47 Went out too little for them, &c.] The words in the Hebrew, run thus, The coast of the children of Dan went out from them; that is, they were dispossessed of it, in some parts, by their powerful neighbours the Amorites, who forced them into the mountains, and would not let them dwell in the valley.

49 The children of Israel gave an inheritance to Joshua, &c.] How conspicuous was the modesty of this great man! He was content to stay for his inheritance till all the land was divided, and to receive his portion as a gift from those he had before settled in the promised land.

51 They made an end of dividing the country.] It is worth remarking, that as Jacob and Moses, at the approach of their deaths, foretold the very soil and situation of every particular country that should fall to each tribe, so, upon this division by lot, it accordingly came to pass.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

The truth of divine revelation appears in the fulfilment of the events foretold by Jacob and Moses; for God, who does nothing in vain, and knows the end of all human affairs, does all things with the most precise regularity and exactness; which should serve us for a rule to copy after.

CHAP. XX.

Before CHRIST 1444.

1 God commandeth, 7 and the children of Israel appoint the six cities of refuge.

THE LORD also spake unto Joshua, saying,

2 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses:

3 That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

4 And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them.

5 And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime.

6 And he shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.

7 ¶ And they appointed Kedesh in Galilee in mount Naphtali, and Shechem in mount Ephraim, and Kirjath-arba, which is Hebron, in the mountain of Judah.

8 And on the other side Jordan by Jericho eastward, they assigned Bezer in the wilderness upon the plain out of the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead out of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan out of the tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Eight and forty cities out of the other tribes are given unto the Levites. 9 The cities of the priests; 20 of the rest of the Kohathites; 27 of the Gershonites; 34 and of the Merarites. 43 God's promise fulfilled in giving the land and rest to Israel.

THEN came near the heads of the fathers of the Levites unto Eleazar the priest, and unto Joshua the son of Nun, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel;

2 And they spake unto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, The LORD commanded by the hand of Moses to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

1 The Lord also spake unto Joshua, &c.] From the tabernacle at the door of which Eleazar and Joshua and the princes had been making a division of the land.

4 Shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, &c.] Desiring to be admitted and protected there.

6 Until he stand before the congregation for judgment, &c.] The avenger might bring him before another tribunal to be tried, whether he killed the man by chance, or not.

7 Kedesh in Galilee—Shechem in mount Ephraim; and Kirjath-arba, which is Hebron, in the mountain of Judah.] These three cities were all situated on eminences, so that they might be seen at a great distance; and being dispersed in several parts of the country, every one might enjoy the benefit of the one or the other; for Kedesh was in the north, Hebron in the south, and Shechem between both.

8 Bezer—Ramoth—and Golan, &c.] These cities were assigned by Moses, before he died, Deut. iv. 45. but had not their privileges till now.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

From what is here said concerning the cities of refuge, we may learn what obligations we are under, at all times, to mingle mercy with justice, and to be extremely cautious of condemning any man, till we are convinced, by a rational evidence, of his guilt.

Before CHRIST 1444.

3 And the children of Iſrael gave unto the Levites out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the LORD, theſe cities and their ſuburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the Kohathites: and the children of Aaron the prieſt, which were of the Levites, had by lot out of the tribe of Judah, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin, thirteen cities.

5 And the reſt of the children of Kohath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh, ten cities.

6 And the children of Gerſhon had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Iſſachar, and out of the tribe of Aſher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh in Baſhan, thirteen cities.

7 The children of Merari by their families had out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities.

8 And the children of Iſrael gave by lot unto the Levites theſe cities with their ſuburbs, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moſes.

9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Judah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, theſe cities which are here mentioned by name,

10 Which the children of Aaron, being of the families of the Kohathites, who were of the children of Levi, had: for their's was the firſt lot.

11 And they gave them the city of Arba the father of Anak, which city is Hebron, in the hill country of Judah, with the ſuburbs thereof round about it.

12 But the fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Caleb the ſon Jephunneh for his poſſeſſion.

13 Thus they gave to the children of Aaron the prieſt Hebron with her ſuburbs, to be a city of refuge for the ſlayer; and Libnah with her ſuburbs,

14 And Jattir with her ſuburbs, and Eſhtemoa with her ſuburbs,

15 And Holon with her ſuburbs, and Debir with her ſuburbs,

16 And Ain with her ſuburbs, and Juttah with her ſuburbs, and Beth-ſhemeſh with her ſuburbs; nine cities out of thoſe two tribes.

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron, the prieſts, were thirteen cities with their ſuburbs.

20 ¶ And the families of the children of Kohath, the Levites which remained of the children of Kohath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Ephraim.

21 For they gave them Shechem with her ſuburbs in mount Ephraim, to be a city of refuge for the ſlayer; and Gezer with her ſuburbs.

22 And Kibzaim with her ſuburbs, and Beth-horon with her ſuburbs; four cities.

24 Aijalon with her ſuburbs, Gath-rimmon with her ſuburbs; four cities. Before CHRIST 1444.

25 And out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh, Taanach with her ſuburbs, and Gath-rimmon with her ſuburbs; two cities.

26 All the cities were ten with their ſuburbs for the families of the children of Kohath that remained.

27 ¶ And unto the children of Gerſhon, of the families of the Levites, out of the other half tribe of Manaſſeh they gave Golan in Baſhan with her ſuburbs, to be a city of refuge for the ſlayer; and Beeſh-terah with her ſuburbs; two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Iſſachar, Kiſhon with her ſuburbs, Dabareh with her ſuburbs, 29 Jarmuth with her ſuburbs, En-gannim with her ſuburbs; four cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, Kedeſh, in Galilee with her ſuburbs to be a city of refuge for the ſlayer; and Hammoth-dor with her ſuburbs, and Kartan with her ſuburbs; three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gerſhonites according to their families were thirteen cities with their ſuburbs.

34 ¶ And unto the families of the children of Merari, the reſt of the Levites, out of the tribe of Zebulun, Jokneam with her ſuburbs, and Kartah with her ſuburbs,

38 And out of the tribe of Gad, Ramoth in Gilead with her ſuburbs, to be a city of refuge for the ſlayer; and Mahanaim with her ſuburbs, 39 Heſhbon with her ſuburbs, Jazer with her ſuburbs; four cities in all.

40 So all the cities for the children of Merari by their families, which were remaining of the families of the Levites, were by their lot twelve cities.

41 All the cities of the Levites within the poſſeſſion of the children of Iſrael were forty and eight cities with their ſuburbs.

42 Theſe cities were every one with their ſuburbs round about them: thus were all theſe cities.

43 ¶ And the LORD gave unto Iſrael all the land which he ſware to give unto their fathers; and they poſſeſſed it, and dwelt therein.

44 And the LORD gave them reſt round about, according to all that he ſware unto their fathers: and there ſtood not a man of all their enemies before them; the LORD delivered all their enemies into their hand.

45 There failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had ſpoken unto the houſe of Iſrael; all came to paſs.

CHAP.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

3 The children of Iſrael gave unto the Levites, &c.] All the people of Iſrael acknowledged the obligations which God had laid upon them, and accordingly theſe words import, that the people ſeparated ſo many cities (forty-eight, ſee Numb. xxxv. 7.) for the habitation of the Lord.

4 Out of the tribe of Judah, &c.] It was a ſpecial providence that the ſhare which fell to the prieſts was in thoſe tribes ſituated neareſt to the city which God intended ſhould be the fixed place of his worſhip and ſervice.

13 And Libnah with her ſuburbs.] This is to be underſtood to belong to them no otherwiſe than Hebron did, to which they had no right beyond the city and ſuburbs.

36, 37 And out of the tribe, &c.] Originally theſe two verſes were entirely omitted in the Maſora; though without them, neither the twelve tribes of the Merarites in particular, nor the forty eight levitical cities in general, nor the ſix cities of refuge, can be made up.

41 Forty and eight cities, &c.] Thus God ordered by Moſes; and it is a demonſtration that Moſes was divinely inſpired, to make ſuch an appointment, before they knew whether, without ſtraitening the other tribes, they could afford ſo many cities to the Levites.

43 The Lord gave unto Iſrael all the land, &c.] He gave them a right to the whole country, and he gave them the actual poſſeſſion of the greateſt part of it: he gave them likewiſe power to ſubdue the reſt (if they continued obedient to him) as ſoon as it was convenient.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

From this chapter we learn, that thoſe who miniſter in holy things are to be treated with our utmoſt reſpect and deference; and by the children of Joſeph being placed in ſome of the moſt agreeable parts of the country, we may conclude, that God will ever bleſs the children of the righteous; alſo, that the ſmall ſhare allotted to the tribe of Levi, is a leſſon to miniſters, not to be greedy of filthy lucre.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Joſhua diſmiſſeth the two tribes and half with a bleſſing and a ſhare of ſpoil. 10 On their journey they build the altar of teſtimony. 11 The other tribes are offended thereat, and ſend to demand ſatisfaction. 21 The two tribes and half vindicate their conduct. 30 The deputies are ſatisfied. 32 Their report ſatisfieth the people that ſent them.

THEN Joſhua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh,

2 And ſaid unto them, Ye have kept all that Moſes the ſervant of the LORD commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:

3 Ye have not left your brethren theſe many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the LORD your God.

4 And now the LORD your God hath given reſt unto your brethren, as he promiſed them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your poſſeſſion, which Moſes the ſervant of the LORD gave you on the other ſide Jordan.

5 But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Moſes the ſervant of the LORD charged you, to love the LORD your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to ſerve him with all your heart and with all your ſoul.

6 So Joſhua bleſſed them, and ſent them away: and they went unto their tents.

7 Now to the one half of the tribe of Manaſſeh Moſes had given poſſeſſion in Baſhan: but unto the other half thereof gave Joſhua among their brethren on this ſide Jordan weſtward. And when Joſhua ſent them away alſo unto their tents, then he bleſſed them,

8 And he ſpake unto them, ſaying, Return with much riches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with ſilver, and with gold, and with braſs, and with iron, and with very much raiment: divide the ſpoil of your enemies with your brethren.

9 And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manaſſeh returned, and departed from the children of Iſrael out of Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, to go into the country of Gilead, to the land of their poſſeſſion, whereof they were poſſeſſed, according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moſes.

10 ¶ And when they came unto the borders of Jordan, that are in the land of Canaan, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manaſſeh built there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to ſee to.

11 ¶ And the children of Iſrael heard ſay, Behold, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manaſſeh have built an altar over againſt the land of Canaan, in the borders of Jordan, at the paſſage of the children of Iſrael.

12 And when the children of Iſrael heard of it, the whole congregation of the children of Iſrael gathered themſelves together at Shiloh, to go up to war againſt them.

13 And the children of Iſrael ſent unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manaſſeh, into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt, Before CHRIST 1444.

14 And with him ten princes, of each chief houſe a prince throughout all the tribes of Iſrael; and each one was an head of the houſe of their fathers among the thouſands of Iſrael.

15 And they came unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manaſſeh, unto the land of Gilead, and they ſpake with them, ſaying,

16 Thus ſaith the whole congregation of the LORD, What treſpaſs is this that ye have committed againſt the God of Iſrael, to turn away this day from following the LORD, in that ye have builded you an altar, that ye might rebel this day againſt the LORD?

17 Is the iniquity of Peor too little for us, from which we are not cleanſed until this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the LORD,

18 But that ye muſt turn away this day from following the LORD? and it will be, ſeeing ye rebel to day againſt the LORD, that to morrow he will be wroth with the whole congregation of Iſrael.

19 Notwithſtanding, if the land of your poſſeſſion be unclean, then paſs ye over unto the land of the poſſeſſion of the LORD, wherein the LORD's tabernacle dwelleth, and take poſſeſſion among us: but rebel not againſt the LORD, nor rebel againſt us, in building you an altar beſide the altar of the LORD our God.

20 Did not Achan the ſon of Zerah commit a treſpaſs in the accurſed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Iſrael? and that man periſheth not alone in his iniquity.

21 ¶ Then the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manaſſeh anſwered, and ſaid unto the heads of the thouſands of Iſrael,

22 The LORD God of gods, the LORD God of gods, he knoweth, and Iſrael he ſhall know; if it be in rebellion, or if in tranſgreſſion againſt the LORD, ſave us not this day,)

23 That we have built us an altar to turn from following the LORD, or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meat offering, or if to offer peace offerings thereon, let the LORD himſelf require it;

24 And if we have not rather done it for fear of this thing, ſaying, In time to come your children might ſpeak unto our children, ſaying, What have ye to do with the LORD God of Iſrael?

25 For the LORD hath made Jordan a border between us and you, ye children of Reuben and children of Gad; ye have no part in the LORD; ſo ſhall your children make our children ceaſe from fearing the LORD.

26 Therefore we ſaid, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for ſacrifice:

27 But that it may be a witneſs between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might do the ſervice of the LORD before him with our burnt offerings, and with our ſacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your children may not ſay to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the LORD.

28 Therefore

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XXII.

1 Joſhua called the Reubenites, &c.] Joſhua called them unto him, and gave them an honourable diſmiſſion; commending their further obedience to God and unto him; for their fidelity to their promiſes; and for their conſtancy and practice, their piety to God, and love to their brethren.

7 Now to the one half of the tribe, &c.] It ſeems that Joſhua had diſmiſſed with his bleſſing the Reubenites and the Gadites, and then bleſſed the Manaſſites by themſelves; and the reaſon of this particularity, is ſuppoſed to be becauſe the Manaſſites were near of kin to the children of Ephraim (of which tribe he himſelf was) and were now to be ſeparated from the reſt of their brethren in Canaan.

10 Build there an altar, &c.] This altar was not built in the land of Canaan, for there it would not anſwer their intention, which was not for any religious uſe, but to erect a memorial to ſucceeding generations, that though they were parted by the river, yet they were of the ſame extract and religion, and held an equal right to the tabernacle at Shiloh, and to the worſhip of God performed there, that the inhabitants on the other ſide had.

12 The children of Iſrael gathered themſelves together, &c.] And immediately took up arms for the vindication of the worſhip and religion of their forefathers, and to avenge the cauſe of God upon the heads and chief authors of this defection.

17 Is the iniquity of Peor too little for us? &c.] To diſſuade them from their ſuppoſed idolatry, they are put in mind of the calamities which God had formerly ſent upon them for their worſhip of Baal-peor; and this inſtance was very properly brought by Phinehas, who, in the puniſhment of it, was the principal actor.

20 Did not Achan, &c.] If ſo lately God had been ſo ſevere upon them, for the offence of one man, viz. Achan only, what might they not expect, when two tribes and an half were going to revolt?

28 Therefore ſaid we, that it ſhall be, when they ſhould ſo ſay to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may ſay again, Behold the pattern of the altar of the LORD, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for ſacrifices; but it is a witneſs between us and you.

29 God forbid that we ſhould rebel againſt the LORD, and turn this day from following the LORD, to build an altar for burnt offerings, for meat offerings, or for ſacrifices, beſide the altar of the LORD our God that is before his tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phinehas the prieſt, and the princes of the congregation and heads of the thouſands of Iſrael which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the children of Manaſſeh ſpake, it pleaſed them.

31 And Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt ſaid unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manaſſeh, This day we perceive that the LORD is among us, becauſe ye have not committed this treſpaſs againſt the LORD: now ye have delivered the children of Iſrael out of the hand of the LORD.

32 ¶ And Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt, and the princes, returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, unto the land of Canaan, to the children of Iſrael, and brought them word again.

33 And the thing pleaſed the children of Iſrael; and the children of Iſrael bleſſed God, and did not intend to go up againſt them in battle, to deſtroy the land wherein the children of Reuben and Gad dwelt.

34 And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad called the altar Ed: for it ſhall be a witneſs between us that the LORD is God.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joſhua exhorteth before his death to obedience by the remembrance of former benefits, 5 by the proſpect of future bleſſings, 12 and by threatenings in caſe of diſobedience.

1427. AND it came to paſs a long time after that the LORD had given reſt unto Iſrael from their enemies round about, that Joſhua waxed old and ſtricken in age.

2 And Joſhua called for all Iſrael, and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and ſaid unto them, I am old and ſtricken in age:

3 And ye have ſeen all that the LORD your God hath done unto all theſe nations becauſe of you; for the LORD your God is he that hath fought for you.

4 Behold, I have divided unto you by lot theſe nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Jordan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even unto the great ſea weſtward.

5 ¶ And the LORD your God, he ſhall expel them from before you, and drive them from out of your ſight; and ye ſhall poſſeſs their land, as the LORD your God hath promiſed unto you.

Before CHRIST 1427.

6 Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moſes, that ye turn not aſide therefrom to the right hand or to the left;

7 That ye come not among theſe nations, theſe that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cauſe to ſwear by them, neither ſerve them, nor bow yourſelves unto them:

8 But cleave unto the LORD your God, as ye have done unto this day.

9 For the LORD hath driven out from before you great nations and ſtrong: but as for you, no man hath been able to ſtand before you unto this day.

10 One man of you ſhall chaſe a thouſand: for the LORD your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promiſed you.

11 Take good heed therefore unto yourſelves, that ye love the LORD your God.

12 ¶ Elſe if ye do in any wiſe go back, and cleave unto the remnant of theſe nations, even theſe that remain among you, and ſhall make marriages with them, and go in unto them, and they to you:

13 Know for a certainty that the LORD your God will no more drive out any of theſe nations from before you; but they ſhall be ſnares and traps unto you, and ſcourges in your ſides, and thorns in your eyes, until ye periſh from off this good land, which the LORD your God hath given you.

14 And, behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth: and ye know in all your hearts and in all your ſouls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the LORD your God ſpake concerning you; all are come to paſs unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.

15 Therefore it ſhall come to paſs, that as all good things are come upon you, which the LORD your God promiſed you; ſo ſhall the LORD bring upon you all evil things, until he have deſtroyed you from off this good land which the LORD your God hath given you.

16 When ye have tranſgreſſed the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and ſerved other gods, and bowed yourſelves to them; then ſhall the anger of the Lord be kindled againſt you, and ye ſhall periſh quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Joſhua aſſembleth the tribes at Shechem, 2 and layeth before them a brief hiſtory of God's benefits from the days of Terah. 14 He reneweth the covenant between God and them. 26 A ſtone is ſet up to witneſs the covenant. 29 Joſhua's age, death, and burial. 32 Joſeph's bones are buried. 33 Eleazar dieth.

AND Joſhua gathered all the tribes of Iſrael to Shechem, and called for the elders of Iſrael, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they preſented themſelves before God.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

It appears from this hiſtory, that the Iſraelites of the two tribes and a half, and thoſe of the other tribes, were all of them equally addicted to the worſhip of the true God; and their example teaches us, that we ſhould not turn away from the purity of religion, and the ſervice which God has preſcribed in his word.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

2 I am old and ſtricken in age.] Joſhua inſinuates to them, that this, in all probability, would be the laſt time he ſhould be able to ſpeak to them, in order to engage their attention more perfectly to what he was going to ſay: he was now in the one hundred and tenth year of his age.

5 The Lord your God, he ſhall expel them, &c.] This verſe relates to thoſe who remained yet unſubdued.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

The diſcourſe, and the remonſtrances of Joſhua, contained in this chapter, teach us that an adherence to the ſervice of God, and his laws, conſtitute the ſecurity and happineſs of nations; and, on the contrary, that diſobedience and ungodlineſs will deprive us of the bleſſings of God, and bring his judgments upon us.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

1 And Joſhua gathered all the tribes] It is likely that Joſhua, living longer than he expected when he made the foregoing ſpeech to them, called the people together once more, to give them good advice before he died; in like manner as Moſes made a great many ſpeeches to them, before his departure from them.

To Shechem, &c.] In the confines of Shechem there was a large and open country, extending, perhaps, as far as Shiloh, and very commodious for their reception; we have the atteſtation of holy writ.

2 On the other ſide of the flood] That is, Of the river Euphrates.

3 And I took your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Canaan, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Isaac.

4 And I gave unto Isaac Jacob and Esau; and I gave unto Esau mount Seir, to possess it; but Jacob and his children went down into Egypt.

5 I sent Moses also and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt, according to that which I did among them: and afterward I brought you out.

6 And I brought your fathers out of Egypt: and ye came unto the sea; and the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.

7 And when they cried unto the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Egypt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.

8 And I brought you into the land of the Amorites, which dwelt on the other side Jordan; and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess the land; and I destroyed them from before you.

9 Then Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, arose and warred against Israel, and sent and called Balaam the son of Beor to curse you:

10 But I would not hearken unto Balaam; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.

11 And ye went over Jordan, and came unto Jericho: and the men of Jericho fought against you, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I delivered them into your hand.

12 And I sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites; but not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

13 And I have given you a land for which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.

14 ¶ Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the LORD.

15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.

16 And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the LORD to serve other gods;

17 For the LORD our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed: Before CHRIST 1427.

18 And the LORD drave out from before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the LORD; for he is our God.

19 And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the LORD: for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20 If ye forsake the LORD, and serve strange gods, then he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21 And the people said unto Joshua, Nay; but we will serve the LORD.

22 And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

23 Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the LORD God of Israel.

24 And the people said unto Joshua, The LORD our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.

25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shechem.

26 ¶ And Joshua wrote these words in the book of the law of God, and took a great stone, and set it up there under an oak, that was by the sanctuary of the LORD.

27 And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witness unto us; for it hath heard all the words of the LORD which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God.

28 So Joshua let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

29 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, being an hundred and ten years old.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Timnath-serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the north side of the hill of Gaash.

31 And Israel served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that overlived Joshua, and which had known all the works of the LORD, that he had done for Egypt.

32 ¶ And the bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground which Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem for an hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph.

33 ¶ And Eleazar the son of Aaron died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to Phinehas his son, which was given him in mount Ephraim.

The

They served other gods.] It is agreed on all hands, that Terah was an idolater, and lived in the country where the worship of images is supposed to have had its origin; even Abraham himself is thought to have been brought up in the same way of worship.

7 Your eyes have seen, &c.] Their elders, who had seen them lie dead on the sea-shore, were all then there, and were not only men of great dignity, but (many of them at least) of great age.

15 If it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, &c.] He was unwilling to suppose that they would prefer any other God to him, who had obliged them by such benefits, and had so miraculously conducted, supported, and defended them.

23 The strange gods that are among you, &c.] Joshua knew, by the spirit of prophecy, that they had their penates, as the Romans called them, their household gods, which they worshipped secretly in their closets.

26 Under an oak that was by the sanctuary, &c.] Meaning a proseucha, a praying place, which, in memory of Jacob, was here at Shechem.

27 It hath heard all the words, &c.] How bold and beautiful is the figure, when the stone, before which the covenant was renewed, and which was set up as a witness of the promises and declarations of the Israelites, is said to have heard what was spoken.

32 And the bones of Joseph, &c.] It may reasonably be thought that the bodies of the rest of the sons of Jacob, from whom the twelve tribes were descended, were brought into Canaan, to be there interred; as Josephus relates from antient tradition, and as St. Stephen confirms it, Acts vii. 16.

33 Which was given him, &c.] This hill was most probably given to Eleazar, he being the high priest at the time of the division of the land. The Jews are of opinion that the 29th, 30th, 31st, and 32d verses, were written by Eleazar, and the 33d by Phinehas; or else that all the five last verses were written by Samuel, who, being a prophet, was moved and directed by God to continue the history of the Israelites, from the death of Joshua to his own time.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

The repeated promises and answers made by the Israelites, of their fidelity, should put us in mind that we have also engaged ourselves, by solemn and repeated promises, and upon pain of being rejected and forsaken of God, to serve and to be faithful to him. God grant us his grace, that we may always set these promises before our eyes, and that we may inviolably observe them.

The Book of JUDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book is called by the name of Judges, becauſe it treats principally of the great things done by thoſe illuſtrious perſons, who, after the death of Joſhua, until the days of Eli, were raiſed up by God, upon ſpecial occaſions, to rule the people Iſrael, and deliver them from their ſeveral oppreſſions. The moſt general opinion is, that (not Hezekiah or Ezra, but) that the prophet Samuel, who was the laſt of the judges, wrote it by the direction of God, and brought down their hiſtory to his own days. This book contains an hiſtory of about three hundred years.

CHAP. I.

1 Judah and Simeon carry on the war againſt the Canaanites, and defeat Adoni-bezek, who is juſtly requited for his cruelty. 8 Jeruſalem taken. 10 The ſons of Anak in Hebron ſlain. 11 Othniel taketh Debir, and in reward hath Achſah Caleb's daughter to wife. 16 The Kenites dwell in the country of Judah. 17 Horma, Gaza, Aſkelon, and Ekron are taken by Judah and Simeon. Hebron is given to Caleb. 21 The Jebuſites are not expelled out of Jeruſalem. 22 The houſe of Joſeph taketh Beth-el. Luz built. 27 The Canaanites are not wholly driven out by Manaſſeh, 29 by Ephraim, 30 by Zebulun, 31 by Aſher, 33 and by Naphtali. 34 The Amorites force Dan into the mountain.

Before CHRIST 1425. NOW after the death of Joſhua it came to paſs, that the children of Iſrael aſked the LORD, ſaying, Who ſhall go up for us againſt the Canaanites firſt, to fight againſt them?

2 And the LORD ſaid, Judah ſhall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

3 And Judah ſaid unto Simeon his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight againſt the Canaanites; and I likewiſe will go with thee into thy lot. So Simeon went with him.

4 And Judah went up; and the LORD delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand: and they ſlew of them in Bezek ten thouſand men.

5 And they found Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought againſt him, and they ſlew the Canaanites and the Perizzites.

6 But Adoni-bezek fled; and they purſued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

7 And Adoni-bezek ſaid, Threeſcore and ten kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their meat under my table: as I have done, ſo God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jeruſalem, and there he died.

8 ¶ Now the children of Judah had fought againſt Jeruſalem, and had taken it, and ſmitten it with the edge of the ſword, and ſet the city on fire.

9 And afterward the children of Judah went down to fight againſt the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the ſouth, and in the valley.

10 ¶ And Judah went againſt the Canaanites that dwelt in Hebron: (now the name of Hebron before was Kirjath-arba:) and they ſlew Sheſhai, and Ahiman, and Talmai. Before CHRIST 1425.

11 ¶ And from thence he went againſt the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before was Kirjath-ſepher:

12 And Caleb ſaid, He that ſmiteth Kirjath-ſepher, and taketh it, to him will I give Achſah my daughter to wife. 1444

13 And Othniel the ſon of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, took it, and he gave him Achſah his daughter to wife.

14 And it came to paſs, when ſhe came to him, that ſhe moved him to aſk of her father a field: and ſhe lighted from off her aſs; and Caleb ſaid unto her, What wilt thou?

15 And ſhe ſaid unto him, Give me a bleſſing: for thou haſt given me a ſouth land; give me alſo ſprings of water. And Caleb gave her the upper ſprings and the nether ſprings.

16 ¶ And the children of the Kenite, Moſes' father in law, went up out of the city of palm trees with the children of Judah into the wilderneſs of Judah, which lieth in the ſouth of Arad; and they went and dwelt among the people. 1425.

17 ¶ And Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they ſlew the Canaanites that inhabited Zephath, and utterly deſtroyed it. And the name of the city was called Hormah.

18 Alſo Judah took Gaza with the coaſt thereof, and Aſkelon with the coaſt thereof, and Ekron with the coaſt thereof.

19 And the LORD was with Judah; and he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, becauſe they had chariots of iron.

20 And they gave Hebron unto Caleb, as Moſes ſaid: and he expelled thence the three ſons of Anak.

21 ¶ And the children of Benjamin did not drive out the Jebuſites that inhabited Jeruſalem; but the Jebuſites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jeruſalem unto this day.

22 ¶ And the houſe of Joſeph, they alſo went up againſt Beth-el: and the LORD was with them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

1 Now after the death of Joſhua, &c.] We do not read that any perſon ſucceeded Joſhua in the government. The moſt probable opinion is, that every tribe was governed by their reſpective heads or elders; which form of government ſubſiſted about thirty years.

4 In Bezek, &c.] Near to Bezek, which was a city in the tribe of Judah, not far, ſome think, from Bethlehem.

6 Cut off his thumbs and his great toes.] Thus making him incapable of war. As this had been his own practice, (which he confeſſes in the next verſe) it was not unreaſonable to retaliate this treatment upon him; "as he had done, ſo God requited him."

7 So God hath requited me, &c.] From this acknowledgement of Adoni-bezek, ſome have been induced to think he was a penitent, and became a convert to the true religion, which might poſſibly be the reaſon why they ſpared his life.

8 Againſt Jeruſalem, &c.] Jeruſalem, by this, appears to have been in the poſſeſſion of the children of Judah.

10 Sheſhai, and Ahiman, and Talmai.] Theſe were the three ſons of Anak.

11 Debir, &c.] This city was re-inhabited by the Canaanites; and they were not expelled again till after the death of Joſhua.

12 And Caleb ſaid, &c.] Who was their general on this occaſion, is not expreſsly mentioned, and yet it is hardly to be queſtioned but that Caleb was the perſon.

19 Could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, &c.] Dr. Waterland thinks this ſhould be rendered, He proceeded not to drive out, &c.

Before CHRIST 1425. 23 And the house of Joseph sent to descry Beth-el. (Now the name of the city before was Luz.)

24 And the spies saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said unto him, Shew us, we pray thee, the entrance into the city, and we will shew thee mercy.

25 And when he shewed them the entrance into the city, they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and all his family.

26 And the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a city, and called the name thereof Luz: which is the name thereof unto this day.

27 ¶ Neither did Manasseh drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shean and her towns, nor Taanach and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dor and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Megiddo and her towns: but the Canaanites would dwell in that land.

28 And it came to pass, when Israel was strong, that they put the Canaanites to tribute, and did not utterly drive them out.

29 ¶ Neither did Ephraim drive out the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer; but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them.

30 ¶ Neither did Zebulun drive out the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitants of Nahalol; but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Neither did Asher drive out the inhabitants of Accho, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob:

32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anath; but he dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and of Beth-anath became tributaries unto them.

34 ¶ And the Amorites forced the children of Dan into the mountain: for they would not suffer them to come down to the valley:

35 But the Amorites would dwell in mount Heres in Aijalon, and in Shaalbim: yet the hand of the house of Joseph prevailed, so that they became tributaries.

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from the going up to Akrabbim, from the rock, and upward.

CHAP. II.

1 An angel rebuketh the people at Bochim for their disobedience to God's command. 6 During the life of Joshua and of the elders who survived him, the people serve the Lord; 10 but in the next generation fall away to grievous idolatry. 14 God's anger against them. 16 His pity toward them in their distress, and their ungrateful behaviour. 20 The Canaanites are therefore left to prove Israel.

AND an angel of the LORD came up from Gilgal to Bochim, and said, I made you to go up out of Egypt, and have brought you unto the land which I sware unto your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant with you. Before CHRIST 1425.

2 And ye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land; ye shall throw down their altars: but ye have not obeyed my voice: why have ye done this?

3 Wherefore I also said, I will not drive them out from before you; but they shall be as thorns in your sides, and their gods shall be a snare unto you.

4 And it came to pass, when the angel of the LORD spake these words unto all the children of Israel, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept.

5 And they called the name of that place Bochim: and they sacrificed there unto the LORD.

6 ¶ And when Joshua had let the people go, the children of Israel went every man unto his inheritance to possess the land.

7 And the people served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, who had seen all the great works of the LORD, that he did for Israel.

8 And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, being an hundred and ten years old. 1426.

9 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Timnath-heres, in the mount of Ephraim, on the north side of the hill Gaash.

10 ¶ And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers; and there arose another generation after them, which knew not the LORD, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel.

11 And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and served Baalim:

12 And they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, of the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the LORD to anger.

13 And they forsook the LORD, and served Baal and Ashtaroth.

14 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies.

15 Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, and as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.

16 ¶ Nevertheless the LORD raised up judges, which 1406. delivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.

17 And yet they would not hearken unto their judges, but they went a whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the LORD; but they did not so.

18 And when the LORD raised them up judges, then the LORD was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for

24 Shew us—the entrance into the city, &c.] The weakest part, where the walls were lowest, or most out of repair, or had the least guard.

28 They put the Canaanites to tribute, and did not utterly drive them out.] They were surely blameable in disregarding the command of God, and not making the right use of their victories, who, either through a misplaced lenity or covetousness, instead of destroying them, as they were commanded, suffered them to live promiscuously among them, and contented themselves with making them become tributary.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

In this chapter we have pointed out to us, in the case of Adonibezek, the avenging hand of God in the punishment of wicked and merciless men, in their own kind; and by the neglect of the Israelites to obey God's command in driving out the Canaanites, who proved thorns in their sides, we may see the evil consequences of disregarding God's declarations in scripture, respecting sin in general.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

1 An angel of the Lord came up from Gilgal, &c.] The opinion of most christian interpreters is, that it was the Son of God, who is frequently in scripture called "the Angel of the covenant." The angel's coming up from Gilgal, is mentioned as a very pertinent circumstance, to upbraid the Israelites with their base ingratitude to God, and with their sloth in not endeavouring to expel the Canaanites.

5 Bochim, &c.] Bochim signifies Weepers, and was given it on account of the lamentations of the people.

6 When Joshua had let the people go, &c.] When Joshua had broke up that great assembly which he held when he cast lots, and divided the land among them.

11 Baalim.] The gods of the nations whose land they possessed, and who were called by that general name, which signifies Lords. Their gods were great men deified.

13 Ashtaroth.] By Ashtaroth, some understand Venus.

14 He sold them, &c.] By selling them, is meant, that their enemies carried away their persons, as well as their goods, and made them slaves.

16 The Lord raised up judges, &c.] Extraordinary rulers and governors, whose authority was chiefly in time of war, they being called up (by a particular inspiration of God) to deliver them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.

Before CHRIST 1406. for it repented the LORD because of their groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them.

19 And it came to pass, when the judge was dead, that they returned, and corrupted themselves more than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down unto them; they ceased not from their own doings, nor from their stubborn way.

20 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel; and he said, Because that this people hath transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice;

21 I also will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations which Joshua left when he died:

22 That through them I may prove Israel, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not.

23 Therefore the LORD left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Joshua.

CHAP. III.

1 The nations which were left to prove Israel. 5 By intercourse with them the Israelites are seduced into idolatry. 8 They are sold into the hand of Chushan-rishathaim, but delivered by Othniel; 12 and into the hand of Eglon king of Moab, but delivered by Ehud. 31 Shamgar slayeth six hundred Philistines with an ox goad, and delivereth Israel.

NOW these are the nations which the LORD left, to prove Israel by them, even as many of Israel as had not known all the wars of Canaan;

2 Only that the generations of the children of Israel might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing thereof;

3 Namely, five lords of the Philistines, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hivites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Baal-hermon unto the entering in of Hamath.

4 And they were to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would hearken unto the commandments of the LORD, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 ¶ And the children of Israel dwelt among the Canaanites, Hittites, and Amorites, and Perizzites, and Hivites, and Jebusites:

6 And they took their daughters to be their wives, and gave their daughters to their sons, and served their gods.

7 And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgat the LORD their God, and served Baalim and the groves.

8 ¶ Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Chushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of 1402. Israel served Chushan-rishathaim eight years.

9 And when the children of Israel cried unto the LORD, the LORD raised up a deliverer to the children of Israel, who delivered them, even Othniel the son of Before CHRIST 1402. Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

10 And the spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he judged Israel, and went out to war: and the LORD delivered Chushan-rishathaim, king of Mesopotamia into his hand; and his hand prevailed against Chushan-rishathaim.

11 And the land had rest forty years. And Othniel 1394. the son of Kenaz died.

12 ¶ And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the LORD: and the LORD strengthened Eglon the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done 1354. evil in the sight of the LORD.

13 And he gathered unto him the children of Ammon and Amalek, and went and smote Israel, and possessed the city of palm trees.

14 So the children of Israel served Eglon the king of Moab eighteen years.

15 But when the children of Israel cried unto the 1336. LORD, the LORD raised them up a deliverer, Ehud the son of Gera, a Benjamite, a man lefthanded: and by him the children of Israel sent a present unto Eglon the king of Moab.

16 But Ehud made him a dagger which had two edges, of a cubit length; and he did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh.

17 And he brought the present unto Eglon king of Moab: and Eglon was a very fat man.

18 And when he had made an end to offer the present, he sent away the people that bare the present.

19 But he himself turned again from the quarries that were by Gilgal, and said, I have a secret errand unto thee, O king: who said, Keep silence. And all that stood by him went out from him.

20 And Ehud came unto him; and he was sitting in a summer parlour, which he had for himself alone. And Ehud said, I have a message from God unto thee. And he rose out of his seat.

22 And the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed upon the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly; and the dirt came out.

23 Then Ehud went forth through the porch, and shut the doors of the parlour upon him, and locked them.

24 When he was gone out, his servants came; and when they saw that, behold, the doors of the parlour were locked, they said, Surely he covereth his feet in his summer chamber.

25 And they tarried till they were ashamed: and, behold, he opened not the doors of the parlour; therefore they took a key, and opened them: and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead on the earth.

26 And Ehud escaped while they tarried, and passed beyond the quarries, and escaped unto Seirath.

27 And

---

19 They returned, &c.] That is, to their idolatry.

20 Hath transgressed my covenant, &c.] By making leagues with the Canaanites, and not throwing down their altars.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

By the corruption of the Jews after the death of Joshua, we may learn what a misfortune it is to a people, when God removes their pious magistrates and ministers; and that God withdraws his protection from those nations that forsake him. By the angel being sent to rebuke the Israelites, we may perceive that God only seeks the salvation of sinners, and waits to be gracious; and from the apostasy of the people of Israel, and their chastisements for it, we may gather this lesson, that God doth in mercy correct and afflict his people, lest they should be corrupted and ruined by their prosperity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

2 To teach them war, &c.] To awaken and exercise their courage, and keep up martial discipline among them; and also that they might, by having powerful enemies so near them, constantly betake themselves to God, and depend upon his help and succour.

7 And the groves.] It is very probable there were several goddesses under the name of Ashtaroth worshipped in them. Baalim was the general name for idols of the male kind; and Ashtaroth for those of the female.

10 The Spirit of the Lord came upon him, &c.] He had an extraordinary motion from God to take upon him the government of the people; which none durst presume to do, but such as were appointed of God, who was their king.

12 The Lord strengthened Eglon the king of Moab against Israel, &c.] As the Israelites worshipped the gods of the people round about them, it was but fit they should be punished by those very people.

15 A present, &c.] A voluntary present above their ordinary payments, by which they hoped to mollify him, and make him favourable to them.

16 Upon his right thigh.] Either to avoid suspicion he wore it on the wrong side, or, being a left-handed man, that he might more readily draw it out.

19 The quarries that were by Gilgal, &c.] Some translations render it, Graven images, which is, indeed, the meaning of the Hebrew word in several places of scripture.

20 He rose out of his seat.] Out of reverence to God, whose words, he supposed, he was to hear.

22 And the dirt came out.] The Syriac and Arabic translations say, And he went out hastily.

24 He covereth his feet in his summer chamber.] The most probable sense of this chapter is, that he had retired to sleep, as was usual in those hot countries.

28 And he ſaid unto them, Follow after me: for the LORD hath delivered your enemies the Moabites into your hand. And they went down after him, and took the fords of Jordan toward Moab, and ſuffered not a man to paſs over.

29 And they ſlew of Moab at that time about ten thouſand men, all luſty, and all men of valour; and there eſcaped not a man.

9 And ſhe ſaid, I will ſurely go with thee: notwithſtanding the journey that thou takeſt ſhall not be for thine honour; for the LORD ſhall ſell Siſera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah aroſe, and went with Barak to Kedeſh.

10 ¶ And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedeſh; and he went up with ten thouſand men at his feet: and Deborah went up with him. Before CHRIST 1296.

11 Now Heber the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobab the father in law of Moſes, had ſevered himſelf from the Kenites, and pitched his tent unto the plain of Zaanaim, which is by Kedeſh.

12 And they ſhewed Siſera that Barak the ſon of Abinoam was gone up to mount Tabor.

13 And Siſera gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Haroſheth of the Gentiles unto the river of Kiſhon.

14 And Deborah ſaid unto Barak, Up; for this is the day in which the LORD hath delivered Siſera into thine hand: is not the LORD gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thouſand men after him.

15 And the LORD diſcomfited Siſera, and all his chariots, and all his hoſt, with the edge of the ſword before Barak; ſo that Siſera lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet.

16 But Barak purſued after the chariots, and after the hoſt, unto Haroſheth of the Gentiles: and all the hoſt of Siſera fell upon the edge of the ſword; and there was not a man left.

17 ¶ Howbeit Siſera fled away on his feet to the tent of Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite: for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and the houſe of Heber the Kenite.

18 And Jael went out to meet Siſera, and ſaid unto him, Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; fear not. And when he had turned in unto her into the tent, ſhe covered him with a mantle.

19 And he ſaid unto her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink; for I am thirſty. And ſhe opened a bottle of milk, and gave him drink, and covered him.

20 Again he ſaid unto her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it ſhall be, when any man doth come and enquire of thee, and ſay, Is there any man here? that thou ſhalt ſay, No.

21 Then Jael Heber's wife took a nail of the tent, and took an hammer in her hand, and went ſoftly unto him, and ſmote the nail into his temples, and faſtened it into the ground: for he was faſt aſleep and weary. So he died.

22 And, behold, as Barak purſued Siſera, Jael came out to meet him, and ſaid unto him, Come, and I will ſhew thee the man whom thou ſeekeſt. And when he came into her tent, behold, Siſera lay dead, and the nail was in his temples.

23 ¶ So God ſubdued on that day Jabin the king of Canaan before the children of Iſrael.

24 And the hand of the children of Iſrael proſpered and prevailed againſt Jabin the king of Canaan, until they had deſtroyed Jabin the king of Canaan.

28 And took the fords of Jordan, &c.] He proceeded prudently, as well as valiantly, and therefore led them directly to the ford of Jordan, of which they poſſeſſed themſelves.

31 After him was Shamgar.] That is, he ſucceeded him in the office of a judge, for that is the general ſenſe of the words.

With an ox goad, &c.] The goads uſed in this country, were of an enormous ſize; ſeveral were near eight feet long, and ſix inches in circumference.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

From the tenor of this Chapter, we may ſee our condition in this life, wherein we are expoſed to divers temptations and trials; how profitable it is to men that they ſhould be afflicted, and how great the mercy of the Lord is towards them whom he enables to make a right uſe of their afflictions.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

2 Jabin king of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor, &c.] Jabin was probably a general name of all the kings of this country, like that of Pharaoh among the Egyptians.

4 A propheteſs, &c.] The words "prophet, and propheteſs," are ſometimes uſed for perſons endued with ſpecial, though not miraculous gifts and graces, for the better underſtanding and explaining the word of God.

5 She dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah, &c.] The Septuagint underſtand it, She ſat under the palm tree, where ſhe adminiſtered judgment.

6 Mount Tabor, &c.] Which is a very remarkable mountain in Galilee, not far from Kedeſh, in the tribe of Zebulun, and in the confines of Iſſachar and Naphtali.

7 And I will draw unto thee, &c.] Theſe are the words of God, which Deborah pronounced in his name, ſignifying that he would, by his ſecret providence, incline Siſera to come within his power to deſtroy him.

15 Siſera lighted down off his chariot, and fled away, &c.] His alighting from his chariot might be, not that he could run faſter on foot, but that he could ſooner eſcape, by mixing with the crowd of common ſoldiers.

21 A nail of the tent.] Or one of the great pins, wherewith the tent was faſtened to the ground.

So he died.] Nothing but an authority from God, of which ſhe was certain, could warrant ſuch a fact as this, which ſeemed a breach of hoſpitality, and to be attended with ſeveral other crimes; but was not ſo when God, the Lord of men's lives, ordered her to execute his ſentence upon him.

CHAP. V.

The ſong of Deborah and Barak.

THEN ſang Deborah and Barak the ſon of Abinoam on that day, ſaying,

2 Praiſe ye the LORD for the avenging of Iſrael, when the people willingly offered themſelves.

3 Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye princes; I, even I, will ſing unto the LORD; I will ſing praiſe to the LORD God of Iſrael.

4 LORD, when thou wenteſt out of Seir, when thou marchedſt out of the field of Edom, the earth trembled, and the heavens dropped, the clouds alſo dropped water.

5 The mountains melted from before the LORD, even that Sinai from before the LORD God of Iſrael.

6 In the days of Shamgar the ſon of Anath, in the days of Jael, the highways were unoccupied, and the travellers walked through byways.

7 The inhabitants of the villages ceaſed, they ceaſed in Iſrael, until that I Deborah aroſe, that I aroſe a mother in Iſrael.

8 They choſe new gods; then was war in the gates: was there a ſhield or ſpear ſeen among forty thouſand in Iſrael?

9 My heart is toward the governors of Iſrael, that offered themſelves willingly among the people. Bleſs ye the LORD.

10 Speak, ye that ride on white aſſes, ye that ſit in judgment, and walk by the way.

11 They that are delivered from the noiſe of archers in the place of drawing water, there ſhall they rehearſe the righteous acts of the LORD, even the righteous acts toward the inhabitants of his villages in Iſrael: then ſhall the people of the LORD go down to the gates.

12 Awake, awake, Deborah: awake, awake, utter a ſong: ariſe, Barak, and lead thy captivity captive, thou ſon of Abinoam.

13 Then he made him that remaineth have dominion over the nobles among the people: the LORD made me have dominion over the mighty.

14 Out of Ephraim was there a root of them againſt Amalek; after thee, Benjamin, among thy people; out of Machir came down governors, and out of Zebulun they that handle the pen of the writer.

15 And the princes of Iſſachar were with Deborah; even Iſſachar, and alſo Barak: he was ſent on foot into the valley. For the diviſions of Reuben there were great thoughts of heart.

16 Why abodeſt thou among the ſheep-folds, to hear the bleatings of the flocks? For the diviſions of Reuben that were great ſearchings of heart.

17 Gilead abode beyond Jordan: and why did Dan remain in ſhips? Aſher continued on the ſea ſhore, and abode in his breaches.

18 Zebulun and Naphtali were a people that jeoparded their lives unto the death in the high places in the field.

19 The kings came and fought, then fought the kings of Canaan in Taanach by the waters of Megiddo; they took no gain of money.

20 They fought from heaven; the ſtars in their courſes fought againſt Siſera.

21 The river of Kiſhon ſwept them away, that antient river, the river Kiſhon. O my ſoul, thou haſt trodden down ſtrength.

22 Then were the horſehoofs broken by the means of the pranſings, the pranſings of their mighty ones.

23 Curſe ye Meroz, ſaid the angel of the LORD, curſe ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; becauſe they came not to the help of the LORD, to the help of the LORD againſt the mighty.

24 Bleſſed above women ſhall Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite be, bleſſed ſhall ſhe be above women in the tent.

25 He aſked water, and ſhe gave him milk; ſhe brought forth butter in a lordly diſh.

26 She put her hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workmen's hammer; and with the hammer ſhe ſmote Siſera, ſhe ſmote off his head, when ſhe had pierced and ſtricken through his temples.

27 At her feet he bowed, he fell, he lay down: at her feet he bowed, he fell: where he bowed, there he fell down dead.

28 The mother of Siſera looked out at a window, and cried through the lattice, Why is his chariot ſo long in coming? why tarry the wheels of his chariots?

29 Her wiſe ladies anſwered her, yea, ſhe returned anſwer to herſelf,

30 Have they not ſped? have they not divided the prey; to every man a damſel or two; to Siſera a prey of divers colours, a prey of divers colours of needlework, of divers colours of needlework on both ſides, meet for the necks of them that take the ſpoil?

31 So let all thine enemies periſh, O LORD: but let them that love him be as the ſun when he goeth forth in his might. And the land had reſt forty years.

CHAP. VI.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

This hiſtory ſhews us, that when men are not humbled by the evils they have ſuffered, they often draw new ones upon themſelves, by returning to their ſins; and the choice God made of Deborah, was to ſhew the Iſraelites that their deliverance was to be aſcribed to him alone, who can make the weakeſt inſtruments ſubſervient to the effecting his deſigns.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

2 Praiſe ye the Lord, &c.] The expreſſions of this hymn are ſo majeſtic, and it abounds with ſuch a variety of elegant figures, that it has been ever juſtly admired, and allowed not to be equalled by any of the antient Greek and Latin poets.

When the people willingly offered themſelves.] She incites the people to give thanks to God, for moving the hearts of ſo many to enliſt themſelves to fight againſt the enemies of the Lord.

5 The mountains melted, &c.] A poetical expreſſion, for the inhabitants of the mountains.

6 In the days of Jael, &c.] Jael is here mentioned, not as a judge, but as a woman of a brave and valiant ſpirit.

7 The inhabitants of the villages ceaſed, &c.] They forſook the villages, which were open and defenceleſs, and fled for ſafety to the walled towns, and fortified cities.

8 Then was war in the gates, &c.] The enemies had ſeized upon, and poſſeſſed themſelves of their cities and fortreſſes.

9 Bleſs ye the Lord.] Having commended the governors of Iſrael, ſhe here carries up their thoughts to God, who had inſpired them with that courage, and favoured them with that good ſucceſs.

10 Awake, awake, Deborah, &c.] Having called upon all often to praiſe the Lord, ſhe now excites herſelf, with the moſt earneſt and zealous affection, to celebrate his wonderful works.

14 Out of Ephraim.] Here Deborah enumerates the tribes and families that any ways aſſiſted in this war.

After thee, Benjamin] The Ephraimites followed the example of Benjamin, in engaging in this quarrel, and aſſiſting Barak.

Out of Machir, &c.] An eminent family in Manaſſeh, ſettled on the other ſide Jordan.

17 Gilead abode beyond Jordan, &c.] Under Gilead are comprehended the Gadites, who had half of Gilead, as the other half was given to the children of Machir.

19 The kings came] When the Iſraelites conquered Canaan, Hazor had ſeveral kingdoms ſubject to it, or depending on it. See Joſh. xi. 10.

In Taanach by the waters of Megiddo, &c.] Taanach and Megiddo were two cities, belonging to the Manaſſites, but ſituated in the tribe of Iſſachar. See Joſh. xvii. 11.

21 O my ſoul, thou haſt trodden down ſtrength.] This is a moſt beautiful apoſtrophe to herſelf, whoſe happineſs ſhe applauds, in beholding ſuch powerful enemies vanquiſhed by the commiſſion which ſhe gave from God to Barak, and by her prayers to God for his ſucceſs.

27 At her feet he bowed, &c.] The reduplication of the words in this verſe, is inimitably beautiful.

31 So let all thine enemies periſh, O Lord, &c.] Deborah addreſſes herſelf to God, concluding this beautiful poem with a ſolemn prayer, that all his enemies may be thus diſappointed of their vain hopes, and that all who love him, may increaſe in power and force, as the ſun does, from its firſt riſing, till it arrives at his meridian height.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

We are to learn from this ſong, to refer to the power and goodneſs of God, all the ſucceſs that happens to us, and to render to him the moſt public and ſolemn thanks for it.

Before CHRIST 1256. An angel ſendeth Gideon to deliver them. 17 Gideon aſketh a ſign; he bringeth fleſh, broth, and bread, to the angel, which are all miraculouſly conſumed with fire. 25 Gideon deſtroyeth Baal's altar and grove, and ſacrificeth upon an alter which he built unto the LORD. 28 The men of his city require him to be put to death; his father defendeth him, and giveth him the name of Jerub-baal. 33 Gideon gathereth an army to fight the Midianites. 36 The double ſign granted according to his prayer.

AND the children of Iſrael did evil in the ſight of the LORD: and the LORD delivered them into the hand of Midian ſeven years.

2 And the hand of Midian prevailed againſt Iſrael: and becauſe of the Midianites the children of Iſrael made them the dens which are in the mountains, and caves, and ſtrong holds.

3 And ſo it was, when Iſrael had ſown, that the Midianites came up, and the Amalekites, and the children of the eaſt, even they came up againſt them;

4 And they encamped againſt them, and deſtroyed the increaſe of the earth, till thou come unto Gaza, and left no ſuſtenance for Iſrael, neither ſheep, nor ox, nor aſs.

5 For they came up with their cattle and their tents, and they came as graſs-hoppers for multitude; for both they and their camels were without number: and they entered into the land to deſtroy it.

6 And Iſrael was greatly impoveriſhed becauſe of the Midianites; and the children of Iſrael cried unto the LORD.

1249. 7 ¶ And it came to paſs, when the children of Iſrael cried unto the LORD becauſe of the Midianites,

8 That the LORD ſent a prophet unto the children of Iſrael, which ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, I, brought you up from Egypt, and brought you forth out of the houſe of bondage;

9 And I delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppreſſed you, and drave them out from before you, and gave you their land;

10 And I ſaid unto you, I am the LORD your God; fear not the gods of the Amorites, in whoſe land ye dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice.

11 ¶ And there came an angel of the LORD, and ſat under an oak which was in Ophrah, that pertained unto Joaſh the Abi-ezrite: and his ſon Gideon threſhed wheat by the winepreſs, to hide it from the Midianites.

12 And the angel of the LORD appeared unto him, and ſaid unto him, The LORD is with thee, thou mighty man of valour.

13 And Gideon ſaid unto him, Oh my lord, if the LORD be with us, why then is all this befallen us? and where be all his miracles which our fathers told us of, ſaying, Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt? but now the LORD hath forſaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Midianites.

14 And the LORD looked upon him, and ſaid, Go in this thy might, and thou ſhalt ſave Iſrael from the hand of the Midianites: have not I ſent thee?

15 And he ſaid unto him, Oh my Lord, wherewith ſhall I ſave Iſrael? behold, my family is poor in Manaſſeh, and I am the leaſt in my father's houſe.

16 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Surely I will be with thee, and thou ſhalt ſmite the Midianites as one man.

17 And he ſaid unto him, If now I have found grace in thy ſight, then ſhew me a ſign that thou talkeſt with me. Before CHRIST 1249.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring forth my preſent, and ſet it before thee. And he ſaid, I will tarry until thou come again.

19 And Gideon went in, and made ready a kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of flour: the fleſh he put in a baſket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and preſented it.

20 And the angel of God ſaid unto him, Take the fleſh and the unleavened cakes, and lay them upon this rock, and pour out the broth. And he did ſo.

21 Then the angel of the LORD put forth the end of the ſtaff that was in his hand, and touched the fleſh and the unleavened cakes; and there aroſe up fire out of the rock, and conſumed the fleſh and the unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD departed out of his ſight.

22 And when Gideon perceived that he was an angel of the LORD, Gideon ſaid, Alas, O LORD God! for becauſe I have ſeen an angel of the LORD face to face.

23 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Peace be unto thee; fear not: thou ſhalt not die.

24 Then Gideon built an altar there unto the LORD, and called it Jehovah-ſhalom: unto this day it is yet in Ophrah of the Abi-ezrites.

25 ¶ And it came to paſs the ſame night, that the LORD ſaid unto him, Take thy father's young bullock, even the ſecond bullock of ſeven years old, and throw down the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut down the grove that is by it:

26 And build an altar unto the LORD thy God upon the top of this rock, in the ordered place, and take the ſecond bullock, and offer a burnt ſacrifice with the wood of the grove which thou ſhalt cut down.

27 Then Gideon took ten men of his ſervants, and did as the LORD had ſaid unto him: and ſo it was, becauſe he feared his father's houſhold, and the men of the city, that he could not do it by day, that he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the city aroſe early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was caſt down, and the grove was cut down that was by it, and the ſecond bullock was offered upon the altar that was built.

29 And they ſaid one to another, Who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and aſked, they ſaid, Gideon the ſon of Joaſh hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the city ſaid unto Joaſh, Bring out thy ſon, that he may die: becauſe he hath caſt down the altar of Baal, and becauſe he hath cut down the grove that was by it.

31 And Joaſh ſaid unto all that ſtood againſt him, Will ye plead for Baal? will ye ſave him? he that will plead for him, let him be put to death whilſt it is yet morning: if he be a god, let him plead for himſelf, becauſe one hath caſt down his altar.

32 Therefore on that day he called him Jerubbaal, ſaying, Let Baal plead againſt him, becauſe he hath thrown down his altar.

33 ¶ Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the children of the eaſt were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in the valley of Jezreel.

34 But the Spirit of the LORD came upon Gideon, and he blew a trumpet: and Abi-ezer was gathered after him.

35 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. VI.

4 Till thou come unto Gaza, &c.] They made a univerſal devaſtation, from one end of the country to the other, for they came from the eaſt, and deſtroyed all till they came to the weſtern coaſt, where Gaza was.

8 Sent a prophet, &c.] To put them in mind of their duty, and to call them to repentance when they forſook him. This prophet gave the Iſraelites no hopes of divine aſſiſtance, but only upbraided them with their ſins; however, when he tells them that their calamities were occaſioned by their idolatry, he plainly intimates, that if they would return to the worſhip of the true God, he would again look graciouſly upon them, and not deſtroy them.

15 Wherewith ſhall I ſave Iſrael? &c.] He doth not reject the commiſſion, but modeſtly declines it, conſidering his own meanneſs, in compariſon with many others.

20 Take the fleſh, &c.] He did not take it, intending to turn it into a ſacrifice.

24 Jehovah-ſhalom, &c.] That is, the Lord here pronounced peace to me.

31 Joaſh ſaid unto all that ſtood againſt him, Will ye plead for Baal, &c.] Will you take upon you to avenge his quarrel? If Baal be a real God, he will doubtleſs take care to vindicate his honour.

32 He called him Jerubbaal, &c.] He called his ſon Jerubbaal, an oppoſer of Baal.

Before CHRIST 1249.

35 And he ſent meſſengers throughout all Manaſſeh; who alſo was gathered after him: and he ſent meſſengers unto Aſher, and unto Zebulun, and unto Naphtali; and they came up to meet them.

36 ¶ And Gideon ſaid unto God, If thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid,

37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only, and it be dry upon all the earth beſide, then ſhall I know that thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid.

38 And it was ſo: for he roſe up early on the morrow, and thruſt the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.

39 And Gideon ſaid unto God, Let not thine anger be hot againſt me, and I will ſpeak but this once: let me prove, I pray thee, but this once with the fleece; let it now be dry only upon the fleece, and upon all the ground let there be dew.

40 And God did ſo that night: for it was dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

CHAP. VII.

1 Gideon's army of two and thirty thouſand is by God's direction reduced to three hundred. 9 He is ſent into the enemy's camp by night, where he is encouraged by hearing a dream told with its interpretation. 16 He divideth his army into three companies, giving to each man a trumpet, and a lamp in a pitcher. 19 On his approach the Midianites are thrown into confuſion and put to flight. 24 The Ephraimites take Oreb and Zeeb, and put them to death.

THEN Jerubbaal, who is Gideon, and all the people that were with him, roſe up early, and pitched beſide the well of Harod: ſo that the hoſt of the Midianites were on the north ſide of them, by the hill of Moreh, in the valley.

2 And the LORD ſaid unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, leſt Iſrael vaunt themſelves againſt me, ſaying, Mine own hand hath ſaved me.

3 Now therefore go to, proclaim in the ears of the people, ſaying, Whoſoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people twenty and two thouſand; and there remained ten thouſand.

4 And the LORD ſaid unto Gideon, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and I will try them for thee there: and it ſhall be, that of whom I ſay unto thee, This ſhall go with thee, the ſame ſhall go with thee; and of whomſoever I ſay unto thee, This ſhall not go with thee, the ſame ſhall not go.

5 So he brought down the people unto the water: and the LORD ſaid unto Gideon, Every one that lappeth of the water with his tongue as a dog lappeth, him ſhalt thou ſet by himſelf; likewiſe every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink.

6 And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men: but all the reſt of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water.

7 And the LORD ſaid unto Gideon, By the three hundred men that lapped will I ſave you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the other people go every man unto his place.

Before CHRIST 1249.

8 So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets: and he ſent all the reſt of Iſrael every man unto his tent, and retained thoſe three hundred men: and the hoſt of Midian was beneath him in the valley.

9 ¶ And it came to paſs the ſame night, that the LORD ſaid unto him, Ariſe, get thee down unto the hoſt; for I have delivered it into thine hand.

10 But if thou fear to go down, go thou with Phurah thy ſervant down to the hoſt:

11 And thou ſhalt hear what they ſay; and afterward ſhall thine hands be ſtrengthened to go down unto the hoſt. Then went he down with Phurah his ſervant unto the outſide of the armed men that were in the hoſt.

12 And the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the children of the eaſt lay along in the valley like graſshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the ſand by the ſea ſide for multitude.

13 And when Gideon was come, behold, there was a man that told a dream unto his fellow, and ſaid, Behold, I dreamed a dream, and, lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the hoſt of Midian, and came unto a tent, and ſmote it that it fell, and overturned it, that the tent lay along.

14 And his fellow anſwered and ſaid, This is nothing elſe ſave the ſword of Gideon the ſon of Joaſh, a man of Iſrael: for into his hand hath God delivered Midian, and all the hoſt.

15 And it was ſo, when Gideon heard the telling of the dream, and the interpretation thereof, that he worſhipped, and returned into the hoſt of Iſrael, and ſaid, Ariſe, for the LORD hath delivered into your hand the hoſt of Midian.

16 ¶ And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers.

17 And he ſaid unto them, Look on me, and do likewiſe: and, behold, when I come to the outſide of the camp, it ſhall be that, as I do, ſo ſhall ye do.

18 When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpets alſo on every ſide of all the camp, and ſay, The ſword of the LORD, and of Gideon.

19 ¶ So Gideon and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outſide of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch; and they had but newly ſet the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The ſword of the LORD, and of Gideon.

21 And they ſtood every man in his place round about the camp: and all the hoſt ran, and cried, and fled.

22 And the three hundred blew the trumpets, and the LORD ſet every man's ſword againſt his fellow, even throughout all the hoſt: and the hoſt fled to Beth-ſhittah in Zererath, and to the border of Abelmeholah, unto Tabbath.

---

36 If thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, &c.] This did not ariſe from any doubt of God's intentions, for Gideon had already both ſeen and done enough to be aſſured of the divine aſſiſtance; but he was moved to make the following requeſt, perhaps for the ſake of thoſe who were to go with him, who poſſibly might be timorous.

37 If the dew, &c.] Theſe two miracles, oppoſite to each other, diſplay the ſtate of the Jewiſh nation, which was for ſome time moiſtened with the dew of heaven (the knowledge and favour of the Almighty) when the reſt of the world knew no ſuch refreſhment; and is now deprived of that bleſſing, when great part of the world is bleſſed with the light of the goſpel.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

From God's raiſing up Gideon for the deliverance of his people, we may perceive, that though he ſuffers his people ſometimes to be reduced to great extremities for their ſins, yet he will never forſake them; and from the great zeal of Gideon, we may gather, that God protects thoſe who do their duty, ſince no evil happened to Gideon for deſtroying the altar.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

11 The outſide of the armed men, &c.] To the out-guards, who ſeem to have conſiſted of fifty; ſo the LXX. think the original word ſignifies, and tranſlate it τῶν πεντηκοντα.

16 He put a trumpet in every man's hand, &c.] By the ſound of ſo many trumpets, Gideon would make the appearance of a large and numerous army.

19 In the beginning of the middle watch, &c.] The reaſons why Gideon choſe this part of the night to do it in, are obvious; becauſe the trumpets then would ſeem to ſound louder, and the lights to ſhine brighter, and ſo both increaſe the conſternation of the enemy, and conceal the ſmallneſs of his own army.

Before CHRIST 1249. 23 And the men of Iſrael gathered themſelves together out of Naphtali, and out of Aſher, and out of all Manaſſeh, and purſued after the Midianites.

24 ¶ And Gideon ſent meſſengers throughout all mount Ephraim, ſaying, Come down againſt the Midianites, and take before them the waters unto Beth-barah and Jordan. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered themſelves together, and took the waters unto Beth-barah and Jordan.

25 And they took two princes of the Midianites, Oreb and Zeeb; and they ſlew Oreb upon the rock Oreb, and Zeeb they ſlew at the winepreſs of Zeeb, and purſued Midian, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon on the other ſide Jordan.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The Ephraimites are offended with Gideon: he pacifieth them. 4 The men of Succoth and Penuel inſolently refuſe relief to Gideon's army. 10 Zebah and Zalmunna are taken priſoners. 13 Succoth and Penuel are chaſtiſed. 18 Gideon revengeth the death of his brethren on Zebah and Zalmunna. 22 He refuſeth the government which the people offer him, but aſketh for the earrings of their prey, whereof he maketh an ephod: which becometh a cauſe of idolatry. 28 Midian is totally ſubdued. 29 Gideon's children. 32 His death, and the ſubſequent idolatry and ingratitude of the Iſraelites.

AND the men of Ephraim ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou ſerved us thus, that thou calledſt us not, when thou wenteſt to fight with the Midianites? And they did chide with him ſharply.

2 And he ſaid unto them, What have I done now in compariſon of you? Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abi-ezer?

3 God hath delivered into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and what was I able to do in compariſon of you? Then their anger was abated toward him, when he had ſaid that.

4 ¶ And Gideon came to Jordan, and paſſed over, he, and the three hundred men that were with him, faint, yet purſuing them:

5 And he ſaid unto the men of Succoth, Give, I pray you, loaves of bread unto the people that follow me; for they be faint, and I am purſuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, kings of Midian.

6 And the princes of Succoth ſaid, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we ſhould give bread unto thine army?

7 And Gideon ſaid, Therefore when the LORD hath delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hand, then I will tear your fleſh with the thorns of the wilderneſs and with briers.

8 And he went up thence to Penuel, and ſpake unto them likewiſe: and the men of Penuel anſwered him as the men of Succoth had anſwered him.

9 And he ſpake alſo unto the men of Penuel, ſaying, When I come again in peace, I will break down this tower.

10 ¶ Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor, and their hoſts with them, about fifteen thouſand men, all that were left of all the hoſt of the children of the eaſt: for there fell an hundred and twenty thouſand men that drew ſword. Before CHRIST 1249.

11 And Gideon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents on the eaſt of Nobah and Jogbehah, and ſmote the hoſt: for the hoſt was ſecure.

12 And when Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he purſued after them, and took the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and diſcomfited all the hoſt.

13 ¶ And Gideon the ſon of Joaſh returned from battle before the ſun was up,

14 And caught a young man of the men of Succoth, and enquired of him: and he deſcribed unto him the princes of Succoth, and the elders thereof, even three-ſcore and ſeventeen men.

15 And he came unto the men of Succoth, and ſaid, Behold Zebah and Zalmunna with whom ye did upbraid me, ſaying, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we ſhould give bread unto thy men that are weary?

16 And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderneſs and briers, and with them he taught the men of Succoth.

17 And he beat down the tower of Penuel, and ſlew the men of the city.

18 ¶ Then ſaid he unto Zebah and Zalmunna, What manner of men were they whom ye ſlew at Tabor? And they anſwered, As thou art, ſo were they; each one reſembled the children of a king.

19 And he ſaid, They were my brethren, even the ſons of my mother: as the LORD liveth, if ye had ſaved them alive, I would not ſlay you.

20 And he ſaid unto Jether his firſtborn, Up, and ſlay them. But the youth drew not his ſword: for he feared, becauſe he was yet a youth.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna ſaid, Riſe thou, and fall upon us: for as the man is, ſo is his ſtrength. And Gideon aroſe, and ſlew Zebah and Zalmunna, and took away the ornaments that were on their camels' necks.

22 ¶ Then the men of Iſrael ſaid unto Gideon, Rule thou over us, both thou, and thy ſon, and thy ſon's ſon alſo: for thou haſt delivered us from the hand of Midian.

23 And Gideon ſaid unto them, I will not rule over you, neither ſhall my ſon rule over you: the LORD ſhall rule over you.

24 And Gideon ſaid unto them, I would deſire a requeſt of you, that ye would give me every man the earrings of his prey. (For they had golden earrings, becauſe they were Iſhmaelites.)

25 And they anſwered, We will willingly give them. And they ſpread a garment, and did caſt therein every man the earrings of his prey.

26 And the weight of the golden earrings that he requeſted was a thouſand and ſeven hundred ſhekels of gold; beſide ornaments, and collars, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Midian, and beſide the chains that were about their camels' necks.

27 And Gideon made an ephod thereof, and put it in his city, even in Ophrah: and all Iſrael went thither a whoring

24 Take before them the waters, &c.] He would have them make ſuch haſte as to poſſeſs themſelves of the fords before the Midianites could reach them.

25 Brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon, &c.] Thus Pompey's head, in after-times, was offered to Cæſar, and Cicero's to Marc Antony.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

From this chapter we have viſible tokens of the power of God, who often does his work by means that appear very weak; that he deſtroys the wicked, and the enemies of his church, by themſelves; and that, after having chaſtened and afflicted it for a time, he never fails to come to its aſſiſtance.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

2 Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abi-ezer?] As if he had ſaid, Theſe ſcattered parties, that you have gleaned and picked up at the fords of Jordan, are far more than thoſe which I and my men have deſtroyed.

3 What was I able to do in compariſon of you? &c.] Gideon's modeſty and prudence was as conſpicuous in this inſtance, as his faith and courage had been in the former: theſe qualities conſtitute a truly great man, who never riſes ſo high, or ſhines ſo bright, as when he treats inſolence with humility, and anger with meekneſs.

15 Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna, &c.] Gideon here repeats their own words, to reproach them with their inhuman uſage when he was in diſtreſs, and had done ſuch wonders for their preſervation.

17 And ſlew the men of the city.] By "the men of the city," very probably, are meant only the principal perſons in it, who fled into the tower perhaps for ſafety, (knowing their own guilt, and the danger they were in of ſuffering for it) and were there ſlain.

19 I would not ſlay you.] As they were not of the race of Canaan, he was not obliged by the law to cut them off.

24 Becauſe they were Iſhmaelites.] The Iſhmaelites and the Midianites were ſo near neighbours, and ſo mixed together, that the ſcripture ſpeaks of them as one people.

Before CHRIST 1249. a whoring after it: which thing became a ſnare unto Gideon, and to his houſe.

28 ¶ Thus was Midian ſubdued before the children of Iſrael, ſo that they lifted up their heads no more. And the country was in quietneſs forty years in the days of Gideon.

29 ¶ And Jerubbaal the ſon of Joaſh went and dwelt in his own houſe.

30 And Gideon had threeſcore and ten ſons of his body begotten: for he had many wives.

31 And his concubine that was in Shechem, ſhe alſo bare him a ſon, whoſe name he called Abimelech.

32 ¶ And Gideon the ſon of Joaſh died in a good old age, and was buried in the ſepulchre of Joaſh his father, in Ophrah of the Abi-ezrites.

33 And it came to paſs, as ſoon as Gideon was dead, that the children of Iſrael turned again, and went a whoring after Baalim, and made Baal-berith their god.

34 And the children of Iſrael remembered not the LORD their God, who had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every ſide:

35 Neither ſhewed they kindneſs to the houſe of Jerubbaal, namely, Gideon, according to all the goodneſs which he had ſhewed unto Iſrael.

CHAP. IX.

1. Abimelech conſpiring with the Shechemites, murdereth his brethren, and is made king. 7 Jotham's parable of the trees, whereby he reproacheth the men of Shechem with ingratitude, and foretelleth their ruin. 22 The Shechemites conſpire with Gaal againſt Abimelech. 30 Zebul ſendeth Abimelech notice thereof; 34 who overcometh them, and ſoweth their city with ſalt. 46 The Shechemites retire to an hold of the god Berith, and are burned therein. 50 Abimelech is ſlain at Thebez by a woman with a piece of a millſtone. 56 Jotham's curſe is fulfilled.

1209. AND Abimelech the ſon of Jerubbaal went to Shechem unto his mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family of the houſe of his mother's father, ſaying,

2 Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Shechem, Whether is better for you either that all the ſons of Jerubbaal, which are threeſcore and ten perſons, reign over you, or that one reign over you? remember alſo that I am your bone and your fleſh.

3 And his mother's brethren ſpake of him in the ears of all the men of Shechem all theſe words: and their hearts inclined to follow Abimelech; for they ſaid, He is our brother.

4 And they gave him threeſcore and ten pieces of ſilver out of the houſe of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired vain and light perſons, which followed him.

5 And he went unto his father's houſe at Ophrah, and ſlew his brethren the ſons of Jerubbaal, being threeſcore and ten perſons, upon one ſtone; notwithſtanding yet Jotham the youngeſt ſon of Jerubbaal was left; for he hid himſelf.

6 And all the men of Shechem gathered together, and all the houſe of Millo, and went, and made Abimelech king, by the plain of the pillar that was in Shechem.

7 ¶ And when they told it to Jotham, he went and ſtood in the top of mount Gerizim, and lifted up his voice, and cried, and ſaid unto them, Hearken unto me, ye men of Shechem, that God may hearken unto you. Before CHRIST 1209.

8 The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they ſaid unto the olive tree, Reign thou over us.

9 But the olive tree ſaid unto them, Should I leave my fatneſs, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

10 And the trees ſaid to the fig-tree, Come thou, and reign over us.

11 But the fig-tree ſaid unto them, Should I forſake my ſweetneſs, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?

12 Then ſaid the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us.

13 And the vine ſaid unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

14 Then ſaid all the trees unto the bramble, Come thou and reign over us.

15 And the bramble ſaid unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your truſt in my ſhadow: and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Lebanon.

16 Now therefore, if ye have done truly and ſincerely, in that ye have made Abimelech king, and if ye have dealt well with Jerubbaal and his houſe, and have done unto him according to the deſerving of his hands;

17 (For my father fought for you, and adventured his life far, and delivered you out of the hand of Midian:

18 And ye are riſen up againſt my father's houſe this day, and have ſlain his ſons, threeſcore and ten perſons, upon one ſtone, and have made Abimelech, the ſon of his maidſervant, king over the men of Shechem, becauſe he is your brother;)

19 If ye then have dealt truly and ſincerely with Jerubbaal and with his houſe this day, then rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him alſo rejoice in you:

20 But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Shechem, and the houſe of Millo; and let fire come out from the men of Shechem, and from the houſe of Millo, and devour Abimelech.

21 And Jotham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there, for fear of Abimelech his brother.

22 ¶ When Abimelech had reigned three years over Iſrael, 1206.

23 Then God ſent an evil ſpirit between Abimelech and the men of Shechem; and the men of Shechem dealt treacherouſly with Abimelech:

24 That the cruelty done to the threeſcore and ten ſons of Jerubbaal might come, and their blood be laid upon Abimelech their brother, which ſlew them; and upon the men of Shechem, which aided him in the killing of his brethren.

25 And the men of Shechem ſet liers in wait for him in the top of the mountains, and they robbed all that came along that way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 And Gaal the ſon of Ebed came with his brethren, and went over to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.

27 And they went out into the fields, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes, and made merry; and went into the houſe of their god, and did eat and drink, and curſed Abimelech.

28 And Gaal the ſon of Ebed ſaid, Who is Abimelech, and who is Shechem, that we ſhould ſerve him?

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

In this chapter we not only ſee the happy ſucceſs God granted to Gideon; his piety and humility; but alſo his fault in making an ephod, which proved an occaſion of idolatry, and the ruin of his family. "Let him that thinketh he ſtandeth, take heed leſt he fall."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. IX.

8 The trees went forth on a time, &c.] This is the firſt fable that we find any where upon record; and from hence it appears, that ſuch fictions as theſe, wherein the moſt ſerious truths are repreſented, were in uſe among the Jews (as they are ſtill in the eaſtern countries) long before the time of Æſop, as any other author that we know of.

9 Wherewith by me they honour God and man, &c.] Oil was offered in ſacrifice to God, it fed the lamps of his houſe, and prieſts and kings were anointed with it.

Before CHRIST 1206. is not he the ſon of Jerubbaal? and Zebul his officer? ſerve the men of Hamor the father of Shechem: for why ſhould we ſerve him?

29 And would to God this people were under my hand! then would I remove Abimelech. And he ſaid to Abimelech, Increaſe thine army, and come out.

30 ¶ And when Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the ſon of Ebed, his anger was kindled.

31 And he ſent meſſengers unto Abimelech privily, ſaying, Behold, Gaal the ſon of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem; and, behold, they fortify the city againſt thee.

32 Now therefore up by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field:

33 And it ſhall be, that in the morning, as ſoon as the ſun is up, thou ſhalt riſe early, and ſet upon the city: and, behold, when he and the people that is with him come out againſt thee, then mayeſt thou do to them as thou ſhalt find occaſion.

34 And Abimelech roſe up, and all the people that were with him, by night, and they laid wait againſt Shechem in four companies.

35 And Gaal the ſon of Ebed went out, and ſtood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Abimelech roſe up, and the people that were with him, from lying in wait.

36 And when Gaal ſaw the people, he ſaid to Zebul, Behold, there come people down from the top of the mountains. And Zebul ſaid unto him, Thou ſeeſt the ſhadow of the mountains as if they were men.

37 And Gaal ſpake again and ſaid, See there come people down by the middle of the land, and another company come along by the plain of Meonenim.

38 Then ſaid Zebul unto him, Where is now thy mouth, wherewith thou ſaidſt, Who is Abimelech, that we ſhould ſerve him? is not this the people that thou haſt deſpiſed? go out, I pray now, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.

40 And Abimelech chaſed him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thruſt out Gaal and his brethren, that they ſhould not dwell in Shechem.

42 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that the people went out into the field; and they told Abimelech.

43 And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field, and looked, and, behold, the people were come forth out of the city; and he roſe up againſt them, and ſmote them.

44 And Abimelech, and the company that was with him, ruſhed forward, and ſtood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ran upon all the people that were in the fields, and ſlew them.

45 And Abimelech fought againſt the city all that day; and he took the city, and ſlew the people that was therein, and beat down the city, and ſowed it with ſalt.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shechem heard that, they entered into an hold of the houſe of the god Berith.

47 And it was told Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gat him up to mount Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him; and Abimelech took an ax in his hand, and cut down a bough from the trees, and took it, and laid it on his ſhoulder, and ſaid unto the people that were with him, What ye have ſeen me do, make haſte, and do as I have done. Before CHRIST 1206.

49 And all the people likewiſe cut down every man his bough, and followed Abimelech, and put them to the hold, and ſet the hold on fire upon them; ſo that all the men of the tower of Shechem died alſo, about a thouſand men and women.

50 ¶ Then went Abimelech to Thebez, and encamped againſt Thebez, and took it.

51 But there was a ſtrong tower within the city, and thither fled all the men and women, and all they of the city, and ſhut it to them, and gat them up to the top of the tower.

52 And Abimelech came unto the tower, and fought againſt it, and went hard unto the door of the tower to burn it with fire.

53 And a certain woman caſt a piece of a milſtone upon Abimelech's head, and all to break his ſcull.

54 Then he called haſtily unto the young man his armourbearer, and ſaid unto him, Draw thy ſword, and ſlay me, that men ſay not of me, A woman ſlew him. And his young man thruſt him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Iſrael ſaw that Abimelech was dead, they departed every man unto his place.

56 ¶ Thus God rendered the wickedneſs of Abimelech, which he did unto his father, in ſlaying his ſeventy brethren:

57 And all the evil of the men of Shechem did God render upon their head: and upon them came the curſe of Jotham the ſon of Jerubbaal.

CHAP. X.

1 Tola judgeth Iſrael; 3 and after him Jair, whoſe thirty ſons had thirty cities. 6 The children of Iſrael fall again into idolatry, and are oppreſſed by the Philiſtines and Ammonites. 10 They cry unto God, and are ſent by him for help unto their falſe gods. 15 Upon their repentance he pitieth them. 17 They aſſemble and conſult about chooſing a head.

AND after Abimelech there aroſe to defend Iſrael Tola the ſon of Puah, the ſon of Dodo, a man of Iſſachar; and he dwelt in Shamir in mount Ephraim.

2 And he judged Iſrael twenty and three years, and 1183. died, and was buried in Shamir.

3 ¶ And after him aroſe Jair, a Gileadite, and judged Iſrael twenty and two years.

4 And he had thirty ſons that rode on thirty aſs colts, and they had thirty cities, which are called Havoth-jair unto this day, which are in the land of Gilead.

5 And Jair died, and was buried in Camon.

6 ¶ And the children of Iſrael did evil again in the 1161. ſight of the LORD, and ſerved Baalim, and Aſhtaroth, and the gods of Syria, and the gods of Zidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philiſtines, and forſook the LORD, and ſerved not him.

7 And the anger of the LORD was hot againſt Iſrael, and he ſold them into the hands of the Philiſtines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.

8 And that year they vexed and oppreſſed the children of Iſrael eighteen years, all the children of Iſrael that were on the other ſide Jordan in the land of the Amorities, which is in Gilead.

9 Moreover the children of Ammon paſſed over Jordan to fight alſo againſt Judah, and againſt Benjamin,

29 Would I remove Abimelech. And he ſaid, &c.] All this was ſaid in the abſence of Abimelech, at a drunken feaſt, when Gaal boaſted how he would challenge him.

38 Where is now thy mouth, &c.] Now Zebul pulls off the maſk, and upbraids him with the brags and boaſtings he had made.

44 And ſtood in the entering of the gate of the city, &c.] By this politic conduct, Abimelech prevented thoſe who were in the fields from getting into the city, and thoſe who were in the city from coming out to their aſſiſtance.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

This chapter ſhews us, in the caſe of Abimelech, how the curſe of God overtakes unjuſt and cruel men, and how he brings them at laſt to an evil end, after having granted them good ſucceſs, and made uſe of them for the chaſtiſement of other perſons.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1 After Abimelech, &c.] We are to look upon Abimelech, not as a judge or king, but in his true character, as an uſurper, who took upon him to alter the divine government, making himſelf king.

7 He ſold them into the hands of the Philiſtines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.] The Ammonites diſtreſſed them in the eaſt, and the Philiſtines attacked them in the weſt. Their idolatry being increaſed, their puniſhment were increaſed alſo.

Before CHRIST 1161. jamin, and against the house of Ephraim; so that Israel was sore distressed.

10 ¶ And the children of Israel cried unto the LORD, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim.

11 And the LORD said unto the children of Israel, Did not I deliver you from the Egyptians, and from the Amorites, from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines?

12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maonites, did oppress you; and ye cried to me, and I delivered you out of their hand.

13 Yet ye have forsaken me, and served other gods: wherefore I will deliver you no more.

14 Go and cry unto the gods which ye have chosen; let them deliver you in the time of your tribulation.

15 ¶ And the children of Israel said unto the LORD, We have sinned: do thou unto us whatsoever seemeth good unto thee; deliver us only, we pray thee, this day.

16 And they put away the strange gods from among them, and served the LORD: and his soul was grieved for the misery of Israel.

17 ¶ Then the children of Ammon were gathered together, and encamped in Gilead. And the children of Israel assembled themselves together, and encamped in Mizpeh.

18 And the people and princes of Gilead said one to another, What man is he that will begin to fight against the children of Ammon? he shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.

CHAP. XI.

1 Jephthah, the son of Gilead by a strange woman, is thrust out from home by his brethren. 4 At the breaking out of the war the elders of Gilead sue to him to command them, and covenant to make him their head. 12 His embassy to the king of Ammon, which proveth fruitless. 29 His vow. 32 He overcometh the Ammonites. 34 His daughter cometh to meet him, with whom he doeth according to his vow.

NOW Jephthah the Gileadite was a mighty man of valour, and he was the son of an harlot: and Gilead begat Jephthah.

2 And Gilead's wife bare him sons; and his wife's sons grew up, and they thrust out Jephthah, and said unto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our father's house; for thou art the son of a strange woman.

3 Then Jephthah fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tob: and there were gathered vain men to Jephthah, and went out with him.

4 ¶ And it came to pass in process of time, that the children of Ammon made war against Israel.

5 And it was so, that when the children of Ammon made war against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah out of the land of Tob:

6 And they said unto Jephthah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Ammon.

7 And Jephthah said unto the children of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and expel me out of my father's house? and why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress?

8 And the elders of Gilead said unto Jephthah, Therefore we turn again to thee now, that thou mayest go with us, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Jephthah said unto the elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Ammon, and the LORD deliver them before me, shall I be your head? Before CHRIST 1161.

10 And the elders of Gilead said unto Jephthah, The LORD be witness between us, if we do not so according to thy words.

11 Then Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and captain over them: and Jephthah uttered all his words before the LORD in Mizpeh.

12 ¶ And Jephthah sent messengers unto the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?

13 And the king of the children of Ammon answered unto the messengers of Jephthah, Because Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt, from Arnon even unto Jabbok, and unto Jordan: now therefore restore those lands again peaceably.

14 And Jephthah sent messengers again unto the king of the children of Ammon:

15 And said unto him, Thus said Jephthah, Israel took not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon:

16 But when Israel came up from Egypt, and walked through the wilderness unto the Red sea, and came to Kadesh;

17 Then Israel sent messengers unto the king of Edom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, pass through thy land: but the king of Edom would not hearken thereto. And in like manner they sent unto the king of Moab: but he would not consent: and Israel abode in Kadesh. 1143.

18 And they went along through the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and came by the east side of the land of Moab, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, but came not within the border of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.

19 And Israel sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, the king of Heshbon; and Israel said unto him, Let us pass, we pray thee, through thy land into my place.

20 But Sihon trusted not Israel to pass through his coast: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jahaz, and fought against Israel.

21 And the LORD God of Israel delivered Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they smote them: so Israel possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that country.

22 And they possessed all the coasts of the Amorites, from Arnon even unto Jabbok, and from the wilderness even unto Jordan.

23 So now the LORD God of Israel hath dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel, and shouldest thou possess it?

24 Wilt not thou possess that which Chemosh thy god giveth thee to possess? So whomsoever the LORD our God shall drive out from before us, them will we possess.

25 And now art thou any thing better than Balak the son of Zippor king of Moab? did he ever strive against Israel, or did he ever fight against them,

26 While Israel dwelt in Heshbon and her towns, and in Aroer and her towns, and in all the cities that be along by the coasts of Arnon, three hundred years? why

16 His soul was grieved for the misery of Israel.] The divine nature is not capable of grief properly so called: the meaning is, he quite altered his former intentions, and in much mercy resolved, upon their repentance, to deliver them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

This proceeding of the Lord towards the Jews evinces, that though God corrects those who offend him; yet as the first motions of repentance which sinners feel in their affliction, are not always sincere, therefore God does not hear them immediately, nor pardon them till he sees they are truly humbled.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

7 Why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress?] What reason have you to expect that I should hearken unto you, since I know it is only your distress which moves you to recal me?

17 Israel abode in Kadesh.] Bore with the affronts, and abstained from all violence.

21 Israel possessed all the land of the Amorites, &c.] Did not dispossess the Moabites, but the Ammonites.

Before CHRIST 1143. why therefore did ye not recover them within that time?

27 Wherefore I have not ſinned againſt thee, but thou doeſt me wrong to war againſt me: the LORD the Judge be judge this day between the children of Iſrael and the children of Ammon.

28 Howbeit the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not unto the words of Jephthah which he ſent him.

29 ¶ Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jephthah, and he paſſed over Gilead, and Manaſſeh, and paſſed over Mizpeh of Gilead, and from Mizpeh of Gilead he paſſed over unto the children of Ammon.

30 And Jephthah vowed a vow unto the LORD, and ſaid, If thou ſhalt without fail deliver the children of Ammon into mine hands,

31 Then it ſhall be, that whatſoever cometh forth of the doors of my houſe to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Ammon, ſhall ſurely be the LORD's, and I will offer it up for a burnt offering.

32 ¶ So Jephthah paſſed over unto the children of Ammon to fight againſt them; and the LORD delivered them into his hands.

33 And he ſmote them from Aroer, even till thou come to Minnith, even twenty cities, and unto the plain of the vineyards, with a very great ſlaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were ſubdued before the children of Iſrael.

34 ¶ And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his houſe, and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances: and ſhe was his only child; beſide her he had neither ſon nor daughter.

35 And it came to paſs, when he ſaw her, that he rent his cloaths, and ſaid, Alas, my daughter! thou haſt brought me very low, and thou art one of them that trouble me: for I have opened my mouth unto the LORD, and I cannot go back.

36 And ſhe ſaid unto him, My father, if thou haſt opened thy mouth unto the LORD, do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth; foraſmuch as the LORD hath taken vengeance for thee of thine enemies, even of the children of Ammon.

37 And ſhe ſaid unto her father, Let this thing be done for me: let me alone two months, that I may go up and down upon the mountains, and bewail my virginity, I and my fellows.

38 And he ſaid, Go. And he ſent her away for two months: and ſhe went with her companions, and bewailed her virginity upon the mountains.

39 And it came to paſs at the end of two months, that ſhe returned unto her father, who did with her according to his vow which he had vowed: and ſhe knew no man. And it was a cuſtom in Iſrael,

40 That the daughters of Iſrael went yearly to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in a year.

29 He paſſed over Gilead, and Manaſſeh, &c.] Levied what men he could in the country of Reuben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh.

31 Cometh forth of the doors of my houſe—and I will offer it up, &c.] The word Firſt is underſtood. Read or, inſtead of and, thus: It ſhall be conſecrated to the Lord, if it be not fit for a burnt-offering; or, if it be fit for it, it ſhall be offered for a burnt-offering.

36 Do to me according to, &c.] A ſtriking inſtance of religion, fortitude, obedience to her parent, and love to her country.

39 Who did with her according to his vow, &c.] The moſt probable opinion is, that Jephthah's daughter did not fall a ſacrifice, but was conſecrated to God and his ſervice; that is, devoted to a ſingle life, and to remain a recluſe all her days: and this will alſo account for the great grief and trouble which her father expreſſed on this occaſion: becauſe by this means his family became extinct, and himſelf deſtitute of iſſue to inherit his eſtate, and perpetuate his name.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

This chapter affords us inſtruction and examples from the ſage and moderate conduct of Jephthah, and alſo his zeal, which are laudable; but his raſh vow was imprudent. The noble reſolution and piety of his daughter teaches us to ſacrifice our private intereſt, and all that is deareſt to us, to the glory of God, and the public welfare.

CHAP. XII.

Before CHRIST 1143.

1 The Ephraimites quarrel with Jephthah; are ſmitten by the Gileadites, and, being diſcerned by the word Shibboleth, are ſlain in great numbers. 7 Jephthah dieth. 8 Ibzan, who had thirty ſons and thirty daughters, judgeth Iſrael; 11 after him Elon; 13 and Abdon, who had forty ſons and thirty nephews.

AND the men of Ephraim gathered themſelves together, and went northward, and ſaid unto Jephthah, Wherefore paſſedſt thou over to fight againſt the children of Ammon, and didſt not call us to go with thee? we will burn thine houſe upon thee with fire.

2 And Jephthah ſaid unto them, I and my people were at great ſtrife with the children of Ammon; and when I called you, ye delivered me not out of their hands.

3 And when I ſaw that ye delivered me not, I put my life in my hands, and paſſed over againſt the children of Ammon, and the LORD delivered them into my hand: wherefore then are ye come up unto me this day, to fight againſt me?

4 Then Jephthah gathered together all the men of Gilead, and fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead ſmote Ephraim, becauſe they ſaid, Ye Gileadites are fugitives of Ephraim among the Ephraimites, and among the Manaſſites.

5 And the Gileadites took the paſſages of Jordan before the Ephraimites: and it was ſo, that when thoſe Ephraimites which were eſcaped ſaid, Let me go over; that the men of Gilead ſaid unto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he ſaid, Nay;

6 Then ſaid they unto him, Say now Shibboleth: and he ſaid Sibboleth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and ſlew him at the paſſages of Jordan: and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites forty and two thouſand.

7 ¶ And Jephthah judged Iſrael ſix years. Then 1137. died Jephthah the Gileadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gilead.

8 ¶ And after him Ibzan of Beth-lehem judged Iſrael.

9 And he had thirty ſons, and thirty daughters, whom he ſent abroad, and took in thirty daughters from abroad for his ſons. And he judged Iſrael ſeven years.

10 Then died Ibzan, and was buried at Beth-lehem.

11 ¶ And after him Elon, a Zebulonite, judged 1130. Iſrael; and he judged Iſrael ten years.

12 And Elon the Zebulonite died, and was buried in Aijalon in the country of Zebulun.

13 ¶ And after him Abdon the ſon of Hillel, a Pi- 1120. rathonite, judged Iſrael.

14 And he had forty ſons and thirty nephews, that rode on threeſcore and ten aſs colts: and he judged Iſrael eight years.

15 And Abdon the ſon of Hillel the Pirathonite died, and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the mount of the Amalekites.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

1 Wherefore paſſedſt thou over to fight, &c.] They do not mean over Jordan, (for there he was already) but from thence to the coaſts of the Ammonites.

2 I and my people, &c.] How mildly does he reply to their furious and menacing language!

5 Took the paſſages of Jordan, &c.] Poſſeſſed themſelves of the paſſages, and ſecured the fords of the river.

6 He could not frame to pronounce it right] There were doubtleſs many other words which they could not frame their mouths to ſpeak as the Gileadites did; but this one was choſen, becauſe it was ſet for their purpoſe; for as Shibboleth ſignifies "floods of water," the Gileadites, when they ſaw any Ephraimite appear, might put this teſt to him, and bid him ſay, Let me paſs over the water.

Forty and two thouſand] This was a terrible ſlaughter for one tribe to make of another. But the Ephraimites ſeem to have deſerved it, as a juſt puniſhment of their pride and inſolence.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

The account at the end of this chapter ſhews us God's protection of the Iſraelites, notwithſtanding their frequent rebellions, by ſending them from time to time judges and captains to govern and deliver them from ſuch as oppreſs them.

Before CHRIST 1161.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iſrael ſerveth the Philiſtines forty years. 2 An angel appeareth to Manoah's wife, who was barren, and telleth her that ſhe ſhall bear a ſon. 6 She informed her huſband of it. 8 At Manoah's prayer the angel appeareth to him, and inſtructeth him what they muſt do. 15 Manoah's ſacrifice, whereby the angel is diſcovered. 24 Samſon is born.

AND the children of Iſrael did evil again in the ſight of the LORD; and the LORD delivered them into the hand of the Philiſtines forty years.

2 ¶ And there was a certain man of Zorah, of the family of the Danites, whoſe name was Manoah; and his wife was barren, and bare not.

3 And the angel of the LORD appeared unto the woman, and ſaid unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and beareſt not: but thou ſhalt conceive, and bear a ſon.

4 Now therefore beware, I pray thee, and drink not wine nor ſtrong drink, and eat not any unclean thing:

5 For, lo, thou ſhalt conceive, and bear a ſon; and no raſor ſhall come on his head: for the child ſhall be a Nazarite unto God from the womb: and he ſhall begin to deliver Iſrael out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

6 ¶ Then the woman came and told her huſband, ſaying, A man of God came unto me, and his countenance was like the countenance of an angel of God, very terrible: but I aſked him not whence he was, neither told he me his name:

7 But he ſaid unto me, Behold, thou ſhalt conceive, and bear a ſon; and now drink no wine nor ſtrong drink, neither eat any unclean thing: for the child ſhall be a Nazarite to God from the womb to the day of his death.

8 ¶ Then Manoah intreated the LORD, and ſaid, O my LORD, let the man of God which thou didſt ſend come again unto us, and teach us what we ſhall do unto the child that ſhall be born.

9 And God hearkened to the voice of Manoah; and the angel of God came again unto the woman as ſhe ſat in the field: but Manoah her huſband was not with her.

10 And the woman made haſte, and ran, and ſhewed her huſband, and ſaid unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the other day.

11 And Manoah aroſe, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and ſaid unto him, Art thou the man that ſpakeſt unto the woman? And he ſaid, I am.

12 And Manoah ſaid, Now let thy words come to paſs. How ſhall we order the child, and how ſhall we do unto him?

13 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto Manoah, Of all that I ſaid unto the woman let her beware.

14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or ſtrong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her obſerve.

15 ¶ And Manoah ſaid unto the angel of the LORD, I pray thee, let us detain thee, until we ſhall have made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto Manoah, Though thou detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wilt offer a burnt offering, thou muſt offer it unto the LORD. For Manoah knew not that he was an angel of the LORD.

Before CHRIST 1161.

17 And Manoah ſaid unto the angel of the LORD, What is thy name, that when thy ſayings come to paſs we may do thee honour?

18 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto him, Why aſkeſt thou thus after my name, ſeeing it is ſecret?

19 So Manoah took a kid with a meat offering, and offered it upon a rock unto the LORD: and the angel did wonderouſly; and Manoah and his wife looked on.

20 For it came to paſs, when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the LORD aſcended in the flame of the altar. And Manoah and his wife looked on it, and fell on their faces to the ground.

21 But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Manoah and to his wife. Then Manoah knew that he was an angel of the LORD.

22 And Manoah ſaid unto his wife, We ſhall ſurely die, becauſe we have ſeen God.

23 But his wife ſaid unto him, If the LORD were pleaſed to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have ſhewed us all theſe things, nor would as at this time have told us ſuch things as theſe.

24 ¶ And the woman bare a ſon, and called his name Samſon: and the child grew, and the LORD bleſſed him.

25 And the ſpirit of the LORD began to move him at times in the camp of Dan between Zorah and Eſhtaol.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Samſon deſireth to take one of the daughters of the Philiſtines to wife. 5 In his journey to Timnath he killeth a lion. 8 In a ſecond journey thither he findeth honey in the lion's carcaſe. 10 Samſon's marriage feaſt. 12 His riddle, which his wife prevaileth upon him to unfold to her, and ſhe diſcovereth to the gueſts. 19 He ſlayeth thirty Philiſtines, and giveth their ſpoil to thoſe who had expounded his riddle; he leaveth his wife in anger, who is given to another.

AND Samſon went down to Timnath, and ſaw a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiſtines:

2 And he came up, and told his father and his mother, and ſaid, I have ſeen a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiſtines: now therefore get her for me to wife.

3 Then his father and his mother ſaid unto him, Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goeſt to take a wife of the uncircumciſed Philiſtines? And Samſon ſaid unto his father, Get her for me; for ſhe pleaſeth me well.

4 But his father and his mother knew not that it was of the LORD, that he ſought an occaſion againſt the Philiſtines: for at that time the Philiſtines had dominion over Iſrael.

5 ¶ Then went Samſon down, and his father and his mother, to Timnath, and came to the vineyards of Timnath,

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIII.

1 The Lord delivered them into the hand of the Philiſtines forty years.] This was the ſixth oppreſſion, and the longeſt they ever yet lay under.

3 Thou art barren, and beareſt not: but thou ſhalt conceive and bear a ſon.] The greateſt men of the nation were born of barren women; to inſtance only a few, Iſaac, Joſeph, Samſon, Samuel, and John the Baptiſt.

4 Drink not wine nor ſtrong drink, &c.] Becauſe he was to be a perpetual Nazarite to God, from his conception to his death, which he could not have been, if ſhe had drank wine or ſtrong drink, the child in the womb living by the ſame nouriſhment with the mother.

5 He ſhall begin to deliver Iſrael, &c.] He did not perfectly deliver the Iſraelites from the yoke of the Philiſtines, but was done after his death, by Samuel.

18 Seeing it is ſecret.] Or rather, It is wonderful, as in the margin; the Septuagint alſo read it, Admirable. This is a proper ſtyle for Jehovah, whoſe eſſence we muſt admire, but cannot comprehend.

25 In the camp of Dan, &c.] In which, perhaps, Samſon lived.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

We learn from hence, that Samſon was a man miraculouſly raiſed by God, dedicated to him, that God had deſigned him for great things, and that whatever he did in an extraordinary way, proceeded from the Spirit and power of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIV.

1 And ſaw a woman, &c.] That is, he fell in love with her, according to the ſaying among the Greeks, ἐκ τοῦ ὁρᾶν τὸ ἐρᾶν, From looking comes loving.

Before CHRIST 1141. Timnath: and, behold, a young lion roared againſt him.

6 And the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him, and he rent him as he would have rent a kid, and he had nothing in his hand: but he told not his father or his mother what he had done.

7 And he went down, and talked with the woman; and ſhe pleaſed Samſon well.

8 ¶ And after a time he returned to take her, and he turned aſide to ſee the carcaſe of the lion: and, behold, there was a ſwarm of bees and honey in the carcaſe of the lion.

9 And he took thereof in his hands, and went on eating, and came to his father and mother, and he gave them, and they did eat: but he told not them that he had taken the honey out of the carcaſe of the lion.

10 ¶ So his father went down unto the woman: and Samſon made there a feaſt; for ſo uſed the young men to do.

11 And it came to paſs, when they ſaw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him.

12 ¶ And Samſon ſaid unto them, I will now put forth a riddle unto you: if ye can certainly declare it me within the ſeven days of the feaſt, and find it out, then I will give you thirty ſheets and thirty change of garments:

13 But if ye cannot declare it me, then ſhall ye give me thirty ſheets and thirty change of garments. And they ſaid unto him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it.

14 And he ſaid unto them, Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the ſtrong came forth ſweetneſs. And they could not in three days expound the riddle.

15 And it came to paſs on the ſeventh day, that they ſaid unto Samſon's wife, Entice thy huſband, that he may declare unto us the riddle, leſt we burn thee and thy father's houſe with fire: have ye called us to take that we have? is it not ſo?

16 And Samſon's wife wept before him, and ſaid, Thou doſt but hate me, and loveſt me not: thou haſt put forth a riddle unto the children of my people, and haſt not told it me. And he ſaid unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father nor my mother, and ſhall I tell it thee?

17 And ſhe wept before him the ſeven days, while the feaſt laſted: and it came to paſs on the ſeventh day, that he told her, becauſe ſhe lay ſore upon him: and ſhe told the riddle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the city ſaid unto him on the ſeventh day before the ſun went down, What is ſweeter than honey? and what is ſtronger than a lion? And he ſaid unto them, If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

19 ¶ And the Spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he went down to Aſhkelon, and ſlew thirty men of them, and took their ſpoil, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's houſe.

20 But Samſon's wife was given to his companion, whom he had uſed as his friend. Before CHRIST 1141.

CHAP. XV.

1 Samſon returning to viſit his wife is denied admittance to her. 3 He ſetteth fire to the corn of the Philiſtines with foxes and firebrands: his wife and her father are burned by the Philiſtines. 7 Samſon ſmiteth them, and retireth to the rock Etam. 9 The Philiſtines come up againſt him: the men of Judah with his conſent deliver him bound to the Philiſtines. 14 He killeth a thouſand of the Philiſtines with the jawbone of an aſs. 18 God openeth a fountain in Lehi to relieve his thirſt.

BUT it came to paſs within a while after, in the time of wheat harveſt, that Samſon viſited his wife with a kid; and he ſaid, I will go in to my wife into the chamber. But her father would not ſuffer him to go in. 1140.

2 And her father ſaid, I verily thought that thou hadſt utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: is not her younger ſiſter fairer than ſhe? take her, I pray thee, inſtead of her.

3 ¶ And Samſon ſaid concerning them, Now ſhall I be more blameleſs than the Philiſtines, though I do them a diſpleaſure.

4 And Samſon went and caught three hundred foxes, and took firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midſt between two tails.

5 And when he had ſet the brands on fire, he let them go into the ſtanding corn of the Philiſtines, and burnt up both the ſhocks, and alſo the ſtanding corn, with the vineyards and olives.

6 Then the Philiſtines ſaid, Who hath done this? And they anſwered, Samſon, the ſon in law of the Timnite, becauſe he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. And the Philiſtines came up and burnt her and her father with fire.

7 ¶ And Samſon ſaid unto them, Though ye have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and after that I will ceaſe.

8 And he ſmote them hip and thigh with a great ſlaughter: and he went down and dwelt in the top of the rock Etam.

9 ¶ Then the Philiſtines went up, and pitched in Judah, and ſpread themſelves in Lehi.

10 And the men of Judah ſaid, Why are ye come up againſt us? And they anſwered, To bind Samſon are we come up, to do to him as he hath done to us.

11 Then three thouſand men of Judah went to the top of the rock Etam, and ſaid to Samſon, Knoweſt thou not that the Philiſtines are rulers over us? what is this that thou haſt done unto us? And he ſaid unto them, As they did unto me, ſo have I done unto them.

12 And they ſaid unto him, We are come down to bind thee, that we may deliver thee into the hand of the Philiſtines. And Samſon ſaid unto them, Swear unto me, that ye will not fall upon me yourſelves.

13 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, No; but we will bind thee faſt, and deliver thee into their hand: but ſurely we will not kill thee. And they bound him with two new cords, and brought him up from the rock.

14 ¶ And

---

6 He told not his father, &c.] Being afraid leſt it might come to the ears of the Philiſtines, and make them jealous of him.

11 They brought thirty companions to be with him.] The young men were generally of the bridegroom's relations and acquaintance; but at Samſon's marriage, they belonged to his wife's family; and were ſent, as is ſuppoſed, not ſo much to do him honour at his nuptials, as to be a guard over him, leſt he ſhould make any diſturbance.

14 Out of the eater came forth meat; and out of the ſtrong came forth ſweetneſs, &c.] The antitheſis of the words is, Food came from the devourer, and ſweetneſs from what is eager and ſharp, that is, violent and fierce.

15 On the ſeventh day, &c.] The Septuagint read, On the fourth day, which is certainly right.

20 Samſon's wife was given to his companion, &c.] Looking upon herſelf as forſaken by him, ſhe was eaſily perſuaded to marry one of his bridemen.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

It appears clearly from this relation, that God ſuffers ſeveral things, for ends which he propoſes to himſelf, though he does not approve the means; and that Samſon's great ſtrength, and all that he did againſt the Philiſtines, proceeded from the aſſiſtance of the Spirit of the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XV.

4 Samſon went and caught three hundred foxes, &c.] We may ſuppoſe that Samſon did not perform this by himſelf, in a day and night's time; but that being aſſiſted by his ſervants and neighbours, he might be ſome weeks in accompliſhing his deſign; and therefore conclude, that the collecting ſuch a number of foxes, in order to burn up the Philiſtines corn, was not an impracticable thing, ſuppoſing Samſon was at liberty to proſecute his revenge in this manner.

8 The rock Etam.] This was a ſtrong place in the tribe of Judah, being acceſſible only by one path, and that not wide enough for two men to paſs abreaſt, and therefore eaſily defenſible.

9 Lehi.] This place was not named ſo till afterwards, from the jaw-bone wherewith Samſon ſmote the Philiſtines.

13 Brought him up from the rock.] Out of the cave in the top of the rock, in which he was.

Before CHRIST 1140.

14 ¶ And when he came unto Lehi, the Philiſtines ſhouted againſt him: and the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him, and the cords that were upon his arms became as flax that was burnt with fire, and his bands looſed from off his hands.

15 And he found a new jawbone of an aſs, and put forth his hand, and took it, and ſlew a thouſand men therewith.

16 And Samſon ſaid, With the jawbone of an aſs, heaps upon heaps, with the jaw of an aſs have I ſlain a thouſand men.

17 And it came to paſs, when he had made an end of ſpeaking, that he caſt away the jawbone out of his hand, and called that place Ramath-lehi.

18 ¶ And he was ſore athirſt, and called on the LORD, and ſaid, Thou haſt given this great deliverance into the hand of thy ſervant: and now ſhall I die for thirſt, and fall into the hand of the uncircumciſed?

19 But God clave an hollow place that was in the jaw, and there came water thereout; and when he had drunk, his ſpirit came again, and he revived: wherefore he called the name thereof En-hak-kore, which is in Lehi unto this day.

20 And he judged Iſrael in the days of the Philiſtines twenty years.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samſon eſcapeth from Gaza by carrying away the gates of the city. 4 Delilah corrupted by the Philiſtines urgeth him to tell her where his ſtrength lay; he thrice deceiveth her; 15 but is at length prevailed upon, and his head ſhaven. 21 The Philiſtines take him, and put out his eyes; but his ſtrength is renewed as his hair groweth. 23 The Philiſtines hold a great feaſt to Dagon, and ſend for Samſon to make them ſport; 26 who pulleth down the houſe upon the heads of his enemies, and is ſlain with them.

1120. THEN went Samſon to Gaza, and ſaw there an harlot, and went in unto her.

2 And it was told the Gazites, ſaying, Samſon is come hither. And they compaſſed him in, and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were quiet all the night, ſaying, In the morning, when it is day, we ſhall kill him.

3 And Samſon lay till midnight, and aroſe at midnight, and took the doors of the gate of the city, and the two poſts, and went away with them, bar and all, and put them upon his ſhoulders, and carried them up to the top of an hill that is before Hebron.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs afterward, that he loved a woman in the valley of Sorek, whoſe name was Delilah.

5 And the lords of the Philiſtines came up unto her, and ſaid unto her, Entice him, and ſee wherein his great ſtrength lieth, and by what means we may prevail againſt him, that we may bind him to afflict him: and we will give thee every one of us eleven hundred pieces of ſilver.

6 And Delilah ſaid to Samſon, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great ſtrength lieth, and wherewith thou mighteſt be bound to afflict thee.

7 And Samſon ſaid unto her, If they bind me with ſeven green withs that were never dried, then ſhall I be weak, and be as another man.

Before CHRIST 1120.

8 Then the lords of the Philiſtines brought up to her ſeven green withs which had not been dried, and ſhe bound him with them.

9 Now there were men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber. And ſhe ſaid unto him, The Philiſtines be upon thee, Samſon. And he brake the withs, as a thread of tow is broken when it toucheth the fire. So his ſtrength was not known.

10 And Delilah ſaid unto Samſon, Behold, thou haſt mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, I pray thee, wherewith thou mighteſt be bound.

11 And he ſaid unto her, If they bind me faſt with new ropes that never were occupied, then ſhall I be weak, and be as another man.

12 Delilah therefore took new ropes, and bound him therewith, and ſaid unto him, The Philiſtines be upon thee, Samſon. And there were liers in wait abiding in the chamber. And he brake them from off his arms like a thread.

13 And Delilah ſaid unto Samſon, Hitherto thou haſt mocked me, and told me lies: tell me wherewith thou mighteſt be bound. And he ſaid unto her, If thou weaveſt the ſeven locks of my head with the web.

14 And ſhe faſtened it with the pin, and ſaid unto him, The Philiſtines be upon thee, Samſon. And he awaked out of his ſleep, and went away with the pin of the beam, and with the web.

15 ¶ And ſhe ſaid unto him, How canſt thou ſay, I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou haſt mocked me theſe three times, and haſt not told me wherein thy great ſtrength lieth.

16 And it came to paſs, when ſhe preſſed him daily with her words, and urged him, ſo that his ſoul was vexed unto death;

17 That he told her all his heart, and ſaid unto her, There hath not come a raſor upon my head; for I have been a Nazarite unto God from my mother's womb: if I be ſhaven, then my ſtrength will go from me, and I ſhall become weak, and be like any other man.

18 And when Delilah ſaw that he had told her all his heart, ſhe ſent and called for the lords of the Philiſtines, ſaying, Come up this once, for he hath ſhewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Philiſtines came up unto her, and brought money in their hand.

19 And ſhe made him ſleep upon her knees; and ſhe called for a man, and ſhe cauſed him to ſhave off the ſeven locks of his head; and ſhe began to afflict him, and his ſtrength went from him.

20 And ſhe ſaid, The Philiſtines be upon thee, Samſon. And he awoke out of his ſleep, and ſaid, I will go out as at other times before, and ſhake myſelf. And he wiſt not that the LORD was departed from him.

21 ¶ But the Philiſtines took him, and put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gaza, and bound him with fetters of braſs; and he did grind in the priſon houſe.

22 Howbeit the hair of his head began to grow again after he was ſhaven.

23 ¶ Then the lords of the Philiſtines gathered them together for to offer a great ſacrifice unto Dagon their

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

We learn from this chapter, that whatever may be the motives mankind act from, God can make them conducive to humble the pride and tyranny of men, to relieve his oppreſſed people, and ſubſerve his gracious purpoſes.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XVI.

1 Gaza, &c.] This city was ſituated between Raphia and Aſhkelon, towards the ſouthern extremity of the promiſed land.

3 Took the doors of the gate of the city, &c.] He plucked up the poſts out of the ground, with the doors hanging upon them faſt barred; which ſo aſtoniſhed the guards, that they had no heart to follow him.

4 Sorek, &c.] This was a place in the land of Judea, famous for choice wines, and about a mile and a half from Ethcol, where the ſpies brought a bunch of grapes, for a ſample of the fruitfulneſs of the country.

7 If they bind me, &c.] He amuſes her with ſeveral fictions, either in jeſt, or from ſome ſuſpicion of her having a deſign againſt him.

9 Men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber, &c.] In another room of the houſe, near to that where Samſon lay.

17 If I be ſhaven, then my ſtrength will go from me, &c.] His hair was no natural cauſe of his ſtrength, but a ſupernatural and miraculous gift; not, perhaps, always inherent in him, but only diſpenſed at certain times, when the Spirit of God came upon him.

23 Dagon, &c.] The word Dagon is taken from the Phœnician root "dag," which ſignifies a fiſh.

Before CHRIST 1120. their god, and to rejoice: for they ſaid, Our god hath delivered Samſon our enemy into our hand.

24 And when the people ſaw him, they praiſed their god: for they ſaid, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the deſtroyer of our country, which ſlew many of us.

25 And it came to paſs, when their hearts were merry, that they ſaid, Call for Samſon, that he may make us ſport. And they called for Samſon out of the priſon houſe; and he made them ſport: and they ſet him between the pillars.

26 ¶ And Samſon ſaid unto the lad that held him by the hand, Suffer me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the houſe ſtandeth, that I may lean upon them.

27 Now the houſe was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Philiſtines were there; and there were upon the roof about three thouſand men and women, that beheld while Samſon made ſport.

28 And Samſon called unto the LORD, and ſaid, O Lord GOD, remember me, I pray thee, and ſtrengthen me, I pray thee, only this once, O God, that I may be at once avenged of the Philiſtines for my two eyes.

29 And Samſon took hold of the two middle pillars upon which the houſe ſtood, and on which it was borne up, of the one with his right hand, and of the other with his left.

30 And Samſon ſaid, Let me die with the Philiſtines. And he bowed himſelf with all his might; and the houſe fell upon the lords, and upon all the people that were therein. So the dead which he ſlew at his death were more than they which he ſlew in his life.

31 Then his brethren and all the houſe of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and buried him between Zorah and Eſhtaol in the burying-place of Manoah his father. And he judged Iſrael twenty years.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Of the money that Micah had ſtolen, and afterward reſtored, his mother maketh images. 5 Micah's idolatry. 7 He hireth a Levite to be his prieſt.

1406. AND there was a man of mount Ephraim, whoſe name was Micah.

2 And he ſaid unto his mother, The eleven hundred ſhekels of ſilver that were taken from thee, about which thou curſedſt, and ſpakeſt of alſo in mine ears, behold, the ſilver is with me; I took it. And his mother ſaid, Bleſſed be thou of the LORD, my ſon.

3 And when he had reſtored the eleven hundred ſhekels of ſilver to his mother, his mother ſaid, I had wholly dedicated the ſilver unto the LORD from my hand for my ſon, to make a graven image and a molten image: now therefore I will reſtore it unto thee:

4 Yet he reſtored the money unto his mother; and his mother took two hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and gave them to the founder, who made thereof a graven image and a molten image: and they were in the houſe of Micah.

5 ¶ And the man Micah had an houſe of gods, and made an ephod, and teraphim, and conſecrated one of his ſons, who became his prieſt.

6 In thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael, but every man did that which was right in his own eyes. Before CHRIST 1406.

7 ¶ And there was a young man out of Beth-lehem-judah of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he ſojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the city from Beth-lehem-judah to ſojourn where he could find a place: and he came to mount Ephraim to the houſe of Micah, as he journeyed.

9 And Micah ſaid unto him, Whence comeſt thou? And he ſaid unto him, I am a Levite of Beth-lehem judah, and I go to ſojourn where I may find a place.

10 And Micah ſaid unto him, Dwell with me, and be unto me a father and a prieſt, and I will give thee ten ſhekels of ſilver by the year, and a ſuit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Levite went in.

11 And the Levite was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his ſons.

12 And Micah conſecrated the Levite; and the young man became his prieſt, and was in the houſe of Micah.

13 Then ſaid Micah, Now know I that the LORD will do me good, ſeeing I have a Levite to my prieſt.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Danites ſend five men to ſeek out for them an inheritance, who come to the houſe of Micah, and are encouraged by the Levite to proceed on their way. 7 They ſearch Laiſh, and bring back news of good hope. 11 Six hundred men are ſent to ſurprize the place. 14 On the way they rob Micah of his conſecrated things, and carry off his prieſt. 22 Micah purſueth them, but is obliged to return for fear of violence. 27 Laiſh is ſurprized, taken poſſeſſion of, and called Dan. 30 Idolatry is ſet up in Dan, where Jonathan the Levite and his ſons have the prieſthood.

IN thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael: and in thoſe days the tribe of the Danites ſought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Iſrael.

2 And the children of Dan ſent of their family five men from their coaſts, men of valour, from Zorah, and from Eſhtaol, to ſpy out the land, and to ſearch it; and they ſaid unto them, Go, ſearch the land: who when they came to mount Ephraim, to the houſe of Micah, they lodged there.

3 When they were by the houſe of Micah, they knew the voice of the young man the Levite: and they turned in thither, and ſaid unto him, Who brought thee hither? and what makeſt thou in this place? and what haſt thou here?

4 And he ſaid unto them, Thus and thus dealeth Micah with me, and hath hired me, and I am his prieſt.

5 And they ſaid unto him, Aſk counſel, we pray thee, of God, that we may know whether our way which we go ſhall be proſperous.

6 And

28 That I may be at once avenged of the Philiſtines, &c.] This deſire proceeded from God, who intended to puniſh the Philiſtines for their oppreſſing Iſrael, as well as abuſing Samſon.

30 Let me die with the Philiſtines—and the houſe fell, &c.] Samſon, in this, is not to be deemed a ſelf-murderer, but rather a perſon moved by an heroic ſpirit from God himſelf, to make himſelf a ſacrifice for the good of his country. The fabric is conceived to be an oval amphitheatre, the ſcene in the middle, where a vaſt roof of cedar beams, reſting upon the walls, centered all upon one ſhort architrave, that united two cedar pillars in the middle; ſo that as one pillar would not be ſufficient to unite the ends of at leaſt one hundred beams that tended to the centre, therefore there muſt have been a ſhort architrave reſting on two pillars, upon which all the beams tending to the centre of the amphitheatre, might be ſupported.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

We may learn from this chapter, that God will proteſt us while we ſerve and obey him: but vicious and immoral courſes, without repentance, bring on the ruin both of body and ſoul.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

1 And there was a man, &c.] Between the death of thoſe elders who ſurvived Joſhua, and the firſt oppoſition of Iſrael by Cuſhan, the Iſraelites fell from the worſhip of God, and polluted themſelves with idolatry.

6 No king in Iſrael, &c.] The name of king was given to the judges, juſt as it was to Moſes, who was their ſupreme governor, but not properly their king.

12 Micah conſecrated the Levite, &c.] Such was the confuſion of theſe times, in that ſtate of anarchy, that Micah's ſuperſtition had no check upon it, and the Levite's poverty, added to his ambition, tempted him to accept of the preferment offered him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

From this hiſtory of Micah, we may learn how dangerous it is to turn aſide from the true worſhip of God; and that we ought to have a high eſteem for the divine ſervice, and a holy and pure miniſtry, and conſider ſuch advantages as the ſpring of all our happineſs.

Before CHRIST 1406.

6 And the prieſt ſaid unto them, Go in peace: before the LORD is your way wherein ye go.

7 ¶ Then the five men departed, and came to Laiſh, and ſaw the people that were therein, how they dwelt careleſs, after the manner of the Zidonians, quiet and ſecure; and there was no magiſtrate in the land, that might put them to ſhame in any thing; and they were far from the Zidonians, and had no buſineſs with any man.

8 And they came unto their brethren to Zorah and Eſhtaol: and their brethren ſaid unto them, What ſay ye?

9 And they ſaid, Ariſe, that we may go up againſt them: for we have ſeen the land, and, behold, it is very good: and are ye ſtill? be not ſlothful to go, and to enter to poſſeſs the land.

10 When ye go, ye ſhall come unto a people ſecure, and to a large land: for God hath given it into your hands; a place where there is no want of any thing that is in the earth.

11 ¶ And there went from thence of the family of the Danites, out of Zorah and out of Eſhtaol, ſix hundred men appointed with weapons of war.

12 And they went up, and pitched in Kirjath-jearim, in Judah: wherefore they called that place Mahaneh-dan unto this day: behold, it is behind Kirjath-jearim.

13 And they paſſed thence unto mount Ephraim, and came unto the houſe of Micah.

14 ¶ Then anſwered the five men that went to ſpy out the country of Laiſh, and ſaid unto their brethren, Do ye know that there is in theſe houſes an ephod, and teraphim, and a graven image, and a molten image? now therefore conſider what ye have to do.

15 And they turned thitherward, and came to the houſe of the young man the Levite, even unto the houſe of Micah, and ſaluted him.

16 And the ſix hundred men appointed with their weapons of war, which were of the children of Dan, ſtood by the entering of the gate.

17 And the five men that went to ſpy out the land went up, and came in thither, and took the graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image: and the prieſt ſtood in the entering of the gate with the ſix hundred men that were appointed with weapons of war.

18 And theſe went into Micah's houſe, and fetched the carved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image. Then ſaid the prieſt unto them, What do ye?

19 And they ſaid unto him, Hold thy peace, lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and go with us, and be to us a father and a prieſt: is it better for thee to be a prieſt unto the houſe of one man, or that thou be a prieſt unto a tribe and a family in Iſrael?

20 And the prieſt's heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and went in the midſt of the people.

21 So they turned and departed, and put the little ones and the cattle and the carriage before them.

22 ¶ And when they were a good way from the houſe of Micah, the men that were in the houſes near to Micah's houſe were gathered together, and overtook the children of Dan.

23 And they cried unto the children of Dan. And they turned their faces, and ſaid unto Micah, What aileth thee, that thou comeſt with ſuch a company? Before CHRIST 1406.

24 And he ſaid, Ye have taken away my gods which I made, and the prieſt, and ye are gone away: and what have I more? and what is this that ye ſay unto me, What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dan ſaid unto him, Let not thy voice be heard among us, leſt angry fellows run upon thee, and thou loſe thy life, with the lives of thy houſhold.

26 And the children of Dan went their way: and when Micah ſaw that they were too ſtrong for him, he turned and went back unto his houſe.

27 ¶ And they took the things which Micah had made, and the prieſt which he had, and came unto Laiſh, unto a people that were at quiet and ſecure: and they ſmote them with the edge of the ſword, and burnt the city with fire.

28 And there was no deliverer, becauſe it was far from Zidon, and they had no buſineſs with any man; and it was in the valley that lieth by Beth-rehob. And they built a city, and dwelt therein.

29 And they called the name of the city Dan, after the name of Dan their father, who was born unto Iſrael: howbeit the name of the city was Laiſh at the firſt.

30 ¶ And the children of Dan ſet up the graven image: and Jonathan, the ſon of Gerſhom, the ſon of Manaſſeh, he and his ſons were prieſts to the tribe of Dan until the day of the captivity of the land.

31 And they ſet them up Micah's graven image, which he made, all the time that the houſe of God was in Shiloh.

CHAP. XIX.

1 A Levite of mount Ephraim goeth to Beth-lehem to fetch home his concubine, and on his return cometh to Gibeah in the evening. 16 An old man entertaineth him. 22 The men of the city beſet the houſe with a vile intent; to prevent which the man yieldeth up his concubine, who is abuſed by them to death. 29 He divideth her into twelve parts, which he ſendeth to the twelve tribes of Iſrael.

AND it came to paſs in thoſe days, when there was no king in Iſrael, that there was a certain Levite ſojourning on the ſide of mount Ephraim, who took to him a concubine out of Beth-lehem-judah.

2 And his concubine played the whore againſt him, and went away from him unto her father's houſe to Beth-lehem-judah, and was there four whole months.

3 And her huſband aroſe, and went after her, to ſpeak friendly unto her, and to bring her again, having his ſervant with him, and a couple of aſſes: and ſhe brought him into her father's houſe: and when the father of the damſel ſaw him, he rejoiced to meet him.

4 And his father in law, the damſel's father, retained him; and he abode with him three days: ſo they did eat and drink, and lodged there.

5 And it came to paſs on the fourth day, when they aroſe early in the morning, that he roſe up to depart: and the damſel's father ſaid unto his ſon in law, Comfort thine heart with a morſel of bread, and afterward go your way.

---

6 Before the Lord is your way, &c.] The meaning of their way being before the Lord, is, that they were under his eye, under his providence and care, who would diſpoſe all things for their good ſucceſs.

7 No magiſtrate in the land that might put them to ſhame, &c.] That might puniſh them for their faults.

24 And what have I more? &c.] He thought theſe ſtrange queſtions to aſk, when they had taken away what he valued above all things in the world.

25 Leſt angry fellows run upon thee, &c.] This is an inſolent ſneer, and argues the moſt conſummate arrogance; they would intimidate the man from making any diſturbance or reſiſtance, under the pretence of kindneſs, and would be thought to conſult his ſafety, at the ſame time that they were detaining his property, and perſiſting in their robbery.

30 Until the day of the captivity of the land.] By "the captivity of the land," is here meant the taking of the ark by the Philiſtines, and carrying it captive into the temple of Dagon.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

This chapter points out to us, that war may be juſtly undertaken in defence of our rights and true religion; that we ſhould prefer above all things, the advantage of ſerving God in the way he has ordained; but that though God does not approve of the worſhip, that is mixed with idolatry, yet he will preſerve the knowledge of himſelf among thoſe that fear and obey him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

6 And they ſat down, and did eat and drink both of them together: for the damſel's father had ſaid unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man roſe up to depart, his father in law urged him: therefore he lodged there again.

8 And he aroſe early in the morning on the fifth day to depart: and the damſel's father ſaid, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee. And they tarried until afternoon, and they did eat both of them.

9 And when the man roſe up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his ſervant, his father in law, the damſel's father, ſaid unto him, Behold, now the day draweth toward evening, I pray you tarry all night: behold, the day groweth to an end, lodge here, that thine heart may be merry; and to morrow get you early on your way, that thou mayeſt go home.

10 But the man would not tarry that night, but he roſe up and departed, and came over againſt Jebus, which is Jeruſalem; and there were with him two aſſes ſaddled, his concubine alſo was with him.

11 And when they were by Jebus, the day was far ſpent; and the ſervant ſaid unto his maſter, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn in into this city of the Jebuſites, and lodge in it.

12 And his maſter ſaid unto him, We will not turn aſide hither into the city of a ſtranger, that is not of the children of Iſrael; we will paſs over to Gibeah.

13 And he ſaid unto his ſervant, Come, and let us draw near to one of theſe places to lodge all night, in Gibeah, or in Ramah.

14 And they paſſed on and went their way; and the ſun went down upon them when they were by Gibeah, which belongeth to Benjamin.

15 And they turned aſide thither, to go in and to lodge in Gibeah: and when he went in, he ſat him down in a ſtreet of the city: for there was no man that took them into his houſe to lodging.

16 ¶ And, behold, there came an old man from his work out of the field at even, which was alſo of mount Ephraim; and he ſojourned in Gibeah: but the men of the place were Benjamites.

17 And when he had lifted up his eyes, he ſaw a wayfaring man in the ſtreet of the city: and the old man ſaid, Whither goeſt thou? and whence comeſt thou?

18 And he ſaid unto him, We are paſſing from Beth-lehem-judah toward the ſide of mount Ephraim; from thence am I: and I went to Beth-lehem-judah, but I am now going to the houſe of the LORD; and there is no man that receiveth me to houſe.

19 Yet there is both ſtraw and provender for our aſſes; and there is bread and wine alſo for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man which is with thy ſervants: there is no want of any thing.

20 And the old man ſaid, Peace be with thee; howſoever let all thy wants lie upon me; only lodge not in the ſtreet.

21 So he brought him into his houſe, and gave provender unto the aſſes: and they waſhed their feet, and did eat and drink.

22 ¶ Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain ſons of Belial, beſet the houſe round about, and beat at the door, and ſpake to the maſter of the houſe, the old man, ſaying, Bring forth the man that came into thine houſe, that we may know him. Before CHRIST 1406.

23 And the man, the maſter of the houſe, went out unto them, and ſaid unto them, Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not ſo wickedly; ſeeing that this man is come into mine houſe, do not this folly.

24 Behold, here is my daughter a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and humble ye them, and do with them what ſeemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not ſo vile a thing.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: ſo the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they knew her, and abuſed her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to ſpring, they let her go.

26 Then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's houſe where her lord was, till it was light.

27 And her lord roſe up in the morning, and opened the doors of the houſe, and went out to go his way: and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the houſe, and her hands were upon the threſhold.

28 And he ſaid unto her, Up, and let us be going. But none anſwered. Then the man took her up upon an aſs, and the man roſe up, and gat him unto his place.

29 ¶ And when he was come into his houſe, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, together with her bones, into twelve pieces, and ſent her into all the coaſt of Iſrael.

30 And it was ſo, that all that ſaw it ſaid, There was no ſuch deed done nor ſeen from the day that the children of Iſrael came up out of the land of Egypt unto this day: conſider of it, take advice, and ſpeak your minds.

11 Let us turn in unto this city of the Jebuſites, &c.] The famous city of Jeruſalem, antiently called Jebus.

24 Them I will bring out now, &c.] His earneſt deſire to preſerve the laws of hoſpitality from violation, (which was a thing very ſacred in thoſe days) made him forget the care he ought to have had to preſerve his daughter's purity. He muſt be conſidered as in a confuſion of thoughts, and thence not to have minded ſo much what was right, as what was leaſt wrong.

28 But none anſwered. Then the man took her up, &c.] When he ſaw that ſhe was dead, he made no outcry, but prudently carried her away, as faſt as he could, to his own home.

29 Into twelve pieces, &c.] That every tribe might have a part of her, Benjamin not excepted; among whom, it was to be hoped, there were ſome who would reſent ſo foul an act, though committed by their own brethren.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

We may learn from this and the following chapter, that the wickedneſs of a few individuals frequently involves a whole nation in the puniſhment of ſin, which is the ſource of all evil and contention; for the apoſtle James thus appeals, "Whence come wars and fightings among you? Even from the luſts which war in your members."

ſet the houſe round about upon me by night, and thought to have ſlain me: and my concubine have they forced, that ſhe is dead.

6 And I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and ſent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Iſrael: for they have committed lewdneſs and folly in Iſrael.

7 Behold, ye are all children of Iſrael; give here your advice and counſel.

8 ¶ And all the people aroſe as one man, ſaying, We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn into his houſe.

9 But now this ſhall be the thing which we will do to Gibeah; we will go up by lot againſt it;

10 And we will take ten men of an hundred throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, and an hundred of a thouſand, and a thouſand out of ten thouſand, to fetch victual for the people, that they may do, when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin, according to all the folly that they have wrought in Iſrael.

11 So all the men of Iſrael were gathered againſt the city, knit together as one man.

12 ¶ And the tribes of Iſrael ſent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, ſaying, What wickedneſs is this that is done among you?

13 Now therefore deliver us the men, the children of Belial, which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Iſrael. But the children of Benjamin would not hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Iſrael:

14 But the children of Benjamin gathered themſelves together out of the cities unto Gibeah, to go out to battle againſt the children of Iſrael.

15 And the children of Benjamin were numbered at that time out of the cities twenty and ſix thouſand men that drew ſword, beſide the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were numbered ſeven hundred choſen men.

16 Among all this people there were ſeven hundred choſen men lefthanded; every one could ſling ſtones at an hair breadth, and not miſs.

17 And the men of Iſrael, beſide Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: all theſe were men of war.

18 ¶ And the children of Iſrael aroſe, and went up to the houſe of God, and aſked counſel of God, and ſaid, Which of us ſhall go up firſt to the battle againſt the children of Benjamin? And the LORD ſaid, Judah ſhall go up firſt.

19 And the children of Iſrael roſe up in the morning, and encamped againſt Gibeah.

20 And the men of Iſrael went out to battle againſt Benjamin; and the men of Iſrael put themſelves in array to fight againſt them at Gibeah.

21 And the children of Benjamin came forth out of Gibeah, and deſtroyed down to the ground of the Iſraelites that day twenty and two thouſand men.

22 ¶ And the people the men of Iſrael encouraged themſelves, and ſet their battle again in array in the place where they put themſelves in array the firſt day.

23 (And the children of Iſrael went up and wept before the LORD until even, and aſked counſel of the LORD, ſaying, Shall I go up again to battle againſt the children of Benjamin my brother? And the LORD ſaid, Go up againſt him.)

24 And the children of Iſrael came near againſt the children of Benjamin the ſecond day.

25 And Benjamin went forth againſt them out of Gibeah the ſecond day, and deſtroyed down to the ground of the children of Iſrael again eighteen thouſand men: all theſe drew the ſword.

Before CHRIST 1406.

26 ¶ Then all the children of Iſrael, and all the people, went up, and came unto the houſe of God, and wept, and ſat there before the LORD, and faſted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

27 And the children of Iſrael enquired of the LORD, (for the ark of the covenant of God was there in thoſe days, 28 And Phinehas, the ſon of Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron, ſtood before it in thoſe days,) ſaying, Shall I yet again go out to battle againſt the children of Benjamin my brother, or ſhall I ceaſe? And the LORD ſaid, Go up; for to morrow I will deliver them into thine hand.

29 ¶ And Iſrael ſet liers in wait round about Gibeah.

30 And the children of Iſrael went up againſt the children of Benjamin on the third day, and put themſelves in array againſt Gibeah, as at other times.

31 And the children of Benjamin went out againſt the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to ſmite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to the houſe of God, and the other to Gibeah in the field, about thirty men of Iſrael.

32 And the children of Benjamin ſaid, They are ſmitten down before us, as at the firſt. But the children of Iſrael ſaid, Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways.

33 And all the men of Iſrael roſe up out of their place, and put themſelves in array at Baal-tamar: and the liers in wait of Iſrael came forth out of their places, even out of the meadows of Gibeah.

34 And there came againſt Gibeah ten thouſand choſen men out of all Iſrael, and the battle was ſore: but they knew not that evil was near them.

35 And the LORD ſmote Benjamin before Iſrael: and the children of Iſrael deſtroyed of the Benjamites that day twenty and five thouſand and an hundred men: all theſe drew the ſword.

36 So the children of Benjamin ſaw that they were ſmitten: for the men of Iſrael gave place to the Benjamites, becauſe they truſted unto the liers in wait which they had ſet beſide Gibeah.

37 And the liers in wait haſted, and ruſhed upon Gibeah; and the liers in wait drew themſelves along, and ſmote all the city with the edge of the ſword.

38 Now there was an appointed ſign between the men of Iſrael and the liers in wait, that they ſhould make a great flame with ſmoke riſe up out of the city.

39 And when the men of Iſrael retired in the battle, Benjamin began to ſmite and kill of the men of Iſrael about thirty perſons: for they ſaid, Surely they are ſmitten down before us, as in the firſt battle.

40 But when the flame began to ariſe up out of the city with a pillar of ſmoke, the Benjamites looked behind them, and, behold, the flame of the city aſcended up to heaven.

41 And when the men of Iſrael turned again, the men of Benjamin were amazed: for they ſaw that evil was come upon them.

42 Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Iſrael unto the way of the wilderneſs; but the battle overtook them; and them which came out of the cities they deſtroyed in the midſt of them.

43 Thus

10 We will take ten men of an hundred, &c.] One man took care that nine of his brethren wanted nothing; and ten took care of ninety, &c. ſo that in the whole there were forty thouſand out of the four hundred thouſand who went out to forage for the army.

16 Every one could ſling ſtones at an hair breadth, and not miſs.] They were excellent markſmen; and their warlike diſpoſition was foretold by Jacob, when he ſaid, "Benjamin ſhall ravin as a wolf," which is an undaunted and ferocious creature.

18 Went up to the houſe of God, &c.] In Shiloh, which was not far from Mizpeh.

25 And deſtroyed down to the ground of the children of Iſrael again eighteen thouſand men, &c.] The moſt probable reaſon that has been aſſigned for this ſecond ſlaughter, is, becauſe they did not previouſly apply to God, as they ſhould have done.

26 And faſted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings, &c.] They now afflicted their ſouls for their ſins, which they had not done before, at leaſt not with ſuch ſerioufneſs; neither had they made ſuch ſupplications to God, as they now did by theſe offerings.

28 Or ſhall I ceaſe? &c.] They now leave it (as they ſhould have done at firſt) wholly to God's pleaſure; declaring, they would deſiſt, if he did not think good to accompany them with his bleſſing.

Before CHRIST 1406.

43 Thus they incloſed the Benjamites around about, and chaſed them, and trode them down with eaſe over againſt Gibeah toward the ſunriſing.

44 And there fell of Benjamin eighteen thouſand men; all theſe were men of valour.

45 And they turned and fled toward the wilderneſs unto the rock of Rimmon: and they gleaned of them in the highways five thouſand men; and purſued hard after them unto Gidom, and ſlew two thouſand men of them.

46 So that all which fell that day of Benjamin were twenty and five thouſand men that drew the ſword; all theſe were men of valour.

47 But ſix hundred men turned and fled to the wilderneſs unto the rock Rimmon, and abode in the rock Rimmon four months.

48 And the men of Iſrael turned again upon the children of Benjamin, and ſmote them with the edge of the ſword, as well the men of every city, as the beaſt, and all that came to hand: alſo they ſet on fire all the cities that they came to.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The people bewail the deſolation of Benjamin, and ſeek to repair it. 8 By the deſtruction of Jabeſh-gilead they provide wives for four hundred of thoſe who had taken ſhelter in the rock. 16 The elders conſult how to find wives for the remainder conſiſtently with an oath that had been taken, and adviſe the Benjamites to carry off by ſurpriſe the virgins that danced at Shiloh.

NOW the men of Iſrael had ſworn in Mizpeh, ſaying, There ſhall not any of us give his daughter unto Benjamin to wife.

2 And the people came to the houſe of God, and abode there till even before God, and lifted up their voices, and wept ſore;

3 And ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, why is this come to paſs in Iſrael, that there ſhould be to day one tribe lacking in Iſrael?

4 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that the people roſe early, and built there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.

5 And the children of Iſrael ſaid, Who is there among all the tribes of Iſrael that came not up with the congregation unto the LORD? For they had made a great oath concerning him that came not up to the LORD to Mizpeh, ſaying, He ſhall ſurely be put to death.

6 And the children of Iſrael repented them for Benjamin their brother, and ſaid, There is one tribe cut off from Iſrael this day.

7 How ſhall we do for wives for them that remain, ſeeing we have ſworn by the LORD that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?

8 ¶ And they ſaid, What one is there of the tribes of Iſrael that came not up to Mizpeh to the LORD? and, behold, there came none to the camp from Jabeſh-gilead to the aſſembly.

9 For the people were numbered; and, behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead there. Before CHRIST 1406.

10 And the congregation ſent thither twelve thouſand men of the valianteſt, and commanded them, ſaying, Go and ſmite the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead with the edge of the ſword, with the women and the children.

11 And this is the thing that ye ſhall do, Ye ſhall utterly deſtroy every male, and every woman that hath lain by man.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead four hundred young virgins, that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

13 And the whole congregation ſent ſome to ſpeak to the children of Benjamin that were in the rock Rimmon, and to call peaceably unto them.

14 And Benjamin came again at that time; and they gave them wives which they had ſaved alive of the women of Jabeſh-gilead: and yet ſo they ſufficed them not.

15 And the people repented them for Benjamin, becauſe that the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Iſrael.

16 ¶ Then the elders of the congregation ſaid, How ſhall we do for wives for them that remain, ſeeing the women are deſtroyed out of Benjamin?

17 And they ſaid, There muſt be an inheritance for them that be eſcaped of Benjamin, that a tribe be not deſtroyed out of Iſrael:

18 Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Iſrael have ſworn, ſaying, Curſed be he that giveth a wife to Benjamin.

19 Then they ſaid, Behold, there is a feaſt of the LORD in Shiloh yearly in a place which is on the north ſide of Beth-el, on the eaſt ſide of the highway that goeth up from Beth-el to Shechem, and on the ſouth of Lebonah.

20 Therefore they commanded the children of Benjamin, ſaying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards;

21 And ſee, and, behold, if the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and go to the land of Benjamin.

22 And it ſhall be, when their fathers or their brethren come unto us to complain, that we will ſay unto them, Be favourable unto them for our ſakes: becauſe we reſerved not to each man his wife in the war: for ye did no give unto them at this time, that ye ſhould be guilty.

23 And the children of Benjamin did ſo, and took them wives, according to their number, of them that danced, whom they caught: and they went and returned unto their inheritance, and repaired the cities, and dwelt in them.

24 And the children of Iſrael departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

25 In thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

This chapter holds out to us theſe remarks: that God does not diſplay his ſtrength, nor fulfil his promiſes, till men have ſincerely humbled themſelves before him; neither does he ſpare even his own church and people, when they provoke him to wrath againſt them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

2 And lifted up their voices, and wept ſore.] Their joy and triumph for the victory was ſoon turned into mourning and lamentation, for the loſs of ſo many of their brethren; for inſtead of a feaſt, they ſeem to have kept a faſt, as they did before the laſt battle.

10 Go and ſmite the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead, &c.] Jabeſh-gilead was a city on the other ſide Jordan, in the tribe of Manaſſeh.

14 Yet ſo they ſufficed them not.] For ſtill two hundred wanted wives.

19 There is a feaſt of the Lord in Shiloh yearly, &c.] Suppoſed to be the feaſt of tabernacles, which was a time of exceeding great joy, becauſe they had newly gathered their vintage.

21 Then come ye out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife, &c.] This rape was ordered for the preſervation of a raſh and juſtifiable oath; but though the act was wrong, yet their intent was juſt and honeſt, and devoid of that brutal luſt which is incident to common raviſhers. Thus we find, the ſacred author of this book, as a faithful hiſtorian, did not omit to mention many of the groſſeſt enormities, yet he has taken care to aſſign a reaſon for theſe unrighteous proceedings, when, in four different places of the book of Judges, he tells us, that in thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael; and that for want of ſuch a ſupreme authority, every tribe and every city, nay, which is more, every private man, committed many horrid things, which were not publicly allowed.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

This hiſtory recommends to us, never to abandon ourſelves to revenge, how juſt ſoever it may appear; nor to chaſtiſe the guilty with too great ſeverity; and that we ſhould contribute all in our power towards the re-eſtabliſhment and conſolation of the miſerable, eſpecially if they be our brethren; and that the glory of God, and the honour of religion, require thoſe things at our hands.

The Book of RUTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book is an appendix to that of Judges, and moſt probably was written by the ſame author, who is generally allowed to be Samuel. It concludes with the genealogy of David, from Pharez the ſon of Judah, that it might evidently appear the Meſſiah ſprung out of that tribe, according to the prediction of Jacob, Gen. xlix. 10. and (that all nations may have hope in his mercy) to make it appear that he deſcended from a Gentile woman.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech driven by famine into Moab dieth there, as do alſo his ſons Mahlon and Chilion, who had married Moabitiſh wives. 6 Naomi the wife of Elimelech prepareth to return, but diſſuadeth her daughters in law from going with her; of whom Orpah leaveth her, but Ruth with great conſtancy accompanieth her. 19 They two come to Beth-lehem, where the inhabitants flock round about with enquiries concerning them.

Before CHRIST 1322. NOW it came to paſs in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Beth-lehem-judah went to ſojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two ſons.

2 And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the name of his two ſons Mahlon and Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem-judah. And they came into the country of Moab, and continued there.

3 And Elimelech Naomi's huſband died; and ſhe was left, and her two ſons.

4 And they took them wives of the women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion died alſo both of them; and the woman was left of her two ſons and her huſband.

1312. 6 ¶ Then ſhe aroſe with her daughters in law, that ſhe might return from the country of Moab: for ſhe had heard in the country of Moab how that the LORD had viſited his people in giving them bread.

7 Wherefore ſhe went forth out of the place where ſhe was, and her two daughters in law with her; and they went on the way to return unto the land of Judah.

8 And Naomi ſaid unto her two daughters in law, Go, return each to her mother's houſe: the LORD deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.

9 The LORD grant you that ye may find reſt, each of you in the houſe of her huſband. Then ſhe kiſſed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept.

10 And they ſaid unto her, Surely we will return with thee unto thy people.

11 And Naomi ſaid, Turn again, my daughters: why will ye go with me? are there yet any more ſons in my womb, that they may be your huſbands?

12 Turn again, my daughters, go your way; for I am too old to have an huſband. If I ſhould ſay, I have hope, if I ſhould have an huſband alſo to night, Before CHRIST 1312. and ſhould alſo bear ſons;

13 Would ye tarry for them till they were grown? would ye ſtay for them from having huſbands? nay, my daughters; for it grieveth me much for your ſakes, that the hand of the LORD is gone out againſt me.

14 And they lifted up their voice, and wept again: and Orpah kiſſed her mother in law; but Ruth clave unto her.

15 And ſhe ſaid, Behold, thy ſiſter in law is gone back unto her people, and unto her gods: return thou after thy ſiſter in law.

16 And Ruth ſaid, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goeſt, I will go; and where thou lodgeſt, I will lodge: thy people ſhall be my people, and thy God my God:

17 Where thou dieſt, will I die, and there will I be buried: the LORD do ſo to me, and more alſo, if ought but death part thee and me.

18 When ſhe ſaw that ſhe was ſtedfaſtly minded to go with her, then ſhe left ſpeaking unto her.

19 ¶ So they two went until they came to Beth-lehem. And it came to paſs, when they were come to Beth-lehem, that all the city was moved about them, and they ſaid, Is this Naomi?

20 And ſhe ſaid unto them, Call me not Naomi, call me Mara: for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me.

21 I went out full, and the LORD hath brought me home again empty: why then call ye me Naomi, ſeeing the LORD hath teſtified againſt me, and the Almighty hath afflicted me?

22 So Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabiteſs, her daughter in law, with her, which returned out of the country of Moab: and they came to Beth-lehem in the beginning of barley harveſt.

CHAP. II.

1 Ruth goeth by chance to glean in the fields of Boaz. 4 Boaz taketh notice of her, and ſheweth her great favour. 18 She returneth with what ſhe had gotten to her mother in law, and telleth her what had happened.

AND Naomi had a kinſman of her huſband's, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of Elimelech; and his name was Boaz.

2 And Ruth the Moabiteſs ſaid unto Naomi, Let me now go to the field, and glean ears of corn after him in whoſe ſight I ſhall find grace. And ſhe ſaid unto her, Go, my daughter.

3 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

8 Go, return each to her mother's houſe, &c.] It ſeems it was uſual in Moab, as well as in Iſrael, for widows to dwell with their parents.

11 Are there yet any more ſons, &c.] The cuſtom of a man's marrying his brother's widow when he left no iſſue, was ſo antient, that it was derived into other nations who were not ſprung from Abraham, ſee Gen. xxxviii. 8.

16 Thy people ſhall be my people, and thy God my God.] This is a reſolution to embrace the Jewiſh religion intirely, ſo as to be incorporated with the Iſraelites, as if ſhe had been a native among them.

20 Call me not Naomi, call me Mara, &c.] She intimated that her old name was not ſuitable to her preſent condition, which required ſhe ſhould have a contrary one, Mara ſignifying bitter.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

From this chapter we may diſcover, that the heathens, and iſlanders, ſhould one day be admitted into the divine covenant, as it happened ſince the manifeſtation of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, as foretold by the prophets.

RUTH, Chap. II. Ver. 8.

Go not to glean in another field, neither go from hence, but abide here by my maidens

Digitized by Google

Before CHRIST 1312.

3 And she went, and came, and gleaned in the field after the reapers: and her hap was to light on a part of the field belonging unto Boaz, who was of the kindred of Elimelech.

4 ¶ And, behold, Boaz came from Beth-lehem, and said unto the reapers, The LORD be with you. And they answered him, The LORD bless thee.

5 Then said Boaz unto his servant that was set over the reapers, Whose damsel is this?

6 And the servant that was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Moabitish damsel that came back with Naomi out of the country of Moab:

7 And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves: so she came, and hath continued even from the morning until now, that she tarried a little in the house.

8 Then said Boaz unto Ruth, Hearest thou not, my daughter? Go not to glean in another field, neither go from hence, but abide here fast by my maidens:

9 Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reap, and go thou after them: have I not charged the young men that they shall not touch thee? and when thou art athirst, go unto the vessels, and drink of that which the young men have drawn.

10 Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldest take knowledge of me, seeing I am a stranger?

11 And Boaz answered and said unto her, It hath fully been shewed me, all that thou hast done unto thy mother in law since the death of thine husband: and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy nativity, and art come unto a people which thou knewest not heretofore.

12 The LORD recompense thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the LORD God of Israel, under whose wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she said, Let me find favour in thy sight, my lord; for that thou hast comforted me, and for that thou hast spoken friendly unto thine handmaid, though I be not like unto one of thine handmaidens.

14 And Boaz said unto her, At mealtime come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the vinegar. And she sat beside the reapers: and he reached her parched corn, and she did eat, and was sufficed, and left.

15 And when she was risen up to glean, Boaz commanded his young men, saying, Let her glean even among the sheaves, and reproach her not:

16 And let fall also some of the handfuls of purpose for her, and leave them, that she may glean them, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the field until even, and beat out that she had gleaned: and it was about an ephah of barley.

18 ¶ And she took it up, and went into the city: and her mother in law saw what she had gleaned: and she brought forth, and gave to her that she had reserved after she was sufficed.

19 And her mother in law said unto her, Where hast thou gleaned to day? and where wroughtest thou? blessed be he that did take knowledge of thee. And she shewed her mother in law with whom she had wrought, and said, The man's name with whom I wrought to day is Boaz. Before CHRIST 1312.

20 And Naomi said unto her daughter in law, Blessed be he of the LORD, who hath not left off his kindness to the living and to the dead. And Naomi said unto her, The man is near of kin unto us, one of our next kinsmen.

21 And Ruth the Moabitess said, He said unto me also, Thou shalt keep fast by my young men, until they have ended all my harvest.

22 And Naomi said unto Ruth her daughter in law, It is good, my daughter, that thou go out with his maidens, that they meet thee not in any other field.

23 So she kept fast by the maidens of Boaz to glean unto the end of barley harvest and of wheat harvest; and dwelt with her mother in law.

CHAP. III.

1 By Naomi's instruction, 6 Ruth layeth herself in the night at the feet of Boaz; who acknowledgeth the duty of a kinsman, but telleth her of one who had a prior claim. 14 He sendeth her home in the morning with six measures of barley.

THEN Naomi her mother in law said unto her, My daughter, shall I not seek rest for thee, that it may be well with thee?

2 And now is not Boaz of our kindred, with whose maidens thou wast? Behold, he winnoweth barley to night in the threshingfloor.

3 Wash thyself therefore, and anoint thee, and put thy raiment upon thee, and get thee down to the floor: but make not thyself known unto the man, until he shall have done eating and drinking.

4 And it shall be, when he lieth down, that thou shalt mark the place where he shall lie, and thou shalt go in, and uncover his feet, and lay thee down; and he will tell thee what thou shalt do.

5 And she said unto her, All that thou sayest unto me I will do.

6 ¶ And she went down unto the floor, and did according to all that her mother in law bade her.

7 And when Boaz had eaten and drunk, and his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of corn: and she came softly, and uncovered his feet, and laid her down.

8 And it came to pass at midnight, that the man was afraid, and turned himself: and, behold, a woman lay at his feet.

9 And he said, Who art thou? And she answered, I am Ruth thine handmaid: spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid: for thou art a near kinsman.

10 And he said, Blessed be thou of the LORD, my daughter: for thou hast shewed more kindness in the latter end than at the beginning, inasmuch as thou followedst not young men, whether poor or rich.

11 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

4 The Lord be with you, &c.] This is the first time that we meet with this religious salutation: it was afterwards familiar, and continued even to our Saviour's time, when the angel saluted the blessed virgin after this manner.

7 She tarried a little in the house.] The meaning is, she went and stood awhile in the tent which was pitched in the fields, for such as were weary to refresh themselves in.

10 That thou shouldest take knowledge of me, &c.] To take knowledge, in scripture-language, is to shew kindness.

12 Under whose wings thou art come to trust.] To seek for protection, and commit thyself unto his care and good providence.

17 An ephah of barley.] About a bushel of our measure.

21 All my harvest.] The present barley harvest, and the wheat harvest which followed it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

From this chapter we may remark, that the kindness which Boaz shewed unto Ruth, was the effect of the providence of God, who will never fail to reward the duty paid by children to their pious parents and relations.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

4 And thou shalt go in, &c.] This design of Naomi's seems, at first sight, not very modest; but as it had no other object than what was agreeable to the word of God, it prospered accordingly.

5 All that thou sayest unto me I will do.] She put great confidence in her mother's prudence and piety, and trusted God would give good success to her design.

7 Came softly, and uncovered his feet, and laid her down.] The intention of Ruth most certainly was, only that of giving Boaz an opportunity to consider what the law required of him.

9 Spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid, &c.] From hence, at this day, when two persons are married among the Jews, the man throws the skirt of his talith over his spouse, and covers her head with it.

10 As thou followedst not young men, &c.] This is an high commendation, that she did not seek an husband to satisfy any loose desires, but to preserve the memory of him who was dead,

Before CHRIST 1312.

11 And now, my daughter, fear not; I will do to thee all that thou requireſt: for all the city of my people doth know, that thou art a virtuous woman.

12 And now it is true that I am thy near kinſman: howbeit there is a kinſman nearer than I.

13 Tarry this night, and it ſhall be in the morning, that if he will perform unto thee the part of a kinſman, well; let him do the kinſman's part: but if he will not do the part of a kinſman to thee, then will I do the part of a kinſman to thee, as the LORD liveth: lie down until the morning.

14 ¶ And ſhe lay at his feet until the morning: and ſhe roſe up before one could know another. And he ſaid, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

15 Alſo he ſaid, Bring the vail that thou haſt upon thee, and hold it. And when ſhe held it, he meaſured ſix meaſures of barley, and laid it on her: and ſhe went into the city.

16 And when ſhe came to her mother in law, ſhe ſaid, Who art thou, my daughter? And ſhe told her all that the man had done to her.

17 And ſhe ſaid, Theſe ſix meaſures of barley gave he me; for he ſaid to me, Go not empty unto thy mother in law.

18 Then ſaid ſhe, Sit ſtill, my daughter, until thou know how the matter will fall: for the man will not be in reſt, until he have finiſhed the thing this day.

CHAP. IV.

1 Boaz propoſeth to the neareſt of kin the redemption of Elimelech's land, and the marriage of Ruth. 6 The kinſman declineth both according to the manner in Iſrael. 9 Boaz buyeth the inheritance, and accepteth Ruth for his wife before the people. 13 Ruth beareth Obed the grandfather of David. 18 The generations of Pharez unto David.

THEN went Boaz up to the gate, and ſat him down there: and, behold, the kinſman of whom Boaz ſpake came by; unto whom he ſaid, Ho, ſuch a one! turn aſide, ſit down here. And he turned aſide, and ſat down.

2 And he took ten men of the elders of the city, and ſaid, Sit ye down here. And they ſat down.

3 And he ſaid unto the kinſman, Naomi, that is come again out of the country of Moab, ſelleth a parcel of land, which was our brother Elimelech's:

4 And I thought to advertiſe thee, ſaying, Buy it before the inhabitants, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem it, redeem it: but if thou wilt not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know: for there is none to redeem it beſide thee; and I am after thee. And he ſaid, I will redeem it.

5 Then ſaid Boaz, What day thou buyeſt the field of the hand of Naomi, thou muſt buy it alſo of Ruth the Moabiteſs, the wife of the dead, to raiſe up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.

Before CHRIST 1312.

6 ¶ And the kinſman ſaid, I cannot redeem it for myſelf, leſt I mar mine own inheritance: redeem thou my right to thyſelf; for I cannot redeem it.

7 Now this was the manner in former time in Iſrael concerning redeeming and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his ſhoe, and gave it to his neighbour: and this was a teſtimony in Iſrael.

8 Therefore the kinſman ſaid unto Boaz, Buy it for thee. So he drew off his ſhoe.

9 ¶ And Boaz ſaid unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witneſſes this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that was Chilion's and Mahlon's, of the hand of Naomi.

10 Moreover Ruth the Moabiteſs, the wife of Mahlon, have I purchaſed to be my wife, to raiſe up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead be not cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witneſſes this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders, ſaid, We are witneſſes. The LORD make the woman that is come into thine houſe like Rachel and like Leah, which two did build the houſe of Iſrael: and do thou worthily in Ephratah, and be famous in Bethlehem:

12 And let thy houſe be like the houſe of Pharez, whom Tamar bare unto Judah, of the ſeed which the LORD ſhall give thee of this young woman.

13 ¶ So Boaz took Ruth, and ſhe was his wife: and when he went in unto her, the LORD gave her conception, and ſhe bare a ſon.

14 And the women ſaid unto Naomi, Bleſſed be the LORD, which hath not left thee this day without a kinſman, that his name may be famous in Iſrael.

15 And he ſhall be unto thee a reſtorer of thy life, and a nouriſher of thine old age: for thy daughter in law, which loveth thee, which is better to thee than ſeven ſons, hath born him.

16 And Naomi took the child, and laid it in her boſom, and became nurſe unto it.

17 And the women her neighbours gave it a name, ſaying, There is a ſon born to Naomi; and they called his name Obed: he is the father of Jeſſe, the father of David.

18 ¶ Now theſe are the generations of Pharez: Pharez begat Hezron,

19 And Hezron begat Ram, and Ram begat Amminadab,

20 And Amminadab begat Nahſhon, and Nahſhon begat Salmon,

21 And Salmon begat Boaz, and Boaz begat Obed,

22 And Obed begat Jeſſe, and Jeſſe begat David.

14 Before one could know another] Before it was light.

Let it not be known, &c.] He would have her be careful both of her own fame and of his.

16 Who art thou, my daughter? &c.] It was ſo early in the morning, that Naomi could not well diſcern who it was.

18 The man will not be in reſt, &c.] She knew him ſo well to be a man of his word, that he would immediately go about the buſineſs, according to his promiſe.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

We may from the above chapter perceive the virtuous ſimplicity of thoſe times; and that when God has any end to accompliſh, he will in the mean time preſerve the heart and hand of the inſtrument from evil.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

3 Selleth a parcel of land] He intimates that Naomi's poverty conſtrained her to ſell her eſtate, which her huſband left her.

