the ſon of Zichri, who willingly offered himſelf unto the Lord; and with him two hundred thouſand mighty men of valour.

17 And of Benjamin; Eliada, a mighty man of valour, and with him armed men with bow and ſhield, two hundred thouſand.

18 And next him was Jehozabad, and with him an hundred and fourſcore thouſand, ready prepared for the war.

19 Theſe waited on the king, beſides thoſe whom the king put in the fenced cities throughout all Judah.

CHAP. XVIII.

Jehoſhaphat goes to war with Ahab againſt the Syrians. Ahab, ſeduced by falſe prophets, is ſlain.

NOW Jehoſhaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joined affinity with Ahab.

2 And after certain years he went down to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab killed ſheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and perſuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth-gilead.

3 And Ahab, king of Iſrael, ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead? And he anſwered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people; and we will be with thee in the war.

4 And Jehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord to-day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered together of prophets four hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up; for God will deliver it into the king's hand.

6 But Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord beſides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the Lord: but I hate him; for he never propheſieth good unto me, but always evil: the ſame is Micaiah, the ſon of Imla. And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called for one of his officers, and ſaid, Fetch quickly Micaiah, the ſon of Imla.

9 And the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, ſat either of them on his throne, clothed in their robes, and they ſat in a void place at the entering-in of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets propheſied before them.

10 And Zedekiah, the ſon of Chenaanah, had made him horns of iron, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the Lord, With theſe thou ſhalt puſh Syria, until they be conſumed.

11 And all the prophets propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper: for the Lord ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

12 And the meſſenger that went to call Micaiah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king with one aſſent: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and ſpeak thou good.

(p) The proper buſineſs of theſe princes in their circuit round the kingdom, ſays Biſhop Patrick, was to admoniſh and require the people to obſerve the laws of God, and to leave the particular explication and enforcement of them to thoſe of the ſacred order, who went with them, ſupporting them in the execution of their office, and obliging the people to receive them with reſpect, to hear them with attention, and to practice what they taught.

13 And

13 And Micaiah ſaid, As the Lord liveth, even what my God ſaith, that will I ſpeak.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah, ſhall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall I forbear? And he ſaid, Go ye up, and proſper, and they ſhall be delivered into your hand.

15 And the king ſaid to him, How many times ſhall I adjure thee that thou ſay nothing but the truth to me, in the name of the Lord?

16 Then he ſaid, I did ſee all Iſrael ſcattered upon the mountains, as ſheep that have no ſhepherd: and the Lord ſaid, Theſe have no maſter; let them return therefore every man to his houſe in peace.

17 (And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would not propheſy good unto me, but evil?)

18 Again he ſaid, Therefore hear the word of the Lord; I ſaw the Lord ſitting upon his throne, and all the hoſt of heaven ſtanding on his right hand, and on his left.

19 And the Lord ſaid, Who ſhall entice Ahab, king of Iſrael, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one ſpake, ſaying after this manner, and another ſaying, after that manner.

20 Then there came out a ſpirit, and ſtood before the Lord, and ſaid, I will entice him. And the Lord ſaid unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he ſaid, I will go out, and be a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the LORD ſaid, Thou ſhalt entice him, and thou ſhalt alſo prevail: go out, and do even ſo.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying ſpirit in the mouth of theſe thy prophets, and the Lord hath ſpoken evil againſt thee.

23 Then Zedekiah, the ſon of Chenaanah, came near, and ſmote Micaiah upon the cheek, and ſaid, Which way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to ſpeak unto thee?

24 And Micaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee on that day, when thou ſhalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyſelf.

25 Then the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon, the governor of the city, and to Joaſh the king's ſon:

26 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this fellow in the priſon, and feed him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the Lord ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, Hearken, all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe myſelf, and will go to the battle; but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf; and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, ſaying, Fight ye not with ſmall or great, ſave only with the king of Iſrael.

31 And it came to paſs when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael; therefore they compaſſed about him to fight: but Jehoſhaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him; and God moved them to depart from him.

32 For it came to paſs, that when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, they turned back again from purſuing him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael between the joints of the harneſs: therefore he ſaid to his chariot-man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayeſt carry me out of the hoſt; for I am wounded.

34 And the battle increaſed that day: howbeit, the king of Iſrael ſtayed himſelf up in his chariot againſt the Syrians, until the even: and about the time of the ſun going down, he died.

CHAP. XIX.

Jehoſhaphat is reproved by the prophet Jehu: he viſits his kingdom, and eſtabliſhes judges in the land.

AND Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah returned to his houſe in peace to Jeruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſon of Hanani the ſeer, went out to meet him, and ſaid to king Jehoſhaphat, Shouldeſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord.

3 Nevertheleſs, there are good things found in thee, in that thou haſt taken away the groves out of the land, and haſt prepared thine heart to ſeek God.

4 And Jehoſhaphat dwelt at Jeruſalem: and he went out again through the people, from Beer-ſheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And he ſet judges in the land, throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city,

6 And ſaid to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment.

7 Wherefore now, let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed, and do it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor reſpect of perſons, nor taking of gifts.

8 Moreover, in Jeruſalem did Jehoſhaphat ſet of the Levites, and of the prieſts, and of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, for the judgment of the Lord, and for controverſies, when they returned to Jeruſalem.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye ye do in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cauſe ſoever ſhall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, ſtatutes and judgments, ye ſhall even warn them that they treſpaſs not againſt the Lord, and ſo wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren: this do, and ye ſhall not treſpaſs.

11 And behold, Amariah the chief prieſt is over you in all matters of the Lord; and Zebadiah, the ſon of Iſhmael, the ruler of the houſe of Judah, for all the king's matters: alſo the Levites ſhall be officers before you. Deal courageouſly, and the Lord ſhall be with the good.

CHAP. XX.

The children of Moab and Ammon come againſt Jehoſhaphat, who proclaims a faſt through the land. His prayer. Jahaziel the prophet promiſes the king victory without fighting. The armies of the enemy fall upon, and deſtroy each other. Jehoſhaphat joins himſelf with Ahaziah, and builds a fleet.

IT came to paſs after this alſo, that the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them other beſides the Ammonites, came againſt Jehoſhaphat to battle.

2 Then there came ſome that told Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, There cometh a great multitude againſt thee from beyond the ſea on this ſide Syria; and behold, they be in Hazazontamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Jehoſhaphat feared, and ſet himſelf to ſeek the Lord, and proclaimed a faſt throughout all Judah.

4 And Judah gathered themſelves together, to aſk help of the Lord: even out of all the cities of Judah they came to ſeek the Lord.

5 And Jehoſhaphat ſtood in the congregation of Judah and Jeruſalem, in the houſe of the Lord, before the new court,

6 And ſaid, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee?

7 Art not thou our God, who didſt drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Iſrael, and gaveſt it to the ſeed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a ſanctuary therein for thy name, ſaying,

9 If when evil cometh upon us, as the ſword, judgment, or peſtilence, or famine, we ſtand before this houſe, and in thy preſence (for thy name is in this houſe) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now, behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and mount Seir, whom thou wouldeſt not let Iſrael invade when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them, and deſtroyed them not;

11 Behold, I ſay, how they reward us, to come to caſt us out of thy poſſeſſion, which thou haſt given us to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no might againſt this great company that cometh againſt us; neither know we what to do: but our eyes are upon thee (q).

13 And all Judah ſtood before the Lord, with their little ones, their wives, and their children.

14 Then upon Jahaziel the ſon of Zechariah, the ſon of Benaiah, the ſon of Jeiel, the ſon of Mattaniah, a Levite of the ſons of Aſaph, came the Spirit of the Lord, in the midſt of the congregation;

15 And he ſaid, Hearken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and thou king Jehoſhaphat; Thus ſaith the Lord unto you, Be not afraid, nor diſmayed by reaſon of this great multitude; for the battle is not your's, but God's.

16 To-morrow go ye down againſt them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Ziz; and ye ſhall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderneſs of Jeruel.

17 Ye ſhall not need to fight in this battle: ſet yourſelves, ſtand ye ſtill, and ſee the ſalvation of the Lord with you, O Judah and Jeruſalem: fear not, nor be diſmayed; to-morrow go out againſt them: for the Lord will be with you.

18 And Jehoſhaphat bowed his head, with his face to the ground; and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, fell before the Lord, worſhipping the Lord.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, ſtood up to praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael with a loud voice on high.

20 And they aroſe early in the morning, and

(q) This prayer of Jehoſhaphat is deſervedly accounted one of the moſt excellent that we meet with in Sacred hiſtory. He begins with an acknowledgment of God's ſupreme and irreſiſtable power, which extends itſelf every where, over all creatures in heaven and earth, which are every one ſubject to his authority. Then he remembers the peculiar relation which the people of Iſrael have to him; the promiſe he made to Abraham, as a reward of his fidelity; and the deed of gift which he made to him, and his poſterity, of this country for ever, ver. 7. Then he reminds him of the long poſſeſſion they had had of the country, and of the temple which Solomon built for his worſhip; to whom, at the conſecration, (and therefore he refers to Solomon's words at the conſecration, 1 Kings viii) he promiſed a gracious regard to all the prayers that ſhould be offered there, ver. 8, 9. In the next place he repreſents the went forth into the wilderneſs of Tekoah: and as they went forth, Jehoſhaphat ſtood and ſaid, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jeruſalem; Believe in the Lord your God, ſo ſhall ye be eſtabliſhed: believe his prophets, ſo ſhall ye proſper.

21 And when he had conſulted with the people, he appointed ſingers unto the Lord, and that ſhould praiſe the beauty of holineſs, as they went out before the army, and to ſay, Praiſe the Lord; for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 And when they began to ſing and to praiſe, the Lord ſet ambuſhments againſt the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come againſt Judah; and they were ſmitten.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab ſtood up againſt the inhabitants of mount Seir, utterly to ſlay and deſtroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to deſtroy another.

24 And when Judah came toward the watch-tower in the wilderneſs, they looked unto the multitude, and behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Jehoſhaphat and his people came to take away the ſpoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels (which they ſtripped off for themſelves) more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the ſpoil; it was ſo much.

26 And on the fourth day they aſſembled themſelves in the valley of Berachah; for there they bleſſed the Lord: therefore the name of the ſame place was called, The valley of Berachah, unto this day.

27 Then they returned every man of Judah and Jeruſalem, and Jehoſhaphat in the forefront of them, to go again to Jeruſalem with joy; for the Lord had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jeruſalem with pſalteries, and harps, and trumpets, unto the houſe of the Lord.

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of thoſe countries, when they had heard that the Lord fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

30 So the realm of Jehoſhaphat was quiet: for his God gave him reſt round about.

31 And Jehoſhaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Aſa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the ſight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away: for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoſhaphat, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu, the ſon of Hanani, who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

35 And after this did Jehoſhaphat, king of Judah, join himſelf with Ahaziah, king of Iſrael, who did very wickedly:

36 And he joined himſelf with him to make ſhips to go to Tarſhiſh: and they made the ſhips in Ezion-geber.

37 Then Eliezer, the ſon of Dodavah, of Mareſhah, propheſied againſt Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt joined thyſelf with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy works. And the ſhips were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarſhiſh.

CHAP. XXI.

Jehoram ſucceeds Jehoſhaphat, and reigns eight years. His incurable diſeaſe, infamous death, and burial.

NOW Jehoſhaphat ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Jehoram his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren, the ſons of Jehoſhaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah: all theſe were the ſons of Jehoſhaphat king of Iſrael.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of ſilver and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdom gave he to Jehoram; becauſe he was the firſt-born.

4 Now when Jehoram was riſen up to the kingdom of his father, he ſtrengthened himſelf, and ſlew all his brethren with the ſword, and divers alſo of the princes of Iſrael.

5 Jehoram was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of the foul ingratitude of their enemies in invading a country, to which they had no manner of title, even though the Iſraelites did them not the leaſt harm when they came to take poſſeſſion of it, but took the pains to march a long way about to get to it, rather than give them any moleſtation; and in aggravation of their wickedneſs in this regard, he ſuggeſts, that, by this invaſion, they made an attempt, not only upon the rights of the Iſraelites, but of God himſelf, who was the great Lord and Proprietor, from whom they held the land: ver. 10, 11. Then he appeals to the juſtice of God, the righteous judge, who helps thoſe who ſuffer wrong, eſpecially when they have no other helper; for this is the laſt argument he makes uſe of, to conciliate the divine aſſiſtance; even the weak condition wherein he and his people were, which made them the objects of the divine pity, eſpecially ſince they placed their hope and confidence in him alone, ver. 12.

Iſrael, like as did the houſe of Ahab: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife: and he wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit, the Lord would not deſtroy the houſe of David, becauſe of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promiſed to give a light to him and to his ſons for ever.

8 In his days the Edomites revolted from under the dominion of Judah, and made themſelves a king.

9 Then Jehoram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he roſe up by night, and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The ſame time alſo did Libnah revolt from under his hand; becauſe he had forſaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and cauſed the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elijah the prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God of David thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the ways of Jehoſhaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Aſa king of Judah,

13 But haſt walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the houſe of Ahab, and alſo haſt ſlain thy brethren of thy father's houſe, which were better than thyſelf:

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord ſmite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods:

15 And thou ſhalt have great ſickneſs by diſeaſe of thy bowels, until thy bowels fall out, by reaſon of the ſickneſs day by day.

16 Moreover, the Lord ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, that were near the Ethiopians.

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the king's houſe, and his ſons alſo, and his wives; ſo that there was never a ſon left him, ſave Jehoahaz the youngeſt of his ſons.

18 And after all this the Lord ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And it came to paſs that in proceſs of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reaſon of his ſickneſs (r): ſo he died of ſore diſeaſes. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem eight years, and departed without being deſired: howbeit, they buried him in the city of David, but not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

Ahaziah's wicked reign. He is ſlain by Jehu. Athaliah, deſtroying the ſeed royal, uſurps the kingdom.

AND the inhabitants of Jeruſalem made Ahaziah his youngeſt ſon king in his ſtead: for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp had ſlain all the eldeſt. So Ahaziah, the ſon of Jehoram, king of Judah, reigned.

2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Athaliah, the daughter of Omri.

3 He alſo walked in the ways of the houſe of Ahab: for his mother was his counſellor to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, like the houſe of Ahab: for they were his counſellors after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

5 He walked alſo after their counſel, and went with Jehoram, the ſon of Ahab, king of Iſrael, to war againſt Hazael, king of Syria, at Ramoth-gilead: and the Syrians ſmote Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, becauſe of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael, king of Syria. And Azariah, the ſon of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to ſee Jehoram, the ſon of Ahab, at Jezreel, becauſe he was ſick.

7 And the deſtruction of Ahaziah was of God by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehoram againſt Jehu, the ſon of Nimſhi, whom the Lord had anointed to cut off the houſe of Ahab.

(r) Dr. Mede obſerves, that "two impious kings are recorded to have had the ſame end; Antiochus Epiphanes, and Agrippa, of whom it was ſaid, τις τι τα σπλαγχνα τοις ου σπλαγχνιζομενοις. Of what avail are bowels to thoſe who have no bowels? Now this diſtemper ſeems to me to be no other than a dyſentery, for in this the inteſtines are ulcerated, and blood flows from the eroded veſſels, together with ſome excrement, which is always liquid and ſlimy matter; and ſometimes alſo ſome fleſhy ſtrings come away, ſo that the very inteſtines may ſeem to be ejected." See Mede's Med. Sacr. ch. iv. It is remarkable, that there was no calamity that could be thought of, which did not befal this wicked prince. His kingdom was deſtroyed and depopulated by the fierceſt nations; his treaſures ranſacked; his wives carried into captivity; his children ſlain; himſelf afflicted with a ſore diſeaſe for two years; and when he was dead, denied the honour of a royal ſepulture, ſuch as his father had. All which calamities were threatened in the writing ſent him in the name of Elijah, that he might not think that they came by chance, but by the ſpecial direction of Almighty God, as a puniſhment for his iniquity.

8 And it came to paſs that when Jehu was executing judgment upon the houſe of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah, and the ſons of the brethren of Ahaziah, that miniſtered to Ahaziah, he ſlew them.

9 And he ſought Ahaziah: and they caught him, (for he was hid in Samaria;) and brought him to Jehu: and when they had ſlain him, they buried him, Becauſe (ſaid they) he is the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, who ſought the Lord with all his heart. So the houſe of Ahaziah had no power to keep ſtill the kingdom.

10 But when Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe, and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal of the houſe of Judah.

11 But Jehoſhabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joaſh, the ſon of Ahaziah, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons that were ſlain, and put him and his nurſe in a bed-chamber. So Jehoſhabeath, the daughter of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the prieſt, (for ſhe was the ſiſter of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah, ſo that ſhe ſlew him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the houſe of God ſix years: and Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

Jehoiada proclaims Joaſh king. Athaliah is ſlain. The altars of Baal are deſtroyed.

AND in the ſeventh year Jehoiada ſtrengthened himſelf, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah, the ſon of Jehoram, and Iſhmael, the ſon of Jehohanan, and Azariah, the ſon of Obed, and Maaſeiah, the ſon of Adaiah, and Eliſhaphat, the ſon of Zichri, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, and they came to Jeruſalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the houſe of God: and he ſaid unto them, Behold, the king's ſon ſhall reign, as the Lord hath ſaid of the ſons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye ſhall do; A third part of you, entering on the ſabbath of the prieſts and of the Levites, ſhall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part ſhall be at the king's houſe; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people ſhall be in the courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the houſe of the Lord, ſave the prieſts, and they that miniſter of the Levites; they ſhall go in, for they are holy: but all the people ſhall keep the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites ſhall compaſs the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whoſoever elſe cometh into the houſe, he ſhall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the prieſt had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the ſabbath, with them that were to go out on the ſabbath: for Jehoiada the prieſt diſmiſſed not the courſes.

9 Moreover, Jehoiada the prieſt delivered to the captains of hundreds, ſpears, and bucklers, and ſhields, that had been king David's, which were in the houſe of God.

10 And he ſet all the people (every man having his weapon in his hand) from the right ſide of the temple to the left ſide of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's ſon, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the teſtimony, and made him king: and Jehoiada and his ſons anointed him, and ſaid, God ſave the king.

12 Now when Athaliah heard the noiſe of the people running and praiſing the king, ſhe came to the people, into the houſe of the Lord:

13 And ſhe looked, and behold, the king ſtood at his pillar, at the entering-in, and the princes, and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and ſounded with trumpets; alſo the ſingers with inſtruments of muſick, and ſuch as taught to ſing praiſe. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and ſaid, Treaſon! treaſon!

14 Then Jehoiada the prieſt brought out the captains of hundreds, that were ſet over the hoſt, and ſaid unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and whoſo followeth her, let him be ſlain with the ſword. For the prieſt ſaid, Slay her not in the houſe of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her; and when ſhe was come to the entering of the horſe-gate, by the king's houſe, they ſlew her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they ſhould be the Lord's people.

17 Then all the people went to the houſe of Baal, and brake it down, and brake his altars and his images in pieces, and ſlew Mattan the prieſt of Baal before the altars.

18 Alſo Jehoiada appointed the offices of the houſe of the Lord by the hand of the prieſts the Levites, whom David had diſtributed in the houſe of the Lord, to offer the burnt-offerings of the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moſes, with with rejoicing and with ſinging, as it was ordained by David.

19 And he ſet the porters at the gates of the houſe of the Lord, that none who was unclean in any thing ſhould enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the houſe of the Lord: and they came through the high gate into the king's houſe, and ſet the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced: and the city was quiet, after that they had ſlain Athaliah with the ſword.

CHAP. XXIV.

Joaſh reigns well all the days of Jehoiada; who being dead, he falls into idolatry, and is ſlain by his ſervants.

JOASH was ſeven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Zebeah of Beer-ſheba.

2 And Joaſh did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, all the days of Jehoiada the prieſt.

3 And Jehoiada took for him two wives; and he begat ſons and daughters.

4 And it came to paſs after this, that Joaſh was minded to repair the houſe of the Lord.

5 And he gathered together the prieſts and the Levites, and ſaid to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of all Iſrael money to repair the houſe of your God from year to year, and ſee that ye haſten the matter: howbeit, the Levites haſtened it not.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the chief, and ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and out of Jeruſalem, the collection, according to the commandment of Moſes the ſervant of the Lord, and of the congregation of Iſrael, for the tabernacle of witneſs?

7 For the ſons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the houſe of God; and alſo all the dedicated things of the houſe of the Lord did they beſtow upon Baalim.

8 And at the king's commandment they made a cheſt, and ſet it without at the gate of the houſe of the Lord.

9 And they made a proclamation through Judah and Jeruſalem, to bring in to the Lord the collection that Moſes the ſervant of God laid upon Iſrael in the wilderneſs.

10 And all the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and caſt into the cheſt, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to paſs, that at what time the cheſt was brought into the king's office, by the hand of the Levites, and when they ſaw that there was much money; the king's ſcribe and the high-prieſt's officer came and emptied the cheſt, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to ſuch as did the work of the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, and hired maſons and carpenters to repair the houſe of the Lord, and alſo ſuch as wrought iron and braſs, to mend the houſe of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they ſet the houſe of God in his ſtate, and ſtrengthened it.

14 And when they had finiſhed it, they brought the reſt of the money before the king and Jehoiada, whereof were made veſſels for the houſe of the Lord, even veſſels to miniſter, and to offer withal, and ſpoons, and veſſels of gold and ſilver; and they offered burnt-offerings in the houſe of the Lord continually, all the days of Jehoiada.

15 But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, becauſe he had done good in Iſrael, both towards God, and towards his houſe.

17 Now after the death of Jehoiada, came the princes of Judah, and made obeiſance to the king: then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the houſe of the Lord God of their fathers, and ſerved groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jeruſalem for this their treſpaſs.

19 Yet he ſent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the Lord, and they teſtified againſt them: but they would not give ear.

20 And the ſpirit of God came upon Zechariah, the ſon of Jehoiada the prieſt, who ſtood above the people, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith God, Why tranſgreſs ye the commandments of the Lord, that ye cannot proſper? becauſe ye have forſaken the Lord, he hath alſo forſaken you.

21 And they conſpired againſt him, and ſtoned him with ſtones at the commandment of the king, in the court of the houſe of the Lord.

22 Thus Joaſh the king remembered not the kindneſs which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but ſlew his ſon: and when he died, he ſaid, The Lord look upon it, and require it.

23 And

23 And it came to paſs at the end of the year, that the hoſt of Syria came up againſt him: and they came to Judah and Jeruſalem, and deſtroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and ſent all the ſpoil of them unto the king of Damaſcus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a ſmall company of men, and the Lord delivered a very great hoſt into their hand, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers: ſo they executed judgment againſt Joaſh.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diſeaſes:) his own ſervants conſpired againſt him, for the blood of the ſons of Jehoiada the prieſt, and ſlew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

26 And theſe are they that conſpired againſt him; Zabad, the ſon of Shimeath an Ammoniteſs, and Jehozabad, the ſon of Shimrith a Moabiteſs.

27 Now concerning his ſons, and the greatneſs of the burdens laid upon him, and the repairing of the houſe of God, behold, they are written in the ſtory of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXV.

Amaziah reigns twenty-nine years: he hires Iſraelitiſh ſoldiers, whom he diſmiſſes at the command of a prophet: he conquers the Edomites, and worſhips their gods. He is conquered by Joaſh, king of Iſrael, who ſpoils the temple. Amaziah is ſlain in a conſpiracy.

AMaziah was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 Now it came to paſs, when the kingdom was eſtabliſhed to him, that he ſlew his ſervants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he ſlew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moſes, where the Lord commanded, ſaying, The fathers ſhall not die for the children, neither ſhall the children die for the fathers, but every man ſhall die for his own ſin.

5 Moreover, Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them three hundred thouſand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle ſpear and ſhield.

6 He hired alſo an hundred thouſand mighty men of valour out of Iſrael, for an hundred talents of ſilver.

7 But there came a man of God to him, ſaying, O king, let not the army of Iſrael go with thee; for the Lord is not with Iſrael, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt go, do it, be ſtrong for the battle; God ſhall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to caſt down.

9 And Amaziah ſaid to the man of God, But what ſhall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Iſrael? And the man of God anſwered, The Lord is able to give thee much more than this.

10 Then Amaziah ſeparated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home again; wherefore their anger was greatly kindled againſt Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

11 And Amaziah ſtrengthened himſelf, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of ſalt, and ſmote of the children of Seir, ten thouſand.

12 And other ten thouſand left alive, did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the rock, and caſt them down from the top of the rock, that they were broken all in pieces.

13 But the ſoldiers of the army which Amaziah ſent back, that they ſhould not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah, from Samaria even unto Beth-horon, and ſmote three thouſand of them, and took much ſpoil.

14 Now it came to paſs, after that Amaziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them up to be his gods, and bowed down himſelf before them, and burned incenſe unto them.

15 Wherefore the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Amaziah, and he ſent unto him a prophet, which ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou ſought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to paſs as he talked with him, that the king ſaid unto him, Art thou made of the king's counſel? forbear: why ſhouldeſt thou be ſmitten? Then the prophet forbare, and ſaid, I know that God hath determined to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not hearkened unto my counſel.

17 Then Amaziah, king of Judah, took advice, and ſent to Joaſh, the ſon of Jehoahaz, the ſon of Jehu, king of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, let us ſee one another in the face.

18 And Joaſh, king of Iſrael, ſent to Amaziah, ziah, king of Judah, ſaying, The thiſtle that was in Lebanon, ſent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſon to wife: and there paſſed by a wild beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

19 Thou ſayeſt, Lo, thou haſt ſmitten the Edomites, and thine heart lifteth thee up to boaſt: abide now at home; why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not hear; for it came of God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, becauſe they ſought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joaſh, the king of Iſrael, went up; and they ſaw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah, king of Judah, at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Joaſh, the king of Iſrael, took Amaziah, king of Judah, the ſon of Joaſh, the ſon of Jehoahaz, at Beth-ſhemeſh, and brought him to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of God with Obed-edom, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, the hoſtages alſo, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziah, the ſon of Joaſh, king of Judah, lived after the death of Joaſh, ſon of Jehoahaz, king of Iſrael, fifteen years.

26 Now the reſt of the acts of Amaziah, firſt and laſt, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from following the Lord, they made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem; and he fled to Lachiſh: but they ſent to Lachiſh after him, and ſlew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horſes, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

CHAP. XXVI.

Uzziah reigns fifty two years. He fights ſucceſfully with his enemies; but being inflated with proſperity, he invades the prieſt's office, and is ſmitten with leproſy.

THEN all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was ſixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

2 He built Eloth, and reſtored it to Judah, and after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Jecoliah of Jeruſalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he ſought God in the days of Zechariah, who had underſtanding in the viſions of God: and as long as he ſought the Lord, God made him to proſper.

6 And he went forth and warred againſt the Philiſtines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Aſhdod, and built cities about Aſhdod, and among the Philiſtines.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtines, and againſt the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Mehunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave gifts to Uzziah: and his name ſpread abroad even to the entering-in of Egypt; for he ſtrengthened himſelf exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jeruſalem, at the corner-gate, and at the valley-gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10 Alſo he built towers in the deſart, and digged many wells: for he had much cattle, both in the low country, and in the plains: huſbandmen alſo, and vine-dreſſers in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he loved huſbandry.

11 Moreover, Uzziah had an hoſt of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Jehiel the ſcribe, and Maaſeiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains.

12 The whole number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour, were two thouſand and ſix hundred.

13 And under their hand was an army, three hundred thouſand and ſeven thouſand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king againſt the enemy.

14 And Uzziah prepared for them throughout all the hoſt, ſhields, and ſpears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bows, and ſlings to caſt ſtones.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers, and upon the bulwarks, to ſhoot arrows and great ſtones withal (s). And his name ſpread far abroad; for he was marvellouſly helped till he was ſtrong.

(s) This is the firſt time we read of any machine either for beſieging or defending towns; which is plainly the reaſon why ſieges were of ſo long a continuance before the invention of theſe. Homer, who is the moſt ancient Greek writer we know of, that treats of ſieges, deſcribes a kind of entrenchment, (though a poor one) ſome lines of circumvallation, and a ditch with paliſades; but we hear not a word of any machines, ſuch as the balliſtæ, and catapultæ, which were uſed for the hurling of ſtones, and throwing darts; and therefore we need leſs wonder that the famous

16 But when he was ſtrong, his heart was liſted up to his deſtruction: for he tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord, to burn incenſe upon the altar of incenſe.

17 And Azariah the prieſt went in after him, and with him fourſcore prieſts of the Lord, that were valiant men:

18 And they withſtood Uzziah the king, and ſaid unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incenſe unto the Lord, but to the prieſts the ſons of Aaron, that are conſecrated to burn incenſe: go out of the ſanctuary; for thou haſt treſpaſſed, neither ſhall it be for thine honour from the Lord God.

19 Then Uzziah was wroth, and had a cenſer in his hand, to burn incenſe: and while he was wroth with the prieſts, the leproſy even roſe up in his forehead, before the prieſts in the houſe of the Lord, from beſide the incenſe-altar.

20 And Azariah the chief prieſt, and all the prieſts looked upon him, and behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thruſt him out from thence; yea, himſelf haſted alſo to go out, becauſe the Lord had ſmitten him.

21 And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a ſeveral houſe, being a leper; for he was cut off from the houſe of the Lord: and Jotham his ſon was over the king's houſe, judging the people of the land.

22 Now the reſt of the acts of Uzziah, firſt and laſt, did Iſaiah the prophet, the ſon of Amoz write.

23 So Uzziah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial which belonged to the kings; for they ſaid, He is a leper: and Jotham his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVII.

Jotham reigns well and proſperouſly for ſixteen years: he is ſucceeded by his ſon Ahaz.

JOTHAM was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Jeruſhah, the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father Uzziah did: howbeit, he entered not into the temple of the Lord. And the people did yet corruptly.

3 He built the high gate of the houſe of the Lord, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover, he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the foreſts he built caſtles and towers.

5 He fought alſo with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed againſt them. And the children of Ammon gave him the ſame year, an hundred talents of ſilver, and ten thouſand meaſures of wheat, and ten thouſand of barley. So much did the children of Ammon pay unto him, both the ſecond year, and the third.

6 So Jotham became mighty, becauſe he prepared his ways before the Lord his God.

7 Now the reſt of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars, and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah.

8 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem.

9 And Jotham ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Ahaz reigns ſixteen years. He worſhips idols. He is delivered into the hands of the kings of Syria and Iſrael. Tilgath-pilneſer being called in by him againſt the Syrians, becomes a burthen to him. He worſhips the gods of Damaſcus. He dies, and is ſucceeded by his ſon Hezekiah.

AHAZ was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: but he did not that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, like David his father;

2 For he walked in the ways of the kings of Iſrael, and made alſo molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover he burned incenſe in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, and burned his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

famous ſiege of Troy continued ſo long. Sardanapalus, king of Aſſyria, maintained himſelf in Nineveh for ſeven years, becauſe the beſiegers, (as Diodorus obſerves, lib. ii.) wanted ſuch engines as were fit for demoliſhing and taking of cities, they being not then invented. Salmanezer lay three years before Samaria, 2 Kings xvii. 5, 6. and as ſome ſay, Pſammiticus twenty before Azoth. See Ariſteas de LXX Interp. Now of Uzziah it is ſaid, that he made in Jeruſalem engines invented by cunning men, to be on the towers, and upon the bulwarks, to ſhoot arrows and great ſtones; ſo that it muſt needs be a miſtake to attribute the invention of the balliſta, the ſcorpio, or the onager, (whereof Ammianus Marcellinus, lib. xxiii. cap. 2. has given us the deſcriptions) to the Greeks or Romans, becauſe we find them made uſe of in the eaſt before ever the Greeks or Romans had brought the military art to any great perfection. Uzziah was certainly the firſt inventor of them; and therefore it is ſaid, that for theſe and other warlike preparations, his name was ſpread abroad. From this time they began to be employed both in attacking and defending towns; and therefore we find the prophet Ezekiel deſcribing the future ſieges of Jeruſalem and Tyre, where he makes mention of battering rams and engines of war, or, as it ſhould be rendered Machines of cords, which, in all probability were what later ages called their balliſtæ and catapultæ.

4 He ſacrificed alſo and burned incenſe in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria; and they ſmote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Damaſcus: and he was alſo delivered into the hand of the king of Iſrael, who ſmote him with a great ſlaughter.

6 For Pekah the ſon of Remaliah ſlew in Judah an hundred and twenty thouſand in one day, which were all valiant men; becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, ſlew Maaſeiah the king's ſon, and Azrikam the governor of the houſe, and Elkanah that was next to the king.

8 And the children of Iſrael carried away captive of their brethren two hundred thouſand women, ſons and daughters, and took alſo away much ſpoil from them, and brought the ſpoil to Samaria.

9 But a prophet of the Lord was there, whoſe name was Oded: and he went out before the hoſt that came to Samaria, and ſaid unto them, Behold, becauſe the Lord God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have ſlain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye propoſe to keep under the children of Judah and Jeruſalem for bond-men and bond-women unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, ſins againſt the Lord your God?

11 Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the ſon of Jehonan, Berechiah the ſon of Meſhillemoth, and Jehizkiah the ſon of Shallum, and Amaſa the ſon of Hadlai, ſtood up againſt them that came from the war,

13 And ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall not bring in the captives hither: for whereas we have offended againſt the Lord already, ye intend to add more to our ſins and to our treſpaſs: for our treſpaſs is great, and there is fierce wrath againſt Iſrael.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the ſpoil, before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were expreſſed by name roſe up, and took the captives, and with the ſpoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and ſhod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon aſſes, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm-trees, to their brethren: then they returned to Samaria.

16 At that time did king Ahaz ſend unto the kings of Aſſyria to help him.

17 For again the Edomites had come and ſmitten Judah, and carried away captives.

18 The Philiſtines alſo had invaded the cities of the low country, and of the ſouth of Judah, and had taken Beth-ſhemeſh, and Ajalon, and Gederoth, and Shocho with the villages thereof, and Timnah with the villages thereof, Gimzo alſo, and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord brought Judah low, becauſe of Ahaz king of Iſrael; for he made Judah naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore againſt the Lord.

20 And Tilgath-pilneſer king of Aſſyria came unto him, and diſtreſſed him, but ſtrengthened him not.

21 For Ahaz took away a portion out of the houſe of the Lord, and out of the houſe of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Aſſyria: but he helped him not.

22 And in the time of his diſtreſs did he treſpaſs yet more againſt the Lord: this is that king Ahaz.

23 For he ſacrificed unto the gods of Damaſcus which ſmote him: and he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I ſacrifice to them, that they may help me: but they were the ruin of him and of all Iſrael.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the veſſels of the houſe of God, and cut in pieces the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut up the doors of the houſe of the Lord, and he made him altars in every corner of Jeruſalem.

25 And in every ſeveral city of Judah he made high places to burn incenſe unto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Now the reſt of his acts, and of all his ways, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jeruſalem: but they brought him not into the ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXIX.

Hezekiah reigns twenty-nine years. He opens the doors of the temple, which he cleanſes, and offers expiatory ſacrifices; himſelf rejoicing greatly, and all the people.

HEzekiah began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's ther's name was Abijah, the daughter of Zechariah.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that David his father had done.

3 He, in the firſt year of his reign, in the firſt month, opened the doors of the houſe of the Lord, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the prieſts, and the Levites, and gathered them together into the eaſt-ſtreet,

5 And ſaid unto them, Hear me, ye Levites, ſanctify now yourſelves, and ſanctify the houſe of the Lord God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthineſs out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers have treſpaſſed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and have forſaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the Lord, and turned their backs.

7 Alſo they have ſhut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incenſe, nor offered burnt-offerings in the holy place, unto the God of Iſrael.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was upon Judah and Jeruſalem, and he hath delivered them to trouble, to aſtoniſhment, and to hiſſing, as ye ſee with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers have fallen by the ſword, and our ſons, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the Lord God of Iſrael, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us.

11 My ſons, be not now negligent: for the Lord hath choſen you to ſtand before him, to ſerve him, and that ye ſhould miniſter unto him, and burn incenſe.

12 Then the Levites aroſe, Mahath the ſon of Amaſai, and Joel the ſon of Azariah, of the ſons of the Kohathites: and of the ſons of Merari; Kiſh the ſon of Abdi, and Azariah the ſon of Jehalelel: and of the Gerſhonites; Joah the ſon of Zimmah, and Eden, the ſon of Joah:

13 And of the ſons of Elizaphan; Shimri, and Jeiel: and of the ſons of Aſaph; Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the ſons of Heman; Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the ſons of Jeduthun; Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and ſanctified themſelves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the Lord, to cleanſe the houſe of the Lord.

16 And the prieſts went into the inner part of the houſe of the Lord, to cleanſe it, and brought out all the uncleanneſs that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of the houſe of the Lord. And the Levites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

17 Now they began on the firſt day of the firſt month to ſanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of the Lord: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the Lord in eight days; and in the ſixteenth day of the firſt month they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and ſaid, We have cleanſed all the houſe of the Lord, and the altar of burnt-offering, with all the veſſels thereof, and the ſhew-bread table, with all the veſſels thereof.

19 Moreover, all the veſſels which king Ahaz in his reign did caſt away in his tranſgreſſion, have we prepared and ſanctified; and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 Then Hezekiah the king roſe early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the houſe of the Lord.

21 And they brought ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams, and ſeven lambs, and ſeven he-goats, for a ſin-offering for the kingdom, and for the ſanctuary, and for Judah (t). And he commanded the prieſts the ſons of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the prieſts received the blood, and ſprinkled it on the altar: likewiſe when they had killed the rams, they ſprinkled the blood upon the altar: they killed alſo the lambs, and they ſprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought forth the he-goats for the ſin-offering, before the king, and the congregation; and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the prieſts killed them, and they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Iſrael: for the (t) The Hebrew word ʂeper, which here ſignifies a he-goat, Bp. Patrick obſerves was never uſed by the Hebrews till after the Babyloniſh captivity; and it is therefore an argument that this book was written by Ezra, after the return of the Jews from that captivity, during which he had learned the Chaldee language. The offering which the law preſcribed for the tranſgreſſions of the people, was a young bullock, and for the offences of the prince, was a goat. Lev. iv. 23, &c. But Hezekiah, we find was willing to do more than the law commanded. He was ſenſible that both prince and people had been guilty, not only of ſins of ignorance, for which theſe ſacrifices were inſtituted, but of wilful and preſumptuous crimes, of groſs idolatry, a profanation of the temple, and an utter extinction of the worſhip of God; and therefore he appointed ſeven bullocks for a burnt-offering, and as many goats for a ſin-offering; upon the preſumption that theſe numerous ſacrifices, were, if not neceſſary, at leaſt highly fit and becoming, on account of the great and long neglect of divine ſervice, and the multitude and long continuance of their other offences againſt God.

king commanded that the burnt-offering and the ſin-offering ſhould be made for all Iſrael.

25 And he ſet the Levites in the houſe of the Lord with cymbals, with pſalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of David, and of Gad the king's ſeer, and Nathan the prophet: for ſo was the commandment of the Lord by his prophets.

26 And the Levites ſtood with the inſtruments of David, and the prieſts with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt-offering upon the altar: and when the burnt-offering began, the ſong of the Lord began alſo with the trumpets, and with the inſtruments ordained by David king of Iſrael.

28 And all the congregation worſhipped, and the ſingers ſang, and the trumpeters ſounded: and all this continued until the burnt-offering was finiſhed.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king, and all that were preſent with him bowed themſelves, and worſhipped.

30 Moreover, Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to ſing praiſe unto the Lord, with the words of David, and of Aſaph the ſeer: and they ſang praiſes with gladneſs, and they bowed their heads and worſhipped.

31 Then Hezekiah anſwered and ſaid, Now ye have conſecrated yourſelves unto the Lord, come near and bring ſacrifices and thank-offerings into the houſe of the Lord. And the congregation brought in ſacrifices, and thank-offerings; and as many as were of a free heart, burnt-offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt-offerings, which the congregation brought, was threeſcore and ten bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all theſe were for a burnt-offering to the Lord.

33 And the conſecrated things were ſix hundred oxen, and three thouſand ſheep.

34 But the prieſts were too few, ſo that they could not ſlay all the burnt-offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites did help them till the work was ended, and until the other prieſts had ſanctified themſelves: for the Levites were more upright in heart to ſanctify themſelves, than the prieſts.

35 And alſo the burnt-offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace-offerings, and the drink-offerings for every burnt-offering. So the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord was ſet in order.

36 And Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people: for the thing was done ſuddenly.

CHAP. XXX.

Hezekiah invites all Iſrael to celebrate the paſſover. They come from the tribes of Aſher, Manaſſeh, and Zebulun to Jeruſalem, and, with Judah, celebrate the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the ſecond month.

AND Hezekiah ſent to all Iſrael and Judah, and wrote letters alſo to Ephraim and Manaſſeh, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſover unto the Lord God of Iſrael.

2 For the king had taken counſel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſover in the ſecond month.

3 For they could not keep it at that time, becauſe the prieſts had not ſanctified themſelves ſufficiently, neither had the people gathered themſelves together at Jeruſalem.

4 And the thing pleaſed the king, and all the congregation.

5 So they eſtabliſhed a decree, to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael, from Beer-ſheba even to Dan, that they ſhould come to keep the paſſover unto the Lord God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it of a long time in ſuch ſort as it was written.

6 So the poſts went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Iſrael and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, ſaying, Ye children of Iſrael, turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael, and he will return to the remnant of you, that are eſcaped out of the hand of the kings of Aſſyria.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, who treſpaſſed againſt the Lord God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to deſolation, as ye ſee.

8 Now be not ye ſtiff-necked, as your fathers were, but yield yourſelves unto the Lord, and enter into his ſanctuary, which he hath ſanctified for ever: and ſerve the Lord your God, that the fierceneſs of his wrath may turn away from you.

9 For if ye turn again unto the Lord, your brethren and your children ſhall find compaſſion before them that lead them captive, ſo that they ſhall come again into this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

10 So the poſts paſſed from city to city, through the country of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, even unto Zebulun: but they laughed them to ſcorn, and mocked them.

11 Nevertheleſs, divers of Aſher and Manaſſeh, and of Zebulun, humbled themſelves, and came to Jeruſalem.

12 Alſo in Judah, the hand of God was to give them one heart to do the commandment of of the king and of the princes, by the word of the Lord.

13 And there aſſembled at Jeruſalem much people, to keep the feaſt of unleavened bread in the ſecond month; a very great congregation.

14 And they aroſe, and took away the altars that were in Jeruſalem, and all the altars for incenſe took they away, and caſt them into the brook Kidron.

15 Then they killed the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the ſecond month: and the prieſts and the Levites were aſhamed, and ſanctified themſelves, and brought in the burnt-offerings into the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they ſtood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moſes, the man of God: the prieſts ſprinkled the blood, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not ſanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the paſſovers, for every one that was not clean, to ſanctify them unto the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar, and Zebulun, had not cleanſed themſelves, yet did they eat the paſſover, otherwiſe than it was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, The good Lord pardon every one

19 That prepareth his heart to ſeek God, the Lord God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

20 And the Lord hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent at Jeruſalem kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with great gladneſs: and the Levites and the prieſts praiſed the Lord day by day, ſinging with loud inſtruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah ſpake comfortably unto all the Levites, that taught the good knowledge of the Lord: and they did eat throughout the feaſt ſeven days, offering peace-offerings, and making confeſſion to the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly took counſel to keep other ſeven days: and they kept other ſeven days with gladneſs.

24 For Hezekiah, king of Judah, did give to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ſeven thouſand ſheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ten thouſand ſheep: and a great number of prieſts ſanctified themſelves.

25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the prieſts and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoiced.

26 So there was great joy in Jeruſalem: for ſince the time of Solomon, the ſon of David, king of Iſrael, there was not the like in Jeruſalem.

27 Then the prieſts the Levites aroſe, and bleſſed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling-place, even unto heaven.

CHAP. XXXI.

The Iſraelites deſtroy idolatry. Hezekiah reſtores the courſes of the prieſts and Levites, and enjoins a reformation.

NOW when all this was finiſhed, all Iſrael that were preſent, went out to the cities of Judah, and brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim alſo, and Manaſſeh, until they had utterly deſtroyed them all. Then all the children of Iſrael returned every man to his poſſeſſion, into their own cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites after their courſes, every man according to his ſervice, the prieſts, and Levites, for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to miniſter, and to give thanks, and to praiſe in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 He appointed alſo the king's portion of his ſubſtance for the burnt-offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offerings for the ſabbaths, and for the new-moons, and for the ſet feaſts, as it is written in the law of the Lord.

4 Moreover, he commanded the people that dwelt in Jeruſalem, to give the portion of the prieſts, and the Levites, that they might be encouraged in the law of the Lord.

5 And as ſoon as the commandment came abroad, the children of Iſrael brought in abundance the firſt fruits of corn, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increaſe of the field; and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.

6 And concerning the children of Iſrael and Judah, that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they alſo brought in the tithe of oxen and ſheep, and the tithe of holy things, which were conſecrated unto the Lord their God, and laid them by heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finiſhed them in the ſeventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came and ſaw the heaps, they bleſſed the Lord and his people Iſrael.

9 Then Hezekiah queſtioned with the prieſts, and the Levites, concerning the heaps.

10 And

10 And Azariah the chief prieſt of the houſe of Zadok anſwered him, and ſaid, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the houſe of the Lord, we have had enough to eat, and have left plenty: for the Lord hath bleſſed his people; and that which is left, is this great ſtore.

11 Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the houſe of the Lord; and they prepared them,

12 And brought in the offerings and the tithes, and the dedicated things faithfully: over which Cononiah the Levite was ruler, and Shimei his brother was the next.

13 And Jehiel, and Azaziah, and Nahath, and Aſahel, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Iſmachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah, were overſeers under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the ruler of the houſe of God.

14 And Kore, the ſon of Imnah the Levite, the porter toward the eaſt, was over the free-will-offerings of God, to diſtribute the oblations of the Lord, and the moſt holy things.

15 And next him were Eden, and Miniamin, and Jeſhua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the cities of the prieſts, in their ſet office, to give to their brethren by courſes, as well to the great as to the ſmall:

16 Beſide their genealogy of males, from three years old and upward, even unto every one that entereth into the houſe of the Lord, his daily portion for their ſervice in their charges, according to their courſes;

17 Both to the genealogy of the prieſts by the houſe of their fathers, and the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, in their charges, by their courſes;

18 And to the genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their ſons, and their daughters, through all the congregation: for in their ſet office they ſanctified themſelves in holineſs.

19 Alſo of the ſons of Aaron the prieſts, which were in the fields of the ſuburbs of their cities, in every ſeveral city, the men that were expreſſed by name, to give portions to all the males among the prieſts, and to all that were reckoned by genealogies among the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and wrought that which was good, and right, and truth, before the Lord his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the ſervice of the houſe of God, and in the law, and in the commandments to ſeek his God, he did it with all his heart, and proſpered.

CHAP. XXXII.

Sennacherib invades Judah. An angel deſtroys the army of the Aſſyrians. Hezekiah's ſickneſs and recovery. He dies, and is ſucceeded by his ſon Manaſſeh.

AFTER theſe things, and the eſtabliſhment thereof, Sennacherib king of Aſſyria came, and entered into Judah, and encamped againſt the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himſelf.

2 And when Hezekiah ſaw that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purpoſed to fight againſt Jeruſalem;

3 He took counſel with his princes, and his mighty men, to ſtop the waters of the fountains, which were without the city: and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who ſtopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midſt of the land, ſaying, Why ſhould the kings of Aſſyria come, and find much water?

5 Alſo he ſtrengthened himſelf, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raiſed it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and ſhields in abundance.

6 And he ſet captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the ſtreet of the gate of the city, and ſpake comfortably to them, ſaying,

7 Be ſtrong and courageous, be not afraid nor diſmayed for the king of Aſſyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us, than with him.

8 With him is an arm of fleſh; but with us is the Lord our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people reſted themſelves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 After this did Sennacherib, king of Aſſyria, ſend his ſervants to Jeruſalem, (but he himſelf laid ſiege againſt Lachiſh, and all his power with him) unto Hezekiah, king of Judah, and unto all Judah, that were at Jeruſalem, ſaying, 10 Thus ſaith Sennacherib, king of Aſſyria, Whereon do ye truſt, that ye abide in the ſiege in Jeruſalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah perſuade you to give over yourſelves to die by famine and by thirſt, ſaying, the Lord our God ſhall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

12 Hath not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jeruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of thoſe lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who

14 Who was there among all the gods of thoſe nations, that my fathers utterly deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſuade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much leſs ſhall your God deliver you out of mine hand.

16 And his ſervants ſpake yet more againſt the Lord God, and againſt his ſervant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote alſo letters to rail on the Lord God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, ſo ſhall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voice, in the Jew's ſpeech, unto the people of Jeruſalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them; that they might take the city.

19 And they ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

20 And for this cauſe Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iſaiah, the ſon of Amoz, prayed and cried to heaven.

21 And the Lord ſent an angel who cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Aſſyria: ſo he returned with ſhame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the houſe of his god, they that came forth of his own bowels, ſlew him there with the ſword.

22 Thus the Lord ſaved Hezekiah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every ſide.

23 And many brought gifts unto the Lord to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah: ſo that he was magnified in the ſight of all nations, from thenceforth.

24 In thoſe days Hezekiah was ſick to the death, and prayed unto the Lord: and he ſpake unto him, and he gave him a ſign.

25 But Hezekiah rendered not again, according to the benefit done unto him: for his heart was lifted up; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jeruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding, Hezekiah humbled himſelf for the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem) ſo that the wrath of the Lord came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

27 And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour, and he made himſelf treaſuries for ſilver, and for gold, and for precious ſtones, and for ſpices, and for ſhields, and for all manner of pleaſant jewels;

28 Store-houſes alſo for the increaſe of corn, and wine, and oil; and ſtalls for all manner of beaſts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover, he provided him cities, and poſſeſſions of flocks, and herds in abundance: for God had given him ſubſtance very much.

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the upper water-courſe of Gihon, and brought it ſtraight down to the weſt ſide of the city of David. And Hezekiah proſpered in all his works.

31 Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the ambaſſadors of the princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 Now the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodneſs, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the prophet, the ſon of Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefeſt of the ſepulchres of the ſons of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him honour at his death. And Manaſſeh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Manaſſeh reigns fifty-five years, and is guilty of groſs idolatry. He is carried captive to Babylon; but upon true repentance is reſtored to his kingdom. He is ſucceeded by his ſon Amon, who after reigning two years, is ſlain, and ſucceeded by his ſon Joſiah.

MAnaſſeh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem:

2 But did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, like unto the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſrael:

3 For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 Alſo he built altars in the houſe of the Lord, whereof the Lord had ſaid, In Jeruſalem, ſhall my name be for ever.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven, in the two courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And he cauſed his children to paſs through the fire in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom: alſo he obſerved times, and uſed inchantments, and uſed witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar ſpirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the ſight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

7 And

7 And he ſet a carved image (the idol which he had made) in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon, In this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

8 Neither will I any more remove the foot of Iſrael from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers; ſo that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law, and the ſtatutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moſes.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, and to do worſe than the heathen, whom the Lord had deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Lord ſpake to Manaſſeh, and to his people: but they would not hearken.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought upon them the captains of the hoſt of the king of Aſſyria, who took Manaſſeh among the thorns, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in affliction, he beſought the Lord his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed unto him: and he was intreated of him, and heard his ſupplication, and brought him again to Jeruſalem into his kingdom. Then Manaſſeh knew that the Lord he was God.

14 Now after this, he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt ſide of Gihon, in the valley, even to the entering in at the fiſh-gate, and compaſſed about Ophel, and raiſed it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the ſtrange gods, and the idol out of the houſe of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the houſe of the Lord, and in Jeruſalem, and caſt them out of the city.

16 And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and ſacrificed thereon peace-offerings, and thank-offerings, and commanded Judah to ſerve the Lord God of Iſrael.

17 Nevertheleſs, the people did ſacrifice ſtill in the high places, yet unto the Lord their God only.

18 Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and his prayer unto his God, and the words of the ſeers that ſpake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

19 His prayer alſo, and how God was intreated of him, and all his ſins, and his treſpaſs, and the places wherein he built high places, and ſet up groves and graven images before he was humbled: behold, they are written among the ſayings of the ſeers.

20 So Manaſſeh ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own houſe: and Amon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

21 Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jeruſalem.

22 But he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, as did Manaſſeh his father: for Amon ſacrificed unto all the carved images, which Manaſſeh his father had made, and ſerved them;

23 And humbled not himſelf before the Lord, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled himſelf; but Amon treſpaſſed more and more.

24 And his ſervants conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in his own houſe.

25 But the people of the land ſlew all them that had conſpired againſt king Amon; and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſon king in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Joſiah reigns thirty-one years. He deſtroys the idols, and purifies the temple. Hilkiah the prieſt finds the book of the law in the temple, concerning which Joſiah conſults Huldah the propheteſs.

JOSIAH was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem one and thirty years.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to ſeek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jeruſalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his preſence: and the images that were on high above them, he cut down; and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made duſt of them, and ſtrewed it upon the graves of them that had ſacrificed unto them.

5 And he burned the bones of the prieſts upon their altars, and cleanſed Judah and Jeruſalem.

6 And ſo did he in the cities of Manaſſeh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mattocks round about.

7 And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Iſrael, he returned to Jeruſalem.

8 Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the houſe, he ſent ſent Shaphan, the ſon of Azaliah, and Maaſeiah the governor of the city, and Joah, the ſon of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the houſe of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high prieſt, they delivered the money that was brought into the houſe of God, which the Levites that kept the doors had gathered of the hand of Manaſſeh and Ephraim, and of all the remnant of Iſrael, and of all Judah, and Benjamin, and they returned to Jeruſalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen that had the overſight of the houſe of the Lord, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the houſe of the Lord, to repair and amend the houſe:

11 Even to the artificers and builders gave they it, to buy hewn ſtone, and timber for couplings, and to floor the houſes, which the kings of Judah had deſtroyed.

12 And the men did the work faithfully: and the overſeers of them were Jahath, and Obadiah, the Levites, of the ſons of Merari; and Zechariah, and Meſhullam, of the ſons of the Kohathites, to ſet it forward: and other of the Levites, all that could ſkill of inſtruments of muſick.

13 Alſo they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overſeers of all that wrought the work in any manner of ſervice: and of the Levites there were ſcribes, and officers, and porters.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the houſe of the Lord, Hilkiah the prieſt found a book of the law of the Lord, given by Moſes (u).

15 And Hilkiah anſwered and ſaid to Shaphan the ſcribe, I have found the book of the law in the houſe of the Lord. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, ſaying, All that was committed to thy ſervants, they do it.

17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the houſe of the Lord, and have delivered it into the hand of the overſeers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the ſcribe told the king, ſaying, Hilkiah the prieſt hath given me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And it came to paſs when the king had heard the words of the law, that he rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, and Abdon the ſon of Micah, and Shaphan the ſcribe, and Aſaiah a ſervant of the king's, ſaying, 21 Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Iſrael, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us, becauſe our fathers have not kept the word of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the propheteſs, the wife of Shallum the ſon of Tikvath, the ſon of Haſrah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now ſhe dwelt in Jeruſalem in the college:) and they ſpake to her to that effect.

23 And ſhe anſwered them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Tell ye the man that ſent you to me,

24 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curſes that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have burned incenſe unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath ſhall be poured out upon this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who ſent you to enquire of the Lord, ſo ſhall ye ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, concerning the words which thou haſt heard;

27 Becauſe thine heart was tender, and thou didſt humble thyſelf before God, when thou heardeſt his words againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, and humbleſt thyſelf before me, and didſt rend thy clothes, and weep before me: I have even heard thee alſo, ſaith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither ſhall thine eyes ſee all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the ſame. So they brought the king word again.

(u). A book of the law given by Moſes] See note on 2 Kings xxii. 8. The word given, is not in the Hebrew. It is literally, A book of the law of Jehovah, by the hand of Moſes. It is ſcarce poſſible for words more naturally to deſcribe a book written by Moſes himſelf, or to vouch more fully, that the manuſcript of the law at this time found was in the hand writing of Moſes: and though there are fifteen places in the Old Teſtament---Joſh. viii. 31. 1 Kings ii. 3. 2 Kings xiv. 6. xxiii. 25. 2 Chron. xxiii. 18. xxx. 16. xxv. 4. xxxv. 12. Ezra iii. 2. vi. 18. Neh. xiii. 1. Dan. xi. 11. 13. and Mal. iv. 4.---which contain the words, law of Moſes, and book of Moſes; yet this one place only mentions, the book of the law in the hand, or by the hand of Moſes: the reaſon of which ſeems to be, that the other places ſpeak of that law in general, but this place ſpeaks of one particular manuſcript, namely, the original. As to the point of age, this manuſcript certainly might be the original, diſtance of time leaving it very poſſible; for the moſt extended chronology does not make the interval from the death of Moſes to the death of Joſiah, 950 years; an age exceeded by that of ſeveral manuſcripts preſerved at this day. Kennicott's Diſſ. vol. ii. p. 299.

29 Then the king ſent, and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jeruſalem.

30 And the king went up into the houſe of the Lord, and all the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and the prieſts and the Levites, and all the people great and ſmall: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the houſe of the Lord.

31 And the king ſtood in his place, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments, and his teſtimonies, and his ſtatutes, with all his heart, and with all his ſoul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he cauſed all that were preſent in Jeruſalem and Benjamin to ſtand to it. And the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

33 And Joſiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Iſrael, and made all that were preſent in Iſrael to ſerve, even to ſerve the Lord their God. And all his days they departed not from following the Lord, the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

Joſiah celebrates the paſſover. Pharaoh-necho, king of Egypt, paſſes with his army through Judah: Joſiah fights with him at Megiddo, and is ſlain. Great lamentations are made for him.

MOreover, Joſiah kept a paſſover unto the Lord in Jeruſalem: and they killed the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the firſt month.

2 And he ſet the prieſts in their charges, and encouraged them to the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord,

3 And ſaid unto the Levites that taught all Iſrael, which were holy unto the Lord, Put the holy ark in the houſe which Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael did build; it ſhall not be a burden upon your ſhoulders: ſerve now the Lord your God, and his people Iſrael,

4 And prepare yourſelves by the houſes of your fathers, after your courſes, according to the writing of David king of Iſrael, and according to the writing of Solomon his ſon.

5 And ſtand in the holy place according to the diviſions of the families of the fathers of your brethren the people, and after the diviſion of the families of the Levites.

6 So kill the paſſover, and ſanctify yourſelves, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

7 And Joſiah gave to the people of the flock, lambs and kids, all for the paſſover-offerings, for all that were preſent, to the number of thirty thouſand, and three thouſand bullocks: theſe were of the king's ſubſtance.

8 And his princes gave willingly unto the people, to the prieſts, and to the Levites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the houſe of God, gave unto the prieſts for the paſſover-offerings two thouſand and ſix hundred ſmall cattle, and five hundred oxen.

9 Conaniah alſo, and Shemaiah, and Nethaneel his brethren, and Haſhabiah, and Jeiel, and Jozabad, chief of the Levites, gave unto the Levites for paſſover-offering, five thouſand ſmall cattle, and five hundred oxen.

10 So the ſervice was prepared, and the prieſts ſtood in their place, and the Levites in their courſes, according to the king's commandment.

11 And they killed the paſſover, and the prieſts ſprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Levites flayed them.

12 And they removed the burnt-offerings, that they might give according to the diviſions of the families of the people, to offer unto the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moſes: and ſo did they with the oxen.

13 And they roaſted the paſſover with fire, according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings ſod they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them ſpeedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themſelves, and for the prieſts: becauſe the prieſts the ſons of Aaron were buſied in offering of burnt-offerings and the fat until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themſelves, and for the prieſts the ſons of Aaron.

15 And the ſingers the ſons of Aſaph were in their place, according to the commandment of David, and Aſaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's ſeer; and the porters waited at every gate; they might not depart from their ſervice; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the ſervice of the Lord was prepared the ſame day, to keep the paſſover, and to offer burnt-offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Joſiah.

17 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent, kept the paſſover at that time, and the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days.

18 And there was no paſſover like to that kept in Iſrael, from the days of Samuel the prophet; neither did all the kings of Iſrael keep ſuch a paſſover as Joſiah kept, and the prieſts, and the Levites, and all Judah and Iſrael that were preſent, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

19 In

19 In the eighteenth year in the reign of Joſiah, was this paſſover kept.

20 After all this, when Joſiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight againſt Charchemiſh by Euphrates: and Joſiah went out againſt him.

21 But he ſent ambaſſadors to him, ſaying, what have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not againſt thee this day, but againſt the houſe wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haſte: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he deſtroy thee not.

22 Nevertheleſs, Joſiah would not turn his face from him, but diſguiſed himſelf that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho, from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers ſhot at king Joſiah; and the king ſaid to his ſervants, Have me away; for I am ſore wounded.

24 His ſervants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the ſecond chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jeruſalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the ſepulchres of his fathers: and all Judah and Jeruſalem mourned for Joſiah.

25 And Jeremiah lamented for Joſiah: and all the ſinging-men and the ſinging-women ſpake of Joſiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Iſrael: and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the reſt of the acts of Joſiah and his goodneſs, according to that which was written in the law of the Lord, 27 And his deeds firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Jehoahaz reigns three months, and after him Jehoiakim eleven years; who is carried captive to Babylon. He is ſucceeded by Jehoiachin, who reigns three months and ten days, and is ſucceeded by Zedekiah, who rebels againſt Nebuchadnezzar. Jeruſalem is taken; the temple plundered and burnt, and many captives carried to Babylon. The proclamation of Cyrus.

THEN the people of the land took Jehoahaz the ſon of Joſiah, and made him king in his father's ſtead in Jeruſalem.

2 Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jeruſalem.

3 And the king of Egypt put him down at Jeruſalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of ſilver, and a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother, king over Judah and Jeruſalem: and turned his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem: and he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord his God.

6 Againſt him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and bound him in fetters to carry him to Babylon.

7 Nebuchadnezzar alſo carried of the veſſels of the houſe of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah: and Jehoiachin his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

9 Jehoiachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jeruſalem: and he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord.

10 And when the year was expired, king Nebuchadnezzar ſent, and brought him to Babylon, with the goodly veſſels of the houſe of the Lord, and made Zedekiah his brother king over Judah and Jeruſalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem.

12 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himſelf before Jeremiah the prophet, ſpeaking from the mouth of the Lord.

13 And he alſo rebelled againſt king Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him ſwear by God: but he ſtiffened his neck, and hardened his heart, from turning unto the Lord God of Iſrael.

14 Moreover, all the chief of the prieſts, and the people tranſgreſſed very much, after all the abominations of the heathen; and polluted the houſe of the Lord which he had hallowed in Jeruſalem.

15 And the Lord God of their fathers ſent to them by his meſſengers, riſing up betimes, and ſending; becauſe he had compaſſion on his people, and on his dwelling-place:

16 But they mocked the meſſengers of God, and deſpiſed his words, and miſuſed his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord aroſe againſt his people, till there was no remedy.

17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who ſlew their young men with the ſword, in the houſe of their ſanctuary, and had no compaſſion upon young man or maiden, old man or him that ſtooped for age: he gave them all into his hand.

18 And all the veſſels of the houſe of God, great and ſmall, and the treaſures of the houſe of of the Lord, and the treaſures of the king, and of his princes; all theſe he brought to Babylon.

19 And they burned the houſe of God, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, and burned all the palaces thereof with fire, and deſtroyed all the goodly veſſels thereof.

20 And them that had eſcaped from the ſword, carried he away to Babylon: where they were ſervants to him and his ſons, until the reign of the kingdom of Perſia:

21 To fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her ſabbaths: for as long as ſhe lay deſolate, ſhe kept ſabbath, to fulfil threeſcore and ten years.

22 Now in the firſt year of Cyrus king of Perſia, that the word of the Lord ſpoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accompliſhed, the Lord ſtirred up the ſpirit of Cyrus king of Perſia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it alſo in writing, ſaying, 23 Thus ſaith Cyrus king of Perſia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the Lord God of heaven given me; and he hath charged me to build him an houſe in Jeruſalem, which is in Judah. Who is there among you of all his people? The Lord his God be with him, and let him go up.

CHAP. I.

Cyrus, king of Perſia, makes a proclamation, permitting the Jews to return into their country, and to build their temple; and reſtores the ſacred veſſels to them.

NOW in the firſt year of Cyrus king of Perſia, that the word of the Lord, by the mouth of Jeremiah, might be fulfilled, the Lord ſtirred up the ſpirit of Cyrus, king of Perſia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it alſo in writing, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith Cyrus king of Perſia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him an houſe at Jeruſalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is there among you all of his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jeruſalem, which is in Judah, and build the houſe of the Lord God of Iſrael (he is the God) which is in Jeruſalem.

4 And whoſoever remaineth in any place where he ſojourneth, let the men of his place help him with ſilver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beaſts, beſides the free-will-offering for the houſe of God that is in Jeruſalem.

5 Then roſe up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the prieſts, and the Levites, with all them whoſe ſpirit God had raiſed to go up, to build the houſe of the Lord which is in Jeruſalem.

6 And all they that were about them ſtrengthened their hands with veſſels of ſilver, with gold, with goods, and with beaſts, and with precious things, beſides all that was willingly offered.

7 Alſo Cyrus the king brought forth the veſſels of the houſe of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jeruſalem, and had put them in the houſe of his gods.

8 Even thoſe did Cyrus king of Perſia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treaſurer, and numbered them unto Sheſhbazzar the prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thouſand chargers of ſilver, nine and twenty knives,

10 Thirty baſons of gold, ſilver baſons of a ſecond ſort four hundred and ten, and other veſſels a thouſand.

11 All the veſſels of gold and of ſilver were five thouſand and four hundred. All theſe did Sheſhbazzar bring up with them of the captivity, that were brought up from Babylon unto Jeruſalem.

EZRA.] Ezra or Eſdras, was a perſon of high eſteem amongſt the Jews; He was of a ſacerdotal family, and bore a principal part in the reſtoration from Babylon. Some have aſſerted that he was chiefly concerned in reviſing and compiling moſt of the books of Scripture. Four, however, of thoſe books go under his name; for amongſt the Hebrews, this and the book of Nehemiah being formerly reckoned but one, they are both inſcribed in the Latin and Greek bibles by the name of Ezra. Theſe two only are acknowledged by our church to be canonical; the two others are apocryphal. The firſt of theſe books is certainly the work of Eſdras, the ſecond is commonly attributed to Nehemiah. It muſt, however, be confeſſed, that ſome ſmall matters have been added to it, which cannot belong to Nehemiah. This book is a continuation of the hiſtory of the Jews, from the time wherein that of the Chronicles ends, to near the twentieth year of Artaxerxes Logimanus. It contains an hiſtory of eighty-two years, from the firſt year

The letter of Rehum and Shimſhai, ch. iv. 8. to the king, and the king's anſwer, were written in the Chaldee language, as were the fifth and ſixth chapters, and as far as the twenty-ſeventh verſe of the ſeventh, and all the reſt in Hebrew. See Calmet's dictionary on the word Eſdras, Prideaux's Connect. and Le Clerc's Sentimens de quelques theologiens. We would by all means recommend it to the readers of this, and the two following books, if they deſire thoroughly to underſtand them, that they would conſult the profane writers of this period, or at leaſt ſuch as have given an hiſtory of it; particularly Joſephus, Prideaux's connection, Univerſal hiſtory, &c.

58 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's ſervants, were three hundred ninety and two.
59 And theſe were they which went up from Tel-melah, Tel-harſa, Cherub, Addan, and Immer: but they could not ſhew their father's houſe, and their ſeed, whether they were of Iſrael:
60 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, ſix hundred fifty and two.
61 And of the children of the prieſts: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai: (who took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name:)
62 Theſe ſought their regiſter among thoſe that were reckoned by genealogy, but they were not found: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the prieſthood.
63 And the Tirſhatha ſaid unto them, that they ſhould not eat of the moſt holy things, till there ſtood up a prieſt with Urim and Thummim.
64 The whole congregation together was forty and two thouſand three hundred and threeſcore,

69 They gave after their ability, unto the treaſure of the work, threeſcore and one thouſand drachms of gold, and five thouſand pounds of ſilver (w), and one hundred prieſts garments.
70 So the prieſts and the Levites, and ſome of the people, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, dwelt in their cities, and all Iſrael in their cities.

CHAP. III.

The altar of burnt-offerings is ſet up: the feaſt of tabernacles is celebrated: in the ſecond year the foundations of the temple are laid, amidſt the ſhouts of the people.

AND when the ſeventh month was come, and the children of Iſrael were in the cities, the people gathered themſelves together as one man, to Jeruſalem.
2 Then ſtood up Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and his brethren the prieſts, and Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Iſrael, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Moſes, the man of God.
3 And they ſet the altar upon his baſes; for fear was upon them, becauſe of the people of thoſe countries: and they offered burnt-offerings thereon unto the Lord, even burnt-offerings morning and evening:
4 They kept alſo the feaſt of tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the cuſtom, as the duty of every day required;
5 And afterward offered the continual burnt-offering, both of the new moons, and of all the

(w) Threeſcore and one thouſand drachms of gold, and five thouſand pounds of ſilver, i. e. about ſeventy-five thouſand five hundred pounds of our money; for every drachm of gold is worth ten ſhillings of our money, and every mina or pound of ſilver, nine pounds; for it contains ſixty ſhekels, and every ſhekel of ſilver is worth three ſhillings of our money: from whence it appears, that the Jews were not made ſuch poor ſlaves in Babylon as wrought for their lords and maſters; but had ſome of them very conſiderable offices at court, and all liberty to trade and get riches for themſelves; and conſequently that there may not be all the truth imaginable in that common ſaying among them, that they were only the bran, i. e. the dregs of the people, who returned to Jeruſalem at the end of the captivity, and that all the fine flour ſtayed behind at Babylon. Prideaux's Connect. An. 536.

ſet feaſts of the Lord, that were conſecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a free-will-offering unto the Lord.

6 From the firſt day of the ſeventh month began they to offer burnt-offerings unto the Lord: but the foundation of the temple was not yet laid.

7 They gave money alſo unto the maſons, and to the carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oil, unto them of Zidon, and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar-trees from Lebanon to the ſea of Joppa; according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Perſia.

8 Now in the ſecond year of their coming unto the houſe of God at Jeruſalem, in the ſecond month, began Zerubbabel, the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua, the ſon of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the prieſts and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jeruſalem, and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to ſet forward the work of the houſe of the Lord.

9 Then ſtood Jeſhua, with his ſons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his ſons, the ſons of Judah together, to ſet forward the workmen in the houſe of God: the ſons of Henadad, with their ſons and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they ſet the prieſts in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the ſons of Aſaph with cymbals, to praiſe the Lord, after the ordinance of David king of Iſrael.

11 And they ſang together by courſe, in praiſing and giving thanks unto the Lord; becauſe he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever towards Iſrael. And all the people ſhouted with a great ſhout, when they praiſed the Lord, becauſe the foundation of the houſe of the Lord was laid.

12 But many of the prieſts and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men that had ſeen the firſt houſe, when the foundation of this houſe was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; and many ſhouted aloud for joy:

13 So that the people could not diſcern the noiſe of the ſhout of joy, from the noiſe of the weeping of the people: for the people ſhouted with a loud ſhout, and the noiſe was heard afar off (x).

CHAP. IV.

The enemies of the Jews ſend letters to king Artaxerxes. He commands the Jews to deſiſt from building the temple: the work ceaſes, till the ſecond year of Darius.

NOW when the adverſaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Iſrael;

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and ſaid unto them, Let us build with you: for we ſeek your God, as ye do; and we do ſacrifice unto him, ſince the days of Eſar-haddon king of Aſſur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zerubbabel and Jeſhua, and the reſt of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, ſaid unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us, to build an houſe unto our God; but we ourſelves together will build unto the Lord God of Iſrael, as king Cyrus the king of Perſia hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,

5 And hired counſellors againſt them, to fruſtrate their purpoſe, all the days of Cyrus king of Perſia, even until the reign of Darius king of Perſia.

6 And in the reign of Ahaſuerus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accuſation againſt the inhabitants of Judah and Jeruſalem.

7 And in the days of Artaxerxes wrote Biſhlam, Mithridath, Tabeel, and the reſt of their companions, unto Artaxerxes king of Perſia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.

8 Rehum the chancellor, and Shimſhai the ſcribe, wrote a letter againſt Jeruſalem to Artaxerxes the king, in this ſort:

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimſhai the ſcribe, and the reſt of their companions; the Dinaites, the Apharſathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharſites, the Archevites, the

(x) Both the temples without all doubt, were of the ſame dimenſions; but here was the ſad difference, which drew tears from the eyes of the elders, while the populous rejoiced, that in all appearance there were no hopes that the poor beginnings of the latter temple would ever be raiſed to the grandeur and magnificence of the former, ſince the one had been built by the wiſeſt and richeſt king, and conſtantly adorned by ſome one or other of his poſterity; the other now begun by a ſmall company of exiles, juſt returned from their captivity: the one in a time of profound peace, and the greateſt opulence; the other in a time of common calamity and diſtreſs: the one finiſhed with the moſt coſtly ſtones and timber, wrought with exquiſite art, and overlaid with vaſt quantities of gold; the other to be raiſed out of no better materials than what could be dug from the ruinous foundation of the old one. But the occaſion of their grief was not only this, that the materials and ornament of the ſecond temple were even as nothing in compariſon with the firſt, (Haggai ii. 3.) but that the ark of the covenant, and the mercy-ſeat, which was upon it, the holy fire upon the

Babylonians, the Suſanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites,

10 And the reſt of the nations whom the great and noble Aſnapper brought over, and ſet in the cities of Samaria, and the reſt that are on this ſide the river, and at ſuch a time.

11 This is the copy of the letter which they ſent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the king: Thy ſervants the men on this ſide the river, and at ſuch a time.;

12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jeruſalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ſet up the walls thereof, and joined the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this city be builded, and the walls ſet up again, then will they not pay toll, tribute, and cuſtom, and ſo thou ſhalt endamage the revenue of the kings.

14 Now becauſe we have maintenance from the king's palace, and it was not meet for us to ſee the king's diſhonour; therefore have we ſent and certified the king,

15 That ſearch may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: ſo ſhalt thou find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved ſedition within the ſame of old time: for which cauſe was this city deſtroyed.

16 We certify the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof ſet up, by this means thou ſhalt have no portion on this ſide the river.

17 Then ſent the king an anſwer unto Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimſhai the ſcribe, and to the reſt of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the reſt beyond the river: Peace, and at ſuch a time.

18 The letter which ye ſent unto us, hath been plainly read before me.

19 And I commanded, and ſearch hath been made, and it is found, that this city of old time hath made inſurrection againſt kings, and that rebellion and ſedition have been made therein.

20 There have been mighty kings alſo over Jeruſalem, which have ruled over all countries beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and cuſtom was paid unto them.

21 Give ye now commandment to cauſe theſe men to ceaſe, and that this city be not builded, until another commandment ſhall be given from me.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why ſhould damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

23 Now when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum and Shimſhai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went up in haſte to Jeruſalem, unto the Jews, and made them to ceaſe by force and power.

24 Then ceaſed the work of the houſe of God, which is at Jeruſalem. So it ceaſed unto the ſecond year of the reign of Darius king of Perſia.

CHAP. V.

Zerubbabel and Jeſhua, incited by the prophets Haggai and Zechariah, ſet forward the building of the temple. The letter ſent to Darius upon this occaſion.

THEN the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the ſon of Iddo, propheſied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jeruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael, even unto them.

2 Then roſe up Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and began to build the houſe of God, which is at Jeruſalem: and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3 At the ſame time came to them Tatnai, governor on this ſide the river, and Shetharboznai, and their companions, and ſaid thus unto them, Who hath commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up this wall?

4 Then ſaid we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, that they could not cauſe them to ceaſe, till the matter came to Darius: and then they returned anſwer by letter concerning this matter.

6 The copy of the letter that Tatnai, governor on this ſide of the river, and Shetharboznai, and his companions the Apharſachites, which were on this ſide the river, ſent unto Darius the king:

7 They ſent a letter unto him, wherein was written thus; Unto Darius the king, all peace.

the altar, the Urim and Thummim, the ſpirit of prophecy, the Shechinah, or Divine Preſence, the five great things for which the former temple was ſo renowned, were loſt and gone, and never to be recovered to this other. This was a juſt matter of lamentation to thoſe who had ſeen theſe ſingular tokens of the divine favour in the former temple, and a diſcouragement of their proceeding with the building of the preſent; and therefore the prophet Haggai was ſent to inform them, that all theſe wants and defects ſhould be abundantly repaired by the coming of the Meſſiah, the true Shechinah of the Divine Majeſty, in the time of the ſecond temple: (ch. ii. 7, 9.) I will ſhake all nations, and the deſire of all nations ſhall come; and I will fill this houſe with glory; the glory of this latter houſe ſhall be greater than of the former, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

8 Be

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judea, to the houſe of the great God, which is builded with great ſtones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth faſt on, and proſpereth in their hands.

9 Then aſked we thoſe elders, and ſaid unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up theſe walls?

10 We aſked their names alſo, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us anſwer, ſaying, We are ſervants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the houſe that was builded theſe many years ago, which a great king of Iſrael builded, and ſet up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon the Chaldean, who deſtroyed this houſe, and carried the people away into Babylon.

13 But in the firſt year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, the ſame king Cyrus made a decree to build this houſe of God.

14 And the veſſels alſo of gold and ſilver of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jeruſalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, thoſe did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one, whoſe name was Sheſhbazzar, whom he had made governor;

15 And ſaid unto him, Take theſe veſſels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jeruſalem, and let the houſe of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the ſame Sheſhbazzar, and laid the foundation of the houſe of God which is in Jeruſalem. And ſince that time even until now hath it been in building, and yet it is not finiſhed.

17 Now therefore, if it ſeem good to the king, let there be ſearch made in the king's treaſure-houſe, which is there at Babylon, whether it be ſo that a decree was made of Cyrus the king, to build this houſe of God at Jeruſalem, and let the king ſend his pleaſure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

At the command of Darius ſearch is made after the edict of Cyrus; which edict Darius confirms. The temple is finiſhed in the ſixth year of Darius; the dedication of which is celebrated by the Jews.

THEN Darius the king made a decree, and ſearch was made in the houſe of the rolls, where the treaſures were laid up in Babylon.

2 And there was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

3 In the firſt year of Cyrus the king, the ſame Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the houſe of God at Jeruſalem; Let the houſe be builded, the place where they offered ſacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be ſtrongly laid; the height thereof threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof threeſcore cubits:

4 With three rows of great ſtones, and a row of new timber: and let the expences be given out of the king's houſe.

5 And alſo let the golden and ſilver veſſels of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jeruſalem, and brought unto Babylon, be reſtored, and brought again into the temple which is at Jeruſalem, every one to his place, and place them in the houſe of God.

6 Now therefore Tatnai, governor beyond the river, Shethar-boznai, and your companions the Apharſachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence:

7 Let the work of this houſe of God alone; let the governor of the Jews, and the elders of the Jews, build this houſe of God in his place.

8 Moreover, I make a decree, what ye ſhall do to the elders of theſe Jews, for the building of this houſe of God: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences be given unto theſe men, that they be not hindered.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt-offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, ſalt, wine, and oil, according to the appointment of the prieſts which are at Jeruſalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer ſacrifices of ſweet ſavours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his ſons.

11 Alſo I have made a decree, that whoſoever ſhall altar this word, let timber be pulled down from his houſe, and being ſet up, let him be hanged thereon; and let his houſe be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath cauſed his name to dwell there, deſtroy all kings and people that ſhall put to their hand, to alter and to deſtroy this houſe of God which is at Jeruſalem. I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with ſpeed.

13 Then Tatnai, governor on this ſide the river, Shethar-boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had ſent, ſo they did ſpeedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they proſpered through the propheſying of Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah, the ſon of Iddo: and they builded, and finiſhed it, according to the commandment of the God of Iſrael, and according to the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Perſia.

15 And this houſe was finiſhed on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the ſixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 And the children of Iſrael, the prieſts and the Levites, and the reſt of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this houſe of God with joy,

17 And offered at the dedication of this houſe of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a ſin-offering for all Iſrael, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Iſrael.

18 And they ſet the prieſts in their diviſions, and the Levites in their courſes, for the ſervice of God, which is at Jeruſalem; as it is written in the book of Moſes.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the paſſover upon the fourteenth day of the firſt month.

20 For the prieſts and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the paſſover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the prieſts, and for themſelves.

21 And the children of Iſrael, which were come again out of captivity, and all ſuch as had ſeparated themſelves unto them from the filthineſs of the heathen of the land, to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, did eat,

22 And kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with joy: for the Lord had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Aſſyria unto them, to ſtrengthen their hands in the work of the houſe of God, the God of Iſrael.

CHAP. VII.

In the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes, Ezra goes to Jeruſalem: the king's edict, permitting Ezra to teach the law of God, and to appoint Judges.

NOW after theſe things, in the reign of Artaxerxes, king of Perſia, Ezra the ſon of Seraiah, the ſon of Azariah, the ſon of Hilkiah,

2 The ſon of Shallum, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Ahitub,

3 The ſon of Amariah, the ſon of Azariah, the ſon of Meraioth,

4 The ſon of Zerahiah, the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Bukki,

5 The ſon of Abiſhua, the ſon of Phinehas, the ſon of Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron the chief prieſt:

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a ready ſcribe in the law of Moſes, which the Lord God of Iſrael had given: and the king granted him all his requeſt, according to the hand of the Lord his God upon him.

7 And there went up ſome of the children of Iſrael, and of the prieſts, and the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jeruſalem, in the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jeruſalem in the fifth month, which was in the ſeventh year of the king.

9 For upon the firſt day of the firſt month began he to go up from Babylon, and on the firſt day of the fifth month came he to Jeruſalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſeek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Iſrael ſtatutes and judgments.

11 Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe, even a ſcribe of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his ſtatutes to Iſrael.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, Unto Ezra the prieſt, a ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at ſuch a time.

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of his prieſts, and Levites, in my realm, which are minded of their own free-will to go up to Jeruſalem, go with thee.

14 Foraſmuch as thou art ſent of the king, and of his ſeven counſellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine hand;

15 And to carry the ſilver and the gold, which the king and his counſellors have freely offered unto the God of Iſrael, whoſe habitation is in Jeruſalem.

16 And all the ſilver and the gold that thou canſt find in all the province of Babylon, with the free-will-offering of the people, and of the prieſts, offering willingly for the houſe of their God, which is in Jeruſalem.

17 That thou mayeſt buy ſpeedily with this money, bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the houſe of your God, which is in Jeruſalem.

18 And whatſoever ſhall ſeem good to thee, and to thy brethren, to do with the reſt of the ſilver and the gold, that do, after the will of your God.

19 The veſſels alſo that are given thee, for the ſervice of the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliver thou before the God of Jeruſalem.

20 And whatſoever more ſhall be needful for the houſe of thy God, which thou ſhalt have occa-occaſion to beſtow, beſtow it out of the king's treaſure-houſe.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treaſures which are beyond the river, that whatſoever Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, ſhall require of you, it be done ſpeedily;

22 Unto an hundred talents of ſilver, and to an hundred meaſures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oil, and ſalt without preſcribing how much.

23 Whatſoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done, for the houſe of the God of heaven: for why ſhould there be wrath againſt the realm of the king and his ſons?

24 Alſo we certify you, that touching any of the prieſts and Levites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, or miniſters of this houſe of God, it ſhall not be lawful to impoſe toll, tribute, or cuſtom upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wiſdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, ſet magiſtrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all ſuch as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whoſoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonment.

27 Bleſſed be the Lord God of our fathers, which hath put ſuch a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the houſe of the Lord which is in Jeruſalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me before the king, and his counſellors, and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was ſtrengthened as the hand of the Lord my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Iſrael chief men to go up with me.

CHAP. VIII.

The families are enumerated which went with Eſdras. He ſends for Levites from Caſiphia, to whom he intruſts the gold and ſilver which was to be brought to Jeruſalem; and arriving there, he offers ſolemn ſacrifices.

THESE are now the chief of their fathers, and this is the genealogy of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king.

2 Of the ſons of Phinehas; Gerſhom: of the ſons of Ithamar; Daniel: of the ſons of David; Hattuſh.

3 Of the ſons of Shechaniah, of the ſons of Pharoſh; Zechariah: and with him were reckoned by genealogy of the males, an hundred and fifty.

4 Of the ſons of Pahath-moab; Elihoenai the ſon of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the ſons of Shechaniah; the ſon of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.

6 Of the ſons alſo of Adin; Ebed the ſon of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.

7 And of the ſons of Elam; Jeſhaiah the ſon of Athaliah, and with him ſeventy males.

8 And of the ſons of Shephatiah; Zebadiah the ſon of Michael, and with him fourſcore males.

9 Of the ſons of Joab; Obadiah the ſon of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the ſons of Shelomith; the ſon of Joſiphiah, and with him an hundred and threeſcore males.

11 And of the ſons of Bebai; Zechariah the ſon of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of the ſons of Azgad; Johanan the ſon of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the laſt ſons of Adonikam, whoſe names are theſe, Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threeſcore males.

14 Of the ſons alſo of Bigvai; Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them ſeventy males.

15 And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Ahava; and there abode we in tents three days: and I viewed the people, and the prieſts, and found there none of the ſons of Levi.

16 Then ſent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meſhullam, chief men; alſo for Joiarib, and for Elnathan, men of underſtanding.

17 And I ſent them with commandment unto Iddo the chief, at the place Caſiphia, and I told them what they ſhould ſay unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Caſiphia; that they ſhould bring unto us miniſters for the houſe of our God.

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of underſtanding, of the ſons of Mahli, the ſon of Levi, the ſon of Iſrael, and Sherebiah, with his ſons and his brethren, eighteen;

19 And Haſhabiah, and with him Jeſhaiah of the ſons of Merari, his brethren, and their ſons, twenty;

20 Alſo of the Nethinims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the ſervice of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expreſſed by name.

21 Then I proclaimed a faſt there, at the river Ahava, that we might afflict ourſelves before our God, to ſeek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſoldiers and horſemen, to help us againſt the enemy in the way; becauſe we had ſpoken unto the king, ſaying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good, that ſeek him, but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted and beſought our God for this: and he was intreated of us.

24 Then I ſeparated twelve of the chief of the prieſts, Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, even the offering of the houſe of our God, which the king, and his counſellors, and his lords, and all Iſrael there preſent, had offered.

26 I even weighed unto their hand ſix hundred and fifty talents of ſilver, and ſilver veſſels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents;

27 Alſo twenty baſons of gold, of a thouſand drachms; and two veſſels of fine copper, precious as gold.

28 And I ſaid unto them, Ye are holy unto the Lord; the veſſels are holy alſo; and the ſilver and the gold are a free-will-offering unto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the prieſts, and the Levites, and the chief of the fathers of Iſrael at Jeruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of the Lord.

30 So took the prieſts and the Levites the weight of the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, to bring them to Jeruſalem unto the houſe of our God.

31 Then we departed from the river of Ahava, on the twelfth day of the firſt month, to go unto Jeruſalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of ſuch as lay in wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jeruſalem, and abode there three days.

33 Now on the fourth day was the ſilver and the gold and the veſſels weighed in the houſe of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the ſon of Uriah the prieſt; and with him was Eleazar the ſon of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabad the ſon of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the ſon of Binnui, Levites:

34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Alſo the children of thoſe that had been carried away which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Iſrael, twelve bullocks for all Iſrael, ninety and ſix rams, ſeventy and ſeven lambs, twelve he-goats for a ſin offering: all this was a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

36 And they delivered the king's commiſſions unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors on this ſide the river: and they furthered the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

The princes relate to Ezra that many of the people, and of the prieſts, had intermarried with the idolatrous nations. Ezra rending his garment, prays earneſtly to God.

NOW when theſe things were done, the princes came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſts, and the Levites, have not ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themſelves, and for their ſons: ſo that the holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this treſpaſs.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and plucked off the hair of my head, and of my beard, and ſat down aſtoniſhed.

4 Then were aſſembled to me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of thoſe that had been carried away; and I ſat aſtoniſhed until the evening ſacrifice.

5 And at the evening ſacrifice I aroſe up from my heavineſs; and having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and ſpread out my hands unto the Lord my God.

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am aſhamed and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increaſed over our head, and our treſpaſs is grown up unto the heavens.

7 Since the days of our fathers have we been in a great treſpaſs unto this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our prieſts, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the ſword, to captivity, and to a ſpoil, and to confuſion of face, as it is this day.

8 And now, for a little ſpace, grace hath been ſhewed from the Lord our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

9 For we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the ſight of the kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving, to ſet up the houſe of our God, and to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem.

10 And now, O our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? for we have forſaken thy commandments, 11 Which thou haſt commanded by thy ſervants the prophets, ſaying, The land unto which ye go to poſſeſs it, is an unclean land with the filthineſs of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their uncleanneſs.

12 Now therefore give not your daughters unto your ſons, neither take their daughters unto your ſons, nor ſeek their peace or their wealth for ever: that ye may be ſtrong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great treſpaſs, ſeeing that thou our God haſt puniſhed us leſs than our iniquities deſerve, and haſt given us ſuch deliverance as this;

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of theſe abominations? wouldeſt not thou be angry with us till thou hadſt conſumed us, ſo that there ſhould be no remnant nor eſcaping?

15 O Lord God of Iſrael, thou art righteous: for we remain yet eſcaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our treſpaſſes: for we cannot ſtand before thee, becauſe of this.

CHAP. X.

Ezra having demanded and received an oath from the chief perſons, commands that thoſe who had married ſtrange wives ſhould put them away. Rulers are choſen, to inquire after thoſe who are guilty. The names of ſuch are enumerated.

NOW when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confeſſed, weeping, and caſting himſelf down before the houſe of God, there aſſembled unto him out of Iſrael a very great congregation of men, and women, and children: for the people wept very ſore.

2 And Shechaniah, the ſon of Jehiel, one of the ſons of Elam, anſwered and ſaid unto Ezra, We have treſpaſſed againſt our God, and have taken ſtrange wives of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Iſrael concerning this thing.

3 Now therefore, let us make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wives, and ſuch as are born of them, according to the counſel of my lord, and of thoſe that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law.

4 Ariſe; for this matter belongeth unto thee: we alſo will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

5 Then aroſe Ezra, and made the chief prieſts, the Levites, and all Iſrael to ſwear, that they ſhould do according to this word: and they ſware.

6 Then Ezra roſe up from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib: and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem, unto all the children of the captivity, that they ſhould gather themſelves together unto Jeruſalem;

8 And that whoſoever would not come within three days, according to the counſel of the princes and the elders, all his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeited, and himſelf ſeparated from the congregation of thoſe that had been carried away.

9 Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themſelves together unto Jeruſalem, within three days. It was the ninth month, and the twentieth day of the month; and all the people ſat in the ſtreet of the houſe of God, trembling becauſe of this matter, and for the great rain.

10 And Ezra the prieſt ſtood up, and ſaid unto them, Ye have tranſgreſſed, and have taken ſtrange wives to increaſe the treſpaſs of Iſrael.

11 Now therefore make confeſſion unto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his pleaſure: and ſeparate yourſelves from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wives.

12 Then all the congregation anſwered, and ſaid with a loud voice, As thou haſt ſaid, ſo muſt we do.

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to ſtand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have tranſgreſſed in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation ſtand, and let all them which have taken ſtrange wives in our cities come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from us.

15 Only Jonathan the ſon of Aſahel, and Jahaziah the ſon of Tikvah, were employed about this this matter: and Meſhullam, and Shabbethai the Levite, helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did ſo. And Ezra the prieſt, with certain chief of the fathers, after the houſe of their fathers, and all of them by their names were ſeparated, and ſat down in the firſt day of the tenth month, to examine the matter.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken ſtrange wives, by the firſt day of the firſt month.

18 And among the ſons of the prieſts, there were found that had taken ſtrange wives: namely, of the ſons of Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaſeiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their hands, that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their treſpaſs.

20 And of the ſons of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the ſons of Harim; Maaſeiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 And of the ſons of Paſhur; Elioenai, Maaſeiah, Iſhmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elaſah.

23 Alſo of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah (the ſame is Kelita,) Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

24 Of the ſingers alſo; Eliaſhib: and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 Moreover, of Iſrael: of the ſons of Paroſh; Ramiah, and Jeziah, and Malchiah, and Miamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the ſons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the ſons of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the ſons alſo of Bebai, Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

29 And of the ſons of Bani, Meſhullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Jaſhub, and Sheal, and Ramoth.

30 And of the ſons of Pahath-moab; Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaſeiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manaſſeh.

31 And of the ſons of Harim; Eliezer, Iſhijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah.

33 Of the ſons of Haſhum; Mattenai, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manaſſeh, and Shimei.

34 Of the ſons of Bani; Maadai, Amram, and Uel,

35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Chelluh,

36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliaſhib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaaſau,

38 And Bani, and Binnui, Shimei,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Shaſhai, Sharai,

41 Azareel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah,

42 Shallum, Amariah, and Joſeph.

43 Of the ſons of Nebo; Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadua, and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wives: and ſome of them had wives by whom they had children.

The BOOK of NEHEMIAH.

CHAP. I.

Nehemiah, hearing that the walls of Jeruſalem were broken down, and the gates burned, mourns with faſting and prayer.

THE words of Nehemiah the ſon of Hachaliah. And it came to paſs in the month Chiſleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shuſhan the palace,

2 That Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah; and I aſked them concerning the Jews that had eſcaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jeruſalem.

3 And they ſaid unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province, are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jeruſalem alſo is broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.

4 And it came to paſs when I heard theſe words, that I ſat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

NEHEMIAH] See the introductory note to the book of Ezra. Nehemiah, who it is plain from this book was a perſon of conſiderable eminence in the court of Perſia, here takes up the hiſtory of the Jews, from the period wherein Ezra had diſcontinued it, and carries it down from the twentieth year of Artaxerxes, A. M. 3550 to the year 3580, which is ſuppoſed to be the year of his own death, and was in the reign of Darius Nothus.

5 And

5 And ſaid, I beſeech thee, O Lord God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and obſerve his commandments:

6 Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayeſt hear the prayer of thy ſervant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſervants, and confeſs the ſins of the children of Iſrael, which we have ſinned againſt thee: both I and my father's houſe have ſinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly againſt thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the ſtatutes, nor the judgments, which thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes.

8 Remember, I beſeech thee, the word that thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes, ſaying, If ye tranſgreſs, I will ſcatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; though there were of you caſt out unto the uttermoſt part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have choſen to ſet my name there.

10 Now theſe are thy ſervants, and thy people, whom thou haſt redeemed by thy great power, and by thy ſtrong hand.

11 O Lord, I beſeech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to the prayer of thy ſervants, who deſire to fear thy name: and proſper, I pray thee, thy ſervant this day, and grant him mercy in the ſight of this man. For I was the king's cup-bearer.

CHAP. II.

Artaxerxes underſtanding the cauſe of Nehemiah's ſadneſs, ſendeth him with letters and commiſſions to Jeruſalem.

AND it came to paſs in the month Niſan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been before-time ſad in his preſence.

2 Wherefore the king ſaid unto me, Why is thy countenance ſad, ſeeing thou art not ſick? this is nothing elſe but ſorrow of heart. Then I was very ſore afraid,

3 And ſaid unto the king, Let the king live for ever: Why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, when the city, the place of my fathers' ſepulchres, lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire (y)?

4 Then the king ſaid unto me, For what doſt thou make requeſt? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I ſaid to the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſervant have found favour in thy ſight, that thou wouldeſt ſend me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' ſepulchres, that I may built it.

6 And the king ſaid unto me, (the queen alſo ſitting by him) For how long ſhall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleaſed the king to ſend me, and I ſet him a time.

7 Moreover, I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Aſaph the keeper of the king's foreſt, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the houſe, and for the wall of the city, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 Then I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. (Now the king had ſent captains of the army, and horſemen with me.)

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to ſeek the welfare of the children of Iſrael.

11 So I came to Jeruſalem, and was there three days.

12 And I aroſe in the night, I and ſome few men with me; neither told I any man what my God had put into my heart to do at Jeruſalem: neither was there any beaſt with me, ſave the beaſt that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon-well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jeru-

(y) Why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, &c.] There is a piety due to one's own country, which cannot be extinguiſhed by the pleaſure or plenty of any other. It is no weakneſs to be deeply affected with the misfortunes, or for the death of our neareſt friends and relations, at what diſtance ſoever we are from them; nor can any proſperity in another country hinder or excuſe a man for not being ſo much afflicted for any calamity that befals his own, as never to entertain mirth and jollity in his heart. Nehemiah was in no mean ſtation, when he was cup-bearer to Artaxerxes; and, we may very reaſonably believe, by the grace and bounty that he ſhewed towards him, that he might have had any honour or preferment he would have demanded in that great and flouriſhing empire; yet, when that great king diſcerned that there was ſorrow of heart in his countenance, (which had ſomewhat of crime in it in that preſence) and demanded the reaſon of it, he made no other excuſe but, The place of my father's ſepulchres lieth waſte: and when the king ſo graciouſly invited him to aſk ſome favour worthy of his royal bounty, he would require nothing elſe but, Send me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' ſepulchres, that I may build it." A generous ſpirit can think of nothing but relieving his country, whilſt it is under a general miſery and calamity. Lord Clarendon.

ſalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were conſumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the beaſt that was under me to paſs.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the gate of the valley, and ſo returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did; neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the prieſts, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that did the work.

17 Then ſaid I unto them, Ye ſee the diſtreſs that we are in, how Jeruſalem lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burned with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Jeruſalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as alſo the king's words that he had ſpoken unto me. And they ſaid, Let us riſe up and build. So they ſtrengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant the Ammonite, and Geſhem the Arabian heard it, they laughed us to ſcorn, and deſpiſed us, and ſaid, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel againſt the king?

20 Then anſwered I them, and ſaid unto them, The God of heaven, he will proſper us; therefore we his ſervants will ariſe and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial in Jeruſalem.

CHAP. III.

The names of thoſe who rebuilt the walls of Jeruſalem, and an account of the particular parts aſſigned to each perſon.

THEN Eliaſhib the high prieſt roſe up with his brethren the prieſts, and they builded the ſheep-gate; they ſanctified it, and ſet up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Meah they ſanctified it, unto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next unto him builded the men of Jericho. And next to them builded Zaccur the ſon of Imri.

3 But the fiſh-gate did the ſons of Haſſenaah build, who alſo laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

11 Malchijah the ſon of Harim, and Haſhub the ſon of Pahath-moab, repaired the other piece, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum, the ſon of Haloheſh, the ruler of the half part of Jeruſalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley-gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thouſand cubits on the wall unto the dung-gate.

14 But the dung-gate repaired Malchiah the ſon of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-haccerem; he built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallum the ſon of Col-hozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the king's garden, and unto the ſtairs that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the ſon of Azbuk, the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over againſt the ſepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, and unto the houſe of the mighty.

17 And after him repaired the Levites, Rehum the ſon of Bani. Next unto him repaired Haſhabiah the ruler of the half part of Keilah, in his part.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Bavai the ſon of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the ſon of Jeſhua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over againſt againſt the going-up to the armoury, at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the ſon of Zabbai earneſtly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib the high prieſt.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the ſon of Urijah, the ſon of Koz, another piece, from the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib, even to the end of the houſe of Eliaſhib.

22 And after him repaired the prieſts, the men of the plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin, and Haſhub, over againſt their houſe. After him repaired Azariah the ſon of Maaſeiah, the ſon of Ananiah, by his houſe.

24 After him repaired Binnui the ſon of Henadad another piece, from the houſe of Azariah, unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the ſon of Uzai, over againſt the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the king's high houſe, that was by the court of the priſon. After him, Pedaiah the ſon of Paroſh.

26 Moreover, the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel, unto the place over againſt the water-gate toward the eaſt, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another piece, over againſt the great tower that lieth out, even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the horſe-gate repaired the prieſts, every one over againſt his houſe.

29 After them repaired Zadok the ſon of Immer, over againſt his houſe. After him repaired alſo Shemaiah, the ſon of Shecaniah, the keeper of the eaſt-gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the ſon of Shelemiah, and Hanun the ſixth ſon of Zalaph, another piece. After him repaired Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah over againſt his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchiah the goldſmith's ſon, unto the place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants over againſt the gate of Miphkad, and to the going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the ſheep-gate, repaired the goldſmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IV.

Half of the walls of Jeruſalem are finiſhed: Sanballat and Tobiah conſpire together to hinder it: Nehemiah ſets a watch near the wall.

BUT it came to paſs, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he ſpake before his brethren, and the army of Samaria, and ſaid, What do theſe feeble Jews? will they fortify themſelves? will they ſacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the ſtones out of the heaps of the rubbiſh, which are burned?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he ſaid, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he ſhall even break down their ſtone wall.

4 Hear, O our God; for we are deſpiſed: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity:

5 And cover not their iniquity, and let not their ſin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 But it came to paſs that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Aſhdodites, heard that the walls of Jeruſalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be ſtopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conſpired all of them together, to come and to fight againſt Jeruſalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheleſs, we made our prayer unto our God, and ſet a watch againſt them day and night, becauſe of them.

10 And Judah ſaid, The ſtrength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbiſh; ſo that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adverſaries ſaid, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come in the midſt among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the work to ceaſe.

12 And it came to paſs that when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they ſaid unto us ten times, From all places whence ye ſhall return unto us, they will be upon you.

13 Therefore ſet I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even ſet the people after their families with their ſwords, their ſpears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and roſe up, and ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: remember the Lord which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your ſons and your daughters, your wives and your houſes.

15 And it came to paſs when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counſel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to paſs from that time forth, that the half of my ſervants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the ſpears, the ſhields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behind all the houſe of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with thoſe that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his ſword girded by his ſide, and ſo builded. And he that ſounded the trumpet was by me.

19 And I ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, The work is great and large, and we are ſeparated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the ſound of the trumpet, reſort ye thither unto us: our God ſhall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the ſpears, from the riſing of the morning, till the ſtars appeared.

22 Likewiſe at the ſame time ſaid I unto the people, Let every one with his ſervant lodge within Jeruſalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my ſervants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our cloaths, ſaving that every one put them off for waſhing.

CHAP. V.

Nehemiah having heard the complaints of the poor againſt the rich, calls an aſſembly, upbraids the rich, and perſuades them to aſſiſt their brethren, and releaſe them from their debts. An account of Nehemiah's generoſity and hoſpitality.

AND there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives, againſt their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that ſaid, We, our ſons, and our daughters, are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some alſo there were that ſaid, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houſes, that we might buy corn, becauſe of the dearth.

4 There were alſo that ſaid, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, our children as their children: and lo, we bring into bondage our ſons and our daughters to be ſervants, and ſome of our daughters are brought into bondage already: neither is it in our power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 And I was very angry when I heard their cry, and theſe words.

7 Then I conſulted with myſelf, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and ſaid unto them, Ye exact uſury, every one of his brother. And I ſet a great aſſembly againſt them.

8 And I ſaid unto them, We, after our ability, have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were ſold unto the heathen; and will ye even ſell your brethren? or ſhall they be ſold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to anſwer.

9 Alſo I ſaid, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, becauſe of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewiſe, and my brethren, and my ſervants, might exact of them money, and corn: I pray you, let us leave off this uſury.

11 Reſtore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houſes, alſo the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them.

12 Then ſaid they, We will reſtore them, and will require nothing of them; ſo will we do as thou ſayeſt. Then I called the prieſts, and took an oath of them, that they ſhould do according to this promiſe.

13 Alſo I ſhook my lap, and ſaid, So God ſhake out every man from his houſe, and from his labour, that performeth not this promiſe, even thus be he ſhaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation ſaid, Amen, and praiſed the Lord. And the people did according to this promiſe.

14 Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year, even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor.

15 But the former governors that had been before me, were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſide forty ſhekels of ſilver; yea, even their ſervants bare rule over the people: but ſo did not I, becauſe of the fear of God.

16 Yea, alſo I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my ſervants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, beſide thoſe that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily, was one ox, and ſix choice ſheep; alſo fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days, ſtore of all ſorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governor, becauſe the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 Think

19 Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

Nehemiah rejects the congreſs offered by Sanballat, and deſpiſes his threatening letters. He regards not the falſe prophets. The wall is finiſhed in fifty-two days.

NOW it came to paſs when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geſhem the Arabian, and the reſt of our enemies heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though at that time I had not ſet up the doors upon the gates;)

2 That Sanballat and Geſhem ſent unto me, ſaying, Come, let us meet together in ſome one of the villages in the plain of Ono: but they thought to do me miſchief.

3 And I ſent meſſengers unto them, ſaying, I am doing a great work, ſo that I cannot come down: why ſhould the work ceaſe, whilſt I leave it, and come down to you?

4 Yet they ſent unto me four times after this ſort; and I anſwered them after the ſame manner.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſervant unto me in like manner the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand;

6 Wherein was written; It is reported among the heathen, and Gaſhmu ſaith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cauſe thou buildeſt the wall, that thou mayeſt be their king, according to theſe words.

7 And thou haſt alſo appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jeruſalem, ſaying, There is a king in Judah: and now ſhall it be reported to the king, according to theſe words. Come now therefore, and let us take counſel together.

8 Then I ſent unto him, ſaying, There are no ſuch things done as thou ſayeſt, but thou feigneſt them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, ſaying, Their hands ſhall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, ſtrengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah the ſon of Dalaiah, the ſon of Mehetabeel, who was ſhut up; and he ſaid, Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, and let us ſhut the doors of the temple: for they will come to ſlay thee; yea, in the night will they come to ſlay thee.

11 And I ſaid, Should ſuch a man as I flee? and who is there that being as I am, would go into the temple to ſave his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceived that God had not ſent him; but that he pronounced this prophecy againſt me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat, according to theſe their works, and on the propheteſs Noadiah, and the reſt of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 So the wall was finiſhed, in the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.

16 And it came to paſs that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us ſaw theſe things, they were much caſt down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 Moreover, in thoſe days the nobles of Judah ſent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah ſworn unto him, becauſe he was the ſon-in-law of Shecaniah the ſon of Arah; and his ſon Johanan had taken the daughter of Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah.

19 Alſo they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my words to him. And Tobiah ſent letters to put me in fear.

CHAP. VII.

Nehemiah places guards at the gates of the city, and within the city. A regiſter of thoſe who came firſt out of Babylon.

NOW it came to paſs when the wall was built, and I had ſet up the doors; and the porters and the ſingers and the Levites were appointed,

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jeruſalem: (for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many:)

3 And I ſaid unto them, Let not the gates of Jeruſalem be opened, until the ſun be hot; and while they ſtand by, let them ſhut the doors, and bar them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be over againſt his houſe.

4 Now the city was large and great: but the people were few therein, and the houſes were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. And I found a regiſter of the genealogy of them which came up at the firſt, and found written therein,

6 Theſe are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of thoſe that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jeruſalem and to Judah, every one unto his city;

7 Who came with Zerubbabel, Jeſhua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilſhan, Miſpereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The number, I ſay, of the men of the people of Iſrael, was this;

30 The men of Ramah and Gaba, ſix hundred twenty and one.

31 The men of Michmas, an hundred and twenty and two.

32 The men of Beth-el and Ai, an hundred twenty and three.

33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty and two.

34 The children of the other Elam, a thouſand two hundred fifty and four.

35 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The children of Jericho, three hundred forty and five.

37 The children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, ſeven hundred twenty and one.

38 The children of Senaah, three thouſand nine hundred and thirty.

39 The prieſts: the children of Jedaiah, of the houſe of Jeſhua, nine hundred ſeventy and three.

40 The children of Immer, a thouſand fifty and two.

41 The children of Paſhur, a thouſand two hundred forty and ſeven.

42 The children of Harim, a thouſand and ſeventeen.

43 The Levites: the children of Jeſhua, of Kadmiel, and of the children of Hodevah, ſeventy and four.

44 The ſingers: the children of Aſaph, a hundred forty and eight.

46 The Nethinims: the children of Ziha, the children of Haſhupha, the children of Tabbaoth,

50 The children of Reaiah, the children of Rezin, the children of Nekoda,

57 The children of Solomon's ſervants: the children of Sotai, the children of Sophereth, the children of Perida,

58 The children of Jaala, the children of Darkon, the children of Giddel,

59 The children of Shephatiah, the children of Hattil, the children of Pochereth of Zebaim, the children of Amon.

60 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's ſervants, were three hundred ninety and two.

61 And theſe were they which went up alſo from Tel-melah, Tel-hareſha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not ſhew their fathers' houſe, nor their ſeed, whether they were of Iſrael.

62 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, ſix hundred forty and two.

63 And of the prieſts: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, which took one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

64 Theſe ſought their regiſter among thoſe that were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the prieſthood.

65 And the Tirſhatha ſaid unto them, that they ſhould not eat of the moſt holy things, till there ſtood up a prieſt with Urim and Thummim.

66 The whole congregation together was forty and two thouſand three hundred and threeſcore,

67 Beſide their men-ſervants, and their maid-ſervants, of whom there were ſeven thouſand three hundred thirty and ſeven: and they had two hundred forty and five ſinging-men and ſinging-women.

68 Their horſes, ſeven hundred thirty and ſix: their mules, two hundred forty and five:

69 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five: ſix thouſand ſeven hundred and twenty aſſes.

70 And ſome of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work: the Tirſhatha gave to the treaſure, a thouſand drachms of gold, fifty baſons, five hundred and thirty prieſts garments.

71 And ſome of the chief of the fathers gave to the treaſure of the work, twenty thouſand drachms of gold, and two thouſand and two hundred pounds of ſilver.

72 And that which the reſt of the people gave, was twenty thouſand drachms of gold, and two thouſand pounds of ſilver, and threeſcore and ſeven prieſts garments.

73 So the prieſts, and the Levites, and the porters, and the ſingers, and ſome of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Iſrael, dwelt in their cities; and when the ſeventh month came, the children of Iſrael were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

The religious manner of reading and hearing the law. The feaſt of tabernacles is celebrated.

AND all the people gathered themſelves together as one man, into the ſtreet that was before the water-gate; and they ſpake unto Ezra the ſcribe, to bring the book of the law of Moſes, which the Lord had commanded to Iſrael.

2 And Ezra the prieſt brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could hear with underſtanding, upon the firſt day of the ſeventh month (z).

3 And he read therein before the ſtreet that was before the water-gate, from the morning until mid-day, before the men and the women, and thoſe that could underſtand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

4 And Ezra the ſcribe ſtood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpoſe; and beſide him ſtood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaſeiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Miſhael, and Malchiah, and Haſhum, and Haſhbadana, Zechariah, and Meſhullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the ſight of all the people (for he was above all the people); and when he opened it, all the people ſtood up:

6 And Ezra bleſſed the Lord the great God: and all the people anſwered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worſhipped the Lord, with their faces to the ground.

7 Alſo Jeſhua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, cauſed the people to underſtand the law: and the people ſtood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the law of God diſtinctly, and gave the ſenſe, and cauſed them to underſtand the reading.

9 And Nehemiah, who is the Tirſhatha, and Ezra the prieſt the ſcribe, and the Levites that taught the people, ſaid unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God; mourn not, nor weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.

(z) This Ezra, without all controverſy, was the ſame who came from Babylon in the ſeventh of Artaxerxes. After the death of Zerubbabel the whole adminiſtration devolved upon him; but as his commiſſion laſted but twelve years, upon its expiration, Nehemiah ſucceeded to the government, and we hear no more of Ezra, until he is here called upon to read and expound the law to the people; whether, as ſome think, he returned to Babylon, to give the people an account of the affairs of the province of Judea, or whether in this intermediate time he employed himſelf in ſome retirement upon the great work of preparing a new and correct edition of the Holy Scriptures, which we are gene-

10 Then he ſaid unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the ſweet, and ſend portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye ſorry; for the joy of the Lord is your ſtrength. V.

11 So the Levites ſtilled all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way, to eat, and to drink, and to ſend portions, and to make great mirth, becauſe they had underſtood the words that were declared unto them.

13 And on the ſecond day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the prieſts and the Levites, unto Ezra the ſcribe, even to underſtand the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law which the Lord had commanded by Moſes, that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in booths, in the feaſt of the ſeventh month:

15 And that they ſhould publiſh and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jeruſalem, ſaying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive-branches, and pine-branches, and myrtle-branches, and palm-branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themſelves booths, every one upon the roof of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet of the water-gate, and in the ſtreet of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and ſat under the booths: for ſince the days of Joſhua the ſon of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo. And there was very great gladneſs.

18 Alſo day by day, from the firſt day unto the laſt day, he read in the book of the law of God. And they kept the feaſt ſeven days; and on the eighth day was a ſolemn aſſembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

A ſolemn faſt and repentance of the people. The Levites confeſs God's goodneſs and their iniquity.

NOW in the twenty and fourth day of this month, the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with faſting, and with ſackcloths, and earth upon them.

2 And the ſeed of Iſrael ſeparated themſelves from all ſtrangers, and ſtood and confeſſed their ſins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they ſtood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the Lord their God, one fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confeſſed, and worſhipped the Lord their God.

4 Then ſtood up upon the ſtairs of the Levites, Jeſhua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeſhua and Kadmiel, Bani, Haſhabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, ſaid, Stand up and bleſs the Lord your God for ever and ever: and bleſſed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all bleſſing and praiſe.

6 Thou, even thou art Lord alone; thou haſt made heaven, the heaven of heavens with all their hoſt, the earth, and all things that are therein, the ſeas, and all that is therein, and thou preſerveſt them all; and the hoſt of heaven worſhippeth thee.

7 Thou art the Lord the God, who didſt chooſe Abram, and broughteſt him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gaveſt him the name of Abraham:

8 And foundeſt his heart faithful before thee, and madeſt a covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebuſites, and the Girgaſhites, to give it, I ſay, to his ſeed, and haſt performed thy words; for thou art righteous:

9 And didſt ſee the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardeſt their cry by the Red ſea:

10 And ſhewedſt ſigns and wonders upon Pharaoh, and all his ſervants, and on all the people of his land: for thou kneweſt that they dealt proudly againſt them. So didſt thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didſt divide the ſea before them, ſo that they went through the midſt of the ſea on the dry land; and their perſecutors thou threweſt into the deeps, as a ſtone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover, thou leddeſt them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they ſhould go.

13 Thou cameſt down alſo upon mount Sinai, and ſpakeſt with them from heaven, and generally ſuppoſed to owe to his care. The pulpit upon which he was raiſed, ver. 4. muſt have been large, ſufficient to contain fourteen people at once, and from hence they read and explained the law, ver. 8. For the people, having for ſome time been accuſtomed to the Chaldee language, had partly loſt the knowledge of the Hebrew; ſo that there was a neceſſity of having the law explained to them in the Chaldee tongue. And this was the original of the inſtitution of the Targums or Chaldee paraphraſes, as it is alſo ſuppoſed to have been of the ſynagogue worſhip. See Univ. Hiſt. vol. x. b. 2. p. 220.

gaveſt them right judgments, and true laws, good ſtatutes, and commandments:

14 And madeſt known unto them thy holy ſabbath, and commandedſt them precepts, ſtatutes, and laws, by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant:

15 And gaveſt them bread from heaven, for their hunger, and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rock for their thirſt, and promiſedſt them that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs the land which thou hadſt ſworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments,

17 And refuſed to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didſt among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſs, and forſookeſt them not.

18 Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and ſaid, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations;

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies forſookeſt them not in the wilderneſs: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to ſhew them light, and the way wherein they ſhould go.

20 Thou gaveſt alſo thy good ſpirit to inſtruct them, and with-heldeſt not thy manna from their mouth, and gaveſt them water for their thirſt (a).

21 Yea, forty years didſt thou ſuſtain them in the wilderneſs, ſo that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet ſwelled not.

22 Moreover, thou gaveſt them kingdoms and nations, and didſt divide them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heſhbon, and the land of Og, king of Baſhan.

23 Their children alſo multipliedſt thou as the ſtars of heaven, and broughteſt them into the land, concerning which thou hadſt promiſed to their fathers, that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs it.

24 So the children went in and poſſeſſed the land, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gaveſt them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as they would.

25 And they took ſtrong cities, and a fat land, and poſſeſſed houſes full of all goods, wells digged, vineyards and olive-yards, and fruit-trees in abundance: ſo they did eat and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themſelves in thy great goodneſs.

26 Nevertheleſs, they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy law behind their backs, and ſlew thy prophets who teſtified againſt them to turn them to thee; and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredſt them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble when they cried unto thee, thou heardeſt them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies, thou gaveſt them ſaviours, who ſaved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had reſt, they did evil again before thee: therefore lefteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou heardeſt them from heaven; and many times didſt thou deliver them, according to thy mercies:

29 And teſtifiedſt againſt them, that thou mighteſt bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but ſinned againſt thy judgments (which if a man do, he ſhall live in them) and withdrew the ſhoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didſt thou forbear them, and teſtifiedſt againſt them by thy ſpirit in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gaveſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheleſs, for thy great mercies ſake, thou didſt not utterly conſume them, nor forſake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeſt covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble ſeem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our prieſts, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, ſince the time of the kings of Aſſyria unto this day.

33 Howbeit, thou art juſt in all that is brought upon us; for thou haſt done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our prieſts, nor our fathers kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments and thy teſtimonies, wherewith thou didſt teſtify againſt them.

35 For they have not ſerved thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodneſs that thou gaveſt them, and in the large and fat land which thou gaveſt before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, we are ſervants this day, and for the land that thou gaveſt unto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are ſervants in it.

37 And it yieldeth much increaſe unto the kings whom thou haſt ſet over us becauſe of our ſins: alſo they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleaſure, and we are in great diſtreſs.

38 And becauſe of all this, we make a ſure covenant, and write it; and our princes, Levites, and prieſts, ſeal unto it.

CHAP. X.

28 And the reſt of the people, the prieſts, the Levites, the porters, the ſingers, the Nethinims, and all they that had ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands unto the law of God, their wives, their ſons, and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having underſtanding;

29 They clave to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curſe, and into an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given by Moſes the ſervant of God, and to obſerve and do all the commandments of the Lord our Lord, and his judgments and his ſtatutes:

30 And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our ſons:

31 And if the people of the land bring ware, or any victuals on the ſabbath-day, to ſell, that we would not buy it of them on the ſabbath, or on the holy-day: and that we would leave the ſeventh year, and the exaction of every debt.

32 Alſo we made ordinances for us, to charge ourſelves yearly with the third part of a ſhekel, for the ſervice of the houſe of our God;

33 For the ſhew-bread, and for the continual meat-offering, and for the continual burnt-offering, of the ſabbaths, of the new moons, for the ſet feaſts, and for the holy things, and for the ſin-offerings, to make an atonement for Iſrael, and for all the work of the houſe of our God.

34 And we caſt the lots among the prieſts, the Levites, and the people, for the wood-offering, to bring it into the houſe of our God, them carries the title of "a pſalm or prayer of Moſes." And theſe titles were not given at random, nor would any one in the ancient Jewiſh church dare to aſcribe a pſalm to Moſes, that was not, by a long and unconteſted tradition proved to belong to him. Probably this very paſſage, which I ſuppoſe to refer to it, may be much older than the time of Nehemiah: for as the confeſſions of this ſort were an uſual part of their divine worſhip, at leaſt in times of ſolemn humiliation, it is probable the greateſt part of this confeſſion before us might have been delivered down to them from ancient times, and only enlarged, with proper additions, upon this occaſion; and if ſo, the preſent clauſe, for any thing that we know, may be nearly as old as Moſes himſelf, and can refer to nothing ſo likely as to theſe pſalms. See Amos v. 25, &c. and Peters on Job, p. 312.

after the houſes of our fathers, at times appointed year by year, to burn upon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the law:

35 And to bring the firſt-fruits of our ground, and the firſt-fruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, unto the houſe of the Lord:

36 Alſo the firſt-born of our ſons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firſtlings of our herds, and of our flocks, to bring to the houſe of our God, unto the prieſts, that miniſter in the houſe of our God:

37 And that we ſhould bring the firſt-fruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine, and of oil, unto the prieſts, to the chambers of the houſe of our God; and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites, that the ſame Levites might have the tithes, in all the cities of our tillage.

38 And the prieſt, the ſon of Aaron, ſhall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites ſhall bring up the tithe of the tithes unto the houſe of our God, to the chambers, into the treaſure-houſe.

39 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Levi, ſhall bring the offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oil, unto the chambers, where are the veſſels of the ſanctuary, and the prieſts that miniſter, and the porters, and the ſingers: and we will not forſake the houſe of our God.

CHAP. XI.

Lots are caſt, that a tenth part of the people may dwell at Jeruſalem, and the other nine parts in the other cities and villages. The families are enumerated which dwelt in Judah and Benjamin.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt at Jeruſalem: the reſt of the people alſo caſt lots, to bring one of ten, to dwell in Jeruſalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.

2 And the people bleſſed all the men, that willingly offered themſelves to dwell at Jeruſalem.

3 Now theſe are the chief of the province that dwelt in Jeruſalem: but in the cities of Judah dwelt every one in his poſſeſſion in their cities, to wit, Iſrael, the prieſts, and the Levites, and the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's ſervants.

4 And at Jeruſalem dwelt certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin. Of the children of Judah; Athaiah the ſon of Uzziah, the ſon of Zechariah, the ſon of Amariah, the ſon of Shephatiah, the ſon of Mahalaleel, of the children of Perez; 18 All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred fourſcore and four.

19 Moreover, the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren, that kept the gates, were an hundred ſeventy and two.

20 And the reſidue of Iſrael, of the prieſts and the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, every one in his inheritance.

21 But the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel: and Ziha and Giſpa were over the Nethinims.

22 The overſeer alſo of the Levites at Jeruſalem was Uzzi the ſon of Bani, the ſon of Haſhabiah, the ſon of Mattaniah, the ſon of Micha. Of the ſons of Aſaph, the ſingers were over the buſineſs of the houſe of God.

23 For it was the king's commandment concerning cerning them, that a certain portion ſhould be for the ſingers, due for every day.

24 And Pethahiah the ſon of Meſhezabeel, of the children of Zerah, the ſon of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people.

CHAP. XII.

An account of the prieſts and Levites who came up with Zerubbabel. The chief prieſts from Jeſhua to Jedaiah. The Levites from Jeſhua to Ezra. The dedication of the walls.

NOW theſe are the prieſts and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattuſh,

3 Shechaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abijah,

8 Moreover, the Levites: Jeſhua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, which was over the thankſgiving, he and his brethren.

9 Alſo Bakbukiah, and Unni, their brethren, were over againſt them in the watches.

10 And Jeſhua begat Joiakim, Joiakim alſo begat Eliaſhib, and Eliaſhib begat Joiada, 11 And Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jaddua.