Our brother Elimelech's.] He calls Elimelech their brother, becauſe he was near of kin to them.

5 To raiſe up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.] By the conduct of Boaz and Ruth, they ſtood intirely vindicated from any wantonneſs of deſire; neither of them being ſwayed by any other motive than that of regard to virtue, piety, and the law of God.

8 He drew off his ſhoe.] And gave it to Boaz, in token that (by this rite) he parted with all his claim to him.

17 Called his name Obed, &c.] That is, one who ſhould be very ſerviceable to her; for Obed ſignifies a ſervant, or one that is ſerviceable: Obed was the grandfather of David.

18 Now theſe are the generations of Pharez, &c.] He begins no higher, becauſe every one knows that Pharez was the grandſon of Jacob, and he the ſon of Iſaac, &c.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

From this chapter it further appears, that this book was principally written for the ſake of this genealogy; it being neceſſary to trace the family to its origin, as the Meſſiah was to ſpring from it; and accordingly it is traced, in the following verſes, from Pharez to David, of whom Chriſt was both the root and offſpring.

The First Book of SAMUEL,

OTHERWISE CALLED

The First Book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

The two books of Samuel are public histories of the transactions under the two last judges, Samuel and Eli, and under the two first kings, Saul and David, comprizing the compass of one hundred years. The books of Samuel and Kings, being a continued history of the reigns of the kings of Israel and Judah, are therefore called the First, Second, Third, and Fourth books of Kings.

CHAP. I.

1 Elkanah a Levite hath two wives; he goeth yearly to worship at Shiloh. 4 He favoureth Hannah, and comforteth her, when insulted on account of her barrenness by Peninnah. 9 Hannah in grief prayeth for a child, and voweth to give him unto the LORD. 12 Eli mistaking at first rebuketh, but afterward blesseth her. 19 God remembereth Hannah; she beareth Samuel, and stayeth at home till he is weaned. 24 She presented him to the LORD according to her vow.

Before CHRIST 1171. NOW there was a certain man of Ramathaim-zophim, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Elkanah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Elihu, the son of Tohu, the son of Zuph, an Ephrathite:

2 And he had two wives; the name of the one was Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnah: and Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

3 And this man went up out of his city yearly to worship and to sacrifice unto the LORD of hosts in Shiloh. And the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, the priests of the LORD, were there.

4 ¶ And when the time was that Elkanah offered, he gave to Peninnah his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, portions:

5 But unto Hannah he gave a worthy portion; for he loved Hannah: but the LORD had shut up her womb.

6 And her adversary also provoked her sore, for to make her fret, because the LORD had shut up her womb.

7 And as he did so year by year, when she went up to the house of the LORD, so she provoked her; therefore she wept, and did not eat.

8 Then said Elkanah her husband to her, Hannah, why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart grieved? am not I better to thee than ten sons?

9 ¶ So Hannah rose up after they had eaten in Shiloh, and after they had drunk. Now Eli the priest sat upon a seat by a post of the temple of the LORD.

10 And she was in bitterness of soul, and prayed unto the LORD, and wept sore. Before CHRIST 1171.

11 And she vowed a vow, and said, O LORD of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but wilt give unto thine handmaid a man child, then I will give him unto the LORD all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head.

12 ¶ And it came to pass, as she continued praying before the LORD, that Eli marked her mouth.

13 Now Hannah, she spake in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: therefore Eli thought she had been drunken.

14 And Eli said unto her, How long wilt thou be drunken? put away thy wine from thee.

15 And Hannah answered and said, No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit: I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but have poured out my soul before the LORD.

16 Count not thine handmaid for a daughter of Belial: for out of the abundance of my complaint and grief have I spoken hitherto.

17 Then Eli answered and said, Go in peace: and the God of Israel grant thee thy petition that thou hast asked of him.

18 And she said, Let thine handmaid find grace in thy sight. So the woman went her way, and did eat, and her countenance was no more sad.

19 ¶ And they rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before the LORD, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah: and Elkanah knew Hannah his wife; and the LORD remembered her.

20 Wherefore it came to pass, when the time was come about after Hannah had conceived, that she bare a son, and called his name Samuel, saying, Because I have asked him of the LORD.

21 And the man Elkanah, and all his house, went up to offer unto the LORD the yearly sacrifice, and his vow.

22 But Hannah went not up; for she said unto her husband, I will not go up until the child be weaned, and then

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. I.

4 He gave to Peninnah his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, &c.] The males only were bound to appear before God at these festivals; but devout persons were wont to bring their wives with them, and their daughters as well as sons.

5 A worthy portion, &c.] A double portion.

10 She was in bitterness of soul, and prayed unto the Lord, &c.] Sterility was looked upon by the Jews, as one of the greatest misfortunes that could befall any woman; and the having a child was esteemed a great blessing, though it cost the life of the mother. See Gen. xxxv. 17.

11 There shall no razor come upon his head.] She vowed he should be a Nazarite.

17 Go in peace: and the God of Israel grant thee thy petition, &c.] Her sober and respectful answer, convinced Eli of his error, and moved him to dismiss her with his blessing, and a solemn prayer to God, that he would grant her request.

20 Samuel, &c.] "Asked of God." It is computed he was born in the time when the Philistines oppressed Israel for forty years together.

Before CHRIST 1171. then I will bring him, that he may appear before the LORD, and there abide for ever.

23 And Elkanah her huſband ſaid unto her, Do what ſeemeth thee good; tarry until thou have weaned him; only the LORD eſtabliſh his word. So the woman abode, and gave her ſon ſuck until ſhe weaned him.

24 ¶ And when ſhe had weaned him, ſhe took him up with her, with three bullocks, and one ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the houſe of the LORD in Shiloh: and the child was young.

25 And they ſlew a bullock, and brought the child to Eli.

1165. 26 And ſhe ſaid, Oh my LORD, as thy ſoul liveth, my lord, I am the woman that ſtood by thee here, praying unto the LORD.

27 For this child I prayed; and the LORD hath given me my petition which I aſked of him:

28 Therefore alſo I have lent him to the LORD; as long as he liveth he ſhall be lent to the LORD. And he worſhipped the LORD there.

CHAP. II.

1 Hannah's ſong in thankfulneſs to God. 12 The ſin of Eli's ſons. 18 Samuel's miniſtry. 20 Eli bleſſeth Elkanah and his wife, who beareth more children. 22 Eli reproveth his ſons. 27 A prophecy againſt Eli's houſe.

AND Hannah prayed, and ſaid, My heart rejoiceth in the LORD, mine horn is exalted in the LORD; my mouth is enlarged over mine enemies; becauſe I rejoice in thy ſalvation.

2 There is none holy as the LORD: for there is none beſide thee: neither is there any rock like our God.

3 Talk no more ſo exceeding proudly; let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.

4 The bows of the mighty men are broken, and they that ſtumbled are girded with ſtrength.

5 They that were full have hired out themſelves for bread; and they that were hungry ceaſed: ſo that the barren hath born ſeven; and ſhe that hath many children is waxed feeble.

6 The LORD killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up.

7 The LORD maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up.

8 He raiſeth up the poor out of the duſt, and lifteth up the beggar from the dunghill, to ſet them among princes, and to make them inherit the throne of glory: for the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, and he hath ſet the world upon them.

9 He will keep the feet of his ſaints, and the wicked ſhall be ſilent in darkneſs; for by ſtrength ſhall no man prevail.

10 The adverſaries of the LORD ſhall be broken to pieces; out of heaven ſhall he thunder upon them: the LORD ſhall judge the ends of the earth; and he ſhall give ſtrength unto his king, and exhort the horn of his anointed.

11 And Elkanah went to Ramah to his houſe. And the child did miniſter unto the LORD before Eli the prieſt.

12 ¶ Now the ſons of Eli were ſons of Belial; they knew not the LORD.

13 And the prieſt's cuſtom with the people was, that, when any man offered ſacrifice, the prieſt's ſervant came, while the fleſh was in ſeething, with a fleſhhook of three teeth in his hand; Before CHRIST 1165.

14 And he ſtruck it into the pan, or kettle, or caldron, or pot; all that the fleſhhook brought up the prieſt took for himſelf. So they did in Shiloh unto all the Iſraelites that came thither.

15 Alſo before they burnt the fat, the prieſt's ſervant came, and ſaid to the man that ſacrificed, Give fleſh to roaſt for the prieſt; for he will not have ſodden fleſh of thee, but raw.

16 And if any man ſaid unto him, Let them not fail to burn the fat preſently, and then take as much as thy ſoul deſireth; then he would anſwer him, Nay; but thou ſhalt give it me now: and if not, I will take it by force.

17 Wherefore the ſin of the young men was very great before the LORD: for men abhorred the offering of the LORD.

18 ¶ But Samuel miniſtered before the LORD, being a child, girded with a linen ephod.

19 Moreover his mother made him a little coat, and brought it to him from year to year, when ſhe came up with her huſband to offer the yearly ſacrifice.

20 ¶ And Eli bleſſed Elkanah and his wife, and ſaid, The LORD give thee ſeed of this woman for the loan which is lent to the LORD. And they went unto their own home.

21 And the LORD viſited Hannah, ſo that ſhe conceived, and bare three ſons and two daughters. And the child Samuel grew before the LORD.

22 ¶ Now Eli was very old, and heard all that his ſons did unto all Iſrael; and how they lay with the women that aſſembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

23 And he ſaid unto them, Why do ye ſuch things? for I hear of your evil dealings by all this people.

24 Nay, my ſons; for it is no good report that I hear: ye make the LORD's people to tranſgreſs.

25 If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him: but if a man ſin againſt the LORD, who ſhall intreat for him? Notwithſtanding they hearkened not unto the voice of their father, becauſe the LORD would ſlay them.

26 And the child Samuel grew on, and was in favour both with the LORD, and alſo with men.

27 ¶ And there came a man of God unto Eli, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Did I plainly appear unto the houſe of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaoh's houſe?

28 And did I chooſe him out of all the tribes of Iſrael to be my prieſt, to offer upon mine altar, to burn incenſe, to wear an ephod before me? and did I give unto the houſe of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Iſrael?

29 Wherefore kick ye at my ſacrifice and at mine offering, which I have commanded in my habitation; and honoureſt thy ſons above me, to make yourſelves fat with the chiefeſt of all the offerings of Iſrael my people?

30 Wherefore the LORD God of Iſrael ſaith, I ſaid indeed that thy houſe, and the houſe of thy father, ſhould walk before me for ever: but now the LORD ſaith, Be it far from me; for them that honour me I will 28 I have lent him to the Lord, &c.] Or, Reſtored him to the Lord, from whoſe gift ſhe received him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

By this example we may ſee the reward of faith and prayer; alſo the behaviour and conduct of thoſe fathers and mothers that fear God; and that their chief concern is to devote the children to the Lord, and to his ſervice.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

1 Hannah prayed] The word "prayer," is often uſed for Thankſgiving.

My mouth is enlarged over mine enemies, &c.] She was now furniſhed with a full anſwer to Peninnah, who had upbraided her with ſterility.

3 Let not arrogancy, &c.] Forbear reproaches.

5 They that were hungry ceaſed, &c.] Ceaſed to complain of hunger.

11 Before Eli the prieſt.] According as Eli had appointed.

12 They knew not the Lord.] They minded not the divine ſervice, nor took any care to honour God.

15 Before they burnt the fat, &c.] The fat entirely belonged to God.

17 Men abhorred the offering of the Lord.] Nothing brings religion ſo much into the contempt of the people, as the immorality and profaneneſs of the miniſters of it.

24 Nay, my ſons—it is no good report that I hear, &c.] This is the language of a tender father, not of a zealous judge.

31 Behold, the days come, that I will cut off thine arm, and the arm of thy father's houſe, that there ſhall not be an old man in thine houſe.

32 And thou ſhalt ſee an enemy in my habitation, in all the wealth which God ſhall give Iſrael: and there ſhall not be an old man in thine houſe for ever.

33 And the man of thine, whom I ſhall not cut off from mine altar, ſhall be to conſume thine eyes, and to grieve thine heart: and all the increaſe of thine houſe ſhall die in the flower of their age.

34 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee, that ſhall come upon thy two ſons, on Hophni and Phinehas; in one day they ſhall die both of them.

35 And I will raiſe me up a faithful prieſt, that ſhall do according to that which is in mine heart and in my mind: and I will build him a ſure houſe; and he ſhall walk before mine Anointed for ever.

36 And it ſhall come to paſs, that every one that is left in thine houſe ſhall come and crouch to him for a piece of ſilver and a morſel of bread, and ſhall ſay, Put me, I pray thee, into one of the prieſt's offices, that I may eat a piece of bread.

CHAP. III.

1 The manner in which the word of the Lord was firſt revealed to Samuel. 11 God ſheweth to Samuel the deſtruction of Eli's houſe. 15 Samuel adjured by Eli telleth him the viſion. 19 Samuel is favoured by God, and acknowledged for a prophet in Iſrael.

AND the child Samuel miniſtered unto the LORD before Eli. And the word of the LORD was precious in thoſe days; there was no open viſion.

2 And it came to paſs at that time, when Eli was laid down in his place, and his eyes began to wax dim, that he could not ſee;

3 And ere the lamp of God went out in the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God was, and Samuel was laid down to ſleep;

4 That the LORD called Samuel: and he anſwered, Here am I.

5 And he ran unto Eli, and ſaid, Here am I; for thou calledſt me. And he ſaid, I called not; lie down again. And he went and lay down.

6 And the LORD called yet again, Samuel. And Samuel aroſe and went to Eli, and ſaid, Here am I; for thou didſt call me. And he anſwered, I called not, my ſon; lie down again.

7 Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD, neither was the word of the LORD yet revealed unto him.

8 And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. And he aroſe and went to Eli, and ſaid, Here am I; for thou didſt call me. And Eli perceived that the LORD had called the child.

9 Therefore Eli ſaid unto Samuel, Go, lie down: and it ſhall be, if he call thee, that thou ſhalt ſay, Speak, LORD; for thy ſervant heareth. So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

10 And the LORD came, and ſtood, and called as at other times, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel anſwered, Speak; for thy ſervant heareth. Before CHRIST 1165.

11 ¶ And the LORD ſaid to Samuel, Behold, I will do a thing in Iſrael, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it ſhall tingle.

12 In that day I will perform againſt Eli all things which I have ſpoken concerning his houſe: when I begin, I will alſo make an end.

13 For I have told him that I will judge his houſe for ever for the iniquity which he knoweth; becauſe his ſons made themſelves vile, and he reſtrained them not.

14 And therefore I have ſworn unto the houſe of Eli, that the iniquity of Eli's houſe ſhall not be purged with ſacrifice nor offering for ever.

15 ¶ And Samuel lay until the morning, and opened the doors of the houſe of the LORD. And Samuel feared to ſhew Eli the viſion.

16 Then Eli called Samuel, and ſaid, Samuel, my ſon. And he anſwered, Here am I.

17 And he ſaid, What is the thing that the LORD hath ſaid unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: God do ſo to thee, and more alſo, if thou hide any thing from me of all the things that he ſaid unto thee.

18 And Samuel told him every whit, and hid nothing from him. And he ſaid, It is the LORD: let him do what ſeemeth him good.

19 ¶ And Samuel grew, and the LORD was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground.

20 And all Iſrael from Dan even to Beer-ſheba knew that Samuel was eſtabliſhed to be a prophet of the LORD.

21 And the LORD appeared again in Shiloh: for the LORD revealed himſelf to Samuel in Shiloh by the word of the LORD. 1141.

CHAP. IV.

1 The Iſraelites are ſmitten by the Philiſtines at Eben-ezer. 3 They fetch the ark to the terror of their enemies; 10 but are ſmitten again, the ark taken, and the two ſons of Eli ſlain. 12 Upon hearing the news Eli falleth backward, and breaketh his neck. 19 The wife of Phinehas through grief falleth in labour, is delivered of I-chabod, and dieth.

AND the word of Samuel came to all Iſrael. Now Iſrael went out againſt the Philiſtines to battle, and pitched beſide Eben-ezer: and the Philiſtines pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philiſtines put themſelves in array againſt Iſrael: and when they joined battle, Iſrael was ſmitten before the Philiſtines: and they ſlew of the army in the field about four thouſand men.

3 ¶ And when the people were come into the camp, the elders of Iſrael ſaid, Wherefore hath the LORD ſmitten us to day before the Philiſtines? Let us fetch the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of Shiloh unto us, that, when it cometh among us, it may ſave us out of the hand of our enemies.

4 So

reign of Solomon, who depoſed Abiathar, the laſt of Eli's line, from the prieſthood, and ſet up Zadok in his ſtead.

32 Thou ſhalt ſee an enemy in my habitation, &c.] He ſaw the tabernacle deprived of the ark which was the glory of it; and lived to hear the ark was taken by the Philiſtines.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

This chapter affords us an awful leſſon, namely, that an improper indulgence of parents to their children is a very great ſin; that God puniſhes ſuch parents by the children themſelves; that it often cauſes the deſtruction of families, and draws upon them the curſe of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

1 The word of the Lord was precious, &c.] In thoſe days God very rarely revealed his will to any man.

7 Samuel did not yet know the Lord, &c.] Did not know how God was wont to teach and inſtruct men in his will.

12 When I begin I will alſo make an end.] Meaning that he would perſevere in his puniſhments, and not deſiſt after he began, till all his threatenings were fulfilled.

18 Samuel told him every whit—It is the Lord, &c.] This ſentence being denounced by a child, had a greater effect on Eli, than the meſſage of the prophet: he humbly acknowledged the juſtice of God, and ſubmitted to his ſentence with a truly penitent heart.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

From this chapter we learn that God manifeſts himſelf to thoſe that fear him; particularly ſuch as devote themſelves to him in their tender age, and hearken to his voice. The anſwer of Eli teaches us to ſubmit in all things to the will of God with perfect reſignation, and humbly to adore the righteouſneſs of his judgments.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

1 The word of Samuel came to all Iſrael, &c.] Samuel ſet up colleges of the prophets, who in time were ſettled in divers parts of the country, for the better preſerving and ſpreading the knowledge of God among the people.

3 Let us fetch the ark of the covenant, &c.] This expedient and the foregoing expreſſion were equally ridiculous, to confide in God's help when they lived in open diſobedience to him.

Before CHRIST 1141.

4 So the people ſent to Shiloh, that they might bring from thence the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hoſts, which dwelleth between the cherubims: and the two ſons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

5 And when the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Iſrael ſhouted with a great ſhout, ſo that the earth rang again.

6 And when the Philiſtines heard the noiſe of the ſhout, they ſaid, What meaneth the noiſe of this great ſhout in the camp of the Hebrews? And they underſtood that the ark of the LORD was come into the camp.

7 And the Philiſtines were afraid, for they ſaid, God is come into the camp. And they ſaid, Woe unto us! for there hath not been ſuch a thing heretofore.

8 Woe unto us! who ſhall deliver us out of the hand of theſe mighty Gods? theſe are the Gods that ſmote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderneſs.

9 Be ſtrong, and quit yourſelves like men, O ye Philiſtines, that ye be not ſervants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourſelves like men, and fight.

10 ¶ And the Philiſtines fought, and Iſrael was ſmitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great ſlaughter; for there fell of Iſrael thirty thouſand footmen.

11 And the ark of God was taken; and the two ſons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were ſlain.

12 ¶ And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the army, and came to Shiloh the ſame day with his clothes rent, and with earth upon his head.

13 And when he came, lo, Eli ſat upon a ſeat by the wayſide watching: for his heart trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city, and told it, all the city cried out.

14 And when Eli heard the noiſe of the crying, he ſaid, What meaneth the noiſe of this tumult? And the man came in haſtily, and told Eli.

15 Now Eli was ninety and eight years old; and his eyes were dim, that he could not ſee.

16 And the man ſaid unto Eli, I am he that came out of the army, and I fled to day out of the army. And he ſaid, What is there done, my ſon?

17 And the meſſenger anſwered and ſaid, Iſrael is fled before the Philiſtines, and there hath been alſo a great ſlaughter among the people, and thy two ſons alſo, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of God is taken.

18 And it came to paſs, when he made mention of the ark of God, that he fell from off the ſeat backward by the ſide of the gate, and his neck brake, and he died: for he was an old man, and heavy. And he had judged Iſrael forty years.

19 ¶ And his daughter in law, Phinehas' wife, was with child, near to be delivered: and when ſhe heard the tidings that the ark of God was taken, and that her father in law and her huſband were dead, ſhe bowed herſelf and travailed; for her pains came upon her.

20 And about the time of her death the women that ſtood by her ſaid unto her, Fear not; for thou haſt born a ſon. But ſhe anſwered not, neither did ſhe regard it.

21 And ſhe named the child I-chabod, ſaying, The glory is departed from Iſrael: becauſe the ark of God was taken, and becauſe of her father in law and her huſband. Before CHRIST 1141.

22 And ſhe ſaid, The glory is departed from Iſrael: for the ark of God is taken.

CHAP. V.

1 The Philiſtines bring the ark into the houſe of Dagon at Aſhdod. 3 Dagon is caſt down and broken in pieces before the ark. 6 The men of Aſhdod are ſmitten with emerods. 8 The ark being carried to Gath, the men of Gath are ſmitten with the like plague; 10 as alſo the men of Ekron, when the ark is brought thither.

AND the Philiſtines took the ark of God, and brought it from Eben-ezer unto Aſhdod.

2 When the Philiſtines took the ark of God, they brought it into the houſe of Dagon, and ſet it by Dagon.

3 ¶ And when they of Aſhdod aroſe early on the morrow, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the earth before the ark of the LORD. And they took Dagon, and ſet him in his place again.

4 And when they aroſe early on the morrow morning, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the ground before the ark of the LORD; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threſhold; only the ſtump of Dagon was left to him.

5 Therefore neither the prieſts of Dagon, nor any that come into Dagon's houſe, tread on the threſhold of Dagon in Aſhdod unto this day.

6 ¶ But the hand of the LORD was heavy upon them of Aſhdod, and he deſtroyed them, and ſmote them with emerods, even Aſhdod and the coaſts thereof.

7 And when the men of Aſhdod ſaw that it was ſo, they ſaid, The ark of the God of Iſrael ſhall not abide with us: for his hand is ſore upon us, and upon Dagon our god.

8 ¶ They ſent therefore and gathered all the lords of the Philiſtines unto them, and ſaid, What ſhall we do with the ark of the God of Iſrael? And they anſwered, Let the ark of the God of Iſrael be carried about unto Gath. And they carried the ark of the God of Iſrael about thither.

9 And it was ſo, that after they had carried it about, the hand of the LORD was againſt the city with a very great deſtruction: and he ſmote the men of the city, both ſmall and great, and they had emerods in their ſecret parts.

10 ¶ Therefore they ſent the ark of God to Ekron. And it came to paſs, as the ark of God came to Ekron, that the Ekronites cried out, ſaying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Iſrael to us, to ſlay us and our people.

11 So they ſent and gathered together all the lords of the Philiſtines, and ſaid, Send away the ark of the God of Iſrael, and let it go again to his own place, that it ſlay us not, and our people: for there was a deadly deſtruction throughout all the city: the hand of God was very heavy there.

---

4 They ſent to Shiloh that they might bring from thence the ark, &c.] This being done without any warrant from God, provoked him rather than procured his preſence among them.

7 God is come into the camp, &c.] The ſymbol of God's preſence, which, perhaps, they imagined the Iſraelites worſhipped as their God.

15 His eyes were dim that he could not ſee.] He was not able to diſcern the ſadneſs which was in the countenances of the people, but only heard their ſhrieks and lamentations.

18 When he made mention of the ark of God, that he fell from off, &c.] He was not ſo much affected with the loſs of his ſons, and the ſlaughter of the people, as with the loſs of the ark of God; for he kept up his courage, and did not fall till he heard that misfortune.

21 She named the child I-chabod, &c.] "I-chabod" is No glory, or Without glory.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

This chapter teaches us that the threats of the Lord never failed to be executed upon a guilty and impenitent people; and by the taking of the ark and the defeat of the Iſraelites by the Philiſtines, we may learn, that neither the covenant of God, nor the marks and ſeals of that covenant, will ſecure from divine vengeance thoſe who provoke him by their ſins.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

3 Dagon was fallen upon his face to the earth, &c.] In a poſture of the moſt humble adoration (which was proſtration) acknowledging the God of Iſrael to be above all gods.

6 Even Aſhdod and the coaſts thereof.] The people in general were ſmitten with this plague.

7 When the men of Aſhdod ſaw that it was ſo, &c.] Now their eyes were opened to ſee; that though they had vanquiſhed the Iſraelites, they could not ſtand before the God of Iſrael.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

We may from this chapter remark that God takes care of his glory; and though he ſometimes ſuffers his enemies to get the better, and events to fall out apparently contrary to his purpoſe, he ſooner or later exerts his power and vengeance, to the confuſion of thoſe who violate it, and to the honour of his moſt holy name.

Before CHRIST 1141. 12 And the men that died not were ſmitten with the emerods: and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

CHAP. VI.

1 After ſeven months the Philiſtines take counſel how to ſend back the ark. 10 They bring it on a new cart with an offering unto Beth-ſhemeſh. 19 The Beth-ſhemites are ſmitten for looking into the ark. 21 They ſend to the inhabitants of Kirjath-jearim to fetch it.

1140. AND the ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philiſtines ſeven months.

2 And the Philiſtines called for the prieſts and the diviners, ſaying, What ſhall we do to the ark of the LORD? tell us wherewith we ſhall ſend it to his place.

3 And they ſaid, If ye ſend away the ark of the God of Iſrael, ſend it not empty; but in any wiſe return him a treſpaſs offering: then ye ſhall be healed, and it ſhall be known to you why his hand is not removed from you.

4 Then ſaid they, What ſhall be the treſpaſs offering which we ſhall return to him? They anſwered, Five golden emerods, and five golden mice, according to the number of the lords of the Philiſtines: for one plague was on you all, and on your lords.

5 Wherefore ye ſhall make images of your emerods, and images of your mice that mar the land; and ye ſhall give glory unto the God of Iſrael: peradventure he will lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

6 Wherefore then do ye harden your hearts, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? when he had wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let the people go, and they departed?

7 Now therefore make a new cart, and take two milch kine, on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them:

8 And take the ark of the LORD, and lay it upon the cart; and put the jewels of gold, which ye return him for a treſpaſs offering, in a coffer by the ſide thereof; and ſend it away, that it may go.

9 And ſee, if it goeth up by the way of his own coaſt to Beth-ſhemeſh, then he hath done us this great evil: but if not, then we ſhall know that it is not his hand that ſmote us; it was a chance that happened to us.

10 ¶ And the men did ſo; and took two milch kine, and tied them to the cart, and ſhut up their calves at home:

11 And they laid the ark of the LORD upon the cart, and the coffer with the mice of gold and the images of their emerods.

12 And the kine took the ſtraight way to the way of Beth-ſhemeſh, and went along the highway, lowing as they went, and turned not aſide to the right hand or to the left; and the lords of the Philiſtines went after them unto the border of Beth-ſhemeſh.

13 And they of Beth-ſhemeſh were reaping their wheat harveſt in the valley: and they lifted up their eyes, and ſaw the ark, and rejoiced to ſee it.

14 And the cart came into the field of Joſhua, a Beth-ſhemite, and ſtood there, where there was a great ſtone: and they clave the wood of the cart, and offered the kine a burnt offering unto the LORD. Before CHRIST 1140.

15 And the Levites took down the ark of the LORD, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the jewels of gold were, and put them on the great ſtone: and the men of Beth-ſhemeſh offered burnt offerings and ſacrificed ſacrifices the ſame day unto the LORD.

16 And when the five lords of the Philiſtines had ſeen it, they returned to Ekron the ſame day.

17 And theſe are the golden emerods which the Philiſtines returned for a treſpaſs offering unto the LORD; for Aſhdod one, for Gaza one, for Aſhkelon one, for Gath one, for Ekron one;

18 And the golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philiſtines belonging to the five lords; both of fenced cities, and of country villages, even unto the great ſtone of Abel, whereon they ſet down the ark of the LORD: which ſtone remaineth unto this day in the field of Joſhua, the Beth-ſhemite.

19 ¶ And he ſmote the men of Beth-ſhemeſh, becauſe they had looked into the ark of the LORD, even he ſmote of the people fifty thouſand and threeſcore and ten men: and the people lamented, becauſe the LORD had ſmitten many of the people with a great ſlaughter.

20 And the men of Beth-ſhemeſh, ſaid, Who is able to ſtand before this holy LORD God? and to whom ſhall he go up from us?

21 ¶ And they ſent meſſengers to the inhabitants of Kirjath-jearim, ſaying, The Philiſtines have brought again the ark of the LORD; come ye down, and fetch it up to you.

CHAP. VII.

1 The ark is brought into the houſe of Abinadab at Kirjath-jearim, where it is kept by one of his ſons, and abideth twenty years. 3 At the exhortation of Samuel the Iſraelites ſolemnly repent at Mizpeh. 7 The people are alarmed with an irruption of the Philiſtines. 9 While Samuel prayeth and ſacrificeth, the Lord diſcomfiteth the Philiſtines with thunder at Eben-ezer. 13 The Philiſtines are ſubdued. 15 Samuel peaceably and religiouſly judgeth Iſrael.

AND the men of Kirjath-jearim came, and fetched up the ark of the LORD, and brought it into the houſe of Abinadab in the hill, and ſanctified Eleazar his ſon to keep the ark of the LORD.

2 And it came to paſs, while the ark abode in Kirjath-jearim, that the time was long; for it was twenty years: and all the houſe of Iſrael lamented after the LORD. 1120.

3 ¶ And Samuel ſpake unto all the houſe of Iſrael, ſaying, If ye do return unto the LORD with all your hearts, then put away the ſtrange gods and Aſhtaroth from among you, and prepare your hearts unto the LORD, and ſerve him only: and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

4 Then the children of Iſrael did put away Baalim and Aſhtaroth, and ſerved the LORD only.

5 And Samuel ſaid, Gather all Iſrael to Mizpeh, and I will pray for you unto the LORD.

6 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

2 And the diviners, &c.] They were a kind of prophets, pretending to know the will of God, and to foretel future events.

4 Five golden emerods, and five golden mice, &c.] The Philiſtines, in hopes ſhortly to be delivered from the emerods and mice wherewith they were ſorely afflicted, ſent the images of them unto that God from whom they expected deliverance.

7 Make a new cart, &c.] They would employ nothing about the ark that had ſerved for any other uſe.

14 And ſtood there, &c.] This was another miracle added to that of the kine going directly towards Beth-ſhemeſh, lowing all the way after their calves; namely, that they ſhould ſtand ſtill as ſoon as they were come into a territory of a city of the prieſts, whoſe duty it was to take care of the ark of God.

19 Fifty thouſand and threeſcore and ten men, &c.] Some interpret this place thus: He ſmote threeſcore and ten men, fifty out of a thouſand men; that is, ſay they, God was ſo indulgent as not to ſlay all that were guilty, but only ſeventy of them; obſerving this proportion, that he ſmote only a twentieth part.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

This chapter ſhews, that the triumph of the Philiſtines was of very ſhort duration: ſince God forced them ſoon to bring back his ark with an offering; which ſhews the dread they had of the God of Iſrael, and was a ſolemn acknowledgment of his power, and a monument of the plagues with which God had ſmitten them: thus God always maintains the intereſt of his glory, and obliges his enemies to do homage to his power.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

2 It was twenty years: and all the houſe of Iſrael, &c.] It may be rendered, It was twenty years, then all the houſe of Iſrael lamented, &c. the meaning of which is, that it was twenty years before the houſe of Iſrael lamented, &c.

Before CHRIST 1120.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpeh, and drew water, and poured it out before the LORD, and faſted on that day, and ſaid there, We have ſinned againſt the LORD. And Samuel judged the children of Iſrael in Mizpeh.

7 ¶ And when the Philiſtines heard that the children of Iſrael were gathered together to Mizpeh, the lords of the Philiſtines went up againſt Iſrael. And when the children of Iſrael heard it, they were afraid of the Philiſtines.

8 And the children of Iſrael ſaid to Samuel, Ceaſe not to cry unto the LORD our God for us, that he will ſave us out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

9 ¶ And Samuel took a ſucking lamb, and offered it for a burnt offering wholly unto the LORD: and Samuel cried unto the LORD for Iſrael; and the LORD heard him.

10 And as Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philiſtines drew near to battle againſt Iſrael: but the LORD thundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Philiſtines, and diſcomfited them; and they were ſmitten before Iſrael.

11 And the men of Iſrael went out of Mizpeh, and purſued the Philiſtines, and ſmote them, until they came under Beth-car.

12 Then Samuel took a ſtone, and ſet it between Mizpeh and Shen, and called the name of it Eben-ezer, ſaying, Hitherto hath the LORD helped us.

13 ¶ So the Philiſtines were ſubdued, and they came no more into the coaſt of Iſrael: and the hand of the LORD was againſt the Philiſtines all the days of Samuel.

14 And the cities which the Philiſtines had taken from Iſrael were reſtored to Iſrael, from Ekron even unto Gath; and the coaſts thereof did Iſrael deliver out of the hands of the Philiſtines. And there was peace between Iſrael and the Amorites.

15 ¶ And Samuel judged Iſrael all the days of his life.

16 And he went from year to year in circuit to Beth-el, and Gilgal, and Mizpeh, and judged Iſrael in all thoſe places.

17 And his return was to Ramah; for there was his houſe; and there he judged Iſrael; and there he built an altar unto the LORD.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By occaſion of the ill government of Samuel's ſons the Iſraelites deſire a king. 6 Samuel is diſpleaſed, and prayeth; he is comforted by God, but withal admoniſhed to hearken unto the people's requeſt. 10 He ſetteth before them by God's command the manner in which they muſt expect a king to rule over them. 19 The people ſtill continue their importunity, and God directeth Samuel to yield to them.

1112. AND it came to paſs, when Samuel was old, that he made his ſons judges over Iſrael.

2 Now the name of his firſtborn was Joel: and the name of his ſecond, Abiah: they were judges in Beer-ſheba.

3 And his ſons walked not in his ways, but turned aſide after lucre, and took bribes, and perverted judgment. Before CHRIST 1112.

4 Then all the elders of Iſrael gathered themſelves together, and came to Samuel unto Ramah,

5 And ſaid unto him, Behold, thou art old, and thy ſons walk not in thy ways: now make us a king to judge us like all the nations.

6 ¶ But the thing diſpleaſed Samuel, when they ſaid, Give us a king to judge us. And Samuel prayed unto the LORD. 1095.

7 And the LORD ſaid unto Samuel, Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they ſay unto thee: for they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I ſhould not reign over them.

8 According to all the works which they have done ſince the day that I brought them up out of Egypt even unto this day, wherewith they have forſaken me, and ſerved other gods, ſo do they alſo unto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken unto their voice: howbeit yet proteſt ſolemnly unto them, and ſhew them the manner of the king that ſhall reign over them.

10 ¶ And Samuel told all the words of the LORD unto the people that aſked of him a king.

11 And he ſaid, This will be the manner of the king that ſhall reign over you: He will take your ſons, and appoint them for himſelf, for his chariots, and to be his horſemen; and ſome ſhall run before his chariots.

12 And he will appoint him captains over thouſands, and captains over fifties; and will ſet them to ear his ground, and to reap his harveſt, and to make his inſtruments of war, and inſtruments of his chariots.

13 And he will take your daughters to be confectionaries, and to be cooks, and to be bakers.

14 And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the beſt of them, and give them to his ſervants.

15 And he will take the tenth of your ſeed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his ſervants.

16 And he will take your menſervants, and your maidſervants, and your goodlieſt young men, and your aſſes, and put them to his work.

17 He will take the tenth of your ſheep: and ye ſhall be his ſervants.

18 And ye ſhall cry out in that day becauſe of your king which ye ſhall have choſen you; and the LORD will not hear you in that day.

19 ¶ Nevertheleſs the people refuſed to obey the voice of Samuel; and they ſaid, Nay; but we will have a king over us;

20 That we alſo may be like all the nations; and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles.

21 And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and he rehearſed them in the ears of the LORD.

22 And the LORD ſaid to Samuel, Hearken unto their voice, and make them a king. And Samuel ſaid unto the men of Iſrael, Go ye every man unto his city.

CHAP.

---

6 And drew water, and poured it out before the Lord, &c.] The moſt probable opinion is, that this water was, upon this occaſion, poured out by way of libation before God.

9 And offered it for a burnt offering, &c.] Though he was not a prieſt, nor this place appointed for ſacrifice, yet, as a prophet, he had authority from God to build an altar any-where, and to make his ſupplication in this manner; and we know that his offering was accepted, becauſe it is ſaid in this verſe, that "the Lord heard him."

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

We learn from this chapter, that the prayers of good men are of great efficacy; and that the care Samuel took to adminiſter juſtice to the people yearly, ſhould induce magiſtrates to diſcharge the duties of their office with application and integrity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

1 He made his ſons judges, &c.] When he could not well ſuſtain all the labour himſelf, he took his ſons to aſſiſt him.

7 Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they ſay unto thee, &c.] Theſe are the words of an angry ſovereign, being as much as to ſay, Let them have their will.

12 He will appoint him captains, &c.] Some he will appoint to military employments; ſome to agriculture and huſbandry; and others he will make artificers.

14 And give them to his ſervants.] Beſtow them on ſuch of his courtiers as he ſhall think proper.

19 Nay; but we will have a king over us.] Samuel's deſcription of the government of the eaſtern kings did not deter them from perſiſting in their deſires; they peremptorily demanded a king, though Samuel told them that this demand was a rejection of the government of God.

22 Go ye every man unto his city.] He bade them leave the buſineſs unto him, and God, he doubted not, would ſet a king over them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

We may learn from this chapter, that God always makes known to men his will, and their duty; and forewarns them of the misfortunes that threaten them, and which they draw upon themſelves, after having refuſed to follow his counſel.

CHAP. IX.

Before CHRIST 1095. 1 Saul the ſon of Kiſh is ſent to ſeek his father's aſſes which were loſt, and deſpairing to find them is counſelled by his ſervant to apply to Samuel. 11 He is directed by ſome young maidens where to meet with him. 15 Samuel, having been told by God both of his coming, and of his appointment to the kingdom, entertaineth him at a feaſt with great reſpect; 25 and on the morrow, after a private converſation, bringeth him on his way.

NOW there was a man of Benjamin, whoſe name was Kiſh, the ſon of Abiel, the ſon of Zeror, the ſon of Bechorath, the ſon of Aphiah, a Benjamite, a mighty man of power.

2 And he had a ſon, whoſe name was Saul, a choice young man, and a goodly: and there was not among the children of Iſrael a goodlier perſon than he: from his ſhoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people.

3 And the aſſes of Kiſh Saul's father were loſt. And Kiſh ſaid to Saul his ſon, Take now one of the ſervants with thee, and ariſe, go ſeek the aſſes.

4 And he paſſed through mount Ephraim, and paſſed through the land of Shaliſha, but they found them not: then they paſſed through the land of Shalim, and there they were not: and he paſſed through the land of the Benjamites, but they found them not.

5 And when they were come to the land of Zuph, Saul ſaid to his ſervant that was with him, Come, and let us return; leſt my father leave caring for the aſſes, and take thought for us.

6 And he ſaid unto him, Behold now, there is in this city a man of God, and he is an honourable man; all that he ſaith cometh ſurely to paſs: now let us go thither; peradventure he can ſhew us our way that we ſhould go.

7 Then ſaid Saul to his ſervant, But, behold, if we go, what ſhall we bring the man? for the bread is ſpent in our veſſels, and there is not a preſent to bring to the man of God: what have we?

8 And the ſervant anſwered Saul again, and ſaid, Behold, I have here at hand the fourth part of a ſhekel of ſilver: that will I give to the man of God, to tell us our way.

9 (Beforetime in Iſrael, when a man went to enquire of God, thus he ſpake, Come, and let us go to the ſeer: for he that is now called a Prophet was beforetime called a Seer.)

10 Then ſaid Saul to his ſervant, Well ſaid; come, let us go. So they went unto the city where the man of God was.

11 ¶ And as they went up the hill to the city, they found young maidens going out to draw water, and ſaid unto them, Is the ſeer here?

12 And they anſwered them, and ſaid, He is; behold, he is before you: make haſte now, for he came to day to the city; for there is a ſacrifice of the people to day in the high place:

13 As ſoon as ye be come into the city, ye ſhall ſtraightway find him, before he go up to the high place to eat: for the people will not eat until he come, becauſe he doth bleſs the ſacrifice; and afterwards they eat that be bidden. Now therefore get you up; for about this time ye ſhall find him.

14 And they went up into the city: and when they were come into the city, behold, Samuel came out againſt them, for to go up to the high place. Before CHRIST 1095.

15 ¶ Now the LORD had told Samuel in his ear a day before Saul came, ſaying,

16 To morrow about this time I will ſend thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and thou ſhalt anoint him to be captain over my people Iſrael, that he may ſave my people out of the hand of the Philiſtines: for I have looked upon my people, becauſe their cry is come unto me.

17 And when Samuel ſaw Saul, the LORD ſaid unto him, Behold the man whom I ſpake to thee of! this ſame ſhall reign over my people.

18 Then Saul drew near to Samuel in the gate, and ſaid, Tell me, I pray thee, where the ſeer's houſe is.

19 And Samuel anſwered Saul, and ſaid, I am the ſeer; go up before me unto the high place; for ye ſhall eat with me to day, and to morrow I will let thee go, and will tell thee all that is in thine heart.

20 And as for thine aſſes that were loſt three days ago, ſet not thy mind on them; for they are found. And on whom is all the deſire of Iſrael? Is it not on thee, and on all thy father's houſe?

21 And Saul anſwered and ſaid, Am not I a Benjamite, of the ſmalleſt of the tribes of Iſrael? and my family the leaſt of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? wherefore then ſpeakeſt thou ſo to me?

22 And Samuel took Saul and his ſervant, and brought them into the parlour, and made them ſit in the chiefeſt place among them that were bidden, which were about thirty perſons.

23 And Samuel ſaid unto the cook, Bring the portion which I gave thee, of which I ſaid unto thee, Set it by thee.

24 And the cook took up the ſhoulder, and that which was upon it, and ſet it before Saul. And Samuel ſaid, Behold that which is left! ſet it before thee, and eat: for unto this time hath it been kept for thee ſince I ſaid, I have invited the people. So Saul did eat with Samuel that day.

25 ¶ And when they were come down from the high place into the city, Samuel communed with Saul upon the top of the houſe.

26 And they aroſe early: and it came to paſs about the ſpring of the day, that Samuel called Saul to the top of the houſe, ſaying, Up, that I may ſend thee away. And Saul aroſe, and they went out both of them, he and Samuel, abroad.

27 And as they were going down to the end of the city, Samuel ſaid to Saul, Bid the ſervant paſs on before us, (and he paſſed on,) but ſtand thou ſtill a while, that I may ſhew thee the word of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

1 A mighty man of power.] Referring to his great ſtrength, valour, and fortitude.

4 And he paſſed through the land of the Benjamites, &c.] Or, he had paſſed through, &c.

5 The land of Zuph, &c.] A territory in the tribe of Ephraim.

8 The fourth part of a ſhekel of ſilver, &c.] About nine-pence: a ſmall preſent, but as acceptable as the widow's mite, being all they had left.

12 In the high place.] It is the opinion of ſome learned men, that this appointment of a private or inferior place of worſhip (while the ark and tabernacle were in being) by ſo great an authority as that of Samuel, gave riſe to the inſtitution of ſynagogues and proſeuchas in ſo many places of the kingdom afterwards.

17 Shall reign over, &c.] Rule them with an abſolute, uncontrolable power, ſternly and rigidly, after the manner of the eaſtern monarchs.

24 And that which was upon it] The breaſt.

Behold that which is left! &c.] Reſerved on purpoſe for his entertainment.

27 Bid thy ſervant paſs on before us, &c.] To let Saul underſtand, that what he was going to do was by divine order and appointment.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

This hiſtory ſhews us, that Providence preſides over all events; that from God, kings rule; and therefore we ought to ſubmit ourſelves to them, in his fear.

Before CHRIST 1095. THEN Samuel took a vial of oil, and poured it upon his head, and kissed him, and said, Is it not because the LORD hath anointed thee to be captain over his inheritance?

2 When thou art departed from me to day, then thou shalt find two men by Rachael's sepulchre in the border of Benjamin at Zelzah; and they will say unto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seek are found: and, lo, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, What shall I do for my son?

3 Then shalt thou go on forward from thence, and thou shalt come to the plain of Tabor, and there shall meet thee three men going up to God to Beth-el, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine:

4 And they will salute thee, and give thee two loaves of bread; which thou shalt receive of their hands.

5 After that thou shalt come to the hill of God, where is the garrison of the Philistines: and it shall come to pass, when thou art come thither to the city, that thou shalt meet a company of prophets coming down from the high place with a psaltery, and a tabret, and a pipe, and a harp, before them; and they shall prophesy:

6 And the Spirit of the LORD will come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

7 And let it be, when these signs are come unto thee, that thou do as occasion serve thee; for God is with thee.

8 And thou shalt go down before me to Gilgal; and, behold, I will come down unto thee, to offer burnt offerings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace offerings: seven days shalt thou tarry, till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

9 ¶ And it was so, that when he had turned his back to go from Samuel, God gave him another heart: and all those signs came to pass that day.

10 And when they came thither to the hill, behold a company of prophets met him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them.

11 And it came to pass, when all that knew him beforetime saw that, behold, he prophesied among the prophets, then the people said one to another, What is this that is come unto the son of Kish? Is Saul also among the prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered and said, But who is their father? Therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high place.

14 ¶ And Saul's uncle said unto him and to his servant, Whither went ye? And he said, To seek the asses: and when we saw that they were no where, we came to Samuel.

15 And Saul's uncle said, Tell me, I pray thee, what Samuel said unto you.

16 And Saul said unto his uncle, He told us plainly that the asses were found. But of the matter of the kingdom, whereof Samuel spake, he told him not. Before CHRIST 1096.

17 ¶ And Samuel called the people together unto the LORD to Mizpeh;

18 And said unto the children of Israel, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all kingdoms, and of them that oppressed you:

19 And ye have this day rejected your God, who himself saved you out of all your adversities and your tribulations; and ye have said unto him, Nay, but set a king over us. Now therefore present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes, and by your thousands.

20 And when Samuel had caused all the tribes of Israel to come near, the tribe of Benjamin was taken.

21 When he had caused the tribe of Benjamin to come near by their families, the family of Matri was taken, and Saul the son of Kish was taken: and when they sought him, he could not be found.

22 Therefore they enquired of the LORD further, if the man should yet come thither. And the LORD answered, Behold, he hath hid himself among the stuff.

23 And they ran and fetched him thence: and when he stood among the people, he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward.

24 And Samuel said to all the people, See ye him whom the LORD hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and said, God save the king.

25 Then Samuel told the people the manner of the kingdom, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the LORD. And Samuel sent all the people away, every man to his house.

26 ¶ And Saul also went home to Gibeah; and there went with him a band of men, whose hearts God had touched.

27 But the children of Belial said, How shall this man save us? and they despised him, and brought him no presents. But he held his peace.

CHAP. XI.

1 Nahash the Ammonite making war against Jabesh-gilead proposeth very reproachful terms to the inhabitants, who petition for a respite of seven days. 4 They send to Saul, who bringeth them succours, and smiteth the Ammonites. 12 The people call for the death of those who had vilified Saul, to which Saul will by no means consent. 14 His kingdom is joyfully renewed to him at Gilgal.

THEN Nahash the Ammonite came up, and encamped against Jabesh-gilead: and all the men of Jabesh said unto Nahash, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee.

2 And Nahash the Ammonite answered them, On this condition will I make a covenant with you, that I may thrust out all your right eyes, and lay it for a reproach upon all Israel.

3 And the elders of Jabesh said unto him, Give us seven

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1. A vial of oil, &c.] This rite of unction was so much the divine care, that we find God giving Moses a prescription how to make the consecrated oil.

2 When thou art departed from me to day, then thou shalt find, &c.] What Samuel foretold to Saul concerning the asses, was an argument that he was a prophet, and therefore was to be believed in what he said to him from God concerning the kingdom.

5 They shall prophesy.] Shall sing the praises of God, for so the word "prophesy" sometimes signifies. See 1 Chron. xxv. 3.

6 Be turned into another man.] Endued with extraordinary prudence and courage, and such qualities as fitted him for the government of God's people.

8 Behold, I will come down unto thee, &c.] These words, and the remainder of the verse, should have been pointed in the following manner: Thou shalt go before me to Gilgal, and behold, I will come unto thee to offer burnt-offerings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace offerings: seven days—Thou shalt tarry till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

9 God gave him another heart, &c.] He was no sooner gone from Samuel, but he felt another spirit come into him of wisdom and fortitude, to qualify him for the government.

14 When we saw that they were no where, &c.] In no place where they sought them.

21 He could not be found.] Out of modesty he had withdrawn himself, as declining so high an authority.

22 Among the stuff.] Among the carriages.

27 But he held his peace.] In this Saul acted a very wise and politic part, being unwilling to begin his reign with any disorder or tumult, which his just resentment of such an affront might perhaps have occasioned.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

From this chapter we learn, that when God calls any one to an important charge, he grants him the necessary gifts for discharging the duties thereof; and that if Saul had not fallen into disobedience, he would have continually enjoyed the favour of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1. Nahash the Ammonite came up, and encamped against Jabesh-gilead, &c.] This siege is supposed to have been commenced about a month after Saul was chosen king.

2 That I may thrust out all your right eyes, and lay it for a reproach upon all Israel.] This barbarous king was too politic to propose the putting

Before CHRIST 1095. ſeven days' reſpite, that we may ſend meſſengers unto all the coaſts of Iſrael: and then, if there be no man to ſave us, we will come out to thee.

4 ¶ Then came the meſſengers to Gibeah of Saul, and told the tidings in the ears of the people: and all the people lifted up their voices, and wept.

5 And, behold, Saul came after the herd out of the field; and Saul ſaid, What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the tidings of the men of Jabeſh.

6 And the Spirit of God came upon Saul when he heard thoſe tidings, and his anger was kindled greatly.

7 And he took a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and ſent them throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael by the hands of meſſengers, ſaying, Whoſoever cometh not forth after Saul and after Samuel, ſo ſhall it be done unto his oxen. And the fear of the LORD fell on the people, and they came out with one conſent.

8 And when he numbered them in Bezek, the children of Iſrael were three hundred thouſand, and the men of Judah thirty thouſand.

9 And they ſaid unto the meſſengers that came, Thus ſhall ye ſay unto the men of Jabeſh-gilead, To morrow, by that time the ſun be hot, ye ſhall have help. And the meſſengers came and ſhewed it to the men of Jabeſh; and they were glad.

10 Therefore the men of Jabeſh ſaid, To morrow we will come out unto you, and ye ſhall do with us all that ſeemeth good unto you.

11 And it was ſo on the morrow, that Saul put the people in three companies; and they came into the midſt of the hoſt in the morning watch, and ſlew the Ammonites until the heat of the day: and it came to paſs, that they which remained were ſcattered, ſo that two of them were not left together.

12 ¶ And the people ſaid unto Samuel, Who is he that ſaid, Shall Saul reign over us? bring the men, that we may put them to death.

13 And Saul ſaid, There ſhall not a man be put to death this day: for to day the LORD hath wrought ſalvation in Iſrael.

14 ¶ Then ſaid Samuel to the people, Come, and let us go to Gilgal, and renew the kingdom there.

15 And all the people went to Gilgal; and there they made Saul king before the LORD in Gilgal; and there they ſacrificed ſacrifices of peace offerings before the LORD; and there Saul and all the men of Iſrael rejoiced greatly.

CHAP. XII.

1 Samuel calleth upon the people, and receiveth from them an ample juſtification of his integrity. 6 He chargeth them with ingratitude in rejecting God's government, and warneth them againſt future diſobedience. To convince them of their offence in aſking a king, 18 he calleth for thunder and rain in the time of harveſt to their great diſmay; 20 but encourageth them with the aſſurance of divine favour, if they will but fear the Lord and ſerve him heartily.

AND Samuel ſaid unto all Iſrael, Behold, I have hearkened unto your voice in all that ye ſaid unto me, and have made a king over you.

2 And now, behold, the king walketh before you: Before CHRIST 1095. and I am old and grayheaded; and, behold, my ſons are with you: and I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day.

3 Behold, here I am: witneſs againſt me before the LORD, and before his anointed: whoſe ox have I taken? or whoſe aſs have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppreſſed? or of whoſe hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith? and I will reſtore it you.

4 And they ſaid, Thou haſt not defrauded us, nor oppreſſed us, neither haſt thou taken ought of any man's hand.

5 And he ſaid unto them, The LORD is witneſs againſt you, and his anointed is witneſs this day, that ye have not found ought in my hand. And they anſwered, He is witneſs.

6 ¶ And Samuel ſaid unto the people, It is the LORD that advanced Moſes and Aaron, and that brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt.

7 Now therefore ſtand ſtill, that I may reaſon with you before the LORD of all the righteous acts of the LORD, which he did to you and to your fathers.

8 When Jacob was come into Egypt, and your fathers cried unto the LORD, then the LORD ſent Moſes and Aaron, which brought forth your fathers out of Egypt, and made them dwell in this place.

9 And when they forgat the LORD their God, he ſold them into the hand of Siſera, captain of the hoſt of Hazor, and into the hand of the Philiſtines, and into the hand of the king of Moab, and they fought againſt them.

10 And they cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, We have ſinned, becauſe we have forſaken the LORD, and have ſerved Baalim and Aſhtaroth: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will ſerve thee.

11 And the LORD ſent Jerubbaal, and Bedan, and Jephthah, and Samuel, and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every ſide, and ye dwelled ſafe.

12 And when ye ſaw that Nahaſh the king of the children of Ammon came againſt you, ye ſaid unto me, Nay; but a king ſhall reign over us: when the LORD your God was your king.

13 Now therefore behold the king whom ye have choſen, and whom ye have deſired! and, behold, the LORD hath ſet a king over you.

14 If ye will fear the LORD, and ſerve him, and obey his voice, and not rebel againſt the commandment of the LORD, then ſhall both ye and alſo the king that reigneth over you continue following the LORD your God:

15 But if ye will not obey the voice of the LORD, but rebel againſt the commandment of the LORD, then ſhall the hand of the LORD be againſt you, as it was againſt your fathers.

16 Now therefore ſtand and ſee this great thing, which the LORD will do before your eyes.

17 Is it not wheat harveſt to day? I will call unto the LORD, and he ſhall ſend thunder and rain; that ye may perceive and ſee that your wickedneſs is great, which ye have done in the ſight of the LORD, in aſking you a king.

putting out both their eyes, for then would he have made them utterly incapable of doing him the ſervice, or acquiring the tribute for him which he expected from them.

4 Gibeah of Saul, &c.] So called, becauſe Saul was there born, bred, and dwelt.

12 Who is he that ſaid, Shall Saul reign over us? &c.] What great alterations ſucceſs is apt to make in the affections of the people! But a little while ago they quietly ſaw Saul ſlighted and deſpiſed, but now are zealous that enquiry ſhould be made after thoſe ſons of Belial who ſpake ſo opprobriouſly of him.

13 For to day the Lord hath wrought ſalvation in Iſrael.] Beſides the policy he exerciſed in pardoning offenders, it was pious in him to imitate that God who had been ſo good to them all.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

The clemency and moderation of Saul ſhould be a leſſon to every body, eſpecially thoſe in authority, to lay aſide their reſentments and revenge, and to pardon the offences committed againſt them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

4 And they ſaid, Thou haſt not defrauded us, &c.] They acknowledge him to be an upright judge, who could not be charged with injuring any one.

9 And when they forgat the Lord their God, he ſold them, &c.] This is a ſhort hiſtory of the calamities which befel them for their idolatry, after they came into Canaan; ſome few of which only he mentions, without obſerving the exact order in which they came upon them.

11 Jerubbaal, and Bedan, and Jephthah, and Samuel, &c.] The LXX. Syriac, and Arabic verſions, inſtead of Bedan, read Barak: the two latter read Samſon, as the laſt deliverer mentioned, where the Hebrew has Samuel. See Heb. xi. 32.

Before CHRIST 1095. LORD ſent thunder and rain that day: and all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel.

19 And all the people ſaid unto Samuel, Pray for thy ſervants unto the LORD thy God, that we die not: for we have added unto all our ſins this evil, to aſk us a king.

20 ¶ And Samuel ſaid unto the people, Fear not: ye have done all this wickedneſs: yet turn not aſide from following the LORD, but ſerve the LORD with all your heart;

21 And turn ye not aſide: for then ſhould ye go after vain things, which cannot profit nor deliver; for they are vain.

22 For the LORD will not forſake his people for his great name's ſake: becauſe it hath pleaſed the LORD to make you his people.

23 Moreover as for me, God forbid that I ſhould ſin againſt the LORD in ceaſing to pray for you: but I will teach you the good and the right way:

24 Only fear the LORD, and ſerve him in truth with all your heart: for conſider how great things he hath done for you.

25 But if ye ſhall ſtill do wickedly, ye ſhall be conſumed, both ye and your king.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Saul's ſelect band. 3 Jonathan ſmiteth the Philiſtines' garriſon, whereupon the people are called together to Gilgal. 5 The Philiſtines bring a great hoſt into the field. 6 The diſtreſs of the Iſraelites. 8 Saul weary of ſtaying for Samuel offereth a burnt offering. 11 His excuſe to Samuel, who ſharply reproveth him. 17 The Philiſtines ſend out three bands of ſpoilers. 19 The policy of the Philiſtines in ſuffering no ſmith in Iſrael.

SAUL reigned one year; and when he had reigned two years over Iſrael,

2 Saul choſe him three thouſand men of Iſrael; 1093. whereof two thouſand were with Saul in Michmaſh and in mount Beth-el, and a thouſand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin: and the reſt of the people he ſent every man to his tent.

3 ¶ And Jonathan ſmote the garriſon of the Philiſtines that was in Geba, and the Philiſtines heard of it. And Saul blew the trumpet throughout all the land, ſaying, Let the Hebrews hear.

4 And all Iſrael heard ſay that Saul had ſmitten a garriſon of the Philiſtines, and that Iſrael alſo was had in abomination with the Philiſtines. And the people were called together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 ¶ And the Philiſtines gathered themſelves together to fight with Iſrael, thirty thouſand chariots, and ſix thouſand horſemen, and people as the ſand which is on the ſeaſhore in multitude: and they came up, and pitched in Michmaſh, eaſtward from Beth-aven.

6 ¶ When the men of Iſrael ſaw that they were in a ſtraight, (for the people were diſtreſſed,) then the people did hide themſelves in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in high places, and in pits.

7 And ſome of the Hebrews went over Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. As for Saul, he was yet in Gilgal, and all the people followed him trembling. Before CHRIST 1093.

8 ¶ And he tarried ſeven days, according to the ſet time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal; and the people were ſcattered from him.

9 And Saul ſaid, Bring hither a burnt offering to me, and peace offerings. And he offered the burnt offering.

10 And it came to paſs, that as ſoon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, behold, Samuel came: and Saul went out to meet him, that he might ſalute him.

11 ¶ And Samuel ſaid, What haſt thou done? And Saul ſaid, Becauſe I ſaw that the people were ſcattered from me, and that thou cameſt not within the days appointed, and that the Philiſtines gathered themſelves together at Michmaſh;

12 Therefore ſaid I, The Philiſtines will come down now upon me to Gilgal, and I have not made ſupplication unto the LORD: I forced myſelf therefore, and offered a burnt offering.

13 And Samuel ſaid to Saul, Thou haſt done fooliſhly: thou haſt not kept the commandment of the LORD thy God, which he commanded thee: for now would the LORD have eſtabliſhed thy kingdom upon Iſrael for ever.

14 But now thy kingdom ſhall not continue: the LORD hath ſought him a man after his own heart, and the LORD hath commanded him to be captain over his people, becauſe thou haſt not kept that which the LORD commanded thee.

15 And Samuel aroſe, and gat him up from Gilgal unto Gibeah of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people that were preſent with him, about ſix hundred men.

16 And Saul and Jonathan his ſon, and the people that were preſent with them, abode in Gibeah of Benjamin: but the Philiſtines encamped in Michmaſh.

17 ¶ And the ſpoilers came out of the camp of the Philiſtines in three companies: one company turned unto the way that leadeth to Ophrah, unto the land of Shual:

18 And another company turned the way to Beth-horon: and another company turned to the way of the border that looketh to the valley of Zeboim toward the wilderneſs.

19 ¶ Now there was no ſmith found throughout all the land of Iſrael: for the Philiſtines ſaid, Leſt the Hebrews make them ſwords or ſpears:

20 But all the Iſraelites went down to the Philiſtines, to ſharpen every man his ſhare, and his coulter, and his ax, and his mattock.

21 Yet they had a file for the mattocks, and for the coulters, and for the forks, and for the axes, and to ſharpen the goads.

22 So it came to paſs in the day of battle, that there was neither ſword nor ſpear found in the hand of any of the people that were with Saul and Jonathan: but with Saul and with Jonathan his ſon was there found.

23 And the garriſon of the Philiſtines went out to the paſſage of Michmaſh.

CHAP.

---

20 Fear not, &c.] He would not have them deſpair of recovering God's favour, and directs them the beſt way to it, by continuing ſo ſenſible of their wickedneſs, as to be moved to true repentance and ſtedfaſt obedience.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

From this chapter we may obſerve, that God bleſſes thoſe ſtates and governments where juſtice and pure religion prevail, but that thoſe princes and their people, who provoke him by their offences, ſhall at laſt, if they repent not, be utterly conſumed.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIII.

1 Saul reigned one year; and when he had reigned two years, &c.] The beſt interpretation of this verſe ſeems to be this: After the Philiſtines were ſubdued by Samuel, a year paſſed, when Saul began to reign; and after this, he reigned two years free from their yoke.

5 Thirty thouſand chariots, &c.] The Syriac and Arabic verſions make no more than three thouſand. Some ſuppoſe that theſe thirty thouſand chariots were not chariots of war, but moſt of them carriages only, for the conveyance of the baggage belonging to ſuch a multitude of men, or for the deportation of the plunder they hoped to obtain by conquering the country.

8 And he tarried ſeven days, &c.] Saul miſtook Samuel's meaning, who told him, he would come and offer ſacrifice ſeven days; and then adds, "thou ſhalt tarry till I come."

13 Thou haſt done fooliſhly] In this behaviour of Saul, there were all the ſigns of pride, ingratitude, impatience, diſtruſt, neglect of God, contempt of his prophet, and an apparent invaſion of the prieſtly office.

For ever.] "For ever" ſignifies in this, as in many other places of ſcripture, no more than a long time.

18 The valley of Zeboim, &c.] It may be rendered the valley of vipers: it abounded with a ſort of ſpeckled ſerpents.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

The rejecting of Saul ſhews, that thoſe whom God has choſen, and on whom he has beſtowed particular favours, may loſe all thoſe advantages, if they render themſelves unworthy thereof, and may be at laſt rejected by God; which ought to keep us within the bounds of a continual fear and humility.

CHAP. XIV.

Before CHRIST 1037. 1 Jonathan, without the knowledge of his father or any of the people, attended by his armourbearer only, ſmiteth the Philiſtine garriſon. 15 The Philiſtines ſeized with a panic beat down one another. 17 Saul perceiving the tumult enquireth of God, but without waiting for the prieſt's anſwer ſetteth upon the enemy, and is joined by the Hebrews who were before with the Philiſtines, and by the Iſraelites out of their hiding places. 24 His unadviſed adjuration is a hindrance of the victory. 31 The people, faint for want of food, fly upon the ſpoil, and are hardly reſtrained from eating the blood. 35 Saul buildeth an altar; 37 he aſketh council of God, but receiveth no anſwer. 38 Jonathan taken by lot, and ſentenced to die, is reſcued by the people. 47 Saul's victories. 49 His family.

NOW it came to paſs upon a day, that Jonathan the ſon of Saul ſaid unto the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over to the Philiſtines' garriſon, that is on the other ſide. But he told not his father.

2 And Saul tarried in the uttermoſt part of Gibeah under a pomegranate tree which is in Migron: and the people that were with him were about ſix hundred men;

3 And Ahiah, the ſon of Ahitub, I-chabod's brother, the ſon of Phineas, the ſon of Eli, the LORD's prieſt in Shiloh, wearing an ephod. And the people knew not that Jonathan was gone.

4 And between the paſſages, by which Jonathan ſought to go over unto the Philiſtines' garriſon, there was a ſharp rock on the one ſide, and a ſharp rock on the other ſide: and the name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

5 The forefront of the one was ſituate northward over againſt Michmaſh, and the other ſouthward over againſt Gibeah.

6 And Jonathan ſaid to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garriſon of theſe uncircumciſed: it may be that the LORD will work for us, for there is no reſtraint to the LORD to ſave by many or by few.

7 And his armourbearer ſaid unto him, Do all that is in thine heart: turn thee; behold, I am with thee according to thy heart.

8 Then ſaid Jonathan, Behold, we will paſs over unto theſe men, and we will diſcover ourſelves unto them.

9 If they ſay thus unto us, Tarry until we come to you; then we will ſtand ſtill in our place, and will not go up unto them.

10 But if they ſay thus, Come up unto us; then we will go up: for the LORD hath delivered them into our hand: and this ſhall be a ſign unto us.

11 And both of them diſcovered themſelves unto the garriſon of the Philiſtines: and the Philiſtines ſaid, Behold, the Hebrews come forth out of the holes where they had hid themſelves.

12 And the men of the garriſon anſwered Jonathan and his armourbearer, and ſaid, Come up to us, and we will ſhew you a thing. And Jonathan ſaid unto his armourbearer, Come up after me: for the LORD hath delivered them into the hand of Iſrael.

13 And Jonathan climbed up upon his hands and upon his feet, and his armourbearer after him: and they fell before Jonathan; and his armourbearer ſlew after him.

14 And that firſt ſlaughter, which Jonathan and his armourbearer made, was about twenty men, within as it were an half acre of land, which a yoke of oxen might plow. Before CHRIST 1063.

15 ¶ And there was trembling in the hoſt, in the field, and among all the people: the garriſon, and the ſpoilers, they alſo trembled, and the earth quaked: ſo it was a very great trembling.

16 And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked; and, behold, the multitude melted away, and they went on beating down one another.

17 ¶ Then ſaid Saul unto the people that were with him, Number now, and ſee who is gone from us. And when they had numbered, behold, Jonathan and his armourbearer were not there.

18 And Saul ſaid unto Ahiah, Bring hither the ark of God. For the ark of God was at that time with the children of Iſrael.

19 And it came to paſs, while Saul talked unto the prieſt, that the noiſe that was in the hoſt of the Philiſtines went on and increaſed: and Saul ſaid unto the prieſt, Withdraw thine hand.

20 And Saul and all the people that were with him aſſembled themſelves, and they came to the battle: and, behold, every man's ſword was againſt his fellow, and there was a very great diſcomfiture.

21 Moreover the Hebrews that were with the Philiſtines before that time, which went up with them into the camp from the country round about, even they alſo turned to be with the Iſraelites that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 Likewiſe all the men of Iſrael which had hid themſelves in mount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philiſtines fled, even they alſo followed hard after them in the battle.

23 So the LORD ſaved Iſrael that day: and the battle paſſed over unto Beth-aven.

24 ¶ And the men of Iſrael were diſtreſſed that day: for Saul had adjured the people, ſaying, Curſed be the man that eateth any food until evening, that I may be avenged on mine enemies. So none of the people taſted any food.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood; and there was honey upon the ground.

26 And when the people were come into the wood, behold, the honey dropped; but no man put his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the oath.

27 But Jonathan heard not when his father charged the people with the oath: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hand, and dipped it in an honeycomb, and put his hand to his mouth; and his eyes were enlightened.

28 Then anſwered one of the people, and ſaid, Thy father ſtraightly charged the people with an oath, ſaying, Curſed be the man that eateth any food this day. And the people were faint.

29 Then ſaid Jonathan, My father hath troubled the land: ſee, I pray you, how mine eyes have been enlightened, becauſe I taſted a little of this honey.

30 How much more, if haply the people had eaten freely to day of the ſpoil of their enemies which they found? for had there not been now a much greater ſlaughter among the Philiſtines?

31 ¶ And they ſmote the Philiſtines that day from Michmaſh to Aijalon: and the people were very faint.

32 And the people flew upon the ſpoil, and took ſheep,

Before CHRIST 1087. ſheep, and oxen, and calves, and ſlew them on the ground: and the people did eat them with the blood.

33 Then they told Saul, ſaying, Behold, the people ſin againſt the LORD, in that they eat with the blood. And he ſaid, Ye have tranſgreſſed: roll a great ſtone unto me this day.

34 And Saul ſaid, Diſperſe yourſelves among the people, and ſay unto them, Bring me hither every man his ox, and every man his ſheep, and ſlay them here, and eat; and ſin not againſt the LORD in eating with the blood. And all the people brought every man his ox with him that night, and ſlew them there.

35 ¶ And Saul built an altar unto the LORD: the ſame was the firſt altar that he built unto the LORD.

36 And Saul ſaid, Let us go down after the Philiſtines by night, and ſpoil them until the morning light, and let us not leave a man of them. And they ſaid, Do whatſoever ſeemeth good unto thee. Then ſaid the prieſt, Let us draw near hither unto God.

37 ¶ And Saul aſked counſel of God, Shall I go down after the Philiſtines? wilt thou deliver them into the hand of Iſrael? But he anſwered him not that day.

38 ¶ And Saul ſaid, Draw ye near hither, all the chief of the people: and know and ſee wherein this ſin hath been this day.

39 For, as the LORD liveth, which ſaveth Iſrael, though it be in Jonathan my ſon, he ſhall ſurely die. But there was not a man among all the people that anſwered him.

40 Then ſaid he unto all Iſrael, Be ye on one ſide, and I and Jonathan my ſon will be on the other ſide. And the people ſaid unto Saul, Do what ſeemeth good unto thee.

41 Therefore Saul ſaid unto the LORD God of Iſrael, Give a perfect lot. And Saul and Jonathan were taken: but the people eſcaped.

42 And Saul ſaid, Caſt lots between me and Jonathan my ſon. And Jonathan was taken.

43 Then Saul ſaid to Jonathan, Tell me what thou haſt done. And Jonathan told him, and ſaid, I did but taſte a little honey with the end of the rod that was in mine hand, and, lo, I muſt die.

44 And Saul anſwered, God do ſo and more alſo: for thou ſhalt ſurely die, Jonathan.

45 And the people ſaid unto Saul, Shall Jonathan die, who hath wrought this great ſalvation in Iſrael? God forbid: as the LORD liveth, there ſhall not one hair of his head fall to the ground; for he hath wrought with God this day. So the people reſcued Jonathan, that he died not.

46 Then Saul went up from following the Philiſtines: and the Philiſtines went to their own place.

47 ¶ So Saul took the kingdom over Iſrael, and fought againſt all his enemies on every ſide, againſt Moab, and againſt the children of Ammon, and againſt Edom, and againſt the kings of Zobah, and againſt the Philiſtines: and whitherſoever he turned himſelf, he vexed them.

48 And he gathered an hoſt, and ſmote the Amalekites, and delivered Iſrael out of the hands of them that ſpoiled them.

49 ¶ Now the ſons of Saul were Jonathan, and Iſhui, and Melchi-ſhua: and the name of his two daughters were theſe; the name of the firſtborn Merab, and the name of the younger Michal:

50 And the name of Saul's wife was Ahinoam, the daughter of Ahimaaz: and the name of the captain of his hoſt was Abner, the ſon of Ner, Saul's uncle. Before CHRIST 1087.

51 And Kiſh was the father of Saul; and Ner the father of Abner was the ſon of Abiel.

52 And there was ſore war againſt the Philiſtines all the days of Saul: and when Saul ſaw any ſtrong man, or any valiant man, he took him unto him.

CHAP. XV.

1 Saul is ſent to deſtroy Amalek. 6 He favoureth the Kenites; 7 ſmiteth the Amalekites; but ſpareth Agag and the beſt of the ſpoil. 10 His diſobedience diſpleaſeth the LORD. 12 Samuel denounceth unto him God's rejection of him. 24 Saul's fruitleſs humiliation. 32 Samuel heweth Agag in pieces. 34 He and Saul part, and meet no more.

SAMUEL alſo ſaid unto Saul, The LORD ſent me to anoint thee to be king over his people, over Iſrael: now therefore hearken thou unto the voice of the words of the LORD. 1097.

2 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I remember that which Amalek did to Iſrael, how he laid wait for him in the way, when he came up from Egypt.

3 Now go and ſmite Amalek, and utterly deſtroy all that they have, and ſpare them not; but ſlay both man and woman, infant and ſuckling, ox and ſheep, camel and aſs.

4 And Saul gathered the people together, and numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thouſand footmen, and ten thouſand men of Judah.

5 And Saul came to a city of Amalek, and laid wait in the valley.

6 ¶ And Saul ſaid unto the Kenites, Go, depart, get you down from among the Amalekites, leſt I deſtroy you with them: for ye ſhewed kindneſs to all the children of Iſrael, when they came up out of Egypt. So the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

7 ¶ And Saul ſmote the Amalekites from Havilah until thou comeſt to Shur, that is over againſt Egypt.

8 And he took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, and utterly deſtroyed all the people with the edge of the ſword.

9 But Saul and the people ſpared Agag, and the beſt of the ſheep, and of the oxen, and of the fatlings, and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not utterly deſtroy them: but every thing that was vile and refuſe, that they deſtroyed utterly.

10 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Samuel, ſaying,

11 It repenteth me that I have ſet up Saul to be king: for he is turned back from following me, and hath not performed my commandments. And it grieved Samuel; and he cried unto the LORD all night.

12 ¶ And when Samuel roſe early to meet Saul in the morning, it was told Samuel, ſaying, Saul came to Carmel, and, behold, he ſet him up a place, and is gone about, and paſſed on, and gone down to Gilgal.

13 And Samuel came to Saul: and Saul ſaid unto him, Bleſſed be thou of the LORD: I have performed the commandment of the LORD.

Before CHRIST 1079. the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God; and the rest we have utterly destroyed.

16 Then Samuel said unto Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what the LORD hath said to me this night. And he said unto him, Say on.

17 And Samuel said, When thou wast little in thine own sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel, and the LORD anointed thee king over Israel?

18 And the LORD sent thee on a journey, and said, Go and utterly destroy the sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them until they be consumed.

19 Wherefore then didst thou not obey the voice of the LORD, but didst fly upon the spoil, and didst evil in the sight of the LORD?

20 And Saul said unto Samuel, Yea, I have obeyed the voice of the LORD, and have gone the way which the LORD sent me, and have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and have utterly destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the things which should have been utterly destroyed, to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God in Gilgal.

22 And Samuel said, Hath the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams.

23 For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

24 ¶ And Saul said unto Samuel, I have sinned: for I have transgressed the commandment of the LORD, and thy words: because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee pardon my sin, and turn again with me, that I may worship the LORD.

26 And Samuel said unto Saul, I will not return with thee: for thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD hath rejected thee from being king over Israel.

27 And as Samuel turned about to go away, he laid hold upon the skirt of his mantle, and it rent.

28 And Samuel said unto him, The LORD hath rent the kingdom of Israel from thee this day, and hath given it to a neighbour of thine, that is better than thou.

29 And also the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent.

30 Then he said, I have sinned: yet honour me now, I pray thee, before the elders of my people, and before Israel, and turn again with me, that I may worship the LORD thy God.

31 So Samuel turned again after Saul; and Saul worshipped the LORD.

32 ¶ Then said Samuel, Bring ye hither to me Agag the king of the Amalekites. And Agag came unto him delicately. And Agag said, Surely the bitterness of death is past.

33 And Samuel said, As thy sword hath made women childless, so shall thy mother be childless among women. And Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the LORD in Gilgal.

34 ¶ Then Samuel went to Ramah; and Saul went Before CHRIST 1079. up to his house to Gibeah of Saul.

35 And Samuel came no more to see Saul until the day of his death: nevertheless Samuel mourned for Saul: and the LORD repented that he had made Saul king over Israel.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samuel by God's direction goeth to Beth-lehem under pretence of a sacrifice. 6 Jesse's seven sons pass before him; but are not approved by God. 11 David is sent for, approved, and anointed. 14 An evil spirit troubleth Saul, who by the advice of his servants sendeth for David, and is relieved by his music.

AND the LORD said unto Samuel, How long wilt 1063. thou mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him from reigning over Israel? fill thine horn with oil, and go, I will send thee to Jesse the Beth-lehemite: for I have provided me a king among his sons.

2 And Samuel said, How can I go? if Saul hear it he will kill me. And the LORD said, Take an heifer with thee, and say I come to sacrifice to the LORD.

3 And call Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will shew thee what thou shalt do: and thou shalt anoint unto me him whom I name unto thee.

4 And Samuel did that which the LORD spake, and came to Beth-lehem. And the elders of the town trembled at his coming, and said, Comest thou peaceably?

5 And he said, Peaceably: I am come to sacrifice unto the LORD: sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jesse and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 ¶ And it came to pass, when they were come, that he looked on Eliab, and said, surely the LORD's anointed is before him.

7 But the LORD said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the LORD looketh on the heart.

8 Then Jesse called Abinadab, and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, Neither hath the LORD chosen this.

9 Then Jesse made Shamah to pass by. And he said, Neither hath the LORD chosen this.

10 Again Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel. And Samuel said unto Jesse, the LORD hath not chosen these.

11 ¶ And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, there remaineth yet the youngest, and, behold, he keepeth the sheep. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Send and fetch him: for we will not sit down till he come hither.

12 And he sent and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look to. And the LORD said, Arise, anoint him: for this is he.

13 Then Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the spirit of the LORD came upon David from that day forward. So Samuel rose up and went to Ramah.

14 ¶ But

---

20 I have obeyed the voice of the Lord, &c.] This was an egregious mistake in Saul, to imagine that a partial obedience, when an entire one was in his power, could be pleasing to God.

26 I will not return with thee, &c.] The prophet looked upon God's sentence as peremptory, and as peremptorily denied his request.

32 Agag came unto him delicately, &c.] Walking in a soft and delicate manner.

33 Samuel hewed Agag in pieces, &c.] Agag had been a bloody tyrant, and was now cut off, not for the sins of his ancestors only, but for his own mercileſs cruelty, (as appears from the former part of this verse.)

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

This chapter affords an awful instance, that God rejects the prayers and false repentance of the wicked, and abandons men when their hardness is arrived at its height.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

4 Comest thou peaceably?] They were afraid that he came to reprove them for some sin that was in their city, or that he fled to them for security against Saul's anger, which might bring them into danger.

5 I am come to sacrifice unto the Lord, &c.] This was certainly one intention of his coming; and though there was another, (viz. to anoint a son of Jesse) he was not bound to declare it.

7 The Lord said unto Samuel, &c.] By a secret inward suggestion.

11 And behold he keepeth the sheep, &c.] The most excellent commanders were anciently taken from the plough, or from feeding of sheep.

13 In the midst of his brethren.] The original signifies likewise "from the midst of his brethren," and so it should be translated.

The spirit of the Lord came upon David, &c.] By the power of the Almighty, an obscure youth, uneducated, became the greatest musician, the sublimest poet, and the most consummate hero of antiquity.

Before CHRIST 1063.

14 ¶ But the ſpirit of the LORD departed from Saul, and an evil ſpirit from the LORD troubled him.

15 And Saul's ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold now, an evil ſpirit from God troubleth thee.

16 Let our lord now command thy ſervants, which are before thee, to ſeek out a man, who is a cunning player on an harp: and it ſhall come to paſs, when the evil ſpirit from God is upon thee, that he ſhall play with his hand, and thou ſhalt be well.

17 And Saul ſaid unto his ſervants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 Then anſwered one of the ſervants, and ſaid, Behold, I have ſeen a ſon of Jeſſe the Beth-lehemite, that is cunning in playing, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comely perſon, and the LORD is with him.

19 Wherefore Saul ſent meſſengers unto Jeſſe, and ſaid, Send me David thy ſon, which is with the ſheep.

20 And Jeſſe took an aſs laden with bread, and a bottle of wine, and a kid, and ſent them by David his ſon unto Saul.

21 And David came to Saul and ſtood before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armour-bearer.

22 And Saul ſent to Jeſſe, ſaying, Let David, I pray thee, ſtand before me: for he hath found favour in my ſight.

23 And it came to paſs, when the evil ſpirit from God was upon Saul, that David took an harp, and played with his hand: ſo Saul was refreſhed, and was well, and the evil ſpirit departed from him.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The armies of the Iſraelites and Philiſtines being drawn out to battle, 4 Goliath cometh forward with a proud challenge. 12 David, ſent by his father to the army to viſit his brethren, 20 heareth the challenge, and expreſſeth indignation thereat. 28 Eliab his eldeſt brother chideth him. 30 His words cauſe him to be brought before Saul; 32 he accepteth the challenge, and ſheweth the grounds of his confidence. 38 He refuſeth Saul's armour, and armed only with a ſling and a ſtone ſlayeth the giant. The Philiſtines are routed. 54 David bringeth back the head of Goliath. 55 Saul enquireth and taketh notice of him.

NOW the Philiſtines gathered together their armies to battle, and were gathered together at Shochoh, which belongeth to Judah, and pitched between Shochoh and Azekah, in Ephes-dammim.

2 And Saul and the men of Iſrael were gathered together, and pitched by the valley of Elah, and ſet the battle in array againſt the Philiſtines.

3 And the Philiſtines ſtood on a mountain on the one ſide, and Iſrael ſtood on a mountain on the other ſide: and there was a valley between them.

4 ¶ And there went out a champion out of the camp of the Philiſtines, named Goliath, of Gath, whoſe height was ſix cubits and a ſpan.

5 And he had an helmet of braſs upon his head, and he was armed with a coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was five thouſand ſhekels of braſs.

6 And he had greaves of braſs upon his legs, and a target of braſs between his ſhoulders.

7 And the ſtaff of his ſpear was like a weaver's beam; and his ſpear's head weighed ſix hundred ſhekels of iron: and one bearing a ſhield went before him. Before CHRIST 1171.

8 And he ſtood and cried unto the armies of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Why are ye come out to ſet your battle in array? am not I a Philiſtine, and ye ſervants to Saul? chooſe you a man for you, and let him come down to me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and to kill me, then will we be your ſervants: but if I prevail againſt him, and kill him, then ſhall ye be our ſervants, and ſerve us.

10 And the Philiſtine ſaid, I defy the armies of Iſrael this day; give me a man that we may fight together.

11 When Saul and all Iſrael heard thoſe words of the Philiſtine, they were diſmayed and greatly afraid.

12 ¶ Now David was the ſon of that Ephrathite of Beth-lehem-judah, whoſe name was Jeſſe; and he had eight ſons: and the man went among men for an old man in the days of Saul.

13 And the three eldeſt ſons of Jeſſe went and followed Saul to the battle: and the names of his three ſons that went to the battle were Eliab the firſt-born, and the next unto him Abinadab, and the third Shammah.

14 And David was the youngeſt: and the three eldeſt followed Saul.

15 But David went and returned from Saul to feed his father's ſheep at Beth-lehem.

16 And the Philiſtine drew near morning and evening, and preſented himſelf forty days.

17 And Jeſſe ſaid unto David his ſon, Take now for thy brethren an ephah of this parched corn, and theſe ten loaves, and run to the camp to thy brethren:

18 And carry theſe ten cheeſes unto the captain of their thouſand, and look how thy brethren fare, and take their pledge.

19 Now Saul, and they, and all the men of Iſrael, were in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philiſtines.

20 ¶ And David roſe up early in the morning, and left the ſheep with a keeper, and took, and went, as Jeſſe had commanded him; and he came to the trench, as the hoſt was going forth to the fight, and ſhouted for the battle.

21 For Iſrael and the Philiſtines had put the battle in array, army againſt army.

22 And David left his carriage in the hand of the keeper of the carriage, and ran into the army, and came and ſaluted his brethren.

23 And as he talked with them, behold, there came up the champion, the Philiſtine of Gath, Goliath by name, out of the armies of the Philiſtines, and ſpake according to the ſame words: and David heard them.

24 And all the men of Iſrael, when they ſaw the man, fled from him, and were ſore afraid.

25 And the men of Iſrael ſaid, Have ye ſeen this man that is come up? ſurely to defy Iſrael is he come up: and it ſhall be, that the man who killeth him, the king will enrich him with great riches, and will give him his daughter, and make his father's houſe free in Iſrael.

26 And David ſpake to the men that ſtood by him, ſaying, What ſhall be done to the man that killeth this Philiſtine,

14 An evil ſpirit from the Lord troubled him.] He grew melancholy, timorous, and ſuſpicious, indiſpoſed and unfit for buſineſs; being ſometimes furious and diſtracted, full of anxiety and ſolicitude of mind, ſighing and trembling like a man in the dark; his blood and ſpirits thick and heavy, having loſt their uſual purity and liveline ſs.

23 David took an harp, and played with his hand: ſo Saul was refreſhed, and was well, &c.] Beſides the natural effects of muſic, the cure of Saul may doubtleſs be attributed to God, who certainly bleſſed the means uſed to effect it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

This example of Saul reminds us, that when men who have been once enlightened, afterwards do deſpite to the ſpirit of grace, the unclean ſpirit again enters into them, and, as our Lord ſays, their laſt ſtate becomes worſe than the firſt.

8 Why are ye come out to ſet your battle in array, &c.] He charges them with preſumption, in offering to make war with the Philiſtines.

18 Look how thy brethren fare, and take their pledge.] Some tranſlate the word not "pledge," but "buſineſs," and take the ſenſe to be "Bring me word what they do, how they behave themſelves, and with whom they aſſociate."

24 All the men of Iſrael, when they ſaw the man, fled from him, &c.] It is ſuppoſed, they could not endure to hear his opprobrious words againſt them, and his blaſphemous words againſt God.

30 ¶ And he turned from him toward another, and ſpake after the ſame manner: and the people anſwered him again after the former manner.

31 And when the words were heard which David ſpake, they rehearſed them before Saul: and he ſent for him.

32 ¶ And David ſaid to Saul, Let no man's heart fail becauſe of him; thy ſervant will go and fight with this Philiſtine.

33 And Saul ſaid to David, Thou art not able to go againſt this Philiſtine to fight with him: for thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth.

34 And David ſaid unto Saul, Thy ſervant kept his father's ſheep, and there came a lion, and a bear, and took a lamb out of the flock:

38 ¶ And Saul armed David with his armour, and he put an helmet of braſs upon his head; alſo he armed him with a coat of mail.

39 And David girded his ſword upon his armour, and he aſſayed to go; for he had not proved it. And David ſaid unto Saul, I cannot go with theſe; for I have not proved them. And David put them off him.

40 And he took his ſtaff in his hand, and choſe him five ſmooth ſtones out of the brook, and put them in a ſhepherd's bag which he had, even in a ſcrip; and his ſling was in his hand: and he drew near to the Philiſtine.

41 And the Philiſtine came on and drew near unto David; and the man that bare the ſhield went before him.

42 And when the Philiſtine looked about, and ſaw David, he diſdained him: for he was but a youth, and ruddy, and of a fair countenance.

43 And the Philiſtine ſaid unto David, Am I a dog, that thou comeſt to me with ſtaves? And the Philiſtine curſed David by his gods.

44 And the Philiſtine ſaid to David, Come unto me, and I will give thy fleſh unto the fowls of the air, and to the beaſts of the field.

45 Then ſaid David to the Philiſtine, Thou comeſt to me with a ſword, and with a ſpear, and with a ſhield, but I come to thee in the name of the LORD of hoſts: the God of the armies of Iſrael, whom thou haſt defied. Before CHRIST 1063.

46 This day will the LORD deliver thee into mine hand; and I will ſmite thee, and take thine head from thee; and I will give the carcaſes of the hoſt of the Philiſtines unto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beaſts of the earth; that all the earth may know that there is a God in Iſrael.

47 And all this aſſembly ſhall know that the LORD ſaveth not with ſword and ſpear: for the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hands.

48 And it came to paſs, when the Philiſtine aroſe, and came and drew nigh to meet David, that David haſted, and ran toward the army to meet the Philiſtine.

49 And David put his hand in his bag, and took thence a ſtone, and ſlang it, and ſmote the Philiſtine in his forehead, that the ſtone ſunk into his forehead; and he fell upon his face to the earth.

50 So David prevailed over the Philiſtine with a ſling and with a ſtone, and ſmote the Philiſtine, and ſlew him; there was no ſword in the hand of David.

51 Therefore David ran, and ſtood upon the Philiſtine, and took his ſword, and drew it out of the ſheath thereof, and ſlew him, and cut off his head therewith. And when the Philiſtines ſaw their champion was dead, they fled.

52 ¶ And the men of Iſrael and of Judah aroſe, and ſhouted, and purſued the Philiſtines, until thou come to the valley, and to the gates of Ekron. And the wounded of the Philiſtines fell down by the way to Shaarim, even unto Gath, and unto Ekron.

53 And the children of Iſrael returned from chaſing after the Philiſtines, and they ſpoiled their tents.

54 ¶ And David took the head of the Philiſtine, and brought it to Jeruſalem; but he put his armour in his tent.

55 ¶ And when Saul ſaw David go forth againſt the Philiſtine, he ſaid unto Abner, the captain of the hoſt, Abner, whoſe ſon is this youth? And Abner ſaid, As thy ſoul liveth, O king, I cannot tell.

56 And the king ſaid, Enquire thou whoſe ſon the ſtripling is.

57 And as David returned from the ſlaughter of the Philiſtine, Abner took him, and brought him before Saul, with the head of the Philiſtine in his hand.

58 And Saul ſaid to him, Whoſe ſon art thou, thou young man? And David anſwered, I am the ſon of thy ſervant, Jeſſe the Beth-lehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Jonathan loveth David. 5 David's wiſe conduct ingratiateth him with the people, and with Saul's ſervants. 6 The women's ſong in honour of his victory exciteth Saul's envy; 10 who in his fury ſeeketh to kill him. 12 Saul feareth David for his wiſdom and good ſucceſs. 17 He promiſeth him his eldeſt daughter by way of a ſnare, but giveth her to another. 20 He promiſeth him Michal his younger daughter. 22 Saul ſetteth his ſervants to perſuade David to be the king's ſon in law upon condition of bringing a hundred foreſkins of the Philiſtines; David bringeth two hundred, and hath Michal given him to wife. 28 Saul's hatred increaſeth, and David's glory.

---

26 That he ſhould defy the armies of the living God.] He would not have them think that he was inſtigated by the hope of the reward, ſo much as by an holy zeal for God, and a generous love for his country.

28 Why cameſt thou down hither, &c.] Paſſion had made him forget that he had come down by his father's order.

37 He will deliver me out of the hand of this Philiſtine, &c.] He declares, that he was fully perſuaded God would deliver the Philiſtine into his hands, as he had done the lion and the bear, for he felt himſelf full of that Spirit which then aſſiſted him.

44 Come to me, and I will give thy fleſh unto the fowls, &c.] This hyperbolical ſpeech not only proceeded from the diſdain and haughtineſs of Goliath, but was agreeable to the manners of thoſe times, and eſpecially of the Orientals.

51 And drew it out of the ſheath, &c.] He was ſtrong, not merely by nature, but by the power of God; otherwiſe he could not have well managed the ſword of the giant.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

We ſee from hence how God took vengeance, for his own honour, in puniſhing the wicked; and helps thoſe who truſt in him, by making uſe of means, apparently very weak, to bring down the pride of his enemies, and deſtroy the moſt formidable powers.

Before CHRIST 1063.

AND it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul, that the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul.

2 And Saul took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house.

3 Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul.

4 And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to David, and his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

5 ¶ And David went out whithersoever Saul sent him, and behaved himself wisely: and Saul set him over the men of war, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Saul's servants.

6 ¶ And it came to pass as they came, when David was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, that the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing to meet king Saul, with tabrets, with joy, and with instruments of music.

7 And the women answered one another as they played, and said, Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands.

8 And Saul was very wroth, and the saying displeased him; and he said, They have ascribed unto David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed but thousands: and what can he have more but the kingdom?

9 And Saul eyed David from that day and forward.

10 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that the evil spirit from God came upon Saul, and he prophesied in the midst of the house: and David played with his hand, as at other times: and there was a javelin in Saul's hand.

11 And Saul cast the javelin; for he said, I will smite David even to the wall with it. And David avoided out of his presence twice.

12 ¶ And Saul was afraid of David, because the LORD was with him, and was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul removed him from him, and made him his captain over a thousand; and he went out and came in before the people.

14 And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the LORD was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saul saw that he behaved himself very wisely, he was afraid of him.

16 But all Israel and Judah loved David, because he went out and came in before them.

17 ¶ And Saul said to David, Behold my elder daughter Merab, her will I give thee to wife: only be thou valiant for me, and fight the LORD's battles. For Saul said, Let not mine hand be upon him, but let the hand of the Philistines be upon him.

18 And David said unto Saul, Who am I? and what is my life, or my father's family in Israel, that I should be son in law to the king?

19 But it came to pass at the time when Merab Saul's daughter should have been given to David, that she was given unto Adriel the Meholathite to wife.

20 ¶ And Michal Saul's daughter loved David: and they told Saul, and the thing pleased him.

21 And Saul said, I will give him her, that she may be a snare to him, and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to David, Thou shalt this day be my son in law in the one of the twain. Before CHRIST 1063.

22 And Saul commanded his servants, saying, Commune with David secretly, and say, Behold the king hath delight in thee, and all his servants love thee: now therefore be the king's son in law.

23 And Saul's servants spake those words in the ears of David. And David said, Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a king's son in law, seeing that I am a poor man, and lightly esteemed?

24 And the servants of Saul told him, saying, On this manner spake David.

25 And Saul said, Thus shall ye say to David, The king desireth not any dowry, but an hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to be avenged of the king's enemies. But Saul thought to make David fall by the hand of the Philistines.

26 And when his servants told David these words, it pleased David well to be the king's son in law: and the days were not expired.

27 Wherefore David arose and went, he and his men, and slew of the Philistines two hundred men; and David brought their foreskins, and they gave them in full tale to the king, that he might be the king's son in law. And Saul gave him Michal his daughter to wife.

28 ¶ And Saul saw and knew that the LORD was with David, and that Michal Saul's daughter loved him.

29 And Saul was yet the more afraid of David; and Saul became David's enemy continually.

30 Then the princes of the Philistines went forth: and it came to pass after they went forth, that David behaved himself more wisely than all the servants of Saul; so that his name was much set by.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Jonathan discloseth to David his father's purpose to kill him. 4 He persuadeth his father to a reconciliation. 8 Saul jealous of David's good success in a new war again seeketh to slay him; he saveth himself by flight. 11 Saul's messengers come to David's house to slay him; Michal favoureth his escape, and deceiveth her father by an image in the bed. 18 David cometh to Samuel to Naioth; he is pursued; the spirit of prophecy cometh upon Saul's messengers, 23 and upon Saul.

AND Saul spake to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill David.

2 But Jonathan Saul's son delighted much in David: and Jonathan told David, saying, Saul my father seeketh to kill thee: now, therefore, I pray thee, take heed to thyself until the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thyself:

3 And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where thou art, and I will commune with my father of thee; and what I see, that I will tell thee.

4 ¶ And Jonathan spake good of David unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king sin against his servant, against David; because he hath not sinned against thee, and because his works have been to thee-ward very good:

5 For he did put his life in his hand, and slew the Philistine, and the LORD wrought a great salvation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and didst rejoice: wherefore then

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

3 Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul.] Jonathan, through the whole story, shews towards David such a greatness of soul, such a constancy of mind, and disinterestedness of heart, as few romances can produce examples of.

5 David went out.] Upon military expeditions.

9 Saul set him over the men of war, &c.] Not over all, for Abner was commander in chief of his forces.

Saul eyed David, &c.] That is, narrowly observed him, whether he was aspiring to the crown.

10 He prophesied in the midst of the house, &c.] Before the whole court.

18 Who am I, &c.] This was not a refusal of the honour, but an acknowledgment how unworthy he was of it.

19 She was given unto Adriel, &c.] This was an high affront to David, and one of the greatest injuries that could be done him.

27 Two hundred men, &c.] The LXX read one hundred, which is not improbable, Saul having covenanted for no more.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

From the tenor of this chapter is evidently shewn, that nothing can hurt those whom God loves; and that whatever the wicked devise against them, turns to their advantage.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

1 Saul spake to Jonathan, &c.] Whatever Saul's reasons might be for desiring Jonathan's assistance in so vile a fact, it is plain that there was a peculiar providence of God in his disclosing himself so freely on this head, since, by that means, David came to right information of his danger.

The Women answered one another as they played, & said, David hath slain his Ten Thousands, &c.

Before CHRIST 1063. then wilt thou ſin againſt innocent blood, to ſlay David without a cauſe?

6 And Saul hearkened unto the voice of Jonathan: and Saul ſware, As the LORD liveth, he ſhall not be ſlain.

7 And Jonathan called David, and Jonathan ſhewed him all thoſe things. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his preſence, as in times paſt.

1062. 8 ¶ And there was war again: and David went out, and fought with the Philiſtines, and ſlew them with a great ſlaughter; and they fled from him.

9 And the evil ſpirit from the LORD was upon Saul, as he ſat in his houſe with his javelin in his hand: and David played with his hand.

10 And Saul ſought to ſmite David even to the wall with the javelin; but he ſlipped away out of Saul's preſence, and he ſmote the javelin into the wall: and David fled, and eſcaped that night.

11 ¶ Saul alſo ſent meſſengers unto David's houſe, to watch him, and to ſlay him in the morning: and Michal David's wife told him, ſaying, If thou ſave not thy life to night, to morrow thou ſhalt be ſlain.

12 ¶ So Michal let David down through a window: and he went, and fled, and eſcaped.

13 And Michal took an image, and laid it in the bed, and put a pillow of goats' hair for his bolſter, and covered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul ſent meſſengers to take David, ſhe ſaid, He is ſick.

15 And Saul ſent the meſſengers again to ſee David, ſaying, Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may ſlay him.

16 And when the meſſengers were come in, behold, there was an image in the bed, with a pillow of goats' hair for his bolſter.

17 And Saul ſaid unto Michal, Why haſt thou deceived me ſo, and ſent away mine enemy, that he is eſcaped? And Michal anſwered Saul, He ſaid unto me, Let me go; why ſhould I kill thee?

18 ¶ So David fled, and eſcaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and dwelt in Naioth.

19 And it was told Saul, ſaying, Behold, David is at Naioth in Ramah.

20 And Saul ſent meſſengers to take David: and when they ſaw the company of the prophets propheſying, and Samuel ſtanding as appointed over them, the Spirit of God was upon the meſſengers of Saul, and they alſo propheſied.

21 And when it was told Saul, he ſent other meſſengers, and they propheſied likewiſe. And Saul ſent meſſengers again the third time, and they propheſied alſo.

22 Then went he alſo to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu: and he aſked and ſaid, Where are Samuel and David? And one ſaid, Behold, they be at Naioth in Ramah.

23 ¶ And he went thither to Naioth in Ramah: and the Spirit of God was upon him alſo, and he went on, and propheſied, until he came to Naioth in Ramah, 24 And he ſtripped off his clothes alſo, and propheſied before Samuel in like manner, and lay down naked all that day and all that night. Wherefore they ſay, Is Saul alſo among the prophets? Before CHRIST 1062.

CHAP. XX.

1 David conſulteth with Jonathan how to provide for his ſafety. 11 The friendly league between them confirmed by oath. 18 They agree upon a token. 24 David abſenting himſelf from the king's table is excuſed by Jonathan; Saul being enraged ſeeketh to kill Jonathan. 35 Jonathan informeth David of his danger by the token agreed on. 41 The two friends take a loving leave of each other.

AND David fled from Naioth in Ramah, and came and ſaid before Jonathan, What have I done? what is mine iniquity? and what is my ſin before thy father, that he ſeeketh my life?

2 And he ſaid unto him, God forbid; thou ſhalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing either great or ſmall, but that he will ſhew it me: and why ſhould my father hide this thing from me? it is not ſo.

3 And David ſware moreover, and ſaid, Thy father certainly knoweth that I have found grace in thine eyes; and he ſaith, Let not Jonathan know this, leſt he be grieved: but truly as the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, there is but a ſtep between me and death.

4 Then ſaid Jonathan unto David, Whatſoever thy ſoul deſireth, I will even do it for thee.

5 And David ſaid unto Jonathan, Behold, to morrow is the new moon, and I ſhould not fail to ſit with the king at meat: but let me go, that I may hide myſelf in the field unto the third day at even.

6 If thy father at all miſs me, then ſay, David earneſtly aſked leave of me that he might run to Bethlehem his city: for there is a yearly ſacrifice there for all the family.

7 If he ſay thus, It is well; thy ſervant ſhall have peace: but if he be very wroth, then be ſure that evil is determined by him.

8 Therefore thou ſhalt deal kindly with thy ſervant; for thou haſt brought thy ſervant into a covenant of the LORD with thee: notwithſtanding, if there be in me iniquity, ſlay me thyſelf; for why ſhouldeſt thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Jonathan ſaid, Far be it from thee: for if I knew certainly that evil were determined by my father to come upon thee, then would not I tell it thee?

10 Then ſaid David to Jonathan, Who ſhall tell me? or what if thy father anſwer thee roughly?

11 ¶ And Jonathan ſaid unto David, Come, and let us go out into the field. And they went out both of them into the field.

12 And Jonathan ſaid unto David, O LORD God of Iſrael, when I have ſounded my father about to morrow any time, or the third day, and, behold, if there be good toward David, and I then ſend not unto thee, and ſhew it thee;

13 The LORD do ſo and much more to Jonathan: but if it pleaſe my father to do thee evil, then I will ſhew it thee, and ſend thee away, that thou mayeſt go in

---

8 David went out, and fought with the Philiſtines, &c.] Theſe were only ſkirmiſhes between ſmall parties.

11 Michal David's wife told him, &c.] Michal, it is probable, had received information either from her brother Jonathan, or from ſome other friend at court.

13 Took an image, &c.] Not ſuch an image as was made for a ſuperſtitious uſe, but only a ſimple image, repreſenting a man.

17 Let me go; why ſhould I kill thee?] This was a fiction of Michal's; for it is not likely either that ſhe would endeavour to detain him, or that he would threaten to kill her if ſhe did.

18 He and Samuel went and dwelt at Naioth.] Naioth was a place near or belonging to Ramah, where the ſons of the prophets had their ordinary reſidence.

20 Saul ſent meſſengers to take David, &c.] Such was Saul's implacable hatred to David, that it had aboliſhed not only all reſpect and reverence to Samuel, (under whoſe protection David then was) but all regard likewiſe to the college of the prophets, which in thoſe days had obtained the privilege of a ſanctuary.

24 He ſtripped off his clothes, &c.] His royal robes, appearing like an ordinary man, or perhaps in the prophetical habit.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

From the example of Jonathan, here ſet before us, we ſhould learn to take the part of the innocent when perſecuted unjuſtly, never to be backward in our good offices towards others, and to uſe all ſort of means to ſoften thoſe that are in wrath.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

3 He ſaith, Let not Jonathan know this, &c.] He was willing to believe that Saul might conceal his intentions from Jonathan, on account of the affection which his ſon had for David.

5 To morrow is the new moon, &c.] The Iſraelites performed ſolemn ſacrifices every new moon, and after the ſacrifices feaſted together.

12 Jonathan ſaid unto David, O Lord God of Iſrael, when I have ſounded, &c.] The firſt words of Jonathan ſeem to be an exclamation; after which he recovers himſelf, and proceeds to declare his ſincerity in the moſt affectionate manner.

in peace: and the LORD be with thee, as he hath been with my father.

14 And thou ſhalt not only while yet I live ſhew me the kindneſs of the LORD, that I die not:

15 But alſo thou ſhalt not cut off thy kindneſs from my houſe for ever: no, not when the LORD hath cut off the enemies of David every one from the face of the earth.

16 So Jonathan made a covenant with the houſe of David, ſaying, Let the LORD even require it at the hand of David's enemies.

17 And Jonathan cauſed David to ſwear again, becauſe he loved him: for he loved him as he loved his own ſoul.

18 ¶ Then Jonathan ſaid to David, To morrow is the new moon: and thou ſhalt be miſſed, becauſe thy ſeat will be empty.

19 And when thou haſt ſtayed three days, then thou ſhalt go down quickly, and come to the place where thou didſt hide thyſelf when the buſineſs was in hand, and ſhalt remain by the ſtone Ezel.

20 And I will ſhoot three arrows on the ſide thereof, as though I ſhot at a mark.

21 And, behold, I will ſend a lad, ſaying, Go, find out the arrows. If I expreſsly ſay unto the lad, Behold, the arrows are on this ſide of thee, take them; then come thou; for there is peace to thee, and no hurt: as the LORD liveth.

22 But if I ſay thus unto the young man, Behold, the arrows are beyond thee; go thy way: for the LORD hath ſent thee away.

23 And as touching the matter which thou and I have ſpoken of, behold, the LORD be between thee and me for ever.

24 ¶ So David hid himſelf in the field: and when the new moon was come, the king ſat him down to eat meat.

25 And the king ſat upon his ſeat, as at other times, even upon a ſeat by the wall: and Jonathan aroſe, and Abner ſat by Saul's ſide, and David's place was empty.

26 Nevertheleſs Saul ſpake not any thing that day: for he thought, Something hath befallen him, he is not clean; ſurely he is not clean.

27 And it came to paſs on the morrow, which was the ſecond day of the month, that David's place was empty: and Saul ſaid unto Jonathan his ſon, Wherefore cometh not the ſon of Jeſſe to meat, neither yeſterday nor to day?

28 And Jonathan anſwered Saul, David earneſtly aſked leave of me to go to Beth-lehem:

29 And he ſaid, Let me go, I pray thee; for our family hath a ſacrifice in the city; and my brother, he hath commanded me to be there: and now, if I have found favour in thine eyes, let me get away, I pray thee, and ſee my brethren. Therefore he cometh not unto the king's table.

30 Then Saul's anger was kindled againſt Jonathan, and he ſaid unto him, Thou ſon of the perverſe rebellious woman, do not I know that thou haſt choſen the ſon of Jeſſe to thine own confuſion, and unto the confuſion of thy mother's nakedneſs?

31 For as long as the ſon of Jeſſe liveth upon the ground, thou ſhalt not be eſtabliſhed, nor thy kingdom. Wherefore now ſend and fetch him unto me, for he ſhall ſurely die.

Before CHRIST 1062.

32 And Jonathan anſwered Saul his father, and ſaid unto him, Wherefore ſhall he be ſlain? What hath he done?

33 And Saul caſt a javelin at him to ſmite him: whereby Jonathan knew that it was determined of his father to ſlay David.

34 So Jonathan aroſe from the table in fierce anger, and did eat no meat the ſecond day of the month: for he was grieved for David, becauſe his father had done him ſhame.

35 ¶ And it came to paſs in the morning, that Jonathan went out into the field at the time appointed with David, and a little lad with him.

36 And he ſaid unto his lad, Run, find out now the arrows which I ſhoot. And as the lad ran, he ſhot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the lad was come to the place of the arrow which Jonathan had ſhot, Jonathan cried after the lad, and ſaid, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Jonathan cried after the lad, Make ſpeed, haſte, ſtay not. And Jonathan's lad gathered up the arrows, and came to his maſter.

39 But the lad knew not any thing: only Jonathan and David knew the matter.

40 And Jonathan gave his artillery unto his lad, and ſaid unto him, Go, carry them to the city.

41 ¶ And as ſoon as the lad was gone, David aroſe out of a place toward the ſouth, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himſelf three times: and they kiſſed one another, and wept one with another until David exceeded.

42 And Jonathan ſaid to David, Go in peace, foraſmuch as we have ſworn both of us in the name of the LORD, ſaying, The LORD be between me and thee, and between my ſeed and thy ſeed for ever. And he aroſe and departed: and Jonathan went into the city.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David cometh to Nob, and obtaineth of Ahimelech hallowed bread: Doeg is preſent. 8 David aſketh for a ſword, and receiveth the ſword of Goliath. 10 He fleeth to Gath, where to ſave his life he feigneth himſelf mad.

THEN came David to Nob to Ahimelech the prieſt: and Ahimelech was afraid at the meeting of David, and ſaid unto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

2 And David ſaid unto Ahimelech the prieſt, The king hath commanded me a buſineſs, and hath ſaid unto me, Let no man know any thing of the buſineſs whereabout I ſend thee, and what I have commanded thee: and I have appointed my ſervants to ſuch and ſuch a place.

3 Now therefore what is under thine hand? give me five loaves of bread in mine hand, or what there is preſent.

4 And the prieſt anſwered David, and ſaid, There is no common bread under mine hand, but there is hallowed bread; if the young men have kept themſelves at leaſt from women.

5 And David anſwered the prieſt, and ſaid unto him, Of a truth women have been kept from us about theſe three

---

19 When thou haſt ſtayed three days, then thou ſhalt go down, &c.] The meaning ſeems to be, that if Jonathan did not come the firſt day, it ſhould be taken for granted that he knew nothing, and David therefore was to come again the ſecond day; and if Jonathan brought him no news on that day, David was to come once more on the third.

25 Jonathan aroſe, &c.] Biſhop Patrick interprets it, that he aroſe out of reſpect, when his father came into the room.

30 Thou ſon of the perverſe rebellious woman, &c.] Or, as it is in the Hebrew, Thou ſon of perverſe rebellion! that is, thou very perverſe rebel.

33 Saul caſt a javelin at him, &c.] Spears were the ſceptres of thoſe ages, which kings always carried in their hands.

40 His artillery, &c.] His bow, arrows, and quiver.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

From theſe inſtances of the ſtrict and very tender friendſhip between Jonathan and David, we ſee what are the duties of that endearing connection; and that true friends, whoſe friendſhip is founded upon piety, eſteem, and virtue, are a treaſure never to be ſufficiently valued.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

1 Nob, &c.] The generality of interpreters will have the city here ſpecified to be that which ſtood on the weſt ſide, and in the tribe of Benjamin.

3 What is under thine hand? &c.] That is, what food haſt thou ready to be eaten?

4 If the young men, &c.] The prieſt is there to be underſtood as only taking notice that no ſuch perſons were with him, as uſually he knew attended him, and were the conſtant guards of one of David's quality.

6 So the prieſt gave him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there but the ſhewbread, that was taken from before the LORD, to put hot bread in the day when it was taken away.

7 Now a certain man of the ſervants of Saul was there that day, detained before the LORD; and his name was Doeg, an Edomite, the chiefeſt of the herdmen that belonged to Saul.

8 ¶ And David ſaid unto Ahimelech, And is there not here under thine hand a ſpear or ſword? for I have neither brought my ſword nor my weapons with me, becauſe the king's buſineſs required haſte.

9 And the prieſt ſaid, The ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine, whom thou ſleweſt in the valley of Elah, behold, it is here wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod: if thou wilt take that, take it: for there is no other ſave that here. And David ſaid, There is none like that; give it me.

10 ¶ And David aroſe, and fled that day for fear of Saul, and went to Achiſh the king of Gath.

11 And the ſervants of Achiſh ſaid unto him, Is not this David the king of the land? did they not ſing one to another of him in dances, ſaying, Saul hath ſlain his thouſands, and David his ten thouſands?

12 And David laid up theſe words in his heart, and was ſore afraid of Achiſh the king of Gath.

13 And he changed his behaviour before them, and feigned himſelf mad in their hands, and ſcrabbled on the doors of the gate, and let his ſpittle fall down upon his beard.

14 Then ſaid Achiſh unto his ſervants, Lo, ye ſee the man is mad: wherefore then have ye brought him to me?

15 Have I need of mad men, that ye have brought this fellow to play the mad man in my preſence? ſhall this fellow come into my houſe?

CHAP. XXII.

1 David's kindred and others reſort unto him at Adullam. 3 At Mizpeh he commendeth his parents to the protection of the king of Moab. 5 Admoniſhed by Gad he removeth to Hareth. 6 Saul complaineth of the unfaithfulneſs of his ſervants. 9 Doeg accuſeth Ahimelech. 11 Ahimelech is ſent for with the prieſts, and anſwereth the charge. 11 The footmen refuſing to ſlay the prieſts at the king's command, Doeg executeth it: their city Nob is deſtroyed. 20 Abiathar eſcaping bringeth David the news.

DAVID therefore departed thence, and eſcaped to the cave Adullam: and when his brethren and all his father's houſe heard it, they went down thither to him.

2 And every one that was in diſtreſs, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was diſcontented, gathered themſelves unto him; and he became a captain over them: and there were with him about four hundred men. Before CHRIST 1062.

3 ¶ And David went thence to Mizpeh of Moab: and he ſaid unto the king of Moab, Let my father and my mother, I pray thee, come forth, and be with you, till I know what God will do for me.

4 And he brought them before the king of Moab: and they dwelt with him all the while that David was in the hold.

5 ¶ And the prophet Gad ſaid unto David, Abide not in the hold; depart, and get thee into the land of Judah. Then David departed, and came into the foreſt of Hareth.

6 ¶ When Saul heard that David was diſcovered, and the men that were with him, (now Saul abode in Gibeah under a tree in Ramah, having a ſpear in his hand, and all his ſervants were ſtanding about him;)

7 Then Saul ſaid into his ſervants that ſtood about him, Hear now, ye Benjamites; will the ſon of Jeſſe give every one of you fields and vineyards, and make you all captains of thouſands, and captains of hundreds;

8 That all of you have conſpired againſt me, and there is none that ſheweth me that my ſon hath made a league with the ſon of Jeſſe, and there is none of you that is ſorry for me, or ſheweth unto me that my ſon hath ſtirred up my ſervant againſt me, to lie in wait, as at this day?

9 ¶ Then anſwered Doeg the Edomite, which was ſet over the ſervants of Saul, and ſaid, I ſaw the ſon of Jeſſe coming to Nob, to Ahimelech the ſon of Ahitub.

10 And he enquired of the LORD for him, and gave him victuals, and gave him the ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine.

11 ¶ Then the king ſent to call Ahimelech the prieſt, the ſon of Ahitub, and all his father's houſe, the prieſts that were in Nob: and they came all of them to the king.

12 And Saul ſaid, Hear now, thou ſon of Ahitub. And he anſwered, Here I am, my lord.

13 And Saul ſaid unto him, Why have ye conſpired againſt me, thou and the ſon of Jeſſe, in that thou haſt given him bread, and a ſword, and haſt enquired of God for him, that he ſhould riſe againſt me, to lie in wait, as at this day?

14 Then Ahimelech anſwered the king, and ſaid, And who is ſo faithful among all thy ſervants as David, which is the king's ſon in law, and goeth at thy bidding, and is honourable in thine houſe?

15 Did I then begin to enquire of God for him? be it far from me: let not the king impute any thing unto his ſervant, nor to all the houſe of my father: for thy ſervant knew nothing of all this, leſs or more.

7 Detained before the Lord, &c.] Not by force or conſtraint, but by ſome vow he had upon him, or ſome religious performance to which he had obliged himſelf.

9 The ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine, &c.] In conformity to antient cuſtom, the ſword with which David cut off Goliath's head he dedicated to the Lord, and delivered it to the prieſt, to be kept as a monument of his victory, and of the Iſraelites' deliverance.

13 He changed his behaviour before them, and feigned himſelf mad, &c.] Self-preſervation is one of the firſt laws of nature. David, therefore, being in manifeſt danger, choſe to perſonate the fool, becauſe he preſumed that Achiſh would readily conclude that the troubles he had ſuffered under Saul's perſecution of him had ſtupified his ſenſes, and turned his brain.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS ON CHAP. XXI.

David's conduct, as here related, ſhews that he did not ſufficiently rely on the promiſes of the Lord; and ſhould be a warning to us, never to have recourſe to evil means, nor do any thing unworthy of our calling, to avoid the dangers which threaten us.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXII.

1 Adullam, &c.] This was a town in the tribe of Judah, where there was a rock of the ſame name, in which was a cave naturally ſtrong and well fortified, to which David retreated.

2 And every one that was in diſtreſs, &c.] Theſe refugees were called in the Gallic language ſoldarii, from whence the word, ſoldier, is derived; and as they might be honeſt and good men, though they had the misfortune to be in debt, or could not ſubmit to tyrannical treatment, ſo in all probability David's companions were, though in debt, men of good characters.

3 David went thence to Mizpeh of Moab, &c.] The king of Moab was then at enmity with Saul.

5 Get thee into the land of Judah, &c.] He would have him publicly appear, as one that confided in God, and his own innocence.

6 Under a tree in Ramah, &c.] Or, Under a grove in an high place.

9 I ſaw the ſon of Jeſſe, &c.] Meanly to ingratiate himſelf with Saul, how contemptuouſly does Doeg ſpeak here of David, not vouchſafing to call him by his name!

10 And he enquired of the Lord for him, &c.] Doeg's conduct is artful, mean, and malicious: miſrepreſenting ſome things, and wholly ſuppreſſing others; diſcovering every thing that might be conſtrued to the prejudice of Ahimelech, and concealing every circumſtance that would plead in his favour. A conduct characteriſtical of a wicked man.

12 Here I am, my lord.] Notwithſtanding the king forgot the reſpect due to the prieſt, the prieſt did not forget his duty to the king.

15 Did I then begin to enquire of God for him? &c.] He had before done the ſame thing for him, without any imputation of guilt, and therefore urges that what he had now done ſhould not be an argument againſt him.

16 And the king said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy father's house.

17 ¶ And the king said unto the footmen that stood about him, Turn, and slay the priests of the LORD; because their hand also is with David, and because they knew when he fled, and did not shew it to me. But the servants of the king would not put forth their hand to fall upon the priests of the LORD.

18 And the king said to Doeg, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and he fell upon the priests, and slew on that day fourscore and five persons that did wear a linen ephod.

19 And Nob, the city of the priests, smote he with the edge of the sword, both men and women, children and sucklings, and oxen, and asses, and sheep, with the edge of the sword.

20 ¶ And one of the sons of Ahimelech the son of Ahitub, named Abiathar, escaped, and fled after David.

21 And Abiathar shewed David that Saul had slain the LORD's priests.

20 And David said unto Abiathar, I knew it that day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would surely tell Saul: I have occasioned the death of all the persons of thy father's house.

23 Abide thou with me, fear not: for he that seeketh my life seeketh thy life: but with me thou shalt be in safeguard.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The Philistines fight against Keilah; David, enquiring of the Lord by Abiathar, smiteth them, and saveth Keilah. 7 Saul purposeth to besiege him at Keilah. 9 God sheweth him of Saul's coming, and the treachery of the Keilites. 13 He escapeth to Ziph, whither Jonathan cometh and comforteth him. 19 The Ziphites discover him to Saul, who pursueth him closely in Maon, 27 but is called off by an invasion of the Philistines. 29 David dwelleth at En-gedi.

THEN they told David, saying, Behold, the Philistines fight against Keilah, and they rob the threshing-floors.

2 Therefore David enquired of the LORD, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And the LORD said unto David, Go, and smite the Philistines, and save Keilah.

3 And David's men said unto him, Behold, we be afraid here in Judah: how much more then if we come to Keilah against the armies of the Philistines?

4 Then David enquired of the LORD yet again. And the LORD answered him and said, Arise, go down to Keilah; for I will deliver the Philistines into thine hand.

5 So David and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistines, and brought away their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter. So David saved the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 And it came to pass, when Abiathar the son of Ahimelech fled to David to Keilah, that he came down with an ephod in his hand.

1061. 7 ¶ And it was told Saul that David was come to Keilah. And Saul said, God hath delivered him into mine hand; for he is shut in, by entering into a town that hath gates and bars.

8 And Saul called all the people together to war, to go down to Keilah, to besiege David and his men.

9 ¶ And David knew that Saul secretly practised mischief against him; and he said to Abiathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod. Before CHRIST 1061.

10 Then said David, O LORD God of Israel, thy servant hath certainly heard that Saul seeketh to come to Keilah, to destroy the city for my sake.

11 Will the men of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? O LORD God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the LORD said, He will come down.

12 Then said David, Will the men of Keilah deliver me and my men into the hand of Saul? And the LORD said, They will deliver thee up.

13 ¶ Then David and his men, which were about six hundred, arose and departed out of Keilah, and went whithersoever they could go. And it was told Saul that David was escaped from Keilah; and he forbare to go forth.

14 And David abode in the wilderness in strong holds, and remained in a mountain in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saul sought him every day, but God delivered him not into his hand.

15 And David saw that Saul was come out to seek his life: and David was in the wilderness of Ziph in a wood.

16 And Jonathan Saul's son arose, and went to David into the wood, and strengthened his hand in God.

17 And he said unto him, Fear not: for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Israel, and I shall be next unto thee; and that also Saul my father knoweth.

18 And they two made a covenant before the LORD: and David abode in the wood, and Jonathan went to his house.

19 ¶ Then came up the Ziphites to Saul to Gibeah, saying, Doth not David hide himself with us in strong holds in the wood, in the hill of Hachilah, which is on the south of Jeshimon?

20 Now therefore, O king, come down according to all the desire of thy soul to come down; and our part shall be to deliver him into the king's hand.

21 And Saul said, Blessed be ye of the LORD; for ye have compassion on me.

22 Go, I pray you, prepare yet, and know and see his place where his haunt is, and who hath seen him there: for it is told me that he dealeth very subtilly.

23 See therefore, and take knowledge of all the lurking places where he hideth himself, and come ye again to me with the certainty, and I will go with you: and it shall come to pass, if he be in the land, that I will search him out throughout all the thousands of Judah.

24 And they arose, and went to Ziph before Saul: but David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, in the plain on the south of Jeshimon.

25 Saul also and his men went to seek him. And they told David: wherefore he came down into a rock, and abode in the wilderness of Maon. And when Saul heard that, he pursued after David in the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul went on this side of the mountain, and David and his men on that side of the mountain: and David made haste to get away for fear of Saul; for Saul and his men compassed David and his men round about to take them.

27 ¶ But

17 The servants of the king would not put forth their hand to fall upon the priests of the Lord.] In this they were to be commended; but to stand wringing their hands, while they saw so many innocent creatures murdered, was much the same as to betray all divine and human rights merely to please a tyrant.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

In this chapter we see what evil calumnies occasion; which should strike us with horror for that sin, and also at the impiety and injustice of Saul, as well as the cruelty and wickedness of Doeg, in slaying the priests of the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

1 They told David, &c.] More properly, they had told David.

3 We be afraid here in Judah: how much more then if, &c.] His men argued against this expedition, because they did not think themselves safe in their own country, where they hoped they had some friends; and therefore they thought they should be in still greater danger if they made the Philistines their enemies.

4 Enquired of the Lord yet again, &c.] Not for his own satisfaction, but theirs.

10 Then said David, O Lord, &c.] The high-priest was the person appointed by God, to ask council of him for the supreme governor; therefore David spoke these words by the mouth of Abiathar.

13 And went whithersoever they could go, &c.] Sometimes to one place, sometimes to another, according as they found any hope of safety.

27 ¶ But there came a meſſenger unto Saul, ſaying, Haſte thee, and come; for the Philiſtines have invaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from purſuing after David, and went againſt the Philiſtines: therefore they called that place Sela-hammahlekoth.

29 ¶ And David went up from thence, and dwelt in ſtrong holds at En-gedi.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 David in a cave at En-gedi cutteth off Saul's ſkirt, but ſpareth his life: 8 He urgeth this as a proof of his innocency. 16 Saul acknowledgeth his fault, taketh an oath of David, and departeth.

AND it came to paſs, when Saul was returned from following the Philiſtines, that it was told him, ſaying, Behold, David is in the wilderneſs of En-gedi.

2 Then Saul took three thouſand choſen men out of all Iſrael, and went to ſeek David and his men upon the rocks of the wild goats.

3 And he came to the ſheepcotes by the way, where was a cave; and Saul went in to cover his feet: and David and his men remained in the ſides of the cave.

4 And the men of David ſaid unto him, Behold the day of which the LORD ſaid unto thee, Behold, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hand, that thou mayeſt do to him as it ſhall ſeem good unto thee. Then David aroſe, and cut off the ſkirt of Saul's robe privily.

5 And it came to paſs afterward, that David's heart ſmote him, becauſe he had cut off Saul's ſkirt.

6 And he ſaid unto his men, The LORD forbid that I ſhould do this thing unto my maſter, the LORD's anointed, to ſtretch forth mine hand againſt him, ſeeing he is the anointed of the LORD.

7 So David ſtayed his ſervants with theſe words, and ſuffered them not to riſe againſt Saul. But Saul roſe up out of the cave, and went on his way.

8 ¶ David alſo aroſe afterward, and went out of the cave, and cried after Saul, ſaying, My lord the king. And when Saul looked behind him, David ſtooped with his face to the earth, and bowed himſelf.

9 And David ſaid to Saul, Wherefore heareſt thou men's words, ſaying, Behold, David ſeeketh thy hurt?

10 Behold, this day thine eyes have ſeen how that the LORD had delivered thee to day into mine hand in the cave: and ſome bade me kill thee: but mine eye ſpared thee; and I ſaid, I will not put forth mine hand againſt my lord; for he is the LORD's anointed.

11 Moreover, my father, ſee, yea, ſee the ſkirt of thy robe in my hand: for in that I cut off the ſkirt of thy robe, and killed thee not, know thou and ſee that there is neither evil nor tranſgreſſion in mine hand, and I have not ſinned againſt thee; yet thou huntеſt my ſoul to take it.

12 The LORD judge between me and thee, and the LORD avenge me of thee: but mine hand ſhall not be upon thee.

13 As ſaith the proverb of the ancients, Wickedneſs proceedeth from the wicked: but mine hand ſhall not be upon thee.

14 After whom is the king of Iſrael come out? after whom doſt thou purſue? after a dead dog, after a flea.

15 The LORD therefore be judge, and judge between me and thee, and ſee, and plead my cauſe, and deliver me out of thine hand. Before CHRIST 1061.

16 ¶ And it came to paſs, when David had made an end of ſpeaking theſe words unto Saul, that Saul ſaid, Is this thy voice, my ſon David? And Saul lifted up his voice, and wept.

17 And he ſaid to David, Thou art more righteous than I: for thou haſt rewarded me good, whereas I have rewarded thee evil.

18 And thou haſt ſhewed this day how that thou haſt dealt well with me: foraſmuch as when the LORD had delivered me into thine hand, thou killedſt me not.

19 For if a man find his enemy, will he let him go well away? wherefore the LORD reward thee good for that thou haſt done unto me this day.

20 And now, behold, I know well that thou ſhalt ſurely be king, and that the kingdom of Iſrael ſhall be eſtabliſhed in thine hand.

21 Swear now therefore unto me by the LORD, that thou wilt not cut off my ſeed after me, and that thou wilt not deſtroy my name out of my father's houſe.

22 And David ſware unto Saul. And Saul went home; but David and his men gat them up unto the hold.

4 ¶ And David heard in the wilderneſs that Nabal did ſhear his ſheep.

5 And David ſent out ten young men, and David ſaid unto the young men, Get you up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and greet him in my name:

6 And thus ſhall ye ſay to him that liveth in proſperity, Peace be both to thee, and peace be to thine houſe, and peace be unto all that thou haſt.

7 And now I have heard that thou haſt ſhearers: now thy ſhepherds which were with us, we hurt them not, neither was there aught miſſing unto them, all the while they were in Carmel.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

In the caſe of David, it evidently appears, that God preſerves his children, ſometimes by warning them of dangers wherewith they are threatened, and ſometimes in caſting obſtacles in the way of their enemies, to hinder them from executing their unjuſt deſigns.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

3 To cover his feet, &c.] This may be underſtood of laying down to ſleep.

5 Becauſe he had cut off Saul's ſkirt] Becauſe he had offered ſuch an indignity to his prince.

6 The Lord forbid that I ſhould do this thing unto my maſter, &c.] This one example of David's, under all the provocations which he received, evidently ſhews that the perſons of kings are ſacred.

22 David and his men gat them up unto the hold.] Knowing the inconſtancy of Saul's temper, he was fearful of truſting him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

The example teaches us, to be gentle and moderate, even to thoſe who do us the greateſt miſchief; never to avenge ourſelves, but rather to return good for evil.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXV.

The wilderneſs of Paran.] This lay on the ſouth ſide of Judea, bordering upon Arabia.

3 He was of the houſe of Caleb.] Deſcended, but degenerated, from a worthy anceſtor.

Before CHRIST 1060.

8 Aſk thy young men, and they will ſhew thee. Wherefore let the young men find favour in thine eyes: for we come in a good day: give, I pray thee, whatſoever cometh to thine hand unto thy ſervants, and to thy ſon David.

9 And when David's young men came, they ſpake to Nabal according to all thoſe words in the name of David, and ceaſed.

10 ¶ And Nabal anſwered David's ſervants, and ſaid, Who is David? and who is the ſon of Jeſſe? there be many ſervants now a days that break away every man from his maſter.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my fleſh that I have killed for my ſhearers, and give it unto men, whom I know not whence they be?

12 So David's young men turned their way, and went again, and came and told him all thoſe ſayings.

13 And David ſaid unto his men, Gird ye on every man his ſword. And they girded on every man his ſword; and David alſo girded on his ſword: and there went up after David about four hundred men; and two hundred abode by the ſtuff.

14 ¶ But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, ſaying, Behold, David ſent meſſengers out of the wilderneſs to ſalute our maſter; and he railed on them.

15 But the men were very good unto us, and we were not hurt; neither miſſed we any thing, as long as we were converſant with them, when we were in the fields:

16 They were a wall unto us both by night and day, all the while we were with them keeping the ſheep.

17 Now therefore know and conſider what thou wilt do; for evil is determined againſt our maſter, and againſt all his houſhold: for he is ſuch a ſon of Belial, that a man cannot ſpeak to him.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haſte, and took two hundred loaves, and two bottles of wine, and five ſheep ready dreſſed, and five meaſures of parched corn, and an hundred cluſters of raiſins, and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on aſſes.

19 And ſhe ſaid unto her ſervants, Go on before me; behold, I come after you. But ſhe told not her huſband Nabal.

20 And it was ſo, as ſhe rode on the aſs, that ſhe came down by the covert of the hill, and, behold, David and his men came down againſt her; and ſhe met them.

21 Now David had ſaid, Surely in vain have I kept all that this fellow hath in the wilderneſs, ſo that nothing was miſſed of all that pertained unto him: and he hath requited me evil for good.

22 So and more alſo do God unto the enemies of David, if I leave of all that pertain to him by the morning light any that piſſeth againſt the wall.

23 And when Abigail ſaw David, ſhe haſted, and lighted off the aſs, and fell before David on her face, and bowed herſelf to the ground.

24 And fell at his feet and ſaid, Upon me, my lord, upon me let this iniquity be: and let thine handmaid, I pray thee, ſpeak in thine audience, and hear the words of thine handmaid.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this man of Belial, even Nabal: for as his name is, ſo is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid ſaw not the young men of my lord, whom thou didſt ſend.

26 Now therefore, my lord, as the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, ſeeing the LORD hath withholden thee from coming to ſhed blood, and from avenging thyſelf with thine own hand, now let thine enemies, and they that ſeek evil to my lord, be as Nabal.

27 And now this bleſſing which thine handmaid hath brought unto my lord, let it even be given unto the young men that follow my lord. Before CHRIST 1060.

28 I pray thee, forgive the treſpaſs of thine handmaid: for the LORD will certainly make my lord a ſure houſe; becauſe my lord fighteth the battles of the LORD, and evil hath not been found in thee all thy days.

29 Yet a man is riſen to purſue thee, and to ſeek thy ſoul: but the ſoul of my lord ſhall be bound in the bundle of life with the LORD thy God; and the ſouls of thine enemies, them ſhall he ſling out, as out of the middle of a ſling.

30 And it ſhall come to paſs, when the LORD ſhall have done to my lord according to all the good that he hath ſpoken concerning thee, and ſhall have appointed thee ruler over Iſrael;

31 That this ſhall be no grief unto thee, nor offence of heart unto my lord, either that thou haſt ſhed blood cauſeleſs, or that my lord hath avenged himſelf: but when the LORD ſhall have dealt well with my lord, then remember thine handmaid.

32 ¶ And David ſaid to Abigail, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, which ſent thee this day to meet me:

33 And bleſſed be thy advice, and bleſſed be thou, which haſt kept me this day from coming to ſhed blood, and from avenging myſelf with mine own hand.

34 For in very deed, as the LORD God of Iſrael liveth, which hath kept me back from hurting thee, except thou hadſt haſted and come to meet me, ſurely there had not been left unto Nabal by the morning light any that piſſeth againſt the wall.

35 So David received of her hand that which ſhe had brought him, and ſaid unto her, Go up in peace to thine houſe; ſee, I have hearkened to thy voice, and have accepted thy perſon.

36 ¶ And Abigail came to Nabal; and, behold, he held a feaſt in his houſe, like the feaſt of a king; and Nabal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunken: wherefore ſhe told him nothing, leſs or more, until the morning light.

37 But it came to paſs in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, and his wife had told him theſe things, that his heart died within him, and he became as a ſtone.

38 And it came to paſs about ten days after, that the LORD ſmote Nabal, that he died.

39 ¶ And when David heard that Nabal was dead, he ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD, that hath pleaded the cauſe of my reproach from the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his ſervant from evil: for the LORD hath returned the wickedneſs of Nabal upon his own head. And David ſent and communed with Abigail, to take her to him to wife.

40 And when the ſervants of David were come to Abigail to Carmel, they ſpake unto her, ſaying, David ſent us unto thee, to take thee to him to wife.

41 And ſhe aroſe, and bowed herſelf on her face to the earth, and ſaid, Behold, let thine handmaid be a ſervant to waſh the feet of the ſervants of my lord.

42 And Abigail haſted, and aroſe, and rode upon an aſs, with five damſels of her's that went after her; and ſhe went after the meſſengers of David, and became his wife.

43 David alſo took Ahinoam of Jezreel; and they were alſo both of them his wives.

44 ¶ But Saul had given Michal his daughter, David's wife, to Phalti the ſon of Laiſh, which was of Gallim.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Saul, informed by the Ziphites of David's abode, cometh againſt him to Hachilah. 5 David coming into the trench findeth Saul and his ſervants aſleep; he ſtayeth Abiſhai from killing Saul, but taketh his ſpear and cruſe. 13 David reproveth Abner's negligence, proteſteth his own innocency, and exhorteth Saul to deſiſt from purſuing him. 21 Saul acknowledgeth his ſin, and returneth home.

AND the Ziphites came unto Saul to Gibeah, ſaying, Doth not David hide himſelf in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeſhimon?

2 Then Saul aroſe, and went down to the wilderneſs of Ziph, having three thouſand choſen men of Iſrael with him, to ſeek David in the wilderneſs of Ziph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeſhimon, by the way. But David abode in the wilderneſs, and he ſaw that Saul came after him into the wilderneſs.

4 David therefore ſent out ſpies, and underſtood that Saul was come in very deed.

5 ¶ And David aroſe, and came to the place where Saul had pitched: and David beheld the place where Saul lay, and Abner the ſon of Ner, the captain of his hoſt: and Saul lay in the trench, and the people pitched round about him.

6 Then anſwered David and ſaid to Ahimelech the Hittite, and to Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah, brother to Joab, ſaying, Who will go down with me to Saul to the camp? And Abiſhai ſaid, I will go down with thee.

7 So David and Abiſhai came to the people by night: and, behold, Saul lay ſleeping within the trench, and his ſpear ſtuck in the ground at his bolſter: but Abner and the people lay round about him.

8 Then ſaid Abiſhai to David, God hath delivered thine enemy into thine hand this day: now therefore let me ſmite him, I pray thee, with the ſpear even to the earth at once, and I will not ſmite him the ſecond time.

9 And David ſaid to Abiſhai, Deſtroy him not: for who can ſtretch forth his hand againſt the LORD's anointed, and be guiltleſs?

10 David ſaid furthermore, As the LORD liveth, the LORD ſhall ſmite him; or his day ſhall come to die; or he ſhall deſcend into battle, and periſh.

11 The LORD forbid that I ſhould ſtretch forth mine hand againſt the LORD's anointed: but, I pray thee, take thou now the ſpear that is at his bolſter, and the cruſe of water, and let us go.

12 So David took the ſpear and the cruſe of water from Saul's bolſter; and they gat them away, and no man ſaw it, nor knew it, neither awaked: for they were all aſleep; becauſe a deep ſleep from the LORD was fallen upon them.

13 ¶ Then David went over to the other ſide, and ſtood on the top of an hill afar off; a great ſpace being between them:

14 And David cried to the people, and to Abner the ſon of Ner, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou not, Abner? Then Abner anſwered and ſaid, Who art thou that crieſt to the king?

15 And David ſaid to Abner, Art not thou a valiant man? and who is like to thee in Iſrael? wherefore then haſt thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the people in to deſtroy the king thy lord.

16 This thing is not good that thou haſt done. As the LORD liveth, ye are worthy to die, becauſe ye have not kept your maſter, the LORD's anointed. And now ſee where the king's ſpear is, and the cruſe of water that was at his bolſter. Before CHRIST 1060.

17 And Saul knew David's voice, and ſaid, Is this thy voice, my ſon David? And David ſaid, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

18 And he ſaid, Wherefore doth my lord thus purſue after his ſervant? for what have I done? or what evil is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I pray thee, let my lord the king hear the words of his ſervant. If the LORD have ſtirred thee up againſt me, let him accept an offering: but if they be the children of men, curſed be they before the LORD: for they have driven me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the LORD, ſaying, Go ſerve other gods.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the LORD: for the king of Iſrael is come out to ſeek a flea, as when one doth hunt a partridge in the mountains.

21 ¶ Then ſaid Saul, I have ſinned: return, my ſon David: for I will no more do thee harm, becauſe my ſoul was precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly.

22 And David anſwered and ſaid, Behold the king's ſpear! and let one of the young men come over and fetch it.

23 The LORD render to every man his righteouſneſs and his faithfulneſs: for the LORD delivered thee into my hand to day, but I would not ſtretch forth mine hand againſt the LORD's anointed.

24 And, behold, as thy life was much ſet by this day in mine eyes, ſo let my life be much ſet by in the eyes of the LORD, and let him deliver me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul ſaid to David, Bleſſed be thou, my ſon David: thou ſhalt both do great things, and alſo ſhalt ſtill prevail. So David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Saul heareth that David was fled to Gath ſeeketh no more for him. 5 David beggeth Ziklag of Achiſh. 8 He invadeth ſome other countries, but perſuaded Achiſh that he warred againſt Judah.

AND David ſaid in his heart, I ſhall now periſh one day by the hand of Saul: there is nothing better for me than that I ſhould ſpeedily eſcape into the land of the Philiſtines; and Saul ſhall deſpair of me, to ſeek me any more in any coaſt of Iſrael: ſo ſhall I eſcape out of his hand. 1058.

2 And David aroſe, and he paſſed over with the ſix hundred men that were with him unto Achiſh, the ſon of Maoch, king of Gath.

3 And David dwelt with Achiſh at Gath, he and his men, every man with his houſhold, even David with his two wives, Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs, and Abigail the Carmeliteſs, Nabal's wife.

4 And it was told Saul that David was fled to Gath: and he ſought no more again for him.

5 ¶ And David ſaid unto Achiſh, If I have now found grace in thine eyes, let them give me a place in ſome town in the country, that I may dwell there: for why ſhould thy ſervant dwell in the royal city with thee?

6 Then

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVI.

1 The Ziphites came unto Saul, &c.] Probably they were afraid that if he came to be king, he would remember and revenge the attempt they had before made to deliver him into the hand of Saul. See chap. xix. 20.

2 Saul aroſe and went down, &c.] The inconſtancy, falſeneſs, and implacable rage, of this prince, are inconceivable.

5 In the trench, &c.] The LXX tranſlate it, "In his chariot."

19 Let him accept an offering, &c.] God is not implacable, but ready to be reconciled if I have offended him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVI.

This chapter affords inſtruction to us, to avoid revenge, to reverence kings, and behave ourſelves with meekneſs, moderation, and gentleneſs towards thoſe who treat us with the greateſt injuſtice.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVII.

1 I ſhall now periſh one day by the hand of Saul, &c.] Theſe words muſt have been ſpoken in a melancholy fit, when David was under ſome great depreſſion of ſpirit, and for a moment loſt his proper confidence in God.

5 Let them give me a place in ſome town or the country, &c.] To avoid the envy of others, ſecure his people from idolatry, enjoy the free exerciſe of his religion, and gain opportunity of enterpriſing ſomething againſt the enemies of God, without the knowledge or obſervation of the Philiſtines.

Before CHRIST 1058. 6 Then Achiſh gave him Ziklag that day: wherefore Ziklag pertaineth unto the kings of Judah unto this day.

7 And the time that David dwelt in the country of the Philiſtines was a full year and four months.

8 ¶ And David and his men went up, and invaded the Geſhurites, and the Gezrites, and the Amalekites: for thoſe nations were of old the inhabitants of the land, as thou goeſt to Shur, even unto the land of Egypt.

9 And David ſmote the land, and left neither man nor woman alive, and took away the ſheep, and the oxen, and the aſſes, and the camels, and the apparel, and returned, and came to Achiſh.

10 And Achiſh ſaid, Whither have ye made a road to day? And David ſaid, Againſt the ſouth of Judah, and againſt the ſouth of the Jerahmeelites, and againſt the ſouth of the Kenites.

11 And David ſaved neither man nor woman alive, to bring tidings to Gath, ſaying, Leſt they ſhould tell on us, ſaying, So did David, and ſo will be his manner all the while he dwelleth in the country of the Philiſtines.

12 And Achiſh believed David, ſaying, He hath made his people Iſrael utterly to abhor him; therefore he ſhall be my ſervant for ever.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Achiſh putteth confidence in David. 3 Saul, who had before deſtroyed the workers with familiar ſpirits, 4 afraid of the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and forſaken of God, 7 hath recourſe to a witch at Endor, whom he perſuadeth to raiſe up Samuel. 15 Saul being informed by Samuel of his approaching ruin, fainteth. 21 The woman and his ſervants prevail upon him to take ſome food for his refreſhment.

1056. AND it came to paſs in thoſe days, that the Philiſtines gathered their armies together for warfare, to fight with Iſrael. And Achiſh ſaid unto David, Know thou aſſuredly, that thou ſhalt go out with me to battle, thou and thy men.

2 And David ſaid to Achiſh, Surely thou ſhalt know what thy ſervant can do. And Achiſh ſaid to David, Therefore will I make thee keeper of mine head for ever.

3 ¶ Now Samuel was dead, and all Iſrael had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah, even in his own city. And Saul had put away thoſe that had familiar ſpirits, and the wizards, out of the land.

4 ¶ And the Philiſtines gathered themſelves together, and came and pitched in Shunem: and Saul gathered all Iſrael together, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul ſaw the hoſt of the Philiſtines, he was afraid, and his heart greatly trembled.

6 And when Saul enquired of the LORD, the LORD anſwered him not, neither by dreams, nor by Urim, nor by prophets.

7 ¶ Then ſaid Saul unto his ſervants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar ſpirit, that I may go to her, and enquire of her. And his ſervants ſaid to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar ſpirit at Endor. Before CHRIST 1056.

8 And Saul diſguiſed himſelf, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he ſaid, I pray thee, divine unto me by the familiar ſpirit, and bring me him up, whom I ſhall name unto thee.

9 And the woman ſaid unto him, Behold, thou knoweſt what Saul hath done, how he hath cut off thoſe that have familiar ſpirits, and the wizards, out of the land: wherefore then layeſt thou a ſnare for my life, to cauſe me to die?

10 And Saul ſware to her by the LORD, ſaying, As the LORD liveth there ſhall no puniſhment happen to thee for this thing.

11 Then ſaid the woman, Whom ſhall I bring up unto thee? And he ſaid, Bring me up Samuel.

12 And when the woman ſaw Samuel, ſhe cried with a loud voice: and the woman ſpake to Saul, ſaying, Why haſt thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the king ſaid unto her, Be not afraid: for what ſaweſt thou? And the woman ſaid unto Saul, I ſaw gods aſcending out of the earth.

14 And he ſaid unto her, What form is he of? And ſhe ſaid, An old man cometh up; and he is covered with a mantle. And Saul perceived that it was Samuel, and he ſtooped with his face to the ground, and bowed himſelf.

15 ¶ And Samuel ſaid to Saul, Why haſt thou diſquieted me, to bring me up? And Saul anſwered, I am ſore diſtreſſed; for the Philiſtines make war againſt me, and God is departed from me, and anſwereth me no more, neither by prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayeſt make known unto me what I ſhall do.

16 Then ſaid Samuel, Wherefore then doſt thou aſk of me, ſeeing the LORD is departed from thee, and is become thine enemy?

17 And the LORD hath done to him, as he ſpake by me: for the LORD hath rent the kingdom out of thine hand, and given it to thy neighbour, even to David:

18 Becauſe thou obeyedſt not the voice of the LORD, nor executedſt his fierce wrath upon Amalek, therefore hath the LORD done this thing unto thee this day:

19 Moreover the LORD will alſo deliver Iſrael with thee into the hand of the Philiſtines: and to morrow ſhalt thou and thy ſons be with me: the LORD alſo ſhall deliver the hoſt of Iſrael into the hand of the Philiſtines.

20 Then Saul fell ſtraightway all along on the earth, and was ſore afraid, becauſe of the words of Samuel: and there was no ſtrength in him; for he had eatēn no bread all the day, nor all the night.

21 ¶ And the woman came unto Saul, and ſaw that he was ſore troubled, and ſaid unto him, Behold, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and I have put my life into my hand, and have hearkened unto thy words thou ſpakeſt unto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou alſo unto

8 The Amalekites, &c.] To reconcile this with ver. 8. of ch. xv. the meaning of the latter paſſage muſt be, that Saul deſtroyed as many of them as fell into his hands; for ſeveral of them might make their eſcape from Saul into the deſarts towards Arabia, and upon his retreat, return and poſſeſs their old habitations.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVII.

In this chapter is exhibited God's care of David, and that he was pleaſed to make uſe of him in diminiſhing the power of the enemies of his people; but his conduct, reſpecting the diſſimulation he practiſed, cannot be juſtified, neither ſhould it be imitated.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Thou ſhalt know what thy ſervant can do, &c.] David anſwers him ambiguouſly.

4 Shunem] This was a city in the borders of the tribe of Iſſachar, about five miles to the ſouth of mount Hermon.

Gilboa.] A mountain near the valley of Jezreel, not far from Shunem.

7 Seek me a woman that hath a familiar ſpirit, &c.] Strange infatuation this in Saul, who had baniſhed all wizards and ſorcerers out of his kingdom, as a dangerous ſet of people, who made profeſſion of a wicked and unwarrantable art.

8 They came to the woman by night, &c.] It was a common opinion among the Greeks, and perhaps then among the Hebrews, that none of the terreſtrial dæmons appeared in the day-time.

13 I ſaw gods, &c.] It ſhould have been rendered in the ſingular number, God, or a great perſon, for ſo the word God often ſignifies in the ſacred language.

14 Saul perceived that it was Samuel, &c.] The ſurpriſe the woman diſcovered on Samuel's ſudden appearing, that it was not the effect of her magic, but of ſome ſuperior hand. She ſaw an object ſo terrible, ſo majeſtic, in ſhort, ſo contrary to any thing ſhe had ever raiſed, that ſhe could not forbear being terrified.

15 Why haſt thou diſquieted me, to bring me up, &c.] It is moſt rational to think, that the ſcripture here expreſſes itſelf in a manner ſuitable to the prejudices of the vulgar, among whom it was a common notion, that theſe incantations gave trouble to the ſouls that were at reſt.

24 And the woman had a fat calf in the houſe; and ſhe haſted, and killed it, and took flour, and kneaded it, and did bake unleavened bread thereof:

25 And ſhe brought it before Saul, and before his ſervants; and they did eat. Then they roſe up, and went away that night.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 David marcheth with the Philiſtines: their princes are offended therewith. 6 Achiſh diſmiſſeth him with commendations of his fidelity.

NOW the Philiſtines gathered together all their armies to Aphek: and the Iſraelites pitched by a fountain which is in Jezreel.

2 And the lords of the Philiſtines paſſed on by hundreds, and by thouſands: but David and his men paſſed on in the rereward with Achiſh.

3 Then ſaid the princes of the Philiſtines, What do theſe Hebrews here? And Achiſh ſaid unto the princes of the Philiſtines, Is not this David, the ſervant of Saul the king of Iſrael, which hath been with me theſe days, or theſe years, and I have found no fault in him ſince he fell unto me unto this day?

4 And the princes of the Philiſtines were wroth with him; and the princes of the Philiſtines ſaid unto him, Make this fellow return, that he may go again to his place which thou haſt appointed him, and let him not go down with us to battle, leſt in the battle he be an adverſary to us: for wherewith ſhould he reconcile himſelf unto his maſter? ſhould it not be with the heads of theſe men?

5 Is not this David, of whom they ſang one to another in dances, ſaying, Saul ſlew his thouſands, and David his ten thouſands?

6 ¶ Then Achiſh called David, and ſaid unto him, Surely, as the LORD liveth, thou haſt been upright, and thy going out and thy coming in with me in the hoſt is good in my ſight: for I have not found evil in thee ſince the day of thy coming unto me unto this day: nevertheleſs the lords favour thee not.

7 Wherefore now return, and go in peace, that thou diſpleaſe not the lords of the Philiſtines.

8 And David ſaid unto Achiſh, But what have I done? and what haſt thou found in thy ſervant ſo long as I have been with thee unto this day, that I may not go fight againſt the enemies of my lord the king?

9 And Achiſh anſwered and ſaid to David, I know that thou art good in my ſight, as an angel of God: notwithſtanding the princes of the Philiſtines have ſaid, He ſhall not go up with us to the battle.

10 Wherefore now riſe up early in the morning, with thy maſter's ſervants that are come with thee: and as ſoon as ye be up early in the morning, and have light, depart.

11 So David and his men roſe up early to depart in the morning, to return into the land of the Philiſtines. And the Philiſtines went up to Jezreel. Before CHRIST 1056.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites ſpoil Ziklag. 3 David on his return is greatly diſtreſſed, but aſking counſel of God is encouraged to purſue them. 9 He ſetteth forward, and finding an Egyptian receiveth intelligence of the enemy. 16 Being conducted to them, he ſmiteth them, and recovereth the ſpoil. 22 David's law of dividing the ſpoil. 26 He ſendeth preſents to his friends.

AND it came to paſs, when David and his men were come to Ziklag on the third day, that the Amalekites had invaded the ſouth, and Ziklag, and ſmitten Ziklag, and burned it with fire;

2 And had taken the women captives, that were therein: they ſlew not any, either great or ſmall, but carried them away, and went on their way.

3 ¶ So David and his men came to the city, and, behold, it was burned with fire; and their wives, and their ſons, and their daughters, were taken captives.

4 Then David and the people that were with him lifted up their voice and wept, until they had no more power to weep.

5 And David's two wives were taken captives, Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And David was greatly diſtreſſed; for the people ſpake of ſtoning him, becauſe the ſoul of all the people was grieved, every man for his ſons and for his daughters: but David encouraged himſelf in the LORD his God.

7 And David ſaid to Abiathar the prieſt, Ahimelech's ſon, I pray thee, bring me thither the ephod. And Abiathar brought thither the ephod to David.

8 And David enquired at the LORD, ſaying, Shall I purſue after this troop? ſhall I overtake them? And he anſwered him, Purſue: for thou ſhalt ſurely overtake them, and without fail recover all.

9 ¶ So David went, he and the ſix hundred men that were with him, and came to the brook Beſor, where thoſe that were left behind ſtayed.

10 But David purſued, he and four hundred men: for two hundred abode behind, which were ſo faint that they could not go over the brook Beſor.

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to David, and gave him bread, and he did eat; and they made him drink water;

12 And they gave him a piece of a cake of figs, and two cluſters of raiſins: and when he had eaten, his ſpirit came again to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor drunk any water, three days and three nights.

13 And David ſaid unto him, To whom belongeſt thou? and whence art thou? And he ſaid, I am a young man of Egypt, ſervant to an Amalekite; and my maſter left me, becauſe three days agone I fell ſick.

14 We made an invaſion upon the ſouth of the Cherethites, and upon the coaſt which belongeth to Judah, and upon the ſouth of Caleb; and we burned Ziklag with fire.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVIII.

We diſcover in the perſon of Saul, how ſad the condition of thoſe is, who are forſaken of God, and how fearful we ſhould be of falling into the like, through impiety or hardneſs of heart.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIX.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIX.

From this chapter we are led to conſider that providence diſpoſes of events for the good of thoſe whom God loves; and the Lord delivers them, and gives them a favourable eſcape from their moſt troubleſome circumſtances.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXX.

15 And David ſaid to him, Canſt thou bring me down to this company? And he ſaid, Swear unto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliver me into the hands of my maſter, and I will bring thee down to this company.

16 ¶ And when he had brought him down, behold, they were ſpread abroad upon all the earth, eating and drinking, and dancing, becauſe of all the great ſpoil that they had taken out of the land of the Philiſtines, and out of the land of Judah.

17 And David ſmote them from the twilight even unto the evening of the next day: and there eſcaped not a man of them, ſave four hundred young men, which rode upon camels, and fled.

18 And David recovered all that the Amalekites had carried away: and David reſcued his two wives.

19 And there was nothing lacking to them, neither ſmall nor great, neither ſons nor daughters, neither ſpoil, nor any thing that they had taken to them: David recovered all.

20 And David took all the flocks and the herds, which they drave before thoſe other cattle, and ſaid, This is David's ſpoil.

21 And David came to the two hundred men, which were ſo faint that they could not follow David, whom they had made alſo to abide at the brook Beſor: and they went forth to meet David, and to meet the people that were with him: and when David came near to the people, he ſaluted them.

22 ¶ Then anſwered all the wicked men and men of Belial, of thoſe that went with David, and ſaid, Becauſe they went not with us, we will not give them ought of the ſpoil that we have recovered, ſave to every man his wife and his children, that they may lead them away, and depart.

23 Then ſaid David, Ye ſhall not do ſo, my brethren, with that which the LORD hath given us, who hath preſerved us, and delivered the company that came againſt us into our hand.

24 For who will hearken unto you in this matter? but as his part is that goeth down to the battle, ſo ſhall his part be that tarrieth by the ſtuff: they ſhall part alike.

25 And it was ſo from that day forward, that he made it a ſtatute and an ordinance for Iſrael unto this day.

26 ¶ And when David came to Ziklag, he ſent of the ſpoil unto the elders of Judah, even to his friends, ſaying, Behold a preſent for you of the ſpoil of the enemies of the LORD;

27 To them which were in Beth-el, and to them which were in ſouth Ramoth, and to them which were in Jattir.

28 And to them which were in Aroer, and to them which were in Siphmoth, and to them which were in Eſhtemoa,

29 And to them which were in Rachel, and to them which were in the cities of the Jerahmeelites, and to them which were in the cities of the Kenites,

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The battle at Gilboa; wherein Saul's army being defeated, and his ſons ſlain, he and his armourbearer kill themſelves. 7 The Philiſtines take poſſeſſion of the towns deſerted by the Iſraelites. 8 They inſult over the dead bodies of Saul and his ſons. 11 The men of Jabeſh-gilead recover the bodies by night, burn them, and bury their bones at Jabeſh.

NOW the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael: and the men of Iſrael fled from before the Philiſtines, and fell down ſlain in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philiſtines followed hard upon Saul and upon his ſons; and the Philiſtines ſlew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Melchi-ſhua, Saul's ſons.

3 And the battle went ſore againſt Saul, and the archers hit him; and he was ſore wounded of the archers.

4 Then ſaid Saul unto his armourbearer, Draw thy ſword, and thruſt me through therewith; leſt theſe uncircumciſed come and thruſt me through, and abuſe me. But his armourbearer would not; for he was ſore afraid. Therefore Saul took a ſword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armourbearer ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell likewiſe upon his ſword, and died with him.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and his armourbearer, and all his men that ſame day together.

7 ¶ And when the men of Iſrael that were on the other ſide of the valley, and they that were on the other ſide Jordan, ſaw that the men of Iſrael fled, and that Saul and his ſons were dead, they forſook the cities, and fled; and the Philiſtines came and dwelt in them.

8 And it came to paſs on the morrow, when the Philiſtines came to ſtrip the ſlain, that they found Saul and his three ſons fallen in mount Gilboa.

9 And they cut off his head, and ſtripped off his armour, and ſent into the land of the Philiſtines round about, to publiſh it in the houſe of their idols, and among the people.

10 And they put his armour in the houſe of Aſhtaroth: and they faſtened his body to the wall of Beth-ſhan.

11 ¶ And when the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead heard of that which the Philiſtines had done to Saul;

12 All the valiant men aroſe, and went all night, and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his ſons from the wall of Beth-ſhan, and came to Jabeſh, and burnt them there.

13 And they took their bones, and buried them under a tree at Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven days.

21 He ſaluted them.] He enquired after their welfare, for he had left them very weak.

24 For who will hearken unto you] He was confident that no impartial perſon would be of their opinion, if the matter was referred to them.

They ſhall part alike.] In ſome places, a ſingle portion was given to a footman, a double to a centurion, and a treble to a horſeman: in other places they varied from this.

26 He ſent of the ſpoil unto the elders of Judah, even to his friends, &c.] Not only to thoſe of his own tribe, but to the inhabitants of the city of Beth-el, which belonged to the tribe of Ephraim, in acknowledgment of their ſhelter and ſupport, and in proſpect of their future favour and intereſt.

31 Where David himſelf and his men were wont to haunt.] Either to live ſecretly among them, or to get proviſions or intelligence from them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXX.

From this chapter we perceive, that the evil which befel David turned to his advantage, and to his greater glory; and ſo thoſe who in their troubles aſk counſel of the Lord, never fail of meeting with good ſucceſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXI.

2 The Philiſtines ſlew Jonathan, &c.] There appears plainly a direction of Providence in ſuffering him to be ſlain, that David might more eaſily come to the throne.