12 And in the days of Joiakim, were prieſts, the chief of the fathers: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;

13 Of Ezra, Meſhullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;

14 Of Melicu, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joſeph;

15 Of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai;

16 Of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meſhullam;

17 Of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, Moadiah, Piltai;

18 Of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

19 And of Joiarib, Mattanai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;

20 Of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;

21 Of Hilkiah, Haſhabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 The Levites in the days of Eliaſhib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: alſo the prieſts, to the reign of Darius the Perſian.

23 The ſons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib.

24 And the chief of the Levites: Haſhabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeſhua the ſon of Kadmiel, with their brethren over againſt them, to praiſe, and to give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward over againſt ward.

25 Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meſhullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the threſholds of the gates.

26 Theſe were in the days of Joiakim the ſon of Jeſhua, the ſon of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem, they ſought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jeruſalem, to keep the dedication with gladneſs, both with thankſgivings, and with ſinging, with cymbals, pſalteries, and with harps.

28 And the ſons of the ſingers gathered themſelves together, both out of the plain country round about Jeruſalem, and from the villages of Netophathi;

29 Alſo from the houſe of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Gibeah, and Azmaveth: for the ſingers had builded them villages round about Jeruſalem.

30 And the prieſts and the Levites purified themſelves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung-gate:

32 And after them went Hoſhaiah, and half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meſhullam,

34 Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And certain of the prieſts ſons with trumpets; namely, Zechariah the ſon of Jonathan, the ſon of Shemaiah, the ſon of Mattaniah, the ſon of Michaiah, the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Aſaph:

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the muſical inſtruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the ſcribe before them.

37 At the fountain-gate, which was over againſt them, they went up by the ſtairs of the city of David, at the going-up of the wall, above the houſe of David, even unto the water-gate eaſt-ward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over againſt them, and I after them; and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall;

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fiſh-gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the ſheep-gate; and they ſtood ſtill in the priſon-gate.

40 So ſtood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the houſe of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me;

41 And the prieſts; Eliakim, Maaſeiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets:

42 And Maaſeiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the ſingers ſang loud, with Jezrahiah their overſeer.

43 Alſo that day they offered great ſacrifices, and rejoiced: for God had made them rejoice with great joy: the wives alſo and the children rejoiced: ſo that the joy of Jeruſalem as heard even afar off.

44 And at that time were ſome appointed over the chambers for the treaſures, for the offerings, for the firſt-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the law for the prieſts and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the prieſts and for the Levites that waited.

45 And both the ſingers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his ſon.

46 For in the days of David and Aſaph, of old, there were chief of the ſingers, and ſongs of praiſe and thankſgivings unto God.

47 And all Iſrael in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the ſingers, and the porters, every day his portion: and they ſanctified holy things unto the Levites; and the Levites ſanctified them unto the children of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

Upon the reading of the law, ſeparation is made from the mixed multitude. Tobiah is caſt out of his chamber in the houſe of God. Strange wives are put away.

ON that day they read in the book of Moſes in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that the Ammonite and the Moabite ſhould not come into the congregation of God for ever (b);

2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſrael with bread and with water, but hired Balaam againſt them, that he ſhould curſe them: Howbeit, our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing.

3 Now it came to paſs when they had heard the law, that they ſeparated from Iſrael all the mixed multitude.

4 And before this, Eliaſhib the prieſt, having the overſight of the chambers of the houſe of our God, was allied unto Tobiah:

5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meat-offerings, the frankincenſe, and the veſſels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oil, (which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the prieſts.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jeruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I unto the king, and after certain days obtained I leave of the king:

(b) The phraſe of not entering into the congregation of the Lord, in this verſe, does not ſignify an ejection from the publick aſſemblies for divine worſhip, but muſt be underſtood to mean no more than a prohibition of marriage; for this, according to the Rabbis, was the caſe of ſuch prohibitions. None of the houſe of Iſrael of either ſex were to enter into marriage with any Gentile of what nation ſoever, unleſs they were firſt converted to their religion, and even in that caſe ſome were debarred from it for ever; others only in part; and others again only for a limited time. Of the firſt ſort were all of the ſeven nations of the Canaanites. Of the ſecond ſort were the Moabites and the Ammonites, whoſe males were now excluded for ever, but not their females; and of the third ſort were the Edomites and Egyptians, with whom the Jews might not marry till the third generation. But with all others who were not of theſe three excepted ſorts, they might freely make intermarriages, when ever they became thorough proſelytes to their religion. At preſent, however, becauſe, through the confuſions which have ſince happened in all nations, it is not to be known who is an Ammonite, an Edomite, a Moabite, or an Egyptian, they hold this prohibition to have been long out of date, and that now any Gentile, as ſoon as proſelyted to their religion, may immediately be admitted to make intermarriages with them. See Prid. Conn. An. 428.

7 And I came to Jeruſalem, and underſtood of the evil that Eliaſhib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the houſe of God (c).

8 And it grieved me ſore: therefore I caſt forth all the houſhold-ſtuff of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 Then I commanded, and they cleanſed the chambers: and thither brought I again the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meat-offering and the frankincenſe.

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the ſingers that did the work, were fled every one to his field.

11 Then contended I with the rulers, and ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I gathered them together, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn, and the new wine, and the oil, unto the treaſuries.

13 And I made treaſurers over the treaſuries, Shelemiah the prieſt, and Zadok the ſcribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and next to them was Hanan the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to diſtribute unto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the houſe of my God, and for the offices thereof.

15 In thoſe days ſaw I in Judah ſome treading wine-preſſes on the ſabbath, and bringing in ſheaves, and lading aſſes; as alſo wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jeruſalem on the ſabbath-day: and I teſtified againſt them in the day wherein they ſold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, who brought fiſh, and all manner of ware, and ſold on the ſabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jeruſalem.

17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and ſaid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the ſabbath-day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Iſrael by profaning the ſabbath.

19 And it came to paſs, that when the gates of Jeruſalem began to be dark before the ſabbath, I commanded that the gates ſhould be ſhut, and charged that they ſhould not be opened till after the ſabbath: and ſome of my ſervants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhould no burden be brought in on the ſabbath-day.

20 So the merchants, and ſellers of all kind of ware lodged without Jeruſalem once or twice.

21 Then I teſtified againſt them, and ſaid unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? if ye do ſo again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the ſabbath.

22 And I commanded the Levites, that they ſhould cleanſe themſelves, and that they ſhould come and keep the gates, to ſanctify the ſabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this alſo, and ſpare me according to the greatneſs of thy mercy.

23 In thoſe days alſo ſaw I Jews that had married wives of Aſhdod, of Ammon, and of Moab:

24 And their children ſpake half in the ſpeech of Aſhdod, and could not ſpeak in the Jews language, but according to the language of each people.

25 And I contended with them, and curſed them, and ſmote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them ſwear by God, ſaying, Ye ſhall not give your daughters unto their ſons, nor take their daughters unto your ſons, or for yourſelves.

26 Did not Solomon king of Iſrael ſin by theſe things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Iſrael: nevertheleſs, even him did outlandiſh women cauſe to ſin.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to tranſgreſs againſt our God, in marrying ſtrange wives?

28 And one of the ſons of Joiada, the ſon of Eliaſhib the high prieſt, was ſon-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chaſed him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, becauſe they have defiled the prieſthood, and the covenant of the prieſthood, and of the Levites.

30 Thus cleanſed I them from all ſtrangers, and appointed the wards of the prieſts and the Levites, every one in his buſineſs;

31 And for the wood-offering, at times appointed, and for the firſt-fruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

(c) Tobiah had inſinuated himſelf into the good opinion of moſt of the people, and eſpecially thoſe of note, by his making two alliances with families of this ſort: for Johanan his ſon had married the daughter of Meſhullam, the ſon of Barachiah, (ch. vi. 18. iii. 4.) who was one of the chief managers of the building of the wall of Jeruſalem, under the direction of the governor, and he himſelf had married the daughter of Shecaniah, the ſon of Arah, another great man amongſt the Jews; by which means he had formed an intereſt, and was looked upon as a worthy man, though being an Ammonite, he could not but bear a national hatred to all that were of the race of Iſrael.

CHAP. I.

Ahaſuerus makes a feaſt for all the principal perſons of his kingdom: he ſends for the queen to the banquet, who refuſes to come: the king being angry, puts her away, and makes a decree that all wives ſhall obey their huſbands.

NOW it came to paſs in the days of Ahaſuerus, (this is Ahaſuerus which reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces:)

2 That in thoſe days, when the king Ahaſuerus ſat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shuſhan the palace,

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feaſt unto all his princes, and his ſervants; the power of Perſia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces being before him:

4 When he ſhewed the riches of his glorious kingdom, and the honour of his excellent majeſty, many days, even an hundred and fourſcore days.

5 And when theſe days were expired, the king made a feaſt unto all the people that were preſent in Shuſhan the palace, both unto great and ſmall, ſeven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace;

6 Where were white, green, and blue hangings, faſtened with cords of fine linen and purple, to ſilver rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold, and ſilver, upon a pavement of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

7 And they gave them drink in veſſels of gold, (the veſſels being diverſe one from another) and royal wine in abundance, according to the ſtate of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law; none did compel: for ſo the king had appointed to all the officers of his houſe, that they ſhould do according to every man's pleaſure.

9 Alſo Vaſhti the queen made a feaſt for the women, in the royal houſe which belonged to king Ahaſuerus.

10 On the ſeventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the ſeven chamberlains that ſerved in the preſence of Ahaſuerus the king, 11 To bring Vaſhti the queen before the king with the crown royal, to ſhew the people and the princes her beauty: for ſhe was fair to look on.

12 But the queen Vaſhti refuſed to come at the king's commandment, by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

13 Then the king ſaid to the wiſe-men, who knew the times, (for ſo was the king's manner towards all that knew law and judgment:

14 And the next unto him was Carſhena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarſhiſh, Meres, Marſena, and Memucan, the ſeven princes of Perſia and Media, which ſaw the king's face, and which ſat the firſt in the kingdom;)

15 What ſhall we do unto the queen Vaſhti, according to law, becauſe ſhe hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahaſuerus, by the chamberlains?

16 And Memucan anſwered before the king and the princes, Vaſhti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but alſo to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus.

17 For this deed of the queen ſhall come abroad unto all women, ſo that they ſhall deſpiſe their huſbands in their eyes, when it ſhall be reported, The king Ahaſuerus commanded Vaſhti the queen to be brought in before him, but ſhe came not.

18 Likewiſe ſhall the ladies of Perſia and Media ſay this day unto all the king's princes, which have heard the deed of the queen. Thus ſhall there ariſe too much contempt and wrath.

19 If it pleaſe the king, let there go a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Perſians and the Medes, that it be not altered, that Vaſhti come no more before king Ahaſuerus; and let the king give her royal eſtate unto another that is better than ſhe.

20 And when the king's decree which he ſhall make, ſhall be publiſhed throughout all

ESTHER.] It is uncertain who was the author of this book. Some aſcribe it to Ezra, others to Mordecai, (See on chap. ix. 20, 23.) and others to the joint labours of the great ſynagogue; who, from the time of Ezra to Simon the Juſt, ſuperintended the edition and canon of Scripture. That the book is genuine, whoever was the author, appears from the inſtitution and continued obſervation of the annual feſtival of Purim; (See chap. ix.) ſince it is not to be conceived that a wiſe nation ſhould at firſt appoint and afterwards continue the celebration of this ſolemn time of feaſting and rejoicing every year, merely becauſe a certain man among them had once the good fortune to write an agreeable romance; much leſs can we conceive from what motive a whole aſſembly of learned doctors ſhould receive a writing of no better character into the canon of their Scriptures; or, to make it of more univerſal uſe, ſhould honour it with a Greek tranſlation. The book contains the hiſtory of Eſther, a Jewiſh captive, who, for her remarkable beauty was eſpouſed to Ahaſuerus, and raiſed to the throne of Perſia. By her extraordinary intereſt with the king, ſhe reſcued the Jewiſh nation from a general maſſacre, to which they were devoted by Haman, one of the king's favourites, and in memory of which the feaſt of Purim was appointed.

his empire, (for it is great) all the wives ſhall give to their huſbands honour, both to great and ſmall.

21 And the ſaying pleaſed the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan:

22 For he ſent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, That every man ſhould bear rule in his own houſe, and that it ſhould be publiſhed according to the language of every people.

CHAP. II.

Eſther becomes the wife of Ahaſuerus. Mordecai, ſitting at the king's gate, diſcovers a conſpiracy againſt the perſon of the king.

AFTER theſe things, when the wrath of king Ahaſuerus was appeaſed, he remembered Vaſhti, and what ſhe had done, and what was decreed againſt her.

2 Then ſaid the king's ſervants, that miniſtered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins ſought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shuſhan the palace, to the houſe of the women, unto the cuſtody of Hege the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for purification be given them:

4 And let the maiden which pleaſeth the king, be queen inſtead of Vaſhti. And the thing pleaſed the king, and he did ſo.

5 Now in Shuſhan the palace, there was a certain Jew, whoſe name was Mordecai, the ſon of Jair, the ſon of Shimei, the ſon of Kiſh, a Benjamite;

6 Who had been carried away from Jeruſalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

7 And he brought up Hadaſſah, that is Eſther, his uncle's daughter: for ſhe had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful; whom Mordecai, when her father and mother were dead, took for his own daughter.

8 So it came to paſs, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shuſhan the palace, to the cuſtody of Hegai, that Eſther was brought alſo unto the king's houſe, to the cuſtody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleaſed him, and ſhe obtained kindneſs of him; and he ſpeedily gave her her things for purification, with ſuch things as belonged to her, and ſeven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the king's houſe: and he preferred her and her maids unto the beſt place of the houſe of the women.

10 Eſther had not ſhewed her people, nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that ſhe ſhould not ſhew it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's houſe, to know how Eſther did, and what ſhould become of her.

12 Now when every maid's turn was come to go in to king Ahaſuerus, after that ſhe had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women, (for ſo were the days of their purifications accompliſhed, to wit, ſix months with oil of myrrh, and ſix months with ſweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women:)

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king; whatſoever ſhe deſired was given her, to go with her out of the houſe of the women, unto the king's houſe.

14 In the evening ſhe went, and on the morrow ſhe returned into the ſecond houſe of the women, to the cuſtody of Shaaſhgaz, the king's chamberlain, who kept the concubines: ſhe came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that ſhe were called by name.

15 Now when the turn of Eſther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai, (who had taken her for his daughter) was come to go in unto the king, ſhe required nothing, but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed: and Eſther obtained favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royal, in the tenth month, (which is the month Tebeth,) in the ſeventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Eſther above all the women, and ſhe obtained grace and favour in his ſight, more than all the virgins; ſo that he ſet the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen inſtead of Vaſhti.

18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, even Eſther's feaſt; and he made a releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the ſtate of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the ſecond time, then Mordecai ſat in the king's gate.

20 Eſther had not yet ſhewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her; for Eſther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when ſhe was brought up with him.

21 In thoſe days, while Mordecai ſat in the king's king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Tereſh, of thoſe who kept the door, were wroth, and ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen; and Eſther certified the king thereof, in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

Haman being advanced by the king, and deſpiſed by Mordecai, meditates the deſtruction of all the Jews.

AFTER theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman, the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the king's ſervants that were in the king's gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman: for the king had ſo commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence (d).

3 Then the king's ſervants, which were in the king's gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the king's commandment?

4 Now it came to paſs, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai's matters would ſtand: for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 In the firſt month (that is, the month Niſan) in the twelfth year of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.

8 And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad, and diſperſed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverſe from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to ſuffer them.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed: and I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver to the hands of thoſe that have the charge of the buſineſs, to bring it into the king's treaſuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews enemy.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſilver is given to thee, the people alſo, to do with them as it ſeemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the king's ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the king's provinces, to deſtroy, to kill, and to cauſe to periſh all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, (which is the month Adar,) and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was publiſhed unto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt that day.

15 The poſts went out, being haſtened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shuſhan the palace. And the king and Haman ſat down to drink; but the city Shuſhan was perplexed.

CHAP. IV.

Mordecai and the Jews mourn: he applies to Eſther, who appoints a faſt before ſhe goes in to the king.

WHEN Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth with aſhes, and went out into the midſt of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry;

2 And came even before the king's gate: for none might enter into the king's gate clothed with ſackcloth.

(d) Joſephus tells us that Haman, taking notice of this ſingularity in Mordecai, aſked him what countryman he was; and finding him to be a Jew, broke out into a violent exclamation at his inſolence; and in this rage formed the deſperate reſolution, not only to be revenged of Mordecai, but to deſtroy the whole race of the Jews; well remembering that his anceſtors the Amalekites had been formerly driven out of their country, and almoſt exterminated by the Jews: for Haman was deſcended in a direct line from Agag, whom Samuel hewed in pieces in Gilgal. Calmet. That Mordecai ſhould refuſe to pay ſuch obeiſance as all others paid to Haman at this time, will appear the leſs ſtrange, if we conſider that Haman being of that nation againſt which God pronounced a curſe; Exod. xvii. 14. Mordecai might think himſelf on this account not obliged to pay him the reverence which he expected; and if the reſt of the Jews had the like notion of him, this might be a reaſon ſufficient for his extending his reſentment againſt the whole nation.

3 And in every province whitherſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and faſting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in ſackcloth and aſhes.

4 So Eſther's maids, and her chamberlains, came and told it her. Then was the queen exceedingly grieved; and ſhe ſent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Eſther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the ſtreet of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the ſum of the money that Haman had promiſed to pay to the king's treaſuries for the Jews, to deſtroy them.

8 Alſo he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given to Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew it unto Eſther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that ſhe ſhould go in unto the king, to make ſupplication unto him, and to make requeſt before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Eſther the words of Mordecai.

10 Again Eſther ſpake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the king's ſervants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except ſuch to whom the king ſhall hold out the golden ſceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king theſe thirty days.

12 And they told to Mordecai Eſther's words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to anſwer Eſther, Think not with thyſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the king's houſe, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdeſt thy peace at this time, then ſhall there enlargement and deliverance ariſe to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's houſe ſhall be deſtroyed; and who knoweth, whether thou art come to the kingdom for ſuch a time as this?

15 Then Eſther bade them return Mordecai this anſwer,

16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are preſent in Shuſhan, and faſt ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I alſo and my maidens will faſt likewiſe; and ſo will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I periſh, I periſh.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Eſther had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

Eſther preſents herſelf before the king; whom ſhe invites with Haman to a banquet. Haman, indignant that Mordecai refuſes him reſpect, commands a gallows to be erected for him.

NOW it came to paſs on the third day, that Eſther put on her royal apparel, and ſtood in the inner court of the king's houſe, over againſt the king's houſe: and the king ſat upon his royal throne in the royal houſe, over againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And it was ſo when the king ſaw Eſther the queen ſtanding in the court, that ſhe obtained favour in his ſight: and the king held out to Eſther the golden ſceptre that was in his hand: ſo Eſther drew near, and touched the top of the ſceptre.

3 Then ſaid the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Eſther? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall be even given thee, to the half of the kingdom.

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it ſeem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king ſaid, Cauſe Haman to make haſte, that he may do as Eſther hath ſaid. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 And the king ſaid unto Eſther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? even to the half of the kingdom it ſhall be performed.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſaid, My petition and my requeſt is;

8 If I have found favour in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to grant my petition, and to perform my requeſt, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them; and I will do to-morrow as the king hath ſaid.

9 Then went Haman forth that day joyful, and with a glad heart: but when Haman ſaw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he ſtood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation againſt Mordecai.

10 Nevertheleſs, Haman refrained himſelf: and when he came home, he ſent and called for his friends, and Zereſh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and

and how he had advanced him above the princes and ſervants of the king.

12 Haman ſaid moreover, Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared, but myſelf; and to-morrow am I invited unto her alſo with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the king's gate.

14 Then ſaid Zereſh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to-morrow ſpeak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleaſed Haman, and he cauſed the gallows to be made.

CHAP. VI.

Ahaſuerus, reading in the chronicles of his kingdom, finds that Mordecai had not been rewarded for diſcovering the conſpiracy of his chamberlains. He enquires of Haman, what ſhould be done to the man whom the king deſired to honour; and, upon his anſwering, commands him to give Mordecai thoſe honours which Haman thought deſigned for himſelf.

ON that night could not the king ſleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.

2 And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Tereſh, two of the king's chamberlains, the keepers of the door, who ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

3 And the king ſaid, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then ſaid the king's ſervants that miniſtered unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king ſaid, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's houſe, to ſpeak unto the king, to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the king's ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And the king ſaid, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in. And the king ſaid unto him, What ſhall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? (Now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to myſelf?)

7 And Haman anſwered the king, For the man whom the king delighteth to honour,

8 Let the royal apparel be brought which the king uſeth to wear, and the horſe that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is ſet upon his head:

9 And let this apparel and horſe be delivered to the hand of one of the king's moſt noble princes, that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and bring him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

10 Then the king ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, and take the apparel, and the horſe, as thou haſt ſaid, and do even ſo to Mordecai the Jew, that ſitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparel and the horſe, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 And Mordecai came again to the king's gate: but Haman haſted to his houſe, mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zereſh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men, and Zereſh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jews, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and haſted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

Eſther petitions for her own life, and that of her people, whoſe deſtruction Haman had deſigned. The king, enraged, orders him to be hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the king and Haman came to banquet with Eſther the queen.

2 And the king ſaid unto Eſther, on the ſecond day, at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Eſther? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? and it ſhall be performed even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Eſther the queen anſwered, and ſaid, If I have found favour in thy ſight, O king, and if it pleaſe the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt:

4 For we are ſold, I and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlain, and to periſh: but if we had been ſold for bond-men and bond-women, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.

5 Then king Ahaſuerus anſwered and ſaid unto Eſther the queen, Who is he? and where is he that durſt preſume in his heart to do ſo?

6 And Eſther ſaid, The adverſary and enemy, is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.

7 And the king ariſing from the banquet of wine wine in his wrath, went into the palace-garden; and Haman ſtood up to make requeſt for his life to Eſther the queen: for he ſaw that there was evil determined againſt him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace-garden, into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Eſther was. Then ſaid the king, Will he force the queen alſo before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

9 And Harbonah, one of the chamberlains, ſaid before the king, Behold alſo the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had ſpoken good for the king, ſtandeth in the houſe of Haman. Then the king ſaid, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai (e). Then was the king's wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

Eſther requeſting that the letters deviſed by Haman might be reverſed, the king informs her, that no man may reverſe what is ſealed with the king's ſeal; but he gives leave for other letters to be ſigned with the royal ſignet, permitting the Jews to defend themſelves, and deſtroy their enemies.

ON that day did the king Ahaſuerus give the houſe of Haman the Jews enemy, unto Eſther the queen: and Mordecai came before the king; for Eſther had told what he was unto her.

2 And the king took off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Eſther ſet Mordecai over the houſe of Haman.

3 And Eſther ſpake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and beſought him with tears, to put away the miſchief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had deviſed againſt the Jews.

4 Then the king held out the golden ſceptre toward Eſther. So Eſther aroſe, and ſtood before the king,

5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the king, and if I have found favour in thy ſight, and the thing ſeem right before the king, and I be pleaſing in his eyes; let it be written to reverſe the letters deviſed by Haman, the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to deſtroy the Jews, which are in all the king's provinces:

6 For how can I endure to ſee the evil that ſhall come unto my people? or how can I endure to ſee the deſtruction of my kindred?

7 Then king Ahaſuerus ſaid unto Eſther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Eſther the houſe of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, becauſe he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye alſo for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and ſeal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and ſealed with the king's ring, may no man reverſe.

9 Then were the king's ſcribes called at that time in the third month (that is, the month Sivan) on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written (according to all that Mordecai commanded) unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and ſeven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahaſuerus's name, and ſealed it with the king's ring, and ſent letters by poſts on horſeback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries.

11 Wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city, to gather themſelves together, and to ſtand for their life, to deſtroy, to ſlay, and to cauſe to periſh all the power of the people and province, that would aſſault them, both little ones, and women; and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey;

12 Upon one day, in all the provinces of king Ahaſuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The copy of the writing, for a commandment to be given in every province, was publiſhed unto all people, and that the Jews ſhould be ready againſt that day, to avenge themſelves on their enemies.

14 So the poſts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being haſtened, and preſſed on by the king's commandment. And the decree was given at Shuſhan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the preſence of the king, in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with

(e) I cannot paſs over this wonderful harmony of Providence, ſays Joſephus, Antiq. l. xi. c. 6. without a remark upon the Almighty power, and admirable juſtice of the wiſdom of God, not only in bringing Haman to his deſerved puniſhment, but in trapping him in the very ſnare which he had laid for another, and turning a malicious invention upon the head of the inventor. There cannot be a more ſtriking inſtance of the vanity of all human greatneſs, and its utter incapacity to procure a depraved mind repoſe, than this of Haman. Thoſe who are in the moſt exalted ſtations, are not always ſo happy as they ſeem, or as thoſe beneath them are ready to ſuppoſe: they have generally ſome latent trouble which gnaws and devours them; indeed a very little matter is ſufficient to imbitter all their proſperity: this is more particularly the caſe with the proud and ambitious. Their pride is their puniſhment; and the mortification of ſeeing themſelves not honoured as they expect, plunges them into the bitterneſs of malice and revenge. But let ſuch con-

king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Tereſh, of thoſe who kept the door, were wroth, and ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen; and Eſther certified the king thereof, in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

Haman being advanced by the king, and deſpiſed by Mordecai, meditates the deſtruction of all the Jews.

AFTER theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman, the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the king's ſervants that were in the king's gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman: for the king had ſo commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence (d).

3 Then the king's ſervants, which were in the king's gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the king's commandment?

4 Now it came to paſs, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai's matters would ſtand: for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 In the firſt month (that is, the month Niſan) in the twelfth year of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.

8 And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad, and diſperſed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverſe from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to ſuffer them.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed: and I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver to the hands of thoſe that have the charge of the buſineſs, to bring it into the king's treaſuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews enemy.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſilver is given to thee, the people alſo, to do with them as it ſeemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the king's ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the king's provinces, to deſtroy, to kill, and to cauſe to periſh all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, (which is the month Adar,) and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was publiſhed unto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt that day.

15 The poſts went out, being haſtened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shuſhan the palace. And the king and Haman ſat down to drink; but the city Shuſhan was perplexed.

CHAP. IV.

Mordecai and the Jews mourn: he applies to Eſther, who appoints a faſt before ſhe goes in to the king.

WHEN Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth with aſhes, and went out into the midſt of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry;

2 And came even before the king's gate: for none might enter into the king's gate clothed with ſackcloth.

(d) Joſephus tells us that Haman, taking notice of this ſingularity in Mordecai, aſked him what countryman he was; and finding him to be a Jew, broke out into a violent exclamation at his inſolence; and in this rage formed the deſperate reſolution, not only to be revenged of Mordecai, but to deſtroy the whole race of the Jews; well remembering that his anceſtors the Amalekites had been formerly driven out of their country, and almoſt exterminated by the Jews: for Haman was deſcended in a direct line from Agag, whom Samuel hewed in pieces in Gilgal. Calmet. That Mordecai ſhould refuſe to pay ſuch obeiſance as all others paid to Haman at this time, will appear the leſs ſtrange, if we conſider that Haman being of that nation againſt which God pronounced a curſe; Exod. xvii. 14. Mordecai might think himſelf on this account not obliged to pay him the reverence which he expected; and if the reſt of the Jews had the like notion of him, this might be a reaſon ſufficient for his extending his reſentment againſt the whole nation.

3 And

3 And in every province whitherſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and faſting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in ſackcloth and aſhes.

4 So Eſther's maids, and her chamberlains, came and told it her. Then was the queen exceedingly grieved; and ſhe ſent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Eſther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the ſtreet of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the ſum of the money that Haman had promiſed to pay to the king's treaſuries for the Jews, to deſtroy them.

8 Alſo he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given to Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew it unto Eſther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that ſhe ſhould go in unto the king, to make ſupplication unto him, and to make requeſt before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Eſther the words of Mordecai.

10 Again Eſther ſpake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the king's ſervants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except ſuch to whom the king ſhall hold out the golden ſceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king theſe thirty days.

12 And they told to Mordecai Eſther's words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to anſwer Eſther, Think not with thyſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the king's houſe, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdeſt thy peace at this time, then ſhall there enlargement and deliverance ariſe to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's houſe ſhall be deſtroyed; and who knoweth, whether thou art come to the kingdom for ſuch a time as this?

15 Then Eſther bade them return Mordecai this anſwer,

16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are preſent in Shuſhan, and faſt ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I alſo and my maidens will faſt likewiſe; and ſo will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I periſh, I periſh.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Eſther had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

Eſther preſents herſelf before the king; whom ſhe invites with Haman to a banquet. Haman, indignant that Mordecai refuſes him reſpect, commands a gallows to be erected for him.

NOW it came to paſs on the third day, that Eſther put on her royal apparel, and ſtood in the inner court of the king's houſe, over againſt the king's houſe: and the king ſat upon his royal throne in the royal houſe, over againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And it was ſo when the king ſaw Eſther the queen ſtanding in the court, that ſhe obtained favour in his ſight: and the king held out to Eſther the golden ſceptre that was in his hand: ſo Eſther drew near, and touched the top of the ſceptre.

3 Then ſaid the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Eſther? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall be even given thee, to the half of the kingdom.

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it ſeem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king ſaid, Cauſe Haman to make haſte, that he may do as Eſther hath ſaid. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 And the king ſaid unto Eſther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? even to the half of the kingdom it ſhall be performed.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſaid, My petition and my requeſt is;

8 If I have found favour in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to grant my petition, and to perform my requeſt, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them; and I will do to-morrow as the king hath ſaid.

9 Then went Haman forth that day joyful, and with a glad heart: but when Haman ſaw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he ſtood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation againſt Mordecai.

10 Nevertheleſs, Haman refrained himſelf: and when he came home, he ſent and called for his friends, and Zereſh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and

and how he had advanced him above the princes and ſervants of the king.

12 Haman ſaid moreover, Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared, but myſelf; and to-morrow am I invited unto her alſo with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the king's gate.

14 Then ſaid Zereſh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to-morrow ſpeak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleaſed Haman, and he cauſed the gallows to be made.

CHAP. VI.

Ahaſuerus, reading in the chronicles of his kingdom, finds that Mordecai had not been rewarded for diſcovering the conſpiracy of his chamberlains. He enquires of Haman, what ſhould be done to the man whom the king deſired to honour; and, upon his anſwering, commands him to give Mordecai thoſe honours which Haman thought deſigned for himſelf.

17 And in every province, and in every city, whitherſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladneſs, a feaſt and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

CHAP. IX.

On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, the Jews deſtroy their enemies: the ten ſons of Haman are hanged. The feaſt of Purim, or lots, is inſtituted, in memory of this event.

NOW in the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, (though it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them;)

2 The Jews gathered themſelves together in their cities, throughout all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt: and no man could withſtand them; for the fear of them fell upon all the people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews; becauſe the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the king's houſe, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews ſmote all their enemies with the ſtroke of the ſword, and ſlaughter, and deſtruction, and did what they would unto thoſe that hated them.

6 And in Shuſhan the palace, the Jews ſlew and deſtroyed five hundred men.

7 And Parſhandatha, and Dalphon, and Aſpatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmaſhta, and Ariſai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha,

10 The ten ſons of Haman the ſon of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, ſlew they; but on the ſpoil laid they not their hand.

11 On that day, the number of thoſe that were ſlain in Shuſhan the palace, was brought before the king.

12 And the king ſaid unto Eſther the queen, The Jews have ſlain and deſtroyed five hundred men in Shuſhan the palace, and the ten ſons of Haman; what have they done in the reſt of the king's provinces? now what is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: or what is thy requeſt further? and it ſhall be done.

13 Then ſaid Eſther, If it pleaſe the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shuſhan, to do to-morrow alſo according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten ſons be hanged up on the gallows.

14 And the king commanded it ſo to be done: and the decree was given at Shuſhan; and they hanged Haman's ten ſons.

15 For the Jews that were in Shuſhan gathered themſelves together on the fourteenth day alſo of the month Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Shuſhan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themſelves together, and ſtood for their lives, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their foes ſeventy and five thouſand; but they laid not their hands on the prey.

17 On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the ſame, reſted they, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

18 But the Jews that were at Shuſhan aſſembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar, a day of gladneſs and feaſting, and a good day, and of ſending portions one to another.

20 And Mordecai wrote theſe things, and ſent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, both nigh and far (f), conſider, that when they ſeem to be moſt firmly rooted, and oppreſs good men without controul, their ruin may be neareſt at hand; and they may fall, by the over-ruling direction of Providence, into the very miſchiefs they prepared for others. They who would ſee this ſubject amply enlarged upon, may conſult Balguy's Sermons, vol. i. and Wharton's, vol. ii.

(f) See the introductory note to this book. It is from this 20th verſe that ſome have ſuppoſed Mordecai to have been the author of it: but it is very evident that theſe words relate not to the book itſelf, but to the circular letters, which Mordecai ſent to the Jews, in all the provinces of the Perſian empire; ſignifying what a mighty deliverance God had vouchſafed them, and appointing in commemoration thereof an annual feſtival to be obſerved for ever. This feſtival was called Purim, (ver. 26.) or the feaſt of lots; Pur in the Perſian language ſignifying a lot, from the event mentioned ver. 24. and chap. iii. 7. and it is to this very day celebrated by the Jews with ſome peculiar ceremonies; but moſt of them reducible to theſe three things, reading, telling and feaſting.

21 To eſtabliſh this among them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame, yearly,

22 As the days wherein the Jews reſted from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from ſorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they ſhould make them days of feaſting and joy, and of ſending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them.

24 Becauſe Haman, the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had deviſed againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and had caſt Pur (that is, the lot) to conſume them, and to deſtroy them;

25 But when Eſther came before the king, he commanded by letters, that his wicked device, which he deviſed againſt the Jews, ſhould return upon his own head, and that he and his ſons ſhould be hanged on the gallows:

26 Wherefore they called theſe days Purim, after the name of Pur. Therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had ſeen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them,

27 The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their ſeed, and upon all ſuch as joined themſelves unto them, ſo as it ſhould not fail, that they would keep theſe two days, according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year;

28 And that theſe days ſhould be remembered, and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that theſe days of Purim ſhould not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them periſh from their ſeed.

29 Then Eſther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority, to confirm this ſecond letter of Purim.

30 And he ſent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and ſeven provinces of the kingdom of Ahaſuerus, with words of peace and truth;

31 To confirm theſe days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew, and Eſther the queen, had enjoined them, and as they had decreed for themſelves and for their ſeed, the matters of the faſtings and their cry.

32 And the decree of Eſther confirmed theſe matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

CHAP. X.

Ahaſuerus lays a tribute upon his dominions. Mordecai's advancement under him.

AND the king Ahaſuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea (g).

2 And all the acts of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the greatneſs of Mordecai, whereunto the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Perſia?

3 For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahaſuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, ſeeking the wealth of his people, and ſpeaking peace to all his ſeed.

The BOOK of JOB.

CHAP. I.

Job, a juſt and a wealthy man, is accuſed by Satan before God, as if he worſhipped God for reward. God delivers all the fortune of Job into the power of Satan; on which he bleſſes God, with the moſt perfect ſubmiſſion.

THERE was a man in the land of Uz (h), whoſe name was Job (i); and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eſchewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him ſeven ſons, and three daughters.

3 His ſubſtance alſo was ſeven thouſand ſheep, and three thouſand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred ſhe-aſſes, and a very great houſhold; ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the men of the eaſt.

4 And his ſons went and feaſted in their houſes, every one his day; and ſent and called for

(g) He laid a tax upon every part of his dominions, both on the continent and in the iſlands over which his power extended. By the iſles here mentioned are meant thoſe in the Ægean ſea, conquered by Darius Hyſtaſpes. See Uſher's Chron. and Calmet, who here goes on to comment on the remaining chapters of Eſther, which the reader will find in the Apocrypha; but the Hebrew text concludes as in our Bibles. He obſerves, after Paul Lucas, that the tombs of Mordecai and Eſther, are ſtill to be ſeen at Amadam, in the ſynagogue of the Jews, who are much more numerous in that place than in any other town in Perſia. There is a particular obſervable in this book, which perhaps it may not be proper altogether to paſs over, viz. that the name of the deity is not once mentioned in it.

JOB] There is perhaps no book of Scripture which hath ſo much divided interpreters, and afforded ſuch a field of controverſy as the book of JOB. Some ſuppoſing it of the remoteſt antiquity, written by Moſes or Job himſelf; others their three ſiſters, to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was ſo, when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings, according to the number of them all: for Job ſaid, It may be that my ſons have ſinned, and curſed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 Now there was a day when the ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the Lord, and Satan came alſo among them (k).

7 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Whence comeſt thou? Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil?

9 Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10 Haſt not thou made an hedge about him, and about his houſe, and about all that he hath on every ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the work of his hands, and his ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

12 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power; only upon himſelf put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the preſence of the Lord.

13 And there was a day, when his ſons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brother's houſe:

14 And there came a meſſenger unto Job, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away; yea, they have ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword; and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the ſheep, and the ſervants, and conſumed them; and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The Chaldeans made out three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword; and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, Thy ſons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brother's houſe:

19 And behold, there came a great wind from the wilderneſs, and ſmote the four corners of the houſe, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead; and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job aroſe, and rent his mantle, and ſhaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worſhipped,

21 And ſaid, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked ſhall I return thither: The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; bleſſed be the name of the Lord.

22 In all this Job ſinned not, nor charged God fooliſhly.

CHAP. II.

Satan again calumniates Job before God, whoſe body God permits him to afflict, but not to take away his life. Job is ſmitten by Satan with ſore boils. He reproves his wife. His three friends, Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar, come to mourn with him.

AGAIN there was a day, when the ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the Lord, and Satan came alſo among them, to preſent himſelf before the Lord.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, From whence comeſt thou? And Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil? and ſtill he holdeth faſt his integrity, although thou movedſt me againſt him, to deſtroy him without cauſe.

others bringing it down to a very low date; ſuppoſing it written by Ezra, at the time of the return from the Babyloniſh captivity. I ſhall not trouble my reader with a diſcuſſion of theſe various opinions: but, having given the matter the moſt impartial and mature conſideration I am able, ſhall lay before him the reſult of my inquiry, reſpecting the author, the time of writing, and the ſubject matter of this book. Firſt, with reſpect to the author, I cannot help ſubſcribing to their opinion, who believe him and his performance to be of the remoteſt antiquity, before Moſes, and of the patriarchal age. That Job was a real perſon, and that his ſufferings were real, I think, is univerſally agreed: but whether he himſelf, Elihu, or ſome other of his friends, were the relators of his ſufferings, appears to me impoſſible to determine. Many learned men believe that Job himſelf was the writer: I ſhould rather be apt to think that it was ſome other perſon of his own age or time; for that the book, Secondly, is of the remoteſt antiquity, there appear, as I apprehend, many indiſputable marks which will occur in the courſe of our obſervations. Thirdly, concerning the ſubject of this book in general, we agree with the learned Bp. Lowth, who determines it to contain the third and laſt trial of Job, which was made upon him by his three friends; the principal deſign whereof, is to teach men, that, con-

4 And Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Skin for ſkin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his fleſh, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; but ſave his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the preſence of the Lord, and ſmote Job with ſore boils, from the ſole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a potſherd to ſcrape himſelf withal; and he ſat down among the aſhes.

9 Then ſaid his wife unto him, Doſt thou ſtill retain thine integrity? curſe God, and die.

10 But he ſaid unto her, Thou ſpeakeſt as one of the fooliſh women ſpeaketh: what! ſhall we receive good at the hand of God, and ſhall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job ſin with his lips.

11 Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and ſprinkled duſt upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they ſat down with him upon the ground ſeven days and ſeven nights, and none ſpake a word unto him: for they ſaw that his grief was very great.

CHAP. III.

Job deteſts the day of his birth; wiſhes that he had never been born, and complains, that the thing which he feared is come upon him.

AFTER this opened Job his mouth, and curſed his day.

2 And Job ſpake, and ſaid,

3 Let the day periſh wherein I was born, and the night in which it was ſaid, There is a man-child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkneſs; let not God regard it from above, neither let the light ſhine upon it.

5 Let darkneſs and the ſhadow of death ſtain it; let a cloud dwell upon it, let the blackneſs of the day terrify it.

6 As for that night, let darkneſs ſeize upon it; let it not be joined unto the days of the year, let it not come into the number of the months.

7 Lo, let that night be ſolitary, let no joyful voice come therein.

8 Let them curſe it that curſe the day, who are ready to raiſe up their mourning.

9 Let the ſtars of the twilight thereof be dark; let it look for light, but have none, neither let it ſee the dawning of the day:

10 Becauſe it ſhut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid ſorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why died I not from the womb? why did I not give up the ghoſt when I came out of the belly?

12 Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breaſts, that I ſhould ſuck?

13 For now ſhould I have lain ſtill, and been quiet, I ſhould have ſlept: then had I been at reſt;

14 With kings and counſellors of the earth, which built deſolate places for themſelves;

15 Or with princes that had gold, who filled their houſes with ſilver:

16 Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been; as infants which never ſaw light.

17 There the wicked ceaſe from troubling; and there the weary be at reſt.

18 There the priſoners reſt together; they hear not the voice of the oppreſſor.

19 The ſmall and great are there, and the ſervant is free from his maſter.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in miſery, and life unto the bitter in ſoul?

21 Which long for death, but it cometh not; and dig for it more than for hid treaſures?

22 Which rejoice exceedingly, and are glad when they can find the grave?

23 Why is light given to a man whoſe way is hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

conſidering the corruption, ignorance, and weakneſs of the human nature, on the one hand, and the infinite wiſdom and immenſe greatneſs of God on the other, they ſhould renounce their own ſtrength, and their own righteouſneſs, put their full truſt in God, and ſubmit themſelves to him in all things with the deepeſt humility and reverence. This is the general end or argument of the poem: but the whole hiſtory taken together, properly contains an high example of conſummate and rewarded patience.

(b) Uz is Edom, as plainly appears from Lam. iv. 21. Uz was the grandſon of Seir the Horite, Gen. xxxvi. 20. 28. 1 Chron. i. 38, 42. Seir inhabited the mountainous country called after him, before the time of Abraham; but his poſterity being driven out, the Edomites ſeized that country, Gen. xiv. 6. Deut. ii. 12. Two other perſons are mentioned, of the ſame name of Uz; the one deſcended from Shem, the other the ſon of Nahor, the brother of Abraham; but it does not appear whether any country was named from either of theſe. Edom is part of Arabia Petræa, bordering upon the tribe of Judah to the ſouth: Numb. xxxiv. 3. Joſh. xv. 1, 21. and therefore the land of Uz is pro-

24 For my ſighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.

25 For the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of, is come unto me.

26 I was not in ſafety, neither had I reſt, neither was I quiet; yet trouble came.

CHAP. IV.

Eliphaz reproves Job, who, having conſoled others in adverſity, nevertheleſs diſponds himſelf. He affirms that it was a thing unheard of, for an innocent man to periſh; on the contrary, that the wicked periſh at the blaſt of God, and are deſtroyed for ever.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered and ſaid (l),

2 If we aſſay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold himſelf from ſpeaking?

3 Behold, thou haſt inſtructed many, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the weak hands.

4 Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the feeble knees.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou fainteſt; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, thy hope, and the uprightneſs of thy ways?

7 Remember, I pray thee, who ever periſhed, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off?

8 Even as I have ſeen, they that plow iniquity, and ſow wickedneſs, reap the ſame.

9 By the blaſt of God they periſh, and by the breath of his noſtrils are they conſumed.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions are broken.

11 The old lion periſheth for lack of prey, and the ſtout lion's whelps are ſcattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was ſecretly brought to me, and mine ear received a little thereof.

13 In thoughts from the viſions of the night, when deep ſleep falleth on men, 14 Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to ſhake.

15 Then a ſpirit paſſed before my face; the hair of my fleſh ſtood up:

16 I ſtood ſtill, but I could not diſcern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, there was ſilence, and I heard a voice, ſaying,

17 Shall mortal man be more juſt than God? ſhall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he put no truſt in his ſervants; and his angels he charged with folly:

19 How much leſs in them that dwell in houſes of clay, whoſe foundation is in the duſt, which are cruſhed before the moth?

20 They are deſtroyed from morning to evening: they periſh for ever, without any regarding it.

21 Doth not their excellency, which is in them, go away? they die, even without wiſdom.

CHAP. V.

Eliphaz ſheweth that the wicked are always puniſhed by an avenging God. He exhorts Job not to deſpiſe the chaſtening of the Almighty, and to attend diligently to what he ſays.

CALL now, if there be any that will anſwer thee; and to which of the ſaints wilt thou turn?

2 For wrath killeth the fooliſh man, and envy ſlayeth the ſilly one.

3 I have ſeen the fooliſh taking root: but ſuddenly I curſed his habitation.

4 His children are far from ſafety, and they are cruſhed in the gate, neither is there any to deliver them.

5 Whoſe harveſt the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thorns, and the robber ſwalloweth up their ſubſtance.

6 Although affliction cometh not forth of the duſt, neither doth trouble ſpring out of the ground.

7 Yet man is born unto trouble, as the ſparks fly upward.

8 I would ſeek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cauſe.

9 Which doeth great things and unſearchable; marvellous things without number.

10 Who giveth rain upon the earth, and ſendeth water upon the fields:

properly placed between Egypt and the Philiſtines in Jer. xxv. 20, where the order of places in enumerating the people, from Egypt even to Babylon, ſeems to be obſerved very accurately. The ſame people are placed in nearly the ſame order, Jer. xlvi.---l. See Bp. Lowth.

(l) The name of Job, in the Chaldee, Syriack, and Arabick, may, with the greateſt probability, be derived from a root which ſignifies to love or deſire; and might be rendered, the beloved or deſirable one. As to the ſtock from whence he ſprung, it is moſt likely that he was deſcended from Uz, the eldeſt ſon of Nahor, brother to Abraham; but how far removed can only be conjectured from the age of his friends; the eldeſt of whom, Eliphaz the Temanite, could not be nearer than great-grand-ſon to Eſau; for Eſau begat Eliphaz, and the ſon of Eliphaz was Teman: ſo that ſuppoſing this Eliphaz to be the ſon of Teman, (and higher it will be impoſſible to place him) he will then be five generations from Abraham; but as Eliphaz was very much older than Job, nay older than his father, as appears from chap. xv. 10. and conſidering that Abraham was very old before he had a ſon by Sarah, and that Rebecca, grand-daughter to Nahor by Bethuel, perhaps, his youngeſt ſon, was of an age proper to be wife to Iſaac; we ſhall pro-

11 To ſet up on high thoſe that be low: that thoſe which mourn may be exalted to ſafety.

12 He diſappointeth the devices of the crafty, ſo that their hands cannot perform their enterpriſe.

13 He taketh the wiſe in their own craftineſs: and the counſel of the froward is carried headlong.

14 They meet with darkneſs in the day-time, and grope in the noon-day as in the night.

15 But he ſaveth the poor from the ſword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.

16 So the poor hath hope, and iniquity ſtoppeth her mouth.

17 Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore deſpiſe not thou the chaſtening of the Almighty:

18 For he maketh ſore, and bindeth up: he woundeth, and his hands make whole.

19 He ſhall deliver thee in ſix troubles: yea, in ſeven there ſhall no evil touch thee.

20 In famine he ſhall redeem thee from death; and in war from the power of the ſword.

21 Thou ſhalt be hid from the ſcourge of the tongue: neither ſhalt thou be afraid of deſtruction when it cometh.

22 At deſtruction and famine thou ſhalt laugh: neither ſhalt thou be afraid of the beaſts of the earth.

23 For thou ſhalt be in league with the ſtones of the field: and the beaſts of the field ſhall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou ſhalt know that thy tabernacle ſhall be in peace; and thou ſhalt viſit thy habitation, and ſhalt not ſin.

25 Thou ſhalt know alſo that thy ſeed ſhall be great, and thine offſpring as the graſs of the earth.

26 Thou ſhalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a ſhock of corn cometh in, in his ſeaſon.

27 Lo this, we have ſearched it, ſo it is; hear it, and know thou it for thy good.

CHAP. VI.

Job wiſhes that his ſins and his afflictions were weighed in the ſame balance together: he reproves his friends for their unkindneſs.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 Oh, that my grief were thoroughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together (m)!

3 For now it would be heavier than the ſand of the ſea: therefore my words are ſwallowed up.

4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poiſon whereof drinketh up my ſpirit: the terrors of God do ſet themſelves in array againſt me.

5 Doth the wild aſs bray when he hath graſs? or loweth the ox over his fodder?

6 Can that which is unſavoury be eaten without ſalt? or is there any taſte in the white of an egg?

7 The things that my ſoul refuſed to touch, are as my ſorrowful meat.

8 Oh, that I might have my requeſt! and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 Even that it would pleaſe God to deſtroy me; that he would let looſe his hand, and cut me off.

10 Then ſhould I yet have comfort; yea, I would harden myſelf in ſorrow: let him not ſpare; for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.

11 What is my ſtrength, that I ſhould hope? and what is mine end, that I ſhould prolong my life?

12 Is my ſtrength the ſtrength of ſtones? or is my fleſh of braſs?

13 Is not my help in me? and is wiſdom driven quite from me?

14 To him that is afflicted pity ſhould be ſhewed from his friend; but he forſaketh the fear of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the ſtream of brooks they paſs away;

16 Which are blackiſh by reaſon of the ice, and wherein the ſnow is hid:

17 What time they wax warm, they vaniſh: when it is hot, they are conſumed out of their place.

18 The paths of their way are turned aſide; they go to nothing, and periſh.

19 The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.

20 They were confounded becauſe they had hoped; they came thither, and were aſhamed.

21 For now ye are nothing; ye ſee my caſting down, and are afraid.

22 Did I ſay, Bring unto me? or give a reward for me of your ſubſtance?

23 Or deliver me from the enemy's hand? or redeem me from the hand of the mighty; probably not be wide of the mark, if we allow Job to be at leaſt ſix if not ſeven generations removed from Nahor. The age therefore in which he lived, muſt have coincided with the latter years of the life of Jacob, with thoſe of Joſeph, and the deſcent into and ſojourning in Egypt; his afflictions muſt have happened during the ſojourning, about ten years before the death of Joſeph; and his life muſt have been prolonged to within fourteen years before the departure of the Iſraelites from Egypt, that is, the year of the world 2499. The number of the years of the life of Job will be, according to this calculation, about 200; which, for that age of the world, and eſpecially conſidering that Job

24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cauſe me to underſtand wherein I have erred.
25 How forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?
26 Do you imagine to reprove words, and the ſpeeches of one that is deſperate, which are as wind?
27 Yea, ye overwhelm the fatherleſs, and ye dig a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore, be content, look upon me; for it is evident unto you, if I lie.
29 Return, I pray you, let it not be iniquity; yea, return again, my righteouſneſs is in it.
30 Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot my taſte diſcern perverſe things?

CHAP. VII.

Job goes on to pour out his lamentations in the moſt pathetic manner, and expoſtulates with God, praying to be ſpeedily releaſed from his miſeries; or that God would grant him ſome little reſpite, till the time of their determination ſhould come.

IS there not an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days alſo like the days of an hireling?
2 As a ſervant earneſtly deſireth the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work;
3 So am I made to poſſeſs months of vanity, and weariſome nights are appointed to me.
4 When I lie down, I ſay, When ſhall I ariſe, and the night be gone? and I am full of toſſings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.
5 My fleſh is cloathed with worms, and clods of duſt; my ſkin is broken, and become loathſome.
6 My days are ſwifter than a weaver's ſhuttle, and are ſpent without hope.
7 O remember that my life is wind: mine eye ſhall no more ſee good.
8 The eye of him that hath ſeen me ſhall ſee me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I am not.
9 As the cloud is conſumed and vaniſheth away, ſo he that goeth down to the grave ſhall come up no more.
10 He ſhall return no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.
11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth; I will ſpeak in the anguiſh of my ſpirit; I will complain in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.
12 Am I a ſea, or a whale, that thou ſetteſt a watch over me?
13 When I ſay, my bed ſhall comfort me, my couch ſhall eaſe my complaint;
14 Then thou ſcareſt me with dreams, and terrifieſt me through viſions:
15 So that my ſoul chooſeth ſtrangling, and death rather than my life.
16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me alone, for my days are vanity.
17 What is man, that thou ſhouldeſt magnify him? and that thou ſhouldeſt ſet thine heart upon him?
18 And that thou ſhouldeſt viſit him every morning, and try him every moment?
19 How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I ſwallow down my ſpittle?
20 I have ſinned; what ſhall I do unto thee, O thou Preſerver of men? why haſt thou ſet me as a mark againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden to myſelf?
21 And why doſt thou not pardon my tranſgreſſion, and take away mine iniquity? for now ſhall I ſleep in the duſt; and thou ſhalt ſeek me in the morning, but I ſhall not be.

CHAP. VIII.

Bildad affirms that if Job was innocent, he would be immediately reſtored to his former ſplendor, on his making ſupplication to the Almighty. He ſhows that the wicked is like the bulruſh, which withers as ſoon as it is ſprung up.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,
2 How long wilt thou ſpeak theſe things? and how long ſhall the words of thy mouth be like a ſtrong wind?
3 Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty pervert juſtice?
4 If thy children have ſinned againſt him, and he have caſt them away for their tranſgreſſion;
5 If thou wouldeſt ſeek unto God betimes, and make thy ſupplication to the Almighty;
6 If thou wert pure and upright; ſurely now

Job was bleſſed with a remarkable long life, as a reward for his ſuffering and integrity, will not appear very extraordinary; for Jacob lived 147 years, Levi his ſon, 137; Kohath his grandſon 133; and Amram his great-grand-ſon, and father of Moſes, 137; Moſes alſo lived 120 years. All theſe were his cotemporaries, ſome older, ſome younger than Job; ſo that this ſeems to agree extremely well with that circumſtance of his hiſtory. Heath.

(k) This account of the angels and Satan's appearing before God, muſt be underſtood as a prophetical repreſentation, ſimiliar to that in 1 Kings xxii. 19. The Scripture ſpeaks of God after the manner of men; for there is a neceſſity of condeſcending to our capacities, and of ſuiting the revelation to our apprehenſions. As Kings therefore tranſact their moſt important affairs in a ſolemn council or aſſembly, ſo God is pleaſed to repreſent himſelf as having his council likewiſe, and as paſſing the decrees of his providence in an aſſembly of his holy angels. We have here, in the caſe of Job, the ſame grand aſſembly held, as was before in that of Ahab, 1 Kings xxii. The ſame hoſt of heaven, called here the ſons of God, preſenting themſelves before Jehovah, as in the viſion of Micaiah, they are ſaid to ſtand on his right hand and on his left. A wicked ſpirit appearing among them, here called Satan, or the adverſary, and there he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteouſneſs proſperous.

7 Though thy beginning was ſmall, yet thy latter end ſhould greatly increaſe.

8 For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyſelf to the ſearch of their fathers.

9 (For we are but of yeſterday, and know nothing, becauſe our days upon earth are a ſhadow.)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?

11 Can theruſh grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?

12 Whilſt it is yet in its greenneſs, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrite's hope ſhall periſh:

14 Whoſe hope ſhall be cut off, and whoſe truſt ſhall be a ſpider's web.

15 He ſhall lean upon his houſe, but it ſhall not ſtand: he ſhall hold it faſt, but it ſhall not endure.

16 He is green before the ſun, and his branch ſhooteth forth in his garden.

17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and he ſeeth the place of ſtones.

18 If he deſtroy him from his place, then it ſhall deny him, ſaying, I have not ſeen thee.

19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth ſhall others grow.

20 Behold, God will not caſt away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil-doers:

21 Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoicing.

22 They that hate thee ſhall be cloathed with ſhame; and the dwelling-place of the wicked ſhall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.

Job confeſſeth that God is juſt, and that no one, though innocent, can hinder him if he taketh any thing away: for that the juſt and unjuſt are deſtroyed without diſtinction, as the earth is given into the hands of the wicked.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid (o),

2 I know it is ſo of a truth: but how ſhould a man be juſt with God.

3 If he will contend with him, he cannot anſwer him one of a thouſand.

4 He is wiſe in heart, and mighty in ſtrength: who hath hardened himſelf againſt him, and hath proſpered?

5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.

6 Which ſhaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.

7 Which commandeth the ſun, and it riſeth not; and ſealeth up the ſtars.

8 Which alone ſpreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the ſea.

9 Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the ſouth.

10 Which doeth great things, paſt finding out; yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I ſee him not: he paſſeth on alſo, but I perceive him not.

12 Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? who will ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

13 If God will not withdraw his anger, the proud helpers do ſtoop under him.

14 How much leſs ſhall I anſwer him, and chooſe out my words to reaſon, with him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not anſwer, but I would make ſupplication to my judge.

16 If I had called, and he had anſwered me; yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice.

17 For he breaketh me with a tempeſt, and multiplieth my wounds without cauſe.

18 He will not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterneſs.

19 If I ſpeak of ſtrength, lo, he is ſtrong: and if of judgment, who ſhall ſet me a time to plead?

20 If I juſtify myſelf, mine own mouth ſhall condemn me: if I ſay, I am perfect, it ſhall alſo prove me perverſe.

21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my ſoul: I would deſpiſe my life.

22 This is one thing, therefore I ſaid it; He deſtroyeth the perfect and the wicked.

23 If the ſcourge ſlay ſuddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.

a lying ſpirit; bent on miſchief both, and ready to do all the hurt that they were able, as far as God would give them leave; but nevertheleſs, both under the controul of his power, and ſuffered to go thus far and no further, as might beſt ſerve the wiſe ends of his juſtice and providence. The things delivered to us by theſe two ſacred writers are in ſubſtance the ſame, equally high, and above the reach of mere human ſight and knowledge: but the manner of delivering them is different; by each as ſuited beſt their ſeveral purpoſes, and both, no doubt, by inſpiration and direction of Almighty God. It muſt not be forgotten, that repreſentations of this kind are founded in a well-known and eſtabliſhed truth, I mean the doctrine of angels good and bad: a point revealed, no doubt, from the beginning, and without a previous knowledge whereof, the viſions of the prophets could ſcarcely be intelligible: ſee Gen. xxviii. We would juſt obſerve, that from the writer of this book's uſing the prophetical ſtile, we have reaſon to conclude, that he muſt have been a prophet, i. e. an inſpired perſon; for otherwiſe a man of that ſenſe and piety which the book ſhews him to be, would never preſume, we may ſuppoſe, to counterfeit the prophetic ſtile, or uſurp a previlge or character which did not belong to him. See Peters p. 141.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof; if not, where, and who is he?

25 Now my days are ſwifter than a poſt: they flee away, they ſee no good.

26 They are paſſed away as the ſwift ſhips: as the eagle that haſteth to the prey.

27 If I ſay, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heavineſs, and comfort myſelf:

28 I am afraid of all my ſorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?

30 If I waſh myſelf with ſnow-water, and make my hands never ſo clean;

31 Yet ſhalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes ſhall abhor me.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I ſhould anſwer him, and we ſhould come together in judgment.

33 Neither is there any days-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me:

35 Then would I ſpeak, and not fear him: But it is not ſo with me.

CHAP. X.

Job expoſtulates with God concerning his afflictions: he complains of life, but wiſhes for a little eaſe before his death.

MY ſoul is weary of my life; I will leave my complaint upon myſelf; I will ſpeak in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

2 I will ſay unto God, Do not condemn me; ſhew me wherefore thou contendeſt with me.

3 Is it good unto thee, that thou ſhouldeſt oppreſs? that thou ſhouldeſt deſpiſe the work of thine hands? and ſhine upon the counſel of the wicked?

4 Haſt thou eyes of fleſh? or ſeeſt thou as man ſeeth?

5 Are thy days as the days of man? are thy years as man's days,

6 That thou enquireſt after mine iniquity, and ſearcheſt after my ſin?

7 Thou knoweſt that I am not wicked; and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands have made me and faſhioned me together round about; yet thou doſt deſtroy me.

9 Remember, I beſeech thee, that thou haſt made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into duſt again?

10 Haſt thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheeſe?

11 Thou haſt clothed me with ſkin, and fleſh, and haſt fenced me with bones and ſinews.

12 Thou haſt granted me life and favour, and thy viſitation hath preſerved my ſpirit.

13 And theſe things haſt thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.

14 If I ſin, then thou markeſt me, and thou ſhalt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, woe unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head: I am full of confuſion; therefore ſee thou mine affliction;

16 For it increaſeth: thou huntеſt me as a fierce lion; and again thou ſheweſt thyſelf marvellous upon me.

17 Thou reneweſt thy witneſſes againſt me, and increaſeſt thine indignation upon me: changes and war are againſt me.

18 Wherefore then haſt thou brought me forth out of the womb? Oh, that I had given up the ghoſt, and no eye had ſeen me:

19 I ſhould have been as though I had not been, I ſhould have been carried from the womb to the grave.

20 Are not my days few? ceaſe then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little;

21 Before I go whence I ſhall not return, even to the land of darkneſs, and the ſhadow of death.

22 A land of darkneſs, as darkneſs itſelf, and of the ſhadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkneſs.

CHAP. XI.

Zophar reproves Job for juſtifying himſelf: he declares God's wiſdom to be unſearchable; but that it would be well with Job if he would repent.

THEN anſwered Zophar the Naamathite, and ſaid (p),

2 Should not the multitude of words be anſwered? and ſhould a man full of talk be juſtified?

(l) The three friends who came to comfort Job, diſguſted, as it ſeems, with the bitterneſs of his complaint, change their purpoſe, and inſtead of conſolation, vent the ſevereſt reproaches againſt him. The eldeſt of theſe three extraordinary comforters condemns his impatience; deſires Job to recollect himſelf; not to give way to fruitleſs lamentations, but to put in practice thoſe leſſons which he had often recommended to others; ver. 3---6. He reminds him of that, as they thought, infallible maxim, that "thoſe who reap miſery muſt have ſown iniquity;" a maxim which he confirms by his own particular experience, and which he ſuppoſes was aſſented to by all mankind. And in the diſplay of this maxim, he throws in many of the particular circumſtances attending Job's calamity; intimating, that he muſt have been a great, though ſecret oppreſſor, and that therefore the breath of God had blaſted him at once: ver. 7 11. and he confirms the truth of his principles by a revelation, which he ſays was made to him in a viſion: ver 12. to the end. See Bp. Lowth and Heath.

(m) Job begins his defence with a modeſt apology for venting his grief in a manner ſomewhat unbecoming, and begs it may be aſcribed to the great multitude and ſharpneſs of his afflictions, ver. 3, 7. But as to the advice given him by

3 Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockeſt, ſhall no man make thee aſhamed?

4 For thou haſt ſaid, My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, Oh that God would ſpeak, and open his lips againſt thee;

6 And that he would ſhew thee the ſecrets of wiſdom, that they are double to that which is! Know therefore that God exacteth of thee leſs than thine iniquity deſerveth.

7 Canſt thou by ſearching find out God? canſt thou find out the Almighty unto perfection.

8 It is as high as heaven; what canſt thou do? deeper than hell; what canſt thou know?

9 The meaſure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the ſea.

10 If he cut off, and ſhut up, or gather together, then who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men: he ſeeth wickedneſs alſo; will he not then conſider it?

12 For vain man would be wiſe, though man be born like a wild aſs's colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and ſtretch out thine hands towards him;

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedneſs dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then ſhalt thou lift up thy face without ſpot; yea, thou ſhalt be ſtedfaſt, and ſhalt not fear:

16 Becauſe thou ſhalt forget thy miſery, and remember it as waters that paſs away.

17 And thine age ſhall be clearer than the noonday; thou ſhalt ſhine forth, thou ſhalt be as the morning.

18 And thou ſhalt be ſecure; becauſe there is hope; yea, thou ſhalt dig about thee, and thou ſhalt take thy reſt in ſafety.

19 Alſo thou ſhalt lie down, and none ſhall make thee afraid; yea, many ſhall make ſuit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked ſhall fail, and they ſhall not eſcape, and their hope ſhall be as the giving up of the ghoſt.

CHAP. XII.

Job reproves the boaſting of his friends: he ſhews that in this life it is well even with thoſe men who offend the Lord, and that all things were governed by Almighty God.

AND Job anſwered and ſaid (q),

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wiſdom ſhall die with you!

3 But I have underſtanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you; yea, who knoweth not ſuch things as theſe?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, and he anſwereth him: the juſt upright man is laughed to ſcorn.

5 He that is ready to ſlip with his feet, is as a lamp deſpiſed in the thought of him that is at eaſe.

6 The tabernacles of robbers proſper, and they that provoke God are ſecure; into whoſe hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But aſk now the beaſts, and they ſhall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they ſhall tell thee:

8 Or, ſpeak to the earth, and it ſhall teach thee: and the fiſhes of the ſea ſhall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all theſe, that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?

10 In whoſe hand is the ſoul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the ear try words? and the mouth taſte his meat?

12 With the ancient is wiſdom; and in length of days, underſtanding.

13 With him is wiſdom and ſtrength, he hath counſel and underſtanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he ſhutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: alſo he ſendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.

16 With him is ſtrength and wiſdom: the deceived and the deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counſellors away ſpoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 He looſeth the bond of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.

19 He leadeth princes away ſpoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 He removeth away the ſpeech of the truſty, and taketh away the underſtanding of the aged.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the ſtrength of the mighty.

22 He diſcovereth deep things out of darkneſs, and bringeth out to light the ſhadow of death.

23 He increaſeth the nations, and deſtroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and ſtraiteneth them again.

by Eliphaz, to hope for an amendment of his condition, and to addreſs God for that purpoſe, he tells them that his petition to God ſhould be of a quite different nature; namely, that he would be pleaſed to cut him off ſpeedily, for that the deſperateneſs of his condition would by no means permit him to hope for any amendment. ver. 8.---13. That, however, he could not help reſenting their unkind ſuſpicions of him, that they ſhould think him capable of ſuch great wickedneſs; but above all, ſhould imagine him to be ſo abandoned as to be able to entertain a thought tending to a revolt from the Almighty; which yet they muſt have done, or Eliphaz would never have dared to make him ſuch a propoſition: ver. 14---20. He ſaw therefore what kind of friends he had to do with: as ſoon as they perceived him in a reaſo-

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and cauſeth them to wander in the wilderneſs where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to ſtagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

Job reproves his friends for partiality: he profeſſes his confidence in God, and intreats to know of him why he hides his face from him, and holds him for an enemy.

LO, mine eye hath ſeen all this, mine ear hath heard and underſtood it.

2 What ye know, the ſame do I know alſo: I am not inferior unto you.

3 Surely I would ſpeak to the Almighty, and I deſire to reaſon with God.

4 But ye are forgers of lies; ye are all phyſicians of no value.

5 O that ye would altogether hold your peace; and it ſhould be your wiſdom.

6 Hear now my reaſoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will you ſpeak wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will you accept his perſon? will you contend for God?

9 Is it good that he ſhould ſearch you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye ſo mock him?

10 He will ſurely reprove you, if you do ſecretly accept perſons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?

12 Your remembrances are like unto aſhes, your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may ſpeak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my fleſh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

15 Though he ſlay me, yet will I truſt in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him.

16 He alſo ſhall be my ſalvation: for an hypocrite ſhall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my ſpeech, and my declaration with your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cauſe; I know that I ſhall be juſtified.

19 Who is he that will plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I ſhall give up the ghoſt.

20 Only do not two things unto me: then will I not hide myſelf from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will anſwer: or let me ſpeak, and anſwer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and ſins? make me to know my tranſgreſſion and my ſin.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and holdeſt me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou purſue the dry ſtubble?

26 For thou writeſt bitter things againſt me, and makeſt me to poſſeſs the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou putteſt my feet alſo in the ſtocks, and lookeſt narrowly unto all my paths; thou ſetteſt a print upon the heels of my feet.

28 And he, as a rotten thing, conſumeth, as a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAP. XIV.

Job ſets forth the ſhortneſs and miſery of human life. He expreſſeth his faith in a future ſtate, and declares that after his change God will call, and he will anſwer him.

MAN that is born of a woman, is of few days, and full of trouble.

2 He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth alſo as a ſhadow, and continueth not.

3 And doſt thou open thine eyes upon ſuch an one, and bringeſt me into judgment with thee?

4 Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5 Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou haſt appointed his bounds that he cannot paſs.

6 Turn from him, that he may reſt, till he ſhall accompliſh, as an hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe.

8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof die in the ground;

9 Yet through the ſcent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

10 But man dieth, and waſteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghoſt, and where is he?

11 As the waters fail from the ſea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up.

12 So man lieth down, and riſeth not till the heavens be no more, they ſhall not awake, nor be raiſed out of their ſleep.

a remedileſs condition, they began with abuſing him, leſt they might be deſired to contribute towards his reſtoration, ver. 21---27. He begs them therefore not to condemn him barely on ſuſpicion, and on the ſtrength of general maxims; but to conſider that it was poſſible he might be innocent. ver. 28---30. Heath.

(n) Bildad, whoſe ſentiments are the ſame with thoſe of the preceding friend, now comes on to the attack, and tells Job, that his general aſſeverations of innocence are of no avail; that to deny his guilt, was to charge the Almighty with injuſtice; ver. 2, 3. That if he would not yield to the argument of Eliphaz, drawn from his experience, and ſtrengthened by revelation, he would do well to pay reſpect to the general experience of mankind, as handed down by tradition; where he would find it eſtabliſhed, as a certain truth, that miſery was the infallible conſequence of wickedneſs;

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the grave, that thou wouldeſt keep me ſecret, until thy wrath be paſt, that thou wouldeſt appoint me a ſet time, and remember me?

14 If a man die, ſhall he live again? All the days of my appointed time will I wait, till my change come.

15 Thou ſhalt call, and I will anſwer thee: thou wilt have a deſire to the work of thine hands.

16 For now thou numbereſt my ſteps, doſt thou not watch over my ſin?

17 My tranſgreſſion is ſealed up in a bag, and thou ſeweſt up mine iniquity.

18 And ſurely the mountain falling cometh to naught, and the rock is removed out of his place.

19 The waters wear the ſtones: thou waſheſt away the things which grow out of the duſt of the earth; and thou deſtroyeſt the hope of man.

20 Thou prevaileſt for ever againſt him, and he paſſeth: thou changeſt his countenance, and ſendeſt him away.

21 His ſons come to honour, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.

22 But his fleſh upon him ſhall have pain, and his ſoul within him ſhall mourn.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz charges Job with impiety in juſtifying himſelf: he proves by tradition the unhappineſs of the wicked.

THEN anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite, and ſaid (r),

2 Should a wiſe man utter vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the eaſt-wind?

3 Should he reaſon with unprofitable talk? or with ſpeeches wherewith he can do no good?

4 Yea, thou caſteſt off fear, and reſtraineſt prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth uttereth thine iniquity, and thou chooſeſt the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips teſtify againſt thee.

7 Art thou the firſt man that was born? or waſt thou made before the hills?

8 Haſt thou heard the ſecret of God? and doſt thou reſtrain wiſdom to thyſelf?

9 What knoweſt thou, that we know not? what underſtandeſt thou, which is not in us?

10 With us are both the grey-headed, and very aged men, much elder than thy father.

11 Are the conſolations of God ſmall with thee? is there any ſecret thing with thee?

12 Why doth thine heart carry thee away? and what do thine eyes wink at,

13 That thou turneſt thy ſpirit againſt God, and letteſt ſuch words go out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he ſhould be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he ſhould be righteous?

15 Behold, he putteth no truſt in his ſaints; yea, the heavens are not clean in his ſight.

16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, which drinketh iniquity like water!

17 I will ſhew thee, hear me; and that which I have ſeen, I will declare,

18 Which wiſe men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was given, and no ſtranger paſſed among them.

20 The wicked man travelleth with pain all his days, and the number of years is hidden to the oppreſſor.

21 A dreadful ſound is in his ears: in proſperity the deſtroyer ſhall come upon him.

22 He believeth not that he ſhall return out of darkneſs, and he is waited for of the ſword.

23 He wandereth abroad for bread, ſaying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkneſs is ready at his hand.

24 Trouble and anguiſh ſhall make him afraid? they ſhall prevail againſt him, as a king ready to the battle.

25 For he ſtretcheth out his hand againſt God, and ſtrengtheneth himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick boſſes of his bucklers:

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with his fatneſs, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

28 And he dwelleth in deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

29 He ſhall not be rich, neither ſhall his ſubſtance continue, neither ſhall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.

30 He ſhall not depart out of darkneſs, the edneſs: ver. 8---20. That therefore they could not argue wrong, who inferred from actual miſery antecedent guilt: and though he might urge that theſe calamities were fallen on him, on account of his children's wickedneſs, yet he only deceived himſelf; for in that caſe God might have indeed chaſtiſed them for their crimes; but he would by no means have deſtroyed the innocent with the guilty: ver. 4---7.

(o) In reply to Bildad, Job begins with hinting that their opinions ſeemed a little to claſh; Eliphaz had inſiſted from revelation that the common failings of men were a ſufficient juſtification of Providence, even in the moſt afflicted diſpenſations. Bildad ſays, if he were pure and upright, God would interpoſe in his behalf. Job replies, that all this is very true; but the difficulty is, to be thus pure and upright: "For I am not exempt from the common failings of men: if therefore they are ſufficient to account for the great calamities which have befallen me, I am ſtill without a remedy." And here he enters into the moſt beautiful and tender pleadings which heart can conceive:

flame ſhall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth ſhall he go away.

31 Let not him that is deceived truſt in vanity: for vanity ſhall be his recompence.

32 It ſhall be accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.

33 He ſhall ſhake off his unripe grape as the vine, and ſhall caſt off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites ſhall be deſolate, and fire ſhall conſume the tabernacles of bribery.

35 They conceive miſchief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAP. XVI.

Job expoſtulates with his friends on their unkind treatment; and declares, that if they were in the like diſtreſs, he would behave to them in a different manner. He ſets forth the greatneſs of his ſufferings, but ſtill maintains his integrity.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid (s),

2 I have heard many ſuch things: miſerable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee, that thou anſwereſt?

4 I alſo could ſpeak as ye do: if your ſoul were in my ſoul's ſtead, I could heap up words againſt you, and ſhake mine head at you.

5 But I would ſtrengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips ſhould aſſuage your grief.

6 Though I ſpeak, my grief is not aſſuaged: and though I forbear, what am I eaſed?

7 But now he hath made me weary: thou haſt made deſolate all my company.

8 And thou haſt filled me with wrinkles, which is a witneſs againſt me: and my leanneſs riſing up in me, beareth witneſs to my face.

9 He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnaſheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy ſharpeneth his eyes upon me.

10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have ſmitten me upon the cheek reproachfully, they have gathered themſelves together againſt me.

11 God hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.

12 I was at eaſe, but he hath broken me aſunder: he hath alſo taken me by my neck, and ſhaken me to pieces, and ſet me up for his mark.

13 His archers compaſs me round about, he cleaveth my reins aſunder, and doth not ſpare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.

14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach; he runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have ſewed ſackcloth upon my ſkin, and defiled my horn in the duſt.

16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eye-lids is the ſhadow of death;

17 Not for any injuſtice in mine hands: alſo my prayer is pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place!

19 Alſo now, behold, my witneſs is in heaven, and my record is on high.

20 My friends ſcorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

21 O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!

22 When a few years are come, then I ſhall go the way whence I ſhall not return.

CHAP. XVII.

Job appeals from men to God: the unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted may aſtoniſh, but not diſcourage the righteous. Job profeſſes that his hope is not in life, but in death.

MY breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?

3 Lay down now, put me in a ſurety with thee; who is he that will ſtrike hands with me?

4 For thou haſt hid their heart from underſtanding: therefore ſhalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that ſpeaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children ſhall fail.

6 He hath made me alſo a by-word of the people, and aforetime I was as a tabret.

7 Mine eye alſo is dim by reaſon of ſorrow, and all my members are as a ſhadow.

8 Upright men ſhall be aſtoniſhed at this, and the innocent ſhall ſtir up himſelf againſt the hypocrite.

ending as before, with a prayer, that his ſufferings and life might ſoon come to a period; and that God would grant him ſome little reſpite before his departure hence. Heath.

(s) Zophar, highly provoked that Job ſhould dare to call in queſtion a maxim ſo univerſally aſſented to as that urged by his friends, immediately charges him home with ſecret wickedneſs. He tells him he makes not the leaſt doubt, were the real ſtate of his heart laid open, that it would be found God had dealt very gently with him: ver. 2---7. That he was highly blame-worthy to pretend to fathom the depths of Divine Providence, a taſk to which he was utterly unequal. That however his wickedneſs might be concealed from men, yet it was open and bare to God's all-ſeeing eye; could he therefore imagine that God would not puniſh the wickedneſs he ſaw? ver. 7---11. It would ſurely be far more becoming him to ſubmit, and give glory to God, by making an ample confeſſion and full reſtitution: In that caſe indeed, he might hope for a return of God's goodneſs to him; but the way he was in at preſent, was the common road of the wicked, whoſe only hope was annihilation: ver. 12---20. Heath.

9 The righteous alſo ſhall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands ſhall be ſtronger and ſtronger.

10 But as for ye all, do you return, and come now: for I cannot find one wiſe man among you.

11 My days are paſt, my purpoſes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the night into day: the light is ſhort, becauſe of darkneſs.

13 If I wait, the grave is mine houſe: I have made my bed in the darkneſs.

14 I have ſaid to corruption, Thou art my father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my ſiſter.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who ſhall ſee it?

16 They ſhall go down to the bars of the pit, when our reſt together is in the duſt.

CHAP. XVIII.

Bildad accuſes Job of preſumption and impatience: he ſhews that the light of the wicked ſhall be put out; that brimſtone ſhall be ſcattered upon his habitation, and that none of his poſterity ſhall ſurvive.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 How long will it be, ere you make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will ſpeak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beaſts, and reputed vile in your ſight?

4 He teareth himſelf in his anger: ſhall the earth be forſaken for thee? and ſhall the rock be removed out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked ſhall be put out, and the ſpark of his fire ſhall not ſhine.

6 The light ſhall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle ſhall be put out with him.

7 The ſteps of his ſtrength ſhall be ſtraitened, and his own counſel ſhall caſt him down.

8 For he is caſt into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a ſnare.

9 The gin ſhall take him by the heel, and the robber ſhall prevail againſt him.

10 The ſnare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors ſhall make him afraid on every ſide, and ſhall drive him to his feet.

12 His ſtrength ſhall be hunger-bitten, and deſtruction ſhall be ready at his ſide.

13 It ſhall devour the ſtrength of his ſkin: even the firſt-born of death ſhall devour his ſtrength.

14 His confidence ſhall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it ſhall bring him to the king of terrors.

15 It ſhall dwell in his tabernacle, becauſe it is none of his: brimſtone ſhall be ſcattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots ſhall be dried up beneath, and above ſhall his branch be cut off.

17 His remembrance ſhall periſh from the earth, and he ſhall have no name in the ſtreet.

18 He ſhall be driven from light into darkneſs, and chaſed out of the world.

19 He ſhall neither have ſon nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him ſhall be aſtoniſhed at his day, as they that went before were affrighted.

21 Surely ſuch are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

Job complains of his friends cruelty, pathetically laments his ſufferings, and implores their pity: He appeals to God, and expreſſes his faith and hope in a future reſurrection.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 How long will ye vex my ſoul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 Theſe ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not aſhamed that ye make yourſelves ſtrange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine error remaineth with myſelf.

5 If indeed ye will magnify yourſelves againſt me, and plead againſt me my reproach:

6 Know now, that God hath overthrown me, and hath compaſſed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.

8 He hath fenced up my way, that I cannot paſs, and he hath ſet darkneſs in my paths.

(q) In this and the two following chapters Job replies to Zophar. Greatly vexed that his friends ſhould entertain ſo firm an opinion of his being a wicked man; that they ſhould preſs him ſo hard with their maxim, "That affliction was a demonſtration of guilt," and ſhould make a mock of his appeal to God for his being innocent, he can no longer refrain from being very ſharp in his treatment of them. He taxes them with ſelf-conceit; their maxims he treats as mean and poor, the contrary of which was evident to all obſerving perſons; good men were frequently in diſtreſs, while robbers and public plunderers enjoyed their ill-gotten wealth in perfect ſecurity.

(r) Eliphaz, not a little incenſed that Job ſhould pay no regard to his advice, and ſhould dare to challenge the Almighty to argue the point with him, charges him home with ſelf-conceit, in entertaining too high an opinion of his own knowledge; with arrogance, in undervaluing the arguments drawn from their experience, whoſe age was a ſufficient voucher for their wiſdom; and with impiety, in thus rudely challenging the Almighty to anſwer for his conduct in afflicting him, ver. 2—13. He preſſes home the ſame argument upon him a ſecond time; to which, he

9 He hath ſtripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath deſtroyed me on every ſide, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.

11 He hath alſo kindled his wrath againſt me, and he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies.

12 His troops come together, and raiſe up their way againſt me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.

13 He hath put my brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily eſtranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine houſe, and my maids, count me for a ſtranger: I am an alien in their ſight.

16 I called my ſervant, and he gave me no anſwer; I intreated him with my mouth.

17 My breath is ſtrange to my wife, though I intreated for the children's ſake of mine own body.

18 Yea, young children deſpiſed me; I aroſe, and they ſpake againſt me.

19 All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved, are turned againſt me.

20 My bone cleaveth to my ſkin, and to my fleſh, and I am eſcaped with the ſkin of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends; for the hand of God hath touched me!

22 Why do ye perſecute me as God, and are not ſatisfied with my fleſh?

23 Oh that my words were now written! Oh, that they were printed in a book!

24 That they were graven with an iron pen and lead, in the rock for ever!

25 For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he ſhall ſtand at the latter day upon the earth.

26 And though after my ſkin worms deſtroy this body, yet in my fleſh ſhall I ſee God;

27 Whom I ſhall ſee for myſelf, and mine eyes ſhall behold, and not another; though my reins be conſumed within me (t).

28 But ye ſhould ſay, Why perſecute we him, ſeeing the root of the matter is found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the ſword: for wrath bringeth the puniſhments of the ſword, that ye may know there is a judgment.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar ſets forth at large the ſtate and portion of the wicked.

THEN anſwered Zophar the Naamathite, and ſaid,

2 Therefore do my thoughts cauſe me to anſwer, and for this I make haſte.

3 I have heard the check of my reproach, and the ſpirit of my underſtanding cauſeth me to anſwer.

4 Knoweſt thou not this of old, ſince man was placed upon earth,

5 That the triumphing of the wicked is ſhort, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment.

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the clouds.

7 Yet he ſhall periſh for ever, like his own dung: they which have ſeen him ſhall ſay, Where is he?

8 He ſhall fly away as a dream, and ſhall not be found: yea, he ſhall be chaſed away as a viſion of the night.

9 The eye alſo which ſaw him ſhall ſee him no more; neither ſhall his place any more behold him.

10 His children ſhall ſeek to pleaſe the poor, and his hands ſhall reſtore their goods.

11 His bones are full of the ſin of his youth, which ſhall lie down with him in the duſt.

12 Though wickedneſs be ſweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue;

13 Though he ſpare it, and forſake it not; but keep it ſtill within his mouth:

14 Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of aſps within him.

15 He hath ſwallowed down riches, and he ſhall vomit them up again: God ſhall caſt them out of his belly.

he adds that of univerſal tradition; inſinuating, that he had yet worſe to expect, unleſs he prevented it by a contrary conduct: and then preſents him with an image, ſetting forth the final ſtate of a wicked man; in which he ſo works up the circumſtances, as to make it reſemble Job and his condition as much as poſſible; intimating thereby, that he imagined him to be that very wicked man he had been deſcribing, and that he had by that means drawn down God's judgments on himſelf, ver. 14---30. That therefore his imaginations of innocence were an illuſion, but one, however, of the worſt kind: He had deceived himſelf: ver. 31---35. Heath.

(t) Job, above meaſure grieved that his friends ſhould treat him in this cruel manner, expoſtulates very tenderly with them on the ſubject. He tells them he ſhould in the like circumſtances have behaved to them in a very different way: ver. 2---6. But that he plainly ſaw God was pleaſed to add this to the reſt of his calamities; that he ſhould not only be deprived of the comfort and aſſiſtance he might have expected from his friends, but that he ſhould be uſed by them in the moſt relentleſs way: ver. 7---14. That he had voluntarily taken on him all the marks of humility uſed by the guilty, though he was really innocent; that God above knew his innocence, though

16 He ſhall ſuck the poiſon of aſps: the viper's tongue ſhall ſlay him.
17 He ſhall not ſee the rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter.
18 That which he laboured for, ſhall he reſtore, and ſhall not ſwallow it down: according to his ſubſtance ſhall the reſtitution be; and he ſhall not rejoice therein.
19 Becauſe he hath oppreſſed, and hath forſaken the poor; becauſe he hath violently taken away a houſe which he builded not;
20 Surely he ſhall not feel quietneſs in his belly, he ſhall not ſave of that which he deſired.
21 There ſhall none of his meat be left; therefore ſhall no man look for his goods.
22 In the fulneſs of his ſufficiency he ſhall be in ſtraights: every hand of the wicked ſhall come upon him.
23 When he is about to fill his belly, God ſhall caſt the fury of his wrath upon him, and ſhall rain it upon him while he is eating.
24 He ſhall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of ſteel ſhall ſtrike him through.
25 It is drawn, and cometh out of the body; yea, the glittering ſword cometh out of his gall: terrors are upon him.
26 All darkneſs ſhall be hid in his ſecret places: a fire not blown ſhall conſume him; it ſhall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.
27 The heaven ſhall reveal his iniquity; and the earth ſhall riſe up againſt him.
28 The increaſe of his houſe ſhall depart, and his goods ſhall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God.

CHAP. XXI.

Job obſerves, that though ſome lead a proſperous, and others an afflicted life, yet all are cut off alike by death: whence it clearly follows, that the wicked are reſerved to a day of wrath.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid,
2 Hear diligently my ſpeech, and let this be your conſolations.
3 Suffer me that I may ſpeak; and after that I have ſpoken, mock on.
4 As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were ſo, why ſhould not my ſpirit be troubled?
5 Mark me, and be aſtoniſhed, and lay your hand upon your mouth.
6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my fleſh.
7 Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?
8 Their ſeed is eſtabliſhed in their ſight with them, and their offſpring before their eyes.
9 Their houſes are ſafe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.
10 Their bull gendereth, and faileth not; their cow calveth, and caſteth not her calf.
11 They ſend forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.
12 They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the ſound of the organ.
13 They ſpend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.
14 Therefore they ſay unto God, Depart from us; for we deſire not the knowledge of thy ways.
15 What is the Almighty, that we ſhould ſerve him? and what profit ſhould we have if we pray unto him?
16 Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counſel of the wicked is far from me.
17 How oft is the candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their deſtruction upon them? God diſtributeth ſorrows in his anger.
18 They are as ſtubble before the wind, and as chaff that the ſtorm carrieth away.
19 God layeth up his iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he ſhall know it.
20 His eyes ſhall ſee his deſtruction, and he ſhall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what pleaſure hath he in his houſe after him, when the number of his months is cut off in the midſt?
22 Shall any teach God knowledge? ſeeing he judgeth thoſe that are high.

his friends ſo ſlanderouſly traduced him: ver. 15---22. that he was ſenſible he was nigh his diſſolution, otherwiſe he could return them their own with intereſt: ch. xvii. 1---3. that he made no doubt, whenever the cauſe came to a deciſion, the event would prove favourable to him: ver. 4---9. and would they but give themſelves time to reflect, they muſt ſee that he could have no motive to hypocriſy; ſince all his ſchemes and hopes, with regard to life, were at an end; and, as he expected nothing but death, with what view could he play the hypocrite? ver. 10. to the end. Heath.

(t) We are now come to the celebrated text which hath ſo much divided interpreters, and which hath been generally thought to expreſs Job's ſtrong faith in a future reſurrection, and that ſo clearly, that ſome have imagined the paſſage an interpolation, as they conceive the declaration too ſtrong for the time and faith of Job; while others, and thoſe eſpecially who contend for the modern date of this book, give the words a very different explication, and ſuppoſe them to contain nothing more than a ſtrong perſuaſion on Job's part, of a future reſtoration to God's favour, and felicity in this life. Mr. Peters paraphraſes the 25th, 26th, and 27th verſes as follows, "For I know the 23 One dieth in his full ſtrength, being wholly at eaſe and quiet.

24 His breaſts are full of milk, and his bones are moiſtened with marrow.
25 And another dieth in the bitterneſs of his ſoul, and never eateth with pleaſure.
26 They ſhall lie down alike in the duſt, and the worms ſhall cover them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine againſt me.
28 For ye ſay, Where is the houſe of the prince? and where are the dwelling-places of the wicked?
29 Have ye not aſked them that go by the way? and do ye not know their tokens?
30 That the wicked is reſerved to the day of deſtruction; they ſhall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who ſhall declare his way to his face? and who ſhall repay him what he hath done?
32 Yet ſhall he be brought to the grave, and ſhall remain in the tomb.
33 The clods of the valley ſhall be ſweet unto him, and every man ſhall draw after him, as there are innumerable before him.
34 How then comfort ye me in vain, ſeeing in your anſwers there remaineth falſehood?

CHAP. XXII.

Eliphaz aſſerts that Job's juſtification of himſelf doth not pleaſe God, and that he is ſurrounded with ſnares, becauſe he had been guilty of many iniquities. He exhorts him to repentance, with promiſes of mercy.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered and ſaid (u),
2 Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wiſe may be profitable unto himſelf?
3 Is it any pleaſure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makeſt thy ways perfect?
4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?
5 Is not thy wickedneſs great? and thine iniquities infinite?
6 For thou haſt taken a pledge from thy brother for nought, and ſtripped the naked of their cloathing.
7 Thou haſt not given water to the weary to drink, and thou haſt with-holden bread from the hungry.
8 But as for the mighty man, he had the earth; and the honourable man dwelt in it.
9 Thou haſt ſent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherleſs have been broken.
10 Therefore ſnares are round about thee, and ſudden fear troubleth thee;
11 Or darkneſs, that thou canſt not ſee; and abundance of waters cover thee.
12 Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the height of the ſtars, how high they are!
13 And thou ſayeſt, How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?
14 Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he ſeeth not; and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.
15 Haſt thou marked the old way, which wicked men have trodden?
16 Which were cut down out of time, whoſe foundation was overflown with a flood:
17 Which ſaid unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do for them?
18 Yet he filled their houſes with good things: but the counſel of the wicked is far from me.
19 The righteous ſee it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to ſcorn.
20 Whereas our ſubſtance is not cut down, but the remnant of them the fire conſumeth.
21 Acquaint now thyſelf with him, and be at peace: thereby good ſhall come unto thee.
22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.
23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou ſhalt be built up; thou ſhalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.
24 Then ſhalt thou lay up gold as duſt, and the gold of Ophir as the ſtones of the brooks.
25 Yea, the Almighty ſhall be thy defence, and thou ſhalt have plenty of ſilver.
26 For then ſhalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and ſhalt lift up thy face unto God.

the vindicator of my innocence and reputation, which you have thus inhumanly attacked, now liveth, and ſhall live for ever; and that in ſome grand future period he ſhall ariſe to judge the dead; and though after my ſkin, which you ſee ſo miſerably affected, this whole frame ſhall diſſolve, and turn into duſt; yet I believe that I ſhall live again hereafter, as truly and certainly as I do now, and ſhall appear perſonally before my judge; whom I ſhall ſee for myſelf, or in my own cauſe, prepared to do me juſtice; and, conſcious of my innocence, ſhall look up to him with hope and joy? whilſt others, my accuſers, unable to behold him, ſhall look down with ſhame and confuſion." That this muſt be the meaning, ſeems plain; nor can the paſſage well be underſtood of any other than a future judgment: for what other judgment was it that Job's friends wanted to know, or to be put in mind of? Not God's judgment upon ſinners in this life: it was their great error, that they carried this point to an exceſs, and interpreted all the calamities ſent by God in this world, even upon particular perſons, as ſo many judgments: at leaſt they conſidered Job's afflictions in this light. See Bp. Sherlock on Prophecy, p. 225, diſſert. ii.

27 Thou ſhalt make thy prayer unto him, and he ſhall hear thee, and thou ſhalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou ſhalt alſo decree a thing, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed unto thee: and the light ſhall ſhine upon thy ways.

29 When men are caſt down, then thou ſhalt ſay, There is lifting up; and he ſhall ſave the humble perſon.

30 He ſhall deliver the iſland of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureneſs of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

Job wiſhes that he might be allowed to plead his cauſe before God; but wherever he turns himſelf, he cannot find or behold him. He acknowledges, however, that he obſerves his paths, and therefore he doth not deſpond.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid (w),

2 Even to-day is my complaint bitter; my ſtroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his ſeat!

4 I would order my cauſe before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words which he would anſwer me, and underſtand what he would ſay unto me.

6 Will he plead againſt me with his great power? No; but he would put ſtrength in me.

7 There the righteous might diſpute with him; ſo ſhould I be delivered for ever from my judge.

8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himſelf on the right hand, that I cannot ſee him:

10 But he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I ſhall come forth as gold.

11 My foot hath held his ſteps; his way have I kept, and not declined.

12 Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have eſteemed the words of his mouth more than my neceſſary food.

13 But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his ſoul deſireth, even that he doeth.

14 For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many ſuch things are with him.

15 Therefore am I troubled at his preſence: when I conſider, I am afraid of him.

16 For God maketh my heart ſoft, and the Almighty troubleth me:

17 Becauſe I was not cut off before the darkneſs, neither hath he covered the darkneſs from my face.

CHAP. XXIV.

Job affirms that wickedneſs often goes unpuniſhed; but that there is a ſecret judgment remaining for the wicked.

WHY, ſeeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not ſee his days?

2 Some remove the land-marks; they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.

3 They drive away the aſs of the fatherleſs, they take the widow's ox for a pledge.

4 They turn the needy out of the way: the poor of the earth hide themſelves together.

5 Behold, as wild aſſes in the deſart, go they forth to their work, riſing betimes for a prey: the wilderneſs yieldeth food for them and for their children.

6 They reap every one his corn in the field, and they gather the vintage of the wicked.

7 They cauſe the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the ſhowers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a ſhelter.

9 They pluck the fatherleſs from the breaſt, and take a pledge of the poor.

10 They cauſe him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the ſheaf from the hungry;

11 Which make oil within their wall, and tread their wine-preſſes, and ſuffer thirſt.

12 Men groan from out of the city, and the ſoul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.

13 They are of thoſe that rebel againſt the (x) Eliphaz here increaſing in his indignation, charges Job home with particular facts of cruelty and oppreſſion; to which he adds the atrocious crime of atheiſm, and a denial or diſbelief of Providence; and this latter he aſſigns as the reaſon of Job's obſtinacy in refuſing to ſubmit and acknowledge his guilt: ver. 2---14. He compares his wickedneſs to that of the mighty oppreſſors of the antediluvian world; to that of the inhabitants of Sodom, and the cities of the plain; not obſcurely intimating, that his end would probably be the ſame as theirs, unleſs prevented by a ſpeedy ſubmiſſion, and full reſtitution, ver. 15---20. to which he therefore earneſtly preſſes him, and endeavours to allure him by placing full in his view the great advantages he would probably reap from ſuch a conduct, ver. 21. to the end. Heath.

(w) Job, being provoked to an high degree, by the freedom which Eliphaz had taken with him in his laſt ſpeech, charging him directly with the moſt enormous ſins, (ſee the 15th and following verſes) turns to God, according to his cuſtom, and earneſtly begs that he would bring him to his trial; that he would hear the matter fully, and determine light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer, riſing with the light, killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.

15 The eye alſo of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, ſaying, No eye ſhall ſee me; and diſguiſeth his face.

16 In the dark they dig through houſes, which they had marked for themſelves in the daytime: they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them even as the ſhadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the ſhadow of death.

18 He is ſwift as the waters; their portion is curſed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.

19 Drought and heat conſume the ſnow-waters: ſo doth the grave thoſe which have ſinned.

20 The womb ſhall forget him; the worm ſhall feed ſweetly on him; he ſhall be no more remembered; and wickedneſs ſhall be broken as a tree.

21 He evil-intreateth the barren that beareth not: and doeth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth alſo the mighty with his power: he riſeth up, and no man is ſure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in ſafety, whereon he reſteth; yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little while, but are gone and brought low: they are taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

25 And if it be not ſo now, who will make me a liar, and make my ſpeech nothing worth?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad obſerves, that the dominion of God is ſupreme; that his armies are innumerable, and that no man can be juſt, compared with God.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid (x),

2 Dominion and fear are with him; he maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not his light ariſe?

4 How then can man be juſtified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

5 Behold, even to the moon, and it ſhineth not; yea, the ſtars are not pure in his ſight:

6 How much leſs man, that is a worm; and the ſon of man, which is a worm?

CHAP. XXVI.

Job, reproving the uncharitable ſpirit of Bildad, acknowledges the power of God to be infinite and unſearchable.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid (y),

2 How haſt thou helped him that is without power? how ſaveſt thou the arm that hath no ſtrength?

3 How haſt thou counſelled him that hath no wiſdom? and how haſt thou plentifully declared the thing, as it is?

4 To whom haſt thou uttered words? and whoſe ſpirit came from thee?

5 Dead things are formed from under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.

6 Hell is naked before him, and deſtruction hath no covering.

7 He ſtretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds, and the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, and ſpreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath compaſſed the waters with bounds, until the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble, and are aſtoniſhed at his reproof.

12 He divideth the ſea with his power, and by his underſtanding he ſmiteth through the proud.

13 By his ſpirit he hath garniſhed the heavens; his hand hath formed the crooked ſerpent.

14 Lo, theſe are parts of his ways: but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can underſtand?

CHAP. XXVII.

Job proteſteth his ſincerity: the hypocrite is without hope. The bleſſings which the wicked have, are turned into curſes.

MOreover, Job continued his parable, and ſaid,

2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment; and the Almighty, who hath vexed my ſoul;

3 All the while my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God is in my noſtrils;

termine betwixt him and his friends. The paſſage, from this to the end of the 10th verſe, is a very fine one; in which a candid reader can ſee nothing, I ſhould ſuppoſe, but an earneſt deſire in Job to come before his Judge, and take his trial, and be delivered, once for all, from the unjuſt ſuſpicions of his friends.

(x) The laſt weak effort againſt Job is made by Bildad. The three friends, finding themſelves quite baffled in their purpoſe, which was, to make Job confeſs himſelf guilty of ſome enormous crimes, which they raſhly ſuppoſed to have drawn this heavy judgment upon him; inſtead of ingenuouſly owning themſelves in the wrong, which, if one may gueſs from the uſual iſſue of diſputes, is one of the hardeſt things in the world, this grave antagoniſt ſatisfies himſelf with an evaſive anſwer to this purpoſe, namely, that no man, ſtrictly ſpeaking, can be juſtified before God. But though Job very plainly ſhews them the injuſtice and inhumanity of this procedure, nay, though he confutes

4 My lips ſhall not ſpeak wickedneſs, nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I ſhould juſtify you: till I die, I will not remove mine integrity from me.

6 My righteouſneſs I hold faſt, and will not let it go: my heart ſhall not reproach me ſo long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, and he that riſeth up againſt me, as the unrighteous.

8 For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his ſoul?

9 Will God hear his cry, when trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he delight himſelf in the Almighty? will he always call upon God?

11 I will teach you by the hand of God: that which is with the Almighty, will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye yourſelves have ſeen it; why then are ye thus altogether vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppreſſors, which they ſhall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the ſword; and his offſpring ſhall not be ſatisfied with bread.

15 Thoſe that remain of him ſhall be buried in death; and his widows ſhall not weep.

16 Though he heap up ſilver as the duſt, and prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare it, but the juſt ſhall put it on, and the innocent ſhall divide the ſilver.

18 He buildeth his houſe as a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.

19 The rich man ſhall lie down, but he ſhall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 Terrors take hold on him as waters, a tempeſt ſtealeth him away in the night.

21 The eaſt-wind carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a ſtorm hurleth him out of his place.

22 For God ſhall caſt upon him, and not ſpare: he would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Men ſhall clap their hands at him, and ſhall hiſs him out of his place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Job obſerves, that though man can find out the hidden veins of ſilver, gold, iron, and braſs, yet he cannot find out wiſdom: God hath taught him that wiſdom conſiſts in the fear of the Lord.

SURELY there is a vein for the ſilver, and a place for gold, where they find it (z).

2 Iron is taken out of the earth, and braſs is molten out of the ſtone.

3 He ſetteth an end to darkneſs, and ſearcheth out all perfection: the ſtones of darkneſs, and the ſhadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant; even the waters forgotten of the foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.

6 The ſtones of it are the place of ſapphires: and it hath duſt of gold.

7 There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vulture's eye hath not ſeen:

8 The lion's whelps have not trodden it, nor the fierce lion paſſed by it.

9 He putteth forth his hand upon the rock; he overturneth the mountains by the roots.

10 He cutteth out rivers among the rocks; and his eye ſeeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods from overflowing; and the thing that is hid, bringeth he forth to light.

12 But where ſhall wiſdom be found? and where is the place of underſtanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof; neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 The depth ſaith, It is not in me: and the ſea ſaith, It is not with me.

15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither ſhall ſilver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx, or the ſapphire.

17 The gold and the cryſtal cannot equal it; and the exchange of it ſhall not be for jewels of fine gold.

18 No mention ſhall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wiſdom is above rubies.

confutes them ſo far that they had nothing to reply; yet, like modern diſputants, they ſtood out to the laſt, and had not the grace to own their miſtake, till God himſelf was pleaſed to thunder it in their ears. Here, then, we have a lively inſtance of the force of prejudice and prepoſſeſſion.

(y) Job, finding his friends quite driven from their ſtrong hold, and reduced to give up the argument, now begins to triumph, ver. 2, 3, He tells them, if the buſineſs was to celebrate the power and wiſdom of the Almighty, he could produce as many ſhining inſtances of it as they could; but at the ſame time he intimates, that their behaviour was mean, after ſo great a parade of wiſdom as they had exhibited, to ſhelter themſelves at laſt behind the power of God, rather than generouſly give up an argument which they were unable to maintain, and acquit him of a ſuſpicion which they were not capable of ſupporting by a conviction. Heath.

(z) This chapter, as it is one of the moſt beautiful and inſtructive, ſo perhaps we might add, it is the moſt obſcure of this book. The ſubject of it is an enquiry after wiſdom: not the wiſdom of God, meaning the unſearchable depths of his counſels; but wiſdom in general, or rather the wiſdom proper to man: and therefore, in the laſt verſe, 19 The topaz of Ethiopia ſhall not equal it, neither ſhall it be valued with pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh wiſdom? and where is the place of underſtanding?
21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept cloſe from the fowls of the air.
22 Deſtruction and death ſay, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.
23 God underſtandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and ſeeth under the whole heaven;
25 To make the weight for the winds; and he weigheth the waters by meaſure.
26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightening of the thunder:
27 Then did he ſee it, and declare it; he prepared it, yea, and ſearched it out.
28 And unto man he ſaid, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wiſdom; and to depart from evil is underſtanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Job ſets forth, in a pathetic manner, the happineſs of his former proſperous ſtate.

MOreover, Job continued his parable, and ſaid (a),
2 Oh, that I were as in months paſt, as in the days when God preſerved me!
3 When his candle ſhined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darkneſs!
4 As I was in the days of my youth, when the ſecret of God was upon my tabernacle!
5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me!
6 When I waſhed my ſteps with butter, and the rock poured me out rivers of oil!
7 When I went out to the gate through the city, when I prepared my ſeat in the ſtreet!
8 The young men ſaw me, and hid themſelves: and the aged aroſe, and ſtood up.
9 The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.
10 The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.
11 When the ear heard me, then it bleſſed me; and when the eye ſaw me, it gave witneſs to me:
12 Becauſe I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherleſs, and him that had none to help him.
13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſh, came upon me: and I cauſed the widow's heart to ſing for joy.
14 I put on righteouſneſs, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.
15 I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.
16 I was a father to the poor; and the cauſe which I knew not, I ſearched out.
17 And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the ſpoil out of his teeth.
18 Then I ſaid, I ſhall die in my neſt, and I ſhall multiply my days as the ſand.
19 My root was ſpread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.
20 My glory was freſh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.
21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept ſilence at my counſel.
22 After my words they ſpake not again; and my ſpeech dropped upon them.
23 And they waited for me, as for the rain; and they opened their mouth wide, as for the latter rain.
24 If I laughed on them, they believed it not; and the light of my countenance they caſt not down.
25 I choſe out their way, and ſat chief, and dwelt as a king in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Job goes on to lament the change of his former condition, and ſets forth the contempt into which his adverſity had brought him.

BUT now, they that are younger than I, have me in deriſion, whoſe fathers I would have diſdained to have ſet with the dogs of my flock.
2 Yea, whereto might the ſtrength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was periſhed?
3 For want and famine they were ſolitary: fleeing into the wilderneſs in former time deſolate and waſte:
4 Who cut up mallows by the buſhes, and juniper-roots for their meat.
5 They were driven forth from among men; they cried after them, as after a thief;

verſe, as the reſult of the inquiry, we are told what that wiſdom is. The chapter begins with a fine deſcription of the indefatigable induſtry and ardour of mankind, in ſearching after things which contribute either to the uſe or ornament of life; how they dig into the bowels of the earth for metals, gold, ſilver, iron, braſs; and though the great Creator hath ſet a boundary betwixt light and darkneſs, dividing the two hemiſpheres from each other, as by a line or circle; yet the induſtry or avarice of man is without bounds. He ſearcheth into the land of darkneſs itſelf for hidden treaſures. See ver. 3. The Hebrew word mutza, rendered vein, ſignifies properly a going-forth: there is a going-forth for the ſilver; that is, "man hath found where ſilver may be dug out of the earth." See Peters and Houbigant.

(a) Job now goes on to finiſh his defence; and, in order to it, he firſt ſets out his condition, in the time of his proſperity, in the preſent chapter; againſt which he places, by way of contraſt, in the next chapter, his preſent unhappy

6 To dwell in the clefts of the valleys, in caves of the earth, and in the rocks.

7 Among the buſhes they brayed; under the nettles they were gathered together

8 They were children of fools, yea, children of baſe men: they were viler than the earth.

9 And now am I their ſong, yea, I am their by-word.

10 They abhor me; they flee far from me, and ſpare not to ſpit in my face.

11 Becauſe he hath looſed my cord, and afflicted me, they have alſo let looſe the bridle before me.

12 Upon my right hand riſe the youth; they puſh away my feet, and they raiſe up againſt me the ways of their deſtruction.

13 They mar my path, they ſet forward my calamity, they have no helper.

14 They came upon me as a wide breaking-in of waters: in the deſolation they rolled themſelves upon me.

15 Terrors are turned upon me: they purſue my ſoul as the wind, and my welfare paſſeth away as a cloud.

16 And now my ſoul is poured out upon me: the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.

17 My bones are pierced in me in the night-ſeaſon; and my ſinewstake no reſt.

18 By the great force of my diſeaſe, is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19 He hath caſt me into the mire, and I am become like duſt and aſhes.

20 I cry unto thee, and thou doſt not hear me: I ſtand up, and thou regardeſt me not.

21 Thou art become cruel to me: with thy ſtrong hand thou oppoſeſt thyſelf againſt me.

22 Thou lifteſt me up to the wind: thou cauſeſt me to ride upon it, and diſſolveſt my ſubſtance.

23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the houſe appointed for all living.

24 Howbeit, he will not ſtretch out his hand to the grave, though they cry in his deſtruction.

25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble? was not my ſoul grieved for the poor?

26 When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkneſs.

27 My bowels boiled, and reſted not: the days of affliction prevented me.

28 I went mourning without the ſun: I ſtood up, and I cried in the congregation.

29 I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.

30 My ſkin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.

31 My harp alſo is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

Job makes a ſolemn proteſtation of his integrity, and concludes with a prayer, that his defence might be heard and recorded.

I MADE a covenant with mine eyes; why then ſhould I think upon a maid?

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked? and a ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth not he ſee my ways, and count all my ſteps?

5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath haſted to deceit;

6 Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.

7 If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands;

8 Then let me ſow, and let another eat; yea, let my offſpring be rooted out.

9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbour's door;

10 Then let my wife grind unto another, and let others bow down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime; yea, it is an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judges.

12 For it is a fire that conſumeth to deſtruction, and would root out all mine increaſe.

13 If I did deſpiſe the cauſe of my man-ſervant, or of my maid-ſervant, when they contended with me;

14 What then ſhall I do when God riſeth up? and when he viſiteth, what ſhall I anſwer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the womb, make him? and did not one faſhion us in the womb?

16 If I have with-held the poor from their deſire, or have cauſed the eyes of the widow to fail;

17 Or have eaten my morſel myſelf alone, and the fatherleſs hath not eaten thereof;

18 (For from my youth he was brought up unhappy ſituation, deſcribing both with great beauty and elegance. He then proceeds in the 31ſt chapter to purge himſelf of the ſeveral crimes laid to his charge; imprecating on himſelf the Divine Vengeance, in various manners, in caſe he were guilty; and at laſt concludes, ver. 35---37. that this was his plea; on this he would reſt his defence: he was deſirous it might be recorded, and prays that his cauſe might be brought to a deciſion, declaring he was under no manner of apprehenſion of the conſequences.

with me, as with a father, and I have guided her from my mother's womb;)

19 If I have ſeen any periſh for want of clothing, or any poor without covering;

20 If his loins have not bleſſed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my ſheep;

21 If I have lifted up my hand againſt the fatherleſs, when I ſaw my help in the gate:

22 Then let mine arm fall from my ſhoulder-blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.

23 For deſtruction from God was a terror to me, and by reaſon of his highneſs I could not endure.

24 If I have made gold my hope, or have ſaid to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence.

25 If I rejoiced becauſe my wealth was great, and becauſe mine hand had gotten much;

26 If I beheld the ſun when it ſhined, or the moon walking in brightneſs;

27 And my heart hath been ſecretly enticed, or my mouth hath kiſſed my hand:

28 This alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judge: for I ſhould have denied the God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the deſtruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myſelf when evil found him:

30 Neither have I ſuffered my mouth to ſin, by wiſhing a curſe to his ſoul.

31 If the men of my tabernacle ſaid not, Oh, that we had of his fleſh! we cannot be ſatisfied.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreet: but I opened my doors to the traveller.

33 If I covered my tranſgreſſions as Adam, by hiding mine iniquity in my boſom:

34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrify me; that I kept ſilence, and went not out of the door?

35 Oh, that one would hear me! behold, my deſire is that the Almighty would anſwer me, and that mine adverſary had written a book.

36 Surely I would take it upon my ſhoulder, and bind it as a crown to me.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my ſteps; as a prince would I go near unto him.

38 If my land cry againſt me, or that the furrows likewiſe thereof complain;

39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have cauſed the owners thereof to loſe their life:

40 Let thiſtles grow inſtead of wheat, and cockle inſtead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

CHAP. XXXII.

Elihu is angry with Job for juſtifying himſelf; and with his three friends, for not anſwering ſatisfactorily. He apologizes for his youth and zeal to ſpeak.

SO theſe three men ceaſed to anſwer Job, becauſe he was righteous in his own eyes.

2 Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the ſon of Barachel the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram: againſt Job was his wrath kindled, becauſe he juſtified himſelf rather than God (b).

3 Alſo againſt his three friends was his wrath kindled, becauſe they had found no anſwer, and yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had waited till Job had ſpoken, becauſe they were elder than he.

5 When Elihu ſaw that there was no anſwer in the mouth of theſe three men, then his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the ſon of Barachel the Buzite anſwered and ſaid, I am young, and ye are very old; wherefore I was afraid, and durſt not ſhew you mine opinion.

7 I ſaid, Days ſhould ſpeak, and multitude of years ſhould teach wiſdom.

8 But there is a ſpirit in man: and the inſpiration of the Almighty giveth them underſtanding.

9 Great men are not always wiſe: neither do the aged underſtand judgment.

10 Therefore I ſaid, Hearken to me; I alſo will ſhew mine opinion.

11 Behold I waited for your words; I gave ear to your reaſons, whilſt ye ſearched out what to ſay.

12 Yea, I attended unto you: and behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that anſwered his words:

13 Leſt ye ſhould ſay, We have found out wiſdom: God thruſteth him down, not man.

14 Now he hath not directed his words againſt me: neither will I anſwer him with your ſpeeches.

15 They were amazed, they anſwered no more: they left off ſpeaking.

16 When I had waited, (for they ſpake not, but ſtood ſtill, and anſwered no more:)

17 I ſaid, I will anſwer alſo my part, I alſo will ſhew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter; the ſpirit within me conſtraineth me.

(b) Elihu, a new perſonage, here makes his appearance. Attentive all the while to the debate betwixt Job and his friends, he utters not a word till both ſides have done ſpeaking, and then ſhews that a ſtander-by, though of leſs abilities and penetration, may ſometimes ſee further into a diſpute than they who are eagerly engaged therein; and who, by having their paſſions raiſed to an undue height, are very apt to carry things to an extreme. This uſeful moral preſents itſelf to us in the ſtrongeſt light, from the deſcription here given of Elihu, a young man, of little knowledge and experience, in compariſon of the other ſpeakers, famous for wiſdom, and venerable for their

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent; it is ready to burſt like new bottles.
20 I will ſpeak, that I may be refreſhed: I will open my lips, and anſwer.
21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's perſon, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.
22 For I know not to give flattering titles; in ſo doing my Maker would ſoon take me away.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Elihu offereth himſelf in God's ſtead to reaſon with Job, in meekneſs and ſincerity. He excuſeth God from giving man an account of his ways, by his greatneſs; and inciteth Job to attention.

WHerefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my ſpeeches, and hearken unto all my words.
2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath ſpoken in my mouth.
3 My words ſhall be of the uprightneſs of my heart: and my lips ſhall utter knowledge clearly.
4 The ſpirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.
5 If thou canſt anſwer me, ſet thy words in order before me; ſtand up.
6 Behold, I am according to thy wiſh in God's ſtead: I alſo am formed out of the clay.
7 Behold, my terror ſhall not make thee afraid, neither ſhall my hand be heavy upon thee.
8 Surely thou haſt ſpoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, ſaying,
9 I am clean without tranſgreſſion: I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me.
10 Behold he findeth occaſions againſt me, he counteth me for his enemy.
11 He putteth my feet in the ſtocks, he marketh all my paths.
12 Behold, in this thou art not juſt: I will anſwer thee, that God is greater than man.
13 Why doſt thou ſtrive againſt him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.
14 For God ſpeaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not.
15 In a dream, in a viſion of the night, when deep ſleep falleth upon men, in ſlumberings upon the bed:
16 Then he openeth the ears of men, and ſealeth their inſtruction,
17 That he may withdraw man from his purpoſe, and hide pride from man.
18 He keepeth back his ſoul from the pit, and his life from periſhing by the ſword.
19 He is chaſtened alſo with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with ſtrong pain:
20 So that his life abhorreth bread, and his ſoul dainty meat.
21 His fleſh is conſumed away, that it cannot be ſeen; and his bones that were not ſeen, ſtick out.
22 Yea, his ſoul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the deſtroyers.
23 If there be a meſſenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thouſand, to ſhew unto man his uprightneſs;
24 Then he is gracious unto him, and ſaith, Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ranſom.
25 His fleſh ſhall be freſher than a child's: he ſhall return to the days of his youth.
26 He ſhall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him; and he ſhall ſee his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteouſneſs.
27 He looketh upon men, and if any ſay, I have ſinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not;
28 He will deliver his ſoul from going into the pit, and his life ſhall ſee the light.
29 Lo, all theſe things worketh God oftentimes with man,
30 To bring back his ſoul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living.
31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will ſpeak.
32 If thou haſt any thing to ſay, anſwer me: ſpeak; for I deſire to juſtify thee.
33 If not, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I ſhall teach thee wiſdom.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Elihu accuſeth Job of charging God with injuſtice: he avers that the Almighty can never act unjuſtly: that humility and ſubmiſſion were required from men towards ſo great a Being.

FUrthermore Elihu anſwered and ſaid,
2 Hear my words, O ye wiſe men; and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.
3 For the ear trieth words, as the mouth taſteth meat.
4 Let us chooſe to us judgment: let us know among ourſelves what is good.
5 For Job hath ſaid, I am righteous: and God hath taken away my judgment.
6 Should I lie againſt my right? my wound is incurable without tranſgreſſion.
7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up ſcorning like water?
8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men?

years. Elihu is ſaid to be the ſon of Barachel the Buzite, but of the family of Ram: he alſo was deſcended from Nahor (ſee the note on ch. ii. 11.) and taking up his habitation in the country of the Buzites, had from thence his denomination; but is very carefully diſtinguiſhed by the author from the poſterity of Buz, being deſcribed as a deſcendant from Ram or Aram, who was the grandſon of Nahor, by his ſon Kemuel.

9 For he hath ſaid, It profiteth a man nothing, that he ſhould delight himſelf with God.
10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of underſtanding: far be it from God that he ſhould do wickedneſs, and from the Almighty, that he ſhould commit iniquity.
11 For the work of a man ſhall he render unto him, and cauſe every man to find according to his ways.
12 Yea, ſurely, God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.
13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath diſpoſed the whole world?
14 If he ſet his heart upon man, if he gather unto himſelf his ſpirit and his breath;
15 All fleſh ſhall periſh together, and man ſhall turn again unto duſt.
16 If now thou haſt underſtanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.
17 Shall even he that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is moſt juſt?
18 Is it fit to ſay to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?
19 How much leſs to him that accepteth not the perſons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands.
20 In a moment ſhall they die, and the people ſhall be troubled at midnight, and paſs away: and the mighty ſhall be taken away without hand.
21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he ſeeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkneſs, nor ſhadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themſelves.
23 For he will not lay upon man more than right; that he ſhould enter into judgment with God.
24 He ſhall break in pieces mighty men without number, and ſet others in their ſtead.
25 Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, ſo that they are deſtroyed.
26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men, in the open ſight of others:
27 Becauſe they turned back from him, and would not conſider any of his ways:
28 So that they cauſe the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.
29 When he giveth quietneſs, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done againſt a nation, or againſt a man only:
30 That the hypocrite reign not, leſt the people be enſnared.
31 Surely it is meet to be ſaid unto God, I have borne chaſtiſement, I will not offend any more.
32 That which I ſee not, teach thou me: if I have done iniquity, I will do no more.
33 Should it be according to thy mind? he will recompenſe it, whether thou refuſe, or whether thou chooſe; and not I: therefore ſpeak what thou knoweſt.
34 Let men of underſtanding tell me, and let a wiſe man hearken unto me.
35 Job hath ſpoken without knowledge, and his words were without wiſdom.
36 My deſire is that Job may be tried unto the end, becauſe of his anſwers for wicked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion unto his ſin, he clappeth his hands amongſt us, and multiplieth his words againſt God.

CHAP. XXXV.

Compariſon is not to be made with God, becauſe our good or evil cannot extend unto him. Many cry in their afflictions; but are not heard, for want of faith.

ELIHU ſpake moreover, and ſaid,
2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right, that thou ſaidſt, My righteouſneſs is more than God's?
3 For thou ſaidſt, What advantage will it be unto thee? and, What profit ſhall I have, if I be cleanſed from my ſin?
4 I will anſwer thee, and thy companions with thee.
5 Look unto the heavens, and ſee; and behold the clouds, which are higher than thou.
6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou againſt him? or if thy tranſgreſſions be multiplied, what doeſt thou unto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what giveſt thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?
8 Thy wickedneſs may hurt a man as thou art; and thy righteouſneſs may profit the ſon of man.
9 By reaſon of the multitude of oppreſſions, they make the oppreſſed to cry: they cry out by reaſon of the arm of the mighty.
10 But none ſaith, Where is God my maker, who giveth ſongs in the night?
11 Who teacheth us more than the beaſts of the earth, and maketh us wiſer than the fowls of heaven?
12 There they cry, but none giveth anſwer, becauſe of the pride of evil men.
13 Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although thou ſayeſt thou ſhalt not ſee him, yet judgment is before him; therefore truſt thou in him.
15 But now, becauſe it is not ſo, He hath viſited in his anger; yet he knoweth it not in great extremity:
16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain; he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Elihu ſets forth the juſtice of God in all his ways, and extols the greatneſs of his power and providence.

ELIHU alſo proceeded, and ſaid,
2 Suffer me a little, and I will ſhew thee that I have yet to ſpeak on God's behalf.
3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will aſcribe righteouſneſs to my Maker.
4 For truly, my words ſhall not be falſe: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.
5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any: He is mighty in ſtrength and wiſdom.
6 He preſerveth not the life of the wicked; but giveth right to the poor.
7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous; but with kings are they on the throne: yea, he doth eſtabliſh them for ever, and they are exalted.
8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction;
9 Then he ſheweth them their work; and their tranſgreſſions that they have exceeded.
10 He openeth alſo their ear to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.
11 If they obey and ſerve him, they ſhall ſpend their days in proſperity, and their years in pleaſures.
12 But if they obey not, they ſhall periſh by the ſword, and they ſhall die without knowledge.
13 But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath: they cry not when he bindeth them.
14 They die in youth, and their life is among the unclean.
15 He delivereth the poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppreſſion.
16 Even ſo would he have removed thee out of the ſtrait into a broad place, where there is no ſtraitneſs; and that which ſhould be ſet on thy table, ſhould be full of fatneſs.
17 But thou haſt fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: judgment and juſtice take hold on thee.
18 Becauſe there is wrath, beware leſt he take thee away with his ſtroke: then a great ranſom cannot deliver thee.
19 Will he eſteem thy riches? no; not gold, nor all the forces of ſtrength.
20 Deſire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.
21 Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this haſt thou choſen rather than affliction.
22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?
23 Who hath enjoined him his way? or who can ſay, Thou haſt wrought iniquity?
24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.
25 Every man may ſee it; man may behold it afar off.
26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be ſearched out.
27 For he maketh ſmall the drops of water: they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof;
28 Which the clouds do drop, and diſtil upon man abundantly.
29 Alſo, can any underſtand the ſpreadings of the clouds, or the noiſe of his tabernacle?
30 Behold, he ſpreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the ſea.
31 For by them judgeth he the people; he giveth meat in abundance.
32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to ſhine, by the cloud that cometh betwixt.
33 The noiſe thereof ſheweth concerning it; the cattle alſo concerning the vapour.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Elihu goes on to ſet forth the greatneſs and wiſdom of the works of God.