3 The archers hit him, &c.] When David came to the throne, he taught the Iſraelites the uſe of the bow, as we read 2 Sam. i. 18. that they might not be inferior to the Philiſtines, nor fall into the like diſaſter that Saul had experienced.

4 Saul took a ſword, and fell upon it] Suicide is the ſure effect of a weak and puſillanimous temper of mind, ſince true greatneſs of ſoul conſiſts in ſupporting the evils of adverſity, and not in ſhuffling them off, which is a mark of a poor impatient ſpirit.

5 When his armourbearer ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell likewiſe upon his ſword, and died with him.] The Jews aſſert, that this armourbearer was Doeg the Edomite, who ſlew ſuch a number of prieſts in one day, 1 Sam. xxii. 18.

11 And when the inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead, &c.] The inhabitants of Jabeſh-gilead hearing of this indignity, and retaining a grateful ſenſe of the ſervices Saul had done them at the beginning of his reign, ſent a party of their beſt ſoldiers by night, to take down their bodies, and bring them away to Jabeſh.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXI.

We are here taught, that thoſe who abuſe God's favours are made examples of his indignation; that the innocent are ſometimes involved with the guilty in temporal puniſhments; and as God ſends his judgments upon the people as well as upon princes, in which we have cauſe to adore the juſtice, the wiſdom, and the goodneſs of God.

The Second Book of SAMUEL,

OTHERWISE CALLED

The Second Book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book contains the accompliſhment of God's promiſe in raiſing David to the throne of Iſrael; it comprehends an hiſtory of about forty years; relating, among other things, his adminiſtration of the government when he was ſettled in the kingdom.

CHAP. I.

1 An Amalekite bringeth to David the news of the Iſraelites' defeat, and chargeth himſelf with Saul's death. 11 David and his men mourn thereat. 13 The Amalekite is ſlain by David's command. 17 David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan.

Before CHRIST 1056. NOW it came to paſs after the death of Saul, when David was returned from the ſlaughter of the Amalekites, and David had abode two days in Ziklag;

2 It came even to paſs on the third day, that, behold, a man came out of the camp from Saul with his clothes rent, and earth upon his head: and ſo it was, when he came to David, that he fell to the earth, and did obeiſance.

3 And David ſaid unto him, From whence comeſt thou? And he ſaid unto him, Out of the camp of Iſrael am I eſcaped.

4 And David ſaid unto him, How went the matter? I pray thee, tell me. And he anſwered, That the people are fled from the battle, and many of the people alſo are fallen and dead; and Saul and Jonathan his ſon are dead alſo?

5 And David ſaid unto the young man that told him, How knoweſt thou that Saul and Jonathan his ſon be dead?

6 And the young man that told him ſaid, As I happened by chance upon mount Gilboa, behold, Saul leaned upon his ſpear; and, lo, the chariots and horſemen followed hard after him.

7 And when he looked behind him, he ſaw me, and called unto me. And I anſwered, Here am I.

8 And he ſaid unto me, Who art thou? And I anſwered him, I am an Amalekite.

9 He ſaid unto me again, Stand, I pray thee, upon me, and ſlay me: for anguiſh is come upon me, becauſe my life is yet whole in me.

10 So I ſtood upon him, and ſlew him, becauſe I was ſure that he could not live after that he was fallen: and I took the crown that was upon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them hither unto my lord.

11 ¶ Then David took hold on his clothes, and rent them; and likewiſe all the men that were with him: Before CHRIST 1056.

12 And they mourned, and wept, and faſted until even, for Saul, and for Jonathan his ſon, and for the people of the LORD, and for the houſe of Iſrael; becauſe they were fallen by the ſword.

13 ¶ And David ſaid unto the young man that told him, Whence art thou? And he anſwered, I am the ſon of a ſtranger, an Amalekite.

14 And David ſaid unto him, How waſt thou not afraid to ſtretch forth thine hand to deſtroy the LORD's anointed?

15 And David called one of the young men, and ſaid, Go near, and fall upon him. And he ſmote him that he died.

16 And David ſaid unto him, Thy blood be upon thy head; for thy mouth hath teſtified againſt thee, ſaying, I have ſlain the LORD's anointed.

17 ¶ And David lamented with this lamentation over Saul and over Jonathan his ſon:

18 (Alſo he bade them teach the children of Judah the uſe of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jaſher.)

19 The beauty of Iſrael is ſlain upon thy high places: how are the mighty fallen!

20 Tell it not in Gath, publiſh it not in the ſtreets of Aſkelon; leſt the daughters of the Philiſtines rejoice, leſt the daughters of the uncircumciſed triumph.

21 Ye mountains of Gilboa, let there be no dew, neither let there be rain, upon you, nor fields of offerings: for there the ſhield of the mighty is vilely caſt away, the ſhield of Saul, as though he had not been anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the ſlain, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan turned not back, and the ſword of Saul returned not empty.

23 Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleaſant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided: they were ſwifter than eagles, they were ſtronger than lions.

24 Ye daughters of Iſrael, weep over Saul, who clothed you in ſcarlet, with other delights, who put on ornaments of gold upon your apparel.

25 How

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

1 When David was returned from the ſlaughter of the Amalekites, &c.] The engagement between Saul and the Philiſtines happened juſt at the time when David was in purſuit of the Amalekites. See 1 Sam. xxx. 9.

6 And the young man that told him ſaid, As I happened by chance, &c.] The whole ſtory of this Amalekite was a fiction of his own inventing, on purpoſe to ingratiate himſelf with David, the preſumptive ſucceſſor to the throne. As to Saul's crown and bracelet, it is preſumed they were carried into the field of battle by ſome of his attendants, in order to be put on, in caſe he had obtained the victory, and returned in triumph.

18 He bade them teach the children of Judah the uſe of the bow, &c.] This paſſage is variouſly underſtood: the LXX. read, David ſung this mourning ſong—alſo he bade them teach it to the children of Judah: the Alexandrian copy and the Vulgate read, He bade them teach the children of Judah the bow.

19 The beauty of Iſrael, &c.] The flower of the nation, together with Saul and his ſons.

22 From the blood of the ſlain, &c.] Without the blood of the ſlain, without the blood of the mighty, &c.

23 Saul and Jonathan, &c.] That David ſhould lament and praiſe his friend Jonathan, is not at all ſurpriſing, but that he ſhould ſpeak ſo highly in commendation of his bitterеſt enemy, argues true greatneſs of ſoul.

Before CHRIST 1056. 25 How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jonathan, thou wast slain in thine high places.

26 I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan: very pleasant hast thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women.

27 How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

CHAP. II.

1 By God's direction David goeth up with his company to Hebron, where he is made king over Judah. 5 He commendeth the men of Jabesh-gilead for their kindness to Saul. 8 Abner maketh Ish-bosheth king over Israel. 12 A deadly skirmish between twelve of Abner's men and twelve of Joab's bringeth on a battle, wherein the men of Israel are worsted. 18 Asahel refusing to desist from pursuing Abner is slain by him. 25 At Abner's motion Joab soundeth a retreat. 30 The loss in the action. 32 Asahel's burial.

AND it came to pass after this, that David enquired of the LORD, saying, Shall I go up into any of the cities of Judah? And the LORD said unto him, Go up. And David said, Whither shall I go up? And he said, Unto Hebron.

2 So David went up thither, and his two wives also, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail Nabal's wife the Carmelite.

3 And his men that were with him did David bring up, every man with his household: and they dwelt in the cities of Hebron.

4 And the men of Judah came, and there they 1055. anointed David king over the house of Judah. And they told David, saying, That the men of Jabesh-gilead were they that buried Saul.

5 ¶ And David sent messengers unto the men of Jabesh-gilead, and said unto them, Blessed be ye of the LORD, that ye have shewed this kindness unto your lord, even unto Saul, and have buried him.

6 And now the LORD shew kindness and truth unto you: and I also will requite you this kindness, because ye have done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be strengthened, and be ye valiant: for your master Saul is dead, and also the house of Judah have anointed me king over them.

8 ¶ But Abner the son of Ner, captain of Saul's host, took Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, and brought him over to Mahanaim;

9 And made him king over Gilead, and over the Ashurites, and over Jezreel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel.

10 Ish-bosheth Saul's son was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and reigned two years. But the house of Judah followed David.

11 And the time that David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah was seven years and six months.

12 ¶ And Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, went out from Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13 And Joab the son of Zeruiah, and the servants of 1053. David, went out, and met together by the pool of Gibeon: and they sat down, the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side of the pool.

14 And Abner said to Joab, Let the young men now arise, and play before us. And Joab said, Let them arise. Before CHRIST 1053.

15 Then there arose and went over by number twelve of Benjamin, which pertained to Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

16 And they caught every one his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellow's side; so they fell down together: wherefore that place was called Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

17 And there was a very sore battle that day; and Abner was beaten, and the men of Israel, before the servants of David.

18 ¶ And there were three sons of Zeruiah there, Joab, and Abishai, and Asahel: and Asahel was as light of foot as a wild roe.

19 And Asahel pursued after Abner; and in going he turned not to the right hand nor to the left from following Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asahel? And he answered, I am.

21 And Abner said to him, Turn thee aside to thy right hand or to thy left, and lay thee hold on one of the young men, and take thee his armour. But Asahel would not turn aside from following of him.

22 And Abner said again to Asahel, Turn thee aside from following me: wherefore should I smite thee to the ground? how then should I hold up my face to Joab thy brother?

23 Howbeit he refused to turn aside: wherefore Abner with the hinder end of the spear smote him under the fifth rib, that the spear came out behind him; and he fell down there, and died in the same place: and it came to pass, that as many as came to the place where Asahel fell down and died stood still.

24 Joab also and Abishai pursued after Abner: and the sun went down when they were come to the hill of Ammah, that lieth before Giah by the way of the wilderness of Gibeon.

25 ¶ And the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together after Abner, and became one troop, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Joab, and said, Shall the sword devour for ever? knowest thou not that it will be bitterness in the latter end? how long shall it be then, ere thou bid the people return from following their brethren?

27 And Joab said, As God liveth, unless thou hadst spoken, surely then in the morning the people had gone up every one from following his brother.

28 So Joab blew a trumpet, and all the people stood still, and pursued after Israel no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night through the plain, and passed over Jordan, and went through all Bithron, and they came to Mahanaim.

30 ¶ And Joab returned from following Abner: and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of David's servants nineteen men and Asahel.

31 But the servants of David had smitten of Benjamin, and of Abner's men, so that three hundred and threescore men died.

32 ¶ And they took up Asahel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-lehem.

And

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

We may remark, from this chapter, the justice, piety, and generosity of David: his justice, in putting to death the deceitful relater of Saul's death; his piety, in not rejoicing at the evil which befel his enemy; and his generosity respecting Jonathan, as by his lamentation for him he was more affected with the duties of friendship, than with his own interest.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

1 Shall I go up into any of the cities of Judah? &c.] Though David had a right to the kingdom by God's designation, yet he would not enter into possession, nor take upon himself the administration of affairs, without God's advice and direction.

4 Over the house of Judah, &c.] They anointed him king over their own tribe; Abner had proclaimed Ish-bosheth successor to the throne, and, by this interest and great authority, prevailed with all the other tribes to acknowledge him.

8 Brought him over to Mahanaim.] This was a place in the tribe of Gad, which had its name from the appearance of an host of angels to Jacob, as he came with his family and all his substance to Padan-aram; see Gen. xxxii. 2.

14 Let the young men now arise, and play before us, &c.] Not with any purpose to kill one another, but only to entertain the spectators.

16 They caught] i. e. The servants of David caught, &c.

Helkath-hazzurim, &c.] The field of strong men.

23 Stood still.] Ceased the pursuit; perhaps either fearing the same fate, or to take care of Asahel's body.

27 Unless thou hadst spoken, surely then in the morning, &c.] This verse has been paraphrased, If thou hadst not said what thou didst in the morning [Let the young men arise, and play before us] surely the people had gone every one from his brother.

Before CHRIST 1053. And Joab and his men went all night, and they came to Hebron at break of day.

CHAP. III.

1 During the course of the war David still waxeth stronger. 2 The six sons which were born to him in Hebron. 6 Abner, offended by Ish-bosheth, threateneth to revolt to David; 12 to whom he sendeth to offer his service. 13 David refuseth to treat, till he hath first received back his wife Michal; who on his demand is restored to him. 17 Abner having communed with the Israelites goeth to David, by whom he is feasted, and sent away in peace. 22 Joab returning from battle is displeased with the king, and following Abner murdereth him treacherously. 28 David curseth Joab, 31 and mourneth for Abner.

NOW there was long war between the house of Saul and the house of David: but David waxed stronger and stronger, and the house of Saul waxed weaker and weaker.

2 ¶ And unto David were sons born in Hebron: and his firstborn was Amnon, of Ahinoam the Jezreelitess;

3 And his second, Chileab, of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite; and the third, Absalom the son of Maacah, the daughter of Talmai king of Geshur;

4 And the fourth, Adonijah the son of Haggith; and the fifth, Shephatiah the son of Abital;

5 And the sixth, Ithream, by Eglah David's wife. These were born to David in Hebron.

6 ¶ And it came to pass, while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, that Abner made himself strong for the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine, whose name was Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah: and Ish-bosheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in unto my father's concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Ish-bosheth, and said, Am I a dog's head, which against Judah do shew kindness this day unto the house of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his friends, and have not delivered thee into the hand of David, that thou chargest me to day with a fault concerning this woman?

9 So do God to Abner, and more also, except as the LORD hath sworn to David, even so I do to him;

10 To translate the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to set up the throne of David over Israel and over Judah, from Dan even to Beer-sheba.

11 And he could not answer Abner a word again, because he feared him.

1048. 12 ¶ And Abner sent messengers to David on his behalf, saying, Whose is the land? saying also, Make thy league with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with thee, to bring about all Israel unto thee.

13 ¶ And he said, Well; I will make a league with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, Thou shalt not see my face, except thou first bring Michal Saul's daughter, when thou comest to see my face.

14 And David sent messengers to Ish-bosheth Saul's son, saying, Deliver me my wife Michal, which I espoused to me for an hundred foreskins of the Philistines.

15 And Ish-bosheth sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phaltiel the son of Laish.

16 And her husband went with her along weeping behind her to Bahurim. Then said Abner unto him, Go, return. And he returned.

17 ¶ And Abner had communication with the elders of Israel, saying, Ye sought for David in times Before CHRIST 1048. past to be king over you:

18 Now then do it: for the LORD hath spoken of David, saying, By the hand of my servant David I will save my people Israel out of the hand of the Philistines, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

19 And Abner also spake in the ears of Benjamin: and Abner went also to speak in the ears of David in Hebron all that seemed good to Israel, and that seemed good to the whole house of Benjamin.

20 So Abner came to David in Hebron, and twenty men with him. And David made Abner and the men that were with him a feast.

21 And Abner said unto David, I will arise and go, and will gather all Israel unto my lord the king, that they may make a league with thee, and that thou mayest reign over all that thine heart desireth. And David sent Abner away; and he went in peace.

22 ¶ And, behold, the servants of David and Joab came from pursuing a troop, and brought in a great spoil with them: but Abner was not with David in Hebron; for he had sent him away, and he was gone in peace.

23 When Joab and all the host that was with him were come, they told Joab, saying, Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Joab came to the king, and said, What hast thou done? behold, Abner came unto thee; why is it that thou hast sent him away, and he is quite gone?

25 Thou knowest Abner the son of Ner, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all that thou doest.

26 And when Joab was come out from David, he sent messengers after Abner, which brought him again from the well of Sirah: but David knew it not.

27 And when Abner was returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside in the gate to to speak with him quietly, and smote him there under the fifth rib, that he died, for the blood of Asahel his brother.

28 ¶ And afterward when David heard it, he said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the LORD for ever from the blood of Abner the son of Ner:

29 Let it rest on the head of Joab, and on all his father's house; and let there not fail from the house of Joab one that hath an issue, or that is a leper, or that leaneth on a staff, or that falleth on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 So Joab and Abishai his brother slew Abner, because he had slain their brother Asahel at Gibeon in the battle.

31 ¶ And David said to Joab, and to all the people that were with him, Rend your clothes, and gird you with sackcloth, and mourn before Abner. And king David himself followed the bier.

32 And they buried Abner in Hebron: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Abner; and all the people wept.

33 And the king lamented over Abner, and said, Died Abner as a fool dieth?

34 Thy hands were not bound, nor thy feet put into fetters: as a man falleth before wicked men, so fellest thou. And all the people wept again over him.

35 And when all the people came to cause David to eat meat while it was yet day, David sware, saying, So

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

This chapter affords us a lesson, to avoid, as much as we are able, the shedding of blood, and doing evil to another; and that our chief endeavour should be to reconcile contending parties, and re-establish peace between them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

7 Wherefore hast thou gone in unto my father's concubine?] It was a general rule, not among the Jews only, but among other nations, that no private person should presume to marry the king's widow; for this made him appear as a rival and competitor for the crown.

8 Am I a dog's head, &c.] It might be rendered, Am I a keeper of dogs?

12 Make thy league with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with thee, &c.] Abner is an instance of what a strange alteration revenge will make in a man.

27 And smote him there under the fifth rib] Joab had reason to suspect, that in case Abner once got into David's favour, (as the service he was able to do him gave him a title to it) it would not be long before he would gain a superior ascendant; and therefore he took this wicked method to prevent him.

For the blood of Asahel, &c.] This was his pretended reason; but the real one is assigned in the foregoing note.

29 And on all his father's house, &c.] This may be looked on as a prophetical prediction, rather than as a private imprecation.

So do God to me, and more alſo, if I taſte bread, or aught, till the ſun be down.

36 And all the people took notice of it, and it pleaſed them: as whatſoever the king did pleaſed all the people.

37 For all the people and all Iſrael underſtood that day that it was not of the king to ſlay Abner the ſon of Ner.

38 And the king ſaid unto his ſervants, Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Iſrael?

39 And I am this day weak, though anointed king; and theſe men the ſons of Zeruiah be too hard for me: the LORD ſhall reward the doer of evil according to his wickedneſs.

CHAP. IV.

1 The Iſraelites are troubled at Abner's death. 2 Baanah and Rechab murder Iſh-boſheth, and bring his head to David to Hebron. 9 David cauſeth them to be put to death, and Iſh-boſheth's head to be buried.

AND when Saul's ſon heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, his hands were feeble, and all the Iſraelites were troubled.

2 ¶ And Saul's ſon had two men that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Baanah, and the name of the other Rechab, the ſons of Rimmon a Beerothite, of the children of Benjamin: (for Beeroth alſo was reckoned to Benjamin:

3 And the Beerothites fled to Gittaim, and were ſojourners there until this day.)

4 And Jonathan, Saul's ſon, had a ſon that was lame of his feet. He was five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan out of Jezreel, and his nurſe took him up, and fled: and it came to paſs, as ſhe made haſte to flee, that he fell, and became lame. And his name was Mephiboſheth.

5 And the ſons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah, went, and came about the heat of the day to the houſe of Iſh-boſheth, who lay on a bed at noon.

6 And they came thither into the midſt of the houſe, as though they would have fetched wheat; and they ſmote him under the fifth rib: and Rechab and Baanah his brother eſcaped.

7 For when they came into the houſe, he lay on his bed in his bedchamber, and they ſmote him, and ſlew him, and beheaded him, and took his head, and gat them away through the plain all night.

8 And they brought the head of Iſh-boſheth unto David to Hebron, and ſaid to the king, Behold the head of Iſh-boſheth the ſon of Saul thine enemy, which ſought thy life; and the LORD hath avenged my lord the king this day of Saul, and of his ſeed.

9 ¶ And David anſwered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the ſons of Rimmon the Beerothite, and ſaid unto them, As the LORD liveth, who hath redeemed my ſoul out of all adverſity,

Before CHRIST 1048.

10 When one told me, ſaying, Behold, Saul is dead, thinking to have brought good tidings, I took hold of him, and ſlew him in Ziklag, who thought that I would have given him a reward for his tidings:

11 How much more, when wicked men have ſlain a righteous perſon in his own houſe upon his bed? ſhall I not therefore now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?

12 And David commanded his young men, and they ſlew them, and cut off their hands and their feet, and hanged them up over the pool in Hebron. But they took the head of Iſh-boſheth, and buried it in the ſepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

CHAP. V.

1 The tribes come to Hebron, and anoint David king over Iſrael. 4 His age and reign. 6 He taketh Zion from the Jubuſites, and, fixing his reſidence there, calleth it the city of David. 11 Hiram ſendeth him timber and workmen to build him a houſe. 13 Eleven ſons are born to him in Jeruſalem. 17 David directed by God ſmiteth the Philiſtines at Baal-perazim, 22 and again at the mulberry trees.

THEN came all the tribes of Iſrael to David unto Hebron, and ſpake, ſaying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh.

2 Alſo in time paſt, when Saul was king over us, thou waſt he that leddeſt out and broughteſt in Iſrael: and the LORD ſaid to thee, Thou ſhalt feed my people Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be a captain over Iſrael.

3 So all the elders of Iſrael came to the king to Hebron; and king David made a league with them in Hebron before the LORD: and they anointed David king over Iſrael.

4 ¶ David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.

5 In Hebron he reigned over Judah ſeven years and ſix months: and in Jeruſalem he reigned thirty and three years over all Iſrael and Judah.

6 ¶ And the king and his men went to Jeruſalem unto the Jebuſites, the inhabitants of the land: which ſpake unto David, ſaying, Except thou take away the blind and the lame, thou ſhalt not come in hither: thinking, David cannot come in hither.

7 Nevertheleſs David took the ſtrong hold of Zion: the ſame is the city of David.

8 And David ſaid on that day, Whoſoever getteth up to the gutter, and ſmiteth the Jebuſites, and the lame and the blind, that are hated of David's ſoul, he ſhall be chief and captain. Wherefore they ſaid, The blind and the lame ſhall not come into the houſe.

9 So David dwelt in the fort, and called it the city of 39 Theſe men the ſons of Zeruiah be too hard for me, &c.] Joab was David's ſiſter's ſon, or nephew, who had ſtuck ſo cloſe to him in all his adverſity; an excellent ſoldier, and of great power and authority in the army. It was therefore a point of prudence in David to delay the puniſhment of ſo powerful and perilous a man, until a more convenient ſeaſon, and only for the preſent to expreſs his deteſtation of the deed by commending the deceaſed, condemning the murder, and commanding the murderer, by way of penance, to attend the funeral in ſackcloth, and other enſigns of mourning.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

From this chapter we may gather, that God often makes uſe of the corrupt paſſions of men for the execution of his deſigns; that the ſpirit of jealouſy and reſentment leads men to commit very great crimes, which if they happen to eſcape the vengeance of men, yet God will not ſuffer them to paſs unpuniſhed.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

2 Of the children of Benjamin, &c.] This is added, to ſhew us, that theſe two regicides were not only officers in the king's army, but of the ſame tribe with Saul; and therefore had more ties than one upon them to be faithful to his family.

7 They ſmote him, and ſlew him, &c.] Theſe two ruffians were not diſcouraged by David's puniſhing the Amalekite for killing Saul, and by the deteſtation he had publicly ſhewn of Joab's baſeneſs in murdering Abner: but they might perhaps think that the former caſe was not parallel to them; and as for the latter, that David's conduct in relation to Abner's death, proceeded from art and policy, rather than any ſerious diſlike of the king himſelf.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

This chapter ſets before us a noble example of piety and generoſity in David, and teaches us, that we ought not only to do no hurt to our enemies, but to forbear rejoicing at the hurt which happens to them, nor to contribute any thing thereto: neither to countenance injuſtice and other crimes, how great advantages ſoever we may reap from thence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

1 Came all the tribes of Iſrael, &c.] Ambaſſadors were ſent from every tribe.

2 Thou ſhalt feed my people Iſrael, &c.] This expreſſion was the rather made uſe of, to put David in mind, that he was created a king, not ſo much for the advancement of his own honour and intereſt, as for the good and benefit of the community.

6 Except thou take away the blind and the lame, &c.] They imagined their fortreſs to be ſo impregnable, that by way of contempt, they told David, that their very blind and lame would be able to defend it againſt him and all his forces.

8 The gutter] By "the gutter" is here meant the ſubterraneous paſſage or hollow way, through which men could paſs and repaſs for water.

The lame and the blind, that are hated of David's ſoul, &c.] Theſe were hateful to David, becauſe they had wickedly and inſolently defied the armies of the living God.

12 And David perceived that the LORD had eſtabliſhed him king over Iſrael, and that he had exalted his kingdom for his people Iſrael's ſake.

13 ¶ And David took him more concubines and wives out of Jeruſalem, after he was come from Hebron: and there were yet ſons and daughters born to David.

17 ¶ But when the Philiſtines heard that they had anointed David king over Iſrael, all the Philiſtines came up to ſeek David; and David heard of it, and went down to the hold.

18 The Philiſtines alſo came and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim.

19 And David enquired of the LORD, ſaying, Shall I go up to the Philiſtines? wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD ſaid unto David, Go up: for I will doubtleſs deliver the Philiſtines into thine hand.

20 And David came to Baal-perazim, and David ſmote them there, and ſaid, The LORD hath broken forth upon mine enemies before me, as the breach of waters. Therefore he called the name of that place Baal-perazim.

21 And there they left their images, and David and his men burned them.

22 ¶ And the Philiſtines came up yet again, and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim.

23 And when David enquired of the LORD, he ſaid, Thou ſhalt not go up; but fetch a compaſs behind them, and come upon them over againſt the mulberry trees.

24 And let it be, when thou heareſt the ſound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees, that then thou ſhalt beſtir thyſelf: for then ſhall the LORD go out before thee, to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

25 And David did ſo, as the LORD had commanded him; and ſmote the Philiſtines from Geba until thou come to Gazer.

CHAP. VI.

1 David fetcheth the ark from Kirjath-jearim on a new cart. 6 Uzzah offering to lay hold on it is ſmitten dead; on which account the ark being carried into Obed-edom's houſe bringeth a bleſſing with it. 12 David bringeth it into Zion, ſacrificing and dancing before it, for which Michal deſpiſeth him. 17 He placeth it in a tabernacle with ſacrifices and feaſting. 20 Michal reproving David for his religious joy is childleſs to her death.

1042. AGAIN, David gathered together all the choſen men of Iſrael, thirty thouſand.

2 And David aroſe, and went with all the people that were with him from Baale of Judah, to bring up from thence the ark of God, whoſe name is called by the name of the LORD of hoſts that dwelleth between the cherubims. Before CHRIST 1042.

3 And they ſet the ark of God upon a new cart, and brought it out of the houſe of Abinadab that was in Gibeah: and Uzzah and Ahio, the ſons of Abinadab, drave the new cart.

4 And they brought it out of the houſe of Abinadab which was at Gibeah, accompanying the ark of God: and Ahio went before the ark.

5 And David and all the houſe of Iſrael played before the LORD on all manner of inſtruments made of fir wood, even on harps, and on pſalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals.

6 ¶ And when they came to Nachon's threſhing-floor, Uzzah put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen ſhook it.

7 And the anger of the LORD was kindled againſt Uzzah; and God ſmote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God.

8 And David was diſpleaſed, becauſe the LORD had made a breach upon Uzzah: and he called the name of the place Perez-uzzah to this day.

9 And David was afraid of the LORD that day, and ſaid, How ſhall the ark of the LORD come to me?

10 So David would not remove the ark of the LORD unto him into the city of David: but David carried it aſide into the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite.

11 And the ark of the LORD continued in the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite three months: and the LORD bleſſed Obed-edom, and all his houſhold.

12 ¶ And it was told king David, ſaying, The LORD hath bleſſed the houſe of Obed-edom, and all that pertaineth unto him, becauſe of the ark of God. So David went and brought up the ark of God from the houſe of Obed-edom into the city of David with gladneſs.

13 And it was ſo, that when they that bare the ark of the LORD had gone ſix paces, he ſacrificed oxen and fatlings.

14 And David danced before the LORD with all his might; and David was girded with a linen ephod.

15 So David and all the houſe of Iſrael brought up the ark of the LORD with ſhouting, and with the ſound of the trumpet.

16 And as the ark of the LORD came into the city of David, Michal Saul's daughter looked through a window, and ſaw king David leaping and dancing before the LORD; and ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

17 ¶ And they brought in the ark of the LORD, and ſet it in his place, in the midſt of the tabernacle that David had pitched for it: and David offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

18 And as ſoon as David had made an end of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, he bleſſed the people in the name of the LORD of hoſts.

19 And he dealt among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Iſrael, as well to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a good piece of fleſh, and a flagon of wine. So all the people departed every one to his houſe.

20 ¶ Then David returned to bleſs his houſhold. And Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet David,

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

This happy concluſion of David's troubles ſhews us, that God's promiſes will ſurely be accompliſhed, and that after having made his children paſs through divers trials, he at length delivers, and grants them reſt.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

2 Baale of Judeh, &c.] This is the ſame place which was before called Kirjath-jearim.

5 And David and all the houſe of Iſrael played before the Lord, &c.] This might be ſo ordered by David, to poſſeſs the young people with a veneration for God, after his own example.

7 And God ſmote him there for his error, &c.] In Uzzah's conduct there ſeems to be a threefold tranſgreſſion of the divine will. The ark was placed (as ſome ſay) by Uzzah's direction, in a cart; which was irregular, for it ſhould have been carried on the ſhoulders of the Kohathites. Uzzah adventured to attend it, without any proper deſignation; and farther, when he thought it in danger of falling, he officiouſly put forth his hand, and laid hold on it, which was another violation of the divine command.

12 With gladneſs.] All the people again accompanied him, playing on all manner of muſical inſtruments, as they did before.

14 And David danced before the Lord, &c.] His mixing with the public feſtivities of his people, was a condeſcenſion not unbecoming the greateſt monarch.

Before CHRIST 1042. David, and ſaid, How glorious was the king of Iſrael to day, who uncovered himſelf to day in the eyes of the handmaids of his ſervants, as one of the vain fellows ſhamelefly uncovereth himſelf!

21 And David ſaid unto Michal, It was before the LORD, which choſe me before thy father, and before all his houſe, to appoint me ruler over the people of the LORD, over Iſrael: therefore will I play before the LORD.

22 And I will yet be more vile than thus, and will be baſe in mine own ſight: and of the maid-ſervants which thou haſt ſpoken of, of them ſhall I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Michal the daughter of Saul had no child unto the day of her death.

CHAP. VII.

1 Nathan, firſt approving David's purpoſe to build God an houſe, 4 afterward by the word of the LORD forbiddeth it, but with aſſurance of favour, 12 and a promiſe of eſpecial bleſſings in his ſeed. 18 David's prayer and thankſgiving.

AND it came to paſs, when the king ſat in his houſe, and the LORD had given him reſt round about from all his enemies;

2 That the king ſaid unto Nathan the prophet, See now, I dwell in an houſe of cedar, but the ark of God dwelleth within curtains.

3 And Nathan ſaid to the king, Go, do all that is in thine heart; for the LORD is with thee.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs that night, that the word of the LORD came unto Nathan, ſaying,

5 Go and tell my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the LORD, Shalt thou build me an houſe for me to dwell in?

6 Whereas I have not dwelt in any houſe ſince the time that I brought up the children of Iſrael out of Egypt, even to this day, but have walked in a tent and in a tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I have walked with all the children of Iſrael ſpake I a word with any of the tribes of Iſrael, whom I commanded to feed my people Iſrael, ſaying, Why build ye not me an houſe of cedar?

8 Now therefore ſo ſhalt thou ſay unto my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I took thee from the ſheepcote, from following the ſheep, to be ruler over my people, over Iſrael:

9 And I was with thee whitherſoever thou wenteſt, and have cut off all thine enemies out of thy ſight, and have made thee a great name, like unto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 Moreover, I will appoint a place for my people Iſrael, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more; neither ſhall the children of wickedneſs afflict them any more, as beforetime,

11 And as ſince the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iſrael, and have cauſed thee to reſt from all thine enemies. Alſo the LORD telleth thee that he will make thee an houſe.

12 ¶ And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou ſhalt ſleep with thy fathers, I will ſet up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

13 He ſhall build an houſe for my name, and I will ſtabliſh the throne of his kingdom for ever. Before CHRIST 1042.

14 I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſon. If he commit iniquity, I will chaſten him with the rod of men, and with the ſtripes of the children of men:

15 But my mercy ſhall not depart away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before thee.

16 And thine houſe and thy kingdom ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever before thee: thy throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever.

17 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David.

18 ¶ Then went king David in, and ſat before the LORD, and he ſaid, Who am I, O LORD God? and what is my houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a ſmall thing in thy ſight, O LORD God; but thou haſt ſpoken alſo of thy ſervant's houſe for a great while to come. And is this the manner of man, O LORD God?

20 And what can David ſay more unto thee? for thou, LORD God, knoweſt thy ſervant.

21 For thy word's ſake, and according to thine own heart, haſt thou done all theſe great things, to make thy ſervant know them.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O LORD God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſide thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

23 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people, even like Iſrael, whom God went to redeem for a people to himſelf, and to make him a name, and to do for you great things and terrible, for thy land, before thy people, which thou redeemedſt to thee from Egypt, from the nations and their gods?

24 For thou haſt confirmed to thyſelf thy people Iſrael to be a people unto thee for ever: and thou, LORD, art become their God.

25 And now, O LORD God, the word that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant, and concerning his houſe, eſtabliſh it for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

26 And let thy name be magnified for ever, ſaying, The LORD of hoſts is the God over Iſrael: and let the houſe of thy ſervant David be eſtabliſhed before thee.

27 For thou, O LORD of hoſts, God of Iſrael, haſt revealed to thy ſervant, ſaying, I will build thee an houſe: therefore hath thy ſervant found in his heart to pray this prayer unto thee.

28 And now, O LORD God, thou art that God, and thy words be true, and thou haſt promiſed this goodneſs unto thy ſervant:

29 Therefore now let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou, O LORD God, haſt ſpoken it: and with thy bleſſing let the houſe of thy ſervant be bleſſed for ever.

CHAP. VIII.

1 David ſubdueth the Philiſtines, and maketh the Moabites tributary. 3 He ſmiteth Hadadezer and the Syrians. 9 Toi king of Hamath ſendeth his ſon with preſents to bleſs David; who dedicateth the preſents, and the ſpoil which he had taken, to God. 15 He putteth garriſons in Edom. 14 His good reign; a liſt of his principal officers.

AND

20 Who uncovered himſelf to day, &c.] This was either an opprobrious term, proceeding from the overflowing ſpleen of a proud paſſionate woman; or may mean no more than his having ſtripped himſelf of his royal robes, and put on a linen ephod.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

In this chapter we have the picture of worldly people in the perſon of Michal, who are aſhamed of holineſs; and the proceeding of David ſhould teach every body, eſpecially great men, to glory in giving public marks of their zeal for the ſervice of God, who will bleſs thoſe who ſerve him faithfully.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

2 Said unto Nathan, &c.] This is the firſt time that the ſcripture makes mention of this prophet. He was a man of great temper, prudence, and fine addreſs, was always equally eſteemed and beloved by David, and in his conduct towards him, maintained a juſt medium between an inflexible auſterity, and a ſervile flattery.

10 I will appoint a place for my people Iſrael, &c.] Or, I have conſtituted (or eſtabliſhed) a place for my people; i. e. the land of Canaan.

13 I will ſtabliſh the throne of his kingdom for ever.] This can belong to none but the Meſſiah, if the words "for ever" be taken in their full extent.

18 And ſat before the Lord, &c.] He took his ſeat in the tabernacle before the ark, and then he made the following prayer, ſtanding up, as the manner was when they worſhipped: for we cannot ſuppoſe that he ſat during the time of prayer.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

We may obſerve, that the promiſes made by Nathan to David, that God would give him a ſon, &c. have been firſt accompliſhed in Solomon, and ſince intirely completed in Jeſus Chriſt, whoſe kingdom is everlaſting. See Heb. i.

Before CHRIST 1040. AND after this it came to paſs, that David ſmote the Philiſtines, and ſubdued them: and David took Metheg-ammah out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

2 And he ſmote Moab, and meaſured them with a line, caſting them down to the ground; even with two lines meaſured he to put to death, and with one full line to keep alive. And ſo the Moabites became David's ſervants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ David ſmote alſo Hadadezer, the ſon of Rehob, king of Zobah, as he went to recover his border at the river Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thouſand chariots, and ſeven hundred horſemen, and twenty thouſand footmen: and David houghed all the chariot horſes, but reſerved of them for an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of Damaſcus came to ſuccour Hadadezer king of Zobah, David ſlew of the Syrians two and twenty thouſand men.

6 Then David put garriſons in Syria of Damaſcus: and the Syrians became ſervants to David, and brought gifts. And the LORD preſerved David whitherſoever he went.

7 And David took the ſhields of gold that were on the ſervants of Hadadezer, and brought them to Jeruſalem.

8 And from Betah, and from Berothai, cities of Hadadezer, king David took exceeding much braſs.

9 ¶ When Toi king of Hamath heard that David had ſmitten all the hoſt of Hadadezer,

10 Then Toi ſent Joram his ſon unto king David, to ſalute him, and to bleſs him, becauſe he had fought againſt Hadadezer, and ſmitten him: for Hadadezer had wars with Toi. And Joram brought with him veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and veſſels of braſs:

11 Which alſo king David did dedicate unto the LORD, with the ſilver and gold that he had dedicated of all nations which he ſubdued;

12 Of Syria, and of Moab, and of the children of Ammon, and of the Philiſtines, and of Amalek, and of the ſpoil of Hadadezer, ſon of Rehob, king of Zobah.

13 And David gat him a name when he returned from ſmiting of the Syrians in the valley of ſalt, being eighteen thouſand men.

14 ¶ And he put garriſons in Edom; throughout all Edom put he garriſons, and all they of Edom became David's ſervants. And the LORD preſerved David whitherſoever he went.

15 And David reigned over all Iſrael; and David executed judgment and juſtice unto all his people.

16 And Joab the ſon of Zeruiah was over the hoſt; and Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Ahilud was recorder;

17 And Zadok the ſon of Ahitub, and Ahimelech the ſon of Abiathar, were the prieſts; and Seraiah was the ſcribe;

18 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada was over both the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and David's ſons were chief rulers.

CHAP. IX.

1 David upon enquiry is informed by Ziba of Mephibosheth the ſon of Jonathan; 5 whom he ſendeth for, 7 and kindly entertaineth at his table for Jonathan's ſake: 9 He reſtoreth him all the family poſſeſſions of Saul, and maketh Ziba his farmer.

Before CHRIST 1040. AND David ſaid, Is there yet any that is left of the houſe of Saul, that I may ſhew him kindneſs for Jonathan's ſake?

2 And there was of the houſe of Saul a ſervant whoſe name was Ziba. And when they had called him unto David, the king ſaid unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he ſaid, Thy ſervant is he.

3 And the king ſaid, Is there not yet any of the houſe of Saul, that I may ſhew the kindneſs of God unto him? And Ziba ſaid unto the king, Jonathan hath yet a ſon, which is lame on his feet.

4 And the king ſaid unto him, Where is he? And Ziba ſaid unto the king, Behold, he is in the houſe of Machir, the ſon of Ammiel, in Lo-debar.

5 Then king David ſent, and fetched him out of the houſe of Machir, the ſon of Ammiel, from Lo-debar.

6 Now when Mephibosheth, the ſon of Jonathan, the ſon of Saul, was come unto David, he fell on his face, and did reverence. And David ſaid, Mephibosheth. And he anſwered, Behold thy ſervant!

7 ¶ And David ſaid unto him, Fear not: for I will ſurely ſhew thee kindneſs for Jonathan thy father's ſake, and will reſtore thee all the land of Saul thy father; and thou ſhalt eat bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himſelf, and ſaid, What is thy ſervant, that thou ſhouldeſt look upon ſuch a dead dog as I am?

9 ¶ Then the king called to Ziba, Saul's ſervant, and ſaid unto him, I have given unto thy maſter's ſon all that pertained to Saul and to all his houſe.

10 Thou therefore, and thy ſons, and thy ſervants, ſhall till the land for him, and thou ſhalt bring in the fruits, that thy maſter's ſon may have food to eat: but Mephibosheth thy maſter's ſon ſhall eat bread alway at my table. Now Ziba had fifteen ſons and twenty ſervants.

11 Then ſaid Ziba unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his ſervant, ſo ſhall thy ſervant do. As for Mephibosheth, ſaid the king, he ſhall eat at my table, as one of the king's ſons.

12 And Mephibosheth had a young ſon, whoſe name was Micah. And all that dwelt in the houſe of Ziba were ſervants unto Mephibosheth.

13 So Mephibosheth dwelt in Jeruſalem: for he did eat continually at the king's table; and was lame on both his feet.

CHAP. X.

1 David's ambaſſadors, ſent to comfort Hanun for his father's death, are diſgracefully treated. 6 The Ammonites ſtrengthened by the Syrians are overcome by Joab and Abiſhai. 15 Hadarezer ſendeth a new army of Syrians under Shobach, which is defeated by David, and their general ſlain; whereupon the kings who were ſubject to Syria become ſervants to Iſrael.

AND

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

1 Metheg-ammah, &c.] That is, the famous city of Gath, and its territories. It is called Metheg-ammah, becauſe it ſtood upon Mount Ammah, and was as a bridle to the whole country.

2 He ſmote Moab, and meaſured them with a line, &c.] Some are of opinion that David made three lots or parts of theſe Moabites, two of which he ordered to be ſlain, and one part only to be kept alive; but to clear David from the imputation of too much cruelty, we ſhould rather conceive it of the third, or half part at moſt, of the army.

4 Seven hundred horſemen, &c.] In 1 Chron. xviii. 4. it is, "Seven thouſand horſemen," which is moſt probable, and with this reading agree the LXX.

18 The Cherethites and the Pelethites] It is probable that theſe ſoldiers were men of David's own tribe of Judah, whom he had cauſed to be trained up as archers and ſhield-bearers, after the manner of the Cherethites and Pelethites, who were originally Philiſtines, inhabitants of Phœnicia.

Chief rulers,] Principal officers in the court of David, ſuch as among us are the lord high chamberlain, ſteward, treaſurer, &c.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

The ſucceſs given to David, as recorded in this chapter, ſhould excite the faithful to fear the Lord, to truſt in him, and to give him continual thanks for all his goodneſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

3 Is there not yet any of the houſe of Saul, that I may ſhew the kindneſs of God unto him, &c.] Here David, like a good man, a worthy friend, and a noble prince, thinks how he may perform his promiſe to Jonathan. See 1 Sam. xx. 15.

8 Upon ſuch a dead dog as I am.] This is an high expreſſion of the ſenſe he had of his unworthineſs of any favour; for a dog was accounted a vile and unclean creature, and a dead dog was of no uſe at all.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

From David's conduct herein, we are to learn, that promiſes ought to be religiouſly obſerved; that we ſhould never forget our friends, not even after their death, and that thoſe in proſperity ſhould relieve the afflicted and diſtreſſed.

Before CHRIST 1037. AND it came to paſs after this, that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Hanun his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 Then ſaid David, I will ſhew kindneſs unto Hanun the ſon of Nahaſh, as his father ſhewed kindneſs unto me. And David ſent to comfort him by the hand of his ſervants for his father. And David's ſervants came into the land of the children of Ammon.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid unto Hanun their lord, Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father, that he hath ſent comforters unto thee? hath not David rather ſent his ſervants unto thee, to ſearch the city, and to ſpy it out, and to overthrow it?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's ſervants, and ſhaved off the one half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 When they told it unto David, he ſent to meet them, becauſe the men were greatly aſhamed: and the king ſaid, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon ſaw that they ſtank before David, the children of Ammon ſent and hired the Syrians of Beth-rehob, and the Syrians of Zoba, twenty thouſand footmen, and of king Maacah a thouſand men, and of Iſh-tob twelve thouſand men.

7 And when David heard of it, he ſent Joab, and all the hoſt of the mighty men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battle in array at the entering in of the gate: and the Syrians of Zoba, and of Rehob, and Iſh-tob, and Maacah, were by themſelves in the field.

9 When Joab ſaw that the front of the battle was againſt him before and behind, he choſe of all the choice men of Iſrael, and put them in array againſt the Syrians:

10 And the reſt of the people he delivered into the hand of Abiſhai his brother, that he might put them in array againſt the children of Ammon.

11 And he ſaid, If the Syrians be too ſtrong for me, then thou ſhalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, then I will come and help thee.

12 Be of good courage, and let us play the men for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the LORD do that which ſeemeth him good.

13 And Joab drew nigh, and the people that were with him, unto the battle againſt the Syrians: and they fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, then fled they alſo before Abiſhai, and entered into the city. So Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jeruſalem.

1036. 15 ¶ And when the Syrians ſaw that they were ſmitten before Iſrael, they gathered themſelves together.

16 And Hadarezer ſent, and brought out the Syrians that were beyond the river: and they came to Helam; and Shobach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was told David, he gathered all Iſrael together, and paſſed over Jordan, and came to Helam. And the Syrians ſet themſelves in array againſt David, and fought with him.

18 And the Syrians fled before Iſrael; and David ſlew the men of ſeven hundred chariots of the Syrians, and forty thouſand horſemen, and ſmote Shobach the captain of their hoſt, who died there. Before CHRIST 1036.

19 And when all the kings that were ſervants to Hadarezer ſaw that they were ſmitten before Iſrael, they made peace with Iſrael, and ſerved them. So the Syrians feared to help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XI.

1 While Joab beſiegeth Rabbah, 2 David committeth adultery with Uriah's wife. 5 Bath-ſheba conceiveth; David ſendeth for Uriah from the army, who cometh to David, but refuſeth to go down to his houſe. 14 He carrieth to Joab a letter requiring his death, is expoſed in the front of the battle, and ſlain. 18 Joab ſendeth the news of it to David. 22 The meſſenger's report, and David's anſwer. 26 David taketh Bath-ſheba to wife, who beareth a ſon.

AND it came to paſs, after the year was expired, 1035. at the time when kings go forth to battle, that David ſent Joab, and his ſervants with him, and all Iſrael; and they deſtroyed the children of Ammon, and beſieged Rabbah. But David tarried ſtill at Jeruſalem.

2 ¶ And it came to paſs in an eveningtide, that David aroſe from off his bed, and walked upon the roof of the king's houſe: and from the roof he ſaw a woman waſhing herſelf; and the woman was very beautiful to look upon.

3 And David ſent and enquired after the woman. And one ſaid, Is not this Bath-ſheba, the daughter of Eliam, the wife of Uriah the Hittite?

4 And David ſent meſſengers, and took her; and ſhe came in unto him, and he lay with her; for ſhe was purified from her uncleanneſs: and ſhe returned unto her houſe.

5 ¶ And the woman conceived, and ſent and told David, and ſaid, I am with child.

6 And David ſent to Joab, ſaying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Joab ſent Uriah to David.

7 And when Uriah was come unto him, David demanded of him how Joab did, and how the people did, and how the war proſpered.

8 And David ſaid to Uriah, Go down to thy houſe, and waſh thy feet. And Uriah departed out of the king's houſe, and there followed him a meſs of meat from the king.

9 But Uriah ſlept at the door of the king's houſe with all the ſervants of his lord, and went not down to his houſe.

10 And when they had told David, ſaying, Uriah went not down unto his houſe, David ſaid unto Uriah, Cameſt thou not from thy journey? why then didſt thou not go down unto thine houſe?

11 And Uriah ſaid unto David, The ark, and Iſrael, and Judah, abide in tents; and my lord Joab, and the ſervants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; ſhall I then go into mine houſe, to eat, and to drink, and to lie with my wife? as thou liveſt, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not do this thing.

12 And David ſaid to Uriah, Tarry here to day alſo, and to morrow I will let thee depart. So Uriah abode in Jeruſalem that day, and the morrow.

13 And when David had called him, he did eat and drink

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

2 As his father ſhewed kindneſs unto me, &c.] It is likely that as Nahaſh was a bitter enemy to Saul, who had given him a great overthrow, he, for that very reaſon, became a friend to David, when he perceived how Saul perſecuted him; and thereupon might ſend him relief and aſſiſtance, and perhaps offer him protection in his kingdom.

4 Shaved off the one half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, &c.] This was one of the greateſt indignities that the malice of man could invent in theſe countries, where all people thought their hair ſo great an ornament, that ſome would have rather ſubmitted to die than to part with it.

15 They gathered themſelves together.] Fearing David would fall upon them for aſſiſting his enemies, they reſolved to be beforehand with him; and therefore levied a new army to invade him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

We are taught from the preceding chapter, that God favours princes that love peace and juſtice; and, on the contrary, proud and unjuſt princes bring the greateſt misfortunes upon themſelves by their inſolence and haughtineſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

2 In an eveningtide.] In the afternoon, when the ſun was declining. From off his bed, &c.] Where he had lain down to repoſe in the heat of the day, as the manner was in thoſe hot countries.

3 Uriah the Hittite.] Uriah, though a Hittite by nation, was proſelyted to the Jewiſh religion, had married with a Jewiſh woman, and was one of the king's guard.

8 And waſh thy feet, &c.] In thoſe countries, waſhing the feet was a great refreſhment after a journey, and a common compliment that the maſter of the houſe uſually made to any ſtranger at his firſt entrance. David's intention hitherto was neither to murder Uriah, nor to marry his wife, but only to screen her honour and his own crime.

Before CHRIST 1035. drink before him; and he made him drunk: and at even he went out to lie on his bed with the ſervants of his lord, but went not down to his houſe.

14 ¶ And it came to paſs in the morning, that David wrote a letter to Joab, and ſent it by the hand of Uriah.

15 And he wrote in the letter, ſaying, Set ye Uriah in the forefront of the hotteſt battle, and retire ye from him, that he may be ſmitten, and die.

16 And it came to paſs, when Joab obſerved the city, that he aſſigned Uriah unto a place where he knew that valiant men were.

17 And the men of the city went out, and fought with Joab: and there fell ſome of the people of the ſervants of David; and Uriah the Hittite died alſo.

18 ¶ Then Joab ſent and told David all the things concerning the war;

19 And charged the meſſenger, ſaying, When thou haſt made an end of telling the matters of the war unto the king,

20 And if ſo be that the king's wrath ariſe, and he ſay unto thee, Wherefore approached ye ſo nigh unto the city when ye did fight? knew ye not that they would ſhoot from the wall?

21 Who ſmote Abimelech the ſon of Jerubbeſheth? did not a woman caſt a piece of a millſtone upon him from the wall, that he died in Thebez? why went ye nigh the wall? then ſay thou, Thy ſervant Uriah the Hittite is dead alſo.

22 ¶ So the meſſenger went, and came and ſhewed David all that Joab had ſent him for 23 And the meſſenger ſaid unto David, Surely the men prevailed againſt us, and came out unto us into the field, and we were upon them even unto the entering of the gate.

24 And the ſhooters ſhot from off the wall upon thy ſervants; and ſome of the king's ſervants be dead, and thy ſervant Uriah the Hittite is dead alſo.

25 Then David ſaid unto the meſſenger, Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto Joab, Let not this thing diſpleaſe thee, for the ſword devoureth one as well as another: make thy battle more ſtrong againſt the city, and overthrow it: and encourage thou him.

26 ¶ And when the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her huſband was dead, ſhe mourned for her huſband.

27 And when the mourning was paſt, David ſent and fetched her to his houſe, and ſhe became his wife, and bare him a ſon. But the thing that David had done diſpleaſed the LORD.

CHAP. XII.

1 Nathan's parable of the ewe lamb cauſeth David to paſs ſentence upon himſelf. 7 Nathan applieth the parable to David; who humbleth himſelf, and is pardoned. 15 The newborn child being ſtricken of God, David mourneth and prayeth for him while living; but taketh comfort after he is dead. 24 Solomon is born, and named Jedidiah. 26 Rabbah is taken by David, and the people thereof tortured.

1034. AND the LORD ſent Nathan unto David. And he came unto him, and ſaid unto him, There were two men in one city; the one rich, and the other poor.

2 The rich man had exceeding many flocks and herds: Before CHRIST 1034.

3 But the poor man had nothing, ſave one little ewe lamb, which he had bought and nouriſhed up: and it grew up together with him, and with his children; it did eat of his own meat, and drank of his own cup, and lay in his boſom, and was unto him as a daughter.

4 And there came a traveller unto the rich man, and he ſpared to take of his own flock and of his own herd, to dreſs for the wayfaring man that was come unto him; but took the poor man's lamb, and dreſſed it for the man that was come to him.

5 And David's anger was greatly kindled againſt the man; and he ſaid to Nathan, As the LORD liveth, the man that hath done this thing ſhall ſurely die:

6 And he ſhall reſtore the lamb fourfold, becauſe he did this thing, and becauſe he had no pity.

7 ¶ And Nathan ſaid to David, Thou art the man. Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, I anointed thee king over Iſrael, and I delivered thee out of the hand of Saul;

8 And I gave thee thy maſter's houſe, and thy maſter's wives into thy boſom, and gave thee the houſe of Iſrael and of Judah; and if that had been too little, I would moreover have given unto thee ſuch and ſuch things.

9 Wherefore haſt thou deſpiſed the commandment of the LORD, to do evil in his ſight? thou haſt killed Uriah the Hittite with the ſword, and haſt taken his wife to be thy wife, and haſt ſlain him with the ſword of the children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the ſword ſhall never depart from thine houſe; becauſe thou haſt deſpiſed me, and haſt taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will raiſe up evil againſt thee out of thine own houſe, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he ſhall lie with thy wives in the ſight of this ſun.

12 For thou didſt it ſecretly: but I will do this thing before all Iſrael, and before the ſun.

13 And David ſaid unto Nathan, I have ſinned againſt the LORD. And Nathan ſaid unto David, The LORD alſo hath put away thy ſin; thou ſhalt not die.

14 Howbeit, becauſe by this deed thou haſt given great occaſion to the enemies of the LORD to blaſpheme, the child alſo that is born unto thee ſhall ſurely die.

15 ¶ And Nathan departed unto his houſe. And the LORD ſtruck the child that Uriah's wife bare unto David, and it was very ſick.

16 David therefore beſought God for the child; and David faſted, and went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

17 And the elders of his houſe aroſe, and went to him, to raiſe him up from the earth: but he would not, neither did he eat bread with them.

18 And it came to paſs on the ſeventh day, that the child died. And the ſervants of David feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they ſaid, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we ſpake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voice: how will he then vex himſelf, if we tell him that the child is dead?

19 But when David ſaw that his ſervants whiſpered, David

13 And he made him drunk, &c.] This was another artful expedient David made uſe of for the compaſſing his end; but it proved ineffectual.

27 But the thing that David had done diſpleaſed the Lord.] Beſides his luſt and cruelty, David is loaded with too juſt an imputation of perfidy, ingratitude, hypocriſy, diſſimulation, obſtinacy, and ſhameleſſneſs in ſin.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

David's dreadful fall warns us of the frailty of human nature, and how liable the beſt of men are, in ſome inſtances of their lives, to be overtaken with very groſs faults; how much, therefore, are we all concerned to pray with all prayer and ſupplication, and to watch as well as pray, that we fall not into temptation.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

1 There were two men in one city, &c.] By an oppoſite parable No. 26. well managed, did not appear to condemn David, but made him condemn himſelf.

2 The rich man had exceeding many flocks and herds.] David had many wives and concubines, with whom he might well have been ſatisfied, without violating another man's bed.

3 The poor man had nothing, ſave one little ewe lamb, &c.] Bathſheba, very likely, was the only wife that Uriah had, with whom he was highly pleaſed and delighted; and ſhe very probably with him, until David's temptations had perverted her mind.

4 There came a traveller unto the rich man, &c.] Reſpecting David's ſtraggling appetite, it may be ſaid, in the beginning it is but a traveller; but in time it becomes a gueſt, and in concluſion, is the maſter of the houſe.

7 Thou art the man, &c.] Thou art the criminal, and thou art the judge, and haſt pronounced a dreadful ſentence againſt thyſelf.

11 Out of thine own houſe, &c.] This was awfully fulfilled in Abſalom's conſpiracy againſt him.

Before CHRIST 1034. David perceived that the child was dead: therefore David ſaid unto his ſervants, Is the child dead? And they ſaid, He is dead.

20 Then David aroſe from the earth, and waſhed, and anointed himſelf, and changed his apparel, and came into the houſe of the LORD, and worſhipped: then he came to his own houſe; and when he required, they ſet bread before him, and he did eat.

21 Then ſaid his ſervants unto him, What thing is this that thou haſt done? thou didſt faſt and weep for the child, while it was alive; but when the child was dead, thou didſt riſe and eat bread.

22 And he ſaid, While the child was yet alive, I faſted and wept: for I ſaid, Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live?

23 But now he is dead, wherefore ſhould I faſt? can I bring him back again? I ſhall go to him, but he ſhall not return to me.

1033. 24 ¶ And David comforted Bath-ſheba his wife, and went in unto her, and lay with her: and ſhe bare a ſon, and he called his name Solomon: and the LORD loved him.

25 And he ſent by the hand of Nathan the prophet; and he called his name Jedidiah becauſe of the LORD.

26 ¶ And Joab fought againſt Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and took the royal city.

27 And Joab ſent meſſengers to David, and ſaid, I have fought againſt Rabbah, and have taken the city of waters.

28 Now therefore gather the reſt of the people together, and encamp againſt the city, and take it: leſt I take the city, and it be called after my name.

29 And David gathered all the people together, and went to Rabbah, and fought againſt it, and took it.

30 And he took their king's crown from off his head, the weight whereof was a talent of gold with the precious ſtones: and it was ſet on David's head. And he brought forth the ſpoil of the city in great abundance.

31 And he brought forth the people that were therein, and put them under ſaws, and under harrows of iron, and under axes of iron, and made them paſs through the brickkiln: and thus did he unto all the cities of the children of Ammon. So David and all the people returned unto Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Amnon, in love with Tamar, by Jonadab's counſel feigneth ſickneſs: 6 Tamar attending him at his requeſt, he raviſheth her: 15 He hateth her, and turneth her out of his houſe: 19 She retireth in grief to her brother Abſalom's houſe. 21 David is wroth, but Abſalom concealeth his reſentment. 23 Abſalom inviteth his brethren to a ſheepſhearing feaſt, 28 where Amnon is murdered by Abſalom's command. 30 David, alarmed with tidings that all his ſons were ſlain, is told the truth of the matter by Jonadab, whoſe report is confirmed by the coming of the young men. 37 Abſalom fleeth to Geſhur; David longeth after him.

1032. AND it came to paſs after this, that Abſalom the ſon of David had a fair ſiſter, whoſe name was Tamar; and Amnon the ſon of David loved her.

2 And Amnon was ſo vexed, that he fell ſick for his ſiſter Tamar; for ſhe was a virgin; and Amnon thought it hard for him to do any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend, whoſe name was Jonadab, the ſon of Shimeah David's brother: and Jonadab was a very ſubtil man. Before CHRIST 1032.

4 And he ſaid unto him, Why art thou, being the king's ſon, lean from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? And Amnon ſaid unto him, I love Tamar, my brother Abſalom's ſiſter.

5 And Jonadab ſaid unto him, Lay thee down on thy bed, and make thyſelf ſick: and when thy father cometh to ſee thee, ſay unto him, I pray thee, let my ſiſter Tamar come, and give me meat, and dreſs the meat in my ſight, that I may ſee it, and eat it at her hand.

6 ¶ So Amnon lay down, and made himſelf ſick: and when the king was come to ſee him, Amnon ſaid unto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my ſiſter come, and make me a couple of cakes in my ſight, that I may eat at her hand.

7 Then David ſent home to Tamar, ſaying, Go now to thy brother Amnon's houſe, and dreſs him meat.

8 So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's houſe; and he was laid down. And ſhe took flour and kneaded it, and made cakes in his ſight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And ſhe took a pan, and poured them out before him; but he refuſed to eat. And Amnon ſaid, Have all men out from me. And they went out every man from him.

10 And Amnon ſaid unto Tamar, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamar took the cakes which ſhe had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when ſhe had brought them unto him to eat, he took hold of her, and ſaid unto her, Come lie with me, my ſiſter.

12 And ſhe anſwered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no ſuch thing ought to be done in Iſrael: do not thou this folly.

13 And I, whither ſhall I cauſe my ſhame to go? and as for thee, thou ſhalt be as one of the fools in Iſrael. Now therefore, I pray thee, ſpeak unto the king; for he will not withhold me from thee.

14 Howbeit he would not hearken unto her voice: but, being ſtronger than ſhe, forced her, and lay with her.

15 ¶ Then Amnon hated her exceedingly; ſo that the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love wherewith he had loved her. And Amnon ſaid unto her, Ariſe, be gone.

16 And ſhe ſaid unto him, There is no cauſe: this evil in ſending me away is greater than the other that thou didſt unto me. But he would not hearken unto her.

17 Then he called his ſervant that miniſtered unto him, and ſaid, Put now this woman out from me, and bolt the door after her.

18 And ſhe had a garment of divers colours upon her: for with ſuch robes were the king's daughters that were virgins apparelled. Then his ſervant brought her out, and bolted the door after her.

19 ¶ And Tamar put aſhes on her head, and rent her garments of divers colours that was on her, and laid her hand on her head, and went on crying.

20 And Abſalom her brother ſaid unto her, Hath Amnon thy brother been with thee? but hold now thy peace,

Before CHRIST 1032. peace, my ſiſter: he is thy brother; regard not this thing. So Tamar remained deſolate in her brother Abſalom's houſe.

21 ¶ But when king David heard of all theſe things, he was very wroth.

22 And Abſalom ſpake unto his brother Amnon neither good nor bad: for Abſalom hated Amnon, becauſe he had forced his ſiſter Tamar.

1030. 23 ¶ And it came to paſs after two full years, that Abſalom had ſheepſhearers in Baal-hazor, which is beſide Ephraim: and Abſalom invited all the king's ſons.

24 And Abſalom came to the king, and ſaid, Behold now, thy ſervant hath ſheepſhearers; let the king, I beſeech thee, and his ſervants go with thy ſervant.

25 And the king ſaid to Abſalom, Nay, my ſon, let us not all now go, leſt we be chargeable unto thee. And he preſſed him: howbeit he would not go, but bleſſed him.

26 Then ſaid Abſalom, If not, I pray thee, let my brother Amnon go with us. And the king ſaid unto him, Why ſhould he go with thee?

27 But Abſalom preſſed him, that he let Amnon and all the king's ſons go with him.

28 ¶ Now Abſalom had commanded his ſervants, ſaying, Mark ye now when Amnon's heart is merry with wine, and when I ſay unto you, Smite Amnon; then kill him, fear not: have not I commanded you? be courageous, and be valiant.

29 And the ſervants of Abſalom did unto Amnon as Abſalom had commanded. Then all the king's ſons aroſe, and every man gat him up upon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And it came to paſs, while they were in the way, that tidings came to David, ſaying, Abſalom hath ſlain all the king's ſons, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the king aroſe, and tare his garments, and lay on the earth; and all his ſervants ſtood by with their clothes rent.

32 And Jonadab, the ſon of Shimeah, David's brother, anſwered and ſaid, Let not my lord ſuppoſe that they have ſlain all the young men the king's ſons; for Amnon only is dead: for by the appointment of Abſalom this hath been determined from the day that he forced his ſiſter Tamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the king take the thing to his heart, to think that all the king's ſons are dead: for Amnon only is dead.

34 But Abſalom fled. And the young man that kept the watch lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came much people by the way of the hill ſide behind him.

35 And Jonadab ſaid unto the king, Behold, the king's ſons come: as thy ſervant ſaid, ſo it is.

36 And it came to paſs, as ſoon as he had made an end of ſpeaking, that, behold, the king's ſons came, and lifted up their voice and wept: and the king alſo and all his ſervants wept very ſore.

1030. 37 ¶ But Abſalom fled, and went to Talmai, the ſon of Ammihud, king of Geſhur. And David mourned for his ſon every day.

38 So Abſalom fled, and went to Geſhur, and was there three years.

39 And the ſoul of king David longed to go forth unto Abſalom: for he was comforted concerning Amnon, ſeeing he was dead.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Joab inſtructeth a woman of Tekoah, and ſendeth her to the king. 4 She entertaineth the king with a feigned tale, the intent of which is to obtain leave for Abſalom's return. 21 Joab is ſent to fetch him, but he is not allowed to ſee the king. 25 Abſalom's beauty; 27 his children. 28 After two years he getteth admittance to the king by Joab's means.

Before CHRIST 1027.

NOW Joab the ſon of Zeruiah perceived that the king's heart was toward Abſalom.

2 And Joab ſent to Tekoah, and fetched thence a wiſe woman, and ſaid unto her, I pray thee, feign thyſelf to be a mourner, and put on now mourning apparel, and anoint not thyſelf with oil, but be as a woman that had a long time mourned for the dead:

3 And come to the king, and ſpeak on this manner unto him. So Joab put the words in her mouth.

4 ¶ And when the woman of Tekoah ſpake to the king, ſhe fell on her face to the ground, and did obeiſance, and ſaid, Help, O king.

5 And the king ſaid unto her, What aileth thee? And ſhe anſwered, I am indeed a widow woman, and mine huſband is dead.

6 And thy handmaid had two ſons, and they two ſtrove together in the field, and there was none to part them, but the one ſmote the other, and ſlew him.

7 And, behold, the whole family is riſen againſt thine handmaid, and they ſaid, Deliver him that ſmote his brother, that we may kill him, for the life of his brother whom he ſlew; and we will deſtroy the heir alſo: and ſo they ſhall quench my coal which is left, and ſhall not leave to my huſband neither name nor remainder upon the earth.

8 And the king ſaid unto the woman, Go to thine houſe, and I will give charge concerning thee.

9 And the woman of Tekoah ſaid unto the king, My lord, O king, the iniquity be on me, and on my father's houſe: and the king and his throne be guiltleſs.

10 And the king ſaid, Whoſoever ſaith ought unto thee, bring him to me, and he ſhall not touch thee any more.

11 Then ſaid ſhe, I pray thee, let the king remember the LORD thy God, that thou wouldeſt not ſuffer the revengers of blood to deſtroy any more, leſt they deſtroy my ſon. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, there ſhall not one hair of thy ſon fall to the earth.

12 Then the woman ſaid, Let thine handmaid, I pray thee, ſpeak one word unto my lord the king. And he ſaid, Say on.

13 And the woman ſaid, Wherefore then haſt thou thought ſuch a thing againſt the people of God? for the king doth ſpeak this thing as one which is faulty, in that the king doth not fetch home again his baniſhed.

14 For we muſt needs die, and are as water ſpilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again; neither doth God reſpect any perſon: yet doth he deviſe means, that his baniſhed be not expelled from him.

15 Now therefore that I am come to ſpeak of this thing unto my lord the king, it is becauſe the people have made me afraid: and thy handmaid ſaid, I will now ſpeak unto the king; it may be that the king will perform the requeſt of his handmaid.

16 For the king will hear, to deliver his handmaid out of the hand of the man that would deſtroy me and my ſon together out of the inheritance of God.

17 Then thine handmaid ſaid, The word of my lord the king ſhall now be comfortable: for as an angel of God,

37 David mourned for his ſon every day.] For Abſalom, who was loſt as to any comfort he could have from his company.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

From this chapter we may perceive, that the Lord ſuffers divers crimes to be committed, notwithſtanding he abhors them; and makes uſe of the paſſions and wickedneſs of men, to do juſtice, to puniſh the guilty, and to execute his deſigns.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIV.

Before CHRIST 1027. God, ſo is my lord the king to diſcern good and bad: therefore the LORD thy God will be with thee.

18 Then the king anſwered and ſaid unto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I ſhall aſk thee. And the woman ſaid, Let my lord the king now ſpeak.

19 And the king ſaid, Is not the hand of Joab with thee in all this? And the woman anſwered and ſaid, As thy ſoul liveth, my lord the king, none can turn to the right hand or to the left from ought that my lord the king hath ſpoken: for thy ſervant Joab, he bade me, and he put all theſe words in the mouth of thine handmaid:

20 To fetch about this form of ſpeech hath thy ſervant Joab done this thing: and my lord is wiſe, according to the wiſdom of an angel of God, to know all things that are in the earth.

21 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Joab, Behold now, I have done this thing: go therefore, bring the young man Abſalom again.

22 And Joab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himſelf, and thanked the king: and Joab ſaid, To day thy ſervant knoweth that I have found grace in thy ſight, my lord, O king, in that the king hath fulfilled the requeſt of his ſervant.

23 So Joab aroſe and went to Geſhur, and brought Abſalom to Jeruſalem.

24 And the king ſaid, Let him turn to his own houſe, and let him not ſee my face. So Abſalom returned to his own houſe, and ſaw not the king's face.

25 ¶ But in all Iſrael there was none to be ſo much praiſed as Abſalom for his beauty: from the ſole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemiſh in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for it was at every year's end that he polled it: becauſe the hair was heavy on him, therefore he polled it:) he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred ſhekels after the king's weight.

27 ¶ And unto Abſalom there were born three ſons, and one daughter, whoſe name was Tamar: ſhe was a woman of a fair countenance.

28 ¶ So Abſalom dwelt two full years in Jeruſalem, and ſaw not the king's face.

29 Therefore Abſalom ſent for Joab, to have ſent him to the king; but he would not come to him: and when he ſent again the ſecond time, he would not come.

30 Therefore he ſaid unto his ſervants, See, Joab's field is near mine, and he hath barley there; go and ſet it on fire. And Abſalom's ſervants ſet the field on fire.

31 Then Joab aroſe, and came to Abſalom unto his houſe, and ſaid unto him, Wherefore have thy ſervants ſet my field on fire?

32 And Abſalom anſwered Joab, Behold, I ſent unto thee, ſaying, Come hither, that I may ſend thee to the king, to ſay, Wherefore am I come from Geſhur? it had been good for me to have been there ſtill: now therefore let me ſee the king's face; and if there be any iniquity in me, let him kill me.

33 So Joab came to the king, and told him: and 1025. when he had called for Abſalom, he came to the king, and bowed himſelf on his face to the ground before the king: and the king kiſſed Abſalom.

CHAP. XV.

1 Abſalom by fair ſpeeches and courteſies ſtealeth the hearts of the men of Iſrael. 7 Under pretence of a vow he obtaineth leave to go to Hebron: 10 where he formeth a dangerous conſpiracy. 13 Upon the news David fleeth from Jeruſalem: 19 Ittai, though a ſtranger, will not leave him. 24 Zadock and Abiathar are ſent back with the ark. 30 David and his company go up mount Olivet weeping. 31 He prayeth God to defeat Ahithophel's counſel. 32 Huſhai is ſent back with inſtructions how to act for David's ſervice.

Before CHRIST 1024. AND it came to paſs after this, that Abſalom prepared him chariots and horſes, and fifty men to run before him.

2 And Abſalom roſe up early, and ſtood beſide the way of the gate: and it was ſo, that when any man had a controverſy came to the king for judgment, then Abſalom called unto him, and ſaid, Of what city art thou? And he ſaid, Thy ſervant is of one of the tribes of Iſrael.

3 And Abſalom ſaid unto him, See, thy matters are good and right; but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee.

4 Abſalom ſaid moreover, Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man which hath any ſuit or cauſe might come unto me, and I would do him juſtice!

5 And it was ſo, that when any man came nigh to him to do him obeiſance, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kiſſed him.

6 And on this manner did Abſalom to all Iſrael that came to the king for judgment: ſo Abſalom ſtole the hearts of the men of Iſrael.

7 ¶ And it came to paſs after forty years, that Ab- 1023. ſalom ſaid unto the king, I pray thee, let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed unto the LORD, in Hebron.

8 For thy ſervant vowed a vow while I abode at Geſhur in Syria, ſaying, If the LORD ſhall bring me again indeed to Jeruſalem, then I will ſerve the LORD.

9 And the king ſaid unto him, Go in peace. So he aroſe, and went to Hebron.

10 ¶ But Abſalom ſent ſpies throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, As ſoon as ye hear the ſound of the trumpet, then ye ſhall ſay, Abſalom reigneth in Hebron.

11 And with Abſalom went two hundred men out of Jeruſalem, that were called; and they went in their ſimplicity, and they knew not any thing.

12 And Abſalom ſent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counſellor, from his city, even from Giloh, while he offered ſacrifices. And the conſpiracy was ſtrong; for the people increaſed continually with Abſalom.

13 ¶ And there came a meſſenger to David, ſaying, The hearts of the men of Iſrael are after Abſalom.

14 And David ſaid unto all his ſervants that were with him at Jeruſalem, Ariſe, and let us flee; for we ſhall not elſe eſcape from Abſalom: make ſpeed to depart, leſt he overtake us ſuddenly, and bring evil upon us, and ſmite the city with the edge of the ſword.

15 And the king's ſervants ſaid unto the king, Behold, thy ſervants are ready to do whatſoever my lord the king ſhall appoint.

16 And the king went forth, and all his houſhold after him. And the king left ten women, which were concubines, to keep the houſe.

17 And the king went forth, and all the people after him, and tarried in a place that was far off.

18 And all his ſervants paſſed on beſide him; and all the Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites,

26 He weighed the hair of his head at two hundred ſhekels after the king's weight.] That is, of the king of Babylon, whoſe ſhekel was only one third of that of the Jews; ſo that though the enemies of revelation have ridiculed this part of the ſacred text, yet this hypotheſis makes the account not at all improbable; for Abſalom's hair, which weighed two hundred Babyloniſh ſhekels, came but, in our weight, to about thirty-three ounces.

33 And the king kiſſed Abſalom.] In token of reconciliation.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

We learn from this chapter, that God permitted Abſalom to be recalled, in order to chaſtiſe David by means of that rebellious and unnatural ſon, and thereby fulfil Nathan's prediction.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XV.

1 Abſalom prepared him chariots and horſes, &c.] He now took great ſtate upon him, and appeared with a ſplendid equipage, in order to attract the eyes and regard of the people.

7 After forty years, &c.] Some read, four years, i. e. four years after he was re-eſtabliſhed in Iſrael.

12 The conſpiracy was ſtrong, &c.] It is probable, that neither Abſalom, nor the elders of Iſrael, nor the reſt of the people who were miſled by them, had any intention to diveſt David of his crown and dignity, much leſs to take away his life; but only to ſubſtitute Abſalom as coadjutor to him for the execution of the royal authority during his life-time, and to be his ſucceſſor after his death.

Before CHRIST 1023. Gittites, six hundred men which came after him from Gath, passed on before the king.

19 ¶ Then said the king to Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore goest thou also with us? return to thy place, and abide with the king: for thou art a stranger, and also an exile.

20 Whereas thou camest but yesterday, should I this day make thee go up and down with us? seeing I go whither I may, return thou, and take back thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee.

21 And Ittai answered the king, and said, As the LORD liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, surely in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there also will thy servant be.

22 And David said to Ittai, Go and pass over. And Ittai the Gittite passed over, and all his men, and all the little ones that were with him.

23 And all the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed over: the king also himself passed over the brook Kidron, and all the people passed over, toward the way of the wilderness.

24 ¶ And lo Zadok also, and all the Levites were with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of God: and they set down the ark of God; and Abiathar went up, until all the people had done passing out of the city.

25 And the king said unto Zadok, Carry back the ark of God into the city: if I shall find favour in the eyes of the LORD, he will bring me again, and shew me both it, and his habitation:

26 But if he thus say, I have no delight in thee: behold, here am I, let him do to me as seemeth good unto him.

27 The king said also unto Zadok the priest, Art not thou a seer? return into the city in peace, and your two sons with you, Ahimaaz thy son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar.

28 See, I will tarry in the plain of the wilderness, until there come word from you to certify me.

29 Zadok therefore and Abiathar carried the ark of God again to Jerusalem: and they tarried there.

30 ¶ And David went up by the ascent of mount Olivet, and wept as he went up, and had his head covered, and he went barefoot: and all the people that was with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up.

31 ¶ And one told David, saying, Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom. And David said, O LORD, I pray thee, turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, that when David was come to the top of the mount, where he worshipped God, behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat rent, and earth upon his head:

33 Unto whom David said, If thou passest on with me, then shalt thou be a burden unto me:

34 But if thou return to the city, and say unto Absalom, I will be thy servant, O king; as I have been thy father's servant hitherto, so will I now also be thy servant: then mayest thou for me defeat the counsel of Ahithophel.

35 And hast thou not here with thee Zadok and Abiathar the priests? therefore it shall be, that what thing soever thou shalt hear out of the king's house, thou shalt tell it to Zadok and Abiathar the priests. Before CHRIST 1023.

36 Behold, they have there with them their two sons, Ahimaaz Zadok's son, and Jonathan Abiathar's son; and by them ye shall send unto me every thing that ye can hear.

37 So Hushai David's friend came into the city, and Absalom came into Jerusalem.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Ziba by presents and false suggestions obtaineth his master's inheritance. 5 Shimei curseth David at Bahurim. 9 David's patience and forbearance. 15 Hushai insinuateth himself into Absalom's counsels. 20 By Ahithophel's counsel Absalom openly goeth to his father's concubines.

AND when David was a little past the top of the hill, behold, Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth met him, with a couple of asses saddled, and upon them two hundred loaves of bread, and an hundred bunches of raisins, and an hundred of summer fruits, and a bottle of wine.

2 And the king said unto Ziba, What meanest thou by these? And Ziba said, The asses be for the king's household to ride on; and the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat; and the wine, that such as be faint in the wilderness may drink.

3 And the king said, And where is thy master's son? And Ziba said unto the king, Behold, he abideth at Jerusalem: for he said, To day shall the house of Israel restore me the kingdom of my father.

4 Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained unto Mephibosheth. And Ziba said, I humbly beseech thee that I may find grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

5 ¶ And when king David came to Bahurim, behold, thence came out a man of the family of Saul, whose name was Shimei, the son of Gera: he came forth, and cursed still as he came.

6 And he cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left.

7 And thus said Shimei when he cursed, Come out, come out, thou bloody man, and thou man of Belial:

8 The LORD hath returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned; and the LORD hath delivered the kingdom into the hand of Absalom thy son: and, behold, thou art taken in thy mischief, because thou art a bloody man.

9 ¶ Then said Abishai the son of Zeruiah unto the king, Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? let me go over, I pray thee, and take off his head.

10 And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah? so let him curse, because the LORD hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And David said to Abishai, and to all his servants,

---

20 Thy brethren, &c.] Those persons that were of Ittai's family.

25 Carry back the ark, &c.] That the priests and Levites (of whose fidelity he was well satisfied) by giving him intelligence of the enemy's motions, might do him more service in Jerusalem than they could do in his camp.

32 Hushai the Archite, &c.] It is thought that this additional name was given him from the place of his nativity, viz. Archi, a town on the frontiers of Benjamin and Ephraim, to the west of Beth-el.

34 Say unto Absalom, I will be thy servant, &c.] David could be no more guilty of perfidy in forming a design to supplant Absalom, nor Ushai guilty of villainy in undertaking to put it in execution, than that man can be said to be guilty of sin, who deceives a madman, and turns him away from murdering his best friends.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

We observe from this chapter, the deep humility with which David received this chastisement from God, the sense he had of his own unworthiness and the justice of the punishments inflicted, and moreover, that he had only recourse to God in his troubles; and that although guilty, he still trusted in him, and implored his aid.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

1 A bottle of wine.] A large skin or leathern vessel, capable of containing a great quantity.

3 Thy master's son, &c.] That is, Mephibosheth, thy master Saul's son.

6 All the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left.] David was under such a strong guard, that Shimei's rage was little less than madness; for he could not hurt David, but might have been immediately killed himself.

10 Because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David, &c.] Not that God commanded him by his word, for that strictly forbids cursing, nor moved him to it by his Spirit, for neither was that possible, because God tempteth no man; but the meaning is, that God did not put any wickedness into Shimei's heart, but only left him to the malignity of his own nature.

vants, Behold, my ſon, which cometh forth of my bowels, ſeeketh my life: how much more now may this Benjamite do it? let him alone, and let him curſe; for the LORD hath bidden him.

12 It may be that the LORD will look on mine affliction, and that the LORD will requite me good for his curſing this day.

13 And as David and his men went by the way, Shimei went along on the hill's ſide over againſt him, and curſed as he went, and threw ſtones at him, and caſt duſt.

14 And the king, and all the people that were with him, came weary, and refreſhed themſelves there.

15 ¶ And Abſalom, and all the people the men of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem, and Ahithophel with him.

16 And it came to paſs, when Huſhai the Archite, David's friend, was come unto Abſalom, that Huſhai ſaid unto Abſalom, God ſave the king, God ſave the king.

17 And Abſalom ſaid to Huſhai, Is this thy kindneſs to thy friend? why wenteſt thou not with thy friend?

18 And Huſhai ſaid unto Abſalom, Nay; but whom the LORD, and this people, and all the men of Iſrael, chooſe, his will I be, and with him will I abide.

19 And again, whom ſhould I ſerve? ſhould I not ſerve in the preſence of his ſon? as I have ſerved in thy father's preſence, ſo will I be in thy preſence.

20 ¶ Then ſaid Abſalom to Ahithophel, Give counſel among you what we ſhall do.

21 And Ahithophel ſaid unto Abſalom, Go in unto thy father's concubines, which he hath left to keep the houſe; and all Iſrael ſhall hear that thou art abhorred of thy father: then ſhall the hands of all that are with thee be ſtrong.

22 So they ſpread Abſalom a tent upon the top of the houſe; and Abſalom went in unto his father's concubines in the ſight of all Iſrael.

23 And the counſel of Ahithophel, which he counſelled in thoſe days, was as if a man had enquired at the oracle of God: ſo was all the counſel of Ahithophel both with David and with Abſalom.

CHAP. XVII.

MOREOVER Ahithophel ſaid unto Abſalom, Let me now chooſe out twelve thouſand men, and I will ariſe and purſue after David this night:

2 And I will come upon him while he is weary and weak handed, and will make him afraid: and all the people that are with him ſhall flee; and I will ſmite the king only:

3 And I will bring back all the people unto thee: the man whom thou ſeekeſt is as if all returned: ſo all the people ſhall be in peace.

4 And the ſaying pleaſed Abſalom well, and all the elders of Iſrael.

5 Then ſaid Abſalom, Call now Huſhai the Archite alſo, and let us hear likewiſe what he ſaith.

6 And when Huſhai was come to Abſalom, Abſalom ſpake unto him, ſaying, Ahithophel hath ſpoken after this manner: ſhall we do after his ſaying? if not; ſpeak thou.

7 And Huſhai ſaid unto Abſalom, The counſel that Ahithophel hath given is not good at this time.

Before CHRIST 1023.

8 For, ſaid Huſhai, thou knoweſt thy father and his men, that they be mighty men, and they be chafed in their minds, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field: and thy father is a man of war, and will not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in ſome pit, or in ſome other place: and it will come to paſs, when ſome of them be overthrown at the firſt, that whoſoever heareth it will ſay, There is a ſlaughter among the people that follow Abſalom.

10 And he alſo that is valiant, whoſe heart is as the heart of a lion, ſhall utterly melt: for all Iſrael knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they which be with him are valiant men.

11 Therefore I counſel that all Iſrael be generally gathered unto thee, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba, as the ſand that is by the ſea for multitude: and that thou go to battle in thine own perſon.

12 So ſhall we come upon him in ſome place where he ſhall be found, and we will light upon him as the dew falleth on the ground: and of him and of all the men that are with him there ſhall not be left ſo much as one.

13 Moreover, if he be gotten into a city, then ſhall all Iſrael bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, until there be not one ſmall ſtone found there.

14 And Abſalom and all the men of Iſrael ſaid, The counſel of Huſhai the Archite is better than the counſel of Ahithophel. For the LORD had appointed to defeat the good counſel of Ahithophel, to the intent that the LORD might bring evil upon Abſalom.

15 ¶ Then ſaid Huſhai unto Zadok and to Abiathar the prieſts, Thus and thus did Ahithophel counſel Abſalom and the elders of Iſrael; and thus and thus have I counſelled.

16 Now therefore ſend quickly, and tell David, ſaying, Lodge not this night in the plains of the wilderneſs, but ſpeedily paſs over; leſt the king be ſwallowed up, and all the people that are with him.

17 Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz ſtayed by En-rogel; for they might not be ſeen to come into the city: and a wench went and told them; and they went and told king David.

18 Nevertheleſs a lad ſaw them, and told Abſalom: but they went both of them away quickly, and came to a man's houſe in Bahurim, which had a well in his court; whither they went down.

19 And the woman took and ſpread a covering over the well's mouth, and ſpread ground corn thereon; and the thing was not known.

20 And when Abſalom's ſervants came to the woman to the houſe, they ſaid, Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? And the woman ſaid unto them, They be gone over the brook of water. And when they had ſought and could not find them, they returned to Jeruſalem.

21 And it came to paſs, after they were departed, that they came up out of the well, and went and told king David, and ſaid unto David, Ariſe, and paſs quickly over the water: for thus hath Ahithophel counſelled againſt you.

22 Then David aroſe, and all the people that were with him, and they paſſed over Jordan: by the morning

23 ¶ And when Ahithophel ſaw that his counſel was not followed, he ſaddled his aſs, and aroſe, and gat him home to his houſe, to his city, and put his houſhold in order, and hanged himſelf, and died, and was buried in the ſepulchre of his father.

24 Then David came to Mahanaim. And Abſalom paſſed over Jordan, he and all the men of Iſrael with him.

25 ¶ And Abſalom made Amaſa captain of the hoſt inſtead of Joab: which Amaſa was a man's ſon, whoſe name was Ithra an Iſraelite, that went in to Abigail the daughter of Nahaſh, ſiſter to Zeruiah, Joab's mother.

26 So Iſrael and Abſalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And it came to paſs, when David was come to Mahanaim, that Shobi the ſon of Nahaſh of Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and Machir the ſon of Ammiel of Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite of Rogelim,

28 Brought beds, and baſons, and earthen veſſels, and wheat, and barley, and flour, and parched corn, and beans, and lentiles, and parched pulſe,

AND David numbered the people that were with him, and ſet captains of thouſands and captains of hundreds over them.

2 And David ſent forth a third part of the people under the hand of Joab, and a third part under the hand of Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah, Joab's brother, and a third part under the hand of Ittai the Gittite. And the king ſaid unto the people, I will ſurely go forth with you myſelf alſo.

3 But the people anſwered, Thou ſhalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not care for us; neither if half of us die, will they care for us: but now thou art worth ten thouſand of us: therefore now it is better that thou ſuccour us out of the city.

4 And the king ſaid unto them, What ſeemeth you beſt I will do. And the king ſtood by the gate ſide, and all the people came out by hundreds and by thouſands.

5 And the king commanded Joab and Abiſhai and Ittai, ſaying, Deal gently for my ſake with the young man, even with Abſalom. And all the people heard when the king gave all the captains charge concerning Abſalom.

6 ¶ So the people went out into the field againſt Iſrael: and the battle was in the wood of Ephraim;

7 Where the people of Iſrael were ſlain before the ſervants of David, and there was there a great ſlaughter that day of twenty thouſand men.

8 For the battle was there ſcattered over the face of all the country: and the wood devoured more people that day than the ſword devoured.

9 ¶ And Abſalom met the ſervants of David. And Abſalom rode upon a mule, and the mule went under the thick boughs of a great oak, and his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the heaven and the earth; and the mule that was under him went away. Before CHRIST 1023.

10 And a certain man ſaw it, and told Joab, and ſaid, Behold, I ſaw Abſalom hanged in an oak.

11 And Joab ſaid unto the man that told him, And, behold, thou ſaweſt him, and why didſt thou not ſmite him there to the ground? and I would have given thee ten ſhekels of ſilver, and a girdle.

12 And the man ſaid unto Joab, Though I ſhould receive a thouſand ſhekels of ſilver in mine hand, yet would I not put forth mine hand againſt the king's ſon: for in our hearing the king charged thee and Abiſhai and Ittai, ſaying, Beware that none touch the young man Abſalom.

13 Otherwiſe I ſhould have wrought falſhood againſt mine own life: for there is no matter hid from the king, and thou thyſelf wouldeſt have ſet thyſelf againſt me.

14 Then ſaid Joab, I may not tarry thus with thee. And he took three darts in his hand, and thruſt them through the heart of Abſalom, while he was yet alive in the midſt of the oak.

15 And ten young men that bare Joab's armour compaſſed about and ſmote Abſalom, and ſlew him.

16 And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from purſuing after Iſrael: for Joab held back the people.

17 And they took Abſalom, and caſt him into a great pit in the wood, and laid a very great heap of ſtones upon him: and all Iſrael fled every one to his tent.

18 ¶ Now Abſalom in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himſelf a pillar, which is in the king's dale: for he ſaid, I have no ſon to keep my name in remembrance: and he called the pillar after his own name: and it is called unto this day, Abſalom's place.

19 ¶ Then ſaid Ahimaaz the ſon of Zadok, Let me now run, and bear the king tidings, how that the LORD hath avenged him of his enemies.

20 And Joab ſaid unto him, Thou ſhalt not bear tidings this day, but thou ſhalt bear tidings another day: but this day thou ſhalt bear no tidings, becauſe the king's ſon is dead.

21 Then ſaid Joab to Cuſhi, Go tell the king what thou haſt ſeen. And Cuſhi bowed himſelf unto Joab, and ran.

22 Then ſaid Ahimaaz the ſon of Zadok yet again to Joab, But howſoever, let me, I pray thee, alſo run after Cuſhi. And Joab ſaid, Wherefore wilt thou run, my ſon, ſeeing that thou haſt no tidings ready?

23 But howſoever, ſaid he, let me run. And he ſaid unto him, Run. Then Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plain, and overran Cuſhi.

24 And David ſat between the two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof over the gate unto the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold a man running alone.

25 And the watchman cried, and told the king. And the king ſaid, If he be alone, there is tidings in his mouth. And he came apace, and drew near.

26 And the watchman ſaw another man running: and the watchman called unto the porter, and ſaid, Behold another man running alone. And the king ſaid, He alſo bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman ſaid, Me thinketh the running of the foremoſt is like the running of Ahimaaz the 23 And hanged himſelf, &c.] Convinced, from the weak conduct of Abſalom, that David would get the better, and that he ſhould be put to death for his treaſon, he choſe to be his own executioner.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

The tragical end of Ahithophel affords a remarkable example of the divine vengeance upon traitors, and thoſe who form criminal and unjuſt enterpriſes.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

1 And ſet captains of thouſands and captains of hundreds, &c.] Formed them into regiments and companies.

8 The wood devoured more people that day than the ſword devoured.] There were more ſlain in the wood, than in the field of battle.

16 Joab held back the people.] This was acting right: he knew the people were drawn into the rebellion, and would return to their duty, now they had none to lead them.

Before CHRIST 1023. the ſon of Zadok. And the king ſaid, He is a good man, and cometh with good tidings.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and ſaid unto the king, All is well. And he fell down to the earth upon his face before the king, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD thy God, which hath delivered up the men that lifted up their hand againſt my lord the king.

29 And the king ſaid, Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Ahimaaz anſwered, When Joab ſent the king's ſervant, and me thy ſervant, I ſaw a great tumult, but I knew not what it was.

30 And the king ſaid unto him, Turn aſide, and ſtand here. And he turned aſide, and ſtood ſtill.

31 And, behold, Cuſhi came; and Cuſhi ſaid, Tidings, my lord the king: for the LORD hath avenged thee this day of all them that roſe up againſt thee.

32 And the king ſaid unto Cuſhi, Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Cuſhi anſwered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that riſe againſt thee to do thee hurt, be as that young man is.

33 And the king was much moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and as he went, thus he ſaid, O my ſon Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon Abſalom! would God I had died for thee, O Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon!

CHAP. XIX.

1 Joab by threats forceth David to ceaſe mourning. 9 The Iſraelites are earneſt to bring the king back. 11 David ſendeth to the prieſts to incite the men of Judah. 16 Shimei making ſubmiſſion is pardoned. 24 Mephibоſheth cometh to meet David, and complaineth of his ſervant's treachery; half his land is reſtored to him. 31 Barzillai attendeth the king over Jordan, and is gratefully diſmiſſed; Chimham is received into the king's family. 41 The men of Iſrael expoſtulate with the men of Judah for not calling them to take part in bringing back the king.

AND it was told Joab, Behold, the king weepeth and mourneth for Abſalom.

2 And the victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard ſay that day how the king was grieved for his ſon.

3 And the people gat them by ſtealth that day into the city, as people being aſhamed ſteal away when they flee in battle.

4 But the king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my ſon Abſalom, O Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon!

5 And Joab came into the houſe to the king, and ſaid, Thou haſt ſhamed this day the faces of all thy ſervants, which this day have ſaved thy life, and the lives of thy ſons and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines;

6 In that thou loveſt thine enemies, and hateſt thy friends. For thou haſt declared this day, that thou regardeſt neither princes nor ſervants: for this day I perceive, that if Abſalom had lived, and all we had died this day, then it had pleaſed thee well.

7 Now therefore ariſe, go forth, and ſpeak comfortably unto thy ſervants: for I ſwear by the LORD, if thou go not forth, there will not tarry one with thee this night: and that will be worſe unto thee than all the evil that befel thee from thy youth until now.

8 Then the king aroſe, and ſat in the gate. And Before CHRIST 1023. they told unto all the people, ſaying, Behold, the king doth ſit in the gate. And all the people came before the king: for Iſrael had fled every man to his tent.

9 ¶ And all the people were at ſtrife throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, The king ſaved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he delivered us out of the hand of the Philiſtines; and now he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

10 And Abſalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. Now therefore why ſpeak ye not a word of bringing the king back?

11 ¶ And king David ſent to Zadok and to Abiathar the prieſts, ſaying, Speak unto the elders of Judah, ſaying, Why are ye the laſt to bring the king back to his houſe? ſeeing the ſpeech of all Iſrael is come to the king, even to his houſe.

12 Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my fleſh: wherefore then are ye the laſt to bring back the king?

13 And ſay ye to Amaſa, Art thou not of my bone, and of my fleſh? God do ſo to me, and more alſo, if thou be not captain of the hoſt before me continually in the room of Joab.

14 And he bowed the heart of all the men of Judah, even as the heart of one man; ſo that they ſent this word unto the king, Return thou, and all thy ſervants.

15 So the king returned, and came to Jordan. And Judah came to Gilgal, to go to meet the king, to conduct the king over Jordan.

16 ¶ And Shimei the ſon of Gera, a Benjamite, which was of Bahurim, haſted and came down with the men of Judah to meet king David.

17 And there were a thouſand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the ſervant of the houſe of Saul, and his fifteen ſons and his twenty ſervants with him; and they went over Jordan before the king.

18 And there went over a ferry boat to carry over the king's houſhold, and to do what he thought good. And Shimei the ſon of Gera fell down before the king, as he was come over Jordan;

19 And ſaid unto the king, Let not my lord impute iniquity unto me, neither do thou remember that which thy ſervant did perverſly the day that my lord the king went out of Jeruſalem, that the king ſhould take it to his heart.

20 For thy ſervant doth know that I have ſinned: therefore, behold, I am come the firſt this day of all the houſe of Joſeph to go down to meet my lord the king.

21 But Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah anſwered and ſaid, Shall not Shimei be put to death for this, becauſe he curſed the LORD's anointed?

22 And David ſaid, What have I to do with you, ye ſons of Zeruiah, that ye ſhould this day be adverſaries unto me? ſhall there any man be put to death this day in Iſrael? for do not I know that I am this day king over Iſrael?

23 Therefore the king ſaid unto Shimei, Thou ſhalt not die. And the king ſware unto him.

24 ¶ And Mephibоſheth the ſon of Saul came down to meet the king, and had neither dreſſed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor waſhed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he came again in peace.

25 And

---

29 I knew not what it was.] He diſſembled the knowledge of Abſalom's death.

33 O my ſon Abſalom, &c.] Nothing certainly can be more moving and pathetic than the words uttered by David on this ſolemn occaſion; his grief was doubtleſs increaſed, from reflecting that himſelf, by reaſon of his own ſin, in the caſe of Uriah, had been the unhappy inſtrument and occaſion of his ſon's death.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

We may from hence obſerve, that divine vengeance will ſooner or later overtake diſobedient and rebellious children: and alſo remark the extreme tenderneſs of David for Abſalom, though he was a wicked and unnatural child.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

8 Sat in the gate, &c.] The gate was a ſpacious place, and the ſame as the exchange or forum among the Romans.

9 Were at ſtrife, &c.] Blaming one another's backwardneſs and ſloth.

13 In the room of Joab.] David ſeems to have reſolved to diſmiſs Joab from being his general: he was grown inſufferably inſolent and imperious; had ſlain Abner and Abſalom, contrary to the king's conſent, and even inſulted over his ſovereign. To ſuch a height of arrogance will miniſters ſometimes arrive, when they find that their ſervice is become neceſſary to their prince.

22 Ye ſons of Zeruiah, &c.] They thought to govern all David's affairs as they pleaſed; but in a diſdainful manner he bids them ſtand aſide, and not meddle in this matter.

David Lamenting the Death of Absalom!

Digitized by Google

Before CHRIST 1023.

25 And it came to pass, when he was come to Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said unto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

26 And he answered, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me: for thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, that I may ride thereon, and go to the king; because thy servant is lame.

27 And he hath slandered thy servant unto my lord the king; but my lord the king is as an angel of God: do therefore what is good in thine eyes.

28 For all of my father's house were but dead men before my lord the king: yet didst thou set thy servant among them that did eat at thine own table. What right therefore have I yet to cry any more unto the king?

29 And the king said unto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Ziba divide the land.

30 And Mephibosheth said unto the king, Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my lord the king is come again in peace unto his own house.

31 ¶ And Barzillai the Gileadite came down from Rogelim, and went over Jordan with the king, to conduct him over Jordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, even fourscore years old: and he had provided the king of sustenance while he lay at Mahanaim; for he was a very great man.

33 And the king said unto Barzillai, Come thou over with me, and I will feed thee with me in Jerusalem.

34 And Barzillai said unto the king, How long have I to live, that I should go up with the king unto Jerusalem?

35 I am this day fourscore years old: and can I discern between good and evil? can thy servant taste what I eat or what I drink? can I any more hear the voice of singing men and singing women? wherefore then should thy servant be yet a burden unto my lord the king?

36 Thy servant will go a little way over Jordan with the king: and why should the king recompense it me with such a reward?

37 Let thy servant, I pray thee, turn back again, that I may die in mine own city, and be buried by the grave of my father and of my mother. But behold thy servant Chimham; let him go over with my lord the king; and do to him what shall seem good unto thee.

38 And the king answered, Chimham shall go over with me,, and I will do to him that which shall seem good unto thee: and whatsoever thou shalt require of me, that will I do for thee.

39 And all the people went over Jordan. And when the king was come over, the king kissed Barzillai, and blessed him; and he returned unto his own place.

40 Then the king went on to Gilgal, and Chimham went on with him: and all the people of Judah conducted the king, and also half the people of Israel.

41 ¶ And, behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Judah stolen thee away, and have brought the king, and his household, and all David's men with him, over Jordan?

42 And all the men of Judah answered the men of Israel, Because the king is near of kin to us: wherefore then be ye angry for this matter? have we eaten at all of the king's cost? or hath he given us any gift?

Before CHRIST 1023.

43 And the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we have also more right in David than ye: why then did ye despise us, that our advice should not be first had in bringing back our king? And the words of the men of Judah were fiercer than the words of the men of Israel.

CHAP. XX.

1 Sheba revolteth with the men of Israel. 3 David on his return to Jerusalem shutteth up his ten concubines for life. 4 Amasa, made captain of the host, is slain by Joab. 14 Joab pursueth Sheba to Abel. 16 By the persuasions of a wise woman Sheba's head is thrown over the wall, and the city saved. 23 David's great officers.

1022. AND there happened to be there a man of Belial, whose name was Sheba, the son of Bichri, a Benjamite: and he blew a trumpet, and said, We have no part in David, neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: every man to his tents, O Israel.

2 So every man of Israel went up from after David, and followed Sheba the son of Bichri: but the men of Judah clave unto their king, from Jordan even to Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And David came to his house at Jerusalem; and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in ward, and fed them, but went not in unto them. So they were shut up unto the day of their death, living in widowhood.

4 ¶ Then said the king to Amasa, Assemble me the men of Judah within three days, and be thou here present.

5 So Amasa went to assemble the men of Judah: but he tarried longer than the set time which he had appointed him.

6 And David said to Abishai, Now shall Sheba the son of Bichri do us more harm than did Absalom: take thou my lord's servants, and pursue after him, lest he get him fenced cities, and escape us.

7 And there went out after him Joab's men, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men: and they went out of Jerusalem, to pursue after Sheba the son of Bichri.

8 When they were at the great stone which is in Gibeon, Amasa went before them. And Joab's garment that he had put on was girded unto him, and upon it a girdle with a sword fastened upon his loins in the sheath thereof; and as he went forth it fell out.

9 And Joab said to Amasa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Joab took Amasa by the beard with the right hand to kiss him.

10 But Amasa took no heed to the sword that was in Joab's hand: so he smote him therewith in the fifth rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and struck him not again; and he died. So Joab and Abishai his brother pursued after Sheba the son of Bichri.

11 And one of Joab's men that stood by him, and said, He that favoureth Joab, and he that is for David, let him go after Joab.

12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the midst of the highway. And when the man saw that all the people stood still, he removed Amasa out of the highway into the field, and cast a cloth upon him, when he saw that every one that came by him stood still.

13 When

26 Thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, &c.] This he ordered Ziba to do; who saddled it for himself, and went with his false report.

29 Thou and Ziba divide the land.] As if he had said, My first grant shall stand, when he decreed that Mephibosheth should be lord of the land, and Ziba should manage it for him.

43 In the king, &c.] i. e. In the kingdom.

General Reflections on Chap. XIX.

By the complaints made by the people of Israel concerning David, there arose a division between the ten tribes and those of Judah and Benjamin, which afterwards gave occasion to the revolt under Rehoboam.

Commentary and Notes on Chap. XX.

1 We have no part in David, &c.] As much as to say, Let the men of Judah have him to themselves: he careth not for us, nor do we for him.

5 He tarried longer, &c.] The people, being harrassed by the late civil war, were not so forward to engage in another.

6 Thy lord's servants, &c.] The guards that attended David, and the standing forces, which were always kept on foot.

8 Amasa went before him, &c.] Took upon him the command in chief.

9 Joab took Amasa by the beard, &c.] The Indians at this day take one another by the chin, when they would give an hearty salute.

Before CHRIST 1022. 13 When he was removed out of the highway, all the people went on after Joab, to purſue after Sheba the ſon of Bichri.

14 ¶ And he went through all the tribes of Iſrael unto Abel, and to Beth-maachah, and all the Berites: and they were gathered together, and went alſo after him.

15 And they came and beſieged him in Abel of Beth-maachah, and they caſt up a bank againſt the city, and it ſtood in the trench: and all the people that were with Joab battered the wall, to throw it down.

16 ¶ Then cried a wiſe woman out of the city, Hear, hear; ſay, I pray you, unto Joab, Come near hither, that I may ſpeak with thee.

17 And when he was come near unto her, the woman ſaid, Art thou Joab? And he anſwered, I am he. Then ſhe ſaid unto him, Hear the words of thine handmaid. And he anſwered, I do hear.

18 Then ſhe ſpake, ſaying, They were wont to ſpeak in old time, ſaying, They ſhall ſurely aſk counſel at Abel: and ſo they ended the matter.

19 I am one of them that are peaceable and faithful in Iſrael: thou ſeekeſt to deſtroy a city and a mother in Iſrael: why wilt thou ſwallow up the inheritance of the LORD?

20 And Joab anſwered and ſaid, Far be it, far be it from me, that I ſhould ſwallow up or deſtroy.

21 The matter is not ſo: but a man of mount Ephraim, Sheba the ſon of Bichri by name, hath lifted up his hand againſt the king, even againſt David: deliver him only, and I will depart from the city. And the woman ſaid unto Joab, Behold, his head ſhall be thrown to thee over the wall.

22 Then the woman went unto all the people in her wiſdom. And they cut off the head of Sheba the ſon of Bichri, and caſt it out to Joab. And he blew a trumpet, and they retired from the city, every man to his tent. And Joab returned to Jeruſalem unto the king.

23 ¶ Now Joab was over all the hoſt of Iſrael: and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and over the Pelethites:

24 And Adoram was over the tribute: and Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Ahilud was recorder:

25 And Sheva was ſcribe: and Zadok and Abiathar were the prieſts:

26 And Ira alſo the Jairite was a chief ruler about David.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The three years' famine on account of the Gibeonites ceaſeth upon hanging ſeven of Saul's ſons. 10 Rizpah's care for their dead bodies. 12 David burieth their bones with thoſe of Saul and Jonathan in the ſepulchre of Kiſh. 15 In four battles againſt the Philiſtines four of David's mighty men ſlay four giants.

1021. THEN there was a famine in the days of David three years, year after year; and David enquired of the LORD. And the LORD anſwered, It is for Saul, and for his bloody houſe, becauſe he ſlew the Gibeonites.

2 And the king called the Gibeonites, and ſaid unto them; (now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Iſrael, but of the remnant of the Amorites; and the children of Iſrael had ſworn unto them: and Saul ſought to ſlay them in his zeal to the children of Iſrael and Judah.) Before CHRIST 1021.

3 Wherefore David ſaid unto the Gibeonites, What ſhall I do for you? and wherewith ſhall I make the atonement, that ye may bleſs the inheritance of the LORD?

4 And the Gibeonites ſaid unto him, We will have no ſilver nor gold of Saul, nor of his houſe; neither for us ſhalt thou kill any man in Iſrael. And he ſaid, What ye ſhall ſay, that will I do for you.

5 And they anſwered the king, The man that conſumed us, and that deviſed againſt us that we ſhould be deſtroyed from remaining in any of the coaſts of Iſrael,

6 Let ſeven men of his ſons be delivered unto us, and we will hang them up unto the LORD in Gibeah of Saul, whom the LORD did chooſe. And the king ſaid, I will give them.

7 But the king ſpared Mephibo-ſheth, the ſon of Jonathan the ſon of Saul, becauſe of the LORD's oath that was between them, between David and Jonathan the ſon of Saul.

8 But the king took the two ſons of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom ſhe bare unto Saul, Armoni and Mephibo-ſheth; and the five ſons of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom ſhe brought up for Adriel the ſon of Barzillai the Meholathite:

9 And he delivered them into the hands of the Gibeonites, and they hanged them in the hill before the LORD: and they fell all ſeven together, and were put to death in the days of harveſt, in the firſt days, in the beginning of barley harveſt. 1019.

10 ¶ And Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took ſackcloth, and ſpread it for her upon the rock, from the beginning of harveſt until water dropped upon them out of heaven, and ſuffered neither the birds of the air to reſt on them by day, nor the beaſts of the field by night.

11 And it was told David what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, the concubine of Saul, had done.

12 ¶ And David went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his ſon from the men of Jabeſh-gilead, which had ſtolen them from the ſtreet of Beth-ſhan, where the Philiſtines had hanged them, when the Philiſtines had ſlain Saul in Gilboa:

13 And he brought up from thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his ſon; and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and Jonathan his ſon buried they in the country of Benjamin in Zelah, in the ſepulchre of Kiſh his father: and they performed all that the king commanded. And after that God was intreated for the land.

15 ¶ Moreover the Philiſtines had yet war again with Iſrael; and David went down, and his ſervants with him, and fought againſt the Philiſtines: and David waxed faint. 1018.

16 And Iſhbi-benob, which was of the ſons of the giant, the weight of whoſe ſpear weighed three hundred ſhekels of braſs in weight, he being girded with a new ſword, thought to have ſlain David.

17 But

14 Unto Abel, and to Beth-maachah, &c.] Unto Abel Beth-maacah; for they were one and the ſame place.

18 They ſhall ſurely aſk counſel at Abel, &c.] The tranſlation in the margin of our bibles ſeems moſt natural: When the people ſaw them lay ſiege to the city, they ſaid, Surely he will aſk, if we will have peace; for the law preſcribes, that he ſhould offer peace to ſtrangers, much more than to Iſraelitiſh cities. If he would once do this, we ſhould bring things to an amicable agreement.

21 A man of mount Ephraim, &c.] It is ſuppoſed he lived there.

24 Adoram was over the tribute, &c.] Treaſurer or receiver of the king's revenue.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

We muſt conſider that God ſent the forementioned evils upon David, to humble him, and make him ſenſible of his ſin: with the ſame deſign he chaſtiſes ſinners: when they improve by his corrections, he pardons them, as he pardoned David, and re-eſtabliſhed him in his kingdom.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XXI.

1 David enquired of the Lord, &c.] For what ſin, ſo grievous a puniſhment was inflicted.

3 What ſhall I do for you? &c.] There was this reaſon for humouring the Gibeonites herein, becauſe they had been modeſt under their ſufferings, and never made any complaint to David of the injuries that had been done them.

8 The five ſons of Michal, &c.] Michal was not the wife of Adriel, but Merab; yet thoſe children which Merab had by Adriel, Michal brought up; and whoever brings up a pupil in his houſe, is in ſcripture ſaid to have begotten him.

9 He delivered them into the hands of the Gibeonites, &c.] This was done purely in obedience to the will of God, who had both directed and warranted him ſo to do.

10 From the beginning of harveſt until water dropped, &c.] The bodies hung from the beginning of harveſt till God was intreated for the land, and was pleaſed to ſend them rain.

17 But Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah ſuccoured him, and ſmote the Philiſtine, and killed him. Then the men of David ſware unto him, ſaying, Thou ſhalt go no more out with us to battle, that thou quench not the light of Iſrael.

18 And it came to paſs after this, that there was again a battle with the Philiſtines at Gob: then Sibbechai the Huſhathite ſlew Saph, which was of the ſons of the giant.

19 And there was again a battle in Gob with the Philiſtines, where Elhanan the ſon of Jaare-oregim, a Beth-lehemite, ſlew the brother of Goliath the Gittite, the ſtaff of whoſe ſpear was like a weaver's beam.

20 And there was yet a battle in Gath, where was a man of great ſtature, that had on every hand ſix fingers, and on every foot ſix toes, four and twenty in number: and he alſo was born to the giant.

21 And when he defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſon of Shimea the brother of David ſlew him.

22 Theſe four were born to the giant of Gath, and fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXII.

1 David's pſalm of thankſgiving for God's mighty deliverance and manifold bleſſings.

AND David ſpake unto the LORD the words of this ſong in the day that the LORD had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul:

2 And he ſaid, The LORD is my rock, and my fortreſs, and my deliverer;

3 The God of my rock; in him will I truſt: he is my ſhield, and the horn of my ſalvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my ſaviour; thou ſaveſt me from violence.

4 I will call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praiſed: ſo ſhall I be ſaved from mine enemies.

5 When the waves of death compaſſed me, the floods of ungodly men made me afraid;

6 The ſorrows of hell compaſſed me about; the ſnares of death prevented me;

7 In my diſtreſs I called upon the LORD, and cried to my God: and he did hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry did enter into his ears.

8 Then the earth ſhook and trembled: the foundations of heaven moved and ſhook, becauſe he was wroth.

9 There went up a ſmoke out of his noſtrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it:

10 He bowed the heavens alſo, and came down; and darkneſs was under his feet.

11 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: and he was ſeen upon the wings of the wind.

12 And he made darkneſs pavilions round about him, dark waters, and thick clouds of the ſkies.

13 Through the brightneſs before him were coals of fire kindled.

14 The LORD thundered from heaven, and the moſt High uttered his voice.

15 And he ſent out arrows, and ſcattered them; lightning, and diſcomfited them.

16 And the channels of the ſea appeared, the foundations of the world were diſcovered, at the rebuking of the LORD, at the blaſt of the breath of his noſtrils.

17 He ſent from above, he took me: he drew me out of many waters; Before CHRIST 1018.

18 He delivered me from my ſtrong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

19 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my ſtay.

20 He brought me forth alſo into a large place: he delivered me, becauſe he delighted in me.

21 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteouſneſs: according to the cleanneſs of my hands hath he recompenſed me,

22 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

23 For all his judgments were before me: and as for his ſtatutes, I did not depart from them.

24 I was alſo upright before him, and have kept myſelf from mine iniquity.

25 Therefore hath the LORD recompenſed me according to my righteouſneſs: according to my cleanneſs in his eye ſight.

26 With the merciful thou wilt ſhew thyſelf merciful, and with the upright man thou wilt ſhew thyſelf upright.

27 With the pure thou wilt ſhew thyſelf pure; and with the froward thou wilt ſhew thyſelf unſavoury.

28 And the afflicted people thou wilt ſave: but thine eyes are upon the haughty, that thou mayeſt bring them down.

29 For thou art my lamp, O LORD: and the LORD will lighten my darkneſs.

30 For by thee I have run through a troop: by my God have I leaped over a wall.

31 As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all them that truſt in him.

32 For who is God, ſave the LORD? and who is a rock, ſave our God?

33 God is my ſtrength and power: and he maketh my way perfect.

34 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet: and ſetteth me upon my high places.

35 He teacheth my hands to war; ſo that a bow of ſteel is broken by mine arms.

36 Thou haſt alſo given me the ſhield of thy ſalvation: and thy gentleneſs hath made me great.

37 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteps under me; ſo that my feet did not ſlip.

38 I have purſued mine enemies, and deſtroyed them; and turned not again until I had conſumed them.

39 And I have conſumed them, and wounded them, that they could not ariſe: yea, they are fallen under my feet.

40 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength to battle: them that roſe up againſt me thou haſt ſubdued under me.

41 Thou haſt alſo given me the necks of mine enemies, that I might deſtroy them that hate me.

42 They looked, but there was none to ſave; even unto the LORD, but he anſwered them not.

43 Then did I beat them as ſmall as the duſt of the earth, I did ſtamp them as the mire of the ſtreet, and did ſpread them abroad.

44 Thou alſo haſt delivered me from the ſtrivings of

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

We may learn from hence, that the violation of oaths brings down the judgments of God; and that wicked men draw upon themſelves and their offſpring all kinds of misfortunes.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXII.

1 And David ſpake unto the Lord the words of this ſong, &c.] This pſalm is nearly the ſame as the eighteenth. In this divine ode is contained the nobleſt image that was ever expreſſed in words.

3 My ſhield, and the horn of my ſalvation, my high tower, &c.] He declares God alone to be his confidence, in whom he placed all his ſtrength, ſafety, ſecurity, and happineſs.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 David's laſt words, ſetting forth the happineſs of the juſt man, and the different ſtate of the wicked. 8 A catalogue of David's mighty men.

NOW theſe be the laſt words of David. David the ſon of Jeſſe ſaid, and the man who was raiſed up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the ſweet pſalmiſt of Iſrael, ſaid,

2 The Spirit of the LORD ſpake by me, and his word was in my tongue.

3 The God of Iſrael ſaid, the Rock of Iſrael ſpake to me, He that ruleth over men muſt be juſt, ruling in the fear of God.

4 And he ſhall be as the light of the morning, when the ſun riſeth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender graſs ſpringing out of the earth by clear ſhining after rain.

5 Although my houſe be not ſo with God; yet he hath made with me an everlaſting covenant, ordered in all things, and ſure: for this is all my ſalvation, and all my deſire, although he make it not to grow.

6 But the ſons of Belial ſhall be all of them as thorns thruſt away, becauſe they cannot be taken with hands:

7 But the man that ſhall touch them muſt be fenced with iron and the ſtaff of a ſpear; and they ſhall be utterly burned with fire in the ſame place.

8 ¶ Theſe be the names of the mighty men whom David had: The Tachmonite that ſat in the ſeat, chief among the captains; the ſame was Adino the Eznite: he liſt up his ſpear againſt eight hundred, whom he ſlew at one time.

9 And after him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo the Ahohite, one of the three mighty men with David, when they defied the Philiſtines that were there gathered together to battle, and the men of Iſrael were gone away:

10 He aroſe, and ſmote the Philiſtines until his hand was weary, and his hand clave unto the ſword: and the LORD wrought a great victory that day; and the people returned after him only to ſpoil.

11 And after him was Shammah the ſon of Agee the Hararite. And the Philiſtines were gathered together into a troop, where was a piece of ground full of lentiles: and the people fled from the Philiſtines. Before CHRIST 1018.

12 But he ſtood in the midſt of the ground, and defended it, and ſlew the Philiſtines: and the LORD wrought a great victory.

13 And three of the thirty chief went down, and came to David in the harveſt time unto the cave of Adullum: and the troop of the Philiſtines pitched in the valley of Rephaim.

14 And David was then in an hold, and the garriſon of the Philiſtines was then in Beth-lehem.

15 And David longed and ſaid, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, which is by the gate.

16 And the three mighty men brake through the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David: nevertheleſs he would not drink thereof, but poured it out unto the LORD.

17 And he ſaid, Be it far from me, O LORD, that I ſhould do this: is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives? therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things did theſe three mighty men.

18 And Abiſhai, the brother of Joab, the ſon of Zeruiah, was chief among three. And he lifted up his ſpear againſt three hundred, and ſlew them, and had the name among three.

19 Was he not moſt honourable of three? therefore he was their captain: howbeit he attained not unto the firſt three.

20 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, the ſon of a valiant man, of Kabzeel, who had done many acts, he ſlew two lion-like men of Moab: he went down alſo and ſlew a lion in the midſt of a pit in time of ſnow:

21 And he ſlew an Egyptian, a goodly man: and the Egyptian had a ſpear in his hand; but he went down to him with a ſtaff, and plucked the ſpear out of the Egyptian's hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

22 Theſe things did Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and had the name among three mighty men.

23 He was more honourable than the thirty, but he attained not to the firſt three. And David ſet him over his guard.

24 Aſahel the brother of Joab was one of the thirty; Elhanan the ſon of Dodo of Beth-lehem,

25 Shammah the Harodite, Elika the Harodite,

26 Helez the Paltite, Ira the ſon of Ikkeſh the Tekoite,

27 Abiezer the Anethothite, Mebunnai the Huſhathite,

31 Abi-albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite,

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

We ſee in this ſong the miſerable condition of the ungodly; ſince when they are in diſtreſs, there is none to deliver them; and when they cry to the Lord he will not hear them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

5 Although my houſe be not ſo with God; yet he hath made with me an everlaſting covenant, &c.] Though ſome afflictions have befallen me, and all my deſires have not flouriſhed, yet he hath not taken his mercies nor his favours from me.

7 The man that ſhall touch them muſt be fenced with iron, &c.] If any one meddle with them it muſt be at his peril.

8 Theſe be the names of the mighty men, &c.] Mr. Kennicot has, with great ingenuity and induſtry corrected the original, and given us this tranſlation; Theſe are the names of the mighty men whom David had: Jeſhubeam the Hachmonite, chief of the three; he lifted up his ſpear againſt three hundred ſoldiers at one time. This is nearly correſpondent to 1 Chron. xi. 11.

17 Is not this the blood of the men, &c.] He looked upon it no longer as water, but as the blood of thoſe men who fetched it at the hazard of their lives.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

We may learn from this chapter, that we ought chiefly to prize ſpiritual bleſſings, and thank God for them; and that his favour is beſtowed upon thoſe that fear him, and upon their poſterity.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 David forceth Joab to number the people. 5 The captains after nine months and twenty days deliver in the number to the king. 10 David repenteth, and, being obliged to chooſe one plague out of three named to him, fixeth on three day's peſtilence. 15 After the death of ſeventy thouſand in Iſrael, at David's humble ſuit the angel is ſtayed from deſtroying Jeruſalem. 18 By Gad's direction David purchaſeth Araunah's threſhing floor; and having ſacrificed there, the plague ceaſeth.

AND again the anger of the LORD was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he moved David againſt them to ſay, Go, number Iſrael and Judah.

2 For the king ſaid to Joab the captain of the hoſt, which was with him, Go now through all the tribes of Iſrael, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba, and number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people.

3 And Joab ſaid unto the king, Now the LORD thy God add unto the people, how many ſoever they be, an hundred fold, and that the eyes of my lord the king may ſee it: but why doth my lord the king delight in this thing?

4 Notwithſtanding the king's word prevailed againſt Joab, and againſt the captains of the hoſt. And Joab and the captains of the hoſt went out from the preſence of the king, to number the people of Iſrael.

5 ¶ And they paſſed over Jordan, and pitched in Aroer, on the right ſide of the city that lieth in the midſt of the river of Gad, and toward Jazer:

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to the land of Tahtim-hodſhi; and they came to Dan-jaan, and about to Zidon,

7 And came to the ſtrong hold of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Hivites, and of the Canaanites: and they went out to the ſouth of Judah, even to Beer-ſheba.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jeruſalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 And Joab gave up the ſum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Iſrael eight hundred thouſand valiant men that drew the ſword; and the men of Judah were five hundred thouſand men.

10 ¶ And David's heart ſmote him after that he had numbered the people. And David ſaid unto the LORD, I have ſinned greatly in that I have done: and now, I beſeech thee, O LORD, take away the iniquity of thy ſervant; for I have done very fooliſhly.

11 For when David was up in the morning, the word of the LORD came unto the prophet Gad, David's ſeer, ſaying, Before CHRIST 1017.

12 Go and ſay unto David, Thus ſaith the LORD, I offer thee three things; chooſe thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

13 So Gad came to David, and told him, and ſaid unto him, Shall ſeven years of famine come unto thee in thy land? or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, while they purſue thee? or that there be three days peſtilence in thy land? now adviſe, and ſee what anſwer I ſhall return to him that ſent me.

14 And David ſaid unto Gad, I am in a great ſtrait; let us fall now into the hand of the LORD; for his mercies are great: and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 ¶ So the LORD ſent a peſtilence upon Iſrael from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dan even to Beer-ſheba ſeventy thouſand men.

16 And when the angel ſtretched out his hand upon Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, the LORD repented him of the evil, and ſaid to the angel that deſtroyed the people, It is enough; ſtay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD was by the threſhingplace of Araunah the Jebuſite.

17 And David ſpake unto the LORD when he ſaw the angel that ſmote the people, and ſaid, Lo, I have ſinned, and I have done wickedly: but theſe ſheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be againſt me, and againſt my father's houſe.

18 ¶ And Gad came that day to David, and ſaid unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the LORD in the threſhingfloor of Araunah the Jebuſite.

19 And David, according to the ſaying of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, and ſaw the king and his ſervants coming on toward him: and Araunah went out and bowed himſelf before the king on his face upon the ground.

21 And Araunah ſaid, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his ſervant? And David ſaid, To buy the threſhingfloor of thee, to build an altar unto the LORD, that the plague may be ſtayed from the people.

22 And Araunah ſaid unto David, Let my lord the king take and offer up what ſeemeth good unto him: behold, here be oxen for burnt ſacrifice, and threſhing inſtruments and other inſtruments of the oxen for wood.

23 All theſe things did Araunah, as a king, give unto the king. And Araunah ſaid unto the king, The LORD thy God accept thee.

24 And the king ſaid unto Araunah, Nay; but I will ſurely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the LORD my God of that which doth coſt me nothing. So David bought the threſhingfloor and the oxen for fifty ſhekels of ſilver.

25 And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD was intreated for the land, and the plague was ſtayed from Iſrael.

The

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

1 The anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, &c.] Becauſe they had followed Abſalom, and afterwards Sheba, and alſo becauſe of their luxury, now that plenty was reſtored.

10 David ſaid unto the Lord, I have ſinned greatly, &c.] David, who had been favoured by the Almighty in a moſt remarkable manner, ſhould not have gloried in the multitude of his forces, nor made fleſh his arm.

13 Shall ſeven years of famine, &c.] In 1 Chron. xxi. 12. it is three years famine, &c. &c. The LXX alſo read three years famine; therefore there is no doubt but this is a miſtake of the tranſlator, who has corrupted three into ſeven.

17 Lo, I have ſinned, and I have done wickedly: but theſe ſheep, what have they done, &c.] Like a good man, he reflected only on his own ſin, in numbering the people; but did not think of theirs in deſpiſing him lately and ſetting up Abſalom on the throne of Iſrael.

18 In the threſhing-floor of Araunah, &c.] This threſhing-floor was in the mount Moriah, the place where Abraham offered up his ſon, and where Solomon afterwards built the temple.

24 David bought the threſhing-floor, &c.] To account for the difference here with Chronicles which makes it 600 ſhekels of gold, it is generally ſuppoſed David made two purchaſes: firſt, he bought the threſhing floor and oxen, for fifty ſhekels of ſilver; but that afterwards all the ground about it (out of which the courts and temple were made) coſt him 600 ſhekels of gold.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

David's conduct in general denotes him to have been a moſt worthy prince, who joined mercy and juſtice together in ſuch a manner, as to procure the favour of the Divine Being on the one hand, and the love of his ſubjects on the other; when he humbled himſelf for his ſin, God pardoned him graciouſly.

The First Book of the KINGS,

COMMONLY CALLED

The Third Book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

These books are called Kings, because they contain the history of the kings of Israel and Judah, from the beginning of Solomon's reign, down to the Babylonish captivity, for the space of near six hundred years, taking into the account the history of the two foregoing books. It is highly probable Ezra extracted them out of the public records.

CHAP. I.

1 Abishag cherisheth David in his extreme old age. 5 Adonijah, having gained over Joab and Abiathar, inviteth his friends to a feast in order to make himself king. 11 Nathan's advice to Bathsheba thereupon; 15 who moveth the king on the behalf of Solomon. 22 She is seconded by Nathan. 28 David sweareth to Bathsheba to make Solomon king that same day; 32 and issueth out orders accordingly. 38 Solomon is anointed and proclaimed king, the people rejoicing. 41 Adonijah and his guests hearing the news betake themselves to flight. 50 Adonijah, laying hold on the horns of the altar, is dismissed by Solomon in peace on condition of his good behaviour.

Before CHRIST 1015. NOW king David was old and stricken in years; and they covered him with clothes, but he gat no heat.

2 Wherefore his servants said unto him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a young virgin: and let her stand before the king, and let her cherish him, and let her lie in thy bosom, that my lord the king may get heat.

3 So they sought for a fair damsel throughout all the coasts of Israel, and found Abishag a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the damsel was very fair, and cherished the king, and ministered to him: but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adonijah the son of Haggith exalted himself, saying, I will be king: and he prepared him chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him.

6 And his father had not displeased him at any time in saying, Why hast thou done so? and he also was a very goodly man; and his mother bare him after Absalom.

7 And he conferred with Joab the son of Zeruiah, and with Abiathar the priest: and they following Adonijah helped him.

8 But Zadok the priest, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the mighty men which belonged to David, were not with Adonijah.

9 And Adonijah slew sheep and oxen and fat cattle by the stone of Zoheleth, which is by En-rogel, and called all his brethren the king's sons, and all the men of Judah the king's servants:

10 But Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he called not. Before CHRIST 1015.

11 ¶ Wherefore Nathan spake unto Bath-sheba the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonijah the son of Haggith doth reign, and David our lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, let me, I pray thee, give thee counsel, that thou mayest save thine own life, and the life of thy son Solomon.

13 Go and get thee in unto king David, and say unto him, Didst not thou, my lord, O king, swear unto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? why then does Adonijah reign?

14 Behold, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and confirm thy words.

15 ¶ And Bath-sheba went in unto the king into the chamber: and the king was very old; and Abishag the Shunammite ministered unto the king.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed, and did obeisance unto the king. And the king said, What wouldest thou?

17 And she said unto him, My lord, thou swarest by the LORD thy God unto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne.

18 And now, behold, Adonijah reigneth; and now, my lord the king, thou knowest it not:

19 And he hath slain oxen and fat cattle and sheep in abundance, and hath called all the sons of the king, and Abiathar the priest, and Joab the captain of the host: but Solomon thy servant hath he not called.

20 And thou, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, that thou shouldest tell them who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 Otherwise it shall come to pass, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon shall be counted offenders.

22 ¶ And, lo, while she yet talked with the king, Nathan the prophet also came in.

23 And they told the king, saying, Behold Nathan the prophet. And when he was come in before the king, he bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground.

24 And Nathan said, My lord, O king, hast thou said,

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

2 His servants said unto him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a young virgin, &c.] The conduct of David here has been unjustly censured by some interpreters; while others have passed over this passage in contemptuous silence. But there is no reason it should be thus treated, when it is evident that there was no criminality in the case, and that it was a prescription merely medicinal, and not applied to any lascivious and wanton ends.

6 His father had not displeased him at any time] David seems to have been too indulgent to his children (as was Eli), overlooked their errors, and did not reprove them, though he was bound to do it by a plain law, Lev. xix. 17.

His mother bare him after Absalom.] He was next to him in order of birth, and was now David's eldest son.

17 My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God unto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Solomon, &c.] No doubt David had solemnly sworn to her, that he would make her son his successor; God himself having designed him to that honour; see 2 Sam. vii. 12. also 1 Chron. xxii. 9.

Before CHRIST 1015.

ſaid, Adonijah ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne?

25 For he is gone down this day, and hath ſlain oxen and fat cattle and ſheep in abundance, and hath called all the king's ſons, and the captains of the hoſt, and Abiathar the prieſt; and, behold, they eat and drink before him, and ſay, God ſave king Adonijah.

26 But me, even me, thy ſervant, and Zadok the prieſt, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and thy ſervant Solomon, hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou haſt not ſhewed it unto thy ſervant, who ſhould ſit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 ¶ Then king David anſwered and ſaid, Call me Bath-ſheba. And ſhe came into the king's preſence, and ſtood before the king.

29 And the king ſware, and ſaid, As the LORD liveth, that hath redeemed my ſoul out of all diſtreſs,

30 Even as I ſware unto thee by the LORD God of Iſrael, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne in my ſtead; even ſo will I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-ſheba bowed with her face to the earth, and did reverence to the king, and ſaid, Let my lord king David live for ever.

32 ¶ And king David ſaid, Call me Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 The king alſo ſaid unto them, Take with you the ſervants of your lord, and cauſe Solomon my ſon to ride upon mine own mule, and bring him down to Gihon:

34 And let Zadok the prieſt and Nathan the prophet anoint him there king over Iſrael: and blow ye with the trumpet, and ſay, God ſave king Solomon.

35 Then ye ſhall come up after him, that he may come and ſit upon my throne; for he ſhall be king in my ſtead: and I have appointed him to be ruler over Iſrael and over Judah.

36 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada anſwered the king, and ſaid, Amen: the LORD God of my lord the king ſay ſo too.

37 As the LORD hath been with my lord the king, even ſo be he with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king David.

38 ¶ So Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, went down, and cauſed Solomon to ride upon king's David's mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the prieſt took an horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon. And they blew the trumpet; and all the people ſaid, God ſave king Solomon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, ſo that the earth rent with the ſound of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gueſts that were with him heard it as they had made an end of eating. And when Joab heard the ſound of the trumpet, he ſaid, Wherefore is this noiſe of the city being in an uproar?

42 And while he yet ſpake, behold, Jonathan the ſon of Abiathar the prieſt came: and Adonijah ſaid unto him, Come in; for thou art a valiant man, and bringeſt good tidings.

43 And Jonathan anſwered and ſaid to Adonijah, Verily our lord king David hath made Solomon king.

44 And the king hath ſent with him Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, the ſon of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they have cauſed him to ride upon the king's mule:

Before CHRIST 1015.

45 And Zadok the prieſt and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon: and they are come up from thence rejoicing, ſo that the city rang again. This is the noiſe that ye have heard.

46 And alſo Solomon ſitteth on the throne of the kingdom.

47 And moreover the king's ſervants came to bleſs our lord king David, ſaying, God make the name of Solomon better than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne. And the king bowed himſelf upon the bed.

48 And alſo thus ſaid the king, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, which hath given one to ſit on my throne this day, mine eyes even ſeeing it.

49 And all the gueſts that were with Adonijah were afraid, and roſe up, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Adonijah feared becauſe of Solomon, and aroſe, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

51 And it was told Solomon, ſaying, Behold, Adonijah feareth king Solomon: for, lo, he hath caught hold on the horns of the altar, ſaying, Let king Solomon ſwear unto me to day that he will not ſlay his ſervant with the ſword.

52 And Solomon ſaid, If he will ſhew himſelf a worthy man, there ſhall not an hair of him fall to the earth: but if wickedneſs ſhall be found in him, he ſhall die.

53 So king Solomon ſent, and they brought him down from the altar. And he came and bowed himſelf to king Solomon: and Solomon ſaid unto him, Go to thine houſe.

CHAP. II.

1 David chargeth Solomon to ſerve God, and directeth him how to deal with Joab, the ſons of Barzillai, and Shimei. 10 David's death; the years of his reign. 12 Solomon ſucceedeth him. 13 Adonijah, having perſuaded Bath-ſheba to aſk for him Abiſhag to wife, is put to death by Solomon's command. 26 Abiathar hath his life ſpared, but is removed from the prieſthood. 28 Joab, having fled to the horns of the altar, is there ſlain. 35 Benaiah is put in Joab's room, and Zadok in Abiathar's. 36 Shimei is confined to Jeruſalem; but going to Gath in defiance of the king's orders, is put to death.

NOW the days of David drew nigh that he ſhould die; and he charged Solomon his ſon, ſaying,

2 I go the way of all the earth: be thou ſtrong therefore, and ſhew thyſelf a man;

3 And keep the charge of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his ſtatutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and his teſtimonies, as it is written in the law of Moſes, that thou mayeſt proſper in all that thou doeſt, and whitherſoever thou turneſt thyſelf:

4 That the LORD may continue his word which he ſpake concerning me, ſaying, If thy children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their ſoul, there ſhall not fail thee (ſaid he) a man on the throne of Iſrael.

5 Moreover thou knoweſt alſo what Joab the ſon of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two captains of the hoſt of Iſrael, unto Abner the ſon of Ner, and unto

---

30 He ſhall ſit upon my throne in my ſtead, &c.] This power of naming a ſucceſſor was firſt aſſumed by David, and for ſome time afterwards continued in the Jewiſh ſtate.

33 Cauſe Solomon my ſon to ride upon mine own mule, &c.] The mounting Solomon upon David's mule was a ſufficient declaration in his favour. To ride upon the king's mule, by his appointment, was accounted the higheſt dignity among the Perſians, as appears by the ſtory of Mordecai in the book of Eſther.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

We learn from this chapter, that nothing can hinder the execution of the deſigns of Providence; that whatever men do to prevent them, only ſerve to haſten them; and that criminal attempts turn to the confuſion of the authors.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

3 His ſtatutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and his teſtimonies, &c.] Under theſe four words are comprehended all the laws of Moſes.

Before CHRIST 1015. unto Amaſa the ſon of Jether, whom he ſlew, and ſhed the blood of war in peace, and put the blood of war upon his girdle that was about his loins, and in his ſhoes that were on his feet.

6 Do therefore according to thy wiſdom, and let not his hoar head go down to the grave in peace.

7 But ſhew kindneſs unto the ſons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be of thoſe that eat at thy table: for ſo they came to me when I fled becauſe of Abſalom thy brother.

8 And, behold, thou haſt with thee Shimei the ſon of Gera, a Benjamite of Bahurim, which curſed me with a grievous curſe in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I ſware to him by the LORD, ſaying, I will not put thee to death with the ſword.

9 Now therefore hold him not guiltleſs: for thou art a wiſe man, and knoweſt what thou oughteſt to do unto him; but his hoar head bring thou down to the grave with blood.

10 ¶ So David ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.

11 And the days that David reigned over Iſrael were forty years: ſeven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jeruſalem.

12 ¶ Then ſat Solomon upon the throne of David his father; and his kingdom was eſtabliſhed greatly.

1014. 13 ¶ And Adonijah the ſon of Haggith came to Bath-ſheba the mother of Solomon. And ſhe ſaid, Comeſt thou peaceably? And he ſaid, Peaceably.

14 He ſaid moreover, I have ſomewhat to ſay unto thee. And ſhe ſaid, Say on.

15 And he ſaid, Thou knoweſt that the kingdom was mine, and that all Iſrael ſet their faces on me, that I ſhould reign: howbeit the kingdom is turned about, and is become my brother's: for it was his from the LORD.

16 And now I aſk one petition of thee, deny me not. And ſhe ſaid unto him, Say on.

17 And he ſaid, Speak, I pray thee, unto Solomon the king, (for he will not ſay thee nay,) that he give me Abiſhag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-ſheba ſaid, Well; I will ſpeak for thee unto the king.

19 Bath-ſheba therefore went unto king Solomon, to ſpeak unto him for Adonijah. And the king aroſe up to meet her, and bowed himſelf unto her, and ſat down on his throne, and cauſed a ſeat to be ſet for the king's mother; and ſhe ſat on his right hand.

20 Then ſhe ſaid, I deſire one ſmall petition of thee; I pray thee, ſay me not nay. And the king ſaid unto her, Aſk on, my mother: for I will not ſay thee nay.

21 And ſhe ſaid, Let Abiſhag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon anſwered and ſaid unto his mother, And why doſt thou aſk Abiſhag the Shunammite for Adonijah? aſk for him the kingdom alſo; for he is mine elder brother; even for him, and for Abiathar the prieſt, and for Joab the ſon of Zeruiah.

23 Then king Solomon ſware by the LORD, ſaying, God do ſo to me, and more alſo, if Adonijah have not ſpoken this word againſt his own life.

24 Now therefore, as the LORD liveth, which hath eſtabliſhed me, and ſet me on the throne of David my father, and who hath made me an houſe, as he promiſed, Adonijah ſhall be put to death this day.

25 And king Solomon ſent by the hand of Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada; and he fell upon him that he died. Before CHRIST 1014.

26 ¶ And unto Abiathar the prieſt ſaid the king, Get thee to Anathoth, unto thine own fields; for thou art worthy of death: but I will not at this time put thee to death, becauſe thou bareſt the ark of the LORD God before David my father, and becauſe thou haſt been afflicted in all wherein my father was afflicted.

27 So Solomon thruſt out Abiathar from being prieſt unto the LORD; that he might fulfil the word of the LORD, which he ſpake concerning the houſe of Eli in Shiloh.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Joab: for Joab had turned after Adonijah, though he turned not after Abſalom. And Joab fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon that Joab was fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD; and, behold, he is by the altar. Then Solomon ſent Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, ſaying, Go, fall upon him.

30 And Benaiah came to the tabernacle of the LORD, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the king, Come forth. And he ſaid, Nay; but I will die here. And Benaiah brought the king word again, ſaying, Thus ſaid Joab, and thus he anſwered me.

31 And the king ſaid unto him, Do as he hath ſaid, and fall upon him, and bury him; that thou mayeſt take away the innocent blood, which Joab ſhed, from me, and from the houſe of my father.

32 And the LORD ſhall return his blood upon his own head, who fell upon two men more righteous and better than he, and ſlew them with the ſword, my father David not knowing thereof, to wit, Abner the ſon of Ner, captain of the hoſt of Iſrael, and Amaſa the ſon of Jether, captain of the hoſt of Judah.

33 Their blood ſhall therefore return upon the head of Joab, and upon the head of his ſeed for ever: but upon David, and upon his ſeed, and upon his houſe, and upon his throne, ſhall there be peace for ever from the LORD.

34 So Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada went up, and fell upon him, and ſlew him: and he was buried in his own houſe in the wilderneſs.

35 ¶ And the king put Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada in his room over the hoſt: and Zadok the prieſt did the king put in the room of Abiathar.

36 ¶ And the king ſent and called for Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Build thee an houſe in Jeruſalem, and dwell there, and go not forth thence any whither.

37 For it ſhall be, that on the day thou goeſt out, and paſſeſt over the brook Kidron, thou ſhalt know for certain that thou ſhalt ſurely die: thy blood ſhall be upon thine own head.

38 And Shimei ſaid unto the king, The ſaying is good: as my lord the king hath ſaid, ſo will thy ſervant do. And Shimei dwelt in Jeruſalem many days.

39 And it came to paſs at the end of three years, 1011. that two of the ſervants of Shimei ran away unto Achiſh ſon of Maachah king of Gath. And they told Shimei, ſaying, Behold, thy ſervants be in Gath.

40 And Shimei aroſe, and ſaddled his aſs, and went to Gath to Achiſh to ſeek his ſervants: and Shimei went, and brought his ſervants from Gath.

41 And it was told Solomon that Shimei had gone from Jeruſalem to Gath, and was come again.

42 And the king ſent and called for Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Did I not make thee to ſwear by the LORD

6 Let not his hoar head go down to the grave in peace.] It was for the public good that ſuch a wretch as Joab ſhould ſuffer at a proper time, and as Providence ſhould direct; and as prudential reaſons might delay the puniſhment both of Joab and Shimei during David's own lifetime, he thought it derogatory to the glory of his ſon's reign to ſuffer ſuch notorious offenders to go unpuniſhed. Theſe conſiderations exculpate David's conduct reſpecting theſe men.

10 So David ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.] Not in the ſepulchre of his father (as Saul was, 2 Sam. xxi. 14.) for that was in Bethlehem, but in the chief city of the kingdom, which he himſelf had founded, and where was the throne of the houſe of David.

15 Thou knoweſt that the kingdom was mine, &c.] By right of primogeniture.

22 Aſk for him the kingdom alſo, &c.] Solomon here gently reproves his mother for aſking a favour, which, if granted, muſt prove of the moſt fatal conſequence: he was ſhocked at the boldneſs of the requeſt, and ſuſpected ſome treaſonable deſign at the bottom.

37 Over the brook Kidron, &c.] Solomon's intention was, that if he went out of Jeruſalem any way, to a greater diſtance than Kidron was from thence, he ſhould die for it: for when he went to Gath after his ſervants, he went directly the contrary way; that city lying weſtward of Jeruſalem, and Kidron eaſtward.

I KINGS, Chap. III. Ver. 27.

He said give her the living Child, & in no wise slay it, she is the Mother thereof.

Before CHRIST 1011. LORD, and protested unto thee, saying, Know for a certain, on the day thou goest out, and walkest abroad any whither, that thou shalt surely die? and thou saidst unto me, The word that I have heard is good.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the oath of the LORD, and the commandment that I have charged thee with?

44 The king said moreover to Shimei, Thou knowest all the wickedness which thine heart is privy to, that thou didst to David my father: therefore the LORD shall return thy wickedness upon thine own head;

45 And king Solomon shall be blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before the LORD for ever.

46 So the king commanded Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; which went out, and fell upon him, that he died. And the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

CHAP. III.

1 Solomon marrieth Pharaoh's daughter. 2 High places being in use, he sacrificeth at Gibeon. 5 God appeareth to him in a dream there, and leaveth to his choice what to ask; he asketh wisdom, and obtaineth with it riches and honour. 16 His judgment between the two harlots maketh his wisdom renowned.

1014. AND Solomon made affinity with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and took Pharaoh's daughter, and brought her into the city of David, until he had made an end of building his own house, and the house of the LORD, and the wall of Jerusalem round about.

2 ¶ Only the people sacrificed in high places, because there was no house built unto the name of the LORD, until those days.

3 And Solomon loved the LORD, walking in the statutes of David his father: only he sacrificed and burnt incense in high places.

4 And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there; for that was the great high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Solomon offer upon that altar.

5 ¶ In Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream by night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee.

6 And Solomon said, Thou hast shewed unto thy servant David my father great mercy, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, that thou hast given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

7 And now, O LORD my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of David my father: and I am but a little child: I know not how to go out or come in.

8 And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

9 Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge this thy so great a people?

10 And the speech pleased the LORD that Solomon had asked this thing.

11 And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; Before CHRIST 1014. neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment;

12 Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like unto thee.

13 And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches, and honour: so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee all thy days.

14 And if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father David did walk, then I will lengthen thy days.

15 And Solomon awoke; and, behold, it was a dream. And he came to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and offered up burnt offerings, and offered peace offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

16 ¶ Then came there two women, that were harlots, unto the king, and stood before him.

17 And the one woman said, O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house; and I was delivered of a child with her in the house.

18 And it came to pass the third day after that I was delivered, that this woman was delivered also: and we were together; there was no stranger with us in the house, save we two in the house.

19 And this woman's child died in the night; because she overlaid it.

20 And she arose at midnight, and took my son from beside me, while thine handmaid slept, and laid it in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom.

21 And when I arose in the morning to give my child suck, behold, it was dead: but when I had considered it in the morning, behold, it was not my son, which I did bear.

22 And the other woman said, Nay; but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son. And this said, No; but the dead is thy son, and the living is my son. Thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, The one saith, This is my son that liveth, and thy son is the dead: and the other saith, Nay; but thy son is the dead, and my son is the living.

24 And the king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought a sword before the king.

25 And the king said, Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other.

26 Then spake the woman whose the living child was unto the king, for her bowels yearned upon her son, and she said, O my lord, give her the living child, and in no wise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it.

27 Then the king answered and said, Give her the living child, and in no wise slay it: she is the mother thereof,

28 And all Israel heard of the judgment which the king had judged; and they feared the king: for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to do judgment.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

We perceive, in all these histories, that princes are sometimes obliged, contrary to their own inclination, to take away the lives of such as disturb the public tranquillity; and that bloody, unjust, and seditious men (such as Adonijah, Abiathar, Joab, and Shimei) sooner or later come to an untimely end.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. III.

1 Took Pharaoh's daughter, &c.] She must have been a proselyte to the Jewish religion, or the marriage would have been unlawful.

9 Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, &c.] Though Solomon, in his great modesty, might request of God no more than the gift of government; yet God, out of his abundant grace, gave him a general knowledge of all other things.

16 Then came—two women, that were harlots, &c.] There is no reason to suppose they were common prostitutes, though some have supposed they were unmarried and guilty of fornication, as no mention is made of their husbands.

20 While thine handmaid slept, &c.] This rendered the matter awkward; for how could she know what her companion did while herself was asleep?

25 And the king said, Divide the living child in two, &c.] Solomon knew that the only sign that would discover the true mother, would be her affection and tenderness for her child; and therefore, in order to distinguish between the two, his business was, to make trial of this: and if we suppose, that when he commanded the child to be divided, he spoke with a sedate countenance and seeming earnestness; then we may suppose farther, not only the two women, but all the people present, were struck with horror and admiration at the thought of the execution of the thing; which, when it ended in so just a decision, quite contrary to what they looked for, raised joy in every breast, and gave a more advantageous commendation to the judge.

CHAP. IV.

Before CHRIST 1014.

1 Solomon's chief officers of ſtate. 7 The twelve officers who provided for his houſhold, each in his month. 20 The proſperity and grandeur of his kingdom. 22 The daily proviſion for his houſhold, ſuitable to the extent of his dominions and peacefulneſs of his reign. 26 His ſtables. 29 His extraordinary wiſdom.

SO king Solomon was king over all Iſrael.

2 And theſe were the princes which he had; Azariah the ſon of Zadok the prieſt,

3 Elihoreph and Ahiah, the ſons of Shiſha, ſcribes; Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Ahilud, the recorder.

4 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada was over the hoſt: and Zadok and Abiathar were the prieſts:

5 And Azariah the ſon of Nathan was over the officers: and Zabud the ſon of Nathan was principal officer, and the king's friend:

6 And Ahiſhar was over the houſhold: and Adoniram the ſon of Abda was over the tribute.

7 ¶ And Solomon had twelve officers over all Iſrael, which provided victuals for the king and his houſhold: each man his month in a year made proviſion.

8 And theſe are their names: the ſon of Hur, in mount Ephraim:

9 The ſon of Dekar, in Makaz, and in Shaalbim, and Beth-ſhemeſh, and Elonbeth-hanan:

10 The ſon of Heſed, in Aruboth; to him pertained Sochoh, and all the land of Hepher:

11 The ſon of Abinadab, in all the region of Dor; which had Taphath the daughter of Solomon to wife:

12 Baana the ſon of Ahilud; to him pertained Taanach and Megiddo, and all Beth-ſhean, which is by Zartanah beneath Jezreel, from Bath-ſhean to Abelmeholah, even unto the place that is beyond Jokneam:

13 The ſon of Geber, in Ramoth-gilead; to him pertained the towns of Jair the ſon of Manaſſah, which are in Gilead: to him alſo pertained the region of Argob, which is in Baſhan, threeſcore great cities with walls and braſen bars:

14 Ahinadab the ſon of Iddo had Mahanaim:

15 Ahimaaz was in Naphtali; he alſo took Baſmath the daughter of Solomon to wife:

16 Baanah the ſon of Huſhai was in Aſher and in Aloth:

17 Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Paruah, in Iſſachar:

18 Shimei the ſon of Elah, in Benjamin:

19 Geber the ſon of Uri was in the country of Gilead, in the country of Sihon king of the Amorites, and of Og king of Baſhan; and he was the only officer which was in the land.

20 ¶ Judah and Iſrael were many, as the ſand which is by the ſea in multitude, eating and drinking, and making merry.

21 And Solomon reigned over all kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Philiſtines, and unto the border of Egypt: they brought preſents, and ſerved Solomon all the days of his life.

22 ¶ And Solomon's proviſion for one day was thirty meaſures of fine flour, and threeſcore meaſures of meal, Before CHRIST 1014.

23 Ten fat oxen, and twenty oxen out of the paſtures, and an hundred ſheep, beſide harts, and roebucks, and fallowdeer, and fatted fowl.

24 For he had dominion over all the region on this ſide the river, from Tiphſah even to Azzah, over all the kings on this ſide the river: and he had peace on all ſides round about him.

25 And Judah and Iſrael dwelt ſafely, every man under his vine and under his fig tree, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba, all the days of Solomon.

26 ¶ And Solomon had forty thouſand ſtalls of horſes for his chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen.

27 And thoſe officers provided victual for king Solomon, and for all that came unto king Solomon's table, every man in his month: they lacked nothing.

28 Barley alſo and ſtraw for the horſes and dromedaries brought they unto the place where the officers were, every man according to his charge.

29 ¶ And God gave Solomon wiſdom and underſtanding exceeding much, and largeneſs of heart, even as the ſand that is on the ſea ſhore.

30 And Solomon's wiſdom excelled the wiſdom of all the children of the eaſt country, and all the wiſdom of Egypt.

31 For he was wiſer than all men; than Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, and Chalcol, and Darda, the ſons of Mahol: and his fame was in all nations round about.

32 And he ſpake three thouſand proverbs: and his ſongs were a thouſand and five.

33 And he ſpake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon even unto the hyſſop that ſpringeth out of the wall: he ſpake alſo of beaſts, and of fowl, and of creeping things, and of fiſhes.

34 And there came of all people to hear the wiſdom of Solomon, from all kings of the earth, which had heard of his wiſdom.

CHAP. V.

1 Hiram ſendeth to congratulate Solomon, who acquainteth him with his deſign of building the temple, and deſireth him to furniſh timber for that purpoſe. 7 Hiram bleſſeth God for Solomon's wiſdom, and promiſeth the timber, requeſting food for his houſhold in return. 10 The mutual ſervices and good correſpondence between Hiram and Solomon. 13 The number of workmen and labourers employed in preparing materials for the building.

AND Hiram king of Tyre ſent his ſervants unto Solomon; for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: for Hiram was ever a lover of David.

2 And Solomon ſent to Hiram, ſaying,

3 Thou knoweſt how that David my father could not build an houſe unto the name of the LORD his God, for the wars which were about him on every ſide, until the LORD put them under the ſoles of his feet.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

The inſtruction to be derived from this chapter, is, that the gifts of the Spirit of God are to be deſired above all other things; that God is ready to grant them to thoſe that aſk them; and that when they aſk ſpiritual bleſſings according to his will, he often beſtows temporal ones unaſked for.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

2 Azariah the ſon of Zadok the prieſt, &c.] Azariah was the ſon of Ahimaaz the ſon of Zadok, and therefore only the grandſon of Zadok; in ſcripture, grandſons are called ſons.

19 And he was the only officer which was in the land.] He was not fixed and ſettled in his office as the reſt were; but wherever the king happened to reſide, he was choſen by the citizens of that city.

21 Solomon reigned over all kingdoms, &c.] He had tributary to him the kingdoms of Syria, Moab, and Ammon, which lay between Euphrates and the Mediterranean.

24 From Tiphſah even to Azzah, &c.] Tiphſah was ſituated on the Euphrates, over which there was a bridge and a ferry, the Hebrew word מעבר ſignifying "tranſire," To paſs over.

26 Forty thouſand ſtalls of horſes, &c.] In 2 Chron. ix. 25. it is four thouſand, which is thought to be the more conſiſtent account; and that in this place a fault is crept into the original by the negligence of the tranſcribers.

32 Three thouſand proverbs, &c.] Many of theſe are loſt; all we have being comprized in the book of that name, and in Eccleſiaſtes.

33 He ſpake alſo of beaſts, and of fowls, &c.] This ſhews the large extent of his genius, which comprehended the knowledge of animals, as well as plants.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

We ſhould remember, that this great wiſdom, and theſe riches, were profitable to Solomon while he uſed them aright; but he no ſooner abuſed them, than they became a ſnare and ruin to him: this ſhould lead us to fear the miſimproving the talents committed to our charge.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

1 Sent his ſervants unto Solomon, &c.] He ſent ambaſſadors, to condole with king Solomon on the death of his father, and to congratulate his acceſſion to the throne.

Before CHRIST 1014.

4 But now the LORD my God hath given me reſt on every ſide, ſo that there is neither adverſary nor evil occurrent.

5 And, behold, I purpoſe to build an houſe unto the name of the LORD my God, as the LORD ſpake unto David my father, ſaying, Thy ſon, whom I will ſet upon thy throne in thy room, he ſhall build an houſe unto my name.

6 Now therefore command thou that they hew me cedar trees out of Lebanon; and my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants: and unto thee will I give hire for thy ſervants according to all that thou ſhalt appoint: for thou knoweſt that there is not among us any that can ſkill to hew timber like unto the Sidonians.

7 ¶ And it came to paſs, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD this day, which hath given unto David a wiſe ſon over this great people.

8 And Hiram ſent to Solomon, ſaying, I have conſidered the things which thou ſenteſt to me for: and I will do all thy deſire concerning timber of cedar, and concerning timber of fir.

9 My ſervants ſhall bring them down from Lebanon unto the ſea: and I will convey them by ſea in floats unto the place that thou ſhalt appoint me, and will cauſe them to be diſcharged there, and thou ſhalt receive them: and thou ſhalt accompliſh my deſire, in giving food for my houſhold.

10 ¶ So Hiram gave Solomon cedar trees and fir trees according to all his deſire.

11 And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thouſand meaſures of wheat for food to his houſhold, and twenty meaſures of pure oil: thus gave Solomon to Hiram year by year.

12 And the LORD gave Solomon wiſdom, as he promiſed him: and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon; and they two made a league together.

13 ¶ And king Solomon raiſed a levy out of all Iſrael; and the levy was thirty thouſand men.

14 And he ſent them to Lebanon, ten thouſand a month by courſes: a month they were in Lebanon, and two months at home: and Adoniram was over the levy.

15 And Solomon had threeſcore and ten thouſand that bare burdens, and fourſcore thouſand hewers in the mountains;

16 Beſide the chief of Solomon's officers, which were over the work, three thouſand and three hundred, which ruled over the people that wrought in the work.

17 And the king commanded, and they brought great ſtones, coſtly ſtones, and hewed ſtones, to lay the foundation of the houſe.

18 And Solomon's builders and Hiram's builders did hew them, and the ſtoneſquarers: ſo they prepared timber and ſtones to build the houſe.

AND it came to paſs in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Iſrael were come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Iſrael, in the month Zif, which is the ſecond month, that he began to build the houſe of the LORD.

2 And the houſe which king Solomon built for the LORD, the length thereof was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits, and the height thereof thirty cubits.

3 And the porch before the temple of the houſe, twenty cubits was the length thereof, according to the breadth of the houſe; and ten cubits was the breadth thereof before the houſe.

4 ¶ And for the houſe he made windows of narrow lights.

5 ¶ And againſt the wall of the houſe he built chambers round about, againſt the walls of the houſe round about, both of the temple and of the oracle: and he made chambers round about:

6 The nethermoſt chamber was five cubits broad, and the middle was ſix cubits broad, and the third was ſeven cubits broad: for without in the wall of the houſe he made narrowed reſts round about, that the beams ſhould not be faſtened in the walls of the houſe.

7 And the houſe, when it was in building, was built of ſtone made ready before it was brought thither: ſo that there was neither hammer nor ax nor any tool of iron heard in the houſe, while it was in building.

8 The door for the middle chamber was in the right ſide of the houſe; and they went up with winding ſtairs into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 So he built the houſe, and finiſhed it; and co- 1005.
vered the houſe with beams and boards of cedar.

10 And then he built chambers againſt all the houſe, five cubits high: and they reſted on the houſe with timber of cedar.

11 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Solomon, ſaying,

12 Concerning this houſe which thou art in building, if thou wilt walk in my ſtatutes, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments to walk in them; then will I perform my word with thee, which I ſpake unto David thy father:

13 And I will dwell among the children of Iſrael, and will not forſake my people Iſrael.

14 ¶ So Solomon built the houſe, and finiſhed it.

15 And he built the walls of the houſe within with boards of cedar, both the floor of the houſe, and the walls of the cieling: and he covered them on the inſide with wood, and covered the floor of the houſe with planks of fir.

16 And he built twenty cubits on the ſides of the houſe, both the floor and the walls with boards of cedar: he even built them for it within, even for the oracle, even for the moſt holy place.

17 And the houſe, that is, the temple before it, was forty cubits long.

18 And the cedar of the houſe within was carved with knops and open flowers: all was cedar; there was no ſtone ſeen.

19 ¶ And

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

After all this pomp and magnificence reſpecting Solomon's temple, let us reflect that the true temple God expects is the heart; that he will there be worſhipped in ſpirit and in truth; and there he likewiſe dwells by his grace.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

1 In the fourth year of Solomon's reign, &c.] Solomon would not make uſe of what his father had prepared, but was reſolved to build the temple at his own proper coſt and charge. He therefore put into the treaſury of the Lord's houſe all that David had dedicated to the work; and for the collecting ſo much gold and ſilver as was neceſſary to defray ſo vaſt an expence, four years can be accounted no unreaſonable time.

4 Windows of narrow lights.] Broad within, and narrow without; by which means the houſe was better ſecured from the weather, and yet had light enough.

19 ¶ And the oracle he prepared in the houſe within, to ſet there the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

20 And the oracle in the forepart was twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and twenty cubits in the height thereof: and he overlaid it with pure gold; and ſo covered the altar which was of cedar.

21 So Solomon overlaid the houſe within with pure gold: and he made a partition by the chains of gold before the oracle; and he overlaid it with gold.

22 And the whole houſe he overlaid with gold, until he had finiſhed all the houſe: alſo the whole altar that was by the oracle he overlaid with gold.