AT this alſo my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.
2 Hear attentively the noiſe of his voice, and the ſound that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightening unto the ends of the earth.
4 After it a voice roareth: he thundereth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not ſtay them when his voice is heard.
5 God thundereth marvellouſly with his voice; great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.
6 For he ſaith to the ſnow, Be thou on the earth; likewiſe to the ſmall rain, and to the great rain of his ſtrength.
7 He ſealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.
8 Then the beaſts go into dens, and remain in their places.
9 Out of the ſouth cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.
10 By the breath of God froſt is given: and the breadth of the waters is ſtraitened.
11 Alſo by watering he wearieth the thick cloud: he ſcattereth his bright cloud.
12 And it is turned round about by his counſels: that they may do whatſoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.
13 He cauſeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.
14 Hearken unto this, O Job: ſtand ſtill, and conſider the wonderous works of God.
15 Doſt thou know when God diſpoſed them, and cauſed the light of his cloud to ſhine?
16 Doſt thou know the balancings of the clouds, clouds, the wonderous works of him which is perfect in knowledge.

17 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the ſouth-wind?

18 Haſt thou with him ſpread out the ſky, which is ſtrong, and as a molten looking-glaſs?

19 Teach us what we ſhall ſay unto him; for we cannot order our ſpeech, by reaſon of darkneſs.

20 Shall it be told him that I ſpeak? if a man ſpeak, ſurely he ſhall be ſwallowed up.

21 And now men ſee not the bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind paſſeth and cleanſeth them.

22 Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majeſty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of juſtice: he will not afflict (c).

24 Men do therefore fear him: he reſpecteth not any that are wiſe of heart.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

The Lord ſpeaks to Job out of a whirlwind, and challenges him to anſwer. He convinces him of ignorance and weakneſs, by an enumeration of ſome of his mighty works.

THEN the Lord anſwered Job out of the whirlwind, and ſaid,

2 Who is this that darkeneth counſel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man; for I will demand of thee, and anſwer thou me.

4 Where waſt thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou haſt underſtanding.

5 Who hath laid the meaſures thereof, if thou knoweſt? or who hath ſtretched the line upon it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof faſtened? or who laid the corner-ſtone thereof;

7 When the morning ſtars ſang together, and all the ſons of God ſhouted for joy?

8 Or who ſhut up the ſea with doors, when it brake forth, as if it had iſſued out of the womb?

9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkneſs a ſwaddling-band for it,

10 And brake up for it my decreed place, and ſet bars, and doors,

11 And ſaid, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no further: and here ſhall thy proud waves be ſtayed.

12 Haſt thou commanded the morning ſince thy days? and cauſed the day-ſpring to know his place;

13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, that the wicked might be ſhaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to the ſeal; and they ſtand as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm ſhall be broken.

16 Haſt thou entered into the ſprings of the ſea? or haſt thou walked in the ſearch of the depth?

17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or haſt thou ſeen the doors of the ſhadow of death?

18 Haſt thou perceived the breadth of the earth? Declare if thou knoweſt it all.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and as for darkneſs, where is the place thereof, 20 That thou ſhouldeſt take it to the bound thereof, and that thou ſhouldeſt know the paths to the houſe thereof?

21 Knoweſt thou it, becauſe thou waſt then born? or becauſe the number of thy days is great?

22 Haſt thou entered into the treaſures of the ſnow? or haſt thou ſeen the treaſures of the hail,

23 Which I have reſerved againſt the time of trouble, againſt the day of battle and war?

24 By what way is the light parted, which ſcattereth the eaſt-wind upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided a water-courſe for the overflowing of waters? or a way for the lightening of thunder,

26 To cauſe it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderneſs, wherein there is no man?

27 To ſatisfy the deſolate and waſte ground, and to cauſe the bud of the tender herb to ſpring forth?

28 Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whoſe womb came the ice? and

(c) Elihu, having ſet forth God's omnipotence in the ſtrongeſt colours he was able, concludes with an obſervation very applicable to the ſubject of diſpute before them; that God and his ways are incomprehenſible by us; that nevertheleſs, as he is infinitely powerful and juſt, we are to conclude that he never ſends affliction without cauſe; and that our duty therefore is to fear him, and to ſubmit implicitly to his will; for that all human wiſdom is nothing in reſpect to the wiſdom of God. As this ſpeaker performs the part of a moderator, he ſeems to have obſerved the errors on both ſides, and to have hit upon the point where the controverſy ought to reſt; namely, the unſearchable depth of the Divine Wiſdom; with a perſuaſion that God, who is acknowledged on all hands to be infinitely powerful and juſt, will certainly find a way to clear up all the irregularities, as they now appear to us, in the methods of his providence, and bring this intricate and perplexed ſcene at laſt to a beautiful and regular cloſe. The great fault of the ſpeech ſeems to be this; that he bears too hard upon Job; and his reproofs, though there were ſome grounds for them, are nevertheleſs too harſh and ſevere. Nay, where he endeavours to repeat what Job had ſaid, the hoary froſt of heaven, who hath gendered it?

he

30 The waters are hid as with a ſtone, and the face of the deep is frozen.
31 Canſt thou bind the ſweet influences of Pleiades, or looſe the bands of Orion?
32 Canſt thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his ſeaſon? or canſt thou guide Arcturus, with his ſons?
33 Knoweſt thou the ordinances of heaven? canſt thou ſet the dominion thereof in the earth?
34 Canſt thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?
35 Canſt thou ſend lightenings, that they may go, and ſay unto thee, Here we are?
36 Who hath put wiſdom in the inward parts? or who hath given underſtanding to the heart?
37 Who can number the clouds in wiſdom? or who can ſtay the bottles of heaven,
38 When the duſt groweth into hardneſs, and the clods cleave faſt together?
39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the young lions,
40 When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert, to lie in wait?
41 Who provideth for the raven his food? when his young ones cry unto God, they wander for lack of meat.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Of the wild goats and hinds; of the wild aſs; the unicorn, the peacock, ſtork, and oſtrich; the horſe, the hawk, and the eagle.

KNoweſt thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? or canſt thou mark when the hinds do calve?
2 Canſt thou number the months that they fulfil? or knoweſt thou the time when they bring forth?
3 They bow themſelves, they bring forth their young ones, they caſt out their ſorrows.
4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with corn; they go forth, and return not unto them.
5 Who hath ſent out the wild aſs free? or who hath looſed the bands of the wild aſs?
6 Whoſe houſe I have made the wilderneſs, and the barren land his dwellings.
7 He ſcorneth the multitude of the city, neither regardeth he the crying of the driver.
8 The range of the mountains is his paſture, and he ſearcheth after every green thing.
9 Will the unicorn be willing to ſerve thee, or abide by thy crib?
10 Canſt thou bind the unicorn with his band in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?
11 Wilt thou truſt him becauſe his ſtrength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?
12 Wilt thou believe him that he will bring home thy ſeed, and gather it into thy barn?
13 Gaveſt thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the oſtrich?
14 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in the duſt,
15 And forgetteth that the foot may cruſh them, or that the wild beaſt may break them.
16 She is hardened againſt her young ones, as though they were not her's: her labour is in vain without fear;
17 Becauſe God hath deprived her of wiſdom, neither hath he imparted to her underſtanding.
18 What time ſhe lifteth up herſelf on high, ſhe ſcorneth the horſe and his rider.
19 Haſt thou given the horſe ſtrength? haſt thou clothed his neck with thunder?
20 Canſt thou make him afraid as a graſshopper? the glory of his noſtrils is terrible.
21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his ſtrength: he goeth on to meet the armed men.
22 He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from the ſword.
23 The quiver rattleth againſt him, the glittering ſpear and the ſhield.
24 He ſwalloweth the ground with fierceneſs and rage: neither believeth he that it is the ſound of the trumpet.
25 He ſaith among the trumpets, Ha, ha! and he ſmelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the ſhouting.
26 Doth the hawk fly by thy wiſdom, and ſtretch her wings toward the ſouth?
27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make her neſt on high?
28 She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, upon the crag of the rock, and the ſtrong place.
29 From thence ſhe ſeeketh the prey, and her eyes behold afar off.
30 Her young ones alſo ſuck up blood: and where the ſlain are, there is ſhe.

he gives it for the moſt part a wrong turn, or ſets it in ſome very diſadvantageous light. The ſilence of this good man therefore, during this long ſpeech of Elihu, may be conſidered as none of the leaſt inſtances of his patience; but as he was convinced that one part of the charge brought againſt him was but too true; namely, that he had been now and then too haſty and intemperate in his expreſſions, he was reſolved not to increaſe the fault by entering anew into the controverſy; but by his ſilence and attention here, and ſuffering his paſſions to ſubſide, he was the better prepared to receive the following ſpeech from Jehovah, with that profound humility, and that abſolute ſubmiſſion which became him.

CHAP. XL.

Job humbleth himſelf before God; who farther challengeth him by a diſplay of the works of his power. A deſcription of the Behemoth.

MOreover, the Lord anſwered Job, and ſaid,
2 Shall he that contendeth with the Almighty, inſtruct him? he that reproveth God, let him anſwer it.
3 Then Job anſwered the Lord, and ſaid,
4 Behold, I am vile; what ſhall I anſwer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.
5 Once have I ſpoken; but I will not anſwer: yea, twice; but I will proceed no further.
6 Then anſwered the Lord unto Job out of the whirlwind, and ſaid,
7 Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
8 Wilt thou alſo diſannul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayeſt be righteous?
9 Haſt thou an arm like God? or canſt thou thunder with a voice like him?
10 Deck thyſelf now with majeſty and excellency, and array thyſelf with glory and beauty.
11 Caſt abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abaſe him.
12 Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low: and tread down the wicked in their place.
13 Hide them in the duſt together, and bind their faces in ſecret.
14 Then will I alſo confeſs unto thee, that thine own right hand can ſave thee.
15 Behold now Behemoth, which I made with thee; he eateth graſs as an ox.
16 Lo now, his ſtrength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.
17 He moveth his tail like a cedar: the ſinews of his ſtones are wrapped together.
18 His bones are as ſtrong pieces of braſs, his bones are like bars of iron.
19 His is the chief of the ways of God: he that made him, can make his ſword to approach unto him.
20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food: where all the beaſts of the field play.
21 He lieth under the ſhady trees, in the covert of the reeds, and fens.
22 The ſhady trees cover him with their ſhadow; the willows of the brook compaſs him about.
23 Behold, he drinketh up a river, and haſteth not: he truſteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.
24 He taketh it with his eyes: his noſe pierceth through ſnares (d).

CHAP. XLI.

God's great power in the Leviathan.

CANST thou draw out Leviathan (e) with an hook? or his tongue with a cord which thou letteſt down?
2 Canſt thou put an hook into his noſe? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?
3 Will he make many ſupplications unto thee? will he ſpeak ſoft words unto thee?
4 Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a ſervant for ever?
5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? ſhall they part him among the merchants?
7 Canſt thou fill his ſkin with barbed irons? or his head with fiſh-ſpears?
8 Lay thine hand upon him; remember the battle; do no more.
9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain: ſhall not one be caſt down even at the ſight of him?
10 None is ſo fierce that dare ſtir him up: who then is able to ſtand before me?
11 Who hath prevented me that I ſhould repay him? whatſoever is under the whole heaven is mine.
12 I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
13 Who can diſcover the face of his garment? or who can come to him with his double bridle?
14 Who can open the doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.

(d) The Hebrew word expreſſes that animal which eminently partakes of the beſtial or bruti ſh nature. Bochart ſeems to have proved to a demonſtration, that the behemoth is the hippopotamos, the ſea, or more properly, the river-horſe. The modern traveller Thevenot, who ſaw one of theſe animals at Cairo, ſays, "This animal was of a tan colour; its hind parts reſemble thoſe of an ox or buffaloe, excepting that its feet were ſhorter and thicker; in ſize it is equal to a camel; its ſnout, or noſe, is like that of an ox, and its body twice as big; its head reſembles that of an horſe, and is of the ſame ſize; its eyes are ſmall; its creſt is very thick; its ears are ſmall; its noſtrils very wide and open; its feet are very thick, pretty large, and have each four toes, like thoſe of a crocodile; its tail is ſmall, without any hair, like that of an elephant; its lower jaw has four large teeth, about half a foot long, two of them crooked, and as thick as the horns of an ox, one of which is on each ſide of the throat; beſides theſe it has two others, which are ſtraight, of the ſame thickneſs as thoſe which are crooked, and project forwards." The river-horſe ſhelters himſelf among the reeds; and the behemoth is ſaid to be in the covert of the reeds and fens, and to be compaſſed about with the willows of the brook. The river-horſe feeds upon the herbage of the Nile; and the behemoth is ſaid to eat graſs as an ox. No creature is known to have ſtronger ribs than the river-horſe; and the bones of the behemoth are as ſtrong pieces of braſs, like bars of iron. See Lowth's notes on his 6th Prelection, 8vo edit.

15 His

15 His ſcales are his pride, ſhut up together as with a cloſe ſeal.

16 One is ſo near to another, that no air can come between them.

17 They are joined one to another, they ſtick together, that they cannot be ſundered.

18 By his ſneezings a light doth ſhine, and his eyes are like the eye-lids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and ſparks of fire leap out (f).

20 Out of his noſtrils goeth ſmoke, as out of a ſeething-pot or cauldron.

21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his neck remaineth ſtrength, and ſorrow is turned into joy before him;

23 The flakes of his fleſh are joined together: they are firm in themſelves; they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is as firm as a ſtone; yea, as hard as a piece of the nether millſtone.

25 When he raiſeth up himſelf, the mighty are afraid: by reaſon of breakings they purify themſelves.

26 The ſword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the ſpear, the dart, nor the habergeon.

27 He eſteemeth iron as ſtraw, and braſs as rotten wood.

28 The arrow cannot make him flee: ſling-ſtones are turned with him into ſtubble.

29 Darts are counted as ſtubble: he laugheth at the ſhaking of a ſpear.

30 Sharp ſtones are under him: he ſpreadeth ſharp-pointed things upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the ſea like a pot of ointment.

32 He maketh a path to ſhine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.

34 He beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

Job humbleth himſelf before God, who accepteth him, and commands his friends to make due ſubmiſſion. He bleſſes the latter end of Job, doubling all his fortunes.

THEN Job anſwered the Lord, and ſaid,

2 I know that thou canſt do every thing, and that no thought can be with-holden from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counſel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I underſtood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beſeech thee, and I will ſpeak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear; but now mine eye ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I abhor myſelf, and repent in duſt and aſhes.

7 And it was ſo, that after the Lord had ſpoken theſe words unto Job, the Lord ſaid to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two friends: for ye have not ſpoken of me the thing that is right, as my ſervant Job hath.

8 Therefore take unto you now ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams, and go to my ſervant Job, and offer up for yourſelves a burnt-offering; and my ſervant Job ſhall pray for you, for him will I accept: leſt I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not ſpoken of me the thing which is right, like my ſervant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord commanded them: The Lord alſo accepted Job.

10 And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: alſo the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before.

11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his ſiſters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houſe: and they bemoaned him,

(e) Leviathan is derived from the Hebrew levi, coupled, and ten, a dragon, i. e. a large ſerpent, or fiſh: as the word tenin is uſed both for a land ſerpent, and a kind of fiſh; ſo that, after comparing what Bochart and others have written on the ſubject, it appears to me, ſays Parkhurſt, that the Hebrew compound leviten, the coupled dragon, denotes ſome animal, partaking of the nature both of land ſerpents and fiſhes, and in this place ſignifies the crocodile, which lives as well under water as on ſhore. See Boch. tom. ii. pag. 769. Who ſeems to have proved by arguments ſtrictly concluſive, that the crocodile muſt be meant in this chapter. I would juſt obſerve, that the word occuring, chap. iii. 8. of this book, Parkhurſt thinks that it contains an alluſion to the puniſhment of ſome kind of criminals, who were caſt to the crocodiles to be devoured by them. Johnſon, in his Natural Hiſtory of Quadrupedes, p. 143, ſays, that among ſome of the Indians theſe animals were formerly kept for this purpoſe.

(f) This is nearer the truth, ſays Dr. Young, than at firſt view may be imagined. The crocodile, according to the naturaliſts, lying long under water, and being there forced to hold its breath; when it emerges, the breath, long repreſſed, is hot, and burſts out ſo violently, that it reſembles fire and ſmoke. The horſe ſuppreſſeth not his breath by any means ſo long; neither is he ſo fierce and animated, yet the moſt correct of poets ventures to uſe the ſame metaphor concerning him. By this I would caution againſt a falſe opinion of the boldneſs of the eaſtern metaphors from paſſages ill underſtood.

and comforted him over all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him: every man alſo gave him a piece of money, and every one an ear-ring of gold.

12 So the Lord bleſſed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thouſand ſheep, and ſix thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhe-aſſes.

13 He had alſo ſeven ſons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the firſt, Jemima; and the name of the ſecond, Kezia; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

15 And in all the land were no women found ſo fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and ſaw his ſons, and his ſons ſons, even four generations.

17 So Job died, being old, and full of days.

The BOOK of PSALMS.

I. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM I.

The happineſs of the godly; the unhappineſs of the ungodly.

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counſel of the ungodly, nor ſtandeth in the way of ſinners, nor ſitteth in the ſeat of the ſcornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he ſhall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his ſeaſon: his leaf alſo ſhall not wither, and whatſoever he doeth ſhall proſper.

4 The ungodly are not ſo; but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly ſhall not ſtand in the judgment, nor ſinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly ſhall periſh.

PSALM II.

The kingdom of Chriſt: kings are exhorted to accept it.

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth ſet themſelves, and the rulers take counſel together againſt the Lord, and againſt his Anointed, ſaying,

3 Let us break their bands aſunder, and caſt away their cords from us.

4 He that ſitteth in the heavens ſhall laugh: the Lord ſhall have them in deriſion.

5 Then ſhall he ſpeak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his ſore diſpleaſure.

6 Yet have I ſet my king upon my holy hill of Zion.

7 I will declare the decree: The Lord hath ſaid unto me, Thou art my ſon; this day have I begotten thee.

8 Aſk of me, and I ſhall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermoſt parts of the earth for thy poſſeſſion.

9 Thou ſhalt break them with a rod of iron; thou ſhalt daſh them in pieces like a potter's veſſel.

10 Be wiſe now therefore, O ye kings: be inſtructed, ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

12 Kiſs the ſon, leſt he be angry, and ye periſh from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little: Bleſſed are all they that put their truſt in him.

PSALM III.

The ſecurity of God's protection.

A Pſalm of David, when he fled from Abſalom his ſon.

LORD, how are they increaſed that trouble me! many are they that riſe up againſt me.

2 Many there be which ſay of my ſoul, There is no help for him in God. Selah.

3 But thou, O Lord, art a ſhield for me; my glory, and the lifter-up of mine head.

PSALMS.] The book of Pſalms is in the original Hebrew intitled Seper télim, i. e. the book of Hymns or Praiſes; becauſe, though it likewiſe contains prayers, complaints, hiſtories and deſcriptions, yet the principal part is taken up with the praiſes of God. The Greeks call them Pſalms, which word ſignifies properly compoſitions ſet or ſung to muſic. The far greateſt part of the Pſalms were compoſed by David, and the reſt by ſeveral other inſpired authors; which were added to thoſe of David, when, according to the Jewiſh tradition, they were all collected together in one volume by Ezra, after the return of the Jews from the Babyloniſh captivity, and placed among the canonical books. The Pſalms are all written in a poetical ſtyle, though perhaps it is impoſſible to tell of what particular kind the poetry of the Hebrews was. The Pſalms however abound with ſublime and figurative expreſſions, ſufficient to denominate them truly poetical. As the ſtyle of them is noble, ſo is it proper to raiſe the no-

4 I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

5 I laid me down and ſlept; I awaked, for the Lord ſuſtained me.

6 I will not be afraid of ten thouſands of people, that have ſet themſelves againſt me round about.

7 Ariſe, O Lord, ſave me, O my God; for thou haſt ſmitten all mine enemies upon the cheek-bone: thou haſt broken the teeth of the ungodly.

8 Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy bleſſing is upon thy people. Selah.

PSALM IV.

David prayeth for audience. He reproveth and exhorteth his enemies. Man's happineſs is in God's favour.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth (g), A Pſalm of David.

HEAR me when I call, O God of my righteouſneſs: thou haſt enlarged me when I was in diſtreſs; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

2 O ye ſons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into ſhame? how long will ye love vanity, and ſeek after leaſing? Selah.

3 But know, that the Lord hath ſet apart him that is godly for himſelf: the Lord will hear when I call unto him.

4 Stand in awe, and ſin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be ſtill. Selah.

5 Offer the ſacrifices of righteouſneſs, and put your truſt in the Lord.

6 There be many that ſay, Who will ſhew us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us (h).

7 Thou haſt put gladneſs in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increaſed.

8 I will both lay me down in peace, and ſleep: for thou, Lord, only makeſt me dwell in ſafety.

PSALM V.

David, profeſſing his faith, prayeth unto God to guide him, to deſtroy his enemies, and to preſerve the godly.

To the chief muſician upon Nehiloth, A Pſalm of David.

GIVE ear to my words, O Lord, conſider my meditation.

2 Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

3 My voice ſhalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

4 For thou art not a God that hath pleaſure in wickedneſs; neither ſhall evil dwell with thee.

5 The fooliſh ſhall not ſtand in thy ſight: thou hateſt all workers of iniquity.

6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeak leaſing: the Lord will abhor the bloody and deceitful man.

7 But as for me, I will come into thy houſe in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worſhip toward thy holy temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteouſneſs, becauſe of mine enemies; make thy way ſtraight before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulneſs in their mouth; their inward part is very wickedneſs; their throat is an open ſepulchre; they flatter with their tongue.

10 Deſtroy thou them, O God; let them fall by their own counſels: caſt them out in the multitude of their tranſgreſſions; for they have rebelled againſt thee.

11 But let all thoſe that put their truſt in thee, rejoice: let them ever ſhout for joy; becauſe thou defendeſt them: let them alſo that love thy name be joyful in thee.

12 For thou, Lord, wilt bleſs the righteous; with favour wilt thou compaſs him, as with a ſhield.

I. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM VI.

David's complaint in his ſickneſs: by faith he triumphs over his enemies.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth upon Sheminith, A Pſalm of David.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chaſten me in thy hot diſpleaſure.

2 Have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am weak: O Lord, heal me; for my bones are vexed.

3 My ſoul is alſo ſore vexed: but thou, O Lord, how long?

4 Return, O Lord, deliver my ſoul: Oh, ſave me for thy mercies ſake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who ſhall give thee thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning: all the night make I my bed to ſwim: I water my couch with my tears.

bleſt thoughts in the minds of men; on which account this book has been always held in the greateſt veneration; inſomuch that in the earlier ages, the biſhops, prieſts, and all the religious, were expected to have it by heart. Melanchton ſays of it, that it is the moſt elegant work extant in the world; and St. Baſil tells us that in it may be found a complete body of divinity. Hence the number of commentaries upon it are almoſt endleſs; above ſix hundred are enumerated, excluſive of thoſe which have been written on the whole body of the Scriptures, and on particular Pſalms; and no wonder, when we conſider that there is ſuch an uſeful variety in this book, as may by an eaſy accommodation be made to ſerve every one of our occaſions. The verſion before us is poſterior to that in the liturgy, and far more cloſely tranſlated from the Hebrew; that being principally taken from the LXX.

7 Mine

7 Mine eye is conſumed becauſe of grief; it waxeth old becauſe of all mine enemies.

8 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my ſupplication; the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 Let all mine enemies be aſhamed and ſore vexed: let them return and be aſhamed ſuddenly.

PSALM VII.

David prayeth againſt the malice of his enemies, profeſſing his innocency. By faith he ſeeth his defence, and their deſtruction.

Shiggaion of David, which he ſang unto the Lord, concerning the words of Cuſh the Benjamite.

O Lord my God, in thee do I put my truſt: ſave me from all them that perſecute me, and deliver me.

2 Leſt he tear my ſoul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

3 O Lord my God, if I have done this; if there be iniquity in my hands:

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me: (yea, I have delivered him that without cauſe is mine enemy:)

5 Let the enemy perſecute my ſoul, and take it; yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the duſt. Selah.

6 Ariſe, O Lord, in thine anger, lift up thyſelf, becauſe of the rage of mine enemies; and awake for me to the judgment that thou haſt commanded.

7 So ſhall the congregation of the people compaſs thee about: for their ſakes therefore return thou on high.

8 The Lord ſhall judge the people: judge me, O Lord, according to my righteouſneſs, and according to mine integrity that is in me.

9 Oh, let the wickedneſs of the wicked come to an end; but eſtabliſh the juſt: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defence is of God, which ſaveth the upright in heart.

11 God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day.

12 If he turn not, he will wet his ſword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath alſo prepared for him the inſtruments of death; he ordaineth his arrows againſt the perſecutors.

14 Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived miſchief, and brought forth falſhood.

15 He hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His miſchief ſhall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing ſhall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will praiſe the Lord according to his righteouſneſs: and will ſing praiſe to the name of the Lord moſt high.

PSALM VIII.

God's glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man.

To the chief muſician upon Gittith,
A Pſalm of David.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who haſt ſet thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and ſucklings haſt thou ordained ſtrength, becauſe of thine enemies, that thou mighteſt ſtill the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I conſider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers; the moon and the ſtars which thou haſt ordained;

4 What is man that thou art mindful of him? and the ſon of man that thou viſiteſt him?

5 For thou haſt made him a little lower than the angels, and haſt crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madeſt him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou haſt put all things under his feet:

7 All ſheep and oxen, yea, and the beaſts of the field;

8 The fowl of the air, and the fiſh of the ſea, and whatſoever paſſeth thro' the paths of the ſea.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

II. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM IX.

David praiſeth God for executing of Judgment: he inciteth others to praiſe him: he prayeth that he may have cauſe to praiſe him.

To the chief muſician upon Muth-labben,
A Pſalm of David.

I Will praiſe thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will ſhew forth all thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will ſing praiſe to thy name, O thou moſt High.

(g) Concerning the authenticity of theſe titles in general, there is great doubt amongſt commentators. It is the opinion of the very learned Biſhop of Meaux, that they were both given and preſerved by divine interpoſition, that their arguments and the writers of them might be known: Nor can there be any reaſon for expunging them, ſince they are found in the text and all the verſions, and have been thought worthy of explanation by Jewiſh as well as Chriſtian commentators. 'Tis true, there are many who take theſe titles in different ſenſes; but I cannot find one ancient interpreter who doubts of their authority; whence we conclude, ſays he, that though the titles as well as the other texts may have different interpretations as well as various readings, yet that thoſe which are agreed to have

3 When mine enemies are turned back, they ſhall fall and periſh at thy preſence.

4 For thou haſt maintained my right and my cauſe; thou ſatteſt in the throne judging right.

5 Thou haſt rebuked the heathen, thou haſt deſtroyed the wicked, thou haſt put out their name for ever and ever.

6 O thou enemy, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou haſt deſtroyed cities; their memorial is periſhed with them.

7 But the Lord ſhall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

8 And he ſhall judge the world in righteouſneſs, he ſhall miniſter judgment to the people in uprightneſs.

9 The Lord alſo will be a refuge for the oppreſſed, a refuge in times of trouble.

10 And they that know thy name will put their truſt in thee: for thou, Lord, haſt not forſaken them that ſeek thee.

11 Sing praiſes to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.

12 When he maketh inquiſition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.

13 Have mercy upon me, O Lord; conſider my trouble which I ſuffer of them that hate me, thou that lifteſt me up from the gates of death:

14 That I may ſhew forth all thy praiſe in the gates of the daughter of Zion: I will rejoice in thy ſalvation.

15 The heathen are ſunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid, is their own foot taken.

16 The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is ſnared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion; Selah.

17 The wicked ſhall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.

18 For the needy ſhall not always be forgotten: the expectation of the poor ſhall not periſh for ever.

19 Ariſe, O Lord! let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy ſight.

20 Put them in fear, O Lord: that the nations may know themſelves to be but men. Selah.

PSALM X.

The Pſalmiſt prayeth to God for remedy againſt the outrage of the wicked: he profeſſeth his confidence.

WHY ſtandeſt thou afar off, O Lord? why hideſt thou thyſelf in times of trouble?

2 The wicked in his pride doth perſecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.

3 For the wicked boaſteth of his heart's deſire, and bleſſeth the covetous, whom the Lord abhorreth.

4 The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not ſeek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.

5 His ways are always grievous; thy judgments are far above out of his ſight: as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them.

6 He hath ſaid in his heart, I ſhall not be moved: for I ſhall never be in adverſity.

7 His mouth is full of curſing and deceit, and fraud: under his tongue is miſchief and vanity.

8 He ſitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the ſecret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily ſet againſt the poor.

9 He lieth in wait ſecretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth, and humbleth himſelf, that the poor may fall by his ſtrong ones.

11 He hath ſaid in his heart, God hath forgotten: he hideth his face; he will never ſee it.

12 Ariſe, O Lord; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath ſaid in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.

14 Thou haſt ſeen it, for thou beholdeſt miſchief and ſpite to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth himſelf unto thee; thou art the helper of the fatherleſs.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man: ſeek out his wickedneſs till thou find none.

16 The Lord is King for ever and ever: the heathen are periſhed out of his land.

17 Lord, thou haſt heard the deſire of the been in the original books, were never called in queſtion by any divine of antiquity." The moſt ſatisfactory account of them extant, that we know of, is Calmet's Diſſertation upon the Hebrew Inſtruments of Muſic, and the Univ. Hiſt. vol. iii. p. 194. We obſerve, that the chief muſician mentioned in the title of Pſalm IV. is generally ſuppoſed to have been the preceptor or chief finger in the temple worſhip; and that Neginoth conſequently implies the ſtringed inſtruments to which the pſalm was to be ſung. Fenwick, however, who conceives that all the pſalms immediately refer to Chriſt, has endeavoured to prove at large, that the words would be more properly rendered, To him who giveth the victory, or cauſeth us to triumph in tribulations.

(b) For the underſtanding of this and ſeveral other paſſages in the Pſalms, it muſt be remembered, that when Moſes had prepared the ark, in which he depoſited the tables of the covenant, the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle; and after this, wherever the ark reſided, God always manifeſted his peculiar preſence amongſt his people, by a glorious viſible appearance upon the mercy-ſeat; and this continued as long as Solomon's temple laſted. It is this which is always alluded to where mention is made in the Pſalms of the light of God's countenance, or his making humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cauſe thine ear to hear:

18 To judge the fatherleſs and the oppreſſed, that the man of the earth may no more oppreſs.

PSALM XI.

David encourageth himſelf in God againſt his enemies. The providence and juſtice of God.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

IN the Lord put I my truſt: how ſay ye to my ſoul, Flee ye as a bird to your mountain?

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the ſtring: that they may privily ſhoot at the upright in heart.

3 If the foundations be deſtroyed, what can the righteous do?

4 The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven: his eyes behold, his eyelids try the children of men.

5 The Lord trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence, his ſoul hateth.

6 Upon the wicked he ſhall rain ſnares, fire and brimſtone, and an horrible tempeſt: this ſhall be the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loveth righteouſneſs; his countenance doth behold the upright.

II. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XII.

David, deſtitute of human comfort, craveth help of God: he comforteth himſelf with God's judgments on the wicked, and confidence in God's tried promiſes.

To the chief muſician upon Sheminith, A Pſalm of David.

HELP, Lord; for the godly man ceaſeth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

2 They ſpeak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips, and with a double heart, do they ſpeak.

3 The Lord ſhall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that ſpeaketh proud things:

4 Who have ſaid, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

5 For the oppreſſion of the poor, for the ſighing of the needy, now will I ariſe, ſaith the Lord; I will ſet him in ſafety from him that puffeth at him.

6 The words of the Lord are pure words: as ſilver tried in a furnace of earth, purified ſeven times.

7 Thou ſhalt keep them, O Lord, thou ſhalt preſerve them from this generation for ever.

8 The wicked walk on every ſide, when the vileſt men are exalted.

PSALM XIII.

David complaineth of delay in help: he prayeth for preventing grace: he boaſteth of Divine mercy.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

HOW long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long ſhall I take counſel in my ſoul, having ſorrow in my heart daily? how long ſhall mine enemy be exalted over me?

3 Conſider and hear me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, leſt I ſleep the ſleep of death;

4 Leſt mine enemy ſay, I have prevailed againſt him; and thoſe that trouble me, rejoice when I am moved.

5 But I have truſted in thy mercy, my heart ſhall rejoice in thy ſalvation.

6 I will ſing unto the Lord, becauſe he hath dealt bountifully with me.

PSALM XIV.

David deſcribeth the corruption of a natural man: he convinceth the wicked by the light of their conſcience: he glorieth in the ſalvation of God.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE fool (i) hath ſaid in his heart, There is no God: they are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to ſee if there were any that did underſtand, and ſeek God.

3 They are all gone aſide, they are all together become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the Lord.

5 There were they in great fear: for God is in the generation of the righteous.

6 Ye have ſhamed the counſel of the poor, becauſe the Lord is his refuge.

7 Oh, that the ſalvation of Iſrael were come

ing his face to ſhine. Now as this was a ſtanding miraculous teſtimony of God's peculiar Providence over the Jews; hence thoſe expreſſions of his making his face to ſhine, his lifting up the light of his countenance, and the like, did in common uſe ſignify his being gracious unto them, and taking them under his immediate protection. They are uſed in this ſenſe, Numb. vi. 24. In like manner the hiding of God's face, meant the withdrawing of his favour and protection from them.

(i) By the fool is here meant the pagan: It is thus that Job, ch. xiii. 8. calls the heatheniſh Cutheans, children of fools; that is, of Gentile extraction. In eminent calamity it was in the early ages a pagan practice, not only to call in queſtion the exiſtence of their deities, but likewiſe to proſecute them with the moſt dreadful curſes and impreout of Zion! when the Lord bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob ſhall rejoice, and Iſrael ſhall be glad.

III. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XV.

David deſcribeth a citizen of Zion.

A Pſalm of David.

LORD, who ſhall abide in thy tabernacle? who ſhall dwell in thy holy hill?

2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteouſneſs, and ſpeaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach againſt his neighbour.

4 In whoſe eyes a vile perſon is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord: he that ſweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.

5 He that putteth not out his money to uſury, nor taketh reward againſt the innocent. He that doeth theſe things, ſhall never be moved.

PSALM XVI.

David, in diſtruſt of merit, and hatred of idolatry, fleeth to God for preſervation: he ſheweth the hope of his calling, of the reſurrection, and life everlaſting.

Michtam of David.

PReſerve me, O God: for in thee do I put my truſt.

2 O my ſoul, thou haſt ſaid unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my goodneſs extendeth not to thee:

3 But to the ſaints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight.

4 Their ſorrows ſhall be multiplied, that haſten after another god: their drink-offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot.

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleaſant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

7 I will bleſs the Lord, who hath given me counſel: my reins alſo inſtruct me in the night-ſeaſons.

8 I have ſet the Lord always before me: becauſe he is at my right hand, I ſhall not be moved.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my fleſh alſo ſhall reſt in hope.

10 For thou wilt not leave my ſoul in hell; neither wilt thou ſuffer thine Holy One to ſee corruption.

11 Thou wilt ſhew me the path of life: in thy preſence is fulneſs of joy, at thy right hand there are pleaſures for evermore.

PSALM XVII.

David, in confidence of his hope and integrity, craveth defence of God againſt his enemies: he ſheweth their pride, craft, and eagerneſs.

A Prayer of David.

HEAR the right, O Lord; attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.

2 Let my ſentence come forth from thy preſence; let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.

3 Thou haſt proved mine heart, thou haſt viſited me in the night; thou haſt tried me, and ſhalt find nothing; I am purpoſed that my mouth ſhall not tranſgreſs.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips, I have kept me from the paths of the deſtroyer.

5 Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footſteps ſlip not.

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my ſpeech.

7 Shew thy marvellous loving kindneſs, O thou, that ſaveſt by thy right hand them which put their truſt in thee, from thoſe that riſe up againſt them.

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye: hide me under the ſhadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppreſs me, from my deadly enemies, who compaſs me about.

10 They are incloſed in their own fat: with their mouth they ſpeak proudly.

11 They have now compaſſed us in our ſteps: they have ſet their eyes bowing down to the earth;

12 Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion lurking in ſecret places.

13 Ariſe, O Lord, diſappoint him, caſt him imprecations. The Jews, fond of imbibing the cuſtoms of their pagan neighbours, ſeem to have enfranchiſed this amongſt others. In the ſimplicity of early ages, when men were at their eaſe, that general opinion, ſo congenial to the human mind, of a God, and his moral government, was ſo ſtrong, as never to be brought into queſtion. It was when they found themſelves in diſtreſs and miſery, whether in public or private life, that they began to complain, to queſtion the juſtice, or deny the exiſtence of Providence. The reaſon for which conduct was this: In the ancient world the belief of a moral providence was amongſt their moſt inconteſted principles; but concerning the nature and extent of this providence, they had indeed very inadequate conceptions, being miſled by the extraordinary manner in which the firſt exertions of it were manifeſted, to expect more inſtant and immediate protection than the nature of the diſpenſation afforded; ſo that theſe men being in their own opinion the moſt worthy objects of the concern of Providence, whenever they became preſſed by civil or domeſtic diſtreſſes, ſuppoſed all to be loſt, and the world without a governor.

down: deliver my ſoul from the wicked, which is thy ſword:

14 From men which are thy hand, O Lord, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whoſe belly thou filleſt with thy hid treaſure: they are full of children, and leave the reſt of their ſubſtance to their babes.

15 As for me, I will behold thy face in righteouſneſs: I ſhall be ſatisfied, when I awake, with thy likeneſs.

III. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XVIII.

David praiſeth God for his manifold and marvellous bleſſings.

To the chief muſician, A pſalm of David, the ſervant of the Lord, who ſpake unto the Lord the words of this ſong, in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: And he ſaid,

I Will love thee, O Lord, my ſtrength.

2 The Lord is my rock, and my fortreſs, and my deliverer; my God, my ſtrength, in whom I will truſt; my buckler, and the horn of my ſalvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praiſed: ſo ſhall I be ſaved from mine enemies.

4 The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The ſorrows of hell compaſſed me about: the ſnares of death prevented me.

6 In my diſtreſs I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth ſhook and trembled; the foundations alſo of the hills moved, and were ſhaken, becauſe he was wroth (k).

8 There went up a ſmoke out of his noſtrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens alſo, and came down: and darkneſs was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkneſs his ſecret place; his pavillion round about him were dark waters; and thick clouds of the ſkies.

12 At the brightneſs that was before him, his thick clouds paſſed; hail-ſtones and coals of fire.

13 The Lord alſo thundered in the heavens, and the Higheſt gave his voice; hail-ſtones and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he ſent out his arrows, and ſcattered them; and he ſhot out lightnings, and diſcomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were ſeen, and the foundations of the world were diſcovered, at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blaſt of the breath of thy noſtrils (l).

16 He ſent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

17 He delivered me from my ſtrong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my ſtay.

19 He brought me forth alſo into a large place; he delivered me, becauſe he delighted in me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteouſneſs; according to the cleanneſs of my hands hath he recompenſed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his ſtatutes from me.

23 I was alſo upright before him, and I kept myſelf from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the Lord recompenſed me according to my righteouſneſs, according to the cleanneſs of my hands in his eye-ſight.

25 With the merciful thou wilt ſhew thyſelf merciful; with an upright man thou wilt ſhew thyſelf upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt ſhew thyſelf pure; and with the froward thou wilt ſhew thyſelf froward.

27 For thou wilt ſave the afflicted people; but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will enlighten my darkneſs.

29 For by thee I have run through a troop; and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all thoſe that truſt in him.

31 For who is God, ſave the Lord? or who is a Rock, ſave our God?

(k) In this, and the eight following verſes, David deſcribes, by the ſublimeſt expreſſions and the grandeſt terms, the Majeſty of God, and the awful manner in which He came to his aſſiſtance. The repreſentation of the ſtorm in theſe verſes, muſt be allowed by all ſkilful and impartial judges, to be truly ſublime and noble, and in the genuine ſpirit of poetry. The ſhaking of the earth, the trembling of the mountains and pillars of heaven; the ſmoke that drove out of his noſtrils; the flames of devouring fire that flaſhed from his mouth; the heavens bending down to convey him to the battle; his riding upon a cherub, and rapidly flying on the wings of a whirlwind; his concealing his Majeſty in the thick clouds of heaven; the burſting of the lightnings from the horrid darkneſs; the uttering his 32 It is God that girdeth me with ſtrength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hind's feet, and ſetteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, ſo that a bow of ſteel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou haſt alſo given me the ſhield of thy ſalvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleneſs hath made me great.

36 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteps under me; that my feet did not ſlip.

37 I have purſued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were conſumed.

38 I have wounded them, that they were not able to riſe: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength unto battle: thou haſt ſubdued under me thoſe that roſe up againſt me.

40 Thou haſt alſo given me the necks of mine enemies; that I might deſtroy them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to ſave them: even unto the Lord, but he anſwered them not.

42 Then did I beat them ſmall as the duſt before the wind: I did caſt them out as the dirt in the ſtreets.

43 Thou haſt delivered me from the ſtrivings of the people; and thou haſt made me the head of the heathen: a people whom I have not known ſhall ſerve me.

44 As ſoon as they hear of me, they ſhall obey me: the ſtrangers ſhall ſubmit themſelves unto me.

45 The ſtrangers ſhall fade away, and be afraid out of their cloſe places.

46 The Lord liveth, and bleſſed be my rock; and let the God of my ſalvation be exalted.

47 It is God that avengeth me, and ſubdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea, thou lifteſt me up above thoſe that riſe up againſt me: thou haſt delivered me from the violent man.

49 Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the heathen: and ſing praiſes unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king; and ſheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his ſeed for evermore.

IV. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XIX.

The creatures ſhew God's glory; the word, his grace. David prayeth for grace.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament ſheweth his handy-work.

2 Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night ſheweth knowledge.

3 There is no ſpeech nor language where their voice is not heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he ſet a tabernacle for the ſun;

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a ſtrong man to run a race.

6 His going-forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it; and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul: the teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, making wiſe the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9 The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

10 More to be deſired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: ſweeter alſo than honey, and the honey-comb.

11 Moreover, by them is thy ſervant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can underſtand his errors? cleanſe thou me from ſecret faults.

13 Keep back thy ſervant alſo from preſumptuous ſins; let them not have dominion over me: then ſhall I be upright, and I ſhall be innocent from the great tranſgreſſion.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy ſight, O Lord, my ſtrength and my redeemer.

PSALM XX.

The church bleſſeth the king in his exploits: her confidence in God's ſuccour.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE Lord hear thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob defend thee:

his voice in peals of thunder; the ſtorm of fiery hail; the melting of the heavens, and their diſſolving into floods of tempeſtuous rains; the cleaving of the earth, and diſcloſing the bottom of the hills, and the ſubterraneous channels, or torrents of water, by the very breath of the noſtrils of the Almighty;----are all of them circumſtances which create admiration, excite a kind of horror, and exceed every thing of this nature that is to be found in any of the remains of heathen antiquity. It is undoubted, that this ſtorm is repreſented as real, though David in deſcribing it hath heightened and embelliſhed it with all the ornaments of poetry. See Chandler, Delaney, and Lowth's 9th Prelection.

2 Send thee help from the ſanctuary, and ſtrengthen thee out of Zion:
3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt-ſacrifice: Selah.
4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counſel.
5 We will rejoice in thy ſalvation, and in the name of our God we will ſet up our banners: the Lord fulfil all thy petitions.
6 Now know I, that the Lord ſaveth his anointed: he will hear him from his holy heaven, with the ſaving ſtrength of his right hand.
7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.
8 They are brought down and fallen; but we are riſen, and ſtand upright.
9 Save, Lord: let the King hear us when we call.

PSALM XXI.

A thankſgiving for victory. Confidence of further ſucceſs.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE King ſhall joy in thy ſtrength, O Lord; and in thy ſalvation how greatly ſhall he rejoice!
2 Thou haſt given him his heart's deſire, and haſt not with-holden the requeſt of his lips. Selah.
3 For thou preventeſt him with the bleſſings of goodneſs: thou ſetteſt a crown of pure gold on his head.
4 He aſked life of thee, and thou gaveſt it him, even length of days for ever and ever.
5 His glory is great in thy ſalvation: honour and majeſty haſt thou laid upon him.
6 For thou haſt made him moſt bleſſed for ever: thou haſt made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.
7 For the king truſteth in the Lord, and through the mercy of the moſt High, he ſhall not be moved.
8 Thine hand ſhall find out all thine enemies; thy right hand ſhall find out thoſe that hate thee.
9 Thou ſhalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the Lord ſhall ſwallow them up in his wrath, and the fire ſhall devour them.
10 Their fruit ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſeed from among the children of men.
11 For they intended evil againſt thee: they imagined a miſchievous device, which they are not able to perform.
12 Therefore ſhalt thou make them turn their back, when thou ſhalt make ready thine arrows upon thy ſtrings, againſt the face of them.
13 Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own ſtrength: ſo will we ſing, and praiſe thy power.

IV. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XXII.

David complaineth in great diſcouragement: he prayeth in great diſtreſs: he praiſeth God.

To the chief muſician upon Aijeleth Shahar, A Pſalm of David.

MY God, my God! why haſt thou forſaken me, why art thou ſo far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?
2 O my God! I cry in the day-time, but thou heareſt not; and in the night-ſeaſon, and am not ſilent.
3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabiteſt the praiſes of Iſrael.
4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou didſt deliver them.
5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they truſted in thee, and were not confounded.
6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and deſpiſed of the people.
7 All they that ſee me, laugh me to ſcorn: they ſhoot out the lip, they ſhake the head, ſaying,
8 He truſted on the Lord, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, ſeeing he delighted in him.
9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou did make me hope, when I was upon my mother's breaſts.
10 I was caſt upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.
11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near; for there is none to help.
12 Many bulls have compaſſed me: ſtrong bulls of Baſhan have beſet me round.
13 They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.
14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midſt of my bowels.
15 My ſtrength is dried up like a pot-ſherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws: and thou haſt brought me into the duſt of death.
16 For dogs have compaſſed me: the aſſem-

(l) This is a deſcription of the effects of the earthquake, by which the earth was riven or rent in ſunder, and ſuch clefts made in it, that the ſubterraneous paſſages of the waters were diſcovered, by the eruption of vaſt quantities of water proceeding from the breaches of it, as have frequently been the effects of violent earthquakes. In that great one which happened at Jamaica in the year 1692, in ſome places iſſued forth out of the clefts whole rivers of water, ſpouting up a great height into the air, which ſeemed to threaten a deluge even twelve miles from the ſea; in others there were formed new lakes of water covering a thouſand acres. Many other inſtances of the like bly of the wicked have incloſed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and ſtare upon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and caſt lots upon my veſture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O Lord; O my ſtrength, haſte thee to help me.

20 Deliver my ſoul from the ſword: my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou haſt heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren; in the midſt of the congregation will I praiſe thee.

23 Ye that fear the Lord, praiſe him; all ye the ſeed of Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the ſeed of Iſrael.

24 For he hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted: neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard.

25 My praiſe ſhall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

26 The meek ſhall eat and be ſatisfied: they ſhall praiſe the Lord that ſeek him; your heart ſhall live for ever.

27 All the ends of the world ſhall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations ſhall worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the Lord's: and he is the governor among the nations.

29 All they that be fat upon earth, ſhall eat and worſhip: all they that go down to the duſt ſhall bow before him; and none can keep alive his own ſoul.

30 A ſeed ſhall ſerve him; it ſhall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.

31 They ſhall come, and ſhall declare his righteouſneſs unto a people that ſhall be born, that he hath done this.

PSALM XXIII.

David's confidence in God's grace.

A Pſalm of David (m).

THE Lord is my ſhepherd; I ſhall not want.

2 He maketh me to lie down in green paſtures: he leadeth me beſide the ſtill waters.

3 He reſtoreth my ſoul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteouſneſs for his name's ſake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy ſtaff they comfort me.

5 Thou prepareſt a table before me in the preſence of mine enemies: thou anointeſt my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

6 Surely goodneſs and mercy ſhall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the houſe of the Lord for ever.

V. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XXIV.

God's lordſhip in the world. The citizens of his ſpiritual kingdom. An exhortation to receive him.

A Pſalm of David.

THE earth is the Lord's, and the fulneſs thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it upon the ſeas, and eſtabliſhed it upon the floods.

3 Who ſhall aſcend into the hill of the Lord? and who ſhall ſtand in his holy place?

4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his ſoul unto vanity, nor ſworn deceitfully.

5 He ſhall receive the bleſſing from the Lord, and righteouſneſs from the God of his ſalvation.

6 This is the generation of them that ſeek him, that ſeek thy face, O Jacob. Selah.

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lift up, ye everlaſting doors; and the King of glory ſhall come in.

8 Who is this King of glory? the Lord ſtrong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlaſting doors; and the King of glory ſhall come in.

10 Who is this King of glory? the Lord of hoſts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

PSALM XXV.

David, in confidence, prayeth for remiſſion of ſins, and for help in affliction.

A Pſalm of David.

UNTO thee, O Lord, do I lift up my ſoul.

2 O my God, I truſt in thee: let me not be aſhamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.

3 Yea, let none that wait on thee be aſhamed: let them be aſhamed which tranſgreſs without cauſe.

4 Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.

5 Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for like ſort might be mentioned. Theſe dreadful eruptions of water may well be called the channels, or rather torrents of water, or of the ſea, which diſcovered themſelves as the effect of the earthquake. The Pſalmiſt adds, The foundations of the world were diſcovered; i. e. ſuch large and deep chaſms, or apertures, were made by the violence of the ſhock, that one might almoſt ſee the very foundations; or, as Jonah calls them, the bottoms, or rather the extremities of the mountains, in the bottom of the ſea. Theſe may be well called the foundations of the world, as their baſes run deep into the earth, and thereby add greatly to the ſecurity and ſtability of it. Chandler.

thou

thou art the God of my ſalvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy loving-kindneſſes: for they have been ever of old.

7 Remember not the ſins of my youth, nor my tranſgreſſions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodneſs ſake, O Lord.

8 Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach ſinners in the way.

9 The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.

10 All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth, unto ſuch as keep his covenant, and his teſtimonies.

11 For thy name's ſake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.

12 What man is he that feareth the Lord? him ſhall he teach in the way that he ſhall chooſe.

13 His ſoul ſhall dwell at eaſe, and his ſeed ſhall inherit the earth.

14 The ſecret of the Lord is with them that fear him: and he will ſhew them his covenant.

15 Mine eyes are ever towards the Lord: for he ſhall pluck my feet out of the net.

16 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me: for I am deſolate and afflicted.

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my diſtreſſes.

18 Look upon my affliction, and my pain, and forgive all my ſins.

19 Conſider mine enemies; for they are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred.

20 O keep my ſoul, and deliver me: let me not be aſhamed; for I put my truſt in thee.

21 Let integrity and uprightneſs preſerve me: for I wait on thee.

22 Redeem Iſrael, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSALM XXVI.

David reſorteth unto God, in confidence of his integrity.

A Pſalm of David.

JUDGE me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have truſted alſo in the Lord; therefore I ſhall not ſlide.

2 Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.

3 For thy loving kindneſs is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

4 I have not ſat with vain perſons, neither will I go in with diſſemblers.

5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers; and will not ſit with the wicked.

6 I will waſh mine hands in innocency: ſo will I compaſs thine altar, O Lord.

7 That I may publiſh with the voice of thankſgiving, and tell of all thy wonderous works.

8 Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy houſe, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my ſoul with ſinners, nor my life with bloody men:

10 In whoſe hands is miſchief, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.

12 My foot ſtandeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bleſs the Lord.

V. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XXVII.

David ſuſtaineth his faith by the power of God, by his love to the ſervice of God, and by prayer.

A Pſalm of David.

THE Lord is my light, and my ſalvation; whom ſhall I fear? the Lord is the ſtrength of my life; of whom ſhall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my fleſh, they ſtumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoſt ſhould encamp againſt me, my heart ſhall not fear: though war ſhould riſe againſt me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I deſired of the Lord, that will I ſeek after; that I may dwell in the houſe of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he ſhall hide me in his pavilion: in the ſecret of his tabernacle ſhall he hide me; he ſhall ſet me up upon a rock.

6 And now ſhall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle ſacrifices of joy; I will ſing, yea, I will ſing praiſes unto the Lord.

7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice: have mercy alſo upon me, and anſwer me.

8 When thou ſaidſt, Seek ye my face; my heart ſaid unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I ſeek.

9 Hide not thy face far from me; put not

(m) In this pſalm David expreſſes his confidence in God, who had delivered him from the perſecutions of Saul, and ſettled him in a proſperous condition: whom therefore he here compares, firſt, to a good ſhepherd, who carefully feeds, and diligently watches over his flock; and, ſecondly, to an hoſpitable friend, by whom he was ſure of being liberally and ſplendidly entertained. It has been obſerved, that though the Pſalms in general appear with inimitable beauty, even in the dreſs in which we have them; yet it ſhould always be conſidered how much they muſt be ſuppoſed to fall ſhort of their original excellence, to thoſe who view them only in a tranſlation, nay, in almoſt a literal tranſlation, and that from a language which abounds in bold figures and many ellipſis, all of which muſt be ſupplied in the tranſlation, or elſe to common readers it would be utterly unintelligible. Hence the Pſalms lie under greater diſadvantages than any writings, either in the Greek or Latin languages.

thy ſervant away in anger: thou haſt been my help; leave me not, neither forſake me, O God of my ſalvation.

10 When my father and my mother forſake me, then the Lord will take me up.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, becauſe of mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for falſe witneſſes are riſen up againſt me, and ſuch as breathe out cruelty.

13 I had fainted, unleſs I had believed to ſee the goodneſs of the Lord in the land of the living.

14 Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen thine heart: wait, I ſay, on the Lord.

PSALM XXVIII.

David prayeth earneſtly againſt his enemies: he bleſſeth God: he prayeth for the people.

A Pſalm of David.

UNTO thee will I cry, O Lord, my rock; be not ſilent to me: leſt if thou be ſilent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

2 Hear the voice of my ſupplications, when I cry unto thee: when I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which ſpeak peace to their neighbours, but miſchief is in their hearts.

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedneſs of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands; render to them their deſert.

5 Becauſe they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands; he ſhall deſtroy them, and not build them up.

6 Bleſſed be the Lord, becauſe he hath heard the voice of my ſupplications.

7 The Lord is my ſtrength and my ſhield; my heart truſted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth, and with my ſong will I praiſe him.

8 The Lord is their ſtrength, and he is the ſaving ſtrength of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and bleſs thine inheritance: feed them alſo, and lift them up for ever.

PSALM XXIX.

David exhorteth princes to give glory to God, by reaſon of his power, and protection of his people.

A Pſalm of David.

GIVE unto the Lord, O ye mighty, give unto the Lord glory and ſtrength.

2 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worſhip the Lord in the beauty of holineſs.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth; the Lord is upon many waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is powerful; the voice of the Lord is full of majeſty.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars; yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them alſo to ſkip like a calf; Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn.

7 The voice of the Lord divideth the flames of fire:

8 The voice of the Lord ſhaketh the wilderneſs: the Lord ſhaketh the wilderneſs of Kadeſh.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calve, and diſcovereth the foreſts: and in his temple doth every one ſpeak of his glory.

10 The Lord ſitteth upon the flood; yea, the Lord ſitteth King for ever.

11 The Lord will give ſtrength unto his people; the Lord will bleſs his people with peace.

VI. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XXX.

David praiſeth God for his deliverance: he exhorteth others to praiſe Him, by example of God's dealing with him.

A Pſalm and Song, at the dedication of the houſe of David.

I WILL extol thee, O Lord; for thou haſt lifted me up, and haſt not made my foes to rejoice over me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou haſt healed me.

3 O Lord, thou haſt brought up my ſoul from the grave: thou haſt kept me alive, that I ſhould not go down to the pit.

4 Sing unto the Lord, O ye ſaints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſs.

5 For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my proſperity I ſaid, I ſhall never be moved;

7 Lord, by thy favour thou haſt made my mountain to ſtand ſtrong. Thou didſt hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 I cried to thee, O Lord; and unto the Lord I made my ſupplication.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the duſt praiſe thee? Shall it declare thy truth?

10 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy upon me; Lord, be thou my helper.

11 Thou haſt turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou haſt put off my ſackcloth, and girded me with gladneſs;

12 To the end that my glory may ſing praiſe to thee, and not be ſilent. O Lord my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

PSALM

PSALM XXXI.

David, ſhewing his confidence in God, craveth his help: he rejoiceth in his mercy: he prayeth in his calamity: he praiſeth God for his goodneſs.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

IN thee, O Lord, I do put my truſt: let me never be aſhamed: deliver me in thy righteouſneſs.

2 Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me ſpeedily: be thou my ſtrong rock, for an houſe of defence to ſave me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortreſs; therefore for thy name's ſake lead me, and guide me.

4 Pull me out of the net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my ſtrength.

5 Into thine hand I commit my ſpirit: thou haſt redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I truſt in the Lord.

7 I will be glad, and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou haſt conſidered my trouble; thou haſt known my ſoul in adverſities;

8 And haſt not ſhut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou haſt ſet my feet in a large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: mine eye is conſumed with grief, yea, my ſoul and my belly.

10 For my life is ſpent with grief, and my years with ſighing: my ſtrength faileth becauſe of mine iniquity, and my bones are conſumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but eſpecially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did ſee me without, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken veſſel.

13 For I have heard the ſlander of many: fear was on every ſide; while they took counſel together againſt me, they deviſed to take away my life.

14 But I truſted in thee, O Lord: I ſaid, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that perſecute me.

16 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: ſave me for thy mercies ſake.

17 Let me not be aſhamed, O Lord: for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be aſhamed, and let them be ſilent in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be put to ſilence; which ſpeak grievous things proudly and contemptuouſly againſt the righteous.

19 Oh, how great is thy goodneſs, which thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee: which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt in thee, before the ſons of men!

20 Thou ſhalt hide them in the ſecret of thy preſence from the pride of man: thou ſhalt keep them ſecretly in a pavilion from the ſtrife of tongues.

21 Bleſſed be the Lord: for he hath ſhewed me his marvellous kindneſs, in a ſtrong city.

22 For I ſaid in my haſte, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheleſs, thou heardeſt the voice of my ſupplications, when I cried unto thee.

23 O love the Lord, all ye his ſaints: for the Lord preſerveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

24 Be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.

VI. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XXXII.

Bleſſedneſs conſiſteth in remiſſion of ſins. Confeſſion of ſins giveth eaſe to the conſcience. God's promiſes bring joy.

A Pſalm of David, Maſchil.

BLeſſed is he whoſe tranſgreſſion is forgiven, whoſe ſin is covered.

2 Bleſſed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whoſe ſpirit there is no guile.

3 When I kept ſilence, my bones waxed old, through my roaring all the day long.

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moiſture is turned into the drought of ſummer. Selah.

5 I acknowledged my ſin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I ſaid, I will confeſs my tranſgreſſions unto the Lord; and thou forgaveſt the iniquity of my ſin. Selah.

6 For this ſhall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayeſt be found: ſurely in the floods of great waters, they ſhall not come nigh unto him.

7 Thou art my hiding-place; thou ſhalt preſerve me from trouble: thou ſhalt compaſs me about with ſongs of deliverance. Selah.

8 I will inſtruct thee, and teach thee in the way which thou ſhalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not as the horſe, or as the mule, which have no underſtanding: whoſe mouth muſt be held in with bit and bridle, leſt they come near unto thee.

10 Many ſorrows ſhall be to the wicked: but he that truſteth in the Lord, mercy ſhall compaſs him about.

11 Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous: and ſhout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

PSALM

PSALM XXXIII.

God is to be praiſed for his goodneſs and providence.

REjoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praiſe is comely for the upright.

2 Praiſe the Lord with harp: ſing unto him with the pſaltery, and an inſtrument of ten ſtrings.

3 Sing unto him a new ſong, play ſkilfully with a loud noiſe.

4 For the word of the Lord is right: and all his works are done in truth.

5 He loveth righteouſneſs and judgment: the earth is full of the goodneſs of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made: and all the hoſt of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the ſea together as an heap: he layeth up the depth in ſtore-houſes.

8 Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world ſtand in awe of him.

9 For he ſpake, and it was done; he commanded, and it ſtood faſt.

10 The Lord bringeth the counſel of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.

11 The counſel of the Lord ſtandeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 Bleſſed is the nation whoſe God is the Lord; and the people whom he hath choſen for his own inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh from heaven; he beholdeth all the ſons of men.

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.

15 He faſhioneth their hearts alike; he conſidereth all their works.

16 There is no king ſaved by the multitude of an hoſt: a mighty man is not delivered by much ſtrength.

17 An horſe is a vain thing for ſafety: neither ſhall he deliver any by his great ſtrength.

18 Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy;

19 To deliver their ſoul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

20 Our ſoul waiteth for the Lord: he is our help and our ſhield.

21 For our heart ſhall rejoice in him, becauſe we have truſted in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, according as we hope in thee.

PSALM XXXIV.

David praiſeth God, and exhorteth others thereto.

A Pſalm of David, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech; who drove him away, and he departed.

I Will bleſs the Lord at all times; his praiſe ſhall continually be in my mouth.

2 My ſoul ſhall make her boaſt in the Lord: the humble ſhall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together.

4 I ſought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not aſhamed.

6 This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and ſaved him out of all his troubles.

7 The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

8 O taſte and ſee that the Lord is good: bleſſed is the man that truſteth in him.

9 O fear the Lord ye his ſaints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

10 The young lions do lack, and ſuffer hunger: but they that ſeek the Lord ſhall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

12 What man is he that deſireth life, and loveth many days, that he may ſee good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from ſpeaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good; ſeek peace, and purſue it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the Lord is againſt them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and ſaveth ſuch as be of a contrite ſpirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 Evil ſhall ſlay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous ſhall be deſolate.

22 The Lord redeemeth the ſoul of his ſervants: and none of them that truſt in him ſhall be deſolate.

VII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XXXV.

David prayeth for his own ſafety, and his enemies confuſion.

A Pſalm of David.

PLEAD my cauſe, O Lord, with them that ſtrive with me: fight againſt them that fight againſt me.

2 Take hold of ſhield and buckler, and ſtand up for mine help.

3 Draw out alſo the ſpear, and ſtop the way againſt them that perſecute me: ſay unto my ſoul, I am thy ſalvation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to ſhame that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned back and brought to confuſion, that deviſe my hurt.

5 Let

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind; and let the angel of the Lord chaſe them.

6 Let their way be dark and ſlippery; and let the angel of the Lord perſecute them.

7 For without cauſe have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cauſe they have digged for my ſoul.

8 Let deſtruction come upon him at unawares; and let his net that he hath hid catch himſelf: into that very deſtruction let him fall.

9 And my ſoul ſhall be joyful in the Lord: it ſhall rejoice in his ſalvation.

10 All my bones ſhall ſay, Lord, who is like unto thee, which delivereſt the poor from him that is too ſtrong for him; yea, the poor and the needy from him that ſpoileth him?

11 Falſe witneſſes did riſe up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me evil for good, to the ſpoiling of my ſoul.

13 But as for me, when they were ſick, my clothing was ſackcloth: I humbled my ſoul with faſting; and my prayer returned into mine own boſom.

14 I behaved myſelf as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine adverſity they rejoiced, and gathered themſelves together; yea, the abjects gathered themſelves together againſt me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceaſed not:

16 With hypocritical mockers in feaſts, they gnaſhed upon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? reſcue my ſoul from their deſtructions, my darling from the lions.

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praiſe thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cauſe.

20 For they ſpeak not peace; but they deviſe deceitful matters againſt them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide againſt me, and ſaid, Aha, aha, our eye hath ſeen it.

22 This thou haſt ſeen, O Lord: keep not ſilence; O Lord, be not far from me.

23 Stir up thyſelf, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cauſe, my God and my Lord.

24 Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteouſneſs; and let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not ſay in their hearts, Ah, ſo would we have it: let them not ſay, We have ſwallowed him up.

26 Let them be aſhamed and brought to confuſion together, that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with ſhame and diſhonour, that magnify themſelves againſt me.

27 Let them ſhout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cauſe: yea, let them ſay continually, Let the Lord be magnified, which hath pleaſure in the proſperity of his ſervant.

28 And my tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy righteouſneſs and of thy praiſe all the day long.

PSALM XXXVI.

The grievous eſtate of the wicked. The excellency of God's mercy. David prayeth for favour to God's children.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David the ſervant of the Lord.

THE tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himſelf in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wiſe, and to do good.

4 He deviſeth miſchief upon his bed: he ſetteth himſelf in a way that is not good: he abhorreth not evil.

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulneſs reacheth unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteouſneſs is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preſerveſt man and beaſt.

7 How excellent is thy loving kindneſs, O God! therefore the children of men put their truſt under the ſhadow of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfied with the fatneſs of thy houſe; and thou ſhall make him drink of the river of thy pleaſures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 O continue thy loving kindneſs unto them that know thee; and thy righteouſneſs to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are caſt down, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

VII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XXXVII.

David perſuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different eſtate of the godly and the wicked.

A Pſalm of David.

FRET not thyſelf becauſe of evil doers, neither be thou envious againſt the workers of iniquity.

2 For they ſhall ſoon be cut down like the graſs, and wither as the green herb.

PSALM XXXVI.

The grievous eſtate of the wicked. The excellency of God's mercy. David prayeth for favour to God's children.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David the ſervant of the Lord.

THE tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himſelf in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wiſe, and to do good.

4 He deviſeth miſchief upon his bed: he ſetteth himſelf in a way that is not good: he abhorreth not evil.

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulneſs reacheth unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteouſneſs is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preſerveſt man and beaſt.

7 How excellent is thy loving kindneſs, O God! therefore the children of men put their truſt under the ſhadow of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfied with the fatneſs of thy houſe; and thou ſhall make him drink of the river of thy pleaſures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 O continue thy loving kindneſs unto them that know thee; and thy righteouſneſs to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are caſt down, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

VII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XXXVII.

David perſuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different eſtate of the godly and the wicked.

A Pſalm of David.

FRET not thyſelf becauſe of evil doers, neither be thou envious againſt the workers of iniquity.

2 For they ſhall ſoon be cut down like the graſs, and wither as the green herb.

3 Truſt in the Lord, and do good; ſo ſhalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou ſhalt be fed.

4 Delight

4 Delight thyſelf alſo in the Lord; and he ſhall give thee the deſires of thine heart.

5 Commit thy way unto the Lord; truſt alſo in him; and he ſhall bring it to paſs.

6 And he ſhall bring forth thy righteouſneſs as the light, and thy judgment as the noon-day.

7 Reſt in the Lord, and wait patiently for him; fret not thyſelf becauſe of him who proſpereth in his way, becauſe of the man who bringeth wicked devices to paſs.

8 Ceaſe from anger, and forſake wrath: fret not thyſelf in any wiſe to do evil.

9 For evil doers ſhall be cut off: but thoſe that wait upon the Lord, they ſhall inherit the earth.

10 For yet a little while, and the wicked ſhall not be: yea, thou ſhalt diligently conſider his place, and it ſhall not be.

11 But the meek ſhall inherit the earth; and ſhall delight themſelves in the abundance of peace.

12 The wicked plotteth againſt the juſt, and gnaſheth upon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord ſhall laugh at him: for he ſeeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn out the ſword, and have bent their bow, to caſt down the poor and needy, and to ſlay ſuch as be of upright converſation (n).

15 Their ſword ſhall enter into their own heart, and their bows ſhall be broken.

16 A little that a righteous man hath, is better than the riches of many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked ſhall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance ſhall be for ever.

19 They ſhall not be aſhamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they ſhall be ſatisfied.

20 But the wicked ſhall periſh, and the enemies of the Lord ſhall be as the fat of lambs: they ſhall conſume: into ſmoke ſhall they conſume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous ſheweth mercy, and giveth.

22 For ſuch as be bleſſed of him ſhall inherit the earth: and they that be curſed of him ſhall be cut off.

23 The ſteps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he fall, he ſhall not be utterly caſt down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not ſeen the righteous forſaken, nor his ſeed begging bread.

26 He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his ſeed is bleſſed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore.

28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and forſaketh not his ſaints; they are preſerved for ever: but the ſeed of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

29 The righteous ſhall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.

30 The mouth of the righteous ſpeaketh wiſdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.

31 The law of his God is in his heart; none of his ſteps ſhall ſlide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and ſeeketh to ſlay him.

33 The Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he ſhall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou ſhalt ſee it.

35 I have ſeen the wicked in great power, and ſpreading himſelf like a green bay-tree.

36 Yet he paſſed away, and lo, he was not: yea, I ſought him, but he could not be found.

37 Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſors ſhall be deſtroyed together: the end of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

39 But the ſalvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord ſhall help them, and deliver them: he ſhall deliver them from the wicked, and ſave them, becauſe they truſt in him.

VIII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XXXVIII.

David moveth God to take compaſſion of his pitiful caſe.

A Pſalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chaſten me in thy hot diſpleaſure.

2 For thine arrows ſtick faſt in me, and thy hand preſſeth me ſore.

(n) I cannot but think, ſays a writer on the Pſalms, that theſe are figurative expreſſions; and that David underſtood by theſe weapons, with which he has furniſhed the ungodly, their bitter and malicious invectives, their foul and falſe reproaches, &c. Theſe were the arms, in the uſe of which, as he frequently complains, they were admirably well ſkilled. In ſhort, this verſe ſeems to be explained to this ſenſe by Pſalm lvii. 5. where, ſpeaking of wicked men, it is ſaid, Whoſe teeth are ſpears and arrows, and their tongue a ſharp ſword: And if ſo, then the next verſe will mean, that their intention will be fruſtrated; they ſhall not do the miſchief they intended; their bows ſhall be broken, and their invectives and calumnies ſhall recoil, and do themſelves hurt; their ſharp ſword, their falſe and malicious tongues, ſhall pierce through their own ſoul. And that this was the pſalmiſt's meaning, who can doubt, after reading Pſalm lxiv. 3. where the wicked doers are ſaid to have whet their tongue like a ſword, and to ſhoot out their arrows, even bitter words? By the way, this agrees well with the learned author's conjecture mentioned above.

3 There is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh, becauſe of thine anger; neither is there any reſt in my bones, becauſe of my ſin.

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds ſtink and are corrupt, becauſe of my fooliſhneſs.

6 I am troubled, I am bowed down greatly: I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with a loathſome diſeaſe, and there is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh.

8 I am feeble and ſore broken: I have roared by reaſon of the diſquietneſs of my heart.

9 Lord, all my deſire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it alſo is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends ſtand aloof from my ſore; and my kinſmen ſtand afar off.

12 They alſo that ſeek after my life lay ſnares for me: and they that ſeek my hurt ſpeak miſchievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumb man, that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whoſe mouth are no reproofs.

15 For in thee, O Lord, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O Lord my God.

16 For I ſaid, Hear me, leſt otherwiſe they ſhould rejoice over me: when my foot ſlippeth, they magnify themſelves againſt me.

17 For I am ready to halt, and my ſorrow is continually before me.

18 For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be ſorry for my ſin.

19 But mine enemies are lively, and they are ſtrong; and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They alſo that render evil for good are mine adverſaries: becauſe I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forſake me not, O Lord: O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haſte to help me, O Lord my ſalvation.

PSALM XXXIX.

David's care of his thoughts. The conſideration of the brevity and vanity of life. The reverence of God's judgments, and prayer, are the bridles of his impatience.

To the chief muſician, even to Jeduthun, A Pſalm of David.

I Said, I will take heed to my ways, that I ſin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 I was dumb with ſilence, I held my peace, even from good; and my ſorrow was ſtirred.

3 My heart was hot within me, while I was muſing the fire burned: then ſpake I with my tongue;

4 Lord, make me to know mine end, and the meaſure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.

5 Behold, thou haſt made my days as an hand-breadth; and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his beſt ſtate is altogether vanity. Selah.

6 Surely every man walketh in a vain ſhew: ſurely they are diſquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who ſhall gather them.

7 And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

8 Deliver me from all my tranſgreſſions: make me not the reproach of the fooliſh.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; becauſe thou didſt it.

10 Remove thy ſtroke away from me: I am conſumed by the blow of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes doſt correct man for iniquity, thou makeſt his beauty to conſume away like a moth: ſurely every man is vanity. Selah.

12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear unto my cry; hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a ſtranger with thee, and a ſojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 O ſpare me, that I may recover ſtrength, before I go hence, and be no more.

PSALM XL.

The benefit of confidence in God. Obedience is the beſt ſacrifice. The ſenſe of David's evils inflameth his prayer.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

I Waited patiently for the Lord; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up alſo out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and ſet my feet upon a rock, and eſtabliſhed my goings.

3 And he hath put a new ſong in my mouth, even praiſe unto our God. Many ſhall ſee it, and fear, and ſhall truſt in the Lord.

4 Bleſſed is that man that maketh the Lord his truſt; and reſpecteth not the proud, nor ſuch as turn aſide to lies.

5 Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou haſt done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and ſpeak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didſt not deſire; mine ears haſt thou opened: burnt-offering and ſin-offering haſt thou not required.

7 Then ſaid I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me:

8 I de-

8 I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy law is within my heart.

9 I have preached righteouſneſs in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O Lord, thou knoweſt.

10 I have not hid thy righteouſneſs within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulneſs and thy ſalvation: I have not concealed thy loving kindneſs and thy truth from the great congregation.

11 With-hold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord; let thy loving kindneſs and thy truth continually preſerve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compaſſed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, ſo that I am not able to look up: they are more than the hairs of mine head; therefore my heart faileth me.

13 Be pleaſed, O Lord, to deliver me: O Lord, make haſte to help me.

14 Let them be aſhamed and confounded together that ſeek after my ſoul to deſtroy it; let them be driven backward and put to ſhame, that wiſh me evil.

15 Let them be deſolate for a reward of their ſhame, that ſay unto me, Aha, aha!

16 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; let ſuch as love thy ſalvation ſay continually, The Lord be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God.

VIII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XLI.

God's care of the poor. David complaineth of his enemies treachery: he fleeth to God for ſuccour.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

BLeſſed is he that conſidereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.

2 The Lord will preſerve him, and keep him alive; and he ſhall be bleſſed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him into the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will ſtrengthen him upon the bed of languiſhing: thou wilt make all his bed in his ſickneſs.

4 I ſaid, Lord, be merciful unto me: heal my ſoul; for I have ſinned againſt thee.

5 Mine enemies ſpeak evil of me, When ſhall he die, and his name periſh?

6 And if he come to ſee me, he ſpeaketh vanity: his heart gathereth iniquity to itſelf; when he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

7 All that hate me whiſper together againſt me; againſt me do they deviſe my hurt.

8 An evil diſeaſe, ſay they, cleaveth faſt unto him: and now that he lieth, he ſhall riſe up no more.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I truſted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel againſt me.

10 But thou, O Lord, be merciful unto me, and raiſe me up, that I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou favoureſt me, becauſe mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, thou upholdeſt me in mine integrity, and ſetteſt me before thy face for ever.

13 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, from everlaſting, and to everlaſting. Amen, and amen.

PSALM XLII.

David's zeal to ſerve God in the temple; and to truſt in him.

To the chief muſician, Maſchil, for the ſons of Korah.

AS the hart panteth after the water-brooks, ſo panteth my ſoul after thee, O God.

2 My ſoul thirſteth for God, for the living God: when ſhall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually ſay unto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remember theſe things, I pour out my ſoul in me: for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the houſe of God, with the voice of joy and praiſe, with a multitude that kept holy-day.

5 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted in me? hope thou in God: for I ſhall yet praiſe him for the help of his countenance.

6 O my God, my ſoul is caſt down within me: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from the hill Mizar.

7 Deep calleth unto deep at the noiſe of thy water-ſpouts: all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

8 Yet the Lord will command his loving-kindneſs in the day-time, and in the night his ſong ſhall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will ſay unto God my rock, Why haſt thou forgotten me? why go I mourning becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?

10 As with a ſword in my bones, mine enemies reproach me; while they ſay daily unto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted within me? hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM XLIII.

David, praying to be reſtored to the temple, promiſeth to ſerve God joyfully: he encourageth his ſoul to truſt in God.

JUDGE me, O God, and plead my cauſe againſt an ungodly nation; O deliver me from the deceitful and unjuſt man.

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrength: why doſt thou caſt me off? why go I mourning becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?

3 O ſend out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy: yea, upon the harp will I praiſe thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted within me? hope in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

IX. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XLIV.

The church, in memory of former favours, complaineth of her preſent evils: profeſſing her integrity, ſhe fervently prayeth for ſuccour.

To the chief muſician, for the ſons of Korah, Maſchil.

WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didſt in their days, in the times of old.

2 How thou didſt drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedſt them; how thou didſt afflict the people, and caſt them out.

3 For they got not the land in poſſeſſion by their own ſword, neither did their own arm ſave them; but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou hadſt a favour unto them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: command deliverances for Jacob.

5 Through thee will we puſh down our enemies: through thy name will we tread them under that riſe up againſt us.

6 For I will not truſt in my bow, neither ſhall my ſword ſave me.

7 But thou haſt ſaved us from our enemies, and haſt put them to ſhame that hated us.

8 In God we boaſt all the day long, and praiſe thy name for ever. Selah.

9 But thou haſt caſt off, and put us to ſhame; and goeſt not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makeſt us to turn back from the enemy; and they which hate us ſpoil for themſelves.

11 Thou haſt given us like ſheep appointed for meat; and haſt ſcattered us among the heathen.

12 Thou ſelleſt thy people for nought, and doſt not increaſe thy wealth by their price.

13 Thou makeſt us a reproach to our neighbours; a ſcorn and a deriſion to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makeſt us a by-word among the heathen, a ſhaking of the head among the people.

15 My confuſion is continually before me, and the ſhame of my face hath covered me:

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blaſphemeth; by reaſon of the enemy and avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falſely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our ſteps declined from thy way.

19 Though thou haſt ſore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the ſhadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or ſtretched out our hands to a ſtrange god:

21 Shall not God ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy ſake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as ſheep for the ſlaughter.

23 Awake, why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? ariſe, caſt us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? and forgetteſt our affliction, and our oppreſſion?

25 For our ſoul is bowed down to the duſt: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Ariſe for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies ſake.

PSALM XLV.

The majeſty and grace of Chriſt's kingdom. The duty of the church, and the benefits thereof.

To the chief muſician upon Shoſhannim, for the ſons of Korah, Maſchil: A ſong of loves.

MY heart is inditing a good matter: I ſpeak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips; therefore God hath bleſſed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy ſword upon thy thigh, O moſt mighty, with thy glory and thy majeſty.

4 And in thy majeſty ride proſperouſly, becauſe of truth, and meekneſs, and righteouſneſs; and thy right hand ſhall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are ſharp in the heart of the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the ſceptre of thy kingdom is a right ſceptre.

7 Thou loveſt righteouſneſs, and hateſt wickedneſs; therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladneſs above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments ſmell of myrrh, and aloes, and caſſia; out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: upon thy right hand did ſtand the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and conſider, and incline thine ear; forget alſo thine own people, and thy father's houſe;

11 So ſhall the king greatly deſire thy beauty; for he is thy Lord; and worſhip thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre ſhall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people ſhall intreat thy favour.

13 The king's daughter is all glorious within; her cloathing is of wrought gold.

14 She ſhall be brought unto the king in raiment of needle-work: the virgins her companions that follow her ſhall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladneſs and rejoicing ſhall they be brought: they ſhall enter into the king's palace.

16 Inſtead of thy fathers ſhall be thy children, whom thou mayeſt make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations; therefore ſhall the people praiſe thee for ever and ever.

PSALM XLVI.

The confidence which the church hath in God. An exhortation to behold it.

To the chief muſician, for the ſons of Korah: A Song upon Alamoth.

GOD is our refuge and ſtrength; a very preſent help in trouble.

2 Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midſt of the ſea;

3 Though the waters thereof roar, and be troubled, though the mountains ſhake with the ſwelling thereof. Selah.

4 There is a river, the ſtreams whereof ſhall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the moſt High.

5 God is in the midſt of her; ſhe ſhall not be moved: God ſhall help her, and that right early.

6 The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hoſts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

8 Come, behold the works of the Lord, what deſolations he hath made in the earth.

9 He maketh wars to ceaſe unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the ſpear in ſunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire.

10 Be ſtill, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hoſts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

IX. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XLVII.

The nations are exhorted to entertain the kingdom of Chriſt.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm for the ſons of Korah.

O Clap your hands, all ye people; ſhout unto God with the voice of triumph:

2 For the Lord moſt high is terrible; he is a great King over all the earth.

3 He ſhall ſubdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

4 He ſhall chooſe our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.

5 God is gone up with a ſhout, the Lord with the ſound of a trumpet.

6 Sing praiſes to God, ſing praiſes: ſing praiſes unto our King, ſing praiſes.

7 For God is the King of all the earth: ſing ye praiſes with underſtanding.

8 God reigneth over the heathen: God ſitteth upon the throne of his holineſs.

9 The princes of the people are gathered together, even the people of the God of Abraham; for the ſhields of the earth belong unto God: he is greatly exalted.

PSALM XLVIII.

The ornaments and privileges of the church.

A Song and Pſalm for the ſons of Korah.

GREAT is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holineſs.

2 Beautiful for ſituation, the joy of the whole earth is mount Zion; on the ſides of the north, the city of the great King.

3 God is known in her palaces for a refuge.

4 For lo, the kings were aſſembled, they paſſed by together.

5 They ſaw it, and ſo they marvelled; they were troubled, and haſted away.

6 Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

7 Thou breakeſt the ſhips of Tarſhiſh with an eaſt wind.

8 As we have heard, ſo have we ſeen in the city of the Lord of hoſts, in the city of our God: God will eſtabliſh it for ever. Selah.

9 We have thought of thy loving kindneſs, O God, in the midſt of thy temple.

10 According to thy name, O God, ſo is thy praiſe unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteouſneſs.

11 Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, becauſe of thy judgments.

12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks, conſider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

PSALM XLIX.

Worldly proſperity is not to be admired.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm for the ſons of Korah.

HEAR this, all ye people; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:

2 Both low and high, rich and poor together.

3 My mouth ſhall ſpeak of wiſdom; and the meditation of my heart ſhall be of underſtanding.
4 I will incline mine ear to a parable: I will open my dark ſaying upon the harp.
5 Wherefore ſhould I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels ſhall compaſs me about?
6 They that truſt in their wealth, and boaſt themſelves in the multitude of their riches;
7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ranſom for him:
8 (For the redemption of their ſoul is precious, and it ceaſeth for ever:)
9 That he ſhould ſtill live for ever, and not ſee corruption.
10 For he ſeeth that wiſe men die, likewiſe the fool and the brutiſh perſon periſh, and leave their wealth to others.
11 Their inward thought is, that their houſes ſhall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.
12 Nevertheleſs, man, being in honour, abideth not: he is like the beaſts that periſh.
13 This their way is their folly; yet their poſterity approve their ſayings. Selah.
14 Like ſheep they are laid in the grave: death ſhall feed on them; and the upright ſhall have dominion over them in the morning; and their beauty ſhall conſume in the grave, from their dwelling.
15 But God will redeem my ſoul from the power of the grave: for he ſhall receive me. Selah.
16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his houſe is increaſed;
17 For when he dieth, he ſhall carry nothing away: his glory ſhall not deſcend after him.
18 Though while he lived, he bleſſed his ſoul: and men will praiſe thee, when thou doeſt well to thyſelf:
19 He ſhall go to the generation of his fathers; they ſhall never ſee light.
20 Man that is in honour, and underſtandeth not, is like the beaſts that periſh.

X. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM L.

The majeſty of God in the church: his order to gather ſaints. The pleaſure of God is not in ceremonies, but in ſincerity of obedience.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

THE mighty God, even the Lord hath ſpoken, and called the earth from the riſing of the ſun, unto the going-down thereof.
2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath ſhined.
3 Our God ſhall come, and ſhall not keep ſilence: a fire ſhall devour before him, and it ſhall be very tempeſtuous round about him.
4 He ſhall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.
5 Gather my ſaints together unto me; thoſe that have made a covenant with me by ſacrifice.
6 And the heavens ſhall declare his righteouſneſs: for God is judge himſelf. Selah.
7 Hear, O my people, and I will ſpeak, O Iſrael; and I will teſtify againſt thee: I am God, even thy God.
8 I will not reprove thee for thy ſacrifices, or thy burnt-offerings, to have been continually before me.
9 I will take no bullock out of thy houſe, nor he-goats out of thy folds.
10 For every beaſt of the foreſt is mine, and the cattle upon a thouſand hills.
11 I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beaſts of the field are mine.
12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulneſs thereof.
13 Will I eat the fleſh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer unto God thankſgiving; and pay thy vows unto the moſt High:
15 And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou ſhalt glorify me.
16 But unto the wicked God ſaith, What haſt thou to do to declare my ſtatutes, or that thou ſhouldeſt take my covenant in thy mouth?
17 Seeing thou hateſt inſtruction, and caſteſt my words behind thee.
18 When thou ſaweſt a thief, then thou conſentedſt with him, and haſt been partaker with adulterers.
19 Thou giveſt thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.
20 Thou ſitteſt and ſpeakeſt againſt thy brother; thou ſlandereſt thine own mother's ſon.
21 Theſe things haſt thou done, and I kept ſilence: thou thoughteſt that I was altogether ſuch an one as thyſelf: but I will reprove thee, and ſet them in order before thine eyes.
22 Now conſider this, ye that forget God, leſt I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.
23 Whoſo offereth praiſe, glorifieth me: and to him that ordereth his converſation aright, will I ſhew the ſalvation of God.

PSALM LI.

David prayeth for remiſſion of ſins, for ſanctification, and for the church. God delighteth not in ſacrifice, but in ſincerity.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-ſheba.

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindneſs: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my tranſgreſſions.

2 Waſh

2 Waſh me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanſe me from my ſin.

3 For I acknowledge my tranſgreſſions: and my ſin is ever before me (o).

4 Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight: that thou mighteſt be juſtified when thou ſpeakeſt, and be clear when thou judgeſt.

5 Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity: and in ſin did my mother conceive me.

6 Behold, thou deſireſt truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou ſhalt make me to know wiſdom.

7 Purge me with hyſſop, and I ſhall be clean: waſh me, and I ſhall be whiter than ſnow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladneſs; that the bones which thou haſt broken may rejoice.

9 Hide thy face from my ſins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right ſpirit within me.

11 Caſt me not away from thy preſence; and take not thy holy ſpirit from me.

12 Reſtore unto me the joy of thy ſalvation; and uphold me with thy free ſpirit.

13 Then will I teach tranſgreſſors thy ways; and ſinners ſhall be converted unto thee.

14 Deliver me from blood-guiltineſs, O God, thou God of my ſalvation: and my tongue ſhall ſing aloud of thy righteouſneſs.

15 O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth ſhall ſhew forth thy praiſe.

16 For thou deſireſt not ſacrifice; elſe would I give it: thou delighteſt not in burnt-offering.

17 The ſacrifices of God are a broken ſpirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not deſpiſe.

18 Do good in thy good pleaſure unto Zion: build thou the walls of Jeruſalem.

19 Then ſhalt thou be pleaſed with the ſacrifices of righteouſneſs, with burnt-offering and whole burnt-offering: then ſhall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

PSALM LII.

David, condemning the ſpitefulneſs of Doeg, propheſieth his deſtruction. The righteous ſhall rejoice at it. David, upon his confidence in God's mercy, giveth thanks.

To the chief muſician, Maſchil, A Pſalm of David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and ſaid unto him, David is come to the houſe of Ahimelech.

WHY boaſteth thou thyſelf in miſchief, O mighty man? the goodneſs of God endureth continually.

2 Thy tongue deviſeth miſchiefs: like a ſharp raſor, working deceitfully.

3 Thou loveſt evil more than good; and lying rather than to ſpeak righteouſneſs. Selah.

4 Thou loveſt all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue!

5 God ſhall likewiſe deſtroy thee for ever; he ſhall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling-place, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah.

6 The righteous alſo ſhall ſee, and fear, and ſhall laugh at him:

7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his ſtrength; but truſted in the abundance of his riches, and ſtrengthened himſelf in his wickedneſs.

8 But I am like a green olive-tree in the houſe of God: I truſt in the mercy of God for ever and ever.

9 I will praiſe thee for ever, becauſe thou haſt done it: and I will wait on thy Name; for it is good before thy ſaints.

X. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LIII.

David deſcribeth the corruption of a natural man: he convinceth the wicked by the light of their own conſcience: he glorieth in the ſalvation of God.

To the chief muſician upon Mahalath, Maſchil, A Pſalm of David.

THE fool hath ſaid in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity: there is none that doeth good.

(o) No one can read this pſalm of David, but muſt ſee all the characters of true repentance in the perſon who wrote it, and the marks of the deepeſt ſorrow and humiliation for the ſins of which he had been guilty. Thoſe who reflect upon David's character on account of his conduct in the matter of Uriah, [ſee 2 Sam. xi. 4. 5, &c.] though they cannot too heartily deteſt the ſin, and muſt ſeverely cenſure the offender; yet ſurely may find ſome room in their hearts for compaſſion towards him, when they conſider how he was ſurpriſed into the firſt crime, and how the fear and dread of a diſcovery, and his concern for the life of the woman he had ſeduced, led him on to farther degrees of deceit and wickedneſs, till he completed his guilt by the deſtruction of a great and worthy man;---eſpecially when they behold the greateſt monarch of the earth thus humbled for his ſins before God! confeſſing his ſhame with contrition and confuſion of face! calling out for mercy, and imploring pardon, in the preſence of his meaneſt ſubjects! There is ſomething in ſuch an image of penitence, more fitted to ſtrike the ſoul with a dread and abhorrence of guilt, than it is poſſible to expreſs: ſomething more edifying, more adapted to the human infirmities, and more powerful to reform them, than the moſt perfect example of unſinning obedience; eſpecially, if the ſupplications and petitions he pours out to God be thoroughly ſuited to the ſolemnity of the occaſion, and condition of the penitent; as they undoubtedly are in this Pſalm. Here the penitent humbly and earneſtly begs for mercy;---he acknowledges his ſin, and his innate depravity the ſource of it; he begs to be renewed in the grace of God, and in that

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to ſee if there were any that did underſtand, that did ſeek God.

3 Every one of them is gone back: they are altogether become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge, who eat up my people as they eat bread? they have not called upon God.

5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath ſcattered the bones of him that encampeth againſt thee: thou haſt put them to ſhame, becauſe God hath deſpiſed them.

6 Oh that the ſalvation of Iſrael were come out of Zion! when God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob ſhall rejoice, and Iſrael ſhall be glad.

PSALM LIV.

David, complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for ſalvation: upon his confidence in God's help, he promiſeth ſacrifice.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth, Maſchil, A Pſalm of David, when the Ziphims came and ſaid to Saul, Doth not David hide himſelf with us?

SAVE me, O God, by thy Name, and judge me by thy ſtrength.

2 Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For ſtrangers are riſen up againſt me, and oppreſſors ſeek after my ſoul: they have not ſet God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that uphold my ſoul.

5 He ſhall reward evil unto mine enemies: cut them off in thy truth.

6 I will freely ſacrifice unto thee: I will praiſe thy name, O Lord; for it is good.

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble; and mine eye hath ſeen his deſire upon mine enemies.

PSALM LV.

David prayeth againſt his enemies, of whoſe wickedneſs and treachery he complaineth.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth, Maſchil, A Pſalm of David.

GIVE ear to my prayer, O God; and hide not thyſelf from my ſupplication.

2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noiſe;

3 Becauſe of the voice of the enemy, becauſe of the oppreſſion of the wicked: for they caſt iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

4 My heart is ſore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulneſs and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I ſaid, Oh, that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at reſt.

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderneſs. Selah.

8 I would haſten my eſcape from the windy ſtorm and tempeſt.

9 Deſtroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues: for I have ſeen violence and ſtrife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: miſchief alſo and ſorrow are in the midſt of it.

11 Wickedneſs is in the midſt thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her ſtreets.

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me; then I could have borne it: neither was it he that hated me, that did magnify himſelf againſt me; then I would have hid myſelf from him:

13 But it was thou, a man, mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.

14 We took ſweet counſel together, and walked unto the houſe of God in company.

15 Let death ſeize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell: for wickedneſs is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God; and the Lord ſhall ſave me.

17 Evening and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he ſhall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my ſoul in peace from the battle that was againſt me: for there were many with me.

19 God ſhall hear and afflict them, even he that abideth of old. Selah. Becauſe they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands againſt ſuch as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were ſmoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were ſofter than oil, yet were they drawn ſwords.

22 Caſt thy burden upon the Lord, and he that health, which the horror of his wickedneſs had impaired. Above all, he earneſtly beſeeches God, not to caſt him off, nor deliver him up to a reprobate ſenſe. Caſt me not away from thy preſence:---Take not thy holy ſpirit from me:---O give me the comfort of thy help again:---Deliver me from blood-guiltineſs, O God, thou God of my ſalvation!---- In one word, the ſoul of ſhame, of ſorrow, of remorſe, of ſincere repentance, and bitter anguiſh under the agonies of guilt, breathes ſtrong and fervent, through every line of this hallowed compoſition. And it is, I doubt not, David's greateſt conſolation at this moment, when he bleſſes God for the providential effects of his fall, that thoſe crimes which wrought his ſhame, and ſorrow, and infamy, have, in the humility, the piety, the contrition of confeſſing them, in this and ſeveral other pſalms, compoſed upon the ſame occaſion, reſcued and reformed millions.

ſhall ſuſtain thee: he ſhall never ſuffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, ſhalt bring them down into the pit of deſtruction: bloody and deceitful men ſhall not live out half their days; but I will truſt in thee.

XI. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LVI.

David praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies: he profeſſeth his confidence in God's word, and promiſeth to praiſe him.

To the chief muſician upon Jonath-elem-rechokim, Michtam of David, when the Philiſtines took him in Gath.

BE merciful unto me, O God: for man would ſwallow me up; he fighting, daily, oppreſſeth me.

2 Mine enemies would daily ſwallow me up: for they be many that fight againſt me, O thou moſt High.

3 What time I am afraid, I will truſt in thee.

4 In God I will praiſe his word; in God I have put my truſt; I will not fear what fleſh can do unto me.

5 Every day they wreſt my words: all their thoughts are againſt me for evil.

6 They gather themſelves together, they hide themſelves, they mark my ſteps, when they wait for my ſoul.

7 Shall they eſcape by iniquity? in thine anger caſt down the people, O God.

8 Thou telleſt my wanderings (p): put thou my tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?

9 When I cry unto thee, then ſhall mine enemies turn back: this I know; for God is for me.

10 In God will I praiſe his word: in the Lord will I praiſe his word.

11 In God have I put my truſt: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praiſes unto thee.

13 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death; wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSALM LVII.

David complaineth unto God of his dangerous caſe, and encourageth himſelf to praiſe him.

To the chief muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my ſoul truſteth in thee: yea, in the ſhadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until theſe calamities be overpaſt.

2 I will cry unto God moſt high; unto God, that performeth all things for me.

3 He ſhall ſend from heaven, and ſave me from the reproach of him that would ſwallow me up. Selah. God ſhall ſend forth his mercy and his truth.

4 My ſoul is among lions: and I lie even among them that are ſet on fire, even the ſons of men, whoſe teeth are ſpears and arrows, and their tongue a ſharp ſword.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.

6 They have prepared a net for my ſteps; my ſoul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midſt whereof they are fallen themſelves. Selah.

7 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will ſing and give praiſe.

8 Awake up, my glory; awake, pſaltery and harp: I myſelf will awake early.

9 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, among the people: I will ſing unto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

PSALM LVIII.

David, reproving wicked judges, deſcribeth the nature of the wicked, and devoteth them to God's judgments, whereat the righteous ſhall rejoice.

To the chief muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David.

DO ye indeed ſpeak righteouſneſs, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye ſons of men?

2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedneſs; ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.

(p) David's whole life, from his victory over Goliath, till the death of Saul, was almoſt entirely ſpent in wandering from place to place. He was now in exile at Gath; he comforts himſelf, however, that God was with him wherever he fled; and beheld, as no unconcerned ſpectator, the diſtreſſes of his unhappy ſituation. He therefore adds, put my tears into thy bottle; which ſeems to intimate, that the cuſtom of putting tears into the ampullæ, or urnæ lachrymales, ſo well known among the Romans, was more anciently in uſe amongſt the eaſtern nations, and particularly among the Hebrews. Theſe urns were of different materials; ſome of glaſs, ſome of earth, as may be ſeen in Montfaucon's Antiq. Expliquées, tom. v. p. 116. where alſo may be found the various forms or ſhapes of them. Theſe urns were placed on the ſepulchres of the deceaſed, as a memorial of the diſtreſs and affection of their ſurviving relations and friends. It will be difficult to account for this expreſſion of the Pſalmiſt, but upon this ſuppoſition. If this be allowed, when the Pſalmiſt prays put my tears into thy bottle, the meaning will be, "Let my diſtreſs, and the tears I have ſhed in conſequence of it, be ever before thee; excite thy kind remembrance of me, and plead with thee to grant the relief I ſtand in need of." The alluſion is pertinent and expreſſive. The next expreſſion,

3 The wicked are eſtranged from the womb: they go aſtray as ſoon as they be born, ſpeaking lies.

4 Their poiſon is like the poiſon of a ſerpent: they are like the deaf adder, that ſtoppeth her ear;

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never ſo wiſely.

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O Lord.

7 Let them melt away as waters which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to ſhoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.

8 As a ſnail which melteth, let every one of them paſs away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not ſee the ſun.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns, he ſhall take them away as with a whirlwind, both living, and in his wrath.

10 The righteous ſhall rejoice when he ſeeth the vengeance: he ſhall waſh his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11 So that a man ſhall ſay, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth.

XI. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LIX.

David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies: he praiſeth God.

To the chief muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David; when Saul ſent, and they watched the houſe to kill him.

DEliver me from mine enemies, O my God: defend me from them that riſe up againſt me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and ſave me from bloody men.

3 For lo, they lie in wait for my ſoul: the mighty are gathered againſt me; not for my tranſgreſſion, nor for my ſin, O Lord.

4 They run and prepare themſelves without my fault: awake to help me, and behold:

5 Thou therefore, O Lord God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, awake to viſit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked tranſgreſſors. Selah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth: ſwords are in their lips: for who (ſay they) doth hear?

8 But thou, O Lord, ſhalt laugh at them; thou ſhalt have all the heathen in deriſion.

9 Becauſe of his ſtrength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.

10 The God of my mercy ſhall prevent me: God ſhall let me ſee my deſire upon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, leſt my people forget: ſcatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord, our ſhield.

12 For the ſin of their mouth, and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride: and for curſing and lying which they ſpeak.

13 Conſume them in wrath, conſume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, unto the ends of the earth. Selah.

14 And at evening let them return; and let them make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down for meat, and grudge if they be not ſatisfied.

16 But I will ſing of thy power; yea, I will ſing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou haſt been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my ſtrength, will I ſing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

PSALM LX.

David complaining to God of former judgment, prayeth for deliverance: comforting himſelf in God's promiſes, he craveth that help whereon he truſteth.

To the chief muſician upon Shuſhan-eduth, Michtam of David, to teach; when he ſtrove with Aram-naharaim, and with Aram-zobah, when Joab returned, and ſmote of Edom in the valley of ſalt, twelve thouſand.

O God, thou haſt caſt us off, thou haſt ſcattered us, thou haſt been diſpleaſed; O turn thyſelf to us again.

2 Thou haſt made the earth to tremble; thou haſt broken it: heal the breaches thereof, for it ſhaketh.

3 Thou haſt ſhewed thy people hard things: thou haſt made us to drink the wine of aſtoniſhment.

4 Thou haſt given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be diſplayed becauſe of the truth. Selah.

5 That thy beloved may be delivered; ſave with thy right hand, and hear me.

ſion, are they not in thy book? denotes the confidence which the Pſalmiſt placed in the kind regard of God towards him, as though he took an account of every tear he ſhed, and would in due time remember and comfort him. See Chandler and Calmet. The continual care and providence which God exerciſes over his people, is frequently repreſented by his keeping a book or regiſter, in which he records their conception, Pſ. cxxxiv. 15. their birth, Pſ. lxxxvii. their actions, Mal. iii. 6. and what ſhall happen to them, Iſai. xxxiv. 16. Jer. xxii. 30. Dan. xii. 1. See alſo Pſ. lxix. 29.

6 God hath ſpoken in his holineſs; I will rejoice; I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manaſſeh is mine; Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of mine head; Judah is my law-giver.

8 Moab is my waſh-pot; over Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe: Philiſtia, triumph thou becauſe of me.

9 Who will bring me into the ſtrong city? who will lead me into Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadſt caſt us off? and thou, O God, which didſt not go out with our armies?

11 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

12 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSALM LXI.

David fleeth to God upon his former experience: he voweth perpetual ſervice unto him, becauſe of his promiſes.

To the chief muſician upon Neginah,
A Pſalm of David.

HEAR my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

3 For thou haſt been a ſhelter for me, and a ſtrong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will truſt in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, haſt heard my vows: thou haſt given me the heritage of thoſe that fear thy name.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life, and his years as many generations.

7 He ſhall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth which may preſerve him.

8 So will I ſing praiſe unto thy Name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

XII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXII.

David profeſſing his confidence in God, diſcourageth his enemies, but encourageth the godly. No truſt is to be put in worldly things. Power and mercy belong to God.

To the chief muſician, to Jeduthun;
A Pſalm of David.

TRULY my ſoul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my ſalvation:

2 He only is my rock and my ſalvation: he is my defence; I ſhall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will ye imagine miſchief againſt a man? ye ſhall be ſlain all of you: as a bowing wall ſhall ye be, and as a tottering fence.

4 They only conſult to caſt him down from his excellency; they delight in lies: they bleſs with their mouth, but they curſe inwardly. Selah.

5 My ſoul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from him.

6 He only is my rock and my ſalvation: he is my defence: I ſhall not be moved.

7 In God is my ſalvation and my glory: the rock of my ſtrength, and my refuge is in God.

8 Truſt in him at all times, ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.

10 Truſt not in oppreſſion, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increaſe, ſet not your heart upon them.

11 God hath ſpoken once, twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God.

12 Alſo unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou rendereſt to every man according to his work.

PSALM LXIII.

David's thirſt for God: his manner of bleſſing God: his confidence of his enemies deſtruction, and his own ſafety.

A Pſalm of David, when he was in the wilderneſs of Judah.

O God, thou art my God, early will I ſeek thee: my ſoul thirſteth for thee, my fleſh longeth for thee in a dry and thirſty land, where no water is;

2 To ſee thy power and thy glory, ſo as I have ſeen thee in the ſanctuary.

3 Becauſe thy loving kindneſs is better than life: my lips ſhall praiſe thee.

4 Thus will I bleſs thee, while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.

5 My ſoul ſhall be ſatisfied as with marrow and fatneſs; and my mouth ſhall praiſe thee with joyful lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night-watches.

7 Becauſe thou haſt been my help, therefore in the ſhadow of thy wings will I rejoice.

8 My ſoul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But thoſe that ſeek my ſoul to deſtroy it, ſhall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 They ſhall fall by the ſword: they ſhall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king ſhall rejoice in God; every one that ſweareth by him ſhall glory; but the mouth of them that ſpeak lies ſhall be ſtopped.

PSALM

PSALM LXIV.

David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies: he promiſeth himſelf to ſee ſuch an evident deſtruction of them, that the righteous ſhall rejoice at it.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer: preſerve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the ſecret counſel of the wicked; from the inſurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 Who whet their tongue like a ſword, and bend their bows to ſhoot their arrows, even bitter words;

4 That they may ſhoot in ſecret at the perfect: ſuddenly do they ſhoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themſelves in an evil matter: they commune of laying ſnares privily; they ſay, Who ſhall ſee them?

6 They ſearch out iniquities; they accompliſh a diligent ſearch; both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.

7 But God ſhall ſhoot at them with an arrow; ſuddenly ſhall they be wounded.

8 So they ſhall make their own tongue to fall upon themſelves: all that ſee them ſhall flee away.

9 And all men ſhall fear, and ſhall declare the work of God; for they ſhall wiſely conſider of his doing.

10 The righteous ſhall be glad in the Lord, and ſhall truſt in him; and all the upright in heart ſhall glory.

XII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXV.

David praiſeth God for his grace. The bleſſedneſs of God's choſen, by reaſon of benefits.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm and Song of David.

PRAISE waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee ſhall the vow be performed.

2 O thou that heareſt prayer, unto thee ſhall all fleſh come.

3 Iniquities prevail againſt me: as for our tranſgreſſions, thou ſhalt purge them away.

4 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chooſeſt, and cauſeſt to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we ſhall be ſatisfied with the goodneſs of thy houſe, even of thy holy temple.

5 By terrible things in righteouſneſs, wilt thou anſwer us, O God of our ſalvation; who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the ſea:

6 Which by his ſtrength ſetteth faſt the mountains; being girded with power:

7 Which ſtilleth the noiſe of the ſeas, the noiſe of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

8 They alſo that dwell in the uttermoſt parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makeſt the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.

9 Thou viſiteſt the earth, and watereſt it: thou greatly enricheſt it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou prepareſt them corn, when thou haſt ſo provided for it.

10 Thou watereſt the ridges thereof abundantly: thou ſettleſt the furrows thereof: thou makeſt it ſoft with ſhowers, thou bleſſeſt the ſpringing thereof.

11 Thou crowneſt the year with thy goodneſs; and thy paths drop fatneſs.

12 They drop upon the paſtures of the wilderneſs: and the little hills rejoice on every ſide.

13 The paſtures are clothed with flocks: the valleys alſo are covered over with corn; they ſhout for joy, they alſo ſing.

PSALM LXVI.

David exhorteth to praiſe God, to obſerve his great works, to bleſs him for his gracious benefits: he voweth for himſelf religious ſervice to God: he declareth God's ſpecial goodneſs to himſelf.

To the chief muſician, A Song or Pſalm.

MAKE a joyful noiſe unto God, all ye lands:

2 Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praiſe glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatneſs of thy power ſhall thine enemies ſubmit themſelves unto thee.

4 All the earth ſhall worſhip thee, and ſhall ſing unto thee; they ſhall ſing to thy name. Selah.

5 Come, and ſee the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.

6 He turned the ſea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot: there did we rejoice in him.

7 He ruleth by his power for ever; his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themſelves. Selah.

8 O bleſs our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praiſe to be heard:

9 Which holdeth our ſoul in life, and ſuffereth not our feet to be moved.

10 For thou, O God, haſt proved us: thou haſt tried us, as ſilver is tried.

11 Thou broughteſt us into the net; thou laidſt affliction upon our loins.

12 Thou haſt cauſed men to ride over our heads; we went through fire and through water: but thou broughteſt us out into a wealthy place.

13 I will go into thy houſe with burnt-offerings: I will pay thee my vows, 14 Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath ſpoken, when I was in trouble.

15 I will offer unto thee burnt-ſacrifices of fatlings, with the incenſe of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.

16 Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my ſoul.
17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.
18 If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me:
19 But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
20 Bleſſed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

PSALM LXVII.

A prayer for the enlargement of God's kingdom, to the joy of the people, and to the increaſe of God's bleſſings.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth, A Pſalm or Song.

GOD be merciful unto us, and bleſs us; and cauſe his face to ſhine upon us. Selah.
2 That thy way may be known upon earth, thy ſaving health among all nations.
3 Let the people praiſe thee, O God; let all the people praiſe thee.
4 O let the nations be glad and ſing for joy: for thou ſhalt judge the people righteouſly, and govern the nations upon earth. Selah.
5 Let the people praiſe thee, O God; let all the people praiſe thee.
6 Then ſhall the earth yield her increaſe; and God, even our own God, ſhall bleſs us.
7 God ſhall bleſs us; and all the ends of the earth ſhall fear him.

XIII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXVIII.

A prayer at the removing of the ark. An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercies, for his care of the church, and for his great works.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm or Song of David.

LET God ariſe, let his enemies be ſcattered: let them alſo that hate him flee before him.
2 As ſmoke is driven away, ſo drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, ſo let the wicked periſh at the preſence of God.
3 But let the righteous be glad: let them rejoice before God; yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.
4 Sing unto God, ſing praiſes to his name: Extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoice before him.
5 A father of the fatherleſs, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.
6 God ſetteth the ſolitary in families: he bringeth out thoſe that are bound with chains; but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.
7 O God, when thou wenteſt forth before thy people, when thou didſt march through the wilderneſs; Selah:
8 The earth ſhook, the heavens alſo dropped at the preſence of God: even Sinai itſelf was moved at the preſence of God, the God of Iſrael.
9 Thou, O God, didſt ſend a plentiful rain, whereby thou didſt confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.
10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, haſt prepared of thy goodneſs for the poor.
11 The Lord gave the word: great was the company of thoſe that publiſhed it.
12 Kings of armies did flee apace (q): and ſhe that tarried at home divided the ſpoil.
13 Though you have lien among the pots, yet ſhall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with ſilver, and her feathers with yellow gold.
14 When the Almighty ſcattered kings in it, it was white as ſnow in Salmon.
15 The hill of God is as the hill of Baſhan; an high hill as the hill of Baſhan.
16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God deſireth to dwell in; yea, the Lord will dwell in it for ever.
17 The chariots of God are twenty thouſand, even thouſands of angels: the Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the holy place.
18 Thou haſt aſcended on high, thou haſt led captivity captive: thou haſt received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious alſo, that the Lord God might dwell among them.
19 Bleſſed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our ſalvation. Selah.
20 He that is our God, is the God of ſalvation; and unto God the Lord belong the iſſues from death.
21 But God ſhall wound the head of his enemies; and the hairy ſcalp of ſuch an one as goeth on ſtill in his treſpaſſes.
22 The Lord ſaid, I will bring again from Baſhan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the ſea:
23 That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the ſame.
24 They have ſeen thy goings, O God; even the goings of my God, my King, in the ſanctuary.

(q) In the original it is fled away, fled away: the reduplication of the words denoting their haſty flight and utter diſſipation. The kings who commanded the armies which oppoſed them, fled with their routed forces, and were purſued and deſtroyed by the Iſraelites: And ſhe that tarried at home divided the ſpoil. After the conqueſt of the Midianites, God ordered the prey which was taken from them to be divided into two parts, between them who went out on that expedition, and the reſt of the congregation who continued in the tents. Numb. xxxi. 27. and therefore this 25 The ſingers went before, the players on inſtruments followed after; amongſt them were the damſels playing with timbrels.

26 Bleſs ye God in the congregations; even the Lord, from the fountain of Iſrael.

27 There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the princes of Judah and their council, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath commanded thy ſtrength: ſtrengthen, O God, that which thou haſt wrought for us.

29 Becauſe of thy temple at Jeruſalem, ſhall kings bring preſents unto thee.

30 Rebuke the company of ſpearmen, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the people, till every one ſubmit himſelf with pieces of ſilver: ſcatter thou the people that delight in war.

31 Princes ſhall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia ſhall ſoon ſtretch out her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth; O ſing praiſes unto the Lord: Selah:

33 To him that rideth upon the heaven of heavens, which were of old; lo, he doth ſend out his voice, and that a mighty voice.

34 Aſcribe ye ſtrength unto God: his excellency is over Iſrael, and his ſtrength is in the clouds.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Iſrael is he that giveth ſtrength and power unto his people. Bleſſed be God!

XIII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXIX.

David complaineth of his affliction: he prayeth for deliverance: he devoteth his enemies to deſtruction: he praiſeth God with thankſgiving.

To the chief muſician upon Shoſhannim: A Pſalm of David.

SAVE me, O God; for the waters are come in unto my ſoul.

2 I ſink in deep mire, where there is no ſtanding: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying: my throat is dried: mine eyes fail, while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would deſtroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I reſtored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knoweſt my fooliſhneſs; and my ſins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord God of hoſts, be aſhamed for my ſake: let not thoſe that ſeek thee, be confounded for my ſake, O God of Iſrael.

7 Becauſe for thy ſake I have borne reproach; ſhame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a ſtranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.

10 When I wept, and chaſtened my ſoul with faſting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made ſackcloth alſo my garment; and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that ſit in the gate ſpeak againſt me; and I was the ſong of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of my ſalvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not ſink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the water-flood overflow me, neither let the deep ſwallow me up, and let not the pit ſhut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving kindneſs is good: turn unto me, according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy ſervant, for I am in trouble: hear me ſpeedily:

18 Draw nigh unto my ſoul, and redeem it: deliver me, becauſe of mine enemies.

19 Thou haſt known my reproach, and my ſhame, and my diſhonour: mine adverſaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavineſs: and I looked for ſome to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me alſo gall for my meat: and in my thirſt they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a ſnare before them: and that which ſhould have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they ſee not; and make their loins continually to ſhake.

this was part of the damſel's ſong, that the women who had the charge of the houſhold affairs, were enriched by an equal diviſion of the enemies ſpoils, in which their huſbands and fathers had their ſhare; and, I apprehend, that it is the victory over the Midianites which is here particularly referred to. For, the Lord gave the word; avenged the children of Iſrael of the Midianites, Numb. xxxi. 2. Kings of armies fled away; five of the Midianitiſh kings being routed and ſlain, ver. 8. She that tarried at home divided the ſpoil, according to the diſtribution before-mentioned, vaſt quantities of gold and ſilver being taken; to which there is a plain alluſion in the next verſe.

24 Pour

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.
25 Let their habitation be deſolate; and let none dwell in their tents.
26 For they perſecute him whom thou haſt ſmitten; and they talk to the grief of thoſe whom thou haſt wounded.
27 Add iniquity to their iniquity, and let them not come into thy righteouſneſs.
28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.
29 But I am poor and ſorrowful: let thy ſalvation, O God, ſet me up on high.
30 I will praiſe the name of God with a ſong, and will magnify him with thankſgiving.
31 This alſo ſhall pleaſe the Lord better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.
32 The humble ſhall ſee this, and be glad: and your heart ſhall live that ſeek God.
33 For the Lord heareth the poor, and deſpiſeth not his priſoners.
34 Let the heaven and earth praiſe him, the ſeas, and every thing that moveth therein.
35 For God will ſave Zion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in poſſeſſion.
36 The ſeed alſo of his ſervants ſhall inherit it: and they that love his name ſhall dwell therein.

PSALM LXX.

David ſoliciteth God to the ſpeedy deſtruction of the wicked, and preſervation of the godly.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

MAKE haſte, O God, to deliver me; make haſte to help me, O Lord.
2 Let them be aſhamed and confounded that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned backward, and put to confuſion, that deſire my hurt.
3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their ſhame, that ſay, Aha, aha!
4 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee, rejoice, and be glad in thee: and let ſuch as love thy ſalvation, ſay continually, Let God be magnified.
5 But I am poor and needy: make haſte unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliver; O Lord, make no tarrying.

XIV. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXXI.

David, in confidence of faith and experience of God's favour, prayeth both for himſelf, and againſt the enemies of his ſoul: he praiſeth God, and promiſeth to do it conſtantly and chearfully.

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my truſt: let me never be put to confuſion.
2 Deliver me in thy righteouſneſs, and cauſe me to eſcape: incline thine ear unto me, and ſave me.
3 Be thou my ſtrong habitation, whereunto I may continually reſort: thou haſt given commandment to ſave me; for thou art my rock and my fortreſs.
4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.
5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my truſt from my youth.
6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praiſe ſhall be continually of thee.
7 I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my ſtrong refuge.
8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praiſe and with thy honour all the day.
9 Caſt me not off in the time of old age; forſake me not when my ſtrength faileth.
10 For mine enemies ſpeak againſt me; and they that lay wait for my ſoul, take counſel together,
11 Saying, God hath forſaken him: perſecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him.
12 O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haſte for my help.
13 Let them be confounded and conſumed, that are adverſaries to my ſoul: let them be covered with reproach and diſhonour that ſeek my hurt.
14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praiſe thee more and more.
15 My mouth ſhall ſhew forth thy righteouſneſs, and thy ſalvation all the day: for I know not the numbers thereof.
16 I will go in the ſtrength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteouſneſs, even of thine only.
17 O God, thou haſt taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wonderous works.
18 Now alſo, when I am old and grey-headed, O God, forſake me not: until I have ſhewed thy ſtrength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.
19 Thy righteouſneſs alſo, O God, is very high, who haſt done great things: O God, who is like unto thee?
20 Thou which haſt ſhewed me great and ſore troubles, ſhalt quicken me again, and ſhalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.
21 Thou ſhalt increaſe my greatneſs, and comfort me on every ſide.
22 I will alſo praiſe thee with the pſaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I ſing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Iſrael.

23 My lips ſhall greatly rejoice when I ſing unto thee; and my ſoul, which thou haſt redeemed.

24 My tongue alſo ſhall talk of thy righteouſneſs all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto ſhame, that ſeek my hurt.

PSALM LXXII.

David praying for Solomon, ſheweth the goodneſs and glory of his kingdom in type, and in truth of Chriſt's kingdom: he bleſſeth God.

A Pſalm for Solomon.

GIVE the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteouſneſs unto the king's ſon.

2 He ſhall judge thy people with righteouſneſs, and thy poor with judgment.

3 The mountains ſhall bring peace to the people, and the little hills by righteouſneſs.

4 He ſhall judge the poor of the people, he ſhall ſave the children of the needy, and ſhall break in pieces the oppreſſor.

5 They ſhall fear thee as long as the ſun and moon endure, throughout all generations.

6 He ſhall come down like rain upon the mown graſs: as ſhowers that water the earth.

7 In his days ſhall the righteous flouriſh; and abundance of peace ſo long as the moon endureth.

8 He ſhall have dominion alſo from ſea to ſea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

9 They that dwell in the wilderneſs ſhall bow before him; and his enemies ſhall lick the duſt.

10 The kings of Tarſhiſh and of the iſles ſhall bring preſents: and the kings of Sheba and Seba ſhall offer gifts.

11 Yea, all kings ſhall fall down before him: all nations ſhall ſerve him.

12 For he ſhall deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor alſo, and him that hath no helper.

13 He ſhall ſpare the poor and needy, and ſhall ſave the ſouls of the needy.

14 He ſhall redeem their ſoul from deceit and violence: and precious ſhall their blood be in his ſight.

15 And he ſhall live, and to him ſhall be given of the gold of Sheba: prayer alſo ſhall be made for him continually; and daily ſhall he be praiſed.

16 There ſhall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof ſhall ſhake like Lebanon, and they of the city ſhall flouriſh like graſs of the earth.

17 His name ſhall endure for ever: his name ſhall be continued as long as the ſun: and men ſhall be bleſſed in him: all nations ſhall call him bleſſed.

18 Bleſſed be the Lord God, the God of Iſrael, who only doeth wonderous things.

19 And bleſſed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory; Amen, and Amen.

20 The prayers of David the ſon of Jeſſe are ended.

XIV. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXXIII.

The prophet, prevailing in a temptation, ſheweth the occaſion thereof, the proſperity of the wicked, the wound given thereby, diffidence; the victory over it, knowledge of God's purpoſe, in deſtroying of the wicked, and ſuſtaining the righteous.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

TRULY God is good to Iſrael, even to ſuch as are of a clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almoſt gone: my ſteps had well-nigh ſlipped.

3 For I was envious at the fooliſh, when I ſaw the proſperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death: but their ſtrength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride compaſſeth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes ſtand out with fatneſs: they have more than heart could wiſh.

8 They are corrupt, and ſpeak wickedly concerning oppreſſion: they ſpeak loftily.

9 They ſet their mouth againſt the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore this people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they ſay, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the moſt High?

12 Behold, theſe are the ungodly, who proſper in the world, they increaſe in riches.

13 Verily, I have cleanſed my heart in vain, and waſhed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and chaſtened every morning.

15 If I ſay, I will ſpeak thus; behold, I ſhould offend againſt the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me;

17 Until I went into the ſanctuary of God: then underſtood I their end.

18 Surely thou didſt ſet them in ſlippery places: thou caſtedſt them down into deſtruction.

19 How are they brought into deſolation, as in a moment! they are utterly conſumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; ſo, O Lord, when thou awakeſt, thou ſhalt deſpiſe their image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So fooliſh was I, and ignorant: I was as a beaſt before thee.

23 Never-

23 Nevertheleſs, I am continually with thee: thou haſt holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou ſhalt guide me with thy counſel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I deſire beſides thee.

26 My fleſh and my heart faileth: but God is the ſtrength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

27 For lo, they that are far from thee ſhall periſh: thou haſt deſtroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my truſt in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

PSALM LXXIV.

The prophet complaineth of the deſolation of the ſanctuary: he moveth God to help, in conſideration of his reproachful enemies, of his children, and of his covenant.

Maſchil of Aſaph.

O God, why haſt thou caſt us off for ever? why doth thine anger ſmoke againſt the ſheep of thy paſture?

2 Remember thy congregation which thou haſt purchaſed of old; the rod of thine inheritance which thou haſt redeemed; this mount Zion wherein thou haſt dwelt:

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual deſolations; even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the ſanctuary.

4 Thine enemies roar in the midſt of thy congregations; they ſet up their enſigns for ſigns.

5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees:

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once, with axes and hammers:

7 They have caſt fire into thy ſanctuary, they have defiled by caſting down the dwelling-place of thy name to the ground.

8 They ſaid in their hearts, Let us deſtroy them together: they have burned up all the ſynagogues of God in the land.

9 We ſee not our ſigns: there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long ſhall the adverſary reproach? ſhall the enemy blaſpheme thy name for ever?

11 Why withdraweſt thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy boſom.

12 For God is my King of old, working ſalvation in the midſt of the earth.

13 Thou didſt divide the ſea by thy ſtrength: thou brakeſt the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakeſt the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gaveſt him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderneſs.

15 Thou didſt cleave the fountain and the flood: Thou driedſt up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, the night alſo is thine: thou haſt prepared the light and the ſun.

17 Thou haſt ſet all the borders of the earth: thou haſt made ſummer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the fooliſh people have blaſphemed thy name.

19 O deliver not the ſoul of thy turtle-dove unto the multitude of the wicked: forget not the congregation of thy poor for ever.

20 Have reſpect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.

21 O let not the oppreſſed return aſhamed: let the poor and needy praiſe thy name.

22 Ariſe, O God, plead thine own cauſe: remember how the fooliſh man reproached thee daily.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of thoſe that riſe up againſt thee increaſeth continually.

XV. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXXV.

The prophet praiſeth God: he promiſeth to judge uprightly, and rebuketh the proud by conſideration of God's providence.

To the chief muſician, Al-taſchith,
A Pſalm or Song of Aſaph.

UNTO thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near, thy wonderous works declare.

2 When I ſhall receive the congregation, I will judge uprightly.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are diſſolved: I bear up the pillars of it. Selah.

4 I ſaid unto the fools, Deal not fooliſhly; and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.

5 Lift not up your horn on high: ſpeak not with a ſtiff neck.

6 For promotion cometh neither from the eaſt, nor from the weſt, nor from the ſouth.

7 But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and ſetteth up another.

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the ſame: but the dregs thereof all the wicked of the earth ſhall wring them out, and drink them.