23 ¶ And within the oracle he made two cherubims of olive tree, each ten cubits high.

24 And five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: from the uttermoſt part of the one wing unto the uttermoſt part of the other were ten cubits.

25 And the other cherub was ten cubits: both the cherubims were of one meaſure and one ſize.

26 The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and ſo was it of the other cherub.

27 And he ſet the cherubims within the inner houſe: and they ſtretched forth the wings of the cherubims, ſo that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings touched one another in the midſt of the houſe.

28 And he overlaid the cherubims with gold.

29 And he carved all the walls of the houſe round about with carved figures of cherubims and palm trees and open flowers, within and without.

30 And the floor of the houſe he overlaid with gold, within and without.

31 ¶ And for the entering of the oracle he made doors of olive tree: the lintel and ſide poſts were a fifth part of the wall.

32 The two doors alſo were of olive tree; and he carved upon them carvings of cherubims and palm trees and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold, and ſpread gold upon the cherubims, and upon the palm trees.

33 So alſo made he for the door of the temple poſts of olive tree, a fourth part of the wall.

34 And the two doors were of fir tree: the two leaves of the one door were folding, and the two leaves of the other door were folding.

35 And he carved thereon cherubims and palm trees and open flowers: and covered them with gold fitted upon the carved work.

36 ¶ And he built the inner court with three rows of hewed ſtone, and a row of cedar beams.

37 ¶ In the fourth year was the foundation of the houſe of the LORD laid, in the month Zif:

38 And in the eleventh year, in the month Bul, which is the eighth month, was the houſe finiſhed throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the faſhion of it. So was he ſeven years in building it.

BUT Solomon was building his own houſe thirteen years, and he finiſhed all his houſe.

2 ¶ He built alſo the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon; the length thereof was an hundred cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits, and the height thereof thirty cubits, upon four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams upon the pillars.

3 And it was covered with cedar above upon the beams, that lay on forty five pillars, fifteen in a row.

4 And there were windows in three rows, and light was againſt light in three ranks.

5 And all the doors and poſts were ſquare, with the windows: and light was againſt light in three ranks.

6 ¶ And he made a porch of pillars; the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth thereof thirty cubits: and the porch was before them: and the other pillars and the thick beam were before them.

7 ¶ Then he made a porch for the throne where he might judge, even the porch of judgment: and it was covered with cedar from one ſide of the floor to the other.

8 ¶ And his houſe where he dwelt had another court within the porch, which was of the like work. Solomon made alſo an houſe for Pharaoh's daughter whom he had taken to wife, like unto this porch.

9 ¶ All theſe were of coſtly ſtones, according to the meaſures of hewed ſtones, ſawed with ſaws, within and without, even from the foundation unto the coping, and ſo on the outſide toward the great court.

10 And the foundation was of coſtly ſtones, even great ſtones, ſtones of ten cubits, and ſtones of eight cubits.

11 And above were coſtly ſtones, after the meaſures of hewed ſtones, and cedars.

12 And the great court round about was with three rows of hewed ſtones, and a row of cedar beams, both for the inner court of the houſe of the LORD, and for the porch of the houſe.

13 ¶ And king Solomon ſent and fetched Hiram out of Tyre.

14 He was a widow's ſon of the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in braſs: and he was filled with wiſdom, and underſtanding, and cunning to work all works in braſs. And he came to king Solomon, and wrought all his work.

15 ¶ For he caſt two pillars of braſs of eighteen cubits high a piece: and a line of twelve cubits did compaſs either of them about.

16 And he made two chapiters of molten braſs, to ſet upon the tops of the pillars: the height of the one chapiter was five cubits, and the height of the other chapiter was five cubits:

17 And nets of checker work, and wreaths of chain work, for the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars; ſeven for the one chapiter, and ſeven for the other chapiter.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

This chapter teaches us, that whatever happens to men, is the diſpenſation of Providence; that God ſends war, famine, peſtilence, and other ſcourges, for the chaſtiſement of mankind; that the remedy againſt theſe evils is prayer, repentance, and humiliation before God, who is always ready to hear and deliver thoſe who call upon him, confeſs their ſins, and turn from them.

Before CHRIST 1005. were upon the top, with pomegranates: and ſo did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were upon the top of the pillars were lily work in the porch, four cubits.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillers had pomegranates alſo above, over againſt the belly which was by the network: and the pomegranates were two hundred in rows round about upon the other chapiter.

21 And he ſet up the pillars in the porch of the temple: and he ſet up the right pillar, and called the name thereof Jachin: and he ſet up the left pillar, and called the name thereof Boaz.

22 And upon the top of the pillars was lily work: ſo was the work of the pillars finiſhed.

23 ¶ And he made a molten ſea, ten cubits from the one brim to the other: it was round all about, and his height was five cubits: and a line of thirty cubits did compaſs it round about.

24 And under the brim of it round about there were knops compaſſing it, ten in a cubit, compaſſing the ſea round about: the knops were caſt in two rows, when it was caſt.

25 It ſtood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the weſt, and three looking toward the ſouth, and three looking toward the eaſt: and the ſea was ſet above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 And it was an hand breadth thick, and the brim thereof was wrought like the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies: it contained two thouſand baths.

27 ¶ And he made ten baſes of braſs; four cubits was the length of one baſe, and four cubits the breadth thereof, and three cubits the height of it.

28 And the work of the baſes was on this manner: they had borders, and the borders were between the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were between the ledges were lions, oxen, and cherubims: and upon the ledges there was a baſe above: and beneath the lions and oxen were certain additions made of thin work.

30 And every baſe had four braſen wheels, and plates of braſs: and the four corners thereof had underſetters: under the laver were underſetters molten, at the ſide of every addition.

31 And the mouth of it within the chapiter and above was a cubit: but the mouth thereof was round after the work of the baſe, a cubit and an half: and alſo upon the mouth of it were gravings with their borders, fourſquare, not round.

32 And under the borders were four wheels; and the axletrees of the wheels were joined to the baſe: and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit.

33 And the work of the wheels was like the work of a chariot wheel: their axletrees, and their naves, and their felloes, and their ſpokes, were all molten.

34 And there were four underſetters to the four corners of one baſe: and the underſetters were of the very baſe itſelf.

35 And in the top of the baſe was there a round compaſs of half a cubit high: and on the top of the baſe the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the ſame.

36 For on the plates of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof, he graved cherubims, lions, and palm trees, according to the proportion of every one, and additions round about.

37 After this manner he made the ten baſes: all of them had one caſting, one meaſure, and one ſize.

38 ¶ Then made he ten lavers of braſs: one laver contained forty baths: and every laver was four cubits: and upon every one of the ten baſes one laver. Before CHRIST 1005.

39 And he put five baſes on the right ſide of the houſe, and five on the left ſide of the houſe: and he ſet the ſea on the right ſide of the houſe eaſtward over againſt the ſouth.

40 ¶ And Hiram made the lavers, and the ſhovels, and the baſons. So Hiram made an end of doing all the work that he made king Solomon for the houſe of the LORD:

41 The two pillars, and the two bowls of the chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars; and the two networks, to cover the two bowls of the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars;

42 And four hundred pomegranates for the two networks, even two rows of pomegranates for one network, to cover the two bowls of the chapiters that were upon the pillars;

43 And the ten baſes, and ten lavers on the baſes;

44 And one ſea, and twelve oxen under the ſea;

45 And the pots, and the ſhovels, and the baſons: and all theſe veſſels, which Hiram made to king Solomon for the houſe of the LORD were of bright braſs.

46 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zarthan.

47 And Solomon left all the veſſels unweighed, becauſe they were exceeding many: neither was the weight of the braſs found out.

48 ¶ And Solomon made all the veſſels that pertained unto the houſe of the LORD: the altar of gold, and the table of gold, whereupon the ſhewbread was,

49 And the candleſticks of pure gold, five on the right ſide, and five on the left, before the oracle, with the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs of gold,

50 And the bowls, and the ſnuffers, and the baſons, and the ſpoons, and the cenſers of pure gold; and the hinges of gold, both for the doors of the inner houſe, the moſt holy place, and for the doors of the houſe, to wit, of the temple.

51 So was ended all the work that king Solomon made for the houſe of the LORD. And Solomon brought in the things which David his father had dedicated; even the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, did he put among the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD.

Before CHRIST 1004.

5 And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, that were assembled unto him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, that could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

6 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto his place, into the oracle of the house, to the most holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

7 For the cherubims spread forth their two wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the staves thereof above.

8 And they drew out the staves, that the ends of the staves were seen out in the holy place before the oracle, and they were not seen without: and there they are unto this day.

9 There was nothing in the ark save the two tables of stone, which Moses put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD,

11 So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of the LORD.

12 ¶ Then spake Solomon, The LORD said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.

13 I have surely built thee an house to dwell in, a settled place for thee to abide in for ever.

14 And the king turned his face about, and blessed all the congregation of Israel: (and all the congregation of Israel stood;)

15 And he said, Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, which spake with his mouth unto David my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

16 Since the day that I brought forth my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my name might be therein; but I chose David to be over my people Israel.

17 And it was in the heart of David my father to build an house for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

18 And the LORD said unto David my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house unto my name, thou didst well that it was in thine heart.

19 Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house; but thy son that shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house unto my name.

20 And the LORD hath performed his word that he spake, and I am risen up in the room of David my father, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised, and have built an house for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

21 And I have set there a place for the ark, wherein is the covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven:

23 And he said, LORD God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepest covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart:

24 Who hast kept with thy servant David my father that thou promisedst him: thou spakest also with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

25 Therefore now, LORD God of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father that thou promisedst him, saying, There shall not fail thee a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Israel; so that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me as thou hast walked before me.

Before CHRIST 1004.

26 And now, O God of Israel, let thy word, I pray thee, be verified, which thou spakest unto thy servant David my father.

27 But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?

28 Yet have thou respect unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and to the prayer, which thy servant prayeth before thee to day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, even toward the place of which thou hast said, My name shall be there: that thou mayest hearken unto the prayer which thy servant shall make toward this place.

30 And hearken thou to the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, when they shall pray toward this place: and hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place: and when thou hearest, forgive.

31 ¶ If any man trespass against his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him to cause him to swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house:

32 Then hear thou in heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, condemning the wicked, to bring his way upon his head; and justifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteousness.

33 ¶ When thy people Israel be smitten down before the enemy, because they have sinned against thee, and shall turn again to thee, and confess thy name, and pray, and make supplication unto thee in this house:

34 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy people Israel, and bring them again unto the land which thou gavest unto their fathers.

35 ¶ When heaven is shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against thee; if they pray toward this place, and confess thy name, and turn from their sin, when thou afflictest them:

36 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Israel, that thou teach them the good way wherein they shall walk, and give rain upon thy land, which thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance.

37 ¶ If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, blasting, mildew, locust, or if there be caterpiller; if their enemy besiege them in the land of their cities; whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness there be;

38 What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, or by all thy people Israel, which shall know every man the plague of his own heart, and spread forth his hands toward this house:

39 Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and do, and give to every man according to his ways, whose heart thou knowest; (for thou, even thou only, knowest the hearts of all the children of men;)

40 That they may fear thee all the days that they live in the land which thou gavest unto our fathers.

41 ¶ Moreover concerning a stranger, that is not of thy people Israel, but cometh out of a far country for thy name's sake;

42 (For they shall hear of thy great name, and of thy strong hand, and of thy stretched out arm;) when he shall come and pray toward this house;

43 Hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and do according

15 Which spake with his mouth—and hath with his hand fulfilled it, &c.] He acknowledges the goodness of God, first, in his gracious promise, and next in his faithfulness in fulfilling it.

27 But will God indeed dwell on the earth? &c.] A very significant expression, elegantly describing the amazement and rapture of the royal prophet's mind.

33 And make supplication unto thee in this house.] He was desirous of inspiring the people with an opinion that God would be found more propitious to the prayers that were offered in the temple of Jerusalem, and thereby excite them to frequent that rather than any other place.

37 Mildew, &c.] It was reckoned a punishment sent from heaven, as it corrupted their corn.

44 ¶ If thy people go out to battle againſt their enemy, whitherſoever thou ſhalt ſend them, and ſhall pray unto the LORD toward the city which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe that I have built for thy name:

45 Then hear thou in heaven their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their cauſe.

46 If they ſin againſt thee, (for there is no man that ſinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, ſo that they carry them away captives unto the land of the enemy, far or near;

47 Yet if they ſhall bethink themſelves in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make ſupplication unto thee in the land of them that carried them captives, ſaying, We have ſinned, and have done perverſly, we have committed wickedneſs;

48 And ſo return unto thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoul, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captive, and pray unto thee toward their land, which thou gaveſt unto their fathers, the city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name:

49 Then hear thou their prayer and their ſupplication in heaven thy dwelling place, and maintain their cauſe,

50 And forgive thy people that have ſinned againſt thee, and all their tranſgreſſions wherein they have tranſgreſſed againſt thee, and give them compaſſion before them who carried them captive, that they may have compaſſion on them:

51 For they be thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughteſt forth out of Egypt, from the midſt of the furnace of iron:

52 That thine eyes may be open unto the ſupplication of the ſervant, and unto the ſupplication of thy people Iſrael, to hearken unto them in all that they call for unto thee.

53 For thou didſt ſeparate them from among all the people of the earth, to be thine inheritance, as thou ſpakeſt by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant, when thou broughteſt our fathers out of Egypt, O LORD God.

54 ¶ And it was ſo, that when Solomon had made an end of praying all this prayer and ſupplication unto the LORD, he aroſe from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees with his hands ſpread up to heaven.

55 And he ſtood, and bleſſed all the congregation of Iſrael with a loud voice, ſaying,

56 Bleſſed be the LORD, that hath given reſt unto his people Iſrael, according to all that he promiſed: there hath not failed one word of all his good promiſe, which he promiſed by the hand of Moſes his ſervant.

57 The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forſake us:

58 That he may incline our hearts unto him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and his ſtatutes, and his judgments, which he commanded our fathers.

59 And let theſe my words, wherewith I have made ſupplication before the LORD, be nigh unto the LORD our God day and night, that he maintain the cauſe of his ſervant, and the cauſe of his people Iſrael at all times, as the matter ſhall require:

60 That all the people of the earth may know that the LORD is God, and that there is none elſe. Before CHRIST 1004.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfect with the LORD our God, to walk in his ſtatutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.

62 ¶ And the king, and all Iſrael with him, offered ſacrifice before the LORD.

63 And Solomon offered a ſacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered unto the LORD, two and twenty thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep. So the king and all the children of Iſrael dedicated the houſe of the LORD.

64 The ſame day did the king hallow the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the LORD: for there he offered burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings: becauſe the braſen altar that was before the LORD was too little to receive the burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

65 ¶ And at that time Solomon held a feaſt, and all Iſrael with him, a great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath unto the river of Egypt, before the LORD our God, ſeven days and ſeven days, even fourteen days.

66 On the eighth day he ſent the people away: and they bleſſed the king, and went unto their tents joyful and glad of heart for all the goodneſs that the LORD had done for David his ſervant, and for Iſrael his people.

CHAP. IX.

1 God in a ſecond viſion maketh a covenant with Solomon: 10 Hiram diſliketh the cities given him by Solomon, but maketh him a preſent in gold. 15 Solomon buildeth divers cities. 20 The Canaanites which remained are ſubjected to a tribute of bondſervice; but the Iſraelites are reſerved for more honourable offices. 24 Pharaoh's daughter removeth to her houſe. 25 Solomon's yearly ſolemn ſacrifices. 26 His navy, which fetcheth gold from Ophir.

AND it came to paſs, when Solomon had finiſhed 992. the building of the houſe of the LORD, and the king's houſe, and all Solomon's deſire which he was pleaſed to do,

2 That the LORD appeared to Solomon the ſecond time, as he had appeared unto him at Gibeon.

3 And the LORD ſaid unto him, I have heard thy prayer and thy ſupplication, that thou haſt made before me: I have hallowed this houſe, which thou haſt built, to put my name there for ever; and mine eyes and mine heart ſhall be there perpetually.

4 And if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, in integrity of heart, and in uprightneſs, to do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ſtatutes and my judgments:

5 Then I will eſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdom upon Iſrael for ever, as I promiſed to David thy father, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man upon the throne of Iſrael.

6 But if ye ſhall at all turn from following me, ye or your children, and will not keep my commandments and my ſtatutes which I have ſet before you, but go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them:

7 Then will I cut off Iſrael out of the land which I have given them; and this houſe, which I have hallowed for my name, will I caſt out of my ſight; and Iſrael ſhall be a proverb and a byword among all people:

43 That all people of the earth may know thy name, &c.] Thus truly good men deſired that the Gentile world might alſo be ſaved in Chriſt, though the Jews were averſe to it.

63 Two and twenty thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep, &c.] Theſe were not offered all on one day, much leſs on one altar. The continuance of this meeting was for fourteen days, ſeven in the feaſt of the tabernacles, and ſeven in that of the dedication.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

We ought to learn of Solomon to praiſe the Lord for all his mercies, and, above all, for his ſpiritual graces; and fervently to beſeech him, that he would be always with us, and incline our hearts towards him, that we might keep his commandments.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. IX.

Before CHRIST 992. paſſeth by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhall hiſs; and they ſhall ſay, Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and to this houſe?

9 And they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the LORD their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worſhipped them, and ſerved them: therefore hath the LORD brought upon them all this evil.

10 And it came to paſs at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houſes, the houſe of the LORD, and the king's houſe,

11 (Now Hiram the king of Tyre had furniſhed Solomon with cedar trees and fir trees, and with gold, according to all his deſire,) that then king Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to ſee the cities which Solomon had given him; and they pleaſed him not.

13 And he ſaid, What cities are theſe which thou haſt given me, my brother? And he called them the land of Cabul unto this day.

14 And Hiram ſent to the king ſixſcore talents of gold.

15 ¶ And this is the reaſon of the levy which king Solomon raiſed; for to build the houſe of the LORD, and his own houſe, and Millo, and the wall of Jeruſalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

16 For Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up, and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and ſlain the Canaanites that dwelt in the city, and given it for a preſent unto his daughter, Solomon's wife.

17 And Solomon built Gezer and Bethoron the nether.

18 And Baalath, and Tadmor in the wilderneſs, in the land,

19 And all the cities of ſtore that Solomon had, and cities for his chariots, and cities for his horſemen, and that which Solomon deſired to build in Jeruſalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.

20 ¶ And all the people that were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebuſites, which were not of the children of Iſrael, 21 Their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of Iſrael alſo were not able utterly to deſtroy, upon thoſe did Solomon levy a tribute of bondſervice unto this day.

22 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon make no bondmen: but they were men of war, and his ſervants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots, and his horſemen.

23 Theſe were the chief of the officers that were over Solomon's work, five hundred and fifty, which bare rule over the people that wrought in the work.

24 ¶ But Pharaoh's daughter came up out of the city of David unto her houſe which Solomon had built for her: then did he build Millo.

25 ¶ And three times a year did Solomon offer burnt offerings and peace offerings upon the altar which he built unto the LORD, and he burnt incenſe upon the altar that was before the LORD. So he finiſhed the houſe.

26 ¶ And king Solomon made a navy of ſhips in Ezion-geber, which is beſide Eloth, on the ſhore of the Red ſea, in the land of Edom. Before CHRIST 992.

27 And Hiram ſent in the navy his ſervants, ſhipmen that had knowledge of the ſea, with the ſervants of Solomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and fetched from thence gold, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Solomon.

CHAP. X.

1 The queen of Sheba cometh to ſee Solomon. 5 Her admiration of his wiſdom and magnificence. 10 Her preſents to him. 14 Solomon's yearly revenue in gold. 16 His golden targets and ſhields. 18 His throne of ivory. 21 His rich veſſels. 24 Strangers bring him preſents out of reſpect to his wiſdom. 26 His chariots and horſemen. 27 The plenty of ſilver and cedars in his time. 28 Horſes, chariots, and linen yarn, brought out of Egypt.

AND when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon concerning the name of the LORD, ſhe came to prove him with hard queſtions.

2 And ſhe came to Jeruſalem with a very great train, with camels that bare ſpices, and very much gold, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Solomon told her all her queſtions: there was not any thing hid from the king, which he told her not.

4 ¶ And when the queen of Sheba had ſeen all Solomon's wiſdom, and the houſe that he had built,

5 And the meat of his table, and the ſitting of his ſervants, and the attendance of his miniſters, and their apparel, and his cupbearers, and his aſcent by which he went up unto the houſe of the LORD; there was no more ſpirit in her.

6 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true report that I heard in mine own land of thy acts and of thy wiſdom.

7 Howbeit I believed not the words, until I came, and mine eyes had ſeen it: and, behold, the half was not told me: thy wiſdom and proſperity exceedeth the fame which I heard.

8 Happy are thy men, happy are theſe thy ſervants, which ſtand continually before thee, and that hear thy wiſdom.

9 Bleſſed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee, to ſet thee on the throne of Iſrael: becauſe the LORD loved Iſrael for ever, therefore made he thee king, to do judgment and juſtice.

10 ¶ And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of ſpices very great ſtore, and precious ſtones: there came no more ſuch abundance of ſpices as theſe which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.

11 And the navy alſo of Hiram, that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plenty of almug-trees, and precious ſtones.

12 And the king made of the almug trees pillars for the houſe of the LORD, and for the king's houſe, harps alſo and pſalteries for ſingers; there came no ſuch almug-trees, nor were ſeen unto this day.

13 And king Solomon gave unto the queen of Sheba all her deſire, whatſoever ſhe aſked, beſide that which Solomon

12 They pleaſed him not.] Were not ſuited to his deſire, and the genius of his people, who were merchants.

14 Beth-boron the nether.] The lower Beth-horon, in the tribe of Benjamin.

18 And Tadmor in the wilderneſs.] Tadmor, by the Greeks called Palmyra, is ſituated in the wilderneſs of Syria, upon the borders of Arabia Deſerta, inclining towards the Euphrates.

In the land.] Of Hamath Zoba, a part of Syria, which country Solomon had conquered.

21 Upon thoſe did Solomon levy a tribute of bond ſervice, &c.] They ſeem now to have been ſo poor, that Solomon did not lay a tribute of money upon them, but only of labour.

25 Three times a year did Solomon offer, &c.] Not that he offered ſacrifices no oftener, but that he never failed to keep the three ſolemn feſtivals.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

As God appeared a ſecond time to Solomon, he manifeſted himſelf to be a faithful and gracious Being, willing to bleſs this prince and his faimly, had they not baſely apoſtatized from him, as will appear in the ſequel.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1 The queen of Sheba, &c.] The beſt commentators agree that ſhe came from Aljemin, the ſouth part of Arabia Felix, near the Red ſea.

5 There was no more ſpirit in her.] She was ſtruck with aſtoniſhment.

11 Almug-trees.] By theſe ſome underſtand the cypreſs. This wood was of the cloſeſt grain, and fit for making harps and pſalteries.

1 KINGS, Chap. XI. Ver. 4 . 8 .

When Solomon was old, he built places for his Strange Wives, which burnt incense & sacrificed unto their Gods.

Digitized by Google

Before CHRIST 992. Solomon gave her of his royal bounty. So ſhe turned and went to her own country, ſhe and her ſervants.

14 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was ſix hundred threeſcore and ſix talents of gold,

15 Beſide that he had of the merchant-men, and of the traffick of the ſpice merchants, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the governors of the country.

16 ¶ And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: ſix hundred ſhekels of gold went to one target.

17 And he made three hundred ſhields of beaten gold; three pound of gold went to one ſhield: and the king put them in the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon.

18 ¶ Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the beſt gold.

19 The throne had ſix ſteps, and the top of the throne was round behind: and there were ſtays on either ſide on the place of the ſeat, and two lions ſtood beſide the ſtays.

20 And twelve lions ſtood there on the one ſide and on the other upon the ſix ſteps: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

21 ¶ And all king Solomon's drinking veſſels were of gold, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon were of pure gold; none were of ſilver: it was nothing accounted of in the days of Solomon.

22 For the king had at ſea a navy of Tharſhiſh with the navy of Hiram: once in three years came the navy of Tharſhiſh, bringing gold, and ſilver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

23 So king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth for riches and for wiſdom.

24 ¶ And all the earth ſought to Solomon, to hear his wiſdom, which God had put in his heart.

25 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and garments, and armour, and ſpices, horſes, and mules, a rate year by year.

26 ¶ And Solomon gathered together chariots and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, whom he beſtowed in the cities for chariots, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

27 ¶ And the king made ſilver to be in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedars made he to be as the ſycamore trees that are in the vale, for abundance.

28 ¶ And Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

29 And a chariot came up and went out of Egypt for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, did they bring them out by their means.

CHAP. XI.

1 Solomon's multitude of wives and concubines, who in his old age ſeduce him to idolatry. 9 God threateneth to rend the greater part of the kingdom from his family. 14 Solomon findeth an adverſary in Hadad the Edomite, who had been entertained in Egypt; 23 and in Rezon, who reigned in Damaſcus; 26 and in Jeroboam, to whom Ahijah had propheſied the kingdom ſhould be tranſlated. 41 Solomon's acts, reign, and death: Rehoboam ſucceedeth him.

Before CHRIST 992. BUT king Solomon loved many ſtrange women, together with the daughter of Pharaoh, women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians, and Hittites;

2 Of the nations concerning which the LORD ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, Ye ſhall not go in to them, neither ſhall they come in unto you: for ſurely they will turn away your heart after their gods: Solomon clave unto theſe in love.

3 And he had ſeven hundred wives, princeſſes, and three hundred concubines: and his wives turned away his heart.

4 For it came to paſs, when Solomon was old, that 984. his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father.

5 For Solomon went after Aſhtoreth the goddeſs of the Zidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 And Solomon did evil in the ſight of the LORD, and went not fully after the LORD, as did David his father.

7 Then did Solomon build an high place for Chemoſh, the abomination of Moab, in the hill that is before Jeruſalem, and for Molech, the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And likewiſe did he for all his ſtrange wives, which burnt incenſe and ſacrificed unto their gods.

9 ¶ And the LORD was angry with Solomon, becauſe his heart was turned from the LORD God of Iſrael, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he ſhould not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 Wherefore the LORD ſaid unto Solomon, Foraſmuch as this is done of thee, and thou haſt not kept my covenant and my ſtatutes, which I have commanded thee, I will ſurely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy ſervant.

12 Notwithſtanding in thy days I will not do it for David thy father's ſake: but I will rend it out of the hand of thy ſon.

13 Howbeit I will not rend away all the kingdom; but will give one tribe to thy ſon for David my ſervant's ſake, and for Jeruſalem's ſake which I have choſen.

14 ¶ And the LORD ſtirred up an adverſary unto Solomon, Hadad the Edomite: he was of the king's ſeed in Edom.

15 For it came to paſs, when David was in Edom, and Joab the captain of the hoſt was gone up to bury the ſlain, after he had ſmitten every male in Edom;

16 (For ſix months did Joab remain there with all Iſrael, until he had cut off every male in Edom:)

17 That Hadad fled, he and certain Edomites of his father's ſervants with him, to go into Egypt; Hadad being yet a little child.

18 And they aroſe out of Midian, and came to Paran: and they took men with them out of Paran, and they

16 Six hundred ſhekels of gold went to one target.] Each of them coſt that ſum.

29 And a chariot, &c.] A toll or cuſtom was anciently paid to the kings of Egypt for all horſes and chariots brought out of that kingdom, namely, ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver for a chariot, and one hundred and fifty for an horſe.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

We may hence remark, that men are eaſily corrupted with riches, as Solomon himſelf was at laſt; that luxury and pomp are as dangerous as riches; and therefore we ought to ſet bounds to our deſires, and depend upon Providence for the reſt: we ſhould uſe the world, and enjoy God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1 King Solomon loved—ſtrange women, &c.] Hitherto we have ſeen nothing in Solomon but what was truly great and wonderful; but the latter actions of his life ſadly tarniſh and diſgrace his character.

3 Seven hundred wives, princeſſes, and three hundred concubines, &c.] It is probable he kept ſo many wives merely for ſtate and pomp, after the manner of the eaſtern princes, as is the preſent cuſtom in China, where the emperor hath a great multitude of wives, choſen out of the prime beauties of the country, many of whom he never ſaw.

4 When Solomon was old, &c.] Indulging himſelf too much in pleaſure, had leſſened his powers both of body and mind, his vices had broken his conſtitution, and weakened his faculties; and then theſe women, the nurſes of his ſecond childhood, induſtriouſly taught him to fall by idolatry; though it is thought he did not wholly forſake the Lord, but only joined other gods with him, which is implied in the expreſſions, ver. 4. "his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God," and ver. 6. "he went not fully after the Lord."

16 With all Iſrael, &c.] i. e. With all his army.

Before CHRIST 984. they came to Egypt, unto Pharaoh king of Egypt; which gave him an houſe, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.

19 And Hadad found great favour in the ſight of Pharaoh, ſo that he gave him to wife the ſiſter of his own wife, the ſiſter of Tahphenes the queen.

20 And the ſiſter of Tahphenes bare him Genubath his ſon, whom Tahphenes weaned in Pharaoh's houſe: and Genubath was in Pharaoh's houſhold among the ſons of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David ſlept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the hoſt was dead, Hadad ſaid to Pharaoh, Let me depart, that I may go to mine own country.

22 Then Pharaoh ſaid unto him, But what haſt thou lacked with me, that, behold, thou ſeekeſt to go to thine own country? And he anſwered, Nothing: howbeit let me go in any wiſe.

23 ¶ And God ſtirred him up another adverſary, Rezon the ſon of Eliadah, which fled from his lord Hadadezer king of Zobah:

24 And he gathered men unto him, and became captain over a band, when David ſlew them of Zobah: and they went to Damaſcus, and dwelt therein, and reigned in Damaſcus.

25 And he was an adverſary to Iſrael all the days of Solomon, beſide the miſchief that Hadad did: and he abhorred Iſrael, and reigned over Syria.

26 ¶ And Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zereda, Solomon's ſervant, whoſe mother's name was Zeruah, a widow woman, even he lifted up his hand againſt the king.

27 And this was the cauſe that he lifted up his hand againſt the king: Solomon built Millo, and repaired the breaches of the city of David his father.

28 And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valour: and Solomon ſeeing the young man that he was induſtrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the houſe of Joſeph.

980. 29 And it came to paſs at that time when Jeroboam went out of Jeruſalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way; and he had clad himſelf with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field:

30 And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelve pieces:

31 And he ſaid to Jeroboam, Take ten pieces: for thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee:

32 (But he ſhall have one tribe for my ſervant David's ſake, and for Jeruſalem's ſake, the city which I have choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael:)

33 Becauſe that they have forſaken me, and have worſhipped Aſhtoreth the goddeſs of the Zidonians, Chemoſh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and have not walked in my ways, to do that which is right in mine eyes, and to keep my ſtatutes and my judgments, as did David his father.

34 Howbeit I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand: but I will make him prince all the days of his life for David my ſervant's ſake, whom I choſe, becauſe he kept my commandments and my ſtatutes:

35 But I will take the kingdom out of his ſon's hand, and will give it unto thee, even ten tribes.

36 And unto his ſon will I give one tribe, that David my ſervant may have a light alway before me in Jeruſalem, the city which I have choſen me to put my name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou ſhalt reign according to all that thy ſoul deſireth, and ſhalt be king over Iſrael. Before CHRIST 980.

38 And it ſhall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that is right in my ſight, to keep my ſtatutes and my commandments, as David my ſervant did; that I will be with thee, and build thee a ſure houſe, as I built for David, and will give Iſrael unto thee.

39 And I will for this afflict the ſeed of David, but not for ever.

40 Solomon ſought therefore to kill Jeroboam. And Jeroboam aroſe, and fled into Egypt, unto Shiſhak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

41 ¶ And the reſt of the acts of Solomon, and all that he did, and his wiſdom, are they not written in the book of the acts of Solomon?

42 And the time that Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael was forty years.

43 And Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and was 975. buried in the city of David his father: and Rehoboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Iſraelites, aſſembled at Shechem to make Rehoboam king, ſue to him with Jeroboam at their head for redreſs of grievances. 6 Rehoboam ſlighteth the good advice of his father's old counſellors, and conſulteth with the young men, who adviſe to anſwer the people roughly. 12 He followeth their indiſcreet counſel. 16 The ten tribes revolting kill Adoram, and make Rehoboam flee. 20 Jeroboam is made king over Iſrael. 21 Rehoboam raiſeth an army to reduce the revolters, but is forbidden to proceed by the prophet Shemaiah. 25 Jeroboam buildeth Shechem and Penuel. 26 He ſetteth up the idolatrous worſhip of the golden calves in Beth-el and Dan.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem: for all Iſrael were come to Shechem to make him king.

2 And it came to paſs, when Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who was yet in Egypt, heard of it (for he was fled from the preſence of king Solomon, and Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt;)

3 That they ſent and called him. And Jeroboam and all the congregation of Iſrael came, and ſpake unto Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous ſervice of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will ſerve thee.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Depart yet for three days, then come again to me. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam conſulted with the old men, that ſtood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, and ſaid, How do ye adviſe that I may anſwer this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou wilt be a ſervant unto this people this day, and wilt ſerve them, and anſwer them, and ſpeak good words to them, then they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel of the old men, which they had given him, and conſulted the young men that were grown up with him, and which ſtood before him:

9 And he ſaid unto them, What counſel give ye that we may anſwer this people, who have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke which thy father did put upon us lighter?

39 But not for ever.] "For in the days of the Meſſiah the kingdom ſhall be reſtored to the houſe of David." This muſt be underſtood of Chriſt's ſpiritual kingdom.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

The fall of Solomon ſeems to be an inſtance the moſt lamentable that ever happened, except that of the fallen angels, and ſhould be an admonition to all, that puniſhments follow cloſe after the ſins we commit againſt God, who puniſhes kings, and diſpoſes of kingdoms, and to whom he pleaſes; and that there is no profit in any kind of wickedneſs; but that to fear God, and keep his commandments (as Solomon's experience at length taught him) is the whole duty and happineſs of man.

Before CHRIST 975.

10 And the young men that were grown up with him ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou ſpeak unto this people, that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter unto us; thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 And now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my father hath chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 ¶ So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, ſaying, Come to me again the third day.

13 And the king anſwered the people roughly, and forſook the old men's counſel that they gave him;

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father alſo chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 Wherefore the king hearkened not unto the people; for the cauſe was from the LORD, that he might perform his ſaying, which the LORD ſpake by Ahijah the Shilonite unto Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat.

16 ¶ So when all Iſrael ſaw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: to your tents, O Iſrael: now ſee to thine own houſe, David. So Iſrael departed unto their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael which dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Adoram, who was over the tribute; and all Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died. Therefore king Rehoboam made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 So Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

20 ¶ And it came to paſs, when all Iſrael heard that Jeroboam was come again, that they ſent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Iſrael: there was none that followed the houſe of David, but the tribe of Judah only.

21 ¶ And when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he aſſembled all the houſe of Judah, with the tribe of Benjamin, an hundred and fourſcore thouſand choſen men, which were warriors, to fight againſt the houſe of Iſrael, to bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon.

22 But the word of God came unto Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

23 Speak unto Rehoboam, the ſon of Solomon, king of Judah, and unto all the houſe of Judah and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, ſaying,

24 Thus ſaith the LORD, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren the children of Iſrael: return every man to his houſe; for this thing is from me. They hearkened therefore to the word of the LORD, and returned to depart, according to the word of the LORD.

25 Then Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein; and went out from thence, and built Penuel. Before CHRIST 975.

26 ¶ And Jeroboam ſaid in his heart, Now ſhall the kingdom return to the houſe of David:

27 If this people go up to do ſacrifice in the houſe of the LORD at Jeruſalem, then ſhall the heart of this people turn again unto their lord, even unto Rehoboam king of Judah, and they ſhall kill me, and go again to Rehoboam king of Judah.

28 Whereupon the king took counſel, and made two calves of gold, and ſaid unto them, It is too much for you to go up to Jeruſalem: behold thy gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he ſet the one in Beth-el, and the other put he in Dan.

30 And this thing became a ſin: for the people went to worſhip before the one, even unto Dan.

31 And he made an houſe of high places, and made prieſts of the loweſt of the people, which were not of the ſons of Levi.

32 And Jeroboam ordained a feaſt in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like unto the feaſt that is in Judah, and he offered upon the altar. So did he in Beth-el, ſacrificing unto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Beth-el the prieſts of the high places which he had made.

33 So he offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had deviſed of his own heart; and ordained a feaſt unto the children of Iſrael; and he offered upon the altar, and burnt incenſe.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A man of God out of Judah propheſieth againſt the altar in Beth-el. 4 Jeroboam's hand, which he put forth againſt him, withereth, but at the prayer of the prophet is reſtored. 7 The prophet refuſeth the king's offered entertainment, and departeth from Beth-el. 11 He is ſeduced and brought back by an old prophet, 20 who denounceth God's judgment againſt him for his diſobedience to the divine command. 23 A lion killeth him on his way home. 26 The old prophet bringeth his carcaſe back, burieth it, and confirmeth his prophecy. 33 Jeroboam ſtill perſiſteth in his evil courſes.

AND, behold, there came a man of God out of Judah by the word of the LORD unto Beth-el: and Jeroboam ſtood by the altar to burn incenſe.

2 And he cried againſt the altar in the word of the LORD, and ſaid, O altar, altar, thus ſaith the LORD; Behold, a child ſhall be born unto the houſe of David, Joſiah by name; and upon thee ſhall he offer the prieſts of the high places that burn incenſe upon thee, and men's bones ſhall be burnt upon thee.

3 And he gave a ſign the ſame day, ſaying, This is the ſign which the LORD hath ſpoken; Behold, the altar ſhall be rent, and the aſhes that are upon it ſhall be poured out.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs, when king Jeroboam heard the ſaying

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

10 And the young men that were grown up with him ſpake unto him, &c.] They were raw and unexperienced, and unacquainted with the humours of the people, and therefore gave the king ſuch unſeaſonable advice.

19 So Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.] Thus was this great and goodly kingdom, almoſt in its infancy, ſplit into two parts, and for ever afterwards went under different denominations, the kingdom of Judah, and the kingdom of Iſrael, though the latter included the whole before.

22 The word of God came unto Shemaiah, &c.] He was ſuppoſed to have written the annals of this prince; and had ſo much influence as to prevail with the king and one hundred and eighty thouſand men to lay down their arms, and return home.

28 And made two calves of gold, &c.] The iniquity of the times certainly favoured Jeroboam not a little, in making this alteration in religion, and eſtabliſhing idolatry by a law: he thought it the wiſeſt method to do this by the Egyptian model, thereby to endear himſelf to that nation, and, in caſe he met with oppoſition from his rival Rehoboam, apply for aſſiſtance from that quarter.

31 And made prieſts of the loweſt of the people, &c.] Not the refuſe of the people only, but any, though they were not of the tribe of Levi.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

In this conduct of Jeroboam we ſee, that notwithſtanding the favour of God towards him, that ungrateful prince, out of falſe policy, ſet up idolatry in his kingdom, which at length proved its ruin. Thus, when men, inſtead of obeying and truſting God, have recourſe to wicked means, they involve themſelves and others in the greateſt misfortunes.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XIII.

1 A man of God] That is, a prophet.

Jeroboam ſtood by the altar to burn incenſe.] Upon that feaſt day which he had inſtituted, namely, the fifteenth day of the eighth month, in oppoſition to the eſtabliſhed religion.

2 Behold, a child ſhall be born unto the houſe of David, Joſiah by name, &c.] This is one of the moſt remarkable prophecies in ſacred writ: it foretells an action that exactly came to paſs above three hundred and forty years afterwards.

6 The

Before CHRIST 975. saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Beth-el, that he put forth his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him. And his hand, which he put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not pull it in again to him.

5 The altar was also rent, and the ashes poured uto from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the LORD, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before.

7 ¶ And the king said unto the man of God, Come home with me, and refresh thyself, and I will give thee a reward.

8 And the man of God said unto the king, If thou wilt give me half thine house, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread nor drink water in this place:

9 For so was it charged me by the word of the LORD, saying, Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ Now there dwelt an old prophet in Beth-el; and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el: the words which he had spoken unto the king, them they told also to their father.

12 And their father said unto them, What way went he? For his sons had seen what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he said unto his sons, Saddle me the ass. So they saddled him the ass: and he rode thereon,

14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak: and he said unto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Judah? And he said, I am.

15 Then he said unto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 And he said, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread nor drink water with thee in this place:

17 For it was said to me by the word of the LORD, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou camest.

18 He said unto him, I am a prophet also as thou art; and an angel spake unto me by the word of the LORD, saying, Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water. But he lied unto him.

19 So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his house, and drank water.

20 ¶ And it came to pass, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came unto the prophet that brought him back:

21 And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Forasmuch as thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the LORD, and hast not kept the commandment which the LORD thy God commanded thee,

22 But camest back, and hast eaten bread and drunk water in the place, of the which the LORD did say to thee, Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcase shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers. Before CHRIST 975.

23 ¶ And it came to pass, after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he saddled for him the ass, to wit, for the prophet whom he had brought back.

24 And when he was gone, a lion met him by the way, and slew him: and his carcase was cast in the way, and the ass stood by it, the lion also stood by the carcase.

25 And, behold, men passed by, and saw the carcase cast in the way, and the lion standing by the carcase: and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26 ¶ And when the prophet that brought him back from the way heard thereof, he said, It is the man of God, who was disobedient unto the word of the LORD: therefore the LORD hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath torn him, and slain him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake unto him.

27 And he spake to his sons, saying, Saddle me the ass. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and found his carcase cast in the way, and the ass and the lion standing by the carcase: the lion had not eaten the carcase, nor torn the ass.

29 And the prophet took up the carcase of the man of God, and laid it upon the ass, and brought it back: and the old prophet came to the city to mourn and to bury him.

30 And he laid his carcase in his own grave; and they mourned over him, saying, Alas, my brother!

31 And it came to pass after he had buried him, that he spake to his sons, saying, When I am dead, then bury me in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried; lay my bones beside his bones:

32 For the saying which he cried by the word of the LORD against the altar in Beth-el, and against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, shall surely come to pass.

33 ¶ After this thing Jeroboam returned not from his evil way, but made again of the lowest of the people priests of the high places: whosoever would, he consecrated him, and he became one of the priests of the high places. 974.

34 And this thing became sin unto the house of Jeroboam, even to cut it off, and to destroy it from off the face of the earth.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Abijah, Jeroboam's son, being sick, Jeroboam sendeth his wife in disguise with presents to enquire of Abijah the prophet. 5 Abijah, forewarned by God of her coming, denounceth God's judgments against Jeroboam's house. 17 Abijah dieth, and is buried. 19 Jeroboam dieth and is succeeded by Nadab. 21 Rehoboam's wicked reign. 25 Shishak king of Egypt carrieth away much treasure from Jerusalem. 29 Rehoboam dieth, and is succeeded by Abijam.

AT that time Abijah the son of Jeroboam fell sick. 956.

2 And Jeroboam said to his wife, Arise, I pray thee, and disguise thyself, that thou be not known to be the wife

6 The king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord, &c.] A most surprising change! He who had been just now threatening the man of God, now desires him to pray to that Being for assistance, whose worship he had destroyed, and was also at that very instant offering incense to idols.

21 Forasmuch as thou hast disobeyed, &c.] The offence of the prophet from Judah cannot be deemed trivial, when it is considered, that as he had power given him to work miracles, he could not but be sensible of his divine mission, and that the particular injunction of his not eating and drinking in the town of Beth-el, was as much the will of God, as any other part of his commission.

28 The ass and the lion standing by the carcase: the lion had not eaten the carcase, nor torn the ass.] As God shewed his severity in taking away this prophet's life, which alone was his punishment, so at the same time he remarkably shewed his approbation of the prophet, by thus restraining that ravenous creature.

22 Against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, &c.] The author or compiler of these books of Kings (whether Ezra or Jeremiah) lived long after the time of Jeroboam, and wrote of things and places as they were in his own days.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

The awful event in this chapter shews us, that we ought in no instance to act contrary to the commandments of the Lord; for "it is an evil and a bitter thing to depart from the living God."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIV.

2 Jeroboam said to his wife, Arise, I pray thee, and disguise thyself, &c.] Strange infatuation! that he should not think the person, who he knew had been capable of foretelling he should be king, and who he was persuaded had power given to him to declare the fate of his son, was able to see through this imposition and disguise!

Before CHRIST 956. wife of Jeroboam; and get thee to Shiloh; behold, there is Ahijah the prophet, which told me that I should be king over this people.

3 And take with thee ten loaves, and cracknels, and a cruse of honey, and go to him: he shall tell thee what shall become of the child.

4 And Jeroboam's wife did so, and arose, and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah. But Ahijah could not see; for his eyes were set by reason of his age.

5 ¶ And the LORD said unto Ahijah, Behold, the wife of Jeroboam cometh to ask a thing of thee for her son; for he is sick: thus and thus shalt thou say unto her: for it shall be, when she cometh in, that she shall feign herself to be another woman.

6 And it was so, when Ahijah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, that he said, Come in, thou wife of Jeroboam; why feignest thou thyself to be another? for I am sent to thee with heavy tidings.

7 Go, tell Jeroboam, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from among the people, and made thee prince over my people Israel,

8 And rent the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it thee: and yet thou hast not been as my servant David, who kept my commandments, and who followed me with all his heart, to do that only which was right in mine eyes;

9 But hast done evil above all that were before thee: for thou hast gone and made thee other gods, and molten images, to provoke me to anger, and hast cast me behind thy back:

10 Therefore, behold, I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off from Jeroboam him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Israel, and will take away the remnant of the house of Jeroboam, as a man taketh away dung, till it be all gone.

11 Him that dieth of Jeroboam in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the air eat: for the LORD hath spoken it.

12 Arise thou therefore, get thee to thine own house: and when thy feet enter into the city, the child shall die.

13 And all Israel shall mourn for him, and bury him: for he only of Jeroboam shall come to the grave, because in him there is found some good thing toward the LORD God of Israel in the house of Jeroboam.

14 Moreover the Lord shall raise him up a king over Israel, who shall cut off the house of Jeroboam that day: but what? even now.

15 For the LORD shall smite Israel, as a reed is shaken in the water, and he shall root up Israel out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the river, because they have made their groves, provoking the LORD to anger.

16 And he shall give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, who did sin, and who made Israel to sin.

17 ¶ And Jeroboam's wife arose, and departed, and came to Tirzah: and when she came to the threshold of the door, the child died;

18 And they buried him; and all Israel mourned for him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake by the hand of his servant Ahijah the prophet.

19 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, how he warred, and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

20 And the days which Jeroboam reigned were two and twenty years: and he slept with his fathers, and Nadab his son reigned in his stead. Before CHRIST 956.

21 ¶ And Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD did choose out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naamah an Ammonitess. 954. 975.

22 And Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD, and they provoked him to jealousy with their sins which they had committed, above all that their fathers had done. 971.

23 For they also built them high places, and images, and groves, on every high hill, and under every green tree.

24 And there were also sodomites in the land: and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the LORD cast out before the children of Israel.

25 ¶ And it came to pass in the fifth year of king Rehoboam, that Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem:

26 And he took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house; he even took away all: and he took away all the shields of gold which Solomon had made. 971.

27 And king Rehoboam made in their stead brazen shields, and committed them unto the hands of the chief of the guard, which kept the door of the king's house.

28 And it was so, when the king went into the house of the LORD, that the guard bare them, and brought them back into the guard chamber.

29 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

30 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all their days. 958.

31 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. And his mother's name was Naamah an Ammonitess. And Abijam his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XV.

1 Abijam's wicked reign. 7 He dieth: Asa succeedeth him. 9 Asa's good reign. 16 On account of the war between him and Baasha he maketh a league with Ben-hadad king of Syria, who causeth Baasha to desist from building Ramah; Asa with the stones thereof buildeth Geba and Mizpah. 23 Asa dieth, and is succeeded by Jehoshaphat. 25 Nadab's wicked reign. 27 He is slain by Baasha, who succeedeth him, and executeth Ahijah's prophecy against Jeroboam's house. 33 Baasha's wicked reign.

NOW in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam the son of Nebat reigned Abijam over Judah.

2 Three years reigned he in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maachah, the daughter of Abishalom.

3 And he walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as the heart of David his father.

4 Nevertheless for David's sake did the LORD his God give him a lamp in Jerusalem, to set up his son after him, and to establish Jerusalem:

5 Because

---

8 Who followed me with all his heart, &c.] Though David committed some great sins, he did not in his heart depart from God, but was steady in his religion, and never turned aside in the least unto other gods.

15 And shall scatter them beyond the river, &c.] The Euphrates; for they were carried into the country of the Medes.

19 In the book of the chronicles, &c.] In such a book as that wherein the acts of Solomon were recorded day by day. See chap. xi. 41.

26 He—took away all, &c.] How soon was the splendor in which Solomon left Jerusalem extinguished! Rehoboam served God three years, was corrupted in the fourth, and in the fifth was punished.

30 There was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam, &c.] There were frequent acts of hostility committed on the borders, though they never engaged in a pitched battle.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

This chapter plainly indicates, that the glory of man is of a very short duration; and that, without repentance, the curse of God will attend the ungodly, and those whom they have corrupted.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XV.

1 In the eighteenth year, &c.] Abijah began to reign in some part of Jeroboam's eighteenth year, and continued his reign the whole nineteenth, and died in the twentieth; thus (taking a part of the year for the whole) he was reckoned to have reigned three years.

Before CHRIST 958. 5 Because David did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, and turned not aside from any thing that he commanded him all the days of his life, save only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.

6 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the days of his life.

7 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Abijam, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And there was war between Abijam and Jeroboam.

955. 8 And Abijam slept with his fathers; and they buried him in the city of David: and Asa his son reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ And in the twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel reigned Asa over Judah.

10 And forty and one years reigned he in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maachah, the daughter of Abishalom.

11 And Asa did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did David his father.

951. 12 And he took away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

13 And also Maachah his mother, even her he removed from being queen, because she had made an idol in a grove; and Asa destroyed her idol, and burnt it by the brook Kidron.

14 But the high places were not removed: nevertheless Asa's heart was perfect with the LORD all his days.

15 And he brought in the things which his father had dedicated, and the things which himself had dedicated, into the house of the LORD, silver, and gold, and vessels.

16 ¶ And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

17 And Baasha king of Israel went up against Judah, and built Ramah, that he might not suffer any to go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.

18 Then Asa took all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house, and delivered them into the hand of his servants: and king Asa sent them to Ben-hadad, the son of Tabrimon, the son of Hezion, king of Syria, that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a league between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent unto thee a present of silver and gold; come and break thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

20 So Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Asa, and sent the captains of the hosts which he had against the cities of Israel, and smote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-beth-maachah, and all Cinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And it came to pass, when Baasha heard thereof, that he left off building of Ramah, and dwelt in Tirzah.

22 Then king Asa made a proclamation throughout all Judah; none was exempted: and they took away the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha had builded; and king Asa built with them Geba of Benjamin, and Mizpah.

23 ¶ The rest of all the acts of Asa, and all his might, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? Nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.

24 And Asa slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead. Before CHRIST

25 ¶ And Nadab the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned over Israel two years. 951. 954.

26 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin wherewith he made Israel to sin.

27 ¶ And Baasha the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him; and Baasha smote him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines; for Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon.

28 Even in the third year of Asa king of Judah did Baasha slay him, and reigned in his stead.

29 And it came to pass, when he reigned that he smote all the house of Jeroboam; he left not to Jeroboam any that breathed, until he had destroyed him, according unto the saying of the LORD, which he spake by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite:

30 Because of the sins of Jeroboam which he sinned, and which he made Israel sin, by his provocation wherewith he provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger.

31 Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

32 ¶ And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

33 In the third year of Asa king of Judah began Baasha the son of Ahijah to reign over all Israel in Tirzah, twenty and four years. 953.

34 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin wherewith he made Israel to sin.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Jehu's prophecy against the house of Baasha. 5 Baasha dieth, and is succeeded by Elah. 8 Zimri slayeth Elah, and succeedeth him. 11 He executeth Jehu's prophecy against Baasha's house. 15 Omri, made king by the army, besiegeth Zimri in Tirzah, who in despair burneth himself. 21 The people being divided, Omri's faction prevaileth against Tibni's. 23 Omri buildeth Samaria. 25 After a wicked reign, 27 he dieth and is succeeded by Ahab. 29 Ahab's excessive wickedness and idolatry. 34 Joshua's curse fulfilled upon Hiel the builder of Jericho.

THEN the word of the LORD came to Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha, saying,

2 Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and 930.
made thee prince over my people Israel; and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins;

3 Behold, I will take away the posterity of Baasha, and the posterity of his house; and will make thy house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

4 Him that dieth of Baasha in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth of his in the fields shall the fowls of the air eat.

5 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Baasha, and what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

6 So Baasha slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tirzah: and Elah his son reigned in his stead.

7 And also by the hand of the prophet Jehu the son of Hanani came the word of the LORD against Baasha, and 29 Until he had destroyed him, according unto the saying of the Lord, &c.] It was not in the intention of Baasha to fulfil the prophecy of Ahijah, but only to secure himself in his usurped throne, by cutting off all that had any title to it: God, however, by this means, fulfilled his own purpose, and that as speedily as the prophet had foretold, chap. xiv. 14.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

This history shews us, that the chief care of princes, and of their people, ought to be; to render God propitious to them, by their future adherence to religion, which only constitutes their happiness and security, agreeable to the admonition of the prophet Azariah to king Asa.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

2 Forasmuch as I exalted thee, &c.] Baasha's accession to the kingdom was from the divine decree; but the form and manner of it was from himself; from his own ambition and covetousness; and, as it was wicked and cruel, is therefore charged upon him as a wilful murder.

Before CHRIST 930. and againſt his houſe, even for all the evil that he did in the ſight of the LORD, in provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the houſe of Jeroboam; and becauſe he killed him.

8 ¶ In the twenty and ſixth year of Aſa king of Judah began Elah the ſon of Baaſha to reign over Iſrael in Tirzah, two years.

9 And his ſervant Zimri, captain of half his chariots, conſpired againſt him, as he was in Tirzah, drinking himſelf drunk in the houſe of Arza ſteward of his houſe in Tirzah.

929. 10 And Zimri went in and ſmote him, and killed him, in the twenty and ſeventh year of Aſa king of Judah, and reigned in his ſtead.

11 ¶ And it came to paſs, when he began to reign, as ſoon as he ſat on his throne, that he ſlew all the houſe of Baaſha: he left him not one that piſſeth againſt a wall, neither of his kinſfolks, nor of his friends.

12 Thus did Zimri deſtroy all the houſe of Baaſha, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake againſt Baaſha by Jehu the prophet.

13 For all the ſins of Baaſha, and the ſins of Elah his ſon, by which they ſinned, and by which they made Iſrael to ſin, in provoking the LORD God of Iſrael to anger with their vanities.

14 Now the reſt of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

15 ¶ In the twenty and ſeventh year of Aſa king of Judah did Zimri reign ſeven days in Tirzah. And the people were encamped againſt Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philiſtines.

16 And the people that were encamped heard ſay, Zimri hath conſpired, and hath alſo ſlain the king: wherefore all Iſrael made Omri, the captain of the hoſt, king over Iſrael that day in the camp.

17 And Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Iſrael with him, and they beſieged Tirzah.

18 And it came to paſs, when Zimri ſaw that the city was taken, that he went into the palace of the king's houſe, and burnt the king's houſe over him with fire, and died,

19 For his ſins which he ſinned in doing evil in the ſight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his ſin which he did, to make Iſrael to ſin.

20 Now the reſt of the acts of Zimri, and his treaſon that he wrought, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

21 ¶ Then were the people of Iſrael divided into two parts: half of the people followed Tibni the ſon of Ginath, to make him king; and half followed Omri.

22 But the people that followed Omri prevailed againſt the people that followed Tibni the ſon of Ginath: ſo Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 ¶ In the thirty and firſt year of Aſa king of Judah began Omri to reign over Iſrael, twelve years: ſix years reigned he in Tirzah.

925. 24 And he bought the hill of Samaria of Shemer for two talents of ſilver, and built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill, Samaria.

25 ¶ But Omri wrought evil in the eyes of the LORD, and did worſe than all that were before him. Before CHRIST 925.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, and in his ſin wherewith he made Iſrael to ſin, to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger with their vanities.

27 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Omri which he did, and his might that he ſhewed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

28 So Omri ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria: and Ahab his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

29 ¶ And in the thirty and eighth year of Aſa king 918. of Judah began Ahab the ſon of Omri to reign over Iſrael: and Ahab the ſon of Omri reigned over Iſrael in Samaria twenty and two years.

30 And Ahab the ſon of Omri did evil in the ſight of the LORD above all that were before him.

31 And it came to paſs, as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, that he took to wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Zidonians, and went and ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him.

32 And he reared up an altar for Baal in the houſe of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a grove; and Ahab did more to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger than all the kings of Iſrael that were before him.

34 ¶ In his days did Hiel the Beth-elite build Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his firſt-born, and ſet up the gates thereof in his youngeſt ſon Segub, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by Joſhua the ſon of Nun.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Elijah after foretelling a long drought is ſent by God to the brook Cherith, and fed there by ravens. 8 He is afterward ſent to a widow of Zarephath, and miraculouſly recruiteth her barrel of meal and cruſe of oil. 17 The widow's ſon dieth, and is reſtored to life by Elijah's prayer: the woman believeth him to be ſent from God.

3 Get thee hence, and turn thee eaſtward, and hide thyſelf by the brook Cherith, that is before Jordan.

4 And it ſhall be, that thou ſhalt drink of the brook; and I have commanded the ravens to feed thee there.

5 So he went and did according unto the word of the LORD: for he went and dwelt by the brook Cherith that is before Jordan.

6 And the ravens brought him bread and fleſh in the morning, and bread and fleſh in the evening; and he drank of the brook.

7 And it came to paſs after a while, that the brook dried up, becauſe there had been no rain in the land.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

We may ſee clearly, in the ſeries of all theſe kings of Iſrael, that perſiſted miſerably, how divine vengeance purſues the wicked, and particularly evil princes; alſo, that when God has made uſe of wicked men to do juſtice, and execute the decrees of his providence, he deſtroys the one by the other.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

1 And Elijah] He was one of the chief, if not the prince of the prophets of his age; a man of a great and elevated ſoul, of a generous and undaunted ſpirit, a zealous defender of the laws of God, and a juſt avenger of the violations of his honour. He is called the Tiſhbite, from the town of Thiſbe, on the other ſide Jordan.

3 The brook Cherith, &c.] This brook and the valley through which it runs, are both very near the river Jordan.

4 I have commanded the ravens to feed thee there.] In anſwer to the cavils of ignorant infidels againſt this paſſage, may we not reaſonably aſk, Is not God almighty? and has he not power over the works of his hands, to make them all ſubſervient to his purpoſes?

Before CHRIST 910.

Zidon, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to ſuſtain thee.

10 So he aroſe and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the widow woman was there gathering of ſticks: and he called to her, and ſaid, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a veſſel, that I may drink.

11 And as ſhe was going to fetch it, he called to her, and ſaid, Bring me, I pray thee, a morſel of bread in thine hand.

12 And ſhe ſaid, As the LORD thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruſe: and, behold, I am gathering two ſticks, that I may go in and dreſs it for me and my ſon, that we may eat it, and die.

13 And Elijah ſaid unto her, Fear not; go and do as thou haſt ſaid: but make me thereof a little cake firſt, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy ſon.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, the barrel of meal ſhall not waſte, neither ſhall the cruſe of oil fail, until the day that the LORD ſendeth rain upon the earth.

15 And ſhe went and did according to the ſaying of Elijah: and ſhe, and he, and her houſe, did eat many days.

16 And the barrel of meal waſted not, neither did the cruſe of oil fail, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by Elijah.

17 ¶ And it came to paſs after theſe things, that the ſon of the woman, the miſtreſs of the houſe, fell ſick; and his ſickneſs was ſo ſore, that there was no breath left in him.

18 And ſhe ſaid unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my ſin to remembrance, and to ſlay my ſon?

19 And he ſaid unto her, Give me thy ſon. And he took him out of her boſom, and carried him up into a loft where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

20 And he cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD my God, haſt thou alſo brought evil upon the widow with whom I ſojourn, by ſlaying her ſon?

21 And he ſtretched himſelf upon the child three times, and cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD, my God, I pray thee, let this child's ſoul come into him again.

22 And the LORD heard the voice of Elijah; and the ſoul of the child came into him again, and he revived.

23 And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the houſe, and delivered him unto his mother, and Elijah ſaid, See, thy ſon liveth.

24 And the woman ſaid to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in thy mouth is truth.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 In the extremity of the famine Elijah is ſent to meet Ahab. 3 Ahab and Obadiah go different ways in ſearch of paſture for the cattle. 7 Elijah meeteth Obadiah, and ſendeth him to call Ahab. 18 Ahab after receiving a reproof, by Elijah's direction gathereth together all the prophets of Baal. 21 Elijah propoſeth to decide by a ſign from heaven between the LORD and Baal. 25 Baal's prophets invoke him in vain. Elijah praying is anſwered by fire from heaven: the people own the LORD to be God: Baal's prophets are ſlain. 41 Elijah giveth Ahab notice of rain, which he obtaineth by prayer, and runneth before Ahab to Jezreel.

Before CHRIST 910.

AND it came to paſs after many days, that the word of the LORD came to Elijah in the third year, ſaying, Go, ſhew thyſelf unto Ahab; and I will ſend rain upon the earth. 906.

2 And Elijah went to ſhew himſelf unto Ahab. And there was a ſore famine in Samaria.

3 ¶ And Ahab called Obadiah, which was the governor of his houſe. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly:

4 For it was ſo, when Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water.)

5 And Ahab ſaid unto Obadiah, Go into the land, unto all fountains of water, and unto all brooks: peradventure we may find graſs to ſave the horſes and mules alive, that we loſe not all the beaſts.

6 So they divided the land between them to paſs throughout it: Ahab went one way by himſelf, and Obadiah went another way by himſelf.

7 ¶ And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and ſaid, Art thou that my lord Elijah?

8 And he anſwered him, I am; go, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

9 And he ſaid, What have I ſinned, that thou wouldeſt deliver thy ſervant into the hand of Ahab, to ſlay me?

10 As the LORD thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not ſent to ſeek thee: and when they ſaid, He is not there; he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, that they found thee not.

11 And now thou ſayeſt, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs, as ſoon as I am gone from thee, that the Spirit of the LORD ſhall carry thee whither I know not; and ſo when I come and tell Ahab, and he cannot find thee, he ſhall ſlay me: but I thy ſervant fear the LORD from my youth.

13 Was it not told my lord what I did when Jezebel ſlew the prophets of the LORD, how I hid an hundred men of the LORD's prophets by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou ſayeſt, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here: and he ſhall ſlay me.

15 And Elijah ſaid, As the LORD of hoſts liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will ſurely ſhew myſelf unto him to day.

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him: and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 And it came to paſs, when Ahab ſaw Elijah, that Ahab ſaid unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Iſrael?

18 ¶ And he anſwered, I have not troubled Iſrael; but thou, and thy father's houſe, in that ye have forſaken the commandments of the LORD, and thou haſt followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore ſend, and gather to me all Iſrael unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, which eat at Jezebel's table.

20 So Ahab ſent unto all the children of Iſrael, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.

21 ¶ And Elijah came unto all the people, and ſaid, How long halt ye between two opinions? if the LORD be

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

The miracle God wrought in behalf of Elijah, and, by his inſtrumentality, for the poor widow, betoken the care God took of his prophet, and alſo his regard for thoſe that fear him; and that even in hard ſeaſons, and in the time of dearth, he will ſatisfy and provide for his people; ſee Pſalm xxxvii.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

3 Obadiah feared the Lord greatly.] He was a truly religious man, and worſhipped God alone, and had a ſingular affection for his ſervants.

Before CHRIST 906.

be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word.

22 Then said Elijah unto the people, I, even I only, remain a prophet of the LORD; but Baal's prophets are four hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullocks; and let them choose one bullock for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under: and I will dress the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under:

24 And call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD: and the God that answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered and said, It is well spoken.

25 ¶ And Elijah said unto the prophets of Baal, Choose you one bullock for yourselves, and dress it first; for ye are many; and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 And they took the bullock which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even until noon, saying, O Baal, hear us. But there was no voice, nor any that answered. And they leaped upon the altar which was made.

27 And it came to pass at noon, that Elijah mocked them, and said, Cry aloud: for he is a god; either he is talking, or he is pursuing, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awaked.

28 And they cried aloud, and cut themselves after their manner with knives and lancets, till the blood gushed out upon them.

29 And it came to pass, when midday was past, and they prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that there was neither voice, nor any to answer, nor any that regarded.

30 ¶ And Elijah said unto all the people, Come near unto me. And all the people came near unto him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that was broken down.

31 And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, unto whom the word of the LORD came, saying, Israel shall be thy name:

32 And with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD: and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two measures of seed.

33 And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid him on the wood, and said, Fill four barrels with water, and pour it on the burnt sacrifice, and on the wood,

34 And he said, Do it the second time. And they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar; and he filled the trench also with water.

36 And it came to pass at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near, and said, LORD, God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, let it be known this day that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy word.

37 Hear me, O LORD, hear me, that this people may know that thou art the LORD God, and that thou hast turned their heart back again.

38 Then the fire of the LORD fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. Before CHRIST 906.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces: and they said, The LORD, he is the God; the LORD, he is the God.

40 And Elijah said unto them, Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them: and Elijah brought them down to the brook Kishon, and slew them there.

41 ¶ And Elijah said unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain.

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel; and he cast himself down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees,

43 And said to his servant, Go up now, look toward the sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. And he said, Go again seven times.

44 And it came to pass at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the sea, like a man's hand. And he said, Go up, say unto Ahab, Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain stop thee not.

45 And it came to pass in the mean while, that the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab rode, and went to Jezreel.

46 And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah; and he girded up his loins, and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Jezebel threatening Elijah's life for having slain Baal's prophets, he fleeth to Beer-sheba. 4 In the wilderness he groweth weary of life, but being twice strengthened by food brought him by an angel, he reacheth Horeb after having fasted forty days and forty nights. 9 At Horeb God appeareth unto him, and commissioneth him to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Elisha. 19 He meeteth Elisha, who taking leave of his friends followeth him.

AND Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and withal how he had slain all the prophets with the sword.

2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger unto Elijah, saying, So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I make not thy life as the life of one of them by to morrow about this time.

3 And when he saw that, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Beer-sheba, which belongeth to Judah, and left his servant there.

4 ¶ But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree: and he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept under a juniper-tree, behold, then an angel touched him, and said unto him, Arise and eat.

6 And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head. And he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

7 And the angel of the LORD came again the second time,

---

26 They leaped upon the altar, &c.] Some interpret it, they ran about as men in an ecstasy with a prophetic fury, which put them into uncouth and disorderly motions.

27 Cry aloud: for he is a god; either, &c.] These expressions of the prophet are extremely keen and sarcastical, which could not fail of highly incensing the idolatrous priests.

29 They prophesied, &c.] Sang hymns and praises to Baal; which is sometimes meant by prophesying.

35 The water ran about the altar, &c.] Hereby the miracle became more conspicuous and convincing, and all suspicion of fallacy was removed.

42 He cast himself down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees.] He fell upon his knees, and bowed his head to the very ground, so that it touched his knees, in token of great humility in his addresses to God.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

As the prayer of Elijah shut and opened heaven, so let us remember, that the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man will open the heart and hand of the God of mercy toward us.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

1 All the prophets, &c.] All the prophets of Baal only.

3 He arose, and went for his life, &c.] God might, upon this occasion, withdraw that spirit of intrepidity, wherewith at other times he fortified Elijah's mind, on purpose to shew him his natural imbecility, and his continual need of the divine assistance.

10 And he ſaid, I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hoſts: for the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword; and I, even I only, am left; and they ſeek my life to take it away.

11 And he ſaid, Go forth, and ſtand upon the mount before the LORD. And, behold, the LORD paſſed by, and a great and ſtrong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD: but the LORD was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake:

16 And Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi ſhalt thou anoint to be king over Iſrael: and Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat of Abel-meholah ſhalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

17 And it ſhall come to paſs, that him that eſcapeth the ſword of Hazael ſhall Jehu ſlay: and him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Jehu ſhall Eliſha ſlay.

18 Yet I have left me ſeven thouſand in Iſrael, all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kiſſed him.

19 ¶ So he departed thence, and found Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth: and Elijah paſſed by him, and caſt his mantle upon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and ſaid, Let me, I pray thee, kiſs my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he ſaid unto him, Go back again: for what have I done to thee?

21 And he returned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen, and ſlew them, and boiled their fleſh with the inſtruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat. Then he aroſe, and went after Elijah, and miniſtered unto him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Ben-hadad king of Syria, not content with Ahab's ſubmiſſive homage, warreth againſt Samaria. 13 By a prophet's direction the Syrians are ſmitten. 22 According as the prophet had forewarned Ahab, the Syrians next year came againſt him in Aphek, in confidence of better ſucceſs in the plain, than on the hills. 28 A prophet declaring it beforehand to be a ſpecial judgment on them, they are again defeated with a great ſlaughter. 31 They ſue ſubmiſſively to Ahab, who receiveth Ben-hadad kindly, and ſendeth him away with a covenant of peace. 35 A prophet, having firſt by a parable brought Ahab to condemn himſelf, denounceth God's judgment againſt him for his unſeaſonable lenity.

Before CHRIST 901. AND Ben-hadad the king of Syria gathered all his hoſt together: and there were thirty and two kings with him, and horſes, and chariots: and he went up and beſieged Samaria, and warred againſt it.

2 And he ſent meſſengers to Ahab king of Iſrael into the city, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Ben-hadad,

3 Thy ſilver and thy gold is mine; thy wives alſo and thy children, even the goodlieſt, are mine.

4 And the king of Iſrael anſwered and ſaid, My lord, O king, according to thy ſaying, I am thine, and all that I have.

5 And the meſſengers came again, and ſaid, Thus ſpeaketh Ben-hadad, ſaying, Although I have ſent unto thee, ſaying, Thou ſhalt deliver me thy ſilver, and thy gold, and thy wives, and thy children;

6 Yet I will ſend my ſervants unto thee to morrow about this time, and they ſhall ſearch thine houſe, and the houſes of thy ſervants; and it ſhall be, that whatſoever is pleaſant in thine eyes, they ſhall put it in their hand, and take it away.

7 Then the king of Iſrael called all the elders of the land, and ſaid, Mark, I pray you, and ſee how this man ſeeketh miſchief: for he ſent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my ſilver, and for my gold; and I denied him not.

8 And all the elders and all the people ſaid unto him, Hearken not unto him, nor conſent.

9 Wherefore he ſaid unto the meſſengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didſt ſend for to thy ſervant at the firſt I will do: but this thing I may not do. And the meſſenger departed, and brought him word again.

10 And Ben-hadad ſent unto him, and ſaid, The gods do ſo unto me, and more alſo, if the duſt of Samaria ſhall ſuffice for handfuls for all the people that follow me.

11 And the king of Iſrael anſwered and ſaid, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth on his harneſs boaſt himſelf as he that putteth it off.

12 And it came to paſs, when Ben-hadad heard this meſſage, as he was drinking, he and the kings in the pavilions, that he ſaid unto his ſervants, Set yourſelves in array. And they ſet themſelves in array againſt the city.

13 ¶ And, behold, there came a prophet unto Ahab king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Haſt thou ſeen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day; and thou ſhalt know that I am the LORD.

14 And Ahab ſaid, By whom? And he ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, Even by the young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he ſaid, Who ſhall order the battle? And he anſwered, Thou.

15 Then he numbered the young men of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty two: and after them he numbered all the people, even all the children of Iſrael, being ſeven thouſand.

16 And

12 After the fire a ſtill ſmall voice.] The divine nature is here repreſented as inclined not to terrify and deſtroy, but placidly to invite and preſerve: God eaſily lays aſide his anger, and delights to exerciſe mercy.

19 Who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen—and caſt his mantle upon him.] Eliſha was taken from the plough to be a prophet, in like manner as among the Romans afterwards, ſome were fetched from thence to be conſuls and dictators. The mantle was the proper habit of prophets, and therefore Elijah's caſting it upon Eliſha was the ceremony here uſed for his inauguration.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

From the contents of this chapter we may perceive, that God loves and comforts thoſe who afflict themſelves to promote his glory; that there is always a remnant of his elect people who adhere to his precept; therefore we ſhould truſt in the Lord at all times.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

1 Ben-hadad] That is, "the ſon of Hadad," who was of the ſeed royal of Edom, and eſcaped into Egypt when David ſlew all the males in Edom; ſee chap. xi. 17.

And beſieged Samaria, &c.] He went up to beſiege it.

7 I denied him not.] When the public good was concerned, he would do nothing without the conſent of the elders of the people.

14 The young men of the princes of the provinces, &c.] This battle was to be won by young men, and not by old experienced officers, that thereby it might appear that the victory was wholly owing to God's gracious and powerful providence, and not the valour or fitneſs of the inſtruments.

Before CHRIST 901.

16 And they went out at noon. But Ben-hadad was drinking himſelf drunk in the pavilions, he and the kings, the thirty and two kings that helped him.

17 And the young men of the princes of the provinces went out firſt; and Ben-hadad ſent out, and they told him, ſaying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he ſaid, whether they be come out for peace, take them alive; or whether they be come out for war, take them alive.

19 So theſe young men of the princes of the provinces came out of the city, and the army which followed them.

20 And they ſlew every one his man: and the Syrians fled; and Iſrael purſued them: and Ben-hadad the king of Syria eſcaped on an horſe with the horſemen.

21 And the king of Iſrael went out, and ſmote the horſes and chariots, and ſlew the Syrians with a great ſlaughter.

22 ¶ And the prophet came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid unto him, Go, ſtrengthen thyſelf, and mark, and ſee what thou doeſt: for at the return of the year the king of Syria will come up againſt thee.

23 And the ſervants of the king of Syria ſaid unto him, Their gods are gods of the hills; therefore they were ſtronger than we; but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they.

24 And do this thing, Take the kings away, every man out of his place, and put captains in their rooms:

25 And number thee an army, like the army that thou haſt loſt, horſe for horſe, and chariot for chariot: and we will fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they. And he hearkened unto their voice, and did ſo.

900. 26 And it came to paſs at the return of the year, that Ben-hadad numbered the Syrians, and went up to Aphek, to fight againſt Iſrael.

27 And the children of Iſrael were numbered, and were all preſent, and went againſt them: and the children of Iſrael pitched before them like two little flocks of kids; but the Syrians filled the country.

28 ¶ And there came a man of God, and ſpake unto the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, Becauſe the Syrians have ſaid, The LORD is God of the hills, but he is not God of the vallies, therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

29 And they pitched one over againſt the other ſeven days. And ſo it was, that in the ſeventh day the battle was joined: and the children of Iſrael ſlew of the Syrians, an hundred thouſand footmen in one day.

30 But the reſt fled to Aphek, into the city; and there a wall fell upon twenty and ſeven thouſand of the men that were left. And Ben-hadad fled, and came into the city, into an inner chamber.

31 ¶ And his ſervant ſaid unto him, Behold, now, we have heard that the kings of the houſe of Iſrael are merciful kings: let us, I pray thee, put ſackcloth on our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and go out to the king of Iſrael: peradventure he will ſave thy life.

32 So they girded ſackcloth on their loins, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thy ſervant Ben-hadad ſaith, I pray thee, let me live. And he ſaid, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

33 Now the men did diligently obſerve whether any thing would come from him, and did haſtily catch it: and they ſaid, Thy brother Ben-hadad. Then he ſaid, Go ye, bring him. Then Ben-hadad came forth to him; and he cauſed him to come up into the chariot. Before CHRIST 900.

34 And Ben-hadad ſaid unto him, The cities, which my father took from thy father, I will reſtore: and thou ſhalt make ſtreets for thee in Damaſcus, as my father made in Samaria. Then ſaid Ahab, I will ſend thee away with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and ſent him away.

35 ¶ And a certain man of the ſons of the prophets ſaid unto his neighbour in the word of the LORD, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man refuſed to ſmite him.

36 Then ſaid he unto him, Becauſe thou haſt not obeyed the voice of the LORD, behold, as ſoon as thou art departed from me, a lion ſhall ſlay thee. And as ſoon as he was departed from him, a lion found him, and ſlew him.

37 Then he found another man, and ſaid, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man ſmote him, ſo that in ſmiting he wounded him.

38 So the prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and diſguiſed himſelf with aſhes upon his face.

39 And as the king paſſed by, he cried unto the king: and he ſaid, Thy ſervant went out into the midſt of the battle; and, behold, a man turned aſide, and brought a man unto me, and ſaid, Keep this man: if by any means he be miſſing, then ſhall thy life be for his life, or elſe thou ſhalt pay a talent of ſilver.

40 And as thy ſervrnt was buſy here and there, he was gone. And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto him, So ſhall thy judgment be; thyſelf haſt decided it.

41 And he haſted, and took the aſhes away from his face; and the king of Iſrael diſcerned him that he was of the prophets.

42 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Becauſe thou haſt let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter deſtruction, therefore thy life ſhall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the king of Iſrael went to his houſe heavy and diſpleaſed, and came to Samaria.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Ahab is ſore diſpleaſed at being refuſed the vineyard of Naboth. 5 Jezebel comforteth him, and procureth Naboth to be ſtoned to death upon a falſe accuſation of blaſphemy. 15 She ſendeth Ahab to take poſſeſſion of the vineyard. 17 Elijah is ſent to meet him, and denounceth God's judgments againſt Ahab and Jezebel for their wickedneſs. 27 Ahab humbling himſelf before God, the puniſhment is deferred to his ſon's days.

AND it came to paſs after theſe things, that Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard, which was in Jezreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab ſpake unto Naboth, ſaying, Give me thy vineyard, that I may have it for a garden of herbs, 899. becauſe it is near unto my houſe: and I will give thee for it a better vineyard than it; or, if it ſeem good to thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Ahab, The LORD forbid it me, that I ſhould give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

4 And Ahab came into his houſe heavy and diſpleaſed becauſe of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken to him: for he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers. And he laid him down upon

---

26 Went up to Aphek, &c.] Aphek or Aphaca was ſituate in Libanus, upon the river Adonis, between Heliopolis and Biblos.

32 They girded ſackcloth on their loins, and put ropes on their heads, &c.] The ſackcloth was a token of great ſorrow for what they had done, and the halters a token of ſubjection to whatever puniſhment Ahab ſhould think fit to inflict upon them.

36 A lion found him and ſlew him.] Though he knew the indiſpenſability of God's commands, and that this was the very thing that he enjoined, yet out of an indiſcreet piety and compaſſion to his brother, he refuſed to comply.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

This hiſtory ſhews that God puniſhes ſuch as unjuſtly fall upon others; and gives marks of his bounty to the greateſt ſinners, to excite them to repentance, and to give glory to his holy name.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

3 The Lord forbid—that I ſhould give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.] In this act he concluded he ſhould both offend God, and injure his poſterity; which he being a pious and religious man, durſt not adventure to do.

Before CHRIST 899. upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

5 ¶ But Jezebel his wife came to him, and ſaid unto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad, that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid unto her, Becauſe I ſpake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and ſaid unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money; or elſe, if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he anſwered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 And Jezebel his wife ſaid unto him, Doſt thou now govern the kingdom of Iſrael? ariſe, and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry: I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 So ſhe wrote letters in Ahab's name, and ſealed them with his ſeal, and ſent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his city, dwelling with Naboth.

9 And ſhe wrote in the letters, ſaying, Proclaim a faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people:

10 And ſet two men, ſons of Belial, before him, to bear witneſs againſt him, ſaying, Thou didſt blaſpheme God and the king. And then carry him out, and ſtone him, that he may die.

11 And the men of his city, even the elders and the nobles who were the inhabitants in his city, did as Jezebel had ſent unto them, and as it was written in the letters which ſhe had ſent unto them.

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people.

13 And there came in two men, children of Belial, and ſat before him: and the men of Belial witneſſed againſt him, even againſt Naboth, in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and ſtoned him with ſtones that he died.

14 Then they ſent to Jezebel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned, and is dead.

15 ¶ And it came to paſs, when Jezebel heard that Naboth was ſtoned, and was dead, that Jezebel ſaid to Ahab, Ariſe, take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refuſed to give thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but dead.

16 And it came to paſs, when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab roſe up to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying,

18 Ariſe, go down to meet Ahab king of Iſrael, which is in Samaria: behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone down to poſſeſs it.

19 And thou ſhalt ſpeak unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Haſt thou killed, and alſo taken poſſeſſion? And thou ſhalt ſpeak unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth ſhall dogs lick thy blood, even thine.

20 And Ahab ſaid to Elijah, Haſt thou found me, O mine enemy? And he anſwered, I have found thee: becauſe thou haſt ſold thyſelf to work evil in the ſight of the LORD.

21 Behold, I will bring evil upon thee, and will take away thy poſterity, and will cut off from Ahab him that piſſeth againſt the wall, and him that is ſhut up and left in Iſrael,

22 And will make thine houſe like the houſe of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, and like the houſe of Baaſha the ſon of Ahijah, for the provocation wherewith thou haſt provoked me to anger, and made Iſrael to ſin. Before CHRIST 899.

23 And of Jezebel alſo ſpake the LORD, ſaying, The dogs ſhall eat Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel.

24 Him that dieth of Ahab in the city the dogs ſhall eat; and him that dieth in the field ſhall the fowls of the air eat.

25 But there was none like unto Ahab, which did ſell himſelf to work wickedneſs in the ſight of the LORD, whom Jezebel his wife ſtirred up.

26 And he did very abominably in following idols, according to all things as did the Amorites, whom the LORD caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

27 ¶ And it came to paſs, when Ahab heard thoſe words, that he rent his clothes, and put ſackcloth upon his fleſh, and faſted, and lay in ſackclock, and went ſoftly.

28 And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying,

29 Seeſt thou how Ahab humbleth himſelf before me? becauſe Ahab humbleth himſelf before me, I will not bring the evil in his days: but in his ſon's days will I bring the evil upon his houſe

AND they continued three years without war between Syria and Iſrael.

2 And it came to paſs in the third year, that Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah came down to the king of Iſrael. 897.

3 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto his ſervants, Know ye that Ramoth in Gilead is our's, and we be ſtill, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria?

4 And he ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battle to Ramoth-gilead? And Jehoſhaphat ſaid to the king of Iſrael, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horſes as thy horſes.

5 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

6 Then the king of Iſrael gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall I go againſt Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up? for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

7 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD beſides, that we might enquire of him?

8 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, Micaiah the ſon of Imlah, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: but I hate him; for he doth not propheſy good concerning me, but evil. And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

In this chapter are ſolemn cautions againſt covetouſneſs, rapine, murder, &c. and alſo ſhews us, that puniſhment follows cloſe after great crimes, and eſpecially violence, injuſtice, and ſhedding of innocent blood.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XXII.

7 Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord beſides, &c.] Jehoſhaphat's purpoſe was not to inquire of the prieſts of the grove, but of ſome true prophet of the Lord; for he was too religious a man to attempt any thing of this kind without a divine direction and approbation.

Before CHRIST 897.

9 Then the king of Iſrael called an officer, and ſaid, Haſten hither Micaiah the ſon of Imlah.

10 And the king of Iſrael and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah ſat each on his throne, having put on their robes, in a void place in the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets prophefied before them.

11 And Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah made him horns of iron: and he ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Syrians, until thou have conſumed them.

12 And all the prophets propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the king's hand.

13 And the meſſenger that was gone to call Micaiah ſpake unto him, ſaying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and ſpeak that which is good.

14 And Micaiah ſaid, As the LORD liveth, what the LORD ſaith unto me, that will I ſpeak.

15 ¶ So he came to the king. And the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah, ſhall we go againſt Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall we forbear? And he anſwered him, Go, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king ſaid unto him, How many times ſhall I adjure thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the LORD?

17 And he ſaid, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered upon the hills, as ſheep that have not a ſhepherd: and the LORD ſaid, Theſe have no maſter: let them return every man to his houſe in peace.

18 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would propheſy no good concerning me, but evil?

19 And he ſaid, Hear thou therefore the word of the LORD: I ſaw the LORD ſitting on his throne, and all the hoſt of heaven ſtanding by him on his right hand and on his left.

20 And the LORD ſaid, Who ſhall perſuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one ſaid on this manner, and another ſaid on that manner.

21 And there came forth a ſpirit, and ſtood before the LORD, and ſaid, I will perſuade him.

22 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Wherewith? And he ſaid, I will go forth, and I will be a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he ſaid, Thou ſhalt perſuade him, and prevail alſo: go forth, and do ſo.

23 Now therefore, behold, the LORD hath put a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all theſe thy prophets, and the LORD hath ſpoken evil concerning thee.

24 ¶ But Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah went near, and ſmote Micaiah on the cheek, and ſaid, Which way went the Spirit of the LORD from me to ſpeak unto thee?

25 And Micaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee in that day, when thou ſhalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyſelf.

26 And the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take Micaiah, and carry him back unto Amon the governor of the city, and to Joaſh the king's ſon;

27 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this fellow in the priſon, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I come in peace.

28 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou return at all in peace, the LORD hath not ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, Hearken, O people, every one of you.

29 ¶ So the king of Iſrael and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

Before CHRIST 897.

30 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe myſelf, and enter into the battle; but put thou on thy robes. And the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf, and went into the battle.

31 ¶ But the king of Syria commanded his thirty and two captains that had rule over his chariots, ſaying, Fight neither with ſmall nor great, ſave only with the king of Iſrael.

32 And it came to paſs, when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, Surely it is the king of Iſrael. And they turned aſide to fight againſt him: and Jehoſhaphat cried out.

33 And it came to paſs, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, that they turned back from purſuing him.

34 ¶ And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael between the joints of the harneſs: wherefore he ſaid unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the hoſt; for I am wounded.

35 And the battle increaſed that day: and the king was ſtayed up in his chariot againſt the Syrians, and died at even: and the blood ran out of the wound into the midſt of the chariot.

36 And there went a proclamation throughout the hoſt about the going down of the ſun, ſaying, Every man to his city, and every man to his own country.

37 ¶ So the king died, and was brought to Samaria; and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 And one waſhed the chariot in the pool of Samaria; and the dogs licked up his blood; and they waſhed his armour; according unto the word of the LORD which he ſpake.

39 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, and the ivory houſe which he made, and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

40 So Ahab ſlept with his fathers; and Ahaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

41 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Aſa began to reign over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab king of 914.
Iſrael.

42 Jehoſhaphat was thirty and five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty and five years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

43 And he walked in all the ways of Aſa his father; he turned not aſide from it, doing that which was right in the eyes of the LORD: nevertheleſs the high places were not taken away; for the people offered and burnt inceaſe yet in the high places.

44 And Jehoſhaphat made peace with the king of Iſrael.

45 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoſhaphat, and his might that he ſhewed, and how he warred, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

46 And the remnant of the ſodomites, which remained in the days of his father Aſa, he took out of 913.
the land.

47 There was then no king in Edom: a deputy was king.

48 Jehoſhaphat made ſhips of Tharſhiſh to go to Ophir for gold: but they went not; for the ſhips were broken at Ezion-geber.

49 Then ſaid Ahaziah the ſon of Ahab unto Jehoſhaphat,

15 Go and proſper: for the Lord ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.] As if he had ſaid, Since thou doſt not ſeek to know the truth, but only to pleaſe thyſelf, go to the battle, as thy lying prophets adviſe thee, expect the ſucceſs which they promiſe thee, and try the truth of their predictions, by dear-bought experience.

19 I ſaw the Lord ſitting on his throne, &c.] This ſpeech of Micaiah's was no more than a parabolical repreſentation of a certain event, which not long after came to paſs: the intent was, to ſhew the reaſon why the predictions of the prophets on this occaſion were falſe; even becauſe they were moved, not by the ſpirit of truth, but that of deluſion.

25 To hide thyſelf.] For fear he ſhould be ſeized and puniſhed as a falſe prophet, as the inſtigator of Ahab to go up to Ramoth-gilead, and as the cauſe of his death.

30 I will diſguiſe myſelf, &c.] By this ſtratagem, Ahab thought to evade the effect of Micaiah's prophecy.

39 The ivory houſe which he made, &c.] Not built of ivory, but only inlaid with it.

53 For he ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him, and provoked to anger the LORD God of Iſrael, according to all that his father had done.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

From God's dealings towards Ahab, we may remark, that the Lord is not ſlack concerning his threatenings, but will fulfil them in his own time; and that the divine vengeance will ſooner or later overtake all ſuch as go on in wickedneſs, and provoke the indignation of the Almighty.

The Second Book of the KINGS,

COMMONLY CALLED

The Fourth Book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

The hiſtory of the two kingdoms of Iſrael and Judah, is continued in this book, until the diſſolution of the firſt by the Aſſyrians, and the captivity of the other by the Chaldeans; and compriſes the ſpace of about one hundred and ſixty-eight years.

CHAP. I.

1 Moab rebelleth. 2 Ahaziah's meſſengers ſent to enquire concerning the event of his ſickneſs of Baal-zebub, are turned back by Elijah with a ſentence of death from the LORD. 5 Ahaziah, apprized of the cauſe of their quick return, ſendeth to apprehend Elijah, who twice alleth down fire from heaven upon thoſe that come againſt him. 13 Moved by the humble ſuit of the third captain, and encouraged by an angel, he goeth to the king, and aſſureth him of his approaching death. 17 Ahaziah dieth, and is ſucceeded by Jehoram.

896. THEN Moab rebelled againſt Iſrael after the death of Ahab.

2 ¶ And Ahaziah fell down through a lattice in his upper chamber that was in Samaria, and was ſick: and he ſent meſſengers, and ſaid unto them, Go, enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, whether I ſhall recover of this diſeaſe.

3 But the angel of the LORD ſaid to Elijah the Tiſhbite, Ariſe, go up to meet the meſſengers of the king of Samaria, and ſay unto them, Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that ye go to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

4 Now therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die. And Elijah departed.

5 ¶ And when the meſſengers turned back unto him, he ſaid unto them, Why are ye now turned back?

6 And they ſaid unto him, There came a man up to meet us, and ſaid unto us, Go, turn again unto the king, that ſent you, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron? therefore thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

7 And he ſaid unto them, What manner of man was he which came up to meet you, and told you theſe words? 896.

8 And they anſwered him, He was an hairy man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loins. And he ſaid, It is Elijah the Tiſhbite.

9 Then the king ſent unto him a captain of fifty with his fifty. And he went up to him: and, behold, he ſat on the top of an hill. And he ſpake unto him, Thou man of God, the king hath ſaid, Come down.

10 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

11 Again alſo he ſent unto him another captain of fifty with his fifty. And he anſwered and ſaid unto him, O man of God, thus hath the king ſaid, Come down quickly.

12 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid unto them, If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And the fire of God came down from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

13 ¶ And he ſent again a captain of the third fifty with his fifty. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Elijah, and beſought him, and ſaid unto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of theſe fifty thy ſervants, be precious in thy ſight.

14 Behold, there came fire down from heaven, and burnt up the two captains of the former fifties with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy ſight.

15 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto Elijah, Go down with him: be not afraid of him. And he aroſe, and went down with him unto the king.

16 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

8 He was an hairy man, &c.] It is probable that he is ſo deſcribed, becauſe he was cloathed with an hairy garment, which the prophets uſually wore; ſee Iſaiah xx. 2. Zech. xiii. 4. Matt. iii. 4.

10 Then let fire come down from heaven, &c.] It would be more properly tranſlated, Then fire will come down from heaven.

12 Let fire come down from heaven, &c.] Elijah did not call for fire from heaven, out of any haſty paſſion or revenge, but purely in obedience to the holy Spirit wherewith he was animated, and in zeal for the honour and glory of God, which, in the perſon of his prophet, was groſsly abuſed.

Before CHRIST 896.

16 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Foraſmuch as thou haſt ſent meſſengers to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, is it not becauſe there is no God in Iſrael to enquire of his word? therefore thou ſhalt not come down off that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

17 ¶ So he died according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had ſpoken. And Jehoram reigned in his ſtead, in the ſecond year of Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah; becauſe he had no ſon.

18 Now the reſt of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

CHAP. II.

1 Elijah, having tried in vain to perſwade Eliſha to leave him, with his mantle divideth Jordan, and they both paſs over on dry ground. 9 Elijah conditionally alloweth Eliſha's requeſt of a double portion of his ſpirit, and is taken up into heaven in a fiery chariot. 12 Eliſha ſeeth it, and taking up Elijah's mantle divideth again the waters of Jordan, and is acknowledged for Elijah's ſucceſſor. 16 The young prophets with difficulty obtain leave to ſeek for Elijah, and return without finding him. 19 Eliſha with ſalt healeth the unwholeſome waters of Jericho. 23 Bears deſtroy the children that mocked him.

AND it came to paſs, when the LORD would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Eliſha from Gilgal.

2 And Elijah ſaid unto Eliſha, Tarry here, I pray thee; for the LORD hath ſent me to Beth-el. And Eliſha ſaid unto him, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Beth-el.

3 And the ſons of the prophets that were at Beth-el came forth to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy head to day? And he ſaid, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.

4 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Eliſha, tarry here, I pray thee; for the LORD hath ſent me to Jericho. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

5 And the ſons of the prophets that were at Jericho came to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy head to day? And he anſwered, Yea, I know it; hold ye your peace.

6 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here; for the LORD hath ſent me to Jordan. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on.

7 And fifty men of the ſons of the prophets went, and ſtood to view afar off: and they two ſtood by Jordan.

8 And Elijah took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and ſmote the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, ſo that they two went over on dry ground.

9 ¶ And it came to paſs, when they were gone over, that Elijah ſaid unto Eliſha, Aſk what I ſhall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Eliſha ſaid, I pray thee, let a double portion of thy ſpirit be upon me. Before CHRIST 896.

10 And he ſaid, Thou haſt aſked a hard thing: nevertheleſs, if thou ſee me when I am taken from thee, it ſhall be ſo unto thee; but if not, it ſhall not be ſo.

11 And it came to paſs, as they ſtill went on, and talked, that, behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horſes of fire, and parted them both aſunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven.

12 ¶ And Eliſha ſaw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Iſrael, and the horſemen thereof. And he ſaw him no more: and he took hold of his own clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 He took up alſo the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and went back, and ſtood by the bank of Jordan;

14 And he took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and ſmote the waters, and ſaid, Where is the LORD God of Elijah? and when he alſo had ſmitten the waters, they parted hither and thither: and Eliſha went over.

15 And when the ſons of the prophets which were to view at Jericho ſaw him, they ſaid, The ſpirit of Elijah doth reſt on Eliſha. And they came to meet him, and bowed themſelves to the ground before him.

16 ¶ And they ſaid unto him, Behold now, there be with thy ſervants fifty ſtrong men; let them go, we pray thee, and ſeek thy maſter: leſt peradventure the Spirit of the LORD hath taken him up, and caſt him upon ſome mountain, or into ſome valley. And he ſaid, Ye ſhall not ſend.

17 And when they urged him till he was aſhamed, he ſaid, Send. They ſent therefore fifty men; and they ſought three days, but found him not.

18 And when they came again to him, (for he tarried at Jericho,) he ſaid unto them, Did I not ſay unto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the city ſaid unto Eliſha, Behold, I pray thee, the ſituation of this city is pleaſant, as my lord ſeeth: but the water is naught, and the ground barren.

20 And he ſaid, Bring me a new cruſe, and put ſalt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went forth unto the ſpring of the waters, and caſt the ſalt in there, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, I have healed theſe waters; there ſhall not be from thence any more death or barren land.

22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the ſaying of Eliſha which he ſpake.

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Beth-el: and as he was going up by the way, there came forth little children out of the city, and mocked him, and ſaid unto him, Go up, thou bald head; go up, thou bald head.

24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and curſed them in the name of the LORD. And there came forth two ſhe bears out of the wood, and tare forty and two children of them.

17 Jeboram reigned in his ſtead, in the ſecond year of Jeboram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, &c.] To remove the obſcurity of this paſſage, it muſt be remembered, that Jehoram the ſon of Ahab might begin his reign in the ſecond year of Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, that is, in the ſecond year that he reigned with his father, who was then alive; and Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat may be ſaid to have begun his reign in the fifth year of Jehoram the ſon of Ahab, meaning the time when, after his father's death, he began to reign alone.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

In the caſe of Ahaziah, who, inſtead of humbling himſelf by the corrections of God, conſulted idols in his ſickneſs, we perceive, that the wicked are ſometimes hardened by chaſtiſements, till, if repentance prevents not, deſtruction overtakes them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

3 The ſons of the prophets that were at Beth-el] By "the ſons of the prophets," we are to underſtand, the ſcholars of the prophets, ſuch as they educated and trained up in religion and virtue, upon whom God, by degrees, beſtowed the ſpirit of prophecy.

Knoweſt thou that the Lord will take away thy maſter from thy head to day? &c.] That is, from being thy head; for to be at the head is to be as the maſter, as to be at the feet is to be the ſcholar.

9 Let a double portion of thy ſpirit be upon me.] He deſired as much more of his ſpirit as any of the reſt of the ſons of the prophets; namely, the portion of the firſtborn, which was double.

11 There appeared a chariot of fire, and horſes of fire, &c.] The ſame almighty power, which, at the laſt trump will make our corruptible nature put on incorruption, and our bodies immortality, changed Elijah's terreſtrial into a celeſtial body, and endowed it with faculties neceſſary for the enjoyment of thoſe paradiſaical manſions in the great Jehovah's kingdom to which it was paſſing.

21 And caſt the ſalt in, &c.] The unlikelineſs of the means here made uſe of enhances, or is rather an additional miracle; for ſalt naturally makes water leſs palatable, and the ground more barren.

24 And tare forty and two children of them.] God, as a terror to other idolaters, as well as for the honour and authority of his prophets, thought proper to puniſh theſe profane youths in this remarkable manner, and confirm the word which had gone out of his ſervant's mouth.

Before CHRIST 896. 25 And he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 Jehoram's evil reign. 4 Meſha king of Moab rebelleth. 6 Jehoram with Jehoſhaphat and the king of Edom goeth againſt him; being diſtreſſed for want of water they apply to Eliſha, who promiſeth them water, and aſſureth them of victory. 20 The water cometh in great plenty, and is miſtaken by the Moabites for blood; they come in hopes of ſpoil, and are entirely defeated. 26 The king of Moab, failing in his attempt to break through unto the king of Edom, ſacrificeth his ſon, and raiſeth the ſiege.

NOW Jehoram the ſon of Ahab began to reign over Iſrael in Samaria the eighteenth year of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve years.

2 And he wrought evil in the ſight of the LORD; but not like his father, and like his mother: for he put away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheleſs he cleaved unto the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſin; he departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ And Meſha king of Moab was a ſheepmaſter, and rendered unto the king of Iſrael an hundred thouſand lambs, and an hundred thouſand rams, with the wool.

5 But it came to paſs, when Ahab was dead, that the king of Moab rebelled againſt the king of Iſrael.

6 ¶ And king Jehoram went out of Samaria the ſame time, and numbered all Iſrael.

895. 7 And he went and ſent to Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah, ſaying, The king of Moab hath rebelled againſt me: wilt thou go with me againſt Moab to battle? And he ſaid, I will go up: I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and my horſes as thy horſes.

8 And he ſaid, Which way ſhall we go up? And he anſwered, The way through the wilderneſs of Edom.

9 So the king of Iſrael went, and the king of Judah, and the king of Edom: and they fetched a compaſs of ſeven days journey: and there was no water for the hoſt, and for the cattle that followed them.

10 And the king of Iſrael ſaid, Alas! that the LORD hath called theſe three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Moab!

11 But Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD, that we may enquire of the LORD by him? And one of the king of Iſrael's ſervants anſwered and ſaid, Here is Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, which poured water on the hands of Elijah.

12 And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, The word of the LORD is with him. So the king of Iſrael and Jehoſhaphat and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Eliſha ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, What have I to do with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto him, Nay: for the LORD hath called theſe three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Moab.

14 And Eliſha ſaid, As the LORD of hoſts liveth, before whom I ſtand, ſurely, were it not that I regard the preſence of Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah, I would not look toward thee, nor ſee thee.

15 But now bring me a minſtrel. And it came to paſs, when the minſtrel played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him. Before CHRIST 895.

16 And he ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus ſaith the LORD, Ye ſhall not ſee wind, neither ſhall ye ſee rain; yet that valley ſhall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye, and your cattle, and your beaſts.

18 And this is but a light thing in the ſight of the LORD: he will deliver the Moabites alſo into your hand.

19 And ye ſhall ſmite every fenced city, and every choice city, and ſhall fell every good tree, and ſtop all wells of water, and mar every good piece of land with ſtones.

20 ¶ And it came to paſs in the morning, when the meat offering was offered, that, behold, there came water by the way of Edom, and the country was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come up to fight againſt them, they gathered all that were able to put on armour, and upward, and ſtood in the border.

22 And they roſe up early in the morning, and the ſun ſhone upon the water, and the Moabites ſaw the water on the other ſide as red as blood:

23 And they ſaid, This is blood: the kings are ſurely ſlain, and they have ſmitten one another: now therefore, Moab, to the ſpoil.

24 And when they came to the camp of Iſrael, the Iſraelites roſe up and ſmote the Moabites, ſo that they fled before them: but they went forward ſmiting the Moabites, even in their country.

25 And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land caſt every man his ſtone, and filled it; and they ſtopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: only in Kir-haraſeth left they the ſtones thereof; howbeit the ſlingers went about it, and ſmote it.

26 ¶ And when the king of Moab ſaw that the battle was too ſore for him, he took with him ſeven hundred men that drew ſwords, to break through even unto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldeſt ſon that ſhould have reigned in his ſtead, and offered him for a burnt offering upon the wall. And there was great indignation againſt Iſrael: and they departed from him, and returned to their own land.

CHAP. IV.

1 Eliſha multiplieth a poor widow's oil in order to pay her debts. 8 He is hoſpitably entertained by a Shunammite woman, and in requital obtaineth a ſon for her. 18 The child dieth, and is reſtored to life at Eliſha's prayer. 38 He healeth the deadly pottage at Gilgal. 42 He miraculouſly ſatisfieth an hundred men with twenty barley loaves.

NOW there cried a certain woman of the wives of the ſons of the prophets unto Eliſha, ſaying, Thy ſervant my huſband is dead; and thou knoweſt that thy ſervant did fear the LORD: and the creditor is come to take unto him my two ſons to be bondmen.

2 And

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

The requeſt of Eliſha, that he might receive a double portion of Elijah's ſpirit, is a leſſon to us, to beg of God the gifts and graces of his Spirit; and the death of the forty-two young men of Beth-el points out to us the dreadful conſequences of impiety.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

8 Nevertheleſs he cleaved unto the ſins of Jeroboam, &c.] Though he removed the image of Baal, he ſtill continued the idolatrous worſhip of the golden calves which Jeroboam had made.

5 When Ahab was dead—the king of Moab rebelled, &c.] That is, refuſed paying the occaſional tribute.

9 The king of Edom, &c.] He was the viceroy or deputy.

11 Which poured water on the hands of Elijah.] Which miniſtered to, or was the ſervant of, Elijah.

23 This is blood: the kings are ſurely ſlain, and they have ſmitten one another, &c.] The Moabites concluded it to be the blood of the three armies, which, they ſuppoſed, on account of ſome diſagreement had fallen upon and ſlaughtered one another.

27 There was great indignation againſt Iſrael, &c.] Or great repentance in Iſrael, i. e. they were extremely grieved at this inhuman ſacrifice, and wiſhed they had not puſhed the war to ſuch extremity, as it had produced ſo barbarous an action.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

With reſpect to Jehoram's victory, we may ſee, that God often does good to the unworthy, for the ſake of thoſe he loves, for whom he diſplays his power and goodneſs: in the unnatural act of the king of Moab, we perceive, that rage and deſpair hurry men on to the moſt deteſtable deeds; while thoſe who fear God, ſeek to him in their neceſſities.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

1 And the creditor is come to take—my two ſons to be bondmen.] The Jewiſh law conſidered children as the proper goods of their parents, who had power to ſell them for ſeven years; as their creditors had to compel them to do it, in order to pay their debts.

Before CHRIST 895.

2 And Eliſha ſaid unto her, What ſhall I do for thee? tell me, what haſt thou in the houſe? And ſhe ſaid, Thine handmaid hath not any thing in the houſe, ſave a pot of oil.

3 Then he ſaid, Go, borrow thee veſſels abroad of all thy neighbours, even empty veſſels; borrow not a few.

4 And when thou art come in, thou ſhalt ſhut the door upon thee and upon thy ſons, and ſhalt pour out into all thoſe veſſels, and thou ſhalt ſet aſide that which is full.

5 So ſhe went from him, and ſhut the door upon her and upon her ſons, who brought the veſſels to her; and ſhe poured out.

6 And it came to paſs, when the veſſels were full, that ſhe ſaid unto her ſon, bring me yet a veſſel. And he ſaid unto her, There is not a veſſel more. And the oil ſtayed.

7 Then ſhe came and told the man of God. And he ſaid, Go, ſell the oil, and pay thy debt, and live thou and thy children of the reſt.

8 ¶ And it fell on a day, that Eliſha paſſed to Shunem, where was a great woman; and ſhe conſtrained him to eat bread. And ſo it was, that as oft as he paſſed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And ſhe ſaid unto her huſband, Behold, now, I perceive that this is an holy man of God, which paſſeth by us continually.

10 Let us make a little chamber, I pray thee, on the wall; and let us ſet for him there a bed, and a table, and a ſtool, and a candleſtick: and it ſhall be, when he cometh to us, that he ſhall turn in thither.

11 And it fell on a day, that he came thither, and he turned into the chamber, and lay there.

12 And he ſaid to Gehazi his ſervant, Call this Shunammite. And when he had called her, ſhe ſtood before him.

13 And he ſaid unto him, Say now unto her, Behold, thou haſt been careful for us with all this care; what is to be done for thee? wouldeſt thou be ſpoken for to the king, or to the captain of the hoſt? And ſhe anſwered, I dwell among mine own people.

14 And he ſaid, What then is to be done for her? And Gehazi anſwered, Verily ſhe hath no child, and her huſband is old.

15 And he ſaid, Call her. And when he had called her, ſhe ſtood in the door.

16 And he ſaid, About this ſeaſon, according to the time of life, thou ſhalt embrace a ſon. And ſhe ſaid, Nay, my lord, thou man of God, do not lie unto thine handmaid.

17 And the woman conceived, and bare a ſon at that ſeaſon that Eliſha had ſaid unto her, according to the time of life.

18 ¶ And when the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.

19 And he ſaid unto his father, My head, my head. And he ſaid to a lad, Carry him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he ſat on her knees till noon, and then died.

21 And ſhe went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and ſhut the door upon him, and went out.

22 And ſhe called unto her huſband, and ſaid, Send me, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the aſſes, that I may run to the man of God, and come again.

23 And he ſaid, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither new moon, nor ſabbath. And ſhe ſaid, It ſhall be well.

24 Then ſhe ſaddled an aſs, and ſaid to her ſervant, Drive, and go forward; ſlack not thy riding for me, except I bid thee. Before CHRIST 895.

25 So ſhe went and came unto the man of God to mount Carmel. And it came to paſs, when the man of God ſaw her afar off, that he ſaid to Gehazi his ſervant, Behold, yonder is that Shunammite:

26 Run now, I pray thee, to meet her, and ſay unto her, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy huſband? is it well with the child? And ſhe anſwered, It is well.

27 And when ſhe came to the man of God to the hill, ſhe caught him by the feet: but Gehazi came near to thruſt her away. And the man of God ſaid, Let her alone; for her ſoul is vexed within her: and the LORD hath hid it from me, and hath not told me.

28 Then ſhe ſaid, Did I deſire a ſon of my lord? did I not ſay, Do not deceive me?

29 Then he ſaid to Gehazi, Gird up thy loins, and take my ſtaff in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou meet any man, ſalute him not; and if any ſalute thee, anſwer him not again: and lay my ſtaff upon the face of the child.

30 And the mother of the child ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. And he aroſe, and followed her.

31 And Gehazi paſſed on before them, and laid the ſtaff upon the face of the child; but there was neither voice, nor hearing. Wherefore he went again to meet him, and told him, ſaying, The child is not awaked.

32 And when Eliſha was come into the houſe, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and ſhut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the LORD.

34 And he went up and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands: and he ſtretched himſelf upon the child; and the fleſh of the child waxed warm.

35 Then he returned, and walked in the houſe to and fro; and went up, and ſtretched himſelf upon him: and the child ſneezed ſeven times, and the child opened his eyes.

36 And he called Gehazi, and ſaid, Call this Shunammite. So he called her. And when ſhe was come in unto him, he ſaid, Take up thy ſon.

37 Then ſhe went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed herſelf to the ground, and took up her ſon, and went out.

38 ¶ And Eliſha came again to Gilgal: and there 891.
was a dearth in the land; and the ſons of the prophets were ſitting before him: and he ſaid unto his ſervant, Set on the great pot, and ſeethe pottage for the ſons of the prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered thereof wild gourds his lap full, and came and ſhred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew them not.

40 So they poured out for the men to eat. And it came to paſs, as they were eating of the pottage, that they cried out, and ſaid, O thou man of God, there is death in the pot. And they could not eat thereof.

41 But he ſaid, Then bring meal. And he caſt it into the pot; and he ſaid, Pour out for the people, that they may eat. And there was no harm in the pot.

42 ¶ And there came a man from Baal-ſhaliſha, and brought the man of God bread of the firſt fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the huſk thereof. And he ſaid, Give unto the people, that they may eat.

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman, captain of the Syrian hoſt, upon the report of a captive maid cometh to Samaria to be cured of his leproſy. 8 Eliſha ſendeth him to dip in Jordan, whereby he is healed. 15 Naaman acknowledgeth the true God; cannot prevail on Eliſha to accept his preſents; aſketh for earth; and is ſent away in peace. 20 Gehazi, Eliſha's ſervant, by a lie obtaineth a preſent from Naaman, and is ſmitten with leproſy.

894. NOW Naaman, captain of the hoſt of the king of Syria, was a great man with his maſter, and honourable, becauſe by him the LORD had given deliverance unto Syria: he was alſo a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper.

2 And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Iſrael a little maid; and ſhe waited on Naaman's wife.

3 And ſhe ſaid unto her miſtreſs, Would God my lord were with the prophet that is in Samaria! for he would recover him of his leproſy.

4 And one went in, and told his lord, ſaying, Thus and thus ſaid the maid that is of the land of Iſrael.

5 And the king of Syria ſaid, Go to, go, and I will ſend a letter unto the king of Iſrael. And he departed, and took with him ten talents of ſilver, and ſix thouſand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment.

6 And he brought the letter to the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith ſent Naaman my ſervant to thee, that thou mayeſt recover him of his leproſy.

7 And it came to paſs, when the king of Iſrael had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and ſaid, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth ſend unto me to recover a man of his leproſy? wherefore conſider, I pray you, and ſee how he ſeeketh a quarrel againſt me.

8 ¶ And it was ſo, when Eliſha the man of God had heard that the king of Iſrael had rent his clothes, that he ſent to the king, ſaying, Wherefore haſt thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he ſhall know that there is a prophet in Iſrael.

9 So Naaman came with his horſes and his chariot, and ſtood at the door of the houſe of Eliſha.

10 And Eliſha ſent a meſſenger unto him, ſaying, Go and waſh in Jordan ſeven times, and thy fleſh ſhall come again to thee, and thou ſhalt be clean.

11 But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and ſaid, Behold, I thought, He will ſurely come out to me, and ſtand, and call on the name of the LORD his God, and ſtrike his hand over the place, and recover the leper.

12 Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damaſcus, better than all the waters of Iſrael? may I not waſh in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in a rage.

13 And his ſervants came near, and ſpake unto him, and ſaid, My father, if the prophet hath bid thee do Before CHRIST 891. ſome great thing, wouldeſt thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he ſaith to thee, Waſh, and be clean?

14 Then went he down, and dipped himſelf ſeven times in Jordan, according to the ſaying of the man of God: and his fleſh came again like unto the fleſh of a little child, and he was clean.

15 ¶ And he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came, and ſtood before him: and he ſaid, Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, but in Iſrael: now therefore, I pray thee, take a bleſſing of thy ſervant.

16 But he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will receive none. And he urged him to take it; but he refuſed.

17 And Naaman ſaid, Shall there not then, I pray thee, be given to thy ſervant two mules burden of earth? for thy ſervant will henceforth offer neither burnt offering nor ſacrifice unto other gods, but unto the LORD.

18 In this thing the LORD pardon thy ſervant, that when my maſter goeth into the houſe of Rimmon to worſhip there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I bow myſelf in the houſe of Rimmon: when I bow down myſelf in the houſe of Rimmon, the LORD pardon thy ſervant in this thing.

19 And he ſaid unto him, Go in peace. So he departed from him a little way.

20 ¶ But Gehazi, the ſervant of Eliſha the man of God, ſaid, Behold, my maſter hath ſpared Naaman this Syrian, in not receiving at his hands that which he brought: but, as the LORD liveth, I will run after him, and take ſomewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed after Naaman. And when Naaman ſaw him running after him, he lighted down from the chariot to meet him, and ſaid, Is all well?

22 And he ſaid, All is well. My maſter hath ſent me, ſaying, Behold, even now there be come to me from mount Ephraim two young men of the ſons of the prophets: give them, I pray thee, a talent of ſilver, and two changes of garments.

23 And Naaman ſaid, Be content, take two talents. And he urged him, and bound two talents of ſilver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and laid them upon two of his ſervants; and they bare them before him.

24 And when he came to the tower, he took them from their hand, and beſtowed them in the houſe: and he let the men go, and they departed.

25 But he went in, and ſtood before his maſter. And Eliſha ſaid unto him, Whence comeſt thou, Gehazi? And he ſaid, Thy ſervant went no whither.

26 And he ſaid unto him, Went not mine heart with thee, when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? Is it a time to receive money, and to receive garments, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and ſheep, and oxen, and menſervants, and maidſervants?

27 The leproſy therefore of Naaman ſhall cleave unto thee, and unto thy ſeed for ever. And he went out from his preſence a leper as white as ſnow.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

In the caſe of the Shunammite, we are ſhewn, how God afflicts his children in the moſt ſenſible manner, that he may afterwards give them ſtronger tokens of his love in delivering them; and that theſe afflictions ſerve to confirm them in the faith and fear of the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. V.

1 But he was a leper.] The leproſy was a great blemiſh to him, and there was no cure for this diſeaſe, which was very common in Syria.

7 He rent his clothes, and ſaid, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, &c.] He rent his clothes, not ſo much from affliction and trouble, as becauſe he looked upon this meſſage as blaſphemy, aſcribing that power to man, which belonged to God only.

16 But he refuſed.] Eliſha did not think it expedient, in his preſent circumſtances, to receive preſents, becauſe he thought it would make for the honour of the true God and religion, to let the Syrians ſee the generous piety, charity, and kindneſs, of his miniſters and ſervants, and how much they deſpiſed all that worldly wealth and glory which the prieſts or prophets of the Gentiles ſo greedily ſought after.

19 He ſaid unto him, Go in peace, &c.] When Naaman profeſſed himſelf a worſhipper of the moſt high God only, and declared withal, that his attending his maſter into the temple of Rimmon was not with any religious purpoſe, but purely in performance of the duty of his office, the prophet was authorized to bid him go in peace, or (as the word may import) to give himſelf no uneaſineſs about the matter.

27 The leproſy therefore of Naaman ſhall cleave unto thee, and unto thy ſeed for ever, &c.] Unto many generations, as the words "for ever," frequently ſignify.

CHAP. VI.

Before CHRIST 893. 1 The sons of the prophets get leave to enlarge their dwelling: Elisha causeth the iron to swim. 8 He discloseth and disappointeth the counsels of the king of Syria, 11 who sendeth troops to apprehend him in Dothan. 15 Elisha's servant is terrified at seeing them, but is encouraged by his master with a vision of horses and chariots of fire. 18 The Syrians, struck blind at Elisha's prayer, are conducted by him into the midst of Samaria, where they recover their sight, are kindly entertained, and dismissed in peace. 24 Ben-hadad besiegeth Samaria, which occasioneth a great famine. 26 Women eat their own children. 30 The king sendeth to slay Elisha.

AND the sons of the prophets said unto Elisha, Behold now, the place where we dwell with thee is too strait for us.

2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a beam, and let us make us a place there, where we may dwell. And he answered, Go ye.

3 And one said, Be content, I pray thee, and go with thy servants. And he answered, I will go.

4 So he went with them. And when they came to Jordan, they cut down wood.

5 But as one was felling a beam, the ax head fell into the water: and he cried, and said, Alas, master! for it was borrowed.

6 And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. And he cut down a stick, and cast it in thither; and the iron did swim.

7 Therefore said he, Take it up to thee. And he put out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Syria warred against Israel, and took counsel with his servants, saying, In such and such a place shall be my camp.

9 And the man of God sent unto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou pass not such a place; for thither the Syrians are come down.

10 And the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God told him and warned him of, and saved himself there, not once nor twice.

11 ¶ Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was sore troubled for this thing; and he called his servants, and said unto them, Will ye not shew me which of us is for the king of Israel?

12 And one of his servants said, None, my lord, O king: but Elisha, the prophet that is in Israel, telleth the king of Israel the words that thou speakest in thy bedchamber.

13 And he said, Go and spy where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And it was told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 Therefore sent he thither horses, and chariots, and a great host: and they came by night, and compassed the city about.

15 ¶ And when the servant of the man of God was risen early, and gone forth, behold, an host compassed the city, both with horses and chariots. And his servant said unto him, Alas, my master! how shall we do?

16 And he answered, Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them.

17 And Elisha prayed, and said, LORD, I pray thee, open his eyes that he may see. And the LORD opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha. Before CHRIST 893.

18 ¶ And when they came down to him, Elisha prayed unto the LORD, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness according to the word of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye seek. But he led them to Samaria.

20 And it came to pass, when they were come into Samaria, that Elisha said, LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see. And the LORD opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said unto Elisha, when he saw them, My father, shall I smite them? shall I smite them?

22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: wouldest thou smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow? set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their master.

23 And he prepared great provision for them: and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. So the bands of Syria came no more into the land of Israel.

24 ¶ And it came to pass after this, that Ben-hadad king of Syria gathered all his host, and went up, and besieged Samaria. 894.

25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and, behold, they besieged it, until an ass's head was sold for fourscore pieces of silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dove's dung for five pieces of silver.

26 ¶ And as the king of Israel was passing by upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, saying, Help, my lord, O king.

27 And he said, If the LORD do not help thee, whence shall I help thee? out of the barnfloor, or out of the winepress?

28 And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said unto me, Give thy son, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my son to morrow.

29 So we boiled my son, and did eat him: and I said unto her on the next day, Give thy son, that we may eat him: and she hath hid her son.

30 ¶ And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the woman, that he rent his clothes; and he passed by upon the wall, and the people looked, and, behold, he had sackcloth within upon his flesh.

31 Then he said, God do so and more also to me, if the head of Elisha the son of Shaphat shall stand on him this day.

32 But Elisha sat in his house, and the elders sat with him; and the king sent a man from before him: but ere the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, See ye how this son of a murderer hath sent to take away mine head? look, when the messenger cometh, shut the door, and hold him fast at the door; is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?

33 And while he yet talked with them, behold, the messenger came down unto him: and he said, Behold, this

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

From the story of Naaman we are taught to testify our gratitude to God, when he bestows any blessings upon us; and from what happened to Gehazi we learn, that God sees sins committed in secret, and will punish them; and that goods acquired by wicked means bring a curse with them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

2 A beam, &c.] A piece of timber.

13 Dothan.] A small city in the half tribe of Manasseh, and not far from Samaria.

17 The Lord opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw, &c.] As Elisha himself, without a peculiar vouchsafement of God, could not discern the heavenly host, which at this time encamped about him, so he requests of God, that, for the removal of his fears, and the confirmation of his faith, his servant might be indulged the same privilege.

25 An ass's head was sold for fourscore pieces of silver] About five pounds of our money.

Dove's dung, &c.] What is here rendered "dove's dung," should more properly have been translated, vetches, or pulse; a very ordinary sort of food, though sold at this dear rate.

32 This son of a murderer] He calls Jehoram the son of a murderer, because his father Ahab had murdered the prophets and Naboth.

Hold him fast at the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?] He foresaw, by the spirit of prophecy, that the king repented of what he had decreed, and was coming to revoke it.

CHAP. VII.

1 Eliſha propheſieth an extraordinary plenty ſuddenly to take place in Samaria, and ſheweth an unbelieving lord his unhappy doom. 3 Four lepers venture into the camp of the Syrians, and bring tidings of their haſty flight. 12 The king, fearing a ſtratagem, ſendeth out ſpies, and finding the report true ſpoileth the Syrian tents, which bringeth about the plenty foretold. 17 The unbelieving lord hath the charge of the gate, and being trodden to death verifieth the prophet's prediction.

THEN Eliſha ſaid, Hear ye the word of the LORD; Thus ſaith the LORD, To morrow about this time ſhall a meaſure of fine flour be ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a lord on whoſe hand the king leaned anſwered the man of God, and ſaid, Behold, if the LORD would make windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt not eat thereof.

3 ¶ And there were four leproſous men at the entering in of the gate: and they ſaid one to another, Why ſit we here until we die?

4 If we ſay, we will enter into the city, then the famine is in the city, and we ſhall die there: and if we ſit ſtill here, we die alſo. Now therefore come, and let us fall unto the hoſt of the Syrians: if they ſave us alive, we ſhall live; and if they kill us, we ſhall but die.

5 And they roſe up in the twilight, to go unto the camp of the Syrians: and when they were come to the uttermoſt part of the camp of Syria, behold, there was no man there.

6 For the LORD had made the hoſt of the Syrians to hear a noiſe of chariots, and a noiſe of horſes, even the noiſe of a great hoſt: and they ſaid one to another, Lo, the king of Iſrael hath hired againſt us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians to come upon us.

7 Wherefore they aroſe and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horſes, and their aſſes, even the camp as it was, and fled for their life.

8 And when theſe lepers came to the uttermoſt part of the camp, they went into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence ſilver, and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it; and came again, and entered into another tent, and carried thence alſo, and went and hid it.

9 Then they ſaid one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till the morning light, ſome miſchief will come upon us: now therefore come, that we may go and tell the king's houſhold.

10 So they came and called unto the porter of the city: and they told them, ſaying, We came to the camp of the Syrians, and, behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horſes tied, and aſſes tied, and the tents as they were.

11 And he called the porters; and they told it to the king's houſe within.

12 ¶ And the king aroſe in the night, and ſaid unto his ſervants, I will now ſhew you what the Syrians have done to us. They know that we be hungry; therefore are they gone out of the camp to hide themſelves in the field, ſaying, When they come out of the city, we ſhall catch them alive, and get into the city. Before CHRIST 892.

13 And one of his ſervants anſwered and ſaid, Let ſome take, I pray thee, five of the horſes that remain, which are left in the city, (behold, they are as all the multitude of Iſrael that are left in it: behold, I ſay, they are even as all the multitude of the Iſraelites that are conſumed:) and let us ſend and ſee.

14 They took therefore two chariot horſes: and the king ſent after the hoſt of the Syrians, ſaying, Go and ſee.

15 And they went after them unto Jordan: and, lo, all the way was full of garments and veſſels, which the Syrians had caſt away in their haſte. And the meſſengers returned, and told the king.

16 And the people went out, and ſpoiled the tents of the Syrians. So a meaſure of fine flour was ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, according to the word of the LORD.

17 ¶ And the king appointed the lord on whoſe hand he leaned to have the charge of the gate: and the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had ſaid, who ſpake when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to paſs as the man of God had ſpoken to the king, ſaying, Two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, and a meaſure of fine flour for a ſhekel, ſhall be to morrow about this time in the gate of Samaria:

19 And that lord anſwered the man of God, and ſaid, Now, behold, if the LORD ſhould make windows in heaven, might ſuch a thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt not eat thereof.

20 And ſo it fell out unto him: for the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The Shunammite, who to avoid the famine had by Eliſha's advice left her country ſeven years, ſueth to the king, and hath her land reſtored to her. 7 Hazael, ſent to enquire of Eliſha concerning Ben-hadad's ſickneſs, heareth from the prophet his own deſtination to the kingdom, and at his return killeth his maſter, and ſucceedeth him. 16 Jehoram reigneth wickedly in Judah. 20 Edom and Libnah revolt from him. 23 He dieth, and is ſucceeded by Ahaziah. 25 Ahaziah's wicked reign. 28 He aſſiſteth Joram king of Iſrael againſt Syria, and viſiteth him lying ſick of his wounds at Jezreel.

THEN ſpake Eliſha unto the woman, whoſe ſon he had reſtored to life, ſaying, Ariſe, and go thou and thine houſhold, and ſojourn whereſoever thou canſt ſojourn: for the LORD hath called for a famine; and it ſhall alſo come upon the land ſeven years. 891.

2 And the woman aroſe, and did after the ſaying of the man of God: and ſhe went with her houſhold, and ſojourned in the land of the Philiſtines ſeven years.

3 And it came to paſs at the ſeven years' end, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philiſtines: and ſhe went forth to cry unto the king for her houſe and for her land. 885.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

The miraculous protection that God vouchſafed to Eliſha, is a ſtriking proof of the care God takes of his faithful ſervants, and of thoſe that fear him, whom he has promiſed never to leave nor forſake utterly.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

1 A meaſure, &c.] About a peck of our meaſure.

2 If the Lord would make windows in heaven] He was incredulous, and ſeemed to ridicule what the prophet ſaid.

Thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt not eat thereof.] A juſt puniſhment of his infidelity; and ſuch will be the portion of thoſe who reject the offer of eternal life.

3 Four leprous men at the entering in of the gate, &c.] Though theſe lepers were thruſt out of the city, yet they got as near to the gate of it as they could, for fear of the enemy.

12 Therefore they are gone out of the camp to hide themſelves, &c.] His long ſufferings had made him ſuſpicious and cautious, and his conjecture was not improbable.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

From the extraordinary deliverance of Samaria, we may infer, that God has always ready the means of executing his promiſes, how difficult, or impoſſible ſoever, they may ſeem; and by the infidelity of the nobleman, we not only ſee that it is a ſin to mock at the word of God, but from his puniſhment may learn, that profane perſons, who attack the Almighty by profane or wicked ſpeeches, ſhall not eſcape the divine vengeance; but be fatally convinced, that God will fulfil all his promiſes and threatenings.

Before CHRIST 885. 4 And the king talked with Gehazi the ſervant of the man of God, ſaying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things that Eliſha hath done.

5 And it came to paſs, as he was telling the king how he had reſtored a dead body to life, that, behold, the woman, whoſe ſon he had reſtored to life, cried to the king for her houſe and for her land. And Gehazi ſaid, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her ſon, whom Eliſha reſtored to life.

6 And when the king aſked the woman, ſhe told him. So the king appointed unto her a certain officer, ſaying, Reſtore all that was her's, and all the fruits of the field ſince the day that ſhe left the land, even until now.

7 ¶ And Eliſha came to Damaſcus; and Ben-hadad the king of Syria was ſick: and it was told him, ſaying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king ſaid unto Hazael, Take a preſent in thine hand, and go, meet the man of God, and enquire of the LORD by him, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

9 So Hazael went to meet him, and took a preſent with him, even of every good thing of Damaſcus, forty camels' burden, and came and ſtood before him, and ſaid, Thy ſon Ben-hadad king of Syria hath ſent me to thee, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

10 And Eliſha ſaid unto him, Go, ſay unto him, Thou mayeſt certainly recover: howbeit the LORD hath ſhewed me that he ſhall ſurely die.

11 And he ſettled his countenance ſtedfaſtly, until he was aſhamed: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael ſaid, Why weepeth my lord? And he anſwered, Becauſe I know the evil that thou wilt do unto the children of Iſrael: their ſtrong holds wilt thou ſet on fire, and their young men wilt thou ſlay with the ſword, and wilt daſh their children, and rip up their women with child.

13 And Hazael ſaid, But what, is thy ſervant a dog that he ſhould do this great thing? And Eliſha anſwered, The LORD hath ſhewed me that thou ſhalt be king over Syria.

14 So he departed from Eliſha, and came to his maſter; who ſaid to him, What ſaid Eliſha to thee? And he anſwered, He told me that thou ſhouldeſt ſurely recover.

15 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and ſpread it on his face, ſo that he died: and Hazael reigned in his ſtead.

892. 16 ¶ And in the fifth year of Joram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael, Jehoſhaphat being then king of Judah, Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah began to reign.

17 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, as did the houſe of Ahab: for the daughter of Ahab was his wife: and he did evil in the ſight of the LORD.

19 Yet the LORD would not deſtroy Judah for David his ſervant's ſake, as he promiſed him to give him alway a light, and to his children.

20 ¶ In his days Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over themſelves. Before CHRIST 892.

21 So Joram went over to Zair, and all the chariots with him: and he roſe by night, and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him about, and the captains of the chariots: and the people fled into their tents.

22 Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. Then Libnah revolted at the ſame time.

23 ¶ And the reſt of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

24 And Joram ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Ahaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

25 ¶ In the twelfth year of Joram, the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael did Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah begin to reign. 885.

26 Two and twenty years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign; and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Athaliah, the daughter of Omri king of Iſrael.

27 And he walked in the way of the houſe of Ahab, and did evil in the ſight of the LORD, as did the houſe of Ahab: for he was the ſon in law of the houſe of Ahab.

28 ¶ And he went with Joram the ſon of Ahab to the war againſt Hazael king of Syria in Ramoth-gilead; and the Syrians wounded Joram. 884.

29 And king Joram went back to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him at Ramah, when he fought againſt Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah went down to ſee Joram the ſon of Ahab in Jezreel, becauſe he was ſick.

CHAP. IX.

1 Eliſha ſendeth a young prophet to Ramoth-gilead to anoint Jehu. 4 The prophet acquitteth himſelf of his commiſſion, and fleeth. 11 Jehu acquainteth the other officers with the matter, is proclaimed king by them, and preventeth the news going before him to Jezreel. 16 Jehu meeteth Joram and Ahaziah by the way, and killeth Joram, who is caſt into the field of Naboth. 27 Ahaziah is ſlain at Gur, and buried at Jeruſalem. 30 Jezebel, looking out of a window at Jehu's entry into Jezreel, is thrown down into the ſtreet, and eaten by dogs according to Elijah's prediction.

AND Eliſha the prophet called one of the children of the prophets, and ſaid unto him, Gird up thy loins, and take this box of oil in thine hand, and go to Ramoth-gilead:

2 And when thou comeſt thither, look out there Jehu the ſon of Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Nimſhi, and go in, and make him ariſe up from among his brethren, and carry him to an inner chamber;

3 Then take the box of oil, and pour it on his head, and ſay, Thus ſaith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Iſrael. Then open the door, and flee, and tarry not.

4 ¶ So the young man, even the young man the prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

4 The king talked with Gehazi, &c.] To account for this conference, we may ſuppoſe, that Gehazi, upon his repentance, was reſtored to health, or might ſpeak with the king at a due diſtance, as he was walking in the field, and deſiring a relation of Eliſha's miracles.

11 He ſettled his countenance ſtedfaſtly until he was aſhamed, &c.] He looked upon Hazael ſo long, with a ſettled countenance, that Hazael was aſhamed.

12 And rip up their women with child.] This was the higheſt degree of brutal cruelty; and yet it has been often known, that, in the heat of execution, that barbarity has been committed.

14 He told me that thou ſhouldeſt ſurely recover.] Eliſha did not ſay that Ben hadad ſhould ſurely recover, but that he might recover, his diſeaſe being in itſelf not mortal.

15 He took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and ſpread it on his face, ſo that he died, &c.] This he did, that no ſigns of violence might appear upon him; for had the people in the leaſt ſuſpected his being murdered, Hazael would not ſo eaſily have acceded to the throne.

26 The daughter of Omri, &c.] Athaliah was the daughter of Ahab, and grand-daughter of Omri: ſhe might be called the daughter of Omri, perhaps, becauſe ſhe was brought up and educated by him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

From the bloody treachery of Hazael, we may be led to conſider, that though God is not the author of evils, yet nothing happens without his permiſſion, and that divine Providence makes uſe of the wicked to puniſh his enemies, and execute his judgments.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

2 From among his brethren, &c.] From the other officers of the army.

3 I have anointed thee, &c.] Anointing was of kings, prieſts, and prophets; which were all figures of the Meſſiah, in whom theſe three officers were united and accompliſhed.

5 And when he came, behold, the captains of the hoſt were ſitting; and he ſaid, I have an errand to thee, O captain. And Jehu ſaid, Unto which of all us? And he ſaid, To thee, O captain.

6 And he aroſe, and went into the houſe; and he poured the oil on his head, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, I have anointed thee king over the people of the LORD, even over Iſrael.

7 And thou ſhalt ſmite the houſe of Ahab thy maſter, that I may avenge the blood of my ſervants the prophets, and the blood of all the ſervants of the LORD, at the hand of Jezebel.

8 For the whole houſe of Ahab ſhall periſh: and I will cut off from Ahab him that piſſeth againſt the wall, and him that is ſhut up and left in Iſrael:

9 And I will make the houſe of Ahab like the houſe of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, and like the houſe of Baaſha the ſon of Ahijah:

10 And the dogs ſhall eat Jezebel in the portion of Jezreel, and there ſhall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Jehu came forth to the ſervants of his lord: and one ſaid unto him, Is all well? wherefore came this mad fellow to thee? And he ſaid unto them, Ye know the man, and his communication.

12 And they ſaid, It is falſe; tell us now. And he ſaid, Thus and thus ſpake he to me, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Iſrael.

13 Then they haſted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the ſtairs, and blew with trumpets, ſaying, Jehu is king.

14 So Jehu the ſon of Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Nimſhi, conſpired againſt Joram. (Now Joram had kept Ramoth-gilead, he and all Iſrael, becauſe of Hazael king of Syria.

15 But king Joram was returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria.) And Jehu ſaid, If it be your minds, then let none go forth nor eſcape out of the city to go to tell it in Jezreel.

16 ¶ So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Jezreel; for Joram lay there. And Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to ſee Joram.

17 And there ſtood a watchman on the tower in Jezreel, and he ſpied the company of Jehu as he came, and ſaid, I ſee a company. And Joram ſaid, Take an horſeman, and ſend to meet them, and let him ſay, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horſeback to meet him, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu ſaid, What haſt thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me. And the watchman told, ſaying, The meſſenger came to them, but he cometh not again.

19 Then he ſent out a ſecond on horſeback, which came to them, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu anſwered, What haſt thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, ſaying, He came even unto them, and cometh not again: and the driving is like the driving of Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi; for he driveth furiouſly.

21 And Joram ſaid, Make ready. And his chariot was made ready. And Joram king of Iſrael and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out againſt Jehu, and met him in the portion of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 And it came to paſs, when Joram ſaw Jehu, that he ſaid, Is it peace, Jehu? And he anſwered, What peace, ſo long as the whoredoms of thy mother Jezebel and her witchcrafts are ſo many. Before CHRIST 884.

23 And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and ſaid to Ahaziah, There is treachery, O Ahaziah.

24 And Jehu drew a bow with his full ſtrength, and ſmote Jehoram betwixt his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he ſunk down in his chariot.

25 Then ſaid Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and caſt him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember how that, when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the LORD laid this burden upon him:

26 Surely, I have ſeen yeſterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his ſons, ſaith the LORD; and I will requite thee in this plat, ſaith the LORD. Now therefore take and caſt him into the plat of ground, according to the word of the LORD.

27 ¶ But when Ahaziah the king of Judah ſaw this, he fled by the way of the garden houſe. And Jehu followed after him, and ſaid, Smite him alſo in the chariot. And they did ſo, at the going up of Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to Megiddo, and died there.

28 And his ſervants carried him in a chariot to Jeruſalem, and buried him in his ſepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

29 And in the eleventh year of Joram the ſon of Ahab began Ahaziah to reign over Judah. 886

30 ¶ And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it; and ſhe painted her face, and tired her head, and looked out at a window. 884.

31 And as Jehu entered in at the gate, ſhe ſaid, Had Zimri peace, who ſlew his maſter?

32 And he lifted up his face to the window, and ſaid, Who is on my ſide? who? And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs.

33 And he ſaid, Throw her down. So they threw her down: and ſome of her blood was ſprinkled on the wall, and on the horſes: and he trode her under foot.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and ſaid, Go, ſee now this curſed woman, and bury her: for ſhe is a king's daughter.

35 And they went to bury her: but they found no more of her than the ſcull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again, and told him. And he ſaid, This is the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by his ſervant Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, In the portion of Jezreel ſhall dogs eat the fleſh of Jezebel:

37 And the carcaſe of Jezebel ſhall be as dung upon the face of the field in the portion of Jezreel; ſo that they ſhall not ſay, This is Jezebel.

CHAP. X.

1 Jehu by his letters cauſeth Ahab's ſeventy ſons to be ſlain in Samaria. 8 He excuſeth the fact by the prophecy of Elijah, and Ahab's kindred and friends in Jezreel. 12 In his way to Samaria he ſlayeth two and forty of Ahaziah's brethren. 15 He taketh Jehonadab in the chariot with him, and deſtroyeth all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria. 18 By ſubtilty he ſlayeth at once all Baal's worſhippers; and breaketh down his images and houſe. 29 Jehu followeth the ſins of Jeroboam, but for having

17 There ſtood a watchman on the tower in Jezreel.] In time of peace, as well as war, it was cuſtomary to have watchmen ſet on high places, wherever the king was, to prevent his being ſurprized.

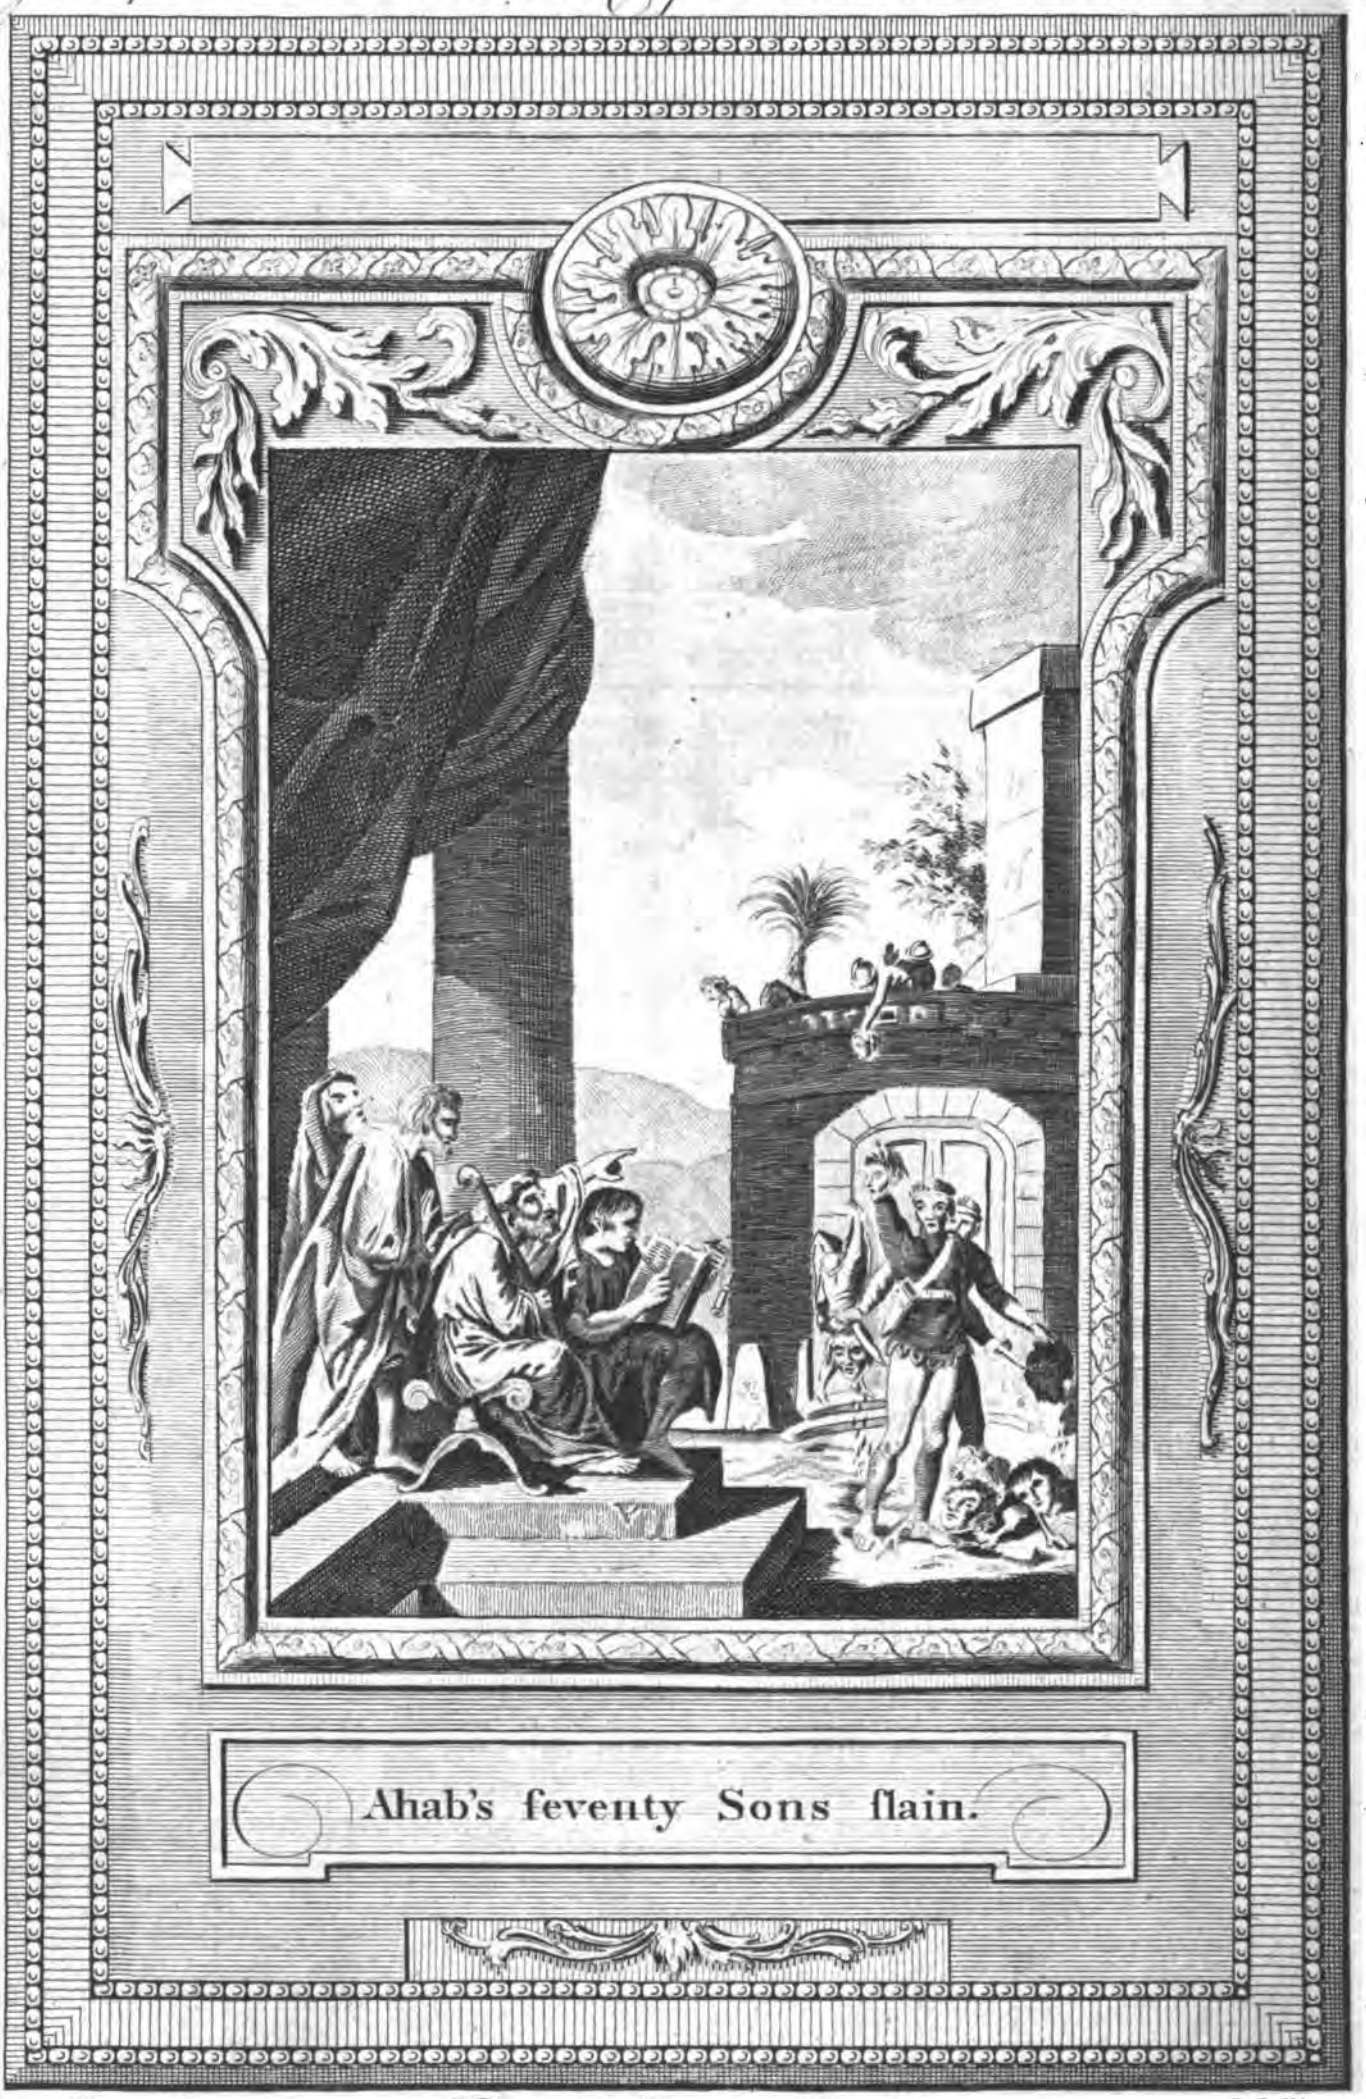
30 She painted her face, &c.] Jezebel did not thus adorn herſelf to tempt Jehu with her beauty, but to keep up her dignity and ſtate, being a woman of inſufferable pride and haughtineſs.



GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

From the above examples let us acknowledge that the curſe of God purſues wicked princes, and in general all the ungodly; that it cleaves to families where impiety reigns, and that the threatenings of God never fall to the ground unfulfilled.

having executed God's judgments on Ahab's house, is promised the continuance of the kingdom in his family to the fourth generation. 32 Hazael smiteth Israel. 34 Jehu dieth; his son Jehoahaz succeedeth him.

AND Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria, unto the rulers of Jezreel, to the elders, and to them that brought up Ahab's children, saying,

2 Now as soon as this letter cometh to you, seeing your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, a fenced city also, and armour;

3 Look even out the best and meetest of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, Behold, two kings stood not before him: how then shall we stand?

5 And he that was over the house, and he that was over the city, the elders also, and the bringers up of the children, sent to Jehu, saying, We are thy servants, and will do all that thou shalt bid us; we will not make any king: do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote a letter the second time to them, saying, If ye be mine, and if ye will hearken unto my voice, take ye the heads of the men your master's sons, and come to me to Jezreel by to morrow this time. Now the king's sons, being seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up.

7 And it came to pass when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and slew seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets, and sent him them to Jezreel.

8 ¶ And there came a messenger, and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. And he said, Lay ye them in two heaps at the entering in of the gate until the morning.

9 And it came to pass in the morning that he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slew all these?

10 Know now that there shall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the LORD, which the LORD spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the LORD hath done that which he spake by his servant Elijah.

11 So Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men, and his kinsfolks, and his priests, until he left him none remaining.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed, and came to Samaria. And as he was at the shearing house in the way,

13 Jehu met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Judah, and said, Who are ye? And they answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah; and we go down to salute the children of the king and the children of the queen.

14 And he said, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and slew them at the pit of the shearing house, even two and forty men; neither left he any of them.

15 And when he was departed thence, he lighted on Jehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him: and he saluted him, and said to him, Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jehonadab answered, It is. If it be, give me thine hand. And he gave him his hand; and he took him up to him into the chariot.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see my zeal for the LORD. So they made him ride in his chariot. Before CHRIST 884.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroyed him, according to the saying of the LORD, which he spake to Elijah.

18 ¶ And Jehu gathered all the people together, and said unto them, Ahab served Baal a little; but Jehu shall serve him much.

19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests; let none be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to do to Baal; whosoever shall be wanting, he shall not live. But Jehu did it in subtilty, to the intent that he might destroy the worshippers of Baal.

20 And Jehu said, Proclaim a solemn assembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Jehu sent through all Israel: and all the worshippers of Baal came, so that there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal; and the house of Baal was full from one end to another.

22 And he said unto him that was over the vestry, Bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Baal. And he brought them forth vestments.

23 And Jehu went, and Jehonadab the son of Rechab, into the house of Baal, and said unto the worshippers of Baal, Search, and look that there be here with you none of the servants of the LORD, but the worshippers of Baal only.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings, Jehu appointed fourscore men without, and said, If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands escape, he that letteth him go, his life shall be for the life of him.

25 And it came to pass, as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, that Jehu said to the guard and to the captains, Go in, and slay them; let none come forth. And they smote them with the edge of the sword; and the guards and the captains cast them out, and went to the city of the house of Baal.

26 And they brought forth the images out of the house of Baal, and burned them.

27 And they brake down the image of Baal, and brake down the house of Baal, and made it a draught house unto this day.

28 Thus Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 ¶ Howbeit from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, Jehu departed not from after them, to wit, the golden calves that were in Bethel, and that were in Dan.

30 And the LORD said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel.

31 But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the LORD God of Israel with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin.

32 ¶ In those days the LORD began to cut Israel short: and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel; 860.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

6 Take ye the heads of the men your master's sons, &c.] By murdering Ahab's kinsmen, Jehu thought to unite the rulers and elders to his interest, and in a great measure justify, or at least lessen, the odium of his own cruel and perfidious act.

7 And slew seventy persons.] Rather, as in the old translation, slew "the seventy persons."

9 Behold, I conspired against my master and slew him, but who slew all these?] As if he had said, I own indeed that I was a great instrument in taking off the late king: but am I more culpable than are the friends, counsellors, and officers of Ahab?

13 The brethren of Ahaziah, &c.] His brother's sons, as it is explained, in 2 Chron. xxii. 8.

15 He lighted on Jehonadab the son of Rechab] A very pious and prudent person (see Jer. xxv. 6, 7.) who came to congratulate Jehu, upon his happiness in fulfilling God's commands, and to encourage him to proceed in the extirpation of idolatry.

It is.] In the Hebrew the expression is double, Yes, yes; importing a vehement affection.

19 All his servants, &c.] Those who ministered with the priests in the worship of Baal.

21 All the worshippers of Baal, &c.] All that remained; for Hazael had slain many, and Jehoram had put away his image.

25 The city of the house of Baal.] Great buildings adjoining to his temple, where the prophets and priests lived.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned over Iſrael in Samaria was twenty and eight years.

CHAP. XI.

1 Jehoaſh, ſaved by Jehoſheba his aunt from the general maſſacre of the royal family of Judah by Athaliah, is concealed ſix years in the houſe of the LORD. 4 In the ſeventh year Jehoiada the high prieſt, having taken meaſures for his ſecurity, bringeth him forth, and crowneth him. 13 Athaliah preſſing forward into the temple is ſeized and ſlain. 17 Jehoiada reſtoreth the worſhip of God, aboliſheth that of Baal, and fixeth the king on his throne to the great joy of the people.

884. AND when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal.

2 But Jehoſheba, the daughter of king Joram, ſiſter of Ahaziah, took Joaſh the ſon of Ahaziah, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons which were ſlain; and they hid him, even him and his nurſe, in the bedchamber from Athaliah, ſo that he was not ſlain.

3 And he was with her hid in the houſe of the LORD ſix years. And Athaliah did reign over the land.

878. 4 ¶ And the ſeventh year Jehoiada ſent and fetched the rulers over hundreds, with the captains and the guard, and brought them to him into the houſe of the LORD, and made a covenant with them, and took an oath of them in the houſe of the LORD. and ſhewed them the king's ſon.

5 And he commanded them, ſaying, This is the thing that ye ſhall do; A third part of you that enter in on the ſabbath, ſhall even be keepers of the watch of the king's houſe;

6 And a third part ſhall be at the gate of Sur: and a third part at the gate behind the guard: ſo ſhall ye keep the watch of the houſe, that it be not broken down.

7 And two parts of all you that go forth on the ſabbath, even they ſhall keep the watch of the houſe of the LORD about the king.

8 And ye ſhall compaſs the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and he that cometh within the ranges, let him be ſlain: and be ye with the king as he goeth out and as he cometh in.

9 And the captains over the hundreds did according to all things that Jehoiada the prieſt commanded: and they took every man his men that were to come in on the ſabbath, with them that ſhould go out on the ſabbath, and came to Jehoiada the prieſt.

10 And to the captains over hundreds did the prieſt give king David's ſpears and ſhields, that were in the temple of the LORD.

11 And the guard ſtood, every man with his weapons in his hand, round about the king, from the right corner of the temple to the left corner of the temple, along by the altar and the temple.

12 And he brought forth the king's ſon, and put the crown upon him, and gave him the teſtimony; and they made him king, and anointed him; and they clapped their hands, and ſaid, God ſave the king. Before CHRIST 878.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noiſe of the guard and of the people, ſhe came to the people into the temple of the LORD.

14 And when ſhe looked, behold, the king ſtood by a pillar, as the manner was, and the princes and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew with trumpets: and Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treaſon, Treaſon.

15 But Jehoiada the prieſt commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the hoſt, and ſaid unto them, Have her forth without the ranges: and him that followeth her kill with the ſword. For the prieſt had ſaid, Let her not be ſlain in the houſe of the LORD.

16 And they laid hands on her; and ſhe went by the way by the which the horſes came into the king's houſe; and there was ſhe ſlain.

17 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD and the king and the people, that they ſhould be the LORD's people; between the king alſo and the people.

18 And all the people of the land went into the houſe of Baal, and brake it down; his altars and his images brake they in pieces throughly, and ſlew Mattan the prieſt of Baal before the altars. And the prieſt appointed officers over the houſe of the LORD.

19 And he took the rulers over hundreds, and the captains, and the guard, and all the people of the land; and they brought down the king from the houſe of the LORD, and came by the way of the gate of the guard to the king's houſe. And he ſat on the throne of the kings.

20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was in quiet: and they ſlew Athaliah with the ſword beſide the king's houſe.

21 Seven years old was Jehoaſh when he began to reign.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jehoaſh reigneth well ſo long as Jehoiada liveth. 4 The repair of the houſe of the LORD having been firſt left to the prieſts, and neglected, Jehoaſh provideth more effectually for it. 17 Hazael is diverted from his deſign againſt Jeruſalem by a preſent out of the hallowed and royal treaſures. 19 Jehoaſh is ſlain by a conſpiracy of his ſervants: Amaziah ſucceedeth him.

IN the ſeventh year of Jehu Jehoaſh began to reign; and forty years reigned he in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Zibiah of Beer-ſheba.

2 And Jehoaſh did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD all his days wherein Jehoiada the prieſt inſtructed him.

3 But the high places were not taken away: the people ſtill ſacrificed and burnt incenſe in the high places.

4 ¶ And Jehoaſh ſaid to the prieſts, All the money of the dedicated things that is brought into the houſe of the LORD, even the money of every one that paſſeth the account, the money that every man is ſet at, and all the money that cometh into any man's heart to bring into the houſe of the LORD,

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1 Deſtroyed all the ſeed royal.] The whole offspring of Jeroboam, Baaſha, and Ahab, kings of Iſrael, was cut off for their idolatry: the kings of Judah were ſo deſtroyed by three ſucceſſive maſſacres, that there was but one left: for, firſt, Jehoram ſlew all his brethren; then Jehu ſlew all his brother's children; and now Athaliah deſtroys all the reſt that her executioners could meet with.

5 A third part of you that enter in on the ſabbath, &c.] Theſe words were certainly ſpoken to the prieſts and Levites, who took their turns in their attendance at the temple, and their courſe was finiſhed in the ſpace of a week.

6 The gate behind the guard, &c.] The ſouth gate, which looked towards the royal palace.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

From the caſe of Athaliah, we may learn, that God often permits the wicked to ſucceed for a time, though he is ſure to puniſh them in the end; from that of Joaſh, that all the promiſes of God are truth; and from the fatal end of Athaliah, that no length of time can ſcreen the wicked from the juſt judgments of an offended God.

Before CHRIST 878. 5 Let the priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance: and let them repair the breaches of the house, wheresoever any breach shall be found.

856. 6 But it was so, that in the three and twentieth year of king Jehoash the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.

7 Then king Jehoash called for Jehoiada the priest, and the other priests, and said unto them, Why repair ye not the breaches of the house? now therefore receive no more money of your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the house.

8 And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the breaches of the house.

9 But Jehoiada the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side as one cometh into the house of the LORD: and the priests that kept the door put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the LORD.

10 And it was so, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest came up, and they put up in bags, and told the money that was found in the house of the LORD.

11 And they gave the money, being told, into the hands of them that did the work, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD: and they laid it out to the carpenters and builders, that wrought upon the house of the LORD.

12 And to masons, and hewers of stone, and to buy timber and hewed stone to repair the breaches of the house of the LORD, and for all that was laid out for the house to repair it.

13 Howbeit there were not made for the house of the LORD bowls of silver, snuffers, basons, trumpets, any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the LORD:

14 But they gave that to the workmen, and repaired therewith the house of the LORD.

15 Moreover they reckoned not with the men, into whose hand they delivered the money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The trespass money and sin money was not brought into the house of the LORD: it was the priests'.

840. 17 ¶ Then Hazael king of Syria went up, and fought against Gath, and took it: and Hazael set his face to go up to Jerusalem.

18 And Jehoash king of Judah took all the hallowed things that Jehoshaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah, his fathers, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own hallowed things, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and in the king's house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria: and he went away from Jerusalem.

19 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

839. 20 And his servants arose, and made a conspiracy, and slew Joash in the house of Millo, which goeth down to Silla.

21 For Jozachar the son of Shimeath, and Jehozabad the son of Shomer, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XIII.

Jehoahaz reigneth wickedly over Israel. 3 Israel oppressed by Hazael is relieved at the prayer of Jehoahaz. 8 Jehoahaz dieth; Joash succeedeth him. 10 His bad reign. 14 Elisha visited on his death bed by Joash promiseth him three victories over the Syrians, whose overthrow had been complete but for the king's fault. 20 Elisha dieth; the Moabites invade the land; on whose appearance a dead man being cast into Elisha's grave is raised to life on touching his bones. 22 Hazael, who had oppressed Israel, dying, Joash thrice defeateth Benhadad, and recovereth the cities taken by Hazael.

Before CHRIST 856. IN the three and twentieth year of Joash the son of Ahaziah king of Judah Jehoahaz the son of Jehu began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned seventeen years.

2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin; he departed not therefrom.

3 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was kindled against 849. Israel, and he delivered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Ben-hadad the son of Hazael, all their days.

4 And Jehoahaz besought the LORD, and the LORD 842. hearkened unto him: for he saw the oppression of Israel, because the king of Syria oppressed them.

5 (And the LORD gave Israel a saviour, so that they went out from under the hand of the Syrians: and the children of Israel dwelt in their tents, as beforetime.

6 Nevertheless they departed not from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who made Israel sin, but walked therein: and there remained the grove also in Samaria.)

7 Neither did he leave of the people to Jehoahaz but fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen; for the king of Syria had destroyed them, and had made them like the dust by threshing.

8 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers; and they 839. buried him in Samaria: and Joash his son reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In the thirty and seventh year of Joash king 841. of Judah began Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteen years.

11 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD; he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel sin: but he walked therein.

12 And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, and his might wherewith he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers; and Jeroboam 825. sat upon his throne: and Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ Now Elisha was fallen sick of his sickness 839. whereof he died. And Joash the king of Israel came down unto him, and wept over his face, and said, O my father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof.

15 And Elisha said unto him, Take bow and arrows. And he took unto him bow and arrows.

16 And he said to the king of Israel, Put thine hand upon the bow. And he put his hand upon it: and Elisha put his hands upon the king's hands.

17 And he said, Open the window eastward. And he

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

13 There were not made for the house of the Lord bowls of silver, snuffers, basons, &c.] Though these were wanting, yet the money was limited to the repairs of the house; and the king ordered, that no vessel of any sort should be bought for the temple, till the temple itself was put into a good condition.

15 They reckoned not with the men, &c.] They were so confident of the honesty of the overseers, that they took no account of the money they had paid the workmen, who also were men of integrity.

21 His servants, smote him, and he died, &c.] They were friends of Jehoiada, who took this revenge upon Joash for the death of Zechariah the son of Jehoiada, as is expressly said, 2 Chron. xxiv. 25. No. 30.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

The conduct of Jehoiada should teach us, as he also intimated to the people, that in all our offerings of a religious or charitable nature, we should come to the altar of God with a willing mind; and from the catastrophe of Joash, we may learn, that the divine vengeance will sooner or later overtake those who reject good counsel, and forsake the worship of the true God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIII.

5 The Lord gave Israel a saviour, &c.] The LXX. read, The Lord gave Israel a deliverance.

Before CHRIST 839. he opened it. Then Elisha said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, The arrow of the LORD's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria: for thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphek, till thou have consumed them.

18 And he said, take the arrows. And he took them. And he said unto the king of Israel, Smite upon the ground. And he smote thrice, and stayed.

19 And the man of God was wroth with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times; then hadst thou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Syria but thrice.

838. 20 ¶ And Elisha died, and they buried him. And the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.

21 And it came to pass, as they were burying a man, that, behold, they spied a band of men; and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha: and when the man was let down, and touched the bones of Elisha, he revived, and stood up on his feet.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz.

23 And the LORD was gracious unto them, and had compassion on them, and had respect unto them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from his presence as yet.

839. 24 So Hazael king of Syria died; and Ben-hadad his son reigned in his stead.

25 And Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz took again out of the hand of Ben-hadad the son of Hazael the cities, which he had taken out of the hand of Jehoahaz his 836. father by war. Three times did Joash beat him, and recovered the cities of Israel.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Amaziah's good reign. 5 His justice in punishing his father's murderers. 7 He smiteth Edom in the valley of salt. 8 His imprudent challenge to the king of Israel: Joash sheweth him the folly of it, but, finding him obstinate, defeateth him, and, breaking down the wall of Jerusalem, carrieth away the treasures found in it. 15 Jehoash dieth, and is succeeded by Jeroboam. 17 Amaziah is slain by a conspiracy. 21 The people of Judah make his son Azariah king, who buildeth Elath. 23 Jeroboam's bad reign: he recovereth the coast of Israel. 28 He dieth: Zachariah succeedeth him.

839. IN the second year of Joash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel reigned Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah.

2 He was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

3 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, yet not like David his father: he did according to all things as Joash his father did.

4 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: as yet the people did sacrifice and burnt incense on the high places.

5 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, that he slew his servants which had slain the king his father.

6 But the children of the murderers he slew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the law of Moses, wherein the LORD commanded, saying, Before CHRIST 839. The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall be put to death for his own sin.

7 ¶ He slew of Edom in the valley of salt ten thousand, and took Selah by war, and called the name of 827. it Joktheel unto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash, the son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, Come, let us look one another in the face.

9 And Jehoash the king of Israel sent to Amaziah 826. king of Judah, saying, The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and there passed by a wild beast that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thistle.

10 Thou hast indeed smitten Edom, and thine heart hath lifted thee up: glory of this, and tarry at home: for why shouldest thou meddle to thy hurt, that thou shouldest fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

11 But Amaziah would not hear. Therefore Jehoash king of Israel went up; and he and Amaziah king of Judah looked one another in the face at Beth-shemesh, which belongeth to Judah.

12 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel; and they fled every man to their tents.

13 And Jehoash king of Israel took Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash the son of Ahaziah, at Beth-shemesh, and came to Jerusalem, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim unto the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

14 And he took all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the king's house, and hostages, and returned to Samaria.

15 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoash which he 825. did, and his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

16 And Jehoash slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel; and Jeroboam his son reigned in his stead.

17 ¶ And Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah lived after the death of Jehoash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel fifteen years.

18 And the rest of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

19 Now they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem: and he fled to Lachish; but they sent after him to Lachish, and slew him there.

20 And they brought him on horses: and he was buried at Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David. 810.

21 ¶ And all the people of Judah took Azariah, which was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amaziah.

22 He built Elath, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of 825. Joash king of Judah Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel began to reign in Samaria, and reigned forty and one years.

24 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin.

25 He restored the coast of Israel from the entering of 21 He revived, and stood up on his feet.] By this miracle God did the highest honour to his prophet, and confirmed both the truth of what he had promised the king, and the belief of a future life.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

This account of the death of Elisha, after he had fulfilled the work of his ministry, should teach us to consider, that if we are the real servants of God, he will neither forget nor forsake us; but place us, at last, in a state of everlasting happiness.

810. IN the twenty and ſeventh year of Jeroboam king of Iſrael began Azariah ſon of Amaziah king of Judah to reign.

2 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Jecholiah of Jeruſalem.

3 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah had done;

4 Save that the high places were not removed: the people ſacrificed and burnt incenſe ſtill on the high places.

5 ¶ And the LORD ſmote the king, ſo that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a ſeveral houſe. And Jotham the king's ſon was over the houſe, judging the people of the land.

765. 6 And the reſt of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

758. 7 So Azariah ſlept with his fathers; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Jotham his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

783. 8 ¶ In the thirty and eighth year of Ahaziah king of Judah did Zachariah the ſon of Jeroboam reign over Iſrael in Samaria ſix months.

9 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as his fathers had done: he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

772. 10 And Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him before the people, and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead.

12 This was the word of the LORD which he ſpake unto Jehu, ſaying, Thy ſons ſhall ſit on the throne of Iſrael unto the fourth generation. And ſo it came to paſs.

13 ¶ Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of Uzziah king of Judah; and he reigned a full month in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the ſon of Gadi went up from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and ſmote Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh in Samaria: and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead.

15 And the reſt of the acts of Shallum, and his conſpiracy which he made, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

16 ¶ Then Menahem ſmote Tiphſah, and all that were therein, and the coaſts thereof from Tirzah: becauſe they opened not to him, therefore he ſmote it; and all the women that were with child he ripped up.

17 ¶ In the nine and thirtieth year of Azariah king of Judah began Menahem the ſon of Gadi to reign over Iſrael, and reigned ten years in Samaria.

18 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD: he departed not all his days from the ſins of Jeroboam, the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

771. 19 ¶ And Pul the king of Aſſyria came againſt the land: and Menahem gave Pul a thouſand talents of ſilver, that his hand might be with him to confirm the kingdom in his hand.

20 And Menahem exacted the money of Iſrael, even of all the mighty men of wealth, of each man fifty ſhekels of ſilver, to give to the king of Aſſyria. So the king of Aſſyria turned back, and ſtayed not there in the land.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

From the hiſtory of Uzziah, we learn, that he was a pious prince, and proſpered while he ſought God, and followed the counſels of his prophet; but being puffed up by proſperity, he aſſumes the prieſt's office, and was puniſhed with leproſy.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XV.

1 In the twenty and ſeventh year, &c.] It is ſuppoſed that there was an interregnum of eleven or twelve years before the death of Azariah, and the inauguration of his ſon, who at four years old was committed to the guardianſhip of the grandees of the nation till he was ſixteen, when they placed him on the throne of his anceſtors, in the twenty-ſeventh year of Jeroboam.

5 And Jotham the king's ſon was over the houſe, &c.] Azariah continued a leper twenty-five years, during all which time Jotham took upon him the adminiſtration of the government, his father being incapable of it.

12 And ſo it came to paſs, &c.] How unfaithful ſoever they proved to God, he faithfully kept his promiſe which he made to Jehu, and continued the crown of Iſrael in his family for four generations, as Jehoahaz, Joaſh, Jehoram, and Zachariah ſucceeded him.

32 ¶ In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel began Jotham the son of Uzziah king of Judah to reign.

758. 33 Five and twenty years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jerusha, the daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD: he did according to all that his father Uzziah had done.

35 Howbeit the high places were not removed: the people sacrificed and burned incense still in the high places. He built the higher gate of the house of the LORD.

36 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

742. 37 In those days the LORD began to send against Judah Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah.

38 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Ahaz reigneth very wickedly. 5 Rezin and Pekah make war against him. 7 He hireth Tiglath-pileser against them, who taketh Damascus, and slayeth Rezin. 10 Ahaz causeth a new altar to be made for burnt offerings after a pattern sent by him from Damascus, and setteth aside the brasen altar for his private use. 17 He spoileth the temple of its ornaments for a present to the king of Assyria. 19 He dieth: Hezekiah succeedeth him.

IN the seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah Ahaz the son of Jotham king of Judah began to reign.

2 Twenty years old was Ahaz when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and did not that which was right in the sight of the LORD his God, like David his father.

3 But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abomination of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Israel.

4 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 ¶ Then Rezin king of Syria and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel came up to Jerusalem to war: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome him.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria recovereth Elath to Syria, and drave the Jews from Elath: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt there unto this day.

740. 7 ¶ So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, which rise up against me. Before CHRIST 740.

8 And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the king's house, and sent it for a present to the king of Assyria.

9 And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin.

10 ¶ And king Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus: and king Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it, according to all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Urijah the priest built an altar according to all that king Ahaz had sent from Damascus: so Urijah the priest made it against king Ahaz came from Damascus.

12 And when the king was come from Damascus, the king saw the altar: and the king approached to the altar, and offered thereon.

13 And he burnt his burnt offering and his meat offering, and poured his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings, upon the altar.

14 And he brought also the brasen altar, which was before the LORD, from the forefront of the house, from between the altar of the house of the LORD, and put it on the north side of the altar.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, Upon the great altar burn the morning burnt offering, and the evening meat offering, and the king's burnt sacrifice, and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings; and sprinkle upon it all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice: and the brasen altar shall be for me to enquire by.

16 Thus did Urijah the priest, according to all that king Ahaz commanded.

17 ¶ And king Ahaz cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them; and took down the sea from off the brasen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of stones. 739

18 And the covert for the sabbath that they had built in the house, and the king's entry without, turned he from the house of the LORD for the king of Assyria.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

The history of Amaziah and Pekahiah afford us this lesson, that it avails nothing to have done our duty for a while, if we do not persevere in the fear of God; and that they, who after having begun well, turn away from holiness, may be so corrupted, as to become at last intirely wicked, and upon that account be made examples of the wrath of God, after having been examples of his mercy.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

11 Urijah the priest built an altar according to all that king Ahaz had sent from Damascus, &c.] Instead of obeying the king's injunction, Urijah ought, with all his interest and power, to have opposed it, as he could not but know that this innovation of the king did not proceed from any principle of religion, but from a design to degrade the altar of the Lord, as well as the other sacred vessels of the temple.

18 The covert for the sabbath that they had built in the house, and the king's entry without, &c.] The reason why the king ordered this to be taken away, was, because he intended to trouble himself no more with coming to the temple, and by this action likewise to express his hatred and contempt of the sabbath.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

In the character of Ahaz, we see that the wicked, instead of humbling themselves when God corrects them, provoke him anew by their sins, till they bring down ruin on their guilty heads; and the base and criminal behaviour of Urijah should be a caution to us, never to shew a complaisance for great men, in things offensive to God.

2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, but not as the kings of Iſrael that were before him.

3 ¶ Againſt him came up Shalmaneſer king of Aſſyria; and Hoſhea became his ſervant, and gave him preſents.

4 And the king of Aſſyria found conſpiracy in Hoſhea: for he had ſent meſſengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no preſent to the king of Aſſyria, as he 725. had done year by year: therefore the king of Aſſyria ſhut him up, and bound him in priſon.

723. 5 ¶ Then the king of Aſſyria came up throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria, and beſieged it three years.

6 In the ninth year of Hoſhea the king of Aſſyria 719. took Samaria, and carried Iſrael away into Aſſyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For ſo it was, that the children of Iſrael had ſinned againſt the LORD their God, which had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared other gods,

8 And walked in the ſtatutes of the heathen, whom the LORD caſt out from before the children of Iſrael, and of the kings of Iſrael, which they had made.

9 And the children of Iſrael did ſecretly thoſe things that were not right againſt the LORD their God, and they built them high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

10 And they ſet them up images and groves in every high hill, and under every green tree:

11 And there they burnt incenſe in all the high 721. places, as did the heathen whom the LORD carried away before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the LORD to anger:

12 For they ſerved idols, whereof the LORD had ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall not do this thing.

13 Yet the LORD teſtified againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, by all the prophets, and by all the ſeers, ſaying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my ſtatutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I ſent to you by my ſervants the prophets.

14 Notwithſtanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the LORD their God.

15 And they rejected his ſtatutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his teſtimonies which he teſtified againſt them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the LORD had charged them, that they ſhould not do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made them molten images, even two calves, and made a grove, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved Baal.

17 And they cauſed their ſons and their daughters Before CHRIST 721. to paſs through the fire, and uſed divination and enchantments, and ſold themſelves to do evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Iſrael, and removed them out of his ſight: there was none left but the tribe of Judah only.

19 Alſo Judah kept not the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the ſtatutes of Iſrael which they made.

20 And the LORD rejected all the ſeed of Iſrael, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of ſpoilers, until he had caſt them out of his ſight.

21 For he rent Iſrael from the houſe of David; and they made Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat king: and Jeroboam drave Iſrael from following the LORD, and made them ſin a great ſin.

22 For the children of Iſrael walked in all the ſins of Jeroboam which he did; they departed not from them;

23 Until the LORD removed Iſrael out of his ſight, as he had ſaid by all his ſervants the prophets. So was Iſrael carried away out of their own land to Aſſyria unto this day.

678. 24 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria brought men from Babylon, and from Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria inſtead of the children of Iſrael: and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And ſo it was at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared not the LORD: therefore the LORD ſent lions among them, which ſlew ſome of them.

26 Wherefore they ſpake to the king of Aſſyria, ſaying, The nations which thou haſt removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath ſent lions among them, and, behold, they ſlay them, becauſe they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Aſſyria commanded, ſaying, Carry thither one of the prieſts whom ye brought from thence; and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the land.

28 Then one of the prieſts whom they had carried away from Samaria came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the LORD.

29 Howbeit every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houſes of the high places which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 And the men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Aſhima,

31 And the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

32 So they feared the LORD, and made unto themſelves of the loweſt of them prieſts of the high places, which ſacrificed for them in the houſes of the high places.

33 They feared the LORD, and ſerved their own gods, after the manner of the nations whom they carried away from thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the former manners: they fear not the LORD, neither do they after their ſtatutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law and commandment

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

4 The king of Aſſyria ſhut him up, and bound him in priſon.] He firſt beſieged Samaria; and, when he had taken it, made Hoſhea a cloſe priſoner.

10 Under every green tree.] It ſhould be rendered, They ſet up images under every green tree, and groves on every high hill.

13 Yet the Lord teſtified againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, by all the prophets, and by all the ſeers, &c.] When Iſrael was carried away captive, in the days of this very king, they had the prophets Hoſea, Amos, Iſaiah, and Micah; and in the days of the laſt king, when Judah was carried away captive to Babylon, they had Jeremiah and Ezekiel.

16 Worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved Baal.] They introduced the worſhip of the ſtars of heaven, ſuch as Saturn, Jupiter, Venus, and the moon, but eſpecially Baal, which was the ſun.

18 Removed them out of his ſight, &c.] Removed them from the holy land, where his temple and worſhip was.

30 Succoth-benoth, &c.] The tabernacle of daughters, or young maidens, referring to thoſe infamous places where all the young women were obliged once in their lives to proſtitute themſelves in honour of the goddeſs Milytta, who in other nations is called Venus.

33 They feared the Lord, and ſerved their own gods, &c.] They joined the worſhip of their own idols with that of God, in the ſame manner as the Iſraelites before them had blended the worſhip of the golden calves with that of the Holy One of Iſrael.

Before CHRIST 678. mandment which the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, whom he named Iſrael;

35 With whom the LORD had made a covenant, and charged them, ſaying, Ye ſhall not fear other gods, nor bow yourſelves to them, nor ſerve them, nor ſacrifice to them:

36 But the LORD, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great power and a ſtretched out arm, him ſhall ye fear, and him ſhall ye worſhip, and to him ſhall ye do ſacrifice.

37 And the ſtatutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment, which he wrote for you, ye ſhall obſerve to do for evermore; and ye ſhall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant that I have made with you ye ſhall not forget; neither ſhall ye fear other gods.

39 But the LORD your God ye ſhall fear; and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit they did not hearken, but they did after their former manner.

41 So theſe nations feared the LORD, and ſerved their graven images, both their children, and their children's children: as did their fathers, ſo do they unto this day.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Hezekiah's good reign. 4 He aboliſheth idolatry, and proſpereth. 9 In his time Samaria is taken, and Iſrael carried away captive for their ſins. 13 Sennacherib invadeth Judah, and receiveth the appointed tribute from Hezekiah. 17 He ſendeth Rab-ſhakeh, who inſulteth Hezekiah, 28 and in a blaſphemous ſpeech ſoliciteth the people to revolt.

726. NOW it came to paſs in the third year of Hoſhea ſon of Elah king of Iſrael, that Hezekiah the ſon of Ahaz king of Judah began to reign.

2 Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem. His mother's name alſo was Abi, the daughter of Zachariah.

3 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that David his father did.

4 ¶ He removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brazen ſerpent that Moſes had made: for unto thoſe days the children of Iſrae did burn incenſe to it: and he called it Nehuſhtan.

5 He truſted in the LORD God of Iſrael; ſo that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, nor any that were before him.

6 For he clave to the LORD, and departed not from following him, but kept his commandments, which the LORD commanded Moſes.

7 And the LORD was with him; and he proſpered
725. whitherſoever he went forth: and he rebelled againſt the king of Aſſyria, and ſerved him not.

8 He ſmote the Philiſtines, even unto Gaza, and the borders thereof, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

9 ¶ And it came to paſs in the fourth year of king Hezekiah, which was the ſeventh year of Hoſhea ſon
723. of Elah king of Iſrael, that Shalmaneſer king of Aſſyria came up againſt Samaria, and beſieged it.

10 And at the end of three years they took it: even
721. in the ſixth year of Hezekiah, that is the ninth year of Hoſhea king of Iſrael, Samaria was taken.

11 And the king of Aſſyria did carry away Iſrael Before CHRIST 721. unto Aſſyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Becauſe they obeyed not the voice of the LORD their God, but tranſgreſſed his covenant, and all that Moſes the ſervant of the LORD commanded, and would not hear them, nor do them.

13 Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah 713. did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria come up againſt all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

14 And Hezekiah king of Judah ſent to the king of Aſſyria to Lachiſh, ſaying, I have offended; return from me: that which thou putteſt on me will I bear. And the king of Aſſyria appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of ſilver and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Hezekiah gave him all the ſilver that was found in the houſe of the LORD, and in the treaſures of the king's houſe.

16 At that time did Hezekiah cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Aſſyria.

17 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria ſent Tartan and Rab-
716. ſaris and Rab-ſhakeh from Lachiſh to king Hezekiah with a great hoſt againſt Jeruſalem. And they went up and came to Jeruſalem. And when they were come up they came and ſtood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the highway of the fuller's field.

18 And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſon of Aſaph the recorder.

19 And Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Speak ye now to Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the great king, the king of Aſſyria, What confidence is this wherein thou truſteſt?

20 Thou ſayeſt, (but they are but vain words,) I have counſel and ſtrength for the war. Now on whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

21 Now, behold, thou truſteſt upon the ſtaff of this bruiſed reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it; ſo is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that truſt on him.

22 But if ye ſay unto me, We truſt in the LORD our God: is not that he, whoſe high places and whoſe altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath ſaid to Judah and Jeruſalem, Ye ſhall worſhip before this altar in Jeruſalem?

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my lord the king of Aſſyria, and I will deliver thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders upon them.

24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the leaſt of my maſter's ſervants, and put thy truſt on Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

25 Am I now come up without the LORD againſt this place to deſtroy it? The LORD ſaid to me, Go up againſt this land and deſtroy it.

26 Then ſaid Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Joah, unto Rab-ſhakeh, Speak, I pray thee, to thy ſervants in the Syrian language; for we underſtand it: and talk not with us in the Jews' language in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, and to thee, to ſpeak theſe words?

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

The examples in this chapter ſhould warn us, that obſtinacy in ſin and contempt of God's word will not go unpuniſhed; and that the covenant God makes in behalf of his people does not hinder him from chaſtiſing them, if they continue to offend him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XVIII.

4 The children of Iſrael did burn incenſe to it.] Hezekiah thought fit rather to take it quite away, when he aboliſhed other idolatries, though the memory of the miracle ſhould be loſt together with it, than ſuffer it to remain, and leave the Iſraelites in danger of committing idolatry with it hereafter, and making it the object of their worſhip.

Before CHRIST 710. hath he not ſent me to the men which ſit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piſs with you?

28 ¶ Then Rab-ſhakeh ſtood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and ſpake, ſaying, Hear the word of the great king, the king of Aſſyria:

29 Thus ſaith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he ſhall not be able to deliver you out of his hand:

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you truſt in the LORD, ſaying, The LORD will ſurely deliver us, and this city ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

31 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the king of Aſſyria, Make an agreement with me by a preſent, and come out to me, and then eat ye every man of his own vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his ciſtern:

32 Until I come, and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oil olive and of honey, that ye may live, and not die: and hearken not unto Hezekiah, when he perſuadeth you, ſaying, The Lord will deliver us.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered at all his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

34 Where are the gods of Hamath, and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the countries, that have delivered their country out of mine hand, that the LORD ſhould deliver Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and anſwered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, ſaying, Anſwer him not.

37 Then came Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſon of Aſaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-ſhakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Hezekiah in deep affliction ſendeth to deſire Iſaiah's prayers. 6 Iſaiah returneth an anſwer of comfort. 8 Sennacherib, being called away to oppoſe the king of Ethiopia, ſendeth a blaſphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiah's prayer upon the receipt of it. 20 Iſaiah's prophecy concerning the pride and overthrow of Sennacherib, and the proſperity of Zion. 35 An angel deſtroyeth the Aſſyrian army: Sennacherib is ſlain at Nineveh by his own ſons.

AND it came to paſs, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himſelf with ſackcloth, and went into the houſe of the LORD.

2 And he ſent Eliakim, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and the elders of the prieſts, covered with ſackcloth, to Iſaiah the prophet the ſon of Amoz.

3 And they ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and blaſphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not ſtrength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear all the words of Rab-ſhakeh, whom the king of Aſſyria his maſter hath ſent to reproach the living God; and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the ſervants of king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah. Before CHRIST 710.

6 ¶ And Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to your maſter, Thus ſaith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words which thou haſt heard, with which the ſervants of the king of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7 Behold, I will ſend a blaſt upon him, and he ſhall hear a rumour, and ſhall return to his own land: and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rab-ſhakeh returned, and found the king of Aſſyria warring againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 And when he heard ſay of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: he ſent meſſengers again unto Hezekiah, ſaying,

10 Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to Hezekiah king of Judah, ſaying, Let not thy God in whom thou truſteſt deceive thee, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

11 Behold, thou haſt heard what the kings of Aſſyria have done to all lands, by deſtroying them utterly: and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have deſtroyed; as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Thelaſar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the houſe of the LORD, and ſpread it before the LORD.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou haſt made heaven and earth.

16 LORD, bow down thine ear and hear: open, LORD, thine eyes, and ſee: and hear the words of Sennacherib, which hath ſent him to reproach the living God.

17 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Aſſyria have deſtroyed the nations and their lands,

18 And have caſt their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and ſtone: therefore they have deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beſeech thee, ſave thou us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD God, even thou only.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, That which thou haſt prayed to me againſt Sennacherib king of Aſſyria I have heard.

21 This is the word that the LORD hath ſpoken concerning him; The virgin the daughter of Zion hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorn; the daughter of Jeruſalem hath ſhaken her head at thee.

22 Whom haſt thou reproached and blaſphemed? and againſt whom haſt thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even againſt the Holy One of Iſrael.

23 By thy meſſengers thou haſt reproached the LORD, and haſt ſaid, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the ſides of Lebanon, and will cut down the tall cedar trees thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

By the deſtruction of Sennacherib for his proud and inſolent behaviour, and blaſphemies againſt God, we may ſee, that the Lord is jealous of his glory; and we ſhould be courageous in maintaining his honour, when it is profanely attacked by the wicked.

24 I have digged and drunk ſtrange waters, and with the ſole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of beſieged places.

25 Haſt thou not heard long ago how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to paſs, that thou ſhouldeſt be to lay waſte fenced cities into ruinous heaps.

26 Therefore their inhabitants were of ſmall power, they were diſmayed and confounded; they were as the graſs of the field, and as the green herb, as the graſs on the houſe tops, and as corn blaſted before it be grown up.

27 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage againſt me.

28 Becauſe thy rage againſt me and thy tumult is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my hook in thy noſe, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou cameſt.

29 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee, Ye ſhall eat this year ſuch things as grow of themſelves, and in the ſecond year that which ſpringeth of the ſame; and in the third year ſow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Judah ſhall yet again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jeruſalem ſhall go forth a remnant, and they that eſcape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the LORD of hoſts ſhall do this.

32 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD concerning the king of Aſſyria, He ſhall not come into this city, nor ſhoot an arrow there, nor come before it with ſhield, nor caſt a bank againſt it.

33 By the way that he came, by the ſame ſhall he return, and ſhall not come into this city, ſaith the LORD.

34 For I will defend this city, to ſave it, for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant David's ſake.

35 ¶ And it came to paſs that night, that the angel of the LORD went out, and ſmote in the camp of the Aſſyrians an hundred fourſcore and five thouſand: and when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpſes.

36 So Sennacherib king of Aſſyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

709. 37 And it came to paſs, as he was worſhipping in the houſe of Niſroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his ſons ſmote him with the ſword: and they eſcaped into the land of Armenia. And Eſarhaddon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XX.

1 Hezekiah, warned by Iſaiah to prepare for death, upon his prayer is promiſed an addition of fifteen years to his life: 8 in confirmation whereof the ſhadow goeth ten degrees backward on the ſundial of Ahaz. 12 Berodach-baladan ſendeth to congratulate Hezekiah on his recovery, who oſtentatiouſly ſheweth the ambaſſadors his treaſures. 14 Iſaiah hearing this foretelleth the Babyloniſh captivity. 20 Hezekiah dieth: Manaſſeh ſucceedeth him.

713. IN thoſe days was Hezekiah ſick unto death. And the prophet Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz came to him, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Set thine houſe in order; for thou ſhalt die and not live. Before CHRIST 713

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, ſaying,

3 I beſeech thee, O LORD, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy ſight. And Hezekiah wept ſore.

4 And it came to paſs, afore Iſaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the LORD came to him, ſaying,

5 Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus ſaith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have ſeen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou ſhalt go up unto the houſe of the LORD.

6 And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria; and I will defend this city for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant David's ſake.

7 And Iſaiah ſaid, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.

8 ¶ And Hezekiah ſaid unto Iſaiah, What ſhall be the ſign that the LORD will heal me, and that I ſhall go up into the houſe of the LORD the third day?

9 And Iſaiah ſaid, This ſign ſhalt thou have of the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he hath ſpoken: ſhall the ſhadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah anſwered, It is a light thing for the ſhadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the ſhadow return backward ten degrees.

11 And Iſaiah the prophet cried unto the LORD: and he brought the ſhadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down in the dial of Ahaz.

712. 12 ¶ At that time Berodach-baladan, the ſon of Baladan, king of Babylon, ſent letters and a preſent unto Hezekiah: for he had heard that Hezekiah had been ſick.

13 And Hezekiah hearkened unto them, and ſhewed them all the houſe of his precious things, the ſilver, and the gold, and the ſpices, and the precious ointment, and all the houſe of his armour, and all that was found in his treaſures: there was nothing in his houſe, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah ſhewed them not.

14 ¶ Then came Iſaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and ſaid unto him, What ſaid theſe men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah ſaid, They are come from a far country, even from Babylon.

15 And he ſaid, What have they ſeen in thine houſe? And Hezekiah anſwered, All the things that are in mine houſe have they ſeen: there is nothing among my treaſures that I have not ſhewed them.

16 And Iſaiah ſaid unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD.

17 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine houſe, and that which thy fathers have laid up in ſtore unto this day, ſhall be carried into Babylon: nothing ſhall be left, ſaith the LORD.

18 And of thy ſons that ſhall iſſue from thee, which thou ſhalt beget, ſhall they take away; and they ſhall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

25 Haſt thou not heard long ago, &c.] Theſe are the words of God, in anſwer to thoſe arrogant and empty boaſts.

28 I will put my hook in thy noſe, &c.] Alluding to the dromedaries of the eaſt, that were governed by a bridle faſtened to a ring fixed in the noſtrils of the beaſt.

30 Shall yet again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.] A metaphor taken from corn; ſignifying, that they ſhould have firm poſſeſſion of their own country, and therein increaſe, multiply, and flouriſh exceedingly: but this has alſo a reference to the ſpreading of the goſpel in the hearts of believers, by divine grace.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

From this chapter we may learn, that the truſt which the faithful put in God is never in vain: that his power is infinite; that he is jealous of his glory; that thoſe who provoke him by their impiety and pride, ſhall at laſt taſte of his vengeance; and particularly, that proud and wicked princes are commonly puniſhed by a fatal end.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

1 Thou ſhalt die, and not live.] That is, his diſeaſe was in its own nature mortal, and could not be cured by any human remedy.

7 Take a lump of figs, &c.] A roaſted fig, with ſome white ſugar powdered, is now uſed as a ſuppurative to a plague-boil at Conſtantinople.

11 He brought the ſhadow ten degrees backward, &c.] In Iſaiah's prophecy we are told expreſsly, that "the ſun returned ten degrees;" but the expreſſion of the ſun's returning, was only an accommodation to the ſyſtem of aſtronomy received in thoſe days: ſee Joſhua x. 12.

16 Hear the word of the Lord.] Hezekiah's offence ſeems to lay not ſo much in the oſtentation of his military ſtores and treaſures, as in not giving due glory to God for ſo ſignal a miracle as his recovery certainly was.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Manaſſeh's wicked reign and great idolatry. 10 Prophecies uttered againſt Judah becauſe of his wickedneſs. 17 He dieth: Amon ſucceedeth him. 19 Amon's wicked reign. 23 He is ſlain by a conſpiracy of his ſervants; the people ſlay the murderers, and make Joſiah king. 25 Amon's acts and burial.

MANASSEH was twelve years old when he began to reign, and reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Hephzi-bah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

3 For he built up again the high places which Hezekiah his father had deſtroyed; and he reared up altars for Baal, and made a grove, as did Ahab king of Iſrael; and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 And he built altars in the houſe of the LORD, of which the LORD ſaid, In Jeruſalem will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven in the two courts of the houſe of the LORD.

6 And he made his ſon paſs through the fire, and obſerved times, and uſed enchantments, and dealt with familiar ſpirits and wizards: he wrought much wickedneſs in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he ſet a graven image of the grove that he had made in the houſe, of which the LORD ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon, In this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen out of all tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever:

8 Neither will I make the feet of Iſrael move any more out of the land which I gave their fathers; only if they will obſerve to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that my ſervant Moſes commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: and Manaſſeh ſeduced them to do more evil than did the nations whom the LORD deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 ¶ And the LORD ſpake by his ſervants the prophets, ſaying,

11 Becauſe Manaſſeh king of Judah hath done theſe abominations, and hath done wickedly above all that the Amorites did, which were before him, and hath made Judah alſo to ſin with his idols:

12 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Behold, I am bringing ſuch evil upon Jeruſalem and Judah, that whoſoever heareth of it, both his ears ſhall tingle.

13 And I will ſtretch over Jeruſalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the houſe of Ahab: and I will wipe Jeruſalem as a man wipeth a diſh, wiping it, and turning it upſide down.

14 And I will forſake the remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies; and they ſhall become a prey and a ſpoil to all their enemies; Before CHRIST 698.

15 Becauſe they have done that which was evil in my ſight, and have provoked me to anger, ſince the day their fathers came forth out of Egypt, even unto this day.

16 Moreover Manaſſeh ſhed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jeruſalem from one end to another; beſide his ſin wherewith he made Judah to ſin, in doing that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD.

17 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and all that he did, and his ſin that he ſinned, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

18 And Manaſſeh ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own houſe, in the garden of Uzzah: and Amon his ſon reigned in his ſtead. 643.

19 ¶ Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Meſhullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as his father Manaſſeh did.

21 And he walked in all the way that his father walked in, and ſerved the idols that his father ſerved, and worſhipped them:

22 And he forſook the LORD God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the LORD.

23 ¶ And the ſervants of Amon conſpired againſt him, and ſlew the king in his own houſe. 641.

24 And the people of the land ſlew all them that had conſpired againſt king Amon; and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſon king in his ſtead.

25 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Amon which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

26 And he was buried in his ſepulchre in the garden of Uzza: and Joſiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Joſiah's good reign. 3 He provideth for the repair of the temple. 8 Hilkiah having found a book of the law, it is read before the king; who is alarmed, and ſendeth to the propheteſs Huldah to enquire of the LORD. 15 Huldah propheſieth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, but not to take place till after Joſiah's death.

JOSIAH was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah of Boſcath.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, and walked in all the way of David his father, and turned not aſide to the right hand or to the left.

3 ¶ And it came to paſs in the eighteenth year of king Joſiah, that the king ſent Shaphan the ſon of Azaliah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſcribe, to the houſe of the LORD, ſaying, 624.

4 Go up to Hilkiah the high prieſt, that he may ſum the ſilver which is brought into the houſe of the LORD,

---

19 Good is the word of the Lord, &c.] The words in the original are to this effect: What thou haſt told me from God, is good; I willingly ſubmit to it; but ſhall peace and truth continue for my time? God is juſt in all his ways; but do theſe threats relate to me, or to my poſterity only? Happy for me, if he will ſuſpend the execution of his wrath during the ſmall portion of time I have to live.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

Hezekiah's ſickneſs ſhould be conſidered as a trial ſent by God, to excite his faith and piety, even when he was alſo attacked by the king of Aſſyria: thus God tries his children by afflictions: but his vanity afterwards evinces, that the moſt pious are apt to forget themſelves in the dangerous time of proſperity; that the good things of this vain world, being of a ſhort duration, we ſhould never be puffed up by them, but enjoy all to the glory of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

4 He built altars in the houſe of the Lord, &c.] He erected altars to the gods of the neighbouring nations, even in the very ſanctuary itſelf, for the outward courts are mentioned in the next verſe.

13 I will ſtretch over Jeruſalem the line of Samaria] This metaphor implies, that Jeruſalem ſhould ſuffer the ſame fate as Samaria had done; be viſited with famine, deſtroyed with the ſword, and its inhabitants carried into captivity.

The plummet of the houſe of Ahab] As they had imitated his ſin, ſo ſhould they ſhare in his puniſhment, whoſe houſe was utterly deſtroyed.

I will wipe Jeruſalem as a man wipeth a diſh, &c.] That is, leave no more people in it, than there are contents in a diſh, after it is emptied, and wiped, and turned upſide down.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

From the conduct of Manaſſeh we may learn, that the moſt holy ſervants of God may have the worſt of children; and alſo, that as righteouſneſs exalteth a nation, ſo ſin is a reproach to any people.

Before CHRIST 624. LORD, which the keepers of the door have gathered of the people:

5 And let them deliver it into the hand of the doers of the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD: and let them give it to the doers of the work which is in the house of the LORD, to repair the breaches of the house,

6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and masons, and to buy timber and hewn stone to repair the house.

7 Howbeit there was no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand, because they dealt faithfully.

8 ¶ And Hilkiah the high priest said unto Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

9 And Shaphan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said, Thy servants have gathered the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD.

10 And Shaphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest hath delivered me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.

11 And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commanded Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Michaiah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asahiah a servant of the king, saying,

13 Go ye, enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

14 So Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asahiah, went unto Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the college;) and they communed with her.

15 ¶ And she said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read:

17 Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Judah which sent you to enquire of the LORD, thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, As touching the words which thou hast heard;

19 Because thine heart was tender, and thou hast humbled thyself before the LORD, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me; I also have heard thee, saith the LORD.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered into thy grave in peace; and thine eyes shall not see all the evil which I will bring upon this place. And they brought the king word again. Before CHRIST 624.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Josiah causeth the book to be read in a solemn assembly. 3 He reneweth the covenant between the LORD and the people. 4 He destroyeth idolatry in Judah. 15 He burneth men's bones upon the altar at Beth-el according to the prophecy, sparing the sepulchre of the prophet who had foretold these things. 19 He pulleth down the idolatrous houses in the cities of Samaria, and slayeth the priests. 21 He causeth a solemn passover to be kept. 24 He putteth away witches and all abominations, and excelleth in piety all kings before and after him. 26 God's determined wrath against Judah for Manasseh's provocations. 28 Josiah's acts: 29 he is slain in a battle with Pharaoh-nechoh; Jehoahaz succeedeth him. 31 Jehoahaz after a wicked reign of three months is deposed and imprisoned by Pharaoh-nechoh, who maketh Jehoiakim king, and carrieth Jehoahaz to Egypt. 35 Jehoiakim taxeth the land for Pharaoh's tribute. 36 His wicked reign.

AND the king sent, and they gathered unto him all the elders of Judah and of Jerusalem.

2 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD.

3 ¶ And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

4 ¶ And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he burned them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried the ashes of them unto Beth-el.

5 And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem; them also that burned incense unto Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven.

6 And he brought out the grove from the house of the LORD, without Jerusalem, unto the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron, and stamped it small to powder, and cast the powder thereof upon graves of the children of the people.

7 And he brake down the houses of the sodomites, that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the grove.

8 And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Geba to Beer-sheba, and brake down the high places of the gates that were in the entering

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXII.

8 I have found the book of the law, &c.] This was probably the book of the law written by Moses himself, and by God's command laid up in the most holy place; this original had in all probability been hid from the impious fury of their idolatrous kings, in some secret place of the temple, where, upon their going out to repair it, it was now found.

14 Unto Huldah the prophetess, &c.] Hilkiah and the rest applied themselves to Huldah, who was a prophetess of great note, probably because at that time the other two prophets were not near at hand.

20 I will gather thee unto thy fathers, &c.] Here was a twofold blessing; namely, that his soul should be gathered to the souls of his pious ancestors, and that his earthly part should likewise be joined to theirs, and laid in the sepulchres of the kings of Judah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

From the pious zeal of Josiah, in the work of reformation, we may learn, that if we exert ourselves in promoting the honour and glory of God, he will assist us in the use of means; and the tenderness of Josiah's heart, which caused a delay of the threatened judgments of God, proves that humility and repentance are always acceptable to him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

5 Unto Baal, to the sun, &c.] It should be, Unto Baal the sun.

6 He brought out the grove, &c.] The image of the grove; Ashtaroth, or Venus.

7 He brake down the houses of the sodomites, &c.] These were persons consecrated to impurity: their houses were near the temple.

8 And brake down the high places of the gates, &c.] These high places

9 Nevertheless the priests of the high places came not up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.

11 And he took away the horses that the kings of Judah had given to the sun, at the entering in of the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the chamberlain, which was in the suburbs, and burned the chariots of the sun with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, did the king beat down, and brake them down from thence, and cast the dust of them into the brook Kidron.

13 And the high places that were before Jerusalem, which were on the right hand of the mount of corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon, did the king defile.

14 And he brake in pieces the images, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 ¶ Moreover the altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burned the high place, and stamped it small to powder, and burned the grove.

16 And as Josiah turned himself, he spied the sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burned them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the LORD which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

17 Then he said, What title is that that I see? And the men of the city told him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Judah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Beth-el.

18 And he said, Let him alone; let no man move his bones. So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

19 ¶ And all the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the LORD to anger, Josiah took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And he slew all the priests of the high places that were there upon the altars, and burned men's bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

21 ¶ And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover unto the LORD your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant.

22 Surely there was not holden such a passover from the days of the judges that judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, nor of the kings of Judah; Before CHRIST 624.

23 But in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, wherein this passover was holden to the LORD in Jerusalem.

24 ¶ Moreover the workers with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, did Josiah put away, that he might perform the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD. 623.

25 And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

26 ¶ Notwithstanding the LORD turned not from the fierceness of his great wrath, wherewith his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the provocations that Manasseh had provoked him withal.

27 And the LORD said, I will remove Judah also out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

28 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

29 ¶ In his days Pharaoh-nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah went against him; and he slew him at Megiddo, when he had seen him. 610.

30 And his servants carried him in a chariot dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

31 ¶ Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

33 And Pharaoh-nechoh put him in bands at Riblah in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem; and put the land to a tribute of an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

34 And Pharaoh-nechoh made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in the room of Josiah his father, and turned his name to Jehoiakim, and took Jehoahaz away: and hs came to Egypt, and died there.

35 ¶ And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh; but he taxed the land to give the money according to the commandment of Pharaoh: he exacted the silver and the gold of the people of the land, of every one according to his taxation, to give it unto Pharaoh-nechoh.

36 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign: and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

places seem to have been erected there, to offer incense to those tutelar gods, to whom their idolatrous kings had committed the protection of their city.

11 The horses that the kings of Judah had given to the sun, &c.] Had consecrated to the sun: all the idolaters of the east worshipped the sun, and consecrated horses to it, because, like that, they were nimble, and swift in their course.

13 The mount of corruption, &c.] Mount Olivet: called "the mount of corruption" by way of contempt, because the people were corrupted in their religion by the idols placed there.

22 Surely there was not holden such a passover, &c.] This passover was celebrated by two tribes only, yet being kept according to the prescribed form of the law, was more numerous and magnificent than all those that were observed in the days of David and Solomon, in the most happy and flourishing state of the Jewish monarchy, and when the whole twelve tribes met together to solemnize that feast.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great wrath, &c.] The hearts of the people were not right towards God, as appears from the writings of the prophets that lived in those times, and therefore, seeing no sign of their repentance, God had no reason to reverse his decree.

29 And king Josiah went against him; and he slew him, &c.] In some old translations of the bible it is more clearly expressed thus: And king Josiah went against him, whom when Pharaoh saw, he slew him at Megiddo; which was a city in the half tribe of Manasseh, not far from the Mediterranean sea.

34 He came to Egypt, and died there.] Thus the prophecy of Jeremiah (chap. xxii. 10—12.) was literally fulfilled.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

From the conduct of Josiah, respecting the divine worship, we have this lesson, that pious people, and particularly Christian princes, should inform themselves of the laws of God, and employ all their power to promote his glory, both by their own example, and all other means.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Jehoiakim firſt ſubmitteth to, and afterward rebelleth againſt Nebuchadnezzar: God haſteneth the ruin of Judah, as foretold by the prophets. 5 Jehoiakim dieth: Jehoiachin ſucceedeth him. 7 The king of Egypt is vanquiſhed by the king of Babylon. 8 Jehoiachin's wicked reign. 10 Jeruſalem is beſieged and taken; Jehoiachin with his family and the chief perſons of Judah are carried captive to Babylon. 17 Zedekiah is made king, and reigneth wickedly: he rebelleth to the utter deſtruction of Judah.

2 And the LORD ſent againſt him bands of the Chaldees, and bands of the Syrians, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the children of Ammon, and ſent them againſt Judah to deſtroy it, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by his ſervants the prophets.

3 Surely at the commandment of the LORD came this upon Judah, to remove them out of his ſight, for the ſins of Manaſſeh, according to all that he did;

4 And alſo for the innocent blood that he ſhed: for he filled Jeruſalem with innocent blood; which the LORD would not pardon.

5 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

7 ¶ And the king of Egypt came not again any more out of his land: for the king of Babylon had taken from the river of Egypt unto the river Euphrates all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 ¶ Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem three months. And his mother's name was Nehuſhta, the daughter of Elnathan of Jeruſalem.

11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came againſt the city, and his ſervants did beſiege it.

12 And Jehoiachin the king of Judah went out to the king of Babylon, he, and his mother, and his ſervants, and his princes, and his officers: and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.

13 And he carried out thence all the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, and cut in pieces all the veſſels of gold which Solomon king of Iſrael had made in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had ſaid.

14 And he carried away all Jeruſalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, even ten thouſand captives, and all the craftſmen and ſmiths: none remained, ſave the pooreſt ſort of the people of the land.

15 And he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his officers, and the mighty of the land, thoſe carried he into captivity from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

17 ¶ And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his father's brother king in his ſtead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

4 ¶ And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden: (now the Chaldees were againſt the city round about:) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5 And the army of the Chaldees purſued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army were ſcattered from him.

6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah; and they gave judgment upon him.

7 And they ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of braſs, and carried him to Babylon.

9 And he burnt the houſe of the LORD, and the king's houſe, and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and every great man's houſe burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Chaldees, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, &c.] In 2 Chron. xxxv. 9. we read "eight years:" to reconcile which, we obſerve, that the book of Chronicles computes from the time he began to reign with his father, and the book of Kings from the time when he began to reign alone.

13 And cut in pieces all the veſſels, &c.] Cut them off from the temple.

16 All the men of might, even ſeven thouſand, and craftſmen and ſmiths a thouſand, &c.] Jehoiachin and all his court, and great men, were ſeven thouſand, the craftſmen and ſmiths a thouſand, the reſt were the miniſters and ſervants of the court.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

From this hiſtory we ſhould learn to adore the juſtice of God, and fear to offend him; and we ſhould mark, that perjury, and the open and continued contempt of God's word, and the warnings of his ſervants, which, if perſiſted in, will bring down the greateſt misfortunes, and at length total deſtruction, on the offenders.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXV.

7 And put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of braſs, and carried him to Babylon.] Thus two remarkable prophecies were reconciled and fulfilled, that of Jer. xxxv. 2. and xxxiv. 3.

Before CHRIST 588. 11 Now the reſt of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vinedreſſers and huſbandmen.

13 ¶ And the pillars of braſs that were in the houſe of the LORD, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the LORD, did the Chaldees break in pieces, and carried the braſs of them to Babylon.

14 And the pots, and the ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſs wherewith they miniſtered, took they away.

15 And the firepans, and the bowls, and ſuch things as were of gold, in gold, and of ſilver, in ſilver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, one ſea, and the baſes which Solomon had made for the houſe of the LORD; the braſs of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

17 The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapiter upon it was braſs: and the height of the chapiter three cubits: and the wreathen work, and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of braſs: and like unto theſe had the ſecond pillar with wreathen work.

18 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the door:

19 And out of the city he took an officer that was ſet over the men of war, and five men of them that were in the king's preſence, which were found in the city, and the principal ſcribe of the hoſt, which muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the city:

20 And Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard took theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah:

21 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away out of their land. Before CHRIST 588.

22 ¶ And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, even over them he made Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, ruler.

23 And when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, there came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and Johanan the ſon of Careah, and Seraiah the ſon of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the ſon of a Maachathite, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah ſware to them, and to their men, and ſaid unto them, Fear not to be the ſervants of the Chaldees: dwell in the land, and ſerve the king of Babylon; and it ſhall be well with you.

25 But it came to paſs in the ſeventh month, that Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, the ſon of Eliſhama, of the ſeed royal, came, and ten men with him, and ſmote Gedaliah, that he died, and the Jews and the Chaldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 And all the people, both ſmall and great, and the captains of the armies, aroſe, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldees.

27 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the ſeven and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon in the year that he began to reign did lift up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of priſon; 561.

28 And he ſpake kindly to him, and ſet his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon:

29 And changed his priſon garments: and he did eat bread continually before him all the days of his life.

30 And his allowance was a continual allowance given him of the king, a daily rate for every day, all the days of his life.

21 So Judah was carried away out of their land.] This happened four hundred and eighty-ſix years after the beginning of the reign of David, three hundred and eighty-eight years from the diviſion of the ten tribes from Judah and Benjamin, and one hundred and thirty-four ſince the deſtruction of the ten tribes.

27 Did lift up the head of Jehoiachin, &c.] Raiſed him from his dejected condition.

28 And ſet his throne above the throne of the kings, &c.] He preferred Jehoiachin above all his other captive kings, either becauſe of the great fame of his royal anceſtors David and Solomon, or becauſe he had, when in priſon with Evil-merodach, conciliated his friendſhip.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXV.

We may obſerve of this chapter, both with reſpect to Jeruſalem and Babylon, that in the riſe and fall of ſtates, the hand of divine Providence is always viſible; and with regard to the captivity of the Jews, we may learn, that, after God has long borne with the provocations of his people, he will at length aſſert his prerogative, and ſhew that his juſtice is as great as his mercy.

The Firſt Book of the CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Ezra is the reputed author of theſe books, which were written after the Babyloniſh captivity, and in the reign of Cyrus, mention being made of that prince in the laſt chapter of the ſecond book. They are a ſort of abridgment of all the ſacred hiſtory from Adam to the return of the Jews from captivity, extracted from thoſe books of the bible which are ſtill extant, and from other annals which are now loſt.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. I.

1 Adam, Sheth, Enoſh.] The hiſtorian mentions only their names briefly; but the meaning is, that Adam begat Sheth, and Sheth begat Enoſh, &c. Adam had two ſons before Sheth; but one of them was murdered and left no iſſue, and the other was accurſed; ſo that all who deſcended from him periſhed in the flood: therefore theſe only are remembered who deſcended from Sheth.

4 Shem, Ham, and Japheth.] Japheth was the eldeſt ſon; but Shem, being the perſon in whoſe poſterity the true religion was preſerved, and from whom the promiſed ſeed was to come, is firſt named both here and in Geneſis.

19 Because in his days the earth was divided, &c.] The inhabitants of the earth were dispersed, according to the division of their languages.

36 And Timna and Amalek.] As if it had been rendered, And of Timna Amalek; speaking of Amalek as of inferior rank to the other sons, because born of a concubine.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

While we adore the divine goodness, in leaving these names on record, for proving the truth of other parts of scripture, let us also humbly consider our frailty, and that nothing but the fear of God, and doing his will, can transmit our names with honour to posterity, and secure to us "a name better than of sons and daughters."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

3 The sons of Judah, &c.] This tribe had a superiority and pre-eminence among the rest before the time of David, because the Saviour of the world was to spring from it, according to the celebrated prophecy of Jacob, Gen. xlix. 10.

7 Achar, the troubler of Israel, &c.] His true name is Achan, but he is hereby elegantly called Achar, which signifies "troubler."

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

As God's faithfulneſs to his promiſe appears, in ſeparating the Iſraelites from the heathen world, ſo let us be careful, if we really fear God, not to mix with the wicked and profane, but to keep ourſelves unſpotted from the world that lieth in wickedneſs.

1 The ſons of Judah, &c.] His poſterity.

2 The families of the Zorathites.] Zora is not the name of a man, but of a place in the tribe of Judah, where ſeveral of that tribe ſettled.

2 For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joſeph's:)

3 The ſons, I ſay, of Reuben the firſtborn of Iſrael were, Hanoch, and Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

4 The ſons of Joel; Shemaiah his ſon, Gog his ſon, Shimei his ſon,

5 Micah his ſon, Reaia his ſon, Baal his ſon,

7 And his brethren by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was reckoned, were the chief, Jeiel, and Zechariah,

8 And Bela the ſon of Azaz, the ſon of Shema, the ſon of Joel, who dwelt in Aroer, even unto Nebo and Baal-meon:

10 And in the days of Saul they made war with the Hagarites, who fell by their hand: and they dwelt in their tents throughout all the eaſt land of Gilead.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt over againſt them, in the land of Baſhan unto Salcah:

12 Joel the chief, and Shapham the next, and Jaanai, and Shaphat in Baſhan.

13 And their brethren of the houſe of their fathers were Michael, and Meſhullam, and Sheba, and Jorai, and Jachan, and Zia, and Heber, ſeven.

18 ¶ The ſons of Reuben, and the Gadites, and half the tribe of Manaſſeh, of valiant men, men able to bear buckler and ſword, and to ſhoot with bow, and ſkilful in war, were four and forty thouſand ſeven hundred and threeſcore, that went out to the war. Before CHRIST 1300, &c.

19 And they made war with the Hagarites, with Jetur, and Nephiſh, and Nodab.

20 And they were helped againſt them, and the Hagarites were delivered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cried to God in the battle, and he was intreated of them; becauſe they put their truſt in him.

21 And they took away their cattle; of their camels fifty thouſand, and of ſheep two hundred and fifty thouſand, and of aſſes two thouſand, and of men an hundred thouſand.

22 For there fell down many ſlain, becauſe the war was of God. And they dwelt in their ſteads until the captivity.

23 ¶ And the children of the half tribe of Manaſſeh dwelt in the land: they increaſed from Baſhan unto Baal-hermon and Senir, and unto mount Hermon.

24 And theſe were the heads of the houſe of their fathers, even Epher, and Iſhi, and Eliel, and Azriel, and Jeremiah, and Hodaviah, and Jahdiel, mighty men of valour, famous men, and heads of the houſe of their fathers.

25 ¶ And they tranſgreſſed againſt the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whom God deſtroyed before them.

26 And the God of Iſrael ſtirred up the ſpirit of Pul king of Aſſyria, and the ſpirit of Tilgath-pilneſer king of Aſſyria, and he carried them away, even the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh, and brought them unto Halah, and Habor, and Hara, and to the river Gozan, unto this day. 771. 740.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

From what is here ſaid of Jabez we learn, that hearty, fervent prayer availeth much with God; and find, from the conduct of the children of Simeon, the ill effect of the abuſe of temporal bleſſings; laſtly, from the dealings of God with Ham's poſterity, we perceive, that, for wiſe ends, he often beſtows temporal bleſſings on the enemies of his law, government, and ways.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

1 His birthright was given unto the ſons of Joſeph, &c.] His two ſons had each of them a lot in the land of Canaan, as if they had been the ſons of Iſrael.

2 Of him came the chief ruler.] By "the chief ruler," is meant, firſt, David, and after him the Meſſiah.

But the birthright was Joſeph's.] Or, though the birthright was Joſeph's.

10 The Hagarites, &c.] That is, the Iſhmaelites, deſcended from Hagar, who were ſettled in Arabia Deſerta.

14 Theſe are the children of Abihail the ſon of Huri, &c.] That is, the ſeven before-mentioned were the children of Abihail the ſon of Huri, whoſe pedigree here follows.

21 Of their camels fifty thouſand, &c.] The Arabians abounded in camels, which they made uſe of in war, as well as to carry burdens in time of peace.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

This chapter evinces, that God abhors uncleanneſs, which loſt Reuben his birthright. The divine wiſdom is alſo herein conſpicuous in keeping up the diſtinction of the tribes; though he often gave up his people to the will of their enemies for their rebellion and ingratitude to him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

General Reflections on Chap. VI.

We may diſcern, from the care taken to preſerve the genealogies of the Levites, and from the courſes of the prieſts, that, in the firſt place, the miniſter of God ſhould be diſtinguiſhed, by the ſupport afforded them and by their holy lives, from all other people; and, ſecondly, that, in the worſhip of God, "all things ſhould be done decently, and in order."

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. VII.

12 And Huſhim, the ſons of Aher.] In an old tranſlation of the bible, the whole verſe runs thus: And Shuppim and Huppim were the ſons of Ir, but Huſhim was the ſon of another. See Gen. xlvi. 23.

22 His brethren came, &c.] His kindred, as the word "brethren" often ſignifies.

31 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zacher.

32 And Mikloth begat Shimeah. And theſe alſo dwelt with their brethren in Jeruſalem, over againſt them.

33 ¶ And Ner begat Kiſh, and Kiſh begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchi-ſhua, and Abinadab, and Eſh-baal.

34 And the ſon of Jonathan was Merib-baal; and Merib-baal begat Micah.

36 And Ahaz begat Jehoadah; and Jehoadah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza,

37 And Moza begat Binea: Rapha was his ſon, Eleaſah his ſon, Azel his ſon:

38 And Azel had ſix ſons, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Iſhmael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan. All theſe were the ſons of Azel.

39 And the ſons of Eſhek his brother were, Ulam his firſtborn, Jehuſh the ſecond, and Eliphelet the third.

40 And the ſons of Ulam were mighty men of valour, archers, and had many ſons, and ſons' ſons, an hundred and fifty. All theſe are the ſons of Benjamin.

1 Concerning the original regiſters of the genealogies of Iſrael and Judah. 2 The diſtribution of thoſe who returned to their poſſeſſions after the captivity. 3 The Iſraelites who inhabited Jeruſalem on their return; 10 and the prieſts, 14 and Levites who reſided there, attending upon their ſeveral charges. 35 The ſtock of Saul and Jonathan.

1400, &c. SO all Iſrael were reckoned by genealogies; and, behold, they were written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah, who were carried away to Babylon for their tranſgreſſion.

2 ¶ Now the firſt inhabitants that dwelt in their poſſeſſions in their cities were, the Iſraelites, the prieſts, Levites, and the Nethinims.

3 ¶ And in Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh;

11 And

---

40 That were apt to the war and to battle, &c.] Though living in a rich and delicious country, in the beſt part of Galilee, they did not give themſelves up to ſloth, but were a warlike and valiant people.

General Reflections on Chap. VII.

We ſhould particularly attend to the manner in which the tribe of Dan is taken notice of in this chapter; ſo as to teach us, that any kind of idolatry (eſpecially that of the heart) is abominable in the ſight of a holy and jealous God, who will not give his glory to another.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

28 Theſe dwelt in Jeruſalem.] It is probable that all theſe mentioned from verſe 14, dwelt at Jeruſalem, (one part of which belonged to the tribe of Benjamin) as they that are before-named did at Aijalon.

40 And the ſons of Ulam were mighty men of valour, archers, &c.] In the Hebrew the word "archers" is, thoſe that tread the bow; becauſe their ſteel bows (then much in uſe among them) were ſo ſtrong, that they could not bend them with their arms; but ſat down, and, preſſing them with their feet, pulled the arrow with both hands, that it might fly with greater force.

General Reflections on Chap. VIII.

By the honourable mention made of the tribe of Benjamin, in this chapter, for adhering to that of Judah, that they who eſpouſe the cauſe of God and his people will have a happy portion; for, they that honour God, he will honour and bleſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

1 So all Iſrael were reckoned, &c.] As much as to ſay, Thus have I ſummarily reckoned up the genealogies of all the tribes, as I found them in the public regiſters.

3 In Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and—of Benjamin, and—of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh.] Hence we may obſerve, that ſome of the ten tribes returned with thoſe of Judah and Benjamin.

11 And Azariah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the ruler of the house of God;

12 And Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah, and Maasiai the son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer;

13 And their brethren, heads of the house of their fathers, a thousand and seven hundred and threescore; very able men for the work of the service of the house of God.

14 ¶ And of the Levites; Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari;

15 And Bakbakkar, Heresh, and Galal, and Mattaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zichri, the son of Asaph;

16 And Obadiah the son of Shemaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun, and Berechiah the son of Asa, the son of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 And the porters were, Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chief;

18 Who hitherto waited in the king's gate eastward: they were porters in the companies of the children of Levi.

19 And Shallum the son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his brethren, of the house of his father, the Korathites, were over the work of the service, keepers of the gates of the tabernacle: and their fathers, being over the host of the LORD, were keepers of the entry.

20 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar was the ruler over them in time past, and the LORD was with him.

21 And Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah was porter of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 All these which were chosen to be porters in the gates were two hundred and twelve. These were reckoned by their genealogy in their villages, whom David and Samuel the seer did ordain in their set office.

23 So they and their children had the oversight of the gates of the house of the LORD, namely, the house of the tabernacle, by wards.

24 In four quarters were the porters, toward the east, west, north, and south.

25 And their brethren, which were in their villages, were to come after seven days from time to time with them.

26 For these Levites, the four chief porters, were in their set office, and were over the chambers and treasuries of the house of God.

27 And they lodged round about the house of God, because the charge was upon them, and the opening thereof every morning pertained to them.

28 And certain of them had the charge of the ministering vessels, that they should bring them in and out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed to oversee the vessels, and all the instruments of the sanctuary, and the fine flour, and the wine, and the oil, and the frankincense, and the spices.

30 And some of the sons of the priests made the ointment of the spices.

31 And Mattithiah, one of the Levites, who was the firstborn of Shallum the Korahite, had the set office over the things that were made in the pans. Before CHRIST 1200, &c.

32 And other of their brethren, of the sons of the Kohathites, were over the shewbread, to prepare it every sabbath.

33 And these are the singers, chief of the fathers of the Levites, who remaining in the chambers were free: for they were employed in that work day and night.

34 These chief fathers of the Levites were chief throughout their generations; these dwelt at Jerusalem.

35 ¶ And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, Jehiel, whose wife's name was Maachah:

36 And his firstborn son Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam. And they also dwelt with their brethren at Jerusalem, over against their brethren.

39 And Ner begat Kish; and Kish begat Saul; and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchi-shua, and Abinadab, and Esh-baal.

40 And the son of Jonathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begat Micah.

41 And the sons of Micah were, Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea, and Ahaz.

42 And Ahaz begat Jarah; and Jarah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza;

43 And Moza begat Binea; and Rephaiah his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son.

44 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Ishmael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan: these were the sons of Azel.

1 Saul's overthrow and death: 8 The Philistines triumph: 11 The kindness shewn by the men of Jabesh-gilead toward Saul and his sons. 13 Saul's sin: for which the kingdom was translated from him to David.

NOW the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and fell down slain in mount Gilboa. 1056.

2 And the Philistines followed hard after Saul, and after his sons; and the Philistines slew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchi-shua, the sons of Saul.

3 And the battle went sore against Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armourbearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come and abuse me. But his armourbearer would not; for he was sore afraid. So Saul took a sword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armourbearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell likewise on the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and all his house died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley saw that they fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, then they forsook their cities, and fled; and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, that they found Saul and his sons fallen in mount Gilboa.

11 The ruler of the house of God.] Or, a ruler in the house of God; for he was not the high-priest, nor the principal ruler, but one in great authority under him.

19 Keepers of the entry.] Those who took care of the court, that none should enter into it but such as the law allowed.

22 Whom David and Samuel the seer did ordain, &c.] As Samuel had projected; and David carried into execution.

23 Namely, the house of the tabernacle, &c.] Built for the worship of God, till the temple was finished.

35 And in Gibeon dwelt, &c.] The narrative of the descent and family of Saul is here repeated, the better to connect with it the history that follows concerning the death of that king.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

The regular manner of classing the Levites indicates to us, that God expects orderly discipline in his church, as well as spiritual and internal worship; and from the diligence used by the Israelites in rebuilding the temple after the captivity, we are taught, that when God vouchsafes us any signal deliverance, we should testify our gratitude by every act of holy obedience to him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1 Now the Philistines, &c.] This history (related also in 1 Sam. xxxi.) is here repeated in order to introduce the history of David, (for that is principally intended in the remainder of this book) who, upon the death of Saul, was advanced to the crown.

7 In the valley, &c.] That is, the towns in the open country, which were not fortified.

Before CHRIST 1056. 9 And when they had ſtripped him, they took his head, and his armour, and ſent into the land of the Philiſtines round about, to carry tidings unto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they put his armour in the houſe of their gods, and faſtened his head in the temple of Dagon.

11 ¶ And when all Jabeſh-gilead heard all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul,

12 They aroſe, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his ſons, and brought them to Jabeſh, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven days.

13 ¶ So Saul died for his tranſgreſſion which he committed againſt the LORD, even againſt the word of the LORD, which he kept not, and alſo for aſking counſel of one that had a familiar ſpirit, to enquire of it;

14 And enquired not of the LORD; therefore he ſlew him, and turned the kingdom unto David the ſon of Jeſſe.

CHAP. XI.

1 David by general conſent is made king over Iſrael at Hebron. 4 He winneth the caſtle of Zion from the Jebuſites: Joab for his valour is made chief: David's proſperity through God's bleſſing. 10 A catalogue of David's mighty men, with their principal atchievements.

1048. THEN all Iſrael gathered themſelves to David unto Hebron, ſaying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh.

2 And moreover in time paſt, even when Saul was king, thou waſt he that leddeſt out and broughteſt in Iſrael: and the LORD thy God ſaid unto thee, Thou ſhalt feed my people Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be ruler over my people Iſrael.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Iſrael to the king to Hebron; and David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the LORD; and they anointed David king over Iſrael, according to the word of the LORD by Samuel.

4 ¶ And David and all Iſrael went to Jeruſalem, which is Jebus; where the Jebuſites were, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus ſaid to David, Thou ſhalt not come hither. Nevertheleſs David took the caſtle of Zion, which is the city of David.

6 And David ſaid, Whoſoever ſmiteth the Jebuſites firſt ſhall be chief and captain. So Joab the ſon of Zeruiah went firſt up, and was chief.

7 And David dwelt in the caſtle; therefore they called it the city of David.

8 And he built the city round about, even from Millo round about: and Joab repaired the reſt of the city.

9 So David waxed greater and greater: for the LORD of hoſts was with him.

10 ¶ Theſe alſo are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who ſtrengthened themſelves with him in his kingdom, and with all Iſrael, to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Iſrael.

11 And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had; Jaſhobeam, an Hachmonite, the chief of the captains: he lifted up his ſpear againſt three hundred ſlain by him at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo, the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighties.

1047. 13 He was with David at Paſ-dammim, and there the Philiſtines were gathered together to battle, where was a parcel of ground full of barley: and the people fled from before the Philiſtines. Before CHRIST 1047.

14 And they ſet themſelves in the midſt of that parcel, and delivered it, and ſlew the Philiſtines; and the LORD ſaved them by a great deliverance.

15 Now three of the thirty captains went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam; and the hoſt of the Philiſtines encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And David was then in the hold, and the Philiſtines' garriſon was then at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed, and ſaid, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, that is at the gate!

18 And the three brake through the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the LORD,

19 And ſaid, My God forbid it me, that I ſhould do this thing: ſhall I drink the blood of theſe men that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it. Therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things did theſe three mightieſt.

20 And Abiſhai the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three: for lifting up his ſpear againſt three hundred, he ſlew them, and had a name among the three.

21 Of the three, he was more honourable than the two; for he was their captain: howbeit he attained not to the firſt three.

22 Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, the ſon of a valiant man of Kabzeel, who had done many acts; he ſlew two lionlike men of Moab: alſo he went down and ſlew a lion in a pit in a ſnowy day.

23 And he ſlew an Egyptian, a man of great ſtature, five cubits high; and in the Egyptian's hand was a ſpear like a weaver's beam; and he went down to him with a ſtaff, and plucked the ſpear out of the Egyptian's hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

24 Theſe things did Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and had a name among the three mighties.

25 Behold, he was honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the firſt three: and David ſet him over his guard.

26 Alſo the valiant men of the armies were, Aſahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan the ſon of Dodo of Beth-lehem,

29 Sibbecai the Huſhathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled the ſon of Baanah the Netophathite,

31 Ithai the ſon of Ribai of Gibeah, that pertained to the children of Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite,

32 Hurai of the brooks of Gaaſh, Abiel the Arbathite,

33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite,

34 The ſon of Haſhem the Gizonite, Jonathan the ſon of Shage the Hararite,

35 Ahiam the ſon of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the ſon of Ur,

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

In this chapter we are taught, that they who forſake God and his ways, and perſiſt in their rebellions, will in the end involve themſelves and their adherents in miſery and ruin.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1 Then all Iſrael gathered themſelves to David, &c.] After the death of Iſhboſheth, when David had reigned over Iſrael ſeven years and ſix months in Hebron.

3 According to the word of the Lord by Samuel.] Theſe words are here added, to ſhew how the people came to know that God told David that he ſhould govern Iſrael. Samuel declared it to him, and doubtleſs publiſhed it among the people.

38 Joel the brother of Nathan, &c.] In 2 Sam. xxiii. 36. Joel is called Igal, and ſaid to be the ſon of Nathan. But to account for this is eaſy: for he might be both, if he was his adopted ſon for want of children; the word "ſon" often ſignifying no more than a nephew, as the word "brother" doth one of near a-kin.

1 The companies that came to David at Ziklag. 23 The armed troops that came to him at Hebron.

1058. NOW theſe are they that came to David to Ziklag, while he yet kept himſelf cloſe becauſe of Saul the ſon of Kiſh: and they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war.

2 They were armed with bows, and could uſe both the right hand and the left in hurling ſtones and ſhooting arrows out of a bow, even of Saul's brethren of Benjamin.

3 The chief was Ahiezer, then Joaſh, the ſons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; and Jeziel, and Pelet, the ſons of Azmaveth; and Berachah, and Jehu the Antothite,

6 Elkanah, and Jeſiah, and Azareel, and Joezer, and Jaſhobeam, the Korhites,

7 And Joelah, and Zebadiah, the ſons of Jeroham, of Gedor.

8 And of the Gadites they ſeparated themſelves unto David into the hold to the wilderneſs men of might, and men of war fit for the battle, that could handle ſhield and buckler, whoſe faces were like the faces of lions, and were as ſwift as the roes upon the mountain;

9 Ezer the firſt, Obadiah the ſecond, Eliab the third,
10 Miſhmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,
11 Attai the ſixth, Eliel the ſeventh,
12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,
13 Jeremiah the tenth, Machbani the eleventh.

14 Theſe were of the ſons of Gad, captains of the hoſt: one of the leaſt was over an hundred, and the greateſt over a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they that went over Jordan in the firſt month, when it had overflown all his banks; and they put to flight all them of the vallies, both toward the eaſt, and toward the weſt.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin and Judah to the hold unto David.

17 And David went out to meet them, and anſwered and ſaid unto them, If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, mine heart ſhall be knit unto you: but if ye be come to betray me to mine enemies, ſeeing there is no wrong in mine hands, the God of our fathers look thereon, and rebuke it.

18 Then the ſpirit came upon Amaſai, who was chief of the captains, and he ſaid, Thine are we, David, and on thy ſide, thou ſon of Jeſſe: peace, peace be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers; for thy God helpeth thee. Then David received them, and made them captains of the band. Before Christ 1053.

19 And there fell ſome of Manaſſeh to David, when he came with the Philiſtines againſt Saul to battle: but they helped them not: for the lords of the Philiſtines upon adviſement ſent him away, ſaying, He will fall to his maſter Saul to the jeopardy of our heads. 1056.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manaſſeh, Adnah, and Jozabad, and Jediael, and Michael, and Jozabad, and Elihu, and Zilthai, captains of the thouſands that were of Manaſſeh.

21 And they helped David againſt the band of the rovers: for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in the hoſt.

22 For at that time day by day there came to David to help him, until it was a great hoſt, like the hoſt of God.

23 ¶ And theſe are the numbers of the bands that were ready armed to the war, and came to David to Hebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the LORD. 1048.

24 The children of Judah that bare ſhield and ſpear were ſix thouſand and eight hundred, ready armed to the war.

25 Of the children of Simeon, mighty men of valour for the war, ſeven thouſand and one hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi four thouſand and ſix hundred.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

From the conduct of David we may learn, that they who ſuffer patiently in a good cauſe, will in the end be crowned with honour; and that we ought to deny ourſelves the gratifications of ſenſe, when inconſiſtent with our duty or the ſafety of others.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

1 Now theſe are they that came to David, &c.] Here is an honourable mention made of thoſe perſons, who (pitying David's condition when forced to flee from the rage of Saul) joined him in his exile: they are omitted in the book of Samuel.

15 Theſe are they that went over Jordan in the firſt month, when it had overflown all his banks, &c.] They ventured over Jordan in the moſt dangerous ſeaſon, and perhaps ſwam over, when the ſtream was moſt rapid and violent, to help their brethren.

18 The ſpirit came upon Amaſai, &c.] God inſpired him with an intrepid boldneſs to profeſs, in the name of his companions, their fidelity to David, in ſuch pathetic words as convinced him they were really his friends.

27 Jehoiada was the leader of the Aaronites, &c.] The chief commander of thoſe of the family of Aaron, who came to invite Aaron to take upon him the government.

32 Of the children of Iſſachar, which were men that had underſtanding of the time, &c.] The beſt explication of this paſſage is, that they were men who were well verſed in political affairs, and knew what was moſt proper to be done in all exigencies of human life, as the words immediately following ſufficiently indicate.

39 And there they were with David three days, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were nigh them, even unto Iſſachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, brought bread on aſſes, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, and meat, meal, cakes of figs, and bunches of raiſins, and wine, and oil, and oxen, and ſheep abundantly: for there was joy in Iſrael.

CHAP. XIII.

1 David fetcheth the ark with great ſolemnity from Kirjath-jearim. 9 Uzza being ſmitten, the ark is left at the houſe of Obed-edom.

1043. AND David conſulted with the captains of thouſands and hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And David ſaid unto all the congregation of Iſrael, If it ſeem good unto you, and that it be of the LORD our God, let us ſend abroad unto our brethren every where, that are left in all the land of Iſrael, and with them alſo to the prieſts and Levites which are in their cities and ſuburbs, that they may gather themſelves unto us:

3 And let us bring again the ark of our God to us: for we enquired not at it in the days of Saul.

4 And all the congregation ſaid that they would do ſo: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5 So David gathered all Iſrael together from Shihor of Egypt even unto the entering of Hemath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath-jearim.

6 And David went up, and all Iſrael, to Baalah, that is to Kirjath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up thence the ark of God the LORD, that dwelleth between the cherubims, whoſe name is called on it.

7 And they carried the ark of God in a new cart out of the houſe of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio drave the cart.

8 And David and all Iſrael played before God with all their might, and with ſinging, and with harps, and with pſalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came unto the threſhingfloor of Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the ark; for the oxen ſtumbled.

10 And the anger of the LORD was kindled againſt Uzza, and he ſmote him, becauſe he put his hand to the ark: and there he died before God.

11 And David was diſpleaſed, becauſe the LORD had made a breach upon Uzza: wherefore that place is called Perez-uzza to this day.

12 And David was afraid of God that day, ſaying, How ſhall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So David brought not the ark home to himſelf to the city of David, but carried it aſide into the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite.

14 And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his houſe three months. And the LORD bleſſed the houſe of Obed-edom, and all that he had.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

From the providential care taken of David, we may ſay, Bleſſed are they around whom are the everlaſting arms of the Almighty, who can make every thing ſubſervient to his deſigns; and hence we may infer, that if we are the real ſervants of God, we ſhall find reſt in him when all temporal afflictions have an end.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XIII.

2 And that it be of the Lord our God, &c.] Agreeable to his will and purpoſe.

3 Let us bring again the ark] The firſt care of this pious prince was about religion.

We enquired not at it in the days of Saul.] They were not ſolicited in the days of Saul to find a fit place for the reſidence of the ark of God, where they might conveniently attend upon his worſhip and ſervice; for they were hindered by perpetual wars, and contented themſelves with Gibeon, where the tabernacle was, though without the preſence of God in it.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Hiram ſendeth timber and builders to David. 2 The proſperity of David's kingdom. 3 His additional wives and children after his acceſſion to the kingdom. 8 His two ſignal victories over the Philiſtines.

NOW Hiram king of Tyre ſent meſſengers to David, and timber of cedars, with maſons and carpenters, to build him an houſe.

2 ¶ And David perceived that the LORD had confirmed him king over Iſrael, for his kingdom was lifted up on high, becauſe of his people Iſrael.

3 ¶ And David took more wives at Jeruſalem: and David begat more ſons and daughters.

4 Now theſe are the names of his children which he had in Jeruſalem; Shammuah, and Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Eliſhua, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 And Eliſhama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 ¶ And when the Philiſtines heard that David was anointed king over all Iſrael, all the Philiſtines went up to ſeek David. And David heard of it, and went out againſt them.

9 And the Philiſtines came and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim. 1047.

10 And David enquired of God, ſaying, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD ſaid unto him, Go up; for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim; and David ſmote them there. Then David ſaid, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place Baal-perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burned with fire.

13 And the Philiſtines yet again ſpread themſelves abroad in the valley.

14 Therefore David enquired again of God; and God ſaid unto him, Go not up after them; turn away from them, and come upon them over againſt the mulberry trees.

15 And it ſhall be, when thou ſhalt hear a ſound of going in the tops of the mulberry trees, that then thou ſhalt go out to battle: for God is gone forth before thee to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

16 David therefore did as God commanded him: and they ſmote the hoſt of the Philiſtines from Gibeon even to Gazer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands; and the LORD brought the fear of him upon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 David, having prepared a place for the ark, ordereth the prieſts and Levites to bring it from the houſe of Obed-edom. 25 The ſolemnity is attended by David and all Iſrael with great demonſtrations of joy. 29 Michal deſpiſeth David for dancing before the ark.

AND

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

From the deſire of David to bring the ark to Jeruſalem, where he was peaceably ſettled on the throne, we may learn, that it is the duty of princes to promote the true worſhip of God, who will bleſs thoſe who draw nigh to him with ſincerity, and becoming reverence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIV.

9 Came and ſpread themſelves, &c.] This phraſe of ſpreading themſelves ſeems to import that they were very numerous, and aſſured themſelves of victory.

11 Baal perazim, &c.] That is, "the valley of diviſions," becauſe the enemy were diſperſed there like waters.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

This chapter, among other uſeful leſſons, teaches us, from the king of Tyre's ſending preſents to David, that when a man's ways pleaſe the Lord, he makes his very enemies to become friends, and to be at peace with him.

Before CHRIST 1042. AND David made him houſes in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David ſaid, None ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites: for them hath the LORD choſen to carry the ark of God, and to miniſter unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Iſrael together to Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the LORD unto his place, which he had prepared for it.

4 And David aſſembled the children of Aaron, and the Levites:

5 Of the ſons of Kohath; Uriel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twenty:

6 Of the ſons of Merari; Aſaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty:

7 Of the ſons of Gerſhom; Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty:

8 Of the ſons of Elizaphan; Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred:

9 Of the ſons of Hebron; Eliel the chief, and his brethren fourſcore:

10 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the prieſts, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Aſaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab,

12 And ſaid unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: ſanctify yourſelves, both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iſrael unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For becauſe ye did it not at the firſt, the LORD our God made a breach upon us, for that we ſought him not after the due order.

14 So the prieſts and the Levites ſanctified themſelves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iſrael.

15 And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their ſhoulders with the ſtaves thereon, as Moſes commanded according to the word of the LORD.

16 And David ſpake to the chief of the Levites to appoint their brethren to be the ſingers with inſtruments of muſick, pſalteries, and harps, and cymbals, ſounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the ſon of Joel; and of his brethren, Aſaph the ſon of Berechiah; and of the ſons of Merari their brethren, Ethan the ſon of Cuſhaiah;

18 And with them their brethren of the ſecond degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaſeiah, and Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, the porters.

19 So the ſingers, Heman, Aſaph, and Ethan, were appointed to ſound with cymbals of braſs;

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaſeiah, and Benaiah, with pſalteries on Alamoth;

21 And Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, and Azaziah, with harps on the Sheminith to excel.

22 And Chenaniah, chief of the Levites, was for ſong: he inſtructed about the ſong, becauſe he was ſkilful.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were doorkeepers for the ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Jehoſhaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amaſai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer, the prieſts, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and Obed-edom and Jehiah were doorkeepers for the ark. Before CHRIST 1042.

25 ¶ So David and the elders of Iſrael, and the captains over thouſands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the houſe of Obed-edom with joy.

26 And it came to paſs, when God helped the Levites that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, that they offered ſeven bullocks and ſeven rams.

27 And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Levites that bare the ark, and the ſingers, and Chenaniah the maſter of the ſong with the ſingers: David alſo had upon him an ephod of linen.

28 Thus all Iſrael brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with ſhouting, and with ſound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a noiſe with pſalteries and harps.

29 ¶ And it came to paſs, as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the city of David, that Michal the daughter of Saul looking out at a window ſaw king David dancing and playing: and ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

1 David's feſtival ſacrifice, and liberality to the people. 4 He appointeth a band of ſingers and muſic to praiſe the LORD. 7 The pſalm of thankſgiving. 37 He appointeth miniſters, porters, prieſts, and muſicians, to attend continually on the ark.

SO they brought the ark of God, and ſet it in the midſt of the tent that David had pitched for it: and they offered burnt ſacrifices and peace offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an end of offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he bleſſed the people in the name of the LORD.

3 And he dealt to every one of Iſrael, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread, and a good piece of fleſh, and a flagon of wine.

4 ¶ And he appointed certain of the Levites to miniſter before the ark of the LORD, and to record, and to thank and praiſe the LORD God of Iſrael:

5 Aſaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, and Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-edom: and Jeiel with pſalteries and with harps; but Aſaph made a ſound with cymbals;

6 Benaiah alſo and Jahaziel the prieſts with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

7 ¶ Then on that day David delivered firſt this pſalm to thank the LORD into the hand of Aſaph and his brethren.

8 Give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people.

9 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him, talk ye of all his wondrous works.

10 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the LORD.

11 Seek the LORD and his ſtrength, ſeek his face continually.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XV.

2 None ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites, &c.] The former miſcarriage had taught David to uſe the ark with more reverence, and take care that the Levites, according to the expreſs precept of the law, ſhould bear it on their ſhoulders.

16 Sounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.] Singing ſo loud that all might hear, and have their hearts lifted up with joy in God.

27 David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, &c.] By this perhaps may be underſtood, that David put off his royal robes, and put on thoſe of a perſon beneath his rank.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

From the Levites being appointed to bring up the ark, we may learn, that none but true miniſters ſhould take upon them the ſacred office; and that the preſence of God is always the ground of the believer's joy.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

7 Then on that day David delivered firſt this pſalm, &c.] Or, as it may be tranſlated, This David ordained in the firſt place at that time, i. e. he then ordered that God ſhould be praiſed by Aſaph and his aſſiſtants in the following manner.

8 Give thanks unto the Lord, &c.] This hymn is taken from Pſalm lxvi. and cv. which David had compoſed before this time; wherein the divine perfections are beautifully ſet forth, that the people might be excited to fear, love, and obey God.

11 Seek the Lord and his ſtrength, &c.] Senſible of your own weakneſs, depend upon his power for help.

12 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;

13 O ye ſeed of Iſrael his ſervant, ye children of Jacob, his choſen ones.

14 He is the LORD our God; his judgments are in all the earth.

15 Be ye mindful always of his covenant; the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations;

16 Even of the covenant which he made with Abraham, and of his oath unto Iſaac;

17 And hath confirmed the ſame to Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant.

20 And when they went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people;

21 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their ſakes,

22 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

23 Sing unto the LORD, all the earth; ſhew forth from day to day his ſalvation.

24 Declare his glory among the heathen; his marvellous works among all nations.

25 For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praiſed: he alſo is to be feared above all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.

27 Glory and honour are in his preſence; ſtrength and gladneſs are in his place.

28 Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and ſtrength.

29 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worſhip the LORD in the beauty of holineſs.

30 Fear before him, all the earth: the world alſo ſhall be ſtable, that it be not moved.

31 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men ſay among the nations, The LORD reigneth.

32 Let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof: let the fields rejoice, and all that is therein.

33 Then ſhall the trees of the wood ſing out at the preſence of the LORD, becauſe he cometh to judge the earth.

34 O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

35 And ſay ye, Save us, O God of our ſalvation, and gather us together, and deliver us from the heathen, that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and glory in thy praiſe.

36 Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael for ever and ever. And all the people ſaid, Amen, and praiſed the LORD.

37 ¶ So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD Aſaph and his brethren, to miniſter before the ark continually, as every day's work required:

38 And Obed-edom with their brethren, threeſcore and eight; Obed-edom alſo the ſon of Jeduthun and Hoſah to be porters:

39 And Zadok the prieſt, and his brethren the prieſts, before the tabernacle of the LORD in the high place that was at Gibeon,

40 To offer burnt offerings unto the LORD upon the altar of the burnt offering continually morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the LORD, which he commanded Iſrael;

Before CHRIST 1042.

41 And with them Heman and Jeduthun, and the reſt that were choſen, who were expreſſed by name, to give thanks to the LORD, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever;

42 And with them Heman and Jeduthun with trumpets and cymbals for thoſe that ſhould make a ſound, and with muſical inſtruments of God. And the ſons of Jeduthun were porters.

43 And all the people departed every man to his houſe: and David returned to bleſs his houſe.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Nathan, firſt approving David's purpoſe to build God an houſe, 3 afterward by the word of the LORD forbiddeth it, but with aſſurance of favour, 11 and a promiſe of eſpecial bleſſings in his ſeed. 16 David's prayer and thankſgiving.

NOW it came to paſs, as David ſat in his houſe, that David ſaid to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in an houſe of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD remaineth under curtains.

2 Then Nathan ſaid unto David, Do all that is in thine heart; for God is with thee.

3 ¶ And it came to paſs the ſame night, that the word of God came to Nathan, ſaying,

4 Go and tell David my ſervant, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thou ſhalt not build me an houſe to dwell in:

5 For I have not dwelt in an houſe ſince the day that I brought up Iſrael unto this day; but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

6 Whereſoever I have walked with all Iſrael, ſpake I a word to any of the judges of Iſrael, whom I commanded to feed my people, ſaying, Why have ye not built me an houſe of cedars?

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay unto my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I took thee from the ſheepcote, even from following the ſheep, that thou ſhouldeſt be ruler over my people Iſrael:

8 And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou haſt walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Alſo I will ordain a place for my people Iſrael, and will plant them, and they ſhall dwell in their place, and ſhall be moved no more; neither ſhall the children of wickedneſs waſte them any more, as at the beginning,

10 And ſince the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iſrael. Moreover I will ſubdue all thine enemies. Furthermore I tell thee that the LORD will build thee an houſe.

11 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, when thy days be expired that thou muſt go to be with thy fathers, that I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſons; and I will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

12 He ſhall build me an houſe, and I will ſtabliſh his throne for ever.

13 I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſon: and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee:

14 But I will ſettle him in mine houſe and in my kingdom for ever: and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for evermore.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

We may learn from this ſong to praiſe, with David, the power, juſtice, and goodneſs of God, which appear in the deliverances he grants to thoſe that fear him; and likewiſe ſee the miſerable condition of the ungodly; ſince that when they are in diſtreſs, there is none to deliver them; and when they cry to the Lord, he will not hear them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

14 I will ſettle him in mine houſe and in my kingdom for ever, &c.] In 2 Sam. vii. 16. it is ſaid, "thine houſe and thy kingdom;" which ſufficiently proves that this principally belongs to the Meſſiah, of whom David was only a type or figure.

Before CHRIST 1042.

15 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David.

16 ¶ And David the king came and ſat before the LORD, and ſaid, Who am I, O LORD God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto?

17 And yet this was a ſmall thing in thine eyes, O God; for thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy ſervant's houſe for a great while to come, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of high degree, O LORD God.

18 What can David ſpeak more to thee for the honour of thy ſervant? for thou knoweſt thy ſervant.

19 O LORD, for thy ſervant's ſake, and according to thine own heart, haſt thou done all this greatneſs, in making known all theſe great things.

20 O LORD, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſide thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people Iſrael, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatneſs and terribleneſs, by driving out nations from before thy people, whom thou haſt redeemed out of Egypt?

22 For thy people Iſrael didſt thou make thine own people for ever; and thou, LORD, becameſt their God.

23 Therefore now, LORD, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant and concerning his houſe be eſtabliſhed for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

24 Let it even be eſtabliſhed, that thy name may be magnified for ever, ſaying, The LORD of hoſts is the God of Iſrael, even a God to Iſrael: and let the houſe of David thy ſervant be eſtabliſhed before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, haſt told thy ſervant that thou wilt build him an houſe: therefore thy ſervant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And now, LORD, thou art God, and haſt promiſed this goodneſs unto thy ſervant:

27 Now therefore let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou bleſſeſt, O LORD, and it ſhall be bleſſed for ever.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 David ſubdueth the Philiſtines, and maketh the Moabites tributary. 3 He ſmiteth Hadarezer and the Syrians. 9 Tou king of Hamath ſendeth his ſon with preſents to bleſs David, who dedicateth the preſents, and the ſpoil which he had taken, to God. 13 He putteth garriſons in Edom. 14 His good reign; a liſt of his principal officers.

1040. NOW after this it came to paſs, that David ſmote the Philiſtines, and ſubdued them, and took Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

2 And he ſmote Moab; and the Moabites became David's ſervants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ And David ſmote Hadarezer king of Zobah unto Hamath, as he wet to ſtabliſh his dominion by the river Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thouſand chariots, and ſeven thouſand horſemen, and twenty thouſand footmen: David alſo houghed all the chariot horſes, but reſerved of them an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of Damaſcus came to help Hadarezer king of Zobah, David ſlew of the Syrians two and twenty thouſand men.

6 Then David put garriſons in Syria-damaſcus; and the Syrians became David's ſervants, and brought gifts. Thus the LORD preſerved David whitherſoever he went. Before CHRIST 1040.

7 And David took the ſhields of gold that were on the ſervants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jeruſalem.

8 Likewiſe from Tibhath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought David very much braſs, wherewith Solomon made the braſen ſea, and the pillars, and the veſſels of braſs.

9 ¶ Now when Tou king of Hamath heard how David had ſmitten all the hoſt of Hadarezer king of Zobah;

10 He ſent Hadoram his ſon to king David, to enquire of his welfare, and to congratulate him, becauſe he had fought againſt Hadarezer, and ſmitten him; (for Hadarezer had war with Tou;) and with him all manner of veſſels of gold and ſilver and braſs.

11 Them alſo king David dedicated unto the LORD, with the ſilver and the gold that he brought from all theſe nations; from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philiſtines, and from Amalek.

12 Moreover Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah ſlew of the Edomites in the valley of ſalt eighteen thouſand.

13 ¶ And he put garriſons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's ſervants. Thus the LORD preſerved David whitherſoever he went.

14 ¶ So David reigned over all Iſrael, and executed judgment and juſtice among all his people.

15 And Joab the ſon of Zeruiah was over the hoſt; and Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Ahilud, recorder.

16 And Zadok the ſon of Ahitub, and Abimelech the ſon of Abiathar, were the prieſts; and Shavſha was ſcribe;

17 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and the ſons of David were chief about the king.

CHAP. XIX.

1 David's ambaſſadors, ſent to comfort Hanun for his father's death, are diſgracefully treated. 6 The Ammonites ſtrengthened by the Syrians, are overcome by Joab and Abiſhai. 16 Hadarezer ſendeth a new army of Syrians, under Shobach, which is defeated by David, and their general ſlain; whereupon the kings who were ſubject to Syria become ſervants to Iſrael.

NOW it came to paſs after this, that Nahaſh the king of the children of Ammon died, and his ſon reigned in his ſtead. 1037.

2 And David ſaid, I will ſhew kindneſs unto Hanun the ſon of Nahaſh, becauſe his father ſhewed kindneſs to me. And David ſent meſſengers to comfort him concerning his father. So the ſervants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 But the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid to Hanun, Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father, that he hath ſent comforters unto thee? are not his ſervants come unto thee for to ſearch, and to overthrow, and to ſpy out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's ſervants, and ſhaved them, and cut off their garments in the midſt hard by their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 Then

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

In imitation of the piety and reſignation of David, let us be diſpoſed to bleſs the Lord at all times, even though he denies our requeſts.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

1 Gath and her towns, &c.] In 2 Sam. viii. 1. it is ſaid, that David took Metheg-ammah out of the hand of the Philiſtines; which are all one in Abarbinel's account, who takes Metheg-ammah for a region or province, which comprehended Gath and her towns.

11 Them alſo king David dedicated unto the Lord, &c.] He conſecrated, or ſolemnly deputed them to this holy uſe, that it might not be lawful hereafter to employ them to any other.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

In this chapter the great piety of David is worthy of obſervation: he had it in his heart to build the temple of God: his willingneſs was accepted: for the Divine Being looks at the heart more than the outward act.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

Before CHRIST 1037. 5 Then there went certain, and told David how the men were ſerved. And he ſent to meet them: for the men were greatly aſhamed. And the king ſaid, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon ſaw that they had made themſelves odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon ſent a thouſand talents of ſilver to hire them chariots and horſemen out of Meſopotamia, and out of Syria-maachah, and out of Zobah.

7 So they hired thirty and two thouſand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people; who came and pitched before Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themſelves together from their cities, and came to battle.

8 And when David heard of it, he ſent Joab, and all the hoſt of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battle in array before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come were by themſelves in the field.

10 Now when Joab ſaw that the battle was ſet againſt him before and behind, he choſe out of all the choice of Iſrael, and put them in array againſt the Syrians.

11 And the reſt of the people he delivered unto the hand of Abiſhai his brother, and they ſet themſelves in array againſt the children of Ammon.

12 And he ſaid, If the Syrians be too ſtrong for me, then thou ſhalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave ourſelves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God: and let the LORD do that which is good in his ſight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him drew nigh before the Syrians unto the battle; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, they likewiſe fled before Abiſhai his brother, and entered into the city. Then Joab came to Jeruſalem.

1036. 16 ¶ And when the Syrians ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they ſent meſſengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the river: and Shophach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And it was told David; and he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſed over Jordan, and came upon them, and ſet the battle in array againſt them. So when David had put the battle in array againſt the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Iſrael; and David ſlew of the Syrians ſeven thouſand men which fought in chariots, and forty thouſand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoſt.

19 And when the ſervants of Hadarezer ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they made peace with David, and became his ſervants: neither would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah is taken and ſpoiled, and the people thereof tortured. 4 Three giants ſlain by David's ſervants in three ſeveral battles with the Philiſtines.

1035. AND it came to paſs, that after the year was expired, at the time that kings go out to battle, Joab led forth the power of the army, and waſted the country of the children of Ammon, and came and beſieged Rabbah. But David tarried at Jeruſalem. And Joab ſmote Rabbah, and deſtroyed it. Before CHRIST 1035.

2 And David took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it to weigh a talent of gold, and there were precious ſtones in it; and it was ſet upon David's head: and he brought alſo exceeding much ſpoil out of the city. 1034.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and cut them with ſaws, and with harrows of iron, and with axes. Even ſo dealt David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jeruſalem.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs after this, that there aroſe war at Gezer with the Philiſtines; at which time Sibbechai the Huſhathite ſlew Sippai, that was of the children of the giant: and they were ſubdued. 1018.

5 And there was war again with the Philiſtines; and Elhanan the ſon of Jair ſlew Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whoſe ſpear ſtaff was like a weaver's beam.

6 And yet again there was war at Gath, where was a man of great ſtature, whoſe fingers and toes were four and twenty, ſix on each hand, and ſix on each foot: and he alſo was the ſon of the giant.

7 But when he defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſon of Shimea David's brother ſlew him.

8 Theſe were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David tempted by Satan forceth Joab to number Iſrael. 5 The number is returned to the king. 7 God is diſpleaſed: David acknowledgeth his fault. 9 Gad being ſent from God to propoſe one out of three plagues to his choice, he chooſeth the three days' peſtilence. 14 Seventy thouſand in Iſrael being already cut off, the deſtroying angel is ſtayed over Jeruſalem: 16 David on ſight of the angel humbly intercedeth for the people. 18 By Gad's direction having bought Ornan's threſhing floor, he buildeth an altar, and ſacrificeth: God ſignifieth his favour by fire from heaven, and ſtayeth the plague. 28 He ſacrificeth again in the ſame place, being reſtrained from going to the altar at Gibeon for fear of the angel.

AND Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael. 1017.

2 And David ſaid to Joab and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Iſrael from Beer-ſheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab anſwered, The LORD make his people an hundred times ſo many more as they be: but, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's ſervants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cauſe of treſpaſs to Iſrael?

4 Nevertheleſs the king's word prevailed againſt Joab. Wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Iſrael, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ And Joab gave the ſum of the number of the people unto David. And all they of Iſrael were a thouſand thouſand and an hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: and Judah was four hundred threeſcore and ten thouſand men that drew ſword.

6 But

6 Syria-maachah, &c.] In 2 Sam. ii. it is called ſimply Maachah, which was a city in the land of Canaan; and lying beyond Jordan, on the borders of Syria, it obtained the name we here meet with, becauſe the people were in their manners more Syrians than Canaanites.

7 So they hired thirty and two thouſand chariots, &c.] They hired thirty and two thouſand men that fought in chariots; for in the book of Samuel it is expreſsly ſaid, that they hired twenty thouſand men from Zoba, and twelve thouſand of Iſhtob.

And the Lord commanded the Angel to put up his Sword again into the Sheath thereof.

Before CHRIST 1017.

6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Joab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing; therefore he smote Israel.

8 And David said unto God, I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, do away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Gad, David's seer, saying,

10 Go and tell David, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I offer thee three things: choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Gad came to David, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Choose thee

12 Either three years famine; or three months to be destroyed before thy foes, while that the sword of thine enemies overtaketh thee; or else three days the sword of the LORD, even the pestilence, in the land, and the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the coasts of Israel. Now therefore advise thyself what word I shall bring again to him that sent me.

13 And David said unto Gad, I am in a great strait: let me fall now into the hand of the LORD; for very great are his mercies: but let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 ¶ So the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel; and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 And God sent an angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and he repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshingfloor of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 ¶ And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem. Then David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David said unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but as for these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, be on me, and on my father's house; but not on thy people, that they should be plagued.

18 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up, and set up an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 And David went up at the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the LORD.

20 And Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons with him hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshingfloor, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David said to Ornan, Grant me the place of this threshingfloor, that I may build an altar therein unto the LORD: thou shalt grant it me for the full price: that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 And Ornan said unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen also for burnt offerings, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat offering; I give it all.

Before CHRIST 1017.

24 And king David said to Ornan, Nay; but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called upon the LORD; and he answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And the LORD commanded the angel; and he put up his sword again into the sheath thereof.

28 ¶ At that time when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshingfloor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 For the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of the burnt offering, were at that season in the high place at Gibeon.

30 But David could not go before it to enquire of God: for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

CHAP. XXII.

1 David foreknowing the place of the temple maketh large preparations for the building of it. 6 He instructeth Solomon in the promises made to him by God, and chargeth him with his duty in building the house. 17 He chargeth the princes of Israel to assist his son in the work.

THEN David said, This is the house of the LORD God, and this is the altar of the burnt offering for Israel.

2 And David commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel; and he set masons to hew wrought stones to build the house of God.

3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the joinings; and brass in abundance without weight;

4 Also cedar trees in abundance: for the Zidonians and they of Tyre brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, Solomon my son is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the LORD must be exceeding magnifical, of fame and of glory throughout all countries: I will therefore now make preparation for it. SoDavid prepared abundantly before his death.

6 ¶ Then he called for Solomon his son, and charged him to build an house for the LORD God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon, My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build an house unto the name of the LORD my God:

8 But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, Thou hast shed blood abundantly, and hast made great wars: thou shalt not build an house unto my name, because thou hast shed much blood upon the earth in my sight.

9 Behold, a son shall be born to thee, who shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name shall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days.

10 He

6 The king's word was abominable to Joab.] We here read, that Joab did all this against his will, and at last the employment became so disagreeable to him, that he was quite tired with it, and therefore most probably broke off, before he took the number of the tribes of Levi and Benjamin.

28 Then he sacrificed there.] He continued afterwards to offer his sacrifices there, where there was such a manifest appearance of the divine presence, and a testimony of the acceptance of his sacrifices: he therefore supposed he ought immediately to sacrifice here, and not defer it till he could go to Gibeon.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

The pardon God granted David, upon his repentance, and offering sacrifice, points out to us, that though God chastises his people for their transgressions, yet he is appeased, and reinstates them in his favour, when they return to him with humility, and have recourse to his mercy in Christ Jesus.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXII.

5 Solomon my son is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the Lord must be exceeding magnifical, &c.] The magnificence of the structure required David's care, to make what preparation he could for such an undertaking.

8 Thou shalt not build an house unto my name, because thou hast shed much blood, &c.] It did not so well suit with the divine majesty, to have an house built him by one who had shed so much blood, as by one who was to reign in peace and quietness; that he might be the emblem of the king of peace, the Messiah, the Lord of the church, who was prefigured in all such great transactions.

11 Now, my ſon, the LORD be with thee; and proſper thou, and build the houſe of the LORD thy God, as he hath ſaid of thee.

12 Only the LORD give thee wiſdom and underſtanding, and give thee charge concerning Iſrael, that thou mayeſt keep the law of the LORD thy God.

13 Then ſhalt thou proſper, if thou takeſt heed to fulfil the ſtatutes and judgments which the LORD charged Moſes with concerning Iſrael: be ſtrong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be diſmayed.

14 Now, behold, in my trouble I have prepared for the houſe of the LORD an hundred thouſand talents of gold, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſilver; and of braſs and iron without weight; for it is in abundance: timber alſo and ſtone have I prepared; and thou mayeſt add thereto.

15 Moreover there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers and workers of ſtone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work.

16 Of the gold, the ſilver, and the braſs, and the iron, there is no number. Ariſe therefore, and be doing, and the LORD be with thee.

19 Now ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the LORD your God; ariſe therefore, and build ye the ſanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy veſſels of God, into the houſe that is to be built to the name of the LORD.

1 David in his old age maketh Solomon king. 2 The number and diſtribution of the Levites. 7 The families of the Gerſhonites. 12 The ſons of Kohath. 21 The ſons of Merari. 24 The office of the Levites.

1015. SO when David was old and full of days, he made Solomon his ſon king over Iſrael.

2 ¶ And he gathered together all the princes of Iſrael, with the prieſts and the Levites.

3 Now the Levites were numbered from the age of 1045. thirty years and upward: and their number by their polls, man by man, was thirty and eight thouſand.

4 Of which, twenty and four thouſand were to ſet forward the work of the houſe of the LORD; and ſix thouſand were officers and judges:

5 Moreover four thouſand were porters; and four thouſand praiſed the LORD with the inſtruments which I made, ſaid David, to praiſe therewith.

6 And David divided them into courſes among the ſons of Levi, namely, Gerſhon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 ¶ Of the Gerſhonites were, Laadan, and Shimei.

8 The ſons of Laadan; the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham, and Joel, three.

9 The ſons of Shimei; Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haran, three. Theſe were the chief of the fathers of Laadan.

10 And the ſons of Shimei were, Jahath, Zina, and Jeuſh, and Beriah. Theſe four were the ſons of Shimei. Before CHRIST 1045.

11 And Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the ſecond: but Jeuſh and Beriah had not many ſons; therefore they were in one reckoning, according to their father's houſe.

12 ¶ The ſons of Kohath; Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four.

13 The ſons of Amram; Aaron and Moſes: and Aaron was ſeparated, that he ſhould ſanctify the moſt holy things, he and his ſons for ever, to burn incenſe before the LORD, to miniſter unto him, and to bleſs in his name for ever.

14 Now concerning Moſes the man of God, his ſons were named of the tribe of Levi.

15 The ſons of Moſes were, Gerſhom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the ſons of Gerſhom, Shebuel was the chief.

17 And the ſons of Eliezer were, Rehabiah the chief. And Eliezer had none other ſons; but the ſons of Rehabiah were very many.

18 Of the ſons of Izhar; Shelomith the chief.

19 Of the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Micah the firſt, and Jeſiah the ſecond.

21 ¶ The ſons of Merari; Mahli, and Muſhi. The ſons of Mahli; Eleazar, and Kiſh.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſons, but daughters: and their brethren the ſons of Kiſh took them.

23 The ſons of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three.

24 ¶ Theſe were the ſons of Levi after the houſe of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, from the age of twenty years and upward.

25 For David ſaid, The LORD God of Iſrael hath given reſt unto his people, that they may dwell in Jeruſalem for ever; numbered from twenty years old and above:

28 Becauſe their office was to wait on the ſons of Aaron for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, in the courts, and in the chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God;

29 Both for the ſhewbread, and for the fine flour for meat offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for that which is baked in the pan, and for that which is fried, and for all manner of meaſure and ſize;

30 And to ſtand every morning to thank and praiſe the LORD, and likewiſe at even;

31 And to offer all burnt ſacrifices unto the LORD in the ſabbaths, in the new moons, and on the ſet feaſts, by number, according to the order commanded unto them, continually before the LORD:

10 He ſhall be my ſon, and I will be his father, &c.] This can belong to none, in the proper and full ſenſe of the word, but to Chriſt alone; for Solomon reigned but forty years; and after that his kingdom was torn in pieces; hence the author of the epiſtle to the Hebrews applies them to Chriſt, Heb. i. 5.

14 An hundred thouſand talents of gold, &c.] Computed to amount to the immenſe ſum of four hundred and ſixty-one millions of money.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

We have two important inſtructions in this chapter: firſt, that all Chriſtians, eſpecially thoſe in authority, who are bleſſed with riches, ſhould labour, above all things, to eſtabliſh and promote the true ſervice of God, and his holy religion; and, ſecondly, that the chief care of parents ought to be, to recommend piety to their children, and inſpire them with religious ſentiments; for that this alone conſtitutes the happineſs and proſperity of families.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

1 He made Solomon his ſon king over Iſrael.] He declared him his ſucceſſor; but did not reſign his throne to him, nor admit him as his co-adjutor.

4 Six thouſand were officers and judges.] David takes care to reſtore the judicatures as a neceſſary part of government; and having numbered the Levites, appointed them their certain buſineſs, which had been before unſettled and undetermined, employing them in both eccleſiaſtical and civil affairs.

14 Moſes the man of God, his ſons were named of the tribe of Levi.] This is a remarkable inſtance of the humility and modeſty of Moſes, who, though ſo powerful a man, would not advance his ſons to any dignity, but left them only Levites, ſervants to the prieſts.

31 To offer all burnt ſacrifices unto the Lord, &c.] To praiſe God at the time when the ſacrifices were offered: for it belonged to prieſts alone to offer the burnt ſacrifices.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 The divisions of the sons of Aaron by lot into four and twenty orders. 20 The remainder of the Kohathites, 26 and the Merarites, divided by lot.

NOW these are the divisions of the sons of Aaron. The sons of Aaron; Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the priest's office.

3 And David distributed them, both Zadok of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their service.

4 And there were more chief men found of the sons of Eleazar than of the sons of Ithamar; and thus were they divided. Among the sons of Eleazar there were sixteen chief men of the house of their fathers, and eight among the sons of Ithamar according to the house of their fathers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, of one sort with another; for the governors of the sanctuary, and governors of the house of God, were of the sons of Eleazar, and of the sons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the son of Nathaneel the scribe, one of the Levites, wrote them before the king, and the princes, and Zadok the priest, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the priests and Levites: one principal household being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

7 Now the first lot came forth to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

10 The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

11 The ninth to Jeshuah, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

15 The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Aphses,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Jachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul.

18 The three and twentieth to Delaiah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

19 These were the orderings of them in their service to come into the house of the LORD, according to their manner, under Aaron their father, as the LORD God of Israel had commanded him.

20 ¶ And the rest of the sons of Levi were these. Of the sons of Amram; Shubael: of the sons of Shubael; Jehdeiah.

21 Concerning Rehabiah: of the sons of Rehabiah, Before CHRIST 1015. the first was Isshiah.

22 Of the Izharites; Shelomoth: of the sons of Shelomoth; Jahath.

23 And the sons of Hebron; Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jehaziel the third, Jekameum the fourth.

24 Of the sons of Uzziel; Michah: of the sons of Michah; Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah was Isshiah: of the sons of Isshiah; Zechariah.

26 ¶ The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi; the sons of Jaaziah; Beno.

27 The sons of Merari by Jaaziah; Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, who had no sons.

29 Concerning Kish: the son of Kish was Jerahmeel.

30 The sons also of Mushi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites after the house of their fathers.

31 These likewise cast lots over against their brethren the sons of Aaron in the presence of David the king, and Zadok, and Ahimelech, and the chief of the fathers of the priests and Levites, even the principal fathers over against their younger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The number and offices of the singers: 8 Their division by lot into four and twenty orders.

MOREOVER David and the captains of the host separated to the service of the sons of Asaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who should prophesy with harps, with psalteries, and with cymbals: and the number of the workmen according to their service was:

2 Of the sons of Asaph; Zaccur, and Joseph, and Nethaniah, and Asarelah, the sons of Asaph under the hands of Asaph, which prophesied according to the order of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun: the sons of Jeduthun; Gedeliah, and Zeri, and Jeshaiah, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah, six, under the hands of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with a harp, to give thanks and to praise the LORD.

4 Of Heman: the sons of Heman; Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth:

5 All these were the sons of Heman the king's seer in the words of God, to lift up the horn. And God gave to Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

6 All these were under the hands of their father for song in the house of the LORD, with cymbals, psalteries, and harps, for the service of the house of God, according to the king's order to Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman.

7 So the number of them, with their brethren that were instructed in the songs of the LORD, even all that were cunning, was two hundred fourscore and eight.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

From the example of David, princes, and even private persons of ability, are instructed to make suitable provision for the regular and orderly worship of God: they who do thus, with an eye to the glory of God, may depend on the most substantial and permanent blessings from him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

1 These are the divisions of the sons of Aaron, &c.] David having distributed the Levites into several courses, now does the same by the priests, to avoid confusion among such large numbers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, &c.] This method was taken, to remove all occasion of complaint, it being ordered by a divine disposition, according to the custom of the most early ages.

6 One principal household being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.] The meaning is, that one of the principal families of Eleazar was first taken, and then one of Ithamar's; and after that one of Eleazar's again, and so on by turns.

19 Under Aaron their father, &c.] Under the inspection of the high-priest, who, being the successor of Aaron, is called by his name.

31 The principal fathers over against their younger brethren.] The meaning is, that the elder and younger had their places by lots, not by seniority of houses.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

The wise disposition of the priests and Levites by the appointment of David, affords an instance of the goodness and condescension of God towards his church, in providing ministers to warn, admonish, comfort, nourish, and edify it with respect to faith and practice.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXV.

1 And the captains of the host] By "the host" we are to understand the companies of priests that waited upon the service of God in the temple.

Who should prophesy with harps] Should praise God and sing psalms, which David and other prophets composed.

The number of the workmen, &c.] The number of the men of the ministry; i. e. those who ministered in singing and playing upon instruments.

2 Under the hands of Asaph, &c.] Under his direction, as their præcentor.

5 To lift up the horn, &c.] In the temple they used also wind-music, which many think to have been trumpets made of horn.

7 Two hundred fourscore and eight.] This was the whole number of those who were appointed to sing; and under the persons before-mentioned, they were distributed into several courses, after the same manner as the priests had been, with whom they were to attend in their order.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The divisions of the porters. 13 The gates assigned by lot. 20 The Levites that had charge of the treasures. 29 Those that were officers and judges.

CONCERNING the divisions of the porters: Of the Korhites was Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph.

2 And the sons of Meshelemiah were, Zechariah the firstborn, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehonan the sixth, Elioenai the seventh.

4 Moreover the sons of Obed-edom were, Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God blessed him.

6 Also unto Shemaiah his son were sons borns, that ruled throughout the house of their father: for they were mighty men of valour. Before CHRIST 1015.

7 The sons of Shemaiah; Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, whose brethren were strong men, Elihu, and Semachiah.

8 All these of the sons of Obed-edom: they and their sons and their brethren, able men for strength for the service, were threescore and two of Obed-edom.

9 And Meshelemiah had sons and brethren, strong men, eighteen.

10 Also Hosah, of the children of Merari, had sons; Simri the chief, (for though he was not the firstborn, yet his father made him the chief;)

11 Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the sons and brethren of Hosa were thirteen.

12 Among these were the divisions of the porters, even among the chief men, having wards one against another, to minister in the house of the LORD.

13 ¶ And they cast lots, as well the small as the great, according to the house of their fathers, for every gate.

14 And the lot eastward fell to Shelemiah. Then for Zechariah his son, a wise counsellor, they cast lots; and his lot came out northward.

15 To Obed-edom southward; and to his sons the house of Asuppim.

16 To Shuppim and Hosah the lot came forth westward, with the gate Shallecheth, by the causeway of the going up, ward against ward.

17 Eastward were six Levites, northward four a day, southward four a day, and toward Asuppim two and two.

18 At Parbar westward, four at the causeway, and two at Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters among the sons of Kore, and among the sons of Merari.

20 ¶ And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicated things.

21 As concerning the sons of Laadan; the sons of the Gershonite Laadan, chief fathers, even of Laadan the Gershonite, were Jehieli.

22 The sons of Jehieli; Zetham, and Joel his brother, which were over the treasures of the house of the LORD.

23 Of the Amramites, and the Izarhites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites;

24 And Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was ruler of the treasures.

25 And his brethren by Eliezer; Rehabiah his son, and Jeshaiah his son, and Joram his son, and Zichri his son, and Shelomith his son.

26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicated things, which David the king, and the chief fathers, the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the host, had dedicated.

27 Out of the spoils won in battles did they dedicate to maintain the house of the LORD.

28 And all that Samuel the seer, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah, had dedicated; and whosoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shelomith, and of his brethren.

8 And they cast lots, ward against ward, &c.] That is, which ward or course of the singers should answer to and attend on the first ward or course of the priests in their weekly service, and which the second, and so on.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXV.

The excellent arrangement of the singers may serve to denote, that none can worthily sing the praises of God, but such as, by pure and upright hearts, are qualified for that delightful employ.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVI.

1 Concerning the divisions of the porters.] This was an office of great dignity, and men of the first quality were appointed to it, they having the charge of the holy things.

The sons of Asaph.] This is not Asaph the musician mentioned in the preceding chapter, but another called Eliasaph, and sometimes Jasaph, of the line of Kohath.

15 The house of Asuppim.] Supposed to signify the treasury of the temple, or the place where the things that were dedicated were deposited.

16 By the causeway of the going up, &c.] It was by that ascent which Solomon made for his own passage up from his own house to the temple.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jerijah the chief, even among the Hebronites, according to the generations of his fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of David they were ſought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valour at Jazer of Gilead.

32 And his brethren, men of valour, were two thouſand and ſeven hundred chief fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh, for every matter pertaining to God, and affairs of the king.

22 Of Dan, Azareel the ſon of Jeroham. Theſe were the princes of the tribes of Iſrael.

23 ¶ But David took not the number of them from twenty years old and under: becauſe the LORD had ſaid he would increaſe Iſrael like to the ſtars of the heavens.

24 Joab the ſon of Zeruiah began to number, but he finiſhed not, becauſe there fell wrath for it againſt Iſrael; neither was the number put in the account of the chronicles of king David. 1017.

25 And over the king's treaſures was Azmaveth the ſon of Adiel: and over the ſtorehouſes in the fields, in the cities, and in the villages, and in the caſtles, was Jehonathan the ſon of Uzziah: 1015.

CHAP.

29 For the outward buſineſs, &c.] That is, the buſineſs without Jeruſalem, which belonged neither to the ſingers nor the porters.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVI.

By the care taken to ſet apart what might be neceſſary for the divine worſhip, and the treaſure dedicated by divers eminent perſons for that important purpoſe, we are taught to be liberal reſpecting this great work, that the cauſe of God may be promoted, well knowing that our labour of love will not be in vain in the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVII.

1 Now the children of Iſrael, &c.] The eccleſiaſtical affairs being ſettled, here is now an account given how the militia of the kingdom was diſpoſed, in order to render it ſerviceable on all occaſions. It was diſtributed into twelve legions, each of them conſiſting of twenty-four thouſand men.

5 A chief prieſt, &c.] Or rather, chief prince, as the original often ſignifies.

16 Furthermore over the tribes of Iſrael, &c.] Every tribe had a ruler, who had the chief authority among them under the king.

17 The Aaronites, &c.] Not a diſtinct tribe, but of a diſtinct order from the reſt of the Levites; and therefore had a peculiar chief to preſide over them.

22 Of the tribes of Iſrael.] It is obſervable, that Gad and Aſher are omitted; of which no certain account can be given.

24 Neither was the number put in the account, &c.] The king being ſenſible of his error, would not have the account recorded in the regiſters of the kingdom.

33 The king's companion.] That is, the king's favourite.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVII.

The chief thing obſervable in this chapter is, the ſenſe David had of his error in numbering the people, which ſhould be a leſſon to us, that though God for Chriſt's ſake, pardons our ſins, yet we ought continually to have a ſenſe of them, and walk humbly with God on that account.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 David in a ſolemn aſſembly, having declared God's eſpecial favour toward him, and the promiſes made to his ſon Solomon, exhorteth all in general to the fear of God. 9 His particular charge to Solomon to ſerve the LORD, and to build the temple. 11 He giveth him patterns for the form, and gold and ſilver for the materials. 20 He encourageth him with aſſurances of divine and human aſſiſtance.

AND David aſſembled all the princes of Iſrael, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that miniſtered to the king by courſe, and the captains over the thouſands, and captains over the hundreds, and the ſtewards over all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of the king, and of his ſons, with the officers, and with the mighty men, and with all the valiant men, unto Jeruſalem.

2 Then David the king ſtood up upon his feet, and ſaid, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I had in mine heart to build an houſe of reſt for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footſtool of our God, and had made ready for the building:

3 But God ſaid unto me, Thou ſhalt not build an houſe for my name, becauſe thou haſt been a man of war, and haſt ſhed blood.

4 Howbeit the LORD God of Iſrael choſe me before all the houſe of my father to be king over Iſrael for ever: for he hath choſen Judah to be the ruler; and of the houſe of Judah, the houſe of my father; and among the ſons of my father he liked me to make me king over all Iſrael:

5 And of all my ſons (for the LORD hath given me many ſons,) he hath choſen Solomon my ſon to ſit upon the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Iſrael.

6 And he ſaid unto me, Solomon thy ſon, he ſhall build my houſe and my courts: for I have choſen him to be my ſon, and I will be his father.

7 Moreover I will eſtabliſh his kingdom for ever, if he be conſtant to do my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.

8 Now therefore in the ſight of all Iſrael the congregation of the LORD, and in the audience of our God, keep and ſeek for all the commandments of the LORD your God: that ye may poſſeſs this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you for ever.

9 ¶ And thou, Solomon my ſon, know thou the God of thy father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind: for the LORD ſearcheth all hearts, and underſtandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou ſeek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forſake him, he will caſt thee off for ever.

10 Take heed now; for the LORD hath choſen thee to build an houſe for the ſanctuary: be ſtrong, and do it.

11 ¶ Then David gave to Solomon his ſon the pattern of the porch, and of the houſes thereof, and of the treaſuries thereof, and of the upper chambers thereof, and of the inner parlours thereof, and of the place of the mercy ſeat,

12 And the pattern of all that he had by the ſpirit, of the courts of the houſe of the LORD, and of all the chambers round about, of the treaſuries of the houſe of God, and of the treaſuries of the dedicated things. Before CHRIST 1015.

13 Alſo for the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, and for all the work of the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, and for all the veſſels of ſervice in the houſe of the LORD.

14 He gave of gold by weight for things of gold, for all inſtruments of all manner of ſervice; ſilver alſo for all inſtruments of ſilver by weight, for all inſtruments of every kind of ſervice:

15 Even the weight for the candleſticks of gold, and for their lamps of gold, by weight for every candleſtick, and for the lamps thereof: and for the candleſticks of ſilver by weight, both for the candleſtick, and alſo for the lamps thereof, according to the uſe of every candleſtick.

16 And by weight he gave gold for the tables of ſhewbread, for every table; and likewiſe ſilver for the tables of ſilver:

17 Alſo pure gold for the fleſhhooks, and the bowls, and the cups: and for the golden baſons he gave gold by weight for every baſon; and likewiſe ſilver by weight for every baſon of ſilver:

18 And for the altar of incenſe refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of the chariot of the cherubims, that ſpread out their wings, and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

19 All this, ſaid David, the LORD made me underſtand in writing by his hand upon me, even all the works of this pattern.

20 ¶ And David ſaid to Solomon his ſon, Be ſtrong and of good courage, and do it: fear not, nor be diſmayed: for the LORD God, even my God, will be with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forſake thee, until thou haſt finiſhed all the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD.

21 And, behold, the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, even they ſhall be with thee for all the ſervice of the houſe of God; and there ſhall be with thee for all manner of workmanſhip every willing ſkilful man, for any manner of ſervice: alſo the princes and all the people will be wholly at thy commandment.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 David by example and exhortation 6 cauſeth the princes and people to offer willingly for the ſervice of the temple. 10 David's thankſgiving and prayer. 20 The people having bleſſed God, and ſacrificed, make Solomon king the ſecond time. 23 The proſperity and majeſty of Solomon's reign. 26 David's reign and death.

FURTHERMORE David the king ſaid unto all the congregation, Solomon my ſon, whom God alone hath choſen, is yet young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the LORD God.

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the houſe of my God the gold for things to be made of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and the braſs for things of braſs, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; onyx ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet, gliſtering ſtones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious ſtones, and marble ſtones in abundance.

3 Moreover, becauſe I have ſet my affection to the houſe of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and ſilver, which I have given to the houſe of my God,

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVIII.

2 David the king ſtood up upon his feet, and ſaid] He roſe up, both out of reſpect to ſo great and honourable an aſſembly, and alſo that he might be the better heard.

And for the footſtool of our God, &c.] The divine glory ſitting upon the wings of the cherubim, over the mercy ſeat, his feet, as we ſpeak after the manner of men, reſted upon the ark; and therefore the ark is here called "The footſtool of God."

9 Know thou the God of thy father, &c.] To know God, is, in ſcripture language, to acknowledge and love him.

12 The pattern of all that he had by the ſpirit, &c.] That is, of all that was inſpired into him.

18 The chariot of the cherubims, &c.] They are called "The chariot," becauſe God is ſaid not only to ſit, but alſo to ride upon the cherubims. Pſalm xviii. 10.

10 The Lord made me underſtand in writing by his hand upon me, &c.] The Lord revealed it to him as diſtinctly as if it had been written on his mind.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVIII.

Here is conſpicuouſly diſplayed the piety of a good prince, in the noble and earneſt exhortations he gives to his ſon and the people to keep the commandments of God, and ſerve him with uprightneſs and cheerfulneſs of heart; theſe exhortations likewiſe concern us, for in the obſervation of theſe duties, true religion, and the pure ſervice of God conſiſt; therefore we ſhould take diligent heed to them.

4 Even three thouſand talents of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and ſeven thouſand talents of refined ſilver, to overlay the walls of the houſes withal:

5 The gold for things of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. And who then is willing to conſecrate his ſervice this day unto the LORD?

6 ¶ Then the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Iſrael, and the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king's work, offered willingly,

7 And gave for the ſervice of the houſe of God of gold five thouſand talents and ten thouſand drams, and of ſilver ten thouſand talents, and of braſs eighteen thouſand talents, and one hundred thouſand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious ſtones were found gave them to the treaſure of the houſe of the LORD, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerſhonite.

9 Then the people rejoiced, for that they offered willingly, becauſe with perfect heart they offered willingly to the LORD: and David the king alſo rejoiced with great joy.

10 ¶ Wherefore David bleſſed the LORD before all the congregation: and David ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, LORD God of Iſrael our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O LORD, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majeſty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O LORD, and thou art exalted as head above all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reigneſt over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give ſtrength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praiſe thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we ſhould be able to offer ſo willingly after this ſort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee.

15 For we are ſtrangers before thee, and ſojourners, as were all our fathers: our days on the earth are as a ſhadow, and there is none abiding.

16 O LORD our God, all this ſtore that we have prepared to build thee an houſe for thine holy name cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own.

17 I know alſo, my God, that thou trieſt the heart, and haſt pleaſure in uprightneſs. As for me, in the uprightneſs of mine heart I have willingly offered all theſe things: and now have I ſeen with joy thy people, which are preſent here, to offer willingly unto thee. Before CHRIST 1015.

18 O LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, our fathers, keep this for ever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heart unto thee:

19 And give unto Solomon my ſon a perfect heart, to keep thy commandments, thy teſtimonies, and thy ſtatutes, and to do all theſe things, and to build the palace, for the which I have made proviſion.

20 ¶ And David ſaid to all the congregation, Now bleſs the LORD your God. And all the congregation bleſſed the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worſhipped the LORD, and the king.

21 And they ſacrificed ſacrifices unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings unto the LORD, on the morrow after that day, even a thouſand bullocks, a thouſand rams, and a thouſand lambs, with their drink offerings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael:

22 And did eat and drink before the LORD on that day with great gladneſs. And they made Solomon the ſon of David king the ſecond time, and anointed him unto the LORD to be the chief governor, and Zadok to be prieſt.

23 ¶ Then Solomon ſat on the throne of the LORD as king inſtead of David his father, and proſpered; and all Iſrael obeyed him.

24 And all the princes, and the mighty men, and all the ſons likewiſe of king David, ſubmitted themſelves unto Solomon the king.

25 And the LORD magnified Solomon exceedingly in the ſight of all Iſrael, and beſtowed upon him ſuch royal majeſty as had not been on any king before him in Iſrael.

26 ¶ Thus David the ſon of Jeſſe reigned over all Iſrael.

27 And the time that he reigned over Iſrael was forty years; ſeven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jeruſalem.

28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honour: and Solomon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

29 Now the acts of David the king, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of Samuel the ſeer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the ſeer,

30 With all his reign and his might, and the times that went over him, and over Iſrael, and over all the kingdoms of the countries.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XXIX.

4 Three thouſand talents of gold, &c.] The ſum was probably reckoned by a ſort of talents of leſs value than the moſaic talents, for what David gave, chap. xxii. 14. and what is afterwards reckoned in this chapter, if valued by theſe talents, was enough wherewith to have built all the temple of ſolid ſilver.

20 And worſhipped the Lord, and the king.] God with religious, the king with civil worſhip.

21 Sacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael.] A great many peace offerings, ſufficient for the entertainment of all the Iſraelites then preſent.

24 Submitted themſelves, &c.] Swore allegiance to him.

30 The times that went over him, and over Iſrael, &c.] All the reſolutions that were in public affairs in his days.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIX.

We may hence learn, that when we offer any thing to God, we ſhould do it both willingly and with profound humility; remembering that all we offer to him, belongs to him, that we hold all from his hand; and therefore it is but juſt that we refer every thing that is in our power to the glory of his name.

The Second Book of the CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

The ſubject of this book is the ſame with that of the two books of Kings; excepting only, that after the ſeparation of the ten tribes, this takes no notice of the hiſtory of the kings of Iſrael, and purſues that of the kings of Judah, till the return of the Iſraelites from the Babyloniſh captivity. As many things are here omitted which are recorded in the firſt book of the Kings, ſo there are ſeveral things contained in this book of which no mention is made there, particularly in the hiſtory of Jehoſhaphat and Hezekiah.

CHAP. I.

1 The ſolemn offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 7 God appeareth unto him there by night, and leaveth to his choice what bleſſing to aſk: he aſketh wiſdom, to which God addeth riches and honour. 13 Solomon's forces and opulence.

Before CHRIST 1015. AND Solomon the ſon of David was ſtrengthened in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

2 Then Solomon ſpake unto all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Iſrael, the chief of the fathers.

3 So Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon; for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moſes the ſervant of the LORD had made in the wilderneſs.

4 But the ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath-jearim to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jeruſalem.

5 Moreover the braſen altar, that Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, had made, he put before the tabernacle of the LORD: and Solomon and the congregation ſought unto it,

6 And Solomon went up thither to the braſen altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thouſand burnt offerings upon it.

7 ¶ In that night did God appear unto Solomon, and ſaid unto him, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid unto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercy unto David my father, and haſt made me to reign in his ſtead.

9 Now, O LORD God, let thy promiſe unto David my father be eſtabliſhed: for thou haſt made me king over a people like the duſt of the earth in multitude.

10 Give me now wiſdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people, that is ſo great?

11 And God ſaid to Solomon, Becauſe this was in thine heart, and thou haſt not aſked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the life of thine enemies, neither yet haſt aſked long life; but haſt aſked wiſdom and knowledge for thyſelf, that thou mayeſt judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 Wiſdom and knowledge is granted unto thee; and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and honour, ſuch as none of the kings have had that have been before thee, neither ſhall there any after thee have the like. Before CHRIST 1015.

13 ¶ Then Solomon came from his journey to the high place that was at Gibeon to Jeruſalem, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Iſrael.

14 And Solomon gathered chariots and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, which he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

15 And the king made ſilver and gold at Jeruſalem as plenteous as ſtones, and cedar trees made he as the ſycamore trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetched up, and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo brought they out horſes for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, by their means.

CHAP. II.

1, 17 Solomon's labourers for the building of the temple. 3 He ſendeth to Huram for ſkilful artificers and timber. 11 Huram's friendly anſwer.

AND Solomon determined to build an houſe for the name of the LORD, and an houſe for his kingdom.

2 And Solomon told out threeſcore and ten thouſand men to bear burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to hew in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred to overſee them.

3 ¶ And Solomon ſent to Huram the king of Tyre, ſaying, As thou didſt deal with David my father, and didſt ſend him cedars to build him an houſe to dwell therein, even ſo deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an houſe to the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him ſweet incenſe, and for the continual ſhewbread, and for the burnt offerings morning and evening, on the ſabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Iſrael.

5 And the houſe which I build is great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 But who is able to build him an houſe, ſeeing the heaven

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

5 He put before the tabernacle of the Lord, &c.] This is better tranſlated in the margin, Was there before, &c.

10 That I may go out and come in before this people] Govern the people both at home and abroad, in peace and war.

Who can judge this thy people, that is ſo great?] He knew there would be ſo many and ſo various, and often ſo difficult cauſes brought before him, that it would be impoſſible to hear them, and judge aright, without the divine aid.

13 Then Solomon came from his journey to the high place, &c.] It might be better tranſlated, Then Solomon came from the high place, &c.

14 The chariot cities, &c.] Thoſe in which there was good paſturage for the horſes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS ON Chap. I.

The conduct of Solomon in this chapter affords us an excellent leſſon; namely, in every arduous undertaking to be diffident of our own wiſdom and abilities, to aſk counſel of God, and continually to depend on his direction and aſſiſtance in order to proſper us in all our concerns.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

5 The houſe which I build is great: for great is our God, &c.] The ſtructure was not ſo large as it was magnificent, that it might be as ſuitable as poſſible to the glorious majeſty of the divine preſence.

Before CHRIST 1015. heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain him? who am I then, that I ſhould build him an houſe, ſave only to burn ſacrifice before him?

7 Send me now therefore a man cunning to work in gold, and in ſilver, and in braſs, and in iron, and in purple, and crimſon, and blue, and that can ſkill to grave with the cunning men that are with me in Judah and in Jeruſalem, whom David my father did provide.

8 Send me alſo cedar trees, fir trees, and algum trees, out of Lebanon: for I know that thy ſervants can ſkill to cut timber in Lebanon; and, behold, my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants,

9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the houſe which I am about to build ſhall be wonderful great.

10 And, behold, I will give to thy ſervants, the hewers that cut timber, twenty thouſand meaſures of beaten wheat, and twenty thouſand meaſures of barley, and twenty thouſand baths of wine, and twenty thouſand baths of oil.

11 ¶ Then Huram the king of Tyre anſwered in writing, which he ſent to Solomon, Becauſe the LORD hath loved his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, that made heaven and earth, who hath given to David the king a wiſe ſon, endued with prudence and underſtanding, that might build an houſe for the LORD, and an houſe for his kingdom.

13 And now I have ſent a cunning man, endued with underſtanding, of Huram my father's,

14 The ſon of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, ſkilful to work in gold, and in ſilver, in braſs, in iron, in ſtone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimſon; alſo to grave any manner of graving, and to find out every device which ſhall be put to him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat, and the barley, the oil, and the wine, which my lord hath ſpoken of, let him ſend unto his ſervants:

16 And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou ſhalt need: and we will bring it to thee in flotes by ſea to Joppa; and thou ſhalt carry it up to Jeruſalem.

17 ¶ And Solomon numbered all the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſrael, after the numbering wherewith David his father had numbered them; and they were found an hundred and fifty thouſand and three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18 And he ſet threeſcore and ten thouſand of them to be bearers of burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to be hewers in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred overſeers to ſet the people a work.

CHAP. III.

1 The place of the temple, and the time when the building was begun. 3 The dimenſions and ornaments of the houſe. 8 The dimenſions and ornaments of the moſt holy houſe; the cherubims that were therein. 14 The vail. 15 The two great pillars.

THEN Solomon began to build the houſe of the LORD at Jeruſalem in mount Moriah, where the LORD appeared unto David his father, in the place that David had prepared in the threſhingfloor of Ornan the Jebuſite. Before CHRIST 1012.

2 And he began to build in the ſecond day of the ſecond month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 ¶ Now theſe are the things wherein Solomon was inſtructed for the building of the houſe of God. The length by cubits after the firſt meaſure was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

4 And the porch that was in the front of the houſe, the length of it was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the height was an hundred and twenty: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater houſe he cieled with fir-tree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and ſet thereon palm trees and chains.

6 And he garniſhed the houſe with precious ſtones for beauty: and the gold was gold of Parvaim.

7 He overlaid alſo the houſe, the beams, the poſts, and the walls thereof, and the doors thereof, with gold; and graved cherubims on the walls.

8 ¶ And he made the moſt holy houſe, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to ſix hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty ſhekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

10 And in the moſt holy houſe he made two cherubims of image work, and overlaid them with gold.

11 And the wings of the cherubims were twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was likewiſe five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

12 And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was five cubits alſo, joining to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of theſe cherubims ſpread themſelves forth twenty cubits: and they ſtood on their feet, and their faces were inward.

14 ¶ And he made the vail of blue, and purple, and crimſon, and fine linen, and wrought cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ Alſo he made before the houſe two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, and the chapiter that was on the top of each of them was five cubits.

16 And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars; and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

17 And he reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand Jachin, and the name of that on the left Boaz.

CHAP. IV.

1 The altar of braſs. 2 The molten ſea ſupported by twelve oxen. 6 The ten lavers, candleſticks, and tables. 9 The two courts. 11 The veſſels, furniture, and inſtruments of braſs. 19 The veſſels, furniture, and inſtruments of gold.

MORE.

10 Beaten wheat, &c.] Wheat ground, or fine flour.

12 Huram ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the Lord, &c.] Huram is thought to have been a proſelyte to the true religion, becauſe he owns the God of Iſrael to be Jehovah; ſecondly, he congratulates the Iſraelites upon the happineſs they enjoyed under ſuch a king, which was the effect of his love to God and his church; and laſtly, declared his love to the church in real acts of kindneſs, ſending to Solomon both materials and the moſt ſkilful artificers.

16 In flotes, &c.] Timber bound together in rafts.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

We are hence taught to adore and reverence the Supreme Being with the profoundeſt humility; and to conſider that our greateſt performances reſpecting his worſhip and ſervice are imperfect, when brought before that God who is beyond conception immenſe in all his glorious perfections and attributes.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. III.

5 The greater houſe, &c.] The ſanctuary or holy place, which was larger than the moſt holy place.

9 The upper chambers, &c.] The upper floor, or the roof of the holy and moſt holy place, which were overlaid with gold every where, both the floor on which they trod, and the walls round about, and the roof overhead.

10 Overlaid them with gold.] They were made of olive-wood, and were not, like thoſe of Moſes, of beaten gold.

15 Two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, &c.] They were not each of them ſo high, but both of them together.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

The gold uſed in the ornamenting the temple, denotes the purity of heart and hands wherewith God ſhould be approached; and the cherubims, with their faces inwards, teach us, that we ſhould keep our feet when we go in to the houſe of God, and not offer the ſacrifice of fools.

Before CHRIST 1012. MOREOVER he made an altar of braſs, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

2 ¶ Alſo he made a molten ſea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compaſs, and five cubits the height thereof; and a line of thirty cubits did compaſs it round about.

3 And under it was the ſimilitude of oxen, which did compaſs it round about: ten in a cubit compaſſing the ſea round about. Two rows of oxen were caſt, when it was caſt.

4 It ſtood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the weſt, and three looking toward the ſouth, and three looking toward the eaſt: and the ſea was ſet above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickneſs of it was an handbreadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies; and it received and held three thouſand baths.

6 ¶ He made alſo ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to waſh in them: ſuch things as they offered for the burnt offering they waſhed in them; but the ſea was for the prieſts to waſh in.

7 And he made ten candleſticks of gold according to their form, and ſet them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 He made alſo ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right ſide, and five on the left. And he made an hundred baſons of gold.

9 ¶ Furthermore he made the court of the prieſts, and the great court, and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with braſs.

10 And he ſet the ſea on the right ſide of the eaſt end, over againſt the ſouth.

11 ¶ And Huram made the pots, and the ſhovels, and the baſons. And Huram finiſhed the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the houſe of God;

12 To wit, the two pillars, and the pommels, and the chapiters which were on the top of the two pillars, and the two wreaths to cover the two pommels of the chapiters which were on the pillars;

13 And four hundred pomegranates on the two wreaths; two rows of pomegranates on each wreath, to cover the two pommels of the chapiters which were upon the pillars.

14 He made alſo baſes, and lavers made he upon the baſes;

15 One ſea, and twelve oxen under it.

16 The pots alſo, and the ſhovels, and the fleſhhooks, and all their inſtruments, did Huram his father make to king Solomon for the houſe of the LORD of bright braſs.

17 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 Thus Solomon made all theſe veſſels in great abundance: for the weight of the braſs could not be found out.

19 ¶ And Solomon made all the veſſels that were for the houſe of God, the golden altar alſo, and the tables whereon the ſhewbread was ſet;

20 Moreover the candleſticks with their lamps, that they ſhould burn after the manner before the oracle, of pure gold;

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs, made he of gold, and that perfect gold; Before CHRIST 1012.

22 And the ſnuffers, and the baſons, and the ſpoons, and the cenſers, of pure gold: and the entry of the houſe, the inner doors thereof for the moſt holy place, and the doors of the houſe of the temple, were of gold.

CHAP. V.

1 The temple finiſhed, and the dedicated treaſures depoſited therein. 2 The ark with great ſolemnity brought into the moſt holy place. 11 Whilſt the prieſts and Levites are praiſing God with ſinging and muſick, a cloud filleth the houſe.

THUS all the work that Solomon made for the houſe of the LORD was finiſhed: and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated; and the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God. 1005.

2 ¶ Then Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Iſrael, unto Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion. 1004.

3 Wherefore all the men of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves unto the king in the feaſt which was in the ſeventh month.

4 And all the elders of Iſrael came; and the Levites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the tabernacle, theſe did the prieſts and the Levites bring up.

6 Alſo king Solomon, and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled unto him before the ark, ſacrificed ſheep and oxen, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto his place, to the oracle of the houſe, into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims:

8 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the ſtaves thereof above.

9 And they drew out the ſtaves of the ark, that the ends of the ſtaves were ſeen from the ark before the oracle; but they were not ſeen without. And there it is unto this day.

10 There was nothing in the ark ſave the two tables which Moſes put therein at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when they came out of Egypt.

11 ¶ And it came to paſs, when the prieſts were come out of the holy place: (for all the prieſts that were preſent were ſanctified, and did not then wait by courſe:

12 Alſo the Levites which were the ſingers, all of them of Aſaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their ſons and their brethren, being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals and pſalteries and harps, ſtood at the eaſt end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty prieſts ſounding with trumpets:)

13 It came even to paſs, as the trumpeters and ſingers were as one, to make one ſound to be heard in praiſing and thanking the LORD; and when they lifted up

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

7 According to their form, &c.] According to the pattern which David gave him.

19 The tables whereon the ſhewbread was ſet.] Moſes made only one table, but Solomon made ten, for the greater convenience of the prieſts in their miniſtration.

22 Were of gold.] Not intirely of gold, but of wood, and covered with plates of gold.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS ON Chap. IV.

Solomon's exact obſervance of the pattern preſcribed him, may ſerve as a caution to us, not to deviate from the rule laid down in the ſcriptures, in our addreſſes to God; we are there taught, that a trinity in unity, and a unity in trinity, is the object of our worſhip, as Chriſtians.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

1 And the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God.] What remained, Solomon would not employ to his own uſe, but laid it up in the treaſures of God's houſe.

9 There it is unto this day.] Or, there they are, as the margin hath it out of 1 Kings viii. 8. where are the ſame words; and when that book was written, they were exactly true; but when this author tranſcribed them into this book, after the captivity, there was then neither ſtaves nor ark remaining: therefore he only relates how Solomon ſettled theſe things.

11 And did not then wait by courſe.] There were ſuch a number of ſacrifices offered, that the attendance and ſervice of them all was neceſſary.

1 Solomon bleſſeth the people, and praiſeth God for the performance of his promiſe to David concerning the building of the houſe. 12 His prayer upon the braſen ſcaffold at the conſecration of the temple: 22, 24, 26, 28, 32, 34, 36 The ſpecial petitions contained in it. 40 The concluding general invocation of God's preſence and favour.

THEN ſaid Solomon, The LORD hath ſaid that he would dwell in the thick darkneſs.

2 But I have built an houſe of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed the whole congregation of Iſrael: and all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood.

4 And ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he ſpake with his mouth to my father David, ſaying,

5 Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe in, that my name might be there; neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael:

6 But I have choſen Jeruſalem, that my name might be there; and have choſen David to be over my people Iſrael.

7 Now it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

8 But the LORD ſaid to David my father, Foraſmuch as it was in thine heart to build an houſe for my name, thou didſt well in that it was in thine heart:

9 Notwithſtanding thou ſhalt not build the houſe; but thy ſon which ſhall come forth out of thy loins, he ſhall build the houſe for my name.

10 The LORD therefore hath performed his word that he hath ſpoken: for I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſrael, as the LORD promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

11 And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the covenant of the LORD, that he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 ¶ And he ſtood before the altar of the LORD in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands:

13 For Solomon had made a braſen ſcaffold, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had ſet it in the midſt of the court: and upon it he ſtood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands toward heaven,

14 And ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which keepeſt covenant, and ſheweſt mercy unto thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Thou which haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father that which thou haſt promiſed him; and ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

16 Now therefore, O LORD God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father that which thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael; yet ſo that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me. Before CHRIST 1004.

17 Now then, O LORD God of Iſrael, let thy word be verified, which thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant David.

18 But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much leſs this houſe which I have built!

19 Have reſpect therefore to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee:

20 That thine eyes may be open upon this houſe day and night, upon the place whereof thou haſt ſaid that thou wouldeſt put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth toward this place.

21 Hearken therefore unto the ſupplications of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, which they ſhall make toward this place: hear thou from thy dwelling place, even from heaven; and when thou heareſt, forgive.

22 ¶ If a man ſin againſt his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him to make him ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe;

23 Then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants, by requiting the wicked, by recompenſing his way upon his own head; and by juſtifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteouſneſs.

24 ¶ And if thy people Iſrael be put to the worſe before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and ſhall return and confeſs thy name, and pray and make ſupplication before thee in this houſe;

25 Then hear thou from the heavens, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land which thou gaveſt to them and to their fathers.

26 ¶ When the heaven is ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; yet if they pray toward this place, and confeſs thy name, and turn from their ſin, when thou doſt afflict them;

27 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them the good way, wherein they ſhould walk; and ſend rain upon thy land, which thou haſt given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ If there be dearth in the land, if there be peſtilence, if there be blaſting, or mildew, locuſts, or caterpillers; if their enemies beſiege them in the cities of their land; whatſoever ſore or whatſoever ſickneſs there be:

29 Then what prayer or what ſupplication ſoever ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when every one ſhall know his own ſore and his own grief, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands in this houſe:

30 Then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways, whoſe heart thou knoweſt; (for thou only knoweſt the hearts of the children of men:)

31 That they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways, ſo long as they live in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover concerning the ſtranger, which is not of thy people Iſrael, but is come from a far country for

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

The viſible token of the Lord's preſence in the temple was, to teach Solomon, and others, to worſhip him in ſpirit, with reverence and faith, with gravity and decency; but the true temple he expects is our hearts, where he ſeeks to be worſhipped in ſpirit and in truth, and there he dwells by his grace.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

1 That he would dwell in the thick darkneſs.] The heathens certainly learnt from hence this notion of God's dwelling in the thick darkneſs: for Juſtin Martyr obſerves, that Orpheus and another antient writer calls God Παγχυφον, "altogether hidden:" and the Lacedæmonians, who pretended to be of kin to the Jews, had a temple dedicated to Ζευς Σκοτινος, "Jupiter the dark."

22 And the oath come before thine altar in this houſe.] It appears, that a man was to purge himſelf of a treſpaſs againſt his neighbour by an oath before the altar of God, from whom he expected remiſſion of ſin.

33 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for; that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, as doth thy people Iſrael, and may know that this houſe which I have built is called by thy name.

34 ¶ If thy people go out to war againſt their enemies by the way that thou ſhalt ſend them, and they pray unto thee toward this city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name;

35 Then hear thou from the heavens their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their cauſe.

36 ¶ If they ſin againſt thee, (for there is no man which ſinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near;

37 Yet if they bethink themſelves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, ſaying, We have ſinned, we have done amiſs, and have dealt wickedly;

38 If they return to thee with all their heart and with all their ſoul in the land of their captivity, whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land, which thou gaveſt unto their fathers, and toward the city which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe which I have built for thy name:

39 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling place, their prayer and their ſupplications, and maintain their cauſe, and forgive thy people which have ſinned againſt thee.

40 ¶ Now, my God, let, I beſeech thee, thine eyes be open, and let thine ears be attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 Now therefore ariſe, O LORD God, into thy reſting place, thou, and the ark of thy ſtrength: let thy prieſts, O LORD God, be clothed with ſalvation, and let thy ſaints rejoice in goodneſs.

42 O LORD God, turn not away the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies of David thy ſervant.

CHAP. VII.

1 God teſtifieth his acceptance of Solomon's prayer by fire from heaven; the glory which filled the temple; the people worſhip. 4 Solomon's ſacrifices at the ſolemnity of the dedication. 8 Having kept the feaſt of tabernacles and of the dedication of the altar ſeven days, the people are ſent joyfully home. 12 God appeareth again to Solomon, and maketh a covenant with him.

NOW when Solomon had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven, and conſumed the burnt offering and the ſacrifices; and the glory of the LORD filled the houſe.

2 And the prieſts could not enter into the houſe of the LORD, becauſe the glory of the LORD had filled the LORD's houſe.

3 And when all the children of Iſrael ſaw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD upon the houſe, they bowed themſelves with their faces to the ground upon the pavement, and worſhipped, and praiſed the LORD, ſaying, For he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 ¶ Then the king and all the people offered ſacrifices before the LORD.

5 And king Solomon offered a ſacrifice of twenty and two thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep: ſo the king and all the people dedicated the houſe of God. Before CHRIST 1004.

6 And the prieſts waited on their offices: the Levites alſo with inſtruments of muſick of the LORD, which David the king had made to praiſe the LORD, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever, when David praiſed by their miniſtry; and the prieſts ſounded trumpets before them, and all Iſrael ſtood.

7 Moreover Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the LORD: for there he offered burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, becauſe the braſen altar which Solomon had made was not able to receive the burnt offerings, and the meat offerings, and the fat.

8 ¶ Alſo at the ſame time Solomon kept the feaſt ſeven days, and all Iſrael with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eighth day they made a ſolemn aſſembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar ſeven days, and the feaſt ſeven days.

10 And on the three and twentieth day of the ſeventh month he ſent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodneſs that the LORD had ſhewed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Iſrael his people.

11 Thus Solomon finiſhed the houſe of the LORD, and the king's houſe: and all that came into Solomon's heart to make in the houſe of the LORD, and in his own houſe, he proſperouſly effected.

12 ¶ And the LORD appeared to Solomon by night, and ſaid unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have choſen this place to myſelf for an houſe of ſacrifice.

13 If I ſhut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locuſts to devour the land, or if I ſend peſtilence among my people;

14 If my people, which are called by my name, ſhall humble themſelves, and pray, and ſeek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their ſin, and will heal their land.

15 Now mine eyes ſhall be open, and mine ears attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 For now have I choſen and ſanctified this houſe, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart ſhall be there perpetually.

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and ſhalt obſerve my ſtatutes and my judgments;

18 Then will I ſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David thy father, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Iſrael.

19 But if ye turn away, and forſake my ſtatutes and my commandments, which I have ſet before you, and ſhall go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them;

20 Then will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this houſe, which I have ſanctified for my name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and will make it to be a proverb and a by-word among all nations.

21 And this houſe, which is high, ſhall be an aſtoniſhment

33 That all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, &c.] Solomon knew the goodneſs of God to be ſo great, that it would not be in the leaſt leſſened towards Iſrael, how far ſoever it was extended towards other people.

41 Now therefore ariſe, O Lord God, &c.] Theſe words are part of Pſalm cxxxii. 8, 9. with a little alteration; wherein he beſeeches God to take up his habitation here, together with his ark.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

From Solomon's prayer we are taught, that whatever happens to men, is the diſpenſation of providence; that war, peſtilence, &c. are ſent as chaſtiſements for ſin; that the remedy againſt them is, recourſe to God by prayer and humiliation; for he is always ready to hear and deliver thoſe who call on him in their neceſſities, if they confeſs their ſins, and are converted.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

4 Then the king and all the people offered ſacrifices, &c.] They had offered ſacrifices before; but now they renew them, and offer more, in acknowledgment of this aſſurance of God's love to them.

6 With inſtruments of muſick of the Lord] They are called "inſtruments of muſick of the Lord," becauſe David had made them to "praiſe the Lord withal, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever."

22 And it shall be answered, Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The cities which Solomon built. 7 The Canaanites left in the land are made subject to a tribute; but the Israelites are employed in honourable services. 11 Pharaoh's daughter removeth to her house. 12 Solomon's daily and festival sacrifices. 14 He appointeth the priests and Levites to their orderly charges. 16 The work finished. 17 Solomon's navy fetcheth gold from Ophir.

992. AND it came to pass at the end of twenty years, wherein Solomon had built the house of the LORD, and his own house,

2 That the cities which Huram had restored to Solomon, Solomon built them, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed against it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and all the store cities, which he built in Hamath.

5 Also he built Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and bars;

6 And Baalath, and all the store cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 ¶ As for all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children, who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel consumed not, them did Solomon make to pay tribute until this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no servants for his work; but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horsemen.

10 And these were the chief of king Solomon's officers, even two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the city of David unto the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel, because the places are holy, whereunto the ark of the LORD hath come.

12 ¶ Then Solomon offered burnt offerings unto the LORD, on the altar of the LORD, which he had built before the porch,

13 Even after a certain rate every day offering according to the commandment of Moses, on the sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts, three times in the year, even in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles. Before CHRIST 992.

14 ¶ And he appointed, according to the order of David his father, the courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their charges, to praise and minister before the priests, as the duty of every day required: the porters also by their courses at every gate: for so had David the man of God commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the priests and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures.

16 ¶ Now all the work of Solomon was prepared unto the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD, and until it was finished. So the house of the LORD was perfected.

17 ¶ Then went Solomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth, at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his servants ships, and servants that had knowledge of the sea; and they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir, and took hence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

1 The queen of Sheba's visit to Solomon; her admiration and astonishment at his wisdom and magnificence; her presents and return. 13 Solomon's yearly revenue in gold. 15 His golden targets and shields. 17 His ivory throne. 20 His rich vessels of gold. 23 The respect paid to his wisdom by foreign princes. 25 His stables and horsemen. 26 The extent and wealth of his dominion. 29 His reign and death; Rehoboam succeedeth him.

AND when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to prove Solomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon told her all her questions: and there was nothing hid from Solomon which he told her not.

3 And when the queen of Sheba had seen the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel; his cupbearers also, and their apparel; and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the LORD; there was no more spirit in her.

5 And she said to the king, It was a true report which I heard in mine own land of thine acts, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit I believed not their words, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and, behold, the one half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy servants, which stand continually before thee, and hear thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee to set thee on his throne, to be king for the LORD thy

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

We learn from the Lord's declaration to Solomon, in this chapter, that the prayers which are put up to him in the holy assemblies, if proceeding from pure and humble hearts, are acceptable to him; of which we are assured by Jesus Christ, who has told us, that "where two or three are gathered together in his name, he will be in the midst of them."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

3 Hamath-zobah, &c.] This country lay between Euphrates, which was the eastern boundary, and Damascus, which was the western.

11 He said, My wife shall not dwell, &c.] All houses, into which the ark had come, were not thereby made holy; for then the house of Obed-edom would have been so too; but where it had been settled so long, as it had been in David's house, and had a tabernacle made for it, there was a special regard to the place where it had made its abode.

17 Then went Solomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth, at the sea side in the land of Edom.] Solomon proposed now to improve navigation, which the Jews did not much understand; and for that end he went to these places on the Red-sea.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

From Solomon's buildings, the nations he made tributary, and the order of divine worship which he established, together with his great riches, we may perceive the faithfulness of God to his promise, when he assured them, that to his request for wisdom, honour and wealth should be superadded.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

2 Solomon told her all her questions, &c.] The questions she came to ask were not curious enquiries into the secrets of natural things, or the maxims of political government, but only about things relating to piety, and the service of God.

Before CHRIST 992. thy God: becauſe thy God loved Iſrael, to eſtabliſh them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and juſtice.

9 And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of ſpices great abundance, and precious ſtones: neither was there any ſuch ſpice as the queen of Sheba gave king Solomon.

10 And the ſervants alſo of Huram, and the ſervants of Solomon, which brought gold from Ophir, brought algum trees and precious ſtones.

11 And the king made of the algum trees terraces to the houſe of the LORD, and to the king's palace, and harps and pſalteries for ſingers: and there were none ſuch ſeen before in the land of Judah.

12 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all her deſire, whatſoever ſhe aſked, beſide that which ſhe had brought unto the king. So ſhe turned, and went away to her own land, ſhe and her ſervants.

13 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was ſix hundred and threeſcore and ſix talents of gold;

14 Beſide that which chapmen and merchants brought. And all the kings of Arabia and governors of the country brought gold and ſilver to Solomon.

15 ¶ And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: ſix hundred ſhekels of beaten gold went to one target.

16 And three hundred ſhields made he of beaten gold: three hundred ſhekels of gold went to one ſhield. And the king put them in the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon.

17 ¶ Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there were ſix ſteps to the throne, with a footſtool of gold, which were faſtened to the throne, and ſtays on each ſide of the ſitting place, and two lions ſtanding by the ſtays:

19 And twelve lions ſtood there on the one ſide and on the other upon the ſix ſteps. There was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 ¶ And all the drinking veſſels of king Solomon were of gold, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon were of pure gold: none were of ſilver; it was not any thing accounted of in the days of Solomon.

21 For the king's ſhips went to Tarſhiſh with the ſervants of Huram: every three years once came the ſhips of Tarſhiſh bringing gold, and ſilver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

22 And king Solomon paſſed all the kings of the earth in riches and wiſdom.

23 ¶ And all the kings of the earth ſought the preſence of Solomon, to hear his wiſdom, that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and raiment, harneſs, and ſpices, horſes, and mules, a rate year by year.

25 ¶ And Solomon had four thouſand ſtalls for horſes and chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen; whom he beſtowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

26 ¶ And he reigned over all the kings from the river even unto the land of the Philiſtines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made ſilver in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedar trees made he as the ſycamore trees that are in the low plains in abundance. Before CHRIST 992.

28 And they brought unto Solomon horſes out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Solomon, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the viſions of Iddo the ſeer againſt Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat?

30 And Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael forty years.

31 And Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of David his father: and Rehoboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead. 975.

CHAP. X.

1 The Iſraelites, aſſembled at Shechem to make Rehoboam king, ſue to him with Jeroboam at their head for redreſs of grievances. 6 Rehoboam ſlighteth the good advice of his father's old counſellors, and conſulteth with the young men, who adviſe to anſwer the people roughly. 12 He followeth their indiſcreet counſel. 16 The ten tribes revolting kill Hadoram, and make Rehoboam flee.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Iſrael come to make him king.

2 And it came to paſs, when Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the preſence of Solomon the king, heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him. So Jeroboam and all Iſrael came and ſpake to Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore eaſe thou ſomewhat the grievous ſervitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam took counſel with the old men that had ſtood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, ſaying, What counſel give ye me to return anſwer to this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou be kind to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpeak good words to them, they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel which the old men gave him, and took counſel with the young men that were brought up with him, that ſtood before him.