9 But I will declare for ever; I will ſing praiſes to the God of Jacob.

10 All the horns of the wicked alſo will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous ſhall be exalted.

PSALM

PSALM LXXVI.

A declaration of God's majeſty in the church. An exhortation to ſerve him reverently.

To the chief muſician on Neginoth,
A Pſalm or Song of Aſaph.

IN Judah is God known: his name is great in Iſrael.

2 In Salem alſo is his tabernacle, and his dwelling-place in Zion.

3 There brake he the arrows of the bow, the ſhield, [redacted] the ſword, and the battle. Selah.

4 Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.

5 The ſtout-hearted are ſpoiled, they have ſlept their ſleep: and none of the men of might have found their hands.

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horſe are caſt into a dead ſleep.

7 Thou, even thou art to be feared, and who may ſtand in thy ſight when once thou art angry?

8 Thou didſt cauſe judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth feared, and was ſtill,

9 When God aroſe to judgment to ſave all the meek of the earth. Selah.

10 Surely the wrath of man ſhall praiſe thee: the remainder of wrath ſhalt thou reſtrain.

11 Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God: let all that be round about him bring preſents unto him that ought to be feared.

12 He ſhall cut off the ſpirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

PSALM LXXVII.

The pſalmiſt ſheweth what fierce combat he had with diffidence. The victory which he had by conſideration of God's great and gracious works.

To the chief muſician, to Jeduthun,
A Pſalm of Aſaph.

I Cried unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice; and he gave ear unto me.

2 In the day of my trouble I ſought the Lord: my ſore ran in the night, and ceaſed not: my ſoul refuſed to be comforted.

3 I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my ſpirit was overwhelmed. Selah.

4 Thou holdeſt mine eyes waking: I am ſo troubled that I cannot ſpeak.

5 I have conſidered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

6 I call to remembrance my ſong in the night: I commune with mine own heart, and my ſpirit made diligent ſearch.

7 Will the Lord caſt off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promiſe fail for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger ſhut up his tender mercies? Selah.

10 And I ſaid, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the moſt High.

11 I will remember the works of the Lord: ſurely I will remember thy wonders of old.

12 I will meditate alſo of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in the ſanctuary: who is ſo great a god as our God!

14 Thou art the God that doeſt wonders: thou haſt declared thy ſtrength among the people.

15 Thou haſt with thine arm redeemed thy people, the ſons of Jacob and Joſeph. Selah.

16 The waters ſaw thee, O God, the waters ſaw thee: they were afraid; the depths alſo were troubled.

17 The clouds poured out water: the ſkies ſent out a ſound: thine arrows alſo went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightened the world, the earth trembled and ſhook.

19 Thy way is in the ſea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footſteps are not known.

20 Thou leddeſt thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moſes and Aaron.

XV. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXXVIII.

An exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God. The ſtory of God's wrath againſt the incredulous and diſobedient.

Maſchil of Aſaph.

GIVE ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark ſayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, ſhewing to the generation to come the praiſes of the Lord, and his ſtrength, and his wonderful works that he hath done.

5 For he eſtabliſhed a teſtimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Iſrael, which he commanded our fathers, that they ſhould make them known to their children:

6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which ſhould be born; who ſhould ariſe and declare them to their children:

7 That they might ſet their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as their fathers, a ſtubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that ſet not their heart aright, and whoſe ſpirit was not ſtedfaſt with God.

9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refuſed to walk in his law;

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had ſhewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the ſight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 He divided the ſea, and cauſed them to paſs through, and he made the waters to ſtand as an heap.

14 In the day-time alſo he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire:

15 He clave the rocks in the wilderneſs, and gave them drink as out of the great depths:

16 He brought ſtreams alſo out of the rock, and cauſed waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they ſinned yet more againſt him, by provoking the moſt High in the wilderneſs.

18 And they tempted God in their heart, by aſking meat for their luſt.

19 Yea, they ſpake againſt God; they ſaid, Can God furniſh a table in the wilderneſs?

20 Behold, he ſmote the rock, that the waters guſhed out, and the ſtreams overflowed; can he give bread alſo? can he provide fleſh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard this, and was wroth: ſo a fire was kindled againſt Jacob, and anger alſo came up againſt Iſrael;

22 Becauſe they believed not in God, and truſted not in his ſalvation:

23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven,

24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 Man did eat angels food: he ſent them meat to the full.

26 He cauſed an eaſt wind to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the ſouth wind.

27 He rained fleſh alſo upon them as duſt, and feathered fowls like as the ſand of the ſea.

28 And he let it fall in the midſt of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own deſire;

30 They were not eſtranged from their luſt. But while their meat was yet in their mouths,

31 The wrath of God came upon them, and ſlew the fatteſt of them, and ſmote down the choſen men of Iſrael.

32 For all this they ſinned ſtill, and believed not for his wonderous works.

33 Therefore their days did he conſume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he ſlew them, then they ſought him; and they returned, and enquired early after God, 35 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheleſs, they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they ſtedfaſt in his covenant.

38 But he, being full of compaſſion, forgave their iniquity, and deſtroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not ſtir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were but fleſh; a wind that paſſeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderneſs, and grieve him in the deſart!

41 Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Iſrael.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 How he had wrought his ſigns in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 And had turned their rivers into blood; and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He ſent divers ſorts of flies among them, which devoured them; and frogs, which deſtroyed them.

46 He gave alſo their increaſe unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locuſt.

47 He deſtroyed their vines with hail, and their ſycamore-trees with froſt.

48 He gave up their cattle alſo to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunder-bolts.

49 He caſt upon them the fierceneſs of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by ſending evil angels among them.

50 He made a way to his anger; he ſpared not their ſoul from death, but gave their life over to the peſtilence;

51 And ſmote all the firſt-born in Egypt; the chief of their ſtrength in the tabernacles of Ham;

52 But made his own people to go forth like ſheep, and guided them in the wilderneſs like a flock.

53 And he led them on ſafely, ſo that they feared not: but the ſea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his ſanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand purchaſed.

55 He caſt out the heathen alſo before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the moſt high God, and kept not his teſtimonies;

57 But

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully, like their fathers: they were turned aſide like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealouſy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Iſrael:

60 So that he forſook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men;

61 And delivered his ſtrength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.

62 He gave his people over alſo unto the ſword; and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire conſumed their young men; and their maidens were not given to marriage.

64 Their prieſts fell by the ſword; and their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of ſleep, and like a mighty man that ſhouteth by reaſon of wine.

66 And he ſmote his enemies in the hinder parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover, he refuſed the tabernacle of Joſeph, and choſe not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But choſe the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he built his ſanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath eſtabliſhed for ever.

70 He choſe David alſo his ſervant, and took him from the ſheep-folds:

71 From following the ewes great with young, he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Iſrael his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart; and guided them by the ſkilfulneſs of his hands.

XVI. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXXIX.

The pſalmiſt complaineth of the deſolation of Jeruſalem: he prayeth for deliverance, and promiſeth thankfulneſs.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance; thy holy temple have they defiled; they have laid Jeruſalem on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy ſervants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the fleſh of thy ſaints unto the beaſts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they ſhed like water round about Jeruſalem: and there was none to bury them.

4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and deriſion to them that are round about us.

5 How long, Lord? wilt thou be angry for ever? ſhall thy jealouſy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waſte his dwelling-place.

8 O remember not againſt us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies ſpeedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our ſalvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our ſins, for thy name's ſake.

10 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our ſight by the revenging of the blood of thy ſervants which is ſhed.

11 Let the ſighing of the priſoner come before thee; according to the greatneſs of thy power, preſerve thou thoſe that are appointed to die;

12 And render unto our neighbours ſevenfold into their boſom, their reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we, thy people and ſheep of thy paſture, will give thee thanks for ever: we will ſhew forth thy praiſe to all generations.

PSALM LXXX.

The pſalmiſt in his prayer complaineth of the miſeries of the church; and prayeth for deliverance.

To the chief muſician upon Shoſhannim-Eduth: A Pſalm of Aſaph.

GIVE ear, O Shepherd of Iſrael, thou that leadeſt Joſeph like a flock; thou that dwelleſt between the cherubims, ſhine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manaſſeh, ſtir up thy ſtrength, and come and ſave us.

3 Turn us again, O God, and cauſe thy face to ſhine; and we ſhall be ſaved.

4 O Lord God of hoſts, how long wilt thou be angry againſt the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedeſt them with the bread of tears; and giveſt them tears to drink in great meaſure.

6 Thou makeſt us a ſtrife unto our neighbours; and our enemies laugh among themſelves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hoſts, and cauſe thy face to ſhine, and we ſhall be ſaved.

8 Thou haſt brought a vine out of Egypt: thou haſt caſt out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedſt room before it, and didſt cauſe it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the ſhadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She ſent out her boughs unto the ſea, and her branches unto the river;

12 Why haſt thou then broken down her hedges, hedges, ſo that all they which paſs by the way do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth waſte it, and the wild beaſt of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beſeech thee, O God of hoſts: look down from heaven, and behold, and viſit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down: they periſh at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the ſon of man, whom thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

18 So will not we go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hoſts, cauſe thy face to ſhine; and we ſhall be ſaved.

PSALM LXXXI.

An exhortation to a ſolemn praiſing of God. God challengeth that duty by reaſon of his benefits. God, exhorting to obedience, complaineth of their diſobedience, which proveth their own hurt.

To the chief muſician upon Gittith:
A Pſalm of Aſaph.

SING aloud unto God our ſtrength: make a joyful noiſe unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take a pſalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleaſant harp with the pſaltery.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new-moon (r); in the time appointed, on our ſolemn feaſt-day.

4 For this was a ſtatute for Iſrael, and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordained in Joſeph for a teſtimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I underſtood not.

6 I removed his ſhoulder from the burden: his hands were delivered from the pots.

7 Thou calledſt in trouble, and I delivered thee; I anſwered thee in the ſecret place of thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

8 Hear, O my people, and I will teſtify unto thee: O Iſrael, if thou wilt hearken unto me;

9 There ſhall no ſtrange god be in thee; neither ſhalt thou worſhip any ſtrange god.

10 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Iſrael would none of me:

12 So I gave them up unto their own hearts luſt: and they walked in their own counſels.

13 Oh, that my people had hearkened unto me, and Iſrael had walked in my ways!

14 I ſhould ſoon have ſubdued their enemies, and turned my hand againſt their adverſaries.

15 The haters of the Lord ſhould have ſubmitted themſelves unto him: but their time ſhould have endured for ever.

16 He ſhould have fed them alſo with the fineſt of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock ſhould I have ſatisfied thee.

XVI. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXXXII.

The pſalmiſt having exhorted the judges, and reproved their negligence, prayeth God to judge.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

GOD ſtandeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods.

2 How long will he judge unjuſtly, and accept the perſons of the wicked? Selah.

3 Defend the poor and fatherleſs: do juſtice to the afflicted and needy.

4 Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked.

5 They know not, neither will they underſtand; they walk on in darkneſs: all the foundations of the earth are out of courſe.

6 I have ſaid, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the moſt High.

7 But ye ſhall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.

8 Ariſe, O God, judge the earth: for thou ſhalt inherit all nations.

PSALM LXXXIII.

A complaint to God of the enemies conſpiracies. A prayer againſt them that oppreſs the church.

A Song or Pſalm of Aſaph.

KEEP not thou ſilence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not ſtill, O God.

2 For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, have lifted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counſel againſt thy people, and conſulted againſt thy hidden ones.

4 They have ſaid, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Iſrael may be no more in remembrance.

(r) The feaſt of the new-moon was always proclaimed by the ſound of trumpets. The fixing the time of the new-moon, for want of aſtronomical tables, was done in this manner. The firſt perſons who obſerved, or thought they obſerved the new-moon, were to repair immediately to the grand council to give notice of it. Inquiry was then made into the credibility of the informers, and ſecondly, whether their information agreed with ſuch computations as they were then able to make. After which the preſident proclaimed the new-moon by ſaying Mekdeſh; (i. e. it is conſecrated:) this Hebrew word was twice repeated aloud by the people; after which it was ordered to be proclaimed every where by the ſound of the trumpet. See Univ. Hiſt. vol. iii. p. 33. 8vo.

5 For

5 For they have conſulted together with one conſent: they are confederate againſt thee.
6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Iſhmaelites; of Moab, and the Hagarenes;
7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; the Philiſtines, with the inhabitants of Tyre;
8 Aſſur alſo is joined with them: they have holpen the children of Lot. Selah.
9 Do unto them as unto the Midianites; as to Siſera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kiſon:
10 Which periſhed at En-dor: they became as dung for the earth.
11 Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes as Zebah, and as Zalmunna:
12 Who ſaid, Let us take to ourſelves the houſes of God in poſſeſſion.
13 O my God, make them like a wheel; as the ſtubble before the wind:
14 As the fire burneth the wood, and as the flame ſetteth the mountains on fire;
15 So perſecute them with thy tempeſt, and make them afraid with thy ſtorm.
16 Fill their faces with ſhame; that they may ſeek thy name, O Lord.
17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever; yea, let them be put to ſhame, and periſh:
18 That men may know, that thou whoſe name alone is JEHOVAH, art the moſt high over all the earth.

PSALM LXXXIV.

The prophet, longing for the communion of the ſanctuary, ſheweth how bleſſed they are that dwell therein: he prayeth to be reſtored unto it.

To the chief muſician upon Gittith, A Pſalm for the ſons of Korah.

HOW amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hoſts!
2 My ſoul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my fleſh crieth out for the living God.
3 Yea, the ſparrow hath found an houſe, and the ſwallow a neſt for herſelf, where ſhe may lay her young; even thine altars, O Lord of hoſts, my King, and my God.
4 Bleſſed are they that dwell in thy houſe: they will be ſtill praiſing thee. Selah.
5 Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſtrength is in thee; in whoſe heart are the ways of them.
6 Who, paſſing through the valley of Baca, make it a well; the rain alſo filleth the pools.
7 They go from ſtrength to ſtrength; every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.
8 O Lord God of hoſts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.
9 Behold, O God our ſhield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.
10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thouſand. I had rather be a door-keeper in the houſe of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedneſs.
11 For the Lord God is a ſun and ſhield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he with-hold from them that walk uprightly.
12 O Lord of hoſts, bleſſed is the man that truſteth in thee.

PSALM LXXXV.

The pſalmiſt, from an experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm for the ſons of Korah.

LORD, thou haſt been favourable unto thy land: thou haſt brought back the captivity of Jacob.
2 Thou haſt forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou haſt covered all their ſin. Selah.
3 Thou haſt taken away all thy wrath: thou haſt turned thyſelf from the fierceneſs of thine anger.
4 Turn us, O God of our ſalvation, and cauſe thine anger towards us to ceaſe.
5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever, wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?
6 Wilt thou not revive us again, that thy people may rejoice in thee?
7 Shew us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy ſalvation.
8 I will hear what God the Lord will ſpeak: for he will ſpeak peace unto his people, and to his ſaints: but let them not turn again to folly.
9 Surely his ſalvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.
10 Mercy and truth are met together; righteouſneſs and peace have kiſſed each other.
11 Truth ſhall ſpring out of the earth; and righteouſneſs ſhall look down from heaven.
12 Yea, the Lord ſhall give that which is good; and our land ſhall yield her increaſe.
13 Righteouſneſs ſhall go before him; and ſhall ſet us in the way of his ſteps.

XVII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM LXXXVI.

David ſtrengtheneth his prayer by the conſcience of his religion, by the goodneſs and power of God: he deſireth the continuance of former grace: complaining of the proud, he craveth ſome token of God's goodneſs.

A Prayer of David.

BOW down thine ear, O Lord; hear me, for I am poor and needy.
2 Preſerve my ſoul: for I am holy: O thou my God, ſave thy ſervant that truſteth in thee.
3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I cry unto thee daily.

4 Re-

4 Rejoice the ſoul of thy ſervant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my ſoul.

5 For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O Lord, unto my prayer; and attend to the voice of my ſupplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt anſwer me.

8 Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou haſt made ſhall come and worſhip before thee, O Lord; and ſhall glorify thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doeſt wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praiſe thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou haſt delivered my ſoul from the loweſt hell.

14 O God, the proud are riſen againſt me, and the aſſemblies of violent men have ſought after my ſoul; and have not ſet thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compaſſion, and gracious; long-ſuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me; give thy ſtrength unto thy ſervant, and ſave the ſon of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good; that they which hate me may ſee it, and be aſhamed; becauſe thou, Lord, haſt holpen me, and comforted me.

PSALM LXXXVII.

The nature and glory of the church. The increaſe, honour, and comfort of the members thereof.

A Pſalm or Song for the ſons of Korah.

HIS foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The Lord loveth the gates of Zion, more than all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are ſpoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of Rahab, and Babylon, to them that know me: behold Philiſtia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia. This man was born there.

5 And of Zion it ſhall be ſaid, This and that man was born in her: and the Higheſt himſelf ſhall eſtabliſh her.

6 The Lord ſhall count when he writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the ſingers as the players on inſtruments ſhall be there: all my ſprings are in thee.

PSALM LXXXVIII.

A prayer, containing a grievous complaint.

A Song or Pſalm for the ſons of Korah: To the chief muſician upon Mahalath Leannoth, Maſchil of Heman the Ezrahite.

O Lord God of my ſalvation, I have cried day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry;

3 For my ſoul is full of troubles: and my life draweth unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no ſtrength.

5 Free among the dead, like the ſlain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembereſt no more: and they are cut off from thy hand.

6 Thou haſt laid me in the loweſt pit, in darkneſs, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou haſt afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah.

8 Thou haſt put away mine acquaintance far from me; thou haſt made me an abomination unto them: I am ſhut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye mourneth by reaſon of affliction: Lord, I have called daily upon thee, I have ſtretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou ſhew wonders to the dead? ſhall the dead ariſe and praiſe thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving-kindneſs be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulneſs in deſtruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteouſneſs in the land of forgetfulneſs?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O Lord; and in the morning ſhall my prayer prevent thee.

14 Lord, why caſteſt thou off my ſoul? why hideſt thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, from my youth up: while I ſuffer thy terrors, I am diſtracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me; thy terrors have cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water; they compaſſed me about together.

18 Lover and friend haſt thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkneſs.

XVII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM LXXXIX.

The pſalmiſt praiſeth God for his covenant, for his wonderful power, for his care of his church, for his favour to the kingdom of David: then complaining of contrary events, he expoſtulateth, prayeth, and bleſſeth God.

Maſchil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will ſing of the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulneſs to all generations.

2 For I have ſaid, Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſs ſhalt thou eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my choſen, I have ſworn unto David my ſervant,

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations. Selah.

5 And the heavens ſhall praiſe thy wonders, O Lord: thy faithfulneſs alſo in the congregation of the ſaints.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the Lord? who among the ſons of the mighty can be likened unto the Lord?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the ſaints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hoſts, who is a ſtrong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulneſs round about thee!

9 Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waves thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.

10 Thou haſt broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is ſlain; thou haſt ſcattered thine enemies with thy ſtrong arm.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: as for the world, and the fullneſs thereof, thou haſt founded them.

12 The north and the ſouth, thou haſt created them: Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoice in thy name.

13 Thou haſt a mighty arm: ſtrong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Juſtice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth ſhall go before thy face.

15 Bleſſed is the people that know the joyful ſound: they ſhall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name ſhall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteouſneſs ſhall they be exalted.

17 For thou art the glory of their ſtrength: and in thy favour our horn ſhall be exalted.

18 For the Lord is our defence; and the Holy One of Iſrael is our king.

19 Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to the Holy One, and ſaidſt, I have laid help upon one that is mighty; I have exalted one choſen out of the people.

20 I have found David my ſervant: with my holy oil have I anointed him:

21 With whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed: mine arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him.

22 The enemy ſhall not exact upon him; nor the ſon of wickedneſs afflict him.

23 And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him;

24 But my faithfulneſs and my mercy ſhall be with him: and in my name ſhall his horn be exalted.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the rivers.

26 He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my ſalvation.

27 Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher than the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him.

29 His ſeed alſo will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forſake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they break my ſtatutes, and keep not my commandments;

32 Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the rod, and their iniquity with ſtripes.

33 Nevertheleſs, my loving-kindneſs will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips;

35 Once have I ſworn by my holineſs, That I will not lie unto David.

36 His ſeed ſhall endure for ever, and his throne as the ſun before me.

37 It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witneſs in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou haſt caſt off and abhorred, thou haſt been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou haſt made void the covenant of thy ſervant: thou haſt profaned his crown, by caſting it to the ground.

40 Thou haſt broken down all his hedges; thou haſt brought his ſtrong holds to ruin.

41 All that paſs by the way ſpoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou haſt ſet up the right hand of his adverſaries; thou haſt made all his enemies to rejoice.

43 Thou haſt alſo turned the edge of his ſword, and haſt not made him to ſtand in the battle.

44 Thou haſt made his glory to ceaſe, and caſt his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his youth haſt thou ſhortened: thou haſt covered him with ſhame. Selah.

46 How long, Lord, wilt thou hide thyſelf; for ever? ſhall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember how ſhort my time is: wherefore haſt thou made all men in vain?

48 What man is he that liveth, and ſhall not ſee death? ſhall he deliver his ſoul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former loving-kindneſſes, which thou ſwareſt unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy ſervants; vants; how I do bear in my boſom the reproach of all the mighty people;

51 Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Lord; wherewith they have reproached the footſteps of thine anointed.

52 Bleſſed be the Lord for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

XVIII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XC.

Moſes ſetting forth God's providence, complaineth of human fragility, divine chaſtiſements, and brevity of life: he prayeth for the knowledge and ſenſible experience of God's good providence.

A Prayer of Moſes, the man of God.

LORD, thou haſt been our dwelling-place in all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadſt formed the earth and the world: even from everlaſting to everlaſting, thou art God.

3 Thou turneſt man to deſtruction; and ſayeſt, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thouſand years in thy ſight are but as yeſterday when it is paſt, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carrieſt them away as with a flood; they are as a ſleep; in the morning they are like graſs which groweth up.

6 In the morning it flouriſheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are conſumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou haſt ſet our iniquities before thee, our ſecret ſins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are paſſed away in thy wrath: we ſpend our years as a tale that is told.

10 The days of our years are threeſcore years and ten; and if by reaſon of ſtrength they be fourſcore years, yet is their ſtrength labour and ſorrow; for it is ſoon cut off, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, ſo is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wiſdom.

13 Return, O Lord, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy ſervants.

14 O ſatisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice, and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou haſt afflicted us, and the years wherein we have ſeen evil.

16 Let thy work appear unto thy ſervants, and thy glory unto their children.

17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and eſtabliſh thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands eſtabliſh thou it.

PSALM XCI.

The ſtate of the godly: their habitation, ſafety, ſervants, and friend; with the effects of them all.

HE that dwelleth in the ſecret place of the moſt High, ſhall abide under the ſhadow of the Almighty.

2 I will ſay of the Lord, He is my refuge, and my fortreſs: my God; in him will I truſt.

3 Surely he ſhall deliver thee from the ſnare of the fowler, and from the noiſome peſtilence.

4 He ſhall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings ſhalt thou truſt: his truth ſhall be thy ſhield and buckler.

5 Thou ſhalt not be afraid for the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the peſtilence that walketh in darkneſs, nor for the deſtruction that waſteth at noon-day.

7 A thouſand ſhall fall at thy ſide, and ten thouſand at thy right hand; but it ſhall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes ſhalt thou behold, and ſee the reward of the wicked.

9 Becauſe thou haſt made the Lord which is my refuge, even the moſt High, thy habitation;

10 There ſhall no evil befall thee, neither ſhall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he ſhall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They ſhall bear thee up in their hands, leſt thou daſh thy foot againſt a ſtone.

13 Thou ſhalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon ſhalt thou trample under feet.

14 Becauſe he hath ſet his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will ſet him on high, becauſe he hath known my name.

15 He ſhall call upon me, and I will anſwer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I ſatisfy him, and ſhew him my ſalvation.

PSALM XCII.

The prophet exhorteth to praiſe God, for his great works, for his judgments on the wicked, and for his goodneſs to the godly.

A Pſalm or Song for the ſabbath-day.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to ſing praiſes unto thy name, O moſt High:

2 To ſhew forth thy loving-kindneſs in the morning, and thy faithfulneſs every night;

3 Upon an inſtrument of ten ſtrings, and upon the pſaltery; upon the harp with a ſolemn ſound.

4 For thou, Lord, haſt made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 O Lord,

5 O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A brutiſh man knoweth not, neither doth a fool underſtand this.

7 When the wicked ſpring as the graſs, and when all the workers of iniquity do flouriſh; it is that they ſhall be deſtroyed for ever:

8 But thou, Lord, art moſt high for evermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for lo, thine enemies ſhall periſh; all the workers of iniquity ſhall be ſcattered:

10 But my horn ſhalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I ſhall be anointed with freſh oil.

11 Mine eye alſo ſhall ſee my deſire on mine enemies, and mine ears ſhall hear my deſire of the wicked that riſe up againſt me.

12 The righteous ſhall flouriſh like the palm-tree: he ſhall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Thoſe that be planted in the houſe of the Lord, ſhall flouriſh in the courts of our God,

14 They ſhall ſtill bring forth fruit in old age: they ſhall be fat and flouriſhing:

15 To ſhew that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteouſneſs in him.

XVIII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XCIII.

The majeſty, power, and holineſs of Chriſt's kingdom.

THE Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majeſty; the Lord is clothed with ſtrength, wherewith he hath girded himſelf: the world alſo is ſtabliſhed, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy throne is eſtabliſhed of old: thou art from everlaſting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O Lord, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves.

4 The Lord on high is mightier than the noiſe of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the ſea.

5 Thy teſtimonies are very ſure: holineſs becometh thine houſe, O Lord, for ever.

PSALM XCIV.

The prophet, calling for juſtice, complaineth of tyranny and impiety: he teacheth God's providence: he ſheweth the bleſſedneſs of affliction. God is the defender of the afflicted.

O Lord God, to whom vengeance belongeth: O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, ſhew thyſelf.

2 Lift up thyſelf, thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long ſhall the wicked, how long ſhall the wicked triumph?

4 How long ſhall they utter and ſpeak hard things; and all the workers of iniquity boaſt themſelves?

5 They break in pieces thy people, O Lord, and afflict thine heritage.

6 They ſlay the widow and the ſtranger, and murder the fatherleſs.

7 Yet they ſay, The Lord ſhall not ſee; neither ſhall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Underſtand, ye brutiſh among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wiſe?

9 He that planted the ear, ſhall he not hear? he that formed the eye, ſhall he not ſee?

10 He that chaſtiſeth the heathen, ſhall not he correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall not he know?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſteneſt, O Lord, and teacheſt him out of thy law;

13 That thou mayeſt give him reſt from the days of adverſity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

14 For the Lord will not caſt off his people, neither will he forſake his inheritance.

15 But judgment ſhall return unto righteouſneſs: and all the upright in heart ſhall follow it.

16 Who will riſe up for me againſt the evil doers? or who will ſtand up for me againſt the workers of iniquity?

17 Unleſs the Lord had been my help, my ſoul had almoſt dwelt in ſilence.

18 When I ſaid, My foot ſlippeth; thy mercy, O Lord, held me up.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my ſoul.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowſhip with thee, which frameth miſchief by a law?

21 They gather themſelves together againſt the ſoul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my defence; and my God is the rock of my refuge.

23 And he ſhall bring upon them their own iniquity, and ſhall cut them off in their own wickedneſs; yea, the Lord our God ſhall cut them off.

XIX. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM XCV.

An exhortation to praiſe God, for his greatneſs and for his goodneſs; and not to tempt him.

O Come, let us ſing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noiſe to the rock of our ſalvation.

2 Let us come before his preſence with thankſgiving, and make a joyful noiſe unto him with pſalms.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the ſtrength of the hills is his alſo.

5 The ſea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

6 O come, let us worſhip, and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God; and we are the people of his paſture, and the ſheep of his hand. To-day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderneſs;

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and ſaw my work.

10 Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and ſaid, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways:

11 Unto whom I ſware in my wrath, that they ſhould not enter into my reſt.

PSALM XCVI.

An exhortation to praiſe God, for his greatneſs, for his kingdom, and for his general judgment.

O Sing unto the Lord a new ſong: ſing unto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing unto the Lord, bleſs his name: ſhew forth his ſalvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praiſed: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Honour and majeſty are before him; ſtrength and beauty are in his ſanctuary.

7 Give unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord the glory and ſtrength.

8 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

9 O worſhip the Lord in the beauty of holineſs: fear before him, all the earth.

10 Say among the heathen, that the Lord reigneth: the world alſo ſhall be eſtabliſhed, that it ſhall not be moved; he ſhall judge the people righteouſly.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof.

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then ſhall all the trees of the wood rejoice

13 Before the Lord; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he ſhall judge the world with righteouſneſs, and the people with his truth.

PSALM XCVII.

The majeſty of God's kingdom. The church rejoiceth at God's judgments upon idolaters. An exhortation to godlineſs and gladneſs.

THE Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice: let the multitude of iſles be glad thereof.

2 Clouds and darkneſs are round about him: righteouſneſs and judgment are the habitation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings enlightened the world: the earth ſaw, and trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the preſence of the Lord, at the preſence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteouſneſs, and all the people ſee his glory.

7 Confounded be all they that ſerve graven images, that boaſt themſelves of idols: worſhip him, all ye gods.

8 Zion heard, and was glad; and the daughters of Judah rejoiced, becauſe of thy judgments, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art high above all the earth: thou art exalted far above all gods.

10 Ye that love the Lord, hate evil: he preſerveth the ſouls of his ſaints: he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is ſown for the righteous, and gladneſs for the upright in heart.

12 Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous: and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſs.

XIX. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM XCVIII.

The Pſalmiſt exhorteth the Jews, the Gentiles, and all creatures, to praiſe God.

A Pſalm.

O Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord hath made known his ſalvation: his righteouſneſs hath he openly ſhewed in the ſight of the heathen.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the houſe of Iſrael: all the ends of the earth have ſeen the ſalvation of our God.

4 Make a joyful noiſe unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noiſe, and rejoice, and ſing praiſe.

5 Sing unto the Lord with the harp; with the harp, and the voice of a pſalm.

6 With trumpets and ſound of cornet make a joyful noiſe before the Lord, the King.

7 Let the ſea roar, and the fullneſs thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together,

9 Before the Lord; for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteouſneſs ſhall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

PSALM XCIX.

The prophet ſetteth forth the kingdom of God in Zion, and exhorteth all to worſhip him.

THE Lord reigneth; let the people tremble: he ſitteth between the cherubims; let the earth be moved.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all people.

3 Let them praiſe thy great and terrible name: for it is holy.

4 The king's ſtrength alſo loveth judgment; thou doſt eſtabliſh equity, thou executeſt judgment and righteouſneſs in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worſhip at his footſtool: for he is holy.

6 Moſes and Aaron among his prieſts, and Samuel among them that call upon his name: they called upon the Lord, and he anſwered them.

7 He ſpake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his teſtimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.

8 Thou anſweredſt them, O Lord our God: thou waſt a God that forgaveſt them, though thou tookeſt vengeance of their inventions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and worſhip at his holy hill: for the Lord our God is holy.

PSALM C.

An exhortation to praiſe God chearfully, for his greatneſs, and for his power.

A Pſalm of Praiſe.

MAKE a joyful noiſe unto the Lord, all ye lands.

2 Serve the Lord with gladneſs: come before his preſence with ſinging.

3 Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourſelves: we are his people, and the ſheep of his paſture.

4 Enter into his gates with thankſgiving, and into his courts with praiſe: be thankful unto him, and bleſs his name.

5 For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlaſting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

PSALM CI.

David maketh a vow and profeſſion of his godlineſs.

A Pſalm of David.

I Will ſing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O Lord, will I ſing.

2 I will behave myſelf wiſely in a perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me; I will walk within my houſe with a perfect heart.

3 I will ſet no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aſide; it ſhall not cleave to me.

4 A froward heart ſhall depart from me: I will not know a wicked perſon.

5 Whoſo privily ſlandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, will not I ſuffer.

6 Mine eyes ſhall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he ſhall ſerve me.

7 He that worketh deceit ſhall not dwell within my houſe; he that telleth lies ſhall not tarry in my ſight.

8 I will early deſtroy all the wicked of the land: that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the Lord.

XX. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CII.

The prophet in his prayer maketh a grievous complaint: he taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God. The mercies of God are to be recorded: he ſuſtaineth his weakneſs by the unchangeableneſs of God.

A prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the Lord.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble; incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call, anſwer me ſpeedily.

3 For my days are conſumed like ſmoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth.

4 My heart is ſmitten, and withered like graſs; ſo that I forget to eat my bread.

5 By reaſon of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my ſkin.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderneſs: I am like an owl of the deſart.

7 I watch, and am as a ſparrow alone upon the houſe-top.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day; and they that are mad againſt me, are ſworn againſt me.

9 For I have eaten aſhes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping;

10 Becauſe of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou haſt lifted me up, and caſt me down.

11 My days are like a ſhadow that declineth; and I am withered like graſs.

12 But thou, O Lord, ſhalt endure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.

13 Thou ſhalt ariſe, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the ſet time is come.

14 For thy ſervants take pleaſure in her ſtones, and favour the duſt thereof.

15 So the heathen ſhall fear the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the Lord ſhall build up Zion, he ſhall appear in his glory.

17 He will regard the prayer of the deſtitute, and not deſpiſe their prayer.

18 This ſhall be written for the generation to come: and the people which ſhall be created, ſhall praiſe the Lord.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his ſanctuary; from heaven did the Lord behold the earth;

20 To hear the groaning of the priſoner, to looſe thoſe that are appointed to death;
21 To declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and his praiſe in Jeruſalem;
22 When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms to ſerve the Lord;
23 He weakened my ſtrength in the way; he ſhortened my days.
24 I ſaid, O my God, take me not away in the midſt of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.
25 Of old haſt thou laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the work of thy hands.
26 They ſhall periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: yea, all of them ſhall wax old like a garment; as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, and they ſhall be changed:
27 But thou art the ſame, and thy years ſhall have no end.
28 The children of thy ſervants ſhall continue, and their ſeed ſhall be eſtabliſhed before thee.

PSALM CIII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy, and for the conſtancy thereof.

A Pſalm of David.

BLESS the Lord, O my ſoul: and all that is within me, bleſs his holy name.
2 Bleſs the Lord, O my ſoul, and forget not all his benefits:
3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diſeaſes:
4 Who redeemeth thy life from deſtruction; who crowneth thee with loving-kindneſs and tender mercies:
5 Who ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things; ſo that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's (s).
6 The Lord executeth righteouſneſs and judgment for all that are oppreſſed.
7 He made known his ways unto Moſes, his acts unto the children of Iſrael.
8 The Lord is merciful and gracious, ſlow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
9 He will not always chide; neither will he keep his anger for ever.
10 He hath not dealt with us after our ſins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.
11 For as the heaven is high above the earth, ſo great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
12 As far as the eaſt is from the weſt, ſo far hath he removed our tranſgreſſions from us.
13 Like as a father pitieth his children, ſo the Lord pitieth them that fear him.
14 For he knoweth our frame: he remembereth that we are duſt.
15 As for man, his days are as graſs: as a flower of the field, ſo he flouriſheth.
16 For the wind paſſeth over it, and it is gone: and the place thereof ſhall know it no more.
17 But the mercy of the Lord is from everlaſting to everlaſting upon them that fear him, and his righteouſneſs unto children's children;
18 To ſuch as keep his covenant, and to thoſe that remember his commandments, to do them.
19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.
20 Bleſs the Lord, ye his angels, that excel in ſtrength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.
21 Bleſs ye the Lord, all ye his hoſts; ye miniſters of his that do his pleaſure.
22 Bleſs the Lord, all his works, in all places of his dominion: bleſs the Lord, O my ſoul.

XX. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CIV.

A meditation upon the mighty power and wonderful providence of God. The prophet voweth perpetually to praiſe God.

BLESS the Lord, O my ſoul: O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majeſty.
2 Who covereſt thyſelf with light as with a garment: who ſtretcheſt out the heavens like a curtain.
3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters; who maketh the clouds his chariot; who walketh upon the wings of the wind:
4 Who maketh his angels ſpirits; his miniſters a flaming fire:
5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it ſhould not be removed for ever.

(s) Dr. Delaney obſerves, that it is generally underſtood of the eagle, when his feathers molt, and fall off gradually, and new ones ſucceed, that his youth is renewed with his plumage; and "I am well aſſured, ſays he, that theſe feathers fall by pairs, one in each wing; and that thoſe which fall at once, are the two feathers exactly correſponding to each other in each wing; and that this pair is renewed by a new growth, before the next pair falls: a plain appointment of Providential wiſdom and goodneſs! for by thus preſerving the exact balance of the wings, which a very little inequality (the difference of leſs than half a feather) in either would deſtroy, the eagle is never utterly diſabled from purſuing his prey; though it be evident, he cannot purſue it with full vigour, till all his feathers be renewed; and therefore his youth is then ſaid to be reſtored." The fact is, all birds have yearly their molting time, when they ſhed their old, and are afreſh furniſhed with a new ſtock of feathers. This is moſt obſervable of hawks and vultures, and eſpecially of eagles; which, when they are near one hundred years old, caſt their feathers, and become bald like young ones, and then new feathers ſprout out.

6 Thou coveredſt it with the deep as with a garment: the waters ſtood above the mountains.
7 At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they haſted away.
8 They go up by the mountains; they go down by the vallies unto the place which thou haſt founded for them.
9 Thou haſt ſet a bound that they may not paſs over; that they turn not again to cover the earth.
10 He ſendeth the ſprings into the vallies, which run among the hills.
11 They give drink to every beaſt of the field: the wild aſſes quench their thirſt.
12 By them ſhall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which ſing among the branches.
13 He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is ſatisfied with the fruit of thy works.
14 He cauſeth the graſs to grow for the cattle, and herb for the ſervice of man; that he may bring forth food out of the earth,
15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to ſhine, and bread which ſtrengtheneth man's heart.
16 The trees of the Lord are full of ſap; the cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted;
17 Where the birds make their neſts: as for the ſtork, the fir-trees are her houſe.
18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and the rocks for the conies.
19 He appointeth the moon for ſeaſons: the ſun knoweth his going down.
20 Thou makeſt darkneſs, and it is night: wherein all the beaſts of the foreſt do creep forth.
21 The young lions roar after their prey, and ſeek their meat from God.
22 The ſun ariſeth, they gather themſelves together, and lay them down in their dens.
23 Man goeth forth to his work and to his labour until the evening.
24 O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wiſdom haſt thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is this great and wide ſea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both ſmall and great beaſts.
26 There go the ſhips: there is that Leviathan, whom thou haſt made to play therein.
27 Theſe wait all upon thee, that thou mayeſt give them their meat in due ſeaſon.
28 That thou giveſt them, they gather: thou openeſt thine hand, they are filled with good.
29 Thou hideſt thy face, they are troubled: thou takeſt away their breath, they die, and return to their duſt.
30 Thou ſendeſt forth thy ſpirit, they are created: and thou reneweſt the face of the earth.
31 The glory of the Lord ſhall endure for ever: the Lord ſhall rejoice in his works.
32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they ſmoke.
33 I will ſing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will ſing praiſe unto my God, while I have my being.
34 My meditation of him ſhall be ſweet: I will be glad in the Lord.
35 Let the ſinners be conſumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bleſs thou the Lord, O my ſoul. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXI. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CV.

An exhortation to praiſe God, and to ſeek out his works. The ſtory of God's providence over Abraham, Joſeph, Jacob, and Moſes; and over the Iſraelites, while in the wilderneſs, and in Canaan.

O Give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people.
2 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him: talk ye of all his wonderous works.
3 Glory ye in his holy name; let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the Lord.
4 Seek the Lord, and his ſtrength: ſeek his face evermore.
5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;
6 O ye ſeed of Abraham his ſervant, ye children of Jacob his choſen.
7 He is the Lord our God: his judgments are in all the earth.
8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations.
9 Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Iſaac;
10 And confirmed the ſame unto Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant:
11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 When they were but a few men in number; yea, very few, and ſtrangers in it:
13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people:
14 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their ſakes:
15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.
16 Moreover, he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole ſtaff of bread.
17 He ſent a man before them, even Joſeph, who was ſold for a ſervant:
18 Whoſe feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron.

19 Until

19 Until the time that his word came: the word of the Lord tried him.

20 The king ſent and looſed him; even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.

21 He made him lord of his houſe, and ruler of all his ſubſtance:

22 To bind his princes at his pleaſure; and teach his ſenators wiſdom.

23 Iſrael alſo came into Egypt; and Jacob ſojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increaſed his people greatly; and made them ſtronger than their enemies.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal ſubtilly with his ſervants.

26 He ſent Moſes his ſervant; and Aaron whom he had choſen.

27 They ſhewed his ſigns among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He ſent darkneſs, and made it dark; and they rebelled not againſt his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood, and ſlew their fiſh.

30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.

31 He ſpake, and there came divers ſorts of flies, and lice in all their coaſts.

32 He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.

33 He ſmote their vines alſo and their fig-trees; and brake the trees of their coaſts.

34 He ſpake, and the locuſts came, and caterpillers, and that without number,

35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 He ſmote alſo all the firſt-born in their land: the chief of all their ſtrength.

37 He brought them forth alſo with ſilver and gold: and there was not one feeble perſon among their tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.

39 He ſpread a cloud for a covering; and fire to give light in the night.

40 The people aſked, and he brought quails; and ſatisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 He opened the rock, and the waters guſhed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy promiſe, and Abraham his ſervant.

43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his choſen with gladneſs:

44 And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people;

45 That they might obſerve his ſtatutes, and keep his laws. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXI. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CVI.

The pſalmiſt exhorteth to praiſe God: he prayeth for pardon of ſin: the ſtory of the people's rebellion, and God's mercy: he concludeth with prayer and praiſe.

PRAISE ye the Lord. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the Lord? who can ſhew forth all his praiſe?

3 Bleſſed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteouſneſs at all times.

4 Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that thou beareſt unto thy people: O viſit me with thy ſalvation:

5 That I may ſee the good of thy choſen, that I may rejoice in the gladneſs of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have ſinned with our fathers: we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers underſtood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; but provoked him at the ſea, even at the Red ſea.

8 Nevertheleſs, he ſaved them for his name's ſake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red ſea alſo, and it was dried up: ſo he led them through the depths as through the wilderneſs.

10 And he ſaved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 Then believed they his words; they ſang his praiſe.

13 They ſoon forgat his works; they waited not for his counſel:

14 But luſted exceedingly in the wilderneſs, and tempted God in the deſart.

15 And he gave them their requeſt; but ſent leanneſs into their ſoul.

16 They envied Moſes alſo in the camp, and Aaron, the ſaint of the Lord.

17 The earth opened, and ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burned up the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their glory into the ſimilitude of an ox that eateth graſs.

21 They forgat God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt;

22 Wonderous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red ſea.

23 There-

23 Therefore he ſaid that he would deſtroy them, had not Moſes his choſen ſtood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, leſt he ſhould deſtroy them.

24 Yea, they deſpiſed the pleaſant land; they believed not his word:

25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.

26 Therefore he lifted up his hand againſt them, to overthrow them in the wilderneſs:

27 To overthrow their ſeed alſo among the nations, and to ſcatter them in the lands.

28 They joined themſelves alſo unto Baal-peor, and ate the ſacrifices of the dead.

29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 Then ſtood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and ſo the plague was ſtayed.

31 And that was accounted unto him for righteouſneſs, unto all generations for evermore.

32 They angered him alſo at the waters of ſtrife, ſo that it went ill with Moſes for their ſakes:

33 Becauſe they provoked his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake unadviſedly with his lips.

34 They did not deſtroy the nations, concerning whom the Lord commanded them:

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they ſerved their idols: which were a ſnare unto them;

37 Yea, they ſacrificed their ſons and their daughters unto devils,

38 And ſhed innocent blood, even the blood of their ſons and of their daughters, whom they ſacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people, inſomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them ruled over them.

42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were brought into ſubjection under their hand.

43 Many times did he deliver them; but they provoked him with their counſel, and were brought low for their iniquity.

44 Nevertheleſs, he regarded their affliction when he heard their cry.

45 And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

46 He made them alſo to be pitied of all thoſe that carried them captives.

47 Save us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praiſe.

48 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael from everlaſting to everlaſting: and let all the people ſay, Amen. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CVII.

The pſalmiſt exhorteth the redeemed, in praiſing God, to obſerve his manifold providence over travellers, over captives, ſick men, and ſeamen, and in divers varieties of life.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let the redeemed of the Lord ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the eaſt and from the weſt, from the north and from the ſouth.

4 They wandered in the wilderneſs in a ſolitary way; they found no city to dwell in.

5 Hungry and thirſty, their ſoul fainted in them.

6 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their diſtreſſes.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men (t)!

9 For he ſatisfieth the longing ſoul, and filleth the hungry ſoul with goodneſs.

10 Such as ſit in darkneſs, and in the ſhadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;

11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the words of (t) Dr. Hammond remarks very properly that this is a pſalm of anſwering, or parts, to be ſung alternately; having a double burden or intercalary verſe oft recurring. See ver. 6, 13, &c. This is apparent upon the moſt tranſient view of it. We may ſuppoſe one ſide of the choir to have begun with the firſt of the parts, and then the other ſide to have taken the ſecond, and ſo on. The 9th verſe evidently belongs to the firſt part; for the 10th begins quite another ſubject. The compoſition of this pſalm is admirable throughout; and the deſcriptive part of it adds, at leaſt, its ſhare of beauty to the whole: but what is moſt to be admired is the conciſeneſs, and withal the expreſſiveneſs of the diction, which ſtrikes one's imagination with inimitable elegance. The weary and bewildered traveller, the miſerable captive in the hideous dungeon, the ſick and dying man, the ſeaman foundering in a ſtorm ---are deſcribed in ſo affecting a manner, that they far exceed any thing of the kind, though never ſo much laboured. See Lowth's 29th Prelection.

God,

God, and contemned the counſel of the moſt High:

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour; they fell down, and there was none to help.

13 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he ſaved them out of their diſtreſſes.

14 He brought them out of darkneſs, and the ſhadow of death, and brake their bands in ſunder.

15 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

16 For he hath broken the gates of braſs, and cut the bars of iron in ſunder.

17 Fools, becauſe of their tranſgreſſion, and becauſe of their iniquities, are afflicted.

18 Their ſoul abhoreth all manner of meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death.

19 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he ſaveth them out of their diſtreſſes.

20 He ſent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their deſtructions.

21 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

22 And let them ſacrifice the ſacrifices of thankſgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.

23 They that go down to the ſea in ſhips, that do buſineſs in great waters;

24 Theſe ſee the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth, and raiſeth the ſtormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their ſoul is melted becauſe of trouble.

27 They reel to and fro, and ſtagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits end.

28 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their diſtreſſes.

29 He maketh the ſtorm a calm, ſo that the waves thereof are ſtill.

30 Then are they glad becauſe they be quiet; ſo he bringeth them unto their deſired haven.

31 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

32 Let them exalt him alſo in the congregation of the people, and praiſe him in the aſſembly of the elders.

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderneſs, and the water-ſprings into dry ground:

34 A fruitful land into barrenneſs, for the wickedneſs of them that dwell therein.

35 He turneth the wilderneſs into a ſtanding water, and dry ground into water-ſprings.

36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

37 And ſow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increaſe.

38 He bleſſeth them alſo, ſo that they are multiplied greatly, and ſuffereth not their cattle to decreaſe.

39 Again they are diminiſhed, and brought low through oppreſſion, affliction, and ſorrow.

40 He poureth contempt upon princes, and cauſeth them to wander in the wilderneſs, where there is no way.

41 Yet ſetteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

42 The righteous ſhall ſee it, and rejoice; and all iniquity ſhall ſtop her mouth.

43 Whoſo is wiſe, and will obſerve theſe things, even they ſhall underſtand the loving-kindneſs of the Lord.

XXII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CVIII.

David encourageth himſelf to praiſe God: he prayeth for God's aſſiſtance, according to his promiſe: his confidence in God's help.

A Song or Pſalm of David.

O GOD, my heart is fixed, I will ſing and give praiſe, even with my glory.

2 Awake, pſaltery and harp: I myſelf will awake early.

3 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, among the people: and I will ſing praiſes unto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, and thy glory above all the earth;

6 That thy beloved may be delivered: ſave with thy right hand and anſwer me.

7 God hath ſpoken in his holineſs; I will rejoice; I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead is mine, Manaſſeh is mine: Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of mine head: Judah is my law-giver;

9 Moab is my waſh-pot; over Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe: over Philiſtia will I triumph.

10 Who will bring me into the ſtrong city? who will lead me into Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, who haſt caſt us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hoſts?

12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSALM

PSALM CIX.

David complaining of his ſlanderous enemies, under the perſon of Judas, deveteth them: he ſheweth their ſin: complaining of his own miſery, he prayeth for help: he promiſeth thankfulneſs.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

HOLD not thy peace, O God of my praiſe;
2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth of the deceitful are opened againſt me: they have ſpoken againſt me with a lying tongue.
3 They compaſſed me about alſo with words of hatred; and fought againſt me without a cauſe.
4 For my love, they are my adverſaries: but I give myſelf unto prayer.
5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.
6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Satan ſtand at his right hand.
7 When he ſhall be judged, let him be condemned: and let his prayer become ſin.
8 Let his days be few; and let another take his office.
9 Let his children be fatherleſs, and his wife a widow.
10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them ſeek their bread alſo out of their deſolate places.
11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath; and let the ſtranger ſpoil his labour.
12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherleſs children.
13 Let his poſterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.
14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the Lord; and let not the ſin of his mother be blotted out.
15 Let them be before the Lord continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.
16 Becauſe that he remembered not to ſhew mercy, but perſecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even ſlay the broken in heart.
17 As he loved curſing, ſo let it come unto him: as he delighted not in bleſſing, ſo let it be far from him.
18 As he clothed himſelf with curſing like as with a garment; ſo let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.
19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.
20 Let this be the reward of mine adverſaries from the Lord, and of them that ſpeak evil againſt my ſoul.
21 But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's ſake: becauſe thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.
22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.
23 I am gone like the ſhadow, when it declineth: I am toſſed up and down as the locuſt.
24 My knees are weak through faſting; and my fleſh faileth of fatneſs.
25 I became alſo a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they ſhaked their heads.
26 Help me, O Lord my God: O ſave me, according to thy mercy:
27 That they may know that this is thy hand: that thou, Lord, haſt done it.
28 Let them curſe, but bleſs thou: when they ariſe, let them be aſhamed; but let thy ſervant rejoice.
29 Let mine adverſaries be clothed with ſhame, and let them cover themſelves with their own confuſion, as with a mantle.
30 I will greatly praiſe the Lord with my mouth; yea, I will praiſe him among the multitude.
31 For he ſhall ſtand at the right hand of the poor, to ſave him from thoſe that condemn his ſoul.

XXIII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CX.

The kingdom, prieſthood, conqueſt, and paſſion of Chriſt.

A Pſalm of David.

THE Lord ſaid unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footſtool.
2 The Lord ſhall ſend the rod of thy ſtrength out of Zion: rule thou in the midſt of thine enemies.
3 Thy people ſhall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holineſs from the womb of the morning: thou haſt the dew of thy youth.
4 The Lord hath ſworn, and will not repent, Thou art a prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchizedek.
5 The Lord at thy right hand ſhall ſtrike through kings in the day of his wrath.
6 He ſhall judge among the heathen, he ſhall fill the places with the dead bodies: he ſhall wound the heads over many countries.
7 He ſhall drink of the brook in the way: therefore ſhall he lift up the head.

PSALM CXI.

The pſalmiſt by his example inciteth others to praiſe God for his glorious and gracious works. The fear of God breedeth true wiſdom.

PRAISE ye the Lord. I will praiſe the Lord with my whole heart, in the aſſembly of the upright, and in the congregation.
2 The works of the Lord are great, ſought out of all them that have pleaſure therein.
3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compaſſion.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath ſhewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are ſure.

8 They ſtand faſt for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightneſs.

9 He ſent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wiſdom: a good underſtanding have all they that do his commandments: his praiſe endureth for ever.

PSALM CXII.

Godlineſs hath the promiſes of this life, and of the life to come. The proſperity of the godly ſhall be an eye-ſore to the wicked.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Bleſſed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His ſeed ſhall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright ſhall be bleſſed.

3 Wealth and riches ſhall be in his houſe: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 Unto the upright there ariſeth light in the darkneſs: he is gracious, and full of compaſſion, and righteous.

5 A good man ſheweth favour, and lendeth; he will guide his affairs with diſcretion.

6 Surely he ſhall not be moved for ever: the righteous ſhall be in everlaſting remembrance.

7 He ſhall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, truſting in the Lord.

8 His heart is eſtabliſhed, he ſhall not be afraid, until he ſee his deſire upon his enemies.

9 He hath diſperſed, he hath given to the poor; his righteouſneſs endureth for ever; his horn ſhall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked ſhall ſee it, and be grieved; he ſhall gnaſh with his teeth, and melt away: the deſire of the wicked ſhall periſh.

PSALM CXIII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his excellency, and for his mercy.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe, O ye ſervants of the Lord, praiſe the name of the Lord.

2 Bleſſed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and evermore.

3 From the riſing of the ſun unto the going down of the ſame, the Lord's name is to be praiſed.

4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high!

6 Who humbleth himſelf to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!

7 He raiſeth up the poor out of the duſt, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill;

8 That he may ſet him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to keep houſe, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXIII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXIV.

An exhortation, by the example of the dumb creatures, to fear God in his church.

WHEN Iſrael went out of Egypt, the houſe of Jacob from a people of ſtrange language;

2 Judah was his ſanctuary, and Iſrael his dominion.

3 The ſea ſaw it, and fled; Jordan was driven back;

4 The mountains ſkipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.

5 What ailed thee, O thou ſea, that thou fleddeſt? thou Jordan, that thou waſt driven back?

6 Ye mountains that ye ſkipped like rams; and ye little hills like lambs?

7 Tremble thou, earth, at the preſence of the Lord, at the preſence of the God of Jacob.

8 Which turned the rocked into a ſtanding water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

PSALM CXV.

Becauſe God is truly glorious, and idols are vanity, the pſalmiſt exhorteth to confidence in Him. God is to be praiſed for his bleſſings.

NOT unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's ſake.

2 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatſoever he pleaſed.

4 Their idols are ſilver and gold, the work of men's hands.

5 They have mouths, but they ſpeak not; eyes have they, but they ſee not:

6 They have ears, but they hear not; noſes have they, but they ſmell not:

7 They have hands, but they handle not; feet have they, but they walk not; neither ſpeak they through their throat.

8 They that make them are like unto them; ſo is every one that truſteth in them.

9 O Iſrael, truſt thou in the Lord: he is their help and their ſhield.

10 O houſe of Aaron, truſt in the Lord: he is their help and their ſhield.

11 Ye that fear the Lord, truſt in the Lord: he is their help and their ſhield.

12 The Lord hath been mindful of us; he will bleſs us: he will bleſs the houſe of Iſrael, he will bleſs the houſe of Aaron.

13 He will bleſs them that fear the Lord, both ſmall and great.

14 The Lord ſhall increaſe you more and more, you and your children.

15 Ye are bleſſed of the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

16 The heaven, even the heavens are the Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praiſe not the Lord, neither any that go down into ſilence.

18 But we will bleſs the Lord, from this time forth and for evermore. Praiſe the Lord.

XXIV. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXVI.

The pſalmiſt profeſſeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance: he ſtudieth to be thankful.

I LOVE the Lord, becauſe he hath heard my voice, and my ſupplications.

2 Becauſe he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and ſorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beſeech thee, deliver my ſoul.

5 Gracious is the Lord, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

6 The Lord preſerveth the ſimple; I was brought low, and he helped me.

7 Return unto thy reſt, O my ſoul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.

8 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

10 I believed, therefore have I ſpoken: I was greatly afflicted.

11 I ſaid in my haſte, All men are liars.

12 What ſhall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits towards me?

13 I will take the cup of ſalvation, and call upon the name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, now, in the preſence of all his people.

15 Precious in the ſight of the Lord is the death of his ſaints.

16 O Lord, truly I am thy ſervant; I am thy ſervant, and the ſon of thine handmaid: thou haſt looſed my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee the ſacrifice of thankſgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, now, in the preſence of all his people, 19 In the courts of the Lord's houſe, in the midſt of thee, O Jeruſalem. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CXVII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy and truth.

O Praiſe the Lord, all ye nations: praiſe him, all ye people.

2 For his merciful kindneſs is great towards us: and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CXVIII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy. The pſalmiſt by his experience ſheweth how good it is to truſt in God. Under the type of the pſalmiſt, the coming of Chriſt in his kingdom is expreſſed.

O Give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: becauſe his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Iſrael now ſay, that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the houſe of Aaron now ſay, that his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let them now that fear the Lord ſay, that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 I called upon the Lord in diſtreſs: the Lord anſwered me, and ſet me in a large place.

6 The Lord is on my ſide: I will not fear. What can man do unto me?

7 The Lord taketh my part with them that help me: therefore ſhall I ſee my deſire upon them that hate me.

8 It is better to truſt in the Lord, than to put confidence in man.

9 It is better to truſt in the Lord, than to put confidence in princes.

10 All nations compaſſed me about: but in the name of the Lord will I deſtroy them.

11 They compaſſed me about; yea, they compaſſed me about: but in the name of the Lord I will deſtroy them.

12 They compaſſed me about like bees: they are quenched as the fire of thorns: for in the name of the Lord I will deſtroy them.

13 Thou haſt thruſt ſore at me, that I might fall; but the Lord helped me.

14 The Lord is my ſtrength and ſong, and is become my ſalvation.

15 The voice of rejoicing and ſalvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

17 I ſhall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.
18 The Lord hath chaſtened me ſore: but he hath not given me over unto death.
19 Open to me the gates of righteouſneſs: I will go in to them, and I will praiſe the Lord:
20 This is the gate of the Lord, into which the righteous ſhall enter.
21 I will praiſe thee: for thou haſt heard me, and art become my ſalvation.
22 The ſtone which the builders refuſed is become the head ſtone of the corner.
23 This is the Lord's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.
25 Save now, I beſeech thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beſeech thee, ſend now proſperity.
26 Bleſſed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord: we have bleſſed you out of the houſe of the Lord.
27 God is the Lord, which hath ſhewed us light: bind the ſacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will praiſe thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.
29 O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

XXIV. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXIX.

This pſalm containeth ſundry prayers, praiſes, and profeſſions of obedience.

ALEPH

BLESSED are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord.
2 Bleſſed are they that keep his teſtimonies, and that ſeek him with the whole heart.
3 They alſo do no iniquity: they walk in his ways.
4 Thou haſt commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.
5 O that my ways were directed to keep thy ſtatutes!
6 Then ſhall I not be aſhamed, when I have reſpect unto all thy commandments.
7 I will praiſe thee with uprightneſs of heart, when I ſhall have learned thy righteous judgments.
8 I will keep thy ſtatutes: O forſake me not utterly.

BETH.

9 Wherewith ſhall a young man cleanſe his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.
10 With my whole heart have I ſought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.
11 Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not ſin againſt thee.
12 Bleſſed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy ſtatutes.
13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.
14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy teſtimonies, as much as in all riches.
15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have reſpect unto thy ways.
16 I will delight myſelf in thy ſtatutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy ſervant, that I may live, and keep thy word.
18 Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wonderous things out of thy law.
19 I am a ſtranger in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.
20 My ſoul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.
21 Thou haſt rebuked the proud that are curſed, which do err from thy commandments.
22 Remove from me reproach and contempt; for I have kept thy teſtimonies.
23 Princes alſo did ſit and ſpeak againſt me: but thy ſervant did meditate in thy ſtatutes.
24 Thy teſtimonies alſo are my delight, and my counſellors.

DALETH.

25 My ſoul cleaveth unto the duſt: quicken thou me according to thy word.
26 I have declared my ways, and thou heardeſt me: teach me thy ſtatutes.
27 Make me to underſtand the way of thy precepts: ſo ſhall I talk of thy wonderous works.
28 My ſoul melteth for heavineſs: ſtrengthen thou me according unto thy word.
29 Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciouſly.
30 I have choſen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.
31 I have ſtuck unto thy teſtimonies: O Lord, put me not to ſhame.

Pſalm CXIX.] This pſalm is ſuppoſed to have been written by David, under the reign of Saul, in which he was frequently perſecuted, but in which alſo he had ſome quiet intervals (ſee ver. 54); when he had leiſure to write ſo long a compoſition, and one laboured with ſo much art. For it is not only divided into as many parts as there are letters in the Hebrew alphabet, but likewiſe each of theſe parts is divided into eight verſes, and every one of theſe verſes begins with that letter of the alphabet which forms the title of the part. Thus each of the eight verſes in the firſt part, termed aleph, begin with an aleph, as thoſe do in the ſecond part, named beth, with a beth. For this reaſon, in the Maſſora, this pſalm is ſtiled, "The great alphabet." It is further remarkable, that in all theſe verſes, except 32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou ſhalt enlarge my heart.

XXV. Day. Morning Prayer.

H E.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy ſtatutes, and I ſhall keep it unto the end.

34 Give me underſtanding, and I ſhall keep thy law; yea, I ſhall obſerve it with my whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments; for therein do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies, and not to covetouſneſs.

37 Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; and quicken thou me in thy way.

38 Stabliſh thy word unto thy ſervant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away thy reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteouſneſs.

V A U.

41 Let thy mercies come alſo unto me, O Lord, even thy ſalvation, according to thy word.

42 So ſhall I have wherewith to anſwer him that reproacheth me: for I truſt in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.

44 So ſhall I keep thy law continually, for ever and ever.

45 And I will walk at liberty: for I ſeek thy precepts.

46 I will ſpeak of thy teſtimonies alſo before kings, and will not be aſhamed.

47 And I will delight myſelf in thy commandments which I have loved.

48 My hands alſo will I lift up unto thy commandments which I have loved; and I will meditate in thy ſtatutes.

Z A I N.

49 Remember the word unto thy ſervant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope.

50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.

51 The proud have had me greatly in deriſion; yet have I not declined from thy law.

52 I remembered thy judgments of old, O Lord; and have comforted myſelf.

53 Horror hath taken hold upon me, becauſe of the wicked that forſake thy law.

54 Thy ſtatutes have been my ſongs in the houſe of my pilgrimage.

55 I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law.

56 This I had, becauſe I kept thy precepts.

C H E T H.

57 Thou art my portion, O Lord: I have ſaid, that I would keep thy words.

58 I intreated thy favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.

59 I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies.

60 I made haſte, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The bands of the wicked have robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy law.

62 At midnight I will riſe to give thanks unto thee, becauſe of thy righteous judgments.

63 I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: Teach me thy ſtatutes.

T E T H.

65 Thou haſt dealt well with thy ſervant, O Lord, according unto thy word.

66 Teach me good judgment, and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went aſtray: but now have I kept thy word.

68 Thou art good, and doeſt good; teach me thy ſtatutes.

69 The proud have forged a lie againſt me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 Their heart is as fat as greaſe: but I delight in thy law.

71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy ſtatutes.

72 The law of thy mouth is better unto me, than thouſands of gold and ſilver.

XXV. Day. Evening Prayer.

J O D.

73 Thy hands have made me, and faſhioned me: give me underſtanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 They that fear thee, will be glad when they ſee me: becauſe I have hoped in thy word.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are right, and that thou in faithfulneſs haſt afflicted me.

76 Let, I pray thee, thy merciful kindneſs except one or two, there is ſome word or other which ſignifies the law of God. There are ten words which are uſed for this purpoſe promiſcuouſly in this compoſition, namely, the law, the ways, the teſtimonies, the commandments, the precepts, the word, the judgments, the righteouſneſs, the ſtatutes, and the truth of God. The pſalm contains a great many pious reflections and excellent rules, without any great connection or dependance on each other; tending principally to ſet forth the excellence of the divine laws: and this want of connection, probably, was the reaſon why the pſalm was written in this alphabetical method; that the initial letters might be a help to the memory of thoſe who were to learn it in the original.

be

be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy ſervant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be aſhamed: for they dealt perverſely with me without a cauſe: but I will meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let thoſe that fear thee turn unto me, and thoſe that have known thy teſtimonies.

80 Let my heart be found in thy ſtatutes, that I be not aſhamed.

C A P H.

81 My ſoul fainteth for thy ſalvation; but I hope in thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am become like a bottle in the ſmoke; yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.

84 How many are the days of thy ſervant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that perſecute me?

85 The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.

86 All thy commandments are faithful: they perſecute me wrongfully; help thou me.

87 They had almoſt conſumed me upon earth: but I forſook not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me after thy loving-kindneſs; ſo ſhall I keep the teſtimony of thy mouth.

L A M E D.

89 For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in heaven.

90 Thy faithfulneſs is unto all generations: thou haſt eſtabliſhed the earth, and it abideth.

91 They continued this day according to thine ordinances: for all are thy ſervants.

92 Unleſs thy law had been my delights, I ſhould then have periſhed in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts: for with them thou haſt quickened me.

94 I am thine, ſave me: for I have ſought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to deſtroy me: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.

96 I have ſeen an end of all perfection: but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

M E M.

97 O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.

98 Thou, through thy commandments, haſt made me wiſer than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.

99 I have more underſtanding than all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditation.

100 I underſtand more than the ancients, becauſe I keep thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep thy word.

102 I have not departed from thy judgments: for thou haſt taught me.

103 How ſweet are thy words unto my taſte! yea, ſweeter than honey to my mouth.

104 Through thy precepts I get underſtanding: therefore I hate every falſe way.

XXVI. Day. Morning Prayer.

N U N.

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

106 I have ſworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.

107 I am afflicted very much: quicken me, O Lord, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beſeech thee, the free-will-offerings of my mouth, O Lord, and teach me thy judgments.

109 My ſoul is continually in my hand: yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a ſnare for me: yet I erred not from thy precepts.

111 Thy teſtimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart to perform thy ſtatutes always, even unto the end.

S A M E C H.

113 I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding-place, and my ſhield: I hope in thy word.

115 Depart from me, ye evil doers: for I will keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me, according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be aſhamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I ſhall be ſafe: and I will have reſpect unto thy ſtatutes continually.

118 Thou haſt trodden down all them that err from thy ſtatutes: for their deceit is falſehood.

119 Thou putteſt away all the wicked of the earth like droſs: therefore I love thy teſtimonies.

120 My fleſh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments.

A I N.

121 I have done judgment and juſtice: leave me not to mine oppreſſors.

122 Be ſurety for thy ſervant for good: let not the proud oppreſs me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy ſalvation, and for the word of thy righteouſneſs.

124 Deal with thy ſervant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy ſtatutes.

125 I am thy ſervant: give me underſtanding, that I may know thy teſtimonies.

126 It is time for thee, Lord, to work: for they have made void thy law.
127 Therefore I love thy commandments above gold; yea, above fine gold.
128 Therefore I eſteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every falſe way.

P E.

129 Thy teſtimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my ſoul keep them.
130 The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth underſtanding unto the ſimple.
131 I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy commandments.
132 Look thou upon me, and be merciful unto me, as thou uſeſt to do unto thoſe that love thy name.
133 Order my ſteps in thy word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.
134 Deliver me from the oppreſſion of man: ſo will I keep thy precepts.
135 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: and teach me thy ſtatutes.
136 Rivers of waters run down mine eyes: becauſe they keep not thy law.

T S A D D I.

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and upright are thy judgments.
138 Thy teſtimonies that thou haſt commanded are righteous, and very faithful.
139 My zeal hath conſumed me: becauſe mine enemies have forgotten thy words.
140 Thy word is very pure: therefore thy ſervant loveth it.
141 I am ſmall and deſpiſed: yet do not I forget thy precepts.
142 Thy righteouſneſs is an everlaſting righteouſneſs, and thy law is the truth.
143 Trouble and anguiſh have taken hold on me: yet thy commandments are my delights.
144 The righteouſneſs of thy teſtimonies is everlaſting: give me underſtanding, and I ſhall live.

XXVI. Day. Evening Prayer.

K O P H.

145 I cried with my whole heart; hear me, O Lord: I will keep thy ſtatutes.
146 I cried unto thee; ſave me, and I ſhall keep thy teſtimonies.
147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word.
148 Mine eyes prevent the night-watches, that I might meditate in thy word.
149 Hear my voice according unto thy loving-kindneſs: O Lord, quicken me according to thy judgment.
150 They draw nigh that follow after miſchief: they are far from thy law.
151 Thou art near, O Lord; and all thy commandments are truth.
152 Concerning thy teſtimonies I have known of old, that thou haſt founded them for ever.

R E S H.

153 Conſider mine affliction, and deliver me: for I do not forget thy law.
154 Plead my cauſe, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy word.
155 Salvation is far from the wicked: for they ſeek not thy ſtatutes.
156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy judgments.
157 Many are my perſecutors, and mine enemies: yet do I not decline from thy teſtimonies.
158 I beheld the tranſgreſſors, and was grieved: becauſe they kept not thy word.
159 Conſider how I love thy precepts: quicken me, O Lord, according to thy loving-kindneſs.
160 Thy word is true from the beginning: and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth for ever.

S C H I N.

161 Princes have perſecuted me without a cauſe: but my heart ſtandeth in awe of thy word.
162 I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth great ſpoil.
163 I hate and abhor lying: but thy law do I love.
164 Seven times a day do I praiſe thee: becauſe of thy righteous judgments.
165 Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing ſhall offend them.
166 Lord, I have hoped for thy ſalvation, and done thy commandments.
167 My ſoul hath kept thy teſtimonies; and I love them exceedingly.

172 My tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteouſneſs.
173 Let thine hand help me: for I have choſen thy precepts.
174 I have longed for thy ſalvation, O Lord; and thy law is my delight.
175 Let my ſoul live, and it ſhall praiſe thee; and let thy judgments help me.

XXVII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXX.

David prayeth againſt Doeg, and reproveth his tongue: he complaineth of his neceſſary converſation with the wicked.

A Song of degrees (u).

IN my diſtreſs I cried unto the Lord, and he heard me.

2 Deliver my ſoul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

3 What ſhall be given unto thee? or what ſhall be done unto thee, thou falſe tongue?

4 Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper.

5 Woe is me, that I ſojourn in Meſech, that I dwell in the tents of Kedar!

6 My ſoul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I am for peace: but when I ſpeak, they are for war.

PSALM CXXI.

The great ſafety of the godly, who put their truſt in God's protection.

A Song of degrees.

I Will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help.

2 My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

3 He will not ſuffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not ſlumber.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Iſrael ſhall neither ſlumber nor ſleep.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy ſhade upon thy right hand.

6 The ſun ſhall not ſmite thee by day, nor the moon by night.

7 The Lord ſhall preſerve thee from all evil: he ſhall preſerve thy ſoul.

8 The Lord ſhall preſerve thy going out, and thy coming in, from this time forth, and even for evermore.

PSALM CXXII.

David profeſſeth his joy for the church, and prayeth for the peace thereof.

A Song of degrees of David.

I Was glad when they ſaid unto me, Let us go into the houſe of the Lord.

2 Our feet ſhall ſtand within thy gates, O Jeruſalem.

3 Jeruſalem is builded as a city that is compact together.

4 Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the teſtimony of Iſrael, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.

5 For there are ſet thrones of judgment, the thrones of the houſe of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jeruſalem: they ſhall proſper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy walls, and proſperity within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and companions ſakes, I will now ſay, Peace be within thee.

9 Becauſe of the houſe of the Lord our God, I will ſeek thy good.

PSALM CXXIII.

The godly profeſs their confidence in God, and pray to be delivered from contempt.

A Song of degrees.

UNTO thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwelleſt in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of ſervants look unto the hand of their maſters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her miſtreſs; ſo our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until that he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O Lord, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our ſoul is exceedingly filled with the ſcorning of thoſe that are at eaſe, and with the contempt of the proud.

PSALM CXXIV.

The church bleſſeth God for a miraculous deliverance.

A Song of degrees of David.

IF it had not been the Lord who was on our ſide, now may Iſrael ſay;

2 If it had not been the Lord who was on our ſide, when men roſe up againſt us:

3 Then they had ſwallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled againſt us:

4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the ſtream had gone over our ſoul:

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our ſoul.

6 Bleſſed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our ſoul is eſcaped as a bird out of the ſnare of the fowlers: the ſnare is broken, and we are eſcaped.

(u) A ſong of degrees, or aſcent:---It is very uncertain why this title is prefixed to this and the following pſalms. The more general opinion ſeems to be that of thoſe who conjecture that they were ſo called, becauſe, after the return of the Jews from the Babyloniſh captivity, they were ſung by the Levites as they went up the ſtairs or ſteps of the temple. See Ezek. xl. Others however think that this title refers to ſome gradual riſe or exaltation of the voice in ſinging: Others render the words by "A ſong of excellencies;" ſuppoſing the words to expreſs the excellence of the compoſition; and Mr. Fenwick, agreeably to his plan, underſtands them to be, "Songs for aſcending or aſpiring ſouls." The reader will find a diſſertation on the ſubject prefixed by Calmet to his commentary

8 Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

PSALM CXXV.

The ſafety of ſuch as truſt in God. A prayer for the godly, and againſt the wicked.

A Song of degrees.

THEY that truſt in the Lord ſhall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jeruſalem, ſo the Lord is round about his people, from henceforth even for ever.

3 For the rod of the wicked ſhall not reſt upon the lot of the righteous; leſt the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

4 Do good, O Lord, unto thoſe that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

5 As for ſuch as turn aſide unto their crooked ways, the Lord ſhall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace ſhall be upon Iſrael.

XXVII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXXVI.

The church celebrating her incredible return out of captivity, prayeth for, and propheſieth the good ſucceſs thereof.

A Song of degrees.

WHEN the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ſinging: then ſaid they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the ſtreams in the ſouth.

5 They that ſow in tears, ſhall reap in joy.

6 He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious ſeed, ſhall doubtleſs come again with rejoicing, bringing his ſheaves with him.

PSALM CXXVII.

The virtue of God's bleſſing. Good children are his gift.

A Song of degrees for Solomon.

EXcept the Lord build the houſe, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for you to riſe up early, to ſit up late, to eat the bread of ſorrows: for ſo he giveth his beloved ſleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; ſo are children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they ſhall not be aſhamed, but they ſhall ſpeak with the enemies in the gate.

PSALM CXXVIII.

The ſundry bleſſings which follow them that fear God.

A Song of degrees.

BLeſſed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways.

2 For thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as a fruitful vine by the ſides of thine houſe: thy children like olive-plants round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus ſhall the man be bleſſed that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord ſhall bleſs thee out of Zion: and thou ſhalt ſee the good of Jeruſalem all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy children's children, and peace upon Iſrael.

PSALM CXXIX.

An exhortation to praiſe God, for ſaving Iſrael in their great afflictions. The haters of the church are curſed.

A Song of degrees.

MANY a time have they afflicted me from my youth, may Iſrael now ſay:

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth; yet they have not prevailed againſt me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The Lord is righteous: he hath cut aſunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the graſs upon the houſe-tops, which withereth afore it groweth up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand; nor he that bindeth ſheaves, his boſom.

8 Neither do they which go by, ſay, The bleſſing of the Lord be upon you: we bleſs you in the name of the Lord.

PSALM CXXX.

The pſalmiſt profeſſeth his hope in prayer, and his patience in hope: he exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

A Song of degrees.

OUT of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my ſupplications.

3 If thou, Lord, ſhouldſt mark iniquities: O Lord, who ſhall ſtand?

4 But there is forgiveneſs with thee, that thou mayeſt be feared.

on this pſalm. As far as one may gueſs from the general import of the pſalms which have this title, ſays Mr. Mudge, they mean pſalms ſung upon the occaſion of the Jews coming up from the country, as they did three times a year, to pay their devotions at Jeruſalem. Thus the reader ſees what different ſentiments there are upon the ſubject; and the truth of the matter ſeems to be that, as neither the author nor the occaſion of theſe pſalms can be determinately fixed, ſo it is impoſſible to ſay what is the exact meaning of the title.

5 I wait for the Lord, my ſoul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My ſoul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I ſay, more than they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Iſrael hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he ſhall redeem Iſrael from all his iniquities.

PSALM CXXXI.

David profeſſing his humility, exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I exerciſe myſelf in great matters, or in things too high for me.

2 Surely I have behaved and quieted myſelf as a child that is weaned of his mother: my ſoul is even as a weaned child.

3 Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

XXVIII. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXXXII.

David in his prayer commendeth unto God the religious care he had for the ark: his prayer at the removing of the ark, with a repetition of God's promiſes.

A Song of degrees.

LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions:

2 How he ſware unto the Lord, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob;

3 Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my houſe, nor go up into my bed;

4 I will not give ſleep to mine eyes, or ſlumber to mine eye-lids,

5 Until I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his tabernacles; we will worſhip at his footſtool.

8 Ariſe, O Lord, into thy reſt; thou, and the ark of thy ſtrength.

9 Let thy prieſts be clothed with righteouſneſs; and let thy ſaints ſhout for joy.

10 For thy ſervant David's ſake, turn not away the face of thine anointed.

11 The Lord hath ſworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I ſet upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my teſtimony, that I ſhall teach them; their children alſo ſhall ſit upon thy throne for evermore.

13 For the Lord hath choſen Zion; he hath deſired it for his habitation.

14 This is my reſt for ever: here will I dwell; for I have deſired it.

15 I will abundantly bleſs her proviſion: I will ſatisfy her poor with bread.

16 I will alſo clothe her prieſts with ſalvation: and her ſaints ſhall ſhout aloud for joy.

17 There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with ſhame: but upon himſelf ſhall his crown flouriſh.

PSALM CXXXIII.

The benefit of the communion of ſaints.

A Song of degrees of David.

BEhold, how good and how pleaſant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard; that went down to the ſkirts of his garments:

3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that deſcended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the Lord commanded the bleſſing, even life for evermore.

PSALM CXXXIV.

An exhortation to bleſs God.

A Song of degrees.

BEhold, bleſs ye the Lord, all ye ſervants of the Lord, which by night ſtand in the houſe of the Lord.

2 Lift up your hands in the ſanctuary: and bleſs the Lord.

3 The Lord that made heaven and earth, bleſs thee out of Zion.

PSALM CXXXV.

An exhortation to praiſe God, for his mercy, for his power, and for his judgments. The vanity of idols. An exhortation to bleſs God.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe ye the name of the Lord; praiſe him, O ye ſervants of the Lord.

2 Ye that ſtand in the houſe of the Lord, in the courts of the houſe of our God.

3 Praiſe ye the Lord; for the Lord is good: ſing praiſes unto his name; for it is pleaſant.

4 For the Lord hath choſen Jacob unto himſelf, and Iſrael for his peculiar treaſure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatſoever the Lord pleaſed, that did he in heaven and earth; in the ſeas, and all deep places.

7 He cauſeth the vapours to aſcend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth the wind out of his treaſuries.

8 Who ſmote the firſt-born of Egypt, both of man and beaſt.

9 Who ſent tokens and wonders into the midſt of thee, O Egypt; upon Pharaoh, and upon all his ſervants.

10 Who

10 Who ſmote great nations, and ſlew mighty kings;
11 Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Baſhan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:
12 And gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Iſrael his people.
13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations.
14 For the Lord will judge his people, and he will repent himſelf concerning his ſervants.
15 The idols of the heathen are ſilver and gold, the work of men's hands.
16 They have mouths, but they ſpeak not; eyes have they, but they ſee not.
17 They have ears, but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths.
18 They that make them are like unto them: ſo is every one that truſteth in them.
19 Bleſs the Lord, O houſe of Iſrael: bleſs the Lord, O houſe of Aaron:
20 Bleſs the Lord, O houſe of Levi: ye that fear the Lord, bleſs the Lord.
21 Bleſſed be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jeruſalem. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXVIII. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXXXVI.

An exhortation to give God thanks for particular mercies.

O Give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.
3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.
4 To him who alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.
5 To him that by wiſdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.
6 To him that ſtretcheth out the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.
7 To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever.
8 The ſun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever.
9 The moon and ſtars to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.
10 To him that ſmote Egypt in their firſt-born: for his mercy endureth for ever:
11 And brought out Iſrael from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever.
12 With a ſtrong hand, and with a ſtretched-out arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.
13 To him which divided the Red ſea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever:
14 And made Iſrael to paſs through the midſt of it: for his mercy endureth for ever:
15 But overthrew Pharaoh and his hoſt in the Red ſea: for his mercy endureth for ever.
16 To him which led his people through the wilderneſs: for his mercy endureth for ever.
17 To him which ſmote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever:
18 And ſlew famous kings: for his mercy endureth for ever:
19 Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever:
20 And Og the king of Baſhan: for his mercy endureth for ever;
21 And gave their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever:
22 Even an heritage unto Iſrael his ſervant: for his mercy endureth for ever.
23 Who remembered us in our low eſtate: for his mercy endureth for ever:
24 And hath redeemed us from our enemies; for his mercy endureth for ever.
25 Who giveth food to all fleſh; for his mercy endureth for ever.
26 O give thanks unto the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSALM CXXXVII.

The conſtancy of the Jews in captivity. The prophet curſeth Edom and Babel.

BY the rivers of Babylon, there we ſat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
2 We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midſt thereof.
3 For there they that carried us away captive, required of us a ſong; and they that waſted us, required of us mirth, ſaying, Sing us one of the ſongs of Zion.
4 How ſhall we ſing the Lord's ſong in a ſtrange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jeruſalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jeruſalem above my chief joy.
7 Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom, in the day of Jeruſalem; who ſaid, Raſe it, raſe it, even to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babylon, who art to be deſtroyed: happy ſhall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou haſt ſerved us.
9 Happy ſhall he be that taketh and daſheth thy little ones againſt the ſtones.

PSALM CXXXVIII.

David praiſeth God, and propheſieth that the kings of the earth ſhall praiſe Him.

A Pſalm of David.

I Will praiſe thee with my whole heart: before the gods will I ſing praiſe unto thee.
2 I will worſhip towards thy holy temple, and praiſe thy name, for thy loving-kindneſs, and for thy truth: for thou haſt magnified thy word above all thy name.

3 In the day when I cried, thou anſweredſt me, and ſtrengthenedſt me with ſtrength in my ſoul.

4 All the kings of the earth ſhall praiſe thee, O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they ſhall ſing in the ways of the Lord: for great is the glory of the Lord.

6 Though the Lord be high, yet hath he reſpect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.

7 Though I walk in the midſt of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou ſhalt ſtretch forth thine hand againſt the wrath of mine enemies, and thy hand ſhall ſave me.

8 The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forſake not the works of thine own hands.

XXIX. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXXXIX.

David praiſeth God for his all-ſeeing providence, and for his infinite mercies: he deſieth the wicked: he prayeth for ſincerity.

To the chief muſician, A Pſalm of David.

O Lord, thou haſt ſearched me, and known me.

2 Thou knoweſt my down-ſitting, and mine up-riſing, thou underſtandeſt my thought afar off.

3 Thou compaſſeſt my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo, O Lord, thou knoweſt it altogether.

5 Thou haſt beſet me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither ſhall I go from thy ſpirit? or whither ſhall I flee from thy preſence?

8 If I aſcend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermoſt parts of the ſea;

10 Even there ſhall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand ſhall hold me.

11 If I ſay, Surely the darkneſs ſhall cover me; even the night ſhall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darkneſs hideth not from thee; but the night ſhineth as the day: the darkneſs and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou haſt poſſeſſed my reins: thou haſt covered me in my mother's womb.

14 I will praiſe thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my ſoul knoweth right well.

15 My ſubſtance was not hid from thee, when I was made in ſecret, and curiouſly wrought in the loweſt parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did ſee my ſubſtance yet being imperfect, and in thy book all my members were written; which in continuance were faſhioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious alſo are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the ſum of them!

18 If I ſhould count them, they are more in number than the ſand: when I wake, I am ſtill with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt ſlay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.

20 For they ſpeak againſt thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with thoſe that riſe up againſt thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts.

24 And ſee if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlaſting.

PSALM CXL.

David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg: he comforteth himſelf by confidence in God.

To the chif muſician, A Pſalm of David.

DEliver me, O Lord, from the evil man, preſerve me from the violent man:

2 Which imagine miſchiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

3 They have ſharpened their tongues like a ſerpent; adders poiſon is under their lips. Selah.

4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preſerve me from the violent man; who have purpoſed to overthrow my goings.

5 The proud have hid a ſnare for me, and cords; they have ſpread a net by the way-ſide; they have ſet gins for me. Selah.

6 I ſaid unto the Lord, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my ſupplications, O Lord.

7 O God the Lord, the ſtrength of my ſalvation, thou haſt covered my head in the day of battle.

8 Grant not, O Lord, the deſires of the wicked: further not their wicked device; leſt they exalt themſelves. Selah.

9 As for the head of thoſe that compaſs me about, let the miſchief of their own lips cover them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be caſt into the fire; into deep pits, that they riſe not up again.

11 Let not an evil ſpeaker be eſtabliſhed in the earth; evil ſhall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

12 I know that the Lord will maintain the cauſe of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.
13 Surely the righteous ſhall give thanks unto thy name: the upright ſhall dwell in thy preſence.

PSALM CXLI.

David prayeth that his ſuit may be acceptable, his conſcience ſincere, and his life ſafe from ſnares.

A Pſalm of David.

LORD, I cry unto thee: make haſte unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.
2 Let my prayer be ſet forth before thee as incenſe; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening ſacrifice.
3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.
4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practiſe wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties.
5 Let the righteous ſmite me; it ſhall be a kindneſs: and let him reprove me; it ſhall be an excellent oil, which ſhall not break my head: for yet my prayer alſo ſhall be in their calamities.
6 When their judges are overthrown in ſtony places, they ſhall hear my words; for they are ſweet.
7 Our bones are ſcattered at the grave's mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.
8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O God the Lord: in thee is my truſt; leave not my ſoul deſtitute.
9 Keep me from the ſnare which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.
10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilſt that I withal eſcape.

XXIX. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXLII.

David ſheweth that in his trouble, all his comfort was in prayer unto God.

Maſchil of David; A Prayer when he was in the cave.

I Cried unto the Lord with my voice; with my voice unto the Lord did I make my ſupplication.
2 I poured out my complaint before him; I ſhewed before him my trouble.
3 When my ſpirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou kneweſt my path. In the way wherein I walked, have they privily laid a ſnare for me.
4 I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: refuge failed me; no man cared for my ſoul.
5 I cried unto thee, O Lord: I ſaid, Thou art my refuge, and my portion in the land of the living.
6 Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low: deliver me from my perſecutors; for they are ſtronger than I.
7 Bring my ſoul out of priſon, that I may praiſe thy name: the righteous ſhall compaſs me about; for thou ſhalt deal bountifully with me.

PSALM CXLIII.

David prayeth for grace and ſanctification, and for the deſtruction of his enemies: he ſtrengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer.

A Pſalm of David.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my ſupplications: in thy faithfulneſs anſwer me, and in thy righteouſneſs.
2 And enter not into judgment with thy ſervant: for in thy ſight ſhall no man living be juſtified.
3 For the enemy hath perſecuted my ſoul: he hath ſmitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in darkneſs, as thoſe that have been long dead.
4 Therefore is my ſpirit overwhelmed within me: my heart within me is deſolate.
5 I remember the days of old; I meditate on all thy works; I muſe on the work of thy hands.
6 I ſtretch forth my hands unto thee: my ſoul thirſteth after thee, as a thirſty land. Selah.
7 Hear me ſpeedily, O Lord: my ſpirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, leſt I be like unto them that go down into the pit.
8 Cauſe me to hear thy loving-kindneſs in the morning; for in thee do I truſt: cauſe me to know the way wherein I ſhould walk; for I lift up my ſoul unto thee.
9 Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me.
10 Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy ſpirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightneſs.
11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's ſake: for thy righteouſneſs ſake bring my ſoul out of trouble.
12 And of thy mercy cut off mine enemies, and deſtroy all them that afflict my ſoul: for I am thy ſervant.

XXX. Day. Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXLIV.

David bleſſeth God for his mercy: he prayeth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies: he promiſeth to praiſe God: he prayeth for the happy eſtate of the kingdom.

A Pſalm of David.

BLESSED be the Lord my ſtrength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight.
2 My goodneſs, and my fortreſs; my high tower, and my deliverer; my ſhield, and he in whom I truſt; who ſubdueth my people under me.

3 Lord,

3 Lord, what is man, that thou takeſt knowledge of him! or the ſon of man, that thou makeſt account of him!

4 Man is like to vanity: his days are as a ſhadow that paſſeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, and they ſhall ſmoke.

6 Caſt forth lightning, and ſcatter them: ſhoot out thine arrows, and deſtroy them.

7 Send thine hand from above; rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of ſtrange children;

8 Whoſe mouth ſpeaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood.

9 I will ſing a new ſong unto thee, O God: upon a pſaltery, and an inſtrument of ten ſtrings will I ſing praiſes unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth ſalvation unto kings: who delivereth David his ſervant from the hurtful ſword.

11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of ſtrange children, whoſe mouth ſpeaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood:

12 That our ſons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner-ſtones, poliſhed after the ſimilitude of a palace:

13 That our garners may be full, affording all manner of ſtore; that our ſheep may bring forth thouſands, and ten thouſands in our ſtreets:

14 That our oxen may be ſtrong to labour; that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our ſtreets.

15 Happy is that people that is in ſuch a caſe: yea, happy is that people, whoſe God is the Lord.

PSALM CXLV.

David praiſeth God for his fame, for his goodneſs, kingdom, and providence, and for his ſaving mercy.

David's Pſalm of praiſe.

I Will extol thee, my God, O King; and I will bleſs thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bleſs thee; and I will praiſe thy name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed; and his greatneſs is unſearchable.

4 One generation ſhall praiſe thy works to another, and ſhall declare thy mighty acts.

5 I will ſpeak of the glorious honour of thy majeſty, and of thy wonderous works.

6 And men ſhall ſpeak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatneſs.

7 They ſhall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodneſs, and ſhall ſing of thy righteouſneſs.

8 The Lord is gracious, and full of compaſſion; ſlow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works ſhall praiſe thee, O Lord; and thy ſaints ſhall bleſs thee.

11 They ſhall ſpeak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power;

12 To make known to the ſons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majeſty of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.

14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiſeth up all thoſe that be bowed down.

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou giveſt them their meat in due ſeaſon.

16 Thou openeſt thine hand, and ſatisfieſt the deſire of every living thing.

17 The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

18 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.

19 He will fulfil the deſire of them that fear him: he alſo will hear their cry, and will ſave them.

20 The Lord preſerveth all them that love him: but the wicked will he deſtroy.

21 My mouth ſhall ſpeak the praiſe of the Lord: and let all fleſh bleſs his holy name for ever and ever.

PSALM CXLVI.

The pſalmiſt voweth perpetual praiſes to God; who is, for his power, juſtice, mercy, and kingdom, only worthy to be truſted.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe the Lord, O my ſoul.

2 While I live, will I praiſe the Lord: I will ſing praiſes unto my God, while I have any being.

3 Put not your truſt in princes, nor in the ſon of man, in whom there is no help.

4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth: in that very day his thoughts periſh.

5 Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whoſe hope is in the Lord his God:

6 Which made heaven and earth, the ſea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:

7 Which executeth judgment for the oppreſſed, which giveth food to the hungry. The Lord looſeth the priſoners:

8 The Lord openeth the eyes of the blind: the Lord raiſeth them that are bowed down: the Lord loveth the righteous:

9 The Lord preſerveth the ſtrangers; he relieveth the fatherleſs and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upſide down.

10 The Lord ſhall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praiſe ye the Lord.

XXX. Day. Evening Prayer.

PSALM CXLVII.

The prophet exhorteth to praiſe God for his care of the church and its ordinances: for his power and providence over the ſeaſons, and for his bleſſings upon the kingdom.

PRAISE ye the Lord; for it is good to ſing praiſes unto our God; for it is pleaſant, and praiſe is comely.

2 The Lord doth build up Jeruſalem: he gathereth together the outcaſts of Iſrael.

3 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

4 He telleth the number of the ſtars; he calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: his underſtanding is infinite.

6 The Lord liſteth up the meek: he caſteth the wicked down to the ground.

7 Sing unto the Lord with thankſgiving; ſing praiſe upon the harp unto our God:

8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh graſs to grow upon the mountains.

9 He giveth to the beaſt his food, and to the young ravens which cry.

10 He delighteth not in the ſtrength of the horſe: he taketh not pleaſure in the legs of a man.

11 The Lord taketh pleaſure in them that fear him, in thoſe that hope in his mercy.

12 Praiſe the Lord, O Jeruſalem; praiſe thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath ſtrengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath bleſſed thy children within thee.

14 He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the fineſt of the wheat.

15 He ſendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very ſwiftly.

16 He giveth ſnow like wool: he ſcattereth the hoar-froſt like aſhes.

17 He caſteth forth his ice like morſels: who can ſtand before his cold?

18 He ſendeth out his word, and melteth them: he cauſeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He ſheweth his word unto Jacob, his ſtatutes and his judgments unto Iſrael.

20 He hath not dealt ſo with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLVIII.

The pſalmiſt exhorteth the celeſtial, the terreſtrial, and the rational creatures to praiſe God.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe ye the Lord from the heavens: praiſe him in the heights.

2 Praiſe ye him, all his angels: praiſe ye him, all his hoſts.

3 Praiſe ye him, ſun and moon: praiſe him, all ye ſtars of light.

4 Praiſe him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.

5 Let them praiſe the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 He hath alſo ſtabliſhed them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which ſhall not paſs.

7 Praiſe the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all deeps:

8 Fire and hail; ſnow and vapour; ſtormy wind fulfilling his word:

9 Mountains, and all hills; fruitful trees, and all cedars:

10 Beaſts, and all cattle; creeping things, and flying fowl:

11 Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth:

12 Both young men and maidens; old men and children:

13 Let them praiſe the name of the Lord: for his name alone is excellent; his glory is above the earth and heaven.

14 He alſo exalteth the horn of his people, the praiſe of all his ſaints; even of the children of Iſrael, a people near unto him. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLIX.

The prophet exhorteth to praiſe God for his love to the church, and for that power which he hath given to it.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, and his praiſe in the congregation of ſaints.

2 Let Iſrael rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.

3 Let them praiſe his name in the dance (w):

(w) The different cuſtoms of different nations, always varying from each other, or even from themſelves at different times, make it utterly impracticable, eſpecially at this diſtance, to give any ſatisfactory account of the ſacred dances of the ancient Hebrews: and it is the more ſo, becauſe the modern uſage has appropriated and confined this practice only to entertainments of levity and gaiety, ſo as to make the ideas of ſolemnity and gravity almoſt wholly contrary to, and inconſiſtent with that of dancing. And yet, perhaps, in the more ſimple ſtate of mankind, upon great occaſions of joy, for men to expreſs it by adapting the motions of their bodies to the meaſures and cadence of muſic, might not be thought much leſs natural than for them, upon the like occaſions, to expreſs their thoughts in tropes and lofty figures, and adapt their very ſpeech to meaſure, as in poetical compoſitions. Perhaps the rude joy of the rural undiſciplined ſwain, which is ſtill ever expreſſed by leaps and ſhouts, by aukward geſtures, and vociferous noiſe, was by the men of genius and politeneſs both ways reduced to order and method; and hence aroſe dancing and poetry. As the former was an excellence which any of the vulgar might arrive at, we may eaſily ſuppoſe let them ſing praiſes unto him with the timbrel and harp.

4 For the Lord taketh pleaſure in his people: he will beautify the meek with ſalvation.

5 Let the ſaints be joyful in glory: let them ſing aloud upon their beds.

6 Let the high praiſes of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged ſword in their hand;

7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and puniſhments upon the people;

8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;

9 To execute upon them the judgment written. This honour have all his ſaints. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CL.

An exhortation to praiſe God with all kind of inſtruments.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe God in his ſanctuary: praiſe him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praiſe him for his mighty acts: praiſe him according to his excellent greatneſs.

3 Praiſe him with the ſound of the trumpet: praiſe him with the pſaltery and harp.

4 Praiſe him with the timbrel and dance: praiſe him with ſtringed inſtruments and organs.

5 Praiſe him upon the loud cymbals; praiſe him upon the high-ſounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath breath praiſe the Lord. Praiſe ye the Lord.

The PROVERBS.

CHAP. I.

The uſe of the proverbs. An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word: to avoid the enticings of ſinners. Wiſdom complaineth of contempt: ſhe threateneth her contemners.

THE proverbs of Solomon, the ſon of David, king of Iſrael;

2 To know wiſdom and inſtruction, to perceive the words of underſtanding;

3 To receive the inſtruction of wiſdom, juſtice, and judgment, and equity;

4 To give ſubtilty to the ſimple, to the young man knowledge and diſcretion.

5 A wiſe man will hear, and will increaſe learning; and a man of underſtanding ſhall attain unto wiſe counſels:

6 To underſtand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wiſe, and their dark ſayings.

7 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools deſpiſe wiſdom and inſtruction.

8 My ſon, hear the inſtruction of thy father, and forſake not the law of thy mother:

9 For they ſhall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 My ſon, if ſinners entice thee, conſent thou not.

11 If they ſay, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood; let us lurk privily for the innocent without cauſe:

12 Let us ſwallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as thoſe that go down into the pit:

13 We ſhall find all precious ſubſtance, we ſhall fill our houſes with ſpoil:

14 Caſt in thy lot among us; let us all have one purſe:

15 My ſon, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path.

poſe it to have been brought into contempt, by the improper and ludicrous occaſions upon which it might be uſed: but as the latter was a rational exerciſe, and an improvement of the mind, which few could attain to, it is no wonder it is ſtill held in reverence, and hath riſen to the perfection in which we have ſeen it. But be this as it will, it is certain the ancient Hebrews, upon the greateſt occaſions of joy and triumph, uſed the ſolemn dance. Different companies of them, as they excelled in different ways, did jointly contribute according to their reſpective abilities, to expreſs the general joy: And whilſt ſome aſſiſted at the national ceremony with vocal and ſome with inſtrumental muſic, others performed the ſolemn dance. The firſt mention that we find made of this in Scripture, is as early as the days of Moſes, upon the deliverance from Pharaoh; when Miriam his ſiſter ſang the ode which Moſes compoſed upon that occaſion, and ſhe took a timbrel in her hand, and all the women went out after her with timbrels and dances, Exod. xv. 20, 21. Thus Jephthah's daughter came to welcome her father upon his ſucceſsful return from battle with timbrels and dances, Judg. xi. 34. And ſo the daughters of Shiloh, when they held their annual feaſt to the Lord, were wont to dance in dances, Judg. xxi. 19, 20, 21.

PROVERBS.] Within the period from the building to the deſtruction of the temple, literature received a conſiderable advance, probably by means of the ſchools of the prophets. Solomon was a great author, as he was endued with an uncommon ſhare of wiſdom; For he ſpake three thouſand proverbs, and his ſongs were a thouſand and five; and he ſpake of trees, from the cedar that is in Lebanon, even unto the hyſſop that ſpringeth out of the wall: he ſpake alſo of beaſts, and of fowls, and of creeping things, and of fiſhes. But of all his works only three are taken into the ſacred 16 For their feet run to evil, and make haſte to ſhed blood.

17 Surely in vain the net is ſpread in the ſight of any bird.
18 And they lay wait for their own blood; they lurk privily for their own lives.
19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.
20 Wiſdom crieth without; ſhe uttereth her voice in the ſtreets:
21 She crieth in the chief place of concourſe, in the openings of the gates; in the city ſhe uttereth her words, ſaying,
22 How long, ye ſimple ones, will ye love ſimplicity? and the ſcorners delight in their ſcorning, and fools hate knowledge?
23 Turn ye at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my ſpirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.
24 Becauſe I have called, and ye refuſed; I have ſtretched out my hand, and no man regarded;
25 But ye have ſet at nought all my counſel, and would none of my reproof:
26 I alſo will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh;
27 When your fear cometh as deſolation, and your deſtruction cometh as a whirlwind; when diſtreſs and anguiſh cometh upon you:
28 Then ſhall they call upon me, but I will not anſwer; they ſhall ſeek me early, but they ſhall not find me:
29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not chooſe the fear of the Lord.
30 They would none of my counſel: they deſpiſed all my reproof.
31 Therefore ſhall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.
32 For the turning away of the ſimple ſhall ſlay them, and the proſperity of fools ſhall deſtroy them.
33 But whoſo hearkeneth unto me ſhall dwell ſafely, and ſhall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAP. II.

Wiſdom promiſeth godlineſs to her children, ſafety from evil company, and direction in good ways.

MY ſon, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee;
2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wiſdom, and apply thine heart to underſtanding:
3 Yea, if thou crieſt after knowledge, and lifteſt up thy voice for underſtanding:
4 If thou ſeekeſt her as ſilver, and ſearcheſt for her, as for hidden treaſures;
5 Then ſhalt thou underſtand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God.
6 For the Lord giveth wiſdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and underſtanding.
7 He layeth up ſound wiſdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.
8 He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preſerveth the way of his ſaints.
9 Then ſhalt thou underſtand righteouſneſs, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.
10 When wiſdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleaſant unto thy ſoul;
11 Diſcretion ſhall preſerve thee, underſtanding ſhall keep thee:
12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that ſpeaketh froward things;
13 Who leave the paths of uprightneſs, to walk in the ways of darkneſs;
14 Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardneſs of the wicked.
15 Whoſe ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths.
16 To deliver thee from the ſtrange woman, even from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words;
17 Which forſaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.
18 For her houſe inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead.
19 None that go unto her return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.
20 That thou mayeſt walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.
21 For the upright ſhall dwell in the land, and the perfect ſhall remain in it.
22 But the wicked ſhall be cut off from the earth, and the tranſgreſſors ſhall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

An exhortation to obedience, to faith, to mortification, and patience. The curſed ſtate of the wicked.

MY ſon, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments:
2 For length of days, and long life, and peace ſhall they add to thee.
3 Let not mercy and truth forſake thee:

canon, namely, Proverbs, Eccleſiaſtes, and his Song. The book of Proverbs conſiſts of the moſt uſeful rules for the right direction of life, in religion and morals; and is the moſt authentic and excellent of the kind that can be produced in antiquity. It may be divided into five parts: I. In the firſt part the tutor gives his pupil admonitions, directions, cautions, and excitements to the ſtudy of wiſdom, ch. i. to x. II. The ſecond part contains the Proverbs of Solomon, properly ſo called; delivered in diſtinct, independent, general ſentences, ch. x. to xxii. ver. 17. III. In the third part the tutor again addreſſes himſelf to his pupil, and gives him freſh admonitions to the diligent ſtudy of wiſdom; which is followed by a ſet of inſtructions, delivered in the imperative mood to the pupil, who is ſuppoſed all the while to be ſtanding before him, ch. xxii. 17. to ch. xxv. IV. The fourth part is diſtinguiſhed by its being a collection of Solomon's Proverbs, ſelected, we may ſuppoſe, out of a much greater number, by the men of Hezekiah bind them about thy neck: write them upon the table of thine heart:

4 So ſhalt thou find favour and good underſtanding in the ſight of God and man.

5 Truſt in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own underſtanding.

6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he ſhall direct thy paths.

7 Be not wiſe in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil.

8 It ſhall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy ſubſtance, and with the firſt-fruits of all thine increaſe:

10 So ſhall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy preſſes ſhall burſt out with new wine.

11 My ſon, deſpiſe not the chaſtening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction.

12 For whom the Lord loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the ſon in whom he delighteth.

13 Happy is the man that findeth wiſdom, and the man that getteth underſtanding.

14 For the merchandize of it is better than the merchandize of ſilver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

15 She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canſt deſire, are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her ways are ways of pleaſantneſs, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wiſdom hath founded the earth; by underſtanding hath he eſtabliſhed the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 My ſon, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep ſound wiſdom, and diſcretion:

22 So ſhall they be life unto thy ſoul, and grace to thy neck.

23 Then ſhalt thou walk in thy way ſafely, and thy foot ſhall not ſtumble.

24 When thou lieſt down, thou ſhalt not be afraid: yea, thou ſhalt lie down, and thy ſleep ſhall be ſweet.

25 Be not afraid of ſudden fear, neither of the deſolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord ſhall be thy confidence, and ſhall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 With-hold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to-morrow I will give; when thou haſt it by thee.

29 Deviſe not evil againſt thy neighbour, ſeeing he dwelleth ſecurely by thee.

30 Strive not with a man without cauſe, if he have done thee no harm.

31 Envy thou not the oppreſſor, and chooſe none of his ways.

32 For the froward is abomination to the Lord: but his ſecret is with the righteous.

33 The curſe of the Lord is in the houſe of the wicked: but he bleſſeth the habitation of the juſt.

34 Surely he ſcorneth the ſcorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35 The wiſe ſhall inherit glory; but ſhame ſhall be the promotion of fools.

CHAP. IV.

Solomon perſuadeth to obedience, and to ſhun the path of the wicked. He exhorteth to faith, and ſanctification.

HEAR, ye children, the inſtruction of a father, and attend to know underſtanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forſake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's ſon, tender and only beloved in the ſight of my mother.

4 He taught me alſo, and ſaid unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

5 Get wiſdom, get underſtanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forſake her not, and ſhe ſhall preſerve thee: love her, and ſhe ſhall keep thee.

7 Wiſdom is the principal thing: therefore get wiſdom; and with all thy getting, get underſtanding.

8 Exalt her, and ſhe ſhall promote thee: ſhe ſhall bring thee to honour, when thou doſt embrace her.

9 She ſhall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory ſhall ſhe deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my ſon, and receive my ſayings; and the years of thy life ſhall be many.

kiah; perhaps by the prophets Iſaiah, Hoſea, and Micah, who all flouriſhed in the days of Hezekiah, and, not improbably, aſſiſted him in his pious endeavours to reſtore true religion, 2 Chron. xxxi. 20, 21. This part, as the ſecond, conſiſts chiefly of diſtinct unconnected ſentences, and reaches from ch. xxv. to chap. xxx. V. The fifth part contains a ſet of wiſe obſervations and inſtructions which Agur, the ſon of Jakeh, delivered to his pupils Ithiel and Ucal, ch. xxx. and the 31ſt chapter contains the precepts which his mother delivered to Lemuel her ſon; being paſſionately deſirous to guard him againſt vice, to eſtabliſh him in the principles of juſtice, and to have him married to a wife of the beſt qualities. Theſe two chapters are a kind of appendix to the book of Proverbs. See Taylor's Scripture Divinity.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wiſdom; I have led thee in right paths.
12 When thou goeſt, thy ſteps ſhall not be ſtraightened; and when thou runneſt, thou ſhalt not ſtumble.
13 Take faſt hold of inſtruction; let her not go; keep her; for ſhe is thy life.
14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.
15 Avoid it, paſs not by it; turn from it, and paſs away.
16 For they ſleep not except they have done miſchief; and their ſleep is taken away, unleſs they cauſe ſome to fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedneſs, and drink the wine of violence.
18 But the path of the juſt is as the ſhining light, that ſhineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as darkneſs: they know not at what they ſtumble.
20 My ſon, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my ſayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midſt of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto thoſe that find them, and health to all their fleſh.
23 Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the iſſues of life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverſe lips put far from thee.
25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eye-lids look ſtraight before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet; and let all thy ways be eſtabliſhed.
27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

CHAP. V.

Solomon exhorteth to the ſtudy of wiſdom, to liberality, and chaſtity. The wicked are overtaken with their own ſins.

MY ſon, attend unto my wiſdom, and bow thine ear to my underſtanding:
2 That thou mayeſt regard diſcretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of a ſtrange woman drop as a honey-comb, and her mouth is ſmoother than oil:
4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, ſharp as a two-edged ſword.
5 Her feet go down to death; her ſteps take hold on hell.
6 Leſt thou ſhouldeſt ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canſt not know them.
7 Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her houſe:
9 Leſt thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel:
10 Leſt ſtrangers be filled with thy wealth; and thy labours be in the houſe of a ſtranger,
11 And thou mourn at the laſt, when thy fleſh and thy body are conſumed;
12 And ſay, How have I hated inſtruction, and my heart deſpiſed reproof!
13 And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that inſtructed me!
14 I was almoſt in all evil, in the midſt of the congregation and aſſembly.
15 Drink waters out of thine own ciſtern, and running waters out of thine own well.
16 Let thy fountains be diſperſed abroad, and rivers of waters in the ſtreets.
17 Let them be only thine own, and not ſtrangers with thee.
18 Let thy fountain be bleſſed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let her be as the loving hind, and pleaſant roe; let her breaſts ſatisfy thee at all times, and be thou raviſhed always with her love.
20 And why wilt thou, my ſon, be raviſhed with a ſtrange woman, and embrace the boſom of a ſtranger?
21 For the ways of a man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings.
22 His own iniquities ſhall take the wicked himſelf, and he ſhall be holden with the cords of his ſins.
23 He ſhall die without inſtruction; and in the greatneſs of his folly he ſhall go aſtray.

CHAP. VI.

The ſeven things hateful to God. The bleſſings of obedience. The miſchiefs of whoredom.

MY ſon, if thou be ſurety for thy friend, if thou haſt ſtricken thy hand with a ſtranger,
2 Thou art ſnared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.
3 Do this now, my ſon, and deliver thyſelf, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend; go, humble thyſelf, and make ſure thy friend.
4 Give not ſleep to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eye-lids.
5 Deliver thyſelf as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
6 Go to the ant, thou ſluggard; conſider her ways, and be wiſe:
7 Which, having no guide, overſeer, or ruler,
8 Provideth her meat in the ſummer, and gathereth her food in the harveſt.
9 How long wilt thou ſleep, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleep?
10 Yet a little ſleep, a little ſlumber, a little folding of the hands to ſleep:
11 So ſhall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man.

12 A naughty perſon, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.
13 He winketh with his eyes, he ſpeaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers.
14 Frowardneſs is in his heart; he deviſeth miſchief continually; he ſoweth diſcord.
15 Therefore ſhall his calamity come ſuddenly; ſuddenly ſhall he be broken without remedy.
16 Theſe ſix things doth the Lord hate: yea, ſeven are an abomination unto him:
17 A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that ſhed innocent blood,
18 An heart that deviſeth wicked imaginations, feet that be ſwift in running to miſchief,
19 A falſe witneſs that ſpeaketh lies, and him that ſoweth diſcord among brethren.
20 My ſon, keep thy father's commandment, and forſake not the law of thy mother:
21 Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.
22 When thou goeſt, it ſhall lead thee; when thou ſleepeſt, it ſhall keep thee; and when thou awakeſt, it ſhall talk with thee.
23 For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of inſtruction are the way of life:
24 To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a ſtrange woman.
25 Luſt not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eye-lids.
26 For by means of a whoriſh woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adultreſs will hunt for the precious life.
27 Can a man take fire in his boſom, and his clothes not be burned?
28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned?
29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; whoſoever toucheth her, ſhall not be innocent.
30 Men do not deſpiſe a thief, if he ſteal to ſatisfy his ſoul when he is hungry;
31 But if he be found, he ſhall reſtore ſevenfold; he ſhall give all the ſubſtance of his houſe.
32 But whoſo committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh underſtanding: he that doeth it deſtroyeth his own ſoul.
33 A wound and diſhonour ſhall he get; and his reproach ſhall not be wiped away.
34 For jealouſy is the rage of a man; therefore he will not ſpare in the day of vengeance.
35 He will not regard any ranſom; neither will he reſt content, though thou giveſt many gifts.

CHAP. VII.

Solomon perſuadeth to a ſincere familiarity with wiſdom.

MY ſon, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.
2 Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye.
3 Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.
4 Say unto wiſdom, Thou art my ſiſter; and call underſtanding thy kinſwoman:
5 That they may keep thee from the ſtrange woman, from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words.
6 For at the window of my houſe I looked through my caſement,
7 And beheld among the ſimple ones, I diſcerned among the youths, a young man void of underſtanding,
8 Paſſing through the ſtreet near her corner; and he went the way to her houſe,
9 In the twilight, in the evening, in the black and dark night:
10 And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and ſubtil of heart.
11 (She is loud and ſtubborn; her feet abide not in her houſe:
12 Now is ſhe without, now in the ſtreets, and lieth in wait at every corner:)
13 So ſhe caught him, and kiſſed him, and with an impudent face ſaid unto him,
14 I have peace-offerings with me; this day have I payed my vows.
15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to ſeek thy face, and I have found thee.
16 I have decked my bed with coverings of tapeſtry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.
17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; let us ſolace ourſelves with loves.
19 For the good-man is not at home, he is gone a long journey.
20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.
21 With her much fair ſpeech ſhe cauſed him to yield, with the flattering of her lips ſhe forced him.
22 He goeth after her ſtraightway, as an ox goeth to the ſlaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the ſtocks;
23 Till a dart ſtrike through his liver; as a bird haſteth to the ſnare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.
24 Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways; go not aſtray in her paths.
26 For ſhe hath caſt down many wounded: yea, many ſtrong men have been ſlain by her.
27 Her houſe is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAP.

CHAP. VIII.

The excellency, the nature, the power, the riches, and the eternity of wiſdom. The bleſſings which it bringeth.

DOTH not wiſdom cry? and underſtanding put forth her voice?

2 She ſtandeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.

3 She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.

4 Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the ſons of man.

5 O ye ſimple, underſtand wiſdom: and ye fools, be ye of an underſtanding heart.

6 Hear, for I will ſpeak of excellent things; and the opening of my lips ſhall be right things.

7 For my mouth ſhall ſpeak truth; and wickedneſs is an abomination to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteouſneſs; there is nothing froward or perverſe in them.

9 They are all plain to him that underſtandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.

10 Receive my inſtruction, and not ſilver; and knowledge rather than choice gold.

11 For wiſdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be deſired are not to be compared to it.

12 I wiſdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.

13 The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; pride and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate.

14 Counſel is mine, and ſound wiſdom: I am underſtanding; I have ſtrength.

15 By me kings reign, and princes decree juſtice.

16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me; and thoſe that ſeek me early ſhall find me.

18 Riches and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteouſneſs.

19 My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice ſilver.

20 I lead in the way of righteouſneſs, in the midſt of the paths of judgment:

21 That I may cauſe thoſe that love me to inherit ſubſtance; and I will fill their treaſures.

22 The Lord poſſeſſed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.

23 I was ſet up from everlaſting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.

24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth: when there were no fountains abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were ſettled: before the hills was I brought forth:

26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the higheſt part of the duſt of the world:

27 When he prepared the heavens I was there: when he ſet a compaſs upon the face of the depth:

28 When he eſtabliſhed the clouds above: when he ſtrengthened the fountains of the deep:

29 When he gave to the ſea his decree, that the waters ſhould not paſs his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth;

30 Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him;

31 Rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth; and my delights were with the ſons of men.

32 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for bleſſed are they that keep my ways.

33 Hear inſtruction, and be wiſe, and refuſe it not.

34 Bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the poſts of my doors.

35 For whoſo findeth me, findeth life, and ſhall obtain favour of the Lord.

36 But he that ſinneth againſt me, wrongeth his own ſoul: all they that hate me, love death.

CHAP. IX.

The diſcipline, and doctrine of wiſdom. The cuſtom, and error of folly.

WIſdom hath builded her houſe, ſhe hath hewn out her ſeven pillars:

2 She hath killed her beaſts; ſhe hath mingled her wine; ſhe hath alſo furniſhed her table.

3 She hath ſent forth her maidens: ſhe crieth upon the higheſt places of the city:

4 Whoſo is ſimple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth underſtanding, ſhe ſaith to him,

5 Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.

6 Forſake the fooliſh, and live; and go in the way of underſtanding.

7 He that reproveth a ſcorner, getteth to himſelf ſhame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himſelf a blot.

8 Reprove not a ſcorner, leſt he hate thee: rebuke a wiſe man, and he will love thee.

9 Give inſtruction to a wiſe man, and he will be yet wiſer: teach a juſt man, and he will increaſe in learning.

10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wiſdom, and the knowledge of the Holy is underſtanding.

11 For by me thy days ſhall be multiplied, and the years of thy life ſhall be increaſed.

12 If thou be wiſe, thou ſhalt be wiſe for thyſelf: but if thou ſcorneſt, thou alone ſhalt bear it.

13 A fooliſh woman is clamorous: ſhe is ſimple, and knoweth nothing.

14 For ſhe ſitteth at the door of her houſe on a ſeat in the high places of the city,

15 To call paſſengers who go right on their ways:

16 Whoſo is ſimple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth underſtanding, ſhe ſaith to him,

17 Stolen waters are ſweet, and bread eaten in ſecret is pleaſant.

18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her gueſts are in the depths of hell.

CHAP. X.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth, are ſundry obſervations upon moral virtues, and their contrary vices.

THE proverbs of Solomon. A wiſe ſon maketh a glad father; but a fooliſh ſon is the heavineſs of his mother.

2 Treaſures of wickedneſs profit nothing: but righteouſneſs delivereth from death.

3 The Lord will not ſuffer the ſoul of the righteous to famiſh: but he caſteth away the ſubſtance of the wicked.

4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a ſlack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in ſummer is a wiſe ſon: but he that ſleepeth in harveſt is a ſon that cauſeth ſhame.

6 Bleſſings are upon the head of the juſt: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memory of the juſt is bleſſed: but the name of the wicked ſhall rot.

8 The wiſe in heart will receive commandments: but a prating fool ſhall fall.

9 He that walketh uprightly, walketh ſurely: but he that perverteth his ways ſhall be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye cauſeth ſorrow: but a prating fool ſhall fall.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred ſtirreth up ſtrifes: but love covereth all ſins.

13 In the lips of him that hath underſtanding, wiſdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of underſtanding.

14 Wiſe men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fooliſh is near deſtruction.

15 The rich man's wealth is his ſtrong city: the deſtruction of the poor is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the fruit of the wicked to ſin.

17 He is in the way of life that keepeth inſtruction: but he that refuſeth reproof, erreth.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a ſlander, is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not ſin: but he that refraineth his lips is wiſe.

20 The tongue of the juſt is as choice ſilver; the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools die for want of wiſdom.

22 The bleſſing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no ſorrow with it.

23 It is as ſport to a fool to do miſchief: but a man of underſtanding hath wiſdom.

24 The fear of the wicked, it ſhall come upon him: but the deſire of the righteous ſhall be granted.

25 As the whirlwind paſſeth, ſo is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlaſting foundation.

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as ſmoke to the eyes, ſo is the ſluggard to them that ſend him.

27 The fear of the Lord prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked ſhall be ſhortened.

28 The hope of the righteous ſhall be gladneſs: but the expectation of the wicked ſhall periſh.

29 The way of the Lord is ſtrength to the upright: but deſtruction ſhall be to the workers of iniquity.

30 The righteous ſhall never be removed: but the wicked ſhall not inhabit the earth.

31 The mouth of the juſt bringeth forth wiſdom: but the froward tongue ſhall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked ſpeaketh frowardneſs.

CHAP. XI.

A falſe balance is abomination to the Lord: but a juſt weight is his delight.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh ſhame: but with the lowly is wiſdom.

3 The integrity of the upright ſhall guide them: but the perverſeneſs of tranſgreſſors ſhall deſtroy them.

4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteouſneſs delivereth from death.

5 The righteouſneſs of the perfect ſhall direct his way: but the wicked ſhall fall by his own wickedneſs.

6 The righteouſneſs of the upright ſhall deliver them: but tranſgreſſors ſhall be taken in their own naughtineſs.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation ſhall periſh: and the hope of unjuſt men periſheth.

8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his ſtead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth deſtroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge ſhall the juſt be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked periſh, there is ſhouting.

11 By the bleſſing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is void of wiſdom deſpiſeth his neighneighbour: but a man of underſtanding holdeth his peace.

13 A tale-bearer revealeth ſecrets: but he that is of a faithful ſpirit concealeth the matter.

14 Where no counſel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counſellors there is ſafety.

15 He that is ſurety for a ſtranger, ſhall ſmart for it: and he that hateth ſuretiſhip, is ſure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and ſtrong men retain riches.

17 The merciful man doeth good to his own ſoul: but he that is cruel, troubleth his own fleſh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but to him that ſoweth righteouſneſs ſhall be a ſure reward.

19 As righteouſneſs tendeth to life: ſo he that purſueth evil, purſueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the Lord: but ſuch as are upright in their way are his delight.

21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked ſhall not be unpuniſhed: but the ſeed of the righteous ſhall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a ſwine's ſnout, ſo is a fair woman which is without diſcretion.

23 The deſire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24 There is that ſcattereth, and yet increaſeth; and there is that with-holdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.

25 The liberal ſoul ſhall be made fat: and he that watereth, ſhall be watered alſo himſelf.

26 He that with-holdeth corn, the people ſhall curſe him: but bleſſing ſhall be upon the head of him that ſelleth it.

27 He that diligently ſeeketh good, procureth favour: but he that ſeeketh miſchief, it ſhall come unto him.

28 He that truſteth in his riches ſhall fall: but the righteous ſhall flouriſh as a branch.

29 He that troubleth his own houſe ſhall inherit the wind: and the fool ſhall be ſervant to the wiſe of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth ſouls is wiſe.

31 Behold, the righteous ſhall be recompenſed in the earth: much more the wicked and the ſinner.

CHAP. XII.

WHOSO loveth inſtruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is brutiſh.

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the Lord: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man ſhall not be eſtabliſhed by wickedneſs: but the root of the righteous ſhall not be moved.

4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her huſband: but ſhe that maketh aſhamed is as rottenneſs in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counſels of the wicked are deceit.

6 The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright ſhall deliver them.

7 The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the houſe of the righteous ſhall ſtand.

8 A man ſhall be commended according to his wiſdom: but he that is of a perverſe heart ſhall be deſpiſed.

9 He that is deſpiſed and hath a ſervant, is better than he that honoureth himſelf, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beaſt: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel (x).

11 He that tilleth his land, ſhall be ſatisfied with bread: but he that followeth vain perſons, is void of underſtanding.

12 The wicked deſireth the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

13 The wicked is ſnared by the tranſgreſſion of his lips: but the juſt ſhall come out of trouble.

14 A man ſhall be ſatisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompence of a man's hand ſhall be rendered unto him.

15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counſel is wiſe.