9 And he ſaid unto them, What advice give ye that we may return anſwer to this people, which have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Eaſe ſomewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwer the people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it ſomewhat lighter for us; thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 ¶ So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam

25 Twelve thouſand horſemen; whom he beſtowed in the chariot cities, &c.] Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and maintained a large number of chariots: their chariots reſembled thoſe of the Greeians being ſmall, with two wheels apiece, carrying a man or two ſtanding or leaning forward.

26 Are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, &c.] It appears by this, that the prophets were likewiſe hiſtorians, who wrote accounts of what paſſed in their times, out of whoſe works this ſhort hiſtory was extracted.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

From the viſit of the queen of Sheba to Solomon, in order to obtain anſwers to her difficult queſtions, we ſhould be ſtirred up to ſeek after true wiſdom from God who alone can give it; for our Saviour ſays, ſhe came to hear the wiſdom of Solomon, and will riſe up in judgment againſt all thoſe who will not learn of one that was greater than Solomon, even Chriſt, in whom are contained all the treaſures of wiſdom and knowledge.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous, &c.] If this complaint againſt Solomon was true, it is probable that he oppreſſed his ſubjects when he was corrupted with the love of money and ſtrange women, and fell into idolatry: ſo prodigious were his expences, (from the multitude of his wives and concubines, and the buildings he raiſed for their idolatrous worſhip) that his treaſures, though immenſe, were inſufficient to ſupport them, and, beginning to be exhauſted, he was tempted to theſe ill courſes, and driven to oppreſs his people.

Before CHRIST 975. hoboam on the third day, as the king bade, ſaying, Come again to me on the third day.

13 And the king anſwered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forſook the counſel of the old men,

14 And anſwered them after the advice of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 So the king hearkened not unto the people: for the cauſe was of God, that the LORD might perform his word, which he ſpake by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat.

16 ¶ And when all Iſrael ſaw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? and we have none inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: every man to your tents, O Iſrael: and now, David, ſee to thine own houſe. So all Iſrael went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Hadoram that was over the tribute; and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died. But king Rehoboam made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 And Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

CHAP. XI.

1 Rehoboam raiſeth an army to reduce Iſrael, but is forbidden to proceed by the prophet Shemaiah. 5 He buildeth fenced cities, and putteth the ſtrong holds in a good poſture of defence. 13 The prieſts and Levites, caſt off by Jeroboam in favour of his own idolatrous worſhip, reſort to Jeruſalem, and are followed by others out of Iſrael that feared God. 18 Rehoboam's wives and children.

AND when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered of the houſe of Judah and Benjamin an hundred and fourſcore thouſand choſen men, which were warriors, to fight againſt Iſrael, that he might bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah and Benjamin, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren: return every man to his houſe: for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the LORD, and returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5 ¶ And Rehoboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and built cities for defence in Judah.

6 He built even Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Mareſhah, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Lachiſh, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah and in Benjamin fenced cities.

11 And he fortified the ſtrong holds, and put captains in them, and ſtore of victual, and of oil and wine.

12 And in every ſeveral city he put ſhields and ſpears, and made them exceeding ſtrong, having Judah and Benjamin on his ſide. Before CHRIST 975.

13 ¶ And the prieſts and the Levites that were in all Iſrael reſorted to him out of all their coaſts. 974.

14 For the Levites left their ſuburbs and their poſſeſſion, and came to Judah and Jeruſalem: for Jeroboam and his ſons had caſt them off from executing the prieſt's office unto the LORD:

15 And he ordained him prieſts for the high places, and for the devils, and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after them out of all the tribes of Iſrael ſuch as ſet their hearts to ſeek the LORD God of Iſrael came to Jeruſalem, to ſacrifice unto the LORD God of their fathers.

17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon ſtrong, three years: for three years they walked in the way of David and Solomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam took him Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the ſon of David to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the ſon of Jeſſe;

19 Which bare him children; Jeuſh, and Shamariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he took Maachah the daughter of Abſalom; which bare him Abijah, and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Abſalom above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines; and begat twenty and eight ſons, and threeſcore daughters.)

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the ſon of Maachah the chief, to be ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 And he dealt wiſely, and diſperſed of all his children throughout all the countries of Judah and Benjamin, unto every fenced city: and he gave them victual in abundance. And he deſired many wives.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboam forſaking the Lord is puniſhed by Shiſhak's invaſion: 5 he and the princes repenting at the preaching of Shemaiah are delivered from deſtruction, but not from ſpoil. 13 The reign and death of Rehoboam: Abijah ſucceedeth him.

AND it came to paſs, when Rehoboam had eſtabliſhed the kingdom, and had ſtrengthened himſelf, he forſook the law of the LORD, and all Iſrael with him. 972.

2 And it came to paſs, that in the fifth year of king Rehoboam Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem, becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the LORD, 971.

3 With twelve hundred chariots, and threeſcore thouſand horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt; the Lubims, the Sukkiims, and the Ethiopians.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

We find from this chapter, that as by the heavy burdens laid by Solomon upon his ſubjects, he alienated their affections from him; ſo by the imprudent conduct of his ſon Rehoboam, moſt of his people revolted from him, which was the reſult of his preferring the advice of the young and unexperienced to wiſe and aged counſellors: but herein was fulfilled God's threatening to Solomon for his idolatry and ingratitude.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

5 And built cities for defence in Judah.] The cities here mentioned were built before: but perhaps he now repaired and enlarged ſome of them.

14 The Levites left their ſuburbs and their poſſeſſion, &c.] They refuſed to offer ſacrifices before his calves in Dan and Beth-el, and he would not let them go to worſhip at Jeruſalem, and therefore they left their dwellings and their poſſeſſions, and went to live there.

17 They walked in the way of David and Solomon.] Reſpecting Solomon, this muſt mean, either before his declenſion from the ways and ſervice of God, through the ſeduction of his wives, or at the time of his repentance in his old age, as may be inferred from his book of Eccleſiaſtes.

23 He dealt wiſely, and diſperſed—all his children throughout all the countries, &c.] Fearing a rebellion, he did not ſuffer his children to live together, but diſperſed them into all parts of the country under his government, that he might confirm the kingdom in the hand of his ſon Abijah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

We may obſerve, from this chapter, that as Rehoboam was bleſſed while he and his people ſerved the Lord, ſo it will ever be; for they that fear and obey God, ſhall proſper, but ſuch as depart from him, ſhall ſmart for their folly.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

3 The Lubims, the Sukkiims, &c.] The Lubims were the people of Lybia, a famous country in Africa, adjoining to Egypt; and the Sukkiims were the people called Troglodytes, who lived in dens and caves near the Red-ſea.

Before CHRIST 971.

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Judah, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together to Jeruſalem becauſe of Shiſhak, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD, Ye have forſaken me, and therefore have I alſo left you in the hand of Shiſhak.

6 Whereupon the princes of Iſrael and the king humbled themſelves; and they ſaid, The LORD is righteous.

7 And when the LORD ſaw that they humbled themſelves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, ſaying, They have humbled themſelves; therefore I will not deſtroy them, but I will grant them ſome deliverance; and my wrath ſhall not be poured out upon Jeruſalem by the hand of Shiſhak.

8 Nevertheleſs they ſhall be his ſervants; that they may know my ſervice, and the ſervice of the kingdoms of the countries.

9 So Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem, and took away the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD, and the treaſures of the king's houſe; he took all: he carried away alſo the ſhields of gold which Solomon had made.

10 Inſtead of which king Rehoboam made ſhields of braſs, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the king's houſe.

11 And when the king entered into the houſe of the LORD, the guard came and fetched them, and brought them again into the guard chamber.

12 And when he humbled himſelf, the wrath of the LORD turned from him, that he would not deſtroy him altogether: and alſo in Judah things went well.

13 ¶ So king Rehoboam ſtrengthened himſelf in Jeruſalem, and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſeventeen years in Jeruſalem, the city which the LORD had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naamah an Ammoniteſs.

14 And he did evil, becauſe he prepared not his heart to ſeek the LORD.

15 Now the acts of Rehoboam, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet, and of Iddo the ſeer concerning genealogies? And there were wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam continually.

16 And Rehoboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Abijah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abijah maketh war againſt Jeroboam: 4 he declareth the right of his cauſe: 13 truſting in God he overcometh Jeroboam. 21 The wives and children of Abijah.

958. NOW in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam began Abijah to reign over Judah.

2 He reigned three years in Jeruſalem. His mother's name alſo was Michaiah the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

Before CHRIST 957.

3 And Abijah ſet the battle in array with an army of valiant men of war, even four hundred thouſand choſen men: Jeroboam alſo ſet the battle in array againſt him with eight hundred thouſand choſen men, being mighty men of valour.

4 ¶ And Abijah ſtood up upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and ſaid, Hear me, thou Jeroboam, and all Iſrael;

5 Ought ye not to know that the LORD God of Iſrael gave the kingdom over Iſrael to David for ever, even to him and to his ſons by a covenant of ſalt?

6 Yet Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, the ſervant of Solomon the ſon of David, is riſen up, and hath rebelled againſt his lord.

7 And there are gathered unto him vain men, the children of Belial, and have ſtrengthened themſelves againſt Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and tenderhearted, and could not withſtand them.

8 And now ye think to withſtand the kingdom of the LORD in the hand of the ſons of David; and ye be a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves, which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 Have ye not caſt out the prieſts of the LORD, the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made you prieſts after the manner of the nations of other lands? ſo that whoſoever cometh to conſecrate himſelf with a young bullock and ſeven rams, the ſame may be a prieſt of them that are no gods.

10 But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forſaken him; and the prieſts, which miniſter unto the LORD, are the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites wait upon their buſineſs:

11 And they burn unto the LORD every morning and every evening burnt ſacrifices and ſweet incenſe: the ſhewbread alſo ſet they in order upon the pure table; and the candleſtick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening: for we keep the charge of the LORD our God; but ye have forſaken him.

12 And, behold, God himſelf is with us for our captain, and his prieſts with ſounding trumpets to cry alarm againſt you. O children of Iſrael, fight ye not againſt the LORD God of your fathers; for ye ſhall not proſper.

13 ¶ But Jeroboam cauſed an ambuſhment to come about behind them: ſo they were before Judah, and the ambuſhment was behind them.

14 And when Judah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind: and they cried unto the LORD, and the prieſts ſounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a ſhout: and as the men of Judah ſhouted, it came to paſs, that God ſmote Jeroboam and all Iſrael before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Judah: and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter: ſo there fell down ſlain of Iſrael five hundred thouſand choſen men.

18 Thus the children of Iſrael were brought under at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, becauſe they relied upon the LORD God of their fathers.

19 And

---

8 That they may know my ſervice, and the ſervice of the kingdoms of the countries.] He reſolved to let them feel the difference between him and other lords and maſters; and how much more happy they were while they continued to worſhip and ſerve him, than when they fell under a foreign yoke.

14 He did evil, becauſe he prepared not his heart to ſeek the Lord.] This ſeems to ſignify that after his humiliation for his ſins, he relapſed again into them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

This chapter points out to us, that although God had chaſtiſed Rehoboam by the revolt of the ten tribes, that prince forſook God, as ſoon as he found himſelf ſettled, and drew away his ſubjects into the ſame rebellion; but by God's bringing the king of Egypt againſt him to ſtrip him of part of his dominions and plunder the temple, we ſee the dreadful conſequence of abuſing the favours of God, and deſpiſing his corrections too.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIII.

4 Abijah ſtood up upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, &c.] By this it ſeems that Abijah had entered into the country of the Iſraelites, and there drew up his army on the hill, afterwards called Samaria.

9 After the manner of the nations of other lands, &c.] Without any regard to the family they were of, and out of any part of the country.

11 The ſhewbread alſo ſet they in order upon the pure table; and the candleſtick, &c.] Hereby putting the Iſraelites in mind how the worſhip of God was with great ſolemnity kept up in Judah, which in ſome years the Iſraelites had not ſeen, and perhaps had forgot.

17 There fell down ſlain of Iſrael five hundred thouſand choſen men.] This is the greateſt ſlaughter that we read of in hiſtory; but it is not incredible, when we conſider that God fought for Judah: though ſome learned men are of opinion that a cypher has been, through negligence, added to this, and to the numbers in verſe the third.

Before CHRIST 957. 19 And Abijah purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Beth-el with the towns thereof, and Jeſhanah with the towns thereof, and Ephraim with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jeroboam recover ſtrength again in the days of Abijah: and the LORD ſtruck him, and he died.

21 ¶ But Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two ſons, and ſixteen daughters.

22 And the reſt of the acts of Abijah, and his ways, and his ſayings, are written in the ſtory of the prophet Iddo.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Abijah dieth; Aſa ſucceeding deſtroyeth idolatry. 6 Having peace he ſtrengtheneth his kingdom with forts. 8 His army. 9 Attacked by Zerah the Ethiopian, he calleth upon God, and ſmiting the Ethiopians bringeth away much ſpoil.

955. SO Abijah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God:

951. 3 For he took away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Judah to ſeek the LORD God of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.

5 Alſo he took away out of all the cities of Judah the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

6 And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had reſt, and he had no war in thoſe years; becauſe the LORD had given him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid unto Judah, Let us build theſe cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; becauſe we have ſought the LORD our God, we have ſought him, and he hath given us reſt on every ſide. So they built and proſpered.

8 ¶ And Aſa had an army of men that bare targets and ſpears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand; and out of Benjamin, that bare ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and fourſcore thouſand: all theſe were mighty men of valour.

941. 9 ¶ And there came out againſt them Zerah the Ethiopian with an hoſt of a thouſand thouſand, and three hundred chariots; and came unto Mareſhah.

10 Then Aſa went out againſt him, and they ſet the battle in array in the valley of Zephathah at Mareſhah.

11 And Aſa cried unto the LORD his God, and ſaid, LORD, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O LORD our God; for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this multitude. O LORD, thou art our God; let not man prevail againſt thee.

12 So the LORD ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa, and before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that were with him purſued them unto Gerar: and the Ethiopians were overthrown, that they could not recover themſelves; for they were deſtroyed before the LORD, and before his hoſt; and they carried away very much ſpoil. Before CHRIST 941.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar; for the fear of the LORD came upon them: and they ſpoiled all the cities; for there was exceeding much ſpoil in them.

15 They ſmote alſo the tents of cattle, and carried away ſheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The prophecy of Azariah the ſon of Oded. 8 Aſa hearing it putteth away idolatry, and aſſembleth the whole body of his people at Jeruſalem; they enter into covenant with God. 16 He removeth Maachah his mother from being queen on account of her idolatry. 18 He bringeth into the houſe of God the things which had been dedicated, and enjoyeth a long peace.

AND the Spirit of God came upon Azariah the ſon of Oded:

2 And he went out to meet Aſa, and ſaid unto him, Hear ye me, Aſa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The LORD is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye ſeek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſrael hath been without the true God, and without a teaching prieſt, and without law.

4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the LORD God of Iſrael, and ſought him, he was found of them.

5 And in thoſe times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries.

6 And nation was deſtroyed of nation, and city of city: for God did vex them with all adverſity.

7 Be ye ſtrong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work ſhall be rewarded.

8 ¶ And when Aſa heard theſe words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin; and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the LORD, that was before the porch of the LORD.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them out of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, and out of Simeon: for they fell to him out of Iſrael in abundance, when they ſaw that the LORD his God was with him.

10 So they gathered themſelves together at Jeruſalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Aſa.

11 And they offered unto the LORD the ſame time, of the ſpoil which they had brought, ſeven hundred oxen and ſeven thouſand ſheep.

12 And they entered into a covenant to ſeek the LORD God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their ſoul;

13 That whoſoever would not ſeek the LORD God of Iſrael

19 And Ephraim, &c.] There was a city, as well as a tribe, called Ephraim, which ſome think was the ſame with Ophrah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

The piety of Abijah, in pleading for the true worſhip of God againſt idolatry, and God's favour to him thereupon, ſhew us, that if we adhere to the Lord's ways, defend his cauſe, and worſhip him in ſincerity, no weapon formed againſt us ſhall proſper.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIV.

9 Zerah the Ethiopian, &c.] The king of the Arabians, as Cuſh here ſignifies.

13 They could not recover themſelves] The victory was ſo complete, that they could not rally their forces to renew the fight.

They were deſtroyed before the Lord, &c.] The word "deſtroyed" imports, that very many periſhed.

15 And camels in abundance, &c.] The abundance of camels which they had, ſhews they were Arabians, whoſe country abounded with thoſe creatures.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIV.

In this chapter alſo, from the great victory obtained by Aſa over the Ethiopians, we are further led to ſee the happy effects of ſerving God, and relying upon him, who is ever nigh unto them that fear him, and is both able and ready to deliver them in times of trouble.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XV.

2 While ye be with him, &c.] While ye continue to worſhip him alone.

5 In thoſe times there was no peace, &c.] The words muſt be tranſlated, In thoſe days there ſhall be no peace, &c. and at the next verſe alſo we ſhould read, Nation ſhall be deſtroyed of nation, &c.

Before CHRIST 941. Iſrael ſhould be put to death, whether ſmall or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they ſware unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with ſhouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had ſworn with all their heart, and ſought him with their whole deſire; and he was found of them: and the LORD gave them reſt round about.

16 ¶ And alſo concerning Maachah the mother of Aſa the king, he removed her from being queen, becauſe ſhe had made an idol in a grove: and Aſa cut down her idol, and ſtamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Iſrael: nevertheleſs the heart of Aſa was perfect all his days.

18 ¶ And he brought into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himſelf had dedicated, ſilver, and gold, and veſſels.

19 And there was no more war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Aſa maketh a league with Ben-hadad king of Syria againſt Baaſha, who is thereby diverted from the building of Ramah; Aſa with the ſtones thereof buildeth Geba and Mizpah. 7 Hanani the ſeer, reproving him for applying to the Syrians for aid rather than to God, is impriſoned by him. 11 Aſa in his ſickneſs ſeeketh not to God, but to the phyſicians. 13 His death and burial.

940. IN the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa Baaſha king of Iſrael came up againſt Judah, and built Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Aſa king of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD and of the king's houſe, and ſent to Ben-hadad king of Syria, that dwelt at Damaſcus, ſaying,

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold; go, break thy league with Baaſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Aſa, and ſent the captains of his armies againſt the cities of Iſrael; and they ſmote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtore cities of Naphtali.

5 And it came to paſs, when Baaſha heard it, that he left off building of Ramah, and let his work ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king took all Judah; and they carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baaſha was building; and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

941. 7 ¶ And at that time Hanani the ſeer came to Aſa king of Judah, and ſaid unto him, Becauſe thou haſt relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the king of Syria eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not the Ethiopians and the Lubims a huge hoſt, with very many chariots and horſemen? yet, becauſe thou didſt rely on the LORD, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to ſhew himſelf ſtrong in the behalf of them whoſe heart is perfect toward him. Herein thou haſt done fooliſhly: therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt have wars. Before CHRIST 941.

10 Then Aſa was wroth with the ſeer, and put him in a priſon houſe; for he was in a rage with him becauſe of this thing. And Aſa oppreſſed ſome of the people the ſame time.

11 ¶ And, behold, the acts of Aſa, firſt and laſt, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

12 And Aſa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diſeaſed in his feet, until his diſeaſe was exceeding great: yet in his diſeaſe he ſought not to the LORD, but to the phyſicians.

13 ¶ And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and died in the 914 one and fortieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in his own ſepulchres, which he had made for himſelf in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with ſweet odours and divers kinds of ſpices prepared by the apothecaries' art: and they made a very great burning for him.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Jehoſhaphat ſucceeding Aſa reigneth well and proſpereth. 7 He ſendeth Levites with his princes to teach the law in Judah. 10 The neighbouring kingdoms awed by God dare not diſturb him; the Philiſtines and Arabians bring him preſents and tribute. 12 His greatneſs; the number of his forces under their reſpective captains.

AND Jehoſhaphat his ſon reigned in his ſtead, and ſtrengthened himſelf againſt Iſrael.

2 And he placed forces in all the fenced cities of Judah, and ſet garriſons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had taken.

3 And the LORD was with Jehoſhaphat, becauſe he walked in the firſt ways of his father David, and ſought not unto Baalim;

4 But ſought to the LORD God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Iſrael.

5 Therefore the LORD ſtabliſhed the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah brought to Jehoſhaphat preſents; and he had riches and honour in abundance.

6 And in his heart was lifted up in the ways of the 913 LORD: moreover he took away the high places and groves out of Judah.

7 ¶ Alſo in the third year of his reign he ſent to his 912 princes, even to Ben-hail, and to Obadiah, and to Zechariah, and to Nethaneel, and to Michaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

8 And with them he ſent Levites, even Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Aſahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah, Levites; and with them Eliſhama and Jehoram, prieſts.

9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the LORD with them, and went about throughout 17 The high places were not taken away out of Iſrael, &c.] This means, out of the territories which Aſa had conquered in the land of Iſrael, for he was not able to remove them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XV.

This hiſtory ſhews us, that the chief care of princes, and of their people, ought to be, to render God propitious to them, by their ſincere adherence to religion, in which alone conſiſts their happineſs and ſecurity: ſee ver. 2. of this chapter.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

1 In the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa Baaſha king of Iſrael came up, &c.] Baaſha died in the ſix and twentieth year of Aſa; and therefore the beſt authors are of opinion that an error is crept into the text, through the inattention of the tranſcriber.

12 Yet in his diſeaſe he ſought not to the Lord, but to the phyſicians.] He truſted to their ſkill, more than to the goodneſs and power of God, which he omitted to implore, and continued in his former fault of putting confidence in man.

14 They made a very great burning for him.] The Iſraelites might perhaps have learned from the antient Egyptians the cuſtom not of burning bodies, but of burning many ſpices at their funerals.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

What happened to this prince, teaches us, that after beginning well, we ſhould perſevere in our duty, leſt we loſe God's bleſſing; and this is a warning in particular to pious perſons to be upon their guard, walking humbly and in the fear of God, leſt at any time they ſhould ſlip or fall, and thereby bring a diſgrace upon their profeſſion.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

6 His heart was lifted up in the ways of the Lord, &c.] He had formed generous and exalted reſolutions to promote the worſhip of God.

7 He ſent to his princes—to teach in the cities of Judah.] The moſt probable opinion is, that they admoniſhed and required the people to obſerve the laws of God, and left the particular explication and enforcement of them to thoſe of the ſacred order who attended them.

17 And of Benjamin; Eliada a mighty man of valour, and with him armed men with bow and ſhield two hundred thouſand.

18 And next him was Jehozabad, and with him an hundred and fourſcore thouſand ready prepared for the war.

19 Theſe waited on the king, beſide thoſe whom the king put in the fenced cities throughout all Judah.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Jehoſhaphat joined in affinity with Ahab is perſuaded to go with him againſt Ramoth-gilead. 4 Jehoſhaphat propoſeth to enquire of God; Ahab's falſe prophets aſſure him of ſucceſs. 6 At Jehoſhaphat's requeſt Micaiah is ſent for: 15 who foretelleth Ahab's death, and ſheweth that his falſe prophets were poſſeſſed by a lying ſpirit. 23 He is ill treated and ſent to priſon. 28 Ahab goeth in diſguiſe to the battle, where Jehoſhaphat being miſtaken for him narrowly eſcapeth being ſlain. 33 Ahab is ſlain by an arrow ſhot at a venture.

897. NOW Jehoſhaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joined affinity with Ahab.

2 And after certain years he went down to Ahab to Samaria. And Ahab killed ſheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and perſuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth-gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead? And he anſwered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people; and we will be with thee in the war.

4 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered together of prophets four hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up; for God will deliver it into the king's hand.

6 ¶ But Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD beſides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: but I hate him; for he never propheſied good unto me, but always evil: the ſame is Micaiah the ſon of Imla. And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

Before CHRIST 897.

8 And the king of Iſrael called for one of his officers, and ſaid, Fetch quickly Micaiah the ſon of Imla.

9 And the king of Iſrael and Jehoſhaphat king of Judah ſat either of them on his throne, clothed in their robes, and they ſat in a void place at the entering in of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets propheſied before them.

10 And Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah had made him horns of iron, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, With theſe thou ſhalt puſh Syria until they be conſumed.

11 And all the prophets propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

12 And the meſſenger that went to call Micaiah ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king with one aſſent; let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of their's, and ſpeak thou good.

13 And Micaiah ſaid, As the LORD liveth, even what my God ſaith, that will I ſpeak.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah, ſhall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or ſhall I forbear? And he ſaid, Go ye up, and proſper, and they ſhall be delivered into your hand.

15 ¶ And the king ſaid to him, How many times ſhall I adjure thee that thou ſay nothing but the truth to me in the name of the LORD?

16 Then he ſaid, I did ſee all Iſrael ſcattered upon the mountains, as ſheep that have no ſhepherd: and the LORD ſaid, Theſe have no maſter; let them return therefore every man to his houſe in peace.

17 And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would not propheſy good unto me, but evil?

18 Again he ſaid, Therefore hear the word of the LORD; I ſaw the LORD ſitting upon his throne, and all the hoſt of heaven ſtanding on his right hand and on his left.

19 And the LORD ſaid, Who ſhall entice Ahab king of Iſrael, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one ſpake ſaying after this manner, and another ſaying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a ſpirit, and ſtood before the LORD, and ſaid, I will entice him. And the LORD ſaid unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he ſaid, I will go out, and be a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the LORD ſaid, Thou ſhalt entice him, and thou ſhalt alſo prevail: go out, and do even ſo.

22 Now therefore, behold, the LORD hath put a lying ſpirit in the mouth of theſe thy prophets, and the LORD hath ſpoken evil againſt thee.

23 ¶ Then Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah came near, and ſmote Micaiah upon the cheek, and ſaid, Which way went the Spirit of the LORD from me to ſpeak unto thee?

24 And Micaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee on that day when thou ſhalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyſelf.

25 Then the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joaſh the king's ſon;

26 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this fellow in the priſon, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And

13 He had much buſineſs in the cities of Judah, &c.] To ſettle religion, and extirpate idolatry, as well as to provide for their ſafety by fortifications, and whatſoever was neceſſary for the preſervation of public tranquillity.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

From God's gracious dealings to pious Jehoſhaphat, we learn, that the way of the righteous tends to proſperity; and when any perſons are brought to ſerve, obey, and love God with their whole heart, the Lord cauſes their very enemies to be at peace with them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

1 And joined affinity with Ahab.] For his ſon married Athaliah the daughter of Ahab: ſee 2 Kings viii. 18.

3 Wilt thou go with me, &c.] The preceding verſe tells us, that "Ahab had perſuaded him to go up with him, &c." and by the queſtion being here repeated, it ſeems as if Ahab reſolved more deliberately upon what he had propoſed before in the midſt of the entertainment.

Before CHRIST 897.

27 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the LORD ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, Hearken, all ye people.

28 ¶ So the king of Iſrael and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe myſelf, and will go to the battle; but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf; and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, ſaying, Fight ye not with ſmall or great, ſave only with the king of Iſrael.

31 And it came to paſs, when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael. Therefore they compaſſed about him to fight: but Jehoſhaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him; and God moved them to depart from him.

32 For it came to paſs, that, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, they turned back again from purſuing him.

33 ¶ And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael between the joints of the harneſs: therefore he ſaid to his chariot man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayeſt carry me out of the hoſt; for I am wounded.

34 And the battle increaſed that day: howbeit the king of Iſrael ſtayed himſelf up in his chariot againſt the Syrians until the even: and about the time of the ſun going down he died.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Jehoſhaphat on his return is reproved by Jehu for having joined in alliance with Ahab. 4 He viſiteth his kingdom. 5 His inſtructions to the judges whom he appointed in the cities of Judah; 8 and to the prieſts and Levites, who exerciſed judgment at Jeruſalem.

896. AND Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah returned to his houſe in peace to Jeruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſon of Hanani the ſeer went out to meet him, and ſaid to king Jehoſhaphat, Shouldeſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the LORD.

3 Nevertheleſs there are good things found in thee, in that thou haſt taken away the groves out of the land, and haſt prepared thine heart to ſeek God.

4 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat dwelt at Jeruſalem: and he went out again through the people from Beer-ſheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the LORD God of their fathers.

5 ¶ And he ſet judges in the land throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city,

6 And ſaid to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the LORD, who is with you in the judgment.

7 Wherefore now let the fear of the LORD be upon you; take heed and do it: for there is no iniquity with the LORD our God, nor reſpect of perſons, nor taking of gifts.

8 ¶ Moreover in Jeruſalem did Jehoſhaphat ſet of the Levites, and of the prieſts, and of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, for the judgment of the LORD, and for controverſies, when they returned to Jeruſalem. Before CHRIST 896.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye do in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cauſe ſoever ſhall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, ſtatutes and judgments, ye ſhall even warn them that they treſpaſs not againſt the LORD, and ſo wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren: this do, and ye ſhall not treſpaſs.

11 And, behold, Amariah the chief prieſt is over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zebadiah the ſon of Iſhmael, the ruler of the houſe of Judah, for all the king's matters: alſo the Levites ſhall be officers before you. Deal courageouſly, and the LORD ſhall be with the good.

CHAP. XX.

1 Jehoſhaphat invaded by the Moabites and others in his fear proclaimeth a faſt. 5 His prayer. 14 The prophecy of Jahaziel. 20 Jehoſhaphat exhorteth the people, and appointeth ſingers to praiſe the LORD. 22 The enemies deſtroy one another, and leave much ſpoil for Iſrael. 26 The people, having bleſſed God at Berachah, return in triumph, and dwell unmoleſted. 31 Jehoſhaphat's good reign and acts. 35 He joineth with Ahaziah in ſending ſhips to Tarſhiſh, which according to the prediction of Eliezar are wrecked.

IT came to paſs after this alſo, that the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them other beſide the Ammonites came againſt Jehoſhaphat to battle.

2 Then there came ſome that told Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, There cometh a great multitude againſt thee from beyond the ſea on this ſide Syria; and, behold, they be in Hazazon-tamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Jehoſhaphat feared, and ſet himſelf to ſeek the LORD, and proclaimed a faſt throughout all Judah.

4 And Judah gathered themſelves together, to aſk help of the LORD: even out of all the cities of Judah they came to ſeek the LORD.

5 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſtood in the congregation of Judah and Jeruſalem, in the houſe of the LORD, before the new court,

6 And ſaid, O LORD God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee?

7 Art not thou our God, who didſt drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Iſrael, and gaveſt it to the ſeed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a ſanctuary therein for thy name, ſaying,

9 If, when evil cometh upon us, as the ſword, judgment, or peſtilence, or famine, we ſtand before this houſe,

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

Though Jehoſhaphat was blameable in allying with Ahab, nevertheleſs he manifeſted his piety in conſulting the Lord's prophet. The iſſue of the battle proved, that undertakings formed contrary to the will of God rarely proſper, but his threatnings will infallibly be executed on the wicked, while he protects his people.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

2 Shouldeſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord, &c.] As much as to ſay, this is contrary to common reaſon, which taught the heathens to make no friendſhip with ſuch as were the enemies of their gods; nor even to lodge in the ſame houſe with a murderer, or other grievous criminals, or even eat with them.

6 But for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment.] It is an obſervation of Cicero, that judges being ſworn to do juſtice, ſhould remember, when they come to paſs ſentence, Deum ſe habere teſtem, id eſt, ut ego arbitror, mentem ſuam, quâ nihil homini dedit ipſe Deus divinius:—that he hath God for a witneſs of what he does, even his own conſcience, than which God hath given to men nothing more divine. Cic. de Offic. lib. iii. c. 10.

10 Ye ſhall even warn them that they treſpaſs not againſt the Lord, &c.] They were not only to pronounce a juſt ſentence in every cauſe, but ſhould alſo admoniſh him who was in the wrong, to beware of injuring their neighbours for the time to come.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

As God ſent a prophet to rebuke Jehoſhaphat for joining idolatrous Ahab, this ſhould be a caution to us, not to contract intimacy with the wicked. The wiſe conduct of Jehoſhaphat ſhews the duty of princes; his appointing judges, the ſolemn charge he gave them to act conſcientiouſly, and the good regulations he made in the ſtate, evidence to us the neceſſity and beauty of order not only in civil, but eſpecially in religious matters.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

1 And with them other beſide the Ammonites, &c.] It ought to be tranſlated, And with them the Meunims, a people in Arabia, near the Moabites and the Ammonites, and are here called in as auxiliaries.

2 From beyond the ſea, &c.] i. e. The Dead ſea.

9 The ſword, judgment, &c.] Some tranſlate it, The ſword of judgment; i. e. the puniſhing ſword.

Before CHRIST 896. house, and in thy presence, (for thy name is in this house,) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now, behold, the children of Ammon and Moab and mount Seir, whom thou wouldest not let Israel invade, when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them, and destroyed them not;

11 Behold, I say, how they reward us, to come to cast us out of thy possession, which thou hast given us to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no might against this great company that cometh against us; neither know we what to do: but our eyes are upon thee.

13 And all Judah stood before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives, and their children.

14 ¶ Then upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiah, the son of Jeiel, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, came the Spirit of the LORD in the midst of the congregation;

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou king Jehoshaphat, Thus saith the LORD unto you, Be not afraid nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battle is not your's, but God's.

16 To morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Ziz; and ye shall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderness of Jeruel.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battle: set yourselves, stand ye still, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Judah and Jerusalem: fear not, nor be dismayed; to morrow go out against them: for the LORD will be with you.

18 And Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the LORD, worshipping the LORD.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 ¶ And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the LORD your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the LORD, and that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the LORD; for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 ¶ And when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Judah; and they were smitten.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab stood up against the inhabitants of mount Seir, utterly to slay and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Judah came toward the watch tower in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude, and, behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

Before CHRIST 896.

26 ¶ And on the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah; for there they blessed the LORD: therefore the name of the same place was called, The valley of Berachah, unto this day.

27 Then they returned every man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat in the forefront of them, to go again to Jerusalem with joy; for the LORD had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jerusalem with psalteries and harps and trumpets unto the house of the LORD.

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of those countries, when they had heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the realm of Jehoshaphat was quiet: for his God gave him rest round about.

31 ¶ And Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the sight of the LORD.

33 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu the son of Hanani, who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ And after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah join himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who did very wickedly:

36 And he joined himself with him to make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion-gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast joined thyself with Ahaziah, the LORD hath broken thy works. And the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Jehoshaphat's death: Jehoram succeedeth him, and slayeth his brethren. 5 His wicked reign. 8 Edom and Libnah revolt. 12 Elijah's written prophecy against him. 16 The Philistines and Arabians carry off his substance, his wives, and all his sons, except Jehoahaz. 18 His incurable disease, loathsome death, and burial.

NOW Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. And Jehoram his son reigned in his stead. 889.

2 And he had brethren the sons of Jehoshaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah, all these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of silver, and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdom gave he to Jehoram; because he was the firstborn. 892.

4 Now when Jehoram was risen up to the kingdom of his father, he strengthened himself, and slew all his brethren

11 Behold, I say, how they reward us, &c.] Ingratitude certainly is odious, but to return evil for good, is the highest wickedness.

12 Wilt thou not judge them, &c.] To "judge," in this place, signifies, to punish.

14 Upon Jahaziel, &c.] He seems not to have been a prophet before this time, when a sudden inspiration came upon him from God, to comfort that great assembly with the certain hope of a speedy deliverance.

15 The battle is not your's, but God's.] They now assented God's cause, and might be assured he would maintain it, by overthrowing their enemies.

22 The Lord set ambushments against the children of Ammon and they were smitten.] The ambushments which they had laid for Judah, by a confusion among themselves, caused by a divine hand, fell upon a part of their own army, mistaking them for their enemies.

26 On the fourth day they assembled themselves, &c.] In a more solemn manner than they did at first, the whole body of the people assembling together, to acknowledge God's goodness to them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

From the tenor of this chapter we may discern, that prayer and humiliation before God are effectual means for obtaining the divine favour; but considering the remains of indwelling sin, we should in all our undertakings distrust ourselves, and rely wholly on the Lord our strength and Redeemer.

Before CHRIST 892. brethren with the ſword, and divers alſo of the princes of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Jehoram was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, like as did the houſe of Ahab: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife: and he wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD.

7 Howbeit the LORD would not deſtroy the houſe of David, becauſe of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promiſed to give a light to him and to his ſons for ever.

8 ¶ In his days the Edomites revolted from under the dominion of Judah, and made themſelves a king.

9 Then Jehoram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he roſe up by night, and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The ſame time alſo did Libnah revolt from under his hand; becauſe he had forſaken the LORD God of his fathers.

11 Moreover he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and cauſed the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 ¶ And there came a writing to him from Elijah the prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of David thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the ways of Jehoſhaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Aſa king of Judah,

13 But haſt walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the houſe of Ahab, and alſo haſt ſlain thy brethren of thy father's houſe, which were better than thyſelf:

14 Behold, with a great plague will the LORD ſmite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods:

15 And thou ſhalt have great ſickneſs by diſeaſe of thy bowels, until thy bowels fall out by reaſon of the ſickneſs day by day.

887. 16 ¶ Moreover the LORD ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, that were near the Ethiopians:

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the king's houſe, and his ſons alſo, and his wives; ſo that there was never a ſon left him, ſave Jehoahaz, the youngeſt of his ſons.

885. 18 ¶ And after all this the LORD ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And it came to paſs, that in proceſs of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reaſon of his ſickneſs: ſo he died of ſore diſeaſes. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem eight years, and departed without being deſired. Howbeit they buried him in the city of David, but not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah ſucceedeth Jehoram: his wicked reign. 5 His confederacy with Jehoram the ſon of Ahab, with whom he is ſlain by Jehu. 10 Athaliah having deſtroyed all the ſeed royal of Judah, ſave Joaſh, who was hid by his aunt Jehoſhabeath, uſurpeth the kingdom.

Before CHRIST 885. AND the inhabitants of Jeruſalem made Ahaziah his youngeſt ſon king in his ſtead: for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp had ſlain all the eldeſt. So Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah reigned.

2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem. His mother's name alſo was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 He alſo walked in the ways of the houſe of Ahab: for his mother was his counſellor to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the ſight of the LORD like the houſe of Ahab: for they were his counſellors, after the death of his father, to his deſtruction. 884.

5 ¶ He walked alſo after their counſel, and went with Jehoram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael to war againſt Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead: and the Syrians ſmote Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel becauſe of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Azariah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah went down to ſee Jehoram the ſon of Ahab at Jezreel, becauſe he was ſick.

7 And the deſtruction of Ahaziah was of God by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehoram againſt Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the houſe of Ahab.

8 And it came to paſs, that, when Jehu was executing judgment upon the houſe of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah, and the ſons of the brethren of Ahaziah, that miniſtered to Ahaziah, he ſlew them.

9 And he ſought Ahaziah; and they caught him, (for he was hid in Samaria,) and brought him to Jehu: and when they had ſlain him, they buried him: Becauſe ſaid they, he is the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, who ſought the LORD with all his heart. So the houſe of Ahaziah had no power to keep ſtill the kingdom.

10 ¶ But when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal of the houſe of Judah.

11 But Jehoſhabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joaſh the ſon of Ahaziah, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons that were ſlain, and put him and his nurſe in a bed chamber. So Jehoſhabeath, the daughtr of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the prieſt, (for ſhe was the ſiſter of Ahaziah,) hid him from Athaliah, ſo that ſhe ſlew him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the houſe of God ſix years: and Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Jehoiada, having taken meaſures for his ſecurity, maketh Joaſh king. 12 Athaliah is ſlain. 16 Jehoiada reſtoreth the worſhip of God, and ſettleth the king on his throne to the great joy of the people.

878. AND in the ſeventh year Jehoiada ſtrengthened himſelf, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the ſon of Jeroham, and Iſhmael the ſon of Jehohanan, and Azariah the ſon of Obed, and Maaſeiah the ſon of Adaiah, and Eliſhaphat the ſon of Zichri, into covenant with him.

2 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXI.

There came a writing—from Elijah the prophet, &c.] He did not ſend a writing; but it was ſent as his writing; for there is nothing in the words to intimate that it was written after his death, but delivered after his death; ſo that it might have been written (for any thing that appears to the contrary) by Elijah himſelf, before he was taken up into heaven.

13 Which were better than thyſelf.] This ſeems to intimate, that his brethren were pious perſons, and abhorred idolatry.

14 With a great plague will the Lord ſmite, &c.] There was no calamity that could be thought of, which did not befal this wicked prince, as appears from the ſequel of the text.

20 Departed without being deſired, &c.] His people did not wiſh he might live any longer, but were glad his reign was ſo ſhort.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXI.

One important leſſon is here ſet before us, namely, that as Jehoram was drawn away to idolatry by his wife, who was the daughter of Ahab, therefore true Chriſtians ſhould be careful not to ally themſelves with profane and wicked perſons in marriage, or otherwiſe, which is not only diſpleaſing to God, but often proves the ruin of families and individuals.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXII.

2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, &c.] In 2 Kings viii. 26. it is ſaid, "two and twenty years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign;" one of theſe readings is undoubtedly falſe: it ſhould be two and twenty, which was his real age.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXII.

The end of Ahaziah affords us an example, that they who join themſelves with the wicked provoke God, and often periſh miſerably.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said unto them, Behold, the king's son shall reign, as the LORD hath said of the sons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you entering on the sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD.

6 But let none come into the house of the LORD, save the priests, and they that minister of the Levites; they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD.

7 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whosoever else cometh into the house, he shall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with them that were to go out on the sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

9 Moreover Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds spears, and bucklers, and shields, that had been king David's, which were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people, every man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God save the king.

12 ¶ Now when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the LORD:

13 And she looked, and, behold, the king stood at his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded with trumpets, also the singers with instruments of musick, and such as taught to sing praise. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, Treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were set over the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Slay her not in the house of the LORD.

15 So they laid hands on her; and when she was come to the entering of the horse gate by the king's house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they should be the LORD's people.

17 Then all the people went to the house of Baal, and brake it down, and brake his altars and his images in pieces, and slew Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 Also Jehoiada appointed the officers of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Levites, whom David had distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, as it was ordained by David.

Before CHRIST 878.

19 And he set the porters at the gates of the house of the LORD, that none which was unclean in any thing should enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD: and they came through the high gate into the king's house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced: and the city was quiet, after that they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Joash reigneth well all the days of Jehoiada. 4 His care and orders for the repairs of the temple. 15 Jehoiada's death and honourable burial. 16 Joash seduced by the flattering homage of his princes falleth away to idolatry, and putteth to death Zechariah the son of Jehoiada for reproving him by the spirit of God. 23 Joash is spoiled by the Syrians, and slain by a conspiracy of his servants. 27 Amaziah succeedeth him.

JOASH was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name also was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest.

3 And Jehoiada took for him two wives; and he begat sons and daughters.

4 ¶ And it came to pass after this, that Joash was minded to repair the house of the LORD.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of all Israel money to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that ye hasten the matter. Howbeit the Levites hastened it not. 856.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the chief, and said unto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and out of Jerusalem the collection, according to the commandment of Moses the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?

7 For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God; and also all the dedicated things of the house of the LORD did they bestow upon Baalim.

8 And at the king's commandment they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the LORD.

9 And they made a proclamation through Judah and Jerusalem, to bring in to the LORD the collection that Moses the servant of God laid upon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to pass, that at what time the chest was brought unto the king's office by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that there was much money, the king's scribe and the high priest's officer came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIII.

2 And the chief of the fathers of Israel, &c.] It is likely that Judah is here called Israel (as in several other places), the principal men of which were apprized of Jehoiada's intentions.

19 He set the porters at the gates of the house of the Lord, &c.] It is surely becoming the divine majesty of the King of kings, the supreme Lord of heaven and earth, that his temple, which he dignifies with his glorious presence, should be surrounded by his ministers, the priests and Levites, who should carefully watch that nothing did pollute it!

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

In this chapter appears the providence and justice of God; for that happy revolution, whereby not only the state, but the church too, was restored to its purity, shews, that God cannot be more gracious to a people, than when he removes wicked, and sets up good princes and ministers in their stead.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

3 Jehoiada took for him two wives, &c.] Jehoiada is supposed either to have had there two wives before he was high-priest, or that one being dead, he took another: but it is not certain that Jehoiada was high-priest, for he is every where called Jehoiada the priest.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also such as wrought iron and brass to mend the house of the LORD.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada, whereof were made vessels for the house of the LORD, even vessels to minister, and to offer withal, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings in the house of the LORD continually all the days of Jehoiada.

850. 15 ¶ But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, both toward God, and toward his house.

840. 17 ¶ Now after the death of Jehoiada came the princes of Judah, and made obeisance to the king. Then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served groves and idols; and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem for this their trespass.

19 Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the LORD; and they testified against them: but they would not give ear.

20 And the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest, which stood above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, Why transgress ye the commandments of the LORD, that ye cannot prosper? because ye have forsaken the LORD, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king in the court of the house of the LORD.

22 Thus Joash the king remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his son. And when he died, he said, The LORD look upon it, and require it.

839. 23 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of the year, that the host of Syria came up against him: and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a small company of men, and the LORD delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Joash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases,) his own servants conspired against him for the blood of the sons of Jehoiada the priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him; Zabad the son of Shimeath an Ammonitess, and Jehozabad the son of Shimrith a Moabitess.

27 ¶ Now concerning his sons, and the greatness of the burdens laid upon him, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

Before CHRIST 839.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Amaziah beginneth his reign well. 3 His justice in punishing the murderers of his father. 5 He gathereth a great army, and hireth a hundred thousand Israelites for a hundred talents of silver, but at the word of a prophet loseth the money, and dismisseth them, who depart in great anger. 11 He smiteth the Edomites in the valley of Salt. 13 The offended Israelites on their return spoil the cities of Judah. 14 Amaziah serveth the gods of Edom, and rejecteth the admonitions of a prophet. 17 His challenge to Joash, which endeth in his overthrow, and in the taking and spoiling of Jerusalem. 25 The remainder of his reign. 27 He is slain by a conspiracy at Lachish.

AMAZIAH was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to pass, when the kingdom was established to him, that he slew his servants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his own sin.

5 ¶ Moreover Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them three hundred thousand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle spear and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand mighty men of valour out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But there came a man of God to him, saying, O king, let not the army of Israel go with thee; for the LORD is not with Israel, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt go, do it, be strong for the battle: God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to cast down.

9 And Amaziah said to the man of God, But what shall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel? And the man of God answered, The LORD is able to give thee much more than this.

10 Then Amaziah separated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

11 ¶ And Amaziah strengthened himself, and led 847. forth his people, and went to the valley of salt, and smote of the children of Seir ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand left alive did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, that they all were broken in pieces.

13 ¶ But the soldiers of the army which Amaziah sent back, that they should not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah, from Samaria even unto Beth-horon,

---

17 After the death of Jehoiada, &c.] In his life-time they durst not have attempted it; for though he was old and feeble, he yet retained great authority.

22 Joash the king remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his son.] Besides the contempt of God's prophet, and of the place where he was murdered, this sin had an horrible ingratitude in it, he being the son of him to whom the king, under God, owed his life and kingdom.

The Lord look upon it, and require it.] This being prophetically, not vindictively spoken, it should be, The lord will look upon it, and requite it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

This history shews us, that Joash had the lot of wicked kings: he was guilty of extreme impiety and black ingratitude; therefore God delivered him to the syrians, his enemies, and after being murdered in his bed, he was buried with ignominy: thus they who provoke the Lord to wrath by their sins, will early or late (without repentance) partake of the severity of his judgments.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXV.

2 He did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.] He kept the law of Moses, but not from a principle of solid piety.

12 And cast them down from the top of the rock, that they all were broken in pieces.] This was a very antient punishment among the Romans, as we learn from Livy, Plutarch, and others.

14 ¶ Now it came to paſs, after that Amaziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them up to be his gods, and bowed down himſelf before them, and burned incenſe unto them.

15 Wherefore the anger of the LORD was kindled againſt Amaziah, and he ſent unto him a prophet, which ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou ſought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to paſs, as he talked with him, that the king ſaid unto him, Art thou made of the king's counſel? forbear; why ſhouldeſt thou be ſmitten? Then the prophet forbare, and ſaid, I know that God hath determined to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not hearkened unto my counſel.

826. 17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and ſent to Joaſh, the ſon of Jehoahaz, the ſon of Jehu, king of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, let us ſee one another in the face.

18 And Joaſh king of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah king of Judah, ſaying, The thiſtle that was in Lebanon ſent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſon to wife: and there paſſed by a wild beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

19 Thou ſayeſt, Lo, thou haſt ſmitten the Edomites; and thine heart lifteth thee up to boaſt: abide now at home; why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not hear; for it came of God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, becauſe they ſought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joaſh the king of Iſrael went up; and they ſaw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Joaſh the king of Iſrael took Amaziah king of Judah, the ſon of Joaſh, the ſon of Jehoahaz, at Beth-ſhemeſh, and brought him to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of God with Obed-edom, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, the hoſtages alſo, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah lived after the death of Joaſh ſon of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael fifteen years.

26 Now the reſt of the acts of Amaziah, firſt and laſt, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael?

810. 27 ¶ Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from following the LORD they made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem; and he fled to Lachiſh: but they ſent to Lachiſh after him, and ſlew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horſes, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

Before CHRIST 810. THEN all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was ſixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

2 He built Eloth, and reſtored it to Judah, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jeruſalem. His mother's name alſo was Jecoliah of Jeruſalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he ſought God in the days of Zechariah, who had underſtanding in the viſions of God: and as long as he ſought the LORD, God made him to proſper.

6 And he went forth and warred againſt the Philiſtines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Aſhdod, and built cities about Aſhdod, and among the Philiſtines. 800.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtines, and againſt the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Mehunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave gifts to Uzziah: and his name ſpread abroad even to the entering in of Egypt; for he ſtrengthened himſelf exceedingly.

9 ¶ Moreover Uzziah built towers in Jeruſalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10 Alſo he built towers in the deſert, and digged many wells: for he had much cattle, both in the low country, and in the plains: huſbandmen alſo, and vine dreſſers in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he loved huſbandry.

11 ¶ Moreover Uzziah had an hoſt of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account by the hand of Jeiel the ſcribe and Maaſeiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains.

12 The whole number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour were two thouſand and ſix hundred.

13 And under their hand was an army, three hundred thouſand and ſeven thouſand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king againſt the enemy.

14 And Uzziah prepared for them throughout all the hoſt ſhields, and ſpears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bows, and ſlings to caſt ſtones.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks, to ſhoot arrows and great ſtones withal. And his name ſpread far abroad; for he was marvellouſly helped, till he was ſtrong.

16 ¶ But when he was ſtrong, his heart was lifted up to his deſtruction: for he tranſgreſſed againſt the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD to burn incenſe upon the altar of incenſe. 765.

17 And Azariah the prieſt went in after him, and with him fourſcore prieſts of the LORD, that were valiant men:

18 And they withſtood Uzziah the king, and ſaid unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incenſe unto the LORD, but to the prieſts the ſons of Aaron, that are conſecrated to burn incenſe: go out of

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXV.

We hence perceive, that Amaziah's becoming an idolater, brought darkneſs on his mind, and ruin on himſelf; in like manner, as ſurely as the earth turning from the ſun, brings night to man; ſo man, turning from his God, brings endleſs night, as the poet beautifully obſerves.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVI.

1 Uzziah, &c.] In 2 Kings xiv. 21. he is called Azariah.

5 In the days of Zechariah, &c.] This was not that Zechariah the prophet, whoſe writings are found in the ſacred canon, but probably his ſon.

8 He ſtrengthened himſelf exceedingly.] His power grew ſo great, that he was formidable not only to the Philiſtines in the weſt, and to the Arabians and others in the eaſt, but to the borders of Egypt in the ſouth.

10 And in Carmel, &c.] Not the famous mount of that name, but only a very fruitful country, as the word Carmel ſignifies in ſeveral places.

16 Went into the temple of the Lord to burn incenſe, &c.] Perhaps he had a vain ambition to imitate the heathen princes, who in many places executed the prieſts' office alſo.

18 They withſtood Uzziah the king, and ſaid unto him, &c.] Withſtood him not by force, but by reaſons and exhortations.

Before CHRIST 765. of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honour from the LORD God.

19 Then Uzziah was wroth, and had a censer in his hand to burn incense: and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy even rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of the LORD, from beside the incense altar.

20 And Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out from thence; yea, himself hasted also to go out, because the LORD had smitten him.

21 And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of the LORD: and Jotham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

22 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, write.

23 So Uzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial which belonged to the kings; for they said, He is a leper: and Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jotham reigning well prospereth. 3 His buildings. 5 He subdueth the Ammonites. 7 His acts, reign, and death: Ahaz succeedeth him.

758. JOTHAM was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name also was Jerushah, the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah did: howbeit he entered not into the temple of the LORD. And the people did yet corruptly.

3 ¶ He built the high gate of the house of the LORD, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the forests he built castles and towers.

5 ¶ He fought also with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gave him the same year an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. So much did the children of Ammon pay unto him, both the second year, and the third.

6 So Jotham became mighty, because he prepared his ways before the LORD his God.

7 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars, and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

8 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.

9 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Ahaz reigning very wickedly is smitten by the kings of Syria and Israel. 8 The Israelites, having carried many thousands of Judah captive to Samaria, at the remonstrance of the prophet Oded send them home. 16 Ahaz calleth the king of Assyria to his aid, but is not at all benefited by his assistance. 22 In his distress he becometh still more idolatrous. 26 His acts and death: Hezekiah succeedeth him. Before CHRIST 741.

AHAZ was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: but he did not that which was right in the sight of the LORD, like David his father:

2 For he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and made also molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of the son of Hinnom, and burnt his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria; and they smote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Damascus. And he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Pekah the son of Remaliah slew in Judah an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, which were all valiant men; because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Maaseiah the king's son, and Azrikam the governor of the house, and Elkanah that was next to the king.

8 ¶ And the children of Israel carried away captive of their brethren two hundred thousand, women, sons, and daughters, and took also away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Samaria.

9 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded: and he went out before the host that came to Samaria, and said unto them, Behold, because the LORD God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye purpose to keep under the children of Judah and Jerusalem for bondmen and bondwomen unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God?

11 Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the war,

13 And said unto them, Ye shall not bring in the captives hither: for whereas we have offended against the LORD already, ye intend to add more to our sins and to our trespass: for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the spoil before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were expressed by name rose up, and took the captives, and with the spoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed

23 In the field, &c.] Because he was a leper, he had a separate burial-place when he was dead; as he had had a separate dwelling-place while he was alive.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVI.

From Uzziah's sin and punishment, we see how hard it is to bear prosperity with moderation; that godly persons may be corrupted, and abuse God's mercies, if they are not watchful: we should therefore pray that we may be patient in adversity, and humble in prosperity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVII.

2 He entered not into the temple of the Lord, &c.] He imitated his father in all that was good in him, but did not, like him, profanely enter into the temple to offer incense.

3 On the wall of Ophel he built much.] The Targum translates this, A palace; but others understand by Ophel a high place or cliff, where there was a tower.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVII.

We here find, that Jotham was a good king, and by his piety and fear of God was greatly blessed; agreeable to that declaration of infallible truth, "Him that honoureth me," saith God, "I will honour."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVIII.

3 And burnt his children in the fire, &c.] Or, he made his children to pass through the fire, for the words will admit of either sense.

9 A rage that reacheth up unto heaven.] That had no measure, and cried to heaven for vengeance upon the Israelites.

19 King of Israel, &c.] The title "king of Israel" is here used in the large sense, not opposed to Judah, but comprehending it.

Before CHRIST 741. anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon aſſes, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm trees, to their brethren: then they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz ſend unto the kings of Aſſyria to help him.

17 For again the Edomites had come and ſmitten Judah, and carried away captives.

18 The Philiſtines alſo had invaded the cities of the low country, and of the ſouth of Judah, and had taken Beth-ſhemeſh, and Ajalon, and Gederoth, and Shocho with the villages thereof, and Timnah with the villages thereof, Gimzo alſo and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the LORD brought Judah low becauſe of Ahaz king of Iſrael; for he made Judah naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore againſt the LORD.

740. 20 And Tilgath-pilneſer king of Aſſyria came unto him, and diſtreſſed him, but ſtrengthened him not.

21 For Ahaz took away a portion out of the houſe of the LORD, and out of the houſe of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Aſſyria: but he helped him not.

22 ¶ And in the time of his diſtreſs did he treſpaſs yet more againſt the LORD: this is that king Ahaz.

23 For he ſacrificed unto the gods of Damaſcus, which ſmote him: and he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I ſacrifice to them, that they may help me. But they were the ruin of him, and of all Iſrael.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the veſſels of the houſe of God, and cut in pieces the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut up the doors of the houſe of the LORD, and he made him altars in every corner of Jeruſalem.

25 And in every ſeveral city of Judah he made high places to burn incenſe unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

26 ¶ Now the reſt of his acts and of all his ways, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

726. 27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jeruſalem: but they brought him not into the ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Hezekiah's good reign. 3 He reſtoreth religion, and exhorteth the Levites to cleanſe the houſe of God. 12 The Levites ſanctify themſelves, and cleanſe the houſe. 20 Hezekiah offereth ſolemn ſacrifices, wherein the Levites ſhew a more forward zeal than the prieſts.

HEZEKIAH began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jeruſalem. And his mother's name was Abijah, the daughter of Zechariah.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 ¶ He in the firſt year of his reign, in the firſt month, opened the doors of the houſe of the LORD, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the prieſts and the Levites, and gathered them together into the eaſt ſtreet,

5 And ſaid unto them, Hear me, ye Levites, ſanctify now yourſelves, and ſanctify the houſe of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthineſs out of the holy place. Before CHRIST 726.

6 For our fathers have treſpaſſed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forſaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and turned their backs.

7 Alſo they have ſhut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incenſe nor offered burnt offerings in the holy place unto the God of Iſrael.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Judah and Jeruſalem, and he hath delivered them to trouble, to aſtoniſhment, and to hiſſing, as ye ſee with your eyes.

9 For, lo, our fathers have fallen by the ſword, and our ſons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Iſrael, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us.

11 My ſons, be not now negligent: for the LORD hath choſen you to ſtand before him, to ſerve him, and that ye ſhould miniſter unto him, and burn incenſe.

12 ¶ Then the Levites aroſe, Mahath the ſon of Amaſai, and Joel the ſon of Azariah, of the ſons of the Kohathites: and of the ſons of Merari, Kiſh the ſon of Abdi, and Azariah the ſon of Jehalelel: and of the Gerſhonites; Joah the ſon of Zimmah, and Eden the ſon of Joah:

13 And of the ſons of Elizaphan; Shimri, and Jeiel: and of the ſons of Aſaph; Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the ſons of Heman; Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the ſons of Jeduthun; Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and ſanctified themſelves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the LORD, to cleanſe the houſe of the LORD.

16 And the prieſts went into the inner part of the houſe of the LORD, to cleanſe it, and brought out all the uncleanneſs that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the houſe of the LORD. And the Levites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

17 Now they began on the firſt day of the firſt month to ſanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of the LORD: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the LORD in eight days; and in the ſixteenth day of the firſt month they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and ſaid, We have cleanſed all the houſe of the LORD, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the veſſels thereof, and the ſhewbread table, with all the veſſels thereof.

19 Moreover all the veſſels, which king Ahaz in his reign did caſt away in his tranſgreſſion, have we prepared and ſanctified, and, behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.

20 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king roſe early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the houſe of the LORD.

21 And they brought ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams, and ſeven lambs, and ſeven he goats, for a ſin-offering for the kingdom, and for the ſanctuary, and for Judah. And

20 And diſtreſſed, but ſtrengthened him not.] He did not help Ahaz to recover the cities which the Philiſtines had taken from him, nor did he lend him any forces, nor enable him to recruit his own; but rather weakened him by exhauſting his treaſures, and by deſtroying Samaria, whereby the way was opened to invade his country the more eaſily in the next reign.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVIII.

The incorrigibility of Ahaz affords an awful picture of the depravity of the human heart, (ſee ver. 22.) but from the effects of his alliance with the king of Aſſyria, we have ſenſible proofs of the wiſe and juſt providence of God, who ſometimes makes uſe of wicked men to do juſtice, and to chaſtiſe his people; after which, he deſtroys thoſe wicked men themſelves, and returns what they have deſerved.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XXIX.

3 He in the firſt year of his reign, in the firſt month, opened the doors of the houſe of the Lord, &c.] His great piety and zeal for God appears herein; well knowing, that the ſureſt way to fix himſelf in the kingdom, was, to eſtabliſh the true religion.

5 Carry forth the filthineſs out of the holy place.] The Jews tranſlate this, the abomination, that is, the altar of Damaſcus and all the idols that were upon it, brought by Ahaz into the temple, or holy place.

9 Are in captivity for this.] Rather, were in captivity, till God was pleaſed to releaſe them.

21 He goats, &c.] The word tſaphir, "he goat," being never uſed by the Hebrews till after the captivity, is ſome argument that Ezra was the author of this book.

Before CHRIST 726. And he commanded the prieſts the ſons of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the prieſts received the blood, and ſprinkled it on the altar: likewiſe, when they had killed the rams, they ſprinkled the blood upon the altar: they killed alſo the lambs, and they ſprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought forth the he goats for the ſin offering before the king and the congregation; and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the prieſts killed them, and they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Iſrael: for the king commanded that the burnt offering and the ſin offering ſhould be made for all Iſrael.

25 And he ſet the Levites in the houſe of the LORD with cymbals, with pſalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of David, and of Gad the king's ſeer, and Nathan the prophet: for ſo was the commandment of the LORD by his prophets.

26 And the Levites ſtood with the inſtruments of David, and the prieſts with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the ſong of the LORD began alſo with the trumpets, and with the inſtruments ordained by David king of Iſrael.

28 And all the congregation worſhipped, and the ſingers ſang, and the trumpeters ſounded: and all this continued until the burnt offering was finiſhed.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were preſent with him bowed themſelves and worſhipped.

30 Moreover Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to ſing praiſe unto the LORD with the words of David, and of Aſaph the ſeer. And they ſang praiſes with gladneſs, and they bowed their heads and worſhipped.

31 Then Hezekiah anſwered and ſaid, Now ye have conſecrated yourſelves unto the LORD, come near and bring ſacrifices and thank offerings into the houſe of the LORD. And the congregation brought in ſacrifices and thank offerings: and as many as were of a free heart burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was threeſcore and ten bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all theſe were for a burnt offering to the LORD.

33 And the conſecrated things were ſix hundred oxen and three thouſand ſheep.

34 But the prieſts were too few, ſo that they could not flay all the burnt offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites did help them, till the work was ended, and until the other prieſts had ſanctified themſelves: for the Levites were more upright in heart to ſanctify themſelves than the prieſts.

35 And alſo the burnt offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drink offerings for every burnt offering. So the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD was ſet in order.

36 And Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people: for the thing was done ſuddenly.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hezekiah proclaimeth a ſolemn paſſover to be kept in the ſecond month, and calleth all Judah and Iſrael to the celebration of it. 13 The aſſembly, having deſtroyed the altars of idolatry in Jeruſalem, keep the feaſt fourteen days. 27 The prieſts bleſs the people.

Before CHRIST 726. AND Hezekiah ſent to all Iſrael and Judah, and wrote letters alſo to Ephraim and Manaſſeh, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the LORD at Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſover unto the LORD God of Iſrael.

2 For the king had taken counſel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſover in the ſecond month.

3 For they could not keep it at that time, becauſe the prieſts had not ſanctified themſelves ſufficiently, neither had the people gathered themſelves together to Jeruſalem.

4 And the thing pleaſed the king and all the congregation.

5 So they eſtabliſhed a decree to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael, from Beer-ſheba even to Dan, that they ſhould come to keep the paſſover unto the LORD God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it of a long time in ſuch ſort as it was written.

6 So the poſts went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Iſrael and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, ſaying, Ye children of Iſrael, turn again unto the LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael, and he will return to the remnant of you, that are eſcaped out of the hand of the kings of Aſſyria.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which treſpaſſed againſt the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to deſolation, as ye ſee.

8 Now be ye not ſtiff necked, as your fathers were, but yield yourſelves unto the LORD, and enter into his ſanctuary, which he hath ſanctified for ever: and ſerve the LORD your God, that the fierceneſs of his wrath may turn away from you.

9 For if ye turn again unto the LORD, your brethren and your children ſhall find compaſſion before them that lead them captive, ſo that they ſhall come again into this land: for the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

10 So the poſts paſſed from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Manaſſeh even unto Zebulun: but they laughed them to ſcorn, and mocked them.

11 Nevertheleſs divers of Aſher and Manaſſeh and of Zebulun humbled themſelves, and came to Jeruſalem.

12 Alſo in Judah the hand of God was to give them one heart to do the commandment of the king and of the princes, by the word of the LORD.

13 ¶ And there aſſembled at Jeruſalem much people to keep the feaſt of unleavened bread in the ſecond month, a very great congregation.

14 And they aroſe and took away the altars that were in Jeruſalem, and all the altars for incenſe took they away, and caſt them into the brook Kidron.

15 Then they killed the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the ſecond month: and the prieſts and the Levites were aſhamed, and ſanctified themſelves, and brought in the burnt offerings into the houſe of the LORD.

16 And they ſtood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moſes the man of God: the prieſts ſprinkled the blood, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were

---

34 Their brethren the Levites did help them, &c.] In caſes of neceſſity, they did not ſtand nicely upon the obſervation of the ceremonial law; for it was the buſineſs of the prieſts only to ſlay the ſacrifice.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIX.

The zeal and piety of Hezekiah is a leſſon to the great men of the world, that their firſt care ſhould be, to ſtem the torrent of profaneneſs and impiety, and propagate true religion, to which they ought to contribute both by their authority and example; this will be a certain way to bring down the bleſſing and protection of God both upon themſelves and the people.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXX.

2 To keep the paſſover in the ſecond month.] The prieſts, by long diſuſe, could not be ſanctified ſo ſoon as was neceſſary, nor have time to aſſemble, neither could the temple be purged till the 16th day of the firſt month, rather than ſtay till the next year, eſpecially ſince God himſelf, in ſome caſes, allowed thoſe who could not keep it in the firſt month, to keep it in the ſecond; ſee Numb. iv. 10, 11.

15 The prieſts and the Levites were aſhamed, &c.] They bluſhed to ſee the people ſo forward, and themſelves ſo negligent.

Before CHRIST 726. were not ſanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the paſſovers for every one that was not clean, to ſanctify them unto the LORD.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar, and Zebulun, had not cleanſed themſelves, yet did they eat the paſſover otherwiſe than it was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, The good LORD pardon every one

19 That prepareth his heart to ſeek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

20 And the LORD hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent at Jeruſalem kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with great gladneſs: and the Levites and the prieſts praiſed the LORD day by day, ſinging with loud inſtruments unto the LORD.

22 And Hezekiah ſpake comfortably unto all the Levites that taught the good knowledge of the LORD: and they did eat throughout the feaſt ſeven days, offering peace offerings, and making confeſſion to the LORD God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly took counſel to keep other ſeven days: and they kept other ſeven days with gladneſs.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah did give to the congregation a thouſand bullocks and ſeven thouſand ſheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a thouſand bullocks and ten thouſand ſheep: and a great number of prieſts ſanctified themſelves.

25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the prieſts and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoiced.

26 So there was great joy in Jeruſalem: for ſince the time of Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael there was not the like in Jeruſalem.

27 ¶ Then the prieſts the Levites aroſe and bleſſed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling place, even unto heaven.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people's zeal in deſtroying idolatry in the cities of Judah, and in ſome parts of Iſrael. 2 Hezekiah ordereth the courſes of the prieſts and Levites, maketh proviſion for the ſtated ſacrifices, and for the maintenance of the prieſts and Levites. 5 The people's forwardneſs in bringing in firſtfruits and tithes. 11 Hezekiah appointeth officers to diſpoſe of thoſe offerings. 20 Hezekiah's ſincerity of heart.

NOW when all this was finiſhed, all Iſrael that were preſent went out to the cities of Judah, and brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim alſo and Manaſſeh, until they had utterly deſtroyed them all. Then all the children of Iſrael returned, every man to his poſſeſſion, into their own cities.

2 ¶ And Hezekiah appointed the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites after their courſes, every man according to his ſervice, the prieſts and Levites for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to miniſter, and to give thanks, and to praiſe in the gates of the tents of the LORD. Before CHRIST 726.

3 He appointed alſo the king's portion of his ſubſtance for the burnt offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt offerings, and the burnt offerings for the ſabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the ſet feaſts, as it is written in the law of the LORD.

4 Moreover he commanded the people that dwelt in Jeruſalem to give the portion of the prieſts and the Levites, that they might be encouraged in the law of the LORD.

5 ¶ And as ſoon as the commandment came abroad, the children of Iſrael brought in abundance the firſtfruits of corn, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increaſe of the field; and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.

6 And concerning the children of Iſrael and Judah, that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they alſo brought in the tithe of oxen and ſheep, and the tithe of holy things which were conſecrated unto the LORD their God, and laid them by heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finiſhed them in the ſeventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came and ſaw the heaps, they bleſſed the LORD, and his people Iſrael.

9 Then Hezekiah queſtioned with the prieſts and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief prieſt of the houſe of Zadok anſwered him, and ſaid, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the houſe of the LORD, we have had enough to eat, and have left plenty: for the LORD hath bleſſed his people; and that which is left is this great ſtore.

11 ¶ Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the houſe of the LORD; and they prepared them,

12 And brought in the offerings and the tithes and the dedicated things faithfully: over which Cononiah the Levite was ruler, and Shimei his brother was the next.

13 And Jehiel, and Azaziah, and Nahath, and Aſahel, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Iſmachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah, were overſeers under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the ruler of the houſe of God.

14 And Kore the ſon of Imnah the Levite, the porter toward the eaſt, was over the freewill offerings of God, to diſtribute the oblations of the LORD, and the moſt holy things.

15 And next him were Eden, and Miniamin, and Jeſhua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the cities of the prieſts, in their ſet office, to give to their brethren by courſes, as well to the great as to the ſmall:

16 Beſide their genealogy of males, from three years old and upward, even unto every one that entereth into the houſe of the LORD, his daily portion for their ſervice in their charges according to their courſes;

17 Both to the genealogy of the prieſts by the houſe of their fathers, and the Levites from twenty years old and upward, in their charges by their courſes;

18 And

---

18 Yet did they eat the paſſover otherwiſe than it was written, &c.] After ſo long a night of ignorance and ſuperſtition, they had forgot what ceremonies were required for their cleanſing, or perhaps had not time to obſerve them.

20 And healed the people.] Some imagine that God had ſmitten them with ſome diſeaſe for their treſpaſs; but the ſcripture uſes this phraſe for granting pardon, and freeing men from the guilt of ſin. See Iſaiah vi. 10.

27 The prieſts the Levites aroſe and bleſſed the people, &c.] It was their office to bleſs; and from the ſubſequent part of the verſe it appears, that by their bleſſing is meant only a prayer to God to bleſs them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXX.

From the tenor of this chapter, we learn, that while ſome are diſpoſed to receive the good word of God, others ſcoff at, and reject it; that the piety of Hezekiah was enlightened, and had the glory of God in view; and that though God regards the heart more than external worſhip, yet he will puniſh thoſe who wilfully and contemptuouſly deſpiſe his ordinances.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XXXI.

1 In Ephraim alſo and Manaſſeh, &c.] Thoſe parts of Ephraim and Manaſſeh who were fallen off from Judah, and come under his government; for the tribes of Ephraim and Manaſſeh belonged to the kingdom of Iſrael, and not to that of Judah.

2 In the gates of the tents of the Lord.] That is, in the Lord's houſe, which antiently was a tent.

9 Queſtioned with the prieſts and the Levites concerning the heaps.] Some think that he enquired how it came to paſs that there were ſtill ſuch great heaps left, and no more ſpent; which opinion the following anſwer ſeems to favour.

11 To prepare chambers in the houſe of the Lord, &c.] To build new ſtorehouſes, beſides thoſe which Solomon had made.

Before CHRIST 726. 18 And to the genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their ſons, and their daughters, through all the congregation: for in their ſet office they ſanctified themſelves in holineſs:

19 Alſo of the ſons of Aaron the prieſts, which were in the fields of the ſuburbs of their cities, in every ſeveral city, the men that were expreſſed by name, to give portions to all the males among the prieſts, and to all that were reckoned by genealogies among the Levites.

20 ¶ And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the LORD his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the ſervice of the houſe of God, and in the law, and in the commandments, to ſeek his God, he did it with all his heart, and proſpered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sennacherib invading Judah, Hezekiah fortifieth Jeruſalem, and encourageth the people. 9 Sennacherib's blaſphemous meſſage and letters. 20 Hezekiah and Iſaiah cry to heaven for aid; an angel deſtroyeth the Aſſyrian army, and their king returning home is ſlain by his own ſons. 24 Hezekiah praying in his ſickneſs is miraculouſly recovered; but waxing proud, he afterward humbleth himſelf. 27 His riches and works. 31 His error in relation to the Babyloniſh ambaſſadors. 32 He dieth; Manaſſeh ſucceedeth him.

713. AFTER theſe things, and the eſtabliſhment thereof, Sennacherib king of Aſſyria came, and entered into Judah, and encamped againſt the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himſelf.

2 And when Hezekiah ſaw that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purpoſed to fight againſt Jeruſalem,

3 He took counſel with his princes and his mighty men to ſtop the waters of the fountains which were without the city: and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who ſtopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midſt of the land, ſaying, Why ſhould the kings of Aſſyria come, and find much water?

5 Alſo he ſtrengthened himſelf, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raiſed it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and ſhields in abundance.

6 And he ſet captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the ſtreet of the gate of the city, and ſpake comfortably to them, ſaying,

7 Be ſtrong and courageous, be not afraid nor diſmayed for the king of Aſſyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us than with him:

8 With him is an arm of fleſh; but with us is the LORD our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people reſted themſelves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

710. 9 ¶ After this did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria ſend his ſervants to Jeruſalem, (but he himſelf laid ſiege againſt Lachiſh, and all his power with him,) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah that were at Jeruſalem, ſaying,

10 Thus ſaith Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, Whereon do ye truſt, that ye abide in the ſiege in Jeruſalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah perſuade you to give over yourſelves to die by famine and by thirſt, ſaying, The LORD our God ſhall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria? Before CHRIST 710.

12 Hath not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jeruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of thoſe lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the gods of thoſe nations that my fathers utterly deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of mine hand? 713.

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſuade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much leſs ſhall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his ſervants ſpake yet more againſt the LORD God, and againſt his ſervant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote alſo letters to rail on the LORD God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, ſo ſhall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voice in the Jews' ſpeech unto the people of Jeruſalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them; that they might take the city.

19 And they ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

20 ¶ And for this cauſe Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz, prayed and cried to heaven. 710.

21 And the LORD ſent an angel, which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Aſſyria. So he returned with ſhame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the houſe of his god, they that came forth of his own bowels ſlew him there with the ſword.

22 Thus the LORD ſaved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every ſide.

23 And many brought gifts unto the LORD to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah: ſo that he was magnified in the ſight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 ¶ In thoſe days Hezekiah was ſick to death, and prayed unto the LORD; and he ſpake unto him, and he gave him a ſign. 731.

25 But Hezekiah rendered not again according to the benefit done unto him; for his heart was lifted up: therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jeruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding Hezekiah humbled himſelf for the pride of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſo that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

18 They ſanctified themſelves in holineſs.] Or in faith and fidelity; in the margin it is tranſlated, In truſt: they attended upon their miniſtry in the houſe of God, confident that they ſhould be provided with all things neceſſary.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXI.

We are taught from hence, that true piety will ſhew itſelf not only by an endeavour to promote the cauſe of religion, divine ſervice, and the maintenance of the miniſtry; but likewiſe by adorning our profeſſion with good works, and a holy life and converſation.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXII.

4 The brook that ran through the midſt of the land, &c.] Some take this to be Gihon, others Kidron; they diverted the current, and, by conveyance under ground, led the water into great ciſterns, in the city, for the uſe of the people. In this country, where water was ſcarce, it was a great point of policy to diſtreſs the enemy by cutting it off.

19 They ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth, &c.] They ignorantly fancied there was no difference between the God of the univerſe, whom the Jews worſhipped, and the idolatrous gods of the nations round about, whoſe power was ſuppoſed to be limited to their reſpective nations.

24 He gave him a ſign.] Or, as in the margin, wrought a miracle for him.

25 His heart was lifted up, &c.] So many miracles having been wrought in his favour, he grew preſumptuous of God's protection, and forgot his benefits.

Before CHRIST 713. 27 ¶ And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himſelf treaſuries for ſilver, and for gold, and for precious ſtones, and for ſpices, and for ſhields, and for all manner of pleaſant jewels;

28 Storehouſes alſo for the increaſe of corn, and wine, and oil; and ſtalls for all manner of beaſts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover he provided him cities, and poſſeſſions of flocks and herds in abundance: for God had given him ſubſtance very much.

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the upper watercourſe of Gihon, and brought it ſtraight down to the weſt ſide of the city of David. And Hezekiah proſpered in all his works.

712. 31 ¶ Howbeit in the buſineſs of the ambaſſadors of the princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him, to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodneſs, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the prophet, the ſon of Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefeſt of the ſepulchres of the ſons of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeru-
698. ſalem did him honour at his death. And Manaſſeh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manaſſeh's wicked reign and great idolatry. 10 Rejecting God's admonitions, he is carried captive to Babylon, where he humbleth himſelf before God, and is reſtored to his kingdom. 14 He fortifieth his dominions, and putteth down idolatry, reſtoring the worſhip of the true God. 18 His acts and prayer: 20 He dieth; Amon ſucceedeth him. 21 Amon's wicked reign; he is ſlain by his ſervants. 25 The people ſlay the murderers, and make Joſiah king.

MANASSEH was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem:

2 But did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, like unto the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

3 For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 Alſo he built altars in the houſe of the LORD, whereof the LORD had ſaid, In Jeruſalem ſhall my name be for ever.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven in the two courts of the houſe of the LORD.

6 And he cauſed his children to paſs through the fire in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom: alſo he obſerved times, and uſed enchantments, and uſed witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar ſpirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he ſet a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David and to Solomon his ſon, In this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever:

8 Neither will I any more remove the foot of Iſrael from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers; ſo that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the ſtatutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moſes. Before CHRIST 698.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, and to do worſe than the heathen, whom the LORD had deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 ¶ And the LORD ſpake to Manaſſeh, and to his people: but they would not hearken.

11 Wherefore the LORD brought upon them the 677. captains of the hoſt of the king of Aſſyria, which took Manaſſeh among the thorns, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in affliction, he beſought the LORD his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers,

13 And prayed unto him: and he was intreated of him, and heard his ſupplication, and brought him again to Jeruſalem into his kingdom. Then Manaſſeh knew that the LORD he was God.

14 ¶ Now after this he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt ſide of Gihon, in the valley, even to the entering in at the fiſh gate, and compaſſed about Ophel, and raiſed it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the ſtrange gods, and the idol out of the houſe of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the houſe of the LORD, and in Jeruſalem, and caſt them out of the city.

16 And he repaired the altar of the LORD, and ſacrificed thereon peace offerings and thank offerings, and commanded Judah to ſerve the LORD God of Iſrael.

17 Nevertheleſs the people did ſacrifice ſtill in the high places, yet unto the LORD their God only.

18 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and his prayer unto his God, and the words of the ſeers that ſpake to him in the name of the LORD God of Iſrael, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

19 His prayer alſo, and how God was intreated of him, and all his ſins, and his treſpaſs, and the places wherein he built high places, and ſet up groves and graven images, before he was humbled: behold, they are written among the ſayings of the ſeers.

20 ¶ So Manaſſeh ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own houſe: and Amon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jeruſalem.

22 But he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as did Manaſſeh his father: for Amon ſacrificed unto all the carved images which Manaſſeh his father had made, and ſerved them;

23 And humbled not himſelf before the LORD, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled himſelf; but Amon treſpaſſed more and more.

24 And his ſervants conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in his own houſe.

25 ¶ But the people of the land ſlew all them that 641. had conſpired againſt king Amon: and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſon king in his ſtead.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXII.

From the conduct of Hezekiah, above recorded, we ſhould learn, that even pious perſons too ſoon forget themſelves in proſperity; that the good things of this world are vain, and we cannot enjoy them long, therefore they that poſſeſs them, ſhould thankfully uſe them to the glory of God, and without oſtentation.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXIII.

9 Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, &c.] What a prodigious change was now wrought in this kingdom! In the laſt reign it was celebrated for righteouſneſs; but now for being the very ſink of impiety.

19 They are written among the ſayings of the ſeers.] Or of Hoſai, as in the margin; who it is likely was a prophet in thoſe times, by whom many memorable things in his reign were recorded, as Iſaiah did the prayer of Hezekiah his father.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXIII.

From Manaſſeh's captivity, humble prayer, and reſtoration, we learn, firſt, that wicked princes do a great deal of miſchief, and draw the wrath of God on themſelves and their ſubjects. Secondly, In his repentance, we ſee the great mercy of God towards the moſt abandoned ſinners, when they return to him. Thirdly, That repentance conſiſts in removing and repairing what is evil, and in a total change of conduct.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Josiah's good reign: he destroyeth idolatry both in Judah and Israel: 8 he provideth for the repairs of the temple. 14 Hilkiah having found the book of the law, it is read before the king, who is alarmed, and sendeth to the prophetess Huldah to enquire of the LORD. 23 Huldah prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem, but not to take place till after the death of Josiah. 29 Josiah causeth the book to be read in a solemn assembly, and reneweth the covenant between God and the people.

JOSIAH was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirty years.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

634. 630. 3 ¶ For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his presence; and the images, that were on high above them, he cut down; and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images, he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mattocks round about.

7 And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

624. 8 ¶ Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high priest they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the doors had gathered of the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and of all the remnant of Israel, and of all Judah and Benjamin; and they returned to Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen that had the oversight of the house of the LORD, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the LORD, to repair and amend the house:

11 Even to the artificers and builders gave they it, to buy hewn stone, and timber for couplings, and to floor the houses which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work faithfully: and the overseers of them were Jahath and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to set it forward: and other of the Levites, all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service: and of the Levites there were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found a book of the law of the LORD given by Moses.

15 And Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan.

Before CHRIST 621.

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, saying All that was committed to thy servants, they do it.

17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest hath given me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the law, that he rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micha, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the king's, saying,

21 Go, enquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Israel and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD, that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvath, the son of Hasrah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the college:) and they spake to her to that effect.

23 ¶ And she answered them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the LORD, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning the words which thou hast heard;

27 Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou hearedst his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the LORD.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. So they brought the king word again.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people, great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of the LORD.

31 And the king stood in his place, and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he caused all that were present in Jerusalem and

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXIV.

3 In the eighth year of his reign, &c.] His pious inclination of worshipping the God of Israel appeared very early; for he was only sixteen years of age when he openly declared his resolution of serving the Lord God of his fathers, and purposed David to himself for his pattern.

14 A book of the law of the Lord given by Moses.] Very probably the original; for, from the death of Moses, to the death of Josiah, at the utmost computation, was not more than nine hundred and fifty years; an age exceeded by that of several manuscripts at this day.

33 And Joſiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Iſrael, and made all that were preſent in Iſrael to ſerve, even to ſerve the LORD their God. And all his days they departed not from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Joſiah cauſeth a ſolemn paſſover to be kept. 20 He goeth to fight with Pharaoh-necho, and is ſlain in battle at Megiddo. 25 The lamentations made for him. 26 His acts.

623. MOREOVER Joſiah kept a paſſover unto the LORD in Jeruſalem: and they killed the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the firſt month.

2 And he ſet the prieſts in their charges, and encouraged them to the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD,

3 And ſaid unto the Levites that taught all Iſrael, which were holy unto the LORD, Put the holy ark in the houſe which Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael did build; it ſhall not be a burden upon your ſhoulders: ſerve now the LORD your God, and his people Iſrael,

4 And prepare yourſelves by the houſes of your fathers, after your courſes, according to the writing of David king of Iſrael, and according to the writing of Solomon his ſon.

5 And ſtand in the holy place according to the diviſions of the families of the fathers of your brethren the people, and after the diviſion of the families of the Levites.

6 So kill the paſſover, and ſanctify yourſelves, and prepare your brethren that they may do according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moſes.

7 And Joſiah gave to the people, of the flock, lambs and kids, all for the paſſover offerings, for all that were preſent, to the number of thirty thouſand, and three thouſand bullocks: theſe were of the king's ſubſtance.

8 And his princes gave willingly unto the people, to the prieſts, and to the Levites: Hilkiah and Zechariah and Jahiel, rulers of the houſe of God, gave unto the prieſts for the paſſover offerings two thouſand and ſix hundred ſmall cattle, and three hundred oxen.

9 Conaniah alſo, and Shemaiah and Nethaneel, his brethren, and Haſhabiah and Jehiel and Jozabad, chief of the Levites, gave unto the Levites for paſſover offerings five thouſand ſmall cattle, and five hundred oxen.

10 So the ſervice was prepared, and the prieſts ſtood in their place, and the Levites in their courſes, according to the king's commandment.

11 And they killed the paſſover, and the prieſts ſprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Levites flayed them.

12 And they removed the burnt offerings, that they might give according to the diviſions of the families of the people, to offer unto the LORD, as it is written in the book of Moſes. And ſo did they with the oxen.

13 And they roaſted the paſſover with fire according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings ſod they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them ſpeedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themſelves, and for the prieſts: becauſe the prieſts the ſons of Aaron were buſied in offering of burnt offerings and the fat until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themſelves, and for the prieſts the ſons of Aaron. Before CHRIST 623.

15 And the ſingers the ſons of Aſaph were in their place, according to the commandment of David, and Aſaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's ſeer; and the porters waited at every gate; they might not depart from their ſervice; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the ſervice of the LORD was prepared the ſame day, to keep the paſſover, and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Joſiah.

17 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent kept the paſſover at that time, and the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days.

18 And there was no paſſover like to that kept in Iſrael from the days of Samuel the prophet; neither did all the kings of Iſrael keep ſuch a paſſover as Joſiah kept, and the prieſts, and the Levites, and all Judah and Iſrael that were preſent, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Joſiah was this paſſover kept.

20 ¶ After all this, when Joſiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight againſt Charchemiſh by Euphrates: and Joſiah went out againſt him. 610.

21 But he ſent ambaſſadors to him, ſaying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not againſt thee this day, but againſt the houſe wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haſte: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he deſtroy thee not.

22 Nevertheleſs Joſiah would not turn his face from him, but diſguiſed himſelf, that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho, from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers ſhot at king Joſiah; and the king ſaid to his ſervants, Have me away; for I am ſore wounded.

24 His ſervants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the ſecond chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jeruſalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the ſepulchres of his fathers. And all Judah and Jeruſalem mourned for Joſiah.

25 ¶ And Jeremiah lamented for Joſiah: and all the ſinging men and the ſinging women ſpake of Joſiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Iſrael: and, behold, they are written in the Lamentations.

26 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Joſiah, and his goodneſs, according to that which was written in the law of the LORD,

27 And his deeds, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Jehoahaz ſucceeding Joſiah is depoſed by Pharaoh-necho, and carried into Egypt: Jehoiakim is made king. 5 Jehoiakim reigning wickedly is bound in fetters by Nebuchadnezzar, who carrieth part of the veſſels of the temple to Babylon. 9 Jehoiachin is made king, and after a year's reign carried to Babylon with other veſſels of the temple: Zedekiah

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXIV.

King Joſiah great piety ſhould ſerve as an example to men in authority, and to all Chriſtians: he trembled at the threatened judgments of God, who mercifully took him away before he executed his wrath on the Jews: this likewiſe ſhews, that the death of a righteous perſon is in no-wiſe a mark of God's diſpleaſure; but that he ſometimes ſends it out of love to thoſe that fear him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXV.

3 Which were holy unto the Lord, &c.] Peculiarly dedicated to this ſervice and miniſtring to the prieſts, and inſtructing the people.

18 From the days of Samuel the prophet, &c.] The book wherein this is recorded is loſt, as many other books of the prophets are.

20 Joſiah went out againſt him.] It is probable that the king of Judah was in alliance with Charchemiſh king of Aſſyria; and that he now voluntarily aſſiſted him, by giving a diverſion to the Egyptians.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXV.

As Joſiah did not ſlacken his zeal, but that, whilſt he lived, he did his utmoſt to re-eſtabliſh religion, and appeaſe the wrath of God; let this therefore teach us, never to withdraw our hand from doing good, but perſevere, thro' the divine aſſiſtance in the path of duty, to the end; and leave future events to providence,

Zedekiah is made king in his ſtead. 11 Zedekiah reigneth wickedly, deſpiſeth the admonitions of Jeremiah, and rebelleth againſt Nebuchadnezzar. 14 The ſins of the prieſts and of the people cauſe the utter deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Chaldees, and the deſolation of the land for ſeventy years. 22 The proclamation of Cyrus for building the temple.

Before CHRIST 610. THEN the people of the land took Jehoahaz the ſon of Joſiah, and made him king in his father's ſtead in Jeruſalem.

2 Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jeruſalem.

3 And the king of Egypt put him down at Jeruſalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of ſilver and a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jeruſalem, and turned his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem: and he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD his God.

7 Nebuchadnezzar alſo carried of the veſſels of the houſe of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the
599. kings of Iſrael and Judah: and Jehoiachin his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

9 ¶ Jehoiachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jeruſalem: and he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD.

10 And when the year was expired, king Nebuchadnezzar ſent, and brought him to Babylon, with the goodly veſſels of the houſe of the LORD, and made Zedekiah his brother king over Judah and Jeruſalem.

11 ¶ Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem.

12 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD his God, and humbled not himſelf before Jeremiah the prophet ſpeaking from the mouth of the LORD.

13 And he alſo rebelled againſt king Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him ſwear by God: but he ſtiffened his neck, and hardened his heart from turning unto the LORD God of Iſrael. Before CHRIST 593.

14 ¶ Moreover all the chief of the prieſts, and the people tranſgreſſed very much after all the abominations of the heathen; and polluted the houſe of the LORD which he had hallowed in Jeruſalem.

15 And the LORD God of their fathers ſent to them by his meſſengers, riſing up betimes, and ſending; becauſe he had compaſſion on his people, and on his dwelling place:

16 But they mocked the meſſengers of God, and deſpiſed his words, and miſuſed his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD aroſe againſt his people, till there was no remedy.

17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of 590. the Chaldees, who ſlew their young men with the ſword the houſe of their ſanctuary, and had no compaſſion upon man or maiden, old man, or him that ſtooped for age: he gave them all into his hand.

18 And all the veſſels of the houſe of God, great and ſmall, and the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD, and the treaſures of the king, and of his princes; all theſe he brought to Babylon.

19 And they burnt the houſe of God, and brake 588. down the wall of Jeruſalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and deſtroyed all the goodly veſſels thereof.

20 And them that had eſcaped from the ſword carried he away to Babylon; where they were ſervants to him and his ſons, until the reign of the kingdom of Perſia:

21 To fulfil the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her ſabbaths: for as long as ſhe lay deſolate ſhe kept ſabbath, to fulfil threeſcore and ten years.

22 ¶ Now in the firſt year of Cyrus king of Perſia, that the word of the LORD ſpoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accompliſhed, the LORD ſtirred up the ſpirit of Cyrus king of Perſia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it alſo in writing, ſaying,

23 Thus ſaith Cyrus king of Perſia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the LORD God of heaven given me; and he hath charged me to build him an houſe in Jeruſalem, which is in Judah. Who is there among you of all his people? The LORD his God be with him, and let him go up.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXVI.

4 And turned his name to Jehoiakim, &c.] As a mark that he received the kingdom from him, and owed his dignity to his favour; thus Pharaoh changed the name of Joſeph, and Nebuchadnezzar the name of Daniel and his three companions.

9 Jehoiachin was eight years old, &c.] We ſhould probably read eighteen years, this prince being of that age when he began to reign.

22, 23 Now in the firſt year, &c.] Theſe two verſes are an interpolation, as their being repeated in the firſt book of Ezra ſufficiently proves; ſo that the ſecond book of Chronicles ſhould have concluded with the 21ſt verſe of this chapter.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXVI.

From the execution of God's threatened vengeance, after a long delay, on the Jews, we are led to adore both the mercy and juſtice of God: his mercy, in that he would not deſtroy them, before he had given them warning by his ſervants the prophets; his juſtice toward this hardened people, who laughed at his threatenings, and deſpiſed his word, till his wrath was kindled in ſuch a manner, that there was no remedy; let us then conſider, that the open and continued contempt of the word of God, and of his ſervants, if perſiſted in, will bring upon people the greateſt misfortunes, and at length terminate in their total and inevitable deſtruction.

The Book of EZRA.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book is a continuation of the Chronicles, and relates the history of the first and second return of the Jews to Jerusalem, out of the Babylonish captivity, under the reigns of three kings of Persia, viz. Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, comprehending about one hundred years; it is supposed that Ezra was the author of it; but it is more generally agreed that he wrote only the four last chapters.

CHAP. I.

1 The proclamation of Cyrus for building the temple. 5 The people provide for their return. 7 Cyrus restoreth the vessels of the temple to Sheshbazzar.

Before CHRIST 536. NOW in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The LORD God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel, (he is the God,) which is in Jerusalem.

4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, beside the freewill offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests, and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised, to go up to build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.

6 And all they that were about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, beside all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods;

8 Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and numbered them unto Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand charges of silver, nine and twenty knives,

10 Thirty basons of gold, silver basons of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. Before CHRIST 536.

11 All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with them of the captivity that were brought up from Babylon unto Jerusalem.

CHAP. II.

1 The number that return of the people, 36 of the priests, 40 of the Levites, 43 of the Nethinims, 55 of the children of Solomon's servants, 61 of the priests who could not shew their pedigree. 64 The whole number of them with their substance. 68 Their oblations for the building of the temple.

NOW these are the children of the province that went up out of the captivity, of those which had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon, and came again unto Jerusalem and Judah, every one unto his city;

2 Which came with Zerubbabel: Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mizpar, Bigvai, Rehum, Baanah. The number of the men of the people of Israel:

3 The children of Parosh, two thousand an hundred seventy and two.

4 The children of Shephatiah, three hundred seventy and two.

5 The children of Arah, seven hundred seventy and five.

6 The children of Pahath-moab, of the children of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve.

7 The children of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four.

8 The children of Zattu, nine hundred forty and five.

9 The children of Zaccai, seven hundred and threescore.

10 The children of Bani, six hundred forty and two.

11 The children of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three.

12 The children of Azgad, a thousand two hundred twenty and two.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

1 In the first year] That is, in the first year after his conquest of Babylon, where the Jews then lived in captivity.

Cyrus king of Persia] See Isaiah xliv. 28. and xlv. 1, 4.

That the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, &c.] Jeremiah had foretold, that after seventy years were accomplished, the king of Babylon and the Chaldeans should be destroyed, and the people of Judah restored to their own land. See Jer. xxv. 12. and xxix. 10.

2 All the kingdoms of the earth] That is, all those large dominions which the Assyrians and Babylonians had enjoyed.

He hath charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, &c.] So Cyrus understood from Isaiah xlv. 13. where God saith of him, "he shall build my city," of which the temple was the principal part, and still more plainly from chap. xliv. 28. "He shall say to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid."

8 Sheshbazzar, &c.] This was another name for Zerubbabel, who was born in Babylon; and his name, which signifies an exile or stranger in Babylon, imports the misery of the people of Israel at that time; but Sheshbazzar, which signifies fine linen and gold, seems to be a name of better omen, and to denote their future flourishing condition.

10 Four hundred and ten, &c.] From the authority of several manuscripts it is plain, that the number of these vessels should have been two thousand four hundred and ten.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

The re-establishment of the Jews being brought about by Cyrus a heathen prince, shews us, that God can turn the hearts of kings as he pleases, and make them become favourers to his church, after having made use of some of them for its correction; which should excite us to fear him, and to depend upon his power and bounty.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. II.

1 The children of the province, &c.] By "the province" it is probable that Judea is here meant; which was made a province when it was conquered, and Gedaliah constituted the governor of it.

2 Nehemiah, &c.] This is supposed not to be that Nehemiah whose book next follows, for he did not go now, but afterwards; or if he did, he returned to Babylon again.

55 The children of Solomon's ſervants, &c.] It is probable that they were the deſcendants of thoſe who came from other nations, to ſerve Solomon during the building of the temple; and, being proſelyted, he appointed them to the perpetual conſervation and reparation of it.

64 Forty and two thouſand three hundred and threeſcore.] This was a ſmall number in compariſon with that vaſt multitude which came up out of Egypt, yet more than double to that number which was carried away captive by Nebuchadnezzar. It ſhould be remembered, that great numbers of the other tribes of Iſrael, beſides thoſe of Judah and Benjamin, came from Babylon, and theſe not being able to make out their deſcent, were not mentioned by their families, as the others were.

70 And all Iſrael in their cities.] When the ten tribes were carried captive by Salmanaſſer into Aſſyria, they were not carried away entirely, but ſome of every tribe were left, who, with Judah and Benjamin, were afterwards carried to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar, and now reſtored by Cyrus.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

We have here an evident demonſtration of the faithfulneſs of God in fulfilling the promiſes he is pleaſed to make to his people; which ſhould encourage us at all times to pray unto, and truſt in him.

Before CHRIST 536. AND when the seventh month was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together as one man to Jerusalem.

2 Then stood up Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.

3 And they set the altar upon his bases; for fear was upon them because of the people of those countries: and they offered burnt offerings thereon unto the LORD, even burnt offerings morning and evening.

4 ¶ They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the custom, as the duty of every day required;

5 And afterward offered the continual burnt offering, both of the new moons, and of all the set feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a freewill offering unto the LORD.

6 From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt offerings unto the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7 ¶ They gave money also unto the masons, and to the carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oil, unto them of Zidon, and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar trees from Lebanon to the sea of Joppa, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

535. 8 ¶ Now in the second year of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem; and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the LORD.

9 Then stood Jeshua with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the LORD, after the ordinance of David king of Israel.

11 And they sang together by course in praising and giving thanks unto the LORD; because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12 But many of the priests and Levites and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men, that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; and many shouted aloud for joy: Before CHRIST 535.

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

CHAP. IV.

1 The adversaries of the Jews offering to join in building the temple, and being rejected, endeavour to hinder the work. 7 They write to Artaxerxes. 11 The copy of their letter. 17 The answer of Artaxerxes, and his decree to stop the progress of the work. 23 The building is suspended for a time.

NOW when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Israel;

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the days of Esar-haddon king of Assur, which brought us up hither. 678.

3 But Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build an house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building, 534.

5 And hired counsellors against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reign of Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem. 529.

7 ¶ And in the days of Artaxerxes wrote Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions, unto Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue. 522.

8 Rehum the chancellor and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king in this sort:

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions; the Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, and Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylanions, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites,

10 And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Asnapper brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the river, and at such a time. 678.

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the king; Thy servants the men on this side the river, and at such a time. 522.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. III.

3 For fear was upon them because of the people of those countries, &c.] They were the more zealous to restore the worship of God, in order that they might, upon all occasions, fly unto him for succour against their neighbours, of whom they were in dread.

4 As the duty of every day required.] Of every day of the feast, which lasted seven days, on each of which were special sacrifices appointed by the law, and in great numbers, as may be seen in Numb. xxix.

12 Many—who were ancient men, that had seen the first house—wept with a loud voice; and many shouted aloud for joy.] The younger sort shouted for joy; but many of the ancient people disturbed their acclamations with weeping and lamentations, because they perceived it was greatly inferior in magnificence to that built by Solomon; but they would have seen much greater cause to rejoice at the erection of this second temple, had they known or considered that it was hereafter to be dignified with the presence of the Messiah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

In this chapter we see the piety with which the Jews were then animated, and that their captivity in Babylon had rendered them more zealous for God: so likewise should we be actuated by the same zeal, in labouring above all things for the edification of the church; and our greatest joy should arise from seeing the kingdom of God established and confirmed.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. IV.

1 The adversaries of Judah and Benjamin, &c.] The Samaritans; the posterity of that mixed multitude whom Salmanasser king of Assyria sent from Cuthah, Ava, Hamath, Sepharvaim, and other provinces, to inhabit those parts out of which he had carried the ten Israelitish tribes.

3 We ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel, &c.] The two reasons why they rejected the request of the Samaritans, were, because they were not of the same people, and also because Cyrus's licence to build the temple was granted to the Jews only.

4 Weakened the hands of the people of Judah, &c.] By threatenings, false reports, and other deceitful and unjust means, they endeavoured to discourage them in their undertakings.

6 Ahasuerus, &c.] This was not the prince mentioned in the book of Esther; many think, that, after Cyrus, this was Nomen Gentiolitium (as they call it), the name of all their kings, as Pharaoh was of all the kings of Egypt.

9 Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, &c.] These nine nations came out of Assyria, Persia, Media, Susiana, and other provinces of that vast empire.

10 Asnapper, &c.] Probably some principal commander, intrusted to conduct and bring them over the Euphrates, and see them settled in these countries.

Before CHRIST 522. 12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us are come unto Jeruſalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ſet up the walls thereof, and joined the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that, if this city be builded, and the walls ſet up again, then will they not pay toll, tribute, and cuſtom, and ſo thou ſhalt endamage the revenue of the kings.

14 Now becauſe we have maintenance from the king's palace, and it was not meet for us to ſee the king's diſhonour, therefore have we ſent and certified the king;

15 That ſearch may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: ſo ſhalt thou find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved ſedition within the ſame of old time: for which cauſe was this city deſtroyed.

16 We certify the king that, if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof ſet up, by this means thou ſhalt have no portion on this ſide the river.

17 ¶ Then ſent the king an anſwer unto Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimſhai the ſcribe, and to the reſt of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the reſt beyond the river, Peace, and at ſuch a time.

18 The letter which ye ſent unto us hath been plainly read before me.

19 And I commanded, and ſearch hath been made, and it is found that this city of old time hath made inſurrection againſt kings, and that rebellion and ſedition have been made therein.

20 There have been mighty kings alſo over Jeruſalem, which have ruled over all countries beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and cuſtom, was paid unto them.

21 Give ye now commandment to cauſe theſe men to ceaſe, and that this city be not builded, until another commandment ſhall be given from me.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why ſhould damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

23 ¶ Now when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, and Shimſhai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went up in haſte to Jeruſalem unto the Jews, and made them to ceaſe by force and power.

THEN the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the ſon of Iddo, propheſied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jeruſalem in the name of the God of Iſrael, even unto them.

2 Then roſe up Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and began to build the houſe of God which is at Jeruſalem: and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3 ¶ At the ſame time came to them Tatnai, gover- Before CHRIST nor on this ſide the river, and Shethar-boznai, and 520. their companions, and ſaid thus unto them, Who hath commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up this wall?

4 Then ſaid we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, that they could not cauſe them to ceaſe, till the matter came to Darius: and then they returned anſwer by letter concerning this matter.

6 ¶ The copy of the letter that Tatnai, governor 519. on this ſide the river, and Shethar-boznai, and his companions the Apharſachites, which were on this ſide the river, ſent unto Darius the king:

7 They ſent a letter unto him, wherein was written thus; Unto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judea, to the houſe of the great God, which is builded with great ſtones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth faſt on, and proſpereth in their hands.

9 Then aſked we thoſe elders, and ſaid unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up theſe walls?

10 We aſked their names alſo, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us anſwer, ſaying, We are the ſervants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the houſe that was builded theſe many years ago, which a great king of Iſrael builded and ſet up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who deſtroyed this houſe, and carried the people away into Babylon.

13 But in the firſt year of Cyrus the king of Ba- 536 bylon the ſame king Cyrus made a decree to build this houſe of God.

14 And the veſſels alſo of gold and ſilver of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jeruſalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, thoſe did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one, whoſe name was Sheſhbazzar, whom he had made governor;

15 And ſaid unto him, Take theſe veſſels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jeruſalem, and let the houſe of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the ſame Sheſhbazzar, and laid the foundation of the houſe of God which is in Jeruſalem: and ſince that time even until now hath it been in building, and yet it is not finiſhed.

17 Now therefore, if it ſeem good to the king, let there be ſearch made in the king's treaſure houſe, which is there at Babylon, whether it be ſo, that a decree was made of Cyrus the king to build this houſe of God at Jeruſalem, and let the king ſend his pleaſure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

1 Darius, finding the decree of Cyrus, maketh a new decree for 14 We have maintenance from the king's palace, &c.] In the Hebrew it is, We are ſalted with the ſalt of the palace; i. e. received their ſalary from the king; for it ſeems they received their ſtipend in ſalt, from whence it received the name of a ſalary.

21 Until another commandment ſhall be given from me.] This was not a law of the Medes and Perſians that could not be revoked, but only an edict, depending upon the will and pleaſure of the king, which he might have reaſon to alter hereafter.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

We perceive, from this chapter, that the church has always had its enemies, and that the faithful are often ſlandered; but that God does at length confound the craft and devices of the wicked; that he makes manifeſt the innocence of his children; and that after having tried them, he makes thoſe become their friends, who had been their greateſt enemies.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. V.

1 Propheſied unto the Jews, &c.] Or rather, as the words may be interpreted, againſt them; for they reproved them, becauſe they did not build the temple.

4 Then ſaid we unto them after this manner, What are the names, &c.] From this place the argument is drawn, that he who wrote this chapter was now preſent when this queſtion was aſked, and the anſwer made to it; and therefore Ezra was not the author; for this was in the ſecond year of Darius, and he did not come to Jeruſalem till the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

We learn from hence, that God never forſakes his church; that he always raiſes, when he judges it neceſſary, faithful miniſters to labour in its edification; and that we ought never to be diſheartened in enterprizes that are righteous, and conformable to the will of God.

Before CHRIST 519. for the advancement of the building. 13 Tatnai and Shethar-boznai aſſiſting according to the king's decree, the temple is finiſhed. 16 The feaſt of the dedication is kept, and the paſſover, with great joy.

THEN Darius the king made a decree, and ſearch was made in the houſe of the rolls, where the treaſures were laid up in Babylon.

2 And there was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

3 In the firſt year of Cyrus the king, the ſame Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the houſe of God at Jeruſalem, Let the houſe be builded, the place where they offered ſacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be ſtrongly laid; the height thereof threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof threeſcore cubits;

4 With three rows of great ſtones, and a row of new timber: and let the expences be given out of the king's houſe:

5 And alſo let the gold and ſilver veſſels of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jeruſalem, and brought unto Babylon, be reſtored, and brought again unto the temple which is at Jeruſalem, every one to his place, and place them in the houſe of God.

6 Now therefore, Tatnai, governor beyond the river, Shethar-boznai, and your companions the Apharſachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence:

7 Let the work of this houſe of God alone; let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this houſe of God in his place.

8 Moreover I make a decree what ye ſhall do to the elders of theſe Jews for the building of this houſe of God: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences be given unto theſe men, that they be not hindered.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, ſalt, wine, and oil, according to the appointment of the prieſts which are at Jeruſalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer ſacrifices of ſweet ſavours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his ſons.

11 Alſo I have made a decree, that whoſoever ſhall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his houſe, and being ſet up, let him be hanged thereon; and let his houſe be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath cauſed his name to dwell there deſtroy all kings and people, that ſhall put to their hand to alter and to deſtroy this houſe of God which is at Jeruſalem. I Darius have made a decree; let it be done with ſpeed.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai, governor on this ſide the river, Shethar-boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had ſent, ſo they did ſpeedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they proſpered through the propheſying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the ſon of Iddo. And they builded, and finiſhed it, according to the commandment of the God of Iſrael, and according to the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Perſia.

15 And this houſe was finiſhed on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the ſixth year of the reign of Darius the king. 515.

16 ¶ And the children of Iſrael, the prieſts, and the Levites, and the reſt of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this houſe of God with joy, Before CHRIST 515.

17 And offered at the dedication of this houſe of God an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a ſin offering for all Iſrael, twelve he goats according to the number of the tribes of Iſrael.

18 And they ſet the prieſts in their diviſions, and the Levites in their courſes, for the ſervice of God, which is at Jeruſalem; as it is written in the book of Moſes.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the paſſover upon the fourteenth day of the firſt month.

20 For the prieſts and Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the paſſover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the prieſts, and for themſelves.

21 And the children of Iſrael, which were come again out of captivity, and all ſuch as had ſeparated themſelves unto them from the filthineſs of the heathen of the land, to ſeek the LORD God of Iſrael, did eat,

22 And kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with joy: for the LORD had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Aſſyria unto them, to ſtrengthen their hands in the work of the houſe of God, the God of Iſrael.

2 Ezra's pedigree from Aaron: he goeth up to Jeruſalem. 11 The gracious commiſſion of Artaxerxes to him. 27 Ezra bleſſeth God for this favour.

NOW after theſe things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Perſia, Ezra, the ſon of Seraiah, 457. the ſon of Azariah, the ſon of Hilkah,

2 The ſon of Shallum, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Ahitub,

3 The ſon of Amariah, the ſon of Azariah, the ſon of Meraioth,

4 The ſon of Zerahiah, the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Bukki,

5 The ſon of Abiſhua, the ſon of Phinehas, the ſon of Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron the chief prieſt:

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a ready ſcribe in the law of Moſes, which the LORD God of Iſrael had given: and the king granted him all his requeſt, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

7 And there went up ſome of the children of Iſrael, and of the prieſts, and the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jeruſalem, in the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jeruſalem in the fifth month, which was in the ſeventh year of the king.

9 For upon the firſt day of the firſt month began he to go up from Babylon, and on the firſt day of the fifth month came he to Jeruſalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſeek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Iſrael ſtatutes and judgments.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe, even a ſcribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his ſtatutes to Iſrael.

12 Artaxerxes, king of kings, unto Ezra the prieſt, ſcribe

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

2 Achmetha, &c.] At Achmetha, afterwards called Ecbatana, the kings of Perſia ſometimes kept their court.

6 Be ye far from thence. Come not near Jeruſalem, to give them any diſturbance.

16 The children of Iſrael, &c.] By "the children of Iſrael" are to be underſtood, not only the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin, but all thoſe of the other tribes, great numbers of whom were now at Jeruſalem.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

The above proceedings of an idolatrous prince ſhew, that Chriſtian princes ſhould in a more eſpecial manner contribute, as far as they are able, that God ſhould be ſerved as he requires; and to confeſs, that their happineſs depends upon his favour, and on the prayers which the church puts up for them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. VII.

6 He was a ready ſcribe, &c.] The word here rendered "A ready ſcribe" ſignifies one that taught God's law, and inſtructed the people out of it, in which ſenſe the word "Scribe" is uſed in the New Teſtament, "As having authority, and not as the ſcribes."

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of his prieſts and Levites, in my realm, which are minded of their own freewill to go up to Jeruſalem, go with thee.

14 Foraſmuch as thou art ſent of the king, and of his ſeven counſellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine hand;

15 And to carry the ſilver and gold, which the king and his counſellors have freely offered unto the God of Iſrael, whoſe habitation is in Jeruſalem,

16 And all the ſilver and gold that thou canſt find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the people, and of the prieſts, offering willingly for the houſe of their God which is in Jeruſalem:

17 That thou mayeſt buy ſpeedily with this money bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat offerings and their drink offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the houſe of your God which is in Jeruſalem.

18 And whatſoever ſhall ſeem good to thee, and to thy brethren, to do with the reſt of the ſilver and the gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The veſſels alſo that are given thee for the ſervice of the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliver thou before the God of Jeruſalem.

20 And whatſoever more ſhall be needful for the houſe of thy God, which thou ſhalt have occaſion to beſtow, beſtow it out of the king's treaſure houſe.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treaſuries which are beyond the river, that whatſoever Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, ſhall require of you, it be done ſpeedily,

22 Unto an hundred talents of ſilver, and to an hundred meaſures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oil, and ſalt without preſcribing how much.

23 Whatſoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done for the houſe of the God of heaven: for why ſhould there be wrath againſt the realm of the king and his ſons?

24 Alſo we certify you, that touching any of the prieſts and Levites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, or miniſters of this houſe of God, it ſhall not be lawful to impoſe toll, tribute, or cuſtom, upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wiſdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, ſet magiſtrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all ſuch as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whoſoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonment.

27 ¶ Bleſſed be the LORD God of our fathers, which hath put ſuch a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the houſe of the LORD which is in Jeruſalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me, before the king, and his counſellors, and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was ſtrengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Iſrael chief men to go up with me.

25 Touching any of the prieſts, &c.] The king freed the miniſters of God from tribute, that being releaſed from all other cares, they might without diſturbance attend on their miniſtry.

26 and the law of the king.] By "The law of the king" is here meant this decree, which was now made in favour of the Jews.

Or to baniſhment] The word "baniſhment" ſignifies, in the Chaldee, rooting out, and is by ſome interpreted diſinheriting or excommunicating from ſociety.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

From God's appointment of Ezra for the re-eſtabliſhment of religion, we may take notice, that it is very neceſſary, for the edification of the church, that there ſhould be underſtanding and faithful miniſters to inſtruct the people, and teach them to ſerve God according to his mind and will.

CHAP. VIII.

Before CHRIST 457.

1 The companions of Ezra, who returned with him from Babylon. 15 Reviewing them at Ahava, and finding none of the Levites there, he ſendeth to Iddo for miniſters for the temple ſervice, and obtaineth them. 21 A faſt is proclaimed in order to ſeek of God a proſperous journey. 24 The holy treaſures are committed to the cuſtody of the prieſts. 31 From Ahava Ezra with his company come ſafe to Jeruſalem. 33 The treaſures are delivered by weight into the temple. 36 The king's commiſſion delivered.

THESE are now the chief of their fathers, and this is the genealogy of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king.

2 Of the ſons of Phinehas; Gerſhom: of the ſons of Ithamar; Daniel: of the ſons of David; Hattuſh.

3 Of the ſons of Shechaniah, of the ſons of Pharoſh; Zechariah: and with him were reckoned by genealogy of the males an hundred and fifty.

4 Of the ſons of Pahath-moab; Elihoenai the ſon of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the ſons of Shechaniah; the ſon of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.

6 Of the ſons alſo of Adin; Ebed the ſon of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.

7 And of the ſons of Elam; Jeſhaiah the ſon of Athaliah, and with him ſeventy males.

8 And of the ſons of Shephatiah; Zebadiah the ſon of Michael, and with him fourſcore males.

9 Of the ſons of Joab; Obadiah the ſon of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the ſons of Shelomith; the ſon of Joſiphiah, and with him an hundred and threeſcore males.

11 And of the ſons of Bebai; Zechariah the ſon of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of the ſons of Azgad; Johanan the ſon of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the laſt ſons of Adonikam, whoſe names are theſe, Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threeſcore males.

14 Of the ſons alſo of Bigvai; Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them ſeventy males.

15 ¶ And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Ahava; and there abode we in tents three days: and I viewed the people, and the prieſts, and found there none of the ſons of Levi.

16 Then ſent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meſhullam, chief men; alſo for Joiarib, and for Elnathan, men of underſtanding.

17 And I ſent them with commandment unto Iddo the chief at the place Caſiphia, and I told them what they ſhould ſay unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Caſiphia, that they ſhould bring unto us miniſters for the houſe of our God.

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us they brought us a man of underſtanding of the ſons of Mahli, the ſon of Levi, the ſon of Iſrael; and Sherebiah, with his ſons and his brethren, eighteen;

19 And Haſhabiah, and with him Jeſhaiah of the ſons of Merari, his brethren and their ſons, twenty;

20 Alſo of the Nethinims, whom David and the princes

Before CHRIST 457. princes had appointed for the ſervice of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expreſſed by name.

21 ¶ Then I proclaimed a faſt there, at the river of Ahava, that we might afflict ourſelves before our God, to ſeek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſoldiers and horſemen to help us againſt the enemy in the way: becauſe we had ſpoken unto the king, ſaying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good that ſeek him; but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted and beſought our God for this: and he was intreated of us.

24 ¶ Then I ſeparated twelve of the chief of the prieſts, Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, even the offering of the houſe of our God, which the king, and his counſellors, and his lords, and all Iſrael there preſent, had offered:

26 I even weighed unto their hand ſix hundred and fifty talents of ſilver, and ſilver veſſels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents;

27 Alſo twenty baſons of gold, of a thouſand drams; and two veſſels of fine copper, precious as gold.

28 And I ſaid unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD; the veſſels are holy alſo; and the ſilver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the LORD God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the prieſts and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Iſrael, at Jeruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of the LORD.

30 So took the prieſts and the Levites the weight of the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, to bring them to Jeruſalem unto the houſe of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the firſt month, to go unto Jeruſalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of ſuch as lay in wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jeruſalem, and abode there three days.

33 Now on the fourth day was the ſilver and the gold and the veſſels weighed in the houſe of our God by the hand of Meremoth the ſon of Uriah the prieſt; and with him was Eleazar the ſon of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabad the ſon of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the ſon of Binnui, Levites;

34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Alſo the children of thoſe that had been carried away, which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Iſrael, twelve bullocks for all Iſrael, ninety and ſix rams, ſeventy and ſeven lambs, twelve he goats for a ſin offering: all this was a burnt offering unto the LORD.

36 ¶ And they delivered the king's commiſſions unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors on this ſide the river: and they furthered the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

Before CHRIST 457.

1 Ezra mourneth for the intermarriages of the people with ſtrangers. 5 He prayeth unto God with confeſſion of ſins.

NOW when theſe things were done, the princes came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſts, and the Levites, have not ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themſelves, and for their ſons: ſo that the holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this treſpaſs.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard, and ſat down aſtonied.

4 Then were aſſembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of thoſe that had been carried away; and I ſat aſtonied until the evening ſacrifice.

5 ¶ And at the evening ſacrifice I aroſe up from my heavineſs; and having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and ſpread out my hands unto the LORD my God,

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am aſhamed and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increaſed over our head, and our treſpaſs is grown up unto the heavens.

7 Since the days our fathers have we been in a great treſpaſs unto this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our prieſts, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the ſword, to captivity, and to a ſpoil, and to confuſion of face, as it is this day.

8 And now for a little ſpace grace hath been ſhewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

9 For we were bondmen; yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the ſight of the kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving, to ſet up the houſe of our God, and to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem.

10 And now, O our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? for we have forſaken thy commandments,

11 Which thou haſt commanded by thy ſervants, the prophets, ſaying, The land, unto which ye go to poſſeſs it, is an unclean land with the filthineſs of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their uncleanneſs.

12 Now therefore give not your daughters unto their ſons, neither take their daughters unto your ſons, nor ſeek their peace or their wealth for ever: that ye may be ſtrong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

---

22 I was aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſoldiers, &c.] To have aſked protection and defence from the king, would have looked as if they had diſtruſted the power and favour of their God, of whom they had ſpoken, and boaſted, and praiſed ſo magnificently.

23 He was intreated of us.] He gave them ſome aſſurance that their petition ſhould be granted.

33 Eleazar the ſon of Phinehas, &c.] The names of Eleazar and Phinehas continued through many generations among the prieſts, on account of the eminence of thoſe two in Aaron's family.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

Ezra's conduct, in refuſing the ſoldiers an aſſiſtance offered him, proves to us, that good men will rather truſt in God than in man; and that God always favours thoſe undertakings which are formed according to his will; and which are carried on by imploring his protection and bleſſing.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. IX.

2 The holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands, &c.] Not only the loweſt of the people had fallen into this crime, but the great men, the princes and rulers, were the chief offenders, and (to aggravate yet more this national guilt) the prieſts alſo and the Levites had given into and countenanced the ſin.

6 Our iniquities are increaſed over our heads, &c.] A metaphor taken from water, riſing gradually over the head of a man, and at laſt overwhelming and drowning him.

8 And to give us a nail in his holy place, &c.] Alluding to their faſtening their tents to the ground with nails or pins; and therefore ſignifies (as the margin explains) a ſettled abode after a long baniſhment.

9 To give us a wall in Judah and Jeruſalem.] Ezra denotes hereby the ſingular care God had for them; who being the ſhepherd of Iſrael, had gathered together his ſcattered ſheep, and brought them back into their antient fold, wherein he preſerved them ſafe under the powerful protection of the king of Perſia.

Before CHRIST 457. 13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great treſpaſs, ſeeing that thou our God haſt puniſhed us leſs than our iniquities deſerve, and haſt given us ſuch deliverance as this;

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of theſe abominations? wouldeſt not thou be angry with us till thou hadſt conſumed us, ſo that there ſhould be no remnant nor eſcaping?

15 O LORD God of Iſrael, thou art righteous: for we remain yet eſcaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our treſpaſſes: for we cannot ſtand before thee becauſe of this.

CHAP. X.

1 Shechaniah encourageth Ezra to reform the abuſe of the ſtrange marriages. 6 Ezra by proclamation aſſembleth the people. 9 The people at the exhortation of Ezra promiſe amendment. 15 The buſineſs is carried into execution. 18 The names of thoſe who had married ſtrange wives.

NOW when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confeſſed, weeping and caſting himſelf down before the houſe of God, there aſſembled unto him out of Iſrael a very great congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept very ſore.

2 And Shechaniah the ſon of Jehiel, one of the ſons of Elam, anſwered and ſaid unto Ezra, We have treſpaſſed againſt our God, and have taken ſtrange wives of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Iſrael concerning this thing.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and ſuch as are born of them, according to the counſel of my lord, and of thoſe that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law.

4 Ariſe; for this matter belongeth unto thee: we alſo will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

5 Then aroſe Ezra, and made the chief prieſts, the Levites, and all Iſrael, to ſwear that they ſhould do according to this word. And they ſware.

6 ¶ Then Ezra roſe up from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib: and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem unto all the children of the captivity, that they ſhould gather themſelves together unto Jeruſalem;

8 And that whoſoever would not come within three days, according to the counſel of the princes and the elders, all his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeited, and himſelf ſeparated from the congregation of thoſe that had been carried away.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themſelves together unto Jeruſalem within three days. It was the ninth month, and the twentieth day of the month; and all the people ſat in the ſtreet of the houſe of God, trembling becauſe of this matter, and for the great rain.

10 And Ezra the prieſt ſtood up, and ſaid unto them, Ye have tranſgreſſed, and have taken ſtrange wives, to increaſe the treſpaſs of Iſrael.

11 Now therefore make confeſſion unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleaſure: and ſeparate yourſelves from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wives. Before CHRIST 457.

12 Then all the congregation anſwered and ſaid with a loud voice, As thou haſt ſaid, ſo muſt we do.

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to ſtand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have tranſgreſſed in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation ſtand, and let all them which have taken ſtrange wives in our cities come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from us.

15 ¶ Only Jonathan the ſon of Aſahel and Jahaziah the ſon of Tikvah were employed about this matter: and Meſhullam and Shabbethai the Levite helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did ſo. And Ezra the prieſt, with certain chief of the fathers, after the houſe of their fathers, and all of them by their names, were ſeparated, and ſat down in the firſt day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken ſtrange wives by the firſt day of the firſt month.

18 ¶ And among the ſons of the prieſts there were found that had taken ſtrange wives: namely, of the ſons of Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaſeiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah. 456.

19 And they gave their hands that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their treſpaſs.

20 And of the ſons of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the ſons of Harim; Maaſeiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 And of the ſons of Paſhur; Elienai, Maaſeiah, Iſhmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elaſah.

23 Alſo of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah, (the ſame is Kelita,) Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

24 Of the ſingers alſo; Eliaſhib: and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 Moreover of Iſrael: of the ſons of Paroſh; Ramiah, and Jeziah, and Malchiah, and Miamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the ſons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the ſons of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the ſons alſo of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

15 We cannot ſtand before thee becauſe of this.] As we cannot deny it, ſo we will not defend it, but yield up ourſelves to bear the puniſhment to which thou wilt condemn us. By this concluſion he would alarm and terrify them into a reformation; and accordingly we find, in the next chapter, that it had this good effect.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

We are hence taught, in all the evils we ſuffer, to give glory to God, and acknowledge the righteouſneſs of his judgments; and that the means to obtain the return of God's grace, and the remiſſion of our ſins, is, not to turn again to folly; but to forſake iniquity, and ſeek the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

3 And ſuch as are born of them, &c.] As they were unlawfully born, and were educated in ſuperſtition, and might corrupt other children, it was proper they ſhould ſhare the lot of their mothers.

8 All his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeited, &c.] In the Hebrew it is, devoted; which ſignifies, that his goods were to be ſo forfeited as to become ſacred to God, and ſo incapable to be reſtored to the former owner, being put into the treaſury of God's houſe.

14 The elders of every city, and the judges thereof, &c.] The beſt account that interpreters give of theſe, is, that by "elders" are meant the ſupreme ſenate in every city, who judged in all civil cauſes; and by "judges" (as diſtinct from the other) are meant judges of an inferior bench, by whom all money-matters were tried.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

By this chapter we may ſee, that marriages and alliances with idolaters are diſpleaſing to God, and ought not to be permitted, though the law of putting away idolatrous or unbelieving wives is not of force under the New Teſtament, 1 Cor. vii. 12.

The Book of NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

Nehemiah was advanced in Babylon to be cup-bearer to the king of Perſia, from whom he obtained leave to return to Judea for twelve years, in order to rebuild the city of Jeruſalem. He here continues the hiſtory of Ezra, from the twentieth year of Artaxerxes to the reign of Darius Nothus; in all, about forty years.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah, informed by Hanani concerning the afflicted ſtate of Jeruſalem, mourneth, faſteth, and prayeth. 5 His prayer.

Before CHRIST 446.

THE words of Nehemiah the ſon of Hachaliah. And it came to paſs in the month Chiſleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shuſhan the palace,

2 That Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah; and I aſked them concerning the Jews that had eſcaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jeruſalem.

3 And they ſaid unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jeruſalem alſo is broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.

4 And it came to paſs, when I heard theſe words, that I ſat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heaven.

5 ¶ And ſaid, I beſeech thee, O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and obſerve his commandments:

6 Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayeſt hear the prayer of thy ſervant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſervants, and confeſs the ſins of the children of Iſrael, which we have ſinned againſt thee: both I and my father's houſe have ſinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly againſt thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the ſtatutes, nor the judgments, which thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes.

8 Remember, I beſeech thee, the word that thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes, ſaying, If ye tranſgreſs, I will ſcatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; though there were of you caſt out unto the uttermoſt part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have choſen to ſet my name there. Before CHRIST 446.

10 Now theſe are thy ſervants and thy people, whom thou haſt redeemed by thy great power, and by thy ſtrong hand.

11 O LORD, I beſeech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to the prayer of thy ſervants, who deſire to fear thy name: and proſper, I pray thee, thy ſervant this day, and grant him mercy in the ſight of this man. For I was the king's cupbearer.

CHAP. II.

1 Artaxerxes, underſtanding the cauſe of Nehemiah's ſadneſs, ſendeth him with letters and a commiſſion to build the wall of Jeruſalem. 9 Nehemiah delivereth the letters, and to the grief of the enemies of the Jews cometh to Jeruſalem. 12 He vieweth the ſtate of the walls ſecretly by night. 17 He encourageth the Jews to build in ſpite of the ſcorn of their enemies.

AND it came to paſs in the month Niſan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been beforetime ſad in his preſence. 445

2 Wherefore the king ſaid unto me, Why is thy countenance ſad, ſeeing thou art not ſick? this is nothing elſe but ſorrow of heart. Then I was very ſore afraid,

3 And ſaid unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, when the city, the place of my fathers' ſepulchres, lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 Then the king ſaid unto me, For what doſt thou make requeſt? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

In Shuſhan the palace.] This was in the region of Elymais, where the Perſian kings kept their court in winter; and from its pleaſant and beautiful ſituation, was called by the heathens Suſa, which ſignifies a lily; which flower grew in abundance in that country.

2 Came, &c.] From Jeruſalem to Shuſhan.

11 I was the king's cupbearer.] This was a place of great honour and advantage in the Perſian court: that it was very profitable, ſeems evident by Nehemiah's acquiring thoſe immenſe riches which enabled him for ſo many years (ſee chap. v. 14.) out of his own private purſe only, to live in his government with all that ſplendor and expence, without burdening the people at all for it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

Nehemiah's great care and aſſiduity reſpecting the divine worſhip, ſhould teach us to be more zealouſly concerned for the church of the Lord, than for any other thing; to take part in the evils that happen to it, and to pray continually for its proſperity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

1 In the month Niſan, &c.] This contained part of March and part of April. In the four months that had elapſed, Nehemiah might probably wait for a ſeaſonable opportunity of ſpeaking with the king, or retire all this intermediate time, and ſpend it in faſting and prayer.

4 So I prayed to the God of heaven.] In his mind he ſilently beſeeched God to guide his tongue, and to incline the king's heart to grant his requeſt.

5 And I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſervant have found favour in thy ſight, that thou wouldeſt ſend me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' ſepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king ſaid unto me, (the queen alſo ſitting by him,) For how long ſhall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleaſed the king to ſend me; and I ſet him a time.

7 Moreover I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Aſaph the keeper of the king's foreſt, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the houſe, and for the wall of the city, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 ¶ Then I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had ſent captains of the army and horſemen with me.

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to ſeek the welfare of the children of Iſrael.

11 So I came to Jeruſalem, and was there three days.

12 ¶ And I aroſe in the night, I and ſome few men with me; neither told I any man what my God had put in my heart to do at Jeruſalem: neither was there any beaſt with me, ſave the beaſt that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walls of Jeruſalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were conſumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the beaſt that was under me to paſs.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the gate of the valley, and ſo returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did; neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the prieſts, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that did the work.

17 ¶ Then ſaid I unto them, Ye ſee the diſtreſs that we are in, how Jeruſalem lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burned with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Jeruſalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as alſo the king's words that he had ſpoken unto me. And they ſaid, Let us riſe up and build. So they ſtrengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant, the Ammonite, and Geſhem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to ſcorn, and deſpiſed us, and ſaid, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel againſt the king?

20 Then anſwered I them, and ſaid unto them, The God of heaven, he will proſper us; therefore we his ſervants will ariſe and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jeruſalem.

The names and order of them that builded the wall.

THEN Eliaſhib the high prieſt roſe up with his brethren the prieſts, and they builded the ſheep gate; they ſanctified it, and ſet up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Meah they ſanctified it, unto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next unto him builded the men of Jericho. And next to them builded Zaccur the ſon of Imri.

3 But the fiſh gate did the ſons of Haſſenaah build, who alſo laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doors thereof, and locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Meremoth the ſon of Urijah, the ſon of Koz. And next unto them repaired Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah, the ſon of Meſhezabeel. And next unto them repaired Zadok the ſon of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover the old gate repaired Jehoiada the ſon of Paſeah, and Meſhullam the ſon of Beſodeiah; they laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the throne of the governor on this ſide the river.

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the ſon of Harhaiah, of the goldſmiths. Next unto him alſo repaired Hananiah the ſon of one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jeruſalem unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the ſon of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jeruſalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the ſon of Harumaph, even over againſt his houſe. And next unto him repaired Hattuſh the ſon of Haſhabniah.

11 Malchijah the ſon of Harim, and Haſhub the ſon of Pahath-moab, repaired the other piece, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum the ſon of Halohеſh, the ruler of the half part of Jeruſalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thouſand cubits on the wall unto the dung gate.

14 But the dung gate repaired Malchiah the ſon of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-haccerem; he built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallun the ſon of Col-hozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the king's garden, and unto the ſtairs that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the ſon of Azbuk, the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over againſt the ſepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, and unto the houſe of the mighty.

17 And after him repaired the Levites, Rehum the ſon

6 I ſet him a time.] It is probable that he aſked leave for a year only, which made him ſo quiet in diſpatching his buſineſs; for he finiſhed the building of the wall in fifty-two days: ſee chap. vi. 15. after which, it is likely, he returned to Shuſhan, and then the king ſent him back as his governor for twelve years.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

The conduct of Nehemiah, in this chapter, ſhews us, that good men are more concerned for the glory of God, than their own intereſt; and whilſt they ſee that glory obſtructed, and the church under affliction, they cannot relish any pleaſure, although they ſhould enjoy all other worldly advantages. We alſo learn, that God bleſſes the deſigns that are formed for good ends, and the welfare of his church; and that good men ſhould never be diſcouraged, though they are oppoſed by the wicked.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

1 They builded the ſheep gate, &c.] This gate was on the ſouth ſide of the city, in that part of the valley which looked towards the city of David and the temple; the ſheep which were to be ſacrificed entered in by this gate, and therefore it is to be ſuppoſed that the prieſts undertook this part of the work, as moſt proper for them.

3 The fiſh gate, &c.] This gate looked towards the ſea, from whence fiſh was wont to be brought, and ſold here.

5 Their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.] They did not heartily engage in it; they were either proud or negligent, not caring whether the work was performed or not.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Bavai the son of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over against the going up to the armoury at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the son of Zabbai earnestly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the son of Urijah the son of Koz another piece, from the door of the house of Eliashib even to the end of the house of Eliashib.

24 After him repaired Binnui the son of Henadad another piece, from the house of Azariah unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the son of Uzai, over against the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the king's high house, that was by the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh.

26 Moreover the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel, unto the place over against the water gate toward the east, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another piece, over against the great tower that lieth out, even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the horse gate repaired the priests, every one over against his house.

29 After them repaired Zadok the son of Immer over against his house. After him repaired also Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the keeper of the east gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph, another piece. After him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah over against his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchiah the goldsmith's son, unto the place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, over against the gate Miphkad, and to the going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the sheep gate repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IV.

1 While the enemies are wroth, and scoff, Nehemiah prayeth to God, and buildeth the wall. 7 Understanding their secret plottings, he setteth a watch. 13 He armeth the labourers, and giveth instructions how to proceed in case of an alarm.

BUT it came to pass, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, What do these feeble Jews? will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish which are burned?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stone wall.

4 Hear, O our God; for we are despised: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity:

5 And cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders. Before CHRIST 445.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 ¶ But it came to pass, that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all of them together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheless we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 And it came to pass, that when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they said unto us ten times, From all places whence ye shall return unto us they will be upon you.

13 ¶ Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: remember the LORD, which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to pass from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behind all the house of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded. And he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, saving that every one put them off for washing.

CHAP.

26 The water gate, &c.] This, it is likely, was the gate at which those inferior ministers, the Nethinims, brought in water for the use of the temple.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

We may infer from hence, that if we are diligent in the discharge of our duty, God will enable us to surmount all difficulties; for he will bless and protect those who fear him, who walk in his ways, and promote his service and the good of mankind.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

5 Let not their sin be blotted out, &c.] He spoke by the spirit of prophecy, foreseeing that, from their malicious and implacable spirit against God and his people, they would reject the offers of his mercy, and at last be utterly destroyed.

17 And with the other hand held a weapon.] They were well appointed both for building and fighting; every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded.

CHAP. V.

1 The people complain of their debts, which had compelled them to mortgage their lands, and ſell their children into bondage. 6 Nehemiah rebuketh the uſurers, and cauſeth them to ſwear to make a full and free reſtitution. 14 He refuſeth the governor's uſual allowance, and keepeth up hoſpitality at his own expence.

AND there was a great cry of the people and of their wives againſt their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that ſaid, We, our ſons, and our daughters, are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat and live.

3 Some alſo there were that ſaid, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houſes, that we might buy corn becauſe of the dearth.

4 There were alſo that ſaid, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, our children as their children: and, lo, we bring into bondage our ſons and our daughters to be ſervants, and ſome of our daughters are brought unto bondage already: neither is it in our power to redeem them; for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 ¶ And I was very angry when I heard their cry and theſe words.

7 Then I conſulted with myſelf, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and ſaid unto them, Ye exact uſury, every one of his brother. And I ſet a great aſſembly againſt them.

8 And I ſaid unto them, We after our ability have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were ſold unto the heathen: and will ye even ſell your brethren? or ſhall they be ſold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to anſwer.

9 Alſo I ſaid, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God becauſe of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewiſe, and my brethren, and my ſervants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you let us leave off this uſury.

11 Reſtore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houſes, alſo the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them.

12 Then ſaid they, We will reſtore them, and will require nothing of them; ſo will we do as thou ſayeſt. Then I called the prieſts, and took an oath of them, that they ſhould do according to this promiſe.

13 Alſo I ſhook my lap, and ſaid, So God ſhake out every man from his houſe, and from his labour, that performeth not this promiſe, even thus be he ſhaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation ſaid, Amen, and praiſed the LORD. And the people did according to this promiſe.

14 ¶ Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor. Before CHRIST 445.

15 But the former governors that had been before me were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſide forty ſhekels of ſilver; yea, even their ſervants bare rule over the people: but ſo did not I, becauſe of the fear of God.

16 Yea, alſo I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my ſervants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, beſide thoſe that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily was one ox and ſix choice ſheep; alſo fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days ſtore of all ſorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governor, becauſe the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 Sanballat practiſeth againſt Nehemiah by inſidious attempts, 5 falſe rumours, 10 and hired prophecies. 15 The wall is finiſhed to the great diſmay of the enemy. 17 The nobles of Judah hold traiterous intelligence with Tobiah.

NOW it came to paſs, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geſhem the Arabian, and the reſt of our enemies, heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though at that time I had not ſet up the doors upon the gates;)

2 That Sanballat and Geſhem ſent unto me, ſaying, Come, let us meet together in ſome one of the villages in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me miſchief.

3 And I ſent meſſengers unto them, ſaying, I am doing a great work, ſo that I cannot come down: why ſhould the work ceaſe, whilſt I leave it, and come down to you?

4 Yet they ſent unto me four times after this ſort; and I anſwered them after the ſame manner.

5 ¶ Then ſent Sanballat his ſervant unto me in like manner the fifth time with an open letter in his hand;

6 Wherein it was written, It is reported among the heathen, and Gaſhmu ſaith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cauſe thou buildeſt the wall, that thou mayeſt be their king, according to theſe words.

7 And thou haſt alſo appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jeruſalem, ſaying, There is a king in Judah: and now ſhall it be reported to the king according to theſe words. Come now therefore, and let us take counſel together.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

From this chapter we are inſtructed, that they who labour for the glory of God, muſt expect the contradiction of the wicked; that in all our dangers, we ſhould have recourſe to the Lord, and join prayer to our work, uſing all lawful means to ward off the evil that threatens us; and that God will in the end proſper the undertakings of thoſe that truſt in him, and aſſiſt them againſt their enemies.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

1 There was a great cry of the people, &c.] The poor made grievous complaints againſt the rich, for taking advantage of their neceſſities, and exacting uſury; which reduced them to great ſtraits.

8 Then held they their peace, and found nothing to anſwer.] There was ſuch an expreſs law of God againſt them (ſee Deut. xxiii. 19.) that they had nothing to reply, therefore were ſilent; becauſe they could neither deny the fact, nor were they able to juſtify it.

11 The hundredth part of the money, &c.] The hundredth part of what was lent every month, or twelve per cent. for the whole year.

12 And took an oath of them, &c.] i. e. of the nobles and the rulers; for he prevailed on them to ſwear to him in the preſence of the prieſts, whom he called in to be witneſſes to it, that they would keep their word.

13 Alſo I ſhook my lap, &c.] An external ſign, predicting their poverty; for, folding up the ſkirts of his garment, and then ſhaking them abroad, he repreſented how God would caſt them out of their poſſeſſions, and the fruit of their labours, if they did not obſerve this oath.

16 Neither bought we any land, &c.] They would not make any advantage of the neceſſities of others.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

The conduct of Nehemiah, as recorded in this chapter, affords us a noble example of equity, piety, and diſintereſtedneſs, worthy to be imitated by all magiſtrates, and by great and rich men; and this ſhews how averſe we ought to be from oppreſſion and injuſtice, ſince that, in caſe of neceſſity, we ought to give of our own, and even to depart from our right, for the glory of God and the good of our brethren.

Before CHRIST 445. ſhall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, ſtrengthen my hands.

10 ¶ Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah the ſon of Delaiah the ſon of Mehetabeel, who was ſhut up; and he ſaid, Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, and let us ſhut the doors of the temple: for they will come to ſlay thee; yea, in the night will they come to ſlay thee.

11 And I ſaid, Should ſuch a man as I flee? and who is there, that, being as I am, would go into the temple to ſave his life? I will not go in.

12 And, lo, I perceived that God had not ſent him; but that he pronounced this prophecy againſt me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat according to theſe their works, and on the propheteſs Noadiah, and the reſt of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 ¶ So the wall was finiſhed in the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.

16 And it came to paſs, that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us ſaw theſe things, they were much caſt down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 ¶ Moreover in thoſe days the nobles of Judah ſent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah, came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah ſworn unto him, becauſe he was ſon in law of Shechaniah the ſon of Arah; and his ſon Johanan had taken the daughter of Meſhullam, the ſon of Berechiah.

19 Alſo they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my words to him. And Tobiah ſent letters to put me in fear.

CHAP. VII.

1 Nehemiah committeth the charge of the city to Hanani and Hananiah. 5 A regiſter found of the genealogy of them which came firſt from Babylon, of the people, 39 of the prieſts, 43 of the Levites, 46 of the Nethinims, 57 of the children of Solomon's ſervants, 63 of the prieſts which could not ſhew their pedigree. 66 The whole number with their ſubſtance. 70 Their oblations.

NOW it came to paſs, when the wall was built, and I had ſet up the doors, and the porters and the ſingers and the Levites were appointed,

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jeruſalem: for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many.

3 And I ſaid unto them, Let not the gates of Jeruſalem be opened until the ſun be hot; and while they ſtand by, let them ſhut the doors, and bar them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, every one his watch, and every one to be over againſt his houſe. Before CHRIST 445.

4 Now the city was large and great: but the people were few therein, and the houſes were not builded.

5 ¶ And my God put into mine heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. And I found a regiſter of the genealogy of them which came up at the firſt, and found written therein,

6 Theſe are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of thoſe that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jeruſalem and to Judah, every one unto his city; 536.

7 Who came with Zerubbabel: Jeſhua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilſhan, Miſpereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The number, I ſay, of the men of the people of Iſrael was this;

8 The children of Paroſh, two thouſand an hundred ſeventy and two.

9 The children of Shephatiah, three hundred ſeventy and two.

10 The children of Arah, ſix hundred fifty and two.

11 The children of Pahath-moab, of the children of Jeſhua and Joab, two thouſand and eight hundred and eighteen.

12 The children of Elam, a thouſand two hundred fifty and four.

13 The children of Zattu, eight hundred forty and five.

14 The children of Zaccai, ſeven hundred and threeſcore.

15 The children of Binnui, ſix hundred forty and two.

16 The children of Bebai, ſix hundred twenty and eight.

17 The children of Azgad, two thouſand three hundred twenty and two.

18 The children of Adonikam, ſix hundred threeſcore and ſeven.

19 The children of Bigvai, two thouſand threeſcore and ſeven.

20 The children of Adin, ſix hundred fifty and five.

21 The children of Ater of Hezekiah ninety and eight.

22 The children of Haſhum, three hundred twenty and eight.

23 The children of Bezai, three hundred twenty and four.

24 The children of Hariph, an hundred and twelve.

25 The children of Gibeon, ninety and five.

26 The men of Beth-lehem, and Netophah, an hundred fourſcore and eight.

27 The

10 Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah, &c.] Shemaiah being called a prophet, as we learn from ver. 12. it is likely Nehemiah took him to be his friend, and therefore went to conſult and adviſe with him at his own houſe.

Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, &c.] His real deſign herein might be, not only to diſgrace Nehemiah, and diſhearten the people, when they ſaw their governor's cowardice, but to prepare likewiſe for the enemy's aſſaulting and taking the city, when there was no leader to oppoſe them.

11 And I ſaid, Should ſuch a man as I flee, &c.] Shall I diſhonour God and religion, and betray the people and city of God? God forbid.

13 That I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſin, &c.] That they might, through their treachery, draw him to offend God, by diſtruſting his care of him.

25 The wall was finiſhed in fifty and two days.] Which may ſeem incredible to thoſe who do not reflect what a prodigious number of people (who were not hired, but acted voluntarily) engaged in this work, and how full they were of zeal; and that the foundation of the wall was not deſtroyed by the Chaldeans, but that there were ſome pieces of it ſtanding, and only great breaches made in it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

It appears here likewiſe, that notwithſtanding the force, craft and calumny of falſe prophets and falſe miniſters, the wiſe, ſteady, and pious behaviour of Nehemiah ſurmounted all oppoſition; and teaches us, that they who labour for the public good, in the fear of God, ſhould never be ſtaggered by the threats and ſlanders of the wicked; and that, with the help of the Lord, who watches for them, they will at length happily triumph over every difficulty and trouble caſt in their way.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

2 I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jeruſalem, &c.] Hanani had given proof of his zeal for God and his country, in his taking a tedious journey from Jeruſalem to Shuſhan, to inform Jeremiah of the ſad ſtate of Jeruſalem, and to implore his helping hand to relieve it (ſee ch. i.) And the reaſon why Nehemiah put ſuch truſt and confidence in Hananiah, was, becauſe he was a man of conſcience, and acted upon religious principles, which would keep him from thoſe temptations to perfidiouſneſs which he might probably meet with in the abſence of Nehemiah, and againſt which a man deſtitute of the fear of God has no defence.

4 The people were few therein, &c.] At this time their enemies were ſo enraged to ſee the walls rebuilt, and ſo reſtleſs in their deſigns to keep the city from riſing to its former ſplendor, that it terrified many from going to live there, thinking themſelves ſafer in the country, where their enemies had no pretence to diſturb them.

6 Theſe are the children, &c.] Theſe are almoſt the ſame words which we read in Ezra ii. 1.

8 The children of Paroſh, &c.] Tho' this genealogy differs, in ſome particulars from that in Ezra ii. 5. it ſhould nevertheleſs be remembered, that Nehemiah's was taken in Judea, after the finiſhing the wall in Jeruſalem; and that Ezra's was taken in Babylon, before they returned to their own land.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

In this chapter we have a noble example of liberality, in the contribution that Nehemiah and ſome of the chief men offered voluntarily for the ſervice of God, which is the more edifying, as the Jews were then in a ſtate of poverty, and had very few rich men among them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

1 And all the people gathered themſelves together, &c.] This was the firſt great feaſt after the walls of Jeruſalem were finiſhed.
They ſpake unto Ezra the ſcribe.] This undoubtedly was the ſame Ezra who came from Babylon in the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes, with a full commiſſion to Jeruſalem, to aſſiſt Zerubbabel in the reformation of the whole ſtate of the Jewiſh church.

Before CHRIST 445. 7 Alſo Jeſhua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, cauſed the people to underſtand the law: and the poople ſtood in their place.

8 So they read in the book in the law of God diſtinctly, and gave the ſenſe, and cauſed them to underſtand the reading.

9 ¶ And Nehemiah, which is the Tirſhatha, and Ezra the prieſt the ſcribe, and the Levites that taught the people, ſaid unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God, mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.

10 Then he ſaid unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the ſweet, and ſend portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our LORD: neither be ye ſorry; for the joy of the LORD is your ſtrength.

11 So the Levites ſtilled all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy; neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to ſend portions, and to make great mirth, becauſe they had underſtood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the ſecond day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the prieſts, and the Levites, unto Ezra the ſcribe, even to underſtand the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law which the LORD had commanded by Moſes, that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in booths in the feaſt of the ſeventh month:

15 And that they ſhould publiſh and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jeruſalem, ſaying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive branches, and pine branches, and myrtle branches, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 ¶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themſelves booths, every one upon the roof of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet of the water gate, and in the ſtreet of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity made booths, and ſat under the booths: for ſince the days of Jeſhua the ſon of Nun unto that day had not the children of Iſrael done ſo. And there was very great gladneſs.

18 Alſo day by day, from the firſt day unto the laſt day, he read in the book of the law of God. And they kept the feaſt ſeven days; and on the eighth day was a ſolemn aſſembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 A ſolemn general faſt and humiliation. 4 The Levites make a religious confeſſion of God's manifold goodneſs, and of the national ſins, which had occaſioned the people's miſeries.

NOW in the twenty and fourth day of this month the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with faſting, and with ſackcloths, and earth upon them.

2 And the ſeed of Iſrael ſeparated themſelves from all ſtrangers, and ſtood and confeſſed their ſins, and the iniquities of their fathers. Before CHRIST 445.

3 And they ſtood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the LORD their God one fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confeſſed, and worſhipped the LORD their God.

4 ¶ Then ſtood up upon the ſtairs, of the Levites, Jeſhua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeſhuah, and Kadmiel, Bani, Haſhabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, ſaid, Stand up and bleſs the LORD your God for ever and ever: and bleſſed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all bleſſing and praiſe.

6 Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou haſt made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their hoſt, the earth, and all things that are therein, the ſeas, and all that is therein, and thou preſerveſt them all; and the hoſt of heaven worſhippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didſt chooſe Abram, and broughteſt him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gaveſt him the name of Abraham;

8 And foundeſt his heart faithful before thee, and madeſt a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebuſites, and the Girgaſhites, to give it, I ſay, to his ſeed, and haſt performed thy words; for thou art righteous:

9 And didſt ſee the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardeſt their cry by the Red ſea;

10 And ſhewedſt ſigns and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his ſervants, and on all the people of his land: for thou kneweſt that they dealt proudly againſt them. So didſt thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didſt divide the ſea before them, ſo that they went through the midſt of the ſea on the dry land; and their perſecutors thou threweſt into the deeps, as a ſtone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover thou leddeſt them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they ſhould go.

13 Thou cameſt down alſo upon mount Sinai, and ſpakeſt with them from heaven, and gaveſt them right judgments, and true laws, good ſtatutes and commandments:

14 And madeſt known unto them thy holy ſabbath, and commandedſt them precepts, ſtatutes, and laws, by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant:

15 And gaveſt them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rock for their thirſt, and promiſedſt them that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs the land which thou hadſt ſworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments,

17 And refuſed to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didſt among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to

8 Cauſed them to underſtand the reading.] M. Du Pin interprets it of Ezra's explaining the difficult places of ſcripture, ſo as to adapt them to the underſtanding of the common people: and offers ſeveral reaſons to prove that the Hebrew could not be ſo intirely loſt, as ſome ſuppoſe, till after the captivity.

10 This day is holy unto our Lord, &c.] It was the firſt new moon in the year, and the feaſt of blowing the trumpets. See Lev. xxiii. 24.

17 Since the days of Jeſhua the ſon of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo.] The meaning is, that the joy had never been ſo great as it was now, ſince that time. And for this there was a ſpecial reaſon: they rejoiced, in the days of Joſhua, that they had got poſſeſſion of the land of Canaan; and now they rejoiced that they were reſtored to it, and, after a long baniſhment, quietly ſettled in it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

From the circumſtance of Ezra and Nehemiah's comforting the people, we may obſerve, that when the heart is full of godly ſorrow, and his word makes a lively impreſſion upon it, we are then in a condition of reliſhing comfort, of rejoicing in the Lord, and of preſenting ourſelves before him with confidence, as the Jews did when they celebrated the feaſt.

Before CHRIST 445. to pardon, gracious and merciful, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſs, and forſookeſt them not.

18 Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and ſaid, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations;

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies forſookeſt them not in the wilderneſs: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to ſhew them light, and the way wherein they ſhould go.

20 Thou gaveſt alſo thy good ſpirit to inſtruct them, and withheldeſt not thy manna from their mouth, and gaveſt them water for their thirſt.

21 Yea, forty years didſt thou ſuſtain them in the wilderneſs, ſo that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed old not, and their feet ſwelled not.

22 Moreover thou gaveſt them kingdoms and nations, and didſt divide them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heſhbon, and the land of Og king of Baſhan.

23 Their children alſo multipliedſt thou as the ſtars of heaven, and broughteſt them into the land, concerning which thou hadſt promiſed to their fathers, that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs it.

24 So the children went in and poſſeſſed the land, and thou ſubdueſt before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gaveſt them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as they would.

25 And they took ſtrong cities, and a fat land, and poſſeſſed houſes full of all goods, wells digged, vineyards, and oliveyards, and fruit trees in abundance: ſo they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themſelves in thy great goodneſs.

26 Neverthleſs they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy law behind their backs, and ſlew thy prophets which teſtified againſt them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredſt them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardeſt them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gaveſt them ſaviours, who ſaved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had reſt, they did evil again before thee: therefore lefteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou heardeſt them from heaven; and many times didſt thou deliver them according to thy mercies;

29 And teſtifiedſt againſt them, that thou mighteſt bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but ſinned againſt thy judgments, (which if a man do, he ſhall live in them;) and withdrew the ſhoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didſt thou forbear them, and teſtifiedſt againſt them by thy ſpirit in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gaveſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Neverthleſs for thy great mercies' ſake thou didſt not utterly conſume them, nor forſake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeſt covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble ſeem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our prieſts, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, ſince the time of the kings of Aſſyria unto this day. Before CHRIST 445.

33 Howbeit thou art juſt in all that is brought upon us: for thou haſt done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our prieſts, nor our fathers, kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments and thy teſtimonies, wherewith thou didſt teſtify againſt them.

35 For they have not ſerved thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodneſs that thou gaveſt them, and in the large and fat land which thou gaveſt before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, we are ſervants this day, and for the land that thou gaveſt unto our fathers to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof, behold, we are ſervants in it:

37 And it yieldeth much increaſe unto the kings whom thou haſt ſet over us becauſe of our ſins: alſo they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleaſure, and we are in great diſtreſs.

38 And becauſe of all this we make a ſure covenant, and write it; and our princes, Levites, and prieſts, ſeal unto it.

10 And their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodijah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan,

22 And didſt divide them into corners, &c.] This relates, moſt probably, to the inhabitants of Canaan, whom the Iſraelites diſpoſſeſſed, and drove or "ſcattered into corners."

25 And delighted themſelves in thy great goodneſs.] The meaning of theſe words is, that God had beſtowed ſo many bleſſings upon them, that they took great pleaſure in the enjoyment of them.

29 Which if a man do, he ſhall live in them, &c.] That is, he ſhall be a happy man.

36 For the land that thou gaveſt unto our fathers—behold, we are ſervants in it.] They were not owners and proprietors of the land which God had given to their fathers, but labouring for their lords and maſters.

37 They have dominion over our bodies, &c.] Their bodies were liable to be preſſed to ſerve in the king's wars, or in his works; and their cattle ſubject to them, for the king's uſe.

38 Our princes, Levites, and prieſts, ſeal unto it.] Though it ſignified little what ſuch an untoward people promiſed; yet it was very neceſſary there ſhould be a public inſtrument, to convince them of their impiety, and that they might be publicly confounded, when they were proved perfidious deſerters, by ſhewing them, under their own hands, their engagements to future fidelity.

General Reflections on Chap. IX.

We may make an wholeſome application to ourſelves of all the parts of this excellent prayer, and thence learn to praiſe and adore God, acknowledge his goodneſs to us, confeſs and bewail our ſins and ingratitude, implore his aſſiſtance, and walk humbly before him.

Before CHRIST 445. Levites, the porters, the singers, the Nethinims, and all they that had separated themselves from the people of the lands unto the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having understanding;

29 They clave to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his judgments and his statutes;

30 And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons:

31 And if the people of the land bring ware or any victuals on the sabbath day to sell, that we would not buy it of them on the sabbath, or on the holy day: and that we would leave the seventh year, and the exaction of every debt.

32 Also we made ordinances for us, to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God;

33 For the shewbread, and for the continual meat offering, and for the continual burnt offering, of the sabbaths, of the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.

34 And we cast the lots among the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, after the houses of our fathers, at times appointed year by year, to burn upon the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the law:

35 And to bring the firstfruits of our ground, and the firstfruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, unto the house of the LORD:

36 Also the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firstlings of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, unto the priests that minister in the house of our God:

37 And that we should bring the firstfruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine and of oil unto the priests, to the chambers of the house of our God; and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites, that the same Levites might have the tithes in all the cities of our tillage.

38 And the priest the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes unto the house of our God, to the chambers, into the treasure house.

39 For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oil, unto the chambers, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers: and we will not forsake the house of our God.

CHAP. XI.

1 The rulers, together with every tenth man taken by lot, and those that offered voluntarily, dwell at Jerusalem. 3 A catalogue of their names. 20 The residue of the people dwell in other cities.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt at Jerusalem: Before CHRIST 445. the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.

2 And the people blessed all the men, that willingly offered themselves to dwell at Jerusalem.

3 ¶ Now these are the chief of the province that dwelt in Jerusalem: but in the cities of Judah dwelt every one in his possession in their cities, to wit, Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's servants.

4 And at Jerusalem dwelt certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin. Of the children of Judah; Athaiah the son of Uzziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalaleel, of the children of Perez;

5 And Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Colhozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, the son of Shiloni.

6 All the sons of Perez that dwelt at Jerusalem were four hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 And these are the sons of Benjamin; Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joel, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jesaiah.

8 And after him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred twenty and eight.

9 And Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer: and Judah the son of Senuah was second over the city.

10 Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin.

11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, was the ruler of the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the work of the house were eight hundred twenty and two: and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchiah,

13 And his brethren, chief of the fathers, two hundred forty and two: and Amashai the son of Azareel, the son of Ahasai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer,

14 And their brethren, mighty men of valour, an hundred twenty and eight: and their overseer was Zabdiel the son of one of the great men.

15 Also of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hashub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni;

16 And Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the chief of the Levites, had the oversight of the outward business of the house of God.

17 And Mattaniah the son of Micha, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, was the principal to begin the thanksgiving in prayer: and Bakbukiah the second among his brethren, and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.

18 All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred fourscore and four.

19 Moreover the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren that kept the gates, were an hundred seventy and two.

20 ¶ And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

39 They clave to their brethren, &c.] As there were too many to subscribe and seal the writing, they who did not subscribe and seal declared they were of the same mind with the others who had; and they owned by word of mouth what the rest had set their hands to, and said, it was their act and deed, as much as it was the act and deed of their nobles and brethren.