16 A fool's wrath is preſently known: but a prudent man covereth ſhame.

(x) Lord Bacon obſerves upon this verſe, that there is implanted in man's nature a noble and excellent affection of pity and compaſſion, called here mercy, (for the word rendered righteous, ſignifies mild, clement, merciful) which mercy extends itſelf even to brute creatures, that are by divine ordination ſubject to his command. Therefore this compaſſion hath ſome analogy with that of a prince towards his ſubjects: nay, further, it is moſt certain that the worthier any ſoul is, the larger is its compaſſion: for contracted and degenerate minds imagine theſe things pertain not to them; but the mind which looks upon itſelf as a nobler portion of the univerſe, is kindly affected towards inferior creatures, out of the communion there is between them: wherefore we ſee that there were under the old law many precepts concerning this; which were not ſo much merely ceremonial, as inſtitutions of mercy. See more on this ſubject in the Advancement of learning, b. viii. c. 2. The next clauſe means "the very kindneſſes of the wicked, being treacherous, are a cruel cheat; nay the higheſt expreſſions which they make of tenderneſs and compaſſion, whereby they induce others to repoſe a truſt in them, are intended merely as a cover for the miſchief they mean more ſecurely to do them." See a pleaſing diſcourſe lately publiſhed, intitled, "Clemency to Brutes," on this text.

17 He

17 He that ſpeaketh truth, ſheweth forth righteouſneſs; but a falſe witneſs deceit.

18 There is that ſpeaketh like the piercings of a ſword: but the tongue of the wiſe is health.

19 The lip of truth ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counſellors of peace, is joy.

21 There ſhall no evil happen to the juſt: but the wicked ſhall be filled with miſchief.

22 Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight.

23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth fooliſhneſs.

24 The hand of the diligent ſhall bear rule: but the ſloathful ſhall be under tribute.

25 Heavineſs in the heart of man maketh it ſtoop: but a good work maketh it glad.

26 The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked ſeduceth them.

27 The ſlothful man roaſteth not that which he took in hunting: but the ſubſtance of a diligent man is precious.

28 In the way of righteouſneſs is life; and in the path-way thereof there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wiſe ſon heareth his father's inſtruction: but a ſcorner heareth not rebuke.

2 A man ſhall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the ſoul of the tranſgreſſors ſhall eat violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips, ſhall have deſtruction.

4 The ſoul of the ſluggard deſireth, and hath nothing: but the ſoul of the diligent ſhall be made fat.

5 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathſome, and cometh to ſhame.

6 Righteouſneſs keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedneſs overthroweth the ſinner.

7 There is that maketh himſelf rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himſelf poor, yet hath great riches.

8 The ranſom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke.

9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked ſhall be put out.

10 Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well adviſed is wiſdom.

11 Wealth gotten by vanity ſhall be diminiſhed: but he that gathereth by labour ſhall increaſe.

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart ſick: but when the deſire cometh, it is a tree of life.

13 Whoſo deſpiſeth the word ſhall be deſtroyed: but he that feareth the commandment ſhall be rewarded.

14 The law of the wiſe is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

15 Good underſtanding giveth favour: but the way of tranſgreſſors is hard.

16 Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly.

17 A wicked meſſenger falleth into miſchief: but a faithful ambaſſador is health.

18 Poverty and ſhame ſhall be to him that refuſeth inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof ſhall be honoured.

19 The deſire accompliſhed is ſweet to the ſoul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wiſe men ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools ſhall be deſtroyed.

21 Evil purſueth ſinners: but to the righteous, good ſhall be repayed.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the ſinner is laid up for the juſt.

23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is deſtroyed for want of judgment.

24 He that ſpareth his rod, hateth his ſon: but he that loveth him, chaſteneth him betimes.

25 The righteous eateth to the ſatisfying of his ſoul: but the belly of the wicked ſhall want.

CHAP. XIV.

EVERY wiſe woman buildeth her houſe: but the fooliſh plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightneſs, feareth the Lord: but he that is perverſe in his ways, deſpiſeth him.

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wiſe ſhall preſerve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increaſe is by the ſtrength of the ox.

5 A faithful witneſs will not lie: but a falſe witneſs will utter lies.

6 A ſcorner ſeeketh wiſdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is eaſy unto him that underſtandeth.

7 Go from the preſence of a fooliſh man, when thou perceiveſt not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wiſdom of the prudent is to underſtand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.

9 Fools make a mock at ſin: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth his own bitterneſs; and a ſtranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.

11 The houſe of the wicked ſhall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright ſhall flouriſh.

12 There is a way which ſeemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even

13 Even in laughter the heart is ſorrowful; and the end of that mirth is heavineſs.
14 The backſlider in heart ſhall be filled with his own ways: and a good man ſhall be ſatisfied from himſelf.
15 The ſimple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.
16 A wiſe man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth, and is confident.
17 He that is ſoon angry dealeth fooliſhly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.
18 The ſimple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
19 The evil bow before the good; and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
20 The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends.
21 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour, ſinneth: but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.
22 Do they not err that deviſe evil? but mercy and truth ſhall be to them that deviſe good.
23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.
24 The crown of the wiſe is their riches: but the fooliſhneſs of fools is folly.
25 A true witneſs delivereth ſouls: but a deceitful witneſs ſpeaketh lies.
26 In the fear of the Lord is ſtrong confidence: and his children ſhall have a place of refuge.
27 The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.
28 In the multitude of people is the king's honour: but in the want of people is the deſtruction of the prince.
29 He that is ſlow to wrath is of great underſtanding: but he that is haſty of ſpirit exalteth folly.
30 A ſound heart is the life of the fleſh: but envy the rottenneſs of the bones.
31 He that oppreſſeth the poor, reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoureth him, hath mercy on the poor.
32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedneſs: but the righteous hath hope in his death.
33 Wiſdom reſteth in the heart of him that hath underſtanding: but that which is in the midſt of fools is made known.
34 Righteouſneſs exalteth a nation: but ſin is a reproach to any people.
35 The king's favour is towards a wiſe ſervant: but his wrath is againſt him that cauſeth ſhame.

CHAP. XV.

A Soft anſwer turneth away wrath: but grievous words ſtir up anger.
2 The tongue of the wiſe uſeth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out fooliſhneſs.
3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.
4 A wholeſome tongue is a tree of life: but perverſeneſs therein is a breach in the ſpirit.
5 A fool deſpiſeth his father's inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.
6 In the houſe of the righteous is much treaſure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
7 The lips of the wiſe diſperſe knowledge: but the heart of the fooliſh doth not ſo.
8 The ſacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth after righteouſneſs.
10 Correction is grievous unto him that forſaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof ſhall die.
11 Hell and deſtruction are before the Lord: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?
12 A ſcorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wiſe.
13 A merry heart maketh a chearful countenance: but by ſorrow of the heart, the ſpirit is broken.
14 The heart of him that hath underſtanding ſeeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on fooliſhneſs.
15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feaſt.
16 Better is little with the fear of the Lord, than great treaſure, and trouble therewith.
17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a ſtalled ox, and hatred therewith.
18 A wrathful man ſtirreth up ſtrife: but he that is ſlow to anger appeaſeth ſtrife.
19 The way of the ſlothful man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.
20 A wiſe ſon maketh a glad father: but a fooliſh man deſpiſeth his mother.
21 Folly is joy to him that is deſtitute of wiſdom: but a man of underſtanding walketh uprightly.
22 Without counſel, purpoſes are diſappointed: but in the multitude of counſellors they are eſtabliſhed.
23 A man hath joy by the anſwer of his mouth: and a word ſpoken in due ſeaſon, how good is it!
24 The way of life is above to the wiſe, that he may depart from hell beneath.
25 The Lord will deſtroy the houſe of the proud: but he will eſtabliſh the border of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord: but the words of the pure are pleaſant words.

27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own houſe; but he that hateth gifts ſhall live.

28 The heart of the righteous ſtudieth to anſwer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life, abideth among the wiſe.

32 He that refuſeth inſtruction, deſpiſeth his own ſoul: but he that heareth reproof, getteth underſtanding.

33 The fear of the Lord is the inſtruction of wiſdom; and before honour is humility.

CHAP. XVI.

THE preparations of the heart in man, and the anſwer of the tongue is from the Lord.

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the Lord weigheth the ſpirits.

3 Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts ſhall be eſtabliſhed.

4 The Lord hath made all things for himſelf: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 Every one that is proud in heart, is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he ſhall not be unpuniſhed.

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil.

7 When a man's ways pleaſe the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 Better is a little with righteouſneſs, than great revenues without right.

9 A man's heart deviſeth his way; but the Lord directeth his ſteps.

10 A divine ſentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth tranſgreſſeth not in judgment.

11 A juſt weight and balance are the Lord's: all the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedneſs: for the throne is eſtabliſhed by righteouſneſs.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that ſpeaketh right.

14 The wrath of a king is as meſſengers of death; but a wiſe man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life; and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 How much better is it to get wiſdom than gold? and to get underſtanding, rather to be choſen than ſilver?

17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way, preſerveth his ſoul.

18 Pride goeth before deſtruction, and an haughty ſpirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of an humble ſpirit with the lowly, than to divide the ſpoil with the proud.

20 He that handleth a matter wiſely, ſhall find good: and whoſo truſteth in the Lord, happy is he.

21 The wiſe in heart ſhall be called prudent: and the ſweetneſs of the lips increaſeth learning.

22 Underſtanding is a well-ſpring of life unto him that hath it: but the inſtruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wiſe teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleaſant words are as an honey-comb, ſweet to the ſoul, and health to the bones.

25 There is a way that ſeemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 He that laboureth, laboureth for himſelf; for his mouth craveth it of him.

27 An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is a burning fire.

28 A froward man ſoweth ſtrife, and a whiſperer ſeparateth chief friends.

29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He ſhutteth his eyes to deviſe froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to paſs.

31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteouſneſs.

32 He that is ſlow to anger, is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his ſpirit, than he that taketh a city.

33 The lot is caſt into the lap; but the whole diſpoſing thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

BETTER is a dry morſel, and quietneſs therewith, than a houſe full of ſacrifices with ſtrife.

2 A wiſe ſervant ſhall have rule over a ſon that cauſeth ſhame, and ſhall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.

3 The fining-pot is for ſilver, and the furnace for gold: but the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 A wicked doer giveth heed to falſe lips; and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

5 Whoſo mocketh the poor, reproacheth his Maker: and he that is glad at calamities ſhall not be unpuniſhed.

6 Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 Excellent ſpeech becometh not a fool; much leſs do lying lips a prince.

8 A gift is as a precious ſtone in the eyes of him that hath it: whitherſoever it turneth, it proſpereth.

9 He that covereth a tranſgreſſion ſeeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter ſeparateth very friends.

10 A reproof entereth more into a wiſe man, than an hundred ſtripes into a fool.

11 An evil man ſeeketh only rebellion: therefore a cruel meſſenger ſhall be ſent againſt him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

13 Whoſo rewardeth evil for good, evil ſhall not depart from his houſe.

14 The beginning of ſtrife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with.

15 He that juſtifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the juſt, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wiſdom, ſeeing he hath no heart to it?

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adverſity.

18 A man void of underſtanding ſtriketh hands, and becometh ſurety in the preſence of his friend.

19 He loveth tranſgreſſion that loveth ſtrife: and he that exalteth his gate ſeeketh deſtruction.

20 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverſe tongue falleth into miſchief.

21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his ſorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken ſpirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the boſom, to pervert the ways of judgment.

24 Wiſdom is before him that hath underſtanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A fooliſh ſon is a grief to his father, and bitterneſs to her that bare him.

26 Alſo to puniſh the juſt is not good, nor to ſtrike princes for equity.

27 He that hath knowledge ſpareth his words: and a man of underſtanding is of an excellent ſpirit.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wiſe: and he that ſhutteth his lips is eſteemed a man of underſtanding.

CHAP. XVIII.

THROUGH deſire a man having ſeparated himſelf, ſeeketh and intermeddleth with all wiſdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in underſtanding, but that his heart may diſcover itſelf.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh alſo contempt, and with ignominy, reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the well-ſpring of wiſdom as a flowing brook.

5 It is not good to accept the perſon of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

6 A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for ſtrokes.

7 A fool's mouth is his deſtruction, and his lips are the ſnare of his ſoul.

8 The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermoſt parts of the belly.

9 He alſo that is ſlothful in his work, is brother to him that is a great waſter.

10 The name of the Lord is a ſtrong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is ſafe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his ſtrong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 Before deſtruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.

13 He that anſwereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and ſhame unto him.

14 The ſpirit of a man will ſuſtain his infirmity; but a wounded ſpirit who can bear?

15 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wiſe ſeeketh knowledge.

16 A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is firſt in his own cauſe, ſeemeth juſt; but his neighbour cometh and ſearcheth him.

18 The lot cauſeth contentions to ceaſe, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a ſtrong city: and their contentions are like the bars of a caſtle.

20 A man's belly ſhall be ſatisfied with the fruit of his mouth; and with the increaſe of his lips ſhall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that love it ſhall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoſo findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the Lord.

23 The poor uſeth intreaties; but the rich anſwereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, muſt ſhew himſelf friendly: and there is a friend that ſticketh cloſer than a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

BETTER is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverſe in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Alſo, that the ſoul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that haſteth with his feet, ſinneth.

3 The fooliſhneſs of man perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth againſt the Lord.

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is ſeparated from his neighbour.

5 A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed, and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall not eſcape.

6 Many will intreat the favour of the prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he purſueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wiſdom loveth his own ſoul: he that keepeth underſtanding ſhall find good.

9 A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed, and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall periſh.

10 Delight is not ſeemly for a fool; much leſs for a ſervant to have rule over princes.

11 The diſcretion of a man deferreth his anger; and it is his glory to paſs over a tranſgreſſion.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the graſs.

13 A fooliſh ſon is the calamity of his father: and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 Houſe and riches are the inheritance of fathers: and a prudent wife is from the Lord.

15 Slothfulneſs caſteth into a deep ſleep: and an idle ſoul ſhall ſuffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own ſoul; but he that deſpiſeth his ways ſhall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given, will he pay him again.

18 Chaſten thy ſon while there is hope, and let not thy ſoul ſpare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath ſhall ſuffer puniſhment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou muſt do it again.

20 Hear counſel, and receive inſtruction, that thou mayeſt be wiſe in thy latter end.

21 There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheleſs, the counſel of the Lord, that ſhall ſtand.

22 The deſire of man is his kindneſs: and a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The fear of the Lord tendeth to life: and he that hath it ſhall abide ſatisfied; he ſhall not be viſited with evil.

24 A ſlothful man hideth his hand in his boſom, and will not ſo much as bring it to his mouth again.

25 Smite a ſcorner, and the ſimple will beware: and reprove one that hath underſtanding, and he will underſtand knowledge.

26 He that waſteth his father, and chaſeth away his mother, is a ſon that cauſeth ſhame, and bringeth reproach.

27 Ceaſe, my ſon, to hear the inſtruction that cauſeth to err from the words of knowledge.

28 An ungodly witneſs ſcorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.

29 Judgments are prepared for ſcorners, and ſtripes for the back of fools.

CHAP. XX.

WINE is a mocker, ſtrong drink is raging: and whoſoever is deceived thereby is not wiſe.

2 The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: whoſo provoketh him to anger, ſinneth againſt his own ſoul.

3 It is an honour for a man to ceaſe from ſtrife: but every fool will be meddling.

4 The ſluggard will not plow by reaſon of the cold; therefore ſhall he beg in harveſt, and have nothing.

5 Counſel in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of underſtanding will draw it out.

6 Moſt men will proclaim every one his own goodneſs: but a faithful man who can find?

7 The juſt man walketh in his integrity: his children are bleſſed after him.

8 A king that ſitteth in the throne of judgment, ſcattereth away all evil with his eyes.

9 Who can ſay, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my ſin?

10 Divers weights, and divers meaſures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord.

11 Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 The hearing ear, and the ſeeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them.

13 Love not ſleep, leſt thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou ſhalt be ſatisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught, ſaith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boaſteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 Take his garment that is ſurety for a ſtranger: and take a pledge of him for a ſtrange woman.

17 Bread of deceit is ſweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth ſhall be filled with gravel.

18 Every purpoſe is eſtabliſhed by counſel: and with good advice make war.

19 He that goeth about as a tale-bearer revealeth ſecrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 Whoſo curſeth his father or his mother, his lamp ſhall be put out in obſcure darkneſs.

21 An inheritance may be gotten haſtily at the beginning; but the end thereof ſhall not be bleſſed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompenſe evil; but wait on the Lord, and he ſhall ſave thee.

23 Divers weights are an abomination unto the Lord; and a falſe balance is not good.
24 Man's goings are of the Lord; how can a man then underſtand his own way?
25 It is a ſnare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to make enquiry.
26 A wiſe king ſcattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.
27 The ſpirit of man is the candle of the Lord, ſearching all the inward parts of the belly.
28 Mercy and truth preſerve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.
29 The glory of young men is their ſtrength: and the beauty of old men is the grey head.
30 The blueneſs of a wound cleanſeth away evil: ſo do ſtripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

THE king's heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whitherſoever he will.
2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.
3 To do juſtice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than ſacrifice.
4 An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is ſin.
5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteouſneſs; but of every one that is haſty, only to want.
6 The getting of treaſures by a lying tongue, is a vanity toſſed to and fro of them that ſeek death.
7 The robbery of the wicked ſhall deſtroy them; becauſe they refuſe to do judgment.
8 The way of man is froward and ſtrange: but as for the pure, his work is right.
9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe-top, than with a brawling woman in a wide houſe.
10 The ſoul of the wicked deſireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.
11 When the ſcorner is puniſhed, the ſimple is made wiſe: and when the wiſe is inſtructed, he receiveth knowledge.
12 The righteous man wiſely conſidereth the houſe of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedneſs.
13 Whoſo ſtoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he ſhall alſo cry himſelf, but ſhall not be heard.
14 A gift in ſecret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the boſom, ſtrong wrath.
15 It is joy to the juſt to do judgment: but deſtruction ſhall be to the workers of iniquity.
16 The man that wandereth out of the way of underſtanding, ſhall remain in the congregation of the dead.
17 He that loveth pleaſure ſhall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil ſhall not be rich.
18 The wicked ſhall be a ranſom for the righteous, and the tranſgreſſor for the upright.
19 It is better to dwell in the wilderneſs, than with a contentious and an angry woman.
20 There is a treaſure to be deſired, and oil in the dwelling of the wiſe; but a fooliſh man ſpendeth it up.
21 He that followeth after righteouſneſs and mercy, findeth life, righteouſneſs, and honour.
22 A wiſe man ſcaleth the city of the mighty, and caſteth down the ſtrength of the confidence thereof.
23 Whoſo keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his ſoul from troubles.
24 Proud and haughty ſcorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.
25 The deſire of the ſlothful killeth him; for his hands refuſe to labour.
26 He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth, and ſpareth not.
27 The ſacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?
28 A falſe witneſs ſhall periſh: but the man that heareth, ſpeaketh conſtantly.
29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he directeth his way.
30 There is no wiſdom, nor underſtanding, nor counſel againſt the Lord.
31 The horſe is prepared againſt the day of battle: but ſafety is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

A Good name is rather to be choſen than great riches, and loving favour rather than ſilver and gold.
2 The rich and poor meet together: the Lord is the maker of them all.
3 A prudent man foreſeeth the evil, and hideth himſelf: but the ſimple paſs on, and are puniſhed.
4 By humility, and the fear of the Lord, are riches, and honour, and life.
5 Thorns and ſnares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his ſoul ſhall be far from them.
6 Train up a child in the way he ſhould go: and when he is old he will not depart from it.
7 The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is ſervant to the lender.
8 He that ſoweth iniquity, ſhall reap vanity: and the rod of his anger ſhall fail.
9 He that hath a bountiful eye ſhall be bleſſed: for he giveth of his bread to the poor.
10 Caſt out the ſcorner, and contention ſhall go out; yea, ſtrife and reproach ſhall ceaſe.

11 He-

11 He that loveth pureneſs of heart, for the grace of his lips the king ſhall be his friend.
12 The eyes of the Lord preſerve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the tranſgreſſor.
13 The ſlothful man ſaith, There is a lion without; I ſhall be ſlain in the ſtreets.
14 The mouth of ſtrange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the Lord, ſhall fall therein.
15 Fooliſhneſs is bound in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction ſhall drive it far from him.
16 He that oppreſſeth the poor to increaſe his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, ſhall ſurely come to want.
17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wiſe, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.
18 For it is a pleaſant thing if thou keep them within thee; they ſhall withal be fitted in thy lips.
19 That thy truſt may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.
20 Have not I written to thee excellent things, in counſels and knowledge,
21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mighteſt anſwer the words of truth to them that ſend unto thee?
22 Rob not the poor, becauſe he is poor: neither oppreſs the afflicted in the gate:
23 For the Lord will plead their cauſe, and ſpoil the ſoul of thoſe that ſpoiled them.
24 Make no friendſhip with an angry man; and with a furious man thou ſhalt not go:
25 Leſt thou learn his ways, and get a ſnare to thy ſoul.
26 Be not thou one of them that ſtrike hands, or of them that are ſureties for debts.
27 If thou haſt nothing to pay, why ſhould he take away thy bed from under thee?
28 Remove not the ancient land-mark, which thy fathers have ſet.
29 Seeſt thou a man diligent in his buſineſs? he ſhall ſtand before kings; he ſhall not ſtand before mean men.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHEN thou ſitteſt to eat with a ruler, conſider diligently what is before thee;
2 And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.
3 Be not deſirous of his dainties: for they are deceitful meat.
4 Labour not to be rich: ceaſe from thine own wiſdom.
5 Wilt thou ſet thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themſelves wings; they fly away as an eagle towards heaven.
6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither deſire thou his dainty meats:
7 For as he thinketh in his heart, ſo is he: Eat and drink, ſaith he to thee; but his heart is not with thee.
8 The morſel which thou haſt eaten, ſhalt thou vomit up, and loſe thy ſweet words.
9 Speak not in the ears of a fool; for he will deſpiſe the wiſdom of thy words.
10 Remove not the old land-mark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherleſs:
11 For their Redeemer is mighty; he ſhall plead their cauſe with thee.
12 Apply thine heart unto inſtruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.
13 With-hold not correction from the child: for if thou beateſt him with the rod, he ſhall not die.
14 Thou ſhalt beat him with the rod, and ſhalt deliver his ſoul from hell.
15 My ſon, if thine heart be wiſe, my heart ſhall rejoice, even mine.
16 Yea, my reins ſhall rejoice, when thy lips ſpeak right things.
17 Let not thine heart envy ſinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long:
18 For ſurely there is an end; and thine expectation ſhall not be cut off.
19 Hear thou, my ſon, and be wiſe, and guide thine heart in the way.
20 Be not amongſt wine-bibbers; amongſt riotous eaters of fleſh:
21 For the drunkard and the glutton ſhall come to poverty: and drowſineſs ſhall clothe a man with rags.
22 Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and deſpiſe not thy mother when ſhe is old.
23 Buy the truth, and ſell it not; alſo wiſdom, [redacted] inſtruction, and underſtanding.
24 The father of the righteous ſhall greatly rejoice: and he that begetteth a wiſe child ſhall have joy of him.
25 Thy father and thy mother ſhall be glad, and ſhe that bare thee ſhall rejoice.
26 My ſon, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes obſerve my ways.
27 For a whore is a deep ditch; and a ſtrange woman is a narrow pit.
28 She alſo lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaſeth the tranſgreſſors among men.
29 Who hath woe? who hath ſorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cauſe? who hath redneſs of eyes?
30 They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to ſeek mixed wine.
31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itſelf aright.

32 At the laſt it biteth like a ſerpent, and ſtingeth like an adder.

33 Thine eyes ſhall behold ſtrange women, and thine heart ſhall utter perverſe things.

34 Yea, thou ſhalt be as he that lieth down in the midſt of the ſea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a maſt.

35 They have ſtricken me, ſhalt thou ſay, and I was not ſick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when ſhall I awake? I will ſeek it yet again.

CHAP. XXIV.

BE not thou envious againſt evil men, neither deſire to be with them:

2 For their heart ſtudieth deſtruction, and their lips talk of miſchief.

3 Through wiſdom is an houſe builded; and by underſtanding it is eſtabliſhed:

4 And by knowledge ſhall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleaſant riches.

5 A wiſe man is ſtrong; yea, a man of knowledge increaſeth ſtrength.

6 For by wiſe counſel thou ſhalt make thy war: and in multitude of counſellors there is ſafety.

7 Wiſdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.

8 He that deviſeth to do evil, ſhall be called a miſchievous perſon.

9 The thought of fooliſhneſs is ſin: and the ſcorner is an abomination to men.

10 If thou faint in the day of adverſity, thy ſtrength is ſmall.

11 If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and thoſe that are ready to be ſlain;

12 If thou ſayeſt, Behold we knew it not: doth not He that pondereth the heart conſider it? and he that keepeth thy ſoul, doth not he know it? and ſhall not he render to every man according to his works?

13 My ſon, eat thou honey, becauſe it is good; and the honey-comb, which is ſweet to thy taſte:

14 So ſhall the knowledge of wiſdom be unto thy ſoul: when thou haſt found it, then there ſhall be a reward, and thy expectation ſhall not be cut off.

15 Lay not wait, O wicked man, againſt the dwelling of the righteous; ſpoil not his reſting-place:

16 For a juſt man falleth ſeven times (y), and riſeth up again: but the wicked ſhall fall into miſchief.

17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he ſtumbleth:

18 Leſt the Lord ſee it, and it diſpleaſe him, and he turn away his wrath from him.

19 Fret not thyſelf becauſe of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked;

20 For there ſhall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked ſhall be put out.

21 My ſon, fear thou the Lord, and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change:

22 For their calamity ſhall riſe ſuddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?

23 Theſe things alſo belong to the wiſe. It is not good to have reſpect of perſons in judgment.

24 He that ſaith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; him ſhall the people curſe, nations ſhall abhor him:

25 But to them that rebuke him ſhall be delight, and a good bleſſing ſhall come upon them.

26 Every man ſhall kiſs his lips that giveth a right anſwer.

27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyſelf in the field; and afterwards build thine houſe.

28 Be not a witneſs againſt thy neighbour without cauſe; and deceive not with thy lips.

29 Say not, I will do ſo to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.

30 I went by the field of the ſlothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of underſtanding:

31 And lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the ſtone wall thereof was broken down.

(y) That is, into trouble or affliction, not into wilful ſin. The Hebrew word rendered falleth, is never applied to ſin; but, when ſet in oppoſition to the word riſeth up, implies affliction or calamity; as in Mic. vii. 8. Amos viii. 4. Jer. xxv. 27. and Pſ. xxxiv. 19, 20. Theſe words are commonly, not only in ſermons, but in books, applied to the falling into ſin; and that men may the more ſecurely indulge themſelves in their ſins, and yet think themſelves good men, they have added ſomething to them; for they are commonly cited thus, A juſt man falleth ſeven times a day; which laſt words are not in any tranſlation of the Bible, much leſs in the original; but only in ſome corrupt editions of the Vulgate. The plain meaning of the text is what we have given; and therefore we muſt make uſe of other places, ſays Biſhop Patrick, for the confuting the fancy of ſinleſs perfection in this life; and for the comfort of thoſe who are caſt down by their lapſes into ſin, and take heed of reading the Holy Scriptures ſo careleſsly, as to turn our medicine into poiſon; which is the fault of thoſe, who, from ſuch miſtakes, give way to their evil affections, and let them carry them into ſin.

32 Then I ſaw, and conſidered it well: I looked upon it, and received inſtruction.
33 Yet a little ſleep, a little ſlumber, a little folding of the hands to ſleep:
34 So ſhall thy poverty come, as one that travelleth; and thy want as an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

Obſervations about kings, and about avoiding of quarrels, and ſundry cauſes thereof.

THESE are alſo proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah, king of Judah, copied out.
2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is to ſearch out a matter.
3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unſearchable.
4 Take away the droſs from the ſilver, and there ſhall come forth a veſſel for the finer.
5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed in righteouſneſs.
6 Put not forth thyſelf in the preſence of the king, and ſtand not in the place of great men:
7 For better it is that it be ſaid unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou ſhouldeſt be put lower in the preſence of the prince whom thine eyes have ſeen.
8 Go not forth haſtily to ſtrive, leſt thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to ſhame.
9 Debate thy cauſe with thy neighbour himſelf; and diſcover not a ſecret to another.
10 Leſt he that heareth it put thee to ſhame, and thine infamy turn not away.
11 A word fitly ſpoken is like apples of gold in pictures of ſilver.
12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, ſo is a wiſe reprover upon an obedient ear.
13 As the cold of ſnow in the time of harveſt, ſo is a faithful meſſenger to them that ſend him: for he refreſheth the ſoul of his maſters.
14 Whoſo boaſteth himſelf of a falſe gift, is like clouds and wind without rain.
15 By long forbearing is a prince perſuaded, and a ſoft tongue breaketh the bone.
16 Haſt thou found honey? eat ſo much as is ſufficient for thee; leſt thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.
17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's houſe; leſt he be weary of thee, and ſo hate thee.
18 A man that beareth falſe witneſs againſt his neighbour, is a maul, and a ſword, and a ſharp arrow.
19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre; ſo is he that ſingeth ſongs to an heavy heart.
21 If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirſty, give him water to drink:
22 For thou ſhalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord ſhall reward thee.
23 The north wind driveth away rain: ſo doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.
24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe-top, than with a brawling woman and in a wide houſe.
25 As cold waters to a thirſty ſoul, ſo is good news from a far country.
26 A righteous man falling down before the wicked, is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt ſpring.
27 It is not good to eat much honey: ſo for men to ſearch their own glory, is not glory.
28 He that hath no rule over his own ſpirit, is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.

CHAP. XXVI.

Obſervations about fools, about ſluggards, and about contentious buſy-bodies.

AS ſnow in ſummer, and as rain in harveſt, ſo honour is not ſeemly for a fool.
2 As the bird by wandering, as the ſwallow by flying, ſo the curſe cauſeleſs ſhall not come.
3 A whip for the horſe, a bridle for the aſs, and a rod for the fool's back.
4 Anſwer not a fool according to his folly, leſt thou alſo be like unto him.
5 Anſwer a fool according to his folly, leſt he be wiſe in his own conceit.
6 He that ſendeth a meſſage by the hand of a fool, cutteth off the feet, and drinketh damage.
7 The legs of the lame are not equal: ſo is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8 As he that bindeth a ſtone in a ſling, ſo is he that giveth honour to a fool.
9 As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, ſo is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10 The great God that formed all things, both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth tranſgreſſors.
11 As a dog returneth to his vomit, ſo a fool returneth to his folly.
12 Seeſt thou a man wiſe in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.
13 The ſlothful man ſaith, There is a lion in the way; a lion is in the ſtreets.
14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, ſo doth the ſlothful upon his bed.
15 The ſlothful hideth his hand in his boſom; it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.
16 The ſluggard is wiſer in his own conceit, than ſeven men that can render a reaſon.

17 He

17 He that paſſeth by, and meddleth with ſtrife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.

18 As a mad man who caſteth fire-brands, arrows, and death;

19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and ſaith, Am not I in ſport?

20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: ſo where there is no tale-bearer, the ſtrife ceaſeth.

21 As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; ſo is a contentious man to kindle ſtrife.

22 The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermoſt parts of the belly.

23 Burning lips, and a wicked heart, are like a potſherd covered with ſilver droſs.

24 He that hateth, diſſembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him;

25 When he ſpeaketh fair, believe him not: for there are ſeven abominations in his heart.

26 Whoſe hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedneſs ſhall be ſhewed before the whole congregation.

27 Whoſo diggeth a pit, ſhall fall therein: and he that rolleth a ſtone, it will return upon him.

28 A lying tongue hateth thoſe that are afflicted by it; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

CHAP. XXVII.

Obſervations on ſelf-love, on true love, on care to avoid offences, and on houſhold care.

BOAST not thyſelf of to-morrow; for thou knoweſt not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praiſe thee, and not thine own mouth; a ſtranger, and not thine own lips.

3 A ſtone is heavy, and the ſand weighty; but a fool's wrath is heavier than them both.

4 Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to ſtand before envy?

5 Open rebuke is better than ſecret love.

6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; but the kiſſes of an enemy are deceitful.

7 The full ſoul loatheth an honey-comb; but to the hungry ſoul every bitter thing is ſweet.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her neſt, ſo is a man that wandereth from his place.

9 Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: ſo doth the ſweetneſs of a man's friend by hearty counſel.

10 Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forſake not; neither go into thy brother's houſe in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbour that is near, than a brother afar off.

11 My ſon, be wiſe, and make my heart glad, that I may anſwer him that reproacheth me.

12 A prudent man foreſeeth the evil, and hideth himſelf; but the ſimple paſs on, and are puniſhed.

13 Take his garment that is ſurety for a ſtranger, and take a pledge of him for a ſtrange woman.

14 He that bleſſeth his friend with a loud voice, riſing early in the morning, it ſhall be counted a curſe to him.

15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day, and a contentious woman, are alike.

16 Whoſoever hideth her, hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand which bewrayeth itſelf.

17 Iron ſharpeneth iron; ſo a man ſharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

18 Whoſo keepeth the fig-tree ſhall eat the fruit thereof: ſo he that waiteth on his maſter ſhall be honoured.

19 As in water face anſwereth to face, ſo the heart of man to man.

20 Hell and deſtruction are never full, ſo the eyes of man are never ſatisfied.

21 As the fining-pot for ſilver, and the furnace for gold; ſo is a man to his praiſe.

22 Though thou ſhouldeſt bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a peſtle, yet will not his fooliſhneſs depart from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the ſtate of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds:

24 For riches are not for ever: and doth the crown endure to every generation?

25 The hay appeareth, and the tender graſs ſheweth itſelf, and herbs of the mountains are gathered.

26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.

27 And thou ſhalt have goat's milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy houſhold, and for maintenance for thy maidens.

CHAP. XXVIII.

General obſervations on impiety, and religious integrity.

THE wicked flee when no man purſueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the tranſgreſſion of a land, many are the princes thereof: but by a man of underſtanding and knowledge the ſtate thereof ſhall be prolonged (z).

(z) For the ſins of a land, the ſucceſſion of princes is frequent; for men of underſtanding and juſtice, the prince ſhall continue long: Houbigant;---who renders the next verſe, A powerful man, oppreſſing the poor, is a ſweeping ſhower, by which famine is prepared. Biſhop Saunderſon obſerves upon this third verſe, which he underſtands according to the common tranſlation, That it is in matters of power, as in matters of learning; they who have but a ſmattering of ſcholarſhip, are obſerved to be the forwardeſt to make oſtentation of the few ſcraps they have, for fear there ſhould

3 A poor man that oppreſſeth the poor is like a ſweeping rain which leaveth no food.

4 They that forſake the law praiſe the wicked: but ſuch as keep the law contend with them.

5 Evil men underſtand not judgment: but they that ſeek the Lord underſtand all things.

6 Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightneſs, than he that is perverſe in his ways, though he be rich.

7 Whoſo keepeth the law is a wiſe ſon: but he that is a companion of riotous men ſhameth his father.

8 He that by uſury and unjuſt gain increaſeth his ſubſtance, he ſhall gather it for him that will pity the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer ſhall be abomination.

10 Whoſo cauſeth the righteous to go aſtray in an evil way, he ſhall fall himſelf into his own pit: but the upright ſhall have good things in poſſeſſion.

11 The rich man is wiſe in his own conceit; but the poor that hath underſtanding ſearcheth him out.

12 When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked riſe, a man is hidden.

13 He that covereth his ſins ſhall not proſper: but whoſo confeſſeth and forſaketh them ſhall have mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart ſhall fall into miſchief.

15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; ſo is a wicked ruler over the poor people.

16 The prince that wanteth underſtanding is alſo a great oppreſſor: but he that hateth covetouſneſs ſhall prolong his days.

17 A man that doeth violence to the blood of any perſon, ſhall flee to the pit; let no man ſtay him.

18 Whoſo walketh uprightly ſhall be ſaved: but he that is perverſe in his ways ſhall fall at once.

19 He that tilleth his land ſhall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain perſons ſhall have poverty enough.

20 A faithful man ſhall abound with bleſſings: but he that maketh haſte to be rich ſhall not be innocent.

21 To have reſpect of perſons is not good: for, for a piece of bread that man will tranſgreſs.

22 He that haſteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and conſidereth not that poverty ſhall come upon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, afterwards ſhall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoſo robbeth his father or his mother, and ſaith, It is no tranſgreſſion; the ſame is the companion of a deſtroyer.

25 He that is of a proud heart ſtirreth up ſtrife: but he that putteth his truſt in the Lord ſhall be made fat.

26 He that truſteth in his own heart, is a fool: but whoſo walketh wiſely, he ſhall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor ſhall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes ſhall have many a curſe.

28 When the wicked riſe, men hide themſelves: but when they periſh, the righteous increaſe.

CHAP. XXIX.

Obſervations on public and private government. Of anger, pride, thievery, cowardice, and corruption.

HE that, being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, ſhall ſuddenly be deſtroyed, and that without remedy.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3 Whoſo loveth wiſdom rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots ſpendeth his ſubſtance.

4 The king by judgment eſtabliſheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts overthroweth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, ſpreadeth a net for his feet.

6 In the tranſgreſſion of an evil man there is a ſnare: but the righteous doth ſing and rejoice.

7 The righteous conſidereth the cauſe of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it:

8 Scornful men bring a city into a ſnare: but wiſe men turn away wrath.

9 If a wiſe man contendeth with a fooliſh man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no reſt.

10 The blood-thirſty hate the upright: but the juſt ſeek his ſoul.

11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wiſe man keepeth it in till afterwards.

be no notice taken of their learning, if they ſhould not ſhew it when they can: and yet then they do it ſo untowardly, that when they think moſt of all to diſplay their parts, they moſt of all, by ſome groſs miſtake or other, betray their ignorance. Juſt ſo it is in the caſe of power: when men of baſe ſpirits and condition have gotten a little of it into their hands, they conceive their neighbours will not be ſenſible how important they are, if they do not, by ſome act or other, ſhew forth their power to the world. But, having minds too narrow to comprehend any great and generous way to do ſo, they cannot frame any other method, than by trampling on thoſe who are below them; which they do beyond all reaſon, and without any mercy. See his ſermons, Lord Bacon's Advanc. of Learning, b. viii. c. 2. and ver. 15.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his ſervants are wicked.

13 The poor and the deceitful man meet together: the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.

14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever.

15 The rod and reproof give wiſdom: but a child left to himſelf bringeth his mother to ſhame.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, tranſgreſſion increaſeth: but the righteous ſhall ſee their fall.

17 Correct thy ſon, and he ſhall give thee reſt; yea, he ſhall give delight unto thy ſoul.

18 Where there is no viſion, the people periſh: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A ſervant will not be corrected by words: for though he underſtand, he will not anſwer.

20 Seeſt thou a man that is haſty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his ſervant from a child, ſhall have him become his ſon at the length.

22 An angry man ſtirreth up ſtrife, and a furious man aboundeth in tranſgreſſion.

23 A man's pride ſhall bring him low: but honour ſhall uphold the humble in ſpirit.

24 Whoſo is partner with a thief, hateth his own ſoul: he heareth curſing, and bewrayeth it not.

25 The fear of man bringeth a ſnare: but whoſo putteth his truſt in the Lord ſhall be ſafe.

26 Many ſeek the ruler's favour; but every man's judgment cometh from the Lord.

27 An unjuſt man is an abomination to the juſt: and he that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAP. XXX.

Agur's confeſſion of his faith. Four wicked generations. Four things inſatiable. Parents are not to be deſpiſed. Four things hard to be known. Four things intolerable. Four things exceeding wiſe. Four things ſtately. Wrath is to be prevented.

THE words of Agur the ſon of Jakeh, even the prophecy: the man ſpake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more brutiſh than any man, and have not the underſtanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wiſdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy.

4 Who hath aſcended up into heaven, or deſcended? who hath gathered the wind in his fiſts? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath eſtabliſhed all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his ſon's name, if thou canſt tell?

5 Every word of God is pure: he is a ſhield unto them that put their truſt in him.

6 Add thou not unto his words, leſt he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things have I required of thee; deny me them not before I die:

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me:

9 Leſt I be full, and deny thee, and ſay, Who is the Lord? or leſt I be poor, and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

10 Accuſe not a ſervant unto his maſter, leſt he curſe thee, and thou be found guilty.

11 There is a generation that curſeth their father, and doth not bleſs their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not waſhed from their filthineſs.

13 There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up.

14 There is a generation, whoſe teeth are as ſwords, and their jaw-teeth as knives, to devour the poor man from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The horſeleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never ſatisfied, yea, four things ſay not, It is enough:

16 The grave; and the barren womb; the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that ſaith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and deſpiſeth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley ſhall pick it out, and the young eagles ſhall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a ſerpent upon a rock, the way of a ſhip in the midſt of the ſea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; ſhe eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and ſaith, I have done no wickedneſs.

21 For three things the earth is diſquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:

22 For a ſervant when he reigneth; and a fool when he is filled with meat;

23 For an odious woman when ſhe is married; and an hand-maid that is heir to her miſtreſs.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wiſe:

25 The ants are a people not ſtrong, yet they prepare their meat in the ſummer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houſes in the rocks;

27 The locuſts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands.

28 The

28 The ſpider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion, which is ſtrongeſt among beaſts, and turneth not away from any:

31 A grey-hound; an he-goat alſo, and a king, againſt whom there is no riſing up.

32 If thou haſt done fooliſhly in lifting up thyſelf, or if thou haſt thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the noſe bringeth forth blood: ſo the forcing of wrath bringeth forth ſtrife.

CHAP. XXXI.

Lemuel's leſſon of chaſtity and temperance. The afflicted are to be comforted and defended. The praiſe and properties of a good wife.

THE words of king Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him.

2 What my ſon? and what, the ſon of my womb? and what, the ſon of my vows?

3 Give not thy ſtrength unto women, nor thy ways to that which deſtroyeth kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes ſtrong drink:

5 Leſt they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted.

6 Give ſtrong drink unto him that is ready to periſh, and wine to thoſe that be of heavy hearts.

7 Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his miſery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cauſe of all ſuch as are appointed to deſtruction.

9 Open thy mouth, judge righteouſly, and plead the cauſe of the poor and needy.

10 Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.

11 The heart of her huſband doth ſafely truſt in her, ſo that he ſhall have no need of ſpoil.

12 She will do him good, and not evil, all the days of her life.

13 She ſeeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

14 She is like the merchants ſhips: ſhe bringeth her food from afar.

15 She riſeth alſo while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her houſhold, and a portion to her maidens.

16 She conſidereth a field, and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands ſhe planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loins with ſtrength, and ſtrengtheneth her arms.

18 She perceiveth that her merchandize is good: her candle goeth not out by night.

19 She layeth her hands to the ſpindle, and her hands hold the diſtaff.

20 She ſtretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, ſhe reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She is not afraid of the ſnow for her houſhold: for all her houſhold are clothed with ſcarlet.

22 She maketh herſelf coverings of tapeſtry; her clothing is ſilk and purple.

23 Her huſband is known in the gates, when he ſitteth among the elders of the land.

24 She maketh fine linen, and ſelleth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour are her clothing; and ſhe ſhall rejoice in time to come.

26 She openeth her mouth with wiſdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindneſs.

27 She looketh well to the ways of her houſhold, and eateth not the bread of idleneſs.

28 Her children ariſe up, and call her bleſſed; her huſband alſo, and he praiſeth her:

29 Many daughters have done virtuouſly, but thou excelleſt them all.

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, ſhe ſhall be praiſed.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praiſe her in the gates (a).

(a) Behold here the picture of a virtuous woman, according to Solomon; a perſon of no ordinary rank, or obſcure condition; her huſband appears with diſtinction in the midſt of princes and ſenators; he has no need to apply himſelf to his domeſtic concerns: her houſe is full of riches, and ſhe is ſurrounded with ſlaves and maidens. She is not urged by parſimony and meanneſs to make profit of her labour, and that of her people: magnificence ſhines in her veſtments and thoſe of her huſband, in her furniture, in her beds, and in her whole houſe. Piety, the fear of God, and wiſdom, conſtitute her character. Vigilant, active, laborious, ſhe remains at home, aſſiduous to conduct her houſhold, and to bring up her children. Deſpiſing ſuperfluous gewgaws, and frivolous occupations, gentle towards her domeſtics, liberal to the poor, and prudently confining and limiting herſelf to the employments ſuitable to her: She layeth her hands to the ſpindle, and her hands hold the diſtaff. In her life, we ſee neither gaming, nor diverſion, nor high living, nor idleneſs, nor uſeleſs viſits; no quarrels, or ſlanders, or thoſe other abuſes which form the moſt ſerious employment of women of the world, who are not under a neceſſity of earning their livelihood.

CHAP. I.

The Preacher ſheweth that all human courſes are vain; becauſe the creatures are reſtleſs in their courſes; they bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: and becauſe he hath found it ſo in the ſtudies of wiſdom.

THE words of the Preacher, the ſon of David, king of Jeruſalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, ſaith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity.

3 What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the ſun?

4 One generation paſſeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth for ever.

5 The ſun alſo ariſeth, and the ſun goeth down, and haſteth to his place where he aroſe.

6 The wind goeth toward the ſouth, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the ſea; yet the ſea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot utter it: the eye is not ſatisfied with ſeeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 The thing that hath been, it is that which ſhall be; and that which is done, is that which ſhall be done: and there is no new thing under the ſun.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be ſaid, See this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither ſhall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with thoſe that ſhall come after.

12 I the Preacher was king over Iſrael in Jeruſalem:

13 And I gave my heart to ſeek and ſearch out by wiſdom, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this ſore travail hath God given to the ſons of man, to be exerciſed therewith.

14 I have ſeen all the works that are done under the ſun; and behold, all is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

15 That which is crooked cannot be made ſtraight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, ſaying, Lo, I am come to great eſtate, and have gotten more wiſdom than all they that have been before me in Jeruſalem: yea, my heart had great experience of wiſdom and knowledge.

17 And I gave my heart to know wiſdom, and to know madneſs and folly: I perceived that this alſo is vexation of ſpirit.

18 For in much wiſdom is much grief: and he that increaſeth knowledge increaſeth ſorrow.

CHAP. II.

The vanity of human courſes in the works of pleaſure. Though the wiſe be better than the fool, yet both have one event. The vanity of human labour in leaving it they know not to whom. Nothing better than joy in our labour; but that is God's gift.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleaſure: and behold, this alſo is vanity.

2 I ſaid of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?

3 I ſought in mine heart to give myſelf unto wine (yet acquainting mine heart with wiſdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might ſee what was that good for the ſons of men, which they ſhould do under the heaven, all the days of their life.

4 I made me great works; I builded me houſes; I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruits:

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

ECCLESIASTES.] This book is generally allowed to have been written by Solomon, and Mr. Locke is of opinion that he wrote it upon his repentance after his fall. Expoſitors have varied greatly concerning the main ſcope and deſign of it. Their different opinions have been accurately diſcuſſed, by a late learned and laborious writer; who, after examining the opinions of others, gives us his own, which we here ſubjoin, as it appears the moſt reaſonable. "The book intitled in Greek Eccleſiaſtes, and in Engliſh the Preacher, ſeems to be a philoſophical diſcourſe, written in a rhetorical ſtile, here and there interſperſed with verſes, which gave a handle to rank it among the poetical books. The author's deſign is, to prove the immortality of the ſoul, or rather, the neceſſity of another ſtate after this life, from ſuch arguments as may be afforded by reaſon and experience. In the courſe of the argument,

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattle, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.

9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them; I with-held not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

12 And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: for what can the man do, that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 The wise man's eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also, that one event happeneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever; seeing that which now is, in the days to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

18 Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sun: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity: yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity, and a great evil.

22 For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun.

23 For all his days are sorrows, and his travel grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

24 There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who else can hasten hereunto more than I?

26 For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight, wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAP. III.

By the necessary change of times, vanity is added to human travail. There is an excellency in God's works: but as for man, God shall judge his works.

TO every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing,

6 A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?

the author now and then inserts some observations that do not directly respect the main design of the treatise, but must be looked upon as either consequences, naturally arising from the same principles which it was his business to establish, in order to come to the main conclusion; or considerations, without which his principles must have lain exposed to objections and chicaneries, from the libertines and free-thinkers of his age. My reasons for being of this opinion are chiefly two. The one is taken from the conclusion of the book (where see the note); the other, from the whole series of the discourse, where I can find no connection of ideas, no design pursued, no constant method observed upon any other scheme. But to judge of the whole series, and to determine what it requires, that series must be consulted at length.

10 I have ſeen the travail which God hath given to the ſons of men, to be exerciſed in it.

11 He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: alſo he hath ſet the world in their heart, ſo that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And alſo that every man ſhould eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatſoever God doeth, it ſhall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men ſhould fear before him.

15 That which hath been, is now; and that which is to be, hath already been; and God requireth that which is paſt.

16 And moreover, I ſaw under the ſun the place of judgment, that wickedneſs was there; and the place of righteouſneſs, that iniquity was there.

17 I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpoſe, and for every work.

18 I ſaid in mine heart concerning the eſtate of the ſons of men, that God might manifeſt them and that they might ſee that they themſelves are beaſts.

19 For that which befalleth the ſons of men, befalleth beaſts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; ſo that a man hath no preeminence above a beaſt: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place; all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who knoweth the ſpirit of man that goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt that goeth downward to the earth (a)?

22 Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man ſhould rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?

CHAP. IV.

Vanity is increaſed unto men by oppreſſion, by envy, by idleneſs, by covetouſneſs, by ſolitarineſs, by wilfulneſs.

SO I returned, and conſidered all the oppreſſions that are done under the ſun: and behold, the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter; and on the ſide of their oppreſſors there was power, but they had no comforter.

2 Wherefore I praiſed the dead which are already dead, more than the living which are yet alive.

3 Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the ſun.

4 Again, I conſidered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is alſo vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

5 The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own fleſh.

6 Better is an handful with quietneſs, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of ſpirit.

7 Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the ſun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour; neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches; neither ſaith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? This is alſo vanity, yea, it is a ſore travail.

9 Two are better than one; becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up!

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and a wiſe child, than an old and fooliſh king, who will no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of priſon he cometh to reign; whereas alſo he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the ſun, with the ſecond child that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after, ſhall not rejoice in him. Surely, this alſo is vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

(a) Who knoweth the breath of the ſons of man, whether it aſcendeth upward, and the breath of a brute, whether it deſcendeth downward to the earth? The being of a God, his attributes, and ſupreme ſway of his Providence, are clearly evinced from the very complication of human affairs, which none but an infinite underſtanding could ever prevent from falling into an irretrievable confuſion. But the higher we riſe in our conceptions of that great Being, the lower we muſt deſcend in the notions we have of our own worth and dignity; for our ſo much boaſted of reaſon, when left to itſelf, is incapable of aſcertaining a difference in men's favour with reſpect to a future diſpenſation between themſelves, and what they call the brutiſh part of the creation. "So dark and intricate are the ways of Providence in this

CHAP. V.

Vanities in divine service, in murmuring against oppression, and in riches. Joy in riches is the gift of God.

KEEP thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.

2 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth; therefore let thy words be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business, and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.

4 When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed.

5 Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words, there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth, and there be higher than they.

9 Moreover, the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver, shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increase: this is also vanity.

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep?

13 There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But those riches perish by evil travail: and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow, and wrath with his sickness.

18 Behold, that which I have seen: it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun, all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The vanity of riches without use, of children, and of old age without riches. The vanity of sight, and wandering desires. The conclusion of vanities.

THERE is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanity; and it is an evil disease.

3 If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he:

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Moreover, he hath not seen the sun, nor known any thing: this hath more rest than the other.

6 Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more than the fool?

this world!"---By this interpretation the passage is sufficiently vindicated from any suspicion of the Sadducean heresy. The only point insisted on, and for which no philosopher, who is free from prejudice, will think it worth his while to quarrel with Solomon, is, that the difference between the fate of brutes and men, is not to be known with certainty by the mere light of reason, unassisted by revelation. Now this differs from the heresy above-mentioned as much as the humble confession of one who owneth himself to be in the dark, doth from the assuming asseveration of another, who talks of nothing but full evidence and certainty. See the text fully justified in this light in Desvoeux's dissertation on the Ecclesiastes, p. 53, 54.

what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 Better is the ſight of the eyes, than the wandering of the deſire: this is alſo vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he.

11 Seeing there be many things that increaſe vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, all the days of his vain life which he ſpendeth as a ſhadow? for who can tell a man what ſhall be after him under the ſun?

CHAP. VII.

Remedies againſt vanity are, a good name, mortification, patience, wiſdom. The difficulty of getting wiſdom.

A Good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

2 It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, than to go to the houſe of feaſting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the ſadneſs of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the houſe of mirth.

5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wiſe, than for a man to hear the ſong of fools:

6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, ſo is the laughter of the fool: this alſo is vanity.

7 Surely oppreſſion maketh a wiſe man mad, and a gift deſtroyeth the heart (b).

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof; and the patient in ſpirit is better than the proud in ſpirit.

9 Be not haſty in thy ſpirit to be angry: for anger reſteth in the boſom of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cauſe that the former days were better than theſe? for thou doſt not enquire wiſely concerning this.

11 Wiſdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that ſee the ſun.

12 For wiſdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is that wiſdom giveth life to them that have it.

13 Conſider the work of God: for who can make that ſtraight which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of proſperity be joyful, but in the day of adverſity conſider: God alſo hath ſet the one over againſt the other, to the end that man ſhould find nothing after him.

15 All things have I ſeen in the days of my vanity: there is a juſt man that periſheth in his righteouſneſs, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedneſs.

16 Be not righteous over-much; neither make thyſelf over-wiſe: why ſhouldeſt thou deſtroy thyſelf?

17 Be not over-much wicked, neither be thou fooliſh: why ſhouldeſt thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou ſhouldeſt take hold of this; yea alſo, from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God ſhall come forth of them all.

19 Wiſdom ſtrengtheneth the wiſe, more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 For there is not a juſt man upon earth that doeth good, and ſinneth not.

21 Alſo take no heed unto all words that are ſpoken; leſt thou hear thy ſervant curſe thee:

22 For oftentimes alſo thine own heart knoweth, that thou thyſelf likewiſe haſt curſed others.

23 All this have I proved by wiſdom: I ſaid, I will be wiſe; but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out?

25 I applied mine heart to know, and to ſearch, and to ſeek out wiſdom, and the reaſon of things, and to know the wickedneſs of folly, even of fooliſhneſs and madneſs:

26 And I find more bitter than death the woman whoſe heart is ſnares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoſo pleaſeth God ſhall eſcape from her; but the ſinner ſhall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found (ſaith the preacher) counting one by one, to find out the account:

28 Which yet my ſoul ſeeketh, but I find not: one man among a thouſand have I found; but a woman among all thoſe have I not found.

29 Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have ſought out many inventions.

(b) Every ſentence contained in the firſt eight verſes of this chapter, offers an inſtance of the wrong judgment of the vulgar, in the preference given to certain things above others; and this is carried on ſo as to mention the judgments of the wiſe only, on the ſeveral ſubjects which are inſtanced in; and not thoſe of the multitude, which are ſuppoſed to be ſufficiently known. Yet thoſe judgments of the multitude muſt be always kept in view, as being the reverſe of the ſentiments of the wiſe. Thus by that mutual oppoſition they afford each other a mutual light. Now the ſubjects here ſpoken of are, on the one hand, oppreſſion, or, according to ſome, calumny; and on the other hand gifts or generoſity. The opinion of the generality of men concerning thoſe ſubjects, compared together, is known. They certainly give the preference to a liberal, above an oppreſſive government; and of conſequence Solomon's maxim muſt either

CHAP. VIII.

Kings are greatly to be respected. The divine providence is to be observed. It is better with the godly in adversity, than with the wicked in prosperity. The work of God is unsearchable.

WHO is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.

2 I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.

6 Because to every purpose there is time, and judgment; therefore the misery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war: neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days which are as a shadow; because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be just men unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said, that this also is vanity.

15 Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life which God giveth him under the sun.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because, though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea farther, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAP. IX.

Like things happen to good and bad. There is a necessity of death unto men. Comfort is all their portion in this life. God's providence ruleth over all.

FOR all this I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love or hatred, by all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 For to him that is joined to all the living, there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the days of the life of thy vanity, either express or lay the foundation for giving the preference to oppression and tyranny: but such a paradox can be supported no other way, than by mentioning some advantage of the one, and some disadvantage of the other, whereof the vulgar is not sensible; and what advantage can there be in tyranny, besides its giving the wise man opportunity of exerting his abilities, or trying his virtues, and thereby adding lustre to his wisdom? This is exactly what the word itsull may, and does originally mean. Desvoeux.

which he hath given thee under the ſun all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takeſt under the ſun.

10 Whatſoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wiſdom in the grave whither thou goeſt.

11 I returned, and ſaw under the ſun, that the race is not to the ſwift, nor the battle to the ſtrong, neither yet bread to the wiſe, nor yet riches to men of underſtanding, nor yet favour to men of ſkill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 For man alſo knoweth not his time; as the fiſhes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the ſnare; ſo are the ſons of men ſnared in an evil time, when it falleth ſuddenly upon them.

13 This wiſdom have I ſeen alſo under the ſun, and it ſeemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king againſt it, and beſieged it, and built great bulwarks againſt it.

15 Now there was found in it a poor wiſe man, and he by his wiſdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that ſame poor man.

16 Then ſaid I, Wiſdom is better than ſtrength: nevertheleſs, the poor man's wiſdom is deſpiſed, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wiſe men are heard in quiet, more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wiſdom is better than weapons of war: but one ſinner deſtroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

Obſervations on wiſdom and folly. On riot, ſlothfulneſs, and money. Men's thoughts of kings ought to be reverent.

DEAD flies cauſe the ointment of the apothecary to ſend forth a ſtinking ſavour: ſo doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wiſdom and honour.

2 A wiſe man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart is at his left.

3 Yea alſo, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wiſdom faileth him, and he ſaith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the ſpirit of the ruler riſe up againſt thee, leave not thy place; for yielding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 Folly is ſet in great dignity, and the rich ſit in low place.

7 I have ſeen ſervants upon horſes, and princes walking as ſervants upon the earth.

8 He that diggeth a pit ſhall fall into it; and whoſo breaketh an hedge, a ſerpent ſhall bite him.

9 Whoſo removeth ſtones, ſhall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood, ſhall be endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then muſt he put to more ſtrength: but wiſdom is profitable to direct.

11 Surely, the ſerpent will bite without enchantment, and a babbler is no better.

12 The words of a wiſe man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will ſwallow up himſelf.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is fooliſhneſs: and the end of his talk is miſchievious madneſs.

14 A fool alſo is full of words: a man cannot tell what ſhall be; and what ſhall be after him, who can tell him?

15 The labour of the fooliſh wearieth every one of them, becauſe he knoweth not how to go to the city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning!

17 Bleſſed art thou, O land, when thy king is the ſon of nobles, and thy princes eat in due ſeaſon, for ſtrength, and not for drunkenneſs!

18 By much ſlothfulneſs the building decayeth; and through idleneſs of the hands the houſe droppeth through.

19 A feaſt is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money anſwereth all things.

20 Curſe not the king, no, not in thy thought, and curſe not the rich in thy bed-chamber: for a bird of the air ſhall carry the voice, and that which hath wings ſhall tell the matter.

CHAP. XI.

Directions for charity. Death in life, and the day of judgment in the days of youth, are to be thought on.

CAST thy bread upon the waters, for thou ſhalt find it after many days (c).

2 Give a portion to ſeven, and alſo to eight;

(c) It has been obſerved by ſeveral interpreters, that in theſe words, caſt thy lechem, upon the face of the waters, lechem, which is generally tranſlated bread, may as well be tranſlated corn: Beſides other places, where it has that ſignification, no other conſtruction can be put on it, Iſai. xxviii. 28. nor in this place neither, if you conſider that Solomon makes uſe of a proverbial metaphorical ſentence, which muſt have a known, rational, literal ſenſe, independently of the remoter moral application. But to caſt one's bread upon the ſurface of the waters, where it muſt be either devoured by the fiſh, or diluted to nothing, before the waves leave it upon the ſhore, would be a very odd way of providing for futurity; and I doubt whether one who would try the experiment, could find his bread again after many days. But the caſe is quite otherwiſe with reſpect to ſeed thrown upon the ſurface of an inundation: when the waters ſubſide, the corn that remains in the mud grows, and is found again many days after, at the time of harveſt. This is a very rational conſtruction of Solomon's words, which the judicious Bp. Lowth, in his 10th Prelection, thinks may be illuſtrated from Pſ. civ. 14.

for thou knoweſt not what evil ſhall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themſelves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the ſouth, or toward the north; in the place where the tree falleth, there it ſhall be.

4 He that obſerveth the wind ſhall not ſow; and he that regardeth the clouds ſhall not reap.

5 As thou knoweſt not what is the way of the ſpirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even ſo thou knoweſt not the works of God who maketh all.

6 In the morning ſow thy ſeed, and in the evening with-hold not thine hand: for thou knoweſt not whether ſhall proſper, either this or that, or whether they both ſhall be alike good.

7 Truly the light is ſweet, and a pleaſant thing it is for the eyes to behold the ſun.

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkneſs, for they ſhall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the ſight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all theſe things God will bring thee into judgment.

10 Therefore remove ſorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy fleſh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

CHAP. XII.

The Creator is to be remembered in due time. The preacher's care to edify. The fear of God is the chief antidote of vanity.

REmember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou ſhalt ſay, I have no pleaſure in them.

2 While the ſun, or the light, or the moon, or the ſtars be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:

3 In the day when the keepers of the houſe ſhall tremble, and the ſtrong men ſhall bow themſelves, and the grinders ceaſe, becauſe they are few, and thoſe that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors ſhall be ſhut in the ſtreets, when the ſound of the grinding is low, and he ſhall riſe up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of muſick ſhall be brought low;

5 Alſo when they ſhall be afraid of that which is high, and fears ſhall be in the way, and the almond-tree ſhall flouriſh, and the graſshopper ſhall be a burden, and deſire ſhall fail: becauſe man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the ſtreets:

6 Or ever the ſilver cord be looſed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the ciſtern.

7 Then ſhall the duſt return to the earth as it was: and the ſpirit ſhall return unto God, who gave it.

8 Vanity of vanities, ſaith the Preacher; all is vanity.

9 And moreover, becauſe the Preacher was wiſe, he ſtill taught the people knowledge; yea, he gave good heed, and ſought out, and ſet in order many proverbs.

10 The preacher ſought to find out acceptable words: and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wiſe are as goads, and as nails faſtened by the maſters of aſſemblies, which are given from one ſhepherd.

12 And further by theſe, my ſon, be admoniſhed: of making many books there is no end, and much ſtudy is a wearineſs of the fleſh.

13 Let us hear the concluſion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God ſhall bring every work into judgment, with every ſecret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

The SONG of SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

The church's love unto Chriſt: ſhe confeſſeth her deformity. The church and Chriſt congratulate each other.

THE ſong of ſongs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiſs me with the kiſſes of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

3 Becauſe of the ſavour of thy good ointments, thy name is as ointment poured forth; therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 Draw me, we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his chambers; we will be glad and rejoice in thee; we will remem-

THE SONG OF SOLOMON.] The ſong of ſongs, or the moſt excellent ſong, was compoſed by Solomon, and is a noble epithalamium, or marriage-ſong of the paſtoral kind, embelliſhed with the moſt grand and beautiful images. In the letter it is allowed to be a celebration of the marriage of Solomon, with a beautiful perſon called Shulamith, ch. vi. 13. and generally ſuppoſed to be Pharaoh's daughter: But the Jewiſh rabbis, and the greater part of Chriſtian interpreters, ber thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.

5 I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jeruſalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, becauſe I am black, becauſe the ſun hath looked upon me: my mother's children were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me, O thou whom my ſoul loveth, where thou feedeſt, where thou makeſt thy flock to reſt at noon: for why ſhould I be as one that turneth aſide by the flocks of thy companions?

8 If thou knoweſt not, O thou faireſt among women, go thy way forth by the footſteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beſide the ſhepherds tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horſes in Pharaoh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold with ſtuds of ſilver.

12 While the king ſitteth at his table, my ſpikenard ſendeth forth the ſmell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my well-beloved unto me; he ſhall lie all night betwixt my breaſts.

14 My beloved is unto me, as a cluſter of camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.

15 Behold thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair, thou haſt dove's eyes.

16 Behold thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleaſant: alſo our bed is green.

17 The beams of our houſe are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

CHAP. II.

The mutual love of Chriſt and his church. The hope, and calling of the church. Chriſt's care of the Church. The profeſſion of the church, her faith and hope.

I AM the roſe of Sharon, and the lily of the vallies.

2 As the lily among thorns, ſo is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, ſo is my beloved among the ſons. I ſat down under his ſhadow with great delight, and his fruit was ſweet to my taſte.

4 He brought me to the banqueting-houſe, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with flaggons, comfort me with apples: for I am ſick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jeruſalem, by the roes, by the hinds of the field, that ye ſtir not up, nor awake my love, till he pleaſe.

8 The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, ſkipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: behold, he ſtandeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, ſhewing himſelf through the latteſs:

10 My beloved ſpake and ſaid unto me, Riſe up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For lo, the winter is paſt; the rain is over and gone.

12 The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the ſinging of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig-tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good ſmell. Ariſe, my love, my fair one and come away.

14 O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the ſecret places of the ſtairs, let me ſee thy countenance, let me hear thy voice: for ſweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that ſpoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

16 My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Until the day break, and the ſhadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe, or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

CHAP. III.

The church's fight and victory in temptation. The church glorieth in Chriſt.

BY night on my bed I ſought him whom my ſoul loveth: I ſought him, but I found him not.

2 I will riſe now, and go about the city in the ſtreets, and in the broad ways I will ſeek him whom my ſoul loveth: I ſought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I ſaid, Saw ye him whom my ſoul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I paſſed from them, but I found him whom my ſoul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's houſe, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

terpreters, have underſtood it as a ſpiritual allegory, repreſenting the love of God or of Chriſt to his church; which in other parts of Scripture is repreſented as his ſpouſe; (ſee on Pſ. xlv.) and it muſt be confeſſed, that in various places both of the Old and New Teſtament, the contract between God and his church is frequently repreſented under this allegory. The learned Boſſuet, Bp. of Meaux, has ſhewn, with great elegance and erudition, that the poem naturally breaking into ſeven parts, deſcribes the ſeven days of the nuptial ſolemnity among the Hebrews; during which days ſelect virgins attended the bride, as well as ſelect friends and companions the bridegroom. See Pſ. xlv. 14. Matth. xxv. 1. Judg. xiv. 11. John iii. 29.

5 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

6 Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, his bed, which is Solomon's, threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple; the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon; with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAP. IV.

Christ setteth forth the graces of the church: He sheweth his love to her. The church prayeth to be made fit for his presence.

BEhold, thou art fair, my love, behold, thou art fair; thou hast dove's eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which come up from the washing; whereof every one bears twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David, builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

7 Thou all art fair, my love: there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden enclosed is my sister, my spouse; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; camphire, with spikenard.

14 Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon.

16 Awake, O north wind, and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits.

CHAP. V.

Christ awakeneth the church with his calling. The church, having a taste of Christ's love, is sick of love. A description of Christ by his graces.

I Am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh, with my spice; I have eaten my honey-comb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: Eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

2 I sleep, but my heart waketh; It is the voice of my beloved, that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

The titles prefixed to the several chapters sufficiently shew the sense which our translators had of it, and point out to us their ideas at least of its spiritual import. In allegorical interpretations of this kind, it is certainly most easy to err; and the variety of solutions which expositors give of this sacred song, are a sufficient caution against the too liberal indulgence of imagination. Bp. Patrick has done as much as can be done upon the spiritualizing scheme; we shall therefore principally follow him. By the spouse then is meant the CHURCH, who possessed with the most passionate love of the promised Redeemer, expresses in ch. i. ver. 2. her fervent desire for his appearance in the flesh: declaring at the same time the excellence of his name and grace, and confessing her own unworthiness, as having been too long seduced by false teachers, and lost in Gentile

6 I opened to my beloved: but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city, found me: they smote me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9 What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold: his locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves, by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet-smelling myrrh.

14 His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold; his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAP. VI.

The church professeth her faith in Christ. Christ sheweth the graces of the church, and his love towards her.

WHITHER is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me: thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one; she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. The daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Ammi-nadib.

13 Return, return, O Shulamite, return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shulamite? As it were the company of two armies.

CHAP. VII.

A further description of the church's graces. The church professeth her faith and desire.

HOW beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory; thine eyes like fish-pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon, which looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the king is held in the galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm-tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

tile idolatry, ver. 5, 6. Under the sense of this, she earnestly desires to know and learn the way of true religion, ver. 7. A desire, pleasing to the bridegroom, who exhorts her to enter into the holy assemblies of pious souls, and to bring her young converts to be instructed by such pastors as the great shepherd will appoint in his church, ver. 8. where she may receive spiritual strength and beauty, ver. 9, 10. where all her members, by their union in religion, may add splendour and glory to her, ver. 11. where her graces may diffuse their odours, and her heart rejoice in reciprocal affection, and all the acts and offices of fervent piety, ver. 12---17. and chap. ii. 1---7. For the mutual expressions of esteem in these verses, seem evidently calculated to set forth the superlative pleasures, and heartfelt delights of communion betwen Christ and the sincere Christian; particularly as experienced in all the acts and offices of religion.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples;

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, for my beloved, that goeth down sweetly, causing the lips of those that are asleep to speak.

10 I am my beloved's, and his desire is towards me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves.

13 The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

CHAP. VIII.

The love of the church to Christ. The vehemency of love. The calling of the Gentiles. The church prayeth for Christ's coming.

O That thou wert as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love until he please.

5 Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth; there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

6 Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave; the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes, as one that found favour.

11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

12 My vineyard, which is mine, is before me: thou, O Solomon, must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

The BOOK of the PROPHET ISAIAH.

CHAP. I.

Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion: he exhorteth her to repentance: he denounceth God's judgments: he promiseth grace.

THE vision of Isaiah, the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken; I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah, sinful nation; a people laden with ini-

ISAIAH] The son of Amoz, the first of the four great prophets, was, as it is said, of the royal family. His father being as it is supposed, the son of king Joash, and brother to Amaziah king of Judah. The beginning of Isaiah's prophecies, we date, says Calmet, immediately from the death of Uzziah; and the death of this prophet we place in the reign of Manasseh, who began to reign in the year of the world 3306. before Jesus Christ 694. before the Vulg. Era 698. The great and principal objects of Isaiah's prophecies, are the captivity of Babylon, the return of the Jews from this captivity, and the reign of the Messiah: For this reason the sacred writers of the New Testament have cited him more than any other prophet, and the Father's say that he is rather an evangelist than a prophet. Dr. Taylor thinks that the first chapter, "by reason of the grand ordium, might be judged proper to stand at the front of the book; quity, a ſeed of evil-doers, children that are corrupters: they have forſaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Iſrael unto anger, they are gone away backward!

5 Why ſhould ye be ſtricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is ſick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the ſole of the foot even unto the head, there is no ſoundneſs in it; but wounds and bruiſes, and putrifying ſores: they have not been cloſed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

7 Your country is deſolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, ſtrangers devour it in your preſence, and it is deſolate as overthrown by ſtrangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a beſieged city.

9 Except the Lord of hoſts had left unto us a very ſmall remnant, we ſhould have been as Sodom, and we ſhould have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah:

11 To what purpoſe is the multitude of your ſacrifices unto me? ſaith the Lord: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beaſts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats.

12 When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations; incenſe is an abomination unto me; the new moons and ſabbaths, the calling of aſſemblies I cannot away with; it is iniquity, even the ſolemn meaning.

14 Your new moons, and your appointed feaſts, my ſoul hateth: they are a trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them.

15 And when ye ſpread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 Waſh ye, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; ceaſe to do evil;

17 Learn to do well; ſeek judgment, relieve the oppreſſed, judge the fatherleſs, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reaſon together, ſaith the Lord: though your ſins be as ſcarlet, they ſhall be as white as ſnow; though they be red like crimſon, they ſhall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye ſhall eat the good of the land:

20 But if ye refuſe and rebel, ye ſhall be devoured with the ſword: for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

21 How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment; righteouſneſs lodged in it: but now murderers.

22 Thy ſilver is become droſs, thy wine mixed with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards; they judge not the fatherleſs, neither doth the cauſe of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore ſaith the Lord, the Lord of hoſts, the mighty One of Iſrael, Ah, I will eaſe me of mine adverſaries, and avenge me of mine enemies:

25 And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy droſs, and take away all thy tin:

26 And I will reſtore thy judges as at the firſt, and thy counſellors as at the beginning: afterward thou ſhalt be called, The city of righteouſneſs, the faithful city.

27 Zion ſhall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteouſneſs.

28 And the deſtruction of the tranſgreſſors and of the ſinners ſhall be together, and they that forſake the Lord ſhall be conſumed.

29 For they ſhall be aſhamed of the oaks which ye have deſired, and ye ſhall be confounded for the gardens that ye have choſen.

30 For ye ſhall be as an oak whoſe leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the ſtrong ſhall be as tow, and the maker of it as a ſpark, and they ſhall both burn together, and none ſhall quench them.

CHAP. II.

Iſaiah propheſieth the coming of Chriſt's kingdom. Wickedneſs is the cauſe of God's forſaking his people.

THE word that Iſaiah, the ſon of Amoz, ſaw, concerning Judah and Jeruſalem.

2 And it ſhall come to paſs in the laſt days, book; but it gives ſuch an account of the diſtreſſed deſolate ſtate of the land of Judah, as agrees much better with the wicked and afflicted reign of the apoſtate Ahaz, than with the flouriſhing circumſtances of the country in the reigns of Uzziah, and of his ſon and ſucceſſor Jotham; who were both, in the main, good princes. Compare chap. i. 7--9. with 2 Chron. xxvi. 1---16. and the whole 27th chapter. But the 2d, 3d, 4th, and 5th chapters of this prophecy, do deſcribe and exactly correſpond to a ſtate of national wealth and proſperity, which are uſually attended with pride, arrogance and luxury: Therefore I take this to be the order of thoſe chapters. In the 6th chapter the prophet, in the council of God, received his commiſſion, and ſoon after delivered the contents of the 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th chapters; and theſe chapters contain all that remains of his prophecies in the reigns of Uzziah and Jotham, for the ſpace of about ſixteen years, till the firſt year of king Ahaz." See Taylor's Scripture-Divinity, p. 326.

that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

4 And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.

6 Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are sooth-sayers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots:

8 Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made:

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low:

13 And upon all the cedars of Lebanon (d), that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up.

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his Majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made, each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats;

21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his Majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAP. III.

The great confusion which cometh by sin. The impudence of the people. The oppression and covetousness of the rulers. The judgments which shall be for the pride of the women.

FOR behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts doth take away from Jerusalem, and from Judah, the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

(d) Lebanon is one of the images which is frequently made use of in the writings of the Hebrews. It was one of the remarkable mountains of Palestine, celebrated for its loftiness, and the tallness, largeness, and abundance of the cedars that shaded its top. Hence, agreeable to the symbolical hieroglyphics of the Egyptians, we find them making use of these images to denote any thing elate with pride, as well as whatever was august and sublime. In this place the cedars of Lebanon and the oaks of Bashan, mean the kings, princes and nobles, who carried themselves high, and behaved themselves insolently; and so, agreeably to the same metaphorical style, which is very usual with the prophets, the high mountains and hills in the next verse, signify kingdoms, cities, and states; See Jeremiah xxv. 17, &c. The high towers and fenced walls in the 15th verse, signify those who excelled in ingenuity, wisdom and strength; and the ships of Tarshish, &c. in the 16th verse, signify the merchants, who confided in their wealth and splendor. Dr. Waterland, after Vitringa, renders the last words of the 16th verse, all desirable fabricks; which is supposed to refer to the ornaments of their ships, in which the Tyrians were remarkably curious and superb. The 17th verse expresses literally, what is delivered metaphorically in the preceding verse.

6 When a man ſhall take hold of his brother, of the houſe of his father, ſaying, Thou haſt clothing; be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand:

7 In that day ſhall he ſwear, ſaying, I will not be an healer; for in my houſe is neither bread nor clothing: make me not a ruler of the people.

8 For Jeruſalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: becauſe their tongue and their doings are againſt the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The ſhew of their countenance doth witneſs againſt them; and they declare their ſin as Sodom; they hide it not. Woe unto their ſoul! for they have rewarded evil unto themſelves.

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it ſhall be well with him: for they ſhall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Woe unto the wicked! it ſhall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands ſhall be given him.

12 As for my people, children are their oppreſſors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee, cauſe thee to err, and deſtroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord ſtandeth up to plead, and ſtandeth to judge the people.

14 The Lord will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard; the ſpoil of the poor is in your houſes.

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? ſaith the Lord God of hoſts.

16 Moreover, the Lord ſaith, Becauſe the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with ſtretched-forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking, and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:

17 Therefore the Lord will ſmite with a ſcab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the Lord will diſcover their ſecret parts.

18 In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon,

19 The chains, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, and the head-bands, and the tablets, and the ear-rings,

21 The rings, and noſe-jewels,

22 The changeable ſuits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the criſping-pins,

23 The glaſſes, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the veils.

24 And it ſhall come to paſs, that inſtead of ſweet ſmell, there ſhall be ſtink; and inſtead of a girdle, a rent; and inſtead of well-ſet hair, baldneſs; and inſtead of a ſtomacher, a girding of ſackcloth; and burning, inſtead of beauty.

25 Thy men ſhall fall by the ſword, and thy mighty in the war.

26 And her gates ſhall lament and mourn; and ſhe, being deſolate, ſhall ſit upon the ground.

CHAP. IV.

In the extremity of evils, Chriſt's kingdom ſhall be a ſanctuary.

AND in that day ſeven women ſhall take hold of one man, ſaying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name, to take away our reproach.

2 In that day ſhall the Branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth ſhall be excellent and comely for them that are eſcaped of Iſrael.

3 And it ſhall come to paſs, that he that is left in Sion, and he that remaineth in Jeruſalem, ſhall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jeruſalem:

4 When the Lord ſhall have waſhed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and ſhall have purged the blood of Jeruſalem from the midſt thereof, by the ſpirit of judgment, and by the ſpirit of burning.

5 And the Lord will create upon every dwelling-place of mount Sion, and upon her aſſemblies a cloud, and ſmoke by day, and the ſhining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory ſhall be a defence.

6 And there ſhall be a tabernacle for a ſhadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from ſtorm and from rain.

CHAP. V.

Under the parable of a vineyard, God excuſeth his ſevere judgment: his judgments upon covetouſneſs, upon laſciviouſneſs, upon impiety, and upon injuſtice. The executioners of God's judgments.

NOW will I ſing to my well-beloved, a ſong of my beloved, touching his vineyard. My well-beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill:

2 And he fenced it, and gathered out the ſtones thereof, and planted it with the choiceſt vine, and built a tower in the midſt of it, and alſo made a wine-preſs therein: and he looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore when I looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?

5 And

5 And now, go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down.

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briars and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.

8 Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

9 In mine ears said the Lord of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yield an ephah.

11 Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!

12 And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth shall descend into it.

15 And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled:

16 But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy, shall be sanctified in righteousness.

17 Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of their fat ones shall strangers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope!

19 That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it.

20 Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

21 Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink!

23 Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them: and the hills did tremble, and their carcases were torn in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

26 And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come with speed swiftly.

27 None shall be weary nor stumble amongst them: none shall slumber nor sleep: neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirl-wind.

29 Their roaring shall be like a lion; they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it.

30 And in that day they shall roar against them, like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold, darkness and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

(e) We have in this chapter an account of a wonderful and august vision, wherewith the prophet was favoured by the Lord: The design of which is two-fold; to exhibit a figure of the kingdom of the son of God, hereafter to be manifested in the world, and to foretel the future blindness and hardness of heart of the greatest part of the Jewish nation. There are three parts of this discourse. The first contains a symbolical manifestation of the glorious Majesty of the God of Israel, ver. 1---4. the second, the sanctification of Isaiah to the performance of an important prophetic office, ver. 5--7. the third, a peculiar command which which the prophet received from God, concerning the future and unhappy state of the Jews, ver. 8---13. There seems to be no doubt that this vision is to be immediately referred to the times of the gospel, though it is possible that it hath some reference also to the men of Isaiah's own time. The place of this vision is supposed to be in the temple. We are not to imagine that Isaiah saw God himself, but some symbolical representation of him, most likely the appearance of Christ in glory. See John xii. 41. For there seems to be no doubt, from the descrip-

CHAP. VI.

Isaiah in a vision of the Lord in his glory, being terrified, is confirmed and receiveth his message: he sheweth the obstinacy of the people. A remnant shall be saved.

IN the year that king Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.

2 Above it stood the seraphims: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3 And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts!

6 Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar.

7 And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged (e).

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

9 And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten; as a teil-tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah. Ahaz, having liberty to choose a sign, and refusing it, hath for a sign Christ promised.

AND it came to pass in the days of Ahaz, the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin, king of Syria, and Pekah, the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up towards Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

2 And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the highway of the fuller's field;

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted, for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah:

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

10 Moreover, the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

description, that the appearance was human. See Vitringa, and Waterland's sixth sermon on the Trinity. The word seraphim, says Vitringa, signifies fiery and shining bodies, from seraph, to burn; and is in this place to be understood of persons of a bright and splendid appearance, covered with wings, and in an human form. This part of the vision seems manifestly to be taken from the representation of the Divine Glory, as it was exhibited in the Holy of Holies; where was the mercy seat, and the cherubims, representing the Divine Majesty, attended with the angelic host; and thus also the 4th verse refers to the temple, and the priest offering up the incense, more especially when he entered into the Holy of Holies. This passage, mystically understood, represents the future dominion of Christ, and the diffusion of his gospel through the world by his messengers and ministers; the filling the earth with his glory, and spreading throughout the world the merits of his divine intercession. For a large and learned application of each particular, the reader is referred to Vitringa.

14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name IMMANUEL.

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes.

20 In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep;

22 And it shall come to pass for the abundance of milk that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bows shall men come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattle.

CHAP. VIII.

In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he propheseth that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria; and Judah likewise for their infidelity. God's judgments shall be irresistible.

MOreover, the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen, concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 And I went unto the propheteſs; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Damascus, and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

5 The Lord spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin, and Remaliah's son;

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:

8 And he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow and go over; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel; for a gin, and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the Lord that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me, are for signs, and for wonders in Israel; from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead.

20 To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, themſelves, and curſe their king and their God, and look upward.

22 And they ſhall look unto the earth; and behold, trouble and darkneſs, dimneſs of anguiſh; and they ſhall be driven to darkneſs.

CHAP. IX.

What joy ſhall be in the midſt of afflictions, by the kingdom and birth of Chriſt. The judgments upon Iſrael for their pride, for their hypocriſy, and for their impenitency.

NEvertheleſs, the dimneſs ſhall not be ſuch as was in her vexation, when at the firſt he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievouſly afflict her by the way of the ſea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee of the nations.

2 The people that walked in darkneſs, have ſeen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the ſhadow of death, upon them hath the light ſhined.

3 Thou haſt multiplied the nation, and not increaſed the joy: they joy before thee, according to the joy in harveſt, and as men rejoice when they divide the ſpoil.

4 For thou haſt broken the yoke of his burden, and the ſtaff of his ſhoulder, the rod of his oppreſſor, as in the day of Midian.

5 For every battle of the warrior is with confuſed noiſe, and garments rolled in blood; but this ſhall be with burning and fuel of fire.

6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a ſon is given; and the government ſhall be upon his ſhoulder: and his name ſhall be called Wonderful, Counſellor, The mighty God, The everlaſting Father, The Prince of peace (f).

7 Of the increaſe of his government and peace there ſhall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to eſtabliſh it with judgment and with juſtice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hoſts will perform this.

8 The Lord ſent a word unto Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Iſrael.

9 And all the people ſhall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that ſay in pride, and in ſtoutneſs of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn ſtones: the ſycamores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Therefore the Lord ſhall ſet up the adverſaries of Rezin againſt him, and join his enemies together:

12 The Syrians before, and the Philiſtines behind; and they ſhall devour Iſrael with open mouth: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

13 For the people turneth not unto him that ſmiteth them, neither do they ſeek the Lord of hoſts.

14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Iſrael head and tail, branch and ruſh, in one day.

15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For the leaders of this people cauſe them to err; and they that are led of them, are deſtroyed.

17 Therefore the Lord ſhall have no joy in their young men, neither ſhall have mercy on their fatherleſs and widows: for every one is an hypocrite, and an evil-doer, and every mouth ſpeaketh folly: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

18 For wickedneſs burneth as the fire: it ſhall devour the briers and thorns, and ſhall kindle in the thickets of the foreſt, and they ſhall mount up like the lifting up of ſmoke.

19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hoſts is the land darkened, and the people ſhall be as the fuel of the fire: no man ſhall ſpare his brother.

20 And he ſhall ſnatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he ſhall eat on the left hand, and they ſhall not be ſatisfied: they ſhall eat every man the fleſh of his own arm:

21 Manaſſeh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manaſſeh: and they together ſhall be againſt Judah: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

CHAP. X.

The woe of tyrants. Aſſyria, the rod of hypocrites, for his pride ſhall be broken. A remnant of Iſrael ſhall be ſaved. Iſrael is comforted with promiſe of deliverance from Aſſyria.

WOE unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievouſneſs which they have preſcribed!

(f) Dr. Waterland reads in the preſent tenſe,---The government is upon his ſhoulder, and his name is called wonderful, counſellor, mighty God, father of eternity, prince of peace, ver. 7. Of the increaſe, &c.--there is no end. Though our prophet is every where moſt excellent, he is peculiarly ſo in this paſſage, which contains an emphatical deſcription of the perſon and kingdom of the Son of God; the kingdom of peace; the eternal and univerſal kingdom, in which the church ſhould have the higheſt cauſe for joy; which ſhould bring with it an abolition of the whole yoke of ſin and the law, and a deſtruction of all hoſtile and adverſe powers, kings, princes, ſin, Satan and death itſelf, with reſpect to the ſaints. Who then can wonder at the joy of the church, in ſo great a light, in ſo excellent a teacher? But what is the foundation of this joy? The prophet gives the moſt certain and ſolid reaſon; becauſe a child is born, and this child, the ſon of the living God; about to take the empire and found the kingdom of peace, and that eternal and moſt ample, and to deſtroy the whole government of ſin; being endued with ſuch properties and virtues, as belong to ſo great a king and governor.

2 To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless.

3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 Howbeit, he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

9 Is not Calno, as Charchemish? is not Hamath, as Arpad? is not Samaria, as Damascus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and them of Samaria;

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall the ax boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up itself, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day;

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined in the midst of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.

25 For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him, according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

28 He is come to Aiath, he is passed to Migron; at Michmash he hath laid up his carriages:

29 They are gone over the passage: they have taken up their lodging at Geba; Ramah is afraid; Gibeah of Saul is fled.

30 Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Gallim: cause it to be heard unto Laish, O poor Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed; the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee.

32 As yet shall he remain at Nob that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall lop the bough with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut down the thickets of the forests with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

CHAP. XI.

The peaceable kingdom of the Branch out of the root of Jesse. The victorious restoration of Israel, and vocation of the Gentiles.

AND there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots:

2 And the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord;

3 And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears.

4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity, for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6 The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice-den.

9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek, and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time, to recover the remnant of his people which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah, from the four corners of the earth.

13 The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west; they shall spoil them of the east together: they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And the Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dry-shod.

16 And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

A joyful thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God.

AND in that day thou shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

CHAP. XIII.

God mustereth the armies of his wrath: he threateneth to destroy Babylon by the Medes. The desolation of Babylon.

THE burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see (g).

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high moun-

(g) The SECOND part of the prophecies of Isaiah, containing a wonderful account of God's dealings with the enemies of his church and people, begins at this chapter, and extends to the 24th. It comprises eight discourses. The first concerning the fate of Babylon, chap. xiii.---xiv. 28. The second concerning the destruction of the Philistines, chap. xiv. xxviii.---xxxii. The third concerning the Moabites, chap. xv. xvi. The fourth concerning the Syrians of Damascus, with whose calamity, the destruction of the Ephraimites is connected; and the subsequent punishment of the Assyrians and Egyptians; chap. xvii. xviii. The fifth sets forth the fate and destruction of Egypt, in which is involved the calamity of the Ethiopians, chap. xix. xx. The sixth respects the empire of the Babylonians, and foretels its fall, with which are connected the calamities of Edom and Arabia Deserta, chap. xxi. The seventh denounces the affliction hanging over Judea and Jerusalem from Sennacherib, chap. xxii. And the eighth describes the calamities and destruction of Tyre, chap. xxiii.

tain,

tain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highness.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 Howl ye; for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the stars of heaven, and the constellations thereof, shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.

19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there, neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21 But wild beasts of the desart shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures, and owls shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there.

22 And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIV.

God's merciful restoration of Israel: their triumphant insultation over Babel. God's purpose against Assyria. Palestina is threatened.

FOR the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord, for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were, and they shall rule over their oppressors.

3 And it shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from thy hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

4 That thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased!

5 The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers.

6 He who smote the people in wrath with a continual stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth.

7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing.

8 Yea, the fir-trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.

9 Hell from beneath is moved for thee, to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O lucifer, ſon of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didſt weaken the nations!

13 For thou haſt ſaid in thine heart, I will aſcend into heaven; I will exalt my throne above the ſtars of God: I will ſit alſo upon the mount of the congregation, in the ſides of the north:

14 I will aſcend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the moſt High.

15 Yet thou ſhalt be brought down to hell, to the ſides of the pit.

16 They that ſee thee, ſhall narrowly look upon thee, and conſider thee, ſaying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did ſhake kingdom?

17 That made the world as a wilderneſs, and deſtroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the houſe of his priſoners?

18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them lie in glory, every one in his own houſe.

19 But thou art caſt out of thy grave, like an abominable branch; and as the raiment of thoſe that are ſlain, thruſt through with a ſword, that go down to the ſtones of the pit; as a carcaſe trodden under feet.

20 Thou ſhalt not be joined with them in burial, becauſe thou haſt deſtroyed thy land, and ſlain thy people: the ſeed of evil-doers ſhall never be renowned.

21 Prepare ſlaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not riſe, nor poſſeſs the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.

22 For I will riſe up againſt them, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and ſon, and nephew, ſaith the Lord.

23 I will alſo make it a poſſeſſion for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will ſweep it with the beſom of deſtruction, ſaith the Lord of hoſts (b).

24 The Lord of hoſts hath ſworn, ſaying, Surely as I have thought, ſo ſhall it come to paſs; and as I have purpoſed, ſo ſhall it ſtand:

25 That I will break the Aſſyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then ſhall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their ſhoulders.

26 This is the purpoſe that is purpoſed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is ſtretched out upon all nations.

27 For the Lord of hoſts hath purpoſed, and who ſhall diſannul it? and his hand is ſtretched out, and who ſhall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died, was this burden.

29 Rejoice not thou, whole Paleſtina, becauſe the rod of him that ſmote thee is broken: for out of the ſerpent's root ſhall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit ſhall be a fiery flying ſerpent.

30 And the firſt-born of the poor ſhall feed, and the needy ſhall lie down in ſafety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and he ſhall ſlay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou, whole Paleſtina, art diſſolved: for there ſhall come from the north a ſmoke, and none ſhall be alone in his appointed times.

32 What ſhall one then anſwer the meſſengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zion, and the poor of his people ſhall truſt in it.

CHAP. XV.

The lamentable ſtate of Moab.

THE burden of Moab. Becauſe in the night Ar of Moab is laid waſte, and brought to ſilence; becauſe in the night Kir of Moab is laid waſte, and brought to ſilence;

2 He is gone to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab ſhall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba: on all their heads ſhall be baldneſs, and every beard cut off.

3 In their ſtreets they ſhall gird themſelves with ſackcloth: on the tops of their houſes, and in their ſtreets, every one ſhall howl, weeping abundantly.

4 And Heſhbon ſhall cry, and Eléaleh: their voice ſhall be heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed ſoldiers of Moab ſhall cry out; his life ſhall be grievous unto him.

5 My heart ſhall cry out for Moab; his fugitives ſhall flee unto Zoar, an heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of Luhith with weeping ſhall they go it up; for in the way of Horonaim they ſhall raiſe up a cry of deſtruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim ſhall be deſolate:

(b) Thus the prophet ends this remarkable ſong, and again informs us, what he had ſet forth in the firſt part of this prophecy, that the judgment ſhould not reſt in the royal houſe, but ſhould paſs to all the other inhabitants of Babylon; who ſhould alſo be wholly cut off, and the city itſelf entirely waſted and deſtroyed. It is remarkable that the river Euphrates having been turned out of its courſe by Cyrus when he took Babylon, and never afterwards reſtored to its former channel, all that ſide of the country was flooded by it, and thence becoming boggy and marſhy, this prophecy was literally fulfilled, though it was delivered by Iſaiah the prophet one hundred and ſixty years before, and at a time when Babylon was one of the greateſt and moſt flouriſhing cities in the world: So eminently was that ſtrong and ſublime expreſſion verified, I will ſweep it with the beſom of deſtruction. See Vitringa, and Newton on the prophecies.

for

for the hay is withered away, the graſs faileth, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, ſhall they carry away to the brook of the willows.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab; the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.

9 For the waters of Dimon ſhall be full of blood: for I will bring more upon Dimon, lions upon him that eſcapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

Moab is exhorted to yield obedience to Chriſt's kingdom. Moab is threatened for her pride. The prophet bewaileth her. The judgment of Moab.

SEND ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderneſs, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.

2 For it ſhall be that as a wandering bird caſt out of the neſt, ſo the daughters of Moab ſhall be at the fords of Arnon.

3 Take counſel, execute judgment; make thy ſhadow as the night in the midſt of the noonday; hide the out-caſts, bewray not him that wandereth.

4 Let mine out-caſts dwell with thee, Moab; be thou a covert to them from the face of the ſpoiler; for the extortioner is at an end, the ſpoiler ceaſeth, the oppreſſors are conſumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy ſhall the throne be eſtabliſhed, and he ſhall ſit upon it in truth, in the tabernacle of David, judging, and ſeeking judgment, and haſting righteouſneſs.

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab; (he is very proud:) even of his haughtineſs, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies ſhall not be ſo.

7 Therefore ſhall Moab howl for Moab; every one ſhall howl: for the foundations of Kir-hareſeth ſhall ye mourn; ſurely they are ſtricken.

8 For the fields of Heſhbon languiſh, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof; they are come even unto Jazer, they wandered through the wilderneſs: her branches are ſtretched out; they are gone over the ſea.

9 Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heſhbon, and Elealeh: for the ſhouting for thy ſummer-fruits, and for thy harveſt, is fallen.

10 And gladneſs is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field; and in the vine-yards there ſhall be no ſinging, neither ſhall there be ſhouting: the treaders ſhall tread out no wine in their preſſes, I have made their vintage-ſhouting to ceaſe.

11 Wherefore my bowels ſhall ſound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-hareſh.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs, when it is ſeen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he ſhall come to his ſanctuary to pray; but he ſhall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath ſpoken concerning Moab ſince that time.

14 But now the Lord hath ſpoken, ſaying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab ſhall be contemned, with all that great multitude; and the remnant ſhall be very ſmall and feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

Syria and Iſrael are threatened. A remnant ſhall forſake idolatry. The reſt ſhall be plagued for their impiety. The woe of Iſrael's enemies.

THE burden of Damaſcus. Behold, Damaſcus is taken away from being a city, and it ſhall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aroer are forſaken: they ſhall be for flocks, which ſhall lie down, and none ſhall make them afraid.

3 The fortreſs alſo ſhall ceaſe from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damaſcus, and the remnant of Syria: they ſhall be as the glory of the children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

4 And in that day it ſhall come to paſs, that the glory of Jacob ſhall be made thin, and the fatneſs of his fleſh ſhall wax lean.

5 And it ſhall be as when the harveſt-man gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm; and it ſhall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Yet gleaning-grapes ſhall be left in it, as the ſhaking of an olive-tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermoſt bough, four or five in the outmoſt fruitful branches thereof, ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 At that day ſhall a man look to his Maker, and his eyes ſhall have reſpect to the Holy One of Iſrael.

8 And he ſhall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither ſhall reſpect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.

9 In that day ſhall his ſtrong cities be as a forſaken bough, and an uppermoſt branch, which they left, becauſe of the children of Iſrael: and there ſhall be deſolation.

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſalvation, and haſt not been mindful of the Rock of thy ſtrength, therefore ſhalt thou plant pleaſant plants, and ſhalt ſet it with ſtrange ſlips:

11 In the day ſhalt thou make thy plant to grow, grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be a heap in the day of grief, and of desperate sorrow.

12 Woe to the multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas; and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters!

13 The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And behold, at evening-tide trouble; and before the morning he is not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAP. XVIII.

God, in care of his people, will destroy the Ethiopians. An access thereby shall grow unto the church.

WOE to the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia!

2 That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden down, whose land the rivers have spoiled.

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when he lifteth up an ensign on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling-place like a clear heat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning-hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7 In that time shall the present be brought unto the Lord of hosts, of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, the mount Sion.

CHAP. XIX.

The confusion of Egypt. The foolishness of their princes. The calling of Egypt to the church. The covenant of Egypt, Assyria, and Israel.

THE burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt (b): and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts.

5 And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.

6 And they shall turn the rivers far away; and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.

7 The paper-reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9 Moreover, they that work in fine flax, and they that weave net-works, shall be confounded.

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are they? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the Lord of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived; they have also seduced Egypt, even they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.

(b) The prophet begins with an elegant proposition, wherein he advises us that God is there present where he judges, or that the judgments of God are the most certain testimonies of his presence among men as their ruler and judge, and that the time of his long suffering being compleated, he will execute his judgments suddenly, and more swiftly than human expectation. See Malachi iii. 5. The first effect of God's coming to judgment upon Egypt is said to be the commotion of the idols. The prophet declares that at the approach of God they should be moved, and fall from their places, like Dagon at the presence of the ark. The second effect is, that the heart of Egypt should melt in the midst of it; that is, the Egyptians should be in so great a consternation, that their very souls should faint within them, through dread of their approaching calamities. See Deut. xx. 8. Luke xxi. 26.

14 The Lord hath mingled a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear, because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself; because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt, speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the Lord of hosts: one shall be called, The city of destruction.

19 In that day shall there be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a sign, and for a witness unto the Lord of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the Lord because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a Saviour and a great one, and he shall deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it.

22 And the Lord shall smite Egypt; he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the Lord, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

23 In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria; and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt, and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land:

25 Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

A type prefiguring the shameful captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia.

IN the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod (when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him) and fought against Ashdod, and took it:

2 At the same time spake the Lord by Isaiah, the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins (i), and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and bare-foot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and bare-foot three years for a sign and wonder upon Egypt, and upon Ethiopia;

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and bare-foot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and how shall we escape?

CHAP. XXI.

The prophet bewailing the captivity of his people, seeth in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. Edom scorning the prophet, is moved to repentance. The set time of Arabia's calamity.

THE burden of the desart of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south pass through; so it cometh from the desart, from a terrible land.

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media: all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain: pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it; I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 My heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me: the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed:

8 And he cried, A lion: My Lord, I stand continually upon the watch-tower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward whole nights:

9 And behold, here cometh a chariot of men,

(i) By sackcloth is meant the hairy garment usually worn by the prophets. By naked is meant no more than that the prophet went without his upper garment: It was customary for captives to go about in this manner. See 1 Sam. xix. 24. 2 Sam. vi. 14, 15. Matth. iii. 4. This action was agreeable to the mode of instruction made use of in those times; and as it was intended to excite the attention of the Israelites, was not only consistent with the custom of the times, but likewise very well adapted to promote that intention. See Div. Leg. vol. iii. and Vitringa.

with a couple of horſemen. And he anſwered and ſaid, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my threſhing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, have I declared unto you.

11 The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman ſaid, The morning cometh, and alſo the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 The burden upon Arabia. In the foreſt of Arabia ſhall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema brought water to him that was thirſty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled from the ſwords, from the drawn ſword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievouſneſs of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord ſaid unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar ſhall fail:

17 And the reſidue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar ſhall be diminiſhed: for the Lord God of Iſrael hath ſpoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

The prophet lamenteth the invaſion of Jewry by the Perſians: he propheſieth Shebna's deprivation, and Eliakim's ſubſtitution, prefiguring the kingdom of Chriſt.

THE burden of the valley of viſion. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the houſe-tops?

2 Thou that art full of ſtirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy ſlain men are not ſlain with the ſword, nor dead in battle.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.

4 Therefore ſaid I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me; becauſe of the ſpoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord God of hoſts in the valley of viſion, of breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.

6 And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horſemen, and Kir uncovered the ſhield.

7 And it ſhall come to paſs that thy choiceſt vallies ſhall be full of chariots, and the horſemen ſhall ſet themſelves in array at the gate.

8 And he diſcovered the covering of Judah, and thou didſt look in that day to the armour of the houſe of the foreſt.

9 Ye have ſeen alſo the breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have numbered the houſes of Jeruſalem, and the houſes have ye broken down to fortify the wall.

11 Ye made alſo a ditch between the two walls, for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had reſpect unto him that faſhioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hoſts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldneſs, and to girding with ſackcloth:

13 And behold, joy and gladneſs, ſlaying oxen, and killing ſheep, eating fleſh, and drinking wine; let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we ſhall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hoſts. Surely this iniquity ſhall not be purged from you, till ye die, ſaith the Lord God of hoſts.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, Go, get thee unto this treaſurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the houſe, and ſay, 16 What haſt thou here? and whom haſt thou here, that thou haſt hewed thee out a ſepulchre here, as he that heweth him out a ſepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himſelf in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will ſurely cover thee.

18 He will ſurely violently turn and toſs thee like a ball into a large country: there ſhalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory ſhall be the ſhame of thy lord's houſe.

19 And I will drive thee from thy ſtation, and from thy ſtate ſhall he pull thee down.

20 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that I will call my ſervant Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah:

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and ſtrengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he ſhall be a father to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and to the houſe of Judah.

22 And the key of the houſe of David will I lay upon his ſhoulder; ſo he ſhall open, and none ſhall ſhut; and he ſhall ſhut, and none ſhall open.

23 And I will faſten him as a nail in a ſure place; and he ſhall be for a glorious throne to his father's houſe.

24 And they ſhall hang upon him all the glory of his father's houſe, the off-ſpring and the iſſue, all veſſels of ſmall quantity; from the veſſels of cups, even to all the veſſels of flaggons.

25 In that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, ſhall the nail that is faſtened in the ſure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXIII.

The miserable overthrow of Tyre. Their unhappy return.

THE burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 Be still ye inhabitants of the isle, thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the the harvest of the river is her revenue; and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Pass ye over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feat shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth:

10 Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment against the merchant-city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Chittim; there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold, the land of the Chaldeans: this people was not, till the Assyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof; and he brought it to ruin.

14 Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot, that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchandise, and her hire, shall be Holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIV.

The doleful judgments of God upon the land. A remnant shall joyfully praise him.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied (k), and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof: because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant;

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry-hearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of confusion is broken down; every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

(k) Utterly exhausted, &c. Wat. As the public calamities coming upon the land were to be repeated at various times, and in various manners, the sacred writer hath accommodated his discourse to these calamities, and divided it into various articles and gradations, whereof this is the second; and it seems most probably to relate to the destruction of the temple, and the desolation of Judea, by Antiochus Epiphanes; concerning which the reader may refer to his history in Josephus, Antiq. l. xii. c. 7. and for the better understanding this prophecy, we will beg leave to recommend a perusal and general comparison of the first book of Maccabees.

11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtreets; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 When thus it ſhall be in the midſt of the land among the people, there ſhall be as the ſhaking of an olive-tree, and as the gleaning-grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They ſhall lift up their voice, they ſhall ſing, for the majeſty of the Lord; they ſhall cry aloud from the ſea.

15 Wherefore, glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Iſrael in the iſles of the ſea.

16 From the uttermoſt part of the earth have we heard ſongs, even Glory to the righteous: but I ſaid, My leanneſs, my leanneſs, woe unto me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherouſly; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherouſly.

17 Fear, and the pit, and the ſnare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it ſhall come to paſs, that he who fleeth from the noiſe of the fear, ſhall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midſt of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do ſhake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean diſſolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and ſhall be removed like a cottage; and the tranſgreſſion thereof ſhall be heavy upon it; and it ſhall fall, and not riſe again.

21 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the Lord ſhall puniſh the hoſt of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they ſhall be gathered together as priſoners are gathered in the pit, and ſhall be ſhut up in the priſon, and after many days ſhall they be viſited.

23 Then the moon ſhall be confounded, and the ſun aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſts ſhall reign in mount Zion and in Jeruſalem, and before his Ancients gloriouſly.

CHAP. XXV.

The prophet praiſeth God for his judgments, for his ſaving benefits, and for his victorious ſalvation.

O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praiſe thy name; for thou haſt done wonderful things: thy counſels of old are faithfulneſs and truth.

2 For thou haſt made of a city, an heap; of a defenced city, a ruin: a palace of ſtrangers, to be no city; it ſhall never be built.

3 Therefore ſhall the ſtrong people glorify thee; the city of the terrible nations ſhall fear thee.

4 For thou haſt been a ſtrength to the poor, a ſtrength to the needy in his diſtreſs, a refuge from the ſtorm, a ſhadow from the heat, when the blaſt of the terrible ones is as a ſtorm againſt the wall.

5 Thou ſhalt bring down the noiſe of ſtrangers, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the ſhadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones ſhall be brought low.

6 And in this mountain ſhall the Lord of hoſts make unto all people a feaſt of fat things, a feaſt of wine on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wine on the lees well refined.

7 And he will deſtroy in this mountain the face of the covering caſt over all people, and the veil that is ſpread over all nations.

8 He will ſwallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people ſhall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

9 And it ſhall be ſaid in that day, Lo, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will ſave us: this is the Lord, we have waited for him; we will be glad and rejoice in his ſalvation.

10 For in this mountain ſhall the hand of the Lord reſt, and Moab ſhall be trodden down under him, even as ſtraw is trodden down for the dunghill.

11 And he ſhall ſpread forth his hands in the midſt of them, as he that ſwimmeth ſpreadeth forth his hands to ſwim: and he ſhall bring down their pride together with the ſpoils of their hands.

12 And the fortreſs of the high ſort of thy walls ſhall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the duſt.

CHAP. XXVI.

A ſong inciting to confidence in God, for his judgments, and for his favour to his people. An exhortation to wait on God.

IN that day ſhall this ſong be ſung in the land of Judah; We have a ſtrong city; ſalvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whoſe mind is ſtayed on thee: becauſe he truſteth in thee.

4 Truſt ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlaſting ſtrength:

5 For he bringeth down them that dwell on high; the lofty city he layeth it low: he layeth it low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the duſt.

6 The foot ſhall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the ſteps of the needy.

7 The

7 The way of the juſt is uprightneſs: Thou, moſt upright, dōſt weigh the path of the juſt.

8 Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the deſire of our ſoul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my ſoul have I deſired thee in the night; yea, with my ſpirit within me will I ſeek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteouſneſs.

10 Let favour be ſhewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteouſneſs: in the land of uprightneſs will he deal unjuſtly, and will not behold the majeſty of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not ſee: but they ſhall ſee, and be aſhamed for their envy at the people; yea, the fire of thine enemies ſhall devour them.

12 Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou alſo haſt wrought all our works in us.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beſides thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are dead, they ſhall not live; they are deceaſed, they ſhall not riſe: therefore haſt thou viſited and deſtroyed them, and made all their memory to periſh.

15 Thou haſt increaſed the nation, O Lord, thou haſt increaſed the nation: thou art glorified: thou haſt removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

16 Lord in trouble have they viſited thee; they poured out a prayer when thy chaſtening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs; ſo have we been in thy ſight, O Lord.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Thy dead men ſhall live, together with my dead body ſhall they ariſe (l). Awake and ſing, ye that dwell in duſt: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth ſhall caſt out the dead.

20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and ſhut thy doors about thee: hide thyſelf as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpaſt.

21 For behold, the Lord cometh out of his place, to puniſh the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth alſo ſhall diſcloſe her blood, and ſhall no more cover her ſlain.

CHAP. XXVII.

The care of God over his vineyard: his chaſtiſements differ from judgments. The church of Jews and Gentiles.

IN that day the Lord with his ſore and great and ſtrong ſword ſhall puniſh leviathan the piercing ſerpent, even leviathan that crooked ſerpent; and he ſhall ſlay the dragon that is in the ſea.

2 In that day ſing ye unto her, A vine-yard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it: I will water it every moment; leſt any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Fury is not in me: who would ſet the briers and thorns againſt me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him take hold of my ſtrength, that he may make peace with me, and he ſhall make peace with me.

6 He ſhall cauſe them that come of Jacob to take root: Iſrael ſhall bloſſom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 Hath he ſmitten him, as he ſmote thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlain according to the ſlaughter of them that are ſlain by him?

8 In meaſure, when it ſhooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it: he ſtayeth his rough wind in the day of the eaſt-wind.

9 By this therefore ſhall the iniquity of Jacob be purged; and this is all the fruit to take away his ſin; when he maketh all the ſtones of the altar as chalk-ſtones that are beaten in ſunder, the groves and images ſhall not ſtand up.

10 Yet the defenced cities ſhall be deſolate, and the habitation forſaken, and left like a wilderneſs: there ſhall the calf feed, and there ſhall he lie down, and conſume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they ſhall be broken off: the women come and ſet them on fire: for it is a people of no underſtanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will ſhew them no favour.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that

(l) The preſent period, which cloſes this confeſſion, is excellent; wherein the pious declare, in the beginning of the deliverance which had happened to them, their certain hopes of perfect deliverance. The argument is manifeſtly their confeſſion concerning the reſurrection of the dead, whom they call thy dead; and the ſentence is divided into two parts, an apoſtrophe being interm.ixed. In their confeſſion the pious ſet forth their hope of the preſent and future ſtate of things, in oppoſition to the ſtate of the preceding period: which hope, as they declare in free and elegant words, ſo do they mutually congratulate each other upon it. The words are ſo conceived, that at the firſt appearance they ſeem to treat of the reſurrection of the dead, properly ſo called; and yet, according to their firſt and true ſenſe, they deſcribe a myſtical, metaphorical, or parabolical reſurrection.

the Lord shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the out-casts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The prophet threateneth Ephraim for their pride and drunkenness. The residue shall be advanced in the kingdom of Christ. Christ the sure foundation is promised.

WOE to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine!

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet:

4 And the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the residue of his people,

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate.

7 But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way: the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.

9 Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts:

10 For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little:

11 For with stammering lips, and another tongue, will he speak to this people.

12 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest, and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the Lord was unto them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little: that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 Wherefore, hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men that rule this people, which is in Jerusalem.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner-stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth, shall not make haste.

17 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding-place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night: and it shall be a vexation, only to understand the report.

20 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the Lord shall rise up, as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth, as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to pass his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore, be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principal wheat, and the appointed barley, and the rie in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing-instrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread-corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.

29 This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working.

CHAP. XXIX.

God's heavy judgment upon Jerusalem. The senselesness, and deep hypocrisy of the Jews. A promise of sactification to the godly.

WOE to Ariel, to Ariel the city where David dwelt! add ye year to year; let them kill sacrifices (m).

2 Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel.

3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant, suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise; with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8 It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay yourselves, and wonder; cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

10 For the Lord hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you, as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee, and he saith, I am not learned.

13 Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men:

14 Therefore behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongst this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potters clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 The meek also shall encrease their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.

22 Therefore, thus saith the Lord who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob; Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

(m) It is evident from ver. 8. and all interpreters have agreed, that this prophecy is directed against Jerusalem; and it has been commonly thought that Ariel, which signifies the lion of God, and was the name of the altar of burnt-offerings, is here put for the city of Jerusalem, where this celebrated altar was erected;——which has appeared the more probable from the apparent allusion in the latter part of this verse to the rites performed at that altar. But Vitringa is of opinion, that Ariel, or the city of Ariel, means the city of David, as the next clause explains it; for he thinks that Ariel was a mystical name for David, and one which was usual for the most celebrated warlike heroes amongst the Hebrews. Our prophet has used it in this sense in chap. xxxiii. 7. See also 2 Sam. xxiii. 20. And Bochart informs us, that even yet, amongst the Arabs and Persians, their most celebrated warriors are called "The lions of God." There is great emphasis in the passage thus understood.

24 They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

The prophet threateneth the people for their confidence in Egypt, and contempt of God's word. God's wrath, and the people's joy in the destruction of Assyria.

WOE to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin!

2 That walk to go down into Egypt (and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes.

5 They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

6 The burden of the beasts of the south: Into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7 For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried concerning this, Their strength is to sit still.

8 Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever;

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the Lord:

10 Which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things; speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits:

11 Get ye out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.

12 Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly, at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of the potter's vessel, that is broken in pieces; he shall not spare: so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it, a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel; In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength; and ye would not.

16 But ye said, No; for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18 And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgment. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee, at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed that thou shalt sow the ground withal, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground, shall eat clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be seven-fold, as the light of seven days (n), in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

(n) The images of light and darkness are made use of in almost all languages, to represent prosperity and adversity; but the Hebrews make use of them more frequently than any other nation, insomuch that they scarce ever omit them when the subject will bear them. They may thereby be referred to the parabolic stile, wherein they are used

27 Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue a devouring fire.

28 And his breath, as an overflowing ſtream, ſhall reach to the midſt of the neck, to ſift the nations with the ſieve of vanity: and there ſhall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, cauſing them to err.

29 Ye ſhall have a ſong as in the night, when a holy ſolemnity is kept; and gladneſs of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the Lord, to the Mighty One of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhall cauſe his glorious voice to be heard, and ſhall ſhew the lighting-down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with ſcattering, and tempeſt, and hail-ſtones.

31 For through the voice of the Lord ſhall the Aſſyrian be beaten down, which ſmote with a rod.

32 And in every place where the grounded ſtaff ſhall paſs, which the Lord ſhall lay upon him, it ſhall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of ſhaking will he fight with it.

33 For Tophet is ordained of old; yea, for the king it is prepared; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a ſtream of brimſtone, doth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

The prophet ſheweth the curſed folly of truſting to Egypt, and forſaking God: he exhorteth to converſion: he ſheweth the fall of Aſſyria.

WOE to them that go down to Egypt for help, and ſtay on horſes, and truſt in chariots, becauſe they are many; and in horſemen, becauſe they are very ſtrong! but they look not unto the Holy One of Iſrael, neither ſeek the Lord.

2 Yet He alſo is wiſe, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will ariſe againſt the houſe of the evil doers, and againſt the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirit. When the Lord ſhall ſtretch out his hand, both he that helpeth ſhall fall, and he that is holpen ſhall fall down, and they all ſhall fail together.

4 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of ſhepherds is called forth againſt him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abaſe himſelf for the noiſe of them: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, ſo will the Lord of hoſts defend Jeruſalem; defending alſo, he will deliver it, and paſſing over, he will preſerve it.

6 Turn ye unto Him from whom the children of Iſrael have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man ſhall caſt away his idols of ſilver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a ſin.

8 Then ſhall the Aſſyrian fall with the ſword, not of a mighty man; and the ſword, not of a mean man, ſhall devour him: but he ſhall flee from the ſword, and his young men ſhall be diſcomfited.

9 And he ſhall paſs over to his ſtrong-hold for fear, and his princes ſhall be afraid of the enſign, ſaith the Lord, whoſe fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

The bleſſings of Chriſt's kingdom. Deſolation is foreſhewn. Reſtoration is promiſed to ſucceed.

BEhold, a king ſhall reign in righteouſneſs, and princes ſhall rule in judgment.

2 And a man ſhall be as an hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempeſt; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the ſhadow of a great rock in a weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that ſee ſhall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear ſhall hearken.

4 The heart alſo of the raſh ſhall underſtand knowledge, and the tongue of the ſtammerers ſhall be ready to ſpeak plainly.

5 The vile perſon ſhall be no more called liberal, nor the churl ſaid to be bountiful.

6 For the vile perſon will ſpeak villainy, and his heart will work iniquity, to practiſe hypocriſy, and to utter error againſt the Lord, to make empty the ſoul of the hungry; and he will cauſe the drink of the thirſty to fail.

7 The inſtruments alſo of the churl are evil: he deviſeth wicked devices, to deſtroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy ſpeaketh right.

8 But the liberal deviſeth liberal things, and by liberal things ſhall he ſtand.

with greater boldneſs and luxuriance than in any other: for the Hebrews do not confine themſelves to the images of the ſpring, of the day-break, or of a cloudy night; but deſcribe the ſun and ſtars, riſing as it were out of a new creation, with redoubled ſplendor, or immerged a ſecond time into chaos and primæval darkneſs. Does the prophet promiſe a renewal of the divine favours, and a revival of every kind of felicity to his people? With what dazzling colours does he paint the event, which no verſion can convey, nor indeed any totally obſcure! The light of the moon ſhall be as the light of the ſun, &c. There is nothing difficult in the literal meaning of theſe words, which inform us of the fifth illuſtrious benefit to be conferred upon the church, together with the ſign of the time in which it ſhould be conferred.

9 Rise up, ye women that are at ease; hear my voice, ye careless daughters; give ear unto my speech:

10 Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.

11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip ye, and make ye bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins.

12 They shall lament for the teats, for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.

13 Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city:

14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the forts and towers shall be for dens for ever; a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks;

15 Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

16 Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting-places:

19 When it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place.

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

CHAP. XXXIII.

God's judgments against the enemies of the church. The privileges of the godly.

WOE to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

2 O Lord, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult the people fled; at the lifting-up of thyself the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpiller: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

5 The Lord is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteousness.

6 And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation; the fear of the Lord is his treasure.

7 Behold, their valiant ones shall cry without: the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The highways lie waste, the way-faring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and hewn down: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.

10 Now will I rise, saith the Lord: now will I be exalted; now will I lift up myself.

11 Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath as fire shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime; as thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.

13 Hear ye that are far off, what I have done; and ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites; who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?

15 He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil;

16 He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him, his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate terror: Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive; of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious Lord will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ships pass thereby.

22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our law-giver, the Lord is our king; he will save us.

23 Thy tackling are loosed; they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided; the lame take the prey.

24 And the inhabitants shall not say, I am sick:

ſick: the people that dwell therein ſhall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAP. XXXIV.

The judgments wherewith God revengeth his church. The deſolation of her enemies. The certainty of the prophecy.

COME near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein; the world and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly deſtroyed them, he hath delivered them to the ſlaughter (o).

3 Their ſlain alſo ſhall be caſt out, and their ſtink ſhall come up out of their carcaſes, and the mountains ſhall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the hoſt of heaven ſhall be diſſolved, and the heavens ſhall be rolled together as a ſcroll: and all their hoſt ſhall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig-tree.

5 For my ſword ſhall be bathed in heaven: behold, it ſhall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curſe, to judgment.

6 The ſword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatneſs, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the Lord hath a ſacrifice in Bozrah, and a great ſlaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the unicorns ſhall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land ſhall be ſoaked with blood, and their duſt made fat with fatneſs.

8 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controverſy of Zion.

9 And the ſtreams thereof ſhall be turned into pitch, and the duſt thereof into brimſtone, and the land thereof ſhall become burning pitch.

10 It ſhall not be quenched night nor day; the ſmoke thereof ſhall go up for ever: from generation to generation it ſhall lie waſte; none ſhall paſs through it for ever and ever.

11 But the cormorant and the bittern ſhall poſſeſs it; the owl alſo and the raven ſhall dwell in it; and he ſhall ſtretch out upon it the line of confuſion, and the ſtones of emptineſs.

12 They ſhall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none ſhall be there, and all her princes ſhall be nothing.

13 And thorns ſhall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortreſſes thereof: and it ſhall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls.

14 The wild beaſts of the deſart ſhall alſo meet with the wild beaſts of the iſland, and the ſatyr ſhall cry to his fellow; the ſcreech-owl alſo ſhall reſt there, and find for herſelf a place of reſt.

15 There ſhall the great owl make her neſt, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her ſhadow: there ſhall the vultures alſo be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read: no one of theſe ſhall fail, none ſhall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his ſpirit it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath caſt the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they ſhall poſſeſs it for ever; from generation to generation ſhall they dwell therein.

CHAP. XXXV.

They joyful flouriſhing of Chriſt's kingdom. The weak are encouraged by the virtues and privileges of the goſpel.

THE wilderneſs and the ſolitary place ſhall be glad for them; and the deſart ſhall rejoice, and bloſſom as the roſe.

2 It ſhall bloſſom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and ſinging: the glory of Lebanon ſhall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon; they ſhall ſee the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be ſtrong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence; he will come and ſave you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind ſhall be opened, and the ears of the deaf ſhall be unſtopped.

6 Then ſhall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb ſing: for in the wilderneſs ſhall waters break out, and ſtreams in the deſart.

7 And the parched ground ſhall become a pool, and the thirſty land ſprings of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, ſhall be graſs, with reeds and ruſhes.

8 And an highway ſhall be there, and a way,

(o) This ſentence upon the nations is ſufficient to ſtrike terror into every hearer. It exhibits a kind of general judgment, to be executed upon the enemies of the kingdom of God by the ſword of God; i. e. by the princes and heroes to be raiſed up by God for the deſtruction of the enemies of his church: This is repeated, ver. 5. But further, the prophet ſets before our eyes an horrid tempeſt, raging furiouſly; whereby the heavens contract blackneſs, the ſun diſappears, the ſtars ſeem to fall to the earth, as if the whole body of the heavens was about to be utterly diſſolved. We have had occaſion frequently to obſerve, that in the prophetic language, the heavenly luminaries repreſent kings and empires. It is not improbable that the prophet here refers to that deſtruction of the Jewiſh ſtate and polity, which our Saviour foretold under the ſame figures. See Vitringa.

and it shall be called, The way of holiness: the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness; and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Sennacherib invadeth Judah. Rabshakeh sent by Sennacherib, by blasphemous persuasions solliciteth the people to revolt: his words are told to Hezekiah.

NOW it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib, king of Assyria, came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them (p).

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem, unto king Hezekiah, with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim Hilkiah's son, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, Asaph's son, the recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words) I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God: is it not he, whose high places, and whose altars, Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give pledges, I pray thee, to my master, the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the Lord against this land to destroy it? the Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern;

17 Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered

(p) In this and the three following chapters is contained the HISTORICAL part of the book of Isaiah, relating a memorable transaction, strongly confirmative of the divine mission of our prophet. So in Jeremiah, an history of an event is added to the prophecies which he had frequently delivered concerning it. See chap. lii. Some have thought that Isaiah wrote the prophecies in the former part of this book before the irruption of the Assyrian into Judea, and the latter ones, from chap. xl. after it. This famous expedition happened in the year of the world 4001. seven hundred and thirteen years before Christ. Concerning Sennacherib, see Univ. Hist. vol. ii. p. 79. vol. iv. 162, &c. All the defenced cities, must mean all those which were in his way, for it is plain that he had not taken all. See chap. xxxvii. 8.

him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim, the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their cloaths rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiah mourning, sendeth to Isaiah to pray for them. Isaiah comforteth them. Hezekiah's prayer. An angel slayeth the Assyrians. Sennacherib is slain at Nineveh by his own sons.