31 We would not buy it of them on the sabbath, &c.] As the Jews were at this time no more than subjects and servants, they could not hinder their heathen neighbours from bringing their wares on the sabbath-day into Jerusalem: they therefore resolved, and confirmed it with an oath, that they would buy none. However, they very soon broke their resolution, and violated their oath.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

The covenant renewed by the Jews, should remind us of God's covenant, and our baptismal engagement to him as his servants: we should read his word, and beg his grace, that we may think upon his commandments, and do them; and offer to him not only external, but the internal service of the heart.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1 And the rulers of the people dwelt at Jerusalem] The inhabitants of the neighbouring countries were so restless in their designs to keep this city from rising to its former splendor, that it terrified many of the Jews from coming to dwell there, thinking themselves more safe in the country where their enemies had no pretence to disturb them: the rulers therefore of the people seated themselves at Jerusalem, inviting and encouraging others to live there.

The rest of the people also cast lots, &c.] There was still room for more citizens; and the city, considering how large it was, being very empty, they consulted to make it populous, by compelling every tenth man in Judah and Benjamin to quit their present habitations in the country, and to dwell in the city; for which end they cast lots.

NOW theſe are the prieſts and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

10 ¶ And Jeſhua begat Joiakim, Joiakim alſo begat Eliaſhib, and Eliaſhib begat Joiada,

12 And in the days of Joiakim were prieſts, the chief of the fathers: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;

13 Of Ezra, Meſhullam; of Amariah, Jehonan;

14 Of Melicu, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joſeph;

15 Of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai;

16 Of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meſhullam;

17 Of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin; of Moadiah, Piltai;

18 Of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

19 And of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;

20 Of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;

21 Of Hilkiah, Haſhabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 ¶ The Levites in the days of Eliaſhib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: alſo the prieſts, to the reign of Darius the Perſian.

23 The ſons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib.

24 And the chief of the Levites: Haſhabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeſhua the ſon of Kadmiel, with their brethren over againſt them, to praiſe and to give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward over againſt ward.

25 Mattaniah, and Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Meſhullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward at the threſholds of the gates.

26 Theſe were in the days of Joiakim the ſon of Jeſhua, the ſon of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe.

27 ¶ And at the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem they ſought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jeruſalem, to keep the dedication with gladneſs, both with thankſgivings, and with ſinging, with cymbals, pſalteries, and with harps.

28 And the ſons of the ſingers gathered themſelves together, both out of the plain country round about Jeruſalem, and from the villages of Netophathi;

29 Alſo from the houſe of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the ſingers had builded them villages round about Jeruſalem.

30 And the prieſts and the Levites purified themſelves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung gate:

32 And after them went Hoſhaiah, and half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meſhullam,

34 Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And certain of the prieſts' ſons with trumpets; namely, Zechariah the ſon of Jonathan, the ſon of Shemaiah, the ſon of Mattaniah, the ſon of Michaiah, the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Aſaph:

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the muſical inſtruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the ſcribe before them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

We muſt obſerve, that the lots here referred to were allowed to be under the divine direction in important caſes; but this by no means authorizes to uſe the ſame means for deciding difficult points or queſtions in our day, leſt we be found to tempt God; but rather let us walk in his fear and in his ways, and leave events to the divine Providence, who has ſaid, "I will never leave you, nor forſake you."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

11 Jaddua.] This is the ſame perſon who met Alexander the Great, in his pontifical habit, as he came from the conqueſt of Tyre and Gaza, and procured from that monarch great privileges for the Jewiſh nation.

27 At the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem, &c.] Nehemiah, having put all things in good order, dedicated the city as a place which God himſelf had choſen, and reſtored it to him again, after it had been profaned by the devaſtations of the heathen.

31 I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them, &c.] He ſeparated the prieſts, Levites, and princes of the people, into two companies, one of which walked to the right hand, and the other to the left, on the top of the walls; the two companies met in the temple, and there they ſtood ſtill and completed their thankſgivings with ſacrifices.

Before CHRIST 445. them, they went up by the ſtairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the houſe of David, even unto the water gate eaſtward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks went over againſt them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces even unto the broad wall;

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fiſh gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the ſheep gate: and they ſtood ſtill in the priſon gate.

40 So ſtood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the houſe of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:

41 And the prieſts; Eliakim, Maaſeiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets;

42 And Maaſeiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the ſingers ſang loud, with Jezrahiah their overſeer.

43 Alſo that day they offered great ſacrifices, and rejoiced: for God had made them rejoice with great joy: the wives alſo and the children rejoiced: ſo that the joy of Jeruſalem was heard even afar off.

44 ¶ And at that time were ſome appointed over the chambers for the treaſures, for the offerings, for the firſtfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the law for the prieſts and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the prieſts and for the Levites that waited.

45 And both the ſingers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his ſon.

46 For in the days of David and Aſaph of old there were chief of the ſingers, and ſongs of praiſe and thankſgiving unto God.

47 And all Iſrael in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the ſingers and the porters, every day his portion, and they ſanctified holy things unto the Levites; and the Levites ſanctified them unto the children of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Upon reading the law Iſrael is ſeparated from the mixed multitude. 4 Eliaſhib having in Nehemiah's abſence prepared a chamber in the temple for Tobiah, Nehemiah on his return is offended, and cauſeth the chambers to be cleanſed. 10 He reformeth certain abuſes concerning tithes, 15 the violation of the ſabbath, 23 and the marriages with ſtrange wives.

ON that day they read in the book of Moſes in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that the Ammonite and the Moabite ſhould not come into the congregation of God for ever;

2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſrael with bread and with water, but hired Balaam againſt them, that he ſhould curſe them: howbeit our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing.

3 Now it came to paſs, when they had heard the law, that they ſeparated from Iſrael all the mixed multitude. Before CHRIST 445.

4 ¶ And before this, Eliaſhib the prieſt, having the overſight of the chamber of the houſe of our God, was allied unto Tobiah:

5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meat offerings, the frankincenſe, and the veſſels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oil, which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters; and the offerings of the prieſts.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jeruſalem: for in 434. the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon came I unto the king, and after certain days obtained I leave of the king:

7 And I came to Jeruſalem, and underſtood of the evil that Eliaſhib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the houſe of God.

8 And it grieved me ſore: therefore I caſt forth all the houſhold ſtuff of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 Then I commanded, and they cleanſed the chambers: and thither brought I again the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meat offering and the frankincenſe.

10 ¶ And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the ſingers, that did the work, were fled every one to his field.

11 Then contended I with the rulers, and ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I gathered them together, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn and the new wine and the oil unto the treaſuries.

13 And I made treaſurers over the treaſuries, Shelemiah the prieſt, and Zadok the ſcribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and next to them was Hanan the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to diſtribute unto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the houſe of my God, and for the offices thereof.

15 ¶ In thoſe days ſaw I in Judah ſome treading wine preſſes on the ſabbath, and bringing in ſheaves, and lading aſſes; as alſo wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jeruſalem on the ſabbath day: and I teſtified againſt them in the day wherein they ſold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, which brought fiſh, and all manner of ware, and ſold on the ſabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jeruſalem.

17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and ſaid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the ſabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Iſrael by profaning the ſabbath.

19 And it came to paſs, that when the gates of Jeruſalem began to be dark before the ſabbath, I commanded that the gates ſhould be ſhut, and charged that they 43 The joy of Jeruſalem was heard even afar off.] The report of it was ſpread into far diſtant countries.

45 The ſingers and the porters kept the word of their God, &c.] The former ſung uſually in their courſes, and praiſed God, and the latter duly obſerved the orders about purification, in not ſuffering any unclean perſon or thing to come into the houſe of God.

47 They ſanctified holy things unto the Levites, &c.] The people ſet apart the tenth part of their harveſt for the uſe of the Levites, and the Levites ſeparated from their tithes, the tenth part of them for the prieſts, according to the law of Moſes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XII.

We are taught, from this chapter, to render homage to the Lord, for all the temporal advantages we enjoy; and to look upon his protection as the fountain of all the happineſs, and of all the ſecurity, both of cities and ſtates: we ſhould honour him with our ſubſtance, promote his religion and ſervice, and labour to advance his glory.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIII.

1 On that day they read in the book of Moſes] Not immediately after the dedication, but ſome time after Nehemiah was returned from Perſia.

Should not come into the congregation of God, &c.] This phraſe muſt be underſtood to mean no more than a prohibition of marriage; for this (according to their rabbins) was the caſe of ſuch prohibitions: none of the houſe of Iſrael, of either ſex, were to enter into marriage with any Gentiles, of what nation ſoever, unleſs they were firſt converted to their religion, and become intire proſelytes to it; and even in that caſe ſome were debarred from it for ever, others only in part, and others again only for a limited time.

4 Eliaſhib the prieſt, having the overſight of the chamber of the houſe of our God] By "the overſight of the chambers of the houſe of God," we may underſtand the whole government of the temple, which certainly belonged to the high prieſt only.

Before CHRIST 434. they ſhould not be opened till after the ſabbath: and ſome of my ſervants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhould no burden be brought in on the ſabbath day.

20 So the merchants and ſellers of all kind of ware lodged without Jeruſalem once or twice.

21 Then I teſtified againſt them, and ſaid unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? if ye do ſo again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the ſabbath.

22 And I commanded the Levites that they ſhould cleanſe themſelves, and that they ſhould come and keep the gates to ſanctify the ſabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this alſo, and ſpare me according to the greatneſs of thy mercy.

23 ¶ In thoſe days alſo ſaw I Jews that had married wives of Aſhdod, of Ammon, and of Moab:

24 And their children ſpake half in the ſpeech of Aſhdod, and could not ſpeak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people.

25 And I contended with them, and curſed them, and ſmote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them ſwear by God, ſaying, Ye ſhall not give your daughters unto their ſons, nor take their daughters unto your ſons, or for yourſelves. Before CHRIST 434.

26 Did not Solomon king of Iſrael ſin by theſe things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Iſrael: nevertheleſs even him did outlandiſh women cauſe to ſin.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to tranſgreſs againſt our God in marrying ſtrange wives?

28 And one of the ſons of Joiada, the ſon of Eliaſhib the high prieſt, was ſon in law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chaſed him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, becauſe they have defiled the prieſthood, and the covenant of the prieſthood, and of the Levites.

30 Thus cleanſed I them from all ſtrangers, and appointed the wards of the prieſt and the Levites, every one in his buſineſs;

31 And for the wood offering, at times appointed, and for the firſtfruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

25 And curſed them.] He denounced God's judgments againſt them.

And plucked off their hair, &c.] Plucking off their hair, was putting them to ſhame, and making them appear like ſlaves.

28 I chaſed him from me.] He baniſhed him from Judea.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIII.

From the ſubſtance of this chapter, we may collect, that if magiſtrates employ their authority to ſuppreſs vice, promote piety, hinder the profanation of the ſabbath, unlawful marriages, and any thing contrary to the law of God and good order, God will remember them for good, and preſerve them in the evil day.

The Book of ESTHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

The ſubject of this book is the hiſtory of Eſther, a Jewiſh captive virgin, who, for her tranſcendent beauty, was advanced to the throne of Perſia, and by her intereſt with her royal huſband Ahaſuerus, (ſuppoſed to be the ſame with Artaxerxes) procured to her countrymen a wonderful deliverance from Haman's intended maſſacre. Some aſcribe this book to Ezra, others to Mordecai: but the more probable opinion is, that the great ſynagogue ordered it to be compoſed, and afterwards admitted it into the ſacred canon.

CHAP. I.

1 Ahaſuerus's royal feaſts. 10 Vaſhti refuſeth to come, when ſent for by the king. 13 The king conſulteth with his wiſe men concerning this act of diſobedience, and by the advice of Memucan putteth away Vaſhti, and aſſerteth by a decree the ſovereignty of men over their wives.

Before CHRIST 521. NOW it came to paſs in the days of Ahaſuerus (this is Ahaſuerus which reigned, from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces:)

2 That in thoſe days, when the king Ahaſuerus ſat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shuſhan the palace,

3 In the third year of his reign he made a feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants; the power of Perſia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before him:

4 When he ſhewed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honour of his excellent majeſty many days, even an hundred and fourſcore days.

5 And when theſe days were expired, the king made a feaſt unto all the people that were preſent in Shuſhan the palace, both unto great and ſmall, ſeven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace; Before CHRIST 521.

6 Where were white, green, and blue hangings, faſtened with cords of fine linen and purple to ſilver rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold and ſilver, upon a pavement of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

7 And they gave them drink in veſſels of gold, (the veſſels being diverſe one from another,) and royal wine in abundance, according to the ſtate of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law; none did compel: for ſo the king had appointed to all the officers of his houſe, that they ſhould do according to every man's pleaſure.

9 Alſo Vaſhti the queen made a feaſt for the women in the royal houſe which belonged to king Ahaſuerus.

10 ¶ On the ſeventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the ſeven chamberlains that ſerved in the preſence of Ahaſuerus the king,

11 To bring Vaſhti the queen before the king with the crown royal, to ſhew the people and princes her beauty: for ſhe was fair to look on.

12 But

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. I.

3 He made a feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, &c.] The occaſion of this is intimated in the foregoing verſe, where we read, "When the king Ahaſuerus ſat on the throne of his kingdom," i. e. enjoying peace and tranquility throughout his large dominions.

6 The beds were of gold and ſilver, &c.] The beds were of the ſofteſt wool, but the bedſteads were ſtudded or overlaid with gold and ſilver.

Before CHRIST 521.

12 But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

13 ¶ Then the king said to the wise men, which knew the times, (for so was the king's manner toward all that knew law and judgment:

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which saw the king's face, and which sat the first in the kingdom;)

15 What shall we do unto the queen Vashti according to law, because she hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahasuerus by the chamberlains?

16 And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their eyes, when it shall be reported, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 Likewise shall the ladies of Persia and Media say this day unto all the king's princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there go a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that it be not altered, That Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate unto another that is better than she.

20 And when the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his empire, (for it is great,) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour, both to great and small.

21 And the saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did according to the word of Memucan:

22 For he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and that it should be published according to the language of every people.

CHAP. II.

1 By advice of his servants Ahasuerus appointeth the fair virgins of his kingdom to be assembled in order to choose out a queen. 5 Esther brought up by Mordecai. 8 She is preferred by Hegai keeper of the women before all the other virgins, but by Mordecai's direction telleth not her kindred. 12 The manner of purification and going in unto the king. 15 Esther pleaseth him, and is made queen. 21 Mordecai discovereth a plot against the king's life, which service is registered in the chronicles of the kingdom.

513. AFTER these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for the king:

Before CHRIST 518.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custody of Hegai the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for purification be given them:

4 And let the maiden which pleaseth the king be queen instead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the king: and he did so.

5 ¶ Now in Shushan the palace there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite;

6 Who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

7 And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful; whom Mordecai, when her father and mother were dead, took for his own daughter.

8 ¶ So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was brought also unto the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with such things as belonged to her, and seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the king's house: and he preferred her and her maids unto the best place of the house of the women.

10 Esther had not shewed her people nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not shew it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 ¶ Now when every maid's turn was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women, (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women;) 515.

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king; whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the king's house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that she were called by name.

15 ¶ Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained

12 The queen Vashti refused to come, &c.] Which she might do out of modesty, not pride: had not the king been heated with wine, he might have thought it indecent for the queen, and unsafe for himself, to have her beauty exposed in this unusual manner.

16 Hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all, &c.] He declared it to be a crime of so dangerous a nature, that it would have a mischievous influence upon the whole kingdom, if not severely punished.

18 There shall arise too much contempt and wrath.] Contempt in the wives, and wrath in the husbands.

22 And that it should be published according to the language of every people.] In the Hebrew it is, And speak in the language of his people.

General Reflections on Chap. I.

We learn hence, and from the ensuing part of this history, that the Lord humbles and exalts whom he pleases, and raises up persons to protect and labour for the good of his church.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

2 Let there be fair young virgins, &c.] When they saw the king afflicted, and his former love for Vashti beginning to revive, they contrived by a new love to blot out the remembrance of the old.

7 He brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, &c.] This woman was a Jewess, but born in Babylon, and therefore, in analogy to that language, they gave her the name of Hadassah, which in Chaldee signifies a myrtle; but her Persian name was Esther.

10 Mordecai had charged her that she should not shew it.] Lest she should be despised, and looked upon no better than a slave.

12 Six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, &c.] These were used to make the skin smooth and soft, yield a fragrant smell, and (according to some) render the person amorous.

15 She required nothing, &c.] She was contented with her own natural beauty, and desired nothing of art or ornament to set her off.

16 Esther

Before CHRIST 515. obtained favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus into his houſe royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the ſeventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Eſther above all the women, and ſhe obtained grace and favour in his ſight more than all the virgins; ſo that he ſet the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen inſtead of Vaſhti.

514. 18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, even Eſther's feaſt; and he made a releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the ſtate of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the ſecond time, then Mordecai ſat in the king's gate.

20 Eſther had not yet ſhewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Eſther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when ſhe was brought up with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe days, while Mordecai ſat in the king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Tereſh, of thoſe which kept the door, were wroth, and ſought to lay hands on the king Ahaſuerus.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen; and Eſther certified the king thereof in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, advanced by the king, hath great reſpect paid him by all but Mordecai, on whoſe account he ſeeketh revenge upon the whole Jewiſh nation. 7 He caſteth lots to fix the time for executing his purpoſes. 8 By calumniating the Jews he obtaineth a commiſſion from the king to extirpate them.

510. AFTER theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the king's ſervants, that were in the king's gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman: for the king had ſo commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.

3 Then the king's ſervants, which were in the king's gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the king's commandment?

4 Now it came to paſs, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai's matters would ſtand: for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath. Before CHRIST 510.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 ¶ In the firſt month, that is, the month Niſan, in the twelfth year of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.

8 ¶ And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad and diſperſed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverſe from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to ſuffer them.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed: and I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver to the hands of thoſe that have the charge of the buſineſs, to bring it into the king's treaſuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſilver is given to thee, the people alſo, to do with them as it ſeemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the king's ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the king's provinces, to deſtroy, to kill, and to cauſe to periſh, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was publiſhed unto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt that day.

15 The poſts went out, being haſtened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shuſhan the palace. And the king and Haman ſat down to drink; but the city Shuſhan was perplexed.

CHAP. IV.

1 The great mourning of Mordecai and the Jews. 4 Eſther ſendeth to Mordecai to enquire the reaſon, is informed thereof,

---

16 Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus into his houſe royal, &c.] The king kept her in his own houſe. This monarch ſeems to have had but one wife (at leaſt but one whom he chiefly eſteemed), though a great number of ſecondary wives or concubines.

18 Eſther's feaſt; and he made a releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts, &c.] He remitted to ſome of the provinces the duties and impoſts they were bound to pay him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

In this chapter we ſee a marvellous work of divine Providence, in that the important ſervice of Mordecai ſhould be recorded in the public records, and matters ſo diſpoſed, that the diſcovery he had made ſhould prove the means of his preferment, and the deliverance of the Jews.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

1 After theſe things] About five years after, as appears from ver. 7. Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, &c.] He was deſcended from the royal race of the Amalekite kings.

2 Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.] The reaſon of this diſreſpect is ſuppoſed not to proceed from contumacy or pride; but becauſe he would not prefer the glory of man to the glory of God, nor pay undue homage to a creature.

4 To ſee whether Mordecai's matters would ſtand, &c.] Whether he would perſiſt in his diſreſpectful behaviour, and what would be the iſſue of it.

7 In the firſt month—they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman, &c.] Haman endeavoured to find what time in the year was moſt favourable to the Jews, and what moſt unlucky: and firſt, he enquired what month was moſt unfortunate, and found the month Adar, which was the laſt month in the year, anſwerable to our February; for there was no feſtival ſolemnity in this month, nor was it ſanctified by any peculiarities; and then he enquired the day, and found the thirteenth day was inauſpicious to them, ſee ver. 13.

9 And I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver, &c.] It was not his intention to advance this vaſt ſum himſelf, but to raiſe it out of the ſpoil of the goods belonging to the Jews.

15 The city Shuſhan was perplexed.] Beſides the Jews, many others in Shuſhan might be concerned at this horrid decree, either becauſe they were related to them, or engaged with them in worldly concerns, or perhaps out of mere humanity and compaſſion to ſo great a number of innocent people, now appointed as ſheep for the ſlaughter: they might apprehend likewiſe, that, upon the execution of the decree, ſome ſedition or tumult might enſue; that in ſo great a ſlaughter it was hard to tell who would eſcape without being killed or plundered, becauſe they who were employed in this bloody work would probably be more mindful to enrich themſelves, than to obſerve the orders given them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. III.

"Man's extremity is God's opportunity:" this ſaying is frequently verified in God's dealings with his people: he ſometimes ſuffers cruel princes to perſecute his church, and reduce the faithful almoſt to the brink of deſpair, in order that his power may appear more wonderful in their deliverance, and in the ruin of their oppreſſors.

thereof, and adviſed by him to intercede with the king for the nation. 10 She at firſt excuſeth herſelf, but being admoniſhed of the conſequences by Mordecai, 15 appointeth a faſt, and undertaketh the ſuit.

WHEN Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth with aſhes, and went out into the midſt of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry;

2 And came even before the king's gate: for none might enter into the king's gate clothed with ſackcloth.

3 And in every province, whitherſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and faſting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in ſackcloth and aſhes.

4 ¶ So Eſther's maids and her chamberlains came and told it her. Then was the queen exceedingly grieved; and ſhe ſent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Eſther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the ſtreet of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the ſum of the money that Haman had promiſed to pay to the king's treaſuries for the Jews, to deſtroy them.

8 Alſo he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given at Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew it unto Eſther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that ſhe ſhould go in unto the king, to make ſupplication unto him, and to make requeſt before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Eſther the words of Mordecai.

10 ¶ Again Eſther ſpake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the king's ſervants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except ſuch to whom the king ſhall hold out the golden ſceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king theſe thirty days.

12 And they told to Mordecai Eſther's words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to anſwer Eſther, Think not with thyſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the king's houſe, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdeſt thy peace at this time, then ſhall there enlargement and deliverance ariſe to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's houſe ſhall be deſtroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for ſuch a time as this?

15 ¶ Then Eſther bade them return Mordecai this anſwer, Before CHRIST 510.

16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are preſent in Shuſhan, and faſt ye for me, and neither eat or drink three days, night or day: I alſo and my maidens will faſt likewiſe; and ſo will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I periſh, I periſh.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Eſther had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Eſther, venturing to appear uncalled before the king in the inner court, is graciouſly received, and promiſed the grant of her requeſt: ſhe inviteth the king and Haman to a banquet. 6 Being encouraged by the king to name her ſuit, ſhe inviteth him and Haman to another banquet the next day. 9 Haman, though proud of the diſtinctions ſhewn him, repineth at and complaineth to his friends of Mordecai's neglect. 14 By the advice of his wife and friends he prepareth for him a gallows.

NOW it came to paſs on the third day, that Eſther put on her royal apparel, and ſtood in the inner court of the king's houſe, over againſt the king's houſe: and the king ſat upon his royal throne in the royal houſe, over againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And it was ſo, when the king ſaw Eſther the queen ſtanding in the court, that ſhe obtained favour in his ſight: and the king held out to Eſther the golden ſceptre that was in his hand. So Eſther drew near, and touched the top of the ſceptre.

3 Then ſaid the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Eſther? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall be even given thee to the half of the kingdom.

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it ſeem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king ſaid, Cauſe Haman to make haſte, that he may do as Eſther hath ſaid. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? even to the half of the kingdom it ſhall be performed.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſaid, My petition and my requeſt is;

8 If I have found favour in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to grant my petition, and to perform my requeſt, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow as the king hath ſaid.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day joyful and with a glad heart: but when Haman ſaw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he ſtood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation againſt Mordecai.

10 Nevertheleſs Haman refrained himſelf: and when he came home, he ſent and called for his friends, and Zereſh his wife.

11 And

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IV.

4 She ſent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth, &c.] That he might come to court, and take his place in the gate.

11 Whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, &c.] One reaſon for this law might be, that the great officers might engroſs the king to themſelves, by allowing admittance to none, but whom they ſhould think proper to introduce.

14 Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for ſuch a time as this?] He truſted that God would by ſome means or other ſave them from utter deſtruction; and intimated, that God had raiſed her up to the dignity ſhe was in, on purpoſe that ſhe might be the deliverer of her people.

16 Neither eat or drink three days, night or day.] By this injunction, is not to be underſtood a total abſtinence from food; but that they ſhould eat and drink no more than would ſuffice to ſuſtain nature, and ſupport them in prayer to God for a bleſſing upon her undertaking.

If I periſh, I periſh.] This is not a ſpeech of deſpondency, but of courage and reſolution; as if ſhe had ſaid, I am content to periſh in ſo good a cauſe.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IV.

This chapter teaches us, that nothing ſhould be dearer to us than the intereſt of the church; that in times of danger, we ſhould have recourſe to the Lord in prayer; that he can turn the hearts of men, even of kings, and deliver his people when they leaſt expect it; and that when the wicked ſeem to be more firmly rooted than ever, and to oppreſs good men without control, their ruin is then near at hand, and their crimes bring upon them ſudden deſtruction.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. V.

2 Eſther drew near, and touched the top of the ſceptre.] The queen's touching or kiſſing the ſceptre was a token of her ſubjection and thankfulneſs for his favour.

6 At the banquet of wine, &c.] At the concluſion of the entertainment; for they did not drink wine, but water, at the beginning of their feaſts.

8 Let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them, and I will, &c.] She thought it a piece of no bad policy to invite his firſt favourite to come along with him. The ſingular providence of God in the whole matter is not a little conſpicuous, which had ſo diſpoſed her mind, that the high honour which the king beſtowed upon Mordecai the next day might fall out in the mean time, and ſo make way for her petition, which would come in very ſeaſonably at the banquet of wine.

Before CHRIST 510.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and ſervants of the king.

12 Haman ſaid moreover, Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared but myſelf, and to morrow am I invited unto her alſo with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the king's gate.

14 ¶ Then ſaid Zereſh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to morrow ſpeak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleaſed Haman; and he cauſed the gallows to be made.

CHAP. VI.

1 Ahaſuerus, hearing read in the chronicles the good ſervice done by Mordecai, thinketh how to reward him. 4 Haman, coming to ſue that Mordecai might be hanged, becometh himſelf the inſtrument of doing him honour. 12 Complaining of his misfortune, his friends foretell him of his fall.

ON that night could not the king ſleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.

2 And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Tereſh, two of the king's chamberlains, the keepers of the door, who ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

3 And the king ſaid, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then ſaid the king's ſervants that miniſtered unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 ¶ And the king ſaid, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's houſe, to ſpeak unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

5 And the king's ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And the king ſaid, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in. And the king ſaid unto him, What ſhall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to myſelf?

7 And Haman anſwered the king, For the man whom the king delighteth to honour,

8 Let the royal apparel be brought which the king uſeth to wear, and the horſe that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is ſet upon his head: Before CHRIST 510.

9 And let this apparel and horſe be delivered to the hand of one of the king's moſt noble princes, that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and bring him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

10 Then the king ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, and take the apparel and the horſe, as thou haſt ſaid, and do even ſo to Mordecai the Jew, that ſitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparel and the horſe, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came again to the king's gate. But Haman haſted to his houſe mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zereſh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men and Zereſh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jews, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and haſted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

1 Eſther at the banquet maketh ſuit to the king for her own life, and for the life of her people. 5 Eſther accuſeth Haman. 7 The king in wrath, being told of the gallows prepared for Mordecai, cauſeth Haman to be hanged thereon.

SO the king and Haman came to banquet with Eſther the queen.

2 And the king ſaid again unto Eſther on the ſecond day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Eſther? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? and it ſhall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Eſther the queen anſwered and ſaid, If I have found favour in thy ſight, O king, and if it pleaſe the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt:

4 For we are ſold, I and my people, to be deſtroyed, to

---

12 Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared but myſelf, &c.] In the life of Artaxerxes, Plutarch tells us, that none but the king's mother and his real wife were permitted to ſit at his table: ſo that this particular favour was a matter that Haman had ſome reaſon to value himſelf upon.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew, &c.] Herein did the wife and powerful providence of God appear, that it diſpoſed Haman's heart, (contrary to his own inclination and intereſt) inſtead of employing his power againſt his enemy, to put fetters, as it were, upon his own hands.

14 Fifty cubits high, &c.] That men might at a great diſtance ſee him, to the increaſe of his diſgrace, (as Haman might think) and that, ſtruck with the greater terror at that ſpectacle, others might not dare for the future to deſpiſe him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. V.

From this chapter we learn, that "pride goeth before deſtruction, and a haughty ſpirit before a fall;" that while wicked men are plotting the deſtruction of their neighbours, God often counteracts and defeats their deſigns; and that nothing is more dangerous than the example of thoſe who have caſt off the fear of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

1 He commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles, &c.] God, in his wonderful providence, ſo ordered it that the king could not ſleep; but in the night-time called for the records of the kingdom, which were the diaries we now call journals, wherein was ſet down what paſſed every day; and the manner of the Perſians was, to record in them the names of the perſons who had done the king any ſignal ſervice.

2 It was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Tereſh, &c.] By a ſingular Providence, the ſecretary read in that very part of the book wherein the ſervice of Mordecai was entered.

4 Now Haman was come, &c.] This was another part of God's Providence, to bring him ſo ſoon to court when the king was thus diſpoſed.

8 Let the royal apparel be brought which the king uſeth to wear.] It ſhould rather be tranſlated, The royal robe; an external garment, or ſtole, coming down to his feet, which none wore but the king himſelf.

And the crown royal, &c.] Some are of opinion, that the word which we render "crown" has various ſignifications, and will equally denote that ornament which the horſe the king rode on wore on his head.

13 Thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.] They had obſerved, it is likely, how the Jews had been wonderfully raiſed from under great oppreſſions ſince the time of Cyrus; and thence concluded, that a particular Providence took care of them.

14 And haſted to bring Haman unto the banquet, &c.] Haman perhaps, hearing that theſe things boded ill to him, might be ſtudying how to provide for his ſafety, which made him ſtay longer than he ſhould have done, before he waited on the king at the feaſt.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VI.

Let us hence admire the ways of Providence, who diſcovers and brings to nought the plots formed againſt his people, and makes the very means contrived by their enemies for their deſtruction the inſtruments of their exaltation, and the confuſion of the wicked.

Before CHRIST 510. to be ſlain, and to periſh. But if we had been ſold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.

5 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus anſwered and ſaid unto Eſther the queen, Who is he, and where is he, that durſt preſume in his heart to do ſo?

6 And Eſther ſaid, The adverſary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.

7 ¶ And the king ariſing from the banquet of wine in his wrath went into the palace garden: and Haman ſtood up to make requeſt for his life to Eſther the queen; for he ſaw that there was evil determined againſt him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Eſther was. Then ſaid the king, Will he force the queen alſo before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

9 And Harbonah, one of the chamberlains, ſaid before the king, Behold alſo, the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had ſpoken good for the king, ſtandeth in the houſe of Haman. Then the king ſaid, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Eſther having made known Mordecai's nearneſs of kin unto her, he is advanced in Haman's room. 3 Eſther with her tears maketh ſuit for the reverſal of the letters gone forth againſt the Jews. 7 The king granteth authority to the Jews to ſtand upon their defence, and letters are iſſued out accordingly. 15 Mordecai's honours, and the joy of the Jews.

ON that day did the king Ahaſuerus give the houſe of Haman the Jews' enemy unto Eſther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king; for Eſther had told what he was unto her.

2 And the king took off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Eſther ſet Mordecai over the houſe of Haman.

3 ¶ And Eſther ſpake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and beſought him with tears to put away the miſchief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had deviſed againſt the Jews.

4 Then the king held out the golden ſceptre toward Eſther. So Eſther aroſe, and ſtood before the king.

5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the king, and if I have found favour in his ſight, and the thing ſeem right before the king, and I be pleaſing in his eyes, let it be written to reverſe the letters deviſed by Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to deſtroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces: Before CHRIST 510.

6 For how can I endure to ſee the evil that ſhall come unto my people? or how can I endure to ſee the deſtruction of my kindred?

7 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus ſaid unto Eſther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Eſther the houſe of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, becauſe he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye alſo for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and ſeal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and ſealed with the king's ring, may no man reverſe.

9 Then were the king's ſcribes called at that time in the third month, that is, the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and ſeven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahaſuerus' name, and ſealed it with the king's ring, and ſent letters by poſt on horſeback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries:

11 Wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city to gather themſelves together, and to ſtand for their life, to deſtroy, to ſlay, and to cauſe to periſh, all the power of the people and province that would aſſault them, both little ones and women, and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey,

12 Upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahaſuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was publiſhed unto all people, and that the Jews ſhould be ready againſt that day to avenge themſelves on their enemies.

14 So the poſts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being haſtened and preſſed on by the king's commandment. And the decree was given at Shuſhan the palace.

15 ¶ And Mordecai went out from the preſence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shuſhan rejoiced and was glad.

16 The Jews had light, and gladneſs, and joy, and honour.

17 And in every province, and in every city, whitherſoever

If we had been ſold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my tongue, &c.] For that might have turned to the king's profit, and they might at one time or other have recovered their liberty.

7 Went into the palace garden, &c.] Partly as diſdaining the company of ſo diſgraceful and audacious a perſon; partly to cool and allay his ſpirit, boiling and ſtruggling into ſuch a variety of paſſions; and partly to conſider within himſelf the heinouſneſs of Haman's crime, the miſchief which himſelf had like to have done by his own raſhneſs, and what puniſhment was fit to be inflicted on ſo vile a miſcreant.

8 Then ſaid the king, Will he force the queen alſo] When Haman fell down as a ſupplicant at the feet of Eſther, and embraced her knees, the king might pretend that he was offering violence to her chaſtity; not that he believed this was his intention, but in his furious paſſion he turned every thing to the worſt ſenſe, and made uſe of it to aggravate his crime.

They covered Haman's face.] That he might not ſee the face of the king any more: or rather, as a man condemned, this told him his doom. It is likely the king, ſeeing him in that poſture, made a ſign what they ſhould do with him, which was immediately performed.

10 They hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai, &c.] It has been very juſtly remarked, that in this wonderful deliverance of the Jewiſh nation, there was no extraordinary manifeſtation of God's power, no particular cauſe or agent, that was in its working advanced above the ordinary pitch of nature; and yet the contrivance of ſuiting of theſe ordinary agents, appointed by God, is more admirable than if the ſame had been effected by means truly miraculous.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VII.

We hence ſee the vanity of human greatneſs, and how God confounds and puniſhes the proud; and, above all, the cataſtrophe of Haman ſhews very plainly, that God cauſes to fall upon the wicked the evil they had prepared for others.

Before CHRIST 509. therſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladneſs, a feaſt and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The Jews, aſſiſted by the rulers through fear of Mordecai's power, ſlay their enemies, and the ten ſons of Haman among the reſt. 12 Ahaſuerus at the requeſt of Eſther granteth to the Jews at Shuſhan another day of ſlaughter, and cauſeth Haman's ſons to be hanged. 20 The two days of Purim are made anniverſary feſtivals in commemoration of this deliverance.

NOW in the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, (though it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them;)

2 The Jews gathered themſelves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt: and no man could withſtand them; for the fear of them fell upon all the people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews; becauſe the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the king's houſe, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews ſmote all their enemies with the ſtroke of the ſword, and ſlaughter, and deſtruction, and did what they would unto thoſe that hated them.

6 And in Shuſhan the palace the Jews ſlew and deſtroyed five hundred men.

7 And Parſhandatha, and Dalphon, and Aſpatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmaſhta, and Ariſai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha.

10 The ten ſons of Haman the ſon of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, ſlew they; but on the ſpoil laid they not their hand.

11 On that day the number of thoſe that were ſlain in Shuſhan the palace was brought before the king.

12 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther the queen, The Jews have ſlain and deſtroyed five hundred men in Shuſhan the palace, and the ten ſons of Haman; what have they done in the reſt of the king's provinces? now what is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: or what is thy requeſt further? and it ſhall be done.

13 Then ſaid Eſther, If it pleaſe the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shuſhan to do to morrow alſo according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten ſons be hanged upon the gallows.

14 And the king commanded it ſo to be done: and the decree was given at Shuſhan; and they hanged Haman's ten ſons.

15 For the Jews that were in Shuſhan gathered themſelves together on the fourteenth day alſo of the month Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Shuſhan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themſelves together, and ſtood for their lives, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their foes ſeventy and five thouſand, but they laid not their hands on the prey. Before CHRIST 509.

17 On the thirteenth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of the ſame reſted they, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

18 But the Jews that were at Shuſhan aſſembled togetheron the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladneſs and feaſting, and a good day, and of ſending portions one to another.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote theſe things, and ſent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, both nigh and far,

21 To ſtabliſh this among them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame, yearly,

22 As the days wherein the Jews reſted from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from ſorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they ſhould make them days of feaſting and joy, and of ſending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them;

24 Becauſe Haman the ſon of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had deviſed againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and had caſt Pur, that is, the lot, to conſume them, and to deſtroy them;

25 But when Eſther came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he deviſed againſt the Jews, ſhould return upon his own head, and that he and his ſons ſhould be hanged on the gallows.

26 Wherefore they called theſe days Purim after the name of Pur. Therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had ſeen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them,

27 The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their ſeed, and upon all ſuch as joined themſelves unto them, ſo as it ſhould not fail, that they would keep theſe two days according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year;

28 And that theſe days ſhould be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that theſe days of Purim ſhould not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them periſh from their ſeed.

29 Then Eſther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority, to confirm this ſecond letter of Purim.

30 And he ſent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and ſeven provinces of the kingdom of Ahaſuerus, with words of peace and truth,

31 To confirm theſe days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew and Eſther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had decreed for themſelves and for their ſeed, the matters of the faſtings and their cry.

32 And

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. VIII.

From the concluſion of this hiſtory, we may gather, that God, after having ſuffered the righteous to be afflicted, grants them eaſe: "He raiſes the poor out of the duſt, and ſets them among princes." Theſe are powerful motives for us to truſt in God, and live in his fear, then ſhall we always ſhare in his protection.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON Chap. IX.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. IX.

It is here to be noted, that the Jews acted juſtly in deſtroying their enemies, as it was done in their own defence and by leave of the king. We muſt alſo attend to the certainty of the hiſtory, and of this wonderful deliverance of God's people, from the hand of their enemies.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1 Laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea.] He laid a new tax on all his provinces, upon the continent, and upon the iſles of the ſea belonging to his dominions.

3 And ſpeaking peace to all his ſeed.] Adviſing and promoting whatſoever was for their advantage, and ſpeaking ſtill to the king, for that which might tend to the happineſs and proſperity of his nation, which he advanced to the utmoſt of his power.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

The whole conduct of Mordecai and Eſther affords a leſſon to great men, to employ their authority for the good of religion: this ſhould alſo be obſerved and practiſed by every one to the utmoſt of his power, in any ſtate or condition, looking to God for a bleſſing and diſcretion therein.

The Book of JOB.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book contains a narrative of a ſeries of calamities, the moſt extraordinary perhaps that ever happened to any man, yet ſupported with a ſpirit of patience and reſignation, truly glorious and heroical: it is a moſt admirable poem, part of it allegorical, where the grand enemy of mankind appears before the Lord; the reſt is to be taken in a literal ſenſe. That Job was a real perſon, and not a fictitious character, and that this ſtory is a matter of fact, and not a parabolical repreſentation, is manifeſt from all thoſe places of ſcripture where mention is made of him; and therefore, when in the Old Teſtament we find him in company with Noah and Daniel, and equally diſtinguiſhed for his righteouſneſs, and when in the New he is commended for his patience, we cannot well ſuppoſe that the ſpirit of God, in both theſe places, intended to delude us with a phantom, inſtead of preſenting us with a true hiſtory of a real man.

CHAP. I.

1 The holineſs, riches, and religious care of Job for his children. 6 Satan appearing before God, obtaineth leave to tempt him.

Before CHRIST 1520. THERE was a man in the land of Uz, whoſe name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eſchewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him ſeven ſons and three daughters.

3 His ſubſtance alſo was ſeven thouſand ſheep, and three thouſand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred ſhe aſſes, and a very great houſhold; ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the men of the eaſt.

4 And his ſons went and feaſted in their houſes, every one his day; and ſent and called for their three ſiſters to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was ſo, when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job ſaid, It may be that my ſons have ſinned and curſed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 ¶ Now there was a day when the ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the LORD, and Satan came alſo among them. Before CHRIST 1520.

7 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Whence comeſt thou? Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil?

9 Then Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10 Haſt not thou made an hedge about him, and about his houſe, and about all that he hath on every ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the work of his hands, and his ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

12 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power; only upon himſelf put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the preſence of the LORD.

13 And there was a day when his ſons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brother's houſe:

14 And there came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away; yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The Chaldeans made out three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house:

19 And, behold, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground and worshipped,

21 And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away: blessed be the name of the LORD.

22 In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly.

CHAP. II.

1 Satan appearing again before God, obtaineth farther leave to tempt Job. 7 He smiteth him with sore boils. 9 Job reproved by his wife, moving him to curse God.

AGAIN there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD.

2 And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eschewth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, to destroy him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. Before CHRIST 1520.

5 But put forth thine hand now and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face.

6 And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; but save his life.

7 ¶ So went Satan forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself withal; and he sat down among the ashes.

9 ¶ Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integrity? curse God, and die.

10 But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh. What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips.

11 ¶ Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him and to comfort him.

12 And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled dust upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his grief was very great.

CHAP. III.

1 Job curseth the day and services of his birth. 13 The ease of death.

AFTER this opened Job his month, and cursed his day.

2 And Job spake, and said,

3 Let the day perish wherein I was born, and the night in which it was said, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkness; let not God regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it.

5 Let darkness and the shadow of death stain it: let a cloud dwell upon it; let the blackness of the day terrify it.

6 As for that night let darkness seize upon it; let it not be joined unto the days of the year, let it not come into the number of the months.

7 Lo, let that night be solitary, let no joyful voice come therein.

15 The Sabeans, &c.] The original word here signifies, a band of robbers; and so the Septuagint render it.

21 Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither, &c.] This sentiment of holy Job is as pious as it is just, and imports thus much: I am but what I was at first, and what I must have been at last: he hath stript me of all before I die, hath taken away nothing but what he gave: praise therefore be given to him who is the donor of all good things, and the disposer of all events.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. I.

The following instructions may be derived from this chapter, namely, that God sometimes exposes those he loves to great afflictions, to try their faith, patience, and piety; but neither men nor devils can hurt them, any farther than as God permits; and that the children of God should bless him as well in adversity as in prosperity, seeing that he both gives and takes away; nor doth he willingly afflict or grieve the children of men, but for their profit, and his own glory.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. II.

4 Skin for skin, &c.] The expression of "Skin for skin," is taken from trade, and the exchanges that were made in those days; and the meaning is, there may be some proportion in bargains, releases, and exchanges of other things, but for his life a man will give all.

6 Behold, he is in thine hand, but save his life.] Thus Satan can go no farther in punishing, than God permits him.

7 And smote Job with sore boils, &c.] Their opinion seems to be best founded, who make this distemper not one simple malady, but a complication of many, for since the great enemy of mankind had a full licence to try to the uttermost the patience of Job (saving his life) it is not to be questioned but that he exerted all his power, by afflicting his body with diseases and worrying his mind with gloomy thoughts, and suggesting horrid and ghastly ideas to his imagination, to drive him to melancholy and despair.

9 Curse God and die.] From the sharp reply which Job makes in the following verse, it is plain, that though the word rendered "curse" also signifies bless, she did not use it in the more favourable sense.

11 Eliphaz the Temanite, &c.] He was the grandson of Esau, and son of Teman, who dwelt in a city of the same name in Idumæa, not far from the confines of Arabia Deserta.

Bildad the Shuhite.] He was descended from Shuah, the son of Abraham and Keturah.

Zophar the Naamathite.] He is supposed to be descended from Esau.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. II.

The wonderful patience of Job, and his submission to the will of God under his heavy trial, is an example for our imitation in every time of distress and temptation; and with respect to our suffering brethren, we should mourn with those that mourn, and visit and comfort the afflicted.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. III.

1 After this opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day.] Overcharged with grief, and without the least word of comfort from his friends, and having for some time borne the weight of his affliction with an admirable constancy, Job could not contain himself any longer, but bursts out (to such a degree was the anguish of his spirit increased) into the most passionate complaints of the miseries of human life.

5 The shadow of death, &c.] That is, a destructive or deadly shadow.

8 Let them curſe it that curſe the day, who are ready to raiſe up their mourning.

9 Let the ſtars of the twilight thereof be dark; let it look for light, but have none; neither let it ſee the dawning of the day:

10 Becauſe it ſhut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid ſorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why died I not from the womb? why did I not give up the ghoſt when I came out of the belly?

12 Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breaſts that I ſhould ſuck?

13 For now ſhould I have lain ſtill and been quiet, I ſhould have ſlept: then had I been at reſt,

14 With kings and counſellors of the earth, which built deſolate places for themſelves;

15 Or with princes that had gold, who filled their houſes with ſilver:

16 Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been; as infants which never ſaw light.

17 There the wicked ceaſe from troubling, and there the weary be at reſt.

18 There the priſoners reſt together; they hear not the voice of the oppreſſor.

19 The ſmall and great are there; and the ſervant is free from his maſter.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in miſery, and life unto the bitter in ſoul;

21 Which long for death, but it cometh not; and dig for it more than for hid treaſures;

22 Which rejoice exceedingly, and are glad, when they can find the grave?

23 Why is light given to a man whoſe way is hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my ſighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.

25 For the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of is come unto me.

26 I was not in ſafety, neither had I reſt, neither was I quiet; yet trouble came.

CHAP. IV.

Eliphaz reproveth Job for want of religion. 7 He teacheth God's judgments to be not for the righteous, but for the wicked. 12 His fearful viſion, to humble the excellencies of creatures before God.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered and ſaid,

2 If we aſſay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold himſelf from ſpeaking?

3 Behold, thou haſt inſtructed many, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the weak hands.

4 Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the feeble knees. Before CHRIST 1520.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou fainteſt; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, thy hope and the uprightneſs of thy ways?

7 Remember, I pray thee, who ever periſhed, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off?

8 Even as I have ſeen, they that plow iniquity, and ſow wickedneſs, reap the ſame.

9 By the blaſt of God they periſh, and by the breath of his noſtrils are they conſumed.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken.

11 The old lion periſheth for lack of prey, and the ſtout lion's whelps are ſcattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was ſecretly brought to me, and mine ear received a little thereof.

13 In thoughts from the viſions of the night, when deep ſleep falleth on men,

14 Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to ſhake.

15 Then a ſpirit paſſed before my face; the hair of my fleſh ſtood up:

16 It ſtood ſtill, but I could not diſcern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, there was ſilence, and I heard a voice, ſaying,

17 Shall mortal man be more juſt than God? ſhall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he put no truſt in his ſervants; and his angels he charged with folly:

19 How much leſs in them that dwell in houſes of clay, whoſe foundation is in the duſt, which are cruſhed before the moth?

20 They are deſtroyed from morning to evening: they periſh for ever without any regarding it.

21 Doth not their excellency which is in them go away? they die even without wiſdom.

The harm of inconſideration. 3 The end of the wicked is miſery. 6 God is to be regarded in affliction. 17 The happy end of God's correction.

CALL now, if there be any that will anſwer thee; and to which of the ſaints wilt thou turn?

8 Who are ready to raiſe up their mourning.] The margin and vulgate read, To raiſe up Leviathan; the LXX. A great whale: ſome interpret it, To rouſe a lion. Deodatus underſtands it of thoſe hired mourners who uſe tragical forms of mourning at funerals.

14 Which built deſolate places, &c.] Who lie alone in the tombs which they built themſelves.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in miſery, &c.] Is it not ſtrange that man ſhould be forced to live, when he hath no mind to it? This was an unbecoming expreſſion.

23 Whoſe way is hid, &c.] Who ſeeth no remedy for his evils, nor means of extricating himſelf.

26 I was not in ſafety, &c.] I did not confide in my riches, nor in the leaſt lull myſelf in ſecurity, and yet that did not preſerve me from being miſerable.

General Reflections on Chap. III.

The complaints uttered by Job argue his weakneſs; and ſhould caution us to beware that the infirmity of the fleſh does not drive us into impatience and murmurings! ever remembering, that God does not puniſh us ſo much as our ſins deſerve; let us therefore kiſs the rod, bear our croſs with patience, and implore God's grace to ſuffer and do his will till he is pleaſed to put a period to our afflictions.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. IV.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, &c.] Eliphaz very ſharply rebukes him for not following the good advice which he uſed to give to others in their adverſity, adding, that he had reaſon to ſuſpect his piety, becauſe the innocent (he miſtakingly ſuppoſed) were not wont to ſuffer ſo ſeverely; but, on the contrary, God always humbled wicked oppreſſors.

6 Is not this thy fear, &c.] Is not this thy time to exerciſe thy piety and confidence in God, thy hope and integrity, for which it is ſaid thou art ſo remarkable.

11 The old lion periſheth for lack, &c.] The greateſt tyrants and their poſterity, after long enjoying dominion, are deprived at laſt of the riches they have acquired by oppreſſion, and driven from their ſeats of power.

13 In thoughts from the viſions of the night, when deep ſleep falleth upon men.] We have in this and the three following verſes, one of the moſt awful and affecting deſcriptions that language is capable of giving; it is a night piece, dreſſed in all the circumſtances of the deepeſt horror, and cannot be read without awakening emotions of awe and terror.

16 I could not diſcern the form thereof, &c.] He was not able to diſcern what it was like.

19 Which are cruſhed before the moth.] They are ſo frail, that even a moth flying againſt them may daſh them to pieces.

General Reflections on Chap. IV.

Eliphaz was to blame in condemning Job, as though he was a greater ſinner than others; for God often afflicts moſt thoſe whom he loves beſt; afflictions are no proof of ſuperlative wickedneſs or hypocriſy. God is perfectly righteous in all he does: man therefore ſhould humbly acknowledge that he is a weak and corrupt creature before him.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. V.

1 Call now if there be any that will anſwer thee, &c.] If thou doſt not believe me thou mayeſt enquire of others. Eliphaz endeavours to confirm the opinion and obſervation of other men, as well as his own; namely, that the anger of God falls only on the head of the wicked.

3 I curſed his habitation.] I predicted his downfall.

8 I would ſeek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cauſe:
9 Which doeth great things and unſearchable; marvellous things without number:
10 Who giveth rain upon the earth, and ſendeth waters upon the fields:

22 At deſtruction and famine thou ſhalt laugh: neither ſhalt thou be afraid of the beaſts of the earth.
23 For thou ſhalt be in league with the ſtones of the field: and the beaſts of the field ſhall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou ſhalt know that thy tabernacle ſhall be in peace; and thou ſhalt viſit thy habitation, and ſhall not ſin.
25 Thou ſhalt know alſo that thy ſeed ſhall be great, and thine offspring as the graſs of the earth.

CHAP. VI.

1 Job ſheweth that his complaints are not cauſeleſs: he wiſheth for death, wherein he is aſſured of comfort: 14 he reproveth his friends of unkindneſs.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid,
2 O that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together!
3 For now it would be heavier than the ſand of the ſea: therefore my words are ſwallowed up.
4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poiſon whereof drinketh up my ſpirit: the terrors of God do ſet themſelves in array againſt me.
5 Doth the wild aſs bray when he hath graſs? or loweth the ox over his fodder?
6 Can that which is unſavoury be eaten without ſalt? or is there any taſte in the white of an egg?
7 The things that my ſoul refuſed to touch are as my ſorrowful meat.
8 O that I might have my requeſt; and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
9 Even that it would pleaſe God to deſtroy me; that he would let looſe his hand, and cut me off!
10 Then ſhould I yet have comfort; yea, I would harden myſelf in ſorrow: let him not ſpare; for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.
11 What is my ſtrength, that I ſhould hope? and what is mine end, that I ſhould prolong my life?
12 Is my ſtrength the ſtrength of ſtones? or is my fleſh of braſs?
13 Is not my help in me? and his wiſdom driven quite from me?
14 To him that is afflicted pity ſhould be ſhewed from his friend; but he forſaketh the fear of the Almighty.
15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the ſtream of brooks they paſs away;
16 Which are blackiſh by reaſon of the ice, and wherein the ſnow is hid:
17 What time they wax warm, they vaniſh: when it is hot, they are conſumed out of their place.
18 The paths of their way are turned aſide; they go to nothing, and periſh.
19 The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.
20 They were confounded becauſe they had hoped; they came thither, and were aſhamed.
21 For now ye are nothing; ye ſee my caſting down, and are afraid.
22 Did I ſay, Bring unto me? or, Give a reward for me of your ſubſtance?
23 Or, Deliver me from the enemy's hand? or, Redeem me from the hand of the mighty?
24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cauſe me to underſtand wherein I have erred.
25 How forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?
26 Do ye imagine to reprove words, and the ſpeeches of one that is deſperate, which are as wind?
27 Yea, ye overwhelm the fatherleſs, and ye dig a pit for your friend.

4 They are cruſhed in the gate, &c.] In courts of judicature, and common aſſemblies, they are eſteemed as infamous perſons, and unworthy of enjoying public benefits.

14 They meet with darkneſs in the daytime, &c.] They ſtumble in the plaineſt way, and ſee not their danger, though viſible to every one but themſelves.

19 In ſeven, &c.] This is, in the ſeventh: Thy troubles cannot be ſo numerous, but if thou ſubmiſſively acceptеſt them, he will deliver thee from them.

23 Thou ſhalt be in league with the ſtones of the field, &c.] When thou art in peace and favour with God, no creatures, animate or inanimate, ſhall hurt thee.

26 As a ſhock of corn cometh in his ſeaſon.] Thou ſhalt be carried to the grave as corn is to the barn, when it is full ripe, and fit to be gathered.

27 We have ſearched it, ſo it is, &c.] We have thoroughly conſidered it, and find it ſo.

General Reflections on Chap. V.

In this chapter we are taught, that God diſpenſes all events, and eſpecially all that happens to men, with perfect righteouſneſs, and great goodneſs; inſomuch that, ſooner or later, the wicked are confounded, and the righteous delivered.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VI.

1 Job anſwered and ſaid.] Job renews his wiſhes for death, and upbraids his friends with their unkindneſs, reproaches, and bitter reproofs.

2 O that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together!] O that ſome more equal perſon than yourſelf would weigh my complaints and ſufferings againſt each other in the balance of equity, and faithfully determine which of them preponderate!

3 My words are ſwallowed up.] He wanted words to expreſs his grief.

5 Doth the wild aſs bray when he hath graſs? &c.] Do you think that I complain without cauſe?

6 Can that which is unſavoury be eaten without ſalt? &c.] If it is uſual to ſeaſon things that are inſipid, how much more then may we call for ſomething to qualify the bitterneſs of affliction?

17 What time they wax warm, they vaniſh: when it is hot, they are conſumed out of their place.] The LXX. read, As ſnow or ice, when frozen, is firm; but as that, when the heat comes, melts, and it is not known where it was; ſo am I forſaken of all, I am undone, without houſe or home.

19 The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba, &c.] They that travelled into the neighbouring countries expected to quench their thirſt there, where they had before ſeen ſo much water.

CHAP. VII.

1 Job excuſeth his deſire of death. 12 He complaineth of his own reſtleſſneſs, and God's watchfulneſs.

IS there not an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days alſo like the days of an hireling?

2 As a ſervant earneſtly deſireth the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:

3 So am I made to poſſeſs months of vanity, and weariſome nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I ſay, When ſhall I ariſe, and the night be gone? and I am full of toſſings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh is clothed with worms and clods of duſt; my ſkin is broken, and become loathſome.

6 My days are ſwifter than a weaver's ſhuttle, and are ſpent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is wind: mine eye ſhall no more ſee good.

8 The eye of him that hath ſeen me ſhall ſee me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I am not.

9 As the cloud is conſumed and vaniſheth away: ſo he that goeth down to the grave ſhall come up no more.

10 He ſhall return no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth; I will ſpeak in the anguiſh of my ſpirit; I will complain in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

12 Am I ſea, or a whale, that thou ſetteſt a watch over me?

13 When I ſay, My bed ſhall comfort me, my couch ſhall eaſe my complaint;

14 Then thou ſcareſt me with dreams, and terrifieſt me through viſions:

15 So that my ſoul chooſeth ſtrangling, and death rather than my life.

16 I loath it; I would not live alway: let me alone; for my days are vanity.

17 What is man, that thou ſhouldeſt magnify him? and that thou ſhouldeſt ſet thine heart upon him?

18 And that thou ſhouldeſt viſit him every morning, and try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I ſwallow down my ſpittle?

20 I have ſinned; what ſhall I do unto thee, O thou preſerver of men? why haſt thou ſet me as a mark againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden to myſelf?

Before CHRIST 1520.

21 And why doſt thou not pardon my tranſgreſſion, and take away mine iniquity? for now ſhall I ſleep in the duſt; and thou ſhalt ſeek me in the morning, but I ſhall not be.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad ſheweth God's juſtice in dealing with men according to their works. 8 He alledgeth antiquity to prove the certain deſtruction of the hypocrite. 20 He applieth God's juſt dealing to Job.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou ſpeak theſe things? and how long ſhall the words of thy mouth be like a ſtrong wind?

3 Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty pervert juſtice?

4 If thy children have ſinned againſt him, and he have caſt them away for their tranſgreſſion;

5 If thou wouldeſt ſeek unto God betimes, and make thy ſupplication to the Almighty;

6 If thou wert pure and upright; ſurely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteouſneſs proſperous.

7 Though thy beginning was ſmall, yet thy latter end ſhould greatly increaſe.

8 For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyſelf to the ſearch of their fathers:

9 (For we are but of yeſterday, and know nothing, becauſe our days upon earth are a ſhadow:)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?

11 Can theruſh grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?

12 Whilſt it is yet in his greenneſs, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope ſhall periſh:

14 Whoſe hope ſhall be cut off, and whoſe truſt ſhall be a ſpider's web.

15 He ſhall lean upon his houſe, but it ſhall not ſtand: he ſhall hold it faſt, but it ſhall not endure.

16 He is green before the ſun, and his branch ſhooteth forth in his garden.

17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and ſeeth the place of ſtones.

18 If he deſtroy him from his place, then it ſhall deny him, ſaying, I have not ſeen thee.

19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth ſhall others grow.

20 Behold,

30 Cannot my taſte diſcern perverſe things?] I do not think my judgment is ſo corrupted, but that I can diſcern what is bad, though ſpoken by myſelf.

General Reflections on Chap. VI.

The deſcription Job here gives of his misfortunes, ſhews, that the moſt pious, when overwhelmed with evil, may alſo become impatient: we have therefore need to pray for patience. And whereas Eliphaz, inſtead of ſympathizing with and comforting Job, increaſed his grief by uncharitable diſcourſes or judgments; let us act contrariwiſe, and rather treat the afflicted with gentleneſs, endeavour to alleviate their evils, and comfort them by all the means in our power.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VII.

1 Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? &c.] All labours, puniſhments, and ſervices in this world, have their ends and releaſements; ſlaves labouring in the field hope for reſt at night, and mercenaries look for their hire: but I, after I have faithfully ſerved, have no other recompence but extreme torments, and no releaſe from them.

7 O remember that my life is wind, &c.] Finding his friends had no little conſideration of him, Job here addreſſes himſelf to God, repreſenting the wretchedneſs of his condition, and expoſtulating with him concerning the continuance of it, and his releaſe from it.

12 Am I—a whale, &c.] Am I a monſter, that thou ſetteſt, &c.

19 Let me alone till I ſwallow down my ſpittle.] At leaſt for ſo ſhort a ſpace as to give me leave to breathe.

20 What ſhall I do unto thee, &c.] What ſatisfaction ſhall I make thee?

General Reflections on Chap. VII.

We are ſhewn, in this chapter, the vanity and ſhortneſs of life, and the miſery of man; that though God diſpenſes afflictions to us, he does all in goodneſs and wiſdom; he ſends evils upon us, to make us ſenſible of the vanity of the world, and to wean us from it. It is therefore our duty to ſubmit to the will of God; to acknowledge our nothingneſs and our ſins; to intreat him to pity our weakneſs, and pardon our ſins; and give us more grace in time to come.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. VIII.

1 Then anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, &c.] Bildad diſcovers the ſame principles as Eliphaz had done: for though he gives him good counſel, yet he ſtill purſues it, as the ſenſe of all antiquity, that God ever proſpers the juſt, and roots out the wicked, how flouriſhing ſoever they may be for a ſeaſon.

2, 3 How long, &c.] Why doſt thou perſiſt in ſuch unjuſt aſſertions, and expoſtulate ſo vehemently againſt thy Maker? Canſt thou think the ſupreme Judge of all the earth will ſwerve from the rules of equity?

10 Shall not they teach thee, &c.] Shall not the hiſtories of former ages inſtruct thee, and experience juſtify the truth of my words?

15 He ſhall lean upon his houſe, &c.] He may boaſt of and depend upon the greatneſs and power of his family, but it ſhall fall as well as himſelf.

17, 18 His roots are wrapped, &c.] His roots have wreathed themſelves thick about the earth, and his head lifts up itſelf above the higheſt edifices. But when God plucks him up by the roots, there ſhall remain no more remembrance that ſuch a man ever lived in that place.

20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil doers:

21 Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoicing.

22 They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame; and the dwelling place of the wicked shall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.

1 Job acknowledging God's justice, sheweth there is no contending with him. 22 Man's innocency is not to be condemned by afflictions.

THEN Job answered and said,

2 I know it is so of a truth: but how should man be just with God?

3 If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered?

5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.

6 Which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.

7 Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not; and sealeth up the stars.

8 Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea.

9 Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.

10 Which doeth great things past finding out; yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.

12 Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? who will say unto him, What doest thou?

13 If God will not withdraw his anger, the proud helpers do stoop under him.

14 How much less shall I answer him, and choose out my words to reason with him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge.

16 If I had called, and he had answered me; yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice.

17 For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

19 If I speak of strength, lo, he is strong: and if of judgment, who shall set me a time to plead?

20 If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: If I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.

21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life. Before CHRIST 1520.

22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof; if not, where, and who is he?

25 Now my days are swifter than a post: they flee away, they see no good.

26 They are passed away as the swift ships: as the eagle that hasteth to the prey.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heaviness, and comfort myself:

28 I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?

30 If I wash myself with snow water, and make my hands never so clean;

31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall abhor me.

32 For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment.

33 Neither is there any daysman betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me:

35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; but it is not so with me.

CHAP. X.

1 Job taking liberty of complaint, expostulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little ease before death.

MY soul is weary of my life; I will leave my complaint upon myself; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.

2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me; shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Is it good unto thee that thou shouldest oppress, that thou shouldest despise the work of thine hands, and shine upon the counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou eyes of flesh? or seest thou as man seeth?

5 Are thy days as the days of man? are thy years as man's days,

6 That thou enquirest after mine iniquity, and searchest after my sin?

7 Thou knowest that I am not wicked; and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me

General Reflections on Chap. VIII.

Though what Bildad says in this chapter be true in general; yet he erroneously concluded, that Job was not acceptable to God, because he was in adversity; since, as we have before remarked, God often exposes good people to very great evils, for the exercise of their faith and dependence upon him, and that their resignation to the divine will may be an example to others; but we should also consider, that God dispenses heavy afflictions to his own people, that he may do them good in their latter end, and that they may not be condemned with the ungodly, who will be shut out from his presence for ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. IX.

1 Then Job answered and said.] Job allows the force of Bildad's arguments in the beginning of his speech; and very piously adores the justice, wisdom, and sovereignty of the Almighty; but withal maintains, that the being truly religious will not secure us from all calamities, and that afflictions do not always fall upon those who seem most to deserve them.

9 Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.] Those constellations which we see, and those in the other hemisphere.

11 He goeth by me, and I see him not, &c.] He is incomprehensible, as well in his essence, as in his works and judgments.

22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, &c.] I persist in what I at first affirmed, that in this world the godly suffer equally with the ungodly.

23 If the scourge slay suddenly, &c.] When any country is visited by a pestilence, the righteous are not defended from its stroke.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked, &c.] So far are the wicked from feeling the weight of his anger, that they are the princes and judges of the earth. Where will you find a prince that governs his kingdom uprightly?

29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?] I am wicked in the account of God. It is in vain then, to endeavour to vindicate my own innocence.

33 Any daysman, &c.] Any judge to determine our cause; or who may command silence, when necessary.

General Reflections on Chap. IX.

This chapter teaches us, that man cannot be justified before God; that if the Lord were to enter into judgment with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand; that the power of God is infinite; and that men, being so weak before him, and likewise guilty, must all be condemned in his presence, and beg mercy of him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. X.

1 My soul is weary of my life, &c.] In this chapter Job still persists in the opinion that his sufferings may justify his wishes that he had never been born, or had died soon after: though those wishes being vain, he acknowledges it is more rational to desire that God would be pleased to intermit his pains awhile, if he did not think fit quite to remove them.

5 Are thy days as the days of man? &c.] Must thou take time, as we do, to find out the truth, and understand the whole of a business?

10 Haſt thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheeſe?

11 Thou haſt clothed me with ſkin and fleſh, and haſt fenced me with bones and ſinews.

12 Thou haſt granted me life and favour, and thy viſitation hath preſerved my ſpirit.

13 And theſe things haſt thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.

14 If I ſin, then thou markeſt me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, woe unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head. I am full of confuſion; therefore ſee thou mine affliction;

16 For it increaſeth. Thou hunteſt me as a fierce lion: and again thou ſheweſt thyſelf marvellous upon me.

17 Thou reneweſt thy witneſſes againſt me, and increaſeſt thine indignation upon me; changes and war are againſt me.

18 Wherefore then haſt thou brought me forth out of the womb? Oh that I had given up the ghoſt, and no eye had ſeen me!

19 I ſhould have been as though I had not been; I ſhould have been carried from the womb to the grave.

CHAP. XI.

1 Zophar reproveth Job for juſtifying himſelf. 5 God's wiſdom is unſearchable. 13 The aſſured bleſſing of repentance.

THEN anſwered Zophar the Naamathite, and ſaid,
2 Should not the multitude of words be anſwered? and ſhould a man full of talk be juſtified?

3 Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockeſt, ſhall no man make thee aſhamed?

4 For thou haſt ſaid, My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But oh that God would ſpeak, and open his lips againſt thee;

6 And that he would ſhew thee the ſecrets of wiſdom, that they are double to that which is! Know therefore that God exacteth of thee leſs than thine iniquity deſerveth.

7 Canſt thou by ſearching find out God? canſt thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and ſtretch out thine hands toward him;

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedneſs dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then ſhalt thou lift up thy face without ſpot; yea, thou ſhalt be ſtedfaſt, and ſhalt not fear:

16 Becauſe thou ſhalt forget thy miſery, and remember it as waters that paſs away:

20 But the eyes of the wicked ſhall fail, and they ſhall not eſcape, and their hope ſhall be as the giving up of the ghoſt.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job maintaineth himſelf againſt his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth the general doctrine of God's omnipotency.

AND Job anſwered and ſaid,
2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wiſdom ſhall die with you.

3 But I have underſtanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you: yea, who knoweth not ſuch things as theſe?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, and he anſwereth him: the juſt upright man is laughed to ſcorn.

5 He that is ready to ſlip with his feet is as a lamp deſpiſed in the thought of him that is at eaſe.

16 Again thou ſheweſt thyſelf marvellous upon me.] When I hope there is an end of my troubles, thou ſendeſt more, to fill me with new aſtoniſhment and horror.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. X.

Job's piety appears, in the humility wherewith he calls upon the Lord, and in the confeſſion he makes, that God was almighty, and altogether righteous in all his diſpenſations; his weakneſs alſo appears, in expoſtulating with God for thus puniſhing him; but this then is a leſſon to us to poſſeſs our ſouls in patience, and, when afflicted, to implore God to conſider our weakneſs, and alleviate our miſery.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XI.

1 Then anſwered Zophar, &c.] Though Zophar diſcourſes with great ſenſe, and gives Job exceeding good advice, yet he ſtill maintains the opinion of the other two friends, and inſiſts on it, that he would not have been ſo miſerable if he had not been wicked.

5, 6 Oh that God would ſpeak, &c.] Oh that God would make thee acquainted with the ſecret reaſons that induced him to afflict thee! thou wouldſt then be convinced that thy puniſhment is far from being equal to thy crime.

11 Will he not then conſider it?] Will he not puniſh it?

2

17 Thine age ſhall be clearer, &c.] The reſt of thy life ſhall be more glorious than the ſun at noonday.

18 Thou ſhalt dig about thee, and thou ſhalt take thy reſt in ſafety.] Thou ſhalt dig wells of water, and none ſhall diſturb thy tents or thy flocks.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XI.

From the diſcourſe of Zophar we learn, that a good man is always endued with fortitude; that he fears nothing, he reſts ſecurely, he lies down without being terrified by any one, his heart is fixed, truſting in the Lord; by which we ſee, that nothing but a life devoted to God can render a man happy in this world, and make him paſs his time in tranquillity, and without fear.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XII.

1 And Job anſwered, &c.] He accuſes all his three friends of entertaining too conceited an opinion of themſelves, which had not, as yet, allowed them to take compaſſion on the miſerable: he alſo lets them underſtand, that he has no need to come to them to learn, but was qualified to inſtruct them, and denies the propoſition wherewith Zophar had concluded his ſpeech concerning the infelicity of the wicked.

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wiſdom ſhall die with you.] This is ſarcaſtically ſaid: You fancy that you are the only perſons of ſenſe in the world; and that when you are dead, wiſdom will be no longer found among the ſons of men.

General Reflections on Chap. XII.

We are hence taught, that God holds in his hand the ſoul of every thing that lives; that to him belong wiſdom and ſtrength; that no one can reſiſt him; that he humbles the moſt powerful; that, when he pleaſes, he defeats the wiſdom of the wiſe, and diſpoſes of all men as he ſees fit, even of kings, and of whole nations.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. XIII.

4 Ye are all phyſicians of no value.] Like unſkilful phyſicians, ye exaſperate the diſeaſes which ye cannot cure.

7 Will ye ſpeak wickedly for God? &c.] Doth God ſtand in need of untruths to juſtify his proceedings? Cannot he be righteous, unleſs I be wicked?

8 Will ye accept his perſon? &c.] Hath he ſo little right on his ſide, that you muſt ſhew him favour?

12 Your bodies to bodies of clay.] In the Hebrew it is, To the backs of clay your backs; which is interpreted by ſome, You are thrown on your backs, you are foiled in your arguments.

14 Wherefore do I take my fleſh in my teeth, &c.] What can be the reaſon of theſe extreme torments which bring me into ſuch diſtreſs, that, methinks, I could tear my fleſh with my teeth?

19 Who is he that will plead with me? &c.] The Hebrew runs literally thus, Who is he that will litigate the matter with me? for now I will be ſilent, and expire: that is, who is he that will bring a charge againſt me?

27 Thou ſetteſt a print upon the heels of my feet.] Alluding probably to the puniſhment of ſlaves that ran away, which was, to beat them ſeverely with a battoon on the ſoles of their feet; this occaſioned great pain, and often putrefaction of the parts.

General Reflections on Chap. XIII.

Though we find from this chapter that Job complained too raſhly of his afflictions, yet he gives noble tokens of his faith and piety; teaching us, that in the ſharpeſt ſufferings, therefore, we ſhould humble ourſelves before God, ſtill hope in him, and beſeech him not to correct us in anger, who are but duſt and aſhes before him.

23 He wandereth abroad for bread, ſaying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkneſs is ready at his hand.

24 Trouble and anguiſh ſhall make him afraid; they ſhall prevail againſt him, as a king ready to the battle.

25 For he ſtretcheth out his hand againſt God, and ſtrengtheneth himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick boſſes of his bucklers:

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with his fatneſs, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

28 And he dwelleth in deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

29 He ſhall not be rich, neither ſhall his ſubſtance continue, neither ſhall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.

30 He ſhall not depart out of darkneſs; the flame ſhall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth ſhall he go away.

31 Let not him that is deceived truſt in vanity: for vanity ſhall be his recompence.

32 It ſhall be accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.

33 He ſhall ſhake off his unripe grape as the vine, and ſhall caſt off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites ſhall be deſolate, and fire ſhall conſume the tabernacles of bribery.

35 They conceive miſchief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAP.

---

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, &c.] Job meant, that the body would remain in a ſtate of corruption till the final diſſolution of all things, and then it would be raiſed by the almighty quickening power of God, when this corruption ſhall put on incorruption, and this mortal immortality.

General Reflections on Chap. XIV.

The uſe we ſhould make of this doctrine, is, not to be too fond of life, or of this world; to intreat the Lord to pardon our ſins, and aſſiſt us by his grace; to praiſe God, that in the goſpel we have the hope of a glorious reſurrection, a remedy againſt the vanity of this life, and death itſelf; and, laſtly, that we ſhould be active in the means afforded us, to eſcape the miſeries we are ſubject to both here and hereafter, and to ſecure, by a devotedneſs to God, the poſſeſſion of a better inheritance in heaven.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on Chap. XV.

1 Then anſwered Eliphaz, &c.] Eliphaz renews the diſpute with more warmth and fierceneſs than before; but only urges what he at firſt aſſerted, namely, that the wicked only are puniſhed by God with ſuch calamities as had now fallen upon Job.

4 And reſtraineſt prayer before God.] By laying aſide religion, thou diſcourageſt men from pouring out their prayers before God.

20 The wicked man travaileth with pain, &c.] Is never free from inward torments, but all his life-long is in dread of ſome greater oppreſſor than himſelf.

21 In proſperity the deſtroyer ſhall come, &c.] In the moſt peaceable and proſperous time, he doth not think himſelf ſafe.

22 He believeth not that he ſhall return out of darkneſs, &c.] When he lies down, he is afraid that he ſhall be killed before morning, &c.

26 He runneth upon him, &c.] God will ſuddenly ſmite him, be he never ſo well armed.

28 He dwelleth in deſolate cities, &c.] He poſſeſſeth cities which he hath laid deſolate; and houſes out of which he hath driven the owners, whoſe dwellings are become ruinous.

32 It ſhall be accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.] He ſhall meet with misfortunes when he little thinks of them; and ſhall ſee his children, as well as himſelf, wither away.

General Reflections on Chap. XV.

We learn from hence, that if the wicked proſper for a time, God at length puniſhes them even in this life, as they have never any reſt in their conſciences, and the little happineſs they enjoy is intermixed with the dread of future evils: this ſhould give us a hatred to ſin, and a love to holineſs, which only can procure peace and happineſs.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job reproveth his friends of unmercifulneſs. 7 He ſheweth the pitifulneſs of his caſe. 17 He maintaineth his innocence.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,
2 I have heard many ſuch things: miſerable comforters are ye all.
3 Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou anſwereſt?
4 I alſo could ſpeak as ye do: if your ſoul were in my ſoul's ſtead, I could heap up words againſt you, and ſhake mine head at you.
5 But I would ſtrengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips ſhould aſſwage your grief.
6 Though I ſpeak, my grief is not aſſwaged: and though I forbear, what am I eaſed?
7 But now he hath made me weary: thou haſt made deſolate all my company.
8 And thou hath filled me with wrinkles, which is a witneſs againſt me: and my leanneſs riſing up in me beareth witneſs to my face.
9 He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnaſhed upon me with his teeth; mine enemy ſharpeneth his eyes upon me.
10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth; they have ſmitten me upon the cheek reproachfully; they have gathered themſelves together againſt me.
11 God hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was at eaſe, but he hath broken me aſunder: he hath alſo taken me by my neck, and ſhaken me to pieces, and ſet me up for his mark.
13 His archers compaſs me round about, he cleaveth my reins aſunder, and doth not ſpare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.
14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.
15 I have ſewed ſackcloth upon my ſkin, and defiled my horn in the duſt.
16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eyelids is the ſhadow of death;
17 Not for any injuſtice in mine hands: alſo my prayer is pure.
18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.
19 Alſo now, behold, my witneſs is in heaven, and my record is on high.
20 My friend ſcorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.
21 O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!
22 When a few years are come, then I ſhall go the way whence I ſhall not return.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted may aſtoniſh but not diſcourage the righteous. 11 Job's hope is not in life but in death.

MY breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.
2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?
3 Lay down now, put me in a ſurety with thee; who is he that will ſtrike hands with me?
4 For thou haſt hid their heart from underſtanding: therefore ſhalt thou not exalt them.
5 He that ſpeaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children ſhall fail.
6 He hath made me alſo a byword of the people; and aforetime I was as a tabret.
7 Mine eye alſo is dim by reaſon of ſorrow, and all my members are as a ſhadow.
8 Upright men ſhall be aſtonied at this, and the innocent ſhall ſtir up himſelf againſt the hypocrite.
9 The righteous alſo ſhall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands ſhall be ſtronger and ſtronger.
10 But as for you all, do ye return, and come now: for I cannot find one wiſe man among you.
11 My days are paſt, my purpoſes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.
12 They change the night into day; the light is ſhort becauſe of darkneſs.
13 If I wait, the grave is mine houſe: I have made my bed in the darkneſs.
14 I have ſaid to corruption, Thou art my father: and to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my ſiſter.
15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who ſhall ſee it?
16 They ſhall go down to the bars of the pit, when our reſt together is in the duſt.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad reproveth Job of preſumption and impatience. 5 The calamities of the wicked.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,
2 How long will it be ere ye make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will ſpeak.
3 Wherefore are we counted as beaſts, and reputed vile in your ſight?
4 He teareth himſelf in his anger: ſhall the earth be forſaken for thee? and ſhall the rock be removed out of his place?
5 Yea,

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVI.

1 Then Job anſwered, &c.] Job here reproves the vanity and obſtinacy of Eliphaz, in repeating the ſame things over again, and ſtill perſiſting in his inhumanity, though his ſufferings called ſo much for their ſympathy and commiſeration.

5 But I would ſtrengthen you with my mouth, &c.] But I abhor the thought of ſuch treatment, and would not fail to fortify you with the beſt arguments I could invent.

7 Thou haſt made deſolate all my company.] Thou haſt not ceaſed, O God, till thou haſt left me neither goods, nor children, nor friends to comfort me.

10 They have ſmitten me upon the cheek, &c.] The expreſſion, "ſmitten upon the cheek," in ſcripture, imports the moſt contemptuous treatment.

18 Let my cry have no place.] No place wherein it may lie unheard.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVI.

The criminal exceſs of Job's impatience ſhould teach us never to murmur, nor abandon ourſelves to immoderate grief; but rather give glory to God, and paſs ſentence upon ourſelves, even when he treats us with the greateſt apparent ſeverity; for juſt and right is he.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVII.

1 My breath is corrupt, &c.] My vital ſpirits are ſpent, the lamp of life gives but a glimmering and dying flame, juſt ſufficient to make viſible the graves which on every ſide are open to receive us.

2 Doth not mine eye continue in their provocation.] My mind and thoughts are ſo fixed upon your unkind and ſharp invectives, that I loſe my ſleep in the night time.

3 Who is he that will ſtrike hands with me.] Let ſome perſon of equity undertake for me, who will engage in my behalf to do me juſtice.

4 Therefore ſhalt thou not exalt them.] Therefore thou wilt not give judgment on their ſide.

6 And aforetime I was as a tabret.] An old tranſlation has it, And I am as a tabret before them.

8 Upright men ſhall be aſtonied at this, &c.] Good men hereafter ſhall be aſtoniſhed at the cruel ſentence which my friends paſs upon me.

16 They ſhall go down to the bars of the pit, &c.] All theſe hopes you ſpeak of ſhall ſink down to the bottom of the grave, when you my friends, as well as I, ſhall take up your lodging in the duſt.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVII.

From what is here ſaid concerning the inſtability of human friendſhip, let us eſteem it our higheſt intereſt, as well as duty and privilege, to ſeek and obtain the favour and protection of that God who changes not, who is a friend at all times, and whoſe mercies endure for ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XVIII.

1 Then anſwered Bildad, &c.] In this chapter Bildad again takes up the diſpute, but advances nothing new; though he expreſſes great indignation at the contempt Job had caſt on their wiſdom.

4 Shall the earth be forſaken for thee, &c.] The LXX. read, If you die will the earth be uninhabited?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked ſhall be put out, and the ſpark of his fire ſhall not ſhine.
6 The light ſhall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle ſhall be put out with him.
7 The ſteps of his ſtrength ſhall be ſtraitened, and his own counſel ſhall caſt him down.
8 For he is caſt into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a ſnare.
9 The gin ſhall take him by the heel, and the robber ſhall prevail againſt him.
10 The ſnare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.
11 Terrors ſhall make him afraid on every ſide, and ſhall drive him to his feet.
12 His ſtrength ſhall be hungerbitten, and deſtruction ſhall be ready at his ſide.
13 It ſhall devour the ſtrength of the ſkin: even the firſtborn of death ſhall devour his ſtrength.
14 His confidence ſhall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it ſhall bring him to the king of terrors.
15 It ſhall dwell in his tabernacle, becauſe it is none of his: brimſtone ſhall be ſcattered upon his habitation.
16 His roots ſhall be dried up beneath, and above ſhall his branch be cut off.
17 His remembrance ſhall periſh from the earth, and he ſhall have no name in the ſtreet.
18 He ſhall be driven from light into darkneſs, and chaſed out of the world.
19 He ſhall neither have ſon nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.
20 They that come after him ſhall be aſtonied at his day, as they that went before were affrighted.
21 Surely ſuch are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Job complaining of his friends cruelty, ſheweth there is miſery enough in him to feed their cruelty. 21 He craveth pity. 25 He believeth the reſurrection.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,
2 How long will ye vex my ſoul, and break me in pieces with words?
3 Theſe ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not aſhamed that ye make yourſelves ſtrange to me.
4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine error remaineth with myſelf.
5 If indeed ye will magnify yourſelves againſt me, and plead againſt me my reproach:
6 Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compaſſed me with his net.
7 Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.
8 He hath fenced up my way that I cannot paſs, and he hath ſet darkneſs in my paths.
9 He hath ſtripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.
10 He deſtroyed me on every ſide, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.
11 He hath alſo kindled his wrath againſt me, and he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies.
12 His troops come together, and raiſe up their way againſt me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.
13 He hath put my brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily eſtranged from me.
14 My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.
15 They that dwell in mine houſe, and my maids, count me for a ſtranger: I am an alien in their ſight.
16 I called my ſervant, and he gave me no anſwer; I intreated him with my mouth.
17 My breath is ſtrange to my wife, though I intreated for the children's ſake of mine own body.
18 Yea, young children deſpiſed me; I aroſe, and they ſpake againſt me.
19 All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved are turned againſt me.
20 My bone cleaveth to my ſkin and to my fleſh, and I am eſcaped with the ſkin of my teeth.
21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.
22 Why do ye perſecute me as God, and are not ſatisfied with my fleſh?
23 Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a book!
24 That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever!
25 For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he ſhall ſtand at the latter day upon the earth:
26 And though after my ſkin worms deſtroy this body, yet in my fleſh ſhall I ſee God:
27 Whom I ſhall ſee for myſelf, and mine eyes ſhall behold, and not another; though my reins be conſumed within me.
28 But ye ſhould ſay, Why perſecute we him, ſeeing the root of the matter is found in me?
29 Be ye afraid of the ſword: for wrath bringeth the puniſhments of the ſword, that ye may know there is a judgment.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar ſheweth the ſtate and portion of the wicked.

THEN anſwered Zophar the Naamathite, and ſaid,
2 Therefore do my thoughts cauſe me to anſwer, and for this I make haſte.
3 I have heard the check of my reproach, and the ſpirit of my underſtanding cauſeth me to anſwer.

5 The light of the wicked, &c.] The glory and happineſs of the wicked.

12 His ſtrength ſhall be hungerbitten, &c.] He ſhall pine away till he hath no ſtrength remaining.

13 It ſhall devour the ſtrength of his ſkin, &c.] Rottenneſs ſhall eat up his bones.

15 Brimſtone ſhall be ſcattered upon his habitation.] Thunder and lightning ſhall deſtroy his habitation.

20 As they that went before were affrighted.] As thoſe who ſaw it were ſeized with horror.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XVIII.

From this chapter we are led to conſider, that if wicked men enjoy proſperity for a ſeaſon, it paſſes away at laſt; that God ſends forth his judgments upon their perſons, their children, their eſtates, and all that belong to them, making them an example to others: let us therefore be admoniſhed to ſhun the crooked paths of ſin which lead to miſery and ruin.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XIX.

1 Then Job anſwered, &c.] The purport of this chapter (in which Job replies to Bildad) is to ſhew that it would be ſufficient for him alſo merely to report the ſame things, as they had done in ten diſcourſes; and to aggravate their cruelty and want of compaſſion to him, he adds ſeveral new things, which made his condition more deplorable than he had hitherto repreſented it; but at the ſame time he declared that he had now a glimmering hope that God would at laſt take pity upon him, and ſhew his friends their error, by reſtoring him to his former health and ſplendor.

10 Like a tree.] Which is plucked up by the roots.

20 I am eſcaped with the ſkin of my teeth.] All the fleſh I have left, is only my lips to complain with.

25 I know that my redeemer liveth, &c.] Theſe words certainly relate to the reſurrection of the body, and a future judgment. That the Jews did believe that the bodies, at leaſt of men remarkably pious ſhould riſe again, appears plainly from the tranſlation of the laſt verſe of the book of Job, according to the LXX, which in their verſion runs thus; "So Job died, being old and full of days:" but it is written, that he ſhall riſe again with thoſe whom the Lord raiſes up.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XIX.

We hence are taught, that as Job, in the midſt of his afflictions, truſted in God as his redeemer, ſo ſhould Chriſtians encourage themſelves with the ſame conſideration and on every trial, and even in death itſelf; for theſe words of Job ſhould raiſe their minds to a firm and joyful hope of a bleſſed reſurrection to a life to come, when ſorrow and ſin will be done away for ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XX.

2 Therefore do my thoughts cauſe me to anſwer, and for this I make haſte.] Not conſidering the proteſtation which Job had made of his innocence, Zophar goes on in the old common place ſtyle to ſpeak of the certain downfall of the wicked, be he never ſo powerful and well ſupported.

15 He hath ſwallowed down riches, and he ſhall vomit them up again: God ſhall caſt them out of his belly.

22 In the fullneſs of his ſufficiency he ſhall be in ſtraits: every hand of the wicked ſhall come upon him.

23 When he is about to fill his belly, God ſhall caſt the fury of his wrath upon him, and ſhall rain it upon him while he is eating.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Job ſheweth that even in the judgment of man he hath reaſon to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do ſo proſper as they deſpiſe God. 16 Sometimes their deſtruction is manifeſt. 23 The happy and the unhappy are alike in death.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 Hear diligently my ſpeech, and let this be your conſolations.

3 Suffer me that I may ſpeak; and after that I have ſpoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were ſo, why ſhould not my ſpirit be troubled?

5 Mark me, and be aſtoniſhed, and lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Even when I remember I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my fleſh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?

8 Their ſeed is eſtabliſhed in their ſight with them, and their offſpring before their eyes.

9 Their houſes are ſafe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth, and faileth not; their cow calveth, and caſteth not her calf.

11 They ſend forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.

12 They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the ſound of the organ.

13 They ſpend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.

14 Therefore they ſay unto God, Depart from us; for we deſire not the knowledge of thy ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we ſhould ſerve him? and what profit ſhould we have, if we pray unto him?

16 Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counſel of the wicked is far from me.

17 How oft is the candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their deſtruction upon them? God diſtributeth ſorrows in his anger.

18 They are as ſtubble before the wind, and as chaff that the ſtorm carrieth away.

19 God layeth up his iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he ſhall know it.

11 Which ſhall lie down with him in the duſt.] He ſhall carry nothing away with him, when he dies, but his ſins.

17 The brooks of honey and butter.] The LXX more properly read, He ſhall not ſee the milking of his ewes, the food of honey and butter.

24 He ſhall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of ſteel ſhall ſtrike him through.] In avoiding a leſs danger, he ſhall fall into a greater.

26 All darkneſs ſhall be hid in his ſecret places.] He ſhall find no place of retreat and ſafeguard wherein to hide himſelf.

A fire not blown.] Calamities whoſe cauſes are unknown.

It ſhall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.] It ſhall deſtroy all that are in his tabernacle; that is, all the reſt of his family.

27 The heaven ſhall reveal his iniquity, and the earth ſhall riſe up againſt him.] The heaven by thunder, lightning or tempeſt; ſhall declare itſelf his enemy; and the earth by wild beaſts, or ſerpents, or ſome other way, ſhall make war againſt him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XX.

From the preceding chapter is inculcated this ſalutary advice, namely, that we ſhould never place our happineſs in the poſſeſſion of the advantages and good things of this world, but look for it only in the fear and favour of the Lord; and in that holineſs, which alone can beſtow upon us ſolid happineſs both in this life, and when time ſhall be no more.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XXI.

1 But Job anſwered, &c.] To bring the diſpute to a ſpeedier iſſue, Job (after a ſhort objurgatory preface) does not any longer content himſelf with merely denying what they had ſaid, but ſhews them wherein the fallacy of their reaſoning lay, namely, in drawing univerſal concluſions from particular propoſitions; and he maintains, that the proceedings of Providence, with regard to the puniſhment of the wicked in this world, are various, and, conſequently, that no general rule can be drawn from thence.

13 In a moment go down to the grave.] They do not lie long languiſhing on a bed of ſickneſs or pain, but go eaſily and ſuddenly to their grave.

16 Lo their good is not in their hand: the counſel of the wicked is far from me.] They cannot make themſelves rich and proſperous without God; and therefore far beſt for me to join with them in their impiety.

1 Eliphaz ſheweth that man's goodneſs profiteth not God. 5 He accuſeth Job of divers ſins. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promiſes of mercy.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered and ſaid,

2 Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wiſe may be profitable unto himſelf?

3 Is it any pleaſure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makeſt thy ways perfect?

4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?

5 Is not thy wickedneſs great? and thine iniquities infinite?

10 Therefore ſnares are round about thee, and ſudden fear troubleth thee;

11 Or darkneſs, that thou canſt not ſee: and abundance of waters cover thee.

12 Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the height of ſtars, how high they are!

13 And thou ſayeſt, How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud? Before CHRIST 1520.

14 Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he ſeeth not; and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.

15 Haſt thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden?

16 Which were cut down out of time, whoſe foundation was overflown with a flood:

17 Which ſaid unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do for them?

18 Yet he filled their houſes with good things: but the counſel of the wicked is far from me.

19 The righteous ſee it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to ſcorn.

20 Whereas our ſubſtance is not cut down, but the remnant of them the fire conſumeth.

21 Acquaint now thyſelf with him, and be at peace: thereby good ſhall come unto thee.

22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou ſhalt be built up, thou ſhalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.

24 Then ſhalt thou lay up gold as duſt, and the gold of Ophir as the ſtones of the brooks.

25 Yea, the Almighty ſhall be thy defence, and thou ſhalt have plenty of ſilver.

26 For then ſhalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and ſhalt lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou ſhalt make thy prayer unto him, and he ſhall hear thee, and thou ſhalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou ſhalt alſo decree a thing, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed unto thee: and the light ſhall ſhine upon thy ways.

29 When men are caſt down, then thou ſhalt ſay, There is lifting up; and he ſhall ſave the humble perſon.

30 He ſhall deliver the iſland of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureneſs of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Job longeth to appear before God, 6 in confidence of his mercy. 8 God, who is inviſible, obſerveth our ways. 11 Job's innocency. 13 God's decree is immutable.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 Even to day is my complaint bitter: my ſtroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his ſeat!

4 I would order my cauſe before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

28 Ye ſay, Where is the houſe of the prince? and where are the dwelling places of the wicked?] I hear you ſay within yourſelves, What is become of the houſe of Job, who lived like a prince? What difference is there between him and thoſe wicked men whoſe dwelling places are deſtroyed?

31 Who ſhall declare his way to his face? &c.] The wicked are ſo bold, that none dare reprove them.

34 How then comfort ye me in vain, ſeeing in your anſwers there remaineth falſhood?] How ill then do ye diſcharge the office of comforters, whoſe anſwers have ſo little truth in them?

General Reflections on Chap. XXI.

The uſe we are to draw from hence, is, that as proſperity is not always a mark of God's favour; nor adverſity, of his anger; ſo we are to look for the puniſhment of the wicked, and the true reward of the righteous, from the internal ſtate of each; and eſpecially in what ſhall happen to them after this tranſitory life is ended.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. XXII.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered, &c.] By this reply of Eliphaz, it ſeems that he was neither able to confute Job's argument, nor indeed had attended to the ſcope of it, but had miſtaken him, and imagined that he had accuſed the divine Providence of injuſtice, in ſuffering the wicked to proſper, and the righteous to be afflicted.

6 For thou haſt taken a pledge, &c.] Eliphaz had no proof that Job had committed any ſuch fault; but only ſuppoſes that he had been guilty of ſome or of all the ſins he here enumerates.

8 As for the mighty man, he had the earth, &c.] As for the great and powerful, all thy eſtate was at his ſervice.

11 Or darkneſs, that thou canſt not ſee; and abundance of waters cover thee.] Blindneſs prevents thy ſeeing how God hath proportioned the puniſhment to thy crimes; and the depth of thy afflictions wherein thou art plunged, hath quite taken away all ſenſe from thee.

13 Thou ſayeſt, How doth God know? &c.] Perhaps thou fancieſt, that becauſe God is ſo high, he regards not what is done here below.

15 Haſt thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden?] Haſt thou forgotten the path followed by the atheiſtical inhabitants of the old world, who ran licentiouſly into all manner of wickedneſs?

20 Whereas our ſubſtance is not cut down, &c.] Whereas we who believe God's care and providence, are untouched in our eſtates.

28 Thou ſhalt alſo decree a thing, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed unto thee, &c.] Thou ſhalt accompliſh whatſoever thou deſigneſt.

29 When men are caſt down, then thou ſhalt ſay, There is lifting up, &c.] Thou ſhalt pray to God alſo to lift up others who are in a low condition.

General Reflections on Chap. XXII.

Theſe inſtructions flow from this chapter: That man cannot be profitable to God though he does never ſo much good, but that himſelf reaps the advantage: that the conduct of God, and the ways of his providence, are always righteous, in whatſoever he ſuffers to befal the good, or the wicked, and their poſterity: and that when ſinners fly to the mercy of God in Chriſt, and ſeriouſly repent of their evil ways, he puts a ſtop to his wrath, and lets them ſee the effects of his love and favour.

COMMENTARY and NOTES on CHAP. XXIII.

1 Then Job anſwered, &c.] Job then appeals to God, by whom he deſires, more earneſtly than ever, to be tried; being ſatisfied that he ſhould be acquitted at his equitable tribunal.

5 I would know the words which he would anſwer me, and underſtand what he would ſay unto me.

6 Will he plead againſt me with his great power? No; but he would put ſtrength in me.

7 There the righteous might diſpute with him; ſo ſhould I be delivered for ever from my judge.

8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himſelf on the right hand, that I cannot ſee him:

10 But he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I ſhall come forth as gold.

11 My foot hath held his ſteps, his way have I kept, and not declined.

12 Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have eſteemed the words of his mouth more than my neceſſary food.

13 But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his ſoul deſireth, even that he doeth.

14 For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many ſuch things are with him.

15 Therefore am I troubled at his preſence: when I conſider, I am afraid of him.

16 For God maketh my heart ſoft, and the Almighty troubleth me:

17 Becauſe I was not cut off before the darkneſs, neither hath he covered the darkneſs from my face.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Wickedneſs goeth often unpuniſhed. 17 There is a ſecret judgment for the wicked.

WHY, ſeeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not ſee his days?

2 Some remove the landmarks; they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.

3 They drive away the aſs of the fatherleſs, they take the widow's ox for a pledge.

4 They turn the needy out of the way: the poor of the earth hide themſelves together.

5 Behold, as wild aſſes in the deſert, go they forth to their work; riſing betimes for a prey: the wilderneſs yieldeth food for them and for their children.

6 They reap every one his corn in the field: and they gather the vintage of the wicked.

7 They cauſe the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the ſhowers in the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a ſhelter.

9 They pluck the fatherleſs from the breaſt, and take a pledge of the poor.

10 They cauſe him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the ſheaf from the hungry;

11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their winepreſſes, and ſuffer thirſt. Before CHRIST 1520.

12 Men groan from out of the city, and the ſoul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.

13 They are of thoſe that rebel againſt the light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer riſing with the light killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.

15 The eye alſo of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, ſaying, No eye ſhall ſee me: and diſguiſeth his face.

16 In the dark they dig through houſes, which they had marked for themſelves in the daytime: they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them even as the ſhadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the ſhadow of death.

18 He is ſwift as the waters; their portion is curſed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.

19 Drought and heat conſume the ſnow waters: ſo doth the grave thoſe which have ſinned.

20 The womb ſhall forget him; the worm ſhall feed ſweetly on him; he ſhall be no more remembered; and wickedneſs ſhall be broken as a tree.

21 He evil entreateth the barren that beareth not: and doeth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth alſo the mighty with his power: he raiſeth up, and no man is ſure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in ſafety, whereon he reſteth; yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little while, but are gone and brought low; they are taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

25 And if it be not ſo now, who will make me a liar, and make my ſpeech nothing worth.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad ſheweth that man cannot be juſtified before God.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 Dominion and fear are with him, he maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not his light ariſe?

4 How then can man be juſtified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

5 Behold even to the moon, and it ſhineth not: yea, the ſtars are not pure in his ſight.

6 How much leſs man, that is a worm; and the ſon of man, which is a worm?

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Job reproving the uncharitable ſpirit of Bildad, 5 acknowledgeth

---

6 Will he plead againſt me with his great power? No; but he would put ſtrength in me.] Would he only plead his power, as his reaſon for this treatment of me, and ſay, Becauſe I am God, I will act thus? No, he would rather, of his mercy, employ his power to ſupport me.

10 But he knoweth the way that I take, &c.] God knows the whole courſe of my life; and when he hath proved me by theſe afflictions, I doubt not I ſhall be cleared from theſe imputations which you lay upon me.

13 But he is in one mind, &c.] He ſteadily purſues his purpoſe, nor can any other divert him from it, or hinder it from being fulfilled.

17 Becauſe I was not cut off, &c.] Still he keeps me alive under all theſe evils which I endure, and will not let me have the favour to die by that hand which ſtrikes me ſo ſeverely.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIII.

In order to judge rightly of what Job ſays in this chapter, and elſewhere, when he calls God to witneſs his integrity, and that he was willing to be judged by the Lord himſelf; we muſt not underſtand as if he pretended to be innocent in all reſpects before God (for in ourſelves we are all guilty ſinners), but that he had the teſtimony of a good conſcience, and an upright heart.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIV.

1 Why, ſeeing times are not hidden, &c.] But to anſwer a little what you have ſo often aſſerted, if, as you maintain, the Almighty's puniſhment of the wicked is ſo viſible, why do not the truly virtuous ſee and acknowledge theſe open judgments?

5 Behold, as wild aſſes in the deſert, &c.] Part of this chapter (particularly this and the following verſes) ſeem to allude to the wild Arabs, whoſe profeſſion is rapine, and yet they proſper by it.

18 He is ſwift as the waters, &c.] To this ſet of wicked men already inſtanced, we may alſo add the pirate, who robs upon the ſea, and deſpiſes the labour of thoſe who plant vineyards.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIV.

The deſign of this chapter is, to ſhew (as before) that it is a very falſe and dangerous ſentiment to believe that men are innocent and acceptable to God, becauſe they are happy in this world; or to pronounce them guilty, becauſe they are unhappy; for God will at the laſt day render to all men according to their works, and there is no reſpect of perſons with him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXV.

1 Then anſwered Bildad, &c.] Bildad, unable to refute what Job had ſaid, adviſes him to ſpeak more reverently of God.

5, 6 Behold even to the moon, &c.] So inconceivably holy is the Lord of hoſts, that he ſees defilement even in the brightneſs of the firmament. How deſpicable then is man, who in his fallen ſtate is as a worm, that delights in putrefaction!

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXV.

We learn from this chapter, that the power of God is infinite; that he is perfectly righteous and holy; and that man, being impure, cannot juſtify himſelf before him; we ſhould therefore humble ourſelves in his preſence, and patiently ſubmit to all his diſpenſations.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVI.

1 But Job anſwered, &c.] Job derides Bildad's great affectation of wiſdom, and ſhews that his diſcourſe was equally mean and impertinent.

2, 3, 4 How haſt thou, &c.] The LXX ſeem to give theſe verſes a more emphatical meaning than our tranſlation. 2 On whoſe ſide doſt thou ſtand to help him? Is it not on his who has a great ſtrength and a powerful arm? 3 Whom haſt thou counſelled, but him who has all wiſdom? Whoſe follower wilt thou be? Wilt thou not be his who has the greateſt power? 4 For whom haſt thou uttered words? For him whoſe breath it is that comes out of thee?

5 Dead things are formed from under the waters, &c.] The Vulgate reads, The giants groan from under the waters, &c. Shall the Rephaim or manes of the giants be brought forth again from under the waters, with which they were overwhelmed at the flood? Or thoſe wicked ſouls (giants in wickedneſs) that have been ſince gathered to their aſſembly?

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, &c.] The clouds hide from our ſight the heavens, which are called his throne.

11 The pillars of heaven, &c.] The high mountains are beautifully called the pillars of heaven.

12 He ſmiteth through the proud.] The proud waves: an old tranſlation renders it, He ſmiteth the pride thereof.

13 The crooked ſerpent.] By "the crooked ſerpent" is meant the celeſtial ſign called the great dragon.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVI.

We are taught from hence, that we ought not to find fault with the works of God, or pry too curiouſly into his ways; but reſt ſatisfied that he does all things wiſely and righteouſly, humbly ſubmit to his will, and acknowledge his goodneſs towards us.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVII.

1 His parable, &c.] The word rendered "parable" ſignifies an ingenious and elegant ſentence or ſpeech: it here denotes that Job proceeded in a triumphant way of ſpeech, like one who had ſilenced his opponents, and had the better of his argument.

2 Who hath taken away my judgment, &c.] Hath ſo ſorely afflicted me, that men cannot judge of my integrity, for they judge only by outward appearance.

5 God forbid that I ſhould juſtify you, &c.] Never hope that I will yield to your opinion, which I know to be falſe.

10 Will he always call upon God?] Will he not deſpair of protection, and therefore ceaſe to call upon his Maker?

18 He buildeth his houſe as a moth, &c.] He buildeth a magnificent edifice, out of which he is as eaſily ſhaken as a moth out of a garment.

19 The rich man ſhall lie down, &c.] The wicked rich man ſhall die; but ſhall not be gathered to the aſſembly of pious and good ſouls; he openeth his eyes in the other world, and finds himſelf quite loſt and miſerable.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVII.

The viſible marks of God's juſtice towards the wicked, here exhibited to our view, ſhould ſerve to draw us from injuſtice, covetouſneſs, pride, and the love of the world, to the practice of piety and virtue.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Surely there is a vein for the ſilver, &c.] The deſign of Job here, is, to ſtop the buſy enquiry of mankind, who are very wiſe in other things, but have not wit enough to comprehend the reaſons why God does not inflict thoſe puniſhments upon all wicked men, which falls upon ſome.

3 He ſetteth an end to darkneſs, &c.] He ſearcheth out the ſtore of darkneſs, and of the ſhadow of death; he digs into another world, as it were, for gold and precious ſtones.

4 The flood, &c.] A flood breaks out from ſome neighbouring place, and diſturbs the mines; but by the hard labour of man they are drained, and leave the place dry again.

2 Oh that I were as in months paſt, as in the days when God preſerved me;

3 When his candle ſhined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darkneſs;

4 As I was in the days of my youth, when the ſecret of God was upon my tabernacle;

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me;

6 When I waſhed my ſteps with butter, and the rock poured me out rivers of oil;

7 When I went out to the gate through the city, when I prepared my ſeat in the ſtreet!

8 The young men ſaw me, and hid themſelves: and the aged aroſe, and ſtood up.

9 The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.

10 The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

11 When the ear heard me, then it bleſſed me; and when the eye ſaw me, it gave witneſs to me:

12 Becauſe I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherleſs, and him that had none to help him.

13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſh came upon me: and I cauſed the widow's heart to ſing for joy.

14 I put on righteouſneſs, and it cloathed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.

15 I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poor: and the cauſe which I knew not I ſearched out.

17 And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the ſpoil out of his teeth.

18 Then I ſaid, I ſhall die in my neſt, and I ſhall multiply my days as the ſand.

19 My root was ſpread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.

20 My glory was freſh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.

21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept ſilence at my counſel.

22 After my words they ſpake not again; and my ſpeech dropped upon them.

23 And they waited for me as for the rain; and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.

24 If I laughed on them, they believed it not; and the light of my countenance they caſt not down.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread, &c.] Corn and herbs are produced on its ſurface, and in its bowels are found ſulphur, naphtha, &c.

9 He putteth forth his hand upon the rock, &c.] He digs through the hardeſt rocks, and undermines the mountains, to find the treaſure hid in their bowels.

10 He cutteth out rivers, &c.] If he meet with waters which obſtruct his work, he cuts a channel through the rock, to divert their courſe, and never reſts till he hath diſcovered every thing that may requite his pains.

12 But where ſhall wiſdom be found? &c.] How ſucceſsful ſoever man may be in theſe reſearches, he muſt not think to comprehend the myſteries of Providence.

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof, &c.] It is not to be purchaſed.

22 Deſtruction and death ſay, &c.] The meaning is, We have ſomething relating to this queſtion handed down to us by tradition from our forefathers, who are now dead.

28 And unto man he ſaid, Behold, &c.] He imprinted this ſenſe upon the mind of man, that he ought to be an humble adorer, and not a cenſurer of his ſecret wiſdom.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXVIII.

We may gather from hence, that wiſdom is a moſt precious thing: that God alone is the author of true wiſdom, which he gives to all that ſeek it of him aright, with zeal, humility, and faith; and that it does not conſiſt in knowing all the works of God; but what he has revealed, and as much as is neceſſary for our happineſs and an acquaintance with the author of our being.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXIX.

1 Moreover Job continued, &c.] Job reminds his friends with what reverence his ſpeeches were formerly received, wiſhing that God would reſtore him to thoſe happy days, as he never abuſed his power, but always employed it in defence of the poor and friendleſs from oppreſſion, and in forcing the wicked to reſtore what they had violently extorted.

16 The cauſe which I knew not I ſearched out.] He did not ſtay till he was requeſted to maintain the right of the oppreſſed, but prevented them by making enquiries by virtue of his office.

18 I ſhall die in my neſt, &c.] I ſhall die quietly in my own houſe.

19 My root was ſpread out, &c.] I was like a tree whoſe roots extended along the margin of the waters, and whoſe boughs were perpetually moiſtened by the dews of heaven.

23 They waited for me as for the rain, &c.] They expected my opinion with the ſame eager deſire that the huſbandman doth the ſhowers, after he hath ſown the corn.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXIX.

We have a noble example and leſſon ſet before us here; namely, that they who are rich and in authority, ſhould make uſe of thoſe advantages, in rendering juſtice to every one, and, above all, in doing good to the poor, comforting the miſerable, and taking the part of thoſe who are wronged.

Before CHRIST 1520.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Job's honour is turned into extreme contempt: 15 his proſperity into calamity.

BUT now they that are younger than I have me in deriſion, whoſe fathers I would have diſdained to have ſet with the dogs of my flock.

2 Yea, whereto might the ſtrength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was periſhed?

3 For want and famine they were ſolitary; fleeing into the wilderneſs in former time deſolate and waſte.

4 Who cut up mallows by the buſhes, and juniper roots for their meat.

5 They were driven forth from among men, (they cried after them as after a thief;)

6 To dwell in the cliffs of the valleys, in caves of the earth, and in the rocks.

7 Among the buſhes they brayed; under the nettles they were gathered together.

8 They were children of fools, yea, children of baſe men: they were viler than the earth.

9 And now am I their ſong, yea, I am their by word.

10 They abhor me, they flee far from me, and ſpare not to ſpit in my face.

11 Becauſe he hath looſed my cord, and afflicted me, they have alſo let looſe the bridle before me.

12 Upon my right hand riſe the youth; they puſh away my feet, and they raiſe up againſt me the ways of their deſtruction.

13 They mar my path, they ſet forward my calamity, they have no helper.

14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the deſolation they rolled themſelves upon me.

15 Terrors are turned upon me: they purſue my ſoul as the wind: and my welfare paſſeth away as a cloud.

16 And now my ſoul is poured out upon me; the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.

17 My bones are pierced in me in the night ſeaſon: and my ſinews take no reſt.

18 By the great force of my diſeaſe is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19 He hath caſt me into the mire, and I am become like duſt and aſhes.

20 I cry unto thee, and thou doſt not hear me: I ſtand up, and thou regardeſt me not.

21 Thou art become cruel to me: with thy ſtrong hand thou oppoſeſt thyſelf againſt me.

22 Thou lifteſt me up to the wind; thou cauſeſt me to ride upon it, and diſſolveſt my ſubſtance.

23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the houſe appointed for all living.

24 Howbeit he will not ſtretch out his hand to the grave, though they cry in his deſtruction.

25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble? was not my ſoul grieved for the poor?

26 When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkneſs.

27 My bowels boiled, and reſted not: the days of affliction prevented me. Before CHRIST 1520.

28 I went mourning without the ſun: I ſtood up, and I cried in the congregation.

29 I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.

30 My ſkin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.

31 My harp alſo is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

Job maketh a ſolemn proteſtation of his integrity in ſeveral duties.

I MADE a covenant with mine eyes; why then ſhould I think upon a maid?

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked? and a ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth not he ſee my ways, and count all my ſteps?

5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath haſted to deceit;

6 Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.

7 If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands;

8 Then let me ſow, and let another eat; yea, let my offſpring be rooted out.

9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbour's door;

10 Then let my wife grind unto another, and let others bow down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime; yea, it is an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judges.

12 For it is a fire that conſumeth to deſtruction, and would root out all mine increaſe.

13 If I did deſpiſe the cauſe of my man-ſervant or of my maid-ſervant, when they contended with me;

14 What then ſhall I do when God riſeth up? and when he viſiteth, what ſhall I anſwer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the womb make him? and did not one faſhion us in the womb?

16 If I have withheld the poor from their deſire, or have cauſed the eyes of the widow to fail;

17 Or have eaten my morſel myſelf alone, and the fatherleſs hath not eaten thereof;

18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have guided her from my mother's womb;)

19 If I have ſeen any periſh for want of cloathing, or any poor without covering;

20 If his loins have not bleſſed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my ſheep;

21 If I have lifted up my hand againſt the fatherleſs, when I ſaw my help in the gate:

22 Then

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXX.

1 But now] Job having, in the preceding chapter, given us an account of his former ſplendor, takes occaſion here to annex a no leſs elegant deſcription of the vileneſs of his preſent condition; hoping that the conſideration of ſo prodigious a change might at laſt move his ſevere friends to ſome compaſſion towards him.

Whoſe fathers I would have diſdained, &c.] Whoſe fathers I diſdained to employ in the vileſt ſervices.

13 They have no helper.] They are ſufficient to ruin me of themſelves, and need no aſſiſtance from others.

22 Thou cauſeſt me to ride upon it, &c.] To ride upon the wind, here, is to be toſſed about in it like ſtraw; meaning, that he was violently ſhaken with his afflictions.

24 Howbeit he will not ſtretch out his hand to the grave, &c.] However, this is my comfort, that death will end my ſufferings, which cannot go beyond the grave.

28 Without the ſun, &c.] Without any beam of comfort.

29 I am a brother to dragons, &c.] I ſpend my time in lamentation, like one of thoſe mournful creatures which fill the barren waſtes with their doleful cries.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXX.

The condition to which Job was reduced, ought to comfort thoſe whom God cauſeth to paſs through long and ſharp trials; and from what happened to him, they ſhould learn to moderate their complaints, undergo their ſufferings with patience, and wait with reſignation, in the path of duty, till God ſhall pleaſe to deliver them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXI.

1 I made a covenant with mine eyes, &c.] Do not, I beſeech you, any longer look upon theſe ſufferings as an argument of my guilt; for I declare unto you, that I have been careful to avoid ever the occaſions of licentiouſneſs, and therefore it cannot be thought that I ever laid a ſcheme to corrupt a virgin.

2 For what portion of God, &c.] For I well know that in heaven there is an almighty Being, who created and governs all things; and what muſt I expect from him, as the reward of ſuch impurity?

6 Let me be weighed in an even balance, &c.] The figure of God's weighing mankind in a balance, we find in many of the beſt authors; particularly Homer, Æſchylus, Virgil, &c.

7 Mine heart walked after mine eyes, &c.] That is, hath accompliſhed the luſt of mine eyes.

18 He was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have guided her, &c.] Job here declares that he nouriſhed the fatherleſs, and maintained the widow's cauſe.

21 When I ſaw my help in the gate.] When Job ſaw that it was in his power to help in the gate, i. e. in a court of juſtice.

Before CHRIST 1520.

22 Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.

23 For destruction from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his highness I could not endure.

24 If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, because mine hand had gotten much;

26 If I beheld the sun when it shined, or the moon walking in brightness;

27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed, or my mouth hath kissed my hand:

28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him:

30 Neither have I suffered my mouth to sin by wishing a curse to his soul.

31 If the men of my tabernacle said not, Oh that we had of his flesh! we cannot be satisfied.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the street: but I opened my doors to the traveller.

33 If I covered my transgressions as Adam, by hiding mine iniquity in my bosom:

34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrify me, that I kept silence, and went not out of the door?

35 Oh that one would hear me! behold, my desire is, that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a book.

36 Surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown to me.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps; as a prince would I go near unto him.

38 If my land cry against me, or that the furrows likewise thereof complain;

39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:

40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockle instead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu is angry with Job and his three friends. 11 He reproveth them for not satisfying of Job. 16 His zeal to speak.

SO these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.

2 Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu, the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God.

3 Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken, because they were elder than he. Before CHRIST 1520.

5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old; wherefore I was afraid, and durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.

8 But there is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 Great men are not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgment.

10 Therefore I said, Hearken to me; I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words; I gave ear to your reasons, whilst ye searched out what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you, and, behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that answered his words:

13 Lest ye should say, We have found out wisdom: God thrusteth him down, not man.

14 Now he hath not directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15 They were amazed, they answered no more: they left off speaking.

16 When I had waited, (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more)

17 I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter, the spirit within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent; it is ready to burst like new bottles.

20 I will speak, that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles; in so doing my maker would soon take me away.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu offereth himself instead of God with sincerity and meekness to reason with Job. 8 He excuseth God from giving man an account of his ways, by his greatness. 31 He inciteth Job to attention.

WHEREFORE, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words.

2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words shall be of the uprightness of my heart: and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.

4 The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 If

---

23 For destruction from God, &c.] I was never so void of understanding, as to think I could withstand the Almighty's vengeance; the dread of it terrified me, knowing it was impossible for me to support myself against his omnipotent arm.

26, 27 If I beheld the sun, &c.] He denies his being ever inclined to idolatry, even when he viewed the heavenly luminaries shining in their utmost splendor.

31 If the men of my tabernacle, &c.] His servants would have persuaded him to be revenged of his enemy.

33 As Adam, &c.] Or as men.

34 Did I fear a great multitude, &c.] Septuagint, For I did not fear a great multitude, so as not to confess before them, if I suffered a poor man to go out of my door with an empty lap.

40 The words of Job are ended.] Here Job ended his defence.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXI.

Let us labour with all diligence to possess the principles by which Job's conduct was governed; that we may abhor all impurity, even in thoughts and looks, render justice to all the world, and shew mercy to the miserable; for the unclean, the unjust, the proud, the covetous, the uncharitable, and hypocrites, cannot escape the righteous judgment of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXII.

2 Elihu.] He was the son of Buz, the son of Nahor, who lived in the southern part of Mesopotamia; and, upon the supposition that Job sprang from Abraham, was his distant relation. Elihu passes very judicious censure, not only upon the three friends, but upon Job himself: he thinks he had not managed the dispute with so much calmness, and submission to God, as became his piety.

He justified himself rather than God.] He was more solicitous to defend his own innocence, than to give God the glory, and, by justifying himself, he seemed to accuse God of rigour.

19 My belly is as wine, &c.] The meaning is, like wine put into old bottles, (agreeable to our Saviour's expression in the parable); for their bottles were of leather.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXII.

We may perceive that Elihu was a wise and understanding man, since he passed a better judgment on the condition of Job, than himself or his three friends had done; blaming Job for speaking favourably of himself, and his friends for having condemned him; which shews us, that we should always speak freely, impartially, and with sincerity, as before the Lord; nor should the regard of men's persons prevent our saying what is to the glory of God and the good of mankind.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, &c.] Here Elihu addresses his speech to Job only; and begins to reprehend those passages which he thought were blameable in Job's speeches, particularly his insisting so much upon his integrity.

4 The Spirit of God hath made me, &c.] I am a man as thou art, therefore thou mayest reply freely, without fear of being overcome by my power, or overawed by my greatness, as you apprehend you may be by the power and greatness of God.

JOB, Chap. XXXIV. Ver. 7. 8.

What man is like Job who drinketh up scorning like water? which goeth in company with the workers of Iniquity, &c.

Before CHRIST 1520.

5 If thou canſt anſwer me, ſet thy words in order before me, ſtand up.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wiſh, in God's ſtead: I alſo am formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror ſhall not make thee afraid, neither ſhall my hand be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou haſt ſpoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, ſaying,

9 I am clean without tranſgreſſion, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me.

10 Behold, he findeth occaſions againſt me, he counteth me for his enemy.

11 He putteth my feet in the ſtocks, he marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, in this thou art not juſt: I will anſwer thee, that God is greater than man.

13 Why doſt thou ſtrive againſt him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God ſpeaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not.

15 In a dream, in a viſion of the night, when deep ſleep falleth upon men, in ſlumberings upon the bed;

16 Then he openeth the ears of men, and ſealeth their inſtruction,

17 That he may withdraw man from his purpoſe, and hide pride from man.

18 He keepeth back his ſoul from the pit, and his life from periſhing by the ſword.

19 He is chaſtened alſo with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with ſtrong pain:

20 So that his life abhorreth bread, and his ſoul dainty meat.

21 His fleſh is conſumed away, that cannot be ſeen; and his bones that were not ſeen ſtick out.

22 Yea, his ſoul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the deſtroyers.

23 If there be a meſſenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thouſand, to ſhew unto man his uprightneſs:

24 Then he is gracious unto him, and ſaith, Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ranſom.

25 His fleſh ſhall be freſher than a child's: he ſhall return to the days of his youth:

26 He ſhall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him: and he ſhall ſee his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteouſneſs.

27 He looketh upon men, and if any ſay, I have ſinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not;

28 He will deliver his ſoul from going into the pit, and his life ſhall ſee the light.

29 Lo, all theſe things worketh God oftentimes with man,

30 To bring back his ſoul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will ſpeak.

32 If thou haſt any thing to ſay, anſwer me; ſpeak, for I deſire to juſtify thee. Before CHRIST 1520.

33 If not, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I ſhall teach thee wiſdom.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Elihu accuſeth Job for charging God with injuſtice: 10 God omnipotent cannot be unjuſt. 31 Man muſt humble himſelf unto God. 34 Elihu reproveth Job.

FURTHERMORE Elihu anſwered and ſaid,

2 Hear my words, O ye wiſe men; and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 For the ear trieth words, as the mouth taſteth meat.

4 Let us chooſe to us judgment: let us know among ourſelves what is good.

5 For Job hath ſaid, I am righteous: and God hath taken away my judgment.

6 Should I lie againſt my right? my wound is incurable without tranſgreſſion.

7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up ſcorning like water?

8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.

9 For he hath ſaid, It profiteth a man nothing that he ſhould delight himſelf with God.

10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of underſtanding: far be it from God, that he ſhould do wickedneſs; and from the Almighty, that he ſhould commit iniquity.

11 For the work of a man ſhall he render unto him, and cauſe every man to find according to his ways.

12 Yea, ſurely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.

13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath diſpoſed the whole world?

14 If he ſet his heart upon man, if he gather unto himſelf his ſpirit and his breath;

15 All fleſh ſhall periſh together, and man ſhall turn again unto duſt.

16 If now thou haſt underſtanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall even he that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is moſt juſt?

18 Is it fit to ſay to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?

19 How much leſs to him that accepteth not the perſons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands.

20 In a moment ſhall they die, and the people ſhall be troubled at midnight, and paſs away: and the mighty ſhall be taken away without hand.

21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he ſeeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkneſs, nor ſhadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themſelves.

23 For he will not lay upon man more than right; that he ſhould enter into judgment with God.

24 He

---

14 God ſpeaketh once, yea twice, &c.] God reveals himſelf to man more ways than one, as he ſees fit.

19 He is chaſtened alſo with pain upon his bed, &c.] Another way is, by painful diſeaſes which God inflicts upon men, and lays them languiſhing upon their beds of ſickneſs.

23, 24, 25 If there be a meſſenger, &c.] If the Almighty pleaſe to ſend a righteous meſſenger, who can explain the reaſon for the proceedings of Providence, and can perſuade the afflicted perſon to repent, and turn him from the evil of his ways, he ſhall implore the mercies of God for him, ſaying, Spare thy ſervant, O Lord, &c. Some underſtand this meſſenger to allude to Chriſt, who is ſtiled the meſſenger of the covenant.

27 He looketh upon men, &c.] That converted ſinner ſhall proclaim God's grace to men, and ſhall propoſe himſelf for an example.

General Reflections on Chap. XXXIII.

The conduct of the Lord towards men is here repreſented in a noble point of view, as likewiſe the means he uſes to withdraw them from their ſins: he ſpeaks once and twice unto them with great patience; ſends pain and diſtempers upon them, ſo as to bring them to the brink of the grave, deſigning hereby to turn man from the evil he would elſe do. And if in ſuch a ſtate of affliction they would have recourſe to God, and be aſſiſted by the warnings and prayers of God's faithful ſervants, he will have compaſſion on them, will re-eſtabliſh them, and give them occaſion to praiſe his power and goodneſs exerted in their behalf.

Commentary and Notes on Chap. XXXIV.

4 Let us chooſe to us judgment, &c.] Let us agree to examine the buſineſs, that we may be able to pronounce a righteous judgment.

6 Should I lie againſt my right, &c.] This is a continuation of Job's plea, repeated here by Elihu.

7 Who drinketh up ſcorning like water.] Who, inſtead of adoring the Almighty, ſpeaks contemptuouſly of his judgments.

8 Which goeth in company, &c.] i. e. Argues and diſcourſes after the ſame manner: namely, aſſerting that it is vain and unprofitable to ſerve God.

13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth, &c.] He did not receive the government of the world from any above himſelf.

14 If he gather unto himſelf his ſpirit and his breath.] If he recall that ſpirit or life which he hath infuſed into them, &c.

Before CHRIST 1520.

24 He ſhall break in pieces mighty men without number, and ſet others in their ſtead.

25 Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, ſo that they are deſtroyed.

26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men in the open ſight of others;

27 Becauſe they turned back from him, and would not conſider any of his ways:

28 So that they cauſe the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.

29 When he giveth quietneſs, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done againſt a nation, or againſt a man only:

30 That the hypocrite reign not, leſt the people be enſnared.

31 Surely it is meet to be ſaid unto God, I have borne chaſtiſement, I will not offend any more:

32 That which I ſee not teach thou me: if I have done iniquity, I will do no more.

33 Should it be according to thy mind? he will recompence it, whether thou refuſe, or whether thou chooſe; and not I: therefore ſpeak what thou knoweſt.

34 Let men of underſtanding tell me, and let a wiſe man hearken unto me.

35 Job hath ſpoken without knowledge, and his words were without wiſdom.

36 My deſire is that Job may be tried unto the end becauſe of his anſwers for wicked men.

37 For he addeth rebellion unto his ſin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words againſt God.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Compariſon is not to be made with God, becauſe our good or evil cannot extend unto him. 9 Many cry in their afflictions, but are not heard for want of faith.

ELIHU ſpake moreover, and ſaid,

2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right, that thou ſaidſt, My righteouſneſs is more than God's?

3 For thou ſaidſt, What advantage will it be unto thee? and, What profit ſhall I have, if I be cleanſed from my ſin?

4 I will anſwer thee, and thy companions with thee.

5 Look unto the heavens, and ſee; and behold the clouds which are higher than thou.

6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou againſt him? or if thy tranſgreſſions be multiplied, what doeſt thou unto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giveſt thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?

8 Thy wickedneſs may hurt a man as thou art; and thy righteouſneſs may profit the ſon of man. Before CHRIST 1520.

9 By reaſon of the multitude of oppreſſions they make the oppreſſed to cry: they cry out by reaſon of the arm of the mighty.

10 But none ſaith, Where is God my maker, who giveth ſongs in the night;

11 Who teacheth us more than the beaſts of the earth, and maketh us wiſer than the fowls of heaven?

12 There they cry, but none giveth anſwer, becauſe of the pride of evil men.

13 Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou ſayeſt thou ſhalt not ſee him, yet judgment is before him; therefore truſt thou in him.

15 But now, becauſe it is not ſo, he hath viſited in his anger; yet he knoweth it not in great extremity;

16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain; he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu ſheweth how God is juſt in his ways, 16 and how Job's ſins hinder God's bleſſings. 24 God's works are to be magnified.

ELIHU alſo proceeded, and ſaid,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will ſhew that I have yet to ſpeak on God's behalf.

3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will aſcribe righteouſneſs to my Maker.

4 For truly my words ſhall not be falſe: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any: he is mighty in ſtrength and wiſdom.

6 He preſerveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the poor.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings are they on the throne; yea, he doth eſtabliſh them for ever, and they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction;

9 Then he ſheweth them their work, and their tranſgreſſions that they have exceeded.

10 He openeth alſo their ear to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.

36 My deſire is that Job may be tried unto the end, &c.] He deſires that the affliction of Job might be continued upon him, till he recanted thoſe anſwers in which he complained of divine Providence, after the manner of wicked men.

37 He clappeth his hands among us, &c.] "He clappeth his hands," in ſign of victory and triumph.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXIV.

We ſee in this chapter that God does every thing wiſely and juſtly, and gives account to none, of his ways; he is omniſcient and infinitely good; therefore, when he corrects us, we ſhould humble ourſelves, beſeech him to make known our faults to us, and ſay to him, If I have committed iniquity, I will do ſo no more.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXV.

2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right, &c.] How can this agree? And is it not abſurd in you to appeal to God's judgment, to be approved of and juſtified, if in the mean while you contend with him, as though he reſpected not good or evil works, nor gave them their due reward?

4 Thy companions with thee.] Such as are in the like error.

9 By reaſon of the multitude of oppreſſions, &c.] The tyranny of the mighty forces the oppreſſed to cry aloud to God for vengeance; who, though he be not hurt himſelf by it; yet is touched with a ſenſe of their affliction.

10 Who giveth ſongs in the night, &c.] Who is able not only to relieve, but alſo to comfort and give joy in the midſt of the ſaddeſt affliction.

11 Who teacheth us more than the beaſts, &c.] He who takes care of the beaſts and birds, will not neglect the human race, if with hearty repentance, a thankful ſenſe of his benefits, and a humble confidence in his goodneſs, we piouſly addreſs ourſelves unto him.

14 Although thou ſayeſt thou ſhalt not ſee him, &c.] Therefore although thou complaineſt that thou doſt not ſee him appear for thy deliverance, yet do not conclude from thence that he is unrighteous: but go and condemn thyſelf before him, and then patiently wait for his mercy.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXV.

We may hence learn, that God commands nothing, nor forbids any thing but for our good, therefore we ought chearfully to acquieſce in all his diſpenſations, and thank him for thoſe ſacred records in which our faith and duty are founded, for the means of grace, and the hope of glory; whereas they who reject the goſpel of Chriſt will be puniſhed as objects of the divine diſpleaſure, while the mercy and juſtice of God will ſhine forth conſpicuouſly for ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu alſo proceeded, &c.] Having cenſured ſome of Job's unwarrantable expreſſions, Elihu proceeds here to ſhew, from the nature of God, and the methods of his providence, that if he had, inſtead of diſputing, ſubmitted himſelf to the divine chaſtiſement, he would have been delivered; and his not diſcerning the reaſon of theſe corrections, ought not to have hindered his humble ſubmiſſion, becauſe we are not able to comprehend any of the works of God which we ſee every day, and acknowledge to be excellently contrived.

5 God is mighty and deſpiſeth not any, &c.] Though he is mighty, he deſpiſeth not any.

8, 9 If they be bound in fetters, &c.] If he viſits them with affliction, it is only to bring them to reflection, and to ſhew them their ſins.

Before CHRIST 1520.

14 They die in youth, and their life is among the unclean.

15 He delivereth the poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression.

16 Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness; and that which should be set on thy table should be full of fatness.

17 But thou hast fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: judgment and justice take hold on thee.

18 Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot deliver thee.

19 Will he esteem thy riches? no, not gold, nor all the forces of strength.

20 Desire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.

21 Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?

23 Who hath enjoined him his way? or, who can say, Thou hast wrought iniquity?

24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.

25 Every man may see it; man may behold it afar off.

26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be searched out.

27 For he maketh small the drops of water: they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof:

28 Which the clouds do drop and distil upon man abundantly.

29 Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his tabernacle?

30 Behold he spreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the sea.

31 For by them judgeth he the people; he giveth meat in abundance.

32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to shine by the cloud that cometh betwixt.

33 The noise thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattle also concerning the vapour.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 God is to be feared for his great works. 15 His wisdom is unsearchable in them.

AT this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.

2 Hear attentively the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the ends of the earth.

4 After it a voice roareth: he thundereth with the voice of his excellency; and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundereth marvellously with his voice; great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend. Before CHRIST 1520.

6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth; likewise to the small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.

7 He sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.

8 Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their places.

9 Out of the south cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.

10 By the breath of God frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitened.

11 Also by watering he wearieth the thick cloud: he scattereth his bright cloud:

12 And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.

13 He causeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.

14 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Dost thou know when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south wind?

18 Hast thou with him spread out the sky, which is strong, and as a molten looking glass?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.

20 Shall it be told him that I speak? if a man speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.

21 And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.

22 Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God challengeth Job to answer. 4 God, by his mighty works, convinceth Job of ignorance, 31 and of imbecility.

THEN the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man, for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me.

17 But thou hast fulfilled the judgment of the wicked, &c.] But thou hast maintained the cause of the wicked. All the latter part of this chapter is, and most of the next, is either mutilated in the copies, or else the text is unsearchable.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXVII.

We are taught from this chapter, that it is our duty, on all occasions, to vindicate the divine Providence, although, at the same time, we may not thoroughly understand the nature and necessity of those events that come under our observation; but in all doubtful matters, we should suspend our judgment till that time arrives, when God shall judge the world in righteousness.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XXXVII.

1 At this time also, &c.] Elihu here continues his discourse concerning the incomprehensible works of God, limiting himself chiefly (as he had done in the foregoing chapter) to his wonders in the clouds: to which at last he subjoins the amazing extent, brightness, and firmness of the sky, in which the sun shines with a lustre we are incapable of beholding; and thence he concludes that the splendor of the divine Majesty is infinitely more dazzling, and that therefore we must not pretend to give an account of his counsels.

7 He sealeth up the hand of every man, &c.] His storms put a stop to the business of all those who labour in the field.

18 As a molten looking-glass.] The colour of the sky, when clear, exactly resembles that polished metal of which the looking-glasses of the antients were made.

20 Shall it be told him that I speak, &c.] Is any thing that I have said worth his hearing?

22 Fair weather cometh, &c.] The LXX hath it thus, Out of the north come clouds of a golden colour, and there is in them a terrible brightness and glory of the Almighty. This is true of Arabia, and a probable argument that Job was of that country.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXVIII.

We are here taught, that it is our duty to adore, with profound humility, the ways of the Lord; to confess his power, justice, and goodness, as well as our own ignorance and weakness, and on all occasions to look up to God for wisdom, who alone is able to conduct us through all the dark and intricate mazes of his providence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Then the Lord answered Job, &c.] A general silence ensued: when the Almighty appears himself as judge, to decide this great controversy; and convinces Job of his ignorance and weakness. The words here ascribed to God are far superior to any thing we meet with in the most elegant poets, whether antient or modern, which plainly evinces, that the whole of this sacred book was dictated by unerring wisdom.

2 That darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge.] i. e. That disparages my counsels with his ignorant discourses about them.

35 Canst thou send lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are?

General Reflections on Chap. XXXVIII.

We hence learn, that God alone governs the world; he is also the fountain of all wisdom; that our knowledge is foolishness, unless it proceeds from a perfect acquaintance with, and reliance on him let these considerations, therefore sink us deep in humility, and teach us the necessity of a continual dependence upon him.

16 She is hardened againſt her young ones, &c.] It is obſervable that the oſtrich has a very ſmall ſhare of that natural affection which ſo ſtrongly exerts itſelf in other creatures; for upon the leaſt diſtant noiſe, or any trivial occaſion, ſhe forſakes her eggs or young ones, to which perhaps ſhe never returns; or if ſhe does, it may be too late either to reſtore genial warmth to the one, or preſerve the lives of the other.

17 God hath deprived her of wiſdom, &c.] She is alſo inconſiderate and fooliſh in the choice of her food; ſwallowing every thing indiſcriminately, with the utmoſt greedineſs, whether pieces of rags, leather, wood, ſtone, lead, or iron.

19 Haſt thou given the horſe ſtrength? &c.] Here follows one of the moſt lively and beautiful deſcriptions that was ever penned. In this deſcription, the ſacred poet makes all the beauties to flow from an inward principle in the creature he deſcribes, and thereby gives great ſpirit and vivacity to it: here are all the great and ſprightly images that thought can form of this generous beaſt, expreſſed in ſuch force and energy of ſtyle, as would have given the great wits of antiquity new laws for the ſublime, had they been acquainted with theſe writings.

24 He ſwalloweth the ground] A bold and noble image for ſwiftneſs.

Neither believeth he that it is the ſound of the trumpet.] He cannot believe it for joy.

25 He ſaith among the trumpets, Ha, ha] He neighs, he rejoices.

He ſmelleth the battle afar off, &c.] Expreſſive of his ardent deſire to engage.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XXXIX.

In this chapter we are called upon to admire and adore the power and wiſdom of God in his works, their various qualities, and his proviſion for them: this conſideration ſhould lead us to humble ourſelves under a ſenſe of our own ignorance, weakneſs, and nothingneſs, that we look up to him as the bountiful author of every good and perfect gift.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XL.

4 Behold, I am vile; what ſhall I anſwer thee? &c.] Job, whoſe great confuſion and terror had hitherto kept him ſilent, now anſwers with becoming humility, that he was a wretched creature, and unworthy to ſpeak to the Majeſty of heaven.

5 Once have I ſpoken; but I will not anſwer: yea, twice; but I will proceed no further.] I have ſaid too much already, in ſpeaking only two or three words to thee; but I have done, I will add no more.

15 Behold now behemoth, &c.] The word "behemoth" is of Egyptian derivation, ſignifying not the elephant, but a creature in that country, called by the Greek writers hippopotamus, i. e. river-horſe.

19 He is the chief of the ways of God, &c.] He is one of the principal works of God among the brute creation.

23 And haſteth not, &c.] Drinketh at leiſure, without fear.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XL.

We are hence taught, that our moſt exalted ideas fall infinitely ſhort of the nature of the divine Being; that he is unſearchable in his councils; and that when any thing in creation exceeds our comprehenſion, it ſhould at once excite in us wonder and love, adoration and humility.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON CHAP. XLI.

1 Job ſubmitteth himſelf unto God. 7 God preferring Job's cauſe, maketh his friends ſubmit themſelves, and accepteth him. 10 He magnifieth and bleſſeth Job. 16 Job's age and death.

THEN Job anſwered the LORD, and ſaid,

2 I know that thou canſt do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counſel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I underſtood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beſeech thee, and I will ſpeak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I abhor myſelf, and repent in duſt and aſhes.

7 ¶ And it was ſo, that after the LORD had ſpoken theſe words unto Job, the LORD ſaid to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two friends: for ye have not ſpoken of me the thing that is right, as my ſervant Job hath.

8 Therefore take unto you now ſeven bullocks and ſeven rams, and go to my ſervant Job, and offer up for yourſelves a burnt offering; and my ſervant Job ſhall pray for you: for him will I accept: leſt I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not ſpoken of me the thing which is right, like my ſervant Job.

9 ¶ So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: the LORD alſo accepted Job.

10 And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: alſo the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before.

11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his ſiſters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houſe: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man alſo gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

12 So the LORD bleſſed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thouſand ſheep, and ſix thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhe aſſes.

13 ¶ He had alſo ſeven ſons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the firſt, Jemima; and the 8 Remember the battle, do no more.] If thou once conſider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

9 The hope of him is in vain, &c.] Namely, of him who thinks to take him.

18 His eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.] Here is conveyed to us as great an image of the thing repreſented as is poſſible to be done by words. And probably the Egyptians from hence borrowed their hieroglyphic of the morning, which is a crocodile's eye.

19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, &c.] Naturaliſts tell us, that the crocodile, lying a long time under water, and being there forced to hold his breath, when he emerges, his breath, by being long repreſt, is hot, and burſts out ſo violently, that it reſembles fire and ſmoke.

22 Sorrow is turned into joy before him.] Nothing is painful or difficult to him.

30 Sharp ſtones are under him, &c.] His ſkin is ſo hard, and he is ſo armed with ſcales, that the ſharp-pointed things on which he reſts do not hurt him.

31 The ſea like a pot of ointment.] That is, Troubled with the ſlimy mud that he ſtirreth up.

34 He beholdeth all high things, &c.] Without any fear, as if he contemned them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XLI.

All the works of Providence are truly admirable: let us not eſteem them the leſs, becauſe we ſee them daily, but glorify the great Creator for them; and let the contemplation of inferior objects raiſe in our minds a reverential awe of their glorious Author, who is God over all, bleſſed for ever, and the only ſource of all perfection and true felicity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on Chap. XLII.

1 Then Job anſwered the Lord, and ſaid.] The foregoing ſpeeches having in ſo lively a manner repreſented the power and wiſdom of God in his works, awakened Job to a fuller conviction of his error than he had before, and forced him now to ſubmit himſelf to the great Lord of all, the creator, the diſpoſer, the preſerver of the univerſe; with the profoundeſt humility confeſſing, repenting, and begging pardon for his faults; reſigning himſelf entirely to be inſtructed by him, and reſolving never hereafter to complain of or queſtion the equity and goodneſs of his providence.

4 I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.] Let me learn of thee, and do thou inſtruct my ignorance.

5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now, &c.] He had now a clear and ſenſible perception of his being and divine perfections.

8 Go to my ſervant Job, &c.] To reconcile yourſelves fully unto him; before you can think of reconciling yourſelves unto me. It is ſuppoſed Job was appointed to be their prieſt and offer for them their burnt-offering.

11 Every man alſo gave him a piece of money, &c.] The word here rendered "a piece of money," ſignifies alſo lambs, or young ſheep, as the Chaldee paraphraſt turns the word.

14 Jemima] Jemima ſignifies "the day," becauſe of the day of felicity which he now enjoyed, after a long night of affliction.

16 After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and ſaw, &c.] He lived in all two hundred and forty years.

17 So Job died, being old and full of days.] The LXX add, And it is written that he ſhall riſe again among thoſe whom the Lord ſhall raiſe; which is a plain proof that the Jews believed a reſurrection.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Chap. XLII.

The concluſion of this hiſtory affords an illuſtrious example, whereby we ſee, that if God afflicts his children to try them, he grants them at length a happy deliverance; and that oftentimes he bleſſes them in this life, and gives them much more than he had taken from them. We ſhould therefore never be diſcouraged under our circumſtances, but truſt in God, imitating the piety and patience of Job, and then we ſhall find, as he did, that the Lord is full of compaſſion, and ever ready to give us more than we either deſire or deſerve.

The Book of PSALMS.

THE ARGUMENT.

The book of Pſalms is a collection of ſpiritual ſongs and hymns, compiled by ſeveral men in ſeveral ages: moſt of them were compoſed by David, ſome by Solomon, and one (if not more) by Moſes. Some were compoſed during the captivity, and ſome after their return. It is probable that ſome pious perſons collected as many of the pſalms as they could find, and doubtleſs preſerved them for their comfort in their captivity; and when they returned to Jeruſalem, brought them with them; where Ezra ranged them in one collection, in the manner we now have them. The Hebrews ſung their pſalms with different inſtruments: the word "pſalm," which is Greek, ſignifies the ſound of a ſtringed inſtrument of muſic.

PSAL. I.

1 The happineſs of the godly. 4 The unhappineſs of the ungodly.

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counſel of the ungodly, nor ſtandeth in the way of ſinners, nor ſitteth in the ſeat of the ſcornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he ſhall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his ſeaſon; his leaf alſo ſhall not wither; and whatſoever he doeth ſhall proſper.

4 The ungodly are not ſo: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly ſhall not ſtand in the judgment, nor ſinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly ſhall periſh.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. I.

1 Bleſſed is the man, &c.] The pſalmiſt here diſtinguiſhes the wicked into three different ranks; viz. the man that "walketh in the counſel of the ungodly," the man that "ſtandeth in the way of ſinners," and the man that "ſitteth in the ſeat of the ſcornful." By the "ſcornful" are meant thoſe who not only neglect, but alſo ſcoff at religion, and make a mock of that, which of all things in the world is of the greateſt importance. Walking or ſtanding in the way of ſinners, repreſents only particular wicked actions; but ſitting ſignifies a fixed, reſolute eſtabliſhment in an habit of wickedneſs.

3 And he ſhall be like a tree, &c.] As a tree planted near the water of a perpetual fountain flouriſhes all the year; ſo ſhall the pious man be ever proſperous, and in the iſſue reap a plentiful fruit of his labours.

4 Like the chaff which the wind driveth away.] The antient method of winnowing their corn, and as it is now practiſed in the eaſt, was by throwing it up againſt the wind with a ſhovel.

5 Shall not ſtand in the judgment, &c.] Let them not think to defend themſelves when God judges the world.

6 The Lord knoweth the way, &c.] i. e. He approves and highly eſteems the way, &c.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. I.

We are taught, in this pſalm, that it is the duty of every Chriſtian to remove from the company and diſorders of the wicked, and to delight chiefly in the meditation of the law of the Lord; that God knows, bleſſes, and proſpers the righteous; but the wicked ſhall not eſcape his vengeance; but, ſooner or later, will be plunged into inconceivable miſeries.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. II.

Under the hiſtory of David, whom God raiſed to a throne, and eſtabliſhed in it, we have alſo an illuſtrious prophecy of the kingdom of CHRIST, whom God raiſed even from the dead, made him the King of glory, and extended his kingdom to the uttermoſt parts of the earth, notwithſtanding all the rage and malice of the powers of earth and hell.

2 The kings of the earth, &c.] The kings and governors of the world are confederated to oppoſe the deſigns of God, who has anointed one king over his people; in the ſame manner as Herod, Pontius Pilate, and the rulers of Iſrael, will conſpire againſt the Meſſiah, and will endeavour to dethrone him to whom God hath given all the kingdoms of the earth. So the apoſtles interpreted this pſalm; ſee Acts iv. 27.

3 Let us break their bands aſunder, &c.] Let us, ſay they, ſhake off all obedience to this new king; we will not have him to reign over us.

6 Yet have I ſet my king upon my holy hill of Zion.] Notwithſtanding all your oppoſition, I have anointed and ſet up David, who rules by my authority in the hill of Zion, the place of my peculiar reſidence: as in future time I will alſo anoint one of his poſterity to ſit on the throne of glory, at the right hand of the Majeſty on high.

7 I will declare the decree: the Lord hath ſaid, &c.] This is deſcriptive of the great exaltation of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, whom God had fore-determined to raiſe again to life after being dead and buried, and then to crown with glory and honour in the heavens.

8 I ſhall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, &c.] You ſhall ſhortly behold the heathen ſubdued by David; and hereafter all the nations of the earth ſhall be ſubjected to the power of Chriſt.

12 Kiſs the Son] To kiſs, which is a ſymbol of love, and a token of obedience, (ſee 1 Sam. x. 1.) is here put for to love and obey.

And ye periſh from the way, &c.] And ye cry, wander, or deviate, from the right way.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. II.

David's confidence, manifeſted in this pſalm, ſhews us, that whatever men do contrary to the deſigns of God, is vain; for his decrees will ſurely come to paſs. But we ought more eſpecially to conſider this pſalm (and indeed many others) as relating to the ſpiritual kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt, which has been eſtabliſhed in ſpite of all oppoſition, and will ſubſiſt for ever: let us therefore ſubmit ourſelves to this glorious King, ſerve him with fear and joy, and place all our truſt in his protection and favour.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. III.

1 Lord, how are they increaſed, &c.] Lord, how amazing is this change! I who lately triumphed over ſo many countries, now ſee mine own ſubjects in arms againſt me; and, with mine own ſon, conſpiring to deprive me of both crown and life.

2 Of my ſoul] i. e. Concerning me, or my life.

Selah.] This word ſignifies an elevation of the voice; and may be applied either to the attention of the mind, or the raiſing of the voice.

7 Upon the cheek bone, &c.] To ſmite upon the cheek bone, is a ſign and term of reproach.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. III.

The inſtruction here laid down is, that a man who fears God, may be reduced to great diſtreſs; but he nevertheleſs does not loſe his confidence, neither does he fear men; but always depends upon the exiſtence of God, even in the midſt of the greateſt dangers.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. IV.

To the chief Muſician] Or, to the maſter, or him that excelleth: the original word ſignifieth, one that proſecuteth any thing to the end, or the continuance of a work till it is finiſhed and perfected: and David delivered this to the care of ſuch a maſter, that, under his direction, it might be excellently performed. Some interpret this as meant of Chriſt.

Neginoth, &c.] Stringed muſical inſtruments.

1 Thou haſt enlarged me when I was in diſtreſs; have mercy upon me, &c.] Thou haſt heretofore delivered me out of my troubles and greateſt dangers, which makes me hope thou wilt ſtill take pity upon me, and hear and grant my humble petition.

2 Sons of men] It ſhould rather be tranſlated, Sons of man; for "ſons of men" are thoſe of the race of Adam; but ſons of man are perſons of rule and dignity in the world.

How long will ye turn my glory into ſhame?] Ceaſe to defame and overturn my government.

And ſeek after leaſing? &c.] Invent calumnies, and indufttiouſly ſpread lies.

6 There be many that ſay, &c.] Many are apt to deſpair; but do thou, O Lord, look favourably upon us, and bleſs us.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. IV.

We may learn from hence, that the enterprizes formed againſt the righteous are vain; that worldly men ſeek only for the advantages of this life, but that the children of God aſpire only to obtain his favour, which conſtitutes both their happineſs and ſecurity; and fills their heart with more joy, even under the greateſt afflictions, than worldly men have in their greateſt proſperity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. V.

Nehiloth, &c.] Nehiloth is underſtood to mean wind-inſtruments, ſuch as flutes, trumpets, organs, &c. as Neginoth comprehends ſtringed inſtruments.

1 My meditation.] i. e. My complaint and cry.

4 Neither ſhall evil dwell with thee.] Or be a gueſt with thee.

5 The fooliſh, &c.] The word is uſed for mad, and implies raving with folly, or running eagerly after ſin.

7 Toward thy holy temple.] Towards thy ſanctuary, into which the worſhippers did not enter, but in the court-yard, and at the door offered their gifts.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. V.

There are obſervable in this pſalm, 1. The zeal and confidence with which good men call upon the Lord in their neceſſities; 2. The fervour, pleaſure, and reſpect, with which they worſhip him in his houſe; 3. The averſion God has againſt ſin, eſpecially pride, cruelty, and deceit; and, laſtly, The puniſhment reſerved for the wicked, and the protection which God extends to all thoſe who fear and truſt in him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. VI.

Sheminith, &c.] Sheminith ſignifies eight; and commentators in general are of opinion that this pſalm was ordered to be ſung to the harp of eight ſtrings. Some grievous diſeaſe and malady, from which David had recovered, is ſuppoſed to have given occaſion to this penitential pſalm.

1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, &c.] David here begs of God that he would be pleaſed to mitigate his chaſtiſement, and abate of his ſeverity, leſt his ſpirit ſhould be overwhelmed within him, and he ſink under his affliction.

3 O Lord, how long?] Or, as the other tranſlation has it, How long wilt thou puniſh me?

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee, &c.] There I can have no opportunity of doing thee ſervice, the dead being utterly unable to commemorate thy wonderful works, and propagate the memory of them to poſterity.

7 Mine eye is conſumed becauſe of grief, &c.] This may be taken for the whole viſage or countenance.

8 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity, &c.] Depart from me, ye wicked, nor maliciouſly inſult my affliction, nor vainly expect my death.

10 Let all mine enemies be aſhamed, &c.] The other tranſlation reads, All mine enemies ſhall be confounded, &c. which ſeems not ſo conſiſtent with the ſentiments of David, though more applicable to the Meſſiah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. VI.

We are here taught to pray with David not only to be preſerved from the evils of this life, but alſo for the pardon of our ſins, and from the puniſhments of the life to come. We ſhould have recourſe to God, through Chriſt, with humility and faith, being aſſured he will grant our requeſts, and deliver us from every hurtful ſnare.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. VII.

Shiggaion of David, &c.] Shagah (from whence Shiggaion is derived) is uſed for delight, or wandering in pleaſure. This pſalm may therefore be intitled the delight, pleaſure, or ſolace of David. It was written on occaſion of ſome calumnies and falſe accuſations which Cuſh, one of the ſame tribe with Saul, had charged David withal.

2 Leſt he tear my ſoul like a lion, &c.] So great is his power, and ſo implacable his rage, that if thou ſuffereſt me to fall into his hands, I am no more able to oppoſe Saul, than a lamb to defend itſelf againſt a lion.

9 The righteous God trieth the hearts and reigns.] Diſcerneth the moſt ſecret thoughts and deſires.

11 God is angry with the wicked every day.] Though he delays the puniſhment of their miſdeeds, yet doth he ſtill remember the offence, and increaſeth the puniſhment of thoſe who treaſure up for themſelves wrath againſt the day of wrath.

12 If he turn not, he will whet his ſword, &c.] If the wicked repent not, God will puniſh them with the greater ſeverity.

14 Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, &c.] This calumniator hath formed moſt miſchievous deſigns againſt both my honour and my life, which ſhall all miſcarry, and deceive his expectations.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. VII.

From this pſalm we ſhould learn to have recourſe to God, in our wants, with a pure and upright heart; we alſo find herein, that the malice of the wicked ſhall come to an end; that if they will not hearken to the voice of God, he will inflict upon them the puniſhments their ſins deſerve, and at length bring the evil upon themſelves which they deſigned for others. Hereby God makes known his juſtice and wiſdom, for which alſo the righteous have reaſon to adore and praiſe him with grateful hearts.

PSAL. VIII.

God's glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man.

To the chief Muſician upon Gittith, A Pſalm of David.

O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who haſt ſet thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and ſucklings haſt thou ordained ſtrength becauſe of thine enemies, that thou mighteſt ſtill the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I conſider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the ſtars, which thou haſt ordained;

4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the ſon of man, that thou viſiteſt him?

5 For thou haſt made him a little lower than the angels, and haſt crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madeſt him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou haſt put all things under his feet:

7 All ſheep and oxen, yea, and the beaſts of the field;

9 O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSAL. IX.

1 David praiſeth God for executing of judgment. 11 He inciteth others to praiſe him. 13 He prayeth that he may have cauſe to praiſe him.

To the chief Muſician upon Muth-labben, A Pſalm of David.

1018. I Will praiſe thee, O LORD, with my whole heart; I will ſhew forth all thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will ſing praiſe to thy name, O thou moſt High.

3 When mine enemies are turned back, they ſhall fall and periſh at thy preſence.

4 For thou haſt maintained my right and my cauſe; thou ſateſt in the throne judging right.

5 Thou haſt rebuked the heathen, thou haſt deſtroyed the wicked, thou haſt put out their name for ever and ever.

6 O thou enemy, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou haſt deſtroyed cities; their memorial is periſhed with them.

7 But the LORD ſhall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

8 And he ſhall judge the world in righteouſneſs, he ſhall miniſter judgment to the people in uprightneſs.

9 The LORD alſo will be a refuge for the oppreſſed, a refuge in times of trouble.

10 And they that know thy name will put their truſt in thee: for thou, LORD, haſt not forſaken them that ſeek thee.

11 Sing praiſes to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.

12 When he maketh inquiſition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.

13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD; conſider my trouble which I ſuffer of them that hate me, thou that lifteſt me up from the gates of death:

14 That I may ſhew forth all thy praiſe in the gates of the daughter of Zion, I will rejoice in thy ſalvation.

15 The heathen are ſunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16 The LORD is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is ſnared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah.

17 The wicked ſhall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.

18 For the needy ſhall not alway be forgotten: the expectation of the poor ſhall not periſh for ever.

19 Ariſe, O LORD; let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy ſight.

20 Put them in fear, O LORD: that the nations may know themſelves to be but men. Selah.

PSAL. X.

1 David complaineth to God of the outrage of the wicked. 12 He prayeth for remedy. 16 He profeſſeth his confidence.

WHY ſtandeſt thou afar off, O LORD? why hideſt thou thyſelf in times of trouble?

2 The wicked in his pride doth perſecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.

3 For the wicked boaſteth of his heart's deſire, and bleſſeth the covetous, whom the LORD abhorreth.

4 The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not ſeek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.

Gittith, &c.] The moſt probable opinion is, that David compoſed this pſalm after his victory over Goliath of Gath; which is very agreeable to the matter of the pſalm, and a lively emblem of Chriſt's conqueſt over our great enemy the devil.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and ſucklings haſt thou ordained ſtrength, &c.] That thou ſhouldeſt enable the weakeſt of men to do the greateſt things, is enough to confound all the enemies, and to ſtop the mouths of the moſt virulent oppoſers of thee and thy people.

3, 4 When I conſider thy heavens, &c.] When I contemplate the immenſity of the heavens, and thoſe ſtupendous orbs which thou haſt placed there in the moſt beautiful order, I am aſtoniſhed to think thou ſhouldeſt condeſcend to ſhew ſuch remarkable favour to man, and in particular to me, who am the meaneſt of my father's houſe; nay, that thou ſhouldeſt advance our natures by means of the Son of man, the great Meſſiah, whom the world will viliſy and reject, exceeds all wonder, and ought to be the ſubject of our perpetual admiration.

5 Thou haſt made him a little lower than the angels, &c.] Thou haſt raiſed man to ſuch a pitch of dignity, and honoured him ſo highly, that he is but little inferior to the heavenly hoſt; and by the mediation of thine own Son, who ſhall take our nature upon him, thou wilt crown him with glory and honour.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. VIII.

After the example of David, we ought to conſider the marks of the infinite power of God, as we obſerve them in the heavens, in the ſtars, and in all the earth, that ſo we may be led to adore the majeſty of God, confeſs our own meanneſs, and walk humbly in his ſight.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. IX.

Upon Muth-labben, &c.] Moſt interpreters are of opinion that this word hath a relation to Goliath. But it is evident that this pſalm was not compoſed immediately after David's victory over that giant, from mention being made in it of Sion, which was not then in the hands of Iſrael; but afterwards, upon ſome freſh occaſion he had to implore the aſſiſtance of the divine power, he only recollected and commemorated again that former deliverance.

6 O thou enemy, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end, &c.] O thou inſolent enemy, how vain were thy hopes of leavin , no remembrance of our deſolated cities but in their ruins!

14 The gates of the daughter of Zion, &c.] They are here oppoſed to the gates of death in the foregoing verſe. By "the daughter of Zion," is meant the church or aſſembly there gathered together.

16 Higgaion] This word ſignifies, It is worthy to be noted, or deſerves our meditat on.

18 The needy ſhall not alway be forgotten, &c.] The Lord in due time, will ſhew that he does not neglect the poor and the helpleſs, though for the preſent he may defer to relieve them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. IX.

This ſong in which David expreſſes his piety, joy and gratitude, ſhould ſtir us up to praiſe God with all our hearts for the deliverances he grants us, and for his favours to us, and to publiſh them abroad. The pſalmiſt teaches us beſides, that God will render to the wicked according to their works, but that thoſe that fear his name may rely upon him; that he never forſakes thoſe that ſeek him; and that the expectation of the ſorrowful ſhall not be cut off, or be in vain.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. X.

This pſalm is a moſt lively deſcription of the inſolence of wicked atheiſtical men, when they have power and are in authority, which they abuſe to the oppoſition of thoſe below them, making no conſcience of employing the loweſt arts to compaſs their ends.

In the Greek tranſlation this pſalm is made a continuance of the foregoing; ſo that in the Greek, and thoſe who copy them, the number of the pſalms differ from thoſe in the Hebrew; the eleventh being reckoned for the tenth, the twelfth for the eleventh, &c. and to make up the number one hundred and fifty, they divide the hundred and forty-ſeventh into two; they likewiſe join the hundred and fourteenth and hundred and fifteenth, and, to make up for it, they divide the hundred and ſixteenth.

4 God is not in all his thoughts.] That is, by an uſual Hebraiſm, God is not at all in his thoughts.

5 His ways are always grievous; thy judgments are far above out of his sight: as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them.

6 He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved: for I shall never be in adversity.

7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud: under his tongue is mischief and vanity.

8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily set against the poor.

9 He lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth, and humbleth himself, that the poor may fall by his strong ones.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten: he hideth his face; he will never see it.

12 Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.

14 Thou hast seen it, for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth himself unto thee; thou art the helper of the fatherless.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man: seek out his wickedness till thou find none.

16 The LORD is king for ever and ever: the heathen are perished out of his land.

17 LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear:

PSAL. XI.

1 David encourageth himself in God against his enemies. 4 The providence and justice of God.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

1060. IN the LORD put I my trust: how say ye to my soul, Flee as a bird to your mountain?

2 For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may privily shoot at the upright in heart.

3 If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?

5 His ways are always grievous] Or troublesome: all his endeavours and actions aim only at hurting others.

He puffeth at them.] He defieth and setteth them at nought, as if he would overthrow them with his breath.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man] Despoil them of their power to trust and oppress this people.

Seek out his wickedness till thou find none.] Meaning, these wicked men are incorrigible, their malice will never cease till they are turned out.