AND it came to pass when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebnah the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz:

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the Lord thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by destroying them utterly, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?

14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the house of the Lord, and spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, Lord, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations, and their countries,

19 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord, even thou only.

21 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria:

22 This is the word which the Lord hath spoken concerning him; The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel.

24 By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon; and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and the forest of his Carmel.

25 I have digged and drunk water; and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.

26 Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house-tops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears; therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

30 And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself; and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye, and reap; and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward:

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

36 Then the angel of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians an hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And it came to pass as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Armenia: and Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

Hezekiah having received a message of death, by prayer hath his life lengthened. The sun goeth ten degrees backward for a sign of that promise: his song of thanksgiving.

IN those days was Hezekiah sick unto death: and Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the Lord,

3 And said, Remember now, O Lord, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

4 Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee and this city, out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be a sign unto thee from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken;

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees which is gone down in the sun-dial of Ahaz ten degrees backward (q). So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness;

10 I said, in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord, in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more, with the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from

(q) The dial in use among the Jews was a kind of stairs; the time of the day was distinguished not by lines, but by steps, here called degrees; and the shade of the sun moved forward a new degree every half hour. The Jewish doctors and the ancient Christian fathers were of opinion that he sun itself actually went backward. They endeavoured to support this opinion by shewing that Merodach-baladan was incited by the view of this miracle to send his messengers to Hezekiah; See 2 Chron. xxxii. 31. and as a further confirmation they add, that it is really taken notice of by Herodotus in his Euterpe, chap. 142. where he expressly asserts, that the Egyptians had observed strange alterations in the motion of the sun, it having arisen four times out of its usual course. Though this observation should be allowed to be true, yet from hence we are under no necessity to admit that the sun itself or the earth was retrograde, that is to say, that either of them went backward; all that the scripture requires of us is, to admit the fact of the shadow's going backward; and this may be accounted for without supposing any uncommon motion either in the sun or in the earth. Nothing more is required to effect this phœnomenon than a reflection of the sun's rays, and this might have been caused by an alteration in the density of the atmosphere. To this it may be added, that the original mentions nothing of the sun, but only of its beams or shadow; and how its beams might be inflected by a change made in the atmosphere, my easily be conceived by any person conversant in natural philosophy. This endeavour to account for the phœnomenon, by no means lessens the miracle; for we assign the me as a shepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

13 I reckoned till morning, that as a lion so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove; mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me.

15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments, all the days of our life, in the house of the Lord.

21 For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

Merodach-baladan sending to visit Hezekiah because of the wonder, hath notice of his treasures. Isaiah understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonian captivity.

AT that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon.

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts:

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, for there shall be peace and truth in my days.

CHAP. XL.

The promulgation of the gospel. The preaching of John Baptist. The preaching of the apostles. The prophet, by the omnipotence of God, and by his incomparableness, comforteth the people.

COmfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her welfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins.

3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desart a highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 The voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field:

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jerusalem, alteration of the atmosphere to the immediate and extraordinary operation of providence; and every extraordinary interposition of providence is essentially and properly a miracle. Let it further be observed, we by no means offer this solution in exclusion of others; and if any one thinks that the miracle can be better accounted for in any other way, we shall very readily subscribe to that opinion. Liberum de eo judicium lectori committo, Says Vitringa. See Scheuchzer's dissertation on the subject in his Physique Sacrée upon 2 Kings xx.

that bringeſt good tidings, lift up thy voice with ſtrength: lift it up, be not afraid; ſay unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with ſtrong hand, and his arm ſhall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

11 He ſhall feed his flock like a ſhepherd: he ſhall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his boſom, and ſhall gently lead thoſe that are with young.

12 Who hath meaſured the waters in the hollow of his hand? and meted out heaven with the ſpan, and comprehended the duſt of the earth in a meaſure, and weighed the mountains in ſcales, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or, being his counſellor, hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counſel, and who inſtructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and ſhewed to him the way of underſtanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the ſmall duſt of the balance: behold, he taketh up the iſles as a very little thing.

16 And Lebanon is not ſufficient to burn, nor the beaſts thereof ſufficient for a burnt-offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him leſs than nothing, and vanity.

18 To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeneſs will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldſmith ſpreadeth it over with gold, and caſteth ſilver chains.

20 He that is ſo impoveriſhed that he hath no oblation, chooſeth a tree that will not rot; he ſeeketh unto him a cunning workman, to prepare a graven image that ſhall not be moved.

21 Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not underſtood from the foundations of the earth?

22 It is He that ſitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as graſshoppers; that ſtretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and ſpreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:

23 That bringeth the princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Yea, they ſhall not be planted; yea, they ſhall not be ſown; yea, their ſtock ſhall not take root in the earth: and he ſhall alſo blow upon them, and they ſhall wither, and the whirlwind ſhall take them away as ſtubble.

25 To whom then will ye liken me, or ſhall I be equal? ſaith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created theſe things, that bringeth out their hoſt by number: he calleth them all by names, by the greatneſs of his might, for that he is ſtrong in power; not one faileth.

27 Why ſayeſt thou, O Jacob, and ſpeakeſt, O Iſrael, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is paſſed over from my God?

28 Haſt thou not known? haſt thou not heard, that the everlaſting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no ſearching of his underſtanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaſeth ſtrength.

30 Even the youths ſhall faint and be weary, and the young men ſhall utterly fall:

31 But they that wait upon the Lord ſhall renew their ſtrength; they ſhall mount up with wings as eagles; they ſhall run and not be weary; and they ſhall walk and not faint.

CHAP. XLI.

God expoſtulateth with his people about his mercies to the church, about his promiſes, and about the vanity of idols.

KEEP ſilence before me, O iſlands, and let the people renew their ſtrength; let them come near; then let them ſpeak: let us come near together to judgment.

2 Who raiſed up the righteous man from the eaſt, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the duſt to his ſword, and as driven ſtubble to his bow.

3 He purſued them, and paſſed ſafely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the firſt, and with the laſt, I am he.

5 The iſles ſaw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour; and every one ſaid to his brother, Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the goldſmith, and he that ſmooteth with the hammer, him that ſmote the anvil, ſaying, It is ready for the ſodering: and he faſtened it with nails, that it ſhould not be moved.

8 But thou, Iſrael, art my ſervant, Jacob, whom I have choſen, the ſeed of Abraham, my friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and ſaid unto thee, Thou art my ſervant; I have choſen thee, and not caſt thee away.

10 Fear thou not; for I am with thee: Be not diſmayed; for I am thy God: I will ſtrengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteouſneſs.

11 Behold,

11 Behold, all they that were incenſed againſt thee, ſhall be aſhamed and confounded: they ſhall be as nothing; and they that ſtrive with thee ſhall periſh.

12 Thou ſhalt ſeek them, and ſhalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war againſt thee ſhall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, ſaying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.

14 Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Iſrael: I will help thee, ſaith the Lord, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Iſrael.

15 Behold, I will make thee a new ſharp threſhing-inſtrument, having teeth: thou ſhalt threſh the mountains, and beat them ſmall, and ſhalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou ſhalt fan them, and the wind ſhall carry them away, and the whirlwind ſhall ſcatter them: and thou ſhalt rejoice in the Lord, and ſhalt glory in the Holy One of Iſrael.

17 When the poor and needy ſeek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirſt, I the Lord will hear them, I the God of Iſrael will not forſake them.

18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midſt of vallies: I will make the wilderneſs a pool of water, and the dry land ſprings of water.

19 I will plant in the wilderneſs the cedar, the ſhittah-tree, and the myrtle, and the oil-tree; I will ſet in the deſart the fir-tree, and the pine, and the box-tree together:

20 That they may ſee, and know, and conſider, and underſtand together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Iſrael hath created it.

21 Produce your cauſe, ſaith the Lord; bring forth your ſtrong reaſons, ſaith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and ſhew us what ſhall happen: let them ſhew the former things what they be, that we may conſider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good or do evil, that we may be diſmayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooſeth you.

25 I have raiſed up one from the north, and he ſhall come: from the riſing of the ſun ſhall he call upon my name: and he ſhall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and before-time, that we may ſay, He is righteous? yea, there is none that ſheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words.

27 The firſt ſhall ſay to Zion, Behold, behold them; and I will give to Jeruſalem one that bringeth good tidings.

28 For I beheld, and there was no man, even amongſt them, and there was no counſellor, that when I aſked of them, could anſwer a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanity; their works are nothing: their molten images are wind and confuſion.

CHAP. XLII.

The office of Chriſt, graced with meekneſs and conſtancy. God's promiſe to him. An exhortation to praiſe God.

BEhold my ſervant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my ſoul delighteth; I have put my ſpirit upon him: he ſhall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles.

2 He ſhall not cry, nor lift up, nor cauſe his voice to be heard in the ſtreet.

3 A bruiſed reed ſhall he not break, and the ſmoking flax ſhall he not quench: he ſhall bring forth judgment unto truth.

4 He ſhall not fail, nor be diſcouraged, till he have ſet judgment in the earth: and the iſles ſhall wait for his law.

5 Thus ſaith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and ſtretched them out; he that ſpread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and ſpirit to them that walk therein:

6 I the Lord have called thee in righteouſneſs, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles;

7 To open the blind eyes, to bring out the priſoners from the priſon, and them that ſit in darkneſs out of the priſon-houſe.

8 I am the Lord, that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praiſe to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to paſs, and new things do I declare: before they ſpring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, and his praiſe from the end of the earth; ye that go down to the ſea, and all that is therein; the iſles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderneſs and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock ſing; let them ſhout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praiſe in the iſlands.

13 The Lord ſhall go forth as a mighty man, he ſhall ſtir up jealouſy like a man of war: he ſhall cry; yea, roar; he ſhall prevail againſt his enemies.

14 I have

14 I have long time holden my peace; I have been ſtill, and refrained myſelf: now will I cry like a travailing woman; I will deſtroy and devour at once.

15 I will make waſte mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers iſlands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkneſs light before them, and crooked things ſtraight. Theſe things will I do unto them, and not forſake them.

17 They ſhall be turned back, they ſhall be greatly aſhamed that truſt in graven images, that ſay to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may ſee.

19 Who is blind but my ſervant? or deaf, as my meſſenger that I ſent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the Lord's ſervant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou obſerveſt not; opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The Lord is well pleaſed for his righteouſneſs ſake; he will magnify the law, and make it honourable.

22 But this is a people robbed and ſpoiled; they are all of them ſnared in holes, and they are hid in priſon houſes: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a ſpoil, and none ſaith, Reſtore.

23 Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken, and hear for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jacob for a ſpoil, and Iſrael to the robbers? did not the Lord, he, againſt whom we have ſinned? for they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law.

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the ſtrength of battle: and it hath ſet him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAP. XLIII.

The Lord comforteth the church with his promiſes: he foretelleth them the deſtruction of Babylon, and his wonderful deliverance of his people.

BUT now, thus ſaith the Lord, that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Iſrael; Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.

2 When thou paſſeſt through the waters, I will be with thee; and when through the rivers, they ſhall not overflow thee: when thou walkeſt through the fire, thou ſhalt not be burned; neither ſhall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Iſrael, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ranſom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou waſt precious in my ſight, thou haſt been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

5 Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy ſeed from the eaſt, and gather thee from the weſt;

6 I will ſay to the north, Give up; and to the ſouth, Keep not back: bring my ſons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth;

7 Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him.

8 Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears;

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be aſſembled: who among them can declare this, and ſhew us former things? let them bring forth their witneſſes, that they may be juſtified: or let them hear and ſay, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, and my ſervant whom I have choſen: that ye may know and believe me, and underſtand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither ſhall there be after me.

11 I, even I am the Lord; and beſide me there is no Saviour.

12 I have declared, and have ſaved, and I have ſhewed, when there was no ſtrange god among you: therefore ye are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who ſhall let it?

14 Thus ſaith the Lord your Redeemer, the Holy One of Iſrael; For your ſake I have ſent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chaldeans, whoſe cry is in the ſhips.

15 I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Iſrael, your King.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, which maketh a way in the ſea, and a path in the mighty waters;

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and horſe, the army and the power; they ſhall lie down together, they ſhall not riſe: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither conſider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a new thing; now it ſhall ſpring forth; ſhall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderneſs, and rivers in the deſart.

20 The beaſt of the field ſhall honour me, the dragons and the owls: becauſe I give waters in the wilderneſs, and rivers in the deſart, to give drink to my people, my choſen.

21 This

21 This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise.

22 But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt-offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAP. XLIV.

God comforteth the church with his promises. The vanity of idols, and folly of idol-makers: he exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotency.

YET now hear, O Jacob my servant; and Israel whom I have chosen:

2 Thus saith the Lord that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee; Fear not, O Jacob, my servant; and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come? let them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no God; I know not any.

9 They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 The smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule; he marketh it out with a line; he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warm himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread; yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied; yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me, for thou art my god.

18 They have not known, nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh, and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?

20 He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these, O Jacob and Israel; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have

22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee.

23 Sing, O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb; I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself:

25 That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish:

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers.

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAP. XLV.

God calleth Cyrus for his church's sake: by his omnipotence he challengeth obedience: he convinceth the idols of vanity by his saving power.

THUS saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two-leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know, that I the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God besides me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me.

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none else.

7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together: I the Lord have created it.

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy one of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, nor for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee; in chains they shall come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none else; there is no God (r).

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel the Saviour.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with (r) This illustrious prophecy contains an apostrophe to Jerusalem, or to the company of returning exiles, and without all doubt relates some joyful consequence of the deliverance foretold; which consequence immediately respects religion; and the meaning of the sentence is, that it should come to pass, that in time, after the return from Babylon, proselytes of various nations, and amongst these particularly Egyptians, Ethiopians, and Sabeans, should be joined to the Jewish church, and bound and constrained by the reasons demonstrating the truth of the Jewish religion. They should come, suppliant and adoring God, to Jerusalem, and confessing their faith, humbly intreat to be admitted into the communion of that church: Which accession of proselytes from these and other nations should be fulfilled under the œconomy of grace, when not only individuals, but whole nations, chained and bound, that is, bound in the spirit, (Acts xx. 22.) should submissively receive the doctrine of his holy religion. The prophet in chap. xiv. 1, 2. speaks of the proselytes to religion in terms which fully explain the phrase, In chains they shall come over. See 1 Chron. xiv. 24, 25. and Vitringa.

an

an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord, and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the Lord? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a Saviour; there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely, shall one say, In the Lord have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

CHAP. XLVI.

The idols of Babylon could not save themselves. God saveth his people to the end. Idols are not comparable to God for power, or present salvation.

BEL boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaden; they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb:

4 And even to your old age I am he; and even to hoary hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you.

5 To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.

7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me,

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 Hearken unto me, ye stout-hearted, that are far from righteousness:

13 I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAP. XLVII.

God's judgment upon Babylon and Chaldea, for their unmercifulness, pride, and overboldness, shall be irresistible.

COME down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grind meal: uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our Redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart; I am, and none else besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine inchantments.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine inchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the star-gazers, the monthly prognosticators stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter; none shall save thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

God saveth his people for his own sake: he exhorteth them to obedience: he lamenteth their backwardness: he powerfully delivereth those that are his out of Babylon.

HEAR ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness:

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; The Lord of hosts is his name.

3 I have declared the former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them; I did them suddenly, and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass, I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning; even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb.

9 For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another.

12 Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

14 All ye assemble yourselves, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans.

15 I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the Lord thy God, which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea;

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof; his name should not be cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

20 Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye; tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth; say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

Christ being sent to the Jews, complaineth of them: he is sent to the Gentiles with gracious promises. The powerful deliverance out of captivity.

LIsten, O isles, unto me, and hearken, ye people, from far: The Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain; yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 And now, saith the Lord, that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant, to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers; kings shall see and arise; princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pasture shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the north, and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim.

13 Sing, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste, shall go forth of thee.

18 Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee as a bride doeth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow, by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me; give place to me, that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where had they been?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord (s): for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

(s) Though Cyrus, Artaxerxes, and other Persian monarchs, shewed great kindness to the Jews, and queen Esther saved the nation from destruction, yet this prophecy was most remarkably fulfilled when the Roman empire under Constantine became Christian, and the kings and queens of the earth prostrated themselves before the Messiah, and rejoiced with humility to lay their crowns and sceptres at his feet. See chap. lx. 14. and Vitringa. The author of the Observations, upon the latter clause of the 22d verse, remarks from Pitts, that the Algerines never take either apprentices or hired servants; but "such as have occasion for servants, buy slaves, and bring them up to their house-

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee, with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty one of Jacob.

CHAP. L.

Christ sheweth that the dereliction of the Jews is not to be imputed to him. An exhortation to trust in God, and not in ourselves.

THUS saith the Lord, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.

6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to him that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

CHAP. LI.

An exhortation, after the pattern of Abraham, to trust in Christ. Christ, by his sanctified arm, defendeth them that are his from the fear of man.

HEarken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 For the Lord shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places, and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desart like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 Hearken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people.

5 My righteousness is near; my salvation is gone forth, mine arms shall judge the people: the isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

9 Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep; that hath made hold work, as our servant maids here in England; who, as soon as they have done up all their work in the house, are usually allowed the liberty to go abroad, and visit their countrymen, commonly bearing each a child with them; and if the child be a boy, it rides on the slave's shoulders." Sandys makes a like remark, as to the manner of carrying children in the east, observing that as we bear ours in our arms, they carry theirs astride on their shoulders.

the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually every day, because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.

15 But I am the Lord thy God, that divided the sea, whose waves roared: The Lord of hosts is his name.

16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth, neither is there any that taketh her by the hand, of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19 These two things are come unto thee; who shall be sorry for thee? desolation and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord the Lord, and thy God, that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again.

23 But I will put it in the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street to them that went over.

CHAP. LII.

Christ persuadeth the church to believe his free redemption, and to free themselves from bondage. Christ's kingdom shall be exalted.

AWake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised, and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye have sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought? They that rule over them, make them to howl, saith the Lord; and my name continually every day is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day, that I am he that doth speak: behold, it is I.

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

9 Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the Lord will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rear-ward.

13 Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted, and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee; (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:)

15 So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

CHAP. LIII.

The prophet complaineth of incredulity, and excuseth the scandal of the cross, by the benefit of his passion.

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death; and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

CHAP. LIV.

The prophet prophesieth the deliverance of the Gentiles, their safety, and sure preservation.

SING, O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate, than the children of the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For thy Maker is thine husband; the Lord of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel, The God of the whole earth shall he be called.

6 For the Lord hath called thee as a woman forsaken, and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.

8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee, for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the Lord, thy Redeemer.

9 For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord, that hath mercy on thee.

11 Oh, thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with sapphires.

12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children.

14 In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee.

15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee, shall fall for thy sake.

16 Behold, I have created the smith, that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy.

17 No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

The prophet, with the promises of Christ, calleth to faith and repentance. The happy state of them that believe.

HO, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come yea, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price.

2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee, shall run unto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.

7 Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater;

11 So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir-tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle-tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign, that shall not be cut off.

CHAP. LVI.

The prophet exhorteth to sanctification: he promiseth that it shall be accepted without respect of persons: he inveigheth against blind watchmen.

THUS saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 Neither let the son of the stranger that hath joined himself to the Lord, speak, saying, The Lord hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant;

5 Even unto them will I give in mine house, and within my walls, a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant;

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine house shall be called An house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God, which gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides those that are gathered unto him.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest.

10 His watchmen are blind; they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs, which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

The blessed death of the righteous. God reproveth the Jews for their idolatry, and giveth promises to the penitent.

THE righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2 He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.

3 But

3 But draw near hither, ye ſons of the ſorcereſs, the ſeed of the adulterer, and the whore.

4 Againſt whom do you ſport yourſelves? againſt whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of tranſgreſſion, a ſeed of falſehood?

5 Enflaming yourſelves with idols under every green tree, ſlaying the children in the valleys under the clifts of the rocks?

6 Among the ſmooth ſtones of the ſtream is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them haſt thou poured a drink-offering, thou haſt offered a meat-offering. Should I receive comfort in theſe?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain haſt thou ſet thy bed: even thither wenteſt thou up to offer ſacrifice.

8 Behind the doors alſo and the poſts haſt thou ſet up thy remembrance; for thou haſt diſcovered thyſelf to another than me, and art gone up; thou haſt enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou loveſt their bed where thou ſaweſt it.

9 And thou wenteſt to the king with ointment, and didſt increaſe thy perfumes, and didſt ſend thy meſſengers far off, and didſt debaſe thyſelf even unto hell.

10 Thou art wearied in the greatneſs of thy way; yet ſaidſt thou not, There is no hope: thou haſt found the life of thine hand; therefore thou waſt not grieved.

11 And of whom haſt thou been afraid or feared, that thou haſt lied, and haſt not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and thou feareſt me not?

12 I will declare thy righteouſneſs and thy works; for they ſhall not profit thee.

13 When thou crieſt, let thy companies deliver thee: but the wind ſhall carry them all away; vanity ſhall take them: but he that putteth his truſt in me, ſhall poſſeſs the land, and ſhall inherit my holy mountain;

14 And ſhall ſay, Caſt ye up, caſt ye up; prepare the way, take up the ſtumbling-block out of the way of my people.

15 For thus ſaith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whoſe name is Holy, I dwell in the high and holy place, with him alſo that is of a contrite and humble ſpirit; to revive the ſpirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the ſpirit ſhould fail before me, and the ſouls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetouſneſs, was I wroth, and ſmote him; I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have ſeen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him alſo, and reſtore comforts unto him, and to his mourners.

19 I create the fruit of the lips: Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, ſaith the Lord; and I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the troubled ſea, when it cannot reſt, whoſe waters caſt up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, ſaith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

The prophet reproveth hypocriſy, declareth the promiſes due unto godlineſs, and to the keeping of the ſabbath.

CRY aloud, ſpare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and ſhew my people their tranſgreſſion, and the houſe of Jacob their ſins.

2 Yet they ſeek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteouſneſs, and forſook not the ordinance of their God: they aſk of me the ordinances of juſtice; they take delight in approaching to God.

3 Wherefore have we faſted, ſay they, and thou ſeeſt not? wherefore have we afflicted our ſoul, and thou takeſt no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your faſt ye find pleaſure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye faſt for ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with the fiſt of wickedneſs: ye ſhall not faſt as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it ſuch a faſt that I have choſen? a day for a man to afflict his ſoul? is it to bow down his head as a bulruſh, and to ſpread ſackcloth and aſhes under him? wilt thou call this a faſt, and an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the faſt that I have choſen? to looſe the bands of wickedneſs, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppreſſed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are caſt out, to thy houſe? when thou ſeeſt the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyſelf from thine own fleſh?

8 Then ſhall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health ſhall ſpring forth ſpeedily: and thy righteouſneſs ſhall go before thee; the glory of the Lord ſhall be thy rearward.

9 Then ſhalt thou call, and the Lord ſhall anſwer; thou ſhalt cry, and he ſhall ſay, Here I am. If thou take away from the midſt of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and ſpeaking vanity;

10 And if thou draw out thy ſoul to the hungry, and ſatisfy the afflicted ſoul; then ſhall thy light riſe in obſcurity, and thy darkneſs be as the noon-day:

11 And the Lord ſhall guide thee continually, and and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee, shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a Delight; the holy of the Lord, Honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

14 Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord, and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

The damnable nature of sin. Calamity is for sin. Salvation is only of God. The covenant of the Redeemer.

BEhold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice-eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no judgment in their goings; they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold, obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon-day as in the night; we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them:

13 In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment.

16 And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.

20 And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob (t), saith the Lord.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them,

(t) It is remarkable that the Hebrew word gal, rendered Redeemer, properly signifies one who has a right to that office, on account of consanguinity. The application of this text therefore to Cyrus, is certainly improper, and one would wonder that so learned a man as Grotius could ever have made so absurd an application. The LXX have avoided this impropriety by reading, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, or Redeemer, he shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. St. Paul cites the passage according to this version, Rom. xi. 26. and applies it as a prediction to the conversion of the Jews, after the fullness of the Gentiles is come in. The prophecy, says Bp. Chandler, is as yet unfulfilled; but the preservation of the Jews, who, though dispersed among all nations, still remain a separate people, seems to indicate, that they are preserved by God for this purpose, to be an illustrious instance of his goodness to them, and of the truth of the prophets. See his Defence, p. 365.

saith

saith the Lord; My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth, and for ever.

CHAP. LX.

The glory of the Church in the abundant access of the Gentiles, and the great blessings after afflictions.

ARISE, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together; they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together; and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah: all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir-tree, the pine-tree and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary: and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, waste nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee; but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

CHAP. LXI.

The office of Christ. The blessings of the faithful.

THE Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to blind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound:

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn;

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called Trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen, and your vine-dressers.

6 But

6 But ye shall be named The Priests of the Lord: men shall call you The Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.

7 For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt-offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord; my soul shall be joyful in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation: he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness; as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAP. LXII.

The fervent desire of the prophet to confirm the church in God's promises. The office of the ministers in preaching the gospel, and preparing the people thereto.

FOR Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

4 Thou shalt no more be termed, Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed, Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land, Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

5 For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee; and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence,

7 And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely, I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that have gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the Lord; and they that have brought it together, shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.

10 Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people.

11 Behold the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord: and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

Christ sheweth his victory over his enemies, and his mercy toward his church. The church professeth their faith.

WHO is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat?

3 I have trodden the wine-press alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury; and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I will mention the loving-kindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness towards the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses.

8 For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their Saviour.

9 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10 But they rebelled, and vexed his Holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought againſt them.

11 Then he remembered the days of old, Moſes, and his people, ſaying, Where is he that brought them up out of the ſea, with the ſhepherd of his flock? where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moſes, with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himſelf an everlaſting name?

13 That led them through the deep, as an horſe in the wilderneſs, that they ſhould not ſtumble?

14 As a beaſt goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord cauſeth him to reſt: ſo didſt thou lead thy people, to make thyſelf a glorious name.

15 Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holineſs and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy ſtrength, the ſounding of thy bowels, and of thy mercies towards me? are they reſtrained?

16 Doubtleſs, thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Iſrael acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer; thy name is from everlaſting.

17 O Lord, why haſt thou made us to err from thy ways? and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return, for thy ſervants ſake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thy holineſs have poſſeſſed it but a little while: our adverſaries have trodden down thy ſanctuary.

19 We are thine: thou never bareſt rule over them; they were not called by thy name.

CHAP. LXIV.

The church prayeth for the illuſtration of God's power: celebrating God's mercy, it maketh confeſſion of its natural corruptions: it complaineth of its affliction.

OH that thou wouldeſt rend the heavens, that thou wouldeſt come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy preſence!

2 As when the melting fire burneth, the fire cauſeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adverſaries, that the nations may tremble at thy preſence!

3 When thou didſt tremble things which we looked not for, thou cameſt down, the mountains flowed down at thy preſence.

4 For ſince the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye ſeen, O God, beſides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meeteſt him that rejoiceth, and worketh righteouſneſs; thoſe that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth, for we have ſinned: in thoſe is continuance, and we ſhall be ſaved.

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteouſneſſes are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that ſtirreth up himſelf to take hold of thee: for thou haſt hid thy face from us, and haſt conſumed us, becauſe of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 Be not wroth very ſore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity, for ever: behold, ſee, we beſeech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderneſs, Zion is a wilderneſs, Jeruſalem a deſolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful houſe, where our fathers praiſed thee, is burned up with fire; and all our pleaſant things are laid waſte.

12 Wilt thou refrain thyſelf for theſe things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very ſore?

CHAP. LXV.

The calling of the Gentiles. The Jews, for their incredulity, idolatry, and hypocriſy, are rejected. The bleſſed ſtate of the new Jeruſalem.

I Am ſought of them that aſked not for me; I am found of them that ſought me not: I ſaid, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have ſpread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts;

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face; that ſacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incenſe upon altars of brick;

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat ſwine's fleſh, and broth of abominable things is in their veſſels:

5 Which ſay, Stand by thyſelf; come not near to me, for I am holier than thou. Theſe are a ſmoke in my noſe, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep ſilence, but will recompence, even recompence into their boſom

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, ſaith the Lord, which have burned incenſe upon the mountains, and blaſphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I meaſure their former work into their boſom.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord, As the new wine is found in the cluſter, and one ſaith, Deſtroy it not, for a bleſſing is in it: ſo will I do for my ſervants ſakes, that I may not deſtroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a ſeed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains:

and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servant shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in; for my people that have sought me.

11 But ye are they that forsake the Lord, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink-offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed:

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name:

16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth, shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth, shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

17 For behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad, and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people; and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old; but the sinner, being an hundred years old, shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat; for as the days of a tree, are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and whilst they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord (u).

CHAP. LXVI.

The glorious God will be served in humble sincerity. God's severe judgment against the wicked. The Gentiles shall have an holy church, and see the damnation of the wicked.

THUS saith the Lord, the heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox, is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I

(u) The meaning is, that the church at this time shall be free from all internal and external enemies: The wolves and lions, mystically so called, being either destroyed by the power of God, or they who formerly were such, being softened and changed by the grace of the divine spirit: so that though they were able to hurt, they shall no longer be willing to do so. See chap. xi. 6—9. The phrase, Dust shall be the serpent's meat, seems immediately to allude to the sentence passed upon the old serpent, Gen. iii. 14. which Isaiah tells us shall be fulfilled at the period here alluded to; when the devil shall no longer be able to hurt the church, but shall be reduced to the most abject, groveling and despicable state. So it is said, Micah vii. 17. of the enemies of the church, that they shall lick the dust like a serpent: What therefore is magnificently foretold in the 91st psalm, of the subjection of Satan to Jesus Christ and his Church, and which was formerly fulfilled in Christ, shall at this time be fulfilled in the whole body of the church. See chap. xl. 10. xlix. 24. The Son of God came into the world to destroy the works of the Devil; Rom. xvi. 20. 1 John iii. 8. These will be the illustrious consequences of the creation of the new heavens and the new earth. Indeed to bestow such blessings on the church, is, in the language of prophesy, truly to create new heavens and a new earth. God Almighty render us worthy of, and grant us speedily the completion of these glorious promises! See Vitringa.

called,

called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

5 Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the Lord that rendereth recompence to his enemies.

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day, or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the Lord: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God.

10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her.

11 That ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be borne upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lord shall be known towards his servants, and his indignation towards his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire, and by his sword, will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens, behind one tree in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I know their works, and their thoughts: it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come and see my glory.

19 And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those that escape of them, unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal, and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord, out of all nations, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel, into the house of the Lord.

21 And I will also take of them for priests, and for Levites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new-moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

The Book of the Prophet JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

The time, and the calling of Jeremiah: his prophetical visions of an almond-rod, and a seething-pot

THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin:

2 To whom the word of the Lord came in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came also in the days of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah,

JEREMIAH] the son of Hilkiah, was of the priestly race, and a native of Anathoth, a village in the tribe of Benjamin. He was appointed to the employment of a prophet from his mother's womb, and was called to the prophetic office when very young; in the 14th year of his age, the 13th of Josiah's reign, the year of the world 3375, and king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jeruſalem captive, in the fifth month.

4 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou cameſt forth out of the womb, I ſanctified thee; and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot ſpeak; for I am a child.

7 But the Lord ſaid unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou ſhalt go to all that I ſhall ſend thee, and whatſoever I command thee thou ſhalt ſpeak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee, ſaith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the Lord ſaid unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day ſet thee over the nations, and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to deſtroy, and to throw down; to build, and to plant.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying, Jeremiah, what ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a rod of an almond-tree.

12 Then ſaid the Lord unto me, Thou haſt well ſeen: for I will haſten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying, What ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a ſeething-pot, and the face thereof is towards the north.

14 Then the Lord ſaid unto me, Out of the north an evil ſhall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, ſaith the Lord: and they ſhall come, and they ſhall ſet every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jeruſalem, and againſt all the walls thereof round about, and againſt all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my judgments againſt them touching all their wickedneſs, who have forſaken me, and have burned incenſe unto other gods, and worſhipped the works of their own hands.

17 Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and ariſe, and ſpeak unto them all that I command thee: be not diſmayed at their faces, leſt I confound thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and braſen walls againſt the whole land, againſt the kings of Judah, againſt the princes thereof, againſt the prieſts thereof, and againſt the people of the land.

19 And they ſhall fight againſt thee, but they ſhall not prevail againſt thee; for I am with thee ſaith the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

God, having ſhewed his former kindneſs, expoſtulateth with the Jews on their cauſeleſs revolt, beyond any example: and they are the cauſes of their own calamities.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

2 Go, and cry in the ears of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord; I remember thee, the kindneſs of thy youth, the love of thine eſpouſals, when thou wenteſt after me in the wilderneſs, in the land that was not ſown.

3 Iſrael was holineſs unto the Lord, and the firſt-fruits of his increaſe: all that devour him, ſhall offend; evil ſhall come upon them, ſaith the Lord.

4 Hear ye the word of the Lord, O houſe of Jacob, and all the families of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither ſaid they, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderneſs; through a land of deſarts, and of pits; through a land of drought, and of the ſhadow of death; through a land that no man paſſed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodneſs thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The prieſts ſaid not, Where is the Lord? and they that handle the law knew me not: the paſtors alſo tranſgreſſed againſt me, and the prophets propheſied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 Wherefore, I will yet plead with you, ſaith

629 years before Chriſt. He continued to propheſy till after the deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Chaldees, which happened in the year of the world 3416, and he died, as is believed, in Egypt, two years after; but the time and manner of his death is very uncertain.—The former part of this book, from ch. i. to xliv. relates to the time after the captivity of Iſrael, and before that of Judah; and from thence to the end relates to the time of the latter captivity. The 52d chapter is thought by ſome to have been the addition of Ezra. The prophecy of Jeremiah evidently ended with the words, Thus far are the words of Jeremiah. The prophet expoſes the ſins of Judah with great freedom, reminds them of the ſevere judgments which had befallen the ten tribes for the ſame offences; pathetically laments their approaching calamities, recommends a ſpeedy reformation, foretels their happy deliverance, together with the deſtruction of their enemies, and delivers ſeveral ſtriking predictions of the kingdom of the Meſſiah.

the Lord, and with your childrens children will I plead.

10 For pass over the isles of Chittim and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the Lord.

13 For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he spoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes have broken the crown of thy head.

17 Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now, what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see, that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not transgress; when upon every high hill, and under every green tree, thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed; how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? see thy way in the valley; know what thou hast done: thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways;

24 A wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure: in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her, will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her.

25 With-hold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope. No: for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found; so is the house of Israel ashamed: they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets.

27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

28 But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee; let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the Lord.

30 In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, see ye the word of the Lord: Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, We are lords; we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number.

33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.

37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the Lord hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAP. III.

God's great mercy in Judah's vile whoredom. Judah is worse than Israel. The promises of the gospel to the penitent. Israel reproved, and called by God, maketh a solemn confession of sin.

THEY say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? But thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lain with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy wickedness.

3 Therefore the showers have been withholden, den, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou haſt a whore's forehead, thou refuſedſt to be aſhamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he reſerve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou haſt ſpoken and done evil things as thou couldeſt.

6 The Lord ſaid alſo unto me in the days of Joſiah the king, Haſt thou ſeen that which backſliding Iſrael hath done? ſhe is gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 And I ſaid, after ſhe had done all theſe things, Turn thou unto me: but ſhe returned not: and her treacherous ſiſter Judah ſaw it.

8 And I ſaw, when for all the cauſes whereby backſliding Iſrael committed adultery, I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous ſiſter Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot alſo.

9 And it came to paſs through the lightneſs of her whoredom, that ſhe defiled the land, and committed adultery with ſtones and with ſtocks.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous ſiſter Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, ſaith the Lord.

11 And the Lord ſaid unto me, The backſliding Iſrael hath juſtified herſelf more than treacherous Judah.

12 Go, and proclaim theſe words toward the north, and ſay, Return, thou backſliding Iſrael, ſaith the Lord; and I will not cauſe mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, ſaith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord thy God, and haſt ſcattered thy ways to the ſtrangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, ſaith the Lord.

14 Turn, O backſliding children, ſaith the Lord; for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion:

15 And I will give you paſtors according to mine heart, which ſhall feed you with knowledge and underſtanding.

16 And it ſhall come to paſs when ye be multiplied and increaſed in the land, in thoſe days, ſaith the Lord, they ſhall ſay no more, The ark of the covenant of the Lord: neither ſhall it come to mind; neither ſhall they remember it: neither ſhall they viſit it; neither ſhall that be done any more.

17 At that time they ſhall call Jeruſalem the Throne of the Lord; and all the nations ſhall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord, to Jeruſalem: neither ſhall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

18 In thoſe days the houſe of Judah ſhall walk with the houſe of Iſrael, and they ſhall come together out of the land of the north, to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I ſaid, How ſhall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleaſant land, a goodly heritage of the hoſts of nations? and I ſaid, Thou ſhalt call me, My father; and ſhalt not turn away from me.

20 Surely, as a wife treacherouſly departeth from her husband, ſo have ye dealt treacherouſly with me, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and ſupplications of the children of Iſrael: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the Lord their God.

22 Return, ye backſliding children, and I will heal your backſlidings. Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly in vain is ſalvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the ſalvation of Iſrael.

24 For ſhame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; ther flocks and their herds, their ſons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our ſhame, and our confuſion covereth us: for we have ſinned againſt the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IV.

God calleth Iſrael by his promiſe: he exhorteth Judah to repentance by fearful judgments. A grievous lamentation for the miſeries of Judah.

IF thou wilt return, O Iſrael, ſaith the Lord, return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my ſight, then ſhalt thou not remove.

2 And thou ſhalt ſwear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteouſneſs; and the nations ſhall bleſs themſelves in him, and in him ſhall they glory.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord to the men of Judah and Jeruſalem, Break up your fallow-ground, and ſow not among thorns.

4 Circumciſe yourſelves to the Lord, and take away the foreſkins of your heart, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jeruſalem: leſt my fury come forth like fire, and burn, that none can quench it, becauſe of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and publiſh in Jeruſalem, and ſay, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, cry, gather together, and say, assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard towards Zion: retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah Lord God! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace: whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people, and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse;

12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us; for we are spoiled;

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved; how long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the Lord.

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form, and void: and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down, at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it; I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bow-men; they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair; thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child; the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now; for my soul is wearied because of murders!

CHAP. V.

The judgments of God upon the Jews for their perverseness, for their adultery, for their impiety, for their contempt of God, and their corruption in the state.

RUN ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth, and I will pardon it.

2 And though they say, The Lord liveth; surely they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock: they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will ſpeak unto them: for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but theſe have altogether broken the yoke, and burſt the bonds.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the foreſt ſhall ſlay them, a wolf of the evenings ſhall ſpoil them, a leopard ſhall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence ſhall be torn in pieces: becauſe their tranſgreſſions are many, and their back-ſlidings are increaſed.

7 How ſhall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forſaken me, and ſworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and aſſembled themſelves by troops in the harlots houſes.

8 They were as fed horſes in the morning; every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not viſit for theſe things? ſaith the Lord: and ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

10 Go ye up unto her walls, and deſtroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the houſe of Iſrael, and the houſe of Judah, have dealt very treacherouſly againſt me, ſaith the Lord.

12 They have belied the Lord, and ſaid, It is not he; neither ſhall evil come upon us; neither ſhall we ſee ſword nor famine:

13 And the prophets ſhall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus ſhall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore, thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, Becauſe ye ſpeak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it ſhall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whoſe language thou knoweſt not, neither underſtandeſt what they ſay.

16 Their quiver is as an open ſepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they ſhall eat up thine harveſt, and thy bread, which thy ſons and thy daughters ſhould eat: they ſhall eat up thy flocks and thine herds; they ſhall eat up thy vines and thy fig-trees; they ſhall impoveriſh thy fenced cities, wherein thou truſtedſt, with the ſword.

18 Nevertheleſs, in thoſe days, ſaith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you.

19 And it ſhall come to paſs, when ye ſhall ſay, Wherefore doth the Lord our God all theſe things unto us? then ſhalt thou anſwer them, Like as ye have forſaken me, and ſerved ſtrange gods in your land, ſo ſhall ye ſerve ſtrangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the houſe of Jacob, and publiſh it in Judah, ſaying,

21 Hear now this, O fooliſh people, and without underſtanding; which have eyes and ſee not, which have ears and hear not:

22 Fear ye not me? ſaith the Lord; will ye not tremble at my preſence, which have placed the ſand for the bound of the ſea, by a perpetual decree, that it cannot paſs it; and though the waves thereof toſs themſelves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not paſs over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither ſay they in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in his ſeaſon: he reſerveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harveſt (x).

25 Your iniquities have turned away theſe things, and your ſins have withholden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked men: they lay wait as he that ſetteth ſnares; they ſet a trap, they catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, ſo are their houſes full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they ſhine: yea they overpaſs the deeds of the wicked; they judge not the cauſe, the cauſe of the fatherleſs; yet they proſper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 Shall I not viſit for theſe things? ſaith the Lord: ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

30 A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land;

31 The prophets propheſy falſely, and the prieſts bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it ſo: and what will ye do in the end thereof.

(x) The viciſſitudes of ſeaſons, of cold and heat, of drought and moiſture, ſo wiſely fitted for the growth of the fruits of the earth, and other uſes of human life, are ſo remarkable a proof of the being of a God, and his providence, as to be obvious to the meaneſt capacity, and on this account they are frequently inſiſted on by the inſpired writers. The prophet ſeems here to have had an eye to the ſanction of the law, Lev. xxvi. 4. The former rain fell juſt after ſowing-time; the latter-rain was juſt before harveſt, to plump and fill the ears; and is called by Joel the latter rain of the firſt month, at which time the harveſt begun. In chap. viii. 13, 30. and xiv. 1, 18. the prophet ſpeaks of a dearth which happened before the ſiege of Jeruſalem; which, ſays Calmet, is different from that here ſpoken of; though ſome are of a contrary opinion, and imagine that one and the ſame dearth is referred to in theſe different places. See Calmet, and Tyler's Script. Vind. p. 341.

CHAP.

CHAP. VI.

The prophet proclaimeth God's wrath; and he calleth the people to mourn for the judgment on their sins.

O Ye children of Benjamin, gather yourselves to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and set up a sign of fire in Beth-haccerem: for evil appeareth out of the north, and a great destruction.

2 I have likened the daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate woman.

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us, for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out!

5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.

7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her; before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee: lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn back thine hand, as a grape-gatherer, into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord; I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them, every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them, they shall he cast down, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

20 To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba? and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling-blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and spear: they are cruel, and have no mercy: their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zion.

24 We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee for a tower, and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.

28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters.

29 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire, the founder melteth in vain; for the wicked are not plucked away.

30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the Lord hath rejected them.

CHAP. VII.

Jeremiah is ſent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews captivity: he rejecteth their vain confidence, by the example of Shiloh: he threateneth them for their idolatry: and rejecteth the ſacrifices of the diſobedient.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's houſe, and proclaim there this word, and ſay, Hear the word of the Lord, all ye of Judah, that enter in at theſe gates to worſhip the Lord.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Amend your ways, and your doings, and I will cauſe you to dwell in this place.

4 Truſt ye not in lying words, ſaying, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, are theſe.

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways, and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppreſs not the ſtranger, the fatherleſs, and the widow, and ſhed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods, to your hurt:

7 Then will I cauſe you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 Behold, ye truſt in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye ſteal, murder, and commit adultery, and ſwear falſely, and burn incenſe unto Baal, and walk after other gods, whom ye know not;

10 And come and ſtand before me in this houſe, which is called by my name, and ſay, We are delivered to do all theſe abominations?

11 Is this houſe, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have ſeen it, ſaith the Lord.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I ſet my name at the firſt, and ſee what I did to it, for the wickedneſs of my people Iſrael.

13 And now, becauſe ye have done all theſe works, ſaith the Lord, and I ſpake unto you, riſing up early, and ſpeaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye anſwered not;

14 Therefore will I do unto this houſe, which is called by my name, wherein ye truſt, and unto the place which I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.

15 And I will caſt you out of my ſight, as I have caſt out all your brethren, even the whole ſeed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore, pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make interceſſion to me: for I will not hear thee.

17 Seeſt thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? ſaith the Lord: do they not provoke themſelves to the confuſion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, mine anger and my fury ſhall be poured out upon this place, upon man and upon beaſt, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it ſhall burn, and ſhall not be quenched.

21 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Put your burnt-offerings unto your ſacrifices, and eat fleſh.

22 For I ſpake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt-offerings or ſacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, ſaying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye ſhall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counſels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have even ſent unto you all my ſervants the prophets, daily riſing up early, and ſending them:

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear; but hardened their neck: they did worſe than their fathers.

27 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak all theſe words unto them, but they will not hearken to thee: thou ſhalt alſo call unto them; but they will not anſwer thee.

28 But thou ſhalt ſay unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is periſhed, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 Cut off thine hair, O Jeruſalem, and caſt it away, and take up a lamentation on high-places; for the Lord hath rejected and forſaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my ſight, ſaith the Lord: they have ſet their abominations in the houſe which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high-places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, to burn their ſons and their daughters in in the fire; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

32 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.

33 And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

The calamity of the Jews, both dead and alive: he upbraideth their foolish and shameless impenitency: and bewaileth their desperate estate.

AT that time, saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves:

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen rather than life, by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 Moreover, thou shall say unto them, Thus saith the Lord; Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? They hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle, and the crane, and the swallow, observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the Lord is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord; and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one, from the least even unto the greatest, is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest; every one dealeth falsely.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig-tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them, shall pass away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the Lord our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of health, and behold, trouble.

16 The snorting of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones; for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it; the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the Lord.

18 When I would comfort myself against sorrow, my heart is faint in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people, because of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt; I am black: astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAP. IX.

Jeremiah lamenteth for the manifold sins of the Jews: and threateneth both Jews and Gentiles.

OH that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderneſs a lodging-place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all adulterers, an aſſembly of treacherous men!

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, ſaith the Lord.

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and truſt ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly ſupplant, and every neighbour will walk with ſlanders.

5 And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not ſpeak the truth: they have taught their tongue to ſpeak lies, and weary themſelves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midſt of deceit; through deceit they refuſe to know me, ſaith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how ſhall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow ſhot out; it ſpeaketh deceit: one ſpeaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 Shall I not viſit them for theſe things? ſaith the Lord: ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderneſs a lamentation, becauſe they are burned up, ſo that none can paſs through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowls of the heavens and the beaſts are fled; they are gone.

11 And I will make Jeruſalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah deſolate, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is the wiſe man, that may underſtand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken, that he may declare it, for what the land periſheth, and is burned up like a wilderneſs, that none paſſeth through?

13 And the Lord ſaith, Becauſe they have forſaken my law which I ſet before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael: Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will ſcatter them alſo among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will ſend a ſword after them, till I have conſumed them.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Conſider ye, and call for the mourning-women, that they may come; and ſend for cunning women, that they may come (y):

18 And let them make haſte, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eye-lids guſh out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we ſpoiled! we are greatly confounded, becauſe we have forſaken the land, becauſe our dwellings have caſt us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the ſtreets.

22 Speak, Thus ſaith the Lord, Even the carcaſes of men ſhall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harveſt-man, and none ſhall gather them.

23 Thus ſaith the Lord, Let not the wiſe man glory in his wiſdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might; let not the rich man glory in his riches:

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he underſtandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord, which exerciſe loving-kindneſs, judgment, and righteouſneſs in the earth: for in theſe things I delight, ſaith the Lord.

(y) The firſt lamentations for the dead conſiſted only in the ſudden burſts of inſuppreſſible grief, like that of David over his ſon Abſalom; 2 Sam. xix. 4. But as men grew refined, it was not deemed ſufficient for the ſurviving relation to vent his ſorrows in theſe natural and artleſs expreſſions of woe; but, unſatisfied with the genuine language of ſighs and tears, he endeavoured not only to vent his ſorrow by terms of grief, but likewiſe joined others as partners in his ſorrow, and ſtrove to extort tears from the ſurrounding croud. This was ſucceſsfully practiſed by David in his lamentation for Abner, 2 Sam. iii. 33, 34. This oſtentation of grief gave riſe to the cuſtom of hiring perſons to weep at funerals, which the Phrygians and Greeks borrowed from the Hebrews. Women were generally employed on theſe occaſions, either becauſe it was an office more ſuitable to the ſoftneſs of a female mind, or becauſe the tenderer paſſions being predominant in that ſex, they ſucceeded better in their parts; nor was there ever wanting any of thoſe artiſts well-inſtructed in the diſcipline of mourning, and ready to hire out their lamentations and tears on any emergency. It is the chief excelence of other arts to imitate nature; it was likewiſe eſteemed ſo in this: Their funeral dirges therefore were compoſed in imitation of thoſe which had been poured forth by genuine and ſincere grief.

that

25 Behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will puniſh all them which are circumciſed with the uncircumciſed;

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon and Moab, and all that are in the utmoſt corners, that dwell in the wilderneſs: for all theſe nations are uncircumciſed, and all the houſe of Iſrael are uncircumciſed in the heart.

CHAP. X.

The unequal compariſon of God and idols. The prophet exhorteth to flee from the calamity to come: and lamenteth the ſpoil of the tabernacle by fooliſh paſtors.

HEAR ye the word which the Lord ſpeaketh unto you, O houſe of Iſrael:

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not diſmayed at the ſigns of heaven; for the heathen are diſmayed at them.

3 For the cuſtoms of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the foreſt (the work of the hands of the workman) with the ax.

4 They deck it with ſilver and with gold; they faſten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm-tree, but ſpeak not: they muſt needs be borne, becauſe they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither alſo is it in them to do good.

6 Foraſmuch as there is none like unto thee, O Lord; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: foraſmuch as among all the wiſe men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are altogether brutiſh and fooliſh: the ſtock is a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver ſpread into plates is brought from Tarſhiſh, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlaſting king: at his wrath the earth ſhall tremble, and the nations ſhall not be able to abide his indignation.

11 Thus ſhall ye ſay unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens, and the earth, even they ſhall periſh from the earth, and from under theſe heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath eſtabliſhed the world by his wiſdom, and hath ſtretched out the heavens by his diſcretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he cauſeth the vapours to aſcend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treaſures.

14 Every man is brutiſh in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falſehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their viſitation they ſhall periſh.

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the Former of all things, and Iſrael is the rod of his inheritance. The Lord of hoſts is his name.

17 Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the fortreſs.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will ſling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will diſtreſs them, that they may find it ſo.

19 Woe is me, for my hurt, my wound is grievous! but I ſaid, Truly this is a grief, and I muſt bear it.

20 My tabernacle is ſpoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to ſtretch forth my tent any more, and to ſet up my curtains.

21 For the paſtors are become brutiſh, and have not ſought the Lord; therefore they ſhall not proſper, and all their flocks ſhall be ſcattered.

22 Behold, the noiſe of the brute it come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah deſolate, and a den of dragons.

23 O Lord, I know that they way of man is not in himſelf: it is not in man that walketh to direct his ſteps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, leſt thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and conſumed him, and have made his habitation deſolate.

CHAP. XI.

Jeremiah proclaimeth God's covenant, rebuketh the Jews diſobeying thereof, propheſieth evils to come upon them, and upon the men of Anathoth, for conſpiring to kill him.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and ſpeak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem;

3 And ſay thou unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael; Curſed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, ſaying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: ſo ſhall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 That I may perform the oath which I have ſworn ſworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then anſwered I, and ſaid, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord ſaid unto me, Proclaim all theſe words in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.

7 For I earneſtly proteſted unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, riſing early and proteſting, ſaying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

9 And the Lord ſaid unto me, A conſpiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refuſed to hear my words, and they went after other gods to ſerve them: the houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Judah have broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they ſhall not be able to eſcape; and though they cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then ſhall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jeruſalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incenſe: but they ſhall not ſave them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, have ye ſet up altars to that ſhameful thing, even altars to burn incenſe unto Baal.

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine houſe, ſeeing ſhe hath wrought lewdneſs with many? and the holy fleſh is paſſed from thee: when thou doeſt evil, then thou rejoiceſt.

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive-tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noiſe of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hoſts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil againſt thee, for the evil of the houſe of Iſrael, and of the houſe of Judah, which they have done againſt themſelves, to provoke me to anger, in offering incenſe unto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou ſhewedſt me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb, or an ox that is brought to the ſlaughter; and I knew not that they had deviſed devices againſt me, ſaying, Let us deſtroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O Lord of hoſts, that judgeſt righteouſly, that trieſt the reins and the heart, let me ſee thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cauſe.

21 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of the men of Anathoth, that ſeek thy life, ſaying, Propheſy not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will puniſh them: the young men ſhall die by the ſword; their ſons and their daughters ſhall die by famine:

23 And there ſhall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their viſitation.

CHAP. XII.

Jeremiah complaineth of the proſperity of the wicked. God admoniſheth him of his brethren's treachery againſt him, and lamenteth his heritage.

RIghteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked proſper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherouſly?

2 Thou haſt planted them, yea, they have taken root; they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit; thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O Lord, knoweſt me; thou haſt ſeen me, and tried mine heart towards thee: pull them out like ſheep for the ſlaughter, and prepare them for the day of ſlaughter.

4 How long ſhall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedneſs of them that dwell therein? The beaſts are conſumed, and the birds; becauſe they ſaid, He ſhall not ſee our laſt end.

5 If thou haſt run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canſt thou contend with horſes? and if in the land of peace wherein thou truſtedſt, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the ſwelling of Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren, and the houſe of thy father, even they have dealt treacherouſly with thee; yea, they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they ſpeak fair words unto thee.

7 I have forſaken mine houſe, I have left mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my ſoul into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the foreſt, it crieth out againſt me; therefore have I hated it.

9 Mine

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a ſpeckled bird; the birds round about are againſt her: come ye, aſſemble all the beaſts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many paſtors have deſtroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleaſant portion a deſolate wilderneſs.

11 They have made it deſolate; and being deſolate, it mourneth unto me: the whole land is made deſolate, becauſe no man layeth it to heart.

12 The ſpoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderneſs: for the ſword of the Lord ſhall devour from the one end of the land even unto the other end of the land: no fleſh ſhall have peace.

13 They have ſown wheat, but ſhall reap thorns: they have put themſelves to pain, but ſhall not profit; and they ſhall be aſhamed of your revenues, becauſe of the fierce anger of the Lord.

14 Thus ſaith the Lord againſt all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have cauſed my people Iſrael to inherit; Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the houſe of Judah from among them.

15 And it ſhall come to paſs after that I have plucked them out, I will return, and have compaſſion on them, and will bring them again every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it ſhall come to paſs, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to ſwear by my name, The Lord liveth; (as they taught my people to ſwear by Baal;) then ſhall they be built in the midſt of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up, and deſtroy that nation, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

In the type of a linen girdle, hidden, at Euphrates, God prefigureth the deſtruction of his people: and ſheweth that their abominations are the cauſe thereof.

THUS ſaith the Lord unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the Lord, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying,

4 Take the girdle that thou haſt got, which is upon thy loins, and ariſe, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And it came to paſs after many days, that the Lord ſaid unto me, Ariſe, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jeruſalem.

10 This evil people, which refuſe to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to ſerve them, and to worſhip them, ſhall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, ſo have I cauſed to cleave unto me the whole houſe of Iſrael, and the whole houſe of Judah, ſaith the Lord; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praiſe, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

12 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak unto them this word; Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Every bottle ſhall be filled with wine; and they ſhall ſay unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle ſhall be filled with wine?

13 Then ſhalt thou ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that ſit upon David's throne, and the prieſts, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, with drunkenneſs.

14 And I will daſh them one againſt another, even the fathers and the ſons together, ſaith the Lord; I will not pity, nor ſpare, nor have mercy, but deſtroy them.

15 Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud; for the Lord hath ſpoken.

16 Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cauſe darkneſs, and before your feet ſtumble upon the dark mountains, and while ye look for light, he turn it into the ſhadow of death, and make it groſs darkneſs.

17 But if ye will not hear it, my ſoul ſhall weep in ſecret places for your pride; and mine eyes ſhall weep ſore, and run down with tears, becauſe the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the king, and to the queen, Humble yourſelves, ſit down: for your principalities ſhall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the ſouth ſhall be ſhut up, and none ſhall open them: Judah ſhall be carried away captive all of it, it ſhall be wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou ſay when he ſhall puniſh thee? (for thou haſt taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee) ſhall not ſorrows take thee as a woman in travail?

an

22 And if thou ſay in thine heart, Wherefore come theſe things upon me? For the greatneſs of thine iniquity are thy ſkirts diſcovered, and thy heels made bare.

23 Can the Ethiopian change his ſkin, or the leopard his ſpots? then may ye alſo do good, that are accuſtomed to do evil.

24 Therefore will I ſcatter them as the ſtubble that paſſeth away by the wind of the wilderneſs.

25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy meaſures from me, ſaith the Lord; becauſe thou haſt forgotten me, and truſted in falſehood.

26 Therefore will I diſcover thy ſkirts upon thy face, that thy ſhame may appear.

27 I have ſeen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdneſs of thy whoredom, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Jeruſalem! wilt thou not be made clean? when ſhall it once be?

CHAP. XIV.

The grievous famine cauſeth Jeremiah to pray. The Lord will not be intreated for the people. Lying prophets are no excuſe for them. Jeremiah is moved to complain for them.

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah concerning the dearth.

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languiſh; they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Jeruſalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have ſent their little ones to the waters: they came to the pits, and found no water; they returned with their veſſels empty: they were aſhamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 Becauſe the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth: the plowmen were aſhamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hind alſo calved in the field, and forſook it, becauſe there was no graſs.

6 And the wild aſſes did ſtand in the high places, they ſnuffed up the wind like dragons; their eyes did fail, becauſe there was nó graſs.

7 O Lord, though our iniquities teſtify againſt us, do thou it for thy name's ſake: for our backſlidings are many; we have ſinned againſt thee.

8 O the hope of Iſrael, the ſaviour thereof in the time of trouble, why ſhouldeſt thou be as a ſtranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aſide to tarry for a night?

9 Why ſhouldeſt thou be as a man aſtoniſhed, as a mighty man that cannot ſave? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midſt of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord doth not accept them; he will now remember their iniquity, and viſit their ſins.

11 Then ſaid the Lord unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.

12 When they faſt, I will not hear their cry: and when they offer burnt-offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will conſume them by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

13 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God! behold, the prophets ſay unto them, Ye ſhall not ſee the ſword, neither ſhall ye have famine; but I will give you aſſured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord ſaid unto me, The prophets propheſy lies in my name: I ſent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither ſpake unto them; they propheſy unto you a falſe viſion, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord concerning the prophets that propheſy in my name, and I ſent them not, yet they ſay, Sword and famine ſhall not be in this land; By ſword and famine ſhall thoſe prophets be conſumed.

16 And the people to whom they propheſy ſhall be caſt out in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, becauſe of the famine, and the ſword; and they ſhall have none to bury them, their wives, nor their ſons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedneſs upon them.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this word unto them; Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not ceaſe: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the ſlain with the ſword; and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are ſick with famine; yea, both the prophet and the prieſt go about into a land that they know not.

19 Haſt thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy ſoul loathed Zion? why haſt thou ſmitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold, trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedneſs, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have ſinned againſt thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's ſake, do not diſgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cauſe rain? or can the heavens give ſhowers? art not thou he, O Lord our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou haſt made all theſe things.

CHAP. XV.

The utter rejection and manifold judgments of the Jews. Jeremiah, complaining of their spite, receiveth a promise for himself, and a threatening for them: he prayeth, and receiveth a gracious promise.

THEN said the Lord unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whether shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the Lord; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the Lord: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear; and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth; because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

5 For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land: I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men, a spoiler at noon-day: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 She that hath borne seven, languisheth: she hath given up the ghost, her sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife, and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury, yet every one of them doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily, I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall iron break the northern iron, and the steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies, into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy long-suffering: know, that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone, because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual? and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brazen wall: and they shall fight against thee: but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAP. XVI.

The prophet foreshoweth the utter ruin of the Jews, because they were worse than their fathers: and their return from captivity shall be more strange than their deliverance out of Egypt.

THE word of the Lord came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons, and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, andconcerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land;

4 They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented; neither shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor bemoan bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even loving-kindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink, for their father, or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them; and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law:

12 And ye have done worse than your fathers; for behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land, into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night, where I will not shew you favour.

14 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, The lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity, and their sin double, because they have defiled my land; they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O Lord, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is The Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

The captivity of Judah for her sin. The deceitful heart cannot deceive God. The prophet complaineth of the mockers of his prophecy.

THE sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

2 Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field! I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high-places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

5 Thus saith the Lord; Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desart, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh; but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 A glo-

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning, is the place of our ſanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Iſrael, all that forſake thee ſhall be aſhamed, and they that depart from me ſhall be written in the earth; becauſe they have forſaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I ſhall be healed; ſave me, and I ſhall be ſaved: for thou art my praiſe.

15 Behold, they ſay unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 As for me, I have not haſtened from being a paſtor to follow thee: neither have I deſired the woeful day; thou knoweſt: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let them be confounded that perſecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be diſmayed, but let not me be diſmayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and deſtroy them with double deſtruction.

19 Thus ſaid the Lord unto me; Go and ſtand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jeruſalem;

20 And ſay unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, that enter in by theſe gates:

21 Thus ſaith the Lord; Take heed to yourſelves, and bear no burden on the ſabbath-day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jeruſalem;

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houſes on the ſabbath-day, neither do ye any work; but hallow ye the ſabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck ſtiff, that they might not hear, nor receive inſtruction.

24 And it ſhall come to paſs, if ye diligently hearken unto me, ſaith the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the ſabbath-day, but hallow the ſabbath-day, to do no work therein;

25 Then ſhall there enter into the gates of this city, kings and princes ſitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem; and this city ſhall remain for ever.

26 And they ſhall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jeruſalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the ſouth, bringing burnt-offerings, and ſacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incenſe, and bringing ſacrifices of praiſe unto the houſe of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me, to hallow the ſabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jeruſalem on the ſabbath-day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it ſhall devour the palaces of Jeruſalem, and it ſhall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

Under the type of a potter, is ſhewed God's abſolute power in diſpoſing of nations. Judgments threatened to Judah for her ſtrange revolt.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, and go down to the potter's houſe, and there I will cauſe thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's houſe, and behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the veſſel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter: ſo he made it again another veſſel, as ſeemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

6 O houſe of Iſrael, cannot I do with you as this potter? ſaith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, ſo are ye in mine hand, O houſe of Iſrael.

7 At what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to deſtroy it;

8 If that nation againſt whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it;

10 If it do evil in my ſight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good wherewith I ſaid I would benefit them.

11 Now therefore, go to, ſpeak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I frame evil againſt you, and deviſe a device againſt you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

12 And they ſaid, There is no hope; but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Aſk ye now among the heathen, who hath heard ſuch things? the virgin of Iſrael hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Will a man leave the ſnow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rock of the field? or ſhall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forſaken?

15 Becauſe my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incenſe to vanity, and they have cauſed them to ſtumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in paths in a way not caſt up;

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

18 Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows; and let their men be put to death, let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet, Lord, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

Under the type of breaking a potter's vessel, is foreshewed the desolation of the Jews for their sins.

THUS saith the Lord, Go, and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests;

2 And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the east-gate, and proclain there the words that I shall tell thee:

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

5 They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind:

6 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss, because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons, and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and straightness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, shall be defiled, as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the Lord had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the Lord's house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all her towns, all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAP. XX.

Pashur smiting Jeremiah, receiveth a new name, and a fearful doom. Jeremiah complaineth of contempt, of treachery, and of his birth.

NOW Pashur the son of Immer the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.

2 Then

2 Then Paſhur ſmote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the ſtocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the houſe of the Lord.

3 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that Paſhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the ſtocks. Then ſaid Jeremiah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Paſhur, but Magor-miſſabib.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyſelf, and to all thy friends: and they ſhall fall by the ſword of their enemies, and thine eyes ſhall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall carry them captive into Babylon, and ſhall ſlay them with the ſword.

5 Moreover, I will deliver all the ſtrength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treaſures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which ſhall ſpoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

6 And thou, Paſhur, and all that dwell in thine houſe, ſhalt go into captivity: and thou ſhalt come to Babylon, and there thou ſhalt die, and ſhalt be buried there, thou, and all thy frends, to whom thou haſt propheſied lies.

7 O Lord, thou haſt deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art ſtronger than I, and haſt prevailed: I am in deriſion daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For ſince I ſpake, I cried out, I cried Violence and ſpoil; becauſe the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and a deriſion daily.

9 Then I ſaid, I will not make mention of him, nor ſpake any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning-fire ſhut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not ſtay.

10 For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every ſide. Report, ſay they, and we will report it. All my familiars watched for my halting, ſaying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we ſhall prevail againſt him, and we ſhall take our revenge on him.

11 But the Lord is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my perſecutors ſhall ſtumble, and they ſhall not prevail: they ſhall be greatly aſhamed; for they ſhall not proſper: their everlaſting confuſion ſhall never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hoſts, that trieſt the righteous, and ſeeſt the reins and the heart, let me ſee thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cauſe.

13 Sing unto the Lord, praiſe ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the ſoul of the poor from the hand of evil-doers.

14 Curſed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be bleſſed.

15 Curſed be the man who brought tidings to my father, ſaying, A man-child is born unto thee, making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the Lord overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the ſhouting at noon-tide;

17 Becauſe he ſlew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb always great with me.

18 Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to ſee labour and ſorrow, that my days ſhould be conſumed with ſhame?

CHAP. XXI.

Zedekiah ſendeth to Jeremiah to enquire the event of Nebuchadrezzar's war. Jeremiah foretelleth a hard ſiege, and miſerable captivity.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah ſent unto him Paſhur the ſon of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the ſon of Maaſeiah the prieſt, ſaying,

2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us, for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war againſt us; if ſo be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wonderous works, that he may go up from us.

3 Then ſaid Jeremiah unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to Zedekiah;

4 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight againſt the king of Babylon, and againſt the Chaldeans, which beſiege you without the walls; and I will aſſemble them into the midſt of this city.

5 And I myſelf will fight againſt you with an out-ſtretched hand, and with a ſtrong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will ſmite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beaſt: they ſhall die of a great peſtilence.

7 And afterwards, ſaith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his ſervants, and the people, and ſuch as are left in this city from the peſtilence, from the ſword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thoſe that ſeek their life: and he ſhall ſmite them with the edge of the ſword; he ſhall not ſpare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 And unto this people thou ſhalt ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord: Behold, I ſet before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this city ſhall die by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chaldeans that beſiege you, he ſhall live, and his life ſhall be unto him for a prey.

10 For I have ſet my face againſt this city for evil, and not for good, ſaith the Lord: it ſhall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall burn it with fire.

11 And touching the houſe of the king of Judah, ſay, Hear ye the word of the Lord:

12 O houſe of David, thus ſaith the Lord; Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is ſpoiled out of the hand of the oppreſſor, leſt my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, becauſe of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, I am againſt thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, ſaith the Lord; which ſay, Who ſhall come down againſt us? or, Who ſhall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will puniſh you according to the fruit of your doings, ſaith the Lord: and I will kindle a fire in the foreſt thereof, and it ſhall devour all things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

Jeremiah exhorteth to repentance with promiſes and threats. The judgment of Shallum, of Jehoiakim, and of Coniah.

THUS ſaith the Lord; Go down to the houſe of the king of Judah, and ſpeak there this word,

2 And ſay, Hear the word of the Lord, O king of Judah, that ſitteſt upon the throne of David, thou, and thy ſervants, and thy people that enter in by theſe gates:

3 Thus ſaith the Lord; Execute ye judgment and righteouſneſs, and deliver the ſpoiled out of the hand of the oppreſſor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the ſtranger, the fatherleſs, nor the widow, neither ſhed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed, then ſhall there enter in by the gates of this houſe, kings ſitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, he, and his ſervants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear theſe words, I ſwear by myſelf, ſaith the Lord, that this houſe ſhall become a deſolation.

6 For thus ſaith the Lord unto the king's houſe of Judah, Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon; yet ſurely I will make thee a wilderneſs, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, every one with his weapons: and they ſhall cut down thy choice cedars, and caſt them into the fire.

8 And many nations ſhall paſs by this city, and they ſhall ſay every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they have forſaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worſhipped other gods, and ſerved them.

10 Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him; but weep ſore for him that goeth away: for he ſhall return no more, nor ſee his native country.

11 For thus ſaith the Lord, touching Shallum, the ſon of Joſiah, king of Judah, which reigned inſtead of Joſiah his father, which went forth out of this place; He ſhall not return thither any more;

12 But he ſhall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and ſhall ſee this land no more;

13 Woe unto him that buildeth this houſe by unrighteouſneſs, and his chambers by wrong; that uſeth his neighbour's ſervice without wages, and giveth him not for his work;

14 That ſaith, I will build me a wide houſe, and large chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reign, becauſe thou cloſeſt thyſelf in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, do judgment and juſtice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cauſe of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? ſaith the Lord.

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetouſneſs, and for to ſhed innocent blood, and for oppreſſion, and for violence to do it.

18 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah; They ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah my brother! or, Ah ſiſter! they ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory!

19 He ſhall be buried with the burial of an aſs, drawn and caſt forth beyond the gates of Jeruſalem.

20 Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Baſhan, and cry from the paſſages: for all thy lovers are deſtroyed.

21 I ſpake unto thee in thy proſperity; but thou ſaidſt, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedſt not my voice.

22 The wind ſhall eat up all thy paſtors, and thy lovers ſhall go into captivity: ſurely then ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded, for all thy wickedneſs.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makeſt thy neſt in the cedars, how gracious ſhalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence;

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest; even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth! hear the word of the Lord:

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXIII.

He propheſieth a reſtoration of the ſcattered flock. Chriſt ſhall rule and ſave them. Againſt falſe prophets, and mockers of true prophets.

WOE be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people; Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up shepherds over them, which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

8 But, the Lord liveth, which brought up, and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north-country, and from all countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Mine heart within me is broken, because of the prophets; all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the Lord, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for because of swearing the land mourneth: the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evil doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: They make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you:

18 For who hath stood in the counsel of the Lord, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a whirlwind of the Lord is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But

22 But if they had ſtood in my counſel, and had cauſed my people to hear my words, then they ſhould have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, ſaith the Lord, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any hide himſelf in ſecret places, that I ſhall not ſee him? ſaith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? ſaith the Lord.

25 I have heard what the prophets ſaid, that propheſy lies in my name, ſaying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long ſhall this be in the heart of the prophets that propheſy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to cauſe my people to forget my name by their dreams, which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name, for Baal.

28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him ſpeak my word faithfully: What is the chaff to the wheat? ſaith the Lord.

29 Is not my word like as a fire? ſaith the Lord; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, I am againſt the prophets, ſaith the Lord, that ſteal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am againſt the prophets, ſaith the Lord, that uſe their tongues, and ſay, He ſaith.

32 Behold, I am againſt them that propheſy falſe dreams, ſaith the Lord, and do tell them, and cauſe my people to err by their lies, and by their lightneſs; yet I ſent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they ſhall not profit this people at all, ſaith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a prieſt ſhall aſk thee, ſaying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou ſhalt then ſay unto them, What burden? I will even forſake you, ſaith the Lord.

34 And as for the prophet, and the prieſt, and the people that ſhall ſay, The burden of the Lord; I will even puniſh that man and his houſe.

35 Thus ſhall ye ſay every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the Lord anſwered? and, What hath the Lord ſpoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord ſhall ye mention no more; for every man's word ſhall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the Lord of hoſts our God.

37 Thus ſhalt thou ſay to the prophet, What hath the Lord anſwered thee? and, What hath the Lord ſpoken?

38 But ſince ye ſay, The burden of the Lord; therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Becauſe ye ſay this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have ſent unto you ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſay, The burden of the Lord;

39 Therefore behold, I, even I will utterly forget you, and I will forſake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and caſt you out of my preſence:

40 And I will bring an everlaſting reproach upon you, and a perpetual ſhame, which ſhall not be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIV.

Under the type of good and bad figs, the prophet foreſheweth the reſtoration of them that were in captivity, and the deſolation of Zedekiah and the reſt.

THE Lord ſhewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were ſet before the temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah, the ſon of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and ſmiths from Jeruſalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

2 One baſket had very good figs, even like the figs that are firſt ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were ſo bad.

3 Then ſaid the Lord unto me, What ſeeſt thou, Jeremiah? and I ſaid, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are ſo evil.

4 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

5 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael; Like theſe good figs, ſo will I acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have ſent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.

6 For I will ſet mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God: for they ſhall return unto me with their whole heart.

8 And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are ſo evil, ſurely thus ſaith the Lord; So will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the reſidue of Jeruſalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curſe, in all places whither I ſhall drive them.

10 And I will ſend the ſword, the famine, and the peſtilence among them, till they be conſumed from from off the land that I gave unto them, and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

Jeremiah reproving the disobedience of the Jews, to the prophets, foretelleth the seventy years captivity, and after that, the destruction of Babylon: and under the type of a cup of wine, he foreshewth the destruction of all nations.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah; that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon;

2 The which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day (that is the three and twentieth year), the word of the Lord hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear.

5 They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever:

6 And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the Lord; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts; Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the mill-stones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years (z).

12 And it shall come to pass when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto me; Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the Lord's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse; as it is this day:

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people,

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,

21 Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon,

22 And all the kings of Tyrus, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isles which are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the utmost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the

(z) Not only the captivity and restoration of the two tribes were foretold, but the precise time of that captivity and restoration was also prefixed and determined by our prophet. This prophecy was delivered in the fourth year of Jehoiakim; and this same year it began to be put in execution; for Nebuchadrezzar invaded Judea, besieged and took Jerusalem, and made Jehoiakim his subject and tributary; transported the finest children of the royal family, and of the nobility to Babylon, to be bred up there for eunuchs and slaves in his palace, and also carried away the vessels of the house of the Lord, and put them in the temple of his god at Babylon. Seventy years from this time will bring us down to the first year of Cyrus, when he made his proclamation for the restoration of the Jews, and for the rebuilding of the temple of Jerusalem. This computation of the seventy years, appears to be the truest and most agreeable to Scripture. But if you fix the commencement of these seventy years at the time when Jerusalem was kings of the mingled people that dwell in the deſart,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes,

26 And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheſhach ſhall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Drink ye, and be drunken, and ſpue, and fall, and riſe no more, becauſe of the ſword which I will ſend among you.

28 And it ſhall be, if they refuſe to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then ſhalt thou ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; Ye ſhall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evil on the city which is called by my name, and ſhould ye be utterly unpuniſhed? Ye ſhall not be unpuniſhed: for I will call for a ſword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

30 Therefore propheſy thou againſt them all theſe words, and ſay unto them, The Lord ſhall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he ſhall mightily roar upon his habitation; he ſhall give a ſhout, as they that tread the grapes, againſt all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noiſe ſhall come even to the ends of the earth; for the Lord hath a controverſy with the nations; he will plead with all fleſh; he will give them that are wicked to the ſword, ſaith the Lord.

32 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; Behold, evil ſhall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind ſhall be raiſed up from the coaſts of the earth.

33 And the ſlain of the Lord ſhall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they ſhall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they ſhall be dung upon the ground.

34 Howl, ye ſhepherds, and cry; and wallow yourſelves in the aſhes, ye principal of the flock; for the days of your ſlaughter, and of your diſperſions, are accompliſhed; and ye ſhall fall like a pleaſant veſſel.

35 And the ſhepherds ſhall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to eſcape.

36 A voice of the cry of the ſhepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock ſhall be heard: for the Lord hath ſpoiled their paſture.

37 And the peaceable habitations are cut down, becauſe of the fierce anger of the Lord.

38 He hath forſaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is deſolate, becauſe of the fierceneſs of the oppreſſor, and becauſe of his fierce anger.

CHAP. XXVI.

Jeremiah, by promiſes and threatenings, exhorteth to repentance: he is therefore apprehended, and arraigned: his apology: he is quit in judgment, by the example of Micah, and of Urijah, and by the care of Ahikam.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, came this word from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord; Stand in the court of the Lord's houſe, and ſpeak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worſhip in the Lord's houſe, all the words that I command thee to ſpeak unto them; diminiſh not a word:

3 If ſo be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may repent me of the evil which I purpoſe to do unto them, becauſe of the evil of their doings.

4 And thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord: If ye will not hearken to me to walk in my law, which I have ſet before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my ſervants the prophets, whom I ſent unto you, both riſing up early, and ſending them, (but ye have not hearkened;)

6 Then will I make this houſe like Shiloh, and will make this city a curſe to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the prieſts and the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah ſpeaking theſe words in the houſe of the Lord.

8 Now it came to paſs, when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking all that the Lord had commanded him to ſpeak unto all the people, that the prieſts, and the prophets, and all the people took him, ſaying, Thou ſhalt ſurely die.

9 Why haſt thou propheſied in the name of the Lord, ſaying, This houſe ſhall be like Shiloh, and this city ſhall be deſolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered againſt Jeremiah in the houſe of the Lord.

10 When the princes of Judah heard theſe things, then they came up from the king's houſe burned and deſtroyed, their concluſion will fall about the time when Darius iſſued his decree for rebuilding the temple, after the work had been ſtopped and ſuſpended; or, if you fix their commencement at the time when Nebuzaradan carried away the remainder of the people, and compleated the deſolation of the land, their concluſion will fall about the time when the temple was finiſhed and dedicated, and the firſt paſſover ſolemnized in it. So that, as Dean Prideaux obſerves, taking it which way you will, and at what ſtage you will, the prophecy of Jeremiah will be fully and exactly compleated concerning this matter. It may be ſaid to have been accompliſhed at three different times, and in three different manners; and therefore poſſibly all might have been intended, though the firſt, without doubt, was the principal ſubject of the prophecy. See Bp. Newton's Diſſertation, vol. i. p. 201.

unto the houſe of the Lord, and ſat down in the entry of the new gate of the Lord's houſe.

11 Then ſpake the prieſts and the prophets unto the princes, and to all the people, ſaying, This man is worthy to die; for he hath propheſied againſt this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 Then ſpake Jeremiah unto all the princes, and to all the people, ſaying, The Lord ſent me to prophecy againſt this houſe, and againſt this city, all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God; and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced againſt you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as ſeemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye ſhall ſurely bring innocent blood upon yourſelves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath ſent me unto you, to ſpeak all theſe words in your ears.

16 Then ſaid the princes and all the people unto the prieſts, and to the prophets; This man is not worthy to die: for he hath ſpoken to us in the name of the Lord our God.

17 Then roſe up certain of the elders of the land, and ſpake to all the aſſembly of the people, ſaying,

18 Micah the Moraſthite propheſied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and ſpake to all the people of Judah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; Zion ſhall be plowed like a field, and Jeruſalem ſhall become heaps, and the mountain of the houſe as the high places of the foreſt.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah, and all Judah, put him at all to death? did he not fear the Lord, and beſought the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the evil which he had pronounced againſt them? Thus might we procure great evil againſt our ſoul.

20 And there was alſo a man that propheſied in the name of the Lord, Urijah the ſon of Shemaiah, of Kirjath-jearim, who propheſied againſt this city, and againſt this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king ſought to put him to death: but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt;

22 And Jehoiakim the king ſent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the ſon of Achbor, and certain men with him into Egypt.

23 And they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who ſlew him with the ſword, and caſt his dead body into the graves of the common people.

24 Nevertheleſs, the hand of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, was with Jeremiah, that they ſhould not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

Under the type of bonds and yokes, Jeremiah propheſieth the ſubduing of the neighbouring kings unto Nebuchadnezzar: he exhorteth them not to believe falſe prophets.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord to me; Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,

3 And ſend them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the meſſengers which come to Jeruſalem, unto Zedekiah king of Judah;

4 And command them to ſay unto their maſters, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Thus ſhall ye ſay unto your maſters:

5 I have made the earth, the man and the beaſt that are upon the ground, by my great power, and by my out-ſtretched arm, and have given it unto whom it ſeemed meet unto me.

6 And now have I given all theſe lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, my ſervant; and the beaſts of the field have I given him alſo to ſerve him.

7 And all nations ſhall ſerve him, and his ſon, and his ſon's ſon, until the very time of his land come: and then many nations and great kings ſhall ſerve themſelves of him.

8 And it ſhall come to paſs, that the nation and kingdom which will not ſerve the ſame Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I puniſh, ſaith the Lord, with the ſword, and with the famine, and with the peſtilence, until I have conſumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore, hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your ſorcerers, which ſpeak unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the king of Babylon.

10 For they propheſy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I ſhould drive you out, and ye ſhould periſh.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerve him, thoſe will I let remain ſtill in their own land, ſaith the Lord; and they ſhall till it, and dwell therein.

12 I ſpake alſo to Zedekiah, king of Judah, according to all theſe words, ſaying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, as the Lord hath ſpoken againſt the nation that will not ſerve the king of Babylon?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that ſpeak unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the king of Babylon: for they propheſy a lie unto you.

15 For I have not ſent them, ſaith the Lord, yet they propheſy a lie in my name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might periſh, ye, and the prophets that propheſy unto you.

16 Alſo I ſpake to the prieſts, and to all this people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord; Hearken not to the words of your prophets, that propheſy unto you, ſaying, Behold, the veſſels of the Lord's houſe ſhall now ſhortly be brought again from Babylon: for they propheſy a lie unto you.

17 Hearken not unto them; ſerve the king of Babylon, and live; wherefore ſhould this city be laid waſte?

18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them now make interceſſion to the Lord of hoſts, that the veſſels which are left in the houſe of the Lord, and in the houſe of the king of Judah, and at Jeruſalem, go not to Babylon.

19 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts concerning the pillars, and concerning the ſea, and concerning the baſes, and concerning the reſidue of the veſſels that remain in this city,

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah, the ſon of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jeruſalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jeruſalem;

21 Yea, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, concerning the veſſels that remain in the houſe of the Lord, and in the houſe of the king of Judah, and of Jeruſalem, 22 They ſhall be carried to Babylon, and there ſhall they be until the day that I viſit them, ſaith the Lord; then will I bring them up, and reſtore them to this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Hananiah propheſieth falſely the return of the veſſels, and of Jeconiah. Jeremiah, wiſhing it to be true, ſheweth that the event will declare who are true prophets. Hananiah breaketh Jeremiah's yoke. Jeremiah telleth of an iron yoke, and foretelleth Hananiah's death.

AND it came to paſs the ſame year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hananiah, the ſon of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, ſpake unto me in the houſe of the Lord, in the preſence of the prieſts, and of all the people, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, ſaying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 Within two full years will I bring again unto this place all the veſſels of the Lord's houſe, that Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah, the ſon of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, ſaith the Lord: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the prophet Jeremiah ſaid unto the prophet Hananiah, in the preſence of the prieſts, and in the preſence of all the people that ſtood in the houſe of the Lord,

6 Even the prophet Jeremiah ſaid, Amen: the Lord do ſo: the Lord perform thy words which thou haſt propheſied, to bring again the veſſels of the Lord's houſe, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.

7 Nevertheleſs, hear thou now this word that I ſpake in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people;

8 The prophets that have been before me, and before thee of old, propheſied both againſt many countries, and againſt great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of peſtilence.

9 The prophet which propheſieth of peace, when the word of the prophet ſhall come to paſs, then ſhall the prophet be known, that the Lord hath truly ſent him.

10 Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord; Even ſo will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, from the neck of all nations within the ſpace of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the prophet, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah; ſaying, 13 Go, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord; Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood; but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all theſe nations, that they may ſerve Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon; and they ſhall ſerve him: and I have given him the beaſts of the field alſo.

15 Then

15 Then ſaid the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; The Lord hath not ſent thee; but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will caſt thee from off the face of the earth: this year ſhalt thou die, becauſe thou haſt taught rebellion againſt the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the ſame year in the ſeventh month.

CHAP. XXIX.

Jeremiah ſendeth a letter to the captives in Babylon, to be quiet there, and not to believe the dreams of their prophets, and they ſhall return with grace after ſeventy years; and ſheweth the fearful end of two lying prophets.

NOW theſe are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet ſent from Jeruſalem unto the reſidue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the prieſts, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jeruſalem to Babylon;

2 After that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah, and Jeruſalem, and the carpenters, and the ſmiths were departed from Jeruſalem;

3 By the hand of Elaſah, the ſon of Shaphan, and Gemariah, the ſon of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah, king of Judah, ſent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have cauſed to be carried away from Jeruſalem unto Babylon;

5 Build ye houſes, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take ye wives, and beget ſons and daughters; and take wives for your ſons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear ſons and daughters; that ye may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeek the peace of the city, whither I have cauſed you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall ye have peace.

8 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midſt of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cauſe to be dreamed.

9 For they propheſy falſely unto you in my name: I have not ſent them, ſaith the Lord.

10 For thus ſaith the Lord, that after ſeventy years be accompliſhed at Babylon, I will viſit you, and perform my good word towards you, in cauſing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, ſaith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

12 Then ſhall ye call upon me, and ye ſhall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye ſhall ſeek me, and find me, when ye ſhall ſearch for me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, ſaith the Lord, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, ſaith the Lord; and I will bring you again into the place whence I cauſed you to be carried away captive.

15 Becauſe ye have ſaid, The Lord hath raiſed us up prophets in Babylon;

16 Know that thus ſaith the Lord of the king that ſitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will ſend upon them the ſword, the famine, and the peſtilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are ſo evil.

18 And I will perſecute them with the ſword, with the famine, and with the peſtilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curſe, and an aſtoniſhment, and an hiſſing, and a reproach among all the nations whither I have driven them:

19 Becauſe they have not hearkened to my words, ſaith the Lord, which I ſent unto them by my ſervants the prophets, riſing up early, and ſending them; but ye would not hear, ſaith the Lord.

20 Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captivity, whom I have ſent from Jeruſalem to Babylon:

21 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, of Ahab, the ſon of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah, the ſon of Maaſeiah, which propheſy a lie unto you in my name; Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon; and he ſhall ſlay them before your eyes.

22 And of them ſhall be taken up a curſe by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, ſaying, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roaſted in the fire;

23 Becauſe they have committed villainy in Iſrael, and have committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and have ſpoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them; even I know, and am a witneſs, ſaith the Lord.

24 Thus ſhalt thou alſo ſpeak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, ſaying,

25 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt ſent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at

at Jeruſalem, and to Zephaniah, the ſon of Maaſeiah the prieſt, and to all the prieſts, ſaying,

26 The Lord hath made thee prieſt in the ſtead of Jehoiada the prieſt, that ye ſhould be officers in the houſe of the Lord, for every man that is mad, and maketh himſelf a prophet, that thou ſhouldeſt put him in priſon, and in the ſtocks:

27 Now therefore, why haſt thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himſelf a prophet to you?

28 For therefore he ſent unto us in Babylon, ſaying, This captivity is long: build ye houſes, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zephaniah the prieſt read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, ſaying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite; Becauſe that Shemaiah hath propheſied unto you, and I ſent him not, and he cauſed you to truſt in a lie:

32 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will puniſh Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his ſeed: he ſhall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither ſhall he behold the good that I will do for my people, ſaith the Lord; becauſe he hath taught rebellion againſt the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

God ſheweth Jeremiah the return of the Jews. After their trouble they ſhall have deliverance: he comforteth Jacob. Their return ſhall be gracious.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord God of Iſrael, ſaying, Write thee all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee in a book.

3 For lo, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Iſrael and Judah, ſaith the Lord: and I will cauſe them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they ſhall poſſeſs it.

4 And theſe are the words that the Lord ſpake concerning Iſrael, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus ſaith the Lord; We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.

6 Aſk ye now, and ſee whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I ſee every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleneſs?

7 Alas! for that day is great, ſo that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he ſhall be ſaved out of it.

8 For it ſhall come to paſs in that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burſt thy bonds, and ſtrangers ſhall no more ſerve themſelves of him.

9 But they ſhall ſerve the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raiſe up unto them.

10 Therefore fear thou not, O my ſervant Jacob, ſaith the Lord; neither be diſmayed, O Iſrael: for lo, I will ſave thee from afar, and thy ſeed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob ſhall return, and ſhall be in reſt and quiet, and none ſhall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, ſaith the Lord, to ſave thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have ſcattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee in meaſure, and will not leave thee altogether unpuniſhed.

12 For thus ſaith the Lord, Thy bruiſe is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cauſe, that thou mayeſt be bound up: thou haſt no healing medicines.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they ſeek thee not; for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chaſtiſement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity; becauſe thy ſins were increaſed.

15 Why crieſt thou for thine affliction? thy ſorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquity: becauſe thy ſins were increaſed, I have done theſe things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that devour thee ſhall be devoured; and all thine adverſaries, every one of them ſhall go into captivity; and they that ſpoil thee ſhall be a ſpoil, and all they that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.

17 For I will reſtore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, ſaith the Lord; becauſe they called thee an out-caſt, ſaying, This is Zion, whom no man ſeeketh after.

18 Thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwelling-places; and the city ſhall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace ſhall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them ſhall proceed thankſgiving, and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they ſhall not be few; I will alſo glorify them, and they ſhall not be ſmall.

20 Their children alſo ſhall be as aforetime, and their congregation ſhall be eſtabliſhed before me, and I will puniſh all that oppreſs them.

21 And their nobles ſhall be of themſelves, and their governor ſhall proceed from the midſt of them; and I will cauſe him to draw near, and he ſhall approach unto me: for who is this that that engaged his heart to approach unto me? ſaith the Lord.

22 And ye ſhall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the whirlwind of the Lord goeth forth with fury, a continuing whirlwind; it ſhall fall with pain upon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce anger of the Lord ſhall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye ſhall conſider it.

CHAP. XXXI.

The reſtoration of Iſrael. Rachel mourning is comforted. Ephraim repenting, is brought home. Chriſt is promiſed.

AT the ſame time, ſaith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Iſrael, and they ſhall be my people.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, The people which were left of the ſword, found grace in the wilderneſs; even Iſrael, when I went to cauſe him to reſt.

3 The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, ſaying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlaſting love: therefore with loving-kindneſs have I drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou ſhalt be built, O virgin of Iſrael: thou ſhalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and ſhalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5 Thou ſhalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria: the planters ſhall plant, and ſhall eat them as common things.

6 For there ſhall be a day, that the watchmen upon the mount Ephraim ſhall cry, Ariſe ye, and let us go up to Zion, unto the Lord our God.

7 For thus ſaith the Lord; Sing with gladneſs for Jacob, and ſhout among the chief of the nations: publiſh ye, praiſe ye, and ſay, O Lord, ſave thy people, the remnant of Iſrael.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coaſts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child, and her that travaileth with child together: a great company ſhall return thither.

9 They ſhall come with weeping, and with ſupplications will I lead them: I will cauſe them to walk by the rivers of waters in a ſtraight way wherein they ſhall not ſtumble; for I am a father to Iſrael, and Ephraim is my firſt-born.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the iſles afar off, and ſay, He that ſcattered Iſrael will gather him, and keep him, as a ſhepherd doth his flock.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ranſomed him from the hand of him that was ſtronger than he.

12 Therefore they ſhall come and ſing in the height of Zion, and ſhall flow together to the goodneſs of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their ſoul ſhall be as a watered garden, and they ſhall not ſorrow any more at all.

13 Then ſhall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their ſorrow.

14 And I will ſatiate the ſoul of the prieſts with fatneſs, and my people ſhall be ſatisfied with my goodneſs, ſaith the Lord.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord, A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping; Rachel, weeping for her children, refuſed to be comforted for her children, becauſe they were not.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work ſhall be rewarded, ſaith the Lord; and they ſhall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, ſaith the Lord, that thy children ſhall come again to their own border.

18 I have ſurely heard Ephraim bemoaning himſelf thus; Thou haſt chaſtiſed me, and I was chaſtiſed, as a bullock unaccuſtomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I ſhall be turned; for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely, after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was inſtructed, I ſmote upon my thigh: I was aſhamed, yea, even confounded, becauſe I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my dear ſon? is he a pleaſant child? for ſince I ſpake againſt him, I do earneſtly remember him ſtill: therefore my bowels are troubled for him; I will ſurely have mercy upon him, ſaith the Lord.

21 Set thee up way-marks, make thee high heaps: ſet thine heart toward the highway, even the way which thou wenteſt: turn again, O virgin of Iſrael, turn again to theſe thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go about, O thou backſliding daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman ſhall compaſs a man.

23 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; As yet they ſhall uſe this ſpeech in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I ſhall bring again their captivity; The Lord bleſs thee, O habitation of Juſtice, and mountain of holineſs.

24 And there ſhall dwell in Judah itſelf, and in all the cities thereof together, huſbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have ſatiated the weary ſoul, and I have repleniſhed every ſorrowful ſoul.

26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my ſleep was ſweet unto me.

27 Behold,

27 Behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will ſow the houſe of Iſrael, and the houſe of Judah, with the ſeed of man, and with the ſeed of beaſt.

28 And it ſhall come to paſs, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to deſtroy, and to afflict; ſo will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, ſaith the Lord.

29 In thoſe days they ſhall ſay no more, The fathers have eaten a ſour grape, and the children's teeth are ſet on edge.

30 But every one ſhall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the ſour grape, his teeth ſhall be ſet on edge.

31 Behold, the days, come, ſaith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the houſe of Iſrael, and with the houſe of Judah:

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt (which my covenant they brake, although I was an huſband unto them, ſaith the Lord:)

33 But this ſhall be the covenant that I will make with the houſe of Iſrael; After thoſe days, ſaith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

34 And they ſhall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, Know the Lord: for they ſhall all know me, from the leaſt of them unto the greateſt of them, ſaith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their ſin no more.

35 Thus ſaith the Lord, which giveth the ſun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the ſtars for a light by night, which divideth the ſea when the waves thereof roar; The Lord of hoſts is his name:

36 If thoſe ordinances depart from before me, ſaith the Lord, then the ſeed of Iſrael alſo ſhall ceaſe from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus ſaith the Lord, If heaven above can be meaſured, and the foundations of the earth ſearched out beneath, I will alſo caſt off all the ſeed of Iſrael, for all that they have done, ſaith the Lord.

38 Behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that the city ſhall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the meaſuring line ſhall yet go forth over againſt it, upon the hill Gareb, and ſhall compaſs about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the aſhes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, unto the corner of the horſe-gate towards the eaſt, ſhall be holy unto the Lord; it ſhall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah buyeth Hanameel's field. God comforteth the captives, and promiſeth them a gracious return.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth year of Zedekiah, king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar;

2 For then the king of Babylon's army beſieged Jeruſalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was ſhut up in the court of the priſon, which was in the king of Judah's houſe.

3 For Zedekiah, king of Judah, had ſhut him up, ſaying, Wherefore doſt thou propheſy, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall take it;

4 And Zedekiah, king of Judah, ſhall not eſcape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but ſhall ſurely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and ſhall ſpeak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes ſhall behold his eyes.

5 And he ſhall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there ſhall he be until I viſit him, ſaith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye ſhall not proſper.

6 And Jeremiah ſaid, The word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the ſon of Shallum, thine uncle, ſhall come unto thee, ſaying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hanameel, mine uncle's ſon, came to me in the court of the priſon, according to the word of the Lord, and ſaid unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyſelf. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, my uncle's ſon, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, even ſeventeen ſhekels of ſilver.

10 And I ſubſcribed the evidence, and ſealed it, and took witneſſes, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchaſe, both that which was ſealed according to the law and cuſtom, and that which was open:

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchaſe unto Baruch, the ſon of Neriah, the ſon of Maaſeiah, in the ſight of Hanameel, mine uncle's ſon, and in the preſence of the witneſſes that ſubſcribed the book of the purchaſe, before all the Jews that ſat in the court of the priſon.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, ſaying,

14 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Take theſe evidences, this evidence of the purchaſe, both which is ſealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen veſſel, that they may continue many days.

15 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Houſes, and fields, and vineyards, ſhall be poſſeſſed again in this land.

16 Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchaſe unto Baruch the ſon of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, ſaying,

17 Ah, Lord God, behold, thou haſt made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and ſtretched-out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee:

18 Thou ſheweſt loving-kindneſs unto thouſands, and recompenſeſt the iniquity of the fathers into the boſom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hoſts is his name,

19 Great in counſel, and mighty in work, (for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the ſons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:)

20 Which haſt ſet ſigns and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Iſrael, and amongſt other men; and haſt made thee a name, as at this day;

21 And haſt brought forth thy people Iſrael out of the land of Egypt, with ſigns and with wonders, and with a ſtrong hand, and with a ſtretched-out arm, and with great terror;

22 And haſt given them this land, which thou didſt ſwear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey;

23 And they came in and poſſeſſed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedſt them to do: therefore thou haſt cauſed all this evil to come upon them:

24 Behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight againſt it, becauſe of the ſword, and of the famine, and of the peſtilence: and what thou haſt ſpoken is come to paſs; and behold, thou ſeeſt it.

25 And thou haſt ſaid unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and take witneſſes; for the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, ſaying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all fleſh: Is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and he ſhall take it:

29 And the Chaldeans, that fight againſt this city ſhall come and ſet fire on this city, and burn it with the houſes, upon whoſe roofs they have offered incenſe unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Judah, have only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Iſrael have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, ſaith the Lord.

31 For this city hath been to me, as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury, from the day that they built it, even unto this day; that I ſhould remove it from before my face:

32 Becauſe of all the evil of the children of Iſrael, and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their prieſts, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them riſing up early, and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive inſtruction.

34 But they ſet their abominations in the houſe which is called by my name, to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the ſon of Hinnon, to cauſe their ſons and their daughters to paſs through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they ſhould do this abomination to cauſe Judah to ſin.

36 And now therefore thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael, concerning this city, whereof ye ſay, It ſhall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence;

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cauſe them to dwell ſafely:

38 And they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an everlaſting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land aſſuredly, with my whole heart, and with my whole ſoul.

42 For thus ſaith the Lord; Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, ſo will I bring upon them all the good that I have promiſed them.

43 And fields ſhall be bought in this land, whereof ye ſay, It is deſolate without man or beaſt; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 Men ſhall buy fields for money, and ſubſcribe evidences, and ſeal them, and take witneſſes in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jeruſalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the ſouth: for I will cauſe their captivity to return, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

God promiſeth to the captivity a gracious return, a joyful ſtate, a ſettled government, Chriſt, the branch of righteouſneſs, and continuance of kingdom and prieſthood.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the ſecond time, while he was yet ſhut up in the court of the priſon, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it to eſtabliſh it; the Lord is his name;

3 Call unto me, and I will anſwer thee, and ſhew thee great and mighty things, which thou knoweſt not.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael, concerning the houſes of this city, and concerning the houſes of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by the mounts, and by the ſword;

5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have ſlain in mine anger, and in my fury, and for all whoſe wickedneſs I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cauſe the captivity of Judah, and the captivity of Iſrael to return, and will build them as at the firſt.

8 And I will cleanſe them from all their iniquity, whereby they have ſinned againſt me; and I will pardon all their iniquities whereby they have ſinned, and whereby they have tranſgreſſed againſt me.

9 And it ſhall be to me a name of joy, a praiſe and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which ſhall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they ſhall fear and tremble for all the goodneſs, and for all the proſperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord; Again there ſhall be heard in this place, (which ye ſay ſhall be deſolate, without man and without beaſt, even in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, that are deſolate without man and without inhabitant, and without beaſt;)

11 The voice of joy and the voice of gladneſs, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that ſhall ſay, Praiſe the Lord of hoſts; for the Lord is good, for his mercy endureth for ever; and of them that ſhall bring the ſacrifice of praiſe into the houſe of the Lord. For I will cauſe to return the captivity of the land, as at the firſt, ſaith the Lord.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: Again in this place, which is deſolate without man and without beaſt, and in all the cities thereof, ſhall be an habitation of ſhepherds cauſing their flocks to lie down.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the ſouth, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jeruſalem, and in the cities of Judah, ſhall the flocks paſs again under the hands of him that telleth them, ſaith the Lord.

14 Behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promiſed unto the houſe of Iſrael, and to the houſe of Judah.

15 In thoſe days, and at that time, will I cauſe the branch of Righteouſneſs to grow up unto David; and he ſhall execute judgment and righteouſneſs in the land.

16 In thoſe days ſhall Judah be ſaved, and Jeruſalem ſhall dwell ſafely: and this is the name wherewith ſhe ſhall be called, The Lord our righteouſneſs.

17 For thus ſaith the Lord; David ſhall never want a man to ſit upon the throne of the houſe of Iſrael;

18 Neither ſhall the prieſts the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt-offerings, and to kindle meat-offerings, and to do ſacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, ſaying,

20 Thus ſaith the Lord; If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there ſhould not be day and night in their ſeaſon;

21 Then may alſo my covenant be broken with David my ſervant, that he ſhould not have a ſon to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the prieſts, my miniſters.

22 As the hoſt of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the ſand of the ſea meaſured; ſo will I multiply the ſeed of David my ſervant, and the Levites that miniſter unto me.

23 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, ſaying,

24 Conſidereſt thou not what this people have ſpoken, ſaying, The two families which the Lord hath choſen, he hath even caſt them off? thus have they deſpiſed my people, that they ſhould be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord; If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth;

26 Then

26 Then will I caſt away the ſeed of Jacob, and David my ſervant, ſo that I will not take any of his ſeed to be rulers over the ſeed of Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob; for I will cauſe their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Jeremiah propheſieth the captivity of Zedekiah and of the city; who, for their diſobedience, are given into the hands of their enemies.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth of his dominion, and all the people fought againſt Jeruſalem, and againſt all the cities thereof, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael; Go, and ſpeak to Zedekiah, king of Judah, and tell him, Thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall burn it with fire:

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape out of his hand, but ſhalt ſurely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes ſhall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall ſpeak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou ſhalt go to Babylon.

4 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, king of Judah; Thus ſaith the Lord of thee, Thou ſhalt not die by the ſword:

5 But thou ſhalt die in peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, ſo ſhall they burn odours for thee; and they will lament thee, ſaying, Ah, lord! for I have pronounced the word, ſaith the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet ſpake all theſe words unto Zedekiah, king of Judah, in Jeruſalem,

7 When the king of Babylon's army fought againſt Jeruſalem, and againſt all the cities of Judah that were left, againſt Lachiſh, and againſt Azekah; (for theſe defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.)

8 This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jeruſalem, to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man ſhould let his man-ſervant, and every man his maid-ſervant, being an Hebrew or an Hebreweſs go free; that none ſhould ſerve himſelf of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one ſhould let his man-ſervant, and every one his maid-ſervant go free, that none ſhould ſerve themſelves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.

11 But afterwards they turned, and cauſed the ſervants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return; and brought them into ſubjection for ſervants and for handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

13 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael; I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondmen, ſaying,

14 At the end of ſeven years, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which hath been ſold unto thee; and when he hath ſerved thee ſix years, thou ſhalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my ſight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the houſe which is called by my name.

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and cauſed every man his ſervant, and every man his handmaid, whom he had ſet at liberty at their pleaſure, to return, and brought them into ſubjection, to be unto you for ſervants and for handmaids.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Ye have not hearkened unto me in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: Behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, ſaith the Lord, to the ſword, to the peſtilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have tranſgreſſed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and paſſed between the parts thereof,

19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jeruſalem, the eunuchs, and the prieſts, and all the people of the land, which paſſed between the parts of the calf,

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek their life: and their dead bodies ſhall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beaſts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes, will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, ſaith the Lord, and cauſe them to return to this city; and they ſhall fight againſt it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a deſolation without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

Jeremiah condemneth the diſobedience of the Jews. God bleſſeth the Rechabites for their obedience.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the days of Jehoiakim, the ſon of Joſiah, king of Judah, ſaying,

2 Go unto the houſe of the Rechabites, and ſpeak unto them, and bring them into the houſe of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jaazaniah, the ſon of Jeremiah, the ſon of Habazaniah and his brethren, and all his ſons, and the whole houſe of the Rechabites;

4 And I brought them into the houſe of the Lord, into the chamber of the ſons of Hanan, the ſon of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaſeiah, the ſon of Shallum, the keeper of the door:

5 And I ſet before the ſons of the houſe of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups; and I ſaid unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they ſaid, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab, the ſon of Rechab our father, commanded us, ſaying, Ye ſhall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your ſons for ever:

7 Neither ſhall ye build houſe, nor ſow ſeed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye ſhall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land where ye be ſtrangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab, the ſon of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our ſons, nor our daughters;

9 Nor to build houſes for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor ſeed;

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But it came to paſs, when Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came up into the land, that we ſaid, Come, and let us go to Jeruſalem, for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians. So we dwell at Jeruſalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, ſaying,

13 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Go, and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Will ye not receive inſtruction to hearken to my words? ſaith the Lord.

14 The words of Jonadab the ſon of Rechab, that he commanded his ſons not to drink wine, are performed; for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: notwithſtanding, I have ſpoken unto you, riſing early, and ſpeaking; but ye hearkened not unto me.

15 I have ſent alſo unto you all my ſervants the prophets, riſing up early, and ſending them, ſaying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to ſerve them, and ye ſhall dwell in the land which I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

16 Becauſe the ſons of Jonadab, the ſon of Rechab, have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them; but this people hath not hearkened unto me:

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, all the evil that I have pronounced againſt them: becauſe I have ſpoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not anſwered.

18 And Jeremiah ſaid unto the houſe of the Rechabites, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Becauſe ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Jonadab, the ſon of Rechab, ſhall not want a man to ſtand before me for ever (a).

CHAP. XXXVI.

Jeremiah cauſeth Baruch to write his prophecy, and publickly to read it. The king having intelligence thereof, procureth the roll, and burneth it.

AND it came to paſs in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the ſon of Joſiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, and againſt all the nations, from the day I ſpake unto thee, from the days of Joſiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the houſe of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpoſe to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their ſin.

(a) This aſſurance of protection to Jonadab and his poſterity, was remarkably made good to his family, amidſt all the confuſions and judgments which ſoon after fell upon the Jewiſh nations: for, as they had now found a place of refuge at Jeruſalem from the danger of the Chaldean army, ſo afterwards, in the general deſolation of that country, and the captivity of the people, it is certain theſe Rechabites were preſerved, though we know not the particular manner of their deliverance. From hiſtory we learn, that there were great numbers of them in our Saviour's time: that they were the chief hearers and followers of Chriſt, the firſt and readieſt to embrace the goſpel. They were then called by way of diſtinction, The Poor, from their profeſſed poverty, Luke vii. 22. and The Good, from their eminent piety.

Rom

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch, the ſon of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had ſpoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am ſhut up; I cannot go into the houſe of the Lord:

6 Therefore go thou, and read in the roll which thou haſt written from my mouth, the words of the Lord, in the ears of the people in the Lord's houſe upon the faſting-day: and alſo thou ſhalt read them in the ears of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be they will preſent their ſupplication before the Lord, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the Lord hath pronounced againſt this people.

8 And Baruch, the ſon of Neriah, did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the Lord in the Lord's houſe.

9 And it came to paſs in the fifth year of Jehoiakim, the ſon of Joſiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a faſt before the Lord to all the people in Jeruſalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jeruſalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the houſe of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah, the ſon of Shaphan the ſcribe, in the higher court, at the entry of the new gate of the Lord's houſe, in the ears of all the people.

11 When Michaiah, the ſon of Gemariah, the ſon of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord,

12 Then he went down into the king's houſe, into the ſcribe's chamber: and lo, all the princes ſat there, even Eliſhama the ſcribe, and Delaiah, the ſon of Shemaiah, and Elnathan, the ſon of Achbor, and Gemariah, the ſon of Shaphan, and Zedekiah, the ſon of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes ſent Jehudi, the ſon of Nethaniah, the ſon of Shelemiah, the ſon of Cuſhi, unto Baruch, ſaying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou haſt read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch, the ſon of Neriah, took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they ſaid unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to paſs when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and ſaid unto Baruch, We will ſurely tell the king of all theſe words.

17 And they aſked Baruch, ſaying, Tell us now, How didſt thou write all theſe words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch anſwered them, He pronounced all theſe words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then ſaid the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Eliſhama the ſcribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king ſent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of Eliſhama the ſcribe's chamber. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which ſtood beſide the king.

22 Now the king ſat in the winter-houſe, in the ninth month: and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to paſs, that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and caſt it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was conſumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his ſervants that heard all theſe words.

25 Nevertheleſs, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had made interceſſion to the king, that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel, the ſon of Hammelech, and Seraiah, the ſon of Azriel, and Shelemiah, the ſon of Abdeel, to take Baruch the ſcribe, and Jeremiah the prophet: but the Lord hid them.

27 Then the word of the Lord came to Jere-

Rom. v. 7. They had changed their names indeed from Rechabites to Ebionites, Eſſeni, Chaſidim or Aſſideans, which ſignify the ſame as poor and good men. But theſe new names—not aſſumed by themſelves, but given by others, —ſhew, that their virtue was the ſame; and continued as eminent and remarkable as ever. And as theſe were the firſt converts to Chriſtianity, and in general received the Goſpel, it is much to be noted, how this promiſe of God by his prophet, that they ſhould never want a man to ſtand before him, was performed and made good to his family. It is indeed verified, both in a literal and ſpiritual ſenſe; both in a worldly and in an heavenly meaning; the race being preſerved until the time of Chriſt, and then incorporated with him as head of the Church, and adopted into that family, againſt which the gates of hell ſhall never prevail, nor any period of time extinguiſh.

miah (after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) ſaying, 28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the firſt roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned.

29 And thou ſhalt ſay to Jehoiakim, king of Judah, Thus ſaith the Lord; Thou haſt burned this roll, ſaying, Why haſt thou written therein, ſaying, The king of Babylon ſhall certainly come and deſtroy this land, and ſhall cauſe to ceaſe from thence man and beaſt?

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, He ſhall have none to ſit upon the throne of David: and his dead body ſhall be caſt out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the froſt.

31 And I will puniſh him, and his ſeed, and his ſervants, for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced againſt them; but they hearkened not.

32 Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the ſcribe, the ſon of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim, king of Judah, had burned in the fire: and there were added beſides unto them many like words.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Zedekiah ſendeth to Jeremiah to pray for the people. He propheſieth the Chaldean's victory, wherefore he is taken as a fugitive, beaten, and confined in priſon.

AND king Zedekiah, the ſon of Joſiah, reigned inſtead of Coniah, the ſon of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, made king in the land of Judah.

2 But neither he, nor his ſervants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the Lord, which he ſpake by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king ſent Jehucal, the ſon of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah, the ſon of Maaſeiah the prieſt, to the prophet Jeremiah, ſaying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for us.

4 Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into priſon.

5 Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that beſieged Jeruſalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Jeruſalem.

6 Then came the word of the Lord unto the prophet Jeremiah, ſaying,

7 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael; Thus ſhall ye ſay to the king of Judah, that ſent you unto me, to enquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, ſhall return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Chaldeans ſhall come again, and fight againſt this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, Deceive not yourſelves, ſaying, The Chaldeans ſhall ſurely depart from us: for they ſhall not depart.

10 For though ye had ſmitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight againſt you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet ſhould they riſe up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 And it came to paſs, that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jeruſalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, 12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jeruſalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to ſeparate himſelf thence in the midſt of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whoſe name was Irijah, the ſon of Shelemiah, the ſon of Hananiah; and he took Jeremiah the prophet, ſaying, Thou falleſt away to the Chaldeans.

14 Then ſaid Jeremiah, It is falſe; I fall not away to the Chaldeans: but he hearkened not to him: ſo Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and ſmote him, and put him in priſon in the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe: for they had made that the priſon.

16 When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many days;

17 Then Zedekiah the king ſent, and took him out: and the king aſked him ſecretly in his houſe, and ſaid, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah ſaid, There is: for, ſaid he, thou ſhalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah ſaid unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended againſt thee, or againſt thy ſervants, or againſt this people, that ye have put me in priſon?

19 Where are now your prophets which propheſied unto you, ſaying, The king of Babylon ſhall not come againſt you, nor againſt this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my ſupplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cauſe me not to return to the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe, leſt I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they ſhould commit Jeremiah into the court of the priſon, and that they ſhould give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers ſtreet, until all the bread in the city were ſpent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the priſon.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

Jeremiah is put into the dungeon of Malchiah. Ebed-melech procureth his releaſe. He counſelleth the king.

THEN Shephatiah, the ſon of Mattan, and Gedaliah, the ſon of Paſhur, and Jucal, the ſon of Shelemiah, and Paſhur, the ſon of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had ſpoken unto all the people, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans, ſhall live; for he ſhall have his life for a prey, and ſhall live.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord, This city ſhall ſurely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which ſhall take it.

4 Therefore the princes ſaid unto the king, We beſeech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in ſpeaking ſuch words unto them: for this man ſeeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king ſaid, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing againſt you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and caſt him into the dungeon of Malchiah, the ſon of Hammelech, that was in the court of the priſon: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: ſo Jeremiah ſunk in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-melech, the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's houſe, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (the king then ſitting in the gate of Benjamin,)

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's houſe, and ſpake to the king, ſaying,

9 My lord the king, theſe men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have caſt into the dungeon; and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, ſaying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the houſe of the king under the treaſury, and took thence old caſt clouts, and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech, the Ethiopian, ſaid unto Jeremiah, Put now theſe old caſt clouts and rotten rags, under thine arm-holes, under the cords. And Jeremiah did ſo.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the priſon.

14 Then Zedekiah the king ſent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the houſe of the Lord: and the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I will aſk thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah ſaid unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not ſurely put me to death? and if I give thee counſel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So Zedekiah the king ſware ſecretly unto Jeremiah, ſaying, As the Lord liveth, that made us this ſoul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of theſe men that ſeek thy life.

17 Then ſaid Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus ſaith the Lord the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; If thou wilt aſſuredly go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy ſoul ſhall live, and this city ſhall not be burned with fire; and thou ſhalt live, and thine houſe.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then ſhall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they ſhall burn it with fire, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, leſt they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.

20 But Jeremiah ſaid, They ſhall not deliver thee. Obey, I beſeech thee, the voice of the Lord, which I ſpeak unto thee: ſo it ſhall be well unto thee, and thy ſoul ſhall live.

21 But if thou refuſe to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath ſhewed me:

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's houſe ſhall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and thoſe women ſhall ſay, Thy friends have ſet thee on, and have prevailed againſt thee: thy feet are ſunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 So they ſhall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand, but ſhalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou ſhalt cauſe this city to be burned with fire.

24 Then ſaid Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of theſe words, and thou ſhalt not die.

25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and ſay unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou haſt ſaid unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; alſo what the king ſaid unto thee:

26 Then thou ſhalt ſay unto them, I preſent-

ed my ſupplication before the king, that he would not cauſe me to return to Jonathan's houſe, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and aſked him: and he told them according to all theſe words that the king had commanded. So they left off ſpeaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the priſon, until the day that Jeruſalem was taken: and he was there when Jeruſalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Jeruſalem is taken. Zedekiah is made blind, and ſent to Babylon. Nebuchadrezzar's good uſage of Jeremiah.

IN the ninth year of Zedekiah, king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and all his army, againſt Jeruſalem, and they beſieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and ſat in the middle gate, even Nergal-ſharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarſechim, Rab-ſaris, Nergal-ſharezer, Rabmag, with all the reſidue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And it came to paſs, that when Zedekiah, the king of Judah, ſaw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Chaldeans army purſued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, to Riblah, in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: alſo the king of Babylon ſlew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover, he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains to carry him to Babylon.

8 And the Chaldeans burned the king's houſe, and the houſes of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jeruſalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to him, with the reſt of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the ſame time.

11 Now Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, ſaying, 12 Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he ſhall ſay unto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, ſent, and Nebuſhaſban, Rab-ſaris, and Nergal-ſharezar, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babylon's princes;

14 Even they ſent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the priſon, and committed him unto Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, that he ſhould carry him home: ſo he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, while he was ſhut up in the court of the priſon, ſaying,

16 Go, and ſpeak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they ſhall be accompliſhed in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, ſaith the Lord: and thou ſhalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thon art afraid.

18 For I will ſurely deliver thee, and thou ſhalt not fall by the ſword, but thy life ſhall be for a prey unto thee, becauſe thou haſt put thy truſt in me, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

Jeremiah being ſet free, goeth to Gedaliah. The diſperſed Jews repair unto him. Iſhmael's conſpiracy.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after that Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him, being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jeruſalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and ſaid unto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath ſaid: becauſe ye have ſinned againſt the Lord, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I looſe thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand. If it ſeem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it ſeem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it ſeemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he ſaid, Go back alſo to Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go whereſoever it ſeemeth convenient unto thee thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, to Mizpah; and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon;

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan, the ſons of Kareah, and Seraiah, the ſon of Tanhumeth, and the ſons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah, the ſon of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, ſware unto them, and to their men, ſaying, Fear not to ſerve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and ſerve the king of Babylon, and it ſhall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to ſerve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and ſummer-fruits, and oil, and put them in your veſſels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewiſe, when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had ſet over them Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan;

12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and ſummer fruits, very much.

13 Moreover, Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah, to Mizpah,

14 And ſaid unto him, Doſt thou certainly know that Baalis, the king of the Ammonites, hath ſent Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, believed them not.

15 Then Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, ſpake to Gedaliah in Mizpah ſecretly, ſaying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will ſlay Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, and no man ſhall know it: wherefore ſhould he ſlay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee ſhould be ſcattered, and the remnant of Judah periſh?

16 But Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam ſaid unto Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, Thou ſhalt not do this thing: for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

Iſhmael treacherouſly killeth Gedaliah, and purpoſeth to flee to the Ammonites. Johanan recovereth the captives.

NOW it came to paſs in the ſeventh month, that Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, the ſon of Eliſhama, of the ſeed royal, and the princes of the king, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then aroſe Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and ſmote Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, with the ſword, and ſlew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

3 Iſhmael alſo ſlew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 And it came to paſs the ſecond day after he had ſlain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourſcore men, having their beards ſhaven, and their cloaths rent, and having cut themſelves, with offerings and incenſe in their hand, to bring them to the houſe of the Lord.

6 And Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to paſs as he met them, he ſaid unto them, Come to Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam.

7 And it was ſo, when they came into the midſt of the city, that Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, ſlew them, and caſt them into the midſt of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that ſaid unto Iſhmael, Slay us not; for we have treaſures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbare, and ſlew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſhmael had caſt all the dead bodies of the men whom he had ſlain becauſe of Gedaliah, was it which Aſa the king had made for fear of Baſha, king of Iſrael: and Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, filled it with them that were ſlain.

10 Then Iſhmael carried away captive all the reſidue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, had committed to Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam: and Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, had done,

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to paſs, that when all the people which were with Iſhmael ſaw Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Iſhmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, caſt about and returned, and went unto Johanan, the ſon of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, eſcaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Iſhmael, the ſon of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had ſlain Gedaliah, the ſon of Ahikam, even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17 And they departed, and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, 18 Becauſe of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, becauſe Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, had ſlain Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

Johanan deſireth Jeremiah to enquire of God, promiſing obedience to his will. Jeremiah aſſureth him of ſafety in Judea, and deſtruction in Egypt.

THEN all the captains of the forces, and Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and Jezaniah, the ſon of Hoſhaiah, and all the people, from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, came near,

2 And ſaid unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we beſeech thee, our ſupplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the Lord thy God, even for all this remnant; (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us:)

3 That the Lord thy God may ſhew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the prophet ſaid unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the Lord your God according to your words; and it ſhall come to paſs, that whatſoever thing the Lord ſhall anſwer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Jeremiah, The Lord be a true and faithful witneſs between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the Lord thy God ſhall ſend thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we ſend thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 And it came to paſs after ten days, that the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan, the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people, from the leaſt even to the greateſt;

9 And ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael, unto whom ye ſent me to preſent your ſupplication before him;

10 If ye will ſtill abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you to ſave you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will ſhew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cauſe you to return to your own land.

13 But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no war, nor hear the ſound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell:

15 (And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah; Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; If ye wholly ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to ſojourn there,)

16 Then it ſhall come to paſs, that the ſword which ye feared, ſhall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid ſhall follow cloſe after you there in Egypt; and there ye ſhall die.

17 So ſhall it be with all the men that ſet their faces to go into Egypt, to ſojourn there; they ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence: and none of them ſhall remain or eſcape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſo ſhall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye ſhall enter into Egypt: and ye ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe, and a reproach; and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

19 The Lord hath ſaid concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly, that I have admoniſhed you this day.

20 For ye diſſembled in your hearts, when ye ſent me unto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for for us unto the Lord our God, and according unto all that the Lord our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly, that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go, and to sojourn.

CHAP. XLIII.

Johanan carrieth Jeremiah and others into Egypt. He prophesieth the conquest of Egypt by the Babylonians.

AND it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the Lord their God, for which the Lord their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah, the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there:

3 But Baruch, the son of Neriah, setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

4 So Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah;

6 Even men, and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, had left with Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch, the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt, for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they, even to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah;

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

11 And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Egypt, and deliver such as are for death, to death; and such as are for captivity, to the captivity; and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the images of Beth-shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIV.

Jeremiah expresseth the desolation of Judah for their idolatry. The obstinacy of the Jews.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein:

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit, I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel; Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourselves off, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10 They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my ſtatutes, that I ſet before you, and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Behold, I will ſet my face againſt you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have ſet their faces to go into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, and they ſhall all be conſumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they ſhall even be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine: they ſhall die, from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, by the ſword, and by the famine: and they ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe, and a reproach.

13 For I will puniſh them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have puniſhed Jeruſalem, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt, to ſojourn there, ſhall eſcape or remain, that they ſhould return into the land of Judah, to the which they have a deſire to return to dwell there: for none ſhall return but ſuch as ſhall eſcape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incenſe unto other gods, and all the women that ſtood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, anſwered Jeremiah, ſaying,

16 As for the word that thou haſt ſpoken unto us in the name of the Lord, we will not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do whatſoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incenſe unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and ſaw no evil.

18 But ſince we left off to burn incenſe to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine.

19 And when we burned incenſe to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worſhip her, and pour out drink-offerings unto her, without our men?

20 Then Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that anſwer, ſaying,

21 The incenſe that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the Lord remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the Lord could no longer bear, becauſe of the evil of your doings, and becauſe of the abominations which ye have committed: therefore is your land a deſolation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe, without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Becauſe ye have burned incenſe, and becauſe ye have ſinned againſt the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his ſtatutes, nor in his teſtimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover, Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt:

25 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, ſaying; Ye and your wives have both ſpoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, ſaying, We will ſurely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incenſe to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: ye will ſurely accompliſh your vows, and will ſurely perform your vows.

26 Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt; Behold, I have ſworn by my great name, ſaith the Lord, that my name ſhall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, ſaying, The Lord God liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah, that are in the land of Egypt, ſhall be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28 Yet a ſmall number that eſcape the ſword, ſhall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, ſhall know whoſe words ſhall ſtand, mine or their's.

29 And this ſhall be a ſign unto you, ſaith the Lord, that I will puniſh you in this place, that ye may know that my words ſhall ſurely ſtand againſt you for evil:

30 Thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will give Pharaoh-hophra, king of Egypt, into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek his life; as I gave Zedekiah, king of Judah, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, his enemy, and that fought his life.

CHAP. XLV.

Baruch being diſmayed, Jeremiah comforteth him.

THE word that Jeremiah the prophet ſpake unto Baruch, the ſon of Neriah, when he had written theſe words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael, unto thee, O Baruch;

3 Thou didſt ſay, Woe is me now! for the Lord

Lord hath added grief to my ſorrow; I fainted in my ſighing, and I find no reſt.

4 Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto him, The Lord ſaith thus; Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And ſeekeſt thou great things for thyſelf? ſeek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all fleſh, ſaith the Lord: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goeſt.

CHAP. XLVI.

Jeremiah propheſieth the overthrow of Pharaoh's army, by Nebuchadrezzar: he comforteth Jacob therein.

THE word of the Lord which came to Jeremiah the prophet, againſt the Gentiles;

2 Againſt Egypt, againſt the army of Pharaoh-necho, king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Charchemiſh, which Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, ſmote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the ſon of Joſiah, king of Judah:

3 Order ye the buckler and ſhield, and draw near to battle.

4 Harneſs the horſes; and get up, ye horſemen, and ſtand forth with your helmets; furbiſh the ſpears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I ſeen them diſmayed, and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, ſaith the Lord.

6 Let not the ſwift flee away, nor the mighty man eſcape; they ſhall ſtumble and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whoſe waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riſeth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers; and he ſaith, I will go up, and will cover the earth; I will deſtroy the city, and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up, ye horſes, and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men come forth; the Ethiopians, and the Lybians that handle the ſhield; and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hoſts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adverſaries: and the ſword ſhall devour, and it ſhall be ſatiate, and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hoſts hath a ſacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain ſhalt thou uſe many medicines; for thou ſhalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy ſhame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath ſtumbled againſt the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 The word that the Lord ſpake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, ſhould come and ſmite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publiſh in Migdol, and publiſh in Noph, and in Tahpanhes: ſay ye, Stand faſt, and prepare thee; for the ſword ſhall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men ſwept away? they ſtood not, becauſe the Lord did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they ſaid, Ariſe, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppreſſing ſword.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noiſe; he hath paſſed the time appointed.

18 As I live, ſaith the King, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the ſea, ſo ſhall he come.

19 Oh, thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, furniſh thyſelf to go into captivity: for Noph ſhall be waſte and deſolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but deſtruction cometh: it cometh out of the north.

21 Alſo her hired men are in the midſt of her, like fatted bullocks; for they alſo are turned back, and are fled away together: they did not ſtand, becauſe the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their viſitation.

22 The voice thereof ſhall go like a ſerpent; for they ſhall march with an army, and come againſt her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They ſhall cut down her foreſt, ſaith the Lord, though it cannot be ſearched; becauſe they are more than the graſhoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt ſhall be confounded; ſhe ſhall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael ſaith; Behold, I will puniſh the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings; even Pharaoh, and all them that truſt in him:

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of thoſe that ſeek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his ſervants: and afterwards it ſhall be inhabited, as in the days of old, ſaith the Lord.

27 But fear not thou, O my ſervant Jacob, and be not diſmayed, O Iſrael: for behold, I will ſave thee from afar off, and thy ſeed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob ſhall return, and be in reſt and at eaſe, and none ſhall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my ſervant, ſaith

the Lord: for I am with thee; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure; yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of the Philistines foretold.

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the Lord; Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall not look back to their children, for feebleness of hands:

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the Lord will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the country of Caphtor.

5 Baldness is come upon Gaza, Ashkelon is cut off, with the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard; rest, and be still.

7 How can it be quiet, seeing the Lord hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The judgment of Moab, for their pride, for their security, for their carnal confidence, and for their contempt of God.

AGAINST Moab thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Woe unto Nebo, for it is spoiled! Kiriathaim is confounded and taken! Misgab is confounded and dismayed!

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab. In Heshbon they have devised evil against it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shalt be cut down, O Madmen; the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going-up of Luhith, continual weeping shall go up; for in the going-down of Horonaim, the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, with his priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will send unto him wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?

15 Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is The Lord of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him bemoan him; and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and espy; ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded; for it is broken down: howl and cry; tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled,

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Holon, and upon Jahazzah, and upon Mephaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,

23 And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon,

24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah; and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himſelf againſt the Lord: Moab alſo ſhall wallow in his vomit, and he alſo ſhall be in deriſion.

27 For was not Iſrael a deriſion unto thee? was he found among thieves? for ſince thou ſpakeſt of him, thou ſkippedſt for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove, that maketh her neſt in the ſides of the hole's mouth.

29 We have heard the pride of Moab, (he is exceeding proud:) his loftineſs, and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtineſs of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, ſaith the Lord: but it ſhall not be ſo; his lies ſhall not ſo effect it.

31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab; mine heart ſhall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, with the weeping of Jazer: thy plants are gone over the ſea, they reach even to the ſea of Jazer: the ſpoiler is fallen upon thy ſummer-fruits, and upon thy vintage.

33 And joy and gladneſs is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab; and I have cauſed wine to fail from the wine-preſs: none ſhall tread with ſhouting: their ſhouting ſhall be no ſhouting.

34 From the cry of Heſhbon, even unto Elealeh, and even unto Jahaz, have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, as an heifer of three years old: for the waters alſo of Nimrim ſhall be deſolate.

35 Moreover, I will cauſe to ceaſe in Moab, ſaith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incenſe to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart ſhall ſound for Moab like pipes, and mine heart ſhall ſound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: becauſe the riches that he hath gotten are periſhed.

37 For every head ſhall be bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands ſhall be cuttings, and upon the loins ſackcloth.

38 There ſhall be lamentation generally upon all the houſe-tops of Moab, and in the ſtreets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a veſſel wherein is no pleaſure, ſaith the Lord.

39 They ſhall howl, ſaying, How is it broken down! how hath Moab turned the back with ſhame! ſo ſhall Moab be a deriſion, and a diſmaying to all them about him.

40 For thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, he ſhall fly as an eagle, and ſhall ſpread his wings over Moab.

41 Kerioth is taken, and the ſtrong holds are ſurpriſed, and the mighty men's hearts in Moab at that day ſhall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab ſhall be deſtroyed from being a people, becauſe he hath magnified himſelf againſt the Lord.

43 Fear, and the pit, and the ſnare ſhall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, ſaith the Lord.

44 He that fleeth from the fear, ſhall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their viſitation, ſaith the Lord.

45 They that fled ſtood under the ſhadow of Heſhbon, becauſe of the force: but a fire ſhall come forth out of Heſhbon, and a flame from the midſt of Sihon, and ſhall devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemoſh periſheth; for thy ſons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives.

47 Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, ſaith the Lord. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

The judgment of the Ammonites: their reſtoration. The judgment of Edom, of Damaſcus, of Kedar, of Hazor, and of Elam. The reſtoration of Elam.

CONcerning the Ammonites, thus ſaith the Lord, Hath Iſrael no ſons? hath he no heir? why then doth their king inherit Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will cauſe an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites; and it ſhall be a deſolate heap, and her daughters ſhall be burned with fire: then ſhall Iſrael be heir unto them that were his heirs, ſaith the Lord.

3 Howl, O Heſhbon, for Ai is ſpoiled: cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird ye with ſackcloth; lament, and run to and fro by the hedges; for their king ſhall go into captivity, and his prieſts and his princes together.

4 Wherefore glorieſt thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backſliding daughter! that truſted in her treaſures, ſaying, Who ſhall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, from all thoſe that be about thee; and ye ſhall be driven out every man right forth; and none ſhall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, ſaith the Lord.

7 Concerning Edom, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; Is wiſdom no more in Teman? is counſel periſhed from the prudent? is their wiſdom vaniſhed?

8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If grape-gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning-grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy till they have enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord; Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shalt altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

15 For lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the Lord; no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make him run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore hear the counsel of the Lord, that he hath taken against Edom, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: at the cry, the noise whereof was heard in the Red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 Concerning Damascus. Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tidings; they are faint-hearted: there is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy!

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.

28 Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, shall smite, thus saith the Lord; Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: they shall take to themselves their curtains and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 Flee, get ye far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord; for Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise, get ye up unto the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners; and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever: there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.

34 The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet against Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah, king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.

36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them towards all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come,

37 For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the Lord; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, and will will deſtroy from thence the king and the princes, ſaith the Lord.

39 But it ſhall come to paſs in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, ſaith the Lord.

The judgment of Babylon. The redemption of Iſrael.

THE word that the Lord ſpake againſt Babylon, and againſt the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publiſh, and ſet up a ſtandard; publiſh, and conceal not: ſay, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces; her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 For out of the north there cometh up a nation againſt her, which ſhall make her land deſolate, and none ſhall dwell therein: they ſhall remove, they ſhall depart, both man and beaſt.

4 In thoſe days, and in that time, ſaith the Lord, the children of Iſrael ſhall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they ſhall go, and ſeek the Lord their God.

5 They ſhall aſk the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, ſaying, Come, and let us join ourſelves to the Lord, in a perpetual covenant that ſhall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been loſt ſheep; their ſhepherds have cauſed them to go aſtray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their reſting-place.

7 All that found them have devoured them: and their adverſaries ſaid, We offend not; becauſe they have ſinned againſt the Lord, the habitation of juſtice; even the Lord, the hope of their fathers.

8 Remove out of the midſt of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks.

9 For lo, I will raiſe, and cauſe to come up againſt Babylon, an aſſembly of great nations from the north country: and they ſhall ſet themſelves in array againſt her; from thence ſhe ſhall be taken: their arrows ſhall be as of a mighty expert man; none ſhall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea ſhall be a ſpoil: all that ſpoil her ſhall be ſatisfied, ſaith the Lord.

11 Becauſe ye were glad, becauſe ye rejoiced, O ye deſtroyers of mine heritage, becauſe ye are grown fat, as the heifer at graſs, and bellow as bulls;

12 Your mother ſhall be ſore confounded; ſhe that bare you ſhall be aſhamed: behold, the hindermoſt of the nations ſhall be a wilderneſs, a dry land and a deſart,

13 Becauſe of the wrath of the Lord, it ſhall not be inhabited, but it ſhall be wholly deſolate: every one that goeth by Babylon ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and hiſs at all her plagues.

14 Put yourſelves in array againſt Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, ſhoot at her, ſpare no arrows: for ſhe hath ſinned againſt the Lord.

15 Shout againſt her round about: ſhe hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her; as ſhe hath done, do unto her.

16 Cut off the ſower from Babylon, and him that handleth the ſickle in the time of harveſt: for fear of the oppreſſing ſword, they ſhall turn every one to his people, and they ſhall flee every one to his own land.

17 Iſrael is a ſcattered ſheep; the lions have driven him away: firſt, the king of Aſſyria hath devoured him; and laſt, this Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Behold, I will puniſh the king of Babylon and his land, as I have puniſhed the king of Aſſyria.

19 And I will bring Iſrael again to his habitation, and he ſhall feed on Carmel and Baſhan, and his ſoul ſhall be ſatisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In thoſe days, and in that time, ſaith the Lord, the iniquity of Iſrael ſhall be ſought for, and there ſhall be none: and the ſins of Judah, and they ſhall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reſerve.

21 Go up againſt the land of Merathaim, even againſt it, and againſt the inhabitants of Pekod: waſte, and utterly deſtroy after them, ſaith the Lord; and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A ſound of battle is in the land, and of great deſtruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole earth cut aſunder and broken! how is Babylon become a deſolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a ſnare for thee, and thou art alſo taken, O Babylon, and thou waſt not aware: thou art found, and alſo caught, becauſe thou haſt ſtriven againſt the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord God of hoſts, in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come againſt her from the utmoſt border, open her ſtore-houſes: caſt her up as heaps, and deſtroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the ſlaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their viſitation.

28 The voice of them that flee and eſcape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: recompence her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, against the Holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.

34 Their Redeemer is strong; the Lord of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the liars, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her; and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures; and they shall be robbed.

38 A drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.

39 Therefore the wild beasts of the desart with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the Lord; so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel, and will not shew mercy; their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble; anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan, unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear ye the counsel of the Lord, that he hath taken against Babylon, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely, the least of the flock shall draw them out; surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

The severe judgment of God against Babylon, in revenge of Israel.

THUS saith the Lord; Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying wind;

2 And will send unto Babylon fanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine: and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath not been forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the Lord of hosts: though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel.

6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the Lord's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations are mad.

8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every man into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness:

ouſneſs: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrows; gather the ſhields: the Lord hath raiſed up the ſpirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is againſt Babylon, to deſtroy it; becauſe it is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set up the ſtandard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch ſtrong, ſet up the watchmen, prepare the ambuſhes: for the Lord hath both deviſed and done that which he ſpake againſt the inhabitants of Babylon.

13 O thou that dwelleſt upon many waters, abundant in treaſures, thine end is come, and the meaſure of thy covetouſneſs.

14 The Lord of hoſts hath ſworn by himſelf, ſaying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillars; and they ſhall lift up a ſhout againſt thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath eſtabliſhed the world by his wiſdom, and hath ſtretched out the heaven by his underſtanding.

16 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; and he cauſeth the vapours to aſcend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treaſures.

17 Every man is brutiſh by his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falſehood, and there is no breath in them.

18 They are vanity, the work of errors: in the time of their viſitation they ſhall periſh.

19 The portion of Jacob is not like them; for he is the former of all things; and Iſrael is the rod of his inheritance. The Lord of hoſts is his name.

20 Thou art my battle-ax and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I deſtroy kingdoms;

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horſe and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider;

22 With thee alſo will I break in pieces man and woman: and with thee will I break in pieces old and young; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid;

23 I will alſo break in pieces with thee, the ſhepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the huſbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.

24 And I will render unto Babylon, and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea, all their evil that they have done in Zion, in your ſight, ſaith the Lord.

25 Behold, I am againſt thee, O deſtroying mountain, ſaith the Lord, which deſtroyeſt all the earth: and I will ſtretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burned mountain.

26 And they ſhall not take of thee a ſtone for a corner, nor a ſtone for foundations; but thou ſhalt be deſolate for ever, ſaith the Lord.

27 Set ye up a ſtandard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations, againſt her, call together againſt her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Aſhchenaz; appoint a captain againſt her, cauſe the horſes to come up as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare againſt her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land ſhall tremble and ſorrow: for every purpoſe of the Lord ſhall be performed againſt Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a deſolation without an inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they have remained in their holds: their might hath failed; they became as women: they have burned her dwelling-places; her bars are broken.

31 One poſt ſhall run to meet another, and one meſſenger to meet another, to ſhew the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end, 32 And that the paſſages are ſtopped, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; The daughter of Babylon is like a threſhing-floor, it is time to threſh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harveſt ſhall come.

34 Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, hath devoured me, he hath cruſhed me, he hath made me an empty veſſel, he hath ſwallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

35 The violence done to me and to my fleſh be upon Babylon, ſhall the inhabitant of Zion ſay; and my blood upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, ſhall Jeruſalem ſay.

36 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I will plead thy cauſe, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her ſea, and make her ſprings dry.

37 And Babylon ſhall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an aſtoniſhment, and an hiſſing without an inhabitant.

38 They ſhall roar together like lions: they ſhall yell as lions whelps.

39 In their heat I will make their feaſts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and ſleep a perpetual ſleep, and not wake, ſaith the Lord.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the ſlaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How is Sheshach taken! and how is the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 Her cities are a desolation, a dry land and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

44 And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up: and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the Lord.

46 And lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land: a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the Lord.

49 As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will do judgment upon her graven images, and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans.

55 Because the Lord hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice, when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken: for the Lord God of recompences shall surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hosts.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

59 The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah, the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign; and this Seraiah was a quiet prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words;

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates:

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

Zedekiah rebelleth. Jerusalem is besieged and taken. Zedekiah's sons are killed, and his own eyes put out.

ZEdekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3 For through the anger of the Lord it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

4 And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about: and they went by the way of the plain.

8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah, in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah, in the land of Hamath; where he gave judgment upon him.

10 And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, which served the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem,

13 And burned the house of the Lord, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the houses of the great men burned he with fire:

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, left certain of the poor of the land for vine-dressers, and for husbandmen.

17 Also the pillars of brass that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the Lord, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon.

18 The caldrons also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the basons, and the fire-pans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made, in the house of the Lord: the brass of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a fillet of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness there of was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of brass was upon it; and the height of one chapiter was five cubits, with net-work and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of brass. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side; and all the pomegranates upon the net-work, were an hundred round about.

24 And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door.

25 He took also out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war; and seven men of them that were near the king's person, which were found in the city; and the principal scribe of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.

26 So Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive in the seventh year, three thousand Jews and three and twenty:

29 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty and two persons:

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin, king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach, king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison,

32 And spake kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon,

33 And changed his prison-garments: and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a continual diet given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

The

CHAP. I.

The miſerable eſtate of Jeruſalem by reaſon of her ſin: ſhe complaineth of her grief, and confeſſeth God's judgment to be righteous.

HOW doth the city ſit ſolitary that was full of people! how is ſhe become as a widow! ſhe that was great among the nations, and princeſs among the provinces, how is ſhe become tributary!

2 She weepeth ſore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers ſhe hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherouſly with her; they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity, becauſe of affliction, and becauſe of great ſervitude: ſhe dwelleth among the heathen, ſhe findeth no reſt: all her perſecutors overtook her between the ſtraits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, becauſe none come to the ſolemn feaſts: all her gates are deſolate: her prieſts ſigh, her virgins are afflicted, and ſhe is in bitterneſs.

5 Her adverſaries are the chief, her enemies proſper: for the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her tranſgreſſions: her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no paſture, and they are gone without ſtrength before the purſuer.

7 Jeruſalem remembered in the days of her affliction, and of her miſeries, all her pleaſant things that ſhe had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adverſaries ſaw her, and did mock at her ſabbaths.

8 Jeruſalem hath grievouſly ſinned, therefore ſhe is removed: all that honoured her, deſpiſe her, becauſe they have ſeen her nakedneſs: yea, ſhe ſigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthineſs is in her ſkirts; ſhe remembereth not her laſt end; therefore ſhe came down wonderfully: ſhe hath no comforter: O Lord, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himſelf.

10 The adverſary hath ſpread out his hand upon all her pleaſant things: for ſhe hath ſeen that the heathen entered into her ſanctuary, whom thou didſt command that they ſhould not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people ſigh, they ſeek bread; they have given their pleaſant things for meat to relieve the ſoul: ſee, O Lord, and conſider; for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that paſs by? behold, and ſee if there be any ſorrow like unto my ſorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me, in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he ſent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth againſt them: he hath ſpread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me deſolate, and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my tranſgreſſions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my ſtrength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to riſe up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midſt of me: he hath called an aſſembly againſt me, to cruſh my young men: the Lord hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-preſs.

16 For theſe things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, becauſe the comforter that ſhould relieve my ſoul, is far from me: my children are deſolate, becauſe the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion ſpreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adverſaries ſhould be round about him: Jeruſalem is as a menſtruous woman among them.

18 The Lord is righteous; for I have rebelled againſt his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my ſorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my prieſts and mine elders gave up the ghoſt in the city, while they ſought their meat to relieve their ſouls.

20 Behold, O Lord; for I am in diſtreſs: my bowels are troubled; mine heart is burned within me; for I have grievouſly rebelled: abroad the ſword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I ſigh: there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of LAMENTATIONS.] Dr. South ſays of this book, "One would think that every letter was wrote with a tear, every word the ſound of a breaking heart; that the author was a man compacted of ſorrows, diſciplined to grief from his infancy; one who never breathed but in ſighs, nor ſpoke but in a groan." Sermons, vol. iv. p. 31. Biſhop Lowth, in agreement with the general opinion, ſays that the ſubject of the book of Lamentations is the deſtruction of Jeruſalem and the temple, the cataſtrophe of the king, and the maſſacre of his ſubjects; and he obſerves that all theſe topics are treated of, not as events predicted in future, but as events which were paſt. The prophet deplores the miſeries of his country with ſo much elegance and pathos, that he may be ſaid to have done juſtice to the melancholy ſubject; and it may be added, that there is no poem extant, which can afford ſo happy, ſo uncommon, ſo my trouble; they are glad that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou haſt called, and they ſhall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedneſs come before thee; and do unto them as thou haſt done unto me for all my tranſgreſſions: for my ſighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAP. II.

Jeremiah lamenteth the miſery of Jeruſalem: he complaineth thereof to God.

HOW hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and caſt down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Iſrael, and remembered not his footſtool in the day of his anger!

2 The Lord hath ſwallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the ſtrong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom, and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Iſrael: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned againſt Jacob like a flaming fire which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he ſtood with his right hand as an adverſary, and ſlew all that were pleaſant to the eye, in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath ſwallowed up Iſrael, he hath ſwallowed up all her palaces: he hath deſtroyed his ſtrong holds, and hath increaſed in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden: he hath deſtroyed his places of the aſſembly: the Lord hath cauſed the ſolemn feaſts and ſabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath deſpiſed in the indignation of his anger the king and the prieſt.

7 The Lord hath caſt off his altar, he hath abhorred his ſanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; they have made a noiſe in the houſe of the Lord, as in the day of a ſolemn feaſt.

8 The Lord hath purpoſed to deſtroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he hath ſtretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from deſtroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languiſhed together.

9 Her gates are ſunk into the ground; he hath deſtroyed and broken her bars: her king and her princes are among the Gentiles: the law is no more; her prophets alſo find no viſion from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion ſit upon the ground, and keep ſilence: they have caſt up duſt upon their heads; they have girded themſelves with ſackcloth: the virgins of Jeruſalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people; becauſe the children and the ſucklings ſwoon in the ſtreets of the city.

12 They ſay to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they ſwooned as the wounded in the ſtreets of the city, when their ſoul was poured out into their mother's boſom.

13 What thing ſhall I take to witneſs for thee? what thing ſhall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jeruſalem? what ſhall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the ſea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets have ſeen vain and fooliſh things for thee: and they have not diſcovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have ſeen for thee falſe burdens, and cauſes of baniſhment.

15 All that paſs by clap their hands at thee; they hiſs and wag their head at the daughter of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth againſt thee: they hiſs and gnaſh the teeth: they ſay, We have ſwallowed her up; certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have ſeen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had deviſed; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath cauſed thine enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath ſet up the horn of thine adverſaries.

elegant a variety of circumſtances and images within ſo ſhort a compaſs. This work is divided into five parts. In the firſt, ſecond, and fourth, the prophet ſpeaks himſelf, or introduces Jeruſalem as ſpeaking; in the third the chorus of the Jews ſpeaks as a ſingle perſon, according to the Greek cuſtom. In the fifth, which may be termed the epilogue of the work, the whole body of the Jews pour out their groans and ſupplications to God in their captivity. This latter part is divided into twenty-two periods, according to the number of the letters of the Hebrew alphabet; but all the reſt begin with a different letter, according to their alphabetical order. The deſign of theſe alphabetical or acroſtic poems, was to aſſiſt the memory in retaining ſentences or ideas which ſeemed to want connection; a cuſtom formerly adopted by the Syrians, Arabians, and Perſians, and practiſed by them to this very day. We may further remark, that this book was moſt likely compoſed by Jeremiah in the land of Egypt, where it is thought he ended his days, for we never hear of his return from thence. See Bp. Lowth's 22d Prelection.

18 Their

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyself no rest; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands towards him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this. Shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a span long? shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast killed and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my terrors round about, so that in the day of the Lord's anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swaddled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

The faithful bewail their calamities. They acknowledge God's justice. They pray for deliverance, and vengeance on their enemies.

I Am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned; he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people; and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravelstones, he hath covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgat prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord:

19 Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproach.

31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever:

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most High,

36 To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.

37 Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?

39 Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord.

41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 We have transgressed, and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.

43 Thou hast covered with anger, and persecuted us: thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

45 Thou

45 Thou haſt made us as the off-ſcouring and refuſe in the midſt of the people.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouths againſt us.

47 Fear and a ſnare is come upon us, deſolation and deſtruction.

48 Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaſeth not, without any intermiſſion;

50 Till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye affecteth mine heart, becauſe of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chaſed me ſore like a bird, without cauſe.

53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and caſt a ſtone upon me.

54 Waters flowed over mine head; then I ſaid, I am cut off.

55 I called upon thy name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou haſt heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

57 Thou dreweſt near in the day that I called upon thee: thou ſaidſt, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou haſt pleaded the cauſes of my ſoul: thou haſt redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou haſt ſeen my wrong: judge thou my cauſe.

60 Thou haſt ſeen all their vengeance, and all their imaginations againſt me;

61 Thou haſt heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations againſt me;

62 The Lips of thoſe that roſe up againſt me, and their device againſt me all the day.

63 Behold their ſitting down, and their riſing up: I am their muſick.

64 Render unto them a recompence, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

65 Give them ſorrow of heart, thy curſe unto them.

66 Perſecute and deſtroy them in anger, from under the heavens of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

Zion bewaileth her pitiful eſtate: ſhe confeſſeth her ſins. Edom is threatened. Zion is comforted.

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the moſt fine gold changed! the ſtones of the ſanctuary are poured out in the top of every ſtreet.

2 The precious ſons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they eſteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the ſea-monſters draw out the breaſt, they give ſuck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the oſtriches in the wilderneſs.

4 The tongue of the ſucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirſt: the young children aſk bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately, are deſolate in the ſtreets: they that were brought up in ſcarlet, embrace dunghills.

6 For the puniſhment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the puniſhment of the ſin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands ſtayed on her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer than ſnow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their poliſhing was as ſapphire:

8 Their viſage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the ſtreets: their ſkin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a ſtick.

9 They that be ſlain with the ſword are better than they that be ſlain with hunger: for theſe pine away, ſtricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have ſodden their own children: they were their meat in the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accompliſhed his fury: he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed, that the adverſary and the enemy ſhould have entered into the gates of Jeruſalem.

13 For the ſins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her prieſts, that have ſhed the blood of the juſt in the midſt of her;

14 They have wandered as blind men in the ſtreets, they have polluted themſelves with blood, ſo that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye! it is unclean; depart, depart, touch not; when they fled away and wandered; they ſaid among the heathen, They ſhall no more ſojourn there.

16 The anger of the Lord hath divided them; he will no more regard them: they reſpected not the perſons of the prieſts, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not ſave us.

18 They hunt our ſteps that we cannot go in our ſtreets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

19 Our perſecutors are ſwifter than the eagles of the heaven: they purſued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderneſs.

20 The

20 The breath of our noſtrils, the anointed of the Lord, was taken in their pits, of whom we ſaid, Under his ſhadow we ſhall live among the heathen.

21 Rejoice, and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwelleſt in the land of Uz; the cup alſo ſhall paſs through unto thee: thou ſhalt be drunken, and ſhalt make thyſelf naked.

22 The puniſhment of thine iniquity is accompliſhed, O daughter of Zion; he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will viſit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; he will diſcover thy ſins.

CHAP. V.

A pitiful complaint of Zion, in prayer unto God.

REmember, O Lord, what is come upon us: conſider, and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to ſtrangers, our houſes to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherleſs, our mother's are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; our wood is ſold unto us.

5 Our necks are under perſecution: we labour, and have no reſt.

6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Aſſyrians, to be ſatisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have ſinned, and are not, and we have borne their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives, becauſe of the ſword of the wilderneſs.

10 Our ſkin was black like an oven, becauſe of the terrible famine.

11 They raviſhed the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceaſed from the gate, the young men from their muſick.

15 The joy of our heart is ceaſed; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head, woe unto us that we have ſinned!

17 For this our heart is faint; for theſe things our eyes are dim.

18 Becauſe of the mountain of Zion, which is deſolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O Lord, remaineſt for ever; thy throne from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore doſt thou forget us for ever, and forſake us ſo long time?

21 Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we ſhall be turned: renew our days as of old.

22 But thou haſt utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth againſt us.

The BOOK of the Prophet EZEKIEL.

CHAP. I.

The time of Ezekiel's prophecy at Chebar: his viſion of four cherubims, of the four wheels, and of the glory of God.

NOW it came to paſs in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month (as I was among the captives by the river of Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I ſaw viſions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month, (which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity,)

3 The word of the Lord came expreſly unto Ezekiel the prieſt, the ſon of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar; and the hand of the Lord was there upon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itſelf, and a brightneſs was about it, and out of the midſt thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midſt of the fire.

5 Alſo out of the midſt thereof came the likeneſs of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeneſs of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were ſtraight feet; and the ſole of their feet was like the ſole of a calf's foot: and they ſparkled like the colour of burniſhed braſs.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four ſides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joined one to another;

EZEKIEL] Says Mr. Locke, was carried away a boy in captivity. He was the ſon of Buzi of the houſe of Aaron, and was conſequently a prieſt as well as a prophet. He was carried away captive to Babylon with Jeconiah, and was one of thoſe who ſettled near the river Chebar. He began his prophetic office in the fifth year after his captivity, and continued to prophecy about twenty years; from the year of the world 3409 to 3430. The principal deſign of his prophecies was to conſole his brethren of the captivity in Babylon, and to convince them that they were miſtaken in imagining that ſuch of their brethren as remained in Judea, were in happier circumſtances than themſelves: and for this they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side: and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful; and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go; and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature, was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire-stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it, from the appearance of his loins even upward: and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake (b).

CHAP. II.

Ezekiel's commission, and his instruction. The roll of his prophecy.

AND he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And the spirit entered into me, when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children and stiff-this purpose he describes that terrible scene of calamities which God intended to bring upon Judea; the final destruction of Jerusalem; the universal apostacy of the inhabitants; the plagues which were to be inflicted upon their enemies; the restoration of the Jews, and the coming of the Messiah. The liberty with which he treats the idolatry of his countrymen, is said to have so highly irritated the chief of them, as to have occasioned his being put to death: and in the time of Epiphanius, it was a current opinion that his remains were deposited in the same sepulchre with those of Shem and Arphaxad, that his tomb was then to be seen, and that the Jews kept a lamp burning in it; who likewise pretended that they had this prophecy written by the prophet's own hand, which they read every year on the day of expiation. See Calmet's preface to this book.

(b) Houbigant observes upon this vision in general; First, That it seems most probably to adumbrate the state of the Jews, who were soon to be subdued by Nebuchadrezzar, and carried into captivity; and that book mentioned in the next chapter, ver. 9. wherein Lamentations were written, discovers this to have been the subject of the vision.

hearted. I do ſend thee unto them, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God.

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious houſe,) yet ſhall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 And thou ſon of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou doſt dwell among ſcorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be diſmayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious houſe.

7 And thou ſhalt ſpeak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are moſt rebellious.

8 But thou, ſon of man, hear what I ſay unto thee; Be not thou rebellious, like that rebellious houſe. Open thy mouth; and eat that I give thee.

9 And when I looked, behold, an hand was ſent unto me; and lo, a roll of a book was therein;

10 And he ſpread it before me: and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAP. III.

Ezekiel eateth the roll. God encourageth him. God ſheweth him the rule of prophecy, and openeth his mouth.

MOreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findeſt; eat this roll, and go ſpeak unto the houſe of Iſrael.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he cauſed me to eat that roll.

3 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, cauſe thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for ſweetneſs.

4 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the houſe of Iſrael, and ſpeak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not ſent to a people of a ſtrange ſpeech, and of an hard language, but to the houſe of Iſrael;

6 Not to many people of a ſtrange ſpeech, and of an hard language, whoſe words thou canſt not underſtand. Surely, had I ſent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the houſe of Iſrael will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the houſe of Iſrael are impudent and hard-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face ſtrong againſt their faces, and thy forehead ſtrong againſt their foreheads.

9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be diſmayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious houſe.

10 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, all my words that I ſhall ſpeak unto thee, receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and ſpeak unto them, and tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then the ſpirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great ruſhing, ſaying, Bleſſed be the glory of the Lord from his place.

13 I heard alſo the noiſe of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noiſe of the wheels over againſt them, and a noiſe of a great ruſhing.

14 So the ſpirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterneſs in the heat of my ſpirit; but the hand of the Lord was ſtrong upon me.

15 Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I ſat where they ſat, and remained there aſtoniſhed among them ſeven days.

16 And it came to paſs at the end of ſeven days, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying, 17 Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the houſe of Iſrael: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I ſay unto the wicked, Thou ſhalt ſurely die; and thou giveſt him not warning, nor ſpeakeſt to warn the wicked from his wicked way to ſave his life; the ſame wicked man ſhall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedneſs, nor from his wicked way, he ſhall die in his iniquity; but thou haſt delivered thy ſoul.

20 Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteouſneſs, and commit iniquity, and I lay a ſtumbling-block before him, he ſhall die: becauſe thou haſt not given him warning, he ſhall die in his ſin, and his righteouſneſs which he hath done ſhall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

Secondly, That the viſion was ſuch as to be eaſily intelligible by the Jews of thoſe times, who read it with attention. Thirdly, That nearly the ſame things are ſhadowed forth, as in the viſion of Iſaiah, chap. vi. for this viſion of Ezekiel is called The glory of the Lord, as the Evangeliſt denominates Iſaiah's viſion; ſaying, Theſe things, ſaid Iſaiah, when he ſaw his glory. Each prophet ſaw as the appearance of a man, or the Son of Man, ſitting on a throne, which throne the angels ſupport, who, moved by his ſpirit, ſometimes ſtand ſtill, ſometimes walk, and are borne where ever the ſpirit carrieth them; whereby is ſignified that nothing is done without the intervention of that Mediator whom the Jews expected. That though their republic ſhould be ſubverted by the Chaldeans, yet all the kingdoms of the earth were 21 Nevertheleſs, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous ſin not, and he doth not ſin, he ſhall ſurely live, becauſe he is warned; alſo thou haſt delivered thy ſoul.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there upon me; and he ſaid unto me, Ariſe, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I aroſe, and went forth into the plain: and behold, the glory of the Lord ſtood there, as the glory which I ſaw by the river of Chebar: and I fell on my face.

24 Then the ſpirit entered into me, and ſet me upon my feet, and ſpake with me, and ſaid unto me, Go, ſhut thyſelf within thine houſe.

25 But thou, O ſon of man, behold, they ſhall put bands upon thee, and ſhall bind thee with them, and thou ſhalt not go out among them;

26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou ſhalt be dumb, and ſhalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious houſe.

27 But when I ſpeak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious houſe.

CHAP. IV.

Under the type of a ſiege is ſhewed the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity. A ſevere famine.

THOU alſo, ſon of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jeruſalem.

2 And lay ſiege againſt it, and build a fort againſt it, and caſt a mound againſt it; ſet the camp alſo againſt it, and ſet battering rams againſt it round about.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee an iron pan, and ſet it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and ſet thy face againſt it, and it ſhall be beſieged, and thou ſhalt lay ſiege againſt it. This ſhall be a ſign to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 Lie thou alſo upon thy left ſide, and lay the iniquity of the houſe of Iſrael upon it: according to the number of the days that thou ſhalt lie upon it, thou ſhalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: ſo ſhalt thou bear the iniquity of the houſe of Iſrael.

6 And when thou haſt accompliſhed them, lie again on thy right ſide, and thou ſhalt bear the iniquity of the houſe of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou ſhalt ſet thy face toward the ſiege of Jeruſalem, and thine arm ſhall be uncovered, and thou ſhalt prophecy againſt it.

8 And behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou ſhalt not turn thee from one ſide to another, till thou haſt ended the days of thy ſiege.

9 Take thou alſo unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one veſſel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou ſhalt lie upon thy ſide; three hundred and ninety days ſhalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy meat which thou ſhalt eat, ſhall be by weight twenty ſhekels a day: from time to time ſhalt thou eat it.

11 Thou ſhalt drink alſo water by meaſure, the ſixth part of an hin; from time to time ſhalt thou drink.

12 And thou ſhalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou ſhalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their ſight.

13 And the Lord ſaid, Even thus ſhall the children of Iſrael eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God, behold, my ſoul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of itſelf, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable fleſh into my mouth.

15 Then he ſaid unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou ſhalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the ſtaff of bread in Jeruſalem: and they ſhall eat bread by weight, and with care; and they ſhall drink water by meaſure, and with aſtoniſhment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be aſtoniſhed one with another, and conſume away for their iniquity.

CHAP. V.

Under the type of hair, is ſhewed the judgment of Jeruſalem for their rebellion, by famine, ſword, and diſperſion.

AND thou, ſon of man, take thee a ſharp knife, take thee a barber's raſor, and cauſe it to paſs upon thine head, and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 Thou ſhalt burn with fire a third part in were under the dominion of this ſame Mediator, whom Ezekiel adores, that all the promiſes of God ſhould and could be performed by him, ſince he, though appearing to forſake his people, yet commands both angels and men, and performs all his purpoſes by them as his miniſters. Thus far Houbigant; and we may in concluſion obſerve, that it would be the greateſt abſurdity, in this view of the viſion, which appears juſt, and perfectly conſiſtent with the ſcheme of the prophet, to ſuppoſe that the cherubic figures repreſent the Deity; becauſe the prophet, proceeding regularly in his deſcription of this chariot and throne of the divine glory, ſpeaks with propriety, having deſcribed the throne, with all its appendages of the divinity ſeated upon it, ver. 26. whereas, underſtanding the cherubic figures of the divinity, we ſhould have two repreſentations of him, and the whole would certainly be irregular and out of order.

the midſt of the city, when the days of the ſiege are fulfilled: and thou ſhalt take a third part, and ſmite about it with a knife: and a third part thou ſhalt ſcatter in the wind; and I will draw out a ſword after them.

3 Thou ſhalt alſo take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy ſkirts.

4 Then take of them again, and caſt them into the midſt of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof ſhall a fire come forth into all the houſe of Iſrael.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord God; This is Jeruſalem: I have ſet it in the midſt of the nations and countries that are round about her.

6 And ſhe hath changed my judgments into wickedneſs more than the nations, and my ſtatutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refuſed my judgments, and my ſtatutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you;

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, am againſt thee, and will execute judgments in the midſt of thee, in the ſight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like; becauſe of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers ſhall eat the ſons in the midſt of thee, and the ſons ſhall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God; Surely, becauſe thou haſt defiled my ſanctuary with all thy deteſtable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I alſo diminiſh thee; neither ſhall mine eye ſpare, neither will I have any pity.

12 A third part of thee ſhall die with the peſtilence, and with famine ſhall they be conſumed in the midſt of thee: and a third part ſhall fall by the ſword round about thee; and I will ſcatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

13 Thus ſhall mine anger be accompliſhed, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt upon them, and I will be comforted: and they ſhall know that I the Lord have ſpoken it in my zeal, when I have accompliſhed my fury in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waſte, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the ſight of all that paſs by.

15 So it ſhall be a reproach and a taunt, an inſtruction, and an aſtoniſhment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I ſhall execute judgments in thee in anger, and in fury, and in furious rebukes. I the Lord have ſpoken it.

16 When I ſhall ſend upon them the evil arrows of famine, which ſhall be for their deſtruction, and which I will ſend to deſtroy you: and I will increaſe the famine upon you, and will break your ſtaff of bread:

17 So will I ſend upon you famine, and evil beaſts, and they ſhall bereave thee; and peſtilence and blood ſhall paſs through thee; and I will bring the ſword upon thee: I the Lord have ſpoken it.

CHAP. VI.

The judgment of Iſrael for their idolatry.. A remnant ſhall be ſaved. The faithful are exhorted to lament their calamities.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face towards the mountains of Iſrael, and propheſy againſt them,

3 And ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, hear the word of the Lord God; thus ſaith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the vallies; Behold, I, even I, will bring a ſword upon you, and I will deſtroy your high places.

4 And your altars ſhall be deſolate, and your images ſhall be broken: and I will caſt down your ſlain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcaſes of the children of Iſrael before their idols; and I will ſcatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities ſhall be laid waſte, and the high places ſhall be deſolate; that your altars may be laid waſte and made deſolate, and your idols may be broken and ceaſe, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be aboliſhed.

7 And the ſlain ſhall fall in the midſt of you, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have ſome that ſhall eſcape the ſword among the nations, when ye ſhall be ſcattered through the countries.

9 And they that eſcape of you ſhall remember me among the nations, whether they ſhall be carried captives, becauſe I am broken with their whoriſh heart which hath departed from me; and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they ſhall loathe themſelves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, and that I have not ſaid in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Smite with thine hand, and ſtamp with thy foot, and ſay, Alas! for all the evil abominations of the houſe of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

of

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate: yea, more desolate than the wilderness towards Diblah, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The final desolation of Israel. The enemies defile the sanctuary because of the Israelites abominations.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God unto the land of Israel; An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompence upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompence thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God; An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come: it watcheth for thee; behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come upon thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompence thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompence thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold it is come: the morning is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor any of their's: neither shall there be wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return: neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 But they that escape of them, shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the vallies, all of them mourning every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it is the stumbling-block of their iniquity.

20 As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations, and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil: and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 Make a chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 Destruction cometh, and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; then shall they seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

Ezekiel in a vision sheweth the image of jealousy, and the worshippers of the sun. God's wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire; and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.

3 And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate, that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoked to jealousy.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.

5 Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: so I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold, north-ward at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold, every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth us not; the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the Lord's house, which was towards the north; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

17 Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and lo, they put the branch to their nose.

18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAP. IX.

A vision, whereby is shewed the preservation of some, and destruction of the rest. God cannot be intreated for them.

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came forth from the way of the higher gate, which lieth toward the north, and every man a slaughter-weapon in his hand; and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's ink-horn by his side: and they went in and stood beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side;

4 And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh, and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity.

6 Slay utterly old and young, both maids and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 And it came to pass while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah, Lord God! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; but I will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

The vision of the coals of fire, to be scattered over the city. The vision of the cherubims.

THEN I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubims, there appeared over them, as it were a sapphire-stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the Lord's glory.

5 And the sound of the cherubims wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims, unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the cherubims, the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl-stone.

10 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east-gate of the Lord's house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar; and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

The presumption of the princes: their sin and judgment. Ezekiel complaining, God sheweth him his purpose in saving a remnant, and punishing the wicked.

MOreover, the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east-gate of the Lord's house, which looketh eastward: and behold, hold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Which say, It is not near; let us build houses: the city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak; Thus saith the Lord; Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Your slain, whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword: I will judge you in the border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Israel:

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 And it came to pass when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah, Lord God! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get ye far from the Lord: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God; Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God; I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:

20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things, and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord God.

22 Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And the glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain, which is on the east side of the city.

24 Afterwards the spirit took me up, and brought me in vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

The type of Ezekiel's removing, sheweth the captivity of Zedekiah. Ezekiel's trembling sheweth the Jews desolation. The Jews presumptuous proverb is reproved. The speediness of the vision.

THE word of the Lord also came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou, son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground:

ground: for I have ſet thee for a ſign unto the houſe of Iſrael.

7 And I did ſo as I was commanded: I brought forth my ſtuff by day, as ſtuff for captivity, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my ſhoulder in their ſight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, ſaying,

9 Son of man, hath not the houſe of Iſrael, the rebellious houſe, ſaid unto thee, What doeſt thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; This burden concerneth the prince in Jeruſalem, and all the houſe of Iſrael that are among them.

11 Say, I am your ſign; like as I have done, ſo ſhall it be done unto them: they ſhall remove and go into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them ſhall bear upon his ſhoulder in the twilight, and ſhall go forth: they ſhall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he ſhall cover his face, that he ſee not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net alſo will I ſpread upon him, and he ſhall be taken in my ſnare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet ſhall he not ſee it, though he ſhall die there.

14 And I will ſcatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the ſword after them.

15 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall ſcatter them among the nations, and diſperſe them in the countries.

16 But I will leave a few men of them from the ſword, from the famine, and from the peſtilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulneſs;

19 And ſay unto the people of the land, Thus ſaith the Lord God, of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and of the land of Iſrael; They ſhall eat their bread with carefulneſs, and drink their water with aſtoniſhment, that her land may be deſolate from all that is therein, becauſe of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited ſhall be laid waſte, and the land ſhall be deſolate; and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

21 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Iſrael, ſaying, The days are prolonged, and every viſion faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus ſaith the Lord God; I will make this proverb to ceaſe, and they ſhall no more uſe it as a proverb in Iſrael; but ſay unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every viſion.

24 For there ſhall be no more any vain viſion, nor flattering divination within the houſe of Iſrael.

25 For I am the Lord: I will ſpeak, and the word that I ſhall ſpeak ſhall come to paſs; it ſhall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious houſe, will I ſay the word, and will perform it, ſaith the Lord God.

26 Again the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

27 Son of man, behold they of the houſe of Iſrael ſay, The viſion that he ſeeth is for many days to come, and he propheſieth of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; There ſhall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have ſpoken ſhall be done, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

The reproof of lying prophets, and their untempered morter. Of propheteſſes and their pillows.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, propheſy againſt the prophets of Iſrael that propheſy, and ſay thou unto them that propheſy out of their own hearts, Hear ye the word of the Lord;

3 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Woe unto the fooliſh prophets, that follow their own ſpirit, and have ſeen nothing!

4 O Iſrael, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deſarts.

5 Ye have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the houſe of Iſrael, to ſtand in the battle, in the day of the Lord.

6 They have ſeen vanity, and lying divination, ſaying, The Lord ſaith; and the Lord hath not ſent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not ſeen a vain viſion, and have ye not ſpoken a lying divination, whereas ye ſay, The Lord ſaith it, albeit I have not ſpoken?

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; becauſe ye have ſpoken vanity, and ſeen lies, therefore behold, I am againſt you, ſaith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand ſhall be upon the prophets that ſee vanity and that divine lies: they ſhall not be in the aſſembly of my people, neither ſhall they be written in the writing of the houſe of Iſrael, neither ſhall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace; and one built up a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered morter:

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered morter, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury: and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered morter, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered morter, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Israel which prophecy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophecy thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord God; Woe to the women that sew pillows to all arm-holes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people, for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls, to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly.

21 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life:

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIV.

God answereth idolators according to their own heart. They are exhorted to repent, for fear of judgments, by means of seduced prophets. God's irrevocable sentence of famine, of noisome beasts, of the sword, and of pestilence.

THEN came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face: should I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face: and cometh to the prophet; I the Lord will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; Repent, and turn yourselves from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the Lord will answer him by myself:

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him;

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 The word of the Lord came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord God (c).

15 If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:

16 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

17 Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off man and beast from it:

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God; How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

22 Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you when ye see their ways, and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause, all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

By the unfitness of the vine-branch for any work, it shewed the rejection of Jerusalem.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. Is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them; they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVI.

Under the similitude of a wretched infant, is shewed the state of Jerusalem. God's extraordinary love towards her. Mercy is promised her in the end.

AGAIN the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem; Thy birth, and thy nativity, is of the land of Canaan; thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born, thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to supple thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all.

(c) The design of this and the following verses is to shew, that when the inhabitants of a land have filled up the measure of their iniquities, and God ariseth to execute judgment upon them, the few righteous among them shall not be able to deliver the nation from the judgments decreed against it. They shall but deliver their own souls, as we see in the case of Sodom, where there were no righteous except Lot and his family; those just persons saved themselves, but no intercession could prevail with the Almighty to spare the city. Noah, Daniel, and Job, were eminent for their piety; Noah and his family were preserved from the universal deluge, and obtained a promise from the Most High, that he would never again destroy the world by water. Daniel interceded with the Almighty for the whole nation of the Jews, and obtained a promise of their restoration. See Dan. ix. And Job was appointed by God himself to make intercession for his three friends: But when the Almighty's irresistible decree is gone out against a nation, even the prayers of such favourites of heaven would be ineffectual to procure its deliverance. The reader will find in Peters's Dissertation on Job, p. 146, a strong proof of the antiquity of the book of Job, deduced from this passage.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live; yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

7 I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badger's skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect, through my comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them.

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is this of thy whoredoms a small matter,

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them.

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass, after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee, saith the Lord God!)

24 That thou hast also built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast increased thy whoredoms to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman!

31 In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, (in that thou scornest hire;)

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband.

33 They give gifts to all whores: but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hirest them that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredom.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord:

36 Thus

36 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thy filthineſs was poured out, and thy nakedneſs diſcovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didſt give unto them;

37 Behold therefore, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou haſt taken pleaſure, and all them that thou haſt loved, with all them that thou haſt hated; I will even gather them round about againſt thee, and will diſcover thy nakedneſs unto them, that they may ſee all thy nakedneſs.

38 And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock, and ſhed blood, are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealouſy.

39 And I will alſo give thee into their hand, and they ſhall throw down thine eminent place, and ſhall break down thy high places; they ſhall ſtrip thee alſo of thy clothes, and ſhall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 They ſhall alſo bring up a company againſt thee, and they ſhall ſtone thee with ſtones, and thruſt thee through with their ſwords.

41 And they ſhall burn thine houſes with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the ſight of many women: and I will cauſe thee to ceaſe from playing the harlot, and thou alſo ſhalt give no hire any more.

42 So will I make my fury towards thee to reſt, and my jealouſy ſhall depart from thee; and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Becauſe thou haſt not remembered the days of thy youth, but haſt fretted me in all theſe things; behold therefore, I alſo will recompence thy way upon thine head, ſaith the Lord God: and thou ſhalt not commit this lewdneſs, above all thine abominations.

44 Behold, every one that uſeth proverbs, ſhall uſe this proverb againſt thee, ſaying, As is the mother, ſo is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her huſband and her children; and thou art the ſiſter of thy ſiſters, which loathed their huſbands, and their children; your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder ſiſter is Samaria, ſhe and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and thy younger ſiſter that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet haſt thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but, as if that were a very little thing, thou waſt corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, Sodom thy ſiſter hath not done, ſhe nor her daughters, as thou haſt done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom, Pride, fulneſs of bread, and abundance of idleneſs was in her, and in her daughters, neither did ſhe ſtrengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I ſaw good.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy ſins; but thou haſt multiplied thine abominations more than they, and haſt juſtified thy ſiſters in all thine abominations which thou haſt done.

52 Thou alſo which haſt judged thy ſiſters, bear thine own ſhame for thy ſins that thou haſt committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded alſo, and bear thy ſhame, in that thou haſt juſtified thy ſiſters.

53 When I ſhall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midſt of them:

54 That thou mayeſt bear thine own ſhame, and mayeſt be confounded in all that thou haſt done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.

55 When thy ſiſters, Sodom and her daughters, ſhall return to their former eſtate, and Samaria and her daughters ſhall return to their former eſtate, then thou and thy daughters ſhall return to your former eſtate.

56 For thy ſiſter Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride:

57 Before thy wickedneſs was diſcovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philiſtines which deſpiſe thee round about.

58 Thou haſt borne thy lewdneſs, and thine abominations, ſaith the Lord.

59 For thus ſaith the Lord God; I will even deal with thee as thou haſt done, which hath deſpiſed the oath, in breaking the covenant.

60 Nevertheleſs, I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will eſtabliſh unto thee an everlaſting covenant.

61 Then thou ſhalt remember thy ways, and be aſhamed, when thou ſhalt receive thy ſiſters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will eſtabliſh my covenant with thee: and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord:

63 That thou mayeſt remember and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, becauſe of thy ſhame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou haſt done, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVII.

Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, is shewed God's judgment upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. God promiseth to plant the cedar of the gospel.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God; A great eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great eagle, with great wings and many feathers: and behold, this vine did bend her roots towards him, and shot forth her branches towards him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God; Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east-wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 And hath taken of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses, and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him, in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons:

18 Seeing he despised the oath, by breaking the covenant, (when lo, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God; I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent.

23 In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord have spoken, and have done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

God reproveth the unjust parable of sour grapes: he sheweth how he dealeth with the just father, with a wicked son of a just father, with a just son of a wicked father, with a wicked man repenting, and with a just man revolting.

THE word of the Lord came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be juſt, and do that which is lawful and right,

6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the houſe of Iſrael, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menſtruous woman;

7 And hath not oppreſſed any, but hath reſtored to the debtor his pledge, hath ſpoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

8 He that hath not given forth upon uſury, neither hath taken any increaſe, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my ſtatutes, and hath kept my judgments to deal truly; he is juſt, he ſhall ſurely live, ſaith the Lord God.

10 If he beget a ſon that is a robber, a ſhedder of blood, and that doeth the like to any one of theſe things,

11 And that doeth not any of thoſe duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppreſſed the poor and needy, hath ſpoiled by violence, hath not reſtored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon uſury, and hath taken increaſe: ſhall he then live? he ſhall not live: he hath done all theſe abominations; he ſhall ſurely die; his blood ſhall be upon him.

14 Now lo, if he beget a ſon that ſeeth all his father's ſins which he hath done, and conſidereth, and doeth not ſuch like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the houſe of Iſrael, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppreſſed any, hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath ſpoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received uſury nor increaſe, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my ſtatutes; he ſhall not die for the iniquity of his father, he ſhall ſurely live.

18 As for his father, becauſe he cruelly oppreſſed, ſpoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people; lo, even he ſhall die in his iniquity.

19 Yet ſay ye, Why? doth not the ſon bear the iniquity of the father? When the ſon hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my ſtatutes, and hath done them, he ſhall ſurely live.

20 The ſoul that ſinneth, it ſhall die. The ſon ſhall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither ſhall the father bear the iniquity of the ſon: the righteouſneſs of the righteous ſhall be upon him, and the wickedneſs of the wicked ſhall be upon him.

21 But if the wicked will turn from all his ſins that he hath committed, and keep all my ſtatutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die.

22 All his tranſgreſſions that he hath committed, they ſhall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteouſneſs that he hath done, he ſhall live.

23 Have I any pleaſure at all that the wicked ſhould die? ſaith the Lord God: and not that he ſhould return from his ways and live?

24 But when the righteous turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, ſhall he live? All his righteouſneſs that he hath done ſhall not be mentioned: in his treſpaſs that he hath treſpaſſed, and in his ſin that he hath ſinned, in them ſhall he die.

25 Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O houſe of Iſrael; Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done ſhall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedneſs that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he ſhall ſave his ſoul alive:

28 Becauſe he conſidereth, and turneth away from all his tranſgreſſions that he hath committed, he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die.

29 Yet ſaith the houſe of Iſrael, The way of the Lord is not equal. O houſe of Iſrael, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O houſe of Iſrael, every one according to his ways, ſaith the Lord God (d): Repent, and turn yourſelves from (d) We learn from this uſeful chapter, that God is perfectly juſt as well as good, that he never condemns men for any but their own ſins, though it ſometimes happens that the children are involved in the temporal evils with which God puniſhes the ſins of their fathers, even to the third and fourth generation; but each ſhall ſtand or fall, in the laſt awful day, by his own good or evil deeds. How exquiſitely gracious the declaration, that God is always ready to pardon, even thoſe who have committed the greateſt crimes, provided they forſake them, and for the future keep his commandments! There cannot be a ſtronger incitement to repentance; the abſolute neceſſity whereof we learn from hence, as well as the nature of that repentance, to which the promiſe of pardon is annexed. It is that, alone, which withdraws a man from ſin, which leads him to repair the evil he has done by reſtitution, and by every other method in his power, followed by actual amendment and reformation. See Oſtervald's Reflections on the Bible.

all your tranſgreſſions; ſo iniquity ſhall not be your ruin.

31 Caſt away from you all your tranſgreſſions, whereby ye have tranſgreſſed, and make you a new heart, and a new ſpirit: for why will ye die, O houſe of Iſrael?

32 For I have no pleaſure in the death of him that dieth, ſaith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourſelves, and live ye.

CHAP. XIX.

A lamentation for the princes of Iſrael, under the parable of lions whelps taken in a pit; and for Jeruſalem, under the parable of a waſted vine.

MOreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Iſrael,

2 And ſay, What is thy mother? a lioneſs: ſhe lay down among lions, ſhe nouriſhed her whelps among young lions.

3 And ſhe brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey; it devoured men.

4 The nations alſo heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when ſhe ſaw that ſhe had waited, and her hope was loſt, then ſhe took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their deſolate places, and he laid waſte their cities; and the land was deſolate, and fullneſs thereof, by the noiſe of his roaring.

8 Then the nations ſet againſt him on every ſide from the provinces, and ſpread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in ward in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into holds, that his voice ſhould no more be heard upon the mountains of Iſrael.

10 Thy mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters; ſhe was fruitful and full of branches by reaſon of many waters.

11 And ſhe had ſtrong rods for the ſceptres of them that bare rule, and her ſtature was exalted among the thick branches, and ſhe appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But ſhe was plucked up in fury, ſhe was caſt down to the ground, and the eaſt-wind dried up her fruit: her ſtrong rods were broken and withered; the fire conſumed them.

13 And now ſhe is planted in the wilderneſs, in a dry and thirſty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, ſo that ſhe hath no ſtrong rod to be a ſceptre to rule: this is a lamentation, and ſhall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

God refuſeth to be conſulted by the elders of Iſrael, for their rebellion. Under the name of a foreſt he ſheweth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem.

AND it came to paſs in the ſeventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Iſrael came to inquire of the Lord, and ſat before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord unto me, ſaying,

3 Son of man, ſpeak unto the elders of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Are ye come to enquire of me? as I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will not be enquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou judge them, ſon of man, wilt thou judge them? cauſe them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; In the day when I choſe Iſrael, and lifted up mine hand unto the ſeed of the houſe of Jacob, and made myſelf known unto them, in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, ſaying, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had eſpied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then ſaid I unto them, Caſt ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourſelves with the idols of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled againſt me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man caſt away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forſake the idols of Egypt: then I ſaid, I will pour out my fury upon them, to accompliſh my anger againſt them, in the midſt of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my name's ſake, that it ſhould not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whoſe ſight I made myſelf known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 Wherefore I cauſed them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderneſs.

11 And I gave them my ſtatutes, and ſhewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he ſhall even live in them.

12 Moreover alſo, I gave them my ſabbaths, to be a ſign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that ſanctify them.

13 But the houſe of Iſrael rebelled againſt me in the wilderneſs: they walked not in my ſtatutes, and they deſpiſed my judgments, which if a man do, he ſhall even live in them; and my ſabbaths

ſabbaths they greatly polluted: then I ſaid, I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderneſs to conſume them.

14 But I wrought for my name's ſake, that it ſhould not be polluted before the heathen, in whoſe ſight I brought them out.

15 Yet alſo I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderneſs, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands;

16 Becauſe they deſpiſed my judgments, and walked not in my ſtatutes, but polluted my ſabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheleſs, mine eye ſpared them from deſtroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderneſs.

18 But I ſaid unto their children in the wilderneſs, Walk ye not in the ſtatutes of your fathers, neither obſerve their judgments, nor defile yourſelves with their idols.

19 I am the Lord your God; walk in my ſtatutes, and keep my judgments, and do them:

20 And hallow my ſabbaths; and they ſhall be a ſign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithſtanding, the children rebelled againſt me: they walked not in my ſtatutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he ſhall even live in them; they polluted my ſabbaths: then I ſaid, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accompliſh my anger againſt them in the wilderneſs.

22 Nevertheleſs, I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's ſake, that it ſhould not be polluted in the ſight of the heathen, in whoſe ſight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them alſo in the wilderneſs, that I would ſcatter them among the heathen, and diſperſe them through the countries;

24 Becauſe they had not executed my judgments, but had deſpiſed my ſtatutes, and had polluted my ſabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them alſo ſtatutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they ſhould not live;

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they cauſed to paſs through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them deſolate, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, ſon of man, ſpeak unto the houſe of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Yet in this your fathers have blaſphemed me, in that they have committed a treſpaſs againſt me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they ſaw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their ſacrifices, and there they preſented the provocation of their offering: there alſo they made their ſweet ſavour, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

29 Then I ſaid unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your ſons to paſs through the fire, ye pollute yourſelves with all your idols even unto this day: and ſhall I be enquired of by you, O houſe of Iſrael? As I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your mind ſhall not be at all, that ye ſay, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to ſerve wood and ſtone.

33 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ſurely with a mighty hand, and with a ſtretched-out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are ſcattered, with a mighty hand, and with a ſtretched-out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderneſs of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderneſs of the land of Egypt, ſo will I plead with you, ſaith the Lord God.

37 And I will cauſe you to paſs under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that tranſgreſs againſt me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they ſojourn, and they ſhall not enter into the land of Iſrael: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O houſe of Iſrael, thus ſaith the Lord God; Go ye, ſerve ye every one his idols, and hereafter alſo, if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God, there ſhall all the houſe of Iſrael, all of them in the land, ſerve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firſt-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your ſweet ſavour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been ſcattered; and I will be ſanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall bring you into the land of Iſrael, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And there ſhall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled; and ye ſhall loath yourſelves in your own ſight, for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 And ye ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have wrought with you for my name's ſake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God.

45 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

46 Son of man, ſet thy face toward the ſouth, and drop thy word toward the ſouth, and propheſy againſt the foreſt of the ſouth field;

47 And ſay to the foreſt of the ſouth, Hear the word of the Lord; Thus ſaith the Lord God; behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it ſhall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame ſhall not be quenched, and all faces from the ſouth to the north ſhall be burned therein.

48 And all fleſh ſhall ſee that I the Lord have kindled it: it ſhall not be quenched.

49 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God! they ſay of me, Doth he not ſpeak parables.

CHAP. XXI.

Ezekiel propheſieth againſt Jeruſalem. The ſharp ſword againſt Jeruſalem, and againſt the Ammonites.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face toward Jeruſalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and propheſy againſt the land of Iſrael,

3 And ſay to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, I am againſt thee, and will draw forth my ſword out of his ſheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore ſhall my ſword go forth out of his ſheath againſt all fleſh, from the ſouth to the north:

5 That all fleſh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my ſword out of his ſheath: it ſhall not return any more.

6 Sigh therefore, thou ſon of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterneſs ſigh before their eyes.

7 And it ſhall be, when they ſay unto thee, Wherefore ſigheſt thou? that thou ſhalt anſwer, For the tidings; becauſe it cometh: and every heart ſhall melt, and all hands ſhall be feeble, and every ſpirit ſhall faint, and all knees ſhall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and ſhall be brought to paſs, ſaith the Lord God.

8 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

9 Son of man, propheſy, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord; Say, A ſword, a ſword is ſharpened, and alſo furbiſhed:

10 It is ſharpened to make a ſore ſlaughter; it is furbiſhed that it may glitter: ſhould we then make mirth? it contemneth the rod of my ſon, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be furbiſhed, that it may be handled: the ſword is ſharpened, and it is furbiſhed, to give it into the hand of the ſlayer.

12 Cry and howl, ſon of man: for it ſhall be upon my people, it ſhall be upon all the princes of Iſrael: terrors by reaſon of the ſword ſhall be upon my people: ſmite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 Becauſe it is a trial; and what if the ſword contemn even the rod? it ſhall be no more, ſaith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, ſon of man, propheſy, and ſmite thine hands together, and let the ſword be doubled the third time, the ſword of the ſlain: it is the ſword of the great men that are ſlain, which entereth into their privy chambers.

15 I have ſet the point of the ſword againſt all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: Ah, it is made bright, it is wrapped up for the ſlaughter.

16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whitherſoever thy face is ſet.

17 I will alſo ſmite mine hands together, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt, I the Lord have ſaid it.

18 The word of the Lord came unto me again, ſaying,

19 Alſo, thou ſon of man, appoint thee two ways, that the ſword of the king of Babylon may come: both twain ſhall come forth out of one land: and chooſe thou a place, chooſe it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the ſword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jeruſalem the defenced.

21 For the king of Babylon ſtood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to uſe divination: he made his arrows bright, he conſulted with images, he looked in the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jeruſalem to appoint captains, to open the mouth in the ſlaughter, to lift up the voice with ſhouting, to appoint battering rams againſt the gates, to caſt a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it ſhall be unto them as a falſe divination tion in their ſight, to them that have ſworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your tranſgreſſions are diſcovered, ſo that in all your doings your ſins do appear, becauſe, I ſay, that ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou, profane wicked prince of Iſrael, whoſe day is come, when iniquity ſhall have an end.

26 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this ſhall not be the ſame: exalt him that is low, and abaſe him that is high.

27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: and it ſhall be no more, until he come whoſe right it is; and I will give it him.

28 And, thou ſon of man, propheſy and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; even ſay thou, The ſword, the ſword is drawn: for the ſlaughter it is furbiſhed, to conſume becauſe of the glittering.

29 Whiles they ſee vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are ſlain, of the wicked whoſe day is come, when their iniquity ſhall have an end.

30 Shall I cauſe it to return into his ſheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou waſt created, in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow againſt thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of bruti ſh men, and ſkilful to deſtroy.

32 Thou ſhalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood ſhall be in the midſt of the land; thou ſhalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have ſpoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

A catalogue of ſins in Jeruſalem. The general corruption of prophets, prieſts, princes, and people.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Now, thou ſon of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? yea, thou ſhalt ſhew her all her abominations.

3 Then ſay thou, Thus ſaith the Lord God; The city ſheddeth blood in the midſt of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols againſt herſelf to defile herſelf.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou haſt ſhed, and haſt defiled thyſelf in thine idols which thou haſt made: and thou haſt cauſed thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Thoſe that be near, and thoſe that be far from thee, ſhall mock thee, which art infamous, and much vexed.

6 Behold, the princes of Iſrael, every one were in thee to their power to ſhed blood.

7 In thee have they ſet light by father and mother: in the midſt of thee have they dealt by oppreſſion with the ſtranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherleſs and the widow.

8 Thou haſt deſpiſed mine holy things, and haſt profaned my ſabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carry tales to ſhed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midſt of thee they commit lewdneſs.

10 In thee have they diſcovered their father's nakedneſs: in thee have they humbled her that was ſet apart for pollution.

11 And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in thee hath humbled his ſiſter, his father's daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to ſhed blood; thou haſt taken uſury and increaſe, and thou haſt greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and haſt forgotten me, ſaith the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore I have ſmitten mine hand at thy diſhoneſt gain which thou haſt made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midſt of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be ſtrong in the days that I ſhall deal with thee? I thee Lord have ſpoken it, and will do it.

15 And I will ſcatter thee among the heathen, and diſperſe thee in the countries, and will conſume thy filthineſs out of thee.

16 And thou ſhalt take thine inheritance in thyſelf in the ſight of the heathen, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

18 Son of man, the houſe of Iſrael is to me become droſs: all they are braſs, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midſt of the furnace; they are even the droſs of ſilver.

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe ye are all become droſs, behold therefore, I will gather you into the midſt of Jeruſalem.

20 As they gather ſilver, and braſs, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midſt of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; ſo will I gather you in mine anger, and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye ſhall be melted in the midſt thereof.

22 As ſilver is melted in the midſt of the furnace, ſo ſhall ye be melted in the midſt thereof; and ye ſhall know that I the Lord have poured out my fury upon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

24 Son of man, ſay unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleanſed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 There is a conſpiracy of her prophets in the midſt thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they have devoured ſouls; they have taken the treaſure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midſt thereof.

26 Her prieſts have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they ſhewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my ſabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in the midſt thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to ſhed blood, and to deſtroy ſouls, to get diſhoneſt gain.

28 And her prophets have daubed them with untempered morter, ſeeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not ſpoken.

29 The people of the land have uſed oppreſſion, and exerciſed robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppreſſed the ſtranger wrongfully.

30 And I ſought for a man among them, that ſhould make up the hedge, and ſtand in the gap before me for the land, that I ſhould not deſtroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have conſumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompenſed upon their heads, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

The whoredoms of Aholah and Aholibah. The prophet reproveth their adulteries, and ſheweth their judgments.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother:

3 And they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breaſts preſſed, and there they bruiſed the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her ſiſter: and they were mine, and they bare ſons and daughters: thus were their names; Samaria is Aholah, and Jeruſalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when ſhe was mine; and ſhe doted on her lovers, on the Aſſyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them deſirable young men, horſemen riding upon horſes.

7 Thus ſhe committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the choſen men of Aſſyria, and with all on whom ſhe doted: with all their idols ſhe defiled herſelf.

8 Neither left ſhe her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruiſed the breaſts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Aſſyrians, upon whom ſhe doted.

10 Theſe diſcovered her nakedneſs: they took her ſons and her daughters, and ſlew her with the ſword: and ſhe became famous among women: for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her ſiſter Aholibah ſaw this, ſhe was more corrupt in her inordinate love than ſhe, and in her whoredoms more than her ſiſter in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the Aſſyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed moſt gorgeouſly, horſemen riding upon horſes, all of them deſirable young men.

13 Then I ſaw that ſhe was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that ſhe increaſed her whoredoms: for when ſhe ſaw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermillion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity.

16 And as ſoon as ſhe ſaw them with her eyes, ſhe doted upon them, and ſent meſſengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and ſhe was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated from them.

18 So ſhe diſcovered her whoredoms, and diſcovered her nakedneſs: then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her ſiſter.

19 Yet ſhe multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein ſhe had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For ſhe doted upon their paramours, whoſe fleſh is as the fleſh of aſſes, and whoſe iſſue is like the iſſue of horſes.

21 Thus thou calledſt to remembrance the lewdneſs of thy youth, in bruiſing thy teats by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will raiſe up thy lovers againſt thee, from whom my mind is alienated, and I will bring them againſt thee on every ſide;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Aſſyrians with them: all of them deſirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horſes.

24 And they ſhall come againſt thee with chariots, waggons, and wheels, and with an aſſembly of people, which ſhall ſet againſt thee buckler, and ſhield, and helmet round about: and I will ſet judgment before them, and they ſhall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will ſet my jealouſy againſt thee, and they ſhall deal furiouſly with thee: they ſhall take away thy noſe, and thine ears; and thy remnant ſhall fall by the ſword: they ſhall take thy ſons and thy daughters; and thy reſidue ſhall be devoured by the fire.

26 They ſhall alſo ſtrip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdneſs to ceaſe from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: ſo that thou ſhalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hateſt, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated.

29 And they ſhall deal with thee hatefully, and ſhall take away all thy labour, and ſhall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedneſs of thy whoredoms ſhall be diſcovered, both thy lewdneſs and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do theſe things unto thee, becauſe thou haſt gone a whoring after the heathen, and becauſe thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou haſt walked in the way of thy ſiſter; therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus ſaith the Lord God; thou ſhalt drink of thy ſiſter's cup deep and large: thou ſhalt be laughed to ſcorn and had in deriſion; it containeth much.

33 Thou ſhalt be filled with drunkenneſs and ſorrow, with the cup of aſtoniſhment and deſolation, with the cup of thy ſiſter Samaria.

34 Thou ſhalt even drink it and ſuck it out, and thou ſhalt break the ſherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breaſts: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thou haſt forgotten me, and caſt me behind thy back, therefore bear thou alſo thy lewdneſs and thy whoredoms.

36 The Lord ſaid moreover unto me; Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have alſo cauſed their ſons whom they bare unto me, to paſs for them through the fire to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my ſanctuary in the ſame day, and have profaned my ſabbaths.

39 For when they had ſlain their children to their idols, then they came the ſame day into my ſanctuary to profane it; and lo, thus have they done in the midſt of mine houſe.

40 And furthermore, that ye have ſent for men to come from far, unto whom a meſſenger was ſent; and lo, they came: for whom thou didſt waſh thyſelf, paintedſt thine eyes, and deckedſt thyſelf with ornaments,

41 And ſatteſt upon a ſtately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou haſt ſet mine incenſe and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at eaſe was with her: and with the men of the common ſort were brought Sabeans from the wilderneſs, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then ſaid I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and ſhe with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: ſo went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 And the righteous men, they ſhall judge them after the manner of adultereſſes, and after the manner of women that ſhed blood; becauſe the are adultereſſes, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus ſaith the Lord God: I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and ſpoiled.

47 And the company ſhall ſtone them with ſtones, and diſpatch them with their ſwords; they ſhall ſlay their ſons and their daughters, and burn up their houſes with fire.

48 Thus will I cauſe lewdneſs to ceaſe out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdneſs.

49 And they ſhall recompenſe your lewdneſs upon you, and ye ſhall bear the ſins of your idols: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIV.

Under the parable of a boiling pot, is ſhewed the irrecoverable deſtruction of Jeruſalem. By the ſign of Ezekiel, not mourning for the death of his wife, is ſhewed the calamity of the Jews to be beyond all ſorrow.

AGAIN in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, Write thee the name of the day, day, even of this ſame day: the king of Babylon ſet himſelf againſt Jeruſalem this ſame day.

3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious houſe, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Set on a pot, ſet it on, and alſo pour water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the ſhoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn alſo the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them ſeethe the bones of it therein.

6 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Woe to the bloody city! to the pot whoſe ſcum is therein, and whoſe ſcum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midſt of her; ſhe ſet it upon the top of a rock; ſhe poured it not upon the ground to cover it with duſt:

8 That it might cauſe fury to come up to take vengeance, I have ſet her blood upon the top of a rock, that it ſhould not be covered.

9 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Woe to the bloody city! I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, conſume the fleſh, and ſpice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then ſet it empty upon the coals thereof, that the braſs of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthineſs of it may be molten in it, that the ſcum of it may be conſumed.

12 She hath wearied herſelf with lies, and her great ſcum went not forth out of her: her ſcum ſhall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthineſs is lewdneſs: becauſe I have purged thee, and thou waſt not purged, thou ſhalt not be purged from thy filthineſs any more, till I have cauſed my fury to reſt upon thee.

14 I the Lord have ſpoken it: it ſhall come to paſs, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I ſpare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, ſhall they judge thee, ſaith the Lord God.

15 Alſo the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the deſire of thine eyes with a ſtroke: yet neither ſhalt thou mourn nor weep, neither ſhall thy tears run down.

17 Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on the ſhoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I ſpake unto the people in the morning: and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 And the people ſaid unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what theſe things are to us, that thou doeſt ſo?

20 Then I anſwered them, The word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

21 Speak unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will profane my ſanctuary, the excellency of your ſtrength, the deſire of your eyes, and that which your ſoul pitieth; and your ſons and your daughters who ye have left ſhall fall by the ſword.

22 And ye ſhall do as I have done: ye ſhall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires ſhall be upon your heads, and your ſhoes upon your feet: ye ſhall not mourn nor weep; but ye ſhall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a ſign: according to all that he hath done ſhall ye do: and when this cometh, ye ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Alſo, thou ſon of man, ſhall it not be in the day when I take from them their ſtrength, the joy of their glory, the deſire of their eyes, and that whereupon they ſet their minds, their ſons and their daughters;

26 That he that eſcapeth in that day, ſhall come unto thee, to cauſe thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 In that day ſhall thy mouth be opened to him which is eſcaped, and thou ſhalt ſpeak, and be no more dumb: and thou ſhalt be a ſign unto them; and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXV.

God's vengeance for their inſolence againſt the Jews, upon the Ammonites, upon Moab and Seir, upon Edom, and upon the Philiſtines.

THE word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man ſet thy face againſt the Ammonites, and propheſy againſt them;

3 And ſay unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord God; Thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thou ſaidſt, Aha, againſt my ſanctuary, when it was profaned; and againſt the land of Iſrael, when it was deſolate; and againſt the houſe of Judah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold therefore, I will deliver thee to the men of the eaſt for a poſſeſſion, and they ſhall ſet their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they ſhall eat thy fruit, and they ſhall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make Rabbah a ſtable for camels, and the Ammonites a couching place for flocks: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thou haſt

haſt clapped thine hands, and ſtamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy deſpite againſt the land of Iſrael;

7 Behold therefore, I will ſtretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a ſpoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cauſe thee to periſh out of the countries: I will deſtroy thee; and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe that Moab and Seir do ſay, Behold the houſe of Judah is like unto all the heathen;

9 Therefore behold, I will open the ſide of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country Beth-jeſhimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,

10 Unto the men of the eaſt with the Ammonites, and will give them in poſſeſſion, that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe that Edom hath dealt againſt the houſe of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himſelf upon them;

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; I will alſo ſtretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beaſt from it; and I will make it deſolate from Teman; and they of Dedan ſhall fall by the ſword.

14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Iſrael: and they ſhall do in Edom, according to mine anger, and according to my fury; and they ſhall know my vengeance, ſaith the Lord God.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe the Philiſtines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a deſpiteful heart to deſtroy it for the old hatred.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will ſtretch out mine hand upon the Philiſtines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and deſtroy the remnant of the ſea-coaſts.

17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall lay my vengeance upon them.

CHAP. XXVI.

Tyrus for inſulting againſt Jeruſalem, is threatened. The power of Nebuchadnezzar againſt her.

AND it came to paſs in the eleventh year, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, becauſe that Tyrus hath ſaid againſt Jeruſalem, Aha, ſhe is broken that was the gates of the people: ſhe is turned unto me: I ſhall be repleniſhed, now ſhe is laid waſte:

3 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt thee, O Tyrus, and will cauſe many nations to come up againſt thee, as the ſea cauſeth his waves to come up.

4 And they ſhall deſtroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will alſo ſcrape her duſt from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It ſhall be a place for the ſpreading of nets in the midſt of the ſea: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God: and it ſhall become a ſpoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field ſhall be ſlain by the ſword; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, a king of kings, from the north, with horſes, and with chariots, and with horſemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He ſhall ſlay with the ſword thy daughters in the field: and he ſhall make a fort againſt thee, and caſt a mount againſt thee, and lift up the buckler againſt thee.

9 And he ſhall ſet engines of war againſt thy walls, and with his axes he ſhall break down thy towers.

10 By reaſon of the abundance of his horſes, their duſt ſhall cover thee: thy walls ſhall ſhake at the noiſe of the horſemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he ſhall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horſes ſhall he tread down all thy ſtreets: he ſhall ſlay thy people by the ſword, and thy ſtrong garriſons ſhall go down to the ground.

12 And they ſhall make a ſpoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandiſe; and they ſhall break down thy walls, and deſtroy thy pleaſant houſes: and they ſhall lay thy ſtones, and thy timber, and thy duſt, in the midſt of the water.

13 And I will cauſe the noiſe of thy ſongs to ceaſe; and the ſound of thy harps ſhall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou ſhalt be a place to ſpread nets upon; thou ſhalt be built no more: for I the Lord have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God to Tyrus; Shall not the iſles ſhake at the ſound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the ſlaughter is made in the midſt of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the ſea ſhall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they ſhall clothe themſelves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of sea-faring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God; When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down, with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I shall set glory in the land of the living:

21 I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVII.

The rich supply of Tyrus: the great and irrecoverable fall thereof.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Now, thou son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord God; O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy ship-boards of fir-trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars: the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail; blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The antients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof, were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud, and of Phut, were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.

13 Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men, and vessels of brass in thy market.

14 They of the house of Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses, and horsemen, and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present, horns of ivory and ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and agate.

17 Judah and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.

19 Dan also and Javan going to and fro, occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones and gold.

23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur, and Chilmad, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in all sorts of things, in blue clothes, and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market; and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

26 Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east-wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas.

27 Thy

27 Thy riches and thy fairs, thy merchandiſe, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandiſe, and all thy men of war that are in thee, and in all thy company, which is in the midſt of thee, ſhall fall into the midſt of the ſeas, in the day of thy ruin.

28 The ſuburbs ſhall ſhake at the ſound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the ſea, ſhall come down from their ſhips, they ſhall ſtand upon the land;

30 And ſhall cauſe their voice to be heard againſt thee, and ſhall cry bitterly, and ſhall caſt up duſt upon their heads, they ſhall wallow themſelves in the aſhes.

31 And they ſhall make themſelves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with ſack-cloth, and they ſhall weep for thee with bitterneſs of heart, and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they ſhall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, ſaying, What city is like Tyrus, like the deſtroyed in the midſt of the ſea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the ſeas, thou filledſt many people; thou didſt enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches, and of thy merchandiſe.

34 In the time when thou ſhalt be broken by the ſeas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandiſe and all thy company in the midſt of thee ſhall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the iſles ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee, and their kings ſhall be ſore afraid, they ſhall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people ſhall hiſs at thee: thou ſhalt be a terror, and never ſhalt be any more.

CHAP. XXVIII.

God's judgment upon the prince of Tyrus, for his ſacrilegious pride. A lamentation of his great glory corrupted by ſin. The judgment of Zidon. The reſtoration of Iſrael.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſay unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus ſaith the Lord God; becauſe thine heart is lifted up, and thou haſt ſaid, I am a god, I ſit in the ſeat of God, in the midſt of the ſeas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou ſet thine heart as the heart of God:

3 Behold, thou art wiſer than Daniel; there is no ſecret that they can hide from thee:

4 With thy wiſdom and with thine underſtanding thou haſt gotten thee riches, and haſt gotten gold and ſilver into thy treaſures:

5 By thy great wiſdom and by thy traffick haſt thou increaſed thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up becauſe of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thou haſt ſet thine heart as the heart of God;

7 Behold therefore, I will bring ſtrangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt the beauty of thy wiſdom, and they ſhall defile thy brightneſs.

8 They ſhall bring thee down to the pit, and thou ſhalt die the deaths of them that are ſlain in the midſt of the ſeas (e).

9 Wilt thou yet ſay before him that ſlayeth thee, I am God? but thou ſhalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that ſlayeth thee.

10 Thou ſhalt die the deaths of the uncircumciſed, by the hand of ſtrangers: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Thou ſealeſt up the ſum, full of wiſdom and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou haſt been in Eden the garden of God; every precious ſtone was thy covering, the ſardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jaſper, the ſapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanſhip of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou waſt created.

14 Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth: and I have ſet thee ſo; thou waſt upon the holy mountain of God; thou haſt walked up and down in the midſt of the ſtones of fire.

15 Thou waſt perfect in thy ways from the day that thou waſt created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandiſe they have filled the midſt of thee with violence, and thou haſt ſinned: therefore I will caſt thee as profane out of the mountain of God: I will deſtroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midſt of the ſtones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up becauſe of thy

(e) "Thou ſhalt die the death of thoſe who periſhed in the flood: deaths, in the plural, as intimating a ſtill farther puniſhment even after death; ſuch as that impious race experienced, and ſuch as this haughty prince had well deſerved by his mad pride and blaſphemous impiety. And therefore with the ſame emphaſis the prophet tells us, ver. 10. Thou ſhalt die the deaths, the double death, of the uncircumciſed;—that is, of unbelievers and enemies to God. This is not the only place in this prophecy where the deſtruction by the deluge is alluded to: for this, and the fall of angels, being two of the greateſt events that ever happened, and the moſt remarkable of God's judgments; it was very natural for the prophets to recur to them, when they would raiſe their ſtile in the deſcription of the fall of em-beauty, thou haſt corrupted thy wiſdom by reaſon of thy brightneſs: I will caſt thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou haſt defiled thy ſanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midſt of thee, it ſhall devour thee, and I will bring thee to aſhes upon the earth, in the ſight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee: thou ſhalt be a terror, and never ſhalt thou be any more.

20 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

21 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Zidon, and propheſy againſt it,

22 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midſt of thee: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall have executed judgments in her, and ſhall be ſanctified in her.

23 For I will ſend into her, peſtilence, and blood into her ſtreets; and the wounded ſhall be judged in the midſt of her, by the ſword upon her on every ſide; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

24 And there ſhall be no more a pricking brier unto the houſe of Iſrael, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that deſpiſed them; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord God; When I ſhall have gathered the houſe of Iſrael from the people among whom they are ſcattered, and ſhall be ſanctified in them in the ſight of the heathen, then ſhall they dwell in their land that I have given to my ſervant Jacob.

26 And they ſhall dwell ſafely therein, and ſhall build houſes, and plant vineyards, yea, they ſhall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all thoſe that deſpiſe them round about them; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

The judgment of Pharaoh, for his treachery to Iſrael. The deſolation of Egypt. The reſtoration thereof after forty years. Egypt the reward of Nebuchadrezzar.

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Pharaoh king of Egypt, and propheſy againſt him, and againſt all Egypt:

3 Speak and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midſt of his rivers, which hath ſaid, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myſelf.

4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cauſe the fiſh of thy rivers to ſtick unto thy ſcales, and I will bring thee up out of the midſt of thy rivers, and all the fiſh of thy rivers ſhall ſtick unto thy ſcales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderneſs, thee and all the fiſh of thy rivers: thou ſhalt fall upon the open fields; thou ſhalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beaſts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt ſhall know that I am the Lord, becauſe they have been a ſtaff of reed to the houſe of Iſrael.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didſt break and rend all their ſhoulder; and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakeſt, and madeſt all their loins to be at a ſtand.

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will bring a ſword upon thee, and cut off man and beaſt out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt ſhall be deſolate and waſte; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord: becauſe he hath ſaid, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold therefore, I am againſt thee, and againſt thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waſte and deſolate from the tower of Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man ſhall paſs through it, nor foot of beaſt ſhall paſs through it, neither ſhall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt deſolate in the midſt of the countries that are deſolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waſte, ſhall be deſolate forty years, and I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will diſperſe them through the countries.

13 Yet thus ſaith the Lord God; At the end of forty years, will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were ſcattered:

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cauſe them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habipires and of tyrants. Thus we find a very beautiful alluſion to both thoſe great events in the ſame prediction of our prophet, of the downfal of Tyre and its haughty prince, in the 26th and following chapter. As the ſtile of this prophet is wonderfully adapted to the ſubject whereof he treats, he compares the deſtruction of this famous maritime city to a veſſel ſhipwrecked in the ſea, and ſo ſends them to the people of old time, as he calls them, chap. xxiv. 20. (where it ſhould certainly be ſo rendered) who were ſwallowed up in the univerſal deluge. Their prince he compares to the prince of the rebel angels, whoſe pride had given him ſuch a dreadful fall. See chap. xxvi. 18—20. xxvii 26.

tation; and they shall be there a base kingdom.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord God.

17 And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the service that he had served against it:

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall take her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The desolation of Egypt, and her helpers. The arm of Babylon shall be strengthened to break the arm of Egypt.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God; Howl ye, Wo worth the day!

3 For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia and Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord; They also that uphold Egypt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God; I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God; I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph; and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strength of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of Aven and of Phibeseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall be darkened, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her; as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And

23 And I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will diſperſe them through the countries.

24 And I will ſtrengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my ſword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he ſhall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will ſtrengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh ſhall fall down; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall put my ſword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall ſtretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and diſperſe them among the countries; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

A relation unto Pharaoh of the glory of Aſſyria, and the fall thereof for pride. The like deſtruction of Egypt.

AND it came to paſs in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſpeak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatneſs?

3 Behold, the Aſſyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a ſhadowing ſhroud, and of an high ſtature; and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters made him great, the deep ſet him up on high, with her rivers running round about his plants, and ſent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long, becauſe of the multitude of waters, when he ſhot forth.

6 All the fowls of heaven made their neſts in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beaſts of the field bring forth their young, and under his ſhadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatneſs, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the cheſnut-trees were not like his branches; nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: ſo that all the trees of Eden that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Becauſe thou haſt lifted up thyſelf in height, and he hath ſhot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen: he ſhall ſurely deal with him; I have driven him out for his wickedneſs.

12 And ſtrangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone down from his ſhadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruin ſhall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beaſts of the field ſhall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themſelves for their height, neither ſhoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees ſtand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midſt of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God; In the day when he went down to the grave, I cauſed a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I reſtrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were ſtayed: and I cauſed Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to ſhake at the ſound of his fall, when I caſt him down to hell with them that deſcend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and beſt of Lebanon, all that drink water ſhall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They alſo went down into hell with him, unto them that be ſlain with the ſword; and they that were his arm, that dwelt under his ſhadow in the midſt of the heathen.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatneſs among the trees of Eden? yet ſhalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou ſhalt lie in the midſt of the uncircumciſed, with them that be ſlain by the ſword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

A lamentation for the fall of Egypt, by the ſword of Babylon. It ſhall be brought down among uncircumciſed nations.

AND it came to paſs in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and ſay unto him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the ſeas: and thou cameſt forth with thy rivers, and troubledſt the waters with thy feet, and fouledſt their rivers.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord God; I will therefore ſpread out my net over thee, with a company of many people; and they ſhall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will caſt thee forth upon the open field, and will cauſe all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beaſts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy fleſh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will alſo water with thy blood the land wherein thou ſwimmeſt, even to the mountains; and the rivers ſhall be full of thee.

7 And when I ſhall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the ſtars thereof dark; I will cover the ſun with a cloud, and the moon ſhall not give her light.

8 All the bright ſtars of heaven will I make dark over thee, and ſet darkneſs upon thy land, ſaith the Lord God.

9 I will alſo vex the hearts of many people, when I ſhall bring thy deſtruction among the nations, into the countries which thou haſt not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings ſhall be horribly afraid for thee, when I ſhall brandiſh my ſword before them; and they ſhall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus ſaith the Lord God; the ſword of the king of Babylon ſhall come upon thee.

12 By the ſwords of the mighty will I cauſe thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them: and they ſhall ſpoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhall be deſtroyed.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſts thereof from beſides the great waters; neither ſhall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beaſts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cauſe their rivers to run like oil, ſaith the Lord God.

15 When I ſhall make the land of Egypt deſolate, and the country ſhall be deſtitute of that whereof it was full, when I ſhall ſmite all them that dwell therein, then ſhall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they ſhall lament her: the daughters of the nations ſhall lament her: they ſhall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

17 It came to paſs alſo in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and caſt them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom doſt thou paſs in beauty? go down and be thou laid with the uncircumciſed.

20 They ſhall fall in the midſt of them that are ſlain by the ſword: ſhe is delivered to the ſword: draw her and all her multitudes.

21 The ſtrong among the mighty ſhall ſpeak to him out of the midſt of hell, with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumciſed, ſlain by the ſword.

22 Aſſhur is there and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them ſlain, fallen by the ſword.

23 Whoſe graves are ſet in the ſides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them ſlain, fallen by the ſword, which cauſed terror in the land of the living.

24 There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them ſlain, fallen by the ſword, which are gone down uncircumciſed into the nether parts of the earth, which cauſed their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their ſhame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have ſet her a bed in the midſt of the ſlain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumciſed, ſlain by the ſword; though their terror was cauſed in the land of the living, yet have they borne their ſhame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midſt of them that be ſlain.

26 There is Meſhech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumciſed, ſlain by the ſword, though they cauſed their terror in the land of the living.

27 And they ſhall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumciſed, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war: and they have laid their ſwords under their heads, but their iniquities ſhall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou ſhalt be broken in the midſt of the uncircumciſed, and ſhalt lie with them that were ſlain with the ſword.

29 There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are laid by them that are ſlain by the ſword: they ſhall lie with the uncircumciſed, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 There be the princes of the north all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the ſlain; with their terror they are aſhamed of their might; and they lie uncircumciſed ciſed with them that be ſlain by the ſword, and bear their ſhame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh ſhall ſee them, and ſhall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army ſlain by the ſword, ſaith the Lord God.

32 For I have cauſed my terror in the land of the living; and he ſhall be laid in the midſt of the uncircumciſed, with them that are ſlain with the ſword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Ezekiel is admoniſhed of his duty. God's judgment upon the mocker's of the prophets.

AGAIN the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſpeak to the children of thy people, and ſay unto them, When I bring the ſword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coaſts, and ſet him for their watchman:

3 If when he ſeeth the ſword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 Then whoſoever heareth the ſound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the ſword come, and take him away, his blood ſhall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the ſound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood ſhall be upon him. But he that taketh warning, ſhall deliver his ſoul.

6 But if the watchman ſee the ſword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the ſword come, and take any perſon from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 So thou, O ſon of man, I have ſet thee a watchman unto the houſe of Iſrael: therefore thou ſhalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I ſay unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou ſhalt ſurely die; if thou doſt not ſpeak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man ſhall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheleſs, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he ſhall die in his iniquity; but thou haſt delivered thy ſoul.

10 Therefore, O thou ſon of man, ſpeak unto the houſe of Iſrael; Thus ye ſpeak, ſaying, If our tranſgreſſions and our ſins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how ſhould we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, ſaith the Lord God, I have no pleaſure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye, from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O houſe of Iſrael?

12 Therefore, thou ſon of man, ſay unto the children of thy people, The righteouſneſs of the righteous ſhall not deliver him in the day of his tranſgreſſion: as for the wickedneſs of the wicked, he ſhall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedneſs; neither ſhall the righteous be able to live for his righteouſneſs in the day that he ſinneth.

13 When I ſhall ſay to the righteous, that he ſhall ſurely live; if he truſt to his own righteouſneſs, and commit iniquity, all his righteouſneſs ſhall not be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he ſhall die for it.

14 Again, when I ſay unto the wicked, Thou ſhalt ſurely die; if he turn from his ſin, and do that which is lawful and right;

15 If the wicked reſtore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the ſtatutes of life, without committing iniquity; he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die,

16 None of his ſins that he hath committed ſhall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he ſhall ſurely live.

17 Yet the children of thy people ſay, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, he ſhall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedneſs, and do that which is lawful and right, he ſhall live thereby.

20 Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye houſe of Iſrael, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to paſs in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had eſcaped out of Jeruſalem, came unto me, ſaying, The city is ſmitten.

22 Now the hand of the Lord was upon me in the evening, afore he that was eſcaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

24 Son of man, they that inhabit thoſe waſtes of the land of Iſrael, ſpeak, ſaying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and ſhed blood; and ſhall ye poſſeſs the land?

26 Ye ſtand upon your ſword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and ſhall ye poſſeſs the land?

27 Say thou thus unto the them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; As I live, ſurely they that are in the waſtes ſhall fall by the ſword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beaſts to be devoured, and they that be in the forts and in the caves ſhall die of the peſtilence.

28 For I will lay the land moſt deſolate, and the pomp of her ſtrength ſhall ceaſe: and the mountains of Iſrael ſhall be deſolate, that none ſhall paſs through.

29 Then ſhall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land moſt deſolate, becauſe of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 Alſo, thou ſon of man, the children of thy people ſtill are talking againſt thee by the walls, and in the doors of the houſes, and ſpeak one to another, every one to his brother, ſaying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord.

31 And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they ſit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they ſhew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetouſneſs.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely ſong of one that hath a pleaſant voice, and can play well on an inſtrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to paſs, (lo, it will come) then ſhall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

A reproof of the ſhepherds. God's judgment againſt them: his providence for his flock. The kingdom of Chriſt.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, propheſy againſt the ſhepherds of Iſrael, propheſy, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God unto the ſhepherds; Woe be to the ſhepherds of Iſrael that do feed themſelves! ſhould not the ſhepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed; but ye feed not the flock.

4 The diſeaſed have ye not ſtrengthened, neither have ye healed that which was ſick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye ſought that which was loſt: but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were ſcattered, becauſe there is no ſhepherd: and they became meat to all the beaſts of the field, when they were ſcattered.

6 My ſheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was ſcattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did ſearch or ſeek after them.

7 Therefore, ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord;

8 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ſurely becauſe my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beaſt of the field, becauſe there was no ſhepherd, neither did my ſhepherds ſearch for my flock, but the ſhepherds fed themſelves, and fed not my flock;

9 Therefore, O ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord;

10 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt the ſhepherds; and I will require my flock at their hand, and cauſe them to ceaſe from feeding the flock; neither ſhall the ſhepherds feed themſelves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them (f).

11 For thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both ſearch my ſheep, and ſeek them out.

12 As a ſhepherd ſeeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his ſheep, that are ſcattered; ſo will I ſeek out my ſheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been ſcattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Iſrael by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good paſture, and upon the high mountains of Iſrael ſhall their fold be: there ſhall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat paſture ſhall they feed upon the mountains of Iſrael.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cauſe them to lie down, ſaith the Lord God.

16 I will ſeek that which was loſt, and bring

(f) The words at the cloſe of this chapter, explain the metaphor which runs through the whole. What is ſaid of a flock and its ſhepherd, is to be underſtood of men and their governors, and eſpecially of God's people, whom he takes care of as a ſhepherd does of his flock. We may juſt obſerve, that the preſent is a chapter which both magiſtrates and the rulers of the church ought to meditate upon very ſeriouſly. The complaints which God here makes of falſe ſhepherds, and the terrible denunciations threatened againſt them, ſhew that it is the buſineſs of paſtors, with their utmoſt diligence, to watch over the ſheep with which they are intruſted, and to provide with care and readineſs for all their neceſſities; and that if they fail herein, they muſt give a ſevere account to God. This too lays an obligation upon princes and magiſtrates to govern faithfully and juſtly the people committed to their truſt. What befel the Jews, who for the unfaithfulneſs of their teachers and magiſtrates were utterly deſtroyed, ſhews that it is the greateſt misfortune to a nation to have wicked rulers; and that all who are in any degree concerned for the glory of God, and the edification of his church, ought continually to beſeech him that he would raiſe up to his people good and faithful paſtors.

again that which was driven away, and will blind up that which was broken, and will ſtrengthen that which was ſick: but I will deſtroy the fat and the ſtrong; I will feed them with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a ſmall thing unto you, to have eaten up the good paſture, but ye muſt tread down with your feet the reſidue of your paſtures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye muſt foul the reſidue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet; and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God unto them; Behold I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle, and between the lean cattle.

21 Becauſe ye have thruſt with ſide and with ſhoulder, and puſhed all the diſeaſed with your horns, till ye have ſcattered them abroad;

22 Therefore will I ſave my flock, and they ſhall no more be a prey; and I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will ſet up one ſhepherd over them, and he ſhall feed them, even my ſervant David: he ſhall feed them, and he ſhall be their ſhepherd.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my ſervant David a prince among them: I the Lord have ſpoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cauſe the evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the land: and they ſhall dwell ſafely in the wilderneſs, and ſleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a bleſſing; and I will cauſe the ſhower to come down in his ſeaſon; there ſhall be ſhowers of bleſſing.

27 And the tree of the field ſhall yield her fruit, and the earth ſhall yield her increaſe, and they ſhall be ſafe in their land, and ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of thoſe that ſerved themſelves of them.

28 And they ſhall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither ſhall the beaſt of the land devour them; but they ſhall dwell ſafely, and none ſhall make them afraid.

29 And I will raiſe up for them a plant of renown, and they ſhall be no more conſumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the ſhame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus ſhall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the houſe of Iſrael, are my people, ſaith the Lord God.

31 And ye, my flock, the flock of my paſture, are men, and I am your God, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXV.

The terrible judgment of mount Seir, for their hatred of Iſrael.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt mount Seir, and propheſy againſt it.

3 And ſay unto it, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, O mount Seir, I am againſt thee, and I will ſtretch out mine hand againſt thee, and I will make thee moſt deſolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waſte, and thou ſhalt be deſolate, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Becauſe thou haſt had a perpetual hatred, and haſt ſhed the blood of the children of Iſrael by the force of the ſword, in the time of their calamity, in the time that their iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood ſhall purſue thee: ſince thou haſt not hated blood, even blood ſhall purſue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir moſt deſolate, and cut off from it him that paſſeth out, and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his ſlain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers ſhall they fall that are ſlain with the ſword.

9 I will make thee perpetual deſolations, and thy cities ſhall not return: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

10 Becauſe thou haſt ſaid, Theſe two nations, and theſe two countries, ſhall be mine, and we will poſſeſs it, whereas the Lord was there:

11 Therefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy, which thou haſt uſed out of thy hatred againſt them; and I will make myſelf known amongſt them, when I have judged thee.

12 And thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord, and that I have heard all thy blaſphemies which thou haſt ſpoken againſt the mountains of Iſrael, ſaying, They are laid deſolate, they are given us to conſume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have boaſted againſt me, and have multiplied your words againſt me: I have heard them.

14 Thus ſaith the Lord God; When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee deſolate.

15 As thou didſt rejoice at the inheritance of the houſe of Iſrael, becauſe it was deſolate, ſo will I do unto thee: thou ſhalt be deſolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

The land of Israel is comforted, both by the destruction of the heathen, and by the blessing and mercy of God.

ALSO thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord:

2 Thus saith the Lord God; Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, even the ancient high places are our's in possession:

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God; Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

4 Therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God; Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and derision to the residue of the heathen that are round about;

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession, with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophesy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of the heathen.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; I have lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Israel, for they are at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown:

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be builded:

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and bring fruit: and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord God; Because they say unto you, Thou, land, devourest up men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord God.

15 Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it:

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way, and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you, before their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increaſe of the field, that ye ſhall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then ſhall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings, that were not good, and ſhall loathe yourſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Not for your ſakes do I this, ſaith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be aſhamed and confounded for your own ways, O houſe of Iſrael.

33 Thus ſaith the Lord God; In the day that I ſhall have cleanſed you from all your iniquities, I will alſo cauſe you to dwell in the cities, and the waſtes ſhall be builded.

34 And the deſolate land ſhall be tilled, whereas, it lay deſolate in the ſight of all that paſſed by.

35 And they ſhall ſay, This land that was deſolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waſte, and deſolate, and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you, ſhall know that I the Lord build the ruined places, and plant that that was deſolate: I the Lord have ſpoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus ſaith the Lord God; I will yet for this be enquired of by the houſe of Iſrael, to do it for them; I will increaſe them with men like a flock.

38 As the holy flock, as the flock of Jeruſalem in her ſolemn feaſts; ſo ſhall the waſte cities be filled with flocks of men: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVII.

By the reſurrection of dry bones, the hope of Iſrael is revived. The promiſes of Chriſt's kingdom.

THE hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and ſet me down in the midſt of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And cauſed me to paſs by them round about: and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, can theſe bones live? and I anſwered, O Lord God, thou knoweſt.

4 Again he ſaid unto me, Propheſy upon theſe bones, and ſay unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord God unto theſe bones; Behold, I will cauſe breath to enter into you, and ye ſhall live,

6 And I will lay ſinews upon you, and will bring up fleſh upon you, and cover you with ſkin, and put breath in you; and ye ſhall live; and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I propheſied as I was commanded: and as I propheſied there was a noiſe, and behold a ſhaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the ſinews and the fleſh came up upon them, and the ſkin covered them above: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then ſaid he unto me, Propheſy unto the wind, propheſy, ſon of man, and ſay to the wind, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon theſe ſlain, that they may live.

10 So I propheſied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and ſtood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 Then he ſaid unto me, Son of man, theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſrael: behold, they ſay, Our bones are dried, and our hope is loſt: we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore propheſy, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cauſe you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Iſrael.

13 And ye ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves.

14 And ſhall put my ſpirit in you, and ye ſhall live, and I ſhall place you in your own land: then ſhall ye know that I the Lord have ſpoken it, and performed it, ſaith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

16 Moreover, thou ſon of man, take thee one ſtick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Iſrael his companions. Then take another ſtick, and write upon it, For Joſeph, the ſtick of Ephraim, and for all the houſe of Iſrael his companions;

17 And join them one to another into one ſtick? and they ſhall become one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people ſhall ſpeak unto thee, ſaying, Wilt thou not ſhew us what thou meaneſt by theſe?

19 Say unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will take the ſtick of Joſeph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Iſrael his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the ſtick of Judah, and make them one ſtick, and they ſhall be one in mine hand.

20 And the ſticks whereon thou writeſt, ſhall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I will take the children of Iſrael from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every ſide, and bring them into their own land:

22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Iſrael; and one king ſhall be king to them all: and they ſhall be no more two nations, neither ſhall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their idols, nor with their deteſtable things, nor with any of their tranſgreſſions: but I will ſave them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have ſinned, and will cleanſe them: ſo ſhall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And David my ſervant ſhall be king over them; and they all ſhall have one ſhepherd: they ſhall alſo walk in my judgments, and obſerve my ſtatutes and do them.

25 And they ſhall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my ſervant, wherein your fathers have dwelt: and they ſhall dwell therein, even they and their children, and their children's children for ever: and my ſervant David ſhall be their prince for ever.

26 Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them: it ſhall be an everlaſting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will ſet my ſanctuary in the midſt of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle alſo ſhall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

28 And the heathen ſhall know that I the Lord do ſanctify Iſrael, when my ſanctuary ſhall be in the midſt of them for evermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

The army and malice of Gog: God's judgment againſt him.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal, and propheſy againſt him,

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal.

4 And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horſes and horſemen, all of them clothed with all ſorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and ſhields, all of them handling ſwords:

5 Perſia, Ethiopia, and Lybia with them; all of them with ſhield and helmet:

6 Gomer, and all his bands; the houſe of Togarmah of the north-quarters, and all his bands; and many people with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyſelf, thou and all thy company that are aſſembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 After many days thou ſhalt be viſited: in the latter years thou ſhalt come into the land that is brought back from the ſword, and is gathered out of many people againſt the mountains of Iſrael, which have been always waſte: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they ſhall dwell ſafely all of them.

9 Thou ſhalt aſcend and come like a ſtorm, thou ſhalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord God; It ſhall alſo come to paſs, that at the ſame time ſhall things come into thy mind, and thou ſhalt think an evil thought.

11 And thou ſhalt ſay, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to them that are at reſt, that dwell ſafely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates.

12 To take a ſpoil, and take a prey; to turn thine hand upon the deſolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the midſt of the land.

13 Sheba and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarſhiſh, with all the young lions thereof, ſhall ſay unto thee, Art thou come to take a ſpoil? haſt thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away ſilver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great ſpoil?

14 Therefore, ſon of man, propheſy and ſay unto Gog, Thus ſaith the Lord God; In that day, when my people of Iſrael dwelleth ſafely, ſhalt thou not know it?

15 And thou ſhalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horſes, a great company, and a mighty army.

16 And thou ſhalt come up againſt my people of Iſrael, as a cloud to cover the land; it ſhall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee againſt my land, that the heathen may know me, when I ſhall be ſanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes (g).

(g) "This, ſays Calmet, is one of the moſt difficult prophecies of the Old Teſtament. There are very few which have more divided both ancient and modern interpreters. Not to embarraſs my commentary too much, continues he, I have treated of it in a particular diſſertation. Gog appears to me to be Cambyſes king of Perſia, who, upon his return from the war againſt Egypt, came into the land of Iſrael, and died there. According to this hypotheſis, we may, I think, very aptly explain every part of the prophecy:" and accordingly Calmet's commentary and diſſertation wholly proceed upon this ſuppoſition. Gog and Mageg are mentioned in Rev. xx. 8. and theſe, ſays Bp. Newton, ſeem to have been formerly the general name of the northern nations of Europe and Aſia, as the Aſſyrians have been ſince, and the Tartars are at preſent. The prophecy in the Revelation alludes to this of Ezekiel in many particulars; both the one and the other remain yet to be fulfilled; and therefore we cannot be abſolutely certain that they may not both relate to the ſame event. But it ſeems more probable that they relate to different events: the one is expected to take effect

17 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Art thou he of whom I have ſpoken in old time by my ſervants the prophets of Iſrael, which propheſied in thoſe days many years, that I would bring thee againſt them?

18 And it ſhall come to paſs at the ſame time, when Gog ſhall come againſt the land of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God, that my fury ſhall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealouſy, and in the fire of my wrath, have I ſpoken, Surely in that day there ſhall be a great ſhaking in the land of Iſrael;

20 So that the fiſhes of the ſea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beaſts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, ſhall ſhake at my preſence, and the mountains ſhall be thrown down, and the ſteep places ſhall fall, and every wall ſhall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a ſword againſt him throughout all my mountains, ſaith the Lord God: every man's ſword ſhall be againſt his brother.

22 And I will plead againſt him with peſtilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hail-ſtones, fire and brimſtone.

23 Thus will I magnify myſelf, and ſanctify myſelf; and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

God's judgment upon Gog. Iſrael's victory. Gog's burial. The feaſt of the fowls. Iſrael's eternal favour.

THerefore, thou ſon of man, propheſy againſt Gog, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Behold, I am againſt thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal:

2 And I will turn thee back, and leave but the ſixth part of thee, and will cauſe thee to come up from the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Iſrael.

3 And I will ſmite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cauſe thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou ſhalt fall upon the mountains of Iſrael, thou and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every ſort, and to the beaſts of the field, to be devoured.

5 Thou ſhalt fall upon the open field: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

6 And I will ſend a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell careleſly in the iſles: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 So will I make my holy Name known in the midſt of my people Iſrael; and I will not let them pollute my holy Name any more: and the heathen ſhall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Iſrael.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, ſaith the Lord God; this is the day whereof I have ſpoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Iſrael ſhall go forth, and ſhall ſet on fire and burn the weapons, both the ſhields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the hand-ſtaves and the ſpears, and they ſhall burn them with fire ſeven years:

10 So that they ſhall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the foreſts; for they ſhall burn the weapons with fire: and they ſhall ſpoil thoſe that ſpoiled them, and rob thoſe that robbed them, ſaith the Lord God.

11 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Iſrael, the valley of the paſſengers on the eaſt of the ſea: and it ſhall ſtop the noſes of the paſſengers: and there ſhall they bury Gog, and all his multitude: and they ſhall call it, The valley of Hamon-gog.

12 And ſeven months ſhall the houſe of Iſrael be burying of them, that they may cleanſe the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land ſhall bury them; and it ſhall be to them a renown, the day that I ſhall be glorified, ſaith the Lord God.

14 And they ſhall ſever out men of continual employment, paſſing through the land, to bury with the paſſengers thoſe that remain upon the face of the earth to cleanſe it: after the end of ſeven months ſhall they ſearch.

15 And the paſſengers that paſs through the land when any ſeeth a man's bone, then ſhall he ſet up a ſign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog.

16 And alſo the name of the city ſhall be Hamonah: thus ſhall they cleanſe the land.

17 And thou, ſon of man, Thus ſaith the Lord God; Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to every beaſt of the field; Aſſemble youreffect before, but the other will not take effect till after the Millenium. Gog and Magog in Ezekiel are ſaid expreſly, ver. 6, 15. and chap. xxxix. 2. to come from the north quarters, and the north parts; but in St. John they come from the four quarters or corners of the earth. Gog and Magog in Ezekiel bend their forces againſt the Jews, reſettled in their own land; but in St. John they march up againſt the ſaints and church of God in general. Gog and Magog in Ezekiel are with very good reaſon ſuppoſed to be the Turks; but the Turks are the authors of the ſecond woe, and the ſecond woe, Rev. xi. 14. is paſt before the third woe; and the third woe long precedes the time here treated of. It may therefore be concluded that Gog and Magog, as well as Sodom, and Egypt, and Babylon, are myſtic names in the book of Revelation; and that the laſt enemies in the Chriſtian church are ſo denominated, becauſe Gog and Magog appear to be the laſt enemies of the Jewiſh nation: Who they ſhall be, we cannot pretend to ſay, with the leaſt degree ſelves, and come; gather yourſelves on every ſide to my ſacrifice that I do ſacrifice for you, even a great ſacrifice upon the mountains of Iſrael, that ye may eat fleſh, and drink blood.

18 Ye ſhall eat the fleſh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Baſhan.

19 And ye ſhall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my ſacrifice which I have ſacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye ſhall be filled at my table with horſes and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, ſaith the Lord God.

21 And I will ſet my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen ſhall ſee my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the houſe of Iſrael ſhall know that I am the Lord their God from that day and forward.

23 And the heathen ſhall know that the houſe of Iſrael went into captivity for their iniquity: becauſe they treſpaſſed againſt me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies: ſo fell they all by the ſword.

24 According to their uncleanneſs, and according to their tranſgreſſions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole houſe of Iſrael, and will be jealous for my holy name.

26 After that they had borne their ſhame, and all their treſpaſſes whereby they have treſpaſſed againſt me, when they dwelt ſafely in their land, and none made them afraid.

27 When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies lands, and am ſanctified in them in the ſight of many nations;

28 Then ſhall they know that I am the Lord their God, which cauſed them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.

29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my ſpirit upon the houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The time, manner, and end of the viſion. The deſcription of the gates, tables, chambers, and porch of the houſe.

IN the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was ſmitten, in the ſelf-ſame day the hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 In the viſions of God brought he me into the land of Iſrael, and ſet me upon a very high mountain, by which was as the frame of a city on the ſouth.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man whoſe appearance was like the appearance of braſs, with a line of flax in his hand, and a meaſuring-reed; and he ſtood in the gate.

4 And the man ſaid unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and ſet thine heart upon all that I ſhall ſhew thee; for to the intent that I might ſhew them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou ſeeſt to the houſe of Iſrael.

5 And behold, a wall on the outſide of the houſe round about, and in the man's hand a meaſuring-reed of ſix cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand-breadth: ſo he meaſured the breadth of the building, one reed; and the height one reed.

6 Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the eaſt, and went up the ſtairs thereof, and meaſured the threſhold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threſhold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the little chambers were five cubits; and the threſhold of the gate, by the porch of the gate within, was one reed.

8 He meaſured alſo the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then meaſured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the poſts thereof two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eaſtward, were three on this ſide, and three on that ſide; they three were of one meaſure: and the poſts had one meaſure on this ſide and on that ſide.

degree of certainty. Mr. Mede's conjecture is as rational as any other, that they ſhall be the nations of America. The nations of America, being in all probability colonies or deſcendants from the Scythians, that is from Gog and Magog. See Bp. Newton's Diſſert. vol. iii. p. 328. Houbigant ſays, that the prophet here means the Scythians, who are the deſcendants of Magog, the ſon of Japheth; and whoſe neighbours were the people of Roſh, Meſhech, and Tubal; i. e. the Ruſſians, Muſcovites, and Tibareni, or Cappadocians; and thus Theodoret, Joſephus, Dr. Waterland, and many others underſtand it. Inſtead of The chief prince, Houbigant and Waterland read, The prince of Roſh. It ſeems moſt probable that this very difficult prophecy refers to a future event, and conſequently every interpretation of it muſt be altogether precarious and conjectural. We may juſt obſerve, that the Perſians are mentioned (ver. 5.) among the auxiliary forces of Gog, which ſeems to ſubvert the opinion of Calmet; for it appears by no means probable, that the Perſians ſhould be mentioned as auxiliaries to a king of Perſia.

11 And

11 And he meaſured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits; and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

12 The ſpace alſo before the little chambers was one cubit on this ſide, and the ſpace was one cubit on that ſide: and the little chambers were ſix cubits on this ſide, and ſix cubits on that ſide.

13 He meaſured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door againſt door.

14 He made alſo poſts, of threeſcore cubits, even unto the poſt of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, unto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fifty cubits.

16 And there were narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their poſts within the gate round about, and likewiſe to the arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each poſt were palm-trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there were chambers, and a payement made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the ſide of the gates over againſt the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he meaſured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate, unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits eaſt-ward and north-ward.

20 And the gate of the outward court that looked toward the north, he meaſured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this ſide, and three on that ſide; and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, were after the meaſure of the firſt gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the meaſure of the gate that looketh towards the eaſt; and they went up unto it by ſeven ſteps; and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over againſt the gate toward the north, and toward the eaſt; and he meaſured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 After that he brought me toward the ſouth, and behold, a gate toward the ſouth: and he meaſured the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to theſe meaſures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like thoſe windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were ſeven ſteps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm-trees, one on this ſide, and another on that ſide, upon the poſts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the ſouth: and he meaſured from gate to gate toward the ſouth an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the ſouth gate; and he meaſured the ſouth gate according to theſe meaſures;

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to theſe meaſures: and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court; and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof: and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

32 And he brought me into the inner court toward the eaſt: and he meaſured the gate according to theſe meaſures.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, were according to theſe meaſures: and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court; and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide: and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

35 And he brought me to the north gate, and meaſured it according to theſe meaſures;

36 The little chambers thereof, the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the poſts thereof were toward the utter court; and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide: and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

38 And the chambers, and the entries thereof, were by the poſts of the gates, where they waſhed the burnt-offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this ſide, and two tables on that ſide, to ſlay thereon the burnt-offering, and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering.

40 And at the ſide without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north-gate, were two tables; and on the other ſide, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this ſide, and four tables on that ſide, by the ſide of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they ſlew their ſacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn ſtone for for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon alſo they laid the inſtruments wherewith they ſlew the burnt-offering and the ſacrifice.

43 And within were hooks, an hand broad, faſtened round about: and upon the tables was the fleſh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the ſingers in the inner court, which was at the ſide of the north gate; and their proſpect was toward the ſouth: one at the ſide of the eaſt gate, having the proſpect toward the north.

45 And he ſaid unto me, This chamber, whoſe proſpect is toward the ſouth, is for the prieſts, the keepers of the charge of the houſe.

46 And the chamber whoſe proſpect is toward the north, is for the prieſts, the keepers of the charge of the altar. Theſe are the ſons of Zadok among the ſons of Levi, which came near to the Lord to miniſter unto him.

47 So he meaſured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, fourſquare; and the altar that was before the houſe.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the houſe, and meaſured each poſt of the porch, five cubits on this ſide, and five cubits on that ſide: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this ſide, and three cubits on that ſide.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and he brought me by the ſteps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the poſts, one on this ſide, and another on that ſide.

CHAP. XLI.

The meaſure, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

AFterward he brought me to the temple, and meaſured the poſts, ſix cubits broad on the one ſide, and ſix cubits broad on the other ſide, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the door was ten cubits; and the ſides of the door were five cubits on the one ſide, and five cubits on the other ſide: and he meaſured the length thereof, forty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and meaſured the poſts of the door, two cubits; and the door ſix cubits; and the breadth of the door, ſeven cubits.

4 So he meaſured the length thereof twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits before the temple: and he ſaid unto me, This is the moſt holy place.

5 After he meaſured the wall of the houſe ſix cubits; and the breadth of every ſide-chamber four cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

6 And the ſide-chambers were three, one over another, and thirty in order: and they entered into the wall which was of the houſe for the ſide-chambers round about, that they might have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the houſe.

7 And there was an enlarging and a winding about ſtill upward to the ſide-chambers: for the winding about of the houſe went ſtill upward round about the houſe: therefore the breadth of the houſe was ſtill upward, and ſo increaſed from the loweſt chamber, to the higheſt by the midſt.

8 I ſaw alſo the height of the houſe round about: the foundations of the ſide-chambers were a full reed of ſix great cubits.

9 The thickneſs of the wall which was for the ſide chamber without, was five cubits: and that which was left, was the place of the ſide-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideneſs of twenty cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

11 And the doors of the ſide-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the ſouth: and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the ſeparate place, at the end toward the weſt, was ſeventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he meaſured the houſe an hundred cubits long; and the ſeparate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Alſo the breadth of the face of the houſe, and of the ſeparate place toward the eaſt, an hundred cubits.

15 And he meaſured the length of the building over againſt the ſeparate place which was behind it, and the galleries thereof on the one ſide, and on the other ſide, an hundred cubits with the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

16 The door-poſts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three ſtories, over againſt the door, ceiled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; and the windows were covered;

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner houſe and without, and by all the wall round about, within and without, by meaſure.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees, ſo that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub; and every cherub had two faces;

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one ſide, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other ſide: it was made through all the houſe round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary; the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side-chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

The chambers for the priests. The use thereof. The measures of the outward court.

THEN he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the outer court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries were higher than these, than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars, as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, towards the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the utter court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the Lord shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy? and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east side with the measuring-reed, five hundred reeds with the measuring-reed round about.

17 He measured the north side five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

18 He measured the south side five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed.

19 He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

The returning of the glory of God into the temple. The prophet exhorteth to repentance, and observation of the law of the house.

AFterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east:

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw, when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house houſe by the way of the gate whoſe proſpect is toward the eaſt.

5 So the ſpirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the houſe.

6 And I heard him ſpeaking unto me out of the houſe; and the man ſtood by me.

7 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the ſoles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael for ever, and my holy name ſhall the houſe of Iſrael no more defile; neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcaſes of their kings in their high places.

8 In their ſetting of their threſhold by my threſholds, and their poſt by my poſts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have conſumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcaſes of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in the midſt of them for ever.

10 Thou, ſon of man, ſhew the houſe to the houſe of Iſrael, that they may be aſhamed of their iniquities: and let them meaſure the pattern.

11 And if they be aſhamed of all that they have done, ſhew them the form of the houſe, and the faſhion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their ſight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the houſe; upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about ſhall be moſt holy: behold, this is the law of the houſe.

13 And theſe are the meaſures of the altar after the cubits; The cubit is a cubit and an handbreadth; even the bottom ſhall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about, ſhall be a ſpan: and this ſhall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower ſettle, ſhall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the leſſer ſettle even to the greater ſettle ſhall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So the altar ſhall be four cubits; and from the altar and upward ſhall be four horns.

16 And the altar ſhall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, ſquare in the four ſquares thereof.

17 And the ſettle ſhall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the four ſquares thereof; and the border about it ſhall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof ſhall be a cubit about; and his ſtairs ſhall look toward the eaſt.

18 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, thus ſaith the Lord God; Theſe are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they ſhall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to ſprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou ſhalt give to the prieſts the Levites that be of the ſeed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to miniſter unto me, ſaith the Lord God, a young bullock for a ſin-offering.

20 And thou ſhalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ſettle, and upon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe and purge it.

21 Thou ſhalt take the bullock alſo of the ſin-offering, and he ſhall burn it in the appointed place of the houſe, without the ſanctuary.

22 And on the ſecond day thou ſhalt offer a kid of the goats without blemiſh, for a ſin-offering; and they ſhall cleanſe the altar, as they did cleanſe it with the bullock.

23 When thou haſt made an end of cleanſing it, thou ſhalt offer a young bullock without blemiſh, and a ram out of the flock without blemiſh.

24 And thou ſhalt offer them before the Lord, and the prieſts ſhall caſt ſalt upon them, and they ſhall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

25 Seven days ſhalt thou prepare every day a goat for a ſin-offering: they ſhall alſo prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemiſh.

26 Seven days ſhall they purge the altar, and purify it; and they ſhall conſecrate themſelves.

27 And when theſe days are expired, it ſhall be, that upon the eighth day, and ſo forward, the prieſts ſhall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings; and I will accept you, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLIV.

The eaſt gate aſſigned to the prince. Idolaters incapable of the prieſt's office. The ſons of Zadok are accepted thereto.

THEN he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward ſanctuary, which looketh toward the eaſt; and it was ſhut.

2 Then ſaid the Lord unto me, This gate ſhall be ſhut, it ſhall not be opened, and no man ſhall enter in by it; becauſe the Lord the God of Iſrael hath entered in by it, therefore it ſhall be ſhut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he ſhall ſit in it to eat bread before the Lord: he ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and ſhall go out by the way of the ſame.

4 Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the houſe: and I looked, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the houſe of the Lord: and I fell upon my face.