17 Thou wilt prepare their heart, &c.] Thou wilt dispose their heart humbly to wait upon thee.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. X.

We see here that wicked men often employ both deceit and force to ruin the good, that God lets them alone for a while; but when they think they have nothing to fear, he calls them to account, and takes vengeance of their crimes; while he protects the meek, hears their cries, and delivers them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XI.

This psalm was composed by David; in all probability it was when he was persecuted by Saul, and was advised by some to seek his safety by flight into the mountains of Judea.

1 In the Lord put I my trust, &c.] It is neither in fortresses, nor friends, that I place my safety; the Lord alone is my defence: why then should you bid me flee away, like a timorous bird, from the snare of the fowler, to your mountains of security?

2 For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, &c.] Behold, you say, the danger, the fowler hath bent his bow, and fitted his arrow upon the string, and has you as a bird, always in his eye.

3 If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do.] If the righteous had not God for the foundation of their hope, their case would be truly desperate.

4 The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven, &c.] The world is not governed by chance: but the Lord is the supreme and righteous ruler of all affairs; and no mischief can be

4 The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORD's throne is in heaven: his eyes behold, his eyelids try the children of men.

5 The LORD trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.

6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous LORD loveth righteousness; his countenance doth behold the upright.

PSAL. XII.

1 David destitute of human comfort, craveth help of God. 3 He comforteth himself with God's judgments on the wicked, and confidence in God's tried promises.

To the chief Musician upon Sheminith.
A Psalm of David.

HELP, Lord; for the godly man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

2 They speak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips and with a double heart do they speak.

3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

4 Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

5 For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him.

6 The words of the LORD are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.

PSAL. XIII.

1 David complaineth of delay in help. 3 He prayeth for preventing grace. 5 He boasteth of divine mercy.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

HOW long wilt thou forget me, O LORD? for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?

3 Consider

so secretly contrived, no wicked design can be so artfully dissembled, but it was open before him, and is manifest in his sight.

6 The portion of their cup] The due measure of their punishment.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XI.

This psalm furnishes us with an example of the confidence which the righteous have in the Lord their God, who is their sure refuge, even when they are in the most hopeless condition, and can see no way to escape: his countenance is always turned towards the upright, but will ever be set against those who love unrighteousness and oppression.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XII.

This psalm, composed by David, is a sad complaint of the corrupt manners of that age, particularly of the court of Saul, in which it was hardly possible to find out a truly honest and sincere man. Some think it aims partly at Doeg, and the false Ziphites who promised David friendship, but most basely betrayed him into the hands of Saul.

4 Who is lord over us.] Who shall call us to an account?

8 The wicked walk on every side, &c.] The wicked will not know which way to turn themselves, for anger and vexation, when they see those persons, whom they vilified, and looked upon with contempt, not only preserved, but exalted to dignity and honour.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XII.

The prayers which David put up to God in this psalm teach us, that when we see iniquity abound, and how little there remains of honesty and sincerity among men, we ought to beg of God that he would deliver us from the evil, and especially from the corruption that reigns in the world.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XIII.

This psalm was composed by David, and relates to some remarkable distress; probably to the rebellion of Absalom.

2 The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God.

David describeth a citizen of Zion.

A Psalm of David.

LORD, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?

the enemy is very great, and threatens, like a tempest hanging over my head, every moment to fall upon me.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XIII.

This psalm is very proper for persons in affliction, especially for those that labour under their sins, and are deprived of the sense of the love of God. Such should have recourse to the throne of grace, implore the mercy of God, and beseech him to enlighten and comfort them, that they may, with David, celebrate his mercy, and praise him for his goodness.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XIV.

1 The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God, &c.] The wicked, though not so impudent as to deny openly the being of a God, yet they certainly flatter themselves in secret with the thought that either there is no God, or that he is indifferent with regard to the transactions of mankind, and will never call them to account for their transgressions.

3 There is none that doeth good, no, not one.] The number of the righteous is inconsiderable, in comparison of the wicked.

6 Ye have shamed the counsel of the poor, because the Lord is his refuge.] Ye have derided and scoffed at those few who were enabled to maintain their integrity and loyalty, to wait patiently upon God, and to trust in him alone for safety.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XIV.

As it was in David's time, so it is now: among professing Christians, few seek God sincerely, and most live in impiety, as if they believed there was no God; we ought therefore to pray to be preserved from such corruption. But we may also observe, that in the worst of times, there are always some faithful and righteous men that fear God, and of whom God will ever be the protector.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XV.

1 Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle, &c.] Who shall have the honour to be admitted into thy society, and enjoy all the privileges of a true worshipper of thee?

2 He that walketh uprightly, &c.] Here David supposes God answering him from the holy oracle.

3 He that backbiteth not, &c.] Ragal, here translated to "backbite," properly signifies going to and fro, prying and spying and carrying tales and rumours, and is used for defaming or calumniating.

4 He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.] He who hath so serious a regard for religion, that whatever he promises verbally (but more especially with an oath) he never fails to perform, how injurious soever it may prove to his private interest.

5 Nor taketh reward against the innocent] i. e. Whom no bribe can corrupt to condemn the innocent.

Shall never be moved.] Shall never be removed from the favour of God.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XV.

This is a very instructive psalm, and teaches us, that God will not admit all kinds of men into his presence: but only those who walk in uprightness, who are faithful and sincere in their discourse and behaviour; who avoid slander, injustice, and extortion, who love good men, and endeavour to keep a conscience void of offence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XVI.

Michtam, &c.] This psalm was so intitled, not only on account of the admirable expressions it contains of David's faith and confidence in God, though under the most violent persecutions from Saul, being forced to fly into foreign countries, but because also it contains a prophecy of the resurrection of our Lord Christ from the dead.

2 My goodness extendeth not to thee.] No merits of mine claim thy favour.

4 Their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.] I will never partake with them in their abominable pagan sacrifices, stained with human gore, or by swearing by the name of any of their false gods.

5 The Lord is the portion, &c.] The Almighty is the God whom I adore; and while I put my confidence in him, he will support me: "cup" here signifies, inheritance.

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places, &c.] This expression is taken from the custom of measuring land by lines or cords.

7 My reins, &c.] That is, my thoughts.

8 At my right hand, &c.] He is nigh powerfully to assist me.

9 My glory, &c.] My soul.

10 In hell, &c.] By "hell" we are to understand the grave, the place, estate, or depth of death. This is a remarkable prophecy of the resurrection of our Lord.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XVI.

We are here taught, that the righteous are infinitely happy: that God himself is their portion and inheritance; that he keeps himself on their right hand; that they rejoice and praise God continually, in the belief of their own happiness, and that they are convinced that

PSAL. XVIII.

David praiſeth God for his manifold and marvellous bleſſings.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David, the ſervant of the LORD, who ſpake unto the LORD the words of this ſong in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: And he ſaid,

I WILL love thee, O LORD, my ſtrength.

2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortreſs, and my deliverer; my God, my ſtrength, in whom I will truſt; my buckler, and the horn of my ſalvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praiſed: ſo ſhall I be ſaved from mine enemies.

4 The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The ſorrows of hell compaſſed me about: and the ſnares of death prevented me.

6 In my diſtreſs I called upon the LORD, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth ſhook and trembled; the foundations alſo of the hills moved and were ſhaken, becauſe he was wroth.

8 There went up a ſmoke out of his noſtrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens alſo, and came down: and darkneſs was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkneſs his ſecret place; his pavilion round about him were dark waters and thick clouds of the ſkies.

12 At the brightneſs that was before him his thick clouds paſſed, hail ſtones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD alſo thundered in the heavens, and the Higheſt gave his voice; hail ſtones and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he ſent out his arrows, and ſcattered them; and he ſhot out lightnings, and diſcomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were ſeen, and the foundations of the world were diſcovered at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blaſt of the breath of thy noſtrils.

16 He ſent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

17 He delivered me from my ſtrong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my ſtay.

19 He brought me forth alſo into a large place; he delivered me, becauſe he delighted in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteouſneſs; according to the cleanneſs of my hands hath he recompenſed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his ſtatutes from me.

23 I was alſo upright before him, and I kept myſelf from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompenſed me according to my righteouſneſs, according to the cleanneſs of my hands in his eyeſight.

25 With the merciful thou wilt ſhew thyſelf merciful; with an upright man thou wilt ſhew thyſelf upright;

26 With the pure thou wilt ſhew thyſelf pure; and with the froward thou wilt ſhew thyſelf froward.

27 For thou wilt ſave the afflicted people; but wilt bring down high looks.

that God will not abandon them to the power of death. Though this pſalm is applicable to the faithful, yet the latter part of it has been only completely fulfilled in Chriſt, whom God raiſed from the dead the third day, to whom likewiſe belongs bleſſing and praiſe for ever and ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XVII.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips I have kept me, &c.] The reſpect I bear to thy commandments hath preſerved me from thoſe murderous practices which the violent man would have attempted.

6 Thou wilt hear me, &c.] Thou wert accuſtomed to hear me.

10 They are incloſed in their own fat, &c.] Their proſperity makes them haughty and proud, and by indulging the appetites of the flesh, they diſregard the duties of religion.

13, 14 Deliver my ſoul from the wicked, which is thy ſword: from men which are thy hand] David here (by a figure) ſuppoſes the wicked to be the ſword, that is, the inſtrument of God, wherewith he puniſhed him; and the man of the world to be his hand, with which he ſmote him.

Thy hid treaſure, &c.] That is, worldly goods.

15 I will behold thy face in righteouſneſs, &c.] If I follow after holineſs and righteouſneſs, I ſhall enjoy the comfort and favour of thy countenance; and when I am delivered out of my troubles, I ſhall be ſatisfied with the manifeſtation of thy majeſty and power.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XVII.

David's confidence in God in trouble, ſhews the advantage good people enjoy, who can in all conditions apply themſelves with aſſurance to God as their protector, knowing that he will reſtrain the wickedneſs of thoſe who oppreſs them. Hence we are taught not to place our happineſs in the things of this life, as worldlings do; but pray to be delivered and kept from evil. The laſt words of this pſalm ſhould raiſe our thoughts to the deſire and expectation of eternal life, which the righteous will enjoy after the reſurrection.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XVIII.

Having already commented on this ſacred and beautiful poem in a preceeding part, we therefore beg leave to refer our readers to 2 Sam. xxii. and ſhall only take notice of the following verſe, which is not there inſerted:

1 I will love thee, O Lord, my ſtrength, &c.] I will love thee, O Lord, to whom I owe my ſafety, with the moſt ardent and paſſionate affection, as long as life continues.

GENERAL

28 For thou wilt light my candle: the LORD my God will enlighten my darkneſs.

29 For by thee I have run through a troop; and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all thoſe that truſt in him.

31 For who is God ſave the LORD? or who is a rock ſave our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with ſtrength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet, and ſetteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, ſo that a bow of ſteel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou haſt alſo given me the ſhield of thy ſalvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleneſs hath made me great.

36 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteps under me, that my feet did not ſlip.

37 I have purſued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were conſumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to riſe: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength unto the battle: thou haſt ſubdued under me thoſe that roſe up againſt me.

40 Thou haſt alſo given me the necks of mine enemies; that I might deſtroy them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to ſave them: even unto the LORD, but he anſwered them not.

42 Then did I beat them ſmall as the duſt before the wind: I did caſt them out as the dirt in the ſtreets.

43 Thou haſt delivered me from the ſtrivings of the people; and thou haſt made me the head of the heathen: a people whom I have not known ſhall ſerve me.

44 As ſoon as they hear of me, they ſhall obey me: the ſtrangers ſhall ſubmit themſelves unto me.

45 The ſtrangers ſhall fade away, and be afraid out of their cloſe places.

46 The LORD liveth; and bleſſed be my rock; and let the God of my ſalvation be exalted.

47 It is God that avengeth me, and ſubdueth the people unto me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea, thou lifteſt me up above thoſe that riſe up againſt me: thou haſt delivered me from the violent man.

49 Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen, and ſing praiſes unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king; and ſheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his ſeed for evermore.

PSAL. XIX.

1 The creatures ſhew God's glory; 7 the word, his grace. 12 David prayeth for grace.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament ſheweth his handy work.

2 Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night ſheweth knowledge.

3 There is no ſpeech nor language where their voice is not heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he ſet a tabernacle for the ſun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a ſtrong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the ſoul: the teſtimony of the LORD is ſure, making wiſe the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether.

10 More to be deſired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: ſweeter alſo than honey and the honeycomb.

11 Moreover by them is thy ſervant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can underſtand his errors? cleanſe thou me from ſecret faults.

13 Keep back thy ſervant alſo from preſumptuous ſins; let them not have dominion over me: then ſhall I be upright, and I ſhall be innocent from the great tranſgreſſion.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy ſight, O LORD, my ſtrength, and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

1 The church bleſſeth the king in his exploits. 7 Her confidence in God's ſuccour.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE LORD hear thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob defend thee.

2 Send thee help from the ſanctuary, and ſtrengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt ſacrifice. Selah.

4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counſel.

5 We will rejoice in thy ſalvation, and in the name of our God we will ſet up our banners: the LORD fulfil all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the LORD ſaveth his anointed; he will hear him from his holy heaven with the ſaving ſtrength of his right hand.

7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the name of the LORD our God.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XVIII.

We here ſee, that whatever extremities thoſe who fear God may fall into, they need never deſpair of his aſſiſtance, for he is their ſhield and deliverer; but the ſtate of the wicked is woeful beyond conception, for in their diſtreſs, the Lord will not hear their cry: this conſideration ſhould be a powerful motive to make us avoid ſin, and to beg of God to keep us from hardneſs of heart, and contempt of his word.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XIX.

1 The heavens declare the glory of God, &c.] The heavens, decorated with ſo immenſe a number of glorious orbs, in a particular manner proclaim aloud to all the ſons of men the infinite greatneſs, power, wiſdom, and goodneſs of God.

2 Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night, &c.] The conſtant ſucceſſion, and the convenient and grateful variation of day and night, furniſhes us with perpetual inſtruction, and a copious fund of praiſe and thanks to the divine wiſdom and goodneſs.

3 There is no ſpeech nor language, where their voice is not heard.] There is no people or nation in the world where the heavens and the firmament do not declare the glory of God, and diſplay the wiſdom of the great deſigner. This may alſo be underſtood as a prophecy of the promulgation of the goſpel by the apoſtles. Speech and language are elegantly put for people and countries; the book of Daniel gives us ſeveral inſtances of it.

4 Their line.] The Greek, and from thence our Engliſh tranſlation, reads, Their ſound.

4, 5 In them hath he ſet a tabernacle for the ſun, which is as a bridegroom, &c.] A tabernacle, or tent. The eſpouſals of the Jews were made under a tent or canopy, erected for the purpoſe; to which cuſtom this paſſage alludes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XIX.

From this pſalm we learn, that God employs two principal means whereby he makes himſelf known to us, namely, the works of nature, and his word: let us therefore meditate on the marvellous works of the Lord, which manifeſt his power, wiſdom, and goodneſs; but particularly let us apply ourſelves to the reading and meditation of his word, "which is able to make us wiſe unto ſalvation, through faith which is in Chriſt Jeſus."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XX.

This pſalm is a prayer for David's ſucceſs in ſome great expedition, and ſeems to have been compoſed to be ſung alternately by the king and his ſubjects.

1 The name of the God, &c.] The power and grace of God.

7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.] We are not intimidated at the numbers and large appointments of our confederate enemies; but to all theſe we oppoſe the mighty power of the Lord, who hath heretofore performed ſuch great things for us.

8 They are brought down and fallen: but we are riſen, and ſtand upright.

9 Save, LORD: let the king hear us when we call.

PSALM. XXI.

1 A thankſgiving for victory. 7 Confidence of further ſucceſs.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

THE king ſhall joy in my ſtrength, O LORD; and in thy ſalvation how greatly ſhall he rejoice!

2 Thou haſt given him his heart's deſire, and haſt not withholden the requeſt of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou preventeſt him with the bleſſings of goodneſs: thou ſetteſt a crown of pure gold on his head.

4 He aſked life of thee, and thou gaveſt it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy ſalvation: honour and majeſty haſt thou laid upon him.

6 For thou haſt made him moſt bleſſed for ever: thou haſt made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

7 For the king truſteth in the LORD, and through the mercy of the moſt High he ſhall not be moved.

8 Thine hand ſhall find out all thine enemies: thy right hand ſhall find out thoſe that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the LORD ſhall ſwallow them up in his wrath, and the fire ſhall devour them.

10 Their fruit ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſeed from among the children of men.

11 For they intended evil againſt thee: they imagined a miſchievous device, which they are not able to perform.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou make them turn their back, when thou ſhalt make ready thine arrows upon thy ſtrings againſt the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted, LORD, in thine own ſtrength: ſo will we ſing and praiſe thy power.

CHAP. XXII.

1 David complaineth in great diſcouragement. 9 He prayeth in great diſtreſs. 23 He praiſeth God.

To the chief Muſician upon Aijeleth Shahar, A Pſalm of David.

MY God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? why art thou ſo far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou heareſt not; and in the night ſeaſon, and am not ſilent.

3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabiteſt the praiſes of Iſrael.

4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou didſt deliver them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they truſted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and deſpiſed of the people.

7 All they that ſee me laugh me to ſcorn: they ſhoot out the lip, they ſhake the head, ſaying,

8 He truſted on the LORD that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, ſeeing he delighted in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didſt make me hope when I was upon my mother's breaſts.

10 I was caſt upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

11 Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have compaſſed me: ſtrong bulls of Baſhan have beſet me round.

13 They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midſt of my bowels.

15 My ſtrength is dried up like a potſherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou haſt brought me into the duſt of death.

16 For dogs have compaſſed me: the aſſembly of the wicked have incloſed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and ſtare upon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and caſt lots upon my veſture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O LORD: O my ſtrength, haſte thee to help me.

20 Deliver my ſoul from the ſword; my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou haſt heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midſt of the congregation will I praiſe thee.

23 Ye that fear the LORD, praiſe him; all ye the ſeed of Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the ſeed of Iſrael.

24 For he hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction

---

8 They are brought down and fallen, &c.] David here anticipates his triumph, and confidently rejoices in the victory, as if already gained.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XX.

By this pſalm it appears, that a nation ſhould pray for the king or prince that God has ſet over them, and intereſt themſelves in the advantages and deliverances which God grants to their governors.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXI.

This triumphant pſalm is a type of Chriſt's victory over death, and of the triumph that enſued.

4 He aſked life of thee, and thou gaveſt it him, even length of days for ever and ever.] He deſired only to eſcape with his life when he was encompaſſed with many dangers; and thou moreover didſt promiſe to prolong his days, and to continue the crown to his poſterity for many generations, as thou wilt do to his ſon Chriſt for ever and ever. See Rom vi. 9. Rev. i. 18. Heb. vii. 25.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou make them turn their back, &c.] In the Hebrew it is, Thou ſhalt make them a butt, a mark to ſhoot at.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXI.

This pſalm teaches us, that God bleſſes and defends juſt and pious kings, who call upon him, and truſt in him; whereas he throws down and deſtroys unrighteous princes, and eſpecially ſuch as oppoſe the eſtabliſhment of his kingdom, and the deſigns of his providence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXII.

Aijeleth Shahar, &c.] i. e. The hind of the mountain. David, who was perſecuted like an hind by the hunters in the morning, gives a large deſcription of his ſufferings; but at the ſame time, prophetically, a ſtill larger of the ſufferings of Chriſt: and in the concluſion of it recites his exaltation, and the propagation of his goſpel to the utmoſt ends of the earth.

1 My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? &c.] With reſpect to David, here is a mixture both of love and deſperation, under ſome extreme affliction. And with reſpect to our Saviour, it ſpeaks, in the moſt expreſſive manner, the unparallelled anguiſh and horrors of his ſoul in that dark hour of the divine dereliction, when, though the union of the divine and human natures was not, it is true, diſſolved, yet the influence of the former was ſuſpended, and the powers of darkneſs were let looſe, till the divine vengeance was as it were ſatiated upon him, and infinite ſatisfaction made for infinite guilt.

6 But I am a worm, and no man, &c.] The figurative ſenſe is, I bear the ſcandal and reproach of the deepeſt guilt, and yet am wholly free from it.

7, 8 All they that ſee me laugh me to ſcorn, &c.] This was moſt exactly and literally fulfilled in our Saviour. Matt xxvii. 39, 43.

12 Strong bulls of Baſhan, &c.] Powerful, great, and cruel enemies.

14 I am poured out like water, &c.] I am as weak as water.

15 The duſt of death.] The grave, in which the body returns to duſt.

16 For dogs have compaſſed me: the aſſembly of the wicked, &c.] The pſalmiſt ſpeaks here figuratively: That malicious company have combined together to perſecute me, who are as greedy and fierce as hungry dogs; they uſe me moſt cruelly, and have pierced my hands and my feet. All this was exactly accompliſhed in the ſufferings of the Son of God.

18 They part my garments among them, and caſt lots upon my veſture.] This alſo was literally fulfilled in Chriſt.

20 My darling, &c.] Some have tranſlated this, My ſolitary or deſolate ſoul; i. e. forſaken of all.

24 For he hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction, &c.] For that poor deſpicable perſon (whom they derided and deſpiſed) the Lord hath not diſdained to look graciouſly upon, in his loweſt and vileſt condition. All that from hence follows is more applicable to Chriſt than to David.

tion of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard.

25 My praiſe ſhall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

26 The meek ſhall eat and be ſatisfied: they ſhall praiſe the LORD that ſeek him: your heart ſhall live for ever.

27 All the ends of the world ſhall remember and turn unto the LORD: and all the kindreds of the nations ſhall worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the LORD's: and he is the governor among the nations.

29 All they that be fat upon the earth ſhall eat and worſhip: all they that go down to the duſt ſhall bow before him: and none can keep alive his own ſoul.

30 A ſeed ſhall ſerve him; it ſhall be accounted to the LORD for a generation.

31 They ſhall come, and ſhall declare his righteouſneſs unto a people that ſhall be born, that he hath done this.

PSAL. XXIII.

David's confidence in God's grace.

A Pſalm of David.

THE LORD is my ſhepherd; I ſhall not want.

2 He maketh me to lie down in green paſtures: he leadeth me beſide the ſtill waters.

3 He reſtoreth my ſoul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteouſneſs for his name's ſake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy ſtaff they comfort me.

5 Thou prepareſt a table before me in the preſence of mine enemies: thou anointeſt my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

6 Surely goodneſs and mercy ſhall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the houſe of the LORD for ever.

PSAL. XXIV.

1 God's lordſhip in the world. 3 The citizens of his ſpiritual kingdom. 7 An exhortation to receive him.

A Pſalm of David.

1017. THE earth is the LORD's, and the fulneſs thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it upon the ſeas, and eſtabliſhed it upon the floods.

3 Who ſhall aſcend into the hill of the LORD? or who ſhall ſtand in his holy place?

4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his ſoul unto vanity, nor ſworn deceitfully.

5 He ſhall receive the bleſſing from the LORD, and righteouſneſs from the God of his ſalvation.

6 This is the generation of them that ſeek him, that ſeek thy face, O Jacob. Selah.

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be lift up, ye everlaſting doors; and the King of glory ſhall come in.

8 Who is this King of glory? The LORD ſtrong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle.

9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlaſting doors; and the King of glory ſhall come in.

10 Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hoſts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

CHAP. XXV.

1 David's confidence in prayer. 7 He prayeth for remiſſion of ſins, 16 and for help in affliction.

A Pſalm of David.

UNTO thee, O LORD, do I lift up my ſoul.

2 O my God, I truſt in thee: let me not be aſhamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.

3 Yea, let none that wait on thee be aſhamed: let them be aſhamed which tranſgreſs without cauſe.

4 Shew me thy ways, O LORD; teach me thy paths.

5 Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my ſalvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

6 Remember, O LORD, thy tender mercies and thy loving kindneſſes; for they have been ever of old.

7 Remember not the ſins of my youth, nor my tranſgreſſions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodneſs' ſake, O LORD.

8 Good and upright is the LORD: therefore will he teach ſinners in the way.

9 The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.

10 All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth unto ſuch as keep his covenant and his teſtimonies.

11 For thy name's ſake, O LORD, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.

12 What man is he that feareth the LORD? him ſhall he teach in the way that he ſhall chooſe.

13 His ſoul ſhall dwell at eaſe; and his ſeed ſhall inherit the earth.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXII.

This pſalm contains a very plain deſcription of the ſufferings and deep humiliation of our Lord. God was pleaſed that theſe things ſhould be foretold by David, that when they happened, he might thereby be acknowledged to be the Meſſiah. How deplorable, then, is the blindneſs of the Jews, who are ſcandalized at the croſs of Chriſt: let this ſtrengthen our faith in the Saviour of the world, and excite our joy that God hath now exalted him, after his ſufferings, to his own right hand.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXIII.

1 The Lord is my ſhepherd, &c.] No ſhepherd exerciſes a more tender and conſtant care over his flock, than the Lord doth over me.

2 He leadeth me beſide the ſtill waters.] In like manner Chriſt, the great ſhepherd, is ſaid to lead his flock; ſee Rev. vii. 16, 17.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of death, &c.] Though I ſhould be again encompaſſed with the moſt diſmal dangers, they ſhall not diſcourage or terrify me, when I remember that thou art preſent to protect and defend me.

5 Thou anointeſt my head with oil; my cup runneth over.] David here intimates the abundant plenty and proſperity with which God had bleſſed him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXIII.

This pſalm is very proper for the conſolation of true believers; and the deſire of partaking in theſe precious advantages, ſhould animate us all zealouſly to embrace a life of piety and devotedneſs to the ſervice of God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXIV.

It is likely that this pſalm, compoſed by David, was appointed to be ſung alternately by the king and the people.

1 The earth is the Lord's, &c.] What a favour is this, that the divine Majeſty will vouchſafe to take up his ſpecial reſidence among us, when the whole earth is his, and all the creatures wherewith it is filled!

3 Who ſhall aſcend into the hill of the Lord? &c.] Who is worthy to appear before him? and who may hope to be admitted to a gracious audience with him?

6 This is the generation of them that ſeek him, that ſeek thy face, O Jacob, &c.] Theſe are the genuine people of God. Meaning, that though circumciſion ſeparateth the carnal ſeed of Jacob from the Gentiles, yet he who ſeeketh God is the true Jacob, is the very Iſraelite.

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates, &c.] This is prophetical of Chriſt's glorious aſcenſion into heaven, having ſpoiled principalities and powers, and obtained eternal redemption for us.

8 Who is this King of glory? &c.] If it ſhould be aſked, Who is this king, whoſe tranſcendent majeſty we proclaim? Be it known, that it is the Lord, who made and governs the world, and is alſo the redeemer of his people Iſrael.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXIV.

Obſerve carefully that which is ſaid in this pſalm; and ſince there be none, but thoſe in whom theſe characters are found, that can enjoy the preſence of God, ſee that you walk uprightly and ſincerely before him, calling upon his name, and ſeeking his face, that ſo you may receive, as God hath promiſed by David, "bleſſing from the Lord, and righteouſneſs from the God of your ſalvation."

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXV.

6 They have been ever of old.] All ages have tranſmitted to us memorials of thy compaſſionate bounty to the miſerable.

7 Remember not the ſins of my youth, &c.] I am a ſinner, and even in my youth went aſtray from thee: but conſider not, O my God, the greatneſs of my ſins, but, for the ſake of thy tender mercy, forgive my tranſgreſſions.

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my diſtreſſes.

CHAP. XXVI.

David reſorteth unto God, in confidence of his integrity.

A Pſalm of David.

JUDGE me, O LORD; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have truſted alſo in the LORD; therefore I ſhall not ſlide.

2 Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.

3 For thy loving kindneſs is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

4 I have not ſat with vain perſons, neither will I go in with diſſemblers.

5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers; and will not ſit with the wicked.

6 I will waſh mine hands in innocency: ſo will I compaſs thine altar, O LORD:

7 That I may publiſh with the voice of thankſgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

8 LORD, I have loved the habitation of thy houſe, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my ſoul with ſinners, nor my life with bloody men:

10 In whoſe hands is miſchief, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.

12 My foot ſtandeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bleſs the LORD.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 David ſuſtaineth his faith by the power of God, 4 by his love to the ſervice of God, 9 and by prayer.

A Pſalm of David.

THE LORD is my light and my ſalvation; whom ſhall I fear? the LORD is the ſtrength of my life; of whom ſhall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my fleſh, they ſtumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoſt ſhould encamp againſt me, my heart ſhall not fear: though war ſhould riſe againſt me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I deſired of the LORD, that will I ſeek after; that I may dwell in the houſe of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he ſhall hide me in his pavilion: in the ſecret of his tabernacle ſhall he hide me; he ſhall ſet me upon a rock.

6 And now ſhall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle ſacrifices of joy; I will ſing, yea, I will ſing praiſes unto the LORD.

7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy alſo upon me, and anſwer me.

8 When thou ſaidſt, Seek ye my face; my heart ſaid unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I ſeek.

9 Hide not thy face far from me; put not thy ſervant away in anger: thou haſt been my help; leave me not, neither forſake me, O God of my ſalvation.

10 When my father and my mother forſake me, then the LORD will take me up.

11 Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in a plain path, becauſe of mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for falſe witneſſes are riſen up againſt me, and ſuch as breathe out cruelty.

13 I had fainted, unleſs I had believed to ſee the goodneſs of the LORD in the land of the living.

14 Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen thine heart: wait, I ſay, on the LORD.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 David prayeth againſt his enemies. 6 He bleſſeth God. 9 He prayeth for the people.

A Pſalm of David.

UNTO thee will I cry, O LORD my rock; be not ſilent to me: leſt, if thou be ſilent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

14 The ſecret of the Lord, &c.] By "the ſecret of the Lord" is meant, either his favour and providence, or his counſel.

22 Redeem Iſrael, O God, out of all his troubles.] Nor do I plead mine own private cauſe alone, but beſeech thee to have mercy upon the whole nation, who are lamentably diſtracted by theſe diviſions, and to reſtore them to peace and quietneſs.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXV.

The uſe we are to make of this pſalm, is, to lift up our hearts to God, as David did, with faith and humility, to pray him to pardon our ſins, fill us with divine knowledge, and teach us to walk in his ways.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXVI.

2 My reins, &c.] The reins being the moſt inward parts of the body, are in ſcripture figuratively put for the inward thoughts.

6 I will waſh mine hands in innocency, &c.] This is an expreſſion taken from thoſe waſhings which were appointed for the prieſts to uſe when they approached the altar. This can only be underſtood of Chriſt, who knew no ſin.

9 Gather not my ſoul with ſinners, &c.] Involve me not in the ſame puniſhment with theſe ſinners from whoſe ſociety I have always ſeparated myſelf.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXVI.

We are here taught, that God ſearches the heart; that the only means of obtaining his favour is, to walk in truth, hate vice, and ſhun the company of the wicked. We ought alſo to delight in the worſhip of God, to praiſe him, and meditate on the wonders of his love; beſeeching him to preſerve us from every falſe way.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXVII.

1 The Lord is my light and my ſalvation; whom ſhall I fear? &c.] The Lord ſtill fills me with the joy of his countenance, what then ſhall make me afraid? He compaſſeth me about with his hand in the day of battle, whom then ſhall I fear?

4 That I may dwell in the houſe of the Lord, &c.] i. e. That I may perpetually attend upon the ſervice of God in the holy aſſemblies.

6 And now ſhall mine head be lifted up, &c.] Now I have felt the happy fruits of loving his dwelling-place; for the Lord hath given me a glorious victory, and made me triumph over all mine enemies on every ſide.

10 When my father and my mother forſake me, &c.] Though all my friends ſhould abandon me, yet would I hope that the Lord would take me into his care, and not ſuffer me to periſh.

13 I had fainted, &c.] How had it been poſſible for me to have ſupported myſelf under ſo many troubles and fears, if I had not firmly truſted in thee; that notwithſtanding the reſtleſs malice of my enemies, I ſhall enjoy thee in a proſperous and happy condition, even here in this preſent life.

14 Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen thine heart, &c.] Let not thine heart fail thee in the greateſt danger, but wait upon the Lord, and confidently expect that in his good time he will relieve thee.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXVII.

David's aſſurance ſhews, that although we ſhould be forſaken by all the world, yet God will never forſake us, if we depend upon him; that nothing but our truſt in him, and hope in his promiſes, can ſupport us in the midſt of the troubles of this life; and that therefore we ought to wait upon God only; being perſuaded that our expectation ſhall never be in vain.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Leſt, if thou be ſilent to me, I become like them, &c.] Leſt while I confide ſo entirely on thee, and yet thou takeſt no notice of me, I appear like one that is abandoned by thee to deſtruction.

2 Thy holy oracle.] The inmoſt and moſt holy part of the temple, in which was the ark of God.

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedneſs of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands; render to them their deſert.

5 Becauſe they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he ſhall deſtroy them, and not build them up.

6 Bleſſed be the LORD, becauſe he hath heard the voice of my ſupplications.

7 The LORD is my ſtrength and my ſhield; my heart truſted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my ſong will I praiſe him.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 David exhorteth princes to give glory to God, 3 by reaſon of his power, 11 and protection of his people.

A Pſalm of David.

GIVE unto the LORD, O ye mighty, give unto the LORD glory and ſtrength.

2 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name; worſhip the LORD in the beauty of holineſs.

3 The voice of the LORD is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth: the LORD is upon many waters.

4 The voice of the LORD is powerful; the voice of the LORD is full of majeſty.

5 The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars; yea, the LORD breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them alſo to ſkip like a calf: Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn.

7 The voice of the LORD divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the LORD ſhaketh the wilderneſs; the LORD ſhaketh the wilderneſs of Kadeſh.

9 The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds to calve, and diſcovereth the foreſts: and in his temple doth every one ſpeak of his glory.

10 The LORD ſitteth upon the flood; yea, the LORD ſitteth King for ever.

11 The LORD will give ſtrength unto his people; the LORD will bleſs his people with peace.

1 David praiſeth God for his deliverance. 4 He exhorteth others to praiſe him by example of God's dealing with him.

A Pſalm and Song at the dedication of the houſe of David. 1042.

I WILL extol thee, O LORD; for thou haſt lifted me up, and haſt not made my foes to rejoice over me.

2 O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou haſt healed me.

3 O LORD, thou haſt brought up my ſoul from the grave: thou haſt kept me alive, that I ſhould not go down to the pit.

4 Sing unto the LORD, O ye ſaints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſs.

5 For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my proſperity I ſaid, I ſhall never be moved.

7 LORD, by thy favour thou haſt made my mountain to ſtand ſtrong: thou didſt hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 I cried to thee, O LORD; and unto the LORD I made ſupplication.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the duſt praiſe thee? ſhall it declare thy truth?

10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD, be thou my helper.

11 Thou haſt turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou haſt put off my ſackcloth, and girded me with gladneſs;

12 To the end that my glory may ſing praiſe to thee, and not be ſilent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 David ſhewing his confidence in God, craveth his help. 7 He rejoiceth in his mercy. 9 He prayeth in his calamity. 19 He praiſeth God for his goodneſs.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

IN thee, O LORD, do I put my truſt; let me never be aſhamed: deliver me in thy righteouſneſs.

2 Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me ſpeedily: be thou my ſtrong rock for an houſe of defence to ſave me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortreſs; therefore for thy name's ſake lead me, and guide me.

9 Save thy people, &c.] Save alſo, I beſeech thee, O Lord, thy people whom thou haſt appointed unto thyſelf; take care of them as a watchful ſhepherd doth of his flock; and make them victorious over all their enemies, both now and in all future generations.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXVIII.

We are here taught, in all our wants, to call upon the Lord, lifting up your hands and hearts to him, and to implore his aſſiſtance in every exigence; for God will hearken to thoſe who appeal to him, but renders to the wicked according to their works, and will deſtroy the double minded and deceitful; but will always be the ſhield of the righteous, and the protector of his people, who fear and obey him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXIX.

2 The beauty of holineſs.] The ſanctuary where he fixed his glorious reſidence.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters, &c.] He makes not only the earth, but the great ocean tremble at that awful token of his preſence.

3 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars, &c.] At his thunder the ſtrongeſt trees of the foreſt tremble, nay, are broken into ſhivers.

6 Sirion, &c.] Sirion is mount Hermon.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calve, &c.] The hinds are ſaid to bring forth with greater trouble than other creatures, and when it thunders, the pſalmiſt remarks, that fear makes them caſt their calves.

In his temple doth every one ſpeak of his glory.] While his temple remains unſhaken by theſe tempeſts, and all his pious worſhippers there ſecurely ſing the praiſes of his glorious Majeſty, ſaying, "The Lord ſitteth," &c.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXIX.

We may learn from this pſalm, to adore, with reverence and fear, the majeſty of God; and ſhould take occaſion, from the works of his hands, to acknowledge his infinite power, and reverence him as the ruler and judge of the world.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXX.

The title of this pſalm, in the Hebrew runs thus, A pſalm, a ſong of dedication of the houſe built by David.

1 Lifted me up, &c.] As out of a pit: a phraſe denoting deliverance out of the depths of danger and diſtreſs.

2 Thou haſt healed me, &c.] Thou haſt reſtored me to my former eſtate.

12 My glory, &c.] i. e. My tongue.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXX.

We are here taught, that God makes uſe of adverſity to bring his people to a ſenſe of their duty, that they may acknowledge their dependance on his bounty, and have recourſe to him in their diſtreſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXXI.

4 Pull me out of the pit that they have laid privily for me, &c.] Mine enemies have now ſo circumvented me, and by the ſecret treachery of the Zophites, have brought me into ſuch perplexities, that I am utterly ruined, unleſs thou vouchſafeſt to work my deliverance.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I truſt in the LORD.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou haſt conſidered my trouble; thou haſt known my ſoul in adverſities;

8 And haſt not ſhut me up in the hand of the enemy: thou haſt ſet my foot in a large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble: mine eye is conſumed with grief, yea, my ſoul and my belly.

10 For my life is ſpent with grief, and my years with ſighing: my ſtrength faileth becauſe of mine iniquity, and my bones are conſumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but eſpecially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did ſee me without fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken veſſel.

13 For I have heard the ſlander of many: fear was on every ſide: while they took counſel together againſt me, they deviſed to take away my life.

14 But I truſted in thee, O LORD: I ſaid, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that perſecute me.

16 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: ſave me for thy mercies' ſake.

17 Let me not be aſhamed, O LORD; for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be aſhamed, and let them be ſilent in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be put to ſilence; which ſpeak grievous things proudly and contemptuouſly againſt the righteous.

19 Oh how great is thy goodneſs, which thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee; which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt in thee before the ſons of men!

20 Thou ſhalt hide them in the ſecret of thy preſence from the pride of man: thou ſhalt keep them ſecretly in a pavilion from the ſtrife of tongues.

21 Bleſſed be the LORD: for he hath ſhewed me his marvellous kindneſs in a ſtrong city.

22 For I ſaid in my haſte, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheleſs thou heardeſt the voice of my ſupplications when I cried unto thee.

23 O love the LORD, all ye his ſaints: for the LORD preſerveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

24 Be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD.

PSAL. XXXII.

A Pſalm of David, Maſchil.

2 Bleſſed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whoſe ſpirit there is no guile.

6 For this ſhall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayeſt be found: ſurely in the floods of great waters they ſhall not come nigh unto him.

7 Thou art my hiding place; thou ſhalt preſerve me from trouble; thou ſhalt compaſs me about with ſongs of deliverance. Selah.

8 I will inſtruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou ſhalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not as the horſe, or as the mule, which have no underſtanding: whoſe mouth muſt be held in with bit and bridle, leſt they come near unto thee.

11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, ye righteous: and ſhout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

22 In my haſte, &c.] When David made haſte to get away for fear of Saul, 1 Sam. xxiii. 26.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXI.

We may obſerve, in this pſalm, how David is tranſported with the ſenſe of God's favours towards thoſe that fear him, and of the greatneſs of thoſe things he lays up for them. Conſider this for your comfort, all you that fear the Lord; and let it encourage you more and more to love, obey, and pleaſe him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XXXII.

This pſalm was compoſed by David, when the calamities attending the rebellion of his ſon taught him how fearful a thing it was to offend God, and how much he was beholden to him for mercifully remitting to him the vengeance which his ſins deſerved.

1 Whoſe ſin is covered.] By the Lord, and not by himſelf; for he that covereth his ſins ſhall not proſper: but whoſo confeſſeth and forſaketh them, ſhall have mercy. Prov. xxviii. 13.

3 When I kept ſilence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long, &c.] Neither by ſilence nor crying found I eaſe; figuifying, that before the ſinner is reconciled to God, he is under a perpetual torture of mind.

6 They ſhall not come nigh unto him.] i. e. The great waters, and the danger ſhall not come nigh him.

8 I will inſtruct thee and teach thee, &c.] Hearken therefore unto me, whoſoever thou art that haſt any concern about thy ſalvation, and I will direct thee into the wiſeſt and ſafeſt courſe of life.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXII.

This pſalm teaches us, that the true happineſs of man conſiſts in the pardon of ſins, and in the purity of the conſcience; and that this favour is obtained by a ſincere and humble confeſſion of ſin, and a true return to God, as the ſcripture enjoins.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XXXIII.

1 Rejoice in the Lord, &c.] Praiſe the Almighty with grateful hearts, triumph in his holy name all ye that love him; for nothing is more becoming thoſe who obſerve the law of God, than to magnify him who is the author of their being, and who graciouſly beſtows upon them all the bleſſings of life.

2 With the pſaltery, &c.] It may be tranſlated the lute, or viol; it was a round hollow inſtrument.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, &c.] This beautiful verſe ſhews how thoroughly the royal poet entered into the majeſty of the Moſaic narration: and the repetition of the ſentiment, ver. 9. intimates how peculiarly he was charmed with that noble manner of deſcribing the divine operations.

PSAL. XXXIV.

1 David praiſeth God, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience. 8 They are bleſſed that truſt in God. 11 He exhorteth to the fear of God.

A Pſalm of David, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech; who drove him away, and he departed.

I WILL bleſs the LORD at all times: his praiſe ſhall continually be in my mouth.

2 My ſoul ſhall make her boaſt in the LORD: the humble ſhall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

4 I ſought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not aſhamed.

6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and ſaved him out of all his troubles.

7 The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

8 O taſte and ſee that the LORD is good: bleſſed is the man that truſteth in him.

9 O fear the LORD, ye his ſaints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

10 The young lions do lack, and ſuffer hunger: but they that ſeek the LORD ſhall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 What man is he that deſireth life, and loveth many days, that he may ſee good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from ſpeaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good; ſeek peace, and purſue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the LORD is againſt them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and ſaveth ſuch as be of a contrite ſpirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 David prayeth for his own ſafety, and his enemies confuſion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongful dealing. 22 Thereby he inciteth God againſt them.

A Pſalm of David.

PLEAD my cauſe, O LORD, with them that ſtrive with me: fight againſt them that fight againſt me.

2 Take hold of ſhield and buckler, and ſtand up for mine help.

3 Draw out alſo the ſpear, and ſtop the way againſt them that perſecute me: ſay unto my ſoul, I am thy ſalvation.

12 The nation whoſe God is the Lord, &c.] i. e. That nation which worſhips this Lord, the creator of heaven and earth.

15 He faſhioneth their hearts alike, &c.] They are, every one of them without exception, his creatures.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXIII.

The beſt uſe we can make of this pſalm is, by obſerving, that it is a moſt juſt and agreeable duty to praiſe God, which none but the upright can diſcharge: that we ought to praiſe God, becauſe he has created the world by his almighty power; becauſe he governs it wiſely and righteouſly by his providence, and becauſe he is the protector of his people, who are entirely happy in having the Lord for their God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXXIV.

This pſalm was written by David after his eſcape from Achiſh king of Gath. It is very curiouſly compoſed, according to the number and order of the letters of the Hebrew alphabet in the beginning of every verſe; which is a ſufficient proof that it was written after David's eſcape to ſome place of ſafety.

5 They looked unto him, &c.] Through faith, hope, and prayer.

6 This poor man cried, &c.] Here David ſpeaks of himſelf in the third perſon; as if he had ſaid, Let all that are in trouble, fix their eyes on me, and excite one another to a chearful dependence upon God, ſaying, Behold that man; he was in a poor and miſerable condition, and deſtitute of all human help; but commending himſelf to the Lord by earneſt prayer, the Lord regarded him, and delivered him out of all his diſtreſſes.

7 The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them, &c.] For ſimilar inſtances, ſee Gen. xxxii. 1, 2. and alſo 2 Kings vi. 17.

16 The face of the Lord is againſt them that do evil, &c.] This expreſſion denotes the divine anger. See Lev. xvii. 10.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXIV.

The excellent leſſons contained in this pſalm are, that when God grants us a deliverance, or any other favour, we ought not only to thank him for it, but to invite other men to praiſe him with us; that the Lord never fails to hear and deliver thoſe who call upon him in their diſtreſs; that he employs even angels in their diſtreſs, and never ſuffers them to want any thing that is good.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. XXXV.

This pſalm was compoſed by David when he was fiercely perſecuted by Saul. The impreſations may be interpreted not as a prayer, but as a prediction, and may be rendered, Not let them be, but, They ſhall be, &c.

1 Plead my cauſe, &c.] That is maintain my cauſe.

thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too ſtrong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that ſpoileth him?

11 Falſe witneſſes did riſe up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me evil for good to the ſpoiling of my ſoul.

13 But as for me, when they were ſick, my clothing was ſackcloth: I humbled my ſoul with faſting; and my prayer returned into mine own boſom.

14 I behaved myſelf as though he had been my friend or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine adverſity they rejoiced, and gathered themſelves together: yea, the abjects gathered themſelves together againſt me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceaſed not:

16 With hypocritical mockers in feaſts, they gnaſhed upon me with their teeth.

17 LORD, how long wilt thou look on? reſcue my ſoul from their deſtructions, my darling from the lions.

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praiſe thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cauſe.

20 For they ſpeak not peace: but they deviſe deceitful matters againſt them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide againſt me, and ſaid, Aha, aha, our eye hath ſeen it.

22 This thou haſt ſeen, O LORD: keep not ſilence: O LORD, be not far from me.

23 Stir up thyſelf, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cauſe, my God and my Lord.

24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteouſneſs; and let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not ſay in their hearts, Ah, ſo would we have it: let them not ſay, We have ſwallowed him up.

26 Let them be aſhamed and brought to confuſion together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with ſhame and diſhonour that magnify themſelves againſt me.

27 Let them ſhout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cauſe: yea, let them ſay continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleaſure in the proſperity of his ſervant.

28 And my tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy righteouſneſs and of thy praiſe all the day long.

PSAL. XXXVI.

THE tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himſelf in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wiſe, and to do good.

4 He deviſeth miſchief upon his bed; he ſetteth himſelf in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.

5 Thy mercy, O LORD, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulneſs reacheth unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteouſneſs is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O LORD, thou preſerveſt man and beaſt.

7 How excellent is thy lovingkindneſs, O God! therefore the children of men put their truſt under the ſhadow of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfied with the fatneſs of thy houſe; and thou ſhalt make them drink of the river of thy pleaſures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 O continue thy lovingkindneſs unto them that know thee; and thy righteouſneſs to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are caſt down, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

PSAL. XXXVII.

David perſuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different eſtate of the godly and the wicked.

A Pſalm of David.

FRET not thyſelf becauſe of evil doers, neither be thou envious againſt the workers of iniquity.

2 For they ſhall ſoon be cut down like the graſs, and wither as the green herb.

3 Truſt in the LORD, and do good; ſo ſhalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou ſhalt be fed.

4 Delight thyſelf alſo in the LORD; and he ſhall give thee the deſires of thine heart.

5 Commit thy way unto the LORD; truſt alſo in him; and he ſhall bring it to paſs.

6 And he ſhall bring forth thy righteouſneſs as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.

7 Reſt in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyſelf becauſe of him who proſpereth in his way, becauſe of the man who bringeth wicked devices to paſs.

8 Ceaſe from anger, and forſake wrath: fret not thyſelf in any wiſe to do evil.

9 For evil doers ſhall be cut off: but thoſe that wait upon the LORD, they ſhall inherit the earth.

10 For yet a little while, and the wicked ſhall not be: yea, thou ſhalt diligently conſider his place, and it ſhall not be.

11 But the meek ſhall inherit the earth; and ſhall delight themſelves in the abundance of peace.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXV.

We may collect in general from this pſalm, that God defends good men; that the wicked, and ſuch as perſecute the faithful, are expoſed to his vengeance; and that the duty of the righteous is to rejoice in God, when his glory is promoted by their deliverance. But we ſhould alſo remember, as Chriſtians, to love every body, even our enemies, and not to ſeek revenge, or render evil for evil.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, &c.] His actions ſufficiently convince me, that he hath no regard to God, nor will be reſtrained by the fear of him from doing me the greateſt miſchief.

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens, &c.] My comfort is, that how great ſoever his hatred and falſhood are, yet thy goodneſs, O Lord, and faithfulneſs and lovingkindneſs, are infinitely greater.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life, &c.] Thou art the ſource from whence all our happineſs flows, and which thou art able to ſupply for ever.

11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, &c.] Let not my proud enemy tread me under his feet.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen, &c.] I am confident they ſhall fall. I plainly ſee them baffled in this wicked deſign; it is as certain as if I already beheld it with my eyes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXVI.

The uſe we are to make of this pſalm is, to avoid the ſentiments of the wicked, and to cleave to God by a ſincere love and holy fear, to the end that we may rejoice in him with the righteous, and glorify his name for the bleſſings he vouchſafes to beſtow.

38 But the tranſgreſſors ſhall be deſtroyed together: the end of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

39 But the ſalvation of the righteous is the LORD: he is their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 And the LORD ſhall help them, and deliver them: he ſhall deliver them from the wicked, and ſave them, becauſe they truſt in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

David moveth God to take compaſſion of his pitiful caſe.

A Pſalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chaſten me in thy hot diſpleaſure.

2 For thine arrows ſtick faſt in me, and thy hand preſſeth me ſore.

3 There is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh becauſe of thine anger; neither is there any reſt in my bones becauſe of my ſin.

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds ſtink and are corrupt becauſe of my fooliſhneſs.

6 I am troubled; I am bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with a loathſome diſeaſe: and there is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh.

8 I am feeble and ſore broken: I have roared by reaſon of the diſquietneſs of my heart.

9 LORD, all my deſire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it alſo is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends ſtand aloof from my ſore; and my kinſmen ſtand afar off.

12 They alſo that ſeek after my life lay ſnares for me: and they that ſeek my hurt ſpeak miſchievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whoſe mouth are no reproofs.

15 For in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O LORD my God.

16 For I ſaid, Hear me, leſt otherwiſe they ſhould rejoice over me: when my foot ſlippeth, they magnify themſelves againſt me.

17 For I am ready to halt, and my ſorrow is continually before me.

18 For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be ſorry for my ſin.

19 But mine enemies are lively, and they are ſtrong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They alſo that render evil for good are mine adverſaries; becauſe I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forſake me not, O LORD: O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haſte to help me, O LORD my ſalvation.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXVII.

We may obſerve in this pſalm, that the character of wicked men is, injuſtice, malice, hatred of good men, pride, impiety: but, on the contrary, good men walk in uprightneſs, are meek and humble, love to give, and to exerciſe charity, and their diſcourſe is full of wiſdom and edification. Let this prove both a caution and example to us.

17 I am ready to halt, &c.] In the Greek it is, I am ready for ſcourges, meaning for correction and puniſhment.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXVIII.

We are here taught, that perſons afflicted by diſtempers, grief, or otherwiſe, ſhould look upon the evils that befal them, though never ſo heavy, as the juſt correction for their ſins, and aſk pardon of God for them: he will alſo deliver them, when he finds it moſt for his own glory and their good. Part of this pſalm may allude to the ſufferings of Chriſt, and his meekneſs under them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XXXIX.

David here teaches us, that God can put a period to our lives when he pleaſes, and deſpoil us of all our enjoyments; that we are only ſtrangers and ſojourners here below; and the ſole remedy for the miſeries and vanity of human life is, to have all our expectation in the Lord, to aſk his aſſiſtance and pardon of our ſins, and to ſubmit ourſelves with reſignation to his holy will.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XL.

The title of this pſalm being, Of David a Pſalm, and not "A Pſalm of David," ſome interpreters refer this not to the compoſer, No. 40.

but to the ſubject of the pſalm, i. e. concerning Chriſt, who, in the language of the prophets, is frequently pointed out under the name of David, which literally ſignifies the Beloved; ſee Hoſea iii. 5. Jer. xxx. 9 Ezek. xxxiv. 23. and xxxvii. 24. And that Chriſt is the ſubject of this pſalm, the apoſtle teaches us, Heb. x. 5, 6, &c.

2 He brought me up alſo out of an horrible pit, &c.] He hath delivered me out of the greateſt dangers.

6 Mine ears haſt thou opened, &c] In the Hebrew it is, Mine ears haſt thou bored; alluding to the Jewiſh cuſtom of boring the ears of thoſe who were willing to become perpetual ſervants at the jubilee. The Greek interpreters read, A body haſt thou fitted to me; i. e. to be a victim to be offered up in ſacrifice; which ſenſe St. Paul follows, Heb. x. 5.

7 Then ſaid I, Lo, I come, &c.] This has a direct alluſion to Chriſt, as offering himſelf up as the great atoning ſacrifice for the ſins of his people.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XL.

We meet with theſe inſtructions in this pſalm: That the true happineſs of men conſiſts in chuſing the Lord for their refuge and portion, without ſeeking it in the things of this world; that we can neither reckon up, nor ſufficiently celebrate the mercies of God; and that when we ſerve and worſhip him aright, we may call upon him with a full aſſurance of his aſſiſtance.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLI.

David herein repreſents the lively ſorrow he felt, when he was removed from the tabernacle, by the perſecution of his enemies; and the hearty wiſhes he had expreſſed to return thither, to the end that he might ſerve God in it: this example ſhould ſtir us up to the like zeal and affection for the worſhip of God, and the aſſemblies of the faithful.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLII.

In the Hebrew, the pſalms are divided into five books; and here begins the ſecond: all in the foregoing book, except four, have the name of David prefixed to them as their author: and thence the collector thought proper to place them all together. The firſt part of this ſecond book conſiſts of pſalms, directed to the ſons of Korah, to be ſet or ſung by them under the chief muſician of the tabernacle.

1 As the hart panteth, &c.] The hart does not more eagerly long for the brooks of water to quench his thirſt, than my ſoul does for the happy enjoyment of God in the public aſſemblies, from whence I am now driven.

7 Deep calleth unto deep, &c.] I am toſſed like one on a tempeſtuous ſea, where the waves rage and ſwell to ſuch an height, that every billow threatens to overwhelm and bury me in the deep.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLII.

We may obſerve, that David had been in extreme diſtreſs, having, as it were, ſunk under the ſcourges of God; in which condition his ſoul was almoſt deſtitute of comfort; but nevertheleſs his faith raiſed and ſupported him. This example ought to ſtrengthen the righteous in their afflictions, and cauſe them to hope in God in their greateſt bitterneſs.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLIII.

We may learn from hence, that the life of a Chriſtian is of an active nature; and although believers may be often dejected, yet they ought to truſt in the Lord, and be glad in the God of their ſalvation.

13 Thou makeſt us a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and a deriſion to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makeſt us a byword among the heathen, a ſhaking of the head among the people.

15 My confuſion is continually before me, and the ſhame of my face hath covered me,

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blaſphemeth; by reaſon of the enemy and avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falſely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our ſteps declined from thy way;

19 Though thou haſt ſore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the ſhadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or ſtretched out our hands to a ſtrange god;

21 Shall not God ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy ſake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as ſheep for the ſlaughter.

23 Awake, why ſleepeſt thou, O LORD? ariſe, caſt us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and forgetteſt our affliction and our oppreſſion?

25 For our ſoul is bowed down to the duſt: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Ariſe for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies' ſake.

1 The majeſty and grace of Chriſt's kingdom. 10 The duty of the church, and the benefits thereof.

To the chief Muſician upon Shoſhannim, for the ſons of Korah, Maſchil, A Song of loves.

MY heart is enditing a good matter: I ſpeak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath bleſſed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy ſword upon thy thigh, O moſt mighty, with thy glory and thy majeſty.

4 And in thy majeſty ride proſperouſly becauſe of truth and meekneſs and righteouſneſs; and thy right hand ſhall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are ſharp in the heart of the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the ſceptre of thy kingdom is a right ſceptre.

7 Thou loveſt righteouſneſs, and hateſt wickedneſs: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladneſs above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments ſmell of myrrh, and aloes, and caſſia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 King's daughters were among thy honourable women; upon thy right hand did ſtand the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and conſider, and incline thine ear; forget alſo thine own people, and thy father's houſe;

11 So ſhall the king greatly deſire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord; and worſhip thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre ſhall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people ſhall intreat thy favour.

13 The king's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

14 She ſhall be brought unto the king in raiment of needle work: the virgins her companions that follow her ſhall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladneſs and rejoicing ſhall they be brought: they ſhall enter into the king's palace.

16 Inſtead of thy fathers ſhall be thy children, whom thou mayeſt make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore ſhall the people praiſe thee for ever and ever.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLIV.

As the Iſraelites acknowledged that it was by the ſole power and favour of God that their fathers had been eſtabliſhed in the land of Canaan; ſo it is the ſame favour that conſtitutes the happineſs and ſecurity of nations, and particularly of the church, and the ſincere members of it.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLV.

Shoſhannim] Shoſhanniſh; by this are underſtood, Inſtruments of ten ſtrings.

A Song of loves.] Shir Jedidoth plainly alludes to the name Jedidiah, given to Solomon by Nathan the prophet, 2 Sam. xii. 25. But the principal parts of this pſalm relate to Chriſt, it being ſufficiently evident that the prophet, while he was writing ſome part of this pſalm, was carried quite beyond king Solomon, to the great King, the Lord our righteouſneſs: ſo that we may ſay here, as our Saviour doth in another place, "Behold, a greater than Solomon is here;" and this is even acknowledged by the beſt Jewiſh interpreters themſelves.

5 Thine arrows are ſharp, &c.] Thy word, like ſharp arrows, ſhall pierce into the hearts of all thoſe who oppoſe thy royal authority.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever, &c.] O God, the great King of kings, and Lord of lords, how weak and tottering are the thrones of all other princes, in compariſon with thine, which ſhall never be ſubverted! Thou ſhalt reign for ever and ever, and of thy kingdom there ſhall be no end.

7 Above thy fellows.] This, prophetically, means all true Chriſtians, ſanctified by the ſame ſpirit, and endowed with the ſame graces, and who are alſo made unto our God kings and prieſts.

9 The queen, &c.] Pharaoh's daughter, but prophetically the church, which is the ſpouſe of Chriſt.

10 Forget alſo thine own people, &c.] The meaning of this, when applied to the church, is, Renounce the world, which is as it were thy father's houſe from whence thou waſt taken, and cleave altogether to thy huſband, which is Chriſt, according to the laws of matrimony.

12 And the daughter of Tyre, &c.] This is a prophecy of the ſubjection which the nations of the earth ſhould pay to the kingdom of Chriſt, through the preaching of the goſpel.

13 The king's daughter is all glorious within, &c.] The daughter of Pharaoh is no leſs adorned with all excellent quality of mind, than her body is arrayed with rich attire.

15 With gladneſs and rejoicing, &c.] A lively figure of the church, which men ſhall enter with joy and exultation, ſaying, "Hallelujah, let us rejoice and be glad, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLV.

This pſalm properly relates to Jeſus Chriſt, the huſband and king of the church; herein expreſs mention is made of his divinity, unction, and power, with the glory and duration of his kingdom; and that we may ſhare in the bleſſing of it, we ſhould meekly ſubmit to him as our king and our God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLVI.

This pſalm was intended to inſpire the people with a firm confidence in God, whenever they ſhould for the future be ſurrounded with dangers, and induce them to return thanks to that omnipotent arm that had ſaved them in the day of their diſtreſs.

2 Therefore will we not fear, &c.] Since God is our powerful protector, in whom we may ſafely confide, we will never hereafter be diſmayed, but ſtedfaſtly hope in God in the midſt of the greateſt tumults, and the moſt dangerous commotions.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLVI.

We are to learn from hence, that God is the protector of his church; and that even when kings and nations, who are repreſented in this pſalm as floods and torrents, are confederated againſt them, God renders all their efforts uſeleſs, and powerfully delivers it out of their hands.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLVII.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLVII.

This pſalm is to be applied to the aſcenſion and kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord; and that the calling of the Gentiles is foretold therein: it engages us to praiſe God, and to celebrate his goodneſs with holy tranſports; but above all, becauſe he hath choſen us to be his people and his inheritance.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLVIII.

2 On the ſides of the north, the city of the great king.] The liturgy ſeems to expreſs it trueſt, On the north ſide lieth the city of the great king, i. e. Jeruſalem.

12 Walk about Zion, &c.] Make a ſolemn proceſſion, and go round about the city, bleſſing and praiſing God with thankful hearts, who hath preſerved you from your enemies that ſo lately beſet you; reckon the towers, and ſee if there be ſo much as one of them wanting, and obſerve if there be the leaſt hurt done to any of them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XLVIII.

We are very expreſsly aſſured in this pſalm, that the church is the deareſt thing to God upon earth; that he dwells in the midſt of it; that he encompaſſes it with his protection; and that he will always ſupport and defend it againſt its combined enemies, and turn all their conſpiracies and devices to their own confuſion.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XLIX.

1 The majesty of God in the church. 5 His order to gather the saints.

A Psalm of Asaph.

THE mighty God, even the LORD, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.

2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.

4 He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.

5 Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah.

7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify against thee: I am God, even thy God.

8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me.

9 I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he goats out of thy folds.

10 For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.

11 I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beasts of the field are mine.

12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?

14 Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most high:

15 And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

16 But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?

17 Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee.

18 When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.

19 Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.

20 Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slandereſt thine own mother's son.

21 These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

22 Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XLIX.

The holy spirit teaches us here, that such as trust in their goods or riches, or are puffed up with their honours and credit, are madmen: that God will overturn all their designs, death will rob them of all their glory; the grave will overwhelm them; and that their riches cannot redeem their souls, nor secure them from death; but that God will redeem from death those that trust in him, and will take them to himself.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. L.

This psalm was not written by Asaph the Levite, contemporary with David, but by another prophet of that name in after-times, who lived in the reign of some pious prince, perhaps Jehoshaphat or Hezekiah, when the people and judges were filled with hypocrisy and formality in religion.

1 The mighty God, even the Lord, &c.] The omnipotent Majesty, the supreme judge of heaven and earth, to whom the greatest kings and potentates are but subjects; the eternal Lord who changes not hath given out his orders, that all the people of the land, from east to west, be summoned to appear before him.

4 He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, &c.] He shall call heaven and earth to be witnesses of the equity of his proceedings.

5 My saints, &c.] That is, all the members of my church, sanctified by my covenant.

7 Hear, O my people, &c.] Here the psalmist introduces God as the speaker.

7 I will not reprove thee, &c.] I have no complaint to make concerning sacrifices; thy burnt offerings, I acknowledge, never fail to be brought both morning and evening to my altar.

21 These things hast thou done, &c.] All this wickedness hast thou committed, and I have forborne to punish thee, but instead of amending thy life, to which my patience should have invited thee, thou hast presumed so much upon my lenity, as to add another sin to all the rest, and imagined that I am ignorant of what is done in secret, or am altogether as well pleased with these things as thyself.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. L.

This psalm teaches us, that the service of God does not consist merely in outward duties, which indeed ought not to be neglected being established by God; but that the true worship which he requires is, to serve him in spirit and in truth, to perform our vows to him, to call upon him, and to do his will from the heart.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LI.

1 Have mercy upon me, O God, &c.] O thou great judge of all the earth, whom I have so highly offended, I cast myself down before thee, and humbly supplicate thy mercy.

4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, &c.] O how it afflicts me that I presumed, because I had none to controul me here on earth, to offend thy Majesty, thy all-seeing Majesty, at whose tribunal the highest shall be judged.

5 I was shapen in iniquity, &c.] I acknowledge the corruption of my nature through original sin.

7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean, &c.] The sprinklers, with which they sprinkled the unclean and leprous, were made of hyssop, see Lev. xiv. 6. which occasioned this expression.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LI.

From this pſalm we have the duty of ſinners, particularly of thoſe who fall into great ſins; which is humbly to acknowledge and confeſs them, and even publicly before men, when neceſſary; to implore the mercy of God with true contrition; to beg of him a ſincere converſion, by the aſſiſtance of his Spirit; and when we have received this bleſſing from him, to make uſe of it for our advancement in piety, and the edification of our neighbour.

4 Devouring words, &c.] i. e. Words promoting deſtruction.

6, 7 Shall laugh at him, Lo this, &c.] Shall laugh at him, ſaying, "Lo, this is the man, &c."

9 I will wait on thy name; for it is good before thy ſaints, &c.] I will patiently expect the accompliſhment of thy promiſes to me: for all thy pious ſervants have ever found this to be the beſt and wiſeſt courſe, to depend on thine omnipotent arm, thine unchangeable goodneſs, and faithful promiſes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LII.

We may gather from this pſalm, that the wicked, and particularly cruel men and ſlanderers, receive from God the puniſhment they deſerve; and that in general, they who truſt either in their riches or in their cunning, become examples of the juſt judgment of God, whilſt he beſtows his favour on thoſe that put their truſt in him, and walk in his truth.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LIII.

This pſalm is almoſt a repetition of the 14th, except in the 5th verſe, and the omiſſion of the 6th; which makes it probable that there was ſome new occaſion for uſing this pſalm again, though an occaſion very like the former. The reader is referred to the 14th.

Mahalath, &c.] Mahalath is ſuppoſed to be a wind inſtrument, of the ſame ſort as Nehiloth. See Pſalm v.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LIII.

We may with too much reaſon take up the complaints of David at this day, reſpecting the impiety of the people in our age, wherein there are ſo few that ſerve God ſincerely, and ſo many who live as if they believed there was no God; however, in the worſt of times, there are always ſome faithful and righteous men who fear God, and whom he will likewiſe own, proſper and protect from the power and malice of their enemies.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LIV.

The three firſt verſes of this pſalm are a petition of David for deliverance from his enemies, then in full purſuit of him: the fourth begins upon ſeeing his enemies ſtop ſhort, in full aſſurance that God had heard his prayer; the ſubſtance of the laſt verſe is, that God had delivered him out of his diſtreſs; and that he would now calmly ſurvey thoſe enemies whom before he did not dare to look in the face.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LIV.

In this pſalm, David implores the aſſiſtance of God, ſhews a firm reliance on him, and promiſes to praiſe him for ever; therefore prayer ſhould always be our reſort in time of danger.

1 David in his prayer complaineth of his fearful caſe. 9 He prayeth againſt his enemies, of whoſe wickedneſs and treachery he complaineth. 16 He comforteth himſelf in God's preſervation of him, and confuſion of his enemies.

To the chief Muſician on Neginoth, Maſchil, A Pſalm of David.

1023. GIVE ear to my prayer, O God; and hide not thyſelf from my ſupplication.

2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noiſe;

3 Becauſe of the voice of the enemy, becauſe of the oppreſſion of the wicked: for they caſt iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

4 My heart is ſore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulneſs and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I ſaid, Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at reſt.

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderneſs. Selah.

8 I would haſten my eſcape from the windy ſtorm and tempeſt.

9 Deſtroy, O LORD, and divide their tongues: for I have ſeen violence and ſtrife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: miſchief alſo and ſorrow are in the midſt of it.

11 Wickedneſs is in the midſt thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her ſtreets.

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me; then I could have borne it: neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himſelf againſt me; then I would have hid myſelf from him:

13 But it was thou, a man mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.

14 We took ſweet counſel together, and walked unto the houſe of God in company.

15 Let death ſeize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell: for wickedneſs is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God; and the LORD ſhall ſave me.

17 Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he ſhall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my ſoul in peace from the battle that was againſt me: for there were many with me.

19 God ſhall hear, and afflict them, even he that abideth of old. Selah. Becauſe they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands againſt ſuch as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were ſmoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were ſofter than oil, yet were they drawn ſwords.

22 Caſt thy burden upon the LORD, and he ſhall ſuſtain thee: he ſhall never ſuffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, ſhalt bring them down into the pit of deſtruction: bloody and deceitful men ſhall not live out half their days; but I will truſt in thee.

PSAL. LVI.

1 David praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies. 9 He profeſſeth his confidence in God's word, and promiſeth to praiſe him.

To the chief Muſician upon Jonath-elem-rechokim, Michtam of David, when the Philiſtines took him in Gath.

BE merciful unto me, O God: for man would ſwallow me up; he fighting daily oppreſſeth me.

2 Mine enemies would daily ſwallow me up: for they be many that fight againſt me, O thou moſt high.

3 What time I am afraid, I will truſt in thee.

4 In God I will praiſe his word, in God I have put my truſt; I will not fear what fleſh can do unto me.

5 Every day they wreſt my words: all their thoughts are againſt me for evil.

6 They gather themſelves together, they hide themſelves, they mark my ſteps, when they wait for my ſoul.

7 Shall they eſcape by iniquity? in thine anger caſt down the people, O God.

8 Thou telleſt my wanderings: put thou my tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?

9 When I cry unto thee, then ſhall mine enemies turn back: this I know; for God is for me.

10 In God will I praiſe his word: in the LORD will I praiſe his word.

11 In God have I put my truſt: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praiſes unto thee.

13 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSAL. LVII.

1 David in prayer fleeing unto God, complaineth of his dangerous caſe. 7 He encourageth himſelf to praiſe God.

To the chief Muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my ſoul truſteth in thee: yea, in the ſhadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until theſe calamities be overpaſt.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LV.

This pſalm was written by David on a ſimilar occaſion with the former; perhaps when Abſalom's rebellion was firſt known, and the royal prophet was forced to fly ſuddenly from Jeruſalem.

6, 7 Oh that I had wings like a dove! &c.] Then would I retire to ſome diſtant and foreign country, for ſafety and repoſe: I would hide me in ſome ſecret place, remote from all ſociety, and eſcape this fierce perſecution.

9 Divide their tongues, &c.] Divide their counſels, and raiſe diſſentions among them.

15 Into hell, &c.] i. e. To the grave.

18 For there were many with me.] For ever the angelic powers engaged on my ſide.

19 Becauſe they have no changes, &c.] Becauſe they ſtill continue in their proſperity, &c.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LV.

The example of David ſhews us, that the faithful will always, more or leſs, be perſecuted by wicked men, and pretended friends; at which times they ſhould apply themſelves to God with confidence, and be aſſured that he will ſupport them, and reſtrain the malice of thoſe who purſue them unjuſtly.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LVI.

Jonath-elem-rechokim, &c.] A ſilent dove; or a dove of ſilence in the remote wood. David intituled this pſalm, and compared himſelf to a dove, probably on account of his frequenting the ſolitary foreſts, and becauſe, in the midſt of his ſufferings, he never mentioned them to Achiſh, nor begged his aſſiſtance againſt his perſecuting enemy, but contented himſelf with bewailing in ſecret the ſadneſs of his condition, and complaining only to God of the cruel proceedings of his inveterate foe. This pſalm is alſo intituled Michtam, A jewel, or a pſalm of gold, becauſe it is a commemoration of God's ſingular care over David in many great dangers, eſpecially at Gath.

8 Put thou my tears into thy bottle, &c.] Keep them in remembrance.

13 Thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, &c.] Thou has ſo remarkably reſcued me from death, when I was in the power of the Philiſtines, that I ought not to doubt of the continuance of thy preſervation of me from the ſnares which mine enemies lay to entrap me, or from the open violence they uſe to overthrow me.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LVI.

We ſee from hence, that in whatever extremity the children of God are, and when even force and cunning are employed againſt them, they cannot be moved: their truſt in God is ſo full, that they do not fear what man can do unto them; and that even before their deliverance, they rejoice in the Lord, and pay him their vows and thankſgivings.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LVII.

Al-taſchith, &c.] "Deſtroy him not:" this pſalm is thus intituled that remarkable circumſtance of Saul and David being both of them at the ſame time in the cave, and when (David having ſo fair an opportunity of deſtroying his enemy) ſome of his men offered to diſpatch him, the piety and religious reſolution of David interpoſed, forbidding the perſon, juſt ready to ſtrike the blow, with "Al-taſchith."

2 I will cry unto God moſt high; unto God that performeth all things for me.

3 He ſhall ſend from heaven, and ſave me from the reproach of him that would ſwallow me up. Selah. God ſhall ſend forth his mercy and his truth.

4 My ſoul is among lions: and I lie even among them that are ſet on fire, even the ſons of men, whoſe teeth are ſpears and arrows, and their tongue a ſharp ſword.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.

6 They have prepared a net for my ſteps; my ſoul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midſt whereof they have fallen themſelves. Selah.

7 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will ſing and give praiſe.

8 Awake up, my glory; awake, pſaltery and harp: I myſelf will awake early.

9 I will praiſe thee, O LORD, among the people: I will ſing unto thee among the nations.

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

PSAL. LVIII.

1 David reproving wicked judges, 3 deſcribeth the nature of the wicked, 6 and devoteth them to God's judgments, 10 whereat the righteous ſhall rejoice.

To the chief Muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David.

DO ye indeed ſpeak righteouſneſs, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye ſons of men?

2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedneſs; ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.

3 The wicked are eſtranged from the womb: they go aſtray as ſoon as they be born, ſpeaking lies.

4 Their poiſon is like the poiſon of a ſerpent: they are like the deaf adder that ſtoppeth her ear;

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never ſo wiſely.

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD.

7 Let them melt away as waters which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to ſhoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.

8 As a ſnail which melteth, let every one of them paſs away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not ſee the ſun.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns, he ſhall take them away as with a whirlwind, both living, and in his wrath.

10 The righteous ſhall rejoice when he ſeeth the vengeance: he ſhall waſh his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11 So that a man ſhall ſay, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth.

PSAL. LIX.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. 6 He complaineth of their cruelty. 8 He truſteth in God. 11 He prayeth againſt them. 16 He praiſeth God.

To the chief Muſician, Al-taſchith, Michtam of David; when Saul ſent, and they watched the houſe to kill him.

DELIVER me from mine enemies, O my God; defend me from them that riſe up againſt me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and ſave me from bloody men.

3 For, lo, they lie in wait for my ſoul: the mighty are gathered againſt me; not for my tranſgreſſion, nor for my ſin, O LORD.

4 They run and prepare themſelves without my fault: awake to help me, and behold.

5 Thou therefore, O LORD God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, awake to viſit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked tranſgreſſors. Selah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth: ſwords are in their lips: for who, ſay they, doth hear?

8 But thou, O LORD, ſhalt laugh at them; thou ſhalt have all the heathen in deriſion.

9 Becauſe of his ſtrength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.

10 The God of my mercy ſhall prevent me: God ſhall let me ſee my deſire upon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, leſt my people forget: ſcatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O LORD our ſhield.

12 For the ſin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride: and for curſing and lying which they ſpeak.

13 Conſume them in wrath, conſume them that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth. Selah.

14 And at evening let them return; and let them make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down for meat, and grudge if they be not ſatisfied.

16 But I will ſing of thy power; yea, I will ſing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou haſt been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

8 Awake up, my glory, &c.] Both with my voice, and with inſtruments of muſic will I praiſe thee.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LVII.

Let us, in all troubles, betake ourſelves to God, and hide ourſelves under the ſhadow of his wings, fully perſuaded that he will never fail nor forſake us; but to have the ſame aſſurance that David had, we muſt be animated with the ſame faith, and the ſame holineſs; and, after having experienced the Lord's aſſiſtance, praiſe his holy name, and every-where publiſh his goodneſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LVIII.

This and the next pſalm ſeem to have been written before the preceding; but all three have the ſame title, from that remarkable circumſtance mentioned in the commentary on the foregoing one.

1, 2 Do ye indeed, &c.] Let me aſk that grave aſſembly of princes and rulers, do you verily think that you have pronounced a righteous ſentence againſt me? You know, on the contrary, that your hearts are fraught with malice and wicked devices to my hurt.

3 Are eſtranged, &c.] i. e. They alienate themſelves from God, juſtice, and virtue.

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, &c.] The magicians were wont to charm ſerpents with muſic, and draw them out of their holes.

6 Break their teeth, &c.] Take from them all power and means to do hurt.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns, &c.] Before your pots can feel the heat of blazing thorns, quickly ſhall he ſweep away the wicked.

10 The righteous ſhall rejoice, &c.] The righteous ſhall triumph over thoſe wicked men like a great conqueror, who returning with an abſolute and complete victory from the ſlaughter of his enemies, dips his feet in their blood, as he paſſes over their carcaſes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LVIII.

This pſalm teaches all who are in public offices, that if they do not adminiſter ſtrict juſtice, the vengeance of God will overtake them; and that all thoſe, who harden themſelves in their wicked ways, and hearken not to the voice of God, are threatened with his vengeance.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LIX.

5 Awake to viſit all the heathen, &c.] Appear now for my relief, and puniſh all thoſe wicked men who call themſelves thy people, but are as barbarous, falſe, and perfidious as heathens.

6 They make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.] Some lie about my houſe, ready, like a growling dog, to ſeize upon me; others (ſhould they miſs me there) go round about the city, waylaying me in every corner.

9 Becauſe of his ſtrength will I wait upon thee, &c.] In the liturgy it is, My ſtrength will I aſcribe unto thee.

11 Slay them not, leſt my people forget, &c.] Not that I deſire they ſhould be ſlain, which though a terrible vengeance, might ſoon ſlip out of the minds of my countrymen, whoſe profit I deſire, more than my own private revenge.

14 And at evening let them return, &c.] Let them therefore watch me now as narrowly as they pleaſe.

16 But I will ſing of thy power, &c.] Whilſt I (whom they thought to have devoured) am praiſing thy power, as I intend to do continually.

1 David complaining to God of former judgment, 4 now upon better hope, prayeth for deliverance. 6 Comforting himſelf in God's promiſes, he craveth that help whereon he truſteth.

To the chief Muſician upon Suſhan-eduth, Michtam of David, to teach; when he ſtrove with Aram-naharaim and with Aram-zobah, when Joab returned, and ſmote of Edom in the valley of ſalt twelve thouſand.

O God, thou haſt caſt us off, thou haſt ſcattered us, thou haſt been diſpleaſed; O turn thyſelf to us again.

2 Thou haſt made the earth to tremble; thou haſt broken it: heal the breaches thereof; for it ſhaketh.

3 Thou haſt ſhewed thy people hard things: thou haſt made us to drink the wine of aſtoniſhment.

4 Thou haſt given a banner to them that feared thee, that it may be diſplayed becauſe of the truth. Selah.

5 That thy beloved may be delivered; ſave with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath ſpoken in his holineſs; I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manaſſeh is mine; Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of mine head; Judah is my lawgiver;

8 Moab is my waſhpot; over Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe: Philiſtia, triumph thou becauſe of me.

9 Who will bring me into the ſtrong city? who will lead me into Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadſt caſt us off? and thou, O God, which didſt not go out with our armies?

11 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

12 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSAL. LXI.

1 David fleeth to God upon his former experience. 4 He voweth perpetual ſervice unto him becauſe of his promiſes.

To the chief Muſician upon Neginah, A Pſalm of David.

HEAR my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

3 For thou haſt been a ſhelter for me, and a ſtrong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will truſt in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, haſt heard my vows: thou haſt given me the heritage of thoſe that fear thy name.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.

7 He ſhall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth, which may preſerve him.

8 So will I ſing praiſe unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

PSAL. LXII.

1 David profeſſing his confidence in God, diſcourageth his enemies. 5 He encourageth the godly.

To the chief Muſician, to Jeduthun, A Pſalm of David.

TRULY my ſoul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my ſalvation. 1048.

2 He only is my rock and my ſalvation; he is my defence; I ſhall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will ye imagine miſchief againſt a man? ye ſhall be ſlain all of you: as a bowing wall ſhall ye be, and as a tottering fence.

4 They only conſult to caſt him down from his excellency: they delight in lies: they bleſs with their mouth, but they curſe inwardly. Selah.

5 My ſoul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him.

6 He only is my rock and my ſalvation: he is my defence; I ſhall not be moved.

7 In God is my ſalvation and my glory: the rock of my ſtrength, and my refuge, is in God.

8 Truſt in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.

10 Truſt not in oppreſſion, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increaſe, ſet not your heart upon them.

11 God hath ſpoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 David's thirſt for God. 4 His manner of bleſſing God. 9 His confidence of his enemies deſtruction, and his own ſafety.

A Pſalm of David, when he was in the wilderneſs of Judah.

O God, thou art my God; early will I ſeek thee: my ſoul thirſteth for thee, my fleſh longeth for thee in a dry and thirſty land, where no water is;

2 To ſee thy power and thy glory, ſo as I have ſeen thee in the ſanctuary.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LIX.

We are inſtructed from this pſalm, to wait for the aſſiſtance of the Lord when men harm us, and to remain within the bounds of that moderation which Jeſus Chriſt ſo expreſsly recommends to us, in commanding us to love our enemies, and to bleſs and pray for them.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LX.

This pſalm was compoſed after the death of Saul, when David was advanced to the throne: it was delivered to the maſter of muſic in the tabernacle, to be ſung upon an inſtrument of ſix ſtrings, for ſo the title "Suſhan-eduth" implies.

6 I will—mete out, &c.] This phraſe means, dominion: this verſe ſhould be thus tranſlated; God graciouſly promiſed that I ſhould rule over Sechem, and be maſter of the valley of Succoth, i. e. Samaria.

7 Ephraim alſo, &c.] This ſhould be thus tranſlated, Ephraim furniſhes me with valiant men, Judah with men of prudence and wiſdom.

8 Moab is my waſhpot, &c.] By this is meant the loweſt degree of ſlavery: the verſe may be thus tranſlated; I will reduce the Moabites to the vileſt ſervitude, I will triumph over the Edomites, and make them my ſlaves, and the Philiſtines ſhall add to my triumphs.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LX.

We may learn from hence in general, that God afflicts people for their humiliation; that the ſtrength and aſſiſtance of man is but vanity; and that there is none but the Lord who can help and deliver us in our diſtreſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXI.

2 That is higher than I.] Which without thy aſſiſtance I cannot reach.

4 I will abide, &c.] David here expreſſes his hopes of being reſtored to the city where the tabernacle of God was.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXI.

All that fear the Lord may join themſelves to David, in praying that God would be their refuge, and ſecure them from evil; and rejoice in the aſſurance of his favour and ſenſe of his goodneſs.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXII.

9 Surely men of low degree, &c.] No confidence is to be placed in them; for as the multitude are vain, giddy, and inconſiſtent, ſo thoſe of higher rank are falſe, deceitful, and treacherous.

11 God hath ſpoken once; twice have I heard, &c.] i. e. God hath frequently declared.

12 To every man, &c.] i. e. To every good man.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXII.

David teaches us, by his example, that the true and only means of enjoying tranquillity is to truſt in God, for all men are vanity itſelf; that we ought not to ſet our hearts on worldly things, nor become haughty when we abound in them; and that God, as the judge of the world, will render to every one according to his works.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXIII.

1, 2 My ſoul thirſteth for thee, &c.] My ſoul thirſteth, O God, for the holy ſanctuary where thy Majeſty reſides; the ſacred ark of thy glorious preſence can alone ſatisfy my longings and deſires.

1 David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies. 7 He promiſeth himſelf to ſee ſuch an evident deſtruction of them that the righteous ſhall rejoice at it.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer: preſerve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the ſecret counſel of the wicked; from the inſurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 Who whet their tongues like a ſword, and bend their bows to ſhoot their arrows, even bitter words:

4 That they may ſhoot in ſecret at the perfect: ſuddenly do they ſhoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themſelves in an evil matter; they commune of laying ſnares privily; they ſay, Who ſhall ſee them?

6 They ſearch out iniquities; they accompliſh a diligent ſearch: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart is deep.

7 But God ſhall ſhoot at them with an arrow; ſuddenly ſhall they be wounded.

8 So they ſhall make their own tongue to fall upon themſelves: all that ſee them ſhall flee away.

9 And all men ſhall fear and ſhall declare the work of God; for they ſhall wiſely conſider of his doing.

10 The righteous ſhall be glad in the LORD, and ſhall truſt in him; and all the upright in heart ſhall glory.

3 Iniquities prevail againſt me: as for our tranſgreſſions, thou ſhalt purge them away.

4 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chooſeſt, and cauſeſt to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we ſhall be ſatisfied with the goodneſs of thy houſe, even of thy holy temple.

5 By terrible things in righteouſneſs wilt thou anſwer us, O God of our ſalvation; who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the ſea:

6 Which by his ſtrength ſetteth faſt the mountains; being girded with power:

7 Which ſtilleth the noiſe of the ſeas, the noiſe of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

8 They alſo that dwell in the uttermoſt parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makeſt the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.

9 Thou viſiteſt the earth, and watereſt it: thou greatly enricheſt it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou prepareſt them corn, when thou haſt ſo provided for it.

10 Thou watereſt the ridges thereof abundantly: thou ſettleſt the furrows thereof: thou makeſt it ſoft with ſhowers: thou bleſſeſt the ſpringing thereof.

11 Thou crowneſt the year with thy goodneſs; and thy paths drop fatneſs.

12 They drop upon the paſtures of the wilderneſs: and the little hills rejoice on every ſide.

13 The paſtures are clothed with flocks; the valleys alſo are covered over with corn; they ſhout for joy, they alſo ſing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 David exhorteth to praiſe God, 5 to obſerve his great works, 8 to bleſs him for his gracious benefits. 13 He voweth for himſelf religious ſervice to God. 16 He declareth God's ſpecial goodneſs to himſelf.

To the chief Muſician, A Song or Pſalm.

MAKE a joyful noiſe unto God, all ye lands:

2 Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praiſe glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatneſs of thy power ſhall thine enemies ſubmit themſelves unto thee.

4 All the earth ſhall worſhip thee, and ſhall ſing unto thee; they ſhall ſing to thy name. Selah.

5 Come and ſee the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.

6 He turned the ſea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot: there did we rejoice in him.

7 He ruleth by his power for ever; his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themſelves. Selah.

8 O bleſs our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praiſe to be heard:

3 Becauſe thy lovingkindneſs is better than life, &c.] Thy divine grace and favour is more grateful and refreſhing to my ſoul, than food to my natural appetite.

8 My ſoul followeth hard after thee, &c.] My ſoul dependeth abſolutely and inſeparably upon thee, through faith, hope, love, and perſeverance.

10 They ſhall be a portion for foxes.] That is, they ſhall be left unburied, for foxes and beaſts to prey upon.

11 Every one that ſweareth by him, &c.] That is, they that profeſs him.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXIII.

We here ſee that the ſenſe of the grace of God produces an unſpeakable pleaſure in the hearts of the faithful, and that they fear no evil while protected by him; therefore let us cleave to God alone by ſincere love and ſteady confidence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXIV.

4 And fear not.] That is, without any danger, and ſecure from him whom they attack.

6 They ſearch out iniquities, &c.] They exerciſe all their wit and diligence in theſe wicked devices.

8 They ſhall make their own tongue to fall upon themſelves, &c.] Their ſlanders ſhall recoil upon themſelves, and the wicked counſels which they gave ſhall prove pernicious to the adviſers.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXIV.

This pſalm ſhews us, that though the wicked craftily combine to deſtroy the innocent, yet God will preſerve them from their ſnares; which ſhould fill the righteous with joy and confidence, and engage us to acknowledge the goodneſs, wiſdom, and juſtice of the Lord.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES on PSAL. LXV.

God having removed a grievous famine by plentiful ſhowers of rain, David here gives him public thanks for ſending them ſeaſonably to his people.

5 By terrible things, &c.] i. e. By miraculous and ſtupendous things.

8 The outgoings of the morning and evening, &c.] Meaning, the ſucceſſive courſe of day and night.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXV.

We are hence taught, that as God was formerly worſhipped in Sion, and there hearkened to the prayers that were offered up to him; ſo he now receives every-where favourably the deſires of all thoſe who call upon him, pardons their ſins, and loads them with his benefits.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXVI.

David here gives praiſes to God, inviting all the country to join with him in bleſſing the divine Majeſty, not only for this, but for the deliverance he had formerly vouchſafed to that nation.

3 How terrible, &c.] Meaning, how ſtupendous and aſtoniſhing!

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm or Song of David.

LET God ariſe, let his enemies be ſcattered: let them alſo that hate him flee before him.

2 As ſmoke is driven away, ſo drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, ſo let the wicked periſh in the preſence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad; let them rejoice before God: yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.

8 The earth ſhook, the heavens alſo dropped at the preſence of God: even Sinai itſelf was moved at the preſence of God, the God of Iſrael.

9 Thou, O God, didſt ſend a plentiful rain, whereby thou didſt confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, haſt prepared of thy goodneſs for the poor.

12 To ride over our heads, &c.] Or upon our heads, that is, to ride upon us as beaſts; a figure denoting the moſt abject ſlavery, and moſt ſervile ſtate: "Through fire and through water" imports extreme danger and afflictions; and by "A wealthy place" we are to underſtand liberty, eaſe, and plenty.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXVI.

We learn from hence, that it is our bounden duty to perform the vows we have made to God while under his afflicting hand; to teſtify of his goodneſs towards us; and to remember that if we live in any known or wilful ſin, God will not hear our prayer, but withhold his mercy from us.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXVII.

2 Thy way, &c.] That is, thy wonderful providence over us.

4 O let the nations be glad, &c.] O that the nations were ſo ſenſible what an happineſs it is to be under thy care, that they may rejoice and ſhout for joy, to know that thou art the governor of the world.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXVII.

If God has made us objects of his lovingkindneſs, we ſhould, after David's example, imitate all nations, to whom the fame of his goodneſs ſhould reach, to ſubmit themſelves to his government, and truſt in his protection.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXVIII.

4 By his name Jah, &c.] Jah (which is a contraction of Jehovah) is the name of God; importing his incomprehenſible being or exiſtence; ſo that hereby is implied, that all idols are but vanity, and the God of Iſrael is the only true God.

6 A dry land.] That is, which is barren of God's bleſſing.

7, 8 O God, when thou wenteſt forth, &c.] What a ſublime and noble idea this paſſage gives us of God! The pſalmiſt has here borrowed his expreſſions from Deborah's ſong: ſee Judge v. 4, 5.

13 Though ye have lien among the pots, &c.] Though ye were formerly obſcure and oppreſſed ſlaves, tied down to the drudging of brick making and pottery in Egypt, yet you ſhall now be as glorious as you were then contemptible.

16 Why leap ye, ye high hills, &c.] Boaſt not of your height and beauty, ye towering mountains, Sion is the hill which God hath choſen to honour with his reſidence.

18 Thou haſt aſcended on high.] Thou, O God, by the inviſible miniſtry of the heavenly hoſt, haſt given us victory over our enemies: but the Meſſiah, who ſhall be thy ſanctuary, will do far more magnificently, when, after conquering death and the power of Satan, he ſhall aſcend in a reſplendent chariot, attended by myriads of the heavenly hoſt, to the moſt exalted ſeats of happineſs, even to thine own right hand on the throne of glory.

Thou haſt received gifts for men.] This muſt be underſtood prophetically, of the gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, which Chriſt conferred on his diſciples, after his aſcenſion.

20 Unto God the Lord belong the iſſues from death.] Or, paſſages. The meaning here is, that he can preſerve from death thoſe who are his.

1 David complaineth of his affliction. 13 He prayeth for deliverance. 22 He devoteth his enemies to deſtruction. 30 He praiſeth God with thankſgiving.

To the chief Muſician upon Shoſhannim, A Pſalm of David.

SAVE me, O God; for the waters are come in unto my ſoul.

2 I ſink in deep mire, where there is no ſtanding: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying: my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cauſe are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would deſtroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I reſtored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knoweſt my fooliſhneſs: and my ſins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord GOD of hoſts, be aſhamed for my ſake: let not thoſe that ſeek thee be confounded for my ſake, O God of Iſrael.

7 Becauſe for thy ſake I have borne reproach; ſhame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a ſtranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

10 When I wept and chaſtened my ſoul with faſting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made ſackcloth alſo my garment: and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that ſit in the gate ſpeak againſt me; and I was the ſong of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy ſalvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not ſink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the waterflood overflow me, neither let the deep ſwallow me up, and let not the pit ſhut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O LORD; for thy lovingkindneſs is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy ſervant; for I am in trouble: hear me ſpeedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my ſoul, and redeem it: deliver me becauſe of mine enemies.

19 Thou haſt known my reproach, and my ſhame, and my diſhonour: mine adverſaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heavineſs: and I looked for ſome to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me alſo gall for my meat; and in my thirſt they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a ſnare before them: and that which ſhould have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they ſee not: and make their loins continually to ſhake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

25 Let their habitation be deſolate; and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they perſecute him whom thou haſt ſmitten; and they talk to the grief of thoſe whom thou haſt wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteouſneſs.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor and ſorrowful: let thy ſalvation, O God, ſet me up on high.

30 I will praiſe the name of God with a ſong, and will magnify him with thankſgiving.

31 This alſo ſhall pleaſe the LORD better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The humble ſhall ſee this, and be glad: and your heart ſhall live that ſeek God.

33 For the LORD heareth the poor and deſpiſeth not his priſoners.

34 Let the heaven and earth praiſe him, the ſeas, and every thing that moveth therein.

35 For God will ſave Zion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in poſſeſſion.

36 The ſeed alſo of his ſervants ſhall inherit it: and they that love his name ſhall dwell therein.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXVIII.

The praiſes of God, here celebrated, ſhould be the matter of our conſtant imitation; eſpecially when we conſider his amazing condeſcenſion and goodneſs towards his church, which has been ſhewn in all ages: On theſe conſiderations, it becomes our duty and happineſs to devote ourſelves to his ſervice.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXIX.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity, &c.] Let them accumulate their ſins.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXIX.

In this pſalm the ſufferings of Chriſt, and the overthrow of the Jewiſh nation are plainly foretold; for as the Jews were ſo audaciouſly wicked to inflict thoſe puniſhments on the Saviour of mankind, which they themſelves experienced from their moſt ſpiteful enemies

PSAL. LXX.

David prayeth for God's ſpeedy help and deliverance to the confuſion of his enemies, and triumph of the godly.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

MAKE haſte, O God, to deliver me; make haſte to help me, O LORD.

2 Let them be aſhamed and confounded that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned backward, and put to confuſion, that deſire my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their ſhame that ſay, Aha, aha.

4 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let ſuch as love thy ſalvation ſay continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy: make haſte unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer; O LORD, make no tarrying.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 David in confidence of faith, and experience of God's favour, prayeth both for himſelf, and againſt the enemies of his ſoul. 14 He promiſeth conſtancy. 17 He prayeth for perſeverance. 19 He praiſeth God, and promiſeth to do it chearfully.

1023. IN thee, O LORD, do I put my truſt: let me never be put to confuſion.

2 Deliver me in thy righteouſneſs, and cauſe me to eſcape: incline thine ear unto me, and ſave me.

3 Be thou my ſtrong habitation, whereunto I may continually reſort: thou haſt given commandment to ſave me; for thou art my rock and my fortreſs.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord GOD: thou art my truſt from my youth.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praiſe ſhall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my ſtrong refuge.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praiſe and with thy honour all the day.

9 Caſt me not off in the time of old age; forſake me not when my ſtrength faileth.

10 For mine enemies ſpeak againſt me; and they that lay wait for my ſoul take counſel together,

11 Saying, God hath forſaken him: perſecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him.

12 O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haſte for my help.

13 Let them be confounded and conſumed that are adverſaries to my ſoul: let them be covered with reproach and diſhonour that ſeek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praiſe thee more and more.

15 My mouth ſhall ſhew forth thy righteouſneſs and thy ſalvation all the day; for I know not the numbers thereof.

16 I will go in the ſtrength of the Lord GOD: I will make mention of thy righteouſneſs, even of thine only.

17 O God, thou haſt taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

18 Now alſo when I am old and greyheaded, O God, forſake me not; until I have ſhewed thy ſtrength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

19 Thy righteouſneſs alſo, O God, is very high, who haſt done great things: O God, who is like unto thee!

20 Thou, which haſt ſhewed me great and ſore troubles, ſhall quicken me again, and ſhalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou ſhalt increaſe my greatneſs, and comfort me on every ſide.

22 I will alſo praiſe thee with the pſaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I ſing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Iſrael.

23 My lips ſhall greatly rejoice when I ſing unto thee; and my ſoul, which thou haſt redeemed.

24 My tongue alſo ſhall talk of thy righteouſneſs all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto ſhame, that ſeek my hurt.

mies, God, the righteous judge, condemned them to ſuffer that themſelves which they prayed might fall on the heads of their enemies.

COMMENTARY AND REMARK ON PSAL. LXX.

As there is not any remarkable difference between this pſalm and the latter part of the 40th, it is therefore probable that David compoſed it, with a few alterations, as a diſtinct prayer, to be uſed by him conſtantly during the time of any ſharp affliction. We ſhall only add to this, that the word "poor," in the 5th verſe, means a perſon under any oppreſſive or afflictive circumſtances.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXI.

3 Be thou my ſtrong habitation, whereunto I may continually reſort, &c.] Whenſoever I fly to thy almighty protection, do thou always keep me as ſecure as if I repoſed myſelf in an impregnable caſtle.

7 I am as a wonder, &c.] Becauſe ſo many and ſo grievous afflictions have befallen me.

20 Thou—ſhalt quicken me again, &c.] This may be underſtood not only of David's deliverance out of his troubles, but alſo of the reſurrection.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXI.

David's confidence in the divine ſupport againſt the power and malice of his enemies, and his prayer for continual ſupport and protection, affords a leſſon to us, to truſt in the Lord under the ſevereſt trials, and praiſe him for the mercies we enjoy.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXII.

1 Give the king thy judgments, &c.] O God, the ſupreme judge of the world, beſtow, I beſeech thee, upon Solomon my ſon, who is now anointed to ſit on my throne, a right judgment in all things, with uprightneſs and integrity of heart. This may be underſtood of Chriſt, as the King of glory, and the Son of the Father.

5 They ſhall fear thee, &c.] This could not be ſaid of Solomon, but only of Chriſt, of whoſe kingdom there ſhall be no end.

9 Shall lick the duſt.] Shall proſtrate themſelves with their faces to the ground, after the faſhion of the eaſtern nations.

16 There ſhall be an handful of corn, &c.] God ſhall bleſs him (namely Chriſt) with an abundant plenty, in the converſion of multitudes of ſouls to the Chriſtian faith. Some parts of this pſalm are delivered in ſo exalted a ſtrain, that the words had not a full accompliſhment

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The psalmist sheweth that his faith had almost failed him.
23 His trust in God's present support and future favour.

A Psalm of Asaph.

TRULY God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish.

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.

9 They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most high?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world; they increase in riches.

13 Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.

15 If I say, I will speak thus; behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me.

17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou castedst them down into destruction.

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O LORD, when thou awakest, thou shall despise their image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.

23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.

26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

27 For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

PSAL. LXXIV.

1 The psalmist complaineth of the desolation of the sanctuary.

Maschil of Asaph.

O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old; the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed; this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolations; even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

4 Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy congregation; they set up their ensigns for signs.

5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast fire into thy sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy name to the ground.

8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs: there is no more any prophet: neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.

12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou

plishment in Solomon, nor in any one else, till the appearance of the Messiah; of the happiness of whose government, together with the power, extent, and eternal continuance of his kingdom, David here prophesies.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. LXXII.

As David in this prayer sheweth the goodness and glory of Solomon's wisdom, which was typical of Christ's, and blesseth God for his wonderful works; so we, by faith, should look beyond the transitory things of this world, and set our hearts on heavenly objects, that we may enjoy the blessedness of his kingdom of grace here, and possess the felicity of his kingdom of glory in heaven.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXIII.

Here begins the third book of psalms, containing seventeen, most of them very disconsolate, and full of bitter complaints. They were chiefly composed by Asaph, who lived in the days of Hezekiah, and called Asaph the seer; see 2 Chron. xxix. 30.

2 My feet were almost gone; my steps, &c.] I began to doubt and stagger in my faith.

7 Their eyes stand out, &c.] They pamper themselves to excess.

9 They set their mouth against the heavens, &c.] They blaspheme God, and speak prophanely of his providence, power, and justice.

10 Therefore his people return hither, &c.] To the following thoughts, and their old opinions.

17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God, &c.] Withdrawing my mind from the world, and the false shews thereof; I was presently sensible how short is the felicity of the wicked, and how truly miserable those men are, whose reward is only in this life!

19 How are they brought into desolation, &c.] When on a sudden divine vengeance seizes on them, and, when they least expected it, a final period is put to all their greatness; so that their whole life is nothing more than a dream of happiness, and they pride themselves in a mere imaginary glory.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. LXXIII.

David, by his example, recommends acquiescence in the divine dispensations respecting the wicked, who, though they prosper for a season, are suddenly involved in destruction: but encourages us to trust in God, who will, in the end, reward the righteous, who submit to his government, and delight in his ways.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXIV.

2 The rod of thine inheritance, &c.] Which thou hast measured out for thyself as with a line or rod.

3 Lift up thy feet, &c.] To stamp or beat down; or to come and see the desolation.

5 A man was famous according as, &c.] They got fame according to the mischief they did, which they committed with no more remorse than if they had been lopping off the boughs of a tree.

9 We see not our signs, &c.] No tokens of the divine presence.

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, &c.] Why puttest thou thy hand under thy garment?

13, 14 Thou

1 The Pſalmiſt ſheweth what fierce combat he had with diffidence. 10 The victory which he had gained by conſidering God's great and gracious works.

To the chief Muſician, to Jeduthun, A Pſalm of Aſaph.

I Cried unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice; and he gave ear unto me.

13, 14 Thou brakeſt the heads of the dragons, &c.] By "leviathan," ver. 14, is meant Pharaoh; and by "the dragons," ver. 13, the Egyptians, or Pharaoh's army, who were broken or drowned in the Red-ſea, and their bodies being waſhed aſhore, became food for the wild beaſts and birds of the wilderneſs.

15 Thou didſt cleave the fountain, &c.] Meaning, the rock whence the fountain flowed.

20 The dark places of the earth, &c.] The dreary and deſert parts of the country are full of robberies, and are receptacles for thieves.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXIV.

In the midſt of ſore trials and perſecutions, we are here taught to conſider the power and goodneſs of God in ancient times, and the deliverances he has formerly wrought out for his people; and we ſhould remind him of his promiſes and covenant, which cannot be altered; for he is the ſame yeſterday, to-day, and for ever.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXV.

This pſalm was compoſed by Aſaph the ſeer, after the great deliverance, which, by the ſtrange deſtruction of Sennacherib's army, God gave the good king Hezekiah.

1 Thy name is near, &c.] Thou art near: the name of a perſon is an Hebraiſm, whereby the perſon is frequently expreſſed.

3 I bear up the pillars of it.] By "pillars" we may underſtand, governors or great perſonages.

5 Lift not up your horn on high, &c.] Be not proud and inſolent.

6 Nor from the ſouth.] The meaning of the verſe is, that deliverance was not to be expected from any of the nations round about.

8 In the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red, &c.] This is beautifully imagined. We meet with this allegory in Homer, who borrowed his nobleſt images and fineſt thoughts from the ſacred writings. "Red" denotes the fierceneſs of God's wrath.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXV.

We learn from this pſalm, that the wicked, how proud and inſolent ſoever they may be, ſhall not go unpuniſhed by the Lord, who is the ruler of univerſal nature; but that his providential care is over the righteous.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXVI.

4 Thou art more glorious, &c.] Thou, O Sion, art more glorious, &c.

10 Surely the wrath of man ſhall praiſe thee, &c.] The fierceneſs and rage of man ſhall turn to thy praiſe; for the end ſhall ſhew that the enemy is able to bring nothing to paſs; likewiſe thou ſhalt bridle their rage, that they ſhall not accompliſh their purpoſe.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXVI.

David here celebrates the wondrous interpoſition of God in favour of his people, and the deſtruction of their enemies; which ſhould animate us to walk humbly and reverently before him, and to perform the promiſes we made to him in our diſtreſs.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

An exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God.

Maſchil of Aſaph.

GIVE ear, O my people, to my law: incline thine ears to the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark ſayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, ſhewing to the generation to come the praiſes of the LORD, and his ſtrength, and his wonderful works that he hath done.

5 For he eſtabliſhed a teſtimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Iſrael, which he commanded our fathers, that they ſhould make them known to their children:

6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which ſhould be born; who ſhould ariſe and declare them to their children:

7 That they might ſet their hope in God, and not forget the works of God; but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as their fathers, a ſtubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that ſet not their heart aright, and whoſe ſpirit was not ſtedfaſt with God.

9 The children of Ephraim, being armed, and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refuſed to walk in his law;

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had ſhewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the ſight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 He divided the ſea, and cauſed them to paſs through; and he made the waters to ſtand as an heap.

14 In the daytime alſo he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 He clave the rocks in the wilderneſs, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought ſtreams alſo out of the rock, and cauſed waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they ſinned yet more againſt him by provoking the moſt high in the wilderneſs.

18 And they tempted God in their heart by aſking meat for their luſt.

19 Yea, they ſpake againſt God; they ſaid, Can God furniſh a table in the wilderneſs?

20 Behold, he ſmote the rock, that the waters guſhed out, and the ſtreams overflowed; can he give bread alſo? can he provide fleſh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth: ſo a fire was kindled againſt Jacob, and anger alſo came up againſt Iſrael;

22 Becauſe they believed not in God, and truſted not in his ſalvation:

23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven.

24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven,

25 Man did eat angels' food: he ſent them meat to the full.

26 He cauſed an eaſt wind to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the ſouth wind.

27 He rained fleſh alſo upon them as duſt, and feathered fowls like as the ſand of the ſea:

28 And he let it fall in the midſt of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own deſire;

30 They were not eſtranged from their luſt. But while their meat was yet in their mouths,

31 The wrath of God came upon them, and ſlew the fatteſt of them, and ſmote down the choſen men of Iſrael.

32 For all this they ſinned ſtill, and believed not for his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he conſume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he ſlew them, then they ſought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheleſs they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For

6 I call to remembrance my ſong, &c.] The ſongs of thankſgiving which I was accuſtomed to make in my proſperity.

10 This is my infirmity, &c.] This is my affliction, or the time in which Providence hath been pleaſed to appoint my ſufferings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in the ſanctuary, &c.] The method of thy providence, O God, is not only perfectly holy and juſt, but quite out of our reach, nor is thy power inferior.

16 The waters ſaw thee, O God, &c.] The waters of the Red ſea felt this power to the very depths of the ocean, which retreated as if terrified by thy preſence, and left a dry path in the ſea for thy people to paſs over.

19 Thy way is in the ſea, &c.] Thy way cannot be traced by human knowledge, who madeſt a broad path through the ſwelling waves, which, as none ever trod before or after, ſo they cannot trace the footſteps which the waters have overflown and obliterated.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXVII.

The uſe we are to make of this pſalm, is to look upon the bleſſing of God as the ſpring of all the temporal and ſpiritual goods that may contribute to render us happy, and to pray continually to him (on behalf of ourſelves and others) ſaying. God be merciful to us, and bleſs us, and cauſe his face to ſhine upon us; that we may be all enlightened with his knowledge, and that his name may be univerſally praiſed.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXVIII.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable, &c.] I will abundantly inform you of the moſt remarkable paſſages of God's providence in former times, which are more worthy your knowledge than the ſkill of reſolving the obſcureſt myſteries.

5 For he eſtabliſhed a teſtimony, &c.] When God gave us the law, he made it a particular injunction, that they ſhould be careful to leave the knowledge of theſe things as a ſacred legacy or inheritance unto their children.

9 The children of Ephraim, &c.] The Ephraimites, though a valiant tribe and excellent archers, ran away, and in a ſhameful manner were chaſed by their enemies.

12 Zoan.] Zoan is probably here only another appellation for the land of Egypt, by taking, poetically, a part for the whole.

25 Angles food, &c.] Becauſe it was prepared by the miniſtry of angels, and ſent from heaven, the place of their habitation.

33 Therefore their days, &c.] For which reaſon he reſolved they ſhould never reach the promiſed land, but ſhould die wandering in the wilderneſs.

37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they ſtedfaſt in his covenant.

38 But he being full of compaſſion, forgave their iniquity, and deſtroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not ſtir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were but fleſh; a wind that paſſeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderneſs, and grieve him in the deſert!

41 Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Iſrael.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 How he had wrought his ſigns in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 And had turned their rivers into blood; and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He ſent divers ſorts of flies among them, which devoured them; and frogs which deſtroyed them.

46 He gave alſo their increaſe unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locuſt.

47 He deſtroyed their vines with hail, and their ſycamore trees with froſt.

48 He gave up their cattle alſo to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.

49 He caſt upon them the fierceneſs of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by ſending evil angels among them.

50 He made a way to his anger; he ſpared not their ſoul from death, but gave their life over to the peſtilence;

51 And ſmote all their firſtborn in Egypt; the chief of their ſtrength in the tabernacles of Ham:

52 But made his own people to go forth like ſheep, and guided them in the wilderneſs like a flock.

53 And he led them on ſafely, ſo that they feared not: but the ſea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his ſanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchaſed.

55 He caſt out the heathen alſo before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the moſt high God, and kept not his teſtimonies:

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aſide like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealouſy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Iſrael:

60 So that he forſook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men;

61 And delivered his ſtrength into captivity, and his glory into the enemy's hand.

62 He gave his people over alſo unto the ſword; and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire conſumed their young men; and their maidens were not given to marriage.

64 Their prieſts fell by the ſword; and their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the LORD awaked as one out of ſleep, and like a mighty man that ſhouteth by reaſon of wine.

66 And he ſmote his enemies in the hinder part: and put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover he refuſed the tabernacle of Joſeph, and choſe not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But choſe the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he built his ſanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath eſtabliſhed for ever.

70 He choſe David alſo his ſervant, and took him from the ſheepfolds:

71 From following the ewes great with young he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Iſrael his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart; and guided them by the ſkilfulneſs of his hands.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance; thy holy temples have they defiled; they have laid Jeruſalem on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy ſervants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the fleſh of thy ſaints unto the beaſts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they ſhed like water round about Jeruſalem; and there was none to bury them.

4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and deriſion to them that are round about us.

5 How long, LORD, wilt thou be angry for ever? ſhall thy jealouſy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waſte his dwelling place.

8 O remember not againſt us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies ſpeedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our ſalvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our ſins, for thy name's ſake.

10 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our ſight by the revenging of the blood of thy ſervants which is ſhed.

11 Let the ſighing of the priſoner come before thee; according to the greatneſs of thy power preſerve thou thoſe that are appointed to die:

12 And render unto our neighbours ſevenfold into their boſom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O LORD.

13 So we thy people and ſheep of thy paſture will give thee thanks for ever: we will ſhew forth thy praiſe to all generations.

66 In the hinder parts.] Namely, with the painful and ſhameful diſeaſe of emrods.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXVIII.

In this pſalm are three things chiefly to be obſerved; namely, the favour of God to and ſupport of the Jews; their ſins, frequent murmurings, and ingratitude; and the chaſtiſement which God inflicted on them not only in the wilderneſs, but in Canaan. Theſe are examples to us, to remember inceſſantly the great goodneſs of God to us, and to dread ingratitude, and incurring the ſevere judgments he pours on thoſe who abuſe his favors.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The pſalmiſt's complaint. 8 God's former favours are turned into judgments: 14 A prayer for deliverance.

To the chief Muſician upon Shoſhannim-Eduth, A Pſalm of Aſaph.

GIVE ear, O Shepherd of Iſrael, thou that leadeſt Joſeph like a flock; thou that dwelleſt between the cherubims, ſhine forth.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manaſſeh ſtir up thy ſtrength, and come and ſave us.

3 Turn us again, O God, and cauſe thy face to ſhine; and we ſhall be ſaved.

4 O LORD God of hoſts, how long wilt thou be angry againſt the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedeſt them with the bread of tears; and giveſt them tears to drink in great meaſure.

6 Thou makeſt us a ſtrife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themſelves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hoſts, and cauſe thy face to ſhine; and we ſhall be ſaved.

8 Thou haſt brought a vine out of Egypt: thou haſt caſt out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedſt room before it, and didſt cauſe it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the ſhadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She ſent out her boughs unto the ſea, and her branches unto the river.

12 Why haſt thou then broken down her hedges, ſo that all they which paſs by the way do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth waſte it, and the wild beaſt of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beſeech thee, O God of hoſts: look down from heaven, and behold, and viſit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down: they periſh at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the ſon of man whom thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

18 So will not we go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O LORD God of hoſts, cauſe thy face to ſhine; and we ſhall be ſaved.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God. 4 God challengeth that duty by reaſon of his benefits, and exhorts his people to obedience.

To the chief Muſician upon Gittith, A Pſalm of Aſaph.

SING aloud unto God our ſtrength: make a joyful noiſe unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take a pſalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleaſant harp with the pſaltery.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, in the time appointed, on our ſolemn feaſt day.

4 For this was a ſtatute for Iſrael, and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordained in Joſeph for a teſtimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I underſtood not.

6 I removed his ſhoulder from the burden: his hands were delivered from the pots.

7 Thou calledſt in trouble, and I delivered thee; I anſwered thee in the ſecret place of thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

8 Hear, O my people, and I will teſtify unto thee: O Iſrael, if thou wilt hearken unto me;

9 There ſhall no ſtrange god be in thee; neither ſhalt thou worſhip any ſtrange god.

10 I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Iſrael would none of me.

12 So I gave them up unto their own hearts' luſt: and they walked in their own counſels.

13 Oh that my people had hearkened unto me, and Iſrael had walked in my ways!

14 I ſhould ſoon have ſubdued their enemies, and turned my hand againſt their adverſaries.

15 The haters of the LORD ſhould have ſubmitted themſelves unto him: but their time ſhould have endured for ever.

16 He ſhould have fed them alſo with the fineſt of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock ſhould I have ſatisfied thee.

1 The pſalmiſt having exhorted the judges, 5 and reproved their miſconduct, 8 prayeth God to judge.

A Pſalm of Aſaph.

GOD ſtandeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods.

2 How long will ye judge unjuſtly, and accept the perſons of the wicked? Selah.

3 Defend the poor and fatherleſs: do juſtice to the afflicted and needy.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXX.

We have here repreſented to us the deſolation of the Jews, and the ſad condition they were in at that time; we ſhould therefore conſider, that if ſuch things happened to the Jewiſh church, we ought not to wonder if the Chriſtian be afflicted and perſecuted; eſpecially ſince Jeſus Chriſt has foretold that it ſhould be ſo; we ſhould therefore humble ourſelves under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt us in due time.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXI.

Aſaph, who lived in the time of David, is ſuppoſed to be the author of this pſalm, which ſeems to have been compoſed for the feaſt of trumpets, held on the firſt day of the ſeventh month.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, &c.] The feaſt of the new moon (being the firſt moon in the year) was alſo proclaimed to the people by the ſound of trumpets, and this cuſtom is ſtill obſerved among the Mahometans.

15 But their time, &c.] That is, But the time of my people.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXI.

We may obſerve very plainly in this pſalm, that God is always diſpoſed to load men with his favours; that he offers them grace; that he deſires nothing but their welfare and ſalvation: and that men are miſerable, it is becauſe they will not hear his voice, but harden their hearts wilfully; till they are at length abandoned to their impenitency and deprived of the effects of his love.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXII.

This pſalm was compoſed by Aſaph the ſeer, in the days of Hezekiah, to admoniſh the judges of their duty, and to reform the abuſes which had crept in their civil judicature.

1 God ſtandeth in] Remember, O ye judges, whoſe miniſters you are, and conſider, that as God obſerves what you do, ſo he will call you to a ſtrict account, and ſeverely puniſh you if you judge unrighteous judgments.

Among the gods.] Elohim, gods. This appellation (uſed to expreſs the Trinity) is given to judges and rulers, to denote that the fountain of their power was from the Moſt High, and to remind them, in the exerciſe of their authority, that they were his repreſentatives.

5 The foundations of the earth were out of courſe.] The foundations of the kingdoms are ſhaken, which are juſtice and truth.

1 The pſalmiſt complaineth to God of a confederacy among the enemies of Iſrael: 9 he prayeth againſt them.

A Song or Pſalm of Aſaph.

KEEP not thou ſilence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not ſtill, O God.

2 For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counſel againſt thy people, and conſulted againſt thy hidden ones.

4 They have ſaid, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Iſrael may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have conſulted together with one conſent: they are confederate againſt thee:

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Iſhmaelites; of Moab, and the Hagarenes;

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; the Philiſtines with the inhabitants of Tyre;

8 Aſſur alſo is joined with them: they have holpen the children of Lot. Selah.

9 Do unto them as unto the Midianites; as to Siſera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kiſon:

10 Which periſhed at En-dor: they became as dung for the earth.

12 Who ſaid, Let us take to ourſelves the houſes of God in poſſeſſion.

13 O my God, make them like a wheel; as the ſtubble before the wind.

14 As the fire burneth a wood, and as the flame ſetteth the mountains on fire;

15 So perſecute them with thy tempeſt, and make them afraid with thy ſtorm.

16 Fill their faces with ſhame; that they may ſeek thy name, O LORD.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever; yea, let them be put to ſhame, and periſh:

18 That men may know that thou, whoſe name alone is JEHOVAH, art the moſt high over all the earth.

2 Thou haſt forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou haſt covered all their ſin. Selah.

3 Thou haſt taken away all thy wrath: thou haſt turned thyſelf from the fierceneſs of thine anger.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXII.

We learn from hence, that is the duty and intereſt of magiſtrates to remember, that although they are ſet above others, yet they themſelves muſt die one day, and, with the reſt of mankind, appear before the ſupreme Judge, to give an account of all their actions, and whether they had adminiſtered juſtice with uprightneſs, and as God's vicegerents.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXIII.

6, 7, 8 The tabernacles of Edom, &c.] Thoſe warlike nations the Edomites and Iſraelites who dwell in tents, are engaged in this enterprize; and combined with them are the Moabites, Gebalites, Amalekites, Philiſtines, Tyrians, and Aſſyrians.

13 Make them like a wheel, &c.] Unſtable as a wheel which is eaſily precipitated from the lofty mountains: ſome commentators read, Like thiſtle-down; which correſponds better with ſtubble in the next ſentence.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXIII.

We hence ſee, that God defeats the contrivances of thoſe who ſeek the ruin of his church, and that he ſupports it againſt all the oppoſitions of its numerous, powerful, and malicious enemies.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXIV.

3 Yea, the ſparrow, &c.] It grieves me, O Lord, to ſee the very birds enjoy that liberty which is denied to me, who am here lamenting my diſtance from thee, when the ſparrows and the ring-doves have their continual undiſturbed reſidence at thy houſe.

The meaning is, that though the pious meet with many difficulties equal to the want of water in dry places, they yet overcome them all with the ardency of their zeal, and paſs the thirſty valley as chearfully as if it abounded with pleaſant ſprings; and depending upon God as the fountain of their deſires, receive from him the bleſſing of plentiful and ſeaſonable ſhowers to refreſh them in their journey.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXIV.

The fervent devotion that David ſhews here, teaches us, that we ſhould wiſh for nothing with ſo much earneſtneſs as to ſerve God in ſpirit and in truth; that this is the greateſt happineſs, and ſweeteſt comfort, we can enjoy in this world; and that it is better to paſs one day in the houſe of God, than to poſſeſs all poſſible advantages on earth.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXV.

8 I will hear what God the Lord will ſpeak, &c.] I will wait patiently upon the Lord, the judge of the world, for a gracious anſwer to my prayers.

O LORD God of my ſalvation, I have cried day and night before thee:

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXV.

In this pſalm are theſe two principal inſtructions: That God makes his people feel the effects of his wrath for the puniſhment of their ſins; but as ſoon as he ſees his people humbled, he is appeaſed, and they are delivered; then he pours down upon them his moſt precious bleſſings, both temporal and ſpiritual.

See 1 Cor. viii. 5, 6.

13 The loweſt hell.] The grave, or the ſtate of death.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXVI.

This ſupplicatory pſalm teaches us, that when we are in affliction and diſtreſs, we ſhould call God to our aid, with a firm confidence in his mercy and power, which he always diſplays towards thoſe that aſk it; and that we ought, above all things, to beg of God grace to walk in his ways, continually to pray unto him, and celebrate his praiſes.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXVII.

The Holy Ghoſt foretels in this pſalm, that the pagans, and the moſt diſtant nations, ſhould be one day admitted into the divine covenant, and numbered among the worſhippers of the true God. This has happened by the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and is that happineſs which we ourſelves partake of, and for which we ought to return continual thanks to God.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXVIII.

Mahalath Leannoth, &c.] "Mahalath" is the name of a wind-inſtrument, ſuch as flutes, pipes, &c. and "Leannoth" ſignifies, by turns, or interchangeably, denoting the manner in which this pſalm was to be performed, the ſingers alternately anſwering one another; Maſchil is the name of the time to which it was to be ſung. Maſchil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will ſing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulneſs to all generations.

2 For I have ſaid, Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſs ſhalt thou eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my choſen, I have ſworn unto David my ſervant.

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations. Selah.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among the ſons of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the ſaints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O LORD God of hoſts, who is a ſtrong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulneſs round about thee?

9 Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waves thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: as for the world and the fulneſs thereof, thou haſt founded them.

12 The north and the ſouth thou haſt created them: Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoice in thy name.

13 Thou haſt a mighty arm: ſtrong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Juſtice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth ſhall go before thy face.

23 And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulneſs and my mercy ſhall be with him: and in my name ſhall his horn be exalted.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the rivers.

26 He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my ſalvation.

27 Alſo I will make him my firſtborn, higher than the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him.

29 His ſeed alſo will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forſake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they break my ſtatutes, and keep not my commandments;

32 Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the rod, and their iniquity with ſtripes.

33 Nevertheleſs my lovingkindneſs will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I ſworn by my holineſs that I will not lie unto David.

36 His ſeed ſhall endure for ever, and his throne as the ſun before me.

37 It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witneſs in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou haſt caſt off and abhorred, thou haſt been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou haſt made void the covenant of thy ſervant: thou haſt profaned his crown by caſting it to the ground.

40 Thou haſt broken down all his hedges; thou haſt brought his ſtrong holds to ruin.

41 All that paſs by the way ſpoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou haſt ſet up the right hand of his adverſaries; thou haſt made all his enemies to rejoice.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. LXXXVIII.

Thoſe afflicted perſons, who fear God, ſhould meditate on this pſalm, and not be diſcouraged when they find fears without, and are troubled within for want of comfort, and alſo by the terrors they feel in their ſouls; but they ought to repreſent to God their ſad condition, and wait with patience for his conſolation, which he will not fail to give them in his own time.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. LXXXIX.

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, &c.] Theſe words (as well as the ſubject matter of the pſalm) are too great to have their completion in Solomon, and therefore muſt relate to the Meſſiah: the pſalmiſt diſtinguiſhes between David's ſeed and his ſons: by the former, he means the Meſſiah; by the latter, his deſcendents: to his ſons, the promiſe is conditional; to his ſeed, it is abſolute. Of the Meſſiah, he ſays, ver. 29. "His ſeed will I make to endure for ever, &c." Of his ſons, he ſays, ver. 30, 31. "If his children forſake, &c. If they break, &c." Of his ſeed, it follows, ver. 33 to 37. "Nevertheleſs, my lovingkindneſs, &c." to which the reader is referred.

PSAL. XC.

1 The psalmist declareth God's providence; 3 he complaineth of human frailty, 7 divine chastisements, 10 and the shortness of life: 12 he prayeth for a due sense of this.

A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

LORD, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction; and sayest, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told.

10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

13 Return, O LORD, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.

16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.

17 And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

The security and happiness of the godly under the divine protection.

HE that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisom pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the LORD which is my refuge, even the most high, thy habitation;

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XC.

Here begins the fourth book of psalms, according to the Hebrew division of them.

3 Return, ye children of men.] Return to the dust, of which ye were made.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? &c.] Who, alas! notwithstanding all thy judgments, seriously lays to heart the dreadful effects of thy displeasure!

12 So teach us, &c.] We beseech thee so to influence our minds to consider that our days have a number, thought to us unknown, that the due consideration of the solemn truth may tend to keep us always watchful, that we may not be overtaken by death in a thoughtless state, and an unprepared condition!

13 How long? &c.] How long wilt thou afflict us?

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XC.

This psalm admonishes us, from a view of the vanities of this present life, to seek after a better, and aspire to that immortality which is prepared for us in the heavens by Jesus Christ our Lord; therefore let us beg of God, that while we remain in this world, he would be pleased always to grant us his grace, and at all times bestow on us the marks of his bounty, that we may pass our time in happiness and peace.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCI.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, &c.] He will deliver thee from all unseen dangers.

14, 15, 16 Because he hath set, &c.] The Lord hath declared saying, "Because he hath set, &c."

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XCI.

The admirable promises herein contained are very proper to comfort and encourage all such as fear God, and to fill them with an unspeakable joy, and an immoveable confidence.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCII.

2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, &c.] The sweetest employment in the morning, and pleasantest entertainment at night, is to commemorate and declare to all how beautiful thou art, and how faithful in performing thy promises to those who depend on thy almighty goodness.

10 But my horn shalt thou exalt, &c.] But my power and authority thou shalt raise to a formidable height, and crown that dignity with such undisturbed joy and pleasure, as shall prove, that the pious are not always miserable.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCII.

This pſalm points out the ways of Providence, and the Lord's conduct towards good and bad men. Let us then remember well, that if wicked and worldly men flouriſh and are happy, it is but for a little while; but that God deſtroys them utterly, and roots them out at laſt: that, on the contrary, he bleſſes the righteous; that he ſecures their happineſs; and that he makes them proſper, grow, and bear fruit in his church, even unto their old age.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCIII.

In a more ſublime ſenſe this pſalm is to be applied to the ſtability of the Meſſiah's kingdom, as ſeveral of the Jews themſelves acknowledge.

5 Thy teſtimonies are very ſure, &c.] Thy fidelity in performing thy promiſes is unqueſtionable.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCIII.

This pſalm points out to us, that God rules with glory and magnificence in an eſpecial manner over his church; and will reign for ever for the good and advantage of his people, and of all thoſe who ſerve and ſubmit themſelves to him.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCIV.

1 Shew thyſelf.] Let thy interpoſition in this cauſe be made evident to the world, by the righteouſneſs of the deciſion.

17 In ſilence.] The place of "ſilence," i. e. the grave.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCIV.

We are aſſured by this pſalm, that God will never forſake his people, and his inheritance; and that, ſooner or later, he will take vengeance on thoſe who inſult and perſecute the faithful.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCV.

This pſalm (as the Jews themſelves confeſs, and the apoſtle to the Hebrews proves, in the 3d and 4th chapters) relates to the days of Chriſt, and the Apoſtle in the epiſtle before-mentioned, demonſtrates that the reſt here ſpoken of, could not be merely that in the land of Canaan, which their forefathers fell ſhort of, by their diſobedience to God in the wilderneſs; but another far better, into which they were to be brought by the Meſſiah, a far greater captain than Joſhua.

9 Tempted me, &c.] Provoked me to anger.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCV.

This pſalm engages us to render to God, with joy and fervency, the adoration and praiſes which belong to him, on account of his power and greatneſs; but above all, becauſe he is our God, and that we have the happineſs to be his people; let us, therefore, improve the exhortation of the pſalmiſt, and beware that we harden not our hearts againſt him, as the Iſraelites did.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCVI.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCVI.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCVII.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. XCVII.

The exhortations contained in this pſalm are, to praiſe God, and celebrate his power and might; to worſhip and love him, and turn from evil; and to rejoice in his excellent promiſes to the faithful, whom he will conſtantly preſerve, and finally deliver out of all adverſity.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. XCVIII.

David maketh a vow and profession of godliness.

A Psalm of David.

I Will sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O LORD, will I sing.
2 I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.
3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside; it shall not cleave to me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.
5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.
7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.
8 I will early destroy all the wicked of the land; that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

PSAL. CII.

1 The prophet complaineth bitterly of his afflicted case: 12 he taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God.

A prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEAR my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble; incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call answer me speedily.
3 For my days are consumed like the smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth.
4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass; so that I forget to eat my bread.
5 By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.
6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.
7 I watch, and am, as a sparrow alone upon the house top.
8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day; and they that are mad against me are sworn against me.
9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping,
10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.
11 My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass.
12 But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations.
13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the set time, is come.
14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.
15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory.
17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.

21 To declare the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem;
22 When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.

geance of their inventions.] That God should bestow forgiveness, and yet inflict vengeance upon the same persons, may appear an irreconcilable contradiction; but the resolution is not very difficult, if we consider that eternal mercy may very well consist with temporal severities, and the pardon of the sin with the correction of the sinner.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. XCIX.

We see in this psalm, that God formerly delivered the Israelites when they returned to him, and took vengeance of their sins, when they offended him; which shews us, that he is always just, and good, and sometimes causes men to feel the marks of his vengeance, and sometimes of his justice, to engage them to fear, love and serve him faithfully.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. C.

This is the only psalm in the whole collection, which is intituled "A psalm of praise," probably because it was peculiarly appointed to be sung when their sacrifices of thanksgiving were offered to the Most High; we now use it in acknowledgment of God's wonderful love to us in Christ, who by the sacrifice he made of himself, redeemed us from the power of sin and death, and made us heirs of eternal life.

5 His truth endureth to all generations.] The mercy he hath promised to our forefathers he hath exactly fulfilled in our days, and will continue to all succeeding generations.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. C.

We see from hence, that God guides us as a shepherd, heaps his favours upon us, not only of nature but especially of grace, and gives to his church continual tokens of his goodness and mercy.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CI.

This psalm, written by David, contains his pious resolution to govern himself, his court and kingdom, with so much care, that the good might expect all favour from him; and the wicked not have the least countenance or encouragement.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Psal. CI.

In this psalm we see the duties and sentiments of good princes, and good magistrates; namely, to walk in uprightness, abhor evil, govern with justice, punish the wicked, protect the upright and sincere, and employ them in their service.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CII.

This is the fifth among the seven which are called penitential psalms.

3 For my days are consumed like smoke, &c.] My days are spent as dismal as if I was involved in a cloud of smoke; and the anguish I feel is so sharp, that it penetrates to my very bones, and makes them as parched and dry as the fire does the hearth.

6 Like a pelican of the wilderness, &c.] Calmet says there are two kind of pelicans, one of which lives in the water, and feeds upon fish; the other in the wilderness, and feeds upon serpents, and other reptiles.

Like an owl in the desert.] The sense of the verse is, I take no delight in the company of my friends, but seek for solitary places to mourn and give a vent to my grief.

13 The set time, &c.] The time prefixed for her punishment being expired, see Jer. xxix. 10, 11.

14 Thy servants take pleasure in her stones, &c.] Even the scattered stones of Sion are far more dear to thy pious worshippers than the most magnificent palaces in Babylon, and therefore they look upon her dust and rubbish with the most sensible grief and commiseration.

all of them ſhall wax old like a garment; as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, and they ſhall be changed;

PSAL. CIII.

1 An exhortation to bleſs God for his mercy, 15 and for the conſtancy thereof.

A Pſalm of David.

BLESS the LORD, O my ſoul: and all that is within me, bleſs his holy name.

2 Bleſs the LORD, O my ſoul, and forget not all his benefits:

3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diſeaſes;

4 Who redeemeth thy life from deſtruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindneſs and tender mercies;

5 Who ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things; ſo that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

6 The LORD executeth righteouſneſs and judgment for all that are oppreſſed.

7 He made known his ways unto Moſes, his acts unto the children of Iſrael.

8 The LORD is merciful and gracious, ſlow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

9 He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

10 He hath not dealt with us after our ſins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

11 For as the heaven is high above the earth, ſo great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As far as the eaſt is from the weſt, ſo far hath he removed our tranſgreſſions from us.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children, ſo the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth our frame: he remembereth that we are duſt.

15 As for man, his days are as graſs: as a flower of the field, ſo he flouriſheth.

16 For the wind paſſeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof ſhall know it no more.

17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlaſting to everlaſting upon them that fear him, and his righteouſneſs unto children's children;

18 To ſuch as keep his covenant, and to thoſe that remember his commandments to do them.

19 The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.

20 Bleſs the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in ſtrength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

21 Bleſs ye the LORD, all ye his hoſts; ye miniſters of his, that do his pleaſure.

22 Bleſs the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion: bleſs the LORD, O my ſoul.

PSAL. CIV.

1 A meditation upon the majeſty, power, and wonderful providence of God. 31 God's glory is eternal. 33 The prophet voweth to praiſe God perpetually.

BLESS the LORD, O my ſoul. O LORD my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majeſty.

2 Who covereſt thyſelf with light as with a garment: who ſtretcheſt out the heavens like a curtain:

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind:

4 Who maketh his angels ſpirits; his miniſters a flaming fire:

5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it ſhould not be removed for ever.

6 Thou coveredſt it with the deep as with a garment: the waters ſtood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they haſted away.

8 They go up by the mountains; they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou haſt founded for them.

9 Thou haſt ſet a bound that they may not paſs over; that they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 He ſendeth the ſprings into the valleys, which run among the hills.

11 They gave drink to every beaſt of the field: the wild aſſes quench their thirſt.

12 By them ſhall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which ſing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is ſatisfied with the fruit of thy works.

14 He cauſeth the graſs to grow for the cattle, and herb for the ſervice of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth;

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to ſhine, and bread which ſtrengtheneth man's heart.

16 The trees of the LORD are full of ſap; the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted;

17 Where the birds make their neſts: as for the ſtork, the fir trees are her houſe.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats; and the rocks for the conies.

19 He appointed the moon for ſeaſons: the ſun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makeſt darkneſs, and it is night: wherein all the beaſts of the foreſt do creep forth.

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and ſeek their meat from God.

22 The ſun ariſeth, they gather themſelves together, and lay them down in their dens.

23 Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CII.

From the extreme affliction of the captive Jews, their firm truſt in God for deliverance, and the manifeſtation of his glory to all nations, we may be perſuaded that God will appear in a more illuſtrious manner in favour of the Chriſtian church, wherein the glory and ſplendor of his kingdom will appear.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CIII.

5 Thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.] Eagles moult their feathers often, which might give riſe to the vulgar opinion, that they grew young again after they had been old.

15 As a flower of the field ſo he flouriſheth.] Though it may flatter the vanity of man to be repreſented under the beautiful emblem of a flower, yet it muſt no leſs mortify his pride to conſider that there is ſtill a ſharper reſemblance in the duration of the emblem under which he is repreſented.

19 Hath prepared his throne.] Hath eſtabliſhed it.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CIII.

This moſt excellent ſong of thankſgiving teaches us to bleſs God, not only with our mouth, but with our whole heart and ſoul, for all his benefits, but particularly for pardoning our ſins, and his infinite mercy in Chriſt; but that his goodneſs, great as it is, extends only to thoſe who fear him, keep his covenant, and walk in his ways.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CIV.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters.] This expreſſion ſignifies no more than that the rain falls down on the earth from heaven.

Who walketh upon the wings of the wind.] Not he flieth, he runneth, but he walketh, and that on the very wings of the wind, on the moſt impetuous of elements, rouſed into its utmoſt rage, and ſweeping along with inconceivable rapidity. In this expreſſion there is an elegance, an emphaſis unparallelled in any other writer. How flat are all the lines of profane authors, when compared with this inimitable ſtroke of divine poetry!

4 Who maketh his angels, &c.] Who maketh the winds his meſſengers, and flaming fire his miniſters.

10 He ſendeth the ſprings into the valleys, which run among the hills.] Moſt modern philoſophers account for the ſprings which are found on the tops of hills, not by ſubterraneous paſſages from the ſea, and percolated or ſtrained through the earth, but by vapour exhaled from the ſea and other large collections of waters ſtriking againſt the ſummits of thoſe hills, and there received into the ſeveral cavities which are as ſo many baſons or ciſterns.

17 The ſtork, &c.] Chaſidhah, here rendered the ſtork, ſignifies alſo mercy or kindneſs; and this fowl was probably ſo named, becauſe it has been remarked of it, that the young ones will feed their dams when they are old.

19 The ſun knoweth his going down.] This expreſſion is accommodated to the antient ſyſtem of aſtronomy, which ſuppoſed that the ſun moved round the earth.

24 O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wiſdom haſt thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

26 There go the ſhips: there is that leviathan, whom thou haſt made to play therein.

30 Thou ſendeſt forth thy ſpirit, they are created: and thou reneweſt the face of the earth.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God, to ſeek him and remember his works. 8 His providence over Abraham, 16 over Joſeph, 23 over Iſrael in Egypt, 37 and over his people brought out of Egypt.

O Give thanks unto the LORD; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people.

2 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him: talk ye all of his wondrous works.

3 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the LORD.

4 Seek the LORD, and his ſtrength: ſeek his face evermore.

5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;

6 O ye ſeed of Abraham his ſervant, ye children of Jacob his choſen.

7 He is the LORD our God: his judgments are in all the earth.

8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations.

9 Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Iſaac;

10 And confirmed the ſame unto Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant:

11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance:

12 When they were but a few men in number; yea, very few, and ſtrangers in it.

13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people;

14 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their ſake;

15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

16 Moreover he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole ſtaff of bread.

17 He ſent a man before them, even Joſeph, who was ſold for a ſervant:

18 Whoſe feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron:

19 Until the time that his word came: the word of the LORD tried him.

20 The king ſent and looſed him; even the ruler of the people, let him go free,

21 He made him lord of his houſe, and ruler of all his ſubſtance:

22 To bind his princes at his pleaſure; and teach his ſenators wiſdom.

23 Iſrael alſo came into Egypt; and Jacob ſojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increaſed his people greatly; and made them ſtronger than their enemies.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal ſubtilly with his ſervants.

26 He ſent Moſes his ſervant; and Aaron whom he had choſen.

27 They ſhewed his ſigns among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He ſent darkneſs, and made it dark; and they rebelled not againſt his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood, and ſlew their fiſh.

30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.

31 He ſpake and there came divers ſorts of flies, and lice in all their coaſts.

32 He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.

33 He ſmote their vines alſo and their fig trees; and brake the trees of their coaſts.

34 He ſpake, and the locuſts came, and caterpillers, and that without number,

35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 He ſmote alſo all the firſtborn in their land, the chief of all their ſtrength.

37 He brought them forth alſo with ſilver and gold: and there was not one feeble perſon among their tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.

39 He ſpread a cloud for a covering: and fire to give light in the night.

40 The people aſked, and he brought quails, and ſatisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 He opened the rock, and the waters guſhed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy promiſe, and Abraham his ſervant.

43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his choſen with gladneſs:

44 And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people;

45 That they might obſerve his ſtatutes, and keep his laws. Praiſe ye the LORD.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CIV.

As it was the pſalmiſt's delightful employment to meditate upon the works, and adore the wiſdom of God in the creation; ſo ſhould we alſo, form a view of natural things, celebrate his praiſes, and raiſe our ideas from them to heavenly objects, the glories of his ſpiritual kingdom, and admire and bleſs him for his aſtoniſhing grace and mercy in the glorious work of our redemption.

4 His ſtrength, &c.] The ark of his preſence.

14 He reproved kings for their ſakes.] See Gen. xii. 17. and xx. 3.

25 He turned their hearts to hate, &c.] He ſuffered envy, jealouſy, and other evil affections to induce the Egyptians to hate the children of Iſrael as much as they had before loved and favoured them.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CV.

From the wonderful providences of God towards his antient people, we ought to truſt him at all times, to walk before him in faith, humility, patience, and obedience, being aſſured from his immutable promiſe, that he will never fail nor forſake us.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can ſhew forth all his praiſe?

3 Bleſſed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteouſneſs at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou beareſt unto thy people: O viſit me with thy ſalvation;

5 That I may ſee the good of thy choſen, that I may rejoice in the gladneſs of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have ſinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers underſtood not thy wonders in Egypt; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; but provoked him at the ſea, even at the Red ſea.

8 Nevertheleſs he ſaved them for his name's ſake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red ſea alſo, and it was dried up: ſo he led them through the depths, as through the wilderneſs.

10 And he ſaved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 Then believed they his words; they ſang his praiſe.

13 They ſoon forgat his works; they waited not for his counſel:

14 But luſted exceedingly in the wilderneſs, and tempted God in the deſert.

15 And he gave them their requeſt; but ſent leanneſs into their ſoul.

16 They envied Moſes alſo in the camp, and Aaron the ſaint of the LORD.

17 The earth opened and ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burned up the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their glory into the ſimilitude of an ox that eateth graſs.

21 They forgat God their ſaviour, which had done great things in Egypt;

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red ſea.

23 Therefore he ſaid that he would deſtroy them, had not Moſes his choſen ſtood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, leſt he ſhould deſtroy them.

24 Yea, they deſpiſed the pleaſant land, they believed not his word:

25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.

26 Therefore he lifted up his hand againſt them, to overthrow them in the wilderneſs:

27 To overthrow their ſeed alſo among the nations, and to ſcatter them in the lands.

28 They joined themſelves alſo unto Baal-peor, and ate the ſacrifices of the dead.

29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 Then ſtood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and ſo the plague was ſtayed.

31 And that was counted unto him for righteouſneſs unto all generations for evermore.

32 They angered him alſo at the waters of ſtrife, ſo that it went ill with Moſes for their ſakes:

33 Becauſe they provoked his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake unadviſedly with his lips.

34 They did not deſtroy the nations, concerning whom the LORD commanded them:

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they ſerved their idols: which were a ſnare unto them.

37 Yea, they ſacrificed their ſons and their daughters unto devils.

38 And ſhed innocent blood, even the blood of their ſons and of their daughters, whom they ſacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled againſt his people, inſomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them ruled over them.

42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were brought into ſubjection under their hand.

43 Many times did he deliver them; but they provoked him with their counſel; and were brought low for their iniquity.

44 Nevertheleſs he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry:

45 And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

46 He made them alſo to be pitied of all thoſe that carried them captives.

47 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praiſe.

48 Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael from everlaſting to everlaſting: and let all the people ſay, Amen. Praiſe ye the LORD.

2 Let the redeemed of the LORD ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the eaſt, and from the weſt, from the north, and from the ſouth.

4 They wandered in the wilderneſs in a ſolitary way; they found no city to dwell in.

5 Hungry and thirſty, their ſoul fainted in them.

6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their diſtreſſes.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

9 For he ſatisfieth the longing ſoul, and filleth the hungry ſoul with goodneſs.

10 Such as ſit in darkneſs and in the ſhadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CVI.

13 They waited not for his counſel.] They were impatient, and murmured, and would not wait till he had ſhewed what way he intended to relieve them.

15 Leanneſs, &c.] Or a loathing or ſurfeit.

28 They joined themſelves alſo unto Baal-peor, &c.] Not only moſt ſhamefully committed whoredom with the daughters of Moab, but embraced their religion, devoting themſelves to the ſervice of Baal, whoſe temple ſtood on mount Peor, and partaking with them in the ſacrifices which they offered unto men.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CVI.

David, after commemorating, in the foregoing pſalm, the divine benefits towards the Iſraelites, here not only does that, but alſo upbraids their ingratitude; which greatly heightens the mercy of God, whoſe goodneſs is the more exalted, the more wicked and ungrateful they are towards whom it is exerted.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CVII.

The fifth and laſt book of pſalms, according to the Hebrew diviſion, begins here with an exhortation to thoſe whom God had delivered from pagan ſervitude, to acknowledge his ſingular benefits.

9 With goodneſs.] With good things.

10, 11, 12 Such as ſit in darkneſs, &c.] His providence takes care of thoſe who are confined in dungeons, and loaded with fetters, as a juſt puniſhment for the crimes they had committed againſt the expreſs commands of the Moſt High, and the plain dictates of their own conſciences.

11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the words of God, and contemned the counſel of the moſt High:
12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour; they fell down, and there was none to help.
13 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he ſaved them out of their diſtreſſes.
14 He brought them out of darkneſs and the ſhadow of death, and brake their bands in ſunder.
15 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
16 For he hath broken the gates of braſs, and cut the gates of iron in ſunder.
17 Fools becauſe of their tranſgreſſion, and becauſe of their iniquities, are afflicted.
18 Their ſoul abhorreth all manner of meat; and they draw near unto the gates of death.
19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he ſaveth them out of their diſtreſſes.
20 He ſent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their deſtructions.
21 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
22 And let them ſacrifice the ſacrifices of thankſgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.
23 They that go down to the ſea in ſhips, that do buſineſs in great waters;
24 Theſe ſee the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.
25 For he commandeth, and raiſeth the ſtormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.
26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their ſoul is melted becauſe of trouble.
27 They reel to and fro, and ſtagger like a drunken man, and are at their wit's end.
28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their diſtreſſes.
29 He maketh the ſtorm a calm, ſo that the waves thereof are ſtill.
30 Then are they glad becauſe they be quiet; ſo he bringeth them unto their deſired haven.
31 Oh that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
32 Let them exalt him alſo in the congregation of the people, and praiſe him in the aſſembly of the elders.
33 He turneth rivers into a wilderneſs, and the waterſprings into dry ground;
34 A fruitful land into barrenneſs, for the wickedneſs of them that dwell therein.
35 He turneth the wilderneſs into a ſtanding water, and dry ground into waterſprings.
36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;
37 And ſow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increaſe.
38 He bleſſeth them alſo, ſo that they are multiplied greatly; and ſuffereth not their cattle to decreaſe.
39 Again, they are miniſhed and brought low through oppreſſion, affliction, and ſorrow.
40 He poureth contempt upon princes, and cauſeth them to wander in the wilderneſs, where there is no way.
41 Yet ſetteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.
42 The righteous ſhall ſee it, and rejoice: and all iniquity ſhall ſtop her mouth.
43 Whoſo is wiſe, and will obſerve theſe things, even they ſhall underſtand the lovingkindneſs of the LORD.

13 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

1 David complaining of the ſlanders and ingratitude of his enemies devoteth them to deſtruction; 21 complaining of his own miſery he prayeth for help.

To the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

HOLD not thy peace, O God of my praiſe;
2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened againſt me: they have ſpoken againſt me with a lying tongue.
3 They compaſſed me about alſo with words of hatred; and fought againſt me without a cauſe.
4 For my love they are my adverſaries: but I give myſelf unto prayer.
5 And

16 He hath broken the gates of braſs, &c.] When their caſe was deſperate, he removed the greateſt obſtacles to make a way for their eſcape.

27 Are at their wit's end.] In the Hebrew it is, All their wiſdom is ſwallowed up.

38 He bleſſeth them alſo, &c.] His bleſſing extends not to the ground only, but enriches the inhabitants alſo; they likewiſe become fruitful, and grow exceeding populous, together with their flocks and their herds, which, though the people are increaſed, yet are not diminiſhed.

43 Whoſo is wiſe, &c.] Whoſoever will be truly wiſe, ought to mark and ponder ſuch paſſages as thoſe in the divine government, that they may make others, who are leſs conſiderate, underſtand how very kind and gracious the Lord is to thoſe who ſtudy to pleaſe him and obtain his favour.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CVII.

The pſalmiſt here praiſes God for his goodneſs and merciful providence over his people, and the aſſiſtance he vouchſafes to ſend them when they call upon him in their diſtreſs; which ſhould excite us to humble ourſelves for our ſins, implore his mercy, and wait upon him for a ſupply of our wants, and deliverance from every evil.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CVIII.

The former part of this pſalm is nearly the ſame with the five laſt verſes of the 57th, and the latter part differs little from the eight laſt verſes of the 60th. It was compoſed by David, who begins it with giving God thanks for his mercy; as in the 60th pſalm he laments the diſorder in which he found the affairs of his kingdom when he firſt aſcended the throne.

7, 8, 9] See commentary on Pſalm lx. 6, 7, 8.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CVIII.

The uſe we are to make of this pſalm is, that God is worthy to be praiſed by us, be our trials what they may; that we ſhould ſtill crave his aſſiſtance, grounding our hope upon his word of promiſe, and relying on his omnipotent arm to accompliſh it in due time.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CIX.

What diſtreſs have thouſands of ſerious people felt in reading this pſalm! in which it is generally ſuppoſed that David uttered ſuch curſes upon his enemies; and yet when the pſalm is rightly conſidered, it clearly contains the curſes of David's enemies upon David; for the curſes are not againſt many, but one perſon only.

1 O God of my praiſe.] Who art the only ſubject of my praiſes, and in whom I glory, notwithſtanding all the reproaches of mine enemies, in full aſſurance of thy grace and aſſiſtance.

4 I give myſelf unto prayer.] I pray even for them, and recommend myſelf to thy protection.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Satan ſtand at his right hand.

7 When he ſhall be judged, let him be condemned: and let his prayer become ſin.

8 Let his days be few; and let another take his office.

9 Let his children be fatherleſs, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them ſeek their bread alſo out of their deſolate places.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath: and let the ſtrangers ſpoil his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherleſs children.

13 Let his poſterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the LORD; and let not the ſin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Becauſe that he remembered not to ſhew mercy, but perſecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even ſlay the broken in heart.

17 As he loved curſing, ſo let it come unto him: as he delighted not in bleſſing, ſo let it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himſelf with curſing like as with his garment, ſo let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adverſaries from the LORD, and of them that ſpeak evil againſt my ſoul.

21 But do thou for me, O GOD the Lord, for thy name's ſake: becauſe thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the ſhadow when it declineth: I am toſſed up and down as the locuſt.

24 My knees are weak through faſting; and my fleſh faileth of fatneſs.

25 I became alſo a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me they ſhaked their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God: O ſave me according to thy mercy:

27 That they may know that this is thy hand; that thou, LORD, haſt done it.

28 Let them curſe, but bleſs thou: when they ariſe, let them be aſhamed; but let thy ſervant rejoice.

29 Let mine adverſaries be clothed with ſhame, and let them cover themſelves with their own confuſion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praiſe the LORD with my mouth; yea, I will praiſe him among the multitude.

31 For he ſhall ſtand at the right hand of the poor, to ſave him from thoſe that condemn his ſoul.

A Pſalm of David.

THE LORD ſaid unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footſtool.

2 The LORD ſhall ſend the rod of thy ſtrength out of Zion: rule thou in the midſt of thine enemies.

3 Thy people ſhall be willing in the day of thy power; in the beauties of holineſs from the womb of the morning: thou haſt the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath ſworn, and will not repent, Thou art a prieſt for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The LORD at thy right hand ſhall ſtrike through kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He ſhall judge among the heathen, he ſhall fill the places with the dead bodies; he ſhall wound the heads over many countries.

PSAL. CXI.

The pſalmiſt by his example inciteth others to praiſe God for his glorious and gracious works.

PRAISE ye the LORD, I will praiſe the LORD with my whole heart, in the aſſembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the LORD are great, ſought out of all them that have pleaſure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the LORD is gracious and full of compaſſion.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath ſhewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are ſure.

8 They ſtand faſt for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightneſs.

9 He ſent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wiſdom: a good underſtanding have all they that do his commandments: his praiſe endureth for ever.

PSAL. CXII.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CIX.

We may learn in general from this pſalm, that God protects good men, ſo his curſe uſually purſues the wicked, and chiefly thoſe who oppreſs the innocent, and are hurtful to others: for if the curſes in this pſalm may even be underſtood as pronounced by David againſt others, we muſt conſider him in quality of a prophet, and as foretelling the miſeries that await the wicked without repentance.

COMMENTARY AND NOTES ON PSAL. CX.

1 The Lord ſaid unto my Lord, &c.] This is the decree of the eternal Lord, that the great perſon whom we expect, and whom I honour as my lord and maſter, ſhall be advanced, after his ſufferings, to the higheſt dignity in the heavens, and ſhall reign with him as king of all the world, till he hath perfectly ſubdued the moſt powerful oppoſers of his kingdom, and overcome death itſelf, by whom all mankind are conquered.

4 The Lord hath ſworn, &c.] The Lord hath unchangeably reſolved that thou ſhalt be a prieſt as well as a king, with full power to bleſs all thy ſubjects, not only in that age, but even to all eternity.

5 The Lord at thy right hand, &c.] This may be ſpoken either to God the Father, at whoſe right hand Chriſt ſitteth, or to the people of God, Chriſt being ſaid to ſtand at the right hand of his people. See Pſalm cix, 31.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CX.

The royal prophet, in this pſalm, evidently ſpeaks of the great Meſſiah his Lord, and the redeemer of the human race; for no other king can, in any ſenſe, be ſaid to ſit at God's right hand; nor was there any prieſt of the order of Melchizedek that could be a type of him.

COMMENTARY ON PSAL. CXI.

This pſalm is very artificially compoſed in the original, conſiſting of as many ſhort metres as there are letters in the Hebrew alphabet, and each of thoſe ſhort metres, or little ſentences, beginning with thoſe letters in the ſame order as they ſtand in the alphabet; the pſalm properly begins with, "I will praiſe the Lord, &c." "Praiſe ye the Lord" being here only a kind of title to it, or a direction to the ſingers.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CXI.

We are excited to praiſe the Lord for his works of creation, providence, and grace; and are taught, that the only true wiſdom conſiſts in fearing God, and obeying his commands.

COMMENTARY AND NOTE ON PSAL. CXII.

This pſalm ſeems to be a commentary on the laſt verſe of the foregoing, ſhewing how wiſely they conſult their own happineſs, who do the will of God, and are given to benevolence and hoſpitality; it is likewiſe compoſed in the ſame manner as the preceding one.

2 His ſeed ſhall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright ſhall be bleſſed.

3 Wealth and riches ſhall be in his houſe: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 Unto the upright there ariſeth light in the darkneſs: he is gracious, and full of compaſſion, and righteous.

5 A good man ſheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with diſcretion.

6 Surely he ſhall not be moved for ever: the righteous ſhall be in everlaſting remembrance.

7 He ſhall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, truſting in the LORD.

8 His heart is eſtabliſhed, he ſhall not be afraid, until he ſee his deſire upon his enemies.

9 He hath diſperſed, he hath given to the poor; his righteouſneſs endureth for ever; his horn ſhall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked ſhall ſee it, and be grieved; he ſhall gnaſh with his teeth, and melt away: the deſire of the wicked ſhall periſh.

PSAL. CXIII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his merciful condeſcenſion to his creatures.

PRAISE ye the LORD. Praiſe, O ye ſervants of the LORD, praiſe the name of the LORD.

2 Bleſſed be the name of the LORD from this time forth and for evermore.

3 From the riſing of the ſun unto the going down of the ſame the LORD's name is to be praiſed.

4 The LORD is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the LORD our God, who dwelleth on high.

6 Who humbleth himſelf to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!

7 He raiſeth up the poor out of the duſt, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill;

8 That he may ſet him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to keep houſe, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praiſe ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXIV.

The miracles of God's power, when he brought his people out of Egypt, are a juſt ground of fearing him.

WHEN Iſrael went out of Egypt, the houſe of Jacob from a people of ſtrange language;

2 Judah was his ſanctuary, and Iſrael his dominion.

3 The ſea ſaw it, and fled: Jordan was driven back.

4 The mountains ſkipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.

5 What ailed thee, O thou ſea, that thou fleddeſt? thou Jordan, that thou waſt driven back?

6 Ye mountains, that ye ſkipped like rams; and ye little hills, like lambs?

7 Tremble, thou earth, at the preſence of the LORD, at the preſence of the God of Jacob;

8 Which turned the rock into a ſtanding water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

PSAL. CXV.

1 God is called upon to aſſert his own honour againſt the reproaches of the heathen. 4 The vanity of idols. 9 An exhortation to truſt in God, 12 who will bleſs and preſerve his church.

NOT unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy and for thy truth's ſake.

2 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatſoever he hath pleaſed.

4 Their idols are ſilver and gold, the works of men's hands.

5 They have mouths, but they ſpeak not: eyes have they, but they ſee not:

6 They have ears, but they hear not: noſes have they, but they ſmell not:

7 They have hands, but they handle not: feet have they, but they walk not: neither ſpeak they through their throat.

8 They that make them are like unto them; ſo is every one that truſteth in them.

9 O Iſrael, truſt thou in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

10 O houſe of Aaron, truſt in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

11 Ye that fear the LORD, truſt in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

12 The LORD hath been mindful of us: he will bleſs us; he will bleſs the houſe of Iſrael; he will bleſs the houſe of Aaron.

13 He will bleſs them that fear the LORD, both ſmall and great.

14 The LORD ſhall increaſe you more and more, you and your children.

15 Ye are bleſſed of the LORD which made heaven and earth.

16 The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praiſe not the LORD, neither any that go down into ſilence.

18 But we will bleſs the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praiſe the LORD.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 The pſalmiſt profeſſeth love and dutiful ſervice to God for his deliverance: he ſtudieth to expreſs his thankfulneſs.

I Love the LORD, becauſe he hath heard my voice and my ſupplications.

2 Becauſe he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and ſorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD, I beſeech thee, deliver my ſoul.

5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

6 The LORD preſerveth the ſimple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

9 Righteouſneſs, &c.] "Righteouſneſs" here ſignifies alms.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CXII.

We learn from hence, that they who love and ſerve God, ſhall be bleſſed, and protected from evil; while the wicked ſhall inherit ſorrow, and be diſappointed of his hope.

COMMENTARY ON PSAL. CXIII.

The Hebrews call this pſalm and the five next by the name of Hallel, or hymns, which they recited at their tables in the new moons and other feaſts, eſpecially in the paſchal night, after they had eaten the lamb, concluding it with Hallelujah.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CXIII.

We are hereby excited to praiſe the Lord continually; and to extol the benevolent providence of the moſt High, which extends to this lower world, and ſupplies the want of all its inhabitants: but is peculiarly mindful of his people.

COMMENTARY AND NOTE ON PSAL. CXIV.

2 Judah was his ſanctuary, &c.] There was a moſt glorious appearance of God among them, by that luminous cloud, the token of his preſence, which then had no other place for his ſanctuary, but ſtood over the whole camp of Iſrael, whom he then took for his peculiar kingdom.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS on Pſal. CXIV.

From the wonders wrought by the Lord, in the deliverance of his people of old, we are here exhorted to adore him, and walk humbly in his ſight.