5 And the Lord ſaid unto me, Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, all that I ſay unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the houſe of the Lord, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the houſe, with every going forth of the ſanctuary.

6 And thou ſhalt ſay to the rebellious, even to the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God; O ye houſe of Iſrael, let it ſuffice you of all your abominations,

7 In that ye have brought into my ſanctuary ſtrangers uncircumciſed in heart, and uncircumciſed in fleſh, to be in my ſanctuary to pollute it, even my houſe, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant, becauſe of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have ſet keepers of my charge in my ſanctuary for yourſelves.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord God; No ſtranger uncircumciſed in heart, nor uncircumciſed in fleſh, ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, of any ſtranger that is among the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Iſrael went aſtray, which went aſtray away from me after their idols; they ſhall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they ſhall be miniſters in my ſanctuary, having charge at the gates of the houſe, and miniſtering to the houſe: they ſhall ſlay the burnt-offering, and the ſacrifice for the people, and they ſhall ſtand before them to miniſter unto them.

12 Becauſe they miniſtered unto them before their idols, and cauſed the houſe of Iſrael to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lifted up mine hand againſt them, ſaith the Lord God, and they ſhall bear their iniquity.

13 And they ſhall not come near unto me to do the office of a prieſt unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the moſt holy place: but they ſhall bear their ſhame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the houſe, for all the ſervice thereof, and for all that ſhall be done therein.

15 But the prieſts the Levites, the ſons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my ſanctuary, when the children of Iſrael went aſtray from me, they ſhall come near to me to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall ſtand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, ſaith the Lord God.

16 They ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, and they ſhall come near to my table, to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall keep my charge.

17 And it ſhall come to paſs, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they ſhall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool ſhall come upon them, while they miniſter in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They ſhall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and ſhall have linen breeches upon their loins: they ſhall not gird themſelves with any thing that cauſeth ſweat.

19 And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, they ſhall put off their garments wherein they miniſtered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they ſhall put on other garments; and they ſhall not ſanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither ſhall they ſhave their heads, nor ſuffer their locks to grow long; they ſhall only poll their heads.

21 Neither ſhall any prieſt drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither ſhall they take for their wives a widow, or her that is put away: but they ſhall take maidens of the ſeed of the houſe of Iſrael, or a widow that had a prieſt before.

23 And they ſhall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cauſe them to diſcern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controverſy they ſhall ſtand in judgment; and they ſhall judge it according to my judgments: and they ſhall keep my laws and my ſtatutes in all my aſſemblies; and they ſhall hallow my ſabbaths.

25 And they ſhall come at no dead perſon to defile themſelves: but for father or for mother, or for ſon or for daughter, for brother, or for ſiſter that hath had no huſband, they may defile themſelves.

26 And after he is cleanſed, they ſhall reckon unto him ſeven days.

27 And in the day that he goeth into the ſanctuary, unto the inner court, to miniſter in the ſanctuary, he ſhall offer his ſin-offering, ſaith the Lord God.

28 And it ſhall be unto them for an inheritance: I am their inheritance. And ye ſhall give them no poſſeſſion in Iſrael: I am their poſſeſſion.

29 They ſhall eat the meat-offering, and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering; and every dedicated thing in Iſrael ſhall be theirs.

30 And the firſt of all the firſt-fruits of all things, and every oblation of all of every ſort of your oblations ſhall be the prieſt's: ye ſhall alſo give unto the prieſt the firſt of your dough, that he may cauſe the bleſſing to reſt in thine houſe.

31 The prieſt ſhall not eat of any thing that is dead of itſelf, or torn, whether it be fowl or beaſt.

CHAP. XLV.

The portion of land for the ſanctuary, for the city, and for the prince. Ordinances for the prince.

MOreover, when ye ſhall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye ſhall offer an oblation unto the Lord, an holy portion of the land: the length ſhall be the length of five and twenty twenty thouſand reeds, and the breadth ſhall be ten thouſand. This ſhall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there ſhall be for the ſanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, ſquare round about; and fifty cubits round about, for the ſuburbs thereof.

3 And of this meaſure ſhalt thou meaſure the length of five and twenty thouſand, and the breadth of ten thouſand: and in it ſhall be the ſanctuary, and the moſt holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land ſhall be for the prieſts the miniſters of the ſanctuary, which ſhall come near to miniſter unto the Lord: and it ſhall be a place for their houſes, and an holy place for the ſanctuary.

5 And the five and twenty thouſand of length, and the ten thouſand of breadth, ſhall alſo the Levites, the miniſters of the houſe, have for themſelves, for a poſſeſſion for twenty chambers.

6 And ye ſhall appoint the poſſeſſion of the city five thouſand broad, and five and twenty thouſand long, over againſt the oblation of the holy portion: it ſhall be for the whole houſe of Iſrael.

7 And a portion ſhall be for the prince on the one ſide, and on the other ſide of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the poſſeſſion of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the poſſeſſion of the city, from the weſt ſide weſt-ward, and from the eaſt ſide eaſt-ward, and the length ſhall be over againſt one of the portions, from the weſt border unto the eaſt border.

8 In the land ſhall be his poſſeſſion in Iſrael: and my princes ſhall no more oppreſs my people; and the reſt of the land ſhall they give to the houſe of Iſrael, according to their tribes.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Let it ſuffice you, O princes of Iſrael: remove violence and ſpoil, and execute judgment and juſtice: take away your exactions from my people, ſaith the Lord God.

10 Ye ſhall have juſt balances, and a juſt ephah, and a juſt bath.

11 The ephah and the bath ſhall be of one meaſure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the meaſure thereof ſhall be after the homer.

12 And the ſhekels ſhall be twenty gerahs: twenty ſhekels, five and twenty ſhekels, fifteen ſhekels ſhall be your maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye ſhall offer; the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye ſhall give the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye ſhall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths; for ten baths are an homer:

15 And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat paſtures of Iſrael; for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, ſaith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land ſhall give this oblation for the prince in Iſrael.

17 And it ſhall be the prince's part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feaſts, and in the new-moons, and in the ſabbaths, in all ſolemnities of the houſe of Iſrael: he ſhall prepare the ſin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the houſe of Iſrael.

18 Thus ſaith the Lord God; In the firſt month, in the firſt day of the month, thou ſhalt take a young bullock without blemiſh, and cleanſe the ſanctuary.

19 And the prieſt ſhall take of the blood of the ſin-offering, and put it upon the poſts of the houſe, and upon the four corners of the ſettle of the altar, and upon the poſts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And ſo thou ſhalt do the ſeventh day of the month, for every one that erreth, and for him that is ſimple: ſo ſhall ye reconcile the houſe.

21 In the firſt month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye ſhall have the paſſover, a feaſt of ſeven days; unleavened bread ſhall be eaten.

22 And upon that day ſhall the prince prepare for himſelf, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a ſin-offering.

23 And ſeven days of the feaſt he ſhall prepare a burnt-offering to the Lord, ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams without blemiſh, daily the ſeven days; and a kid of the goats daily for a ſin-offering.

24 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the ſeventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, ſhall he do the like in the feaſt of the ſeven days, according to the ſin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oil.

CHAP. XLVI.

Ordinances for the prince in his worſhip, and for the people. An order for the prince's inheritance. The courts for boiling and baking.

THUS ſaith the Lord God; The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the eaſt, ſhall be ſhut the ſix working-days; but on the ſabbath it ſhall be opened, and in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be opened.

2 And the prince ſhall enter by the way of the the porch of that gate without, and ſhall ſtand by the poſt of the gate, and the prieſt ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, and he ſhall worſhip at the threſhold of the gate: then he ſhall go forth: but the gate ſhall not be ſhut until the evening.

3 Likewiſe the people of the land ſhall worſhip at the door of this gate, before the Lord, in the ſabbaths, and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince ſhall offer unto the Lord in the ſabbath-day, ſhall be ſix lambs without blemiſh, and a ram without blemiſh.

5 And the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat-offering for the lambs, as he ſhall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be a young bullock without blemiſh, and ſix lambs, and a ram: they ſhall be without blemiſh.

7 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram; and for the lambs according as his hand ſhall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8 And when the prince ſhall enter, he ſhall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he ſhall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land ſhall come before the Lord, in the ſolemn feaſts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worſhip, ſhall go out by the way of the ſouth gate; and he that entereth by the way of the ſouth gate, ſhall go forth by the way of the north gate: he ſhall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but ſhall go forth over againſt it.

10 And the prince in the midſt of them, when they go in, ſhall go in; and when they go forth, ſhall go forth.

11 And in the feaſts, and in the ſolemnities, the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince ſhall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering, or peace-offerings voluntarily unto the Lord, one ſhall then open him the gate that looketh toward the eaſt, and he ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, as he did on the ſabbath-day: then he ſhall go forth; and after his going forth, one ſhall ſhut the gate.

13 Thou ſhalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the Lord, of a lamb of the firſt year, without blemiſh: thou ſhalt prepare it every morning.

14 And thou ſhalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the ſixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat-offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance, unto the Lord.

15 Thus ſhall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oil, every morning, for a continual burnt-offering.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord God; If the prince give a gift unto any of his ſons, the inheritance thereof ſhall be his ſons; it ſhall be their poſſeſſion by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his ſervants, then it ſhall be his to the year of liberty; after, it ſhall return to the prince: but his inheritance ſhall be his ſons for them.

18 Moreover, the prince ſhall not take of the people's inheritance by oppreſſion, to thruſt them out of their poſſeſſion; but he ſhall give his ſons inheritance out of his own poſſeſſion; that my people be not ſcattered every man from his poſſeſſion.

19 After, he brought me through the entry, which was at the ſide of the gate, into the holy chambers of the prieſts, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two ſides weſt ward.

20 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the place where the prieſts ſhall boil the treſpaſs-offering, and the ſin-offering, where they ſhall bake the meat-offering; that they bear them not out into the utter court, to ſanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and cauſed me to paſs by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long, and thirty broad: theſe four corners were of one meaſure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24 Then ſaid he unto me, Theſe are the places of them that boil, where the miniſters of the houſe ſhall boil the ſacrifices of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

The viſion of the holy waters. The virtues of them. The borders of the land. The diviſion of it by lot.

AFterward he brought me again unto the door of the houſe; and behold, waters iſſued out from under the threſhold of the houſe eaſt-ward: for the fore-front of the houſe ſtood toward the eaſt, and the waters came down from under from the right ſide of the houſe, at the ſouth ſide of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate north-ward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh eaſt-ward; and behold, there ran out waters on the right ſide.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth eaſt-ward, he meaſured a thouſand ſand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Again he meaſured a thouſand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees: again he meaſured a thouſand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he meaſured a thouſand; and it was a river that I could not paſs over: for the waters were riſen, waters to ſwim in, a river that could not be paſſed over.

6 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, haſt thou ſeen this? then he brought me, and cauſed me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one ſide and on the other.

8 Then ſaid he unto me, Theſe waters iſſue out toward the eaſt country, and go down into the deſart, and go into the ſea: which being brought forth into the ſea, the waters ſhall be healed.

9 And it ſhall come to paſs, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whitherſoever the rivers ſhall come, ſhall live: and there ſhall be a very great multitude of fiſh, becauſe theſe waters ſhall come thither: for they ſhall be healed; and every thing ſhall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it ſhall come to paſs, that the fiſhers ſhall ſtand upon it, from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim; they ſhall be a place to ſpread forth nets; their fiſh ſhall be according to their kinds, as the fiſh of the great ſea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof, and the marſhes thereof, ſhall not be healed; they ſhall be given to ſalt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this ſide and on that ſide, ſhall grow all trees for meat, whoſe leaf ſhall not fade, neither ſhall the fruit thereof be conſumed: it ſhall bring forth new fruit according to his months, becauſe their waters they iſſued out of the ſanctuary: and the fruit thereof ſhall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for medicine.

13 Thus ſaith the Lord God; This ſhall be the border, whereby ye ſhall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Iſrael: Joſeph ſhall have two portions.

14 And ye ſhall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land ſhall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this ſhall be the border of the land toward the north ſide, from the great ſea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad;

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damaſcus, and the border of Hamath; Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coaſt of Hauran.

17 And the border from the ſea, ſhall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damaſcus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the north ſide.

18 And the eaſt ſide ye ſhall meaſure from Hauran, and from Damaſcus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Iſrael by Jordan, from the border unto the eaſt ſea: and this is the eaſt ſide.

19 And the ſouth ſide ſouth-ward from Tamar, even to the waters of ſtrife in Kadeſh, the river to the great ſea: and this is the ſouth ſide ſouth-ward.

20 The weſt ſide alſo ſhall be the great ſea, from the border, till a man come over againſt Hamath: this is the weſt ſide.

21 So ſhall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Iſrael.

22 And it ſhall come to paſs, that ye ſhall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the ſtrangers that ſojourn among you, which ſhall beget children among you: and they ſhall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Iſrael; they ſhall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Iſrael.

23 And it ſhall come to paſs, that in what tribe the ſtranger ſojourneth, there ſhall ye give him his inheritance, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The portions of the twelve tribes, of the ſanctuary, of the city and ſuburbs, and of the prince. The dimenſions and gates of the city.

NOW theſe are the names of the tribes, from the north end to the coaſt of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath; Hazar-enan, the border of Damaſcus north-ward, to the coaſt of Hamath; (for theſe are his ſides eaſt and weſt) a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the eaſt ſide unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Aſher.

3 And by the border of Aſher, from the eaſt ſide even unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the eaſt ſide unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Manaſſeh.

5 And by the border of Manaſſeh, from the eaſt ſide unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the eaſt ſide even unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the eaſt ſide unto the weſt ſide, a portion for Judah.

8 And by the border of Judah, from the eaſt ſide unto the weſt ſide, ſhall be the offering which ye ſhall offer of five and twenty thouſand reeds

ceeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the Lord, shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation; toward the north, five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof.

11 It shall be for the priests that are sanctified, of the sons of Zadok; which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be unto them a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand east-ward, and ten thousand west-ward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city.

19 And they that serve the city, shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand, by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation four-square, with the possession of the city.

21 And the residue shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city over against the five and twenty thousand, of the oblation toward the east border, and west-ward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, over against the portions for the prince; and it shall be the holy oblation: and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23 As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side unto the west side, Benjamin shall have a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, Simeon shall have a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, Zebulun, a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of strife in Kadesh, and to the river toward the great sea.

29 This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 And these are the goings out of the city on the north side, four thousand and five hundred measures.

31 And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates northward; one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32 And at the east-side four thousand and five hundred: and three gates; and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And at the south side four thousand and five hundred measures: and three gates; one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the west-side four thousand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one of Asher, one of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The Lord is there.

The BOOK of DANIEL.

CHAP. I.

Jehoiakim's captivity. Aſhpenaz taketh Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael and Azariah: they refuſing the king's portion, do proſper with pulſe and water: their excellency in wiſdom.

IN the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jeruſalem, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God: which he carried into the land of Shinar, to the houſe of his god; and he brought the veſſels into the treaſure-houſe of his god.

3 And the king ſpake unto Aſhpenaz the maſter of his eunuchs, that he ſhould bring certain of the children of Iſrael, and of the king's ſeed, and of the princes;

4 Children in whom was no blemiſh, but well favoured, and ſkilful in all wiſdom, and cunning in knowledge, and underſtanding ſcience, and ſuch as had ability in them to ſtand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily proviſion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank: ſo nouriſhing them three years, that at the end thereof they might ſtand before the king.

6 Now among theſe were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah.

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteſhazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrack; and to Miſhael, of Meſhach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

8 But Daniel purpoſed in his heart, that he would not defile himſelf with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requeſted of the prince of the eunuchs, that he might not defile himſelf.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs ſaid unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why ſhould he ſee your faces worſe liking than the children which are of your ſort? then ſhall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then ſaid Daniel to Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had ſet over Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah.

12 Prove thy ſervants, I beſeech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulſe to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat: and as thou ſeeſt, deal with thy ſervants.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer, and fatter in fleſh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they ſhould drink; and gave them pulſe.

17 As for theſe four children, God gave them knowledge and ſkill in all learning and wiſdom: and Daniel had underſtanding in all viſions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the king had ſaid he ſhould bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in, before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah: therefore ſtood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wiſdom and underſtanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and aſtrologers that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel continued even unto the firſt year of king Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

Nebuchadnezzar forgetting his dream, requireth it of the Chaldeans, by promiſes and threatenings. They acknowledging their inability, are adjudged to die.

AND in the ſecond year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his ſpirit was troubled, and his ſleep brake from him.

DANIEL] was deſcended from the royal family of David, and carried away captive to Babylon when he was very young, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim king of Judah, in the year of the world 3398, before Jeſus Chriſt 602. The reputation of Daniel was ſo great, even in his life time, that it became a proverb: See Ezek. xiv. 20. xxviii. 3. Joſephus tells us, that God beſtowed many favours on him, and that he was advanced to the rank of the moſt conſiderable prophets. Some of the Jews ſhewed an inclination formerly to exclude Daniel from the number of the prophets: but their diſlike to him proceeded from hence only, that his predictions were too clear and too expreſs for Jeſus Chriſt. Porphyry of old, and ſome infidels of modern times, have endeavoured to deny the authority of Daniel: But it may be eaſily demonſtrated that Joſephus and other Jews of conſiderable note, eſteemed Daniel as one of the greateſt prophets; that Daniel committed his prophecies to writing; that he wrote them before the time of Antiochus Epiphanes; that he was certainly the author of the book which bears his name; that this book was one of the Jewiſh canon;

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the aſtrologers, and the ſorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to ſhew the king his dreams. So they came and ſtood before the king.

3 And the king ſaid unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my ſpirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then ſpake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriack, O king live for ever: tell thy ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation.

5 The king anſwered and ſaid to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall be cut in pieces, and your houſes ſhall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye ſhew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore ſhew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They anſwered again and ſaid, Let the king tell his ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation of it.

8 The king anſwered and ſaid, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, becauſe ye ſee the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to ſpeak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I ſhall know that ye can ſhew me the interpretation thereof.

10 The Chaldeans anſwered before the king, and ſaid, There is not a man upon the earth that can ſhew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that aſked ſuch things at any magician, or aſtrologer, or Chaldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can ſhew it before the king, except the gods, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſh.

12 For this cauſe the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe-men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wiſe-men ſhould be ſlain; and they ſought Daniel and his fellows to be ſlain.

14 Then Daniel anſwered with counſel and wiſdom to Arioch, the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to ſlay the wiſe-men of Babylon.

15 He anſwered and ſaid to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree ſo haſty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and deſired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would ſhew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah his companions:

18 That they would deſire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this ſecret; that Daniel and his fellows ſhould not periſh with the reſt of the wiſe-men of Babylon.

19 Then was the ſecret revealed unto Daniel in a night-viſion: then Daniel bleſſed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel anſwered and ſaid, Bleſſed be the name of God for ever and ever; for wiſdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth the times and the ſeaſons: he removeth kings, and ſetteth up kings: he giveth wiſdom unto the wiſe, and knowledge to them that know underſtanding:

22 He revealeth the deep and ſecret things: he knoweth what is in the darkneſs, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee and praiſe thee, O thou God of my fathers, who haſt given me wiſdom and might, and haſt made known unto me now what we deſired of thee: for thou haſt now made known unto us the king's matter.

24 Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to deſtroy the wiſe-men of Babylon: he went, and ſaid thus unto him; Deſtroy not the wiſe-men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will ſhew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haſte, and ſaid thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king anſwered and ſaid to Daniel, whoſe name was Belteſhazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have ſeen, and the interpretation thereof?

canon; that it was read in their ſynagogues; and that the event ſhewed his prophecies to have proceeded from God. This was the belief of the Jews in Joſephus's time; and had Daniel's book been forged, and lately forged, it would have been impoſſible for it to have been received into the canon; and had it not been in the canon, and received by the Jews as one of their ſacred books, it is impoſſible Joſephus could have made ſo ſolemn an appeal to the Jews for its authenticity as he has done. See Antiq. lib. x. cap. 11. and lib. xi. cap. 11. It is believed that Daniel died in Chaldea; and that he did not take the advantage of the permiſſion granted by Cyrus to the Jews, of returning to their country: The great employments which he had poſſeſſed in the Perſian empire probably detained him there. St. Epiphanius ſays he died at Babylon, and herein he is followed by the generality of hiſtorians. See Calmet's Preface, Biſhop Chandler's Vindication, and Lowth's 20th Prelection.

27 Daniel anſwered in the preſence of the king, and ſaid, The ſecret which the king hath demanded, cannot the wiſe-men, the aſtrologers, the magicians, the ſoothſayers, ſhew unto the king;

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth ſecrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what ſhall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the viſions of thy head upon thy bed, are theſe;

29 (As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind, upon thy bed what ſhould come to paſs hereafter: and he that revealeth ſecrets maketh known unto thee what ſhall come to paſs.

30 But as for me, this ſecret is not revealed to me for any wiſdom that I have more than any living, but for their ſakes that ſhall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mighteſt know the thoughts of thy heart.)

31 Thou, O king, ſaweſt, and behold, a great image. This great image, whoſe brightneſs was excellent, ſtood before thee, and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine gold, his breaſt and his arms of ſilver, his belly and his thighs of braſs, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou ſaweſt till that a ſtone was cut out without hands, which ſmote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the braſs, the ſilver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the ſummer threſhing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the ſtone that ſmote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and ſtrength, and glory.

38 And whereſoever the children of men dwell, the beaſts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. Thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee ſhall ariſe another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of braſs, which ſhall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom ſhall be ſtrong as iron: foraſmuch as iron breaketh in pieces, and ſubdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all theſe, ſhall it break in pieces, and bruiſe.

41 And whereas thou ſaweſt the feet and toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron, the kingdom ſhall be divided; but there ſhall be in it of the ſtrength of the iron, foraſmuch as thou ſaweſt the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, ſo the kingdom ſhall be partly ſtrong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou ſaweſt iron mixed with miry clay, they ſhall mingle themſelves with the ſeed of men: but they ſhall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in the days of theſe kings ſhall the God of heaven ſet up a kingdom which ſhall never be deſtroyed: and the kingdom ſhall not be left to other people, but it ſhall break in pieces and conſume all theſe kingdoms, and it ſhall ſtand for ever.

45 Foraſmuch as thou ſaweſt that the ſtone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the braſs, the clay, the ſilver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what ſhall come to paſs hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof ſure.

46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worſhipped Daniel, and commanded that they ſhould offer an oblation, and ſweet odours unto him.

47 The king anſwered unto Daniel, and ſaid, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of ſecrets, ſeeing thou couldeſt reveal this ſecret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wiſe-men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel requeſted of the king, and he ſet Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel ſat in the gate of the king.

CHAP. III.

Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image in Dura. Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego are accuſed for not worſhipping the image. God delivereth them out of the furnace.

NEbuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whoſe height was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof ſix cubits: he ſet it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king ſent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treaſurers, the counſellors, the ſheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had ſet up.

3 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, tains, the judges, the treaſurers, the counſellors, the ſheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had ſet up; and they ſtood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had ſet up.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye hear the ſound of the cornet, flute, harp, ſackbut, pſaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of muſick, ye fall down and worſhip the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath ſet up:

6 And whoſo falleth not down and worſhippeth, ſhall the ſame hour be caſt into the midſt of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the ſound of the cornet, flute, harp, ſackbut, pſaltery, and all kinds of muſick, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down, and worſhipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had ſet up.

8 Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and accuſed the Jews.

9 They ſpake and ſaid to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, haſt made a decree, that every man that ſhall hear the ſound of the cornet, flute, harp, ſackbut, pſaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of muſick, ſhall fall down and worſhip the golden image:

11 And whoſo falleth not down and worſhippeth, that he ſhould be caſt into the midſt of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou haſt ſet over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego; theſe men, O king, have not regarded thee: they ſerve not thy gods, nor worſhip the golden image which thou haſt ſet up.

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury, commanded to bring Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought theſe men before the king.

14 Nebuchadnezzar ſpake and ſaid unto them, Is it true, O Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego? do not ye ſerve my gods, nor worſhip the golden image which I have ſet up?

15 Now if ye be ready, that at what time ye hear the ſound of the cornet, flute, harp, ſackbut, pſaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of muſick, ye fall down and worſhip the image which I have made, well: but if ye worſhip not, ye ſhall be caſt the ſame hour into the midſt of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that God that ſhall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego anſwered and ſaid to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not careful to anſwer thee in this matter.

17 If it be ſo, our God whom we ſerve, is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king, 18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not ſerve thy gods, nor worſhip the golden image which thou haſt ſet up.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his viſage was changed againſt Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego: therefore he ſpake, and commanded that they ſhould heat the furnace one ſeven times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he commanded the moſt mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, and to caſt them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then theſe men were bound in their coats, their hoſe, and their hats, and their other garments, and were caſt into the midſt of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore becauſe the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire ſlew thoſe men that took up Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego.

23 And theſe three men, Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the midſt of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was aſtoniſhed, and roſe up in haſte, and ſpake, and ſaid unto his counſellors, Did not we caſt three men bound into the midſt of the fire? They anſwered and ſaid unto the king, True, O king.

25 He anſwered and ſaid, Lo, I ſee four men looſe, walking in the midſt of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God.

26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and ſpake and ſaid, Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, ye ſervants of the moſt high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, came forth of the midſt of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counſellors, being gathered together, ſaw theſe men, upon whoſe bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head ſinged, neither were their coats changed, nor the ſmell of fire had paſſed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar ſpake, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the God of Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, who hath ſent his angel, and delivered his ſervants that truſted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not ſerve nor worſhip any god, except their own God.

29 There-

29 Therefore I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which ſpeak any thing amiſs againſt the God of Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, ſhall be cut in pieces, and their houſes ſhall be made a dunghill: becauſe there is no other God that can deliver after this ſort.

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

CHAP. IV.

Nebuchadnezzar's dream, which the magicians could not interpret. Daniel heareth the dream, and interpreteth it.

NEbuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you.

2 I thought it good to ſhew the ſigns and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.

3 How great are his ſigns! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at reſt in mine houſe, and flouriſhing in my palace:

5 I ſaw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the viſions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wiſe-men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the magicians, the aſtrologers, the Chaldeans, and the ſoothſayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 But at the laſt Daniel came in before me, (whoſe name was Belteſhazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the ſpirit of the holy gods:) and before him I told the dream, ſaying,

9 O Belteſhazzar, maſter of the magicians, becauſe I know that the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no ſecret troubleth thee, tell me the viſions of my dream that I have ſeen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the viſions of mine head in my bed; I ſaw, and behold, a tree in the midſt of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was ſtrong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the ſight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beaſts of the field had ſhadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all fleſh was fed of it.

13 I ſaw in the viſions of my head upon my bed, and behold a watcher, and an holy one came down from heaven;

14 He cried aloud, and ſaid thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, ſhake off his leaves, and ſcatter his fruit: let the beaſts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheleſs, leave the ſtump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſs, in the tender graſs of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts in the graſs of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beaſt's heart be given unto him; and let ſeven times paſs over him (b).

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know, that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will, and ſetteth up over it the baſeſt of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have ſeen. Now thou, O Belteſhazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, foraſmuch as all the wiſe-men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able; for the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel (whoſe name was Belteſhazzar) was aſtoniſhed for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king ſpake, and ſaid, Belteſhazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteſhazzar anſwered and ſaid, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou ſaweſt, which grew, and was ſtrong, whoſe height reached unto the heaven, and the ſight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whoſe leaves were fair, and the fruit there-

(b) It can only be collected from hence, that the king's mind was ſo changed, that he now appeared to himſelf no longer as a man, but as an animal; and therefore, of his own accord, herded with wild beaſts, neglectful of human food and culture. Nothing is read concerning the change of his form; he therefore creeped upon his hands and feet like brute animals; in this alone unlike a man, that his hair and nails increaſed like thoſe of an eagle. See ver. 33. By ſeven times are meant ſeven years. Times is uſed in the ſame ſenſe in the Revelation. Scaliger things that this change of mind or madneſs of Nebuchadnezzar is obſcurely hinted at in a fragment of Abydenus, produced by Euſebius; wherein, having repreſented the king, from the Chaldean writers, to have fallen into an extaſy, and to have foretold the deſtruction of that empire by the Medes and Perſians, the author adds, that immediately after uttering this prophecy he diſappeared; which Scaliger expounds by the king's being driven from his regal ſtate, and the ſociety of men. Dr. Mead obſerves, that all the circumſtances of Nebuchadnezzar's caſe agree ſo well with an hypochondriacal madneſs, that he believes the awful judgment of God overtook him with the infliction of this diſtemper, and that under its influence he ran wild into the fields; and fancying himſelf transformed into an ox, he fed on graſs, in the manner of cattle, and herded among them, till it pleaſed God to reſtore his ſenſes. See Med. Sac. ch. viii. p. 182.

of much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beaſts of the field dwelt, and upon whoſe branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O king, that art grown and become ſtrong: for thy greatneſs is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king ſaw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and ſaying, Hew the tree down, and deſtroy it; yet leave the ſtump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſs in the tender graſs of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts of the field, till ſeven times paſs over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the moſt High, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field, and they ſhall make thee to eat graſs as oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, till thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the ſtump of the tree-roots; thy kingdom ſhall be ſure unto thee, after that thou ſhalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counſel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy ſins by righteouſneſs, and thine iniquities by ſhewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquility.

28 All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30 The king ſpake, and ſaid, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the houſe of the kingdom, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majeſty?

31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, ſaying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is ſpoken; The kingdom is departed from thee.

32 And they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field: they ſhall make thee to eat graſs as oxen, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, until thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

33 The ſame hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat graſs as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

34 And at the end of the days, I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine underſtanding returned unto me, and I bleſſed the moſt High, and I praiſed and honoured him that liveth for ever, whoſe dominion is an everlaſting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ſtay his hand, or ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

36 At the ſame time my reaſon returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightneſs returned unto me, and my counſellors and my lords ſought unto me; and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdom, and excellent majeſty was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar praiſe, and extol, and honour the King of heaven, all whoſe works are truth, and his ways judgment: and thoſe that walk in pride he is able to abaſe.

CHAP. V.

Belſhazzar's impious feaſt. A hand, writing on the wall, troubleth the king. Daniel readeth and interpreteth it.

BElſhazzar the king made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his lords, and drank wine before the thouſand.

2 Belſhazzar, whilſt he taſted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and ſilver veſſels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jeruſalem; that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden veſſels that were taken out of the temple of the houſe of God, which was at Jeruſalem; and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines, drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praiſed the gods of gold, and of ſilver, of braſs, of iron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 In the ſame hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over againſt the candleſtick upon the plaiſter of the wall of the king's palace: and the king ſaw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the joints of his loins were looſed, and his knees ſmote one againſt another.

7 The king cried aloud to bring in the aſtrologers, the Chaldeans, and the ſoothſayers: and the king ſpake and ſaid to the wiſe-men of Babylon, Whoſoever ſhall read this writing, and ſhew me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and ſhall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then

8 Then came in all the king's wise-men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.

10 Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet-house: and the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed:

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father, light, and understanding, and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers;

12 Forasmuch as an excellent spirit of knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king; and the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light, and understanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wise-men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing:

16 And I have heard of thee that thou canst make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would, he slew; and whom he would, he kept alive; and whom he would, he set up; and whom he would, he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly thrown, and they took his glory from him.

21 And he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou, his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this;

23 But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God, in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written.

25 And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing; MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

27 TEKEL; Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

CHAP. VI.

Daniel is made chief of the presidents: but being accused of a breach thereof, is cast into the lions den. He is saved, his adversaries and false accusers are devoured.

IT pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these, three presidents; of whom Daniel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 Then

4 Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm decree, That whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God or man, within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth, may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions: now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were instruments of musick brought before him: and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: and the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions mouths that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

24 And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then king Darius wrote unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian (i).

(i) One cannot read this chapter, without admiring the zeal and integrity of Daniel; who, religious and devout in the midst of prosperity, continues unshaken in his principles, in the greatest danger: No way intimidated by the king's edict, he continues to worship his God, and that in the most public manner, without respect to the peril whereto he was thus exposed; lest, if he had done it in secret, he might be thought to dissemble his faith, and obey the king's command. Though ostentation in the performance of religious duties is on every account to be condemned; yet, on such

CHAP. VII.

Daniel's vision of four beasts, and of God's kingdom.

IN the first year of Belshazzar, king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters.

2 Daniel spake, and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: and I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night-visions, and behold, a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, one like the Son of man, came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things:

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet;

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, the fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

such trying occasions, we are bound to make the most public profession of our faith, without the least dissimulation, and without betraying our consciences through the fear of men. It is to be observed, that Darius was weak enough to consent to Daniel's death, though he believed him to be innocent. God did not think fit to deliver his servant by means of the king, but suffered him to be cast into the den of lions, because he designed to make his deliverance the most conspicuous possible. The scripture says that Daniel was thus preserved, "because innocency was found in him, and he believed in his God." A glorious reward of his fidelity, and a noble triumph of that faith, which, when sincere, is always victorious. The solemn acknowledgment which the king made of the majesty of the true God, engages us to adore the goodness, justice, and omnipotence of the Lord, to publish his marvellous works, and to adm ire the ways of his providence: who made use of the king's edict, of Nebuchadnezzar's, and that of several other heathen princes, to make his name and glory known among those idolatrous nations.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that ſhall ariſe: and another ſhall riſe after them; and he ſhall be diverſe from the firſt, and he ſhall ſubdue three kings.

25 And he ſhall ſpeak great words againſt the moſt High, and ſhall wear out the ſaints of the moſt High, and think to change times and laws: and they ſhall be given into his hand, until a time and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgment ſhall ſit, and they ſhall take away his dominion, to conſume, and to deſtroy it unto the end.

27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatneſs of the kingdom under the whole heaven, ſhall be given to the people of the ſaints of the moſt High; whoſe kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and all dominions ſhall ſerve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAP. VIII.

Daniel's viſion of the ram, and the he-goat. The viſion of the days of ſacrifice. The interpretation thereof.

IN the third year of the reign of king Belſhazzar, a viſion appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the firſt.

2 And I ſaw in a viſion, (and it came to paſs when I ſaw, that I was at Shuſhan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam;) and I ſaw in a viſion, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold, there ſtood before the river, a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up laſt.

4 I ſaw the ram puſhing weſt-ward, and north-ward, and ſouth-ward; ſo that no beaſt might ſtand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was conſidering, behold, an he-goat came from the weſt on the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had ſeen ſtanding before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I ſaw him come cloſe unto the ram, and he was moved with choler againſt him, and ſmote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to ſtand before him, but he caſt him down to the ground, and ſtamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great: and when he was ſtrong, the great horn was broken; and for it came up four notable ones, toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the ſouth, and toward the eaſt, and toward the pleaſant land.

10 And it waxed great, even to the hoſt of heaven; and it caſt down ſome of the hoſt, and of the ſtars to the ground, and ſtamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himſelf even to the prince of the hoſt, and by him the daily ſacrifice was taken away, and the place of his ſanctuary was caſt down.

12 And an hoſt was given him againſt the daily ſacrifice, by reaſon of tranſgreſſion, and it caſt down the truth to the ground; and it practiſed, and proſpered.

13 Then I heard one ſaint ſpeaking, and another ſaint ſaid unto that certain ſaint which ſpake, How long ſhall be the viſion concerning the daily ſacrifice, and the tranſgreſſion of deſolation, to give both the ſanctuary and the hoſt to be trodden under foot?

14 And he ſaid unto me, Unto two thouſand and three hundred days; then ſhall the ſanctuary be cleanſed.

15 And it came to paſs when I, even I Daniel had ſeen the viſion, and ſought for the meaning, then behold, there ſtood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and ſaid, Gabriel, make this man to underſtand the viſion.

17 So he came near where I ſtood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he ſaid unto me, Underſtand, O ſon of man: for at the time of the end ſhall be the viſion.

18 Now as he was ſpeaking with me, I was in a deep ſleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and ſet me upright.

19 And he ſaid, Behold, I will make thee know what ſhall be in the laſt end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end ſhall be.

20 The ram which thou ſaweſt, having two horns, are the kings of Media and Perſia.

21 And the rough goat is the king of Grecia: and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the firſt king.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four ſtood up for it, four kingdoms ſhall ſtand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the tranſgreſſors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and underſtanding dark ſentences, ſhall ſtand up.

24 And his power ſhall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he ſhall deſtroy wonderfully, derfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty, and the holy people.

25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.

26 And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told, is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision; for it shall be for many days.

27 And I Daniel fainted and was sick certain days; afterward I rose up, and did the king's business; and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it (k).

CHAP. IX.

Daniel prayeth for the restoration of Jerusalem. Gabriel informeth him of the seventy weeks.

IN the first year of Darius, the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans;

2 In the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes:

4 And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant, and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments;

5 We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgments.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him;

10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us, by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is imposed upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses, the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 As it is written in the law of Moses, All this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city, which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

(k) Daniel's sickness proceeded from his grief for his religion and country; as in the former vision he was grieved at the success of the little horn there described. And this is another conclusive argument, that the calamities under Antiochus Epiphanes, could not possibly be the main end and ultimate scope of this prophecy; for the calamities under Antiochus were of small extent, and of short duration, in comparison with what the nation had suffered, and was then suffering, under Nebuchadnezzar and his successors. Present and sensible evils usually affect us most; and therefore, that Daniel was so much more affected with the future than the present—was astonished, and fainted, and was sick certain days, can be ascribed to nothing but his foreseeing that the future distress and misery of the nation, would greatly exceed all that they sustained at present. This concern of Daniel, and affection for his religion and country, show him in a very amiable light, and give an additional lustre and glory to his character. But not only in this instance, but in every other, he manifests the same public spirit, and appears no less eminently a patriot than a prophet.

20 And whilſt I was ſpeaking, and praying, and confeſſing my ſin, and the ſin of my people Iſrael, and preſenting my ſupplication before the Lord my God, for the holy mountain of my God;

21 Yea, whilſt I was ſpeaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had ſeen in the viſion at the beginning, being cauſed to fly ſwiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me and talked with me, and ſaid, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee ſkill and underſtanding.

23 At the beginning of thy ſupplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to ſhew thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore underſtand the matter, and conſider the viſion.

24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finiſh the tranſgreſſion, and to make an end of ſins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlaſting righteouſneſs, and to ſeal up the viſion and prophecy, and to anoint the moſt Holy.

25 Know therefore and underſtand, that from the going forth of the commandment to reſtore and to build Jeruſalem unto the Meſſiah the Prince, ſhall be ſeven weeks; and threeſcore and two weeks the ſtreet ſhall be built again, and the wall even in troublous times.

26 And after threeſcore and two weeks ſhall Meſſiah be cut off, but not for himſelf: and the people of the prince that ſhall come, ſhall deſtroy the city, and the ſanctuary; and the end thereof ſhall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war deſolations are determined (l):

27 And he ſhall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midſt of the week he ſhall cauſe the ſacrifice and the oblation to ceaſe; and for the overſpreading of abominations, he ſhall make it deſolate, even until the conſummation; and that determined ſhall be poured upon the deſolate.

CHAP. X.

Daniel having humbled himſelf, ſeeth a viſion. Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the angel.

IN the third year of Cyrus king of Perſia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel, (whoſe name was called Belteſhazzar;) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was long: and he underſtood the thing, and had underſtanding of the viſion.

2 In thoſe days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks.

3 I ate no pleaſant bread, neither came fleſh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myſelf at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the firſt month, as I was by the ſide of the great river, which is Hiddekel;

5 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a certain man clothed in linen, whoſe loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz:

6 His body alſo was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to poliſhed braſs, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone ſaw the viſion: for the men that were with me ſaw not the viſion; but a great quaking fell upon them, ſo that they fled to hide themſelves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and ſaw this great viſion, and there remained no ſtrength in me: for my comelineſs was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no ſtrength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep ſleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 And behold, an hand touched me, which ſet me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he ſaid unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, underſtand the words that I ſpeak unto thee, and ſtand upright: for unto thee am I now ſent. And when he had ſpoken this word unto me, I ſtood trembling.

12 Then ſaid he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the firſt day that thou didſt ſet thine heart to underſtand, and to chaſten thyſelf before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Perſia withſtood me one and twenty days: but lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Perſia.

14 Now I am come to make thee underſtand what ſhall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the viſion is for many days.

15 And when he had ſpoken ſuch words unto me, I ſet my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold, one like the ſimilitude of the ſons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and ſpake, and ſaid unto him that ſtood before me, O my lord, by the viſion my ſorrows

(l) Calmet has a diſſertation expreſly on the ſubject of this prophecy, the ſum whereof is as follows. Daniel is afflicted before the Lord with a deſire to know when the end of thoſe ſeventy weeks captivity ſhall appear, which are foretold by Jeremiah. But God reveals to him a much more ſublime and important myſtery; namely, the time of the finiſhing tranſgreſſions, and of the coming of the Meſſiah, of the reign of everlaſting righteouſneſs, and of the perfect accompliſhing of the prophecies. All this was to be brought about after a ſpace of ſeventy weeks of years, which make four hundred and ninety. The angel divides the ſeventy weeks into three parts. The firſt of ſeven weeks, or forty-nine years, after which the walls of Jeruſalem were to be finiſhed; the ſecond of ſixty-two, or four hundred and thirty four years, are turned upon me, and I have retained no ſtrength.

17 For how can the ſervant of this my lord, talk with this my lord? for as for me, ſtraightway there remained no ſtrength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he ſtrengthened me,

19 And ſaid, O man greatly beloved, fear not; peace be unto thee, be ſtrong, yea, be ſtrong. And when he had ſpoken unto me, I was ſtrengthened, and ſaid, Let my lord ſpeak; for thou haſt ſtrengthened me.

20 Then ſaid he, Knoweſt thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Perſia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia ſhall come.

21 But I will ſhew thee that which is noted in the Scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in theſe things, but Michael your prince.

CHAP. XI.

The overthrow of Perſia by the king of Grecia. Leagues and conflicts between the kings of the ſouth and of the north. The invaſion and tyranny of the Romans.

ALSO I, in the firſt year of Darius the Mede, even I ſtood to confirm and to ſtrengthen him.

2 And now will I ſhew thee the truth: Behold, there ſhall ſtand up yet three kings in Perſia; and the fourth ſhall be far richer than they all: and by his ſtrength through his riches he ſhall ſtir up all againſt the realm of Grecia.

3 And a mighty king ſhall ſtand up, that ſhall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

4 And when he ſhall ſtand up, his kingdom ſhall be broken, and ſhall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; and not to his poſterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom ſhall be plucked up, even for others beſides thoſe.

5 And the king of the ſouth ſhall be ſtrong, and one of his princes; and he ſhall be ſtrong above him, and have dominion; his dominion ſhall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they ſhall join themſelves together; for the king's daughter of the ſouth ſhall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but ſhe ſhall not retain the power of the arm; neither ſhall he ſtand, nor his arm: but ſhe ſhall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that ſtrengthened her in theſe times.

7 But out of a branch of her root ſhall one ſtand up in his eſtate, which ſhall come with an army, and ſhall enter into the fortreſs of the king of the north, and ſhall deal againſt them, and ſhall prevail:

8 And ſhall alſo carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and with their precious veſſels of ſilver and of gold; and he ſhall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the ſouth ſhall come into his kingdom, and ſhall return into his own land.

10 But his ſons ſhall be ſtirred up, and ſhall aſſemble a multitude of great forces: and one ſhall certainly come, and overflow, and paſs through: then ſhall he return, and be ſtirred up, even to his fortreſs.

11 And the king of the ſouth ſhall be moved with choler, and ſhall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he ſhall ſet forth a great multitude; but the multitude ſhall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart ſhall be lifted up; and he ſhall caſt down many ten thouſands: but he ſhall not be ſtrengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north ſhall return, and ſhall ſet forth a multitude greater than the former, and ſhall certainly come, after certain years, with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in thoſe times there ſhall many ſtand up againſt the king of the ſouth: alſo the robbers of thy people ſhall exalt themſelves to eſtabliſh the viſion; but they ſhall fall.

15 So the king of the north ſhall come, and caſt up a mount, and take the moſt fenced cities: and the arms of the ſouth ſhall not withſtand, neither his choſen people, neither ſhall there be any ſtrength to withſtand.

16 But he that cometh againſt him ſhall do according to his own will, and none ſhall ſtand before him: and he ſhall ſtand in the glorious land, which by his hand ſhall be conſumed.

17 He ſhall alſo ſet his face to enter with the ſtrength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; thus ſhall he do: and he ſhall give him the daughter of women, corrupting her: but ſhe ſhall not ſtand on his ſide, neither be for him.

18 After this ſhall he turn his face unto the iſles, and ſhall take many: but a prince for his own behalf ſhall cauſe the reproach offered by years, when Chriſt ſhould be anointed to his office; and thirdly he adds one week more of years, in the midſt of which Meſſiah the Prince was to be cut of; and in conſequence, the Jewiſh ſtate, religion and polity to be diſſolved, and their total deſolation to be accompliſhed by the Romans. This prophecy, which has been exactly fulfilled, is a ſufficient confutation of atheiſts and epicureans, pagans, and Jews; and proves, undeniably, that Jeſus is the Chriſt, or Meſſiah promiſed; ſince, according to this prediction, Meſſiah the Prince was to appear, juſt at the very time when Jeſus, being thirty years old, was baptized by John, and entered publickly upon his miſſion.

him to ceaſe; without his own reproach he ſhall cauſe it to turn upon him.

19 Then he ſhall turn his face towards the fort of his own land: but he ſhall ſtumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then ſhall ſtand up in his eſtate a raiſer of taxes in the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he ſhall be deſtroyed; neither in anger, nor in battle.

21 And in his eſtate ſhall ſtand up a vile perſon, to whom they ſhall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he ſhall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And with the arms of a flood ſhall they be overflown from before him, and ſhall be broken; yea, alſo the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he ſhall work deceitfully: for he ſhall come up, and ſhall become ſtrong with a ſmall people.

24 He ſhall enter peaceably even upon the fatteſt places of the province; and he ſhall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers; he ſhall ſcatter among them the prey, and ſpoil, and riches: yea, and he ſhall forecaſt his devices againſt the ſtrong holds, even for a time.

25 And he ſhall ſtir up his power and his courage againſt the king of the ſouth with a great army; and the king of the ſouth ſhall be ſtirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he ſhall not ſtand; for they ſhall forecaſt devices againſt him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat, ſhall deſtroy him, and his army ſhall overflow: and many ſhall fall down ſlain.

27 And both theſe kings hearts ſhall be to do miſchief, and they ſhall ſpeak lies at one table; but it ſhall not proſper: for yet the end ſhall be at the time appointed.

28 Then ſhall he return into his land with great riches; and his heart ſhall be againſt the holy covenant: and he ſhall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he ſhall return, and come toward the ſouth; but it ſhall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 For the ſhips of Chittim ſhall come againſt him: therefore he ſhall be grieved, and return, and have indignation againſt the holy covenant: ſo ſhall he do; he ſhall even return, and have intelligence with them that forſake the holy covenant.

31 And arms ſhall ſtand on his part, and they ſhall pollute the ſanctuary of ſtrength, and ſhall take away the daily ſacrifice, and they ſhall place the abomination that maketh deſolate.

32 And ſuch as do wickedly againſt the covenant, ſhall he corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God, ſhall be ſtrong, and do exploits.

33 And they that underſtand among the people, ſhall inſtruct many: yet they ſhall fall by the ſword, and by flame, by captivity, and by ſpoil many days.

34 Now when they ſhall fall, they ſhall be holpen with a little help: but many ſhall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And ſome of them of underſtanding ſhall fall to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: becauſe it is yet for a time appointed.

36 And the king ſhall do according to his will; and he ſhall exalt himſelf, and magnify himſelf above every god, and ſhall ſpeak marvellous things againſt the God of gods, and ſhall proſper till the indignation be accompliſhed: for that that is determined, ſhall be done.

37 Neither ſhall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the deſire of women, nor regard any god: for he ſhall magnify himſelf above all.

38 But in his eſtate ſhall he honour the God of forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not, ſhall he honour with gold and ſilver, and with precious ſtones, and pleaſant things.

39 Thus ſhall he do in the moſt ſtrong holds with a ſtrange god, whom he ſhall acknowledge and increaſe with glory: and he ſhall cauſe them to rule over many, and ſhall divide the land for gain.

40 And at the time of the end ſhall the king of the ſouth puſh at him: and the king of the north ſhall come againſt him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horſemen, and with many ſhips; and he ſhall enter into the countries, and ſhall overflow and paſs over.

41 He ſhall enter alſo into the glorious land, and many countries ſhall be overthrown: but theſe ſhall eſcape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He ſhall ſtretch forth his hand alſo upon the countries: and the land of Egypt ſhall not eſcape.

43 But he ſhall have power over the treaſurers of gold and of ſilver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Lybians, and the Ethiopians ſhall be at his ſteps.

44 But tidings out of the eaſt, and out of the north, ſhall trouble him: therefore he ſhall go forth with great fury to deſtroy, and utterly to make away many.

45 And he ſhall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the ſeas in the glorious holy mountain; yet he ſhall come to his end, and none ſhall help him.

CHAP. XII.

Michael ſhall deliver Iſrael from their troubles. Daniel is informed of the times.

AND at that time ſhall Michael ſtand up, the great prince which ſtandeth for the children of thy people: and there ſhall be a time of trouble, ſuch as never was ſince there was a nation, even to that ſame time: and at that time thy people ſhall be delivered, every one that ſhall be found written in the book.

2 And many of them that ſleep in the duſt of the earth ſhall awake, ſome to everlaſting life, and ſome to ſhame and everlaſting contempt.

3 And they that be wiſe ſhall ſhine as the brightneſs of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteouſneſs, as the ſtars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, ſhut up the words, and ſeal the book, even to the time of the end: many ſhall run to and fro, and knowledge ſhall be increaſed.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there ſtood other two, the one on this ſide of the bank of the river, and the other on that ſide of the bank of the river.

6 And one ſaid to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long ſhall it be to the end of theſe wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and ſware by him that liveth for ever, that it ſhall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he ſhall have accompliſhed to ſcatter the power of the holy people, all theſe things ſhall be finiſhed.

8 And I heard, but I underſtood not: then ſaid I, O my Lord, what ſhall be the end of theſe things?

9 And he ſaid, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are cloſed up, and ſealed till the time of the end.

10 Many ſhall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked ſhall do wickedly: and none of the wicked ſhall underſtand; but the wiſe ſhall underſtand.

11 And from the time that the daily ſacrifice ſhall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh deſolate ſet up, there ſhall be a thouſand two hundred and ninety days (m).

12 Bleſſed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thouſand three hundred and five and thirty days.

13 But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou ſhalt reſt, and ſtand in thy lot at the end of the days.

CHAP. I.

Hoſea, to ſhew God's judgment for ſpiritual whoredom, taketh Gomer, and hath by Jezreel, Lo-ruhamah, and Lo-ammi. The reſtoration of Judah and Iſrael.

THE word of the Lord that came unto Hoſea, the ſon of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the ſon of Joaſh, king of Iſrael.

2 The beginning of the word of the Lord by Hoſea: And the Lord ſaid to Hoſea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms, and children of whoredoms: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and took Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim; which conceived and bare him a ſon.

4 And the Lord ſaid unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the houſe of Jehu, and will cauſe to ceaſe the kingdom of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that I will break the bow of Iſrael in the valley of Jezreel.

(m) The days here mentioned are ſtill prophetic days or years. The ſetting up the abomination of deſolation appears to be a general phraſe, and comprehenſive of many events. It is applied, 1 Macc. i. 54. to the profanation of the temple by Antiochus; and by our Lord, Matt. xxiv. 15. to the deſtruction of the city and temple by the Romans. It may for the ſame reaſon be applied to the Roman emperor Adrian's building a temple to Jupiter Capitolinus, in the ſame place where the temple of God had ſtood. It may with equal juſtice be applied to the Mahometans invading and deſolating Chriſtendom, and converting churches into moſques; and this latter event ſeems to have been particularly intended in this paſſage. If this interpretation be true, the religion of Mahomet will prevail in the eaſt for the ſpace of one thouſand two hundred and ſixty years, and then a great and glorious revolution will follow; perhaps the reſtoration of the Jews, perhaps the deſtruction of Antichriſt: But another ſtill greater and more glorious will ſucceed; and what can this be ſo probably, as the full converſion of the Gentiles to the church of Chriſt, and the beginning of the Millenium or reign of the ſaints upon earth?—Here then are three different periods aſſigned, one thouſand two hundred and ſixty years, one thouſand two hundred and ninety years, and one thouſand three hundred and

6 And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; but I will utterly take them away.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

11 Then shall the children of Judah, and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAP. II.

The idolatry of the people: God's judgments against them: his promises of reconciliation with them.

SAY ye unto your brethren, Ammi; and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

2 Plead with your mother, plead: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts;

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the children of whoredoms.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink.

6 Therefore behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband; for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast-days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of Baalim, wherein she burned incense to them; and she decked herself with her ear-rings, and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the Lord, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant and thirty-five years; and what is the precise time of their beginning, and consequently of their ending, as well as what are the great and signal events which will take place at the end of each period, we can only conjecture; time alone with certainty will discover. But however, the great uncertainty of these events, which remain yet to be fulfilled, cannot shake the credit and certainty of those which have already been accomplished. Upon the whole, what an amazing prophecy is this! Comprehending so many various events, and extending through so many succeeding ages, from the first establishment of the Persian empire, above five hundred and thirty years before Christ, to the general resurrection! And the farther it extends, and the more it comprehends, the more amazing and the more divine it must appear. What stronger and more convincing proofs can be given or required of a divine providence, and a divine revelation, that there is a God who directs and orders the transactions of the world, and that Daniel was a prophet divinely inspired by him, a man greatly beloved, as he is often addressed by an angel! Our blessed Saviour hath bestowed upon him the appellation of Daniel the prophet, Matt. xxiv. 15. and that is authority sufficient for any Christian.

for

for them with the beaſts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow, and the ſword, and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to lie down ſafely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteouſneſs, and in judgment, and in loving-kindneſs, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulneſs: and thou ſhalt know the Lord.

21 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day; I will hear ſaith the Lord, I will hear the heavens, and they ſhall hear the earth;

22 And the earth ſhall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they ſhall hear Jezreel.

23 And I will ſow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will ſay to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they ſhall ſay, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

By the expiation of an adultereſs, is ſhewed the deſolation of Iſrael before their reſtoration.

THEN ſaid the Lord unto me, Go yet, love a woman, (beloved of her friend, yet an adultereſs) according to the love of the Lord toward the children of Iſrael, who look to other gods, and love flaggons of wine.

2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of ſilver, and for an homer of barley, and an half-homer of barley:

3 And I ſaid unto her, Thou ſhalt abide for me many days; thou ſhalt not play the harlot, and thou ſhalt not be for another man: ſo will I alſo be for thee.

4 For the children of Iſrael ſhall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a ſacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without Teraphim:

5 Afterward ſhall the children of Iſrael return, and ſeek the Lord their God, and David their king; and ſhall fear the Lord, and his goodneſs in the latter days.

CHAP. IV.

God's judgments againſt the ſins of the people, and of the prieſts, and againſt their idolatry. Judah is exhorted to take warning by Iſrael's calamity.

HEAR the word of the Lord, ye children of Iſrael: for the Lord hath a controverſy with the inhabitants of the land, becauſe there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By ſwearing, and lying, and killing, and ſtealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore ſhall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein ſhall languiſh, with the beaſts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven; yea, the fiſhes of the ſea alſo ſhall be taken away.

4 Yet let no man ſtrive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that ſtrive with the prieſt.

5 Therefore ſhalt thou fall in the day, and the prophet alſo ſhall fall with thee in the night, and I will deſtroy thy mother.

6 My people are deſtroyed for lack of knowledge: becauſe thou haſt rejected knowledge, I will alſo reject thee, that thou ſhalt be no prieſt to me: ſeeing thou haſt forgotten the law of thy God, I will alſo forget thy children.

7 As they were increaſed, ſo they ſinned againſt me: therefore will I change their glory into ſhame.

8 They eat up the ſin of my people, and they ſet their heart on their iniquity.

9 And there ſhall be like people, like prieſt: and I will puniſh them for their ways, and reward them their doings.

10 For they ſhall eat, and not have enough: they ſhall commit whoredom, and ſhall not increaſe: becauſe they have left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away the heart.

12 My people aſk counſel at their flocks, and their ſtaff declareth unto them: for the ſpirit of whoredoms hath cauſed them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They ſacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incenſe upon the hills under oaks, and poplars, and elms; becauſe the ſhadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters ſhall commit whoredom, and your ſpouſes ſhall commit adultery.

14 I will not puniſh your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your ſpouſes when they commit adultery: for themſelves are ſeparated with whores, and they ſacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that doth not underſtand, ſhall fall.

HOSEA.] Hoſea's prophecy, ſays Mr. Locke, concerns both Judah and Jeruſalem, and comes in between the 27th and 28th verſes of 2 Kings xiv. He is the moſt ancient of all the prophets; having propheſied about the middle of the reign of Jeroboam II. king of Samaria, and toward the commencement of that of Uzziah, who reigned over Jeruſalem. He entered upon his ſacred miniſtry about eight hundred years before Jeſus Chriſt, above twenty years before the Olympiads, and more than forty years before the foundation of Rome. He is the firſt that has ſpoken of the deſtruction of Samaria; and he ſaw with his own eyes that melancholy event, which happened ſeven hundred and twenty years before the coming of the Meſſiah.

15 Though thou, Iſrael, play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend; and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor ſwear, The Lord liveth.

16 For Iſrael ſlideth back, as a backſliding heifer: now the Lord will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone.

18 Their drink is ſour: they have committed whoredom continually: her rulers with ſhame do love, Give ye.

19 The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they ſhall be aſhamed becauſe of their ſacrifices.

CHAP. V.

God's judgments againſt the prieſts, the people, and the princes of Iſrael, for their manifold ſins, until they repent.

HEAR ye this, O prieſts; and hearken, ye houſe of Iſrael; and give ye ear, O houſe of the king; for judgment is toward you, becauſe ye have been a ſnare on Mizpah, and a net ſpread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolters are profound to make ſlaughter, though I have been a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Iſrael is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committeſt whoredom, and Iſrael is defiled.

4 They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for the ſpirit of whoredoms is in the midſt of them, and they have not known the Lord.

5 And the pride of Iſrael doth teſtify to his face: therefore ſhall Iſrael and Ephraim fall in their iniquity; Judah alſo ſhall fall with them.

6 They ſhall go with their flocks and with their herds to ſeek the Lord; but they ſhall not find him; he hath withdrawn himſelf from them.

7 They have dealt treacherouſly againſt the Lord: for they have begotten ſtrange children: now ſhall a month devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven: after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim ſhall be deſolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Iſrael have I made known that which ſhall ſurely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that remove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppreſſed, and broken in judgment, becauſe he willingly walked after the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the houſe of Judah as rottenneſs.

13 When Ephraim ſaw his ſickneſs, and Judah ſaw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Aſſyrian, and ſent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, not cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the houſe of Judah: I, even I, will tear, and go away; I will take away, and none ſhall reſcue him.

15 I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and ſeek my face: in their affliction they will ſeek me early.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to repentance. A complaint of their untowardneſs and iniquity.

COME, and let us return unto the Lord; for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath ſmitten, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raiſe us up, and we ſhall live in his ſight.

3 Then ſhall we know, if we follow on to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he ſhall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what ſhall I do unto thee? O Judah, what ſhall I do unto thee? for your goodneſs is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have ſlain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I deſired mercy and not ſacrifice; and the knowledge of God, more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they, like men, have tranſgreſſed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherouſly againſt me.

8 Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers wait for a man, ſo the company of prieſts murder in the way by conſent: for they commit lewdneſs.

10 I have ſeen an horrible thing in the houſe of Iſrael: there is the whoredom of Ephraim, Iſrael is defiled.

11 Alſo, O Judah, he hath ſet an harveſt for thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAP. VII.

A reproof of manifold ſins. God's wrath againſt the people for their hypocriſy.

WHEN I would have healed Iſrael, then the iniquity of Ephraim was diſcovered, and the wickedneſs of Samaria: for they commit falſehood; and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers ſpoileth without.

2 And they conſider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedneſs: now their own own doings have beſet them about; they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedneſs, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker, who ceaſeth from raiſing after he hath kneeded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king, the princes have made him ſick with bottles of wine; he ſtretched out his hand with ſcorners.

6 For they have made ready their heart like an oven, whilſt they lie in wait: their baker ſleepeth all the night; in the morning it burned as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he hath mixed himſelf among the people; Ephrain is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his ſtrength, and he knoweth it not: yea, grey hairs are here and there upon him, yet he knoweth it not.

10 And the pride of Iſrael teſtifieth to his face: and they do not return to the Lord their God, nor ſeek him for all this.

11 Ephraim alſo is like a ſilly dove without heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Aſſyria.

12 When they ſhall go, I will ſpread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chaſtiſe them as their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them! for they have fled from me: deſtruction unto them! becauſe they have tranſgreſſed againſt me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have ſpoken lies againſt me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they aſſemble themſelves for corn and wine, and they rebel againſt me.

15 Though I have bound, and ſtrengthened their arms, yet do they imagine miſchief againſt me.

16 They return, but not to the moſt High: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes ſhall fall by the ſword for the rage of their tongue: this ſhall be their deriſion in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VIII.

Deſtruction is threatened for their impiety and idolatry.

SET the trumpet to thy mouth. He ſhall come as an eagle againſt the houſe of the Lord, becauſe they have tranſgreſſed my covenant, and treſpaſſed againſt my law.

2 Iſrael ſhall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Iſrael hath caſt off the thing that is good: the enemy ſhall purſue him.

4 They have ſet up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not; of their ſilver and their gold have they made them idols; that they may be cut off.

5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hath caſt thee off; mine anger is kindled againſt them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?

6 For from Iſrael was it alſo; the workman made it; therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria ſhall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have ſown the wind, and they ſhall reap the whirlwind: it hath no ſtalk: the bud ſhall yield no meal: if ſo be it yield, the ſtrangers ſhall ſwallow it up.

8 Iſrael is ſwallowed up: now ſhall they be among the Gentiles, as a veſſel wherein is no pleaſure.

9 For they are gone up to Aſſyria, a wild aſs alone by himſelf: Ephraim hath hired lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they ſhall ſorrow a little for the burden of the king of princes.

11 Becauſe Ephraim hath made many altars to ſin, altars ſhall be unto him to ſin.

12 I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a ſtrange thing.

13 They ſacrifice fleſh for the ſacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the Lord accepteth them not; now will he remember their iniquity, and viſit their ſins: they ſhall return to Egypt.

14 For Iſrael hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will ſend a fire upon his cities, and it ſhall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

The diſtreſs and captivity of Iſrael for their ſins and idolatry.

REjoice not, O Iſrael, for joy, as other people: for thou haſt gone a whoring from thy God, thou haſt loved a reward upon every corn-floor.

2 The floor and the wine-preſs ſhall not feed them, and the new wine ſhall fail in her.

3 They ſhall not dwell in the Lord's land; but Ephraim ſhall return to Egypt, and they ſhall eat unclean things in Aſſyria.

4 They ſhall not offer wine-offerings to the Lord, neither ſhall they be pleaſing unto him: their ſacrifices ſhall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof ſhall be polluted: for their bread for their ſoul ſhall not come into the houſe of the Lord.

5 What will ye do in the ſolemn day, and in the day of the feaſt of the Lord?

6 For lo, they are gone, becauſe of deſtruction: Egypt ſhall gather them up, Memphis ſhall bury them: the pleaſant places for their ſilver, nettles ſhall poſſeſs them: thorns ſhall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig-tree at her first-time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird; from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there shall not be a man left: yea, woe also to them when I depart from them!

13 Ephraim, as I saw Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O Lord: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAP. X.

Israel is reproved and threatened for their impiety and idolatry.

ISRAEL is an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit, he hath increased the altars; according to the goodness of his land, they have made goodly images.

2 Their heart is divided; now shall they be found faulty: he shall break down their altars, he shall spoil their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the Lord; what then should a king do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus judgment springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear, because of the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried into Assyria for a present to king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood: the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 It is in my desire that I should chastise them: and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall bind themselves in their two furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn; but I passed over upon her fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride; Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do unto you, because of your great wickedness: in a morning shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAP. XI.

The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefits: their judgment. God's mercy toward them.

WHEN Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burned incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as they that take take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them.

5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they called them to the most High, none at all would exalt him.

8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the Lord: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the saints.

CHAP. XII.

A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. By former favours he exhorteth to repentance. Ephraim's sins provoke God.

EPhraim feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east-wind: he daily increaseth lies and desolation; and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and oil is carried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath also a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had power with God:

4 Yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept and made supplication unto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with us.

5 Even the Lord God of hosts; the Lord is his memorial.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually.

7 He is a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppress.

8 And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me, that were sin.

9 And I that am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in the days of the solemn feast.

10 I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets.

11 Is there iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 And Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 And by a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.

14 Ephraim provoked him to anger most bitterly: therefore shall he leave his blood upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

CHAP. XIII.

Ephraim's glory, by reason of idolatry, vanisheth. God's anger for their unkindness. A promise of God's mercy.

WHEN Ephraim spake, trembling, he exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he died.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols, according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen. They say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, and as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no saviour beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought.

6 According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted; therefore had they forgotten me.

7 Therefore I will be unto them as a lion: as a leopard by the way will I observe them.

8 I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: the wild beast shall tear them.

9 O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself: but in me is thine help.

10 I will be thy king: where is any other that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes?

11 I gave

11 I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his ſin is hid.

13 The ſorrows of a travailing woman ſhall come upon him: he is an unwiſe ſon; for he ſhould not ſtay long in the place of the breaking forth of children.

14 I will ranſom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy deſtruction: repentance ſhall be hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an eaſt wind ſhall come, the wind of the Lord ſhall come up from the wilderneſs, and his ſpring ſhall become dry, and his fountains ſhall be dried up: he ſhall ſpoil the treaſure of all pleaſant veſſels.

16 Samaria ſhall become deſolate; for ſhe hath rebelled againſt her God: they ſhall fall by the ſword: their infants ſhall be daſhed in pieces, and their women with child ſhall be ripped up.

CHAP. XIV.

An exhortation to repentance. A promiſe of God's bleſſing.

O Iſrael, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou haſt fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to the Lord: ſay unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciouſly: ſo will we render the calves of our lips.

3 Aſſhur ſhall not ſave us; we will not ride upon horſes; neither will we ſay any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherleſs findeth mercy.

4 I will heal their backſliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be as the dew unto Iſrael: he ſhall grow as the lily, and caſt forth his roots as Lebanon.

6 His branches ſhall ſpread, and his beauty ſhall be as the olive-tree, and his ſmell as Lebanon.

7 They that dwell under his ſhadow ſhall return; they ſhall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine: the ſcent thereof ſhall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim ſhall ſay, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and obſerved him: I am like a green fir-tree; from me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wiſe, and he ſhall underſtand theſe things? prudent, and he ſhall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the juſt ſhall walk in them: but the tranſgreſſors ſhall fall therein.

JOEL.

CHAP. I.

Joel declaring ſundry judgments of God, exhorteth to obſerve them. He preſcribeth a faſt for complaint.

THE word of the Lord that came to Joel the ſon of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 That which the palmer-worm hath left, hath the locuſt eaten; and that which the locuſt hath left, hath the canker-worm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, becauſe of the new wine; for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come up upon my land, ſtrong and without number, whoſe teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek-teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waſte, and barked my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and caſt it away; the branches thereof are made white.

8 Lament like a virgin girded with ſackcloth, for the huſband of her youth.

9 The meat-offering and the drink-offering is cut off from the houſe of the Lord; the prieſts, the Lord's miniſters, mourn.

10 The field is waſted, the land mourneth; for the corn is waſted: the new wine is dried up, the oil languiſheth.

11 Be ye aſhamed, O ye huſbandmen; howl, O ye vine-dreſſers, for the wheat and for the barley; becauſe the harveſt of the field is periſhed.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languiſheth;

JOEL.] It ſeems moſt probable that this prophecy of Joel is to be placed in the reign of Ahaz, after the Edomites had ſmitten Judah, and uſed great violence; (comp. 2 Chron. xxviii. 17. and Joel iii. 19.) and after the Philiſtines had invaded their cities, and ſlain and expelled their inhabitants, (comp. 2 Chron. xxviii. 18. and Joel iii. 4.) and were both of them triumphing in their ſucceſs: upon which account God particularly threatens them by Joel. And as to the Philiſtines, this prophecy was executed againſt them in Hezekiah's reign, who ſucceeded Ahaz; it being expreſly predicted of him by Iſaiah, that he ſhould diſſolve and deſtroy them, Iſaiah xiv. 29, &c. and his hiſtory of Hezekiah furniſhes us with the accompliſhment. The Prophecy conſiſts of four parts, and relates only to the kingdom of Judah.

guiſheth; the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree alſo, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: becauſe joy is withered away from the ſons of men.

13 Gird yourſelves, and lament, ye prieſts: howl, ye miniſters of the altar: come, lie all night in ſackcloth, ye miniſters of my God: for the meat-offering and the drink-offering is withholded from the houſe of your God.

14 Sanctify ye a faſt, call a ſolemn aſſembly, gather the elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the houſe of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord,

15 Alas for the day! for the day of the Lord is at hand, and as a deſtruction from the Almighty ſhall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladneſs from the houſe of our God?

17 The ſeed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid deſolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beaſts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, becauſe they have no paſture; yea, the flocks of ſheep are made deſolate.

19 O Lord, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the paſtures of the wilderneſs, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field.

20 The beaſts of the field cry alſo unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the paſtures of the wilderneſs.

CHAP. II.

The prophet ſheweth unto Zion the terribleneſs of God's judgment: he exhorteth to repentance, preſcribeth a faſt, and promiſeth a bleſſing thereon.

BLOW ye the trumpet in Zion, and ſound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 A day of darkneſs and of gloomineſs, a day of clouds and of thick darkneſs, as the morning ſpread upon the mountains: a great people and a ſtrong; there hath not been ever the like, neither ſhall be any more after it, even to the years of many generations.

3 A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a deſolate wilderneſs; yea, and nothing ſhall eſcape them.

4 The appearance of them is as the appearance of horſes; and as horſemen, ſo ſhall they run.

5 Like the noiſe of chariots on the tops of mountains ſhall they leap, like the noiſe of a flame of fire that devoureth the ſtubble, as a ſtrong people ſet in battle array.

6 Before their face the people ſhall be much pained: all faces ſhall gather blackneſs.

7 They ſhall run like mighty men; they ſhall climb the wall like men of war; and they ſhall march every one on his ways, and they ſhall not break their ranks.

8 Neither ſhall one thruſt another; they ſhall walk every one in his path: and when they fall upon the ſword, they ſhall not be wounded.

9 They ſhall run to and fro in the city; they ſhall run upon the wall, they ſhall climb up upon the houſes; they ſhall enter in at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth ſhall quake before them; the heavens ſhall tremble: the ſun and the moon ſhall be dark, and the ſtars ſhall withdraw their ſhining:

11 And the Lord ſhall utter his voice before his army; for his camp is very great: for he is ſtrong that executeth his word: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible; and who can abide it?

12 Therefore alſo now, ſaith the Lord, Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with faſting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

13 And rend your heart and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſs, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 Who knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave a bleſſing behind him; even a meat-offering, and a drink-offering unto the Lord your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, ſanctify a faſt, call a ſolemn aſſembly:

16 Gather the people, ſanctify the congregation, aſſemble the elders: gather the children, and thoſe that ſuck the breaſts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her cloſet.

17 Let the prieſts, the miniſters of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them ſay, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen ſhould rule over them: wherefore ſhould they ſay among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord be jealous for his land, and pity his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will anſwer and ſay unto his people, Behold, I will ſend you corn and wine, and oil, and ye ſhall be ſatisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

20 But I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and deſolate, with his face toward the eaſt ſea, and his hinder part towards the utmoſt ſea; and his ſtink ſhall come up, and his ill ſavour ſhall come up, becauſe he hath done great things.

21 Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things.

22 Be

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God; for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil.

25 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the canker-worm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, my great army which I sent among you.

26 And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt wonderously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days, will I pour out my spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens, and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the Lord come.

32 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call.

CHAP. III.

God's judgments against the enemies of his people. His blessings upon the church.

FOR behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

2 I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for my people, and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they have cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea, and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestine? will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompence upon your own head?

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things:

6 The children also of Judah, and the children of Jerusalem, have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border:

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head:

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people far off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Proclaim ye this among the Gentiles: prepare war, make up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near; let them come up.

10 Beat your plow-shares into swords, and your pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble yourselves and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O Lord.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 Put ye in the sickle; for the harvest is ripe: come, get ye down; for the press is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision.

15 The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 The Lord also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the Lord will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood, that I have not cleansed: for the Lord dwelleth in Zion.

CHAP. I.

Amos sheweth God's judgments upon Syria, upon the Philistines, upon Tyrus, upon Edom, upon Ammon.

THE words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel, in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron:

4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will break also the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the plain of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver them up to Edom:

7 But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will turn mine hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they delivered up the whole captivity of Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant:

10 But I will send a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

12 But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border:

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he, and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

God's wrath against Moab, Judah, and Israel. God complaineth of their unthankfulness.

THUS saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kirioth: and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their eyes caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked.

5 But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes;

7 That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the same maid, to profane my holy name.

8 And they lay themselves down upon clothes

AMOS] Began to prophesy the second year before the earthquake which happened in the reign of Uzziah, and which Josephus, with most of the ancient and modern commentators, refers to this prince's usurpation of the priest's office, when he attempted to offer incense to the Lord. The first of his prophecies in order of time, are those of the seventh chapter: The others he pronounced in the little town of Tekoa, in the tribe of Judah, four leagues southward from Jerusalem, where he was an herdsman. His first two chapters are against Damascus, the Philistines, Tyrians, Edomites, Ammonites, Moabites, and the kingdoms of Judah and Israel. The evils with which he threatens them, refer to the times of Salmaneser, Tiglath-pileser, Sennacherib, and Nebuchadnezzar. He foretold the miseries into which the kingdom of Israel should fall, after the death of Jeroboam II. who was then living. He foretold the death of king Zechariah, and the invasion of Israel by the Assyrians. He speaks of the captivity of the ten tribes, and of their returning to their own country. He makes sharp invectives against the sins of Israel, against their effeminacy and avarice, their severity to the poor, the splendor of their buildings, tables, &c. The time and manner of his death are not known.

laid to pledge, by every altar, and they drink the wine of the condemned in the houſe of their god.

9 Yet deſtroyed I the Amorite before them, whoſe height was like the height of the cedars, and he was ſtrong as the oaks; yet I deſtroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Alſo I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderneſs, to poſſeſs the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raiſed up of your ſons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Iſrael? ſaith the Lord.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, ſaying, Propheſy not.

13 Behold, I am preſſed under you, as a cart is preſſed that is full of ſheaves.

14 Therefore the flight ſhall periſh from the ſwift, and the ſtrong ſhall not ſtrengthen his force, neither ſhall the mighty deliver himſelf:

15 Neither ſhall he ſtand that handleth the bow; and he that is ſwift of foot ſhall not deliver himſelf; neither ſhall he that rideth the horſe deliver himſelf.

16 And he that is couragious among the mighty, ſhall flee away naked in that day, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. III.

The neceſſity of God's judgment againſt Iſrael: the publication of it, with the cauſes thereof.

HEAR this word that the Lord hath ſpoken againſt you, O children of Iſrael, againſt the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, ſaying,

2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will puniſh you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the foreſt when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a ſnare upon the earth where no gin is for him? ſhall one take up a ſnare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not be afraid? ſhall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?

7 Surely, the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his ſecret unto his ſervants the prophets.

8 The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord God hath ſpoken, who can but propheſy?

9 Publiſh in the palaces at Aſhdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and ſay, Aſſemble yourſelves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midſt thereof, and the oppreſſed in the midſt thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, ſaith the Lord, who ſtore up violence and robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God; An adverſary there ſhall be even round about the land; and he ſhall bring down thy ſtrength from thee, and thy palaces ſhall be ſpoiled.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord; As the ſhepherd taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; ſo ſhall the children of Iſrael be taken out, that dwell in Samaria, in the corner of a bed, and in Damaſcus in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and teſtify in the houſe of Jacob, ſaith the Lord God, the God of hoſts, 14 That in the day that I ſhall viſit the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael upon him, I will alſo viſit the altars of Beth-el: and the horns of the altar ſhall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will ſmite the winter-houſe with the ſummer-houſe; and the houſes of ivory ſhall periſh, and the great houſes ſhall have an end, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

He reproveth Iſrael for oppreſſion, for idolatry, and for their incorrigibleneſs.

HEAR this word, ye kine of Baſhan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppreſs the poor, which cruſh the needy, which ſay to their maſters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord God hath ſworn by his holineſs, that lo, the days ſhall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your poſterity with fiſh-hooks.

3 And ye ſhall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her; and ye ſhall caſt them into the palace, ſaith the Lord.

4 Come to Beth-el, and tranſgreſs; at Gilgal multiply tranſgreſſion; and bring your ſacrifices every morning, and your tythes after three years:

5 And offer a ſacrifice of thankſgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publiſh the free-offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God.

6 And I alſo have given you cleanneſs of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the Lord.

7 And alſo I have with-holden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harveſt: and I cauſed it to rain upon one city, and cauſed it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water; but they were not ſatisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the Lord.

9 I have ſmitten you with blaſting and mildew: when your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig-trees and your olive-trees increaſed, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

11 I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a fire-brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, the Lord, The God of hosts is his name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for Israel. An exhortation to repentance. God rejecteth their hypocritical service.

HEAR ye this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Israel.

2 The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she is forsaken upon her land, there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord God; The city that went out by a thousand, shall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leave ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live:

5 But seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

6 Seek the Lord, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,

8 Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The Lord is his name:

9 That strengtheneth the spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.

10 They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat; ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the Lord the God of hosts, the Lord saith thus; Wailing shall be in all streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation, to wailing.

17 AND in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through thee, saith the Lord.

18 Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 I hate, I despise your feast-days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt-offerings, and your meat-offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs: for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?

26 But ye have borne the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your God, which ye made to yourselves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAP. VI.

The wantonness of Israel, and their incorrigibleness, shall be plagued with desolation.

WOE to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came!

2 Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?

3 Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near;

4 That lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5 That chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like David;

6 That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves, shall be removed.

8 The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord the God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city, with all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not make mention of the name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little houses with clefts.

12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock.

13 Ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?

14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the Lord the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entering-in of Hamath, unto the river of the wilderness.

CHAP. VII.

The judgments of the grashoppers, and of fire. Amaziah complaineth of Amos.

THUS hath the Lord God shewed unto me; and behold, he formed grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the gras of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I beseech thee: by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

3 The Lord repented for this: It shall not be, saith the Lord.

4 Thus hath the Lord God shewed unto me: and behold, the Lord God called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease I beseech thee: by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

6 The Lord repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus he shewed me: and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

8 And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there:

13 But prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the king's chapel, and it is the king's court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of sycamore-fruit:

15 And the Lord took me as I followed the flock, and the Lord said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore hear thou the word of the Lord: thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou shalt die in a polluted land: and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAP. VIII.

By a basket of summer fruit, is shewed the propinquity of Israel's end. A famine of the word threatened.

THUS hath the Lord God shewed unto me: and behold, a basket of summer-fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer-fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, The end is come upon my people people of Israel; I will not again pass by them any more.

3 And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: there shall be many dead bodies in every place; they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail.

5 Saying, when will the new-moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

7 The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood; and it shall be cast out and drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day:

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, Thy god, O Dan, liveth; and the manner of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAP. IX.

The certainty of the desolation. The restoring of the tabernacle of David.

I Saw the Lord standing upon the altar: and he said, Smite the lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and cut them in the head all of them: and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be delivered.

2 Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down:

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them:

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwell therein shall mourn: and it shall rise up wholly like a flood; and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his stories in the heaven, and hath founded his troop in the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The Lord is his name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the Lord. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving, that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake, nor prevent us.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:

12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, saith the Lord that doeth this.

13 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the plow-man shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God.

OBA-

OBADIAH.

The deſtruction of Edom, for their pride, and for their wrong to Jacob. The ſalvation and victory of Jacob.

THE viſion of Obadiah. Thus ſaith the Lord God concerning Edom; We have heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambaſſador is ſent among the heathen, Ariſe ye, and let us riſe up againſt her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee ſmall among the heathen: thou art greatly deſpiſed.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee: thou that dwelleſt in the clefts of the rock, whoſe habitation is high; that ſaith in his heart, Who ſhall bring me down to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thyſelf as the eagle, and though thou ſet thy neſt among the ſtars, thence will I bring thee down, ſaith the Lord.

5 If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have ſtolen till they had enough? if the grape-gatherers came to thee, would they not leave ſome grapes?

6 How are the things of Eſau ſearched out! how are his hidden things ſought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed againſt thee: they that eat thy bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none underſtanding in him.

8 Shall I not in that day, ſaith the Lord, even deſtroy the wiſe men out of Edom, and underſtanding out of the mount of Eſau?

9 And thy mighty men, O Teman, ſhall be diſmayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Eſau may be cut off by ſlaughter.

10 For thy violence againſt thy brother Jacob, ſhame ſhall cover thee, and thou ſhalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou ſtoodeſt on the other ſide, in the day that the ſtrangers carried away captive his forces, and foreigners entered into his gates, and caſt lots upon Jeruſalem, even thou waſt as one of them.

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not have looked on the day of thy brother, in the day that he became a ſtranger; neither ſhouldeſt thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah in the day of their deſtruction; neither ſhouldeſt thou have ſpoken proudly in the day of diſtreſs.

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, thou ſhouldeſt not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their ſubſtance in the day of their calamity.

14 Neither ſhouldeſt thou have ſtood in the croſs-way, to cut off thoſe of his that did eſcape; neither ſhouldeſt thou have delivered up thoſe of his that did remain in the day of diſtreſs.

15 For the day of the Lord is near upon all the heathen: as thou haſt done, it ſhall be done unto thee: thy reward ſhall return upon thine own head.

16 For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, ſo ſhall all the heathen drink continually: yea, they ſhall drink, and they ſhall ſwallow down, and they ſhall be as though they had not been.

17 But upon mount Zion ſhall be deliverance, and there ſhall be holineſs; and the houſe of Jacob ſhall poſſeſs their poſſeſſions.

18 And the houſe of Jacob ſhall be a fire, and the houſe of Joſeph a flame, and the houſe of Eſau for ſtubble, and they ſhall kindle in them, and devour them; and there ſhall not be any remaining of the houſe of Eſau; for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

19 And they of the ſouth ſhall poſſeſs the mount of Eſau; and they of the plain the Philiſtines: and they ſhall poſſeſs the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin ſhall poſſeſs Gilead.

20 And the captivity of this hoſt of the children of Iſrael ſhall poſſeſs that of the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath; and the captivity of Jeruſalem, which is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſs the cities of the ſouth.

21 And ſaviours ſhall come up on mount Zion, to judge the mount of Eſau; and the kingdom ſhall be the Lord's.

JONAH.

CHAP. I.

Jonah ſent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarſhiſh: he is betrayed by a tempeſt, thrown into the ſea, and ſwallowed by a fiſh.

NOW the word of the Lord came unto Jonah, the ſon of Amittai, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry againſt it; for their wickedneſs is come up before me.

3 But Jonah roſe up to flee unto Tarſhiſh, from the preſence of the Lord, and went down to Joppa; and he found a ſhip going to Tarſhiſh: ſo he paid the fare thereof, and went down into OBADIAH.] The Scripture gives us no information concerning the life or death of this prophet, of the time when he lived, of his country, or his miſſion; all that the Jewiſh writers ſay concerning him is totally uncertain, and not at all to be relied upon. There is a great ſimilarity in this ſmall portion of his writings which remains, and what is contained in the 49th chapter of Jeremiah; to which we refer the reader.

it

it to go with them unto Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship; and he lay and was fast asleep.

6 So the ship-master came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then said they unto him, Tell us we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us: what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the Lord the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them.)

11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? (for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous.)

12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless, the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAP. II.

The prayer of Jonah: he is delivered from the fish.

THEN Jonah prayed unto the Lord his God out of the fish's belly,

2 And said, I cried by reason of mine affliction unto the Lord, and he heard me; out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the midst of the seas; and the floods compassed me about: all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life from corruption, O Lord my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the Lord; and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that that I have vowed: salvation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it vomitted out Jonah upon the dry land (n).

CHAP. III.

Jonah, sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. Upon their repentance, God relenteth.

AND the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord: (now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days journey.)

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried and, said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

JONAH] was a Galilean, a native of Gath-hepher, which is thought to be the same with Jotapata, celebrated for the siege which Josephus the historian maintained against the Roman army. Gath-hepher was situated in the land of Zebulun, where was the canton of Ophir or Hepher. See John vii. Jonah lived in the reigns of Jeroboam and Joash, kings of Israel; but we know little certain concerning him, except what is delivered in this prophecy, which is chiefly historical; containing nothing poetical, or similar to the prophetic style, except the prayer in chap. ii.

(n) The power of the Almighty is frequently represented in Scripture, as bringing things to pass by his bare word and command; he speaks, and it is done. Various are the traditions of the Orientals, respecting the place where Jonah was disembogued; but as Calmet well observes, amidst such doubt and obscurity, the best part is absolute silence, and the sincere declaration that the matter is entirely unknown. Bp. Huet supposes, that Jonah's deliverance from the fish's belly, gave occasion to the famous Greek fable of Arion, who, after he was cast into the sea, was, as the fable goes, conveyed by a dolphin into the port of Corinth.

5 So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them even unto the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robes from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

7 And he caused it to be proclaimed, and published through Nineveh, by the decree of the king, and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

CHAP. IV.

Repining at God's mercy, he is proved by the type of a gourd.

BUT it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd (o).

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning arose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to pass when the sun did arise, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death.

10 Then said the Lord, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night:

11 And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons, that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

MICAH.

CHAP. I.

Micah sheweth the wrath of God against Jacob for idolatry: he exhorteth to mourning.

THE word of the Lord that came to Micah the Morasthite, in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, all ye people; hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord God be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

4 For behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft; as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?

(o) The Hebrew word kikiun, is rendered by many versions a gourd, yet it seems properly to mean the ricinus, or palma-christi. It is described by St. Jerome as a kind of shrub, having broad leaves like the vine, affording a very thick shade. It grows, says he, very commonly in Palestine, and chiefly in sandy places; and if one throws the seed upon the ground, it thrives wonderfully fast, and within a few days after the plant appears one sees a little tree. There can be no doubt, however, that this was miraculously raised and prepared for Jonah, as well as the great fish; for the same word is made use of upon both occasions. See the annexed plate, and Scheuchzer, tom. vii. p. 466.

MICAH] the Morasthite, or of Moresa, a village near the city Eleutheropolis, in the southern part of Judah, prophesied under Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, for about fifty years. He appeared almost at the same time with Isaiah, and has even borrowed some expressions from him. Compare chap. iv. 1. with Isaiah ii. 2. and iv. 13. with Isaiah lxi. 15. Bishop Lowth says, that his style is for the most part concise, comprehensive, and nervous; sometimes nearly approaching to the obscurity of Hosea, but in many places sublime and animated, and extremely poetical.

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the ſtones thereof into the valley, and I will diſcover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof ſhall be beaten to pieces, and all the hires thereof ſhall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay deſolate: for ſhe gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they ſhall return to the hire of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go ſtripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the owls.

9 For her wound is incurable; for it is come unto Judah: he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jeruſalem.

10 Declare ye it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the houſe of Aphrah, roll thyſelf in the duſt.

11 Paſs you away, thou inhabitant of Saphir, having thy ſhame naked: the inhabitant of Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of Bethezel; he ſhall receive of you his ſtanding.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited carefully for good; but evil came down from the Lord unto the gate of Jeruſalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachiſh, bind the chariot to the ſwift beaſt: ſhe is the beginning of the ſin to the daughter of Zion: for the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael were found in thee.

14 Therefore ſhalt thou give preſents to Moreſheth-gath: the houſes of Achzib ſhall be a lie to the kings of Iſrael.

15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareſhah: he ſhall come unto Adullam, the glory of Iſrael.

16 Make thee bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children; enlarge thy baldneſs as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAP. II.

Againſt oppreſſion. A lamentation. A reproof of injuſtice and idolatry. A promiſe of reſtoration to Jacob.

WOE to them that deviſe iniquity, and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practiſe it, becauſe it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence; and houſes, and take them away: ſo they oppreſs a man and his houſe, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; Behold, againſt this family do I deviſe an evil, from which ye ſhall not remove your necks, neither ſhall ye go haughtily: for this time is evil.

4 In that day ſhall one take up a parable againſt you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and ſay, We be utterly ſpoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou ſhalt have none that ſhall caſt a cord by lot in the congregation of the Lord.

6 Propheſy ye not, ſay they to them that propheſy: they ſhall not propheſy to them, that they ſhall not take ſhame.

7 O thou that art named the houſe of Jacob, is the ſpirit of the Lord ſtraightened? are theſe his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

8 Even of late my people is riſen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe with the garment from them that paſs by ſecurely, as men averſe from war.

9 The women of my people have ye caſt out from their pleaſant houſes; from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Ariſe ye, and depart; for this is not your reſt: becauſe it is polluted, it ſhall deſtroy you even with a ſore deſtruction.

11 If a man walking in the ſpirit and falſehood, do lie, ſaying, I will propheſy unto thee of wine and of ſtrong drink; he ſhall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will ſurely aſſemble, O Jacob, all of thee: I will ſurely gather the remnant of Iſrael; I will put them together as the ſheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midſt of their fold: they ſhall make great noiſe by reaſon of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have paſſed through the gate, and are gone out by it: and their king ſhall paſs before them, and the Lord on the head of them.

CHAP. III.

The cruelty of the princes. The falſehood of the prophets. The ſecurity of them both.

AND I ſaid, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the houſe of Iſrael; Is it not for you to know judgment?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their ſkin from off them, and their fleſh from off their bones:

3 Who alſo eat the fleſh of my people, and flay their ſkin from off them; and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as fleſh within the caldron.

4 Then ſhall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themſelves ill in their doings.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people err, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war againſt him:

6 Therefore night ſhall be unto you, that ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their lips; for there is no answer of God.

8 But truly I am full of power by the spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.

10 They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forest.

CHAP. IV.

The glory, peace, kingdom, and victory of the church.

BUT in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into pruning-hooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the Lord, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted, a remnant, and her that was cast far off, a strong nation: and the Lord shall reign over them in mount Zion, from henceforth even for ever.

8 And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the Lord shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look upon Zion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor.

13 Arise, and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the Lord, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

The birth of Christ: his kingdom: his conquest.

NOW gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrath, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall He come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings-forth have been from of old, from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.

6 And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: thus shall he deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people, as a dew from the Lord, as the showers upon the grass, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midſt of many people, as a lion among the beaſts of the foreſt, as a young lion among the flocks of ſheep: who, if he go through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

8 And

9 Thine hand ſhall be lifted up upon thine adverſaries, and all thine enemies ſhall be cut off.

10 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, ſaith the Lord, that I will cut off thy horſes out of the midſt of thee, and I will deſtroy thy chariots:

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy ſtrong holds:

12 And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou ſhalt have no more ſoothſayers:

13 Thy graven images alſo will I cut off, and thy ſtanding images out of the midſt of thee; and thou ſhalt no more worſhip the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midſt of thee: ſo will I deſtroy thy cities.

15 And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, ſuch as they have not heard.

CHAP. VI.

God's controverſy for unkindneſs, for ignorance, for injuſtice, and for idolatry.

HEAR ye now what the Lord ſaith; Ariſe, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, the Lord's controverſy, and ye ſtrong foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a controverſy with his people, and he will plead with Iſrael.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? teſtify againſt me.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the houſe of ſervants; and I ſent before thee Moſes, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab conſulted, and what Balaam the ſon of Beor anſwered him from Shittim unto Gilgal; that ye may know the righteouſneſs of the Lord.

6 Wherewith ſhall I come before the Lord, and bow myſelf before the high God? ſhall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves of a year old?

7 Will the Lord be pleaſed with thouſands of rams, or with ten thouſands of rivers of oil? ſhall I give my firſt born for my tranſgreſſion, the fruit of my body for the ſin of my ſoul?

8 He hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do juſtly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

9 The Lord's voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wiſdom ſhall ſee thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are there yet the treaſures of wickedneſs in the houſe of the wicked, and the ſcant meaſure that is abominable?

11 Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have ſpoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore alſo will I make thee ſick in ſmiting thee, in making thee deſolate becauſe of thy ſins.

14 Thou ſhalt eat, but not be ſatisfied; and thy caſting down ſhall be in the midſt of thee; and thou ſhalt take hold, but ſhalt not deliver; and that which thou deliverеſt will I give up to the ſword.

15 Thou ſhalt ſow, but thou ſhalt not reap: thou ſhalt tread the olives, but thou ſhalt not anoint thee with oil; and ſweet wine, but ſhalt not drink wine.

16 For the ſtatutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the houſe of Ahab, and ye walk in their counſels; that I ſhould make thee a deſolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hiſſing: therefore ye ſhall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAP. VII.

The church, putting her confidence in God, triumpheth over her enemies. God comforteth her with promiſes of mercy.

WOE is me! for I am as when they have gathered the ſummer-fruits, as the grape-gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluſter to eat: my ſoul deſired the firſt-ripe fruit.

2 The good man is periſhed out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 That they may do evil with both hands earneſtly, the prince aſketh, and the judge aſketh for a reward; and the great man he uttereth his miſchievous deſire: ſo they wrap it up.

4 The beſt of them is as a briar: the moſt upright is ſharper than a thorn-hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy viſitation cometh; now ſhall be their perplexity.

5 Truſt ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy boſom.

6 For the ſon diſhonoureth the father, the daughter riſeth up againſt her mother, the daughter-in-law againſt her mother-in-law: a man's enemies are the men of his own houſe.

7 Therefore I will look unto the Lord; I will wait for the God of my ſalvation: my God will hear me.

8 Rejoice not againſt me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I ſhall ariſe; when I ſit in darkneſs, the Lord ſhall be a light unto me.

9 I will bear the indignation of the Lord, becauſe I have ſinned againſt him, until he plead my cauſe, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I ſhall behold his righteouſneſs.

10 Then ſhe that is mine enemy ſhall ſee it, and ſhame ſhall cover her which ſaid unto me, Where is the Lord thy God? mine eyes ſhall behold her: now ſhall ſhe be troden down as the mire of the ſtreets.

11 In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day ſhall the decree be far removed.

12 In that day alſo he ſhall come even to thee from Aſſyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortreſs even to the river, and from ſea to ſea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 Notwithſtanding, the land ſhall be deſolate, becauſe of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

14 Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell ſolitarily in the wood, in the midſt of Carmel: let them feed in Baſhan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

15 According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I ſhew unto him marvellous things.

16 The nations ſhall ſee and be confounded at all their might: they ſhall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears ſhall be deaf.

17 They ſhall lick the duſt like a ſerpent, they ſhall move out of their holes like worms of the earth: they ſhall be afraid of the Lord our God, and ſhall fear becauſe of thee.

18 Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and paſſeth by the tranſgreſſion of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, becauſe he delighteth in mercy.

19 He will turn again, he will have compaſſion upon us; he will ſubdue our iniquities; and thou wilt caſt all their ſins into the depths of the ſea.

20 Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou haſt ſworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

NAHUM.

CHAP. I.

The majeſty of God, in goodneſs to his people, and ſeverity againſt his enemies.

THE burden of Nineveh. The book of the viſion of Nahum the Elkoſhite.

2 God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adverſaries, and he reſerveth wrath for his enemies.

3 The Lord is ſlow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind, and in the ſtorm, and the clouds are the duſt of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the ſea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Baſhan languiſheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languiſheth.

5 The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burned at his preſence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can ſtand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceneſs of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.

7 The Lord is good, a ſtrong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that truſt in him.

8 But with an over-running flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkneſs ſhall purſue his enemies.

9 What do ye imagine againſt the Lord? he will make an utter end: affliction ſhall not riſe up the ſecond time.

10 For while they be folded together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they ſhall be devoured as ſtubble fully dry.

11 There is one come out of thee, that imagineth evil againſt the Lord: a wicked counſellor.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord; Though they be quiet, and likewiſe many, yet thus ſhall they be cut down, when he ſhall paſs through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burſt thy bonds in aſunder.

14 And the Lord hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be ſworn: out of the houſe of thy gods will I

NAHUM] was a native of Elkoſha, a little village of Galilee. The particular circumſtances of his life are altogether unknown; nor is there any certainty of the time when he propheſied. Nahum, according to St. Jerome, ſignifies a comforter; for the ten tribes being carried away by the king of Aſſyria, this viſion was to comfort them in their captivity; nor was it a leſs conſolation to the other two tribes of Judah and Benjamin, who remained in the land, and were beſieged by the ſame enemies, to hear that theſe conquerors would in time be conquered themſelves, their city taken, and their empire overthrown. None of the minor prophets, ſays Biſhop Lowth, ſeem to equal the ſublimity, fire, and ſpirit of Nahum: beſides, his prophecy is an entire and perfect poem. The exordium is extremely magnificent: the preparation for the deſtruction of Nineveh, and the deſcription of that deſtruction, are painted in the moſt glowing colours, and are admirably clear and grand. See Biſhop Lowth's 21ſt Prelection, and Calmet.

cut off the graven image, and the molten image; I will make thy grave, for thou art vile.

15 Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace: O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

CHAP. II.

The fearful and victorious armies of God, against Nineveh.

HE that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily.

2 For the Lord hath turned away the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine-branches.

3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots shall be with flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir-trees shall be terribly shaken.

4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall justle one against another in the broad ways: they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.

5 He shall recount his worthies: they shall stumble in their walk; they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the river shall be opened, and the palace shall be dissolved.

7 And Huzzab shall be led away captive; she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, taboring upon their breasts.

8 But Nineveh is of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry; but none shall look back.

9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, and glory out of all the pleasant furniture.

10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loins, and the faces of them all gather blackness.

11 Where is the dwelling of the lions? and the feeding-place of the young lions? where the lion, even the old lion walked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid?

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with raven.

13 Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAP. III.

The miserable ruin of Nineveh.

WOE to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not.

2 The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the pransing horses, and of the jumping chariots.

3 The horsemen lifteth up both the bright sword, and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcases; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses;

4 Because of the multitude of whoredoms of the well-favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.

5 Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts; and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing-stock.

7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: who will bemoan her? Whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 Art thou better than populous No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; Put and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains.

11 Thou also shalt be drunken: thou shalt be hid, thou also shalt seek strength, because of the enemy.

12 All thy strong holds shall be like fig-trees with the first-ripe figs: if they be shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy bars.

14 Draw thee waters for the siege, fortify thy strong holds: go into clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brick-kiln.

15 There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off; it shall eat thee up like the canker-worm: make thyself many as the canker-worm, make thyself many as the locusts.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the canker-worm spoileth, and fleeth away.

17 Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy captains captains as the great grashoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

18 Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

19 There is no healing of thy bruise; thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit of thee shall clap their hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

HABAKKUK.

CHAP. I.

Unto Habakkuk, complaining of the iniquity of the land, is shewed the fearful vengeance by the Chaldeans: he complaineth that vengeance should be executed by them.

THE burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore wrong judgment proceedeth.

5 Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling-places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadful: their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far; they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.

9 They shall come all for violence: their faces shall sup up as the east-wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand.

10 And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold; for they shall heap dust, and take it.

11 Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.

12 Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? we shall not die: O Lord, thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O mighty God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity: wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things that have no ruler over them?

15 They take up all of them with the angle; they catch them in their net, and gather them in their drag: therefore they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice unto their net, and burn incense unto their drag; because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAP. II.

The judgment upon the Chaldeans for unsatiableness, for covetousness, for cruelty, drunkenness, and idolatry.

I Will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it, because it will surely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith.

5 Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and HABAKKUK] is supposed to have been of the tribe of Simeon, and a native of Beth-zachar; and he is thought to have prophesied not long before the kingdom of Judah was destroyed, and at the same time with Jeremiah. He abode in Judea while the rest of the Jews were in captivity at Babylon, which captivity he foretold; and died two years before the return of the Jews under Zerubbabel. The style of Habakkuk, says Bishop Lowth, is poetical; but particularly in his song or hymn, ch. iii. which may deservedly be looked upon as a master-piece in its kind.

say,

ſay, Woe to him that increaſeth that which is not his! how long? and to him that ladeth himſelf with thick clay!

7 Shall they not riſe up ſuddenly that ſhall bite thee, and awake that ſhall vex thee, and thou ſhalt be for booties unto them?

8 Becauſe thou haſt ſpoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people ſhall ſpoil thee; becauſe of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

9 Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetouſneſs to his houſe, that he may ſet his neſt on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!

10 Thou haſt conſulted ſhame to thy houſe, by cutting off many people, and haſt ſinned againſt thy ſoul.

11 For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber ſhall anſwer it.

12 Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and eſtabliſheth a city by iniquity.

13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hoſts, that the people ſhall labour in the very fire, and the people ſhall weary themſelves for very vanity?

14 For the earth ſhall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the ſea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink! that putteſt thy bottle to him, and makeſt him drunken alſo, that thou mayeſt look on their nakedneſs!

16 Thou art filled with ſhame for glory: drink thou alſo, and let thy foreſkin be uncovered: the cup of the Lord's right hand ſhall be turned unto thee, and ſhameful ſpewing ſhall be on thy glory.

17 For the violence of Lebanon ſhall cover thee: and the ſpoil of beaſts, which made them afraid, becauſe of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it? the molten image, and a teacher of lies, that the maker of his work truſteth therein, to make him dumb idols?

19 Woe unto him that ſaith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb ſtone, Ariſe, it ſhall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and ſilver, and there is no breath at all in the midſt of it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep ſilence before him.

CHAP. III.

Habakkuk in his prayer trembleth at God's Majeſty.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the prophet upon Shigionoth.

2 O Lord, I have heard thy ſpeech, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy work in the midſt of the years, in the midſt of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from Teman, and the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praiſe.

4 And his brightneſs was as the light; he had horns coming out of his hand: and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the peſtilence, and burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He ſtood and meaſured the earth: he beheld, and drove aſunder the nations; and the everlaſting mountains were ſcattered, the perpetual hills did bow; his ways are everlaſting.

7 I ſaw the tents of Cuſhan in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord diſpleaſed againſt the rivers? was thine anger againſt the rivers? was thy wrath againſt the ſea, that thou didſt ride upon thine horſes, and thy chariots of ſalvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes: even thy word. Selah. Thou didſt cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains ſaw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water paſſed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high.

11 The ſun and moon ſtood ſtill in their habitation: at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the ſhining of thy glittering ſpear.

12 Thou didſt march through the land in indignation, thou didſt threſh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wenteſt forth for the ſalvation of thy people, even for ſalvation with thine anointed: thou woundeſt the head out of the houſe of the wicked, by diſcovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didſt ſtrike through with his ſtaves the head of his villages: they came out as a whirlwind to ſcatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor ſecretly.

15 Thou didſt walk through the ſea with thine horſes, through the heap of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled; my lips quivered at the voice: rottenneſs entered into my bones, and I trembled in myſelf, that I might reſt in the day of trouble: when he cometh up unto the people, he will invade them with his troops.

17 Although the fig-tree ſhall not bloſſom, neither ſhall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive ſhall fail, and the fields ſhall yield no meat; the flock ſhall be cut off from the fold, and there ſhall be no herd in the ſtalls:

18 Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my ſalvation.

19 The Lord God is my ſtrength, and he will make my feet like hinds feet, and he will make me to walk upon mine high places. To the chief ſinger on my ſtringed inſtruments.

ZEPHANIAH.

CHAP. I.

God's ſevere judgment againſt Judah for divers ſins.

THE word of the Lord which came unto Zephaniah, the ſon of Cuſhi, the ſon of Gedaliah, the ſon of Amariah, the ſon of Hizkiah, in the days of Joſiah, the ſon of Amon king of Judah.

2 I will utterly conſume all things from off the land, ſaith the Lord.

3 I will conſume man and beaſt; I will conſume the fowls of the heaven, and the fiſhes of the ſea; and the ſtumbling-blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, ſaith the Lord.

4 I will alſo ſtretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the prieſts;

5 And them that worſhip the hoſt of heaven upon the houſe-tops; and them that worſhip, and that ſwear by the Lord, and that ſwear by Malcham;

6 And them that are turned back from the Lord; and thoſe that have not ſought the Lord, nor enquired for him.

7 Hold thy peace at the preſence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a ſacrifice, he hath bidden his gueſts.

8 And it ſhall come to paſs in the day of the Lord's ſacrifice, that I will puniſh the princes, and the king's children, and all ſuch as are clothed with ſtrange apparel.

9 In the ſame day alſo will I puniſh all thoſe that leap on the threſhold, which fill their maſters houſes with violence and deceit.

10 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, ſaith the Lord, that there ſhall be the noiſe of a cry from the fiſh-gate, and an howling from the ſecond, and a great craſhing from the hills.

11 Howl, ye inhabitants of Makteſh, for all the merchant-people are cut down; all they that bear ſilver are cut off.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs at that time, that I will ſearch Jeruſalem with candles, and puniſh the men that are ſettled on their lees; that ſay in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore their goods ſhall become a booty, and their houſes a deſolation: they ſhall alſo build houſes, but not inhabit them; and they ſhall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near, and haſteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man ſhall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and diſtreſs, a day of waſteneſs and deſolation, a day of darkneſs and gloomineſs, a day of clouds and thick darkneſs,

16 A day of the trumpet and alarm againſt the fenced cities, and againſt the high towers.

17 And I will bring diſtreſs upon men, that they ſhall walk like blind men, becauſe they have ſinned againſt the Lord: and their blood ſhall be poured out as duſt, and their fleſh as the dung.

18 Neither their ſilver nor their gold ſhall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath; but the whole land ſhall be devoured by the fire of his jealouſy: for he ſhall make even a ſpeedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAP. II.

An exhortation to repentance. The judgment of the Philiſtines, of Moab and Ammon, of Ethiopia and Aſſyria.

GAther yourſelves together, yea, gather together, O nation not deſired;

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day paſs as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; ſeek righteouſneſs, ſeek meekneſs: it may be, ye ſhall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.

4 For Gaza ſhall be forſaken, and Aſhkelon a deſolation: they ſhall drive out Aſhdod at the noon-day, and Ekron ſhall be rooted up.

5 Woe unto the inhabitants of the ſea-coaſts, the nation of the Cherethites! the word of the Lord is againſt you; O Canaan, the land of the Philiſtines, I will even deſtroy thee, that there ſhall be no inhabitant.

6 And the ſea-coaſt ſhall be dwellings and cottages for ſhepherds, and folds for flocks.

ZEPHANIAH.] Zephaniah was of the tribe of Simeon. The Jews are of opinion that his anceſtors, recited at the beginning of his prophecy, were all prophets themſelves. We have no exact knowledge either of his actions, or of the time of his death. He lived under king Joſiah, who began to reign in the year of the world 3363, before Chriſt 637. The deſcription which Zephaniah gives of the diſorders that prevailed in Judah in his time, leads us to judge that he propheſied before the 18th year of Joſiah; i. e. before this prince had reformed the abuſes and corruptions prevailing in his dominions. See 2 Kings xxii. 3, 10, 12. Beſides, he foretels the deſtruction of Nineveh, chap. ii. 13. which could not fall out before the 16th year of Joſiah; allowing with Beroſus, twenty-one years to the reign of Nabopolaſſar over the Chaldeans. Therefore we muſt neceſſarily place the beginning of Zephaniah's prophecy, at the beginning of the reign of Joſiah. The ſtyle of this prophet is poetical, but contains nothing remarkable either with reſpect to the diſpoſition of his ſubject, or the colouring of his diction. His method and his ſubject bear ſo near a reſemblance to Jeremiah, that St. Iſidore aſſerts him to have been his abbreviator; nor is this the only prophet whom he reſembles, as every one muſt own who compares him with Joel. See Calmet, and Bp. Lowth.

7 And

7 And the coaſt ſhall be for the remnant of the houſe of Judah; they ſhall feed thereupon: in the houſes of Aſhkelon ſhall they lie down in the evening: for the Lord their God ſhall viſit them, and turn away their captivity.

8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themſelves againſt their border.

9 Therefore as I live, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Surely Moab ſhall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and ſalt-pits, and a perpetual deſolation: the reſidue of my people ſhall ſpoil them, and the remnant of my people ſhall poſſeſs them.

10 This ſhall they have for their pride, becauſe they have reproached, and magnified themſelves againſt the people of the Lord of hoſts.

11 The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will famiſh all the gods of the earth; and men ſhall worſhip him, every one from his place, even all the iſles of the heathen.

12 Ye Ethiopians alſo, ye ſhall be ſlain by my ſword.

13 And he will ſtretch out his hand againſt the north, and deſtroy Aſſyria; and will make Nineveh a deſolation, and dry like a wilderneſs.

14 And flocks ſhall lie down in the midſt of her, all the beaſts of the nations: both the cormorant and the bittern ſhall lodge in the upper lintels of it; their voice ſhall ſing in the windows; deſolation ſhall be in the threſholds; for he ſhall uncover the cedar work.

15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt careleſly, that ſaid in her heart, I am, and there is none beſide me: how is ſhe become a deſolation, a place for beaſts to lie down in! every one that paſſeth by her, ſhall hiſs and wag his hand.

CHAP. III.

A ſharp reproof of Jeruſalem for divers ſins. An exhortation to wait for the reſtoration of Iſrael.

WOE to her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppreſſing city!

2 She obeyed not the voice; ſhe received not correction: ſhe truſteth not in the Lord; ſhe drew not near to her God.

3 Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves, they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light and treacherous perſons: her prieſts have polluted the ſanctuary, they have done violence to the law.

5 The juſt Lord is in the midſt thereof; he will not do iniquity: every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjuſt knoweth no ſhame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their towers are deſolate; I made their ſtreets waſte, that none paſſeth by: their cities are deſtroyed, ſo that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I ſaid, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive inſtruction; ſo their dwelling ſhould not be cut off, howſoever I puniſhed them: but they roſe early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 Therefore wait ye upon me, ſaith the Lord, until the day that I riſe up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may aſſemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth ſhall be devoured with the fire of my jealouſy.

9 For then will I turn to the people, a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to ſerve him with one conſent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, my ſuppliants; even the daughter of my diſperſed ſhall bring mine offering.

11 In that day ſhalt thou not be aſhamed for all thy doings, wherein thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt me: for then I will take away out of the midſt of thee them that rejoice in thy pride, and thou ſhalt no more be haughty becauſe of my holy mountain.

12 I will alſo leave in the midſt of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they ſhall truſt in the name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Iſrael ſhall not do iniquity, nor ſpeak lies; neither ſhall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they ſhall feed and lie down, and none ſhall make them afraid.

14 Sing, O daughter of Zion, ſhout, O Iſrael; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jeruſalem.

15 The Lord hath taken away thy judgments, he hath caſt out thine enemy: the King of Iſrael, even the Lord, is in the midſt of thee: thou ſhalt not ſee evil any more.

16 In that day it ſhall be ſaid to Jeruſalem, Fear thou not: and to Zion, Let not thine hands be ſlack.

17 The Lord thy God in the midſt of thee is mighty; he will ſave, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will reſt in his love, he will joy over thee with ſinging.

18 I will gather them that are ſorrowful for the ſolemn aſſembly, who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden.

19 Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee: and I will ſave her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out; and I will get them praiſe and fame in every land, where they have been put to ſhame.

20 At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praiſe among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. I.

Haggai reproveth the people for neglecting the building of the Lord's house: he inciteth them to the building: he promiseth God's assistance to them, in the work.

IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the Lord's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste!

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways.

6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm: and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountains, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it: Why? saith the Lord of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high-priest, with all the remnant of the people obeyed the voice of the Lord their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the Lord their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai, the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high-priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the Lord of hosts, their God:

15 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAP. II.

He encourageth the people to the work, by a promise of greater glory to the second temple, than was in the first. In the type of holy things and unclean, he sheweth that their sins hindered the work.

IN the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it, as nothing?

4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high-priest; and be strong all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts:

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

6 For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

7 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.

8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

10 In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or

HAGGAI] was born, in all probability, in Babylon, from whence he returned with Zerubbabel. After the death of Cambyses, Darius the son of Hystaspes coming to the empire, about five hundred and seventeen years before Jesus Christ, Haggai was excited by God, Ezra v. 1, &c. to exhort Zerubbabel and Joshua to resume the work of the temple which had now been for a long time interrupted. The remonstrances of Haggai had their effect; and in the second year of Darius, of the world 3484. which was the 16th after the return of the Jews from Babylon, they began again to proceed in this work. See Calmet.

pottage, pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body, touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord.

16 Since those days were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the press-fat, for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

17 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labours of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the Lord.

18 Consider now from this day, and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, consider it.

19 Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

20 And again the word of the Lord came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth;

22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.

ZECHARIAH.

CHAP. I.

Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. The vision of the horses. The vision of the four horns, and the four carpenters.

IN the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath been sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Turn ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, Like as the Lord of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom; and behind him were there red horses, speckled, and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they answered the angel of the Lord that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth; and behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years?

13 And the Lord answered the angel that talked with me, with good words, and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me, said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; I am jealous for Jerusalem, and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen

ZECHARIAH] returned from Babylon with Zerubbabel, and began to prophesy in the second year of the reign of Darius, son of Hystaspes; in the year of the world 3484, before the Vulgar Æra 520, in the eighth month of the holy year, and two months after Haggai had begun to prophesy. Zechariah is the longest and most obscure of all the twelve lesser prophets; but his prophecies concerning the Messiah, are more particular and express than those of many other prophets. See Calmet, and Bp. Lowth's 21st Prelection.

heathen that are at eaſe: for I was but a little diſpleaſed, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord; I am returned to Jeruſalem with mercies: my houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and a line ſhall be ſtretched forth upon Jeruſalem.

17 Cry yet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; My cities through proſperity ſhall yet be ſpread abroad; and the Lord ſhall yet comfort Zion, and ſhall yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold, four horns.

19 And I ſaid unto the angel that talked with me, What be theſe? And he anſwered me, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael, and Jeruſalem.

20 And the Lord ſhewed me four carpenters.

21 Then ſaid I, What come theſe to do? And he ſpake, ſaying, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, ſo that no man did lift up his head: but theſe are come to fray them, to caſt out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to ſcatter it.

CHAP. II.

The redemption of Zion. The promiſe of God's preſence.

I Lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold, a man with a meaſuring-line in his hand.

2 Then ſaid I, Whither goeſt thou? And he ſaid unto me, To meaſure Jeruſalem, to ſee what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me, went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And ſaid unto him, Run, ſpeak to this young man, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited as towns without walls, for the multitude of men and cattle therein.

5 For I, ſaith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midſt of her.

6 Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the north, ſaith the Lord: for I have ſpread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, ſaith the Lord.

7 Deliver thyſelf, O Zion, that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; After the glory hath he ſent me unto the nations which ſpoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will ſhake mine hand upon them, and they ſhall be a ſpoil to their ſervants: and ye ſhall know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me.

10 Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midſt of thee, ſaith the Lord.

11 And many nations ſhall be joined to the Lord in that day, and ſhall be my people: and I will dwell in the midſt of thee, and thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me unto thee.

12 And the Lord ſhall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and ſhall chooſe Jeruſalem again.

13 Be ſilent, O all fleſh, before the Lord: for he is raiſed up out of his holy habitation.

CHAP. III.

Under the type of Joſhua, the reſtoration of the church, and Chriſt the Branch are promiſed.

AND he ſhewed me Joſhua the high prieſt, ſtanding before the angel of the Lord, and Satan ſtanding at his right hand to reſiſt him.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan; even the Lord that hath choſen Jeruſalem, rebuke thee: Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Joſhua was clothed with filthy garments, and ſtood before the angel.

4 And he anſwered, and ſpake unto thoſe that ſtood before him, ſaying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he ſaid, Behold, I have cauſed thine iniquity to paſs from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I ſaid, Let them ſet a fair mitre upon his head: ſo they ſet a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments: and the angel of the Lord ſtood by.

6 And the angel of the Lord proteſted unto Joſhua, ſaying,

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou ſhalt alſo judge my houſe, and ſhalt alſo keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among theſe that ſtand by.

8 Hear now, O Joſhua the high prieſt, thou, and thy fellows that ſit before thee: for they are men wondered at: for behold, I will bring forth my ſervant, the BRANCH.

9 For behold, the ſtone that I have laid before Joſhua; upon one ſtone ſhall be ſeven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, ſhall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine, and under the fig-tree.

CHAP. IV.

By the golden candleſtick is foreſhewed the good ſucceſs of Zerubbabel's foundation. The two anointed ones.

AND the angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his ſleep.

2 And ſaid unto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I have looked, and behold, a candleſtick all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and his ſeven lamps thereon, and ſeven pipes to the ſeven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:

3 And

3 And two olive-trees by it, one upon the right ſide of the bowl, and the other upon the left ſide thereof.

4 So I anſwered and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſaying, What are theſe, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me, anſwered, and ſaid unto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my lord.

6 Then he anſwered and ſpake unto me, ſaying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, ſaying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my ſpirit, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou ſhalt become a plain: and he ſhall bring forth the head-ſtone thereof with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this houſe; his hands ſhall alſo finiſh it; and thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me unto you.

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of ſmall things? for they ſhall rejoice, and ſhall ſee the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with thoſe ſeven; they are the eyes of the Lord, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 Then anſwered I, and ſaid unto him, What are theſe two olive-trees, upon the right ſide of the candleſtick, and upon the left ſide thereof?.

12 And I anſwered again, and ſaid unto him, What be theſe two olive-branches which through the two golden pipes empty the golden oil out of themſelves?

13 And he anſwered me, and ſaid, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my lord.

14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are the two anointed ones that ſtand by the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

By a flying roll, is ſhewed the curſe of thieves and falſe-ſwearers. The final deſtruction of Babylon.

THEN I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a flying roll.

2 And he ſaid unto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I anſwered, I ſee a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for every one that ſtealeth ſhall be cut off as on this ſide, according to it; and every one that ſweareth, ſhall be cut off as on that ſide, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thief, and into the houſe of him that ſweareth falſely by my name: and it ſhall remain in the midſt of his houſe, and ſhall conſume it, with the timber thereof, and the ſtones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and ſaid unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I ſaid, What is it? And he ſaid, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He ſaid moreover, This is their reſemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that ſitteth in the midſt of the ephah.

8 And he ſaid, This is wickedneſs. And he caſt it into the midſt of the ephah; and he caſt the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings; (for they had wings like the wings of a ſtork:) and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then ſaid I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do theſe bear the ephah?

11 And he ſaid unto me, To build it an houſe in the land of Shinar: and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed, and ſet there upon her own baſe.

CHAP. VI.

The viſion of the four chariots. By the crowns of Joſhua, are ſhewed the temple and kingdom of Chriſt.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of braſs.

2 In the firſt chariot were red horſes; and in the ſecond chariot black horſes;

3 And in the third chariot white horſes; and in the fourth chariot griſled and bay horſes.

4 Then I anſwered, and ſaid unto the angel that talked with me, What are theſe, my lord?

5 And the angel anſwered, and ſaid unto me, Theſe are the four ſpirits of the heavens, which go forth from ſtanding before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horſes which are therein, go forth into the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the griſled go forth toward the ſouth country.

7 And the bay went forth, and ſought to go, that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he ſaid, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and ſpake unto me, ſaying, Behold, theſe that go toward the north country have quieted my ſpirit in the north country.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the ſame day, and go into the houſe of Joſiah, the ſon of Zephaniah;

11 Then take ſilver and gold, and make crowns, and ſet them upon the head of Joſhua, the ſon of Joſedech the high prieſt;

12 And

12 And ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſts, ſaying, Behold, the man whoſe name is The BRANCH; and he ſhall grow up out of his place, and he ſhall build the temple of the Lord:

13 Even he ſhall build the temple of the Lord; and he ſhall bear the glory, and ſhall ſit and rule upon his throne; and he ſhall be a prieſt upon his throne: and the counſel of peace ſhall be between them both.

14 And the crowns ſhall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the ſon of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are far off ſhall come and build in the temple of the Lord, and ye ſhall know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me unto you. And this ſhall come to paſs, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the Lord your God.

CHAP. VII.

The captives enquire of faſting. Zechariah reproveth their faſting. Sin the cauſe of their captivity.

AND it came to paſs in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chiſleu;

2 When they had ſent unto the houſe of God, Sherezer, and Regem-melech, and their men, to pray before the Lord,

3 And to ſpeak unto the prieſts which were in the houſe of the Lord of hoſts, and to the prophets, ſaying, Should I weep in the fifth month, ſeparating myſelf, as I have done theſe ſo many years?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hoſts unto me, ſaying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the prieſts, ſaying, When ye faſted and mourned in the fifth and ſeventh month, even thoſe ſeventy years, did ye at all faſt unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did not ye eat for yourſelves, and drink for yourſelves?

7 Should ye not hear the words which the Lord hath cried by the former prophets, when Jeruſalem was inhabited, and in proſperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the ſouth and the plain?

8 And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, ſaying,

9 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſts, ſaying, Execute true judgment, and ſhew mercy and compaſſions every man to his brother:

10 And oppreſs not the widow, nor the fatherleſs, the ſtranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil againſt his brother in your heart.

11 But they refuſed to hearken, and pulled away the ſhoulder, and ſtopped their ears, that they ſhould not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant-ſtone, leſt they ſhould hear the law, and the words which the Lord of hoſts hath ſent in his ſpirit by the former prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hoſts.

13 Therefore it is come to paſs, that as he cried, and they would not hear; ſo they cried, and I would not hear, ſaith the Lord of hoſts:

14 But I ſcattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was deſolate after them, that no man paſſed through nor returned: for they laid the pleaſant land deſolate.

CHAP. VIII.

The reſtoration of Jeruſalem. The people are encouraged to the building. Joy and enlargement promiſed.

AGAIN the word of the Lord of hoſts came to me, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; I was jealous for Zion with great jealouſy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord; I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem: and Jeruſalem ſhall be called, A city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hoſts, The holy mountain.

4 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; There ſhall yet old men and old women dwell in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and every man with his ſtaff in his hand for very age.

5 And the ſtreets of the city ſhall be full of boys and girls playing in the ſtreets thereof.

6 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in theſe days, ſhould it alſo be marvellous in mine eyes? ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts; Behold, I will ſave my people from the eaſt country, and from the weſt country.

8 And I will bring them, and they ſhall dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem: and they ſhall be my people, and will be their God, in truth and in righteouſneſs.
